GET THE LATEST

The Review Supplies the Correct Things in Wedding Invitations Programmes, Personal Station ry, Etc . . . .

THE DAILY REVIEW

VOL LV., NO. 126 7 PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1907 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

LUMBER

and BUILDING MATERIAL of all kinds. Shingles, Scantling, Joists and Bill Stuff. Mouldings, Casings and Base, and all kinds of finish. Boxes and Box Shooks.

ALF. McDONALD ESTATE

Point St. Charles Mill, Peterborough.

UNION LABEL

PROBABILITIES

Easterly winds, cold with light snow falls. Sunday strong north-west winds, fair and colder.

FAIR'S | THE GOLDEN LION STORE | FAIR'S

Buy, Warm Woollen Goods

. . AT . .

The GOLDEN LION STORE

Just a little better at the price than elsewhere. Throughout our whole store you will find this to be the case, but especially so just now in such wanted goods as

Ladies' Underwear, Children's Underwear
Ladies' Black Tights, Children's Black Tights
Ladies' and Children's Woollen Gloves and Mitts
Ladies' and Children's Clouds and Shawls
Ladies' and Children's Knitted Toques
Ladies' and Children's Wool Hosiery
Ladies' and Children's Sweaters and Golfers
Cotton Filled and Down Comforters
Wool Blankets, Crib Comforters
Crib Blankets, Crib Quilts, etc

Have you considered making a present of a new CARPET this Christmas ? If so, you cannot do better than leave your order with us. Make your selection now and we will lay it just when you want it,

Our Carpet assortment embraces Union, All Wool, Ingrain, Tapestry, Balmorals, Brussels, Velvets, Wiltons and Axminsters. Any purse and any taste can be suited from our immense stock. Special prices prevail for Xmas selling.

IN THE MILLINERY DEPT.

We are making a beautiful showing of High-class Winter Millinery. Ideas and styles are here from the great fashion centres—Paris, London and New York.

Here you can combine STYLE and VALUE in your Hats. The most modern ideas and best materials and workmanship.

Robert Fair & Co. Limited

383 GEORGE STREET

Phone—Dry Goods 145 Phone—Dressmaking 145B

Wanted

WANTED

GOOD GENERAL SERVANT to go to Toronto Must be respectable and good plain cook. Apply to MRS. JAS. KENDRY, 734 Water Street.

For Sale or To Rent

TO RENT

TWO FURNISHED ROOMS with or without board. Modern conveniences and telephone. Address J. F. Galvin, 268 Brock St. 4tf

ROOMS TO LET

WITH OR WITHOUT BOARD. Convenient well furnished. Meals at all hours. PALACE RESTAURANT, up stairs, south of Times Office.

FOR SALE

HOUSE, no. 44 George St. corner George and Perry, also for sale or to rent house 178 Water Street. Apply to J. J. Turner & Sons, Tent Manufacturers. 3d

FOR SALE

TYPEWRITER, latest model American Oliver, brand new. Good discount off lowest selling price for a quick sale. Apply Review Office. tdf

Lost and Found

LOST

ON GEORGE STREET, yesterday afternoon, an envelope, containing a note payable to the Bank of Ottawa. Finder will be rewarded on leaving same at Bank. The note is of no use to anyone, but the makers do not want it lying around.

BIG SALE

. . OF . .

Enamelled Ware

Friday and Saturday

HUTCHINSON-STURGEON CO

Bell and Machine 'Phones 236 342 George Street

It Pays

To get old Furniture fixed over. It lasts longer than much of the new. Upholstering and all kinds of work on Furniture done here. Samples of fine Covering at reasonable prices

A. R. JACKSON

Aylmer, Corner of Charlotte. Bell Phone 494B

GET READY !

Summer has gone by and winter is at hand. Are you settled in a house of your own, where you can stay and not be frozen out in the cold ? If not, take warning, and buy one of our Cheap New Houses and be at home, or buy one of our Modern Houses at $2,100 and up. We also have first-class large houses from $3,000 up

Companies Good as the Best in all lines of Insurance but Life. [illegible]

R. G. Ivey, Special Agent!
288 George St. Phone 2 Bell

W. MIGHT

For Sale or To Rent

AT REASONABLE PRICES

Three small farms, good soil, suitable for gardening purposes, close to city. Also a few small, comfortable, dwelling houses, and choice building lots, well situated in good localities.

Properties sold, purchased or exchanged.

Private Funds to Loan on Real Estate.

INSURANCE

Agents for reliable Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Liability Insurance Companies. For particulars as to rates, etc., apply to

J. J. McBAIN & SON

Real Estate and Insurance Agents.

Office Cor. Simcoe and George-sts.

Office 'Phone 454 Residence Phone 109A

RICHMOND STUDIO

SPECIALS for XMAS PHOTOS

Newest Mountings Newest Styles
Pictures Plain Cards
Folders Calendars

First-class work at night by electric light Sittings by appointment.

147 HUNTER STREET

For Waterproof Covers and Clothing of all kinds, Coal Bags, and Tents.

SEND TO

J. J. TURNER & SONS

TENT MANUFACTURERS

George Street. Peterborough

The Talk of the Town—OUR COOKING

TOOTHSOME WHOLESOME PALATABLE

Try a loaf of our Brown and Currant Bread

FRY'S MILK CHOCOLATE DROPS

BURNT ALMONDS

COLEMAN BROS.

Phone 335. 426 George St

SPECIAL RATES FOR FAMILY WASHING

Prices were never lower than now at

Parkers' Steam Laundry

Goods called for and delivered free to any part of the city.

W. P. HETHERINGTON

9 CHARLOTTE ST, PHONE 65

Special Inducements TO BUY HEATERS

You gain nothing by delay. See our

Standard Oak
Quebec Ideal
Art Laurel

They are great fuel savers. Easily operated and splendid heat distributors.

F. R. J. MACPHERSON & CO.

341 George St. Phone 116

F. R. J. MACPHERSON ANGUS MACPHERSON

MEALS—LUNCHES AT ALL HOURS

For quick service, well-cooked meals and popular prices—go to

FOWLER'S RESTAURANT

McCallum's Old Stand - 330 George St

LADIES, CUT THIS OUT

Dr. Cristion's

FRENCH TOILET ARTICLES

Have been placed on sale with

Miss E. Smith

387 GEORGE STREET

MANICURING, SHAMPOOING SCALP TREATMENT and FACIAL MASSAGE SKILFULLY DONE

Appointments made. Mach. Phone 13

Photography

Amateur Supplies, Cameras, Souvenir Books, Post Cards and all kinds of high-grade Photography at W. G. LENDRUM'S, 170 Charlotte St. Agent for the celebrated Heintzman & Co's Pianos.

"DON'T BURN THEM"

We will buy all kinds of Second-hand boots and shoes

JAY'S SECOND-HAND STORE

390 Aylmer Street

THE

BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to-wear Store

ALL THE LATEST

NEW WINTER MANTLES

AT CUT PRICES NOW TO CLEAR THEM OUT

Among them are dressy blacks, new tweeds—All this season's latest designs are placed on sale at fraction prices.

The stock is getting broken. Come early while you can get a fairly good choice.

Children's Mantles are $1.98 just now.

THE

BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to Wear Store

Before purchasing a house or business see

A. BROWN & CO.,

The Real Estate Agents, 396 Water Street

$500 will secure a house with all modern improvements.

$1000 will buy a cottage and good lot central. We have some great bargains in Houses, Farms and City lots for sale and to rent.

Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.

Bell Phone 126 and 474B. Machine 117

Owl Had Mink in its Talons When Killed

Harvey Township Resident Makes a Remarkable Shot

Mr. Thomas Trennum was in the city yesterday, and was telling his friends about a somewhat extraordinary shooting affair of recent happening and with which he was connected. A few days ago while hunting in the vicinity of Pigeon Lake Narrows he saw a large grey owl flying a short distance away from him. He fired at the bird and it dropped to earth, and on going to pick up his prize Mr. Trennum was surprised to find that the bird had in its talons a large mink. The pelt of the animal was worth considerable money, and the owl is also highly prized by Mr. Trennum.

TO-DAY'S MARKET WELL ATTENDED

Business Was Brisk — Prices Reasonable

Again this morning there was a large attendance at the market, and business was brisk. Sleighing must be good in the country, for a large number of farmers came to the city in sleighs. In particularly large quantities was fresh beef and pork. Beef sold at 4 and 5 cents, while pork brought nine and ten cents. Lamb was not very plentiful, but what there was brought 10 and 12 cents. Upstairs a great abundance of fowl was offered. Turkeys sold at from $1.00 to $1.75. Geese went at from 75 cents up to $1.00, and ducks were 70 cents a pair, while chickens ranged from 50 to 60 cents a pair. Butter was picked up rapidly at 28, 29 and 30 cents a pound. Eggs were scarce, and sold at 30 cents a dozen. Potatoes sold at 85 cents, while apples ranged in price according to the kind.

Seedless Valencia Raisins, 2 lbs. for 25c ; Green Ginger, per lb, 30c ; C & B Preserved Ginger, per jar, 25c ; Natural Figs, per 3 lb box, 50c.—R. A. Dutton, George st. Bell and Machine Phones 304.

Team Runs Away on London St.

Yesterday afternoon on London-st. considerable excitement was created by a farmer's team tearing along at a high rate of speed. The runaways turned up Water street and sent the sleigh box flying. There was no one in the sleigh and the team had apparently run away while the driver was too busy to watch his reckless span.

To Grant Fixed Assessment for Period Ten Years

Manufacturers' Committee to Make This Recommendation to Council Regarding Peter Hamilton Company

At a meeting of the Manufacturers' committee yesterday afternoon it was decided to recommend to the Council that a fixed assessment of $15,0000 be given the Peter Hamilton Company for a period of ten years under the usual terms. Those present were Ald. Morrow, chairman, Ald. Elliott and Leary and Mayor McWilliams. The principal question up was the proposition to grant a fixed assessment to the Peter Hamilton Co., the request for same having been made by the company several weeks ago. There was considerable discussion on the matter and finally it was decided to recommend a fixed assessment of $15,000 for a period of ten years on the usual terms, and a clause to this effect will appear in the committee's report to the Council at Monday night's meeting.

The committee also decided to purchase 100 copies of the Industrial number of the Morning Times.

THE BUILDING FUND

Of All Saints' Church Will be Increased by Coming Sale.

The united Guilds of All Saints church, will hold a sale in the old opera house on Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 4th and 5th. The different committees are now actively at work and the various departments are being made ready. There will be a large variety of goods offered for sale, consisting of cereals, coffee, fruits, teas, biscuits, fancy goods, bric-a-brac, souvenirs, children's dresses, etc., all suitable for Christmas presents. On Thursday the sale will close with a shredded wheat banquet, beginning at 6 o'clock. The proceeds of both days will be devoted to the building fund of All Saints' church.

It is probable that the first ships of the new Spanish navy will be built on the Clyde.

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

20 MORE SHOPPING DAYS BEFORE XMAS

FOUR DAYS' SALE

. . OF . .

WOMEN'S READY-TO-WEARS

Ends Monday, Dec. 1st, at 545

Only one more day of this money-saving Sale. Buy your needs in Winter Wear now—Coats, Suits, Underskirts, Blouses, etc—all go at greatly reduced prices.

Two new lines of Coats go on sale at 8.10 Monday morning. Don't fail to see them.

LATE DELIVERY SALE OF DRESS GOODS

Ends to-night at 10 o'clock. See the special line of 54 inch Dress Tweeds at 39c.

STORE HOURS 8.10 - 5.45 Cressman's 385, 387, 389 George Street

TOOK PART IN RECEPTION TO MR. R. L. BORDEN

Mr. J. W. Garvin, of this city, received an invitation from the Borden Club at Ottawa, to be present at the great reception to Mr. R. L. Borden, in that city, after his return from his triumphal tour through the great western provinces. Mr. Garvin attended, and was honored by a seat in the third carriage of the great procession, which was three-quarters of a mile long, and was accorded a seat on the platform in the Russell theatre, as a guest of the club. The gathering was a magnificent one, and Mr. Borden made a fine speech.

George Fairweather, St. John, N. B. the twelve year old boy who cut his throat on Monday, died on Tuesday night.

WILL MEET ON MONDAY MORNING

The Ministerial Association will meet on Monday morning at ten o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. when all the members are urgently requested to be present. Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville, will give an address on "The Relation of Astronomy to Spiritual truth. Other important questions will also come up before the association.

Music

PIANO, HARMONY, Etc

ALFRED DAVIES

Teacher of Piano, Harmony, etc. Pupils prepared for all examinations. 106 McDonnel St., Bell Tel. 463, P.O. Box 592 3m

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, SATURDAY NIGHT ONLY NOVEMBER 30th

THIRD SUCCESSFUL SEASON.

WALTER N. LAWRENCE presents the Laughing Hit of Two Continents,

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram"

A Farce Comedy by FRANK WYATT and WM. MORRIS.

One Entire Season at the Madison Square Theatre, New York; Three Months at Powers' Theatre, Chicago; Two Months at Waldorf Theatre, London, Eng.

Prices—25c, 35c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, a few at $1.50. Sale opens Thursday.

Grand Opera House, Monday, December 2nd

WM. P. CULLEN PRESENTS PIXLEY AND LUDER'S MERRY MUSICAL MASTERPIECE,

"THE BURGOMASTER"

With GUS WEINBURG, RUTH WHITE and over half a 100 others, including the famously Original KANGAROO GIRLS.

Bigger, Brighter, Better than Ever. NEW Songs, Ideas, Surprises

Prices 25c to $1.50. - - - Plan opens Friday at 10 a.m.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 4

JAMESON LEE FINNEY IN

"The Man on the Box"

A clean, witty, intelligent comedy. A delightful dramatization of Harold MacGrath's famous novel by GRACE L. FURNISS, presented with the same care that characterized the performances during its run of Seven Months at the Madison Sq. Theatre New York.

PRICES—25, 35, 50, 75, $1.00 First two rows ground floor $1.50

SEAT SALE OPENS MONDAY

THE CRYSTAL

OPEN EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING

STRUGGLE FOR LIFE
Illustrated Song
"DOWN WHERE THE SILVERY MOHAWK FLOWS"

Complete Change of Programme Mon, Wed., Fri.

ADMISSION - - ONLY 5 CENTS

Many boys and girls leave school sooner than they should, because they are under the impression that they cannot learn. This places them at a disadvantage all through life. Now, we know that every intelligent boy and girl can learn if taught in the proper way. Class Instruction may answer for the bright pupil, but fails dismally with the dull student. Individual Instruction, when the teacher personally explains to and reasons with the pupil, is the only sure way. This is our way. This why our pupils get along so well. Come and see our larger classes either during the day or evening at the

BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Medical

E. V. FREDERICK, M.B., Tor.
M.R.C.S., Eng.; L.R.C.P., Lond. Lic. Univ. of New York.
Removed to No. 492 George St., formerly office of Dr. McFaul
Private nursing home for surgical [illegible]es.

DR. G. STEWART CAMERON
Office and Residence
No. 272 Charlotte St. 'Phone 128

T. POPHAM McCULLOUGH
M.D., EYE, EAR, NOSE and THROAT. Office—Removed to 166 Brock Street, Peterborough.

DR. G. C. LEACH
Late House Surgeon of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio; also of Cook County Hospital, Chicago. OFFICE—224 Hunter St., formerly occupied by Dr. Coughlin. Phone Bell 219.
Special Attention to Diseases of Women

FRANK C. NEAL, M.B.,
M.R.C.S. (Eng.) L.R.C.P. (London)
New Office and Residence—Corner Charlotte and Rubidge Streets. 'Phone 551.
Note—Dr. Neal will see patients at office Tuesday and Friday evenings, by appointment only. Other evenings, at regular office hours, 7 to 8 p.m.

DR. JAS. V. GALLIVAN
Office 215 Simcoe St. Late of St. John's Hospital, New York. Lic. University of New York.
Telephone 668.

Osteopathy

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY
Osteopathic Physician
Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Water Street entrance.
Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. Consultation free.

Dental

DR. R. F. MORROW
MASTER OF DENTAL SURGERY, and Gold Medalist, R. D. C. S. Office—In his old stand over China Hall, Room No. 1, Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

W. C. GOWAN
DENTAL SURGEON
Graduate Chicago College of Dental Surgery
Office: 198 BROCK ST. Phone 36 B

Legal

R. E. WOOD
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Etc. Office removed from Bank of Commerce Building to 425 George street, recently occupied by E. B. Edwards. MONEY TO LOAN

W. H. MOORE
BARRISTER SOLICITOR, in the Supreme Court etc. Office—Hunter street, first stairs west of Post Office.

HALL & HAYES
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS and NOTARIES PUBLIC, Hunter Street, Peterborough, next to English Church. MONEY TO LOAN at the lowest rate of interest.
E. H. D. HALL. LOUIS M. HAYES

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON
(Successors to Stratton & Hall)
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., Peterborough Ont. Office—Corner of Hunter and Water Sts. over Bank of Commerce.
E. B. HALL. S. P. MEDD. W. S. DAVIDSON

EDMISON & DIXON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc. Office in Claxton's Block, corner of Hunter and George streets, over Dickson's store.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc. 415 Water Street, Peterborough.
E. A. PECK. F. D. KERR. R. M. DENNISTOUN

Money

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASY TERMS
O'CONNELL & GORDON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS NOTARIES, Etc
Canadian and United States Patent Attorneys
134 Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office.
DANIEL O'CONNELL. GEORGE N. GORDON

ROGER, BENNET & GOODWILL
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., 37 Water St. Peterborough. Telephone No. 131.
Money at Current Rates
Upon Easy Terms.
. ROGER. J. W. BENNET. E. L. GOODWILL

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

PAID UP CAPITAL $1,000,000.00
RESERVE FUND 580,000.00

SAVINGS
An Account may be opened at any time with a Deposit of One Dollar.
3½ % Interest allowed on daily balances.
DEBENTURE DEPT.
Four Per Cent. paid half yearly on sums of $100.00 and upwards.
MONEY TO LOAN
at current rates of interest.
W. G. MORROW,
Manager

100% PURE
St. George's
Baking Powder
Makes Light, White Biscuits
Cake & Pastry.

Verdict in the London Case Reached Yesterday Afternoon

Judge Finds All Four Defendants Guilty of Conspiracy.

Sentence Deferred Pending Result of Appeal — Defence Unexpectedly Closes Its Case With Renewed Objections to Court's Jurisdiction —Judge Disbelieves Crown Witnesses, But Finds Offence Proven.

Toronto, Nov. 30.—To the astonishment and dismay of the defence in the London election bribery conspiracy case His Honor Judge Winchester late yesterday afternoon found that all four of the defendants were guilty. The decision was given soon after the defence suddenly terminated its case. His honor granted an application for appeal to the higher courts, and sentence was not passed, the defendants, Reid, O'Gorman, Wiley and Mulloy, being allowed their freedom on $5,000 bail each.

His honor spoke for twenty minutes. Just after he had read the indictments, he intimated that, as Mr. Johnston had argued well in the matter of the court's jurisdiction, he would allow the case to go to the Court of Appeal.

The faces of the four accused men immediately became grave. Reid and Wiley were plainly agitated. Reid spoke a word or two to O'Gorman, who sat next him.

"Considering all the evidence," said his honor in conclusion, "I think the evidence has established a general conspiracy. I find the four defendants guilty of forming a conspiracy to defraud the electors of this province."

The defendants looked askance at each other. O'Gorman seemed cool. Reid smiled. Wiley turned pale, and Mulloy appeared as if he did not understand what it all meant. The defendants had expected to go free, though there had been a feeling that O'Gorman might be fined. They left for London on the 7.30 p. m. train, declining to discuss the matter.

Mr. Johnston renewed his objections that the case was not within the jurisdiction of his honor and that the crown had not proven conspiracy or any overt act in connection with any conspiracy which may have taken place in Toronto. Mr. Johnston asked his honor to totally disbelieve the evidence of Pritchett and Farr who should be arrested for perjury.

The crown had no right to advance them as credible witnesses. The oath of a perjurer, unsupported by any one of the booths. He had been contradicted on every hand.

There was no evidence, he held, that Reid had anything to do with any conspiracy, while Mulloy and Wiley had nothing to do with the alleged conspiracy in Toronto, and were connected with the London bribery only by the statement of Jerry Collins.

Judge's Address.

His honor then summed up the case. As to the charges against Reid, Mulloy and Wiley, of a conspiracy in Toronto, no evidence had been brought out. The evidence against O'Gorman must necessarily come from men who had no moral sense of their duty. Against O'Gorman the crown had only the evidence of Pritchett to rely upon, and he had been contradicted in several material points by men whom the judge had no reason to doubt. His honor believed that Vance was telling the truth in reference to Pritchett's arrival at Bancroft. He also believed Alex. Smith.

Connecting O'Gorman.

In the face of such evidence as this, it was difficult to decide, but in many instances Pritchett's evidence had been fully corroborated. It was a fact that he was at Brockville, and he was substantiated by many witnesses, and it has been shown that illegal acts were attempted. He was also in West Huron and West Elgin, and there was ample evidence that O'Gorman was connected with Pritchett, and that Pritchett did act illegally.

"With reference to London," said his honor, "while voters were bribed right and left in West London, I am glad to say that there was no evidence of general bribery. Money was being expended openly. A most disgraceful state of affairs was shown to have existed. There were men who were willing to go into any evil doings. We find Collins anxious to turn over a dishonest penny. He got money from O'Gorman and Mulloy and spent it illegally."

His honor reviewed Sifton's evidence regarding Reid, and considered Reid's attitude as showing himself part of a general scheme. He had no faith in Wiley's alibi. He could not depend on Farr's statement, and he believed Thomas Reid in this connection.

He then declared his finding of guilty.

Vance and Smith Testify.

The evidence during the day was in no way sensational.

In the morning James Vance took the stand again and denied that he got any more money than his expenses. He knew of no improper procedure in North Waterloo.

Alex. Smith, formerly Liberal organizer for the province, swore that he never was a party to any improper or corrupt act in any election. He knew nothing of ballot switching or bribery.

He knew O'Gorman, but he had never seen Pritchett in his life. He emphatically denied meeting O'Gorman and Pritchett in the Walker House. Never in his life had he given Pritchett money or paid his hotel bills. He knew of no arrangement between O'Gorman and Pritchett.

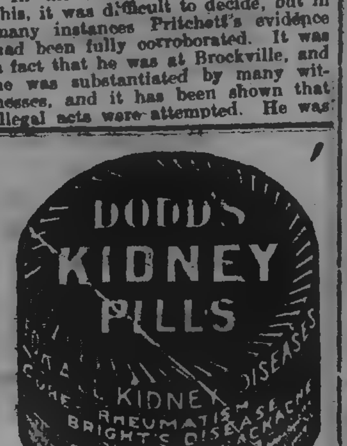
Led by Mr. Johnston over all the bye-elections concerned in the case, Mr. Smith gave Pritchett the lie in every instance.

Dr. W. J. Stevenson of London swore that Wiley was sick at home the night that Collins said he was paying out the voters in Tom Lewis' hotel.

After objections from Crown Counsel W. T. R. Preston's evidence, which was taken by A. G. McG. Helmsley at Sydney, New South Wales, and sworn to by Charles W. Hallen, was read. The affidavit went to show that Preston had worked in the bye-elections in South Ontario, Lennox, Halton and Nipissing, where he acted as organizer. He did not know J. G. Pritchett nor had he ever given him $40 in the Commercial Hotel at Whitby, nor at any other time. He had never met O'Gorman in any election.

He had discussed political work with Alex. Smith and Jim Vance, but there was no suggestion as to corrupt practices. Mr. Preston swore positively that the meeting in the Walker House, Toronto, at which Pritchett said he was present, never took place.

The Police Court evidence of W. L. Harton of Goderich was also read.



SALTED A DIAMOND MINE.

Pittsburg's Society Broker an Ex-Convict.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 30.—Reginald Spaulding, or Oscar F. Spate, or George Frederick Spate, the man who proposed to introduce Pittsburg rich people at the court of St. James, is still in jail. There were developments yesterday which caused the police to hold him. Pittsburgers who wined and dined Spaulding a few days ago will be horrified when they learn that he was at once time a convict in South Africa. But they can take some consolation out of another report, that he is really the son-in-law of Lady Suffield, the woman whom he asserted would bring about the introductions.

A communication reached the Pittsburg police yesterday from a source which they will not divulge, to the effect that Spaulding, under the name of George Frederick Spate, in 1903 was married to Muriel, daughter of Lord and Lady Suffield, who left her home in London because of a difference with her parents, and went to South Africa during the Boer war as a Red Cross nurse. In consequence her parents disowned her, and her name was removed from the records of the British nobility.

Spate is alleged to have then interested his wife in a diamond mine, which he had "salted," and finally sold the mine to her and some others for a large sum. Before the discovery was made that the mine was "salted" Spate is alleged to have taken his wife into the interior of Africa, where he deserted her in the land of the Zulu chief, Mosilikapse.

If the report of Spaulding's marriage is true, his wife would be a sister of Hon. Charles Harbord, who was A. D. C. to the Marquis of Lorne in Canada, and of Hon. Mrs. Derek Keppel, who was extra lady-in-waiting to the Princess of Wales during her tour of the colonies.

FIVE PASSENGERS KILLED.

Trolley Car Loaded With Factory Employes Struck by Train.

Waterbury, Conn., Nov. 30.—A shocking accident in which five factory employes were killed occurred yesterday at the West Main street crossing over the Highland division tracks of the N. Y., E. H. & N. E. Railroad, when an extra Hartford-bound freight train crashed into a trolley car containing 25 passengers bound for the pin factories in Oakville. The car was struck with great force at right angles, directly in the middle, and the dead persons were all badly mangled. Six others were badly injured, and had to be carried to their homes.

The dead are: Sarah Ryan, 26 years old; Annie Corcorry, 24 years old; Robert French, 20 years old; Jane Kelly, 42 years old, and Walter Hayes, aged 22.

It is not yet known whether any of the persons injured will die.

A hurried investigation by the coroner resulted in the arrest of Flagman John Flavin and Conductor John Dillon of the trolley car. The motorman, Charles Leonard, was not held.

MINISTER'S HEROISM.

Gives His Life's Blood In Dangerous Operation.

New York, Nov. 30.—Announcement of a fine fortitude on the part of Rev. Dr. John Lewis Clark of Brooklyn, who married William Ellis Corey and Mabel Gilman last summer, was made yesterday.

To save the life of one of his parishioners, Mrs. Julia Ladson, he permitted one of the small arteries to be opened last Wednesday so that his blood could replace hers, while her right leg was amputated in the Bushwick Hospital, in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Ladson was suffering from blood poisoning, and Dr. Clark was warned that if the smallest drop of her blood passed into his system it might prove fatal to him, but he took the risk.

The operation was successful, and yesterday Dr. Clark was informed that Mrs. Ladson would live.

Boy's Feet Frozen.

Flesherton, Nov. 30.—Last Sunday morning, a little home boy, 10 years old, living with a farmer near here, strayed or ran away. No trace of him was found until Thursday evening, when two searchers found him lying in a fence corner and within sight of his own house. Both feet were frozen, and it feared they will have to be amputated so bad is his condition.

The boy has disappeared a couple of time previously, but always in warm weather.

Two Killed at Cobalt.

Cobalt, Nov. 30.—A double accident occurred in the north shaft of the Cobalt Lake Thursday evening by which Allen Allore, a machinist, was killed, and Philip Roy, his helper, fatally injured.

The accident was caused by one of the men striking a hole while mucking that had missed fire, thereby causing an explosion.

Falls Suicide Identified.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 30.—The woman who threw herself off Goat Island bridge Thursday has been identified as Miss Connelia Loveridge of Buffalo. From a few articles she left behind, and a note to notify her sister, Miss Hattie Loveridge of Buffalo. The suicide was 43 years of age, and been ailing for some time past.

Wins Nobel Prize.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The State Department has been advised by American Minister Graves at Stockholm that Prof. A. A. Michelson of Chicago University is to be awarded the Nobel prize for physicists.

Dr. Michelson is the discoverer of a new method of determining the velocity of light.

Hanging the Terrorists.

Odessa, Nov. 30.—Thirteen terrorists have been hanged this week.

The swift justice which is being meted out by the field court-martial is having an excellent effect on the disorderly element of the city.

A small-pox case was discovered in Stratford yesterday.

Bruce McBean & Co., grain brokers, of Winnipeg, have suspended.

MARQUIS CARRIED OFF

Cousin of King of Italy Kidnapped and Tortured.

Italian Nobleman Taken to Grotto and Held For Ransom—Compelled to Write Letter Demanding Money —Half-Frozen and Badly Injured When Found—Assailants Disguised as Policemen.

Naples, Nov. 30.—A dramatic and sensational kidnapping has occurred here, the victim being Marquis Guiseppe Cito, a member of the most ancient aristocracy and a cousin and aide of the King.

The marquis was seized and carried off to a grotto, where he was tortured, and a letter to the marchioness demanding $500 extorted from him. He was found half-frozen and badly injured, and his condition is now considered desperate. One of his assailants was disguised as a policeman.

The kidnapping of Marquis Guiseppe Cito has caused great astonishment through the discovery that the organizer of the plot is in reality a policeman. On being arrested he confessed. The British Embassy is interested in the case, as Marquis Cito is a trusted antiquarian for several sovereigns, including King Edward.

HYMAN AT 'FRISCO.

Says Mass of Japanese People Are Not Hostile to Canada.

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 30.—Returning to his home in London, Ont., from a tour in China and Japan, Charles Smith Hyman, former Canadian Minister of Public Works, arrived here Thursday on the steamer Korea. He said that Japan had no hard feelings against the Canadians for their treatment of the Japanese at Vancouver a few months ago.

"I heard very few expressions of hostility against either Canada or the United States," he said. "Some of the newspapers printed rather inflammatory articles, but the mass of the people did not seem to attach any seriousness to the various race outbreaks."

He was inclined to think that Lemieux's mission was largely an experimental one, the Canadian Government having no definite idea of what it was prepared to grant and what it would accede to.

FATAL FIRE IN HOTEL.

One Man Killed—Guests and Firemen Hurt.

Gloucester, Mass., Nov. 30.—A fire in the Harvard House here yesterday resulted in one death, several injured and property damage estimated at $15,000. A man believed to be George Chambers, of this city, was killed by jumping from a window on the second floor. The injured persons include several firemen, who, besides leg fractures, were overcome by smoke, and a Mrs. Johnson, who was so badly affected by smoke that at first her condition was regarded as serious.

Colorado Town Threatened.

Leadville, Colo., Nov. 30.—Fire started by the overturning of a lamp Thursday night in a barber shop may cause the destruction of Granite, a town of about 250 inhabitants, 20 miles east of this city. Four buildings are already in ruins, and the efforts of the volunteer firemen are being given to saving of nearby buildings. Communication with Granite has been shut off.

Dragging For the Bodies.

St. Catharines, Nov. 30.—Three tugs and thirty-five or forty men left Port Dalhousie at daybreak to try and find the bodies of the two Dunlops and Christmas, victims of Saturday night's marine disaster. There was a diver with them. It is related that Capt. Hovey of the tug Ben Harrison the night before the collision dreamed of the collision almost as it did happen.

Tom Moore Wrote of Her.

Kingston, Nov. 30.—Miss Agnes Cunningham, a music teacher, died while calling at Mrs. Muckler's, Union street. She entered, sat down and expired from heart failure. She was over 60 years of age.

Tom Moore, the Irish poet, once stayed at her home here, and in his poems referred to the beauty and grace of her home.

Fell Sixty Feet, But Escaped.

Guelph, Nov. 30.—To fall sixty feet and escape with no serious injury was the strange experience of L. Armstrong, a first-year student at the O. A. College. He fell head first, and landed on a horse which was passing beneath at the time, and after striking the horse he bounded off, and lay unconscious on the ground. He soon recovered.

Governor-General's Birthday.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—About 100 guests attended the state dinner at Government House Thursday night. After the toasts to the King had been honored Sir Wilfrid Laurier drew attention to the fact that the day was His Excellency's birthday. He therefore proposed the health of Earl Grey, which was drunk with enthusiasm.

Death of Prof. Harrington.

Montreal, Nov. 30.—The death took place yesterday of Prof. B. J. Harrington of McGill. He had been ill for over a year. He occupied the chair of chemistry and was 59 years of age. Mrs. Harrington is a daughter of the late Sir William Dawson.

Port Robinson Man Killed.

Port Robinson, Ont., Nov. 30.—Word was received here yesterday that Charles Coulter, steam shovel craneman, was accidentally killed while trying to board a construction train at Parry Sound. The deceased was 28 years of age.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

WEAK, SICKLY, PLAYED OUT?

You are ailing—robbed of desire to work—find it difficult to think clearly. Life is dull and unhappy.

There is a remedy—FERROZONE—that quickly braces and tones. Gracious! but Ferrozone makes you feel good; it makes you sleep, makes you eat, sharpens the appetite like a razor.

BLOOD? Ferrozone makes lots of it—the rich, red kind that vitalizes the whole body.

FERROZONE

Quickens, strengthens and builds up instantly. It gives you staying power, reserve energy, buoyant health. No tonic half so good as Ferrozone. Avoid substitutes!

Price 50c per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

Friday Evening, Nov. 29.

Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day 1¼d to 1⅝d lower; corn ⅛d to ¼d lower.

At Chicago, December wheat closed to-day ⅝c lower, December corn ⅝c lower, December oats ½c lower.

Winnipeg Options.

Following are the closing quotations on Winnipeg grain futures to-day:

Wheat—Nov. $1.02½ bid, Dec. $1.02⅛ bid, May $1.11¼ bid.

Oats—Nov. 41½c bid, Dec. 42⅝c bid, May 49⅝c bid.

Toronto Grain Market.

Grain—
Wheat, spring, bush	$0 95 to	$....
Wheat, fall, bush	1 00	1 03
Wheat, goose, bush	0 88	....
Wheat, red, bush	1 00	....
Peas, bush	0 88	....
Buckwheat, bush	0 70	....
Barley, bush	0 70	....
Oats, bush	0 54	0 55

Toronto Dairy Market.

Butter, dairy, lb. rolls	0 27	0 28
Butter, tubs	0 26	0 27
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 30	0 31
Butter, creamery, boxes	0 29	0 30
Eggs, new-laid, dozen	0 30	....
Eggs, cold storage, dozen	0 30	....
Cheese, large, lb.	0 13½	....
Cheese, twin, lb.	0 13¾	....
Honey, extracted, lb.	0 12	0 12½

Liverpool Grain and Produce.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 29.—Wheat—Spot closed quiet; No. 2 red western winter, 7s 10½d. Futures quiet; Dec. 7s 10⅞d, March 8s 2¼d, May 8s 1⅝d.

Corn—Spot quiet; prime mixed, American, 5s 7d. Futures quiet; Dec. 5s 6½d, Jan. 5s 3⅜d.

Bacon—Cumberland cut easy, 51s; short clear backs easy, 48s.

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Butter—Irregular; receipts, 4894; creamery, thirds to first, 22c to 27½c; western factory, common to first, 16c to 21c.

Cheese—Quiet, unchanged; receipts, 5507.

Eggs—Quiet, unchanged; receipts, 5553.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—Hogs Improve In Price at U. S. Markets.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—London cables are firmer at 10½c to 13c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c per pound.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Nov. 29.—Cattle—Receipts, 200 head; steady; prime steers, $5.50 to $5.85.

Veals—Receipts, 600 head; active; 50c higher, $5 to $9.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 7700 head; active; 20c to 25c higher; heavy, mixed, yorkers and pigs, $5; roughs, $4.25 to $4.40; stags, $3 to $3.50; dairies, $4.75 to $4.90.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 13,000 head; active; wethers and mixed sheep steady; others 10c higher; lambs, $5 to $6.75; a few, $6.85; yearlings, $5.25 to $5.60; wethers, $5.25 to $5.40; ewes, $4.75 to $5.25; sheep, mixed, $2.50 to $5.25; Canada lambs, $6.25 to $6.60.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Beeves—Receipts, 4396; steers slow to 15c lower; bulls slow and barely steady; cows weak to 15c lower; steers, $3.60 to $6; bulls, $3 to $4.60; cows, $1.50 to $3.60; few fancy, heavy do., $4 to $4.25. Exports to-morrow, 690 cattle and 4600 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 594; market dull; veals weak; grassers and western calves 25c to 50c off; veals, $5.50 to $9.50; choice, $9.75; culls, $4 to $5; grassers, $3.75; Kentucky and western calves, $4.50 to $5.62½; western yearlings, $3.55.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 11,482; sheep steady; lambs slow to 10c lower; sheep, $3.50 to $5.25; few choice, $5.50; culls, $2.50; lambs, $6 to $6.75; one car, $6.80; culls, $4.50 to $5; no Canada lambs.

Hogs—Receipts, 3605; all for slaughterers; nominally 25c to 30c higher.

GERMAN DIPLOMAT ARRESTED.

Charged With Embezzlement of Legation Funds—Attempts Suicide.

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 30.—Felix Daehne, chancellor of the German Legation, who acted several times as charge d'affaires during the Minister's absence, was arrested Thursday night by a detective at the office of the Legation, following a request from the German Minister to the State Department. Daehne is closely watched at police headquarters, for yesterday morning he attempted to commit suicide, which was prevented by the timely interference of a detective.

The charge against Daehne is the alleged embezzlement of more than $1,000 of the funds of the Legation. He will be sent to Germany for trial, the alleged crime having been committed within the German Legation.

Famous Nurse Honored.

London, Nov. 30.—Florence Nightingale, the English philanthropist, has been decorated with the Order of Merit by King Edward. She is the first woman to receive this distinction, which up to the present time has been bestowed only upon nineteen men, each one of marked eminence. The Order of Merit was founded by King Edward in 1902 for the recognition of especially distinguished services in all walks of life.

Ottawa Buys Plant.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—The civic electric commission and the Ottawa Electric Co. have compromised upon $29,000 as the price to be paid by the city for the street lighting plant of the company. The plant will be taken over by the city gradually, and the civic plant will be lighting all the streets by Dec. 28.

Bank Manager Dead.

Montreal, Nov. 30.—F. H. Mathewson, manager of the Bank of Commerce here, who was injured in a runaway mishap, died yesterday morning from heart trouble.

Costly Raffle.

Kingston, Nov. 30.—For allowing a raffle in the Grimason Hotel William Marshall was fined $25 and costs.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
RAILWAY TIME TABLE

	Arrive.	Depart
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.40 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.25 a.m 5.38 p.m
Port Hope and points east to Montreal and Boston		8.30 a.m
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago & West, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.20 a.m. 5.33 p.m.	11.45 a.m 9.05 p.m
From Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Bowmanville and Port Hope	11.45 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stouffville, Uxbridge and Markham	10.05 p.m.	7.20 a.m
Lindsay Local	8.15 a.m.	9.10 p.m
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 8.40 p.m.	8.30 a.m 1.50 p.m
Lakefield and Stony Lake	9.50 a.m. 5.15 p.m.	8.30 a.m 12.30 p.m

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

DEPART FOR EAST
Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa and Montreal...... 11:16 a.m. and 12:28 Daily ex. Sun. Daily
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock and Tweed... 7:47 p.m., Daily

DEPART FOR WEST
Toronto, London, Chicago and New York............ 5:16 a.m. Daily
Toronto & Intermediate, North Bay, Winnipeg and Northwest............ 8:00 a.m. Daily ex. Sun
Toronto, Galt, London, Detroit and Chicago... 4:48 p.m. Daily ex. Sun

CANADIAN NORTHERN ONTARIO
SHORT LINE TO MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND
FALL TIME TABLE

NORTHBOUND

	No. 1	No. 3
TORONTO	† 9.00 am	† 6.30 pm
WASHAGO	12.38 pm	10.00 pm
PARRY SOUND	3.15 pm	....

SOUTHBOUND

	No. 2	No. 4
PARRY SOUND	†11.45 am	†..........
WASHAGO	2.13 pm	6.45 am
TORONTO	5.45 pm	10.10 am

Observation-Dining Parlor Cars between Toronto and Parry Sound serving meals a la carte.

† Daily except Sunday.

OFFICES: All Stations, also Cor. King and Toronto and Union Station. Phone, Main 5179.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
$18.10 TO CHICAGO and Return
From Peterborough, on account of INTERNATIONAL LIVE STOCK EXPOSITION Tickets good going Nov. 28 to Dec. 2 valid for return until Monday, Dec. 9, 1907
ONLY DOUBLE TRACK LINE TO CHICAGO
Smooth Roadbed Fast Trains
Comfortable Coaches
Full information may be obtained from
W. BUNTON,
City Passenger Agent
F. SANDY,
Depot Ticket Agent
Or write Mr J. D. McDonald, D.P.A., Union Depot, Toronto

CANADIAN PACIFIC
WINTER FAIR GUELPH
DEC. 9 TO 13, 1907
Return Tickets at
SINGLE FARE
FROM ALL STATIONS
Good going Dec. 7 to 13 Inclusive
Returning until and on Dec. 16
Children under twelve half fare
Tickets and all information from
W. McILROY,
Canadian Pacific Agent,
343 George St., Peterboro
Or write C. B. FOSTER, D.P.A., Toronto.

Wood
POINT ST. CHARLES
Hemlock and Pine Slabs
Cedar Shingle Blocks
A. McDONALD Estate

"Fashion-Craft"

¶First of all— see what we have before you buy your Winter Overcoat.

¶ Special English Nap Overcoat—$40.

¶Made in any style and lined with Skinners Satin.

¶It is true that this Overcoat is a marvel of comfort and style and good value.

LAIDLAW & OLES, Proprietors, Peterboro.

STRAIGHT TALK TO DOUMA.

Stolypin Says Safety of Russia Is in Czar's Autocratic Power.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 30.—The declaration of the Government read by Premier Stolypin before the Douma yesterday was received with dismay by the Octobrists and the Constitutional Democrats, and with open exaltation by the members of the right party.

The keynote of the address was reiteration of the idea of the autocratic power of the Emperor as the sole guarantee of security and welfare in an era of disorder. The announcement was made also that the Douma is expected to take its cue from the Administration in the matter of legislation, and the Premier outlined what future legislation was expected.

He excoriated the Radical parties as fosterers of crime and sedition, and he said their excesses would no longer be tolerated in Russia. This statement is taken to show that the Administration looks with disfavor upon any alliance between the Octobrists and the Constitutional Democrats.

The Premier was constantly interrupted by applause from members of the Right party, but at the conclusion of his address there was scarcely a handclap from the Octobrists ranks.

FOR WAR AGAINST BRITAIN.

That Is What German Fleet Is For Declares Herr Bebel.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—In the Reichstag yesterday, Herr Bebel, Socialist, said that official inquiry made among the teachers in the public schools of Berlin showed that the number of children who never got dinner had risen to 4,841, while a large number of children have only bread and coffee for dinner.

Referring to the proposed changes in naval legislation the Socialist leader offered to wager that the Government would come forward with a new navy construction bill within three years, and he asked against what country this bill would be directed. The fleet society was agitating against Great Britain, he said, and agitation for war against this country could be observed on all sides. The naval cadets had even put this idea into verse and occasionally would give expression in song.

VICE-REGAL DRAWING-ROOM.

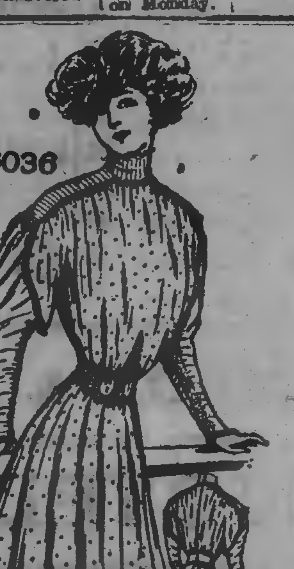
Brilliant Function Is Senate Chamber at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—The vice-regal drawing-room last night was a brilliant and largely-attended affair. It was held a day earlier then usual on account of the large number of visitors in the capital, many of whom leave for home for the week-end. The entire central block was given up to the function. The privy councillors, consuls-general and headquarters officers were in full uniform. Earl and Countess Grey, with Lady Sybil Grey and Lady Evelyn Grey, received from the throne in the Senate chamber. Mr. and Mrs. Choate of Washington attended.

Denounced Employment Bureaus.

Newcastle, Nov. 30.—In scathing terms Magistrate Maltby yesterday denounced all employment bureaus. He was trying the case of Bulgarian laborers, who had been brought here from Toronto and set to work. The Bulgarians could not talk English, so no written agreement was made with them beforehand. They were starving when, after many complaints, the authorities interfered. Employers of the men paid their wages to the agency, which, it is alleged, held it back from the laborers. J. Henry Stanford of the Interior Department came here and held an investigation.

Sintaluta, Sask., was swept by fire on Monday.



6036

A UNIQUE BLOUSE WAIST

A pretty separate waist is an absolute necessity to the modern woman, for social exactions carry many sartorial requirements with them. The waist illustrated, which is adapted for any dressy wear, is at once so novel and so picturesque that it cannot fail to appeal to the artistic sense of the tasteful dresser. It is made of dotted net over silk, chiffon being used for the pretty wrinkled sleeves, and the same material, tucked, for the shoulder pieces, which afford the extremely long shoulder that is so much admired. The waist is prettily slashed at the waist line, the slashed portions being extended in tab effect over the girdle Altogether it is cut on unique lines, embodying the latest Parisian ideas with some Japanese effects; yet, while pretty and uncommon, it is not beyond the capabilities of the home dressmaker. It may be modeled in Louisine Silk, Crepe de Chine, Eolienne or any soft fabric, while net or all-over lace may be used for the sleeves. To make it in the medium size requires 4⅜ yards of material 22 inches d 6036—5 sizes, 32 to 40 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at THE REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited
97 Yonge Street, Toronto.
W. H. ISAAC, 223 Dublin Street, Peterborough.
Local Salaried Representative. Machine 'Phone 22

Woman's World

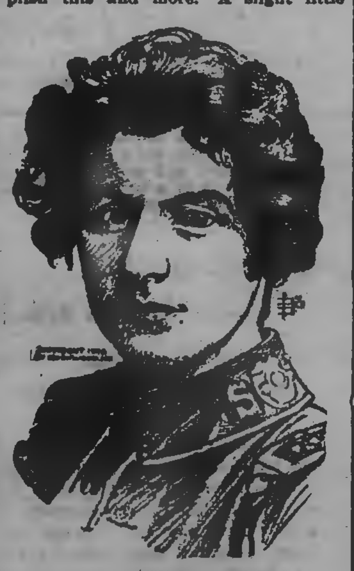
MISS EVA BOOTH.

Preparing For the Greatest Campaign In History of Salvation Army.

Evangeline Booth, head of the Salvation Army in America, is preparing for the greatest campaign in the history of that great organization in the United States.

It is to be a campaign for humanity, a nation wide movement in anticipation of approaching winter to provide shelter for homeless men, to care for poor and unfortunate women, to rescue starving children and to provide Christmas dinners for tens of thousands of poor people who otherwise would know of no such cheer.

Nobody who is acquainted with the characteristics of Evangeline Booth for a moment doubts that she will accomplish this and more. A slight little body she is, yet possessed of all the tremendous nerve force and executive ability which have so long distinguished her venerable father, still active in his seventy-ninth year, the founder of the Salvation Army, General William Booth.



MISS EVA BOOTH.

Sixteen hours a day she labors and frequently eighteen, and no wonder, for she is commander in chief of an army consisting of tens of thousands of soldiers quartered in 963 barracks or churches. Last year the meetings conducted by them were attended, it is claimed, by more than 7,000,000 persons.

She is at the head of a great system of industrial homes and Salvation Army hotels, which have fed 1,318,000 men and furnished beds, either free or at a nominal price, to 463,000 homeless men. The 116 rescue homes last year cared for more than 9,000 women.

In addition to all this Miss Booth manages the publication of the official paper of the Salvation Army, the War Cry, of which no fewer than 4,124,000 copies were sold last year.

Manicuring the Nails.

The fashionable nail just now is the brilliantly polished one that looks very glossy indeed. It is cut to fit the shape of the finger. If the finger is long and pointed the nail is cut long and pointed, but if the finger is round and rather heavy at the end the nail is round.

To train the nails into assuming a pretty shape you must press down skin and flesh at the base of the nail until you can see the half moon. This requires constant attention and must be looked to morning and night without fail or the moons will soon be clouded over again by the skin.

When you push down the flesh be sure that it has previously been softened by holding the hands in a basin of water in which there is a little borax and a pinch of bran; also a tiny bit of soap. The flesh will now be found to be very pliable and can be pushed back by means of a blunt orange wood stick. Never use a sharp instrument for pushing down the skin and flesh at the base of the nails.

Nails that break can be treated so that they will keep their beauty. Every night they should have a litt glycerin and rosewater rubbed in them in the proportion of about h and half. If glycerin does not ag with the skin the nail can be tre with vaseline and almond oil, half and half, which can be massaged into the cuticle. This will certainly strengthen the nail and keep it from cracking.

Should the nails be too pale for beauty they can be tinted by massage. If they are massaged every night from the tip to the base they will in a short time begin to look rosy. Five minutes of this kind of work every night will give back a rich return in the shape of properly colored nails.

To color the nails by artificial aid take a little benzoin and alcohol tinted by a drop of red coloring substance which the chemist will add. This when applied will make the nail pink and glossy, but it is better in the long run to accomplish the work by massage.

Nails that are thick and rough can be smoothed by using the finest pumice stone. A polisher is dipped in the pumice and is then rubbed rapidly over the nails. This removes all roughness and makes the nails ready for the final polishing.

The Self Reliant Woman.

To be able to meet an emergency in life, no matter what it may be, is a form of self reliance that every woman should train and develop herself for. It expresses itself in an ability to make quick decisions and, having done that, acting without doubt and hesitation, straining at every point to justify the action by bringing it to a successful finish.

More than half the women in the world fail not only in important but trivial things because they are afraid. Necessity in some form obliges them to make decision. Of their obligation to do this they have no doubt, but as there is always the possibility of another way being better than that decided upon they waver, go ahead half heartedly and in the end either fail entirely or achieve only partial success because they lack self reliance. They are not sure of themselves, either of their ability or wisdom, and neither is strengthened.

Doubt after a positive step in any positive direction has been taken is weakening. Nothing is gained in fact either in work or in daily domestic routine without effort. If a woman tries to make a cake and during the mixing part her mind is occupied with wondering if it would have been better to have used another recipe the chances are against her turning out as good a cake as it would have been had all her mind been concentrated upon the work in hand, when materials would have been more accurately measured and strength of conviction would have lent more power to her arm to beat the mixture well.

Sending Preserves.

Often one wishes to send some preserves, butters or jellies to friends at a distance, yet the very thought of broken jars, etc., reminds one of a wreckage equal to sending explosives by mail. And yet it is the easiest matter in the world to send one or two quarts or gallons if desired by placing the fruit in tin lard buckets and sealing around the edge of the rim with passe-partout paper binding. In this manner fruit can be sent from coast to coast and no damage done. When it arrives it can be placed in jars and properly sealed. Tomatoes can be canned and passe-partout placed over the sealing wax, and they will not need to be taken from the cans. In fact, they could not, for they would spoil. This is a good idea for country parents who wonder how they can send their children different kinds of fruits from home—and is anything more appreciated?

Science Studies Your Baby.

Science takes a large and comprehensive interest in modern babies and baby statistics, says the September Delineator.

The average weight of boy babies at birth is seven pounds; girls about six and a half pounds. During the first three days the child loses weight. After it is a week old it steadily increases.

A child should increase in weight two pounds for every addition of an inch in height between three and four feet and two and one-half pounds for every inch between four and five feet.

The healthy baby triples its weight at birth in one year, doubles this in six years, quadruples this weight in thirteen years, and at twenty-one a man weighs twenty-one times his weight at birth. These are the figures resulting from the averaging of many thousand cases under investigation.

Sub. [illegible]tute For Curtain Rod.

Inexper[illegible]ve curtains add a finish to any roo[illegible] and when one has not the double [illegible] the following method will be fou[illegible] satisfactory: Make an inch hem at [illegible] top of the curtains. Buy some [illegible]g elastic three-quarters of an inc[illegible] wide. Measure the elastic by st[illegible]ing it as far as it can be stretch[illegible] across the window. Cut out at on[illegible] and sew on a strong batten[illegible]. Insert the elastic in hem[illegible] another button at the other end[illegible] then fasten a button at each end [illegible] small brass knob of the cur[illegible]ain rod. Pin the center of the [illegible] to the outer curtain, and th[illegible] will find it will not sag in th[illegible]

[illegible] Rhymes For Brides.

[illegible] rhyme of interest to brides [illegible] this:

Married in blue,
He'll always be true;
Married in brown
To live out of town;
Married in yellow,
Ashamed of the fellow;
Married in green,
Ashamed to be seen;
Married in black,
You'll wish yourself back;
Married in gray,
You'll go far away;
Married in pink,
Your spirit will sink;
[illegible] happiest couple;
[illegible]ried in white,
[illegible]e married all right.

Dye to any Color At Home!

"Maypole" is a cake of soap that washes and dyes at one operation. Not an old fashioned dirty, messy powder dye. It gives brilliant, fast colors—dyes anything—dyes to any color or shade. Good-bye to that trip to the dye house—dye at home with Maypole.

Maypole Soap

10c. for Colors—15c. for Black.

Frank L. Benedict & Co. Montreal. 64

Don'ts For Stout Women.

Don't wear checks, large plaids or polka dots.

Don't expect to look slim in white or light colored gowns.

Don't wear frills.

Don't wear short skirts.

Don't expect to look comfortable in tight shoes.

Don't imagine that you can wear high, close collars and have a good complexion.

Save Salt Bags.

Save all your salt bags. They not only make nice jelly bags, but several put together and stitched on the machine make good dish cloths or wash cloths.

Keep a pair of scissors and a waste paper receptacle in the kitchen; also a box for pieces of string. They will prove their use very frequently.

A good method of preventing pen nibs from corroding is that of placing a few nails in the inkstand before this is filled with ink.

Franco-Canadian Treaty.

London, Nov. 30.—(C. A. P.)—The Foreign Office has issued the Franco-Canadian treaty tariff and the Reform papers publish it fully and comment lengthily, paying a tribute to its statesmanlike qualities, but pointing out its significance to the Mother Country.

hTe Morning Post remarks on the significance of the fact that a British dominion obtains from a foreign nation a preference the Mother Country is refused. The Standard emphasizes the danger of extension of such treaties leading to British commercial isolation.

SIZED HIM UP WRONG.

Fistic Encounter Did Not Turn Out as It Was Planned.

"It was this way, you see," said the young man with the black eye and skinned nose and a gap in his mouth where two front teeth used to be. "I was elbowed by a feller on a street car and we had some words. I determined to lick that man or die. I could have hit him with a stone or a club or hired some ruffian to waylay him, but I wanted to polish him off scientifically. I wanted to dally with him—to jab and uppercut him and straight punch until I made a pulp of him."

"And so you took boxing lessons?" was queried.

"That's what I did—twenty-four of them. When I had finished my instructor said that I could knock out any man twice my weight in America I had kept an eye on the elbow man and when I got good and ready I threw myself in his way. He gave me the elbow again. I called him a ruffian and a coward and invited him to step off the car."

"And the bluffer didn't dare do it, of course?"

"But he did dare. Yes, sir, he got down lively. I squared off at him and let go with my right. It missed. Then I let go with my left. It missed. Then I swung on him. He wasn't there. Then—then"—

"Then you caught him an awful wallop and killed him stone dead?"

"Not quite. Something came booming along and hit me all over the face and I went down and awoke in an ambulance."

"But you had taken twenty-four lessons in boxing."

"I had, but as I afterward found out the other feller had taken forty-eight." —Chicago News.

Central Methodist church, Sarnia, celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary on Sunday.

There are 85 applications to the Clerk of the Commons for private legislation.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

How nicely and easily a Cake can be iced with

Cowan's Cake Icing

Chocolate, Pink, White, Lemon, Orange, Almond, Maple and Coconut Cream.

ABSOLUTELY PURE ICINGS

THE COWAN CO., Ltd., TORONTO

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

BICYCLES

Stored for the Winter, Free of Charge

—AT—

METHEREL CYCLE WORKS

225 Hunter St. Machine 'Phone 354

Bicycles and Typewriters repaired. Genera Machine Work.

FOR PASSEPARTOUT WORK

The fad for passepartout pictures is again growing a favorite for pretty pictures and are always appreciated. One can always find room for a couple more on the walls and every one has their favorite subject, some like scenery, others historical subjects, many like kittens and one boy in the city has the walls of his bedroom fairly covered with pictures of dogs—small and large. When mounted on a suitable background and passepartouted they are very pretty and inexpensive to make up. The Review has a large stock of pictures in sepia and colors, mounting papers and passepartout to match. Call and see them at the REVIEW Office, Hunter street. 3d

FIRE ALARM BOXES

The following are the numbers and locations of the city of Peterborough Fire Alarm Boxes.

WARD No. ONE

BOX	LOCATION
12	Lock and McGill
14	Westcott and Aylmer
15	Perry and George
16	Perry and Bethune
17	Park and Townsend
18	George, at C. P. R.
	WARD No. TWO
21	George and King
22	Simcoe and Queen
23	George and Hunter
24	Hunter and Quaker
27	Water and McDonel
	WARD No. THREE
31	Park and Sherbrooke
33	Charlotte and Stewart
35	Park and Hunter
38	McDonel and Reid
	WARD No. FOUR
41	Park and London
42	George and Dublin
43	Edinburgh and Stewart
45	George and Smith
48	Water and Hillard
	WARD No. FIVE
52	Burnham and James
53	Rogers and Sophia
54	Hunter and Mark
57	Concession and Hazlitt
59	Auburn

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the Ward number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

Children's Aid Society

FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.

Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898
Information required. Informants name kept strictly private.

CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION

Office Hours—11.00 to 12.00 a.m.
OF CE--DIVISION COURT BLDG

GEO. COCHRANE,
Agent and Asst S

Letterheads

¶What you think about your Business Stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks.

¶Don't have inferior paper and work in your Business Stationery. Don't try good work and paper because you like it, altogether, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

¶The Review Job Department will give you the best work obtainable and superior paper and envelopes. Your order set, printed and cared for for you, particularly you

¶A Call or Phone will bring to you samples.

THE REVIEW
PETERBOROUGH

YOUR OWN HAIR MADE UP AS DESIRED.

By home talent, where you are sure of satisfaction, or matched correctly in shade and quality.

Switches, Natural Wavy Pomps Latest Coiffures

Let us show you what we can do before you patronize some outside party. We guarantee to please you at lowest prices in the city.

Back Hair Dressing, Shampooing, etc.

MRS. BYRNE'S

George Street, Second Door North of Dutton's

W. H. HILL, Esq.,

Manager of Central Ontario.

Dear Sir—After congratulating myself being a Sun Life Policy Holder, I am very much pleased with the handsome amount added to my Policy, and am surprised and gratified with the profits. I appreciate the good financial position which your Company holds to-day.

THOS. EDGAR,
Peterborough, Ont

November 29th, 1907.

N.B.—Policy Straight Life $2,000
Bonus for 5 Years $160
Policy No. 17,706

SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY,
November 23

Baby's Own Soap, regular 10c for	8c
Good Baking Powder, per lb	10c
All 25c Combs for	19c
Vaseline, regular 5c per bottle	2 for 5c
Barron's Tonic, regular $1.00 for	75c
Thomas Eclectric Oil, regular 25c,	2 for 25c
Cuticura Soap, regular 35c for	25c
Hand Scrubs, regular 5c each,	3 for 5c
Castoria, regular 35c for	23c

Free Sample of Liquid Veneer given away to ladies only on Saturday, November 23rd.

WARNE BROS.
345 GEORGE ST. Phone 527

Xmas Photos

Send a family group or the children's photos to your friends at Christmas. Nothing is appreciated more than such remembrances, from

MENDEL'S STUDIO

374 1-2 George St. Entrance next Oke's

INTEREST PAID
QUARTERLY
—ON—
SAVINGS DEPOSITS of $1 and upwards
—THE—
BANK OF OTTAWA

Interest paid
February 28
May 31
August 31
November 30

PETERBOROUGH BRANCHES:
George Street, also Corner Rubidge and Townsend Streets

A. A. HOLLINGSHEAD, Mgr

TRIBUTE TO THE WORK OF MISS WALLIS

Article in Strand Magazine Tells of Her Success—Movement to Purchase Some of Her Work for Peterboro'

The December number of the "Strand" magazine contains an excellent article on "Canadian Artists in Paris," by C. Hay Thompson. Mention is made of the work of Miss Katherine E. Wallis, of Peterborough, who has been abroad for the past few years. A picture of one of her best subjects "Mercury Charmed by His Own Invention," has been attracting a great deal of attention. It is learned that a movement is on foot to purchase one or more of the works of Miss Wallis and have them placed in the new Normal School in this city. This would be a graceful tribute of Peterborough's appreciation of the work done by one of the daughters of the city and it is hoped that the proposition will be carried through.

The reference to Miss Wallis in the "Strand" is as follows:

"Miss Katherine E. Wallis, an example of whose work is here shown, entered at South Kensington in 1895. After various successes there including the Modelling Scholarship, she went to Paris in 1899. She exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1897 and four times since, and in 1900 showed at the Salon and the Exposition. Despite weak health, Miss Wallis has done the whole work of her life size statuary, roughing out as well as finishing, both in stone and marble, instead of handing this over to workmen, as is the common practice. At present she has two important works in course of execution."

"SANITOL" PROPOSITION

If you are interested in an A1 offer for sterling good Toilet Preparations, call in and we will explain how you can get $2.70 worth of Sanitol Preparations for $1.00.

We know you will be pleased with the Goods and well satisfied with the bargain.

NUGENT DRUG CO.
A. J. JOHNSTON
386 GEORGE STREET

Choice Bread of Excellent Quality

On Monday next William Stock & Sons, bakers, will place on the market their new brand of bread, known as the "White Clover," a high-class milk loaf, made from the very highest class of materials, with scrupulous care and attention and with the aid perfected machinery to perform the the different operations. The new loaf is known as a confection among breads, and will be sure to be a general favorite. The weight of the loaf is 20 ounces, each loaf being wrapped and stamped. The makers claim that the new bread is certainly the bread of quality and in every respect a perfect article. Some further announcements will be made in the press to put the claims of the bread and other manufactures of the firm before the public. The new bake shop and facilites are now completed, adding very largely to the output and to the facilities for handling the product. Citizens are invited to try the bread and pronounce on its quality.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew

Local Chapters Observe St. Andrews Day by Attending Early Communion

The members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew commemorated the day of their Patron Saint, St. Andrew, by celebrating the Holy Communion at St. Luke's at 5 this morning. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt officiated. He gave a short address on the motive of the work and the power by which the work is to be done by the members of the Brotherhood. Mr. R. J. Devey, organist of St. John's church, presided at the organ.

PARK ST. EVICTION

Mr. John Craig States That Venders Had Given Family Many Notices.

Regarding the eviction this week of a family on Park street, Mr. John Craig stated today that the property referred to had twice been offered for sale by auction, and the family notified several times by the Sheriff to move out. It was the Neal McDonald estate, vendors of the property, which had placed the Sheriff's officer in charge, and not the purchaser, Mr. Craig, who bought the property at auction on July 6th last.

The York county council has decided to abolish the rewards for the conviction of automobilists.

ADAMS The Ladies' Furnishing Store ADAMS

SATURDAY SPECIALS

Lustre Blouses, Wrapperette Blouses, Cashmere Hose, Worsted Hose, Eider Down Dressing Saques, Ladies' Winter Underwear Flannelette Gowns

$1.50 LUSTRE BLOUSES 98c
18 only fine quality lustre blouses, colors black, navy, brown, black and white, navy and white. These blouses were formerly sold at 1.50 and 2.00 Sat. special clearing price for .98

75c and 1.00 FLANNELETTE BLOUSES FOR 50c and 75c
24 only wrapperette blouses, made of good quality cloth, neat patterns assorted colors, formerly .75 and 1.00 Saturday clearing price 50c and .75

$1.75 EIDERDOWN DRESSING JACKETS FOR $1.00
2 doz only all wool Eiderdown dressing jackets, cardinal and sky with white black trimmings, (reg. 1.75 Saturday special price..... 1.00

35c CASHMERE HOSE 25c
10 dozen extra heavy all wool cashmere hose, assorted ribs, these stockings are extra value today at 35c, our Special Saturday price for.... .25

35c RIBBED WORSTED HOSE FOR 28c
15 dozen heavy quality all wool worsted hose, sizes from 6 to 10 inches, a boy's stocking guaranteed to wear, good values at 35c
Special Saturday price for.... .28

LADIES' UNDERWEAR 25c, 35c, and 50c
No store can give you better underwear values than Adams'. Our values at all prices are unmatchable. See the specials for Sat. at 25, 35, .50

FLANNELETTE GOWNS—Made of Extra Quality Cloth, Special Saturday at 50c, 75c, 85c.

Harry Adams

REDUCED PRICES

FRESH PORK

Loin Cuts	12 1-2c per lb
Shoulder Cuts	10c "
Hind Quarters	10c "
Front Quarters	9c "
Sausages	3 lbs for 25c

PICKLED PORK

Loin Cuts (backs)	13c per lb
Hams	13c "
Rolls	12c "

SMOKED

Hams	14c "
Rolls	12 1-2c per lb
Breakfast Bacon	17c "
Windsor Bacon, Skinless	18c "

All our Products are Government Inspected and marked

CANADA APPROVED

THE GEO. MATTHEWS CO., Limited
3 RETAIL STORES

Plebiscite of Ratepayers Of City Will be Taken

A plebiscite of the ratepayers of Peterborough will be taken at the municipal elections in January, to ascertain how the city stands on the proposal to have a system of garbage collection. This was decided by a meeting of the property committee yesterday afternoon, who will recommend this action to the city council at Monday night's meeting. The following is the question to be submitted to the ratepayers;

"Are you in favor of establishing a system for the collection of garbage in the city?"

If the majority of the ratepayers are in favor of a garbage system, the council will take the necessary steps to meet their wishes.

On motion, it was decided to ask the City Trust Commission for permission to place a hospital tent for contagious disease patients on the Hilliard farm when necessary, until an isolation hospital has been built. The commissioners will also be asked to designate what part of the property the tent can be placed upon. Those present were Ald. McIntyre, chairman; Ald. Stevenson and Elliott and the Mayor.

The Man on The Box

JAMESON LEE FINNEY AND NEIL MORAM
In "The Man on the Box" Grand Opera House Wednesday Dec. 4th. Plan opens Monday.

THE RESULTS OF THE MILK TESTS

The following is the result of the milk test for the month of November. The tests were made by Mr. P. Downham. The percentage of butter fat required by the by-law is 3.5. The figures opposite each name show the percentage of butter fat;—

T. Hetherington	4.7
Duffus	4.6
Reece	4.4
Robson	4.3
Cox	4.2
Wilson	4.2
McMullen	4.2
Raper	4.1
Isaac Hetherington	4.
Adams	3.8
Robertson	3.8
Dobbin	3.8
McGregor	3.8
Metcalfe	3.8
Bronell	3.7
Lillico	3.6
Hunter	3.5
McRae	3.5
Brown	3.4
McEwen	3.4
F. McMullen	3.2
W. Hetherington	3.

Surprise Party for Mr. Clitheroe

Thos. Clitheroe, 475 Rubidge street, was given a pleasant surprise party by about forty of his friends on Thursday night. The evening was spent in card playing and dancing and refreshments were served.

TROOPER BRACE TO PREACH HERE

Trooper Rev. A. J. Brace, son of the pastor, of the Baptist church, Park street, will preach for his father tomorrow. He was a delegate to the International Y.M.C.A. convention at Washington and is paying a flying visit to Peterborough before returning to Victoria, B.C.

Special E[illegible] at [illegible] Street

A series of [illegible] Park street ch[illegible] of December [illegible] ed. The list incl[illegible] on December 1[illegible] service on Dec[illegible] ject at Park [illegible] night is "[illegible] in Sight [illegible]

TROUBLE OVER A FENCE HEARD IN POLICE COURT

Townsend Resident Heavily Fined for Striking His Neighbor With a Whip

A fine of twenty dollars and costs amounting to $22.60, was imposed upon George Jamieson at the police court this morning for striking Mrs. A. Killingbeck in the face with a whip. Both complainant and defendant reside in a terrace on Townsend street, owned by Mr. Thos. Hooper and from evidence given this morning it appears that the trouble arose out of a fence that was built on the east side of Mr. Jamieson's house and to which Mrs. Killingbeck strongly objected. Mrs. Killingbeck was sworn and stated that though Jamieson's yard was the only means teams had of driving into the shed adjoining her house. Mr. Jamieson was building the fence yesterday and witness told him not to dare to drive a nail. He paid no heed to her, so she went and got the axe and proceeded to knock down the fence. In the meantime Mr. Jamieson had procured a whip and when the witness started chopping away with her axe he hit her across the face with a whip.

Alf. Killingbeck was sworn and said that he saw Jamieson strike his mother, from a window, where he was standing.

Mr. Jamieson swore that he used the whip in self defence. The complainant came very nearly cutting his hand off. As for the fence Mr. Jamieson said that he had got permission from his landlord, Mr. T. Hooper, to build it.

Mr. Hooper said that he told Jamieson to build a fence if he desired. It was not necessary for Killingbeck to drive on Jamieson's property at all.

His Worship said that the landlord after he rented property had no more to say with it.

"Jamieson had no right to take the law in his own hands," said the magistrate, and he imposed the above fine.

LIVELY RUNAWAY ON AYLMER ST.

A runaway accident that will result in the horse being laid up for about six weeks, took place on Aylmer street last night. Isaac Mein was driving a rather spirited animal belonging to a local livery stable, up the street when it took fright and started off. It did not go far, but suddenly stopped and kicked for all it was worth. The bells on the cutter were smashed and horse's hind legs badly cut. It is now under the care of a veterinary surgeon.

Funeral of the Late James Dolan

Took Place This Morning—Many Pay Last Respect to Memory of Deceased

The remains of the late James Dolan, who passed away on Wednesday evening last, were laid to rest this morning in St. Peter's cemetery. A large number of friends and former fellow citizens turned out to pay their last token of respect to one who had always been held in the highest esteem. The long cortege proceeded to St. Peter's cathedral, where requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Father Kelly. At the grave the service was conducted by Rev. Father Galvin. The pallbearers were Messrs. B. Morrow, J. Moloney, H. LeBrun, H. Rush, T. McNamara and M Connors, all very intimate friends of the deceased. The floral tributes were numerous, and included many handsome designs. Among them was a cross from Mr. and Mrs. H. LeBrun; basket from Mr. Robt. Fair; anchor, Mr. and Mrs. Geo Graham and family; heart, Mr. and Mrs. Rudkins; cross, Knights of Columbus; wreath, C.M.B.A.; star, Mr. and Mrs. Pappas; anchor, employees and boarders of city hotel; wreath, Mr. M. Connors and family.

The societies, C.M.B.A., Knights of Columbus and Ancient Order of Hibernians were all represented at the funeral.

Mr. John Dolan, of Chicago, brother to the deceased, did not arrive until to-day at noon, but the grave was not closed until he had had a last look at his late brother. Among other relatives who were present at the funeral were Messrs. R. E. Dolan, of New York City, and Mr. James Dolan, jr., of Columbus, Ohio, nephews of the deceased, and Sister St. Ambrose, of Milan, who was accompanied by her Mother Superior, Sister St. Paul, of Cornwall.

ESTABLISHED 1873

LEAVE YOUR MEASURE

Hurry up and leave your measure now for your new

CHRISTMAS SUITS and OVERCOATS

Prices have been cut very low, when you can get made to your order on the premises—

A Stylish Ordered Suit from $15.00 up

A First-class Melton or Beaver Overcoat for $16.00 up

A Full Dress Suit for $25.00 up

Good Pair of Tweed Trousers for $3.25 up.

FIT AND SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

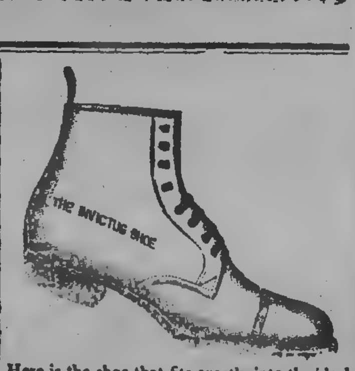
H. LeBrun & Co.
Two Entrances George and Hunter Sts.

At Guysboro, N.S., Bernard Clinton remanded to jail for trial in the supreme court on a charge of sheep stealing, committed suicide, by taking carbonic acid.

Porter's Delicatessen

CUT RATE GROCERY STORE

Black Tea, 3 lbs	.50
Select Raisins 3 lbs	.20
Cooking Figs, 4 lbs	.25
Mince Meat, 3 lbs.	.20
Chopped Suet, per lb.	.10
Washing Soda, 3 lbs.	.05
Tomatoes, per tin	.10
Beans, Peas, Corn, per tin	.08
3 bottles Pickles	.25
3 bottles Ketchup	.25
Horse Shoe Salmon, tin	.15
Potatoes, per pk.	.15
Apples, per pk	.10



Here is the shoe that fits exactly into the ideal so many have looked for and never found.

INVICTUS SHOES
AT $4.50 & $5.00

Shoes that combine with a moderate price the perfection of style, fit and durability. "Invictusized" Patent Leather Shoes are a revelation. This secret process does something never before accomplished. Renders the leather soft and pliable, increases the life of the shoes at least one third and reduces checking or breaking to a minimum.

ASK THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM

J T. STENSON
364 George St.

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES
AND
VETERINARY INFIRMARY
193 HUNTER STREET west of Oriental Hotel.

If you wish a rig of any kind for any occasion ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 275. Night Phone Bell 425 B.

D. McKERCHER, V.S.

ADAMSON & DOBBIN
Stove Dealers, Tinsmiths, Plumbers, Etc.
REMOVED Across the Street

To their new and more commodious Store premises, warerooms and workshop, No. 175 Simcoe Street,

In New Brick Block

Come and see us. We'll be glad to welcome all our friends and patrons, and lots of new customers, in our up-to-date shop. No change in our store policy. Prices will continue to be on the same reasonable scale as before. Superior Stoves, Tinware, Furnaces and Work always at moderate figures.

THE DAYLIGHT STORE

The Money-Saving Sale

Of Clothing and Furnishings now going on at this Store is meeting with success for the reason that our patrons are getting values in High-class Goods which have never been equalled. It is not what you pay, but what you get for your money that counts. Low prices alone does not make a bargain, but we are truly giving good quality at a low price.

Men's Suits
Mostly traveller's samples, cut in single and double breasted styles, latest models, worth up to $10.00, for 6.90

Youths' Suits
In fancy Tweed, beautifully lined and guaranteed fronts, worth $10.00, for 6.90

Men's Overcoats
Beautiful cloths, dark colors, hair cloth fronts, worth $13.00, for 9.90

BOYS' CLOTHING at reduced prices
MEN'S UNDERWEAR all reduced
MEN'S WORKING SHIRTS, guaranteed fast colors, at reduced prices.

Come, expecting great value. Prices are cut deep, and everything is on the move here. EARLY PICKERS SECURE THE CHOICEST FRUIT

LANG & MAHER, CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW
409-411 George St., Peterborough

AFTER SUPPER SALE---NO. 27

Tonight 7:30 to 9:30

Wool Delain
Nicely embroidered with silk for waist and children's dresses, a choice range of color combinations, special After Supper Sale .42

Black Silk
Extra heavy weight black peu-de-soie silk for dresses and coats, guaranteed not to cut, our own importations, regular $1.00 yd After Supper Sale .78

Petticoats
Women's black sateen petticoats, deep pleated flounce, finished with two narrow frills, full sizes, regular $1.50 After Supper Sale .79

Kimonas
Very fine quality wrapperette in colors navy and red with white polka dot sailor collars, nicely trimmed with braid, regular 1.25 and 1.50 After Supper Sale .69

Pillow Cases
40 and 42 inches only, good quality cotton, well made and finished with two inch hem, ready for use, each After Supper Sale .12½

Dress Shields
5 doz dress shields, covered with fine nainsook, very light weight and perfectly odorless, pair After Supper Sale .12

Table Linen
Extra Heavy pure Irish linen table damask, full grass bleached and pretty floral pattern, 56 inches wide, special per yard After Supper Sale .49

Carpet Ends
Sample ends of wool and union carpet, 36 x 40 inches, worth up to 90c per yard, your choice each, Saturday to clear After Supper Sale .22

Curtain Net
White frilled curtain net, extra quality and full frill, suitable for bedrooms or silk curtains, special per yard After Supper Sale .17

50c Matting 16c
Japanese floor matting, 36 inches wide, good assortment of patterns, worth up to 50c yard, a big clear up of short lengths After Supper Sale .16

Sheets
Ready to use good quality white cotton seamed and finished with two inch and one inch hem 72x90, each, After Supper Sale .53

65c Wash Collars 5c
A tremendous cut in price evident, included are the balance of summer stocks, wash collars, tabs and bows worth up to 65c, your choice After Supper Sale .05

Novelty Belts
The latest novelty in ladies' belts, silk shabow, silk tinsel, and gold, very wide, rich, handsome effects for Xmas gift specials After Supper Sale 3.00

Madras Muslin
Very fine quality suitable for glass doors, dining or sitting room windows or draperies, 45 inches wide, regular 50c and 60c yard After Supper Sale .42

Night Gowns
Women's flannelette night gowns in cream only, all full sizes, well made and trimmed with lace, others with silk embroidery, special each After Supper Sale 1.19

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED
353 AND 355 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH
STORE OPENS AT 8 A.M. CLOSES AT 6 P.M., EXCEPT SATURDAY

FOR FINE
Lemons, Oranges
Malaga Grapes
Bananas
and all kinds of fruit and vegetables try
MINOCOLO BROS.
Wholesale and Retail.
Both Phones 337.

FRAMED VIEWS
In COLORED SEPIA and BLACK : : : : :
FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS
THE ROY STUDIO
Ask for Roy's Famous Souvenir Post Cards

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

	Opening	Closing
Amal. Copper	50⅝	51
Atchison	72⅝	72½
B. R. T.	35	34
Can. Pacific x div.	150½	150½
Erie	16	16⅝
Louis. & Nash.	94	93⅞
Mo. Pac.	48¼	49
N. Y. Central	96¼	98¼
Penna	110⅝	110⅞
Rock Island	13⅞	14
Reading	88	90
Smelters	70	72⅞
Sugar	104	106
St. Paul	100	100⅞
So. Pac.	71¼	75⅜
Union Pac. x-div. 2½	115	116
U. S. Steel	25¼	25⅞
do. pfd.	84⅛	86⅜
Twin City
McKay	50	50
Nipissing	5¼	6¼
Wheat	102¼	103⅜
Corn	55	56¼
May Oats	50¼	50⅜
Pork	12.85	12.95

GOLD GIFTS FOR XMAS
Our stock is always a pleasure to inspect and particularly so at present. Assuming a more than ordinary Xmas like appearance, there is much to interest the shopper who is desirous of first chance in selecting. In all lines one may see the most attractive and useful gifts imaginable—And the earlier one inspects the better for one's self.
SCHNEIDER'S
391 GEORGE STREET OPEN EVENINGS
Goods laid aside on small deposit. Issuer of Marriage Licenses

THE CITY AND VICINITY

MEET ON MONDAY NIGHT.

The W.A.A. reading circle will meet on Monday night at the Y.W.C.A. at 7.30 o'clock.

FOWL! FOWL!

James R. Bell, 161 Hunter street, has a fine lot of turkeys, geese ducks and chickens, which must be sold tonight. Come and save money.

FUR LINED COATS

We clean and press them and guarantee no injury to the fur. My Valet, 204 Charlotte street. All goods called for and delivered. dtf

AT KNOX CHURCH.

In Knox church to-morrow Rev. H. J. Keith will in the morning deliver a special message to the children. In the evening he will speak "In the public eye."

EDISON RECORDS.

For December, just arrived. You should make your choice at once. They are beauties. Come and hear them at the J. M. Greene Music Co's. George street. 6d

THOSE PICTURES.

Which you have should be framed. It will preserve them and add to the appearance. New mouldings, new styles and neat work at the J. M. Greene Music Co's. store. Grand opera house building, George street. dtf

ARE GRATEFUL.

Mr. Thomas Edgar and daughters wish, through the columns of the Review, to express their thanks and appreciation for the several beautiful floral tributes sent, and the many expressions of sympathy and acts of kindness shown them during their recent bereavement.

TEA MAKING.

Success in tea making is the sure reward of the shrewd housewife who uses Johns' tea. The finest tea the world produces.

LADIES' AUXILIARY.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

A special meeting of the Knights of Columbus will be held in their rooms, George street, to-morrow (Friday) evening, at eight o'clock. John Corkery, Grand Knight. 2d

CLEAR THE ATTIC.

Stored up goods give you no benefit, take up room needlessly, and deteriorate in value. Sell such surplus articles through the Review "for sale" column. Costs only 25c. for one time, and 50c for three insertions.

KNOX BOYS' CLUB.

The Boys' Club of Knox Church entertained the members of the Boys' Club of All Saints' Church last evening. A most enjoyable time was spent. A good programme was rendered and refreshments served.

VISITING CARDS.

Now that the calling season is in full swing you will need some new visiting cards. We have all the latest styles in type and cards and can execute your order on a few hour's notice. Leave your order to-morrow at The REVIEW OFFICE. 4d

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

Rev. J. G. Potter will preach at both services tomorrow. At the evening service a special address will be given to the Young Men's Guild. All young men are cordially invited.

SANTA CLAUS
ON HIS WAY TO ROUTLEY'S
Goods are Pouring in--Our customers are Now Buying for Xmas

300 Dressed Dolls, reg. 25c, choice	.14
375 China Tea Sets, regular 50c	.25
25 Crokinole Boards, regular 1.25	.59
60 Leather Case Silk Lined Ebony Manicure Case, regular 2.50 for	1 50
20 only Military Brush Sets, Stirling Silver Mounted, regular 1.25 pair for	.74
15 cases Children's Plated Knife, Fork and Spoon, with pearl handles, reg. 2.00	1.24

You will find that our clerks are attentive and that prices are reliable. We watch closely our buying as we know goods well bought are half sold at
TORONTO 262-4 QUEEN W ROUTLEY'S PETERBORO' 379 GEORGE ST

MEET FOR PRACTICE

The members of the chorus singing in Stainer's choral work, "Daughter of Jairus," will meet at St. John's school, tomorrow evening after service. The orchestral part for twenty players have arrived from New York, and Band and Chorus of 80, will practice on Tuesday, next, at 8 p.m.

SPRAINED HIS LEG.

Mr. George W. Buck had the misfortune to sprain his leg rather seriously by the covering of the vat at the cheese box factory giving away as he was walking over it on Thursday last. He was confined to the house for a short time, but was able to walk around on Saturday.—Norwood Register.

PERSONAL

Dr. Brown, Lakefield, is in the city to-day.

Mr. S. T. Spellman, Hastings, is at the National.

Mr. T. W. McLean and wife, of Mount Pleasant, are in the city.

Mr. F. M. Dela Fosse, of Lakefield, was in the city to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Montizambert, are spending the week end in Toronto.

Mr. R. B. Caldwell, of Toronto, inspector of the Royal Bank, is in the city.

Mr. Creswell, foreman of the Cavendish Lumber Co., Lakefield, is in the city to-day.

Mr. H. J. Lefevre and Mr. R. C. Strickland, of Lakefield, were in the city to-day.

His Lordship, the Bishop of Huron, Right Rev. Dr. Williams, is expected to preach at St. Lukes Church shortly.

Master Beresford, Hamilton, of the Grove School, Lakefield, was in the city today.

Mr. J. E. Belcher is in Toronto, attending the funeral of the late Robert F. Tate, C. E., which took place this afternoon.

The many friends of Mr. Harry Potter, will be glad to know that he is much improved in health, at Nicholl's hospital.

Miss Margaret A. McDonald, of Peterborough has taken a position as stenographer in H. L. Boldrick's law office of Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. Stenton, of Bad Axe, Michigan, are spending winter in Peterborough with Mrs. Stenton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Curtis.

Mr. Geo. W. McGregor, manager of "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," which appears at the opear house to-night is registered at the Oriental.

Rev. Dr. Tucker, who will preach at St. Luke's on Sunday morning and afternoon and at All Saints' in the evening is in the city.

Mrs. J. E. Fowler, of Havelock, has returned home, after visiting her mother, Mrs. Barrie, Westcott street, who has been seriously ill.

Hon. Senator Ferguson, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., was in the city over night, the guest of his son, Mr. J. H. Ferguson manager of the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

The wedding of Miss Maude Grant, of Hamilton, to Mr. W. Shambrook is announced to take place at St. Thomas Church, Hamilton, December 21st. Miss Grant is a cousin of Mrs. Langfeldt's.

Norwood Register: Miss Gertrude Squire, of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, is home for a few weeks' visit. Councillor W. J. Webster, of this village, returned Saturday evening from a visit of several weeks to the Northwest.

Lakefield News.—Miss Mable Bettes of Peterborough, was visiting friends in the village this week. Mrs. T. McBrien and children, of Peterborough, spent a few days in the village this week, the guests of Mrs. McBrien's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Watson.

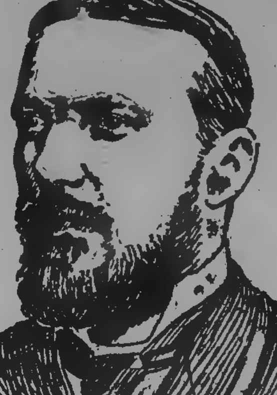
Millbrook Mirror.— Mr. Charles Thorndyke was in Peterborough, Friday on business. Reeve Given was in Peterborough yesterday. Miss Maye Duncan is a guest of Mrs. Melville at Peterborough. Mr. G. E. Burnham was in Peterborough last week on business.

A GREAT POSTAL REFORMER.

Henniker Heaton, M. P., the Apostle of Cheap Letter Rates.

John Henniker Heaton, M. P., the father of the new international postage stamp which has just come into use, is often spoken of as Rowland Hill II. because of his postal reforms.

He was born in Rochester in 1848, says M. A. P., and at an early age emigrated to Australia, where he worked for some time as editor of a weekly paper. In 1885 he was elected Conservative M. P. for Canterbury, and the same year he represented the Tasmanian Government at the Berlin Telegraph Conference. His great triumph came in 1898, when his scheme of Imperial penny postage was adopted. Mr. Heaton is a freeman of the City of London, and has refused a knighthood no fewer than four times. Apart from his Parliamentary and reforming labors, he has found time to write a good deal and is a first-class chess player and a collector of old books.



JOHN HENNIKER HEATON, M.P.

The story of how Mr. Henniker Heaton was induced to become a postal reformer is extremely interesting. A good many years ago he happened to be present in a postoffice when an old woman entered and asked how much it would cost to send a letter to her son in Australia. When she heard that the charge was sixpence, she looked very dismayed, and intimating that this was beyond her means, prepared to depart. Touched by her disappointment, Mr. Heaton offered her a sixpenny stamp, which she gladly accepted, and the letter was despatched on its way to the son in Australia. Some time later, Mr. Heaton was again in the same postoffice and the postmaster asked him if he remembered the incident. On receiving an affirmative reply, the official stated that in answer to her letter the old woman had had an invitation from her son to go out to him in Australia, and that he had offered to pay her passage. This little romance set Mr. Heaton thinking, with the result that he determined not to rest until he had brought about a reduction in the postal rates.

CANNON FOR LONDON FOGS.

Novel Scheme to Rid English Metropolis of Old-Time Nuisance.

A scheme to disperse fogs by currents of air, shot over London from "propectors" six miles away, has been laid before the public control committee of the London County Council, and M. Demetrio Moggiora, the inventor, is ready to start experiments.

M. Moggiora says his apparatus has already been subjected to severe tests at Milan, Italy, where fogs, clouds and hailstorms were quickly dissipated. With his projectors, or "air cannon," placed within a radius of six miles from the Houses of Parliament, he says he will clear away the worst fog in London within twenty minutes.

"The theory is that the fog hangs over London simply because there are no air currents to carry it away," said M. Moggiora, recently. "Now, my projectors, acting like cannon, furnish the necessary currents of air.

"Each projector is about 60 feet long. An explosion is caused as in a cannon, and the concussion has an effect for six miles. Thus, if ten or more of these were ranged over London from different directions, the fog would be lifted immediately to an altitude where the wind would blow it away. After the apparatus was permanently installed the cost would be 7d. for each explosion, and twenty explosions would rid the metropolis of its densest fog. The cost for original construction would be $3,000.

"I am confident," said M. Moggiora, "that my experiments will demonstrate the practicability of a fogless London."

"The suggestion is no more incredible than wireless telegraphy," said an official. "Who knows but in a short time we shall have a department for the control of fogs and rain, with experts to regulate the proper proportions of sunshine and cloudy weather?"

The King and the Artist.

A pleasant little story is being related of an incident which occurred during King Edward's recent holiday at Marienbad. It is said that he made inquiry as to a silhouette artist whom he had met at the watering place years ago. The man was still there, and, as in former years, still made a living by dexterously cutting profile portraits from sheets of black paper. He was presented on the balcony of the Egerlander Hotel, where the King had taken luncheon with the Grand Duke and Duchess of Oldenburg, the Duke of Teck, and several other friends. The King looked on while pictures of the ladies were being made, and then said, "Now, it's my turn," and took his place before the picture man. "Get the hat right," said the King. "Don't forget the cigar. I'll hold it as I did years ago for you; and let the cane show"—all this in that faultless, real German which fascinates. Then, turning toward his smiling friends, he added, "I wonder whether he will flatter me as to figure." The profile picture was true as to figure.

C. A. Magrath, of Lethbridge, has declined to accept a Conservative nomination.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆
Every Woman
I cheerfully recommend Zutoo Tablets. MRS. JOHN COFFIN, Ways Mills, Que.
I cannot praise them enough. ANNIE BELL McBANE, Hawkesbury, C. B.
I think Zutoo Tablets a wonderful remedy. MRS. J. C. GRAVES, Fulford, Quebec.
Praises Zutoo
◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

How Royal Secrets Are Kept.

In the nature of things royal personages are compelled by the necessities of their position to take some one into their confidence with respect to almost every detail of their life. But for the most part these confidences are jealously guarded, and in a hundred and one ways the public curiosity has to satisfy itself with more or less plausible guesses at truth. Take the case of King Edward's private investments. These are known to but three courtiers, and only one schedule of them, it may be said with confidence, is in existence. People profess to know of large purchases, of West End ground rent, of huge commitments in American railways, and so forth. For the most part, however, these securities are held in the names of trusty intimates who are themselves large investors, and no estimate of His Majesty's personal estate has any value whatever. Many European sovereigns, especially in the more restless portions of the Continent are said, with much reason, to keep the bulk of their private fortunes in the strong-rooms of the Rothschilds and other financial houses in London and elsewhere, where their secrets are inviolable. King Edward carries at one end of his gold albert a gold key which opens his private writing desk, and there is no duplicate. All state papers, however, are kept in despatch boxes until transferred to the safes in the secretariat, and of these the keys are kept by Lord Knollys. When His Majesty has quitted his personal apartment, no servant is allowed to enter until an assistant secretary has destroyed the contents of the waste basket, the blotting-pads, and even the printed wrappers of newspapers received from every capital in Europe. It is an unwritten law that the private secretary shall not indulge in a gossipy diary after the manner of Samuel Pepys—he must, of necessity, keep a daily record of bare facts—and certain courtiers, including the maids of honor, are required as a condition of their service to enter into an obligation of the same kind.

An Old House.

The oldest inhabited house in England stands close to the river Ver and about 250 yards from St. Albans Abbey. It was built in the time of King Offa of Mercia, about the year 795. It is of octagonal shape, the upper portion being of oak, and the lower has walls of great thickness.

Fire did $20,000 damage to the stock of the Montreal Wedding Company yesterday.

FANCY POTTERY
All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.
GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

HARRIER CLUB
ATHLETIC MEET
Brock Street Rink
TUESDAY NIGHT, DEC. 3, 1907
Entries list will include best foot runners from Toronto, Hamilton, Peterborough and other cities.
TOM LONGBOAT WILL ATTEND
57th Regimental Band will provide music.
General Admission—East side, 25c; west side, 35c; reserved seats, 50c
Plan for reserved seats at Sanderson's
E. M. BEST, President R. M. GLOVER, Secretary

HOCKEY SKATES
From 75c to $5.00
Skates repaired and sharpened
General machine work.
METHEREL'S CYCLE WORKS
225 Hunter Street

ALL THINGS ARE NOW READY
GEORGE R. RECORD
PRACTICAL
FRENCH DRY CLEANER AND PRESSER
Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments and Household Articles cleaned and guaranteed not to fade color or shrink any material. Charges moderate. Goods called for and delivered. Telephone 669.
NEW BRICK BLOCK, 173 SIMCOE ST.
Only Complete Dry Cleaning Plant in City

PREPARE FOR WINTER
BY SECURING A HOME FROM J. T. O'CONNELL & CO
2 STOREY RED BRICK HOUSE, 8 rooms, bath, light. Price on easy terms of payment $2500
2 STOREY SOLID RED BRICK HOUSE, 7 rooms, light, city water, woodshed, drive shed, stable (new.) Price $2750
2 STOREY BRICK, central, 7 rooms, bath, light, gas, furnace, nice lawn. Price on easy terms of payment $2650
5 ROOMED FRAME HOUSE, stable, 2 acres of land near city. Price $775
Several choice building lots on easy terms of payment. For prices and further particulars call at
J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.
REAL ESTATE AGENTS
Phone 376. 136 Hunter St.

GEORGE RUTH
Properties for Sale:
Come and inspect our list of HOUSES We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.
8 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.
A few first-class homes to rent with modern improvements.
395 Water Street, open evenings

SAVE YOUR FURS
AND
FUR-LINED COATS
by having them cleaned by the
FRENCH DRY CLEANING
process, which kills all moths and does not injure in the slightest, the finest furs. This is very important at this season, and may mean the saving of the expense of buying new furs. None too fine for the process.
Dyeing, Cleaning, Pressing, and Repairing promptly and thoroughly done at
PARKER'S DYE WORKS
R. M. BEACH
PROPRIETOR.
Phone 250 177 Charlotte St

ROLLER RINK
Charlotte Street
LAST WEEK OF ROLLER SKATING
Monday Ladies 15c, Gents 20c.
Tuesday Skidoo night 23c to skate, 23 bands.
Thursday Ladies 15c, Gents 20c.
Friday last Band Concert 20 Selections.
Saturday last day of skating.

ESTABLISHED 1879
J. R. HEINTZ & CO.
STOCKS, GRAIN, COTTON, COFFEE
J. N. BARBER, Manager
Phone 589

THE
DOMINION BANK
PAYS SPECIAL ATTENTION TO
SAVINGS ACCOUNTS
INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY
JOHN CRANE Manager
Corner George and Simcoe Sts.

"Fashion-Craft"

¶ First of all — see what we have before you buy your Winter Overcoat.

¶ Special English Nap Overcoat—$40.

¶ Made in any style and lined with Skinners Satin.

¶ It is true that this Overcoat is a marvel of comfort and style and good value.

LAIDLAW & OLES, Proprietors, Peterboro.

STRAIGHT TALK TO DOUMA.

Stolypin Says Safety of Russia Is In Czar's Autocratic Power.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 30.—The declaration of the Government read by Premier Stolypin before the Douma yesterday was received with dismay by the Octobrists and the Constitutional Democrats, and with open exaltation by the members of the right party.

The keynote of the address was reiteration of the idea of the autocratic power of the Emperor as the sole guarantee of security and welfare in an era of disorder. The announcement was made also that the Douma is expected to take its cue from the Administration in the matter of legislation, and the Premier outlined what future legislation was expected.

He excoriated the Radical parties as fosterers of crime and sedition, and he said their excesses would no longer be tolerated in Russia. This statement is taken to show that the Administration looks with disfavor upon any alliance between the Octobrists and the Constitutional Democrats.

The Premier was constantly interrupted by applause from members of the Right party, but at the conclusion of his address there was scarcely a handclap from the Octobrists ranks.

FOR WAR AGAINST BRITAIN.

That Is What German Fleet Is For Declares Herr Bebel.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—In the Reichstag yesterday, Herr Bebel, Socialist, said that official inquiry made among the teachers in the public schools of Berlin showed that the number of children who never got dinner had risen to 4,861, while a large number of children have only bread and coffee for dinner.

Referring to the proposed changes in naval legislation the Socialist leader offered to wager that the Government would come forward with a new navy construction bill within three years, and he asked against what country this bill would be directed. The fleet society was agitating against Great Britain, he said, and agitation for war against this country could be observed on all sides. The naval cadets had even put this idea into verse and occasionally would give expression in song.

VICE-REGAL DRAWING-ROOM.

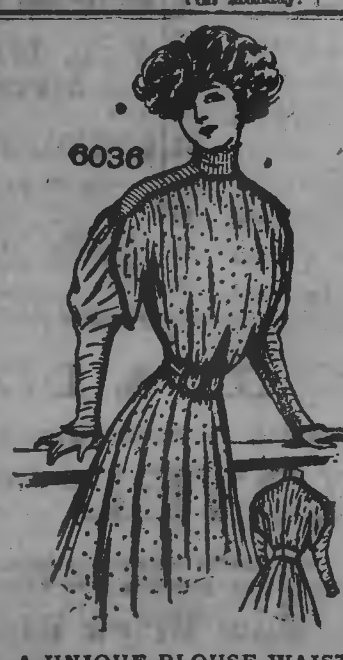
Brilliant Function In Senate Chamber at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—The vice-regal drawing-room last night was a brilliant and largely-attended affair. It was held a day earlier than usual on account of the large number of visitors in the capital, many of whom leave for home for the week-end. The entire central block was given up to the function. The privy councillors, consuls-general and headquarters officers were in full uniform. Earl and Countess Grey, with Lady Sybil Grey and Lady Evelyn Grey, received from the throne in the Senate chamber. Mr. and Mrs. Choate of Washington attended.

Denounced Employment Bureaus.

Newcastle, Nov. 30.—In scathing terms Magistrate Maltby yesterday denounced all employment bureaus. He was trying the case of Bulgarian laborers, who had been brought here from Toronto and set to work. The Bulgarians could not talk English, so no written agreement was made with them beforehand. They were starving when, after many complaints, the authorities interfered. Employers of the men paid their wages to the agency, which, it is alleged, held it back from the laborers. J. Henry Stanford of the Interior Department came here and held an investigation.

Sintaluta, Sask., was swept by fire on Monday.



A UNIQUE BLOUSE WAIST

A pretty separate waist is an absolute necessity to the modern woman, for social exactions carry many sartorial requirements with them. The waist illustrated, which is adapted for any dressy wear, is at once so novel and so picturesque that it cannot fail to appeal to the artistic sense of the tasteful dresser. It is made of dotted net over silk, chiffon being used for the pretty wrinkled sleeves, and the same material, tucked, for the shoulder pieces, which afford the extremely long shoulder that is so much admired. The waist is prettily slashed at the waist line, the slashed portions being extended in tab effect over the girdle. Altogether it is cut on unique lines, embodying the latest Parisian ideas with some Japanese effects; yet, while pretty and uncommon, it is not beyond the capabilities of the home dressmaker. It may be modeled in Louisine Silk, Crepe de Chine, Eolienne or any soft fabric, while net or all-over lace may be used for the sleeves. To make it in the medium size requires 4⅝ yards of material 22 inches wide.

6036—5 sizes, 32 to 40 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10c at THE REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited
97 Yonge Street, Toronto.
W. H. ISAAC, 128 Dublin Street, Peterborough.
Local Salaried Representative. Machine 'Phone 22

Woman's World

MISS EVA BOOTH.

Preparing For the Greatest Campaign In History of Salvation Army.

Evangeline Booth, head of the Salvation Army in America, is preparing for the greatest campaign in the history of that great organization in the United States.

It is to be a campaign for humanity, a nation wide movement in anticipation of approaching winter to provide shelter for homeless men, to care for poor and unfortunate women, to rescue starving children and to provide Christmas dinners for tens of thousands of poor people who otherwise would know of no such cheer.

Nobody who is acquainted with the characteristics of Evangeline Booth for a moment doubts that she will accomplish this and more. A slight little body she is, yet possessed of all the tremendous nerve force and executive ability which have so long distinguished her venerable father, still active in his seventy-ninth year, the founder of the Salvation Army, General William Booth.

MISS EVA BOOTH.

Sixteen hours a day she labors and frequently eighteen, and no wonder, for she is commander in chief of an army consisting of tens of thousands of soldiers quartered in 963 barracks or churches. Last year the meetings conducted by them were attended, it is claimed, by more than 7,000,000 persons.

She is at the head of a great system of industrial homes and Salvation Army hotels, which have fed 1,318,000 men and furnished beds, either free or at a nominal price, to 463,000 homeless men. The 116 rescue homes last year cared for more than 9,000 women.

In addition to all this Miss Booth manages the publication of the official paper of the Salvation Army, the War Cry, of which no fewer than 4,124,000 copies were sold last year.

Manicuring the Nails.

The fashionable nail just now is the brilliantly polished one that looks very glossy indeed. It is cut to fit the shape of the finger. If the finger is long and pointed the nail is cut long and pointed, but if the finger is round and rather heavy at the end the nail is round.

To train the nails into assuming a pretty shape you must press down skin and flesh at the base of the nail until you can see the half moon. This requires constant attention and must be looked to morning and night without fail or the moons will soon be clouded over again by the skin.

When you push down the flesh be sure that it has previously been softened by holding the hands in a basin of water in which there is a little borax and a pinch of bran; also a tiny bit of soap. The flesh will now be found to be very pliable and can be pushed back by means of a blunt orange wood stick. Never use a sharp instrument for pushing down the skin and flesh at the base of the nails.

Nails that break can be treated so that they will keep their beauty. Every night they should have a little glycerin and rosewater rubbed into them in the proportion of about half and half. If glycerin does not agree with the skin the nail can be treated with vaseline and almond oil, half and half, which can be massaged into the cuticle. This will certainly strengthen the nail and keep it from cracking.

Should the nails be too pale for beauty they can be tinted by massage. If they are massaged every night from the tip to the base they will in a short time begin to look rosy. Five minutes of this kind of work every night will give back a rich return in the shape of properly colored nails.

To color the nails by artificial aid take a little benzoin and alcohol tinted by a drop of red coloring substance which the chemist will add. This when applied will make the nail pink and glossy, but it is better in the long run to accomplish the work by massage.

Nails that are thick and rough can be smoothed by using the finest pumice stone. A polisher is dipped in the pumice and is then rubbed rapidly over the nails. This removes all roughness and makes the nails ready for the final polishing.

The Self Reliant Woman.

To be able to meet an emergency in life, no matter what it may be, is a form of self reliance that every woman should train and develop herself for. It expresses itself in an ability to make quick decisions and, having done that, acting without doubt and hesitation, straining at every point to justify the action by bringing it to a successful finish.

More than half the women in the world fail not only in important but trivial things because they are afraid. Necessity in some form obliges them to make decision. Of their obligation to do this they have no doubt, but as there is always the possibility of another way being better than that decided upon they waver, go ahead half heartedly and in the end either fail entirely or achieve only partial success because they lack self reliance. They are not sure of themselves, either of their ability or wisdom, and neither is strengthened.

Doubt after a positive step in any positive direction has been taken is weakening. Nothing is gained in fact either in work or in daily domestic routine without effort. If a woman tries to make a cake and during the mixing part her mind is occupied with wondering if it would have been better to have used another recipe the chances are against her turning out as good a cake as it would have been had all her mind been concentrated upon the work in hand, when materials would have been more accurately measured and strength of conviction would have lent more power to her arm to beat the mixture well.

Sending Preserves.

Often one wishes to send some preserves, butters or jellies to friends at a distance, yet the very thought of broken jars, etc., reminds one of a wreckage equal to sending explosives by mail. And yet it is the easiest matter in the world to send one or two quarts or gallons if desired by placing the fruit in tin lard buckets and sealing around the edge of the rim with passe-partout paper binding. In this manner fruit can be sent from coast to coast and no damage done. When it arrives it can be placed in jars and properly sealed. Tomatoes can be canned and passe-partout placed over the sealing wax, and they will not need to be taken from the cans. In fact, they could not, for they would spoil. This is a good idea for country parents who wonder how they can send their children different kinds of fruits from home—and is anything more appreciated?

Science Studies Your Baby.

Science takes a large and comprehensive interest in modern babies and baby statistics, says the September Delineator.

The average weight of boy babies at birth is seven pounds; girls about six and a half pounds. During the first three days the child loses weight. After it is a week old it steadily increases.

A child should increase in weight two pounds for every addition of an inch in height between three and four feet and two and one-half pounds for every inch between four and five feet.

The healthy baby triples its weight at birth in one year, doubles this in six years, quadruples this weight in thirteen years, and at twenty-one a man weighs twenty-one times his weight at birth. These are the figures resulting from the averaging of many thousands of cases under investigation.

Substitute For Curtain Rod.

Inexpensive curtains add a finish to any room, and when one has not the double rods the following method will be found satisfactory: Make an inch hem at the top of the curtains. Buy some strong elastic three-quarters of an inch wide. Measure the elastic by stretching it as far as it can be stretched across the window. Cut out at one end and sew on a strong battenberg button. Insert the elastic in hems, sew another button at the other end, and then fasten a button at each end on the small brass knob of the outer curtain rod. Pin the center of the elastic to the outer curtain, and then you will find it will not sag in the least.

Rhymes For Brides.

An old rhyme of interest to brides goes like this:

Married in blue,
He'll always be true;
Married in brown
To live out of town;
Married in yellow,
Ashamed of the fellow;
Married in green,
Ashamed to be seen;
Married in black,
You'll wish yourself back;
Married in gray,
You'll go far away;
Married in pink,
Your spirit will sink;
Married in purple,
The happiest couple;
Married in white,
You've married all right.

Dye to any Color At Home!

"Maypole" is a cake of soap that washes and dyes at one operation. Not an old fashioned dirty, messy powder dye. It gives brilliant, fast colors—dyes anything—dyes to any color or shade. Good-bye to that trip to the dye house—dye at home with Maypole.

Maypole Soap
10c. for Colors—15c. for Black.
Frank L. Benedict & Co. Montreal. 64

Don'ts For Stout Women.

Don't wear checks, large plaids or polka dots.

Don't expect to look slim in white or light colored gowns.

Don't wear frills.

Don't wear short skirts.

Don't expect to look comfortable in tight shoes.

Don't imagine that you can wear high, close collars and have a good complexion.

Save Salt Bags.

Save all your salt bags. They not only make nice jelly bags, but several put together and stitched on the machine make good dish cloths or wash cloths.

Keep a pair of scissors and a waste paper receptacle in the kitchen; also a box for pieces of string. They will prove their use very frequently.

A good method of preventing pen nibs from corroding is that of placing a few nails in the inkstand before this is filled with ink.

Franco-Canadian Treaty.

London, Nov. 30.—(C. A. P.)—The Foreign Office has issued the Franco-Canadian treaty tariff and the Reform papers publish it fully and comment lengthily, paying a tribute to its statesmanlike qualities, but pointing out its significance to the Mother Country.

hTe Morning Post remarks on the significance of the fact that a British dominion obtains from a foreign nation a preference the Mother Country is refused. The Standard emphasizes the danger of extension of such treaties leading to British commercial isolation.

SIZED HIM UP WRONG.

Fistic Encounter Did Not Turn Out as It Was Planned.

"It was this way, you see," said the young man with the black eye and skinned nose and a gap in his mouth where two front teeth used to be. "I was elbowed by a feller on a street car and we had some words. I determined to lick that man or die. I could have hit him with a stone or a club or hired some ruffian to waylay him, but I wanted to polish him off scientifically. I wanted to dally with him—to jab and uppercut him and straight punch until I made a pulp of him."

"And so you took boxing lessons?" was queried.

"That's what I did—twenty-four of them. When I had finished my instructor said that I could knock out any man twice my weight in America. I had kept an eye on the elbow man and when I got good and ready I threw myself in his way. He gave me the elbow again. I called him a ruffian and a coward and invited him to step off the car."

"And the bluffer didn't dare do it, of course?"

"But he did dare. Yes, sir, he got down lively. I squared off at him and let go with my right. It missed. Then I let go with my left. It missed. Then I swung on him. He wasn't there. Then—then"—

"Then you caught him an awful wallop and killed him stone dead?"

"Not quite. Something came booming along and hit me all over the face and I went down and awoke in an ambulance."

"But you had taken twenty-four lessons in boxing."

"I had, but as I afterward found out the other feller had taken forty-eight."—Chicago News.

Central Methodist church, Sarnia, celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary on Sunday.

There are 85 applications to the Clerk of the Commons for private legislation.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

How nicely and easily a Cake can be iced with

Cowan's Cake Icing

Chocolate, Pink, White, Lemon, Orange, Almond, Maple and Coconut Cream.

ABSOLUTELY PURE ICINGS
THE COWAN CO., Ltd., TORONTO

SANTAL-MIDY
Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
MIDY

BICYCLES
Stored for the Winter, Free of Charge
—AT—
METHEREL CYCLE WORKS
225 Hunter St. Machine 'Phone 354

Bicycles and Typewriters repaired. Genera Machine Work.

FOR PASSEPARTOUT WORK

The fad for passepartout pictures is again growing a favorite for pretty pictures and are always appreciated. One can always find room for a couple more on the walls and every one has their favorite subject, some like scenery, others historical subjects, many like kittens and one boy in the city has the walls of his bedroom fairly covered with pictures of dogs—small and large. When mounted on a suitable background and passepartouted they are very pretty and inexpensive to make up. The Review has a large stock of pictures in sepia and colors, mounting papers and passepartout to match. Call and see them at the REVIEW Office, Hunter street. 3d

FIRE ALARM BOXES

The following are the numbers and locations of the city of Peterborough Fire Alarm Boxes.

BOX	LOCATION
WARD No. ONE
12	Lock and McGill
14	Westcott and Aylmer
15	Perry and George
16	Perry and Bethune
17	Park and Townsend
18	George, at C. P. R.
WARD No. TWO
21	George and King
22	Simcoe and Queen
23	George and Hunter
24	Hunter and Quaker
27	Water and McDonel
WARD No. THREE
31	Park and Sherbrooke
33	Charlotte and Stewart
35	Park and Hunter
38	McDonel and Reid
WARD No. FOUR
41	Park and London
42	George and Dublin
43	Edinburgh and Stewart
45	George and Smith
48	Water and Hilliard
WARD No. FIVE
52	Burnham and James
53	Rogers and Sophia
54	Hunter and Mark
57	Concession and Hazlitt
59	Auburn

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the War number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

Children's Aid Society
FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.
Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898
Information required. Informants name kept strictly private.
CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION
Office Hours—11.00 to 12.00 a.m.
OF CE--DIVISION COURT BLDG
GEO. COCHRANE,
Agent and Asst S

Letterheads

¶What you think about your Business Stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks.

¶Don't have inferior paper and work in your Business Stationery. Don't try good work and paper because you like it, altogether, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

¶The Review Job Department will give you the best work obtainable and superior paper and envelopes. Your order set, printed and cared for for you, particularly you

¶A Call or Phone will bring to you samples.

THE REVIEW
PETERBOROUGH

YOUR OWN HAIR MADE UP AS DESIRED . .

By home talent, where you are ure of satisfaction, or matched correctly in shade and quality.

Switches, Natural Wavy Pomps Latest Coiffures

Let us show you what we can do before you patronize some outside party. We guarantee oplease you at lowest prices in the city.

Back Hair Dressing, Shampooing, etc.

MRS. BYRNE'S
George Street, Second Door North of Dutton's

W. H. HILL, Esq.,
Manager of Central Ontario.

Dear Sir—After congratulating myself being a Sun Life Policy Holder, I am very much pleased with the handsome amount added to my Policy, and am surprised and gratified with the profits. I appreciate the good financial position which your Company holds to-day.

THOS. EDGAR,
Peterborough, Ont

November 29th, 1907.

N.B.—Policy Straight Life $2,000
Bonus for 5 Years $160
Policy No. 17,706

SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY,
November 23

Baby's Own Soap, regular 10c for	8c
Good Baking Powder, per lb.	10c
All 25c Combs for	19c
Vaseline, regular 5c per bottle	2 for 5c
Barron's Tonic, regular $1.00 for	75c
Thomas Eclectric Oil, regular 25c,	2 for 25c
Cuticura Soap, regular 35c for	25c
Hand Scrubs, regular 5c each,	2 for 5c
Castoria, regular 35c for	23c

Free Sample of Liquid Veneer given away to ladies only on Saturday, November 23rd.

WARNE BROS.
345 GEORGE ST. Phone 527

Xmas Photos

Send a family group or the children's photos to your friends at Christmas. Nothing is appreciated more than such remembrances, from

MENDEL'S STUDIO
374 1-2 George St. Entrance next Oke's

TRIBUTE TO THE WORK OF MISS WALLIS

Article in Strand Magazine Tells of Her Success—Movement to Purchase Some of Her Work for Peterboro'

The December number of the "Strand" magazine contains an excellent article on "Canadian Artists in Paris," by C. Hay Thompson. Mention is made of the work of Miss Katherine E. Wallis, of Peterborough, who has been abroad for the past few years. A picture of one of her best subjects "Mercury Charmed by His Own Invention," has been attracting a great deal of attention. It is learned that a movement is on foot to purchase one or more of the works of Miss Wallis and have them placed in the new Normal School in this city. This would be a graceful tribute of Peterborough's appreciation of the work done by one of the daughters of the city and it is hoped that the proposition will be carried through.

The reference to Miss Wallis in the "Strand" is as follows:

"Miss Katherine E. Wallis, an example of whose work is there shown, entered at South Kensington in 1895. After various successes there including the Modelling Scholarship, she went to Paris in 1899. She exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1897 and four times since, and in 1900 showed at the Salon and the Exposition. Despite weak health, Miss Wallis has done the whole work of her life size statuary, roughing out as well as finishing, both in stone and marble, instead of handing this over to workmen, as is the common practice. At present she has two important works in course of execution."

"SANITOL" PROPOSITION

If you are interested in an A1 offer for sterling good Toilet Preparations, call in and we will explain how you can get $2.70 worth of Sanitol Preparations for $1.00.

We know you will be pleased with the Goods and well satisfied with the bargain.

NUGENT DRUG CO.
A. J. JOHNSTON
386 GEORGE STREET

ADAMS The Ladies' Furnishing Store ADAMS

SATURDAY SPECIALS

Lustre Blouses, Wrapperette Blouses, Cashmere Hose, Worsted Hose, Elder Down Dressing Saques, Ladies' Winter Underwear Flannelette Gowns

$1.50 LUSTRE BLOUSES 98c
18 only fine quality lustre blouses, colors black, navy, brown, black and white, navy and white. These blouses were formerly sold at 1.50 and 2.00 Sat. special clearing price for .98

75c and 1.00 FLANNELETTE BLOUSES FOR 50c and 75c
24 only wrapperette blouses, made of good quality cloth, neat patterns assorted colors, formerly .75 and 1.00 Saturday clearing price 50c and .75

$1.75 EIDERDOWN DRESSING JACKETS FOR $1.00
2 doz only all wool Eiderdown dressing jackets, cardinal and sky with white black trimmings, reg. 1.75 Saturday special price...... 1.00

35c CASHMERE HOSE 25c
10 dozen extra heavy all wool cashmere hose, assorted ribs, these stockings are extra value today at 35c, our Special Saturday price for.... .25

35c RIBBED WORSTED HOSE FOR 28c
15 dozen heavy quality all wool worsted hose, sizes from 6 to 10 inches, a boy's stocking guaranteed to wear, good values at 35c
Special Saturday price for.... .28

LADIES' UNDERWEAR 25c, 35c, and 50c
No store can give you better underwear values than Adams'. Our values at all prices are unmatchable. See the specials for Sat. at 25, 35, .50

FLANNELETTE GOWNS—Made of Extra Quality Cloth, Special Saturday at 50c, 75c, 85c.

Harry Adams

INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY
—ON—
SAVINGS DEPOSITS of $1 and upwards
—THE—
BANK OF OTTAWA

Interest paid February 29 May 31 August 31 November 30

PETERBOROUGH BRANCHES: George Street, also Corner Rubidge and Townsend Streets

A. A. HOLLINGSHEAD, Mgr

Choice Bread of Excellent Quality

On Monday next William Stock & Sons, bakers, will place on the market their new brand of bread, known as the "White Clover," a high-class milk loaf, made from the very highest class of materials, with scrupulous care and attention and with the aid perfected machinery to perform the the different operations. The new loaf is known as a confection among breads, and will be sure to be a general favorite. The weight of the loaf is 20 ounces, each loaf being wrapped and stamped. The makers claim that the new bread is certainly the bread of quality and in every respect a perfect article. Some further announcements will be made in the press to put the claims of the bread and other manufactures of the firm before the public. The new bake shop and facilites are now completed, adding very largely to the output and to the facilities for handling the product. Citizens are invited to try the bread and pronounce on its quality.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew

Local Chapters Observe St. Andrews Day by Attending Early Communion

The members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew commemorated the day of their Patron Saint, St. Andrew, by celebrating the Holy Communion at St. Luke's at 8 this morning. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt officiated. He gave a short address on the motive of the work and the power by which the work is to be done by the members of the Brotherhood. Mr. R. J. Devey, organist of St. John's church, presided at the organ.

PARK ST. EVICTION

Mr. John Craig States That Venders Had Given Family Many Notices.

Regarding the eviction this week of a family on Park street, Mr. John Craig stated today that the property referred to had twice been offered for sale by auction, and the family notified several times by the Sheriff to move out. It was the Neal McDonald estate, vendors of the property, which had placed the Sheriff's officer in charge, and not the purchaser, Mr. Craig, who bought the property at auction on July 6th last.

The York county council has decided to abolish the rewards for the conviction of automobilists.

REDUCED PRICES

FRESH PORK

Loin Cuts	12 1-2c per lb
Shoulder Cuts	10c "
Hind Quarters	10c "
Front Quarters	9c "
Sausages	3 lbs for 25c

PICKLED PORK

Loin Cuts (backs)	13c per lb
Hams	13c "
Rolls	12c "

SMOKED

Hams	14c "
Rolls	12 1-2c per lb
Breakfast Bacon	17c "
Windsor Bacon, Skinless	18c "

All our Products are Government Inspected and marked

CANADA APPROVED

THE GEO. MATTHEWS CO., Limited
3 RETAIL STORES

Plebiscite of Ratepayers Of City Will be Taken

A plebiscite of the ratepayers of Peterborough will be taken at the municipal elections in January, to ascertain how the city stands on the proposal to have a system of garbage collection. This was decided on be a meeting of the property committee yesterday afternoon, who will recommend this action to the city council at Monday night's meeting. The following is the question to be submitte dto the ratepayers;

"Are you in favor of establishing a system for the collection of garbage in the city?"

If the majority of the ratepayers are in favor of a garbage system, the council will take the necessary steps to meet their wishes.

On motion, it was decided to ask the City Trust Commission for permission to place a hospital tent for contagious disease patients on the Hilliard farm when necessary, until an isolation hospital has been built. The commissioners will also be asked to designate what part of the property the tent can be placed upon. Those present were Ald. McIntyre, chairman; Ald. Stevenson and Elliott and the Mayor.

The Man on The Box

JAMESON LEE FINNEY AND NEIL MO[illegible]AM
In "The Man on the Box" Grand Opera House Wednesday Dec. 4th. Plan opens Monday.

THE RESULTS OF THE MILK TESTS

The following is the result of the milk test for the month of November. The tests were made by Mr. P. Downham. The percentage of butter fat required by the by-law is 3.5. The figures opposite each name show the percentage of butter fat;—

T. Hetherington	4.7
Duffus	4.6
Reece	4.4
Robson	4.3
Cox	4.2
Wilson	4.2
McMullen	4.2
Raper	4.1
Isaac Hetherington	4.
Adams	3.8
Robertson	3.8
Dobbin	3.8
McGregor	3.8
Metcalfe	3.8
Bronell	3.7
Lillico	3.6
Hunter	3.5
McRae	3.5
Brown	3.4
McEwen	3.4
F. McMullen	3.2
W. Hetherington	3.

Surprise Party for Mr. Clitheroe

Thos. Clitheroe, 475 Rubidge street, was given a pleasant surprise party by about forty of his friends on Thursday night. The evening was spent in card playing and dancing and refreshments were served.

TROOPER BRACE TO PREACH HERE

Trooper Rev. A. J. Brace, son of the pastor, of the Baptist church, Park street, will preach for his father tomorrow. He was a delegate to the International Y.M.C.A. convention at Washington and is paying a flying visit to Peterborough before returning to Victoria, B.C.

Special Events at Park Street

A series of special events at the Park street church for the month of December has just been announced. The list includes an entertainment on December 13th, and a watchnight service on December 31st. The [illegible]ject at Park street church [illegible]night is "The Battleship Going Down in Sight of Land."

READING FROM SHAKESPEARE

On Wednesday evening, December 4th, Miss Minnie McWilliams will give, in the Conservatory of Music Hall, readings from the works of Shakespeare. Further announcements will be made.

TROUBLE OVER A FENCE HEARD IN POLICE COURT

Townsend Resident Heavily Fined for Striking His Neighbor With a Whip

A fine of twenty dollars and costs amounting to $22.60, was imposed upon George Jamieson at the police court this morning for striking Mrs. A. Killingbeck in the face with a whip. Both complainant and defendant reside in a terrace on Townsend street, owned by Mr. Thos. Hooper and from evidence given this morning it appears that the trouble arose out of a fence that was built on the east side of Mr. Jamieson's house and to which Mrs. Killingbeck strongly objected. Mrs. Killingbeck was sworn and stated that though Jamieson's yard was the only means teams had of driving into the shed adjoining her house. Mr. Jamieson was building the fence yesterday and witness told him not to dare to drive a nail. He paid no heed to her, so she went and got the axe and proceeded to knock down the fence. In the meantime Mr. Jamieson had procured a whip and when the witness started chopping away with her axe he hit her across the face with a whip.

Alf. Killingbeck was sworn and said that he saw Jamieson strike his mother, from a window, where he was standing.

Mr. Jamieson swore that he used the whip in self defence. The complainant came very nearly cutting his hand off. As for the fence Mr. Jamieson said that he had got permission from his landlord, Mr. T. Hooper, to build it.

Mr. Hooper said that he told Jamieson to build a fence if he desired. It was not necessary for Killingbeck to drive on Jamieson's property at all.

His Worship said that the landlord after he rented property had no more to say with it.

"Jamieson had no right to take the law in his own hands," said the magistrate, and he imposed the above fine.

LIVELY RUNAWAY ON AYLMER ST.

A runaway accident that will result in the horse being laid up for about six weeks, took place on Aylmer street last night. Isaac Mein was driving a rather spirited animal belonging to a local livery stable, up the street when it took fright and started off. It did not go far, but suddenly stopped and kicked for all it was worth. The bells on the cutter were smashed and horse's hind legs badly cut. It is now under the care of a veterinary surgeon.

Funeral of the Late James Dolan

Took Place This Morning—Many Pay Last Respect to Memory of Deceased

The remains of the late James Dolan, who passed away on Wednesday evening last, were laid to rest this morning in St. Peter's cemetery. A large number of friends and former fellow citizens turned out to pay their last token of respect to one who had always been held in the highest esteem. The long cortege proceeded to St. Peter's cathedral, where requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Father Kelly. At the grave the service was conducted by Rev. Father Galvin. The pallbearers were Messrs. B. Morrow, J. Moloney, H. LeBrun, H. Rush, T. McNamara and M Connors, all very intimate friends of the deceased. The floral tributes were numerous, and included many handsome designs. Among them was a cross from Mr. and Mrs. H. LeBrun; basket from Mr. Robt. Fair; anchor, Mr. and Mrs. Geo Graham and family; heart, Mr. and Mrs. Rudkins; cross, Knights of Columbus; wreath, C.M.B.A.; star, Mr. and Mrs. Pappas; anchor, employees and boarders of city hotel; wreath, Mr. M. Connors and family.

The societies, C.M.B.A., Knights of Columbus and Ancient Order of Hibernians were all represented at the funeral.

Mr. John Dolan, of Chicago, brother of the deceased, did not arrive until to-day at noon, but the grave was not closed until he had had a last look at his late brother. Among other relatives who were present at the funeral were Messrs. R. E. Dolan, of New York City, and Mr. James Dolan, jr., of Columbus, Ohio. nephews of the deceased, and Sister St. Ambrose, of Milan, who was accompanied by her Mother Superior, Sister St. Paul, of Cornwall.

At Guysboro, N.S., Bernard Clinton remanded to jail for trial in the supreme court on a charge of sheep stealing, committed suicide, by taking carbolic acid.

ESTABLISHED 1873

LEAVE YOUR MEASURE

Hurry up and leave your measure now for your new

CHRISTMAS SUITS and OVERCOATS

Prices have been cut very low, when you can get made to your order on the premises—

A Stylish Ordered Suit from $15.00 up

A First-class Melton or Beaver Overcoat for $16.00 up

A Full Dress Suit for $25.00 up

Good Pair of Tweed Trousers for $3.25 up.

FIT AND SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

H. LeBrun & Co.
Two Entrances George and Hunter Sts.

Porter's Delicatessen

CUT RATE GROCERY STORE

Black Tea, 3 lbs	.50
Select Raisins 3 lbs	.20
Cooking Figs, 4 lbs	.25
Mince Meat, 3 lbs.	.20
Chopped Suet, per lb	.10
Washing Soda, 3 lbs	.05
Tomatoes, per tin	.10
Beans, Peas, Corn, per tin	.08
3 bottles Pickles	.25
3 bottles Ketchup	.25
Horse Shoe Salmon, tin	.15
Potatoes, per pk	.15
Apples, per pk	.10

THE INVICTUS SHOE

Here is the shoe that fits exactly into the ideal so many have looked for and never found.

INVICTUS SHOES
AT $4.50 & $5.00

Shoes that combine with a moderate price the perfection of style, fit and durability. "Invictusized" Patent Leather Shoes are a revelation. This secret process does something never before accomplished. Renders the leather soft and pliable, increases the life of the shoes at least one third and reduces checking or breaking to a minimum.

ASK THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM

J T. STENSON
364 George St.

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES
AND
VETERINARY INFIRMARY
193 Hunter Street west of Oriental Hotel.

If you wish a rig of any kind for any occasion ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 278. Night Phone Bell 425 B.

D. McKERCHER, V.S.

ADAMSON & DOBBIN
Stove Dealers, Tinsmiths, Plumbers, Etc.

REMOVED Across the Street

To their new and more commodious Store premises, warerooms and workshop, No. 175 Simcoe Street,

In New Brick Block

Come and see us. We'll be glad to welcome all our friends and patrons, and lots of new customers, in our up-to-date shop. No change in our store policy. Prices will continue to be on the same reasonable scale as before. Superior Stoves, Tinware, Furnaces and Work always at moderate figures.

THE DAYLIGHT STORE

The Money-Saving Sale

Of Clothing and Furnishings now going on at this Store is meeting with success for the reason that our patrons are getting values in High-class Goods which have never been equalled. It is not what you pay, but what you get for your money that counts. Low prices alone does not make a bargain, but we are truly giving good quality at a low price.

Men's Suits
Mostly traveller's samples, cut in single and double breasted styles, latest models, worth up to $10.00, for 6.90

Men's Overcoats
Beautiful cloths, dark colors, hair cloth fronts, worth $13.00, for 9.90

Youths' Suits
In fancy Tweed, beautifully lined and guaranteed fronts, worth $10.00, for 6.90

BOYS' CLOTHING at reduced prices
MEN'S UNDERWEAR all reduced
MEN'S WORKING SHIRTS, guaranteed fast colors, at reduced prices.

Come, expecting great value. Prices are cut deep, and everything is on the move here. EARLY PICKERS SECURE THE CHOICEST FRUIT

LANG & MAHER, CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW
409-411 George St., Peterborough

AFTER SUPPER SALE---NO. 27

Tonight 7:30 to 9:30

Wool Delain
Nicely embroidered with silk for waist and children's dresses, a choice range of color combinations, special After Supper Sale .42

Black Silk
Extra heavy weight black peu-de-soie silk for dresses and coats, guaranteed not to cut, our own importations, regular $1.00 yd After Supper Sale .78

Petticoats
Women's black sateen petticoats, deep pleated flounce, finished with two narrow frills, full sizes, regular $1.50 After Supper Sale .79

Kimonas
Very fine quality wrapperette in colors navy and red with white polka dot sailor collars, nicely trimmed with braid, regular 1.25 and 1.50 After Supper Sale .69

Pillow Cases
40 and 42 inches only, good quality cotton, well made and finished with two inch hem, ready for use, each After Supper Sale .12½

Dress Shields
5 doz dress shields, covered with fine nainsook, very light weight and perfectly odorless, pair After Supper Sale .12

Table Linen
Extra Heavy pure Irish linen table damask, full grass bleached and pretty floral pattern, 56 inches wide, special per yard After Supper Sale .49

Carpet Ends
Sample ends of wool and union carpet, 36 x 40 inches, worth up to 90c per yard, your choice each, Saturday to clear After Supper Sale .22

Curtain Net
White frilled curtain net, extra quality and full frill, suitable for bedrooms or silk curtains, special per yard After Supper Sale .17

50c Matting 16c
Japanese floor matting, 36 inches wide, good assortment of patterns, worth up to 50c yard, a big clear up of short lengths After Supper Sale .16

Sheets
Ready to use good quality white cotton seamed and finished with two inch and one inch hem 72x90, each, After Supper Sale .53

65c Wash Collars 5c
A tremendous cut in price evident, included are the balance of summer stocks, wash collars, tabs and bows worth up to 65c, your choice After Supper Sale .05

Novelty Belts
The latest novelty in ladies' belts, silk shadow, silk tinsel, and gold, very wide, rich, handsome effects for Xmas gift specials After Supper Sale 3.00

Madras Muslin
Very fine quality suitable for glass doors, dining or sitting room windows or draperies, 45 inches wide, regular 50c and 60c yard After Supper Sale .42

Night Gowns
Women's flannelette night gowns in cream only, all full sizes, well made and trimmed with lace, others with silk embroidery, special each After Supper Sale 1.19

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED

353 AND 355 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

STORE OPENS AT 8 A.M. CLOSES AT 6 P.M., EXCEPT SATURDAY

FOR FINE
Lemons, Oranges
Malaga Grapes
Bananas
and all kinds of fruit and vegetables try
MINOCOLO BROS.
Wholesale and Retail.
Both Phones 337.

FRAMED VIEWS
In COLORED SEPIA and BLACK : : : :
FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS
THE ROY STUDIO
Ask for Roy's Famous Souvenir Post Cards

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

	Opening	Closing
Amal. Copper	50¾	51
Atchison	72¾	72½
B. R. T.	35	34
Can. Pacific x div.	150½	150½
Erie	16	16⅜
Louis. & Nash.	94	95⅜
Mo. Pac.	46½	49
N. Y. Central	96¼	98½
Penna	110⅜	110⅜
Rock Island	13⅞	14
Reading	89	90
Smelters	70	72½
Sugar	104	106
St. Paul	100	100⅜
So. Pac.	71¼	75⅜
Union Pac. x-div. 2½	115	116
U. S. Steel	25¼	25⅜
do. pfd.	84⅜	86⅜
Twin City
McKay	50	50
Nipissing	5¼	6¼
Wheat	102⅜	103⅜
Corn	55	55⅜
May Oats	50¼	50⅜
Pork	12.85	12.95

GOLD GIFTS FOR XMAS

Our stock is always a pleasure to inspect and particularly so at present. Assuming a more than ordinary Xmas like appearance, there is much to interest the shopper who is desirous of first chance in selecting. In all lines one may see the most attractive and useful gifts imaginable—And the earlier one inspects the better for one's self.

SCHNEIDER'S

391 GEORGE STREET OPEN EVENINGS
Goods laid aside on small deposit. Issuer of Marriage Licenses

THE CITY AND VICINITY

MEET ON MONDAY NIGHT.

The W.A.A. reading circle will meet on Monday night at the Y.W.C.A. at 7.30 o'clock.

FOWL! FOWL!

James R. Bell, 161 Hunter street, has a fine lot of turkeys, geese, ducks and chickens, which must be sold tonight. Come and save money.

FUR LINED COATS

We clean and press them and guarantee no injury to the fur. My Valet, 204 Charlotte street. All goods called for and delivered. dtf

AT KNOX CHURCH.

In Knox church to-morrow Rev. H. J. Keith will in the morning deliver a special message to the children. In the evening he will speak "In the public eye."

EDISON RECORDS.

For December, just arrived. You should make your choice at once. They are beauties. Come and hear them at the J. M. Greene Music Co's. George street. 5d

THOSE PICTURES.

Which you have should be framed. It will preserve them and add to the appearance. New mouldings, new styles and neat work at the J. M. Greene Music Co's. store. Grand opera house building, George street. dtf

ARE GRATEFUL.

Mr. Thomas Edgar and daughters wish, through the columns of the Review, to express their thanks and appreciation for the several beautiful floral tributes sent, and the many expressions of sympathy and acts of kindness shown them during their recent bereavement.

TEA MAKING.

Success in tea making is the sure reward of the shrewd housewife who uses Johns' tea. The finest tea the world produces.

LADIES' AUXILIARY.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

A special meeting of the Knights of Columbus will be held in their rooms, George street, to-morrow (Friday) evening, at eight o'clock. John Corkery, Grand Knight. 2d

CLEAR THE ATTIC.

Stored up goods give you no benefit, take up room needlessly, and deteriorate in value. Sell such surplus articles through the Review "for sale" column. Costs only 25c. for one time, and 50c for three insertions.

KNOX BOYS' CLUB.

The Boys' Club of Knox Church entertained the members of the Boys' Club of All Saints Church last evening. A most enjoyable time was spent. A good programme was rendered and refreshments served.

VISITING CARDS.

Now that the calling season is in full swing you will need some new visiting cards. We have all the latest styles in type and cards and can execute your order on a few hour's notice. Leave your order to-morrow at The REVIEW OFFICE. 4d

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

Rev. J. G. Potter will preach at both services tomorrow. At the evening service a special address will be given to the Young Men's Guild. All young men are cordially invited.

SANTA CLAUS
ON HIS WAY TO ROUTLEY'S

Goods are Pouring in--Our customers are Now Buying for Xmas

300 Dressed Dolls, reg. 25c, choice	.14
375 China Tea Sets, regular 50c	.25
25 Crokinole Boards, regular 1.25	.59
60 Leather Case Silk Lined Ebony Manicure Case, regular 2.50 for	1.50
20 only Military Brush Sets, Stirling Silver Mounted, regular 1.25 pair for	.74
15 cases Children's Plated Knife, Fork and Spoon, with pearl handles, reg. 2.00	1.24

You will find that our clerks are attentive and that prices are reliable. We watch closely our buying as we know goods well bought are half sold at

TORONTO 282-4 QUEEN W ROUTLEY'S PETERBORO' 379 GEORGE ST

MEET FOR PRACTICE

The members of the chorus singing in Stainer's choral work, "Daughter of Jairus," will meet at St. John's school, tomorrow evening after service. The orchestral part for twenty players have arrived from New York, and Band and Chorus of 80, will practice on Tuesday, next, at 8 p.m.

SPRAINED HIS LEG

Mr. George W. Buck had the misfortune to sprain his leg rather seriously by the covering of the vat at the cheese box factory giving away as he was walking over it on Thursday last. He was confined to the house for a short time, but was able to walk around on Saturday.—Norwood Register.

PERSONAL

Dr. Brown, Lakefield, is in the city to-day.

Mr. S. T. Spellman, Hastings, is at the National.

Mr. T. W. McLean and wife, of Mount Pleasant, are in the city.

Mr. F. M. Dela Fosse, of Lakefield was in the city to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Montizambert, are spending the week end in Toronto.

Mr. R. B. Caldwell, of Toronto, inspector of the Royal Bank, is in the city.

Mr. Creswell, foreman of the Cavendish Lumber Co., Lakefield, is in the city to-day.

Mr. H. J. Lefevre and Mr. R. C. Strickland, of Lakefield, were in the city to-day.

His Lordship, the Bishop of Huron, Right Rev. Dr. Williams, is expected to preach at St. Lukes Church shortly.

Master Beresford Hamilton, of the Grove School, Lakefield, was in the city today.

Mr. J. E. Belcher is in Toronto, attending the funeral of the late Robert F. Tate, C. E., which took place this afternoon.

The many friends of Mr. Harry Potter, will be glad to know that he is much improved in health, at Nicholl's hospital.

Miss Margaret A. McDonald, of Peterborough has taken a position as stenographer in H. L. Boldrick's law office of Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. Stenton, of Bad Axe, Michigan, are spending winter in Peterborough with Mrs. Stenton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Curtis.

Mr. Geo. W. McGregor, manager of "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," which appears at the opera house to-night is registered at the Oriental.

Rev. Dr. Tucker, who will preach at St. Luke's on Sunday morning and afternoon and at All Saints' in the evening is in the city.

Mrs. J. E. Fowler, of Havelock, has returned home, after visiting her mother, Mrs. Barrie, Westcott street, who has been seriously ill.

Hon. Senator Ferguson, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., was in the city over night, the guest of his son, Mr. J. H. Ferguson manager of the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

The wedding of Miss Maude Grant, of Hamilton, to Mr. W. Shambrook is announced to take place at St. Thomas Church, Hamilton, December 21st. Miss Grant is a cousin of Mrs. Langfeldt's.

Norwood Register; Miss Gertrude Squire, of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, is home for a few weeks' visit. Councillor W. J. Webster, of this village, returned Saturday evening from a visit of several weeks to the Northwest.

Lakefield News.—Miss Mable Bettes of Peterborough, was visiting friends in the village this week. Mrs. T. McBrien and children, of Peterborough, spent a few days in the village this week, the guests of Mrs. McBrien's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Watson.

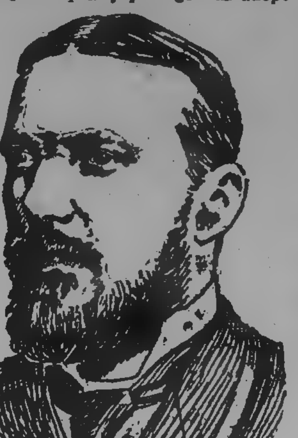
Millbrook Mirror.— Mr. Charles Thorndyke was in Peterborough, Friday on business. Reeve Given was in Peterborough yesterday. Miss Maye Duncan is a guest of Mrs. Melville at Peterborough. Mr. G. E. Burnham, was in Peterborough last week on business.

A GREAT POSTAL REFORMER.

Henniker Heaton, M. P., the Apostle of Cheap Letter Rates.

John Henniker Heaton, M. P., the father of the new international postage stamp which has just come into use, is often spoken of as Rowland Hill II. because of his postal reforms.

He was born in Rochester in 1848, says M. A. P., and at an early age emigrated to Australia, where he worked for some time as editor of a weekly paper. In 1885 he was elected Conservative M. P. for Canterbury, and the same year he represented the Tasmanian Government at the Berlin Telegraph Conference. His great triumph came in 1898, when his scheme of Imperial penny postage was adopted. Mr. Heaton is a freeman of the City of London, and has refused a knighthood no fewer than four times. Apart from his Parliamentary and reforming labors, he has found time to write a good deal and is a first-class chess player and a collector of old books.



JOHN HENNIKER HEATON, M.P.

The story of how Mr. Henniker Heaton was induced to become a postal reformer is extremely interesting. A good many years ago he happened to be present in a postoffice when an old woman entered and asked how much it would cost to send a letter to her son in Australia. When she heard that the charge was sixpence, she looked very dismayed, and intimating that this was beyond her means, prepared to depart. Touched by her disappointment, Mr. Heaton offered her a sixpenny stamp, which she gladly accepted, and the letter was despatched on its way to the son in Australia. Some time later, Mr. Heaton was again in the same postoffice and the postmaster asked him if he remembered the incident. On receiving an affirmative reply, the official stated that in answer to her letter the old woman had had an invitation from her son to go out to him in Australia, and that he had offered to pay her passage. This little romance set Mr. Heaton thinking, with the result that he determined not to rest until he had brought about a reduction in the postal rates.

CANNON FOR LONDON FOGS.

Novel Scheme to Rid English Metropolis of Old-Time Nuisance.

A scheme to disperse fogs by currents of air, shot over London from "projectors" six miles away, has been laid before the public control committee of the London County Council, and M. Demetrio Moggiora, the inventor, is ready to start experiments.

M. Moggiora says his apparatus has already been subjected to severe tests at Milan, Italy, where fogs, clouds and hailstorms were quickly dissipated. With his projectors, or "air cannon," placed within a radius of six miles from the Houses of Parliament, he says he will clear away the worst fog in London within twenty minutes.

"The theory is that the fog hangs over London simply because there are no air currents to carry it away," said M. Moggiora, recently. "Now, my projectors, acting like cannon, furnish the necessary currents of air.

"Each projector is about 60 feet long. An explosion is caused as in a cannon, and the concussion has an effect for six miles. Thus, if ten or more of these were ranged over London from different directions, the fog would be lifted immediately to an altitude where the wind would blow it away. After the apparatus was permanently installed the cost would be 7d. for each explosion, and twenty explosions would rid the metropolis of its densest fog. The cost for original construction would be $3,000.

"I am confident," said M. Moggiora, "that my experiments will demonstrate the practicability of a fogless London."

"The suggestion is no more incredible than wireless telegraphy," said an official. "Who knows but in a short time we shall have a department for the control of fogs and rain, with experts to regulate the proper proportions of sunshine and cloudy weather?"

The King and the Artist.

A pleasant little story is being related of an incident which occurred during King Edward's recent holiday at Marienbad. It is said that he made inquiry as to a silhouette artist whom he had met at the watering place years ago. The man was still there, and, as in former years, still made a living by dexterously cutting profile portraits from sheets of black paper. He was presented on the balcony of the Egerlander Hotel, where the King had taken luncheon with the Grand Duke and Duchess of Oldenburg, the Duke of Teck, and several other friends. The King looked on while pictures of the ladies were being made, and then said, "Now, it's my turn," and took his place before the picture man. "Get the hat right," said the King. "Don't forget the cigar. I'll hold it as I did years ago for you; and let the cane show"—all this in that faultless, real German which fascinates. Then, turning toward his smiling friends, he added, "I wonder whether he will flatter me as to figure." The profile picture was true as to figure.

C. A. Magrath, of Lethbridge, has declined to accept a Conservative nomination.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Every Woman

I cheerfully recommend Zutoo Tablets. MRS. JOHN COFFIN, Ways Mills, Que.

I cannot praise them enough.
ANNIE BELL McBANE,
Hawkesbury, C. B.

I think Zutoo Tablets a wonderful remedy. MRS. J. C. GRAVES, Fulford, Quebec.

Praises Zutoo

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

How Royal Secrets Are Kept.

In the nature of things royal personages are compelled by the necessities of their position to take some one into their confidence with respect to almost every detail of their life. But for the most part these confidences are jealously guarded, and in a hundred and one ways the public curiosity has to satisfy itself with more or less plausible guesses at truth. Take the case of King Edward's private investments. These are known to but three courtiers, and only one schedule of them, it may be said with confidence, is in existence. People profess to know of large purchases, of West End ground rent, of huge commitments in American railways, and so forth. For the most part, however, these securities are held in the names of trusty intimates who are themselves large investors, and no estimate of His Majesty's personal estate has any value whatever. Many European sovereigns, especially in the more restless portions of the Continent are said, with much reason, to keep the bulk of their private fortunes in the strong-rooms of the Rothschilds and other financial houses in London and elsewhere, where their secrets are inviolable. King Edward carries at one end of his gold albert a gold key which opens his private writing desk, and there is no duplicate. All state papers, however, are kept in despatch boxes until transferred to the safes in the secretariat, and of these the keys are kept by Lord Knollys. When His Majesty has quitted his personal apartment, no servant is allowed to enter until an assistant secretary has destroyed the contents of the waste basket, the blotting-pads, and even the printed wrappers of newspapers received from every capital in Europe. It is an unwritten law that the private secretary shall not indulge in a gossipy diary after the manner of Samuel Pepys—he must, of necessity, keep a daily record of bare facts—and certain courtiers, including the maids of honor, are required as a condition of their service to enter into an obligation of the same kind.

An Old House.

The oldest inhabited house in England stands close to the river Ver and about 250 yards from St. Albans Abbey. It was built in the time of King Offa of Mercia, about the year 795. It is of octagonal shape, the upper portion being of oak, and the lower has walls of great thickness.

Fire did $20,000 damage to the stock of the Montreal Wadding Company yesterday.

FANCY POTTERY

All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.
GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

HARRIER CLUB
ATHLETIC MEET
Brock Street Rink
TUESDAY NIGHT, DEC. 3, 1907

Entries list will include best foot runners from Toronto, Hamilton, Peterborough and other cities.

TOM LONGBOAT WILL ATTEND

57th Regimental Band will provide music.

General Admission—East side, 25c ; west side, 35c ; reserved seats, 50c

Plan for reserved seats at Sanderson's

E. M. BEST, President R. M. GLOVER, Secretary

HOCKEY SKATES
From 75c to $5.00
Skates repaired and sharpened.
General machine work.
METHEREL'S CYCLE WORKS
225 Hunter Street

ALL THINGS ARE NOW READY
GEORGE R. RECORD
PRACTICAL
FRENCH DRY CLEANER AND PRESSER
Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments and Household Articles cleaned and guaranteed not to fade color or shrink any material. Charges moderate. Goods called for and delivered. Telephone 669.
NEW BRICK BLOCK, 173 SIMCOE ST.
Only Complete Dry Cleaning Plant in City

PREPARE FOR WINTER
BY SECURING A HOME
FROM J. T. O'CONNELL & CO
2 STOREY RED BRICK HOUSE, 8 rooms, bath, light. Price on easy terms of payment $2500
2 STOREY SOLID RED BRICK HOUSE, 7 rooms, light, city water, woodshed, drive shed, stable (new.) Price $2750
2 STOREY BRICK, central, 7 rooms, bath, light, gas, furnace, nice lawn. Price on easy terms of payment $2650
5 ROOMED FRAME HOUSE, stable, 2 acres of land near city. Price $775
Several choice building lots on easy terms of payment. For prices and further particulars call at
J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.
REAL ESTATE AGENTS
Phone 376. 136 Hunter St.

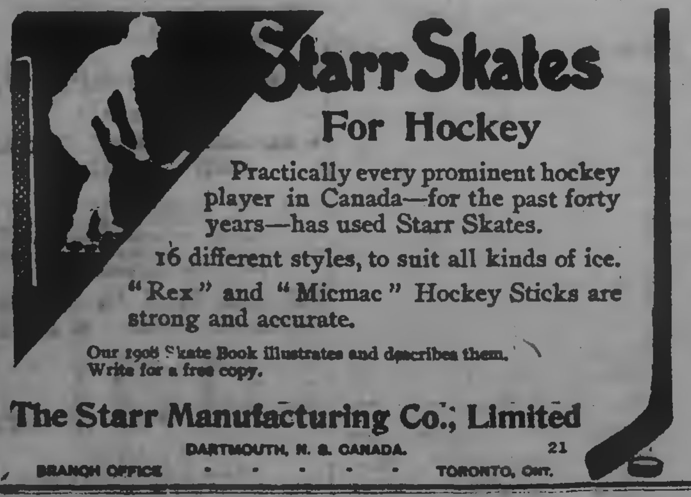
GEORGE RUTH
Properties for Sale:
Come and inspect our list of HOUSES We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.
8 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.
A few first-class homes to rent with modern improvements.
395 Water Street, open evenings

SAVE YOUR FURS
AND
FUR-LINED COATS
by having them cleaned by the
FRENCH DRY CLEANING
process, which kills all moths and does not injure in the slightest, the finest furs. This is very important at this season, and may mean the saving of the expense of buying new furs. None too fine for the process.
Dyeing, Cleaning, Pressing, and Repairing promptly and thoroughly done at
PARKER'S DYE WORKS
R. M. BEACH
PROPRIETOR.
Phone 250 177 Charlotte St

ROLLER RINK
Charlotte Street
LAST WEEK OF ROLLER SKATING
Monday Ladies 15c, Gents 20c.
Tuesday Skidoo night 23c to skate, 23 bands.
Thursday Ladies 15c, Gents 20c.
Friday last Band Concert 20 Selections.
Saturday last day of skating.

ESTABLISHED 1879
J. R. HEINTZ & CO.
STOCKS, GRAIN, COTTON, COFFEE
J. N. BARBER, Manager
Phone 589

THE
DOMINION BANK
PAYS SPECIAL ATTENTION TO
SAVINGS ACCOUNTS
INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY
JOHN CRANE Manager
Corner George and Simcoe Sts.



Starr Skates
For Hockey

Practically every prominent hockey player in Canada—for the past forty years—has used Starr Skates.

16 different styles, to suit all kinds of ice.

"Rex" and "Micmac" Hockey Sticks are strong and accurate.

Our 1908 Skate Book illustrates and describes them. Write for a free copy.

The Starr Manufacturing Co., Limited
DARTMOUTH, N. S. CANADA. 21
BRANCH OFFICE - - - - - TORONTO, ONT.

F. C. CUBITT

Dealer in Books, Stationery : : and Fancy Goods : :

370 GEORGE STREET, PETERBORO'

Has the finest and best assorted lines of Note Paper at prices to suit everyone. Call and inspect

ARTISTS' SUPPLIES IN STOCK

Souvenir Post Cards a Specialty

∴ CUBITT SELLS CHEAP ∴

F. C. CUBITT,
370 George Street, Peterborough

Mr. Quinn of the Canadian Sportsman Tells of His Visit to Peterborough

Called on Many While He Was in This City—Lots of News of the Local Horse World—An Interesting Account.

Mr. Quinn, a representative of the Canadian Sportsman, has the following to say of Peterborough in a recent issue:—

I stopped over Sunday in this prosperous town, and had the pleasure of meeting some of the horsemen. I am indebted to Dr. Thomas Johnston, V.S., for a pleasant drive through the park behind his noted mare, Hazel Bell, pacer, 2.21 1-4. She is a young mare by Molvoilia, with undoubted racing qualities. She is a blood bay, 15 3-4 hands, without puff or gall, that any lady could drive; good and stout, with broad quarters, and the best of legs and feet. I spent a very pleasant evening with Dr. Johnston and family, and was driven to my hotel behind Queen's Baron, 2.18 1-4, by Baron Bells, 2.11 1-2, dam by Baron Wilkes, Queen's Baron, 2.18 1-4, is a bay mare, 12 years old, and one of the best bred horses standing in Peterborough county. Dr. Johnston showed me two of his colts that would do credit to any sire in the land. The doctor has a large practice and has no less than 3 students to help him in his work. He is very sweet on Hazel Belle, and I think it would take a big offer to get her away from him. She will be prepared this winter for next season's campaign.

Mr. P. Hogan, over in Ashburnham, drives a 15 hand bay mare, by Balladore, dam by Boxer, that he expects much of when matured.

George Lipsett drives Peggy from Paris, 2.34. She will be raced this winter, and is likely to get her share of what is going. Mr. Lipsett is fond of breeding good stock, and has three or four well-bred colts in his barn; also a black yearling pacer by Black Mac that he already has had the hopples on, and from more than one of these he expects good results.

Dr. McKercher, V.S., runs a large livery in connection with his practice, and, judging by appearances, is evidently working a good paying mine.

Mr. G. N. Graham at present has only one driver, a very stylish gent. For an owner who generally had a barnful of horses, he feels quite lonesome with only a single horse in his stable. He is a well known breeder of game fowl, and his strain are known all over Canada.

Mr. Rountree informed me it was the intention of the Peterborough Turf Club to give a good ice meeting this winter, following Port Perry. He, with others, owns Gradicator, a black stallion, by Agitator, dam Pierpont Girl, that was owned by the late Father O'Gorman.

Mr. F. A. Clarke, of the Crown Hotel has refitted and fixed it up in first class style, with all modern improvements. His hotel has also good stabling accommodation, with a number of comfortable box stalls.

My old friend, Mr. Munro, of the Munro House, is the busiest man in town. On Saturdays there is standing room only at the Munro House. The bill of fare is such an attractive one that it looked as if every farmer in town was trying to get a chance to sample it.

I called to see Mr. J. J. Cottingham, of the Commercial Hotel, and owner of that good horse, Harry Direct, 2.17 1-4, by Directum. This fellow stepped last winter on the ice in 2.20. He is in good condition and will be ready to race this winter. His owner is willing to sell him, well worth the money. He is in his prime, 7 years old, and sound. Last year Lady May, 2.04 1-4, had to step in 2.15 1-2 to beat him. He is a horse that will race every time he is turned around for the word. Mr. Cottingham had just returned from a hunting trip, and brought home two fine deer as proof of his skill with the rifle. Don't forget this chance to buy a race horse for little money. Look in the business columns for the ad.

Mr. C. B. Nixon, of the Grand Hotel, which name is not misapplied, as the Grand has lately been remodelled, at a cost of $14,000. Everything is now and of the best throughout. Mr. Nixon attends the principal race meetings, and is very popular in the East as a starter.

W. J. Lasky has removed from Lakefield and is now living in Peterborough.

I regret I could only have a brief talk with Mr. A. Elliott, as he was a very busy man and is kept on the keen jump to attend to his crowd of customers.

Dr. T. P. McCullough, one of the best known horsemen in this whole district, was absent on professional business and had not returned at the hour my train left.

A WINDSOR LADY'S APPEAL.

To All Women: I will send free with full instructions, my home treatment which positively cures Leucorrhoea, Ulceration, Displacements, Falling of the Womb, Painful or Irregular Periods, Uterine and Ovarian Tumors or Growths, also Hot Flushes, Nervousness, Melancholy, Pains in the Head, Back or Bowels, Kidney and Bladder troubles, where caused by weakness peculiar to our sex. You can continue treatment at home at a cost of only about 12 cents a week. My book, 'Woman's Own Medical Adviser," also sent free on request. Write today. Address, Mrs. M. Sum-

District Epworth League Gathering

Will be Held in Lakefield Methodist Church on Monday

A District Epworth League and Sabbath school convention will be held in the Methodist church, Lakefield, on December 2nd. Three sessions will be held, in the morning at 11 o'clock, afternoon at 1.30 o'clok, and evening at 7.30. A splendid programme has been prepared for the occasion, and a pleasant and profitable time is anticipated. A number from Peterborough will attend.

CANAL TO COST $100,000,000.

May Revolutionize the Grain Trade of the World.

Mr. R. W. Perks, the British member of Parliament, who recently visited Canada, on his return to Great Britain has given out an interview in which he states that an All-British Canadian waterway, which, when completed, may revolutionize the grain trade of the world, is to be constructed at an estimated cost of $100,000,000.

Mr. Perks, who is keenly interested in the new scheme, returned to London after a prolonged visit to Canada, during which he has had many opportunities of testing the possibilities of the great project.

It is proposed, according to Mr. Perks, to open up a mid-continental waterway across the Dominion—an extended through route by way of the Great Lakes to the Ottawa River and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The new canal will run from Georgian Bay to the Ottawa, and if successful will solve one of Canada's greatest traffic problems.

At present, although Canada is the granary of the world, and countless miles of territory in the far west are being opened up for wheat growing, the grain has to be brought to market by long and roundabout routes.

"The 'all British' route from Georgian Bay to the coast will save 500 miles of needless carriage and divert the stream of western products which now passes through the United States.

"The scheme has the support of the Canadian people, and the Dominion Government, and is now on a sound and practical basis," said Mr. Perks.

"The new canal is of the very greatest importance to Canada, for at present only a very small percentage of her product passes out to the coast through her own territory. The greater proportion of it is now diverted through the States. Once the new waterway is finished, grain can be carried right through to Montreal as cheaply as it now reaches Chicago.

"The Americans, who have enjoyed the great bulk of the grain-carrying trade, are naturally interested, and President Roosevelt is advocating another scheme for connecting Lake Michigan and Chicago with the Mississippi and New Orleans by means of a ship canal. They see clearly the importance of the trade.

"The Canadian Pacific Railway is not opposed to the new 'all British' waterway, for the directors, who are far-seeing men, realize that the construction of the canal will mean increased prosperity and commerce for the Dominion.

"The Soo Canal, at the entrance to the waterway, is a most important shipway, for more than $150,000,000 is already invested in shipping on the Great Lakes, and at least three times the tonnage of shipping passes through Soo as through the Suez Canal."

BEARS ON THE PROWL.

Foreman at Rankin Has An Exciting Experience.

For some weeks past the ballast pit on the C. P. R. at Rankin, about ten miles south of Parry Sound, has been the favored resort of a number of bears, evidently attracted by the refuse thrown out of the boarding-cars occupied by men on the work.

As Mr. J. H. Munro, locomotive foreman, was wending his way to his sleeping car recently, in happy contemplation of a peaceful night he heard the "pad, pad" of an animal behind him.

Thinking it was a dog belonging to the camp, he turned round to greet him but was horribly alarmed to discover a huge bear, standing over six feet in height, on his hind legs. Mr. Munro uttered a yell, flashed his light in the animal's face and ran, with the bear at his heels. He was about half a mile from his car, and having a few years ago been a champion sprinter, he covered the intervening distance in record time. So did the bear. He arrived at his car without lamp or hat, and hurriedly mounted the steps, but in his excitement found it difficult to insert the key in the lock. This gave the bear time to come up with him, a fact he was not aware of until he felt his clothing behind roughly seized by the animal's teeth. Just at this critical moment he managed to open the door, and sprang into the car, quickly slamming the door upon the angry bruin, who, however, retained a large piece of Mr. Munro's nether garment in his mouth.

By this time the camp was thoroughly aroused and the animal was soon put to flight with a meat axe.

Mr. Munro was found sitting on the floor of his car in a very exhausted condition, but soon recovered and is bewailing the loss of a large portion of his trousers.

As Others See Us.

The Times publishes impressions of Canada by a New Yorker. Here are some of them: Canada is owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway, but the people don't mind, because it gives passes to everybody.

The farther west you go the more English it gets. Toast racks appear at Winnipeg, green gage jam is found at Calgary, and at Vancouver one encounters Yorkshire pudding and vegetable marrow, and the waiter says, "Thank you, sir," when you tell him you want hot milk with your coffee.

The Canadian Sunday makes the blue laws of New England look like the rules of a Bowery dance hall.

The streets of the average Canadian town make the New York municipality look like thirty cents.

There has been a severe outbreak of Kipling recently.

Canada Needs Emancipation.

The London Times, commenting eulogistically on the opening of the Macdonald College, says: "The first need of the rising generation in Canada is to be emancipated from unreasoning submission to what has been said. If this need be adequately supplied the resulting conditions should be more favorable to high average development than any which the world has yet witnessed. A community educated upon that principle which is finding acceptance in Canada would not tolerate many conditions to which we tamely submit."

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c

Athletic Erectness
"One of the 14"

A TOO LOW HEELED SHOE

THE DOLLY VARDEN DEAD-LEVEL BALL AND HEEL BALANCE

A TOO HIGH HEELED SHOE

If you build a house with the foundation higher in the back than in the front, the house will lean forward. If the base is lower in the back, the house will lean backward.

Shoes are the foundation of a woman's poise. If the heels are too high, she'll stoop forward. If too low, she'll incline to the back. In either case the poise is unpleasing.

Of course to build a shoe which will give the body an erect poise is the thing, but a mighty hard thing to do, because the natural ball of the foot is lower than the natural heel. That's why the market is crowded with too high or too low heel shoes.

But after years of scientific experiment with thousands of feminine feet we have solved this difficulty.

We have balanced the heel and ball of the Dolly Varden Shoe to such delicate nicety that it actually gives the poise a foundation as level as a chemist's scales, and unless the wearer is already stooped by wearing the too high or two low heel foundation, or by the weight of many winters, she can with Dolly Varden assistance and a little effort, acquire enviable athletic erectness.

$4.00 to $5.00 in Canada and the States. Every pair Goodyear sewn throughout.

DOLLY VARDEN SHOE
The Shoe of Fourteen New Features
BOSTON . The Dolly Varden Shoe Company MONTREAL
Cressman's AGENT PETERBOROUGH

The Services In The Churches On Sunday

St. Peter's Cathedral

At St. Peter's Cathedral there will be three masses celebrated—at 8.00, a.m., low mass; children's mass at 9.15 a.m. high mass at 10.30; Vespers at 7 p.m., with sermon.

St. John's (Anglican)

Rev. Canon Davidson, M.A., rector Advent Sunday. 8.30 a.m., Holy Communion. 11 a.m., Holy Communion and sermon. 3 p.m., Sunday school and Bible class. 7 p.m., Evensong and sermon.

All Saint's Church

(Anglican) Cor. Rubidge and Sherbrooke streets. Rev. W. Major, rector. Advent Sunday. 8.30 a.m. Holy Communion. 11 a.m. morning prayer and sermon. 3 p.m. Sunday school and Bible class. 7 p.m., Evensong and sermon. Sidesmen for the day, Messrs. Lacheur and Smeaton. Rev. Dr. Tucker will preach at night.

St. Luke's (Anglican)

(Anglican) East side.—Rev. Dr Langfeldt, M. A., rector. Advent Sunday. 11 a.m., Morning Prayer and Holy Communion. 3 p.m. children's service and Bible class. 7 p.m. Evensong and sermon. Weeknight service Wednesday at 8. Rev. Dr. Tucker, Missionary General Secretary, will preach at St. Luke's tomorrow morning and also address the children at the afternoon service. At the evensong service the rector will commence a series of Advent sermons on "Strong Foundations." The first sermon will be on "Election to Salvation."

St. Paul's Presbyterian

At St. Paul's church tomorrow Rev. Dr. Talling will preach at both services. The morning theme will be "Forgiveness, Human and Divine," and in the evening, 'The Heart of the Gospel." The Bible class will deal with the Acts of the Apostles, or the Founding of the Christian Church. At prayer meeting Wednesday evening the subject will be "Four Phases of Old Testament Communion with God." On Thursday at 7.30 p.m. Rev. Rev. Robert Pogue will be inducted into the pastorate of St. Paul's church.

Knox Presbyterian

Rev. H. J. Keith will preach at both services in Knox church tomorrow.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian

Rev. J. G. Potter will preach at both services tomorrow. The following music will be rendered;—Morning service—Anthem, "I Will Sing of Thy Power," Sullivan. Solo part by Mrs. Davidson. Duet, "Some Sweet Morn," Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Greenslade. Evening service—Anthem, "Ye Shall Dwell in the Land," Stainer. Solo parts by Mrs. Davidson and Mr. Freeland. Solo, "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," Handel, Mrs. Davidson.

George Street Methodist

10 a.m., the monthly fellowship meeting will be held. Rev. E. A. Pearson will occupy the pulpit at both services. In the evening he will continue his series of sermons on "A Young Man's Life," preaching on "The Pace that Kills."

Charlotte Street Methodist

Rev. H. M. Manning will preach at both services at Charlotte street church tomorrow.

Mark Street Methodist

The services on Sunday will be of a special missionary character at Mark street church. Mrs. James Kendry will speak in the interests of the Woman's Missionary Society in the morning, and Rev. C. H. Coon will preach a special missionary sermon in the evening.

Park Street Baptist

Rev. A. H. Brace, pastor. Special sermons tomorrow; 11 a.m. subject, 'The Warrior in Armor." 7 p.m. subject, "The Battleship Going Down in Sight of Land." Sunday school at 3. Monday, B.Y.P.U. Wednesday, public service. All seats free. Hymn books provided. Hearty services.

Murray Street Baptist

Rev. J. R. Webb will preach at both services at Murray street Baptist church tomorrow.

Bethany Tabernacle

Pastor Steuernagel will speak both morning and evening. Communion after the morning service. The public generally is cordially invited.

Gospel Hall

Mr. Mapleaden, who has been in the norther ndistrict for some time, is expected in the city today, and will conduct the meeting at Gospel Hall tomorrow night.

Salvation Army Barracks

Simcoe street. —Staff Captain Goodwin in charge. Captain Masey, assistant. Sunday meetings 7 a.m. prayer meeting; 11 a.m. holiness meeting; 3 p.m. free and easy; 7 p.m. salvation meeting. All are welcome.

CHILDHOOD ILLS

Almost all the ills of babyhood and childhood are due to disorders of the stomach or bowels. Set them right and, the little one will be well and happy. No other medicine can do this so promptly and so safely as Baby's Own Tablets. Mrs. Ulric Delisle, Cap Sante, Que., says. 'My baby suffered greatly from constipation and stomach troubles and nothing helped her until I gave her Baby's Own Tablets. The change they made in her condition was simply marvelous, and I strongly recommend the Tablets to all mothers. The mother using these Tablets has the guarantee of a Government analyst that they do not contain one particle of opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

British immigration in Canada is 40 per cent. in excess of last year.

NEW PICTURES

We have just received a splendid line of pictures including:—

STEEL ENGRAVINGS
ENGLISH CARBONS,
WATER COLORS, Etc.

We invite your inspection of these while stock is complete. We also have the latest ideas in Picture Mouldings and can frame your pictures on short notice

R. J. SODEN
369 George Street

Programme of Unusual Merit

Given by Visiting Artists at Conservatory of Music Hall Last Night

Only, a small audience was present at the Conservatory of Music Hall last night—a fact that is not at all a credit to the music loving population of the city, especially to those who boast of Scottish blood. An excellent programme was provided by Mr. Gavin Spence, Miss Nannie Strachan and Miss Enid Newcombe, and what the audience lacked in numbers was made up in enthusiasm. As had been announced, the programme consisted almost entirely of Scottish song and story, and in this line (Mr. Spence and Miss Strachan have no superiors. Miss Strachan has a voice of great power and considerable sweetness, and her rendition of the songs of Auld Scotia roused great enthusiasm. "Caller Herring," Scottish Bluebells" and "Comin' Thro' the Rye," were some of the numbers that called forth enthusiastic applause from the audience. Mr. Spence has few peers as an entertainer. Both in song and story he excels, and with "Wi' a Hundred Pipers and A," Jessie's Dream," and "Killiecrankie" he won golden opinions from his audience. Two of the best numbers on the programme were duets by Miss Strachan and Mr. Spence, "The Crooked Bawbee," and "When Ye Gang Awa', Jamie." They were given in splendid style, and showed both artists to be of great ability.

Miss Newcombe, who acted as accompaniste, in addition to giving two violincello solos, both of which were encored, was a great favorite with the audience. Her finished and expressive playing of difficult numbers made it plain that she has no superiors on the 'cello. The only regret was that she did not appear more often.

Miss Pollock, of the Conservatory of Music staff, assisted as accompaniste in a most acceptable manner.

The concert closed with "Au'd Lang Syne," and the National Anthem.

If the Spencer-Strachan-Newcombe combination appear in Peterborough again they should be greeted by a bumper house.

International Correspondence Schools
Of Scranton, Penn.

Industrial Science Taught by Mail.

LOCAL OFFICE - - 430 George Stree
R. C. BALFOUR, Representative

Money is Not Tight

On some of the property propositions we can offer you. We have some pretty locations where situation, price and terms are all to suit. Low priced houses, some of them brick and on good lots, $850 up
$1,000—Village store near the city, no competition. A good thing.
$1,600—Large modern, good looking brick house, south, city.
$2,300—Very profitable apartment house renting to small families.
$1,800 and $2,350—Nice brick house, modern conveniences, well situated.
$3,000—Brick dwelling, stable, etc.; also some building lots. Just suit a retired farmer
$2,350 to $4,800—Beautiful residences on Gilmour, Homewood Ave., Weller, King, Water Sts, etc.

If you are thinking of going West we can show you something good in lands in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, with return ticket for selection trip. Farms for sale. Houses to rent.

BELL & TAYLOR
Real Estate. Fire Insurance
Office—376 Water Street.
Office Phone—498B House Phone 547B

R. A. ELLIOTT & CO.
Real Estate Agents
Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

BEER* IS GOOD FOR MOST FOLKS
(HARDLY ANOTHER BEVERAGE FEEDS SO WELL)

BEER really excels milk as a food-drink for most grown people. And many, many people cannot digest milk easily, because it is so lacking in solid food-contents. Moreover, milk is so liable to contagion that it is seldom pure when we get it in the cities. But Ontario-brewed beer is really pure,—brewed in cleanliness, of sound materials, in a sanitary way, and brought to the user in the same fit-to-drink state.

Beer Is No Stimulant

Drink beer with meals and at bedtime, as an item of diet that will help the stomach do its work better, and will feed the body besides. Don't choose beer as a stimulant, though,—it does not contain enough alcohol for that. Use it as a food-drink that induces lazy stomachs to do their work well, and so helps them get more good out of all food.

Beer Makes Better Nerves

Ontario beer is not only deliciously appetising and refreshing, because brewed of pure malt and hops only; but, besides, all the power that hops possess to repair nerve wastes is kept in these brews. That is what makes beer so particularly good for women to drink regularly. Ask your own doctor what he thinks of beer for your household.

* BEER is a term which covers lager, ales, porter and stout; and, in the practise of Ontario brewers, implies beverages made under most hygienic conditions from Ontario barley (the best in the world) malt, hops and pure water. 201

ST. ANDREW'S DAY
(By Chic)

With what significence this day is hailed, in the many ways and climes we will see. Its social, secular and religious sides in its observance are many. Some keep it as a natal day and some keep it for solemn religious observances, commemorating some event in the past history of their existence.

Andrew, the apostle, or as we write it to-day, St. Andrew, was a native of Bethsaida and brother of Peter. He was first a Disciple of John the Baptist, whom he left, to follow Christ, after the testimony of John. John 1, 40. Andrew introduced his brother Simon, ("He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, we have found the Messias, which, being interpreted, the Christ, and he brought him to Jesus.") and after accompanying our Saviour at the marriage in Cana, they returned to their ordinary occupation, not expecting, perhaps, to be further employed in His service. Some months after, Jesus met them while fishing and called them to a regular attendance on His person and ministry, promising to make them fishers of men. Matt. iv., 19. Some of the ancient writers tell us that Andrew preach the Gospel in Scythia; others that he preached in Greece; others in Epirus, Achaia or Argos. The modern Greeks make him the founder of the Byzantine Church, or of Constantinople, which the ancients knew nothing of. In the catalogue of the apostles, his name appears second in Matthew and Luke, but in Mark and Acts, he is enrolled after Peter James and John as the fourth, and in company with Phillip. He appears to have enjoyed great intimacy with our Lord, and to have been assiduous in his duties. There are few details given of him in Scripture, and many of the traditions are uncertain. The acts of his martyrdom, which are of considerable antiquity, though critics do not allow them to be authentic, affirm that he suffered martyrdom at Patrai, in Achaia, on a cross "dicussate," hence called after his name, having being sentenced to be executed by Egains, pro consul of that province.

Why St. Andrew is known as the patron saint of Scotland is not known for a certainty but, we read Ninian, the son of a British chief, and a convert to Christianity, preached the word to the Scots, who had previously come from what was then known as Scotia, but now Ireland, and settled on the lands between the Solway and Clyde and although they eventually became rulers of the north, gave their name to the whole country. After eight years of discouraging labor among them, St. Ninian was compelled to quit the country and seek refuge among the same race of people who still remained in Ireland. He founded the Christian community at Whithorn (White house). The work begun by St. Ninian in Scotland was not allowed to die out. Several names are given in various histories of missionaries who penetrated "beyond the Forth," while on the north-east coast of Scotland, a Greek Bishop is traditionally reported to have brought certain relics of St. Andrew and found a christian community at the place called after that Apostle, who has since become the patron saint of Scotland.

Of the many societies who have adopted "St. Andrew" as their example and patron saint, we will notice a few represented in our midst.

St. Andrew's Society, a benevolent organization, founded for the purpose of assisting, like St. George's and St. Patrick's societies, their fellow countrymen in the New World, does an enormous lot of charitable and benevolent work in the larger cities and towns, and observe the day by holding their annual meetings for the selection of officers, hearing reports and preparing for the coming winter's work. They generally observe it also in a social way among themselves by an annual banquet, held principally to raise funds for their season's benevolent work.

The Sons of Scotland, a benevolent and assessment insurance organisation, organised to provide a sick, funeral and mortuary benefit for the "Sons of auld Scotia," stands high in the ranks of benevolent societies, not as to numbers merely, but more especially as to the amount of work done, for the amount of their membership. They commemorate St. Andrew's Day by holding at their "camp" headquarters an "at home," to which is generally invited all sons of Scotia's isle who are resident in the town or city, where it is held. The programme is always full of the memories of the Heather and "Bonnie Scotland," and a very enjoyable programme is invariably wound up with refreshments served after the customs of 'hame," the oat cake being always conspicuous on the menu supplied.

St. Andrew's Brotherhood, a body of young men in a few of the Presbyterian churches of the United States, is organized after the manner of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew for Christian work among the junior members of the Scottish church in the land to the south of us.

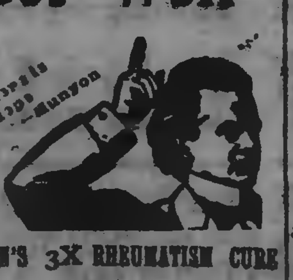
The Brotherhood of St. Andrew and Phillip, an interdenominational organization for the same object, is principally found among the Congregationlists, Baptist and Methodist churches of United States; are doing a noble work for the uplifting of the young men of the neighboring republic, to a clearer view of their elder brother's love for them, and lastly the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, an organization exclusively found in parishes of the Anglo-Catholic Communion, viz., the Protestant Episcopal church of the united church, the Church of England in Canada, Australia, West Indies and Japan, and the mother church in Great Britain—is an organization founded for the "spread of Christ's Kingdom among men, especially young men." The Brotherhood in its present form had its origin in the United States, in a young men's Bible class of St. James' church, Chicago, on St. Andrew's Day (hence its name), 1883, when a band of twelve, with the approval of their rector, Rev. W. H. Vibbert, D.D., and under the leadership of James L. Houghtiling, pledged themselves to pray and work for the extension of Christ's Kingdom amongst young men upon the basis of the two simple rules of daily prayer and weekly effort in that behalf, which has ever since been the sole rules of the Brotherhood. It was organized in recognition of the fact that every baptized man is pledged to devote his life to the extension of Christ's Kingdom on earth. It is composed of men of every station of life, the majority of whom are active in the affairs of the world, who are understood to have acknowledged this responsibility as resting upon themselves, and who are ready to strive like St. Andrew, to lead men nearer to Christ. Brotherhood work is either individual or organised. Each Brotherhood man has his own work apart from everyone else, in bringing the Kingdom of Christ to tell on men one by one. In co-operation with other men, organized with him into a chapter, he is called upon to do what he can towards carrying on certain organized work.

Men are reached by visiting them in their homes, boarding houses, by personal contact, in business, socially, in recreation or wheresoever men are to be found. They are invited and urged to avail themselves of the churches ministrations — baptism, confirmation, Holy Communion services, Bible classes, instruction classes, etc., all with the object of leading them nearer to Christ. The keynote of Brotherhood work is its definiteness and systematic regularity to make at least one earnest effort each week.

The outward results of one year's work in the parish of St. James' Chicago, were so remarkable that other parishes formed similar organizations, and the movement spread because it was found to answer to a grevious need in the church.

In 1886 the movement spread to Canada, but it was not until June 1890, when representatives of the dozen chapters then in existence in Canada, met in Toronto, and united formally in the "Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Canada." At the first annual convention held in Toronto, Mr. N. Ferrar Davidson, Toronto, brother of Rev. Canon Davidson, of St. John's church, Peterborough, was elected as the first President of the Council which he held until October 1902, which date James A. Catto, of Toronto, has filled the office. Two or more men who are willing to work and pray under the circumstances in which it has pleased God to place them, may with the approval of the rector, organize a chapter, elect officers and apply for a charter after a probationary period. They usually hold their annual meetings on the eve of St. Andrew's Day and a mass meeting for men on the evening of St. Andrew's Day, when it is usual for some prominent speaker to be invited to address the men present.

Get Well



MUNYON'S 3X RHEUMATISM CURE seldom fails to relieve in one to three hours, and cures in a few days; price, $1.

Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure is guaranteed to cure all forms of indigestion and stomach trouble. Price, 25c.

Munyon's 3X Kidney Cure speedily cures pains in the back, loins or groins and all forms of kidney disease. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Headache Cure stops headache in three minutes. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Blood Cure eradicates all impurities of the blood. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Cold Cure prevents pneumonia and breaks up a cold in a few hours. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Pile Ointment positively cures all forms of piles. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Vitalizer restores lost powers to weak men. Price, $1.

Munyon's Remedies at all druggists, mostly at 25 cents a vial.

Were Pleasantly Entertained

Murray St. Choir Enjoy Hospitality of Dr. and Mrs. Scott

The choir and musical committee of Murray street Baptist church were most pleasantly entertained last evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Scott, Hunter street. About 35 members were present and enjoyed the kind hospitality of their good friends. A short musical programme and a guessing contest formed the entertainment. The contest was unique and afforded great pleasure. Pictures contained in several advertisements were pinned around the room and the one guessing the largest number of the correct advertisements received a prize. Miss Kathleen Martyn won the lady's prize, and Mr. H. E. Wright's the gentleman's. Mrs. Miller, Misses Pilling and C. Kidd and Mr. Ferguson contributed vocal solos which were much enjoyed. Miss Hope Miller also gave a well rendered violin solo. Mr. Green and Mrs. W. Hunt gave recitations.

Dainty refreshments were served and after expressing to Dr. and Mrs. Scott many thanks for their hospitality, the party dispersed about 12 o'clock.

GOOD BLOOD FOR BAD

That is What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People Always Give—They Never Fail

Good blood is the one thing necessary for perfect health. If the blood is good disease cannot exist—if it is bad disease is bound to appear. There are dozens of maladies caused by bad blood. Among them are anaemia, rheumatism, heart palpitation, headache and backache, indigestion and the special ailments of women and growing girls. If you suffer from any of these troubles Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure you — because they make new, red, health-giving blood. They succeed where doctors sometimes fail. In proof of this Mrs. Sarah Jane Duce, Deseronto, Ont., says: "In 1905 I became weak and sickly. I was all run down; I found housework a burden—sometimes I could not do it at all; the least effort made me tired. I consulted a doctor who told me he might help me some but could not cure me permanently on account of my age. I am over fifty. His treatment did not help me and I gradually grew worse; even my friends began to despair. Four different doctors told me my case was hopeless. My suffering was intense. Sores broke out around my mouth and I was unable to eat. I consulted a specialist who told me my trouble was anaemia and that he had litle hopes for my recovery. I was in despair and decided it was useless to spend any more money on doctors. One day my husband urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After a few weeks use of the Pills I was convinced that I had found the right medicine. I took twelve boxes and they completely cured me, and I am now in excellent health. I gladly recommend them to all sufferers, for they cured me when doctors had failed and my friends were expecting death to send my suffering."

Unless the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around each box don't take them—any other so-called pink pill is a fraud intended to deceive you and may do you harm. If your medicine dealer has not got the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People they will be sent to you direct at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WEDDING BELLS

McBRIEN—HARPER

The marriage took place in Toronto yesterday of Miss Ellice Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harper, of Sherbrooke street, Peterborough, to Mr. Norton McBrien, a popular lineman of the Bell Telephone Company, who has many friends in this city. The ceremony took place at the residence of Rev. Mr. Oudrey and only the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present.

Mr. and Mrs. McBrien are spending a few days in Peterborough and after the honeymoon will reside in Lindsay.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY CHANGE IN TIME

Commencing Nov. 25th the local train, which formerly left Peterboro' at 8 o'clock will leave C. P. R. Depot at 7.56 a.m., until further notice.

WOMEN WHO CHARM

HEALTH IS THE FIRST ESSENTIAL

It Helps Women to Win and Hold Men's Admiration, Respect and Love.

Woman's greatest gift is the power to inspire admiration, respect, and love. There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature.

Mrs. T.E. Gillis

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study. At the first indication of ill-health, painful or irregular periods, headache or backache, secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

Mrs. T. E. Gillis, Windsor, N. S., describes her illness, and cures, in the following letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"When I commenced to take Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was suffering with weakness and womb trouble, headaches, backaches, and that worn-out, tired feeling. I have only taken the Vegetable Compound a few short weeks, and it has made me well, strong and robust. I believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is without equal for female troubles."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating, (or flatulence), inflammation or ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Flower Recital by Junior Students

A flower recital was given last night by the junior pupils of Miss Wilhelmine Gumpricht, A.T.C.M., assisted by a few of the more advanced students. Those taking part were Misses Agnes Neil, Aeline Wade, Hannah Greaves, Helen Greaves, Mazey Cunningham, Alma Foote, Grace Gumpricht, Beatrice Blewett, Annie Deyell, Florence Hunter, Miss Switzer and Master Arthur Lewis.

HALL CROWDED TO THE DOORS LAST EVENING

Many Attended Catholic Foresters Concert — Excellent Programme

Every available seat in St. Peter's hall was taken last evening on the occasion of a benefit concert held under the auspices of the Catholic Order of Foresters. It was a grand success both in point of attendance, and it is needless to reflect on the merits of the programme, for it was excellent, and was in keeping with the high order of entertainments that this society usually presents. The different contributors last evening were forced to respond to encores, and were greeted with the loudest applause.

The chair was occupied by Rev. Father Galvin, in his usual happy manner. In his opening remarks, he thanked the large audience for their attendance, thus showing their co-operation in the noble work of the Catholic Foresters. This is an age of benevolent societies, said the reverend gentleman, and they are deserving of the heartiest support. Their ambition is a lofty one, that of relieving the suffering of their fellowman and assisting him in his affliction. The speaker was of the opinion that every Catholic should be identified with at least one of the societies of the Church. He urged the Foresters to interest others to join. "Union is strength, and every man needs protection.

Space will not permit to particularize every number of the evening, as each was exceedingly well rendered, but Miss Lavina Hallihan, who is always a favorite with Peterborough audiences, did herself exceptional credit in her rendition, "Good-bye, Sweetheart, Goodbye."

The programme was as follows:

Duet—Misses Doris.
Vocal solo—Mr. Crowe.
Instrumental duet—Misses M. Gorman, Katie O'Brien, H. Pierce, and S. Cleary.
Recitation—Miss Despatier.
Banjo solo—Mr. F. Clarke.
Selection—Mandolin Club, Messrs. H. Theobald, A. Cranfield, B. Holland, and John Brightman.
Instrumental duet—Miss Kelly and Master C. McIntyre.
Vocal solo—Miss L. Hallihan.
Instrumental — "Spanish Dance," Misses Aileen Sullivan, K. O'Brien, M. Leahy and B. Picard.
Recitation—Mr. Geo. Lynch
Comic song—Mr. McLaren.
Step dance—Mr. David Quinlan.

The committee in charge are indebted to those who took part, and also to the Gerhard Heintzman Co., for the loan of the piano.

The concert was closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Ald. Geary says he will remain in the Toronto mayoralty field, even if Dr. Beattie Nesbitt is a candidate.

BEATEN TO PULP IN STEEL.

Piece of Brutal Highland Vengeance Baffles Scottish Police.

Elginshire constabulary are hunting day and night over the hills, glens, and wild fastnesses of the Highlands for the perpetrator of a horrible murder in the lone village of Lhanbryde, about three miles from Elgin, in the far north of Scotland.

The victim was a middle-aged man, John Barclay Smith, employed as a stone-breaker by the Elgin County Council, and the circumstances of the deed were gruesome. Smith lived alone in the lower room of a two-storied cottage, and kept himself quite aloof from the neighbors, so much so that his non-appearance for several days did not create any curiosity, and it was only when the MacGillirays, who lived above, became perturbed at a nauseous stench coming from the room below that their suspicions were aroused.

The police were summoned, and when the door of Smith's house was burst open he was found lying in bed with his face and the front of his head smashed to a jelly. A mash hammer, such as is used for breaking large stones, was resting on end near the fireplace, the iron head smeared with blood.

What could have been the motive for the crime, and who was the murderer? These are the questions the police are trying to solve.

Smith was last seen alive on the night before the murder is thought to have been committed in company with another man whom he had employed as an assistant. It is this man the authorities are searching for. He is well known to them as an evilly disposed, savage person, and is already "wanted" on another charge. Inquiries show that the pair were seen at Elgin station platform, and went off in the direction of Smith's house.

There were many evidences of two persons having occupied the victim's house. Dishes set for two, divided into equal parts, were laid on a rough wooden table, the meal consisting, in one case, of "mince," and in the other of stewed fish.

Smith was a powerfully built man, and his murderer must have taken the opportunity when he lay asleep to batter him with the hammer.

And for what? The closest investigation shows that Smith could not have possessed more than a few shillings, and the watch which is missing is not worth more than half a sovereign. Robbery, then, was not the motive.

The reason has to be looked for in another direction, and it would seem that the incentive was the vindictiveness to which some Highlanders are too prone when they have been insulted. It is known that Smith dismissed his assistant, and refused him payment for his work on the ground that it was useless. A quarrel ensued — and evidences of that were found in the house. Here, then, lies the motive—revenge. The murderer must have nursed his wrath until his opportunity came, and this was when Smith had gone to sleep.

JAM FACTORIES IN INDIA.

Simla, the Place Made Famous by Kipling, Centre of the Industry.

Three flourishing little factories at Simla, in the foothills of the Himalayas—7,000 to 8,000 feet above sea level—provide jams and preserves for the tables of the British exiles in India. "A very nice line of jams and preserves," says Consul-General Michael. "The strawberries, blackberries, raspberries, apricots, green gages, yellow plums, lemons, citrons and mangoes are grown on the sides of the mountains about Simla by the natives. The apples, quinces, peaches, damsons and pears are grown eighty miles north of Simla, in the mountains at Kulu. The guavas and oranges come from the plains near Lahore. The fruits from Kulu, eighty miles back in the mountains, are carried by coolies in baskets, which weigh each sixty pounds, strung over their backs. It requires four days for the coolies to make the trip in, over the narrow, tortuous path from Kulu to Simla. For this they receive 24 cents a day. The path or road is owned by the Government, and two annas, or four cents, toll, is charged. This is paid by the firm that buys the fruit. Men and women carry baskets of fruit, the women, as usual, receiving less than the men for the service."

Coolies Remain In Africa.

Arrangements are nearing completion to draft considerable numbers of the Chinese coolies engaged in the Rand mines to Lobito Bay, in Portuguese West Africa, for the construction of the Benguella Railway.

Private contractors have undertaken to relieve the Transvaal of the cost of repatriation of the coolies employed.

The Government and the Chamber of Mines have consented to the proposal, and the Chinese Government offers no objection.

Three thousand coolies will shortly be despatched, and this will save the Chamber of Mines $75,000 repatriation charges. The coolies will be employed on the railway for three years, and will then be repatriated by the contractors.

A Thrifty Princess.

Princess Mary of Wales, aged 10, is a depositor in the Postoffice Savings Bank, and is said to be giving promise of much acumen and ability in the management of her independent estate.

The fair-haired little girl is a frequent visitor at the postoffice near Marlborough House. She knows exactly what to do when paying in money. Walking to the counter, above which her head just reached, she hands in her passbook together with the amount she has saved up, and on receiving the book back looks carefully to see if the entry has been correctly made and stamped.

The little lady, who is entered in the postoffice books as "Mary of Wales," is, of course, always accompanied by her governess.

Dr. J. Alexander Howett, formerly of Morristown, Ontario, is dead in Saskatchewan.

COAL-CARTAGE

Best Hard COAL $7.50 per ton
No. 2 Nut COAL $6.50 per ton
Botts or English Cannel COAL $7.50 per ton

ONTARIO COAL CO. LIMITED PETERBORO

Head Office and Yards: 160 Aylmer Street Phone 116
City Office: 387 Water St Phones: Bell 325. Machine 325

ONTARIO COAL CO., Limited
J. McCLELLAN C. CURRIER G. K. RACKHAM

Will Hold "At Home" on Monday Night

A.Y.P.A. of St. John's Church to Entertain Y.M.C.A. Members

The A.Y.P.A. of St. John's church, will be at home to their members, and to the members of the Young Men's Christian Association, at the Y.M.C.A. building, Monday evening, December 2nd, 1907, eight to ten p.m. An entertainment will be provided and freshments served.

You have heard the Sailor Boys' plea, buy to-day for your dinner to-morrow "Sailor Boy" Canned Goods, Tomatoes Corn, Peas and Salmon. Your money does not buy better Goods. Do you get "Sailor Boy" or substitute?

Canadian Public Life.

The London Morning Post says that in contrast to the Mother Country, Australia, South Africa, and Canada have outgrown the period when unionism, coupled with the essential tariff question, forms the leading principle in party politics. It says that owing to the elimination of traditional issues the tone of Canadian public life seems to be declining, and that many would welcome the arrival of some fresh national controversy such as the problem of Asiatic immigration may possibly furnish.

Japs Object to the Expense.

Victoria, Nov. 30.—Advices received from Japan state that several Japanese newspapers are calling for a reduction of Japanese armament on the ground that it is too expensive.

Jake Sunfield's Case.

Hamilton, Nov. 30.—Jake Sunfield's lawyer is reported as having little hope of obtaining a new trial. That means that the sentence of hanging will be carried out on Dec. 29, unless executive clemency is obtained.

Farmer Committed Suicide.

Hartland, N. B., Nov. 30.—Charles Hallett, a farmer, cut his throat with a razor yesterday.

CATARRH CANNOT BE CURED

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, price 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Invitation Cards for AT Homes, Receptions and Evening Parties, partly printed for 1c each. Envelopes to match 10c package. On sale at the Review Office.

LEARN DRESS-MAKING BY MAIL

In your spare time at home, or
Take a Personal Course at School.

To enable all to learn we teach on cash or instalment plan. We also teach a personal class at school once a month. Class commencing last Tuesday of each month. These lessons teaches how to cut, fit and put together any garment from the plainest shirt waist suit, to the most elaborate dress. The whole family can learn from one course. We have taught over seven thousand dress-making, and guarantee to give five hundred dollars to any one that cannot learn between the age of 14 and 40. You cannot learn dress-making as thorough as this course teaches if you work in shops for years. Beware of imitations as we employ no one outside the school. This is the only experienced Dress Cutting School in Canada and excelled by none in any other country. Write at once for particulars, as we have cut our rate one-third for a short time. Address:—

SANDERS' DRESS-CUTTING SCHOOL,
31 Erie St., Stratford, Ont., Canada.

EGGS

FOR SALE by the case

Fresh and Pickled Choice Stock at our warehouse, Robinson Street, East City

Scott&Hogg
PHONE 264, BOTH PHONES

PRICE OF Coal
FOR OCTOBER IS $7.50
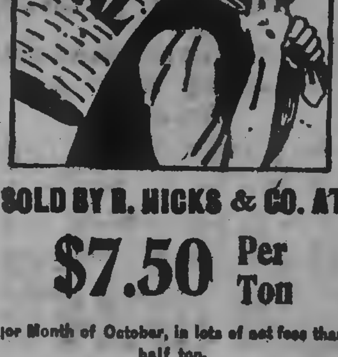
Ton, cash with order

THE PETERBORO FUEL & CARTAGE CO
LIMITED.
162 Charlotte-st. Telephones—(Bell) 281, 270. (Machine)—270.
134 Aylmer-st. Tel. (Bell) 382.

D.L. & W's SCRANTON COAL



SOLD BY R. HICKS & CO. AT
$7.50 Per Ton
for Month of October, in lots of not less than half ton.
This is the Standard Anthracite. 60 % of the Coal sold in Ontario is SCRANTON.
Terms Positively Cash.

R. HICKS & CO.
Coal Builders' Supplies, Etc.

COAL AND WOOD

Best of Coal—Best of Wood

COAL FOR OCTOBER
$7.50
PER TON

J. E. A. FITZGERALD
Cor. Brock and Bethune Sts
BOTH PHONES 111

Palace Livery Barn

For the smartest and most up-to-date LIVERY OUTFITS, at reasonable rates, go to

TOM FOSTER & CO.

Successors to Bruce Lee & Co
Rear of Snowden House.

AUCTION SALE OF HORSES BUGGIES, HARNESS, ETC., EVERY SATURDAY

Phones - Bell 286 - Machine 289

Steer Straight

for the best Beer ever brewed, and you are sure to come to us! Our Bottled Beer is "bottled health." It means vigor and strength, a good appetite and high spirits. It is the best medicine for the weak and the best food for the strong. Keep our excellent in both your home as a beverage and you will have no need of a doctor. Nothing but the purest ingredients used in our brewing.

—THE—
CALCUTT BREWING AND MALTING CO
of Ashburnham Limited

By candle light, or morning bright,
Seal Brand Coffee brings delight.
Its fragrant steam, a golden dream,
With gastronomic pleasures teem.
Its flavor too, will just suit you,
So buy it, try it, drink it, do.

Chase & Sanborn's
"Seal Brand" Coffee.

SPORTING NEWS

All Arrangements Made For the Big Indoor Meet

To be Held at Brock Street Rink on Tuesday Night

MANY ENTRIES FOR THE EVENTS

Band Will be in Attendance —Exciting Races Are Assured

At a meeting of the executive of the Harriers' Club, held last night in the Examiner office, final arrangements were made for the big meet on Tuesday night next. No fewer than thirty-three athletes, most of them well-known throughout the province, will take part in the meet, which will be one of the big indoor meetings of the year. The entries, and the following handicaps, were decided upon as follows:

Fifty yards, handicap—

Lou Marsh, Irish Canadians, Toronto, scratch.

McMurray, Irish Canadians, Toronto, scratch.

J. Greenwood, Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto, scratch.

Fred McGrath, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough, scratch.

L. Dobson, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough, 1 1-2 yds.

J. O'Donnell, unattached, Peterborough, 2 yds.

D. Hillier, unattached, Peterborough, 1 yd.

P. Adamson, unattached, Peterborough, 1 yd.

J Guerin, unattached, Peterborough, 2 yds.

J. Doughty, unattached, Peterborough, 2 yds.

Chas Knapp, unattached, Peterborough, 2 yds.

Corney Burns, unattached, Peterborough, 1 yd.

Carl Marter, Toronto, scratch.

J. Neary, unattached, Peterborough, 2 yds.

Norman Darling, Y.M.C.A. Harriers Peterborough, 1 1-2 yds.

Dick Baker, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, 1 yd.

220 yards handicap—

Lou Marsh, I.C.A.C., Toronto scratch.

McMurray, I.C.A.C., Toronto, 3 yards.

J. Greenwood, Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto, scratch.

Fred McGrath, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough, scratch.

L. Dobson, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough, 8 yards.

J. O'Donnell, unattached, Peterborough, 10 yards.

D. Hillier, unattached, Peterborough, 8 yards.

P. Adamson, unattached, Peterborough, 3 yards.

Jos. Reynolds, unattached, Peterborough, 10 yards.

J. Doughty, unattached, Peterborough, 10 yards.

Chas Knapp, unattached, Peterborough, 10 yards.

Carl Marter, Toronto, scratch.

J. Neary, unattached, Peterborough 10 yards.

N. Darlong, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough, 8 yards.

880 yards handicap—

No 30 — A. W. Haddleton, Irish Canadians, Toronto, scratch.

22—Allan Bravender, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough, 25 yards.

29—Peter Wallace, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough, 25 yards.

6—L. Dobson, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough, 25 yards.

28—Ed Crowe, unattached, Peterborough, 35 yards.

1—J. O'Donnell, unattached, Peterborough, 35 yards.

3—D. Hillier, unattached, Peterborough, 30 yards.

4—P. Adamson, unattached, Peterborough, 30 yards.

7—J. Doughty, unattached, Peterborough, 30 yards.

[illegible]—Chas Thorpe, unattached, Peterborough, Peterborough, 30 yards.

23—D. B. McRae, Y.M.C.A. Harriers Peterborough, 60 yards.

21—Norman Darling, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough, 25 yards.

[illegible]—W. J. McBurney, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, 20 yards.

The 50 and 220 will be run in heats as follows, the first man in each heat to qualify for the final:

50 YARDS HANDICAP.

First Heat—
1. J. O'Donnell, 2 yards.
2. D. Hillier, 1 yard.
3. J. Greenwood, scratch.
6. Len Dobson, 1 1-2 yards.

Second Heat—
5. L. Marsh, scratch.
4. P. Adamson, 1 yard.
6. J. Guerin, 2 yards.
21. N. Darling, 1 1-2 yards.

Third Heat—
7. L. Doughty, 3 yards.
9. McMurray, scratch.
11. Conny Burns, 1 yard.
[illegible] Richard Bryson, 1 yard.

Fourth Heat—
10. Charles Knapp, 2 yards.
12. Carl Marter, scratch.
13. Fred. McGrath, scratch.
14. J. Neary, 2 yards.

220 YARDS HANDICAP.

First Heat—
1. J. O'Donnell, 10 yards.
2. D. Hillier, 8 yards.
3. Greenwood, scratch.
4. P. Adamson, 3 yards.

Second Heat—
15. Joseph Reynolds, 10 yards.
6. L. Robson, 6 yards.
8. Lou Marsh, scratch.
7. J. Doughty, 10 yards.

Third Heat—
9. McMurray, 3 yards.
10. Charles Knapp, 10 yards.
12. C. Marter, scratch.

Fourth Heat—
14. J. Neary, 10 yards.
21. N. Darling, 8 yards.
13. F. J. McGrath, scratch.

THREE MILE HANDICAP.

Hilton Greene, Irish Canadians, Toronto, scratch.

Fred. Simpson, Y. M. C. A. Harriers, Peterborough, scratch.

Ben Howard, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough, scratch.

E. Moss, Havelock, 1 lap.

P. Adamson, unattached, Peterborough, 2 laps.

Jos. Reynolds, unattached, Peterborough, 2 laps.

Ray Best, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough, 100 yards.

Charles Knapp, unattached, Peterborough, 2 laps.

Chas. Thorne, unattached, Peterborough, 1 1-2 yards.

J. Neary, unattached, Peterborough, 2 laps.

THREE MILE SPECIAL.

P. C. Sellen, Irish Canadians, Toronto.

Jack Tait, West End Y.M.C.A. Toronto.

Bredin Galbraith Central Y. M. C. A., Toronto.

Adams, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Hamilton.

Ernie Wilson, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Peterborough.

It was decided to secure the services of the 57th Band for the occasion, which will add to the gayety of the affair. Programmes will be printed, and will be distributed on Tuesday night. They will give the list of events and entries and the number of the contestants, and by means of them the audience will be able to follow the progress of the meet.

Near-by Hockey Clubs Organize

Lakefield and Norwood Will be in City League

Lakefield and Norwood hockey clubs have organized for the season and will have teams in th Peterborough City League.

LAKEFIELD CLUB.

An enthusiastic meeting was held at Lakefield when the hockey club elected the following officers:—

Hon President—F A Kilbourn.
President—L J Labelle.
1st Vice-Pres.—H Lewis.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Dr. S J Gibson.
Sec.-Treas.—W W Leonard.
Manager—W L Hurl.
Patron and Patroness—Dr. and Mrs W A Baker.

Executive Committee—J. M. Bygott, Frank Morin, J. W. Ridpath and the manager and captain.

Messrs. W. L. Hurl, Reg. Murduff and Leo Quinn were appointed as representatives from the club to interview the executive of the Peterborough City League as regards Lakefield placing a team in the League. A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring secretary-treasurer, Mr Jas. Watson. The meeting then adjourned.

NORWOOD BOYS.

The annual meeting of the Norwood Hockey Club was held this week, with officer selected as follows:—

Hon President—F. Woollcombe,
President—Fred Fry.
Vice-President—Bert Huycke.
Secretary—E. L. Frost.
Treasurer—M. J. Kennedy.

Executive Committee—Fred Fry, Charles Pearce, Fred Doherty, A. J. McKenty, E. L. Frost and the captain.

Manager—A. J. McKenty.
Patron—John Finlay, M.P.
Patroness—Mrs. Finlay.

The election of the captain was left over until next meeting.

The club purposes going into the Peterborough City League this season with Lakefield, Keene, and seven or eight Peterborough teams. With a number of the old players back in the game and many juniors available, Norwood should make a good showing this year.

Montreal Leads in Rugby Contest

The Score at Half Time Stood 35 Points to 9.

In the first quarter at Montreal today for the Dominion Rugby championship, Montreal scored 23 points while Peterborough obtained 6.

SECOND QUARTER.

Peterborough got safety touch making their total tally 8, Montreal secured a touch down and converted making their score 28. A little later they obtained another which they also converted. 35-8. Peterborough rougged. Montreal 35, Peterborough 9. The half ended with the score 35-9.

At the end of third quarter score was Mintreal 59, Peterborough 9.

MEETING OF JUVENILE TEAMS

There was a meeting of several juvenile teams last night at the Y.M.C.A. for the purpose of forming a league. Nothing was done in the matter, however, and the meeting was adjourned until Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. There was representatives from the following teams present: Metropolitans, Chieftains, Northern Lights, Crystals, Knox church and Invincibles.

Sporting Comment

The Irish-Canadian Athletic Club is becoming one of the most formidable organizations of its kind on the continent. Its latest addition to its big aray of talent, will be, it is said, Bobby Kerr, the phenomenal sprinter from Hamilton.

Charlie Mitchell, the ex-champion of Great Britain, says that Burns has a good chance of defeating Gunner Moir. And apparently he has, although the opinions passed by experts in the matter of a prize fight don't count for much, as they quit efrequently miss the mark by the widest possible margin.

Great interest is being displayed in city hockey this winter, and there promises to be some exciting contests in the senior city league, as the teams that are entered in it are particularly fast. A seven could be picked from the various city league teams that would have a splendid chance in the intermediate O.H.A. series.

Peterborough's popular painter painted a picture with Reynolds in the background

If the weather in Montreal is anything like it is here, the day will be a pretty raw one for a football match.

Bruce Stuart, the Ottawa hockey player, has turned down an offer of $65 a week to play on the Maple Leaf team of Winnipeg this season. The Winnipeg organization is spending lots of money this year on a team, and is securing the best talent possible.

Tom C. Flannagan was neatly stung the other day. Yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Stevens, treasurer of the David Hartley fund at Peterborough, thanking him most cordially for the Irish-Canadian's donation of $50 towards the fund.

"Your telegram was greeted with cheers," read the letter.

"Wotell!" exclaimed Tom, as he turned the letter over and read it again.

"Stung! Be jabbers!" he ejaculated again. "I didn't wire a nickel to the Hartley fund." He turned the letter over thoughtfully. "Such a nice letter, too," he said.—Toronto Star.

ROLLER SKATING

At "Skiddoo night" at the Lindsay roller rink on Tuesday night the prize for ladies' and gentlemen's skating in couples, was won by Miss Sheridan of Lindsay, and Mr. Farrington, of Peterborough. The contest for boys in couples was won by Master Penrose and Master Parrington, of Peterborough.

BOWLING

Mr. Fletcher made an examination of the Y. M. C. A. building and found that there was not room for bowling alleys unless several alterations were made. It is not yet known what will be done as a result of this discovery.

WALKING

David Hartley announced to the Review to-day that he is his own manager, and if Irwin, the Toronto man, who desires to arrange a match wishes to make a deal, he should communicate with Mr. Hartley direct.

HOCKEY

The Millbrook Hockey Club intend to have a first class open air rink this season and a fast hockey team. All lovers of this exhilarating sport should assist the boys all they can, financially and otherwise.

PETERBOROUGH RAG AND METAL COMPANY

prepared to pay the highest market price and will give a square deal for Scrap Iron, Rags, Rubbers, Wool Pickings, etc. Don't sell before you see them. Call up Phone 694

YARD AND OFFICE:
COR. SIMCOE and BETHUNE, West
D. FLORENCE & SON

Lame back—swollen hands and feet—Rheumatism and Sciatica—Neuralgia—all are cured to stay cured, by

Fruit-a-tives

OR—FRUIT LIVER TABLETS.

They heal the kidneys and purify the blood. Made of fruit juices and tonics. 50c a box—at all druggists'. 130

NEWS THEATRICAL

Thomas E. Shea, who gave a masterly interpretation of Mathias, the inkeeper in "The Bells," and Napoleon in "Napoleon the Great," when seen here a short time ago, is now appearing in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" and "The Story of The Cross."

Mabel McCane, who was seen in Peterborough in the leading role in "The War Correspondent," is doing clever work in the play, "The Girl Over There."

Al. Leech, the clever comedian and eccentric dancer, who played there in "Girls Will be Girls," and sang for the first time in Peterborough the song, "He Walked Right in and Turned Around and Walked Right Out Again," has been appearing this season in "Happy Days." The lyrics of the piece are written by Leech himself, and the music by A. Baldwin Sloane, composer of "The Gingerbread Man" and "Sergeant Kitty."

A local business man who saw Ruth White play the part of Willie, the smooth city youth, in "The Burgomaster," when the play was produced in Ottawa, when the original production was running, says she was responsible to a large extent for the popularization of white vests in the Capital city. She appears on the stage in her interpretation of the above part in a blue suit and snowy waistcoat. The playgoers of Ottawa were so taken with her appearance that white vests became quite the thing there for some time, although when "The Burgomaster" was played they were by no means much in vogue.

RUTH WHITE
As "Willie" in the Burgomaster, the big musical production, at the Grand Opera House, Monday night Dec. 2nd.

Ottawa College will not put a team in the Intercollegiate Hockey League this year.

AT THE HOME OFFICE

On account of the illness of an optician in Orillia, Dr. Browett has cancelled appointments and is pleased to announce that he will be continuously at his home office until after Xmas. Appointments for eye examination are being made daily at our store.
P. S. This store will hereafter be open until ten o'clock every night and appointments for eye examinations can be made until that hour.

McDERMID & JURY, Druggists, Peterboro.

AMUSEMENTS

MRS. TEMPLE'S TELEGRAM.

There should be a record-breaking attendance at the production of "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," at the Grand tonight. It is absolutely the most cleverly constructed and amusing piece before the public today, and is presented by an all-star cast. Concerning its appearance in Kingston the Kingston Whig says:

In the presentation of "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," at the Grand last night, Kingston theatre-goers were given one of the best entertainments of the season. There were three acts of continuous fun, and only while the curtain was down, was there a breathing spell. It was a clever little farce, put on by a clever company, and delighted everyone. For a fit of the blues nothing better could be recommended.

The telling of a simple little "fib" and the amusing incidents following the sending of a telegram, formed the plot—but no, it was not a plot, merely a series of ridiculous complications. The comedy part fell to the lot of Frank Fuller, and this role was ably portrayed by Allan Murname. Miss Frances Grant undertook the difficult role of Mrs. Jack Temple, and her work was entirely creditable. As Jack Temple, Carl Anthony played the part to perfection, in fact one could say that his work was almost perfect. The supporting company was good. Miss Nancy Avrill as Mrs. F. Fuller, was most charming. Alfred Hudson as Wickson, the butler, was a very interesting character.

First Meeting of Peterborough Canadian Club

Will be Held at National Hotel on December 13th

The first meeting of the Canadian Club will be held at the National Hotel, at 7.30, on Friday evening, December 13th.

The speaker of the evening will be Prof. Shortt, of Queen's University, Kingston, who will speak on "Problems of Immigration." Prof. Shortt is Professor of Political Economy at Queen's University, Kingston.

Snowden House Bus Was Struck by Street Car

Strip of Wood Ripped off But no Serious Damage Done

The Snowden House 'bus, was struck last night by a street car just as it was turning down Charlotte street on its way to the hotel from the G.T.R. station. A strip of wood was torn off it, but none of the occupants or driver was hurt, although rudely disturbed by the sudden shock.

Hydraulic Power Co. vs. McAllister

The following appears in today's Osgoode Hall (Toronto) reports:

CHAMBERS

Before Cartwright, Master.

Peterborough Hydraulic Power Co. v. McAllister (action No. 2) — G. H. Strathy, for third parties, moved for order for removal of stay of proceedings granted 17th May last, and for consolidation of this action with action number one between same parties. D. O'Connell (Peterborough) for the defendants, and C. W. Kerr, for plaintiffs, contra. Order made renewing stay. Action to be considered to be in same plight and condition as action number one between same parties and to be consolidated therewith. Costs of this motion as between defendants and third parties to be in the third party proceeding. Costs of action as between plaintiff and defendants to be in the cause, including counsel fee to plaintiffs in this motion.

FACTS—JUST PLAIN, POINTED FACTS

HERE'S A LINE OF $9.75
OVERCOATS

That are positively unequalled
for good value in the City

75 OVERCOATS, Traveller's Samples, bought 25% less than former wholesale prices. Made of Fancy Tweeds, Meltons, Beavers and Cheviots, lined and trimmed in first-class style, some long, some medium lengths, single and double-breasted, some with storm collars, which would make an excellent driving coat. Regular prices $11.00, $12.00, $13.50 and $1500. For this week only $9.75

SO COME EARLY, AS FIRST SELECTION IS ALWAYS THE BEST

MERRELL & MEREDITH
CLOTHIERS, FURNISHERS and HATTERS
375-377 GEORGE ST. PHONE 35

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

Meetings for men and boys at the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow at 10 am. A boy's Bible class. Leader, the secretary.

4 p.m., a meeting for men and older boys. Rev. J. R. Webb, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church, will speak. Miss Reeson, soloist of the George street Methodist church, will sing. It will be a bright, helpful service.

6 p.m., a tea for the strangers in the city.

G.T.R. OFFICIALS WISITED THE CITY

Messrs. W. G. Brownlee, general transportation manager; M. S. Blaiklock, engineer of the Maintenance of Way, Montreal, and John Irwin, trainmaster, of the G.T.R., arried in the city today by special car on the 11.45 train. They inspected the yards of the local depot and also visited the siding in East City.

Hon. R. L. Borden held a fine reception in Ottawa on Wednesday night.

IT IS A FACT
That we have the finest stock of Skates, Sticks and Hockey Supplies in the city.

BANK'S SKATE STORE
Under the Market Clock

THE CANADA LIFE

PETERBOROUGH OFFICES:
435 George Street
(Upstairs)

S. E. SALLS,
Agent and District Manager

S. G. SALLS,
Cashier and District Secretary

XMAS BARGAINS AT CHINA HALL

The present is a good time to make selections for Christmas. Notice some of the Bargains for advance buyers.

Dinner Sets
Balance of 32 only regular $15 sets, while they last only $10.—A fine Xmas gift.

China Tea Sets
15 only very fine China Tea Sets, worth fully $8.00 for $3.50. A useful Xmas gift.

Toilet Sets
A very special bargain of $3.00 sets for $2.00. A practical gift.

Lemonade Sets
25 only 8 piece Lemonade or Water Sets, jug, tray, etc. A big gift for for small price.

Extra Special
25 doz Japanese China Cups and Saucers, regular 25c and 30c for 15c. A dainty gift.

CHINA HALL CO. New Premises 394 GEORGE STREET
(NEXT TO H. LeBRUN & CO.)

Fourth Session of Tenth Parliament Opened With Great Pomp and Ceremony

Another Session of the House of Commons is Now Under Way—Several New Members Were Introduced and Took Their Seats

Brilliant Scene Presented—What Speech From the Throne Foreshadows—Address in Reply to Speech Will Come Up on Monday.—Extension of Provincial Boundaries—Some Important Legislation.

THE FORMAL OPENING

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—With all the usual pomp and ceremony Parliament was opened yesterday.

The floor and gallery of the Senate chamber wer taxed to their utmost to accommodate those who wished to witness the function.

Through the stained glass tiles of the ceiling the light shone in soft and subduing tints on the brilliant scene.

His Excellency the Governor-General, Earl Grey, occupied the throne, on the left of which sat Countess Grey and her daughters, while on the right was Lady Laurier and other distinguished guests.

His Excellency wore the uniform of a Privy Councillor, his breast glittering with orders.

The chamber presented a varied and animated scene. The rich and gorgeous gowns of the ladies, the brilliant scarlet robes of the Supreme Court judges, the silken gowns and lace ruffles of the law clerks, together with the gay uniforms of the many officers attending the ceremony, all went to make up a brilliant tout ensemble only to be witnessed at rare intervals.

The Governor-General arrived in a superb equipage drawn by four horses, and attended by his aides-de-camp and a squadron of cavalry.

He was received with the national anthem, the guard of honor in front of the tower presenting arms as His Excellency descended from the carriage amid the booming of the artillery at Nepean Point.

Earl Grey at once proceeded to the Senate chamber and Black Rod was despatched to summon the Lower House to hear the speech from the throne.

Speech From Throne.

The speech outlined the principal items of legislation to be gone into and expressed congratulation on the remarkable extension of trade, far exceeding any previous year, the result being that the revenue has been sufficient to cover all charges of every kind, including a heavy outlay for the National Transcontinental Railway and leaving a surplus of over three millions to be applied to the reduction of the public debt. Gratification was also expressed at the large number of immigrants coming from the British Isles, and reference made to the important results of the recent Colonial Conference. It was announced that Parliament will be asked to give sanction to the new Franco-Canadian trade treaty, and also that Canada will join with Newfoundland in referring the international fisheries disputes on the Atlantic coast to The Hague tribunal. Mention was made of Hon. Mr. Lemieux's mission to Japan, and the satisfactory progress being made toward the settlement of the question of Oriental immigration; of the good progress being made on the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway, and of the rapidly-increasing revenues of the Postoffice Department, the surplus earnings of which will be devoted to bettering the service.

The Quebec disaster was also referred to, and the intention of the Government to proceed with the completion of the bridge within a reasonable time was announced.

The speech went on to say that the time has arrived when the public requires telegraph and telephone companies holding Federal franchises to be placed under Government control. A bill will be introduced for that purpose.

Among the measures to be submitted is a bill for the extension of the boundaries of Manitoba and of other provinces, also a bill to provide for the issue of Government annuities for old age, a bill respecting insurance and bills to amend the Election Act and the Dominion Lands Act.

This done the Commons returned to their own chamber, and were then in readiness for the business of the session.

Five Members Introduced.

Five new members were introduced. The Government had three new supporters to present to Mr. Speaker, while the Opposition had two. The entry of these, after the return of the Commons from the Red Chamber giving occasion for some enthusiasm on both sides.

Hon. Dr. William Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, came in between Sir Wilfrid and Hon. Mr. Fielding, and Hon. George P. Graham between Hon. William Paterson and W. S. Calvert. Then Mr. Borden introduced Major Beattie of London, and C. L. Owen of London, F. D. Monk and W. B. Northrup, assisting. The last to be brought in was A. M. Martin, who keeps North Wellington in the Liberal column, Sir Wilfrid and H. H. Miller were his sponsors.

Debate on Monday.

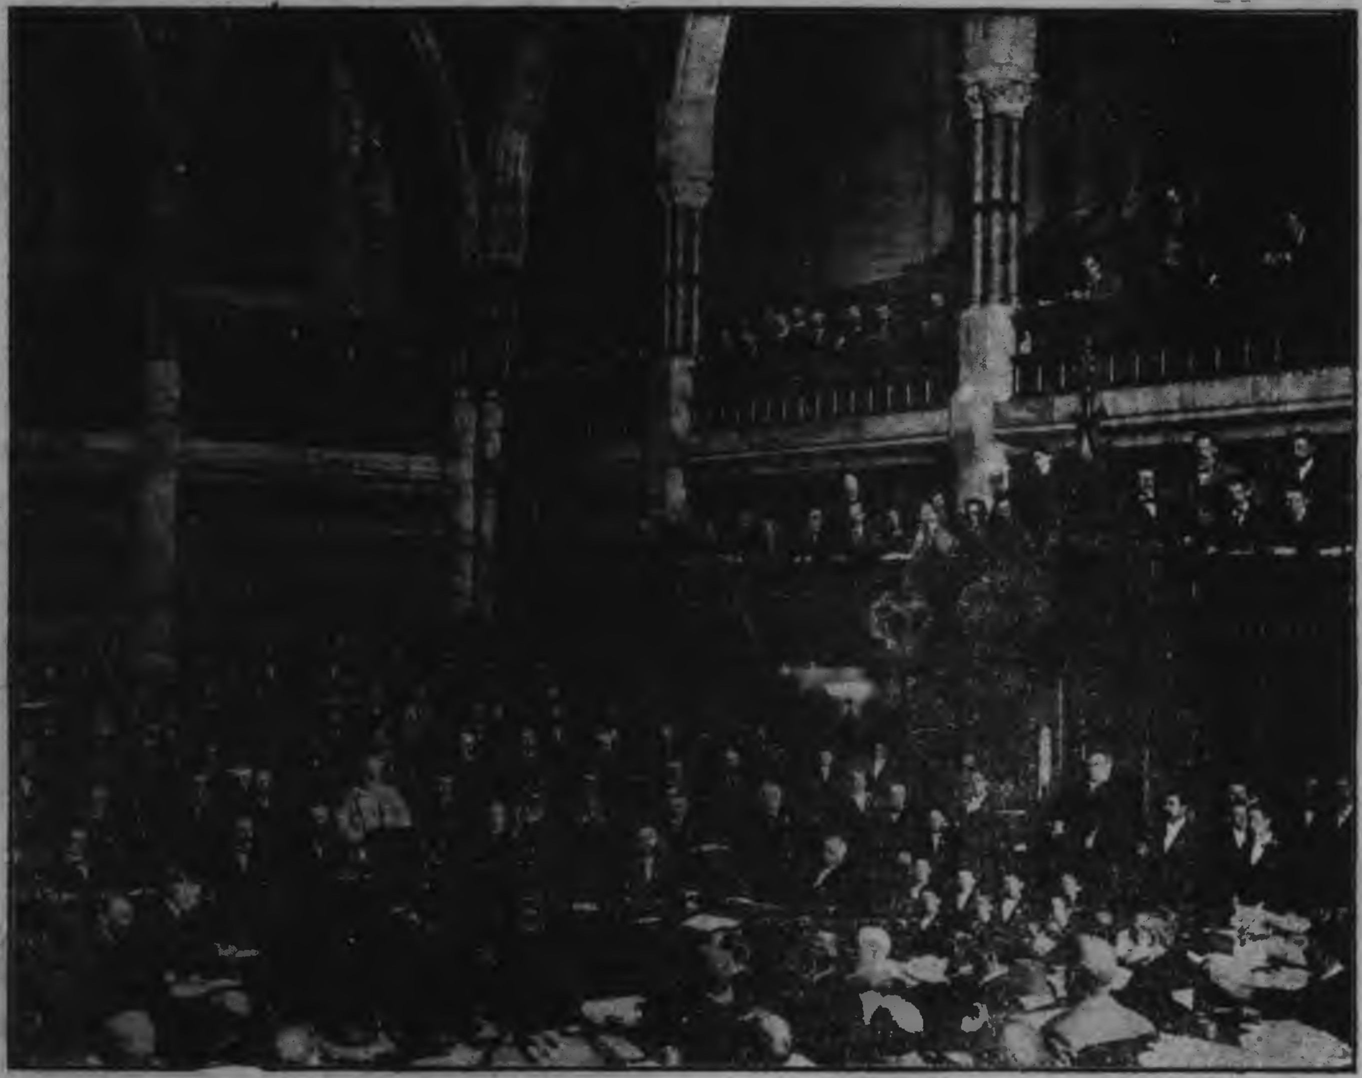
Sir Wilfrid moved that the address in reply to the speech be taken into consideration on Monday, and a committee to strike the standing committees was named by the Premier. Sir Wilfrid, in reply to Mr. Borden, expressed the hope that the committee would be named without delay, in order to facilitate the close of the session, informed the House that early next week the names would be submitted.

The convention respecting commercial relations between Canada and France was laid on the table by the Finance Minister, and public accounts for the nine months ended March 31, were brought down.

EARL GREY

Parry Sound is seeking government aid to secure sufficient water from Segerin river to drive its power plant.

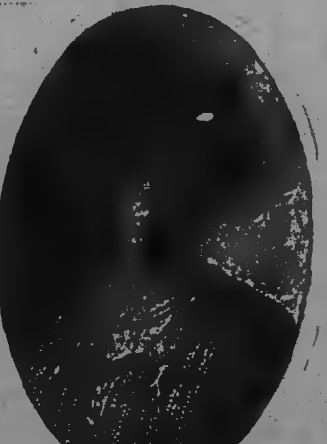
Charles A. Molson, eldest son of the late Alexander Molson, Montreal, was accidently shot and killed at Salt Lake City, where he was living.



THE OPENING OF THE HOUSE

A brilliant scene presented at the opening of parliament on Thursday afternoon last. The galleries were crowded and nearly all the members were in their seats.

THE EAST BLOCK OF CANADA'S PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS.



LADY GREY.

Hugh MacPhail, who at one time conducted pharmacies in Hamilton Paris and other Ontario towns, is dead at Buffalo, aged eighty-two.

While teaching his public school class at Morpeth, on Wednesday, D. Johnson, aged forty-five dropped dead He was one of the veteran teachers of Kent.

COMMONS BEGIN WORK

Railway Commission's Report Presented to the House.

Farmers Send Along Petitions—Against Meat Inspection Act—Oriental Immigration Question—Insurance Bill Early Next Week—Old Age Pensions to Be Discussed—Contributions and Payments.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—Parliament sat just eight minutes yesterday afternoon, during which time H. S. Clements (Kent) improved the opportunity by presenting a batch of petitions from 500 farmers of Western Ontario for an amendment to the meat inspection act, abolishing regulations which, it was set out, placed the farmers at the mercy of the packers and restricted the sale of live hogs.

Other things were done. Hon. G. P. Graham was applauded by Liberal members when he laid on the table huge bundles of documents, the tumult arising from the fact that it was the Minister's first break into the real business of the Federal House. Mr. Graham's report covered the operations of the Railway Commission for Canada, the National Transcontinental Commission and the Department of Railways and Canals.

Railway Commission's Report.

The Railway Commisison has had 63 public sittings and heard 21 applications, and of the amount appropriated by Parliament, $74,250, there is a balance of $5,585. The commissioners and secretary get $21,750. Four hundred and sixty persons were killed and 603 injured. Forty-two of the killed were passengers and 212 employes. Forty-one were killed at level crossings and 22 injured; trespassing, 95 killed, 32 injured; derailment, 15 and 102; working on track, 46 and 29; head-on collisions, 44 and 109; collision with street cars, 1 and 17; found on track, 61; switching, 29.

Eight Millions Expended.

The third report of the transcontinental Railway Commission covers the fiscal period of nine months ended March 31, 1907. The total expenditure for work done under the commission was $8,147,494.63, of which $5,537,867.50 is credited to the fiscal period covered by the report. The cost of the headquarters staff was $166,191.03; for the location of the line, $555,896.24; for transport service, $225,920.59, and for actual construction, $4,589,859.64.

In district F., north of Kenora, 17 persons were killed and 26 injured. District Engineer Hodgins reporting that the accidents were mainly due to carelessness of the men in handling dynamite and to some extent to liquor being in the camps. The portions approved and covering which contracts have been awarded are: New Brunswick, 112 miles; Quebec, 417; Ontario, 238; Manitoba, 84; total, 852 miles.

Ralph Smith (Nanaimo, B. C.), has given notice of a resolution that in the opinion of this House steps should be taken to restrict the influx of Oriental immigrants into Canada, and inasmuch as the policy of the Government concerning immigration has been entirely satisfactory, a definite policy should be immediately put into operation looking to the accomplishment of equally satisfactory results with regard to all other Oriental immigrants.

Cheered the Winner.

The Conservative members held their first caucus of the session yesterday morning, when the program for the session was discussed and C. L. Owen, the new member for East Northumberland, presided. The result of the bye-election in Colchester, which was announced by John Baptiste Morin, cheered the members and the feeling was that the session will be a fighting one.

Hon. W. S. Fielding will bring down the new Insurance Bill early next week, a notice to that effect having been given yesterday afternoon. He has also given notice of an act to authorize the issue of Government annuities for old age. The resolution to ratify the French treaty will also be taken up early.

The Annuity Bill.

The bill in regard to old age annuities is about the same as that Sir Richard Cartwright laid before the Senate last session. The object of the bill is to encourage the opening up of savings accounts by the working classes, so that they may have provision for old age, say at the age of 60. If a man begins paying at 20 years an annual contribution of $13, he will be entitled to $120 a year when he reaches 60, or if the payment is deferred until he reaches 65, then he can have $200 a year. Payments will be made for annuities in the local postoffice, and the Government will allow interest thereon, compounded half-yearly at 3 1-2 or 4 per cent.

The Government will undertake the business of management, and payment of annuities will be guaranteed by the whole credit of the Dominion. The annuities will not be subject to seizure for debt or any other cause and will not be transferable. No annuity can be taken for more than $400 a year.

MR. R. R. HALL, M.P.

Who Will, on Monday, Move the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne

Tried to Wreck Train.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Wm. Leflair, Edward Fry and Ben Roberts, aged, respectively, 20, 14 and 12 years, was held yesterday for the grand jury, charged with having attempted to wreck a New York Central passenger train at a curve a mile east of the city. A section hand flagged the train after he had discovered that railroad spikes had been driven between the rail joints.

Another Japanese Complaint.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—Japanese Consul-General Nosse complained to the Immigration Department yesterday that a number of Japanese holding passports would not be allowed to land in Victoria.

As the privilege of allowing diseased immigrants to land at Victoria for treatment was abused, the Government have stopped it.

The German Entente.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—In connection with Emperor William's visit to England, Prince Von Buelow amid loud applause, expressed the greatest satisfaction in the Reichstag yesterday. He believed, he said, the future would show that the strained relations between Germany and Great Britain were founded on misunderstandings. Speaking in the name of the Reichstag, he declared that the friendliness displayed by the English people was reciprocated in Germany.

Business Section Destroyed.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 30.—A telephone message from Cody, Wyoming, says that practically the entire business portion of the town was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. The loss is roughly estimated at $100,000.

Hummell Ill.

New York, Nov. 30.—Abraham H. Hummell, formerly a well-known lawyer in the Criminal and Divorce Courts here, is seriously ill on Blackwell's Island, New York City's prison.

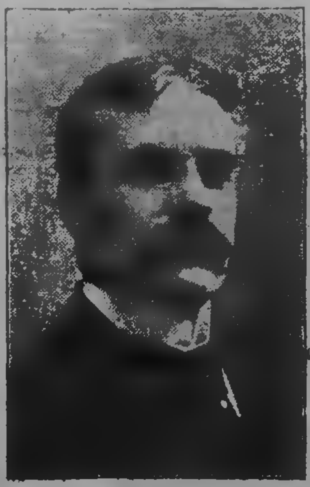
SIR WILFRED LAURIER
Prime Minister of Canada

40,000 Children Gave.

Montreal, Nov. 29.—Over 40,000 school children contributed $4,200 towards the memorial to Sarah Maxwell, the teacher who lost her life in the Hochelaga school fire. With additional contributions by sympathizers, a wing, to be known as the Sarah Maxwell Memorial, will be added to the Children's Hospital.

Found Forty Snakes.

Galt, Nov. 29.—A gang of Bell telephone men, who were working in the Collegiate grounds, uprooted an old telephone post and saw close upon 40 snakes lying snugly in the ground.



MR. R. L. BORDEN, K.C., M.P.
Leader of His Majesty's Loyal Opposition in the House of Commons

Killed Finance Minister.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 29.—The despatch received here eight days ago from Bokhara, Central Asia, relating that the treasury, there had been robbed was mistaken in some of its details. It now appears, according to more complete reports, that a number of bandits attacked the palace of the Ameer, killed the Minister of Finance and made their escape on horseback, with a sum of money equal to $90,000. Cavalry men pursued the robbers and captured one of them, who proved to be a soldier attached to the railway battalion.

Thrown From Cutter.

Montreal, Nov. 29.—While out driving Wednesday evening Mr. F. H. Mathewson, manager of the Montreal branch of the Bank of Commerce, was thrown from his cutter and severely injured. He drove home later, but shortly after reaching there complained of pains in the region of his heart. A doctor was summoned, and last night he stated that his patient was in a most precarious condition. Mr. Mathewson has been a constant sufferer from heart trouble.

Dream of Havelock

I know not how I got the power of seeing things before hand. I know not why I can prophesy. But I have prophesied correctly before and I will try once more.

I stood on the highest point of a hill Before me the ground went slanting downward disappeared under the water of a small sparkling stream and reappeared once more in a level tract of land completely covered by large numbers of railroad tracks.

Following further northward I see a village extending east, west and north, and covering a considerable amount of land.

Looking east along the track, my eyes encounter a building called through courtesy a station. on the red paint of the building in black letters the beautiful name Havelock. Across the numerous tracks southward is situated numerous buildings, from which through several openings, large clouds of smoke coming from locomotives arise

I survey the whole scene with pleasure but something seems to tell me there is to be some changes made.

Suddenly, I see a change, and looking westward I see about a mile west a track branching off from the main line. It is speedily built and passes near Warsaw, then onward as if by magic, south of Lakefield, extending as far as the land extends to a harbor on Georgian Bay called Victoria Harbor.

'What is that railroad that is being so speedily built, and of which Havelock is the divisional point,' I ask of a friend at my side.

"That," replied my friend, "is the Georgian Bay grain route, that will in the near future, make Havelock a busy railroad centre."

A pleased expression passes over my face and my eyes wander back again to the centre of attraction, which is Havelock.

I again look and see extending both east and west of Havelock, another track running parallel with the main line.

They reach far distant, The one to the west reaches Toronto, and the one to the east to Montreal.

I turn to my friend with an enquiring look, and he in reply to my look says—"They have double-tracked the main line from Toronto to Montreal. Another thing that will help Havelock."

Again I directed my eyes to Havelock, and see a little to the west of the station, a large magnificent structure, and I am again surprised, but my friend suppresses my curiosity by the words, "That is the new Havelock station."

Along with this I see the erection of numerous other buildings, such as machine shops, coal shutes, etc., and the number of tracks forming the yard are greatly increased.

"Well," says the superintendent of the works, "I guess this is enough for this year. We have done enough during 1908. We will do more next year."

THE MAIN BLOCK OF CANADA'S PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS

A Story of Absorbing Interest

The Rogue's March

By E. W. HORNUNG, author of "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," "Stingaree," etc.

But his old landlady shed tears as she described her last interview with the prisoner at the bar. It was with difficulty that things which Tom had said on that occasion and to which she had already sworn at Marylebone could be wrung a second time from her unwilling lips. "I'll pay him" and "I'll break every bone in his infernal body" were not the worst of the words which were extracted by degrees. Then the stick was produced in court, and the knob that had been so clean and creamy was now clotted over with a scaly, russet skin, like a coat of glue, at sight of which the witness turned as white as her hair and was given a glass of water in the box. The stick was then duly identified, the jury informed that the prisoner had described it to witness as "a rod in pickle" for the deceased and the witness allowed to stand down after a brief but painful cross examination, in which the good soul's fondness for Tom was betrayed by signs that touched him as deeply as anything could just then. His brain was reeling under the dread weight of her evidence against him. He felt its influence upon judge and jury as a palpable force. Its very reluctance only heightened its mortal effect.

Jonathan Butterfield exhibited a like demeanor with a like result. It only showed that the prisoner had not lacked those common attributes of the worst rascals, an engaging manner and the power of imposing on the simple minded. This witness, however, swore very positively that there were no marks of blood upon the prisoner when they were together. And though his sly successor as positively swore that such a stain upon the kerseymere waistcoat had first aroused his suspicions in the garden at Kew, and though this was afterward proved in the medical evidence to be a blood stain, it was eventually established that the blood was not that of the murdered man. The point was finally gained in cross examination of the police officer upon whom Tom had jumped bodily in his escape from the empty house. Witness admitted having opened his eyes to find the prisoner leaning over him with a bloody nose. And the defense had scored once more, but this after an interval so prolific of incriminating matters that Mr. Sergeant Culliford sat down with a sigh instead of a smile, and the prisoner at the bar longed incontinently for the end.

The next day the trial was concluded. Erichsen was convicted.

CHAPTER XII.

TOM was thrust into a condemned cell measuring but 9½ by 6 feet and in height a foot less than its length. Yet even this hole he was to share with a comrade in like calamity. And in a dribble of summer twilight, as the massive door clanged behind him, he found himself shut up with a young ruffian, condemned for murder, with whom he had had an altercation over a trifling matter in chapel yard.

The recognition was mutual, and Tom held out his hand.

His hand was taken with an evil grace. In a little, however, the other loosened a not unfriendly tongue, but one so blasphemous and so foul that Tom half regretted his advance. He could not regret it altogether. The vilest conversation was better just then than none at all. That of Tom's whilom enemy was vile enough, with its horrid levity, its coarse swagger and a forced but bloodcurdling contempt of death. Still, it was something to listen to, something new to think about and shudder over, and the creature, having been alone at night since his conviction on the opening day of the sessions, hardly paused till the small hours of the morning.

His name was Creasey. He had been convicted of stabbing his wife (he was twenty years of age), but had never done it; 'twas a pack of lies. But he boasted to Tom of many a thing he had done in his short life, and they were such things as Tom never forgot in his. He lay listening and shuddering upon his bed. Yet when the other seemed to have talked himself out his own torments only began, and he was grateful when the brute broke out afresh. So the night wore on until 1 or 2 in the morning. Then there was a long, unbroken silence, then a sobbing and a shaking and a burst of frantic prayer from Creasey's bed; then quiet, then snoring, and the bell of St. Sepulcher's marking the weary milestones of the night.

Tom never slept a wink.

Next morning in the bottom day room, which the condemned prisoners had the use of during the day, he rubbed shoulders with a third convict under recent sentence of death, but this was a heavy, sullen, middle aged man of the name of Carter, who sat all day with his huge head between his cruel hands and spoke to nobody, nor did either youth venture to speak to him.

Overhead there was another day room and eleven more prisoners under sentence nominally capital, but these were morally certain of reprieve and could be heard playing leap frog and larking and singing from morning till night.

"I wish we were up there," said Creasey mournfully. "But wait a bit; the yard's for us the same as for them when it's exercise time, and then there'll be a bit o' fun for us all!"

The bit of fun essayed by Creasey was openly to incite the eleven jovial spirits from upstairs to badger Tom and put him in a rage. But by this time Erichsen's reputation in Newgate was such that the plot fell through for want of supporters. Tom shrugged his shoulders at the petty treachery and was treated by Creasey with a sly servility when they were locked up together once more. Meanwhile the burden of the day had been lightened by several visitors and as many private interviews.

Mr. Macmurdo, the surgeon, and Mr. Cotton, the ordinary of Newgate, had both shown Tom the kindest attentions. He could see, however, that each regarded him as a man only too justly sentenced to death. The surgeon offered to use his influence in the matter of a separate cell at nights. Tom would not hear of it.

"No, no," said he; "it would be a poor kindness, though I thank you with all my heart for the thought. The greatest ruffian in the jail would be a better friend to me than my own reflections. Ah, I see what you think!" cried Tom as a queer light glimmered in the surgeon's eyes. "Well, I have done protesting my innocence, but don't let them leave me by myself, that's all I ask."

Mr. Cotton entered into spiritual matters, to which Tom listened courteously, though chiefly out of loving respect for his dear father's memory, for where was the God who would permit an innocent man to suffer death for another's crime? When, however, the good chaplain closed his books he referred discreetly as he rose to certain efforts already being made to obtain a reprieve, adding that he would himself do what he could to further them, as a matter of course.

"Why should you, sir," asked Tom deferentially, "when you are quite convinced of my guilt?"

The chaplain colored.

"I never said I was convinced," he cried. "It is no part of my duty to be convinced in such matters either way. No, my poor fellow, your guilt or your innocence is a matter between your own heart and God Almighty. I, his servant, am only concerned with your immortal soul, and the longer you live the more time will be yours for repentance—of all your sins—and the greater your chances of immortal life. But build upon nothing of the kind." And with a parting exhortation the ordinary went his way.

Bassett was the last visitor. He was in a tremendous hurry. The petition was already receiving support and signatures on every hand. The newspapers were full of it. And he who had furnished the sinews of defense was now working heart and soul for the respite, for which there was still every reason to hope. So said Bassett in a breath and was gone next minute.

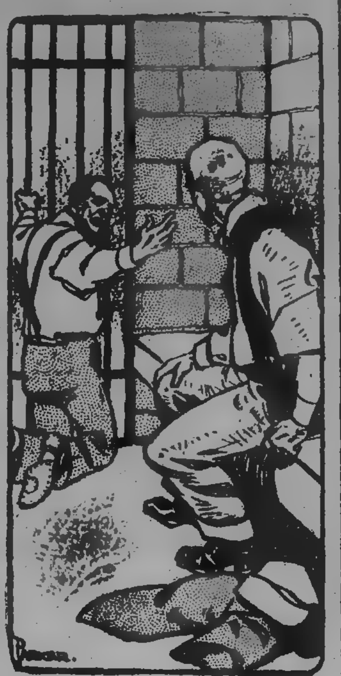
It was the last piece of news that heartened Tom most, the news that the noble unknown believed in him still, against judge and jury, and was still heroically striving to save his miserable life. Who could he be? Some friend of Claire's? The thought came for the first time. It never came again. Claire was with the judge, the jury and the world. She had not written him one word.

Tom was now in prison dress, a gaunt, dread figure, but they had let him keep a slip of paper that he had often taken out of a pocket in his own clothes to pore over and to dream upon. He produced it now. It was the slip of paper Daintree had handed down to him during the proceedings at Marylebone, and he had never seen the writer's face. But he had made a face unto himself; had built up a character from those few scribbled words, and both face and character were the sweetest, the kindest and the best that had existed upon earth during the last 1,900 years.

So when his last visitor had departed the condemned man was not ashamed to kiss that flurried scrawl with his lips nor afterwards to find it smudged with his tears.

Those were the days when the capital convict was first found guilty, next brought up for sentence and next "reported to the king." The two latter functions rested with the recorder of London, the last having its origin in the number of offenses for which a man might be condemned to death without the least risk of being executed. The recorder would wait upon his majesty in council and make his report of the prisoners lying in Newgate under sentence of death, whereupon the king would be graciously pleased to respite, say, all but the willful murderers. The amended report was straightway dispatched to the prison and his final fate broken to each man without a moment's unnecessary delay.

It was the 18th of May and a Thursday night near the stroke of 12. All was silent in the condemned cells, for even Creasey's voluble tongue had ceased to wag, and Tom lay thinking on his bed. His companion was a trashy hound, ever cursing God or entreating him with shrieks and tears, unburdening his sordid soul to Tom half the night, venting covert spite and enmity upon him day after day. Tonight he had been alternately protesting his innocence, abusing his dead wife and mocking heaven and hell by the hour together. Tom lay awaiting the reaction which would follow as surely as the morning, and tonight it was before its time. The silence had been dead indeed, but not long so, when the creature leaped from his pallet with a scream. Next instant he was kneeling by its neighbor, fawning over Tom with trembling arms and twitching fingers.



"Erichsen, the report! It's come!"

"I done it! I done it!" he whispered hoarsely. "There! I had to tell somebody, and I have. I'd got to tell or burst. I feel better now. No, no!" he was yelling next moment. "What have I said? I was joking, you flat—joking, I tell yer! Ha, ha, ha! It's you that done yours! I never done mine at all!"

And he was strutting up and down the cell, trembling from head to foot and laughing horribly through his chattering teeth.

But a worse sound yet cut his laughter short. It was the sound of voices and the rattling of keys.

Creasey inclined his bullet head one moment, then stumbled to the door and fell heavily upon his knees.

"The report!" he quavered. "Erichsen, the report! It's come; it's come!"

CHAPTER XIII.

THE condemned youths heard the next cell entered and their comrade Carter roused from his bed. A key then grated in their own door, it was flung open, and there were Mr. Cope, the governor, and a bevy of turnkeys in the passage.

"Out with it!" gasped Creasey, on his knees. "I'm respited, ain't I? I never done it, sir. I never did. The king wouldn't hang an innocent man?"

"Get up and dress yourself," was the reply. "You will hear the report upstairs, all of you together. You, too, Erichsen. Slip on your things."

Tom obeyed and then lent a hand to Creasey, who hardly knew his small clothes from his jacket, and clung to Tom as a child to its nurse.

"I'm innocent," he kept mumbling. "They'll be the murderers if they let me swing. Didn't I tell you I was innocent, Erichsen? Haven't I said so all along? Oh, my Gawd, if they let me swing!"

"They won't," whispered Tom. "But if they did, why, we've got to die some time. It's an easy death, and there's an end to it."

"But I don't want to die! I duren't die! I don't deserve to die! Don't I keep telling yer I never done it?"

And the abject thing clung blubbering to Tom's arm as the turnkey who was waiting at the door conducted the pair upstairs.

The upper day room, or cell ward, as it was indifferently termed, was but poorly lighted with candles, whose sepulchral rays added a pallor even to the white faces of those dragged from their beds to hear their doom. The number of the latter being now complete, all fourteen were ordered to kneel, and Tom found himself between Creasey and Carter at one end of the line. Creasey still clung to his arm. Carter knelt like a rock, with his great fingers clutched in front of him and heavy drops falling on them from his bended brow. This was all Tom saw before the ordinary entered in his gown and halted before him first.

"Mr. Erichsen," said he, with a compassionate tremor, "the recorder has this evening made his report to the king. I am very sorry to have to inform you that it is unfavorable."

Tom inclined his head. He had cherished no hopes.

The ordinary approached Carter.

"I am sorry to tell you it is all against you also," he continued. "As for you, Creasey," and the latter tightened his grip on Tom's arm, "I am happy to inform you that your life is spared, and I am very happy to inform all the others that by the royal mercy their lives are spared."

Creasey withdrew his hand from Tom's arm and edged further away on his knees. A deep sigh rose from a dozen breasts; then as the chaplain was about to offer up a prayer there came a sudden crash at Tom's side, and the wretched Carter was floundering on the floor in convulsions. The rest were hurried back to their cells, and Creasey executed a breakdown while Tom quietly undressed.

"But that's all right!" cried the former, stopping suddenly. "It's no more 'n I expected, 'cause, you see, I'm an innocent man an' allus was; that's why you never caught me showing the white, Erichsen, though once or twice you thought you did. Jiggered if you wouldn't believe anythink, a mug like you! Why, I used to bilk you every blooming night for fun! Not but what I'm sorry it's all up with you, old man; though it's a nice an' comfy death, you told me so yourself, and you know we've all got to die some day! Besides, you done yours—no denying it—but I never done mine at all, so it's fair an' square enough, you must admit!"

The little cur was snoring in ten minutes. He was removed to the Transport side next morning. And Tom, left in solitude, would have given some days of the twelve remaining to have had him back.

The execution was fixed for the 30th. He would never see another June.

Bassett came from day to day with news of the petition. It was being signed, but not as freely as at first. Bassett's disappointment was patent to the condemned man. The smart young fellow was in fact beginning to weary of his uphill work and to think about the bill.

So next day Tom asked Bassett whether the noble unknown had also abandoned hope and effort.

"Not he," said Bassett in a half disgusted tone. "He is moving heaven and earth; seeking private interviews with the home secretary if not with the king himself. He's quite capable of it. A wonderful man when he gets an idea into his head!"

"But what put this idea into his head?"

"Heaven knows!"

Tom looked the attorney through and through and asked another question. "Did you tell him how much I should like to see him before I die—to thank him?"

"I did, but he is too busy working for you. He said that would do you more good."

"I see," said Tom sadly; "another Culliford! Then why is he doing it? Culliford was paid. He paid him. But why, again? See here, you Bassett. Both you and he disbelieve in me—I know it now—but you are tired of your job, and he is not. Why not? I believe you know! Then tell me, and let us part friends once and for all. You need bother your head no more about me, only tell me what you must know."

"I know nothing."

"Then what you suspect."

Bassett considered; had his private conviction (that there was a woman in it) on the tip of his tongue, but ultimately shook his shrewd, cool head. There was nothing to be gained by speaking out. A dying man's gratitude was nothing. And there might be something to be lost. At any rate the safe side was the wise side, with that bill not even properly drawn up, so Tom and his solicitor parted coldly for the last time, and Tom tore up that slip of writing which had been handed to him at Marylebone, but relented next moment and treasured the torn pieces till the end.

And now at last his gallant spirit surrendered itself to the apathy of sheer despair, and the physical collapse which supervened was almost as complete as that of the brave but broken heart. A sudden outbreak of morbid appearances brought the surgeon in hot haste to clean the foul tongue, to regulate the irregular pulse, moisten the parched skin and, in a word, to keep his man well enough to die on the following Tuesday. The good Macmurdo would as lief have given him a draft of deadly poison, but such humanity would have sent himself to the gallows instead. So the surgeon did his best for the poor doomed body, and the chaplain did his best for an immortal soul still filled with bitter rebellion and rage. But this physician was less successful, though not less kind—praying in his chamber for the poor impenitent, but yet doing what in him lay to further such efforts as were still being made for a reprieve. Even on the last Sunday, when the stern divine furnished that incredible barbarism, the condemned sermon, the humane gentleman was upon the other tack and in almost hourly communication with Daintree himself.

Tom could not guess at that. The last to enter, the first to leave, the crowded chapel, he did so with the sense of his indignity heavier upon him than at either Marylebone or the Old Bailey. The very chapel had been filled with sightseers—and he the sight! He had recognized the noble earl who had come to spy upon him before the trial, and with him ladies. And, to cap all, the ordinary had mentioned him by name in the sermon, taking the sixth commandment for his text and directly addressing Tom from the pulpit. The outrage was unforgivable. When Mr. Cotton came to his cell soon after, the convict flatly refused ever to listen to him again.

"You have insulted me before men," he cried. "You need plead for me no more before God."

"But consider who you are, what you were," protested the reverend gentleman—"a clergyman's son, your poor father"—

"Not one word of him!" said Tom. "He would never have spoken as you spoke. There, sir, do not force me to say more. You have been kind to me in your own way, but the greatest kindness now is to leave me in peace until the end."

Next day he asked for pens and paper and spent the entire afternoon upon one letter. Turnkeys, who came continually to see how he was bearing his last hours on earth, found him always writing, writing, writing, with the tears streaming down his face and yet the happiest look that they had seen in it yet. The turnkeys were practical, experienced men. They never doubted that what Erichsen was writing was his full confession of the crime for which he was to suffer in the morning. So one brought another to spy upon him in the act of historic composition. And still he wrote; and still he wrote.

He was done before dark and ate his supper as he had eaten nothing for days. He seemed a happier man—that was only natural to the turnkey mind. And yet the sealed packet set in front of him on the table was not yet addressed, and when the governor, paying him a visit in the evening, said slyly, "Is this for me?" Tom answered, with quite a laugh, that it was not. It was for a friend, and the last act of his unpinioned hands should be to add the address.

Tom stepped back into the cell and stood there with the full moon laughing in his white face and blazing eyes. Very well! He would brain the next turnkey who came near him and so at least deserve his death even if he could not slip into the dead man's clothes and thus away. So the hot fit had followed the cool; so madness trod upon the heels of rational thought.

The murmur of the crowd had done it. It had left him a wounded lion, and his maddened eyes were now roving round the cell in search of that with which to shed blood for blood. They lit upon the metal washstand fixed (like the iron candlestick) to the wall. In an instant the washstand was torn out by the roots and poised over the cropped yellow head, while the loose tin things rang like cymbals on the floor. The clatter was slow to cease. It was followed inevitably by hurried footsteps in the corridor. So much the better. The time was come.

Tom raised the washstand on high in both hands and himself on tiptoes to give the greater force to his blow as the door was flung hurriedly open. He was bringing it down upon gray hairs, when he saw their color and, swerving, swung the apparatus with a crash against the wall.

To be continued.

The cement works at Belleville laid off 150 men yesterday.

Local and District Agents For
DEERING Harvesting Machinery
MACLACHLIN Buggies and Carriages
Canadian Cordage Co. TWINE
STOREY & LEARY
SUPPLY HOUSE
381 Water Street 'Phone 458

Dynamite Maker Drowned.

Kenora, Nov. 29.—A drowning fatality was reported here Wednesday night, when S. Earwaker, manufacturer of dynamite explosives for the Foley Bros. and Larson Co., fell through the ice in what is known as the Little Bay. So far the body has not been found.

Freight Trains Collide.

Carmel, Me., Nov. 29.—The head-on collision between a regular freight train and a special freight on the Maine Central Railroad, near the local station, late Wednesday night, resulted in the death of Harry Simonds, fireman of the regular train, and the injury of five other trainmen.

Expensive Yacht Burned.

Brunswick, Me., Nov. 29.—The steam yacht Kanawaha, owned by Hartly C. Baxter of Brunswick, and valued at $65,000, was burned to the water's edge yesterday.

Skated Into a Hole.

Kenora, Nov. 29.—R. Erwarker skated into a hole in the ice on the Kenora River and was drowned. He leaves a wife and family.

During October 21,264 immigrants arrived in Canada.

FOR THE LADY WHO CALLS

Visiting List and Social Engagement Book—A Dainty and Useful Gift.

Those ladies who find it difficult to keep track of their social debts in the way of calls which have to be returned, invitations to various society functions which have been received will be pleased to learn that a dainty little book has been issued from the presses of the Review which will fill their need. The city has grown so rapidly of late years that it has become almost necessary for each lady to have a special reception day each month when her friends will be sure to find her at home. To keep a record of these will be an easy matter with one of these little books. They are prettily bound in blue linen, lettered in gold and printed on good paper. There are two pages for every day in the month, arranged, according as the day is, first Monday, second Tuesday, etc. At the back of the book are pages for invitations received, out-of-town addresses, special reception dates, and memoranda. One of the books would make a dainty and acceptable Xmas gift. The books are on sale at the bookstores at the price of 50c

NOW IN FULL SWING
$100.00 IN COLD CASH In Rewards For Selling The "Review"

This Grand Competition began Tuesday evening, October 8th, and will close December 31st, (New Year's Eve.) Boys carrying routes, boys selling to customers, boys selling on the street, boys who have never sold papers, are all urged to get up and get. Parents can let the little fellows come to THE REVIEW Office after school, and they will be taken care of—not allowed to stay in a dingy cellar or out on the street in the cold. Papers will be ready sharp after 4 o'clock each day. COME ON, BOYS! HERE'S A SURE THING!

Twenty-Six Prizes 26 Twenty-Six Prizes

To the twenty-six boys getting the largest number of New Customers for THE DAILY REVIEW:

1st PRIZE—$30.00 in Cash, or a high-grade 1908 Bicycle, worth $55.00 as winner may prefer.
2nd PRIZE—$20.00 in Cash, or Fur Goods to the value of $30.00, as preferred.
3rd PRIZE—$10.00 Cash, or $15.00 worth in China, dinner or tea set, or as selected.
4th PRIZE—$8.00 Cash, or $10.00 worth of goods of any kind, as selected.
5th PRIZE—$5.00 Cash.
6th PRIZE—$4.00 Cash.
7th PRIZE—$3.00 Cash.
8th to 12th PRIZES—$2.00 Cash. Five prizes of $2.00 each.
13th to 22nd PRIZES—$1.00 Cash. Ten prizes of $1.00 each.

NOTE—The option, cash or goods, in the first four prizes, is made in case the parents of the boys winning either of the prizes should prefer the larger amount in goods instead of cash.

Any boy may buy REVIEWS and sell—the more the merrier. The girls have an equal chance with the boys, and will be welcome.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES—Every boy who brings in a paid-up subscription to THE DAILY REVIEW for three months will receive a bonus of 20 cents; for six months a bonus of 40 cents; for a year a bonus of $1.00.

HERE'S A WEEKLY REWARD—In addition, every boy who buys one paper or more each night of the week, (six papers), will receive once each week, during this competition,

A FREE TICKET TO THE CRYSTAL MOVING PICTURES

See, Boys! You have a paid admission to this beautiful entertainment, even if you do no more than buy one paper each night. This privilege has been secured for you exclusively by THE REVIEW.

PLENTY OF TIME YET TO GET INTO THE COMPETITION AND WIN A BIG PRIZE

DECEMBER

1907

GET THE LATEST

The Review Supplies the Correct Things in Wedding Invitations Programmes, Personal Stationery, Etc . . . .

THE DAILY REVIEW

LUMBER and BUILDING MATERIAL of all kinds. Shingles, Scantling, Joists and Bill Stuff. Mouldings, Casings and Base, and all kinds of finish. Boxes and Box Shooks.

ALF. McDONALD ESTATE
Point St. Charles Mill, Peterborough.

VOL LV., NO. 127 PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, MONDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1907 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

PROBABILITIES

Fresh north to west winds, fair and cold, with local snow flurries on Tuesday.

FAIR'S | THE GOLDEN LION STORE | FAIR'S

Buy Warm Woollen Goods

. . AT . .

The GOLDEN LION STORE

Just a little better at the price than elsewhere. Throughout our whole store you will find this to be the case, but especially so just now in such wanted goods as

Ladies' Underwear, Children's Underwear
Ladies' Black Tights, Children's Black Tights
Ladies' and Children's Woollen Gloves and Mitts
Ladies' and Children's Clouds and Shawls
Ladies' and Children's Knitted Toques
Ladies' and Children's Wool Hosiery
Ladies' and Children's Sweaters and Golfers
Cotton Filled and Down Comforters
Wool Blankets, Crib Comforters
Crib Blankets, Crib Quilts, etc

Have you considered making a present of a new CARPET this Christmas? If so, you cannot do better than leave your order with us. Make your selection now and we will lay it just when you want it,

Our Carpet assortment embraces Union, All Wool, Ingrain, Tapestry, Balmorals, Brussels, Velvets, Wiltons and Axminsters. Any purse and any taste can be suited from our immense stock. Special prices prevail for Xmas selling.

IN THE MILLINERY DEPT.

We are making a beautiful showing of High-class Winter Millinery. Ideas and styles are here from the great fashion centres—Paris, London and New York.

Here you can combine STYLE and VALUE in your Hats. The most modern ideas and best materials and workmanship.

Robert Fair & Co.
383 GEORGE STREET Limited
Phone—Dry Goods 145 Phone—Dressmaking 145B

For Sale or To Rent

FOR SALE

FIRST-CLASS NEWCOMBE PIANO for sale. Price reasonable. Apply at this Office for particulars. 9d

TO RENT

TWO FURNISHED ROOMS with or without board. Modern conveniences and telephone. Address J. F. Galvin, 353 Brock St. d6

FOR SALE

TYPEWRITER, latest model American Oliver, brand new. Good discount off lowest selling price for a quick sale. Apply Review Office. 1d

Lost and Found

LOST

ON GEORGE STREET, Friday afternoon, an envelope containing a note payable to the Bank of Ottawa. Finder will be rewarded on leaving same at Bank. The note is of no use to anyone, but the makers do not want it lying around.

GEORGE RUTH
Properties for Sale:

Come and inspect our list of HOUSES. We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.

3 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.

A few first-class houses to rent with modern improvements.

385 Water Street, open evenings

BIG SALE
. . OF . .
Enamelled Ware
Friday and Saturday

HUTCHINSON-STURGEON CO
Bell and Machine 'Phones 226 342 George Street

It Pays

To get old Furniture fixed over. It lasts longer than much of the new. Upholstering and all kinds of work on Furniture done here. Samples of fine Covering at reasonable prices

A. R. JACKSON
Aylmer, Corner of Charlotte. Bell Phone 494B

GET READY!

Summer has gone by and winter is at hand. Are you settled in a house of your own, where you can stay and not be forced out in the cold? If not, take warning, and buy one of our Cheap New Houses and be at home, or buy one of our Modern Houses at $2,100 and up. We also have first-class large houses from $3,600 up

Companies Good as the Best in all lines of Insurance but Life. Rates moderate.

R. G. Ivey, Special Agent. 336 George St. Phone 3 Bell W. HIGHT

For Sale or To Rent
AT REASONABLE PRICES

Three small farms, good soil, suitable for gardening purposes, close to city. Also a few small, comfortable, dwelling houses, and choice building lots, well situated in good localities.

Properties sold, purchased or exchanged.
Private Funds to Loan on Real Estate.

INSURANCE

Agents for reliable Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Liability Insurance Companies. For particulars as to rates, etc., apply to

J. J. McBAIN & SON
Real Estate and Insurance Agents.
Office Cor. Simcoe and George-sts.
Office 'Phone 454 Residence Phone 108A

RICHMOND STUDIO

SPECIALS for XMAS PHOTOS

Newest Mountings	Newest Styles
Pictures	Plain Cards
Folders	Calendars

First-class work at night by electric light. Sittings by appointment.

147 HUNTER STREET

For Waterproof Covers and Clothing of all kinds, Coal Bags, and Tents.
SEND TO
J. J. TURNER & SONS
TENT MANUFACTURERS
George Street, Peterborough

The Talk of the Town—OUR COOKING
TOOTHSOME
WHOLESOME
PALATABLE
Try a loaf of our Brown and Currant Bread
FRY'S MILK CHOCOLATE DROPS
BURNT ALMONDS
COLEMAN BROS.
Phone 335. 426 George St

SPECIAL RATES FOR FAMILY WASHING

Prices were never lower than now at
Parkers' Steam Laundry
Goods called for and delivered free to any part of the city.
W. P. HETHERINGTON
9 CHARLOTTE ST, PHONE 65

Special Inducements TO BUY HEATERS

You gain nothing by delay. See our
Standard Oak
Quebec Ideal
Art Laurel
They are great fuel savers. Easily operated and splendid heat distributors.

F. R. J. MACPHERSON & CO.
341 George St. Phone 118
F. R. J. MACPHERSON ANGUS MACPHERSON

MEALS — LUNCHES AT ALL HOURS
For quick service, well-cooked meals and popular prices—go to
FOWLER'S RESTAURANT
McCallum's Old Stand - 330 George St

LADIES, CUT THIS OUT
Dr. Cristion's
FRENCH TOILET ARTICLES
Have been placed on sale with
Miss E. Smith
367 GEORGE STREET
MANICURING, SHAMPOOING
SCALP TREATMENT and FACIAL
MASSAGE SKILFULLY DONE
Appointments made. Mach. Phone 13

Photography

Amateur Supplies, Cameras, Souvenir Books, Post Cards and all kinds of high-grade Photography at W. G. LENDRUM'S, 170 Charlotte St. Agent for the celebrated Heintzman & Co's Pianos.

"DON'T BURN THEM"
We will buy all kinds of Second-hand boots and shoes
JAY'S SECOND-HAND STORE
390 Aylmer Street

THE
BEEHIVE
The Ladies' Big Ready-to-wear Store

SPECIAL PRICES
—FOR—
Flannelette Wear
—FOR—
TUESDAY & WEDNESDAY

Well made gowns with yoke front and back, special for Tuesday and Wednesday for
39c

Extra heavy gowns strong, durable and made very full, special price for Tuesday and Wednesday for
98c

Pretty Flannelette skirts silk embroidered trimming special price on Tuesday and Wednesday for
49c

Dainty corset covers lace trimmed, Tuesday and Wednesday for
25c

Perrin's kid gloves in all the new styles and shades

Register now for the free embroidery classes.

THE
BEEHIVE
The Ladies' Big Ready-to Wear Store

Before purchasing a house or business see
A. BROWN & CO.,
The Real Estate Agents, 396 Water Street
$500 will secure a house with all modern improvements.
$1000 will buy a cottage and good lot central.
We have some great bargains in Houses, Farms and City lots for sale and to rent.
Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.
Bell Phone 136 and 474B. Machine 117

Water Tank Collapsed at Havelock

C. P. R. Reservoir Burst With a Report That Was Heard in all Parts of the Town

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Dec. 2.—With a startling report and a crash like thun- that sounded and resounded across the valley in which Havelock lies, the large water tank in the C.P.R. yards here collapsed suddenly on Tuesday evening, and a few minutes afterwards lay a total wreck amid the creaking and crashing of the large timbers and the gush of water from the tank.

The cause of the collapse is not perfectly known, but it must have been on account of the defective building of the structure, which is a very large round one, situated in the C.P.R. yards, a short distance to the south of the round house.

There was nothing to warn the officials here that the building would collapse, and the noise produced created a great deal of excitement among the C.P.R. employees in the round house and coal chutes, who made their way out of the buildings in which they were employed, prepared for the worst. The noise was heard in all parts of the town, so great was the report.

The tank has just been erected for a few years, and there seems no reason for the accident, except that iron hoops encircling the tank burst.

At the time of the collapse there was a considerable amount of water in the tank, which burst out through the many openings and flooded the ground around, but soon made its way to the creek to the south.

It was, indeed, a wreck, and the men employed to clear it up were puzzled to know where to start, but it did not take them long to get going, and the place soon looked a little more respectable. The wreck has now been completely cleared away, and the building of a new one has been commenced, but it will be some time before another can be erected.

In the meantime the engines will have to be filled with the hose, a very slow method compared to the tank system.

Seedless Valencia Raisins, 2 lbs. for 25c; Green Ginger, per lb, 30c; C & B Preserved Ginger, per jar, 25c; Natural Figs, per 3 lb box, 50c.—R. A Dutton, George st. Bell and Machine Phones 304.

THE PARK SITE IS TOO SMALL

"South Ender" Wants the Property of Ex-Mayor Best Taken in

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I notice our City Council are going to purchase a small piece of ground in the south end for a park.

This, I think, is a waste of money, as the piece of ground is too small; besides it is bounded on the north side with stables and sheds, and will be after awhile so on the south, as no doubt Mr. Henry Best will sell this property in small lots.

Now, before our City Council purchase this small piece of ground from the School Board, they should see Mr. Best and also buy from him if he would sell. I have never spoken to Mr. Best about this matter. Then we would have a park bounded on the south by a street instead of perhaps a lot of unsightly sheds and stables.

Yours truly,
A SOUTHENDER.

Peterborough, Dec. 2, 1907.

Says Crossing is Not Satisfactory

"Ratepayer" Makes Complaint About One at 56 George St.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Municipal bodies as a rule do not experiment for a number of years with something which would give ample proof in one year that it would not be satisfactory. When the first piece of granolithic sidewalk was put down at the corner of George and Hunter streets it was largely experimental, and was so satisfactory that we now have miles of permanent sidewalks, constructed a good deal on the same principle; then very recently the same experiment was tried on crossings with satisfactory results. Still, in the face of the above facts, our municipal fathers have been experimenting for 15 or 20 years, on a method of constructing crossings which certainly has not, and could not, give satisfaction. I refer to a crossing at 56 George-st. Whether it is from a lack of other material, or a lack of self respect, I leave it for the public to decide. The material used in the last mentioned crossing was not broken stone or even broken plank, but simply broken promises, of which our city fathers seem to have an inexhaustible supply as they have given that crossing an application of the above mentioned material every year for the last 15 or 20 years, and during this year several applications have been given, and yet the crossing is not above the level of the street, and in some places below the street level, and the mud works up through it very easily. The Board of Works made an extra effort and reconstructed the approach to that invisible crossing, and in doing so they raised the approach a few inches above the street, then shovelled up some of the mud from the ditch to fill in at the end of the approach possibly expecting that the fall rains would harden the mud and make a good job of it. Fortunately Jack Frost is taking the matter in hand for the winter season. At the foot of the driveway leading to the premises at the above address was a deep ditch, where five lengths of 8 inch cement pipe were required to make a suitable bridge or culvert to drive in with loads, etc. The city put in four lengths of cement pipe, but the fifth one is composed of the same material as the crossing—broken promises—which does not answer the purpose; wheels drop right through it as if there was nothing there. Perhaps our wise council will supply the missing pipe after they have paid for a few broken wheels or axles.

Yours in the mud,
RATEPAYER.

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

The Annex

What It Was
What It Is What It Will Be

The "Annex," or as it was originally termed, the "Wednesday Bargain Annex," but through constant publicity the people of Peterborough have termed it simply the "Annex," is a solid feature of this business.

It was in the beginning a Wednesday Sale of moderate proportions, but gradually through the efforts of our buyers, became a looked-for mid-week event. People began to notice the wonderful saving that was in store for them each week. At last, not only the people noticed it, but the wholesale houses, manufacturers and large jobbers began to see that it meant a great turn-over of their goods if they secured the supplying of this Department, until in a very short time the Goods that were bought at such extremely low prices began to cause a tremendous increase in the trade until now the "Annex" is known as the largest and most popular department of its kind in Canada.

If the already immense trade continues at the rate that it has in the past, the selling room will need to be increased very shortly, and we have every confidence that it will. The Bargain Annex is the place where Goods are sold at the LOWEST price. No other sale excels the Annex in price and quality. See to-morrow's Ad. for the big Bargain List.

19 MORE SHOPPING DAYS BEFORE XMAS

STORE HOURS 8.10 - 5.45 Cressman's 385, 387, 389 George Street

You have heard the Sailor Boys' plea, buy to-day for your dinner to-morrow "Sailor Boy" Canned Goods, Tomatoes Corn, Peas and Salmon. Your money does not buy better Goods. Do you get "Sailor Boy" or substitute?

C. A. Magrath, of Lethbridge, has declined to accept a Conservative nomination.

MINING PROPERTY FOR SALE

PURSUANT TO POWERS CONTAINED IN A CERTAIN MORTGAGE AND BOND there will be offered for sale by Public Auction, at the Munro House in the City of Peterboro', Ontario, on Thursday the Twelfth day of December 1907 at 2 p. m., certain Mining Property situated in the Township of Barrie, County of Frontenac, Composed of:—The South Half of Lot 24 in the 10th Concession; Lot 31 in the 9th Concession (Except 2½ Acres); Parts of Lots 33 and 33 in the 10th Concession; Lot 25 in the 9th Concession; Part of Lot 25 in the 10th Concession, and certain rights in Lot 26 in the 10th Concession of said Township, together with machinery, chattels, stamp mills, boilers, engines, blacksmiths' tools, hoisting apparatus, and other personal property, used in connection with said Mining Property.

Terms 10 per cent down and balance in one month hereafter without interest.

For further particulars apply to the undersigned
Dated 4th November 1907.
DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR,
415 Water St. Peterborough, Ont.
Vendors' Solicitors.
9d

International Correspondence Schools
Of Scranton, Penn.
Industrial Science Taught by Mail.
LOCAL OFFICE - - 436 George Street
R. C. BALFOUR, Representative

Music

PIANO, HARMONY, Etc
ALFRED DAVIES
Teacher of Piano, Harmony, etc. Pupils prepared for all examinations. 106 McDonnel St., Bell Tel. 463, P.O. Box 592 3m

Grand Opera House, Monday, December 2nd
WM. P. CULLEN PRESENTS PIXLEY AND LUDER'S MERRY MUSICAL MASTERPIECE,
"THE BURGOMASTER"
With GUS WEINBURG, RUTH WHITE and over half a 100 others, including the famously Original KANGAROO GIRLS.
Bigger, Brighter, Better than Ever. NEW Songs, Ideas, Surprises
Prices 25c to $1.50. - - - Plan opens Friday at 10 a.m.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 4
JAMESON LEE FINNEY IN
"The Man on the Box"
A clean, witty, intelligent comedy. A delightful dramatization of Harold MacGrath's famous novel by GRACE L. FURNISS, presented with the same care that characterized the performances during its run of Seven Months at the Madison Sq. Theatre New York.
PRICES—25, 35, 50, 75, $1.00 First two rows ground floor $1.50
SEAT SALE OPENS MONDAY

THE CRYSTAL
OPEN EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING
Smuggling Chinese into United States
Illustrated Song
"NO ONE TO LOVE ME"
Complete Change of Programme Mon., Wed., Fri.
ADMISSION - - ONLY 5 CENTS

Medical

E. V. FREDERICK, M.B., Tor.

M.R.C.S., Eng.; L.R.C.P., Lond. Lic. Univ. of New York.

Removed to No. 492 George St., formerly office of Dr. McFaul

Private nursing home for surgical ca.

DR. G. STEWART CAMERON

Office and Residence

No. 273 Charlotte St. 'Phone 128

DR. G. C. LEACH

Late House Surgeon of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio; also of Cook County Hospital, Chicago. OFFICE—224 Hunter St., formerly occupied by Dr. Coughlin. Phone Bell 219.

Special Attention to Diseases of Women

DR. JAS. V. GALLIVAN

Office 215 Simcoe St. Late of St. John's Hospital New York. Lic. University of New York.

Telephone 663.

Osteopathy

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY

Osteopathic Physician

Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Water Street entrance.

Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. Consultation free.

Dental

W. C. GOWAN

DENTAL SURGEON

Graduate Chicago College of Dental Surgery

Office: 168 BROCK ST. Phone 36 B

Legal

R. E. WOOD

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Etc. Office removed from Bank of Commerce Building to 435 George street, recently occupied by E. B. Edwards. MONEY TO LOAN

W. H. MOORE

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, in the Supreme Court etc. Office—Hunter street, first stairs west of Post Office.

HALL & HAYES

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS and NOTARIES PUBLIC, Hunter Street, Peterborough, next to English Church. MONEY TO LOAN at the lowest rates of interest.

R. R. D. HALL. LOUIS M. HAYES

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON

(Successors to Stratton & Hall)

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., Peterborough Ont. Office—Corner of Hunter and Water Sts. over Bank of Commerce.

R. R. HALL. G. F. MEDD. W. S. DAVIDSON

EDMISON & DIXON

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc. Office in Cluxton's Block, corner of Hunter and George streets, over Dickson's store.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc. 415 Water Street, Peterborough.

E.A. PECK. F. D. KERR. R. M. DENNISTOUN

Money

MONEY TO LOAN

ON EASY TERMS

O'CONNELL & GORDON

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS NOTARIES, Etc

Canadian and United States Patent Attorneys

134 Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office.

DANIEL O'CONNELL. GEORGE N. GORDON

ROGER, BENNET & GOODWILL

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., 37 Water St. Peterborough. Telephone No. 191.

Money at Current Rates

Upon Easy Terms.

. ROGER. J. W. BENNET. S. L. GOODWILL

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

PAID UP CAPITAL $1,000,000.00

RESERVE FUND 580,000.00

SAVINGS

An Account may be opened at any time with a Deposit of One Dollar.

3½% Interest allowed on daily balances.

DEBENTURE DEPT.

Four Per Cent. paid half yearly on sums of $100.00 and upwards.

MONEY TO LOAN

at current rates of interest.

W. G. MORROW,
Manager

Children's Aid Society

FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.

Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898 Information required. Informants name kept strictly private.

CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION

Office Hours—11.00 to 12.00 a.m.

OFFICE—DIVISION COURT BLDG

GEO. COCHRANE,
Agent and Asst S

"Fashion-Craft"

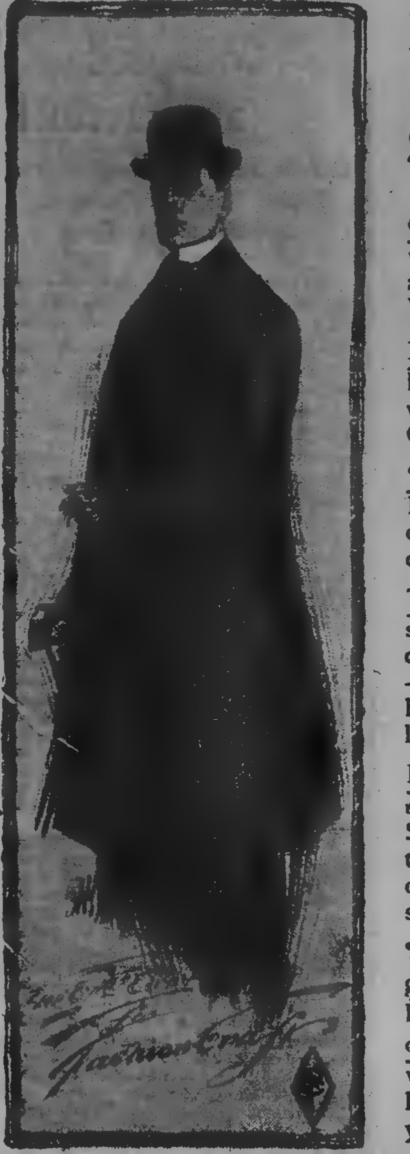
The Test of Good Tailoring:

¶ There is no test of fit so searching—and no proof of quality so strong as actually putting the garments on and examining them.

¶ Hundreds of men have applied this test to "Fashion-Craft" Clothes—and now they are among our most satisfied clients.

¶ We emphasize this fact—because, there is not one man in a thousand, who, after a month's trial, will not say the same thing.

¶ A trial will not cost you a cent. If for any reason within one year you are dissatisfied with your purchase you can get your money back for the mere asking.



Fashion=Craft Overcoats Special Prices

Cheviots—winter weights in black, grey and Fancy Weaves...... $18

Fancy Tweeds—double breasted, serge lined with Prussian Collars...... $20

"Chamberlain"—Paletots—the acme of style, and comfort...... $25

The Chester—our special creation—very distinguished looking—with velvet collar and heavy serge lining for winter $30

English Nap—in any style, lined with Skinner's best satin—the most luxurious overcoat of the season....... $40

¶ Not only is the style good for three years, but "Fashion-Craft" quality is such that they will keep their good looks and shape for 3 years or more.

Winter Overcoats

Laidlaw & Oles Proprietors
PETERBOROUGH

TWO MINING HORRORS

Men Shut Off by Flames 1,100 Feet Below Surface.

Explosion of Black Damp at Fayette City Entombs Sixty Miners—Tons of Rock and Coal Fell—Open Lamp the Cause—All Hope of Rescue Has Been Abandoned—It Is Believed Many Are Dead.

Monongahela, Pa., Dec. 2—Between 50 and 60 miners are entombed in the Naomi mine of the United Coal Co., at Fayette City, as the result of an explosion of black damp, last night.

It is thought many are dead behind tons of rock and coal, which fell during the concussion and blocked the entrance. The explosion was caused, it is said, when a miner with an open lamp entered one of the old workings.

Drytown, Cal., Dec. 2.—Eleven miners in the Fremont Gover mine are shut off from the surface by a fire which is raging at the 1,100 foot level, and all hope of rescue alive has been abandoned. The miners were working below the 1,100 foot level.

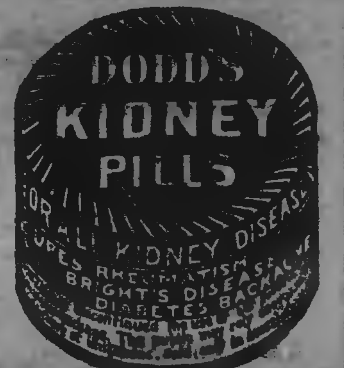
WHIRLED AROUND SHAFT.

Joseph C. Cornett Injured In Owen Sound Cement Mill.

Owen Sound, Dec. 2.—A serious accident occurred at the Imperial Cement Works here shortly before 8 o'clock on Saturday evening, as a result of which Joseph C. Cornett, one of the oldest and best employes of the company, is now lying at the General and Marine Hospital in a very precarious condition.

The injured man had occasion to climb on to a platform about sixteen feet from the ground in the coal grinding room when in some manner, as yet unexplained, his clothing caught in the machinery, and in a moment he was whirled around a shaft. His left leg was broken above the knee, his shoulder dislocated, his back and ankle hurt, and fears are entertained that he is injured internally. Every shred of clothing was torn from his body.

Several other workmen were in the room at the time of the accident, and it is to their promptness in stopping the machinery that Cornett owes his life. It is only two weeks ago since the injured man's father had his ankle broken by being caught in a belt in the same mill.



DROPPED TEN STOREYS.

Two Killed and Several Hurt in a Chicago Accident.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Two men are reported killed and six persons seriously injured in a passenger elevator which fell ten floors Saturday in the store of Edenheimer, Stein & Co., clothiers, 204 Jackson boulevard.

Twenty persons are said to have been in the elevator when it fell.

As the elevator left the tenth floor on a downward trip the cable parted and the cage plunged downward, striking the bottom of the shaft with terrific force.

Most of the occupants were employes of firms in the building.

Two bodies were taken out of the car at the bottom of the shaft.

Lion Tamer Attacked.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 2.—In order to smile at his fiancee, Mercedes Lamonte, Louis Roth, the young German trainer who does an act with the Bostock shows at Pone de Leon, was careless enough to take his eyes for an instant Saturday afternoon from Atlas, the surliest lion of the collection, and as a result felt his leg being torn by the sharp claws of the beast, which had sprung upon him the moment he was free from his gaze. Just as the lion's claws cut into his flesh Roth saw the flash of a revolver, and Atlas, finding himself again mastered, recoiled under the gaze of Miss Lamonte. She fired the gun in the animal's face.

The pistol shot caused a panic among the big crowd present. As soon as Roth had been rescued Miss Lamonte threw her arms about his neck and said:

"We must marry at once, Louis. I cannot wait longer. This life is too dangerous, too much hazard."

Franco-Canadian Treaty.

London, Dec. 2.—(C. A. P.)—Prof. Hewins, secretary of the Tariff Reform League, circulates in the press a lengthy analysis of the Franco-Canadian treaty. He points out that Canada in a number of instances has gone below the British rates altogether, materially reducing the preference.

He criticises warehousing transhipment clauses and emphasizes how the extension of treaties to other countries must subject trade with Canada to a far more strenuous competition in the absence of a British reciprocal agreement.

The old shed used by Francis Carrel of the Daily Telegraph, Quebec, for his print shop, was burned down, on Thursday. Workmen had to jump for their lives.

BOILERS EXPLODED.

Two Men Killed and Railway Station Wrecked.

Brunswick, Me., Dec. 2.—The boilers of the heating apparatus at the Maine Central Railroad station exploded early yesterday, blowing the roof entirely off the station and reducing the building to a mass of wreckage. The bodies of Walter Harris, car inspector, and William B. Woodworth, night baggagemaster, were found in the ruins. The station was of brick and stone, and was built eight years ago at a cost of about $20,000. The explosion occurred while Woodworth was attending to a hot water heater in the basement. The exact cause of the explosion is not known.

Japan Receives Report.

Tokio, Dec. 2.—Baron Ishii, chief of the Bureau of Commerce of the Japanese Foreign Office, who visited the United States and Canada for the purpose of investigating the immigration problem, arrived in Tokio yesterday and conferred with the officials of the Foreign Office, with whom he engaged in a thorough canvass of the situation for the coming week. In an interview, Baron Ishii said:

"My visit to the United States and Canada convinced me that the opposition to the Japanese is based partly upon race prejudice, though considerable of it is due to labor troubles instituted by agitators. I found Japanese residents in the United States and Canada who resent the incoming of their countrymen from the Hawaiian Islands and Mexico, which is disliked. While it is proper for Japanese to conserve the interests of the Japanese now residing abroad, many of whom are prospering and living peacefully in America, in my opinion, it will be necessary, in order to keep absolute faith with the United States to prevent immigration of laborers thitherto altogether, because an exclusion act would be disagreeable. We should send laborers to Canada in great moderation."

The Foreign Office is now engaged in investigating the representations of the United States ambassador concerning the character and number of emigrants.

The indications are that the Japanese Government will give formal but verbal assurances of a future rigid exclusion of all that can be termed strictly labor immigration to the United States, being careful also in limiting the number moving for Canada.

Zulu Chief Murdered.

Pietermaritzburg, Natal, Dec. 2.—Murders and outrages, including the killing in Zululand of two chiefs who were friendly to Great Britain, are causing uneasiness throughout Natal, and particularly in the border settlements. The governor has issued a proclamation directing that the forces now in Zululand be strengthened and calling on all persons to render assistance, if required in the work of restoring order.

SHROUDED WITH ASHES

Miles in Alaska Covered With Fine Gritty Powder.

Air So Full of Ashes as to Render Breathing Difficult—Sleighing Almost Impossible — Houses Filled With Dust—Believed to Be Due to Eruption of Volcanic Islands Between This Coast and Siberia.

Nome, Alaska, Dec. 2.—Nome and probably the entire Seward peninsula are shrouded in an ashy haze, and the ground for miles is covered several inches deep with a fine gritty powder which is believed to be volcanic ash.

The storm began several days ago, the dust blowing in from the ocean. At first little attention was paid to the freak of nature, as it was expected that it would soon cease. Instead, however, the fall continued, and after a day became so dense as to seriously interfere with outdoor pursuits. Miners coming into town reported that for miles the snow was so impregnated with the ashes that sledding was almost impossible. Further, the air is so full of ashes that breathing is difficult, and the fine powder has sifted into houses and business places to such an extent that it is thick on floors and household furniture.

It is believed that some of the numerous volcanic islands between this coast and Siberia are again in eruption, and the ash downpour is the result.

"STOLYPIN NECKTIE."

Sensational Incident In Russian Douma May Lead to Duel.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 2.—The "Stolypin Necktie," an expression used by Fedor Roditchoff, the orator of the Constitutional Democrats, in the Douma Saturday afternoon, to designate the summary regime of drumhead courts-martial instituted by Premier Stolypin in August, 1906, and decreed out of existence by the second Douma last April, is the phrase on all lips in the capital. The phrase has already become historic and has completely blotted out the effect of the Ministerial declaration in subsequent debates and destroyed the complacency of the Conservatives, restoring the tense atmosphere of the earlier Douma.

Upon that Stolypin, who, in company with his colleagues, was sitting next to the Speaker's tribune, the words fell as a thunderbolt, recalling the most painful incident of his career as Premier. He turned deathly white, clenched the desk and stared motionless for several minutes at the unprecedented storm let loose by the Reactionaries surging past him. Finally he left the chamber without uttering a word. The Associated Press learns that to the Ministers with him in the pavilion, Mr. Stolypin announced firmly his decision to challenge M. Roditchoff to a duel.

TRACKS UNSAFE.

Railway Trainmen File Complaint Against the Missouri Pacific.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen has filed with the Postmaster-General a complaint against the Missouri Pacific Railway Co. for maintaining tracks that are alleged to be unsafe.

In view of the fact that the lives of postal employes may be endangered through the reckless running of trains over unsafe roadbeds, the Postmaster-General is urged to make an investigation of the charges.

The complaint has been referred to the second Assistant Postmaster-General.

Man Stabbed at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Dec. 2.—There was a serious stabbing affair about nine o'clock Saturday night in the Italian colony on Railway street. As a result Sasfro Midio, 17 Railway street, is in the hospital with a big stilletto wound in his left side, and his neighbor, D. Dominick, who lives at 15 Railway street, is in the jail, charged with making the wound.

The police have not yet been able to learn what the trouble was about, as neither of the principals can speak English. Constable Duncan was summoned to the place about 10 o'clock. He found Midio lying at his home, weak from the loss of blood. The wounded man picked out Dominick as his assailant.

Wooden Leg Horribly Mangled.

Savannah, Dec. 2.—Joe Gridiron, a hackman, was jolted off his seat last night by a street car and fell under the tracks. Citizens who rushed to the rescue saw that one leg was underneath the wheels. Volunteers came forward to raise the car and rescue Gridiron as tenderly as possible. He was picked up and carried to a nearby drug store. There an examination was made, resulting in the discovery that it was his wooden leg which the car had crushed. The company is going to fit him out with another.

Must Have Teacher's Declaration.

Winnipeg, Dec. 2.—The Department of Education has notified the secretary-treasurer of each school district in the province that a declaration by the teacher with regard to flag-flying must be completed and returned along with the regular half-yearly return at the close of the term. "Without this declaration we will not be able," says the Department, "to recommend payment of the legislative and municipal grants."

Killed in Cement Mill.

Owen Sound, Dec. 2.—Joseph Anderson of Cargill, Ont., was accidentally killed at the Owen Sound Cement Co.'s mill at Shallow Lake yesterday morning.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Lower, Chicago Higher—Live Stock —The Latest Quotations.

Saturday Evening, Nov. 30.

Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day ¼d to ½d lower, corn ¼d to ⅜d lower.

In Chicago, December wheat closed 1⅝c up, December corn ⅜c up, and December oats ¼c up.

Winnipeg Options.

Following are the closing quotations on Winnipeg grain futures to-day:

Wheat—Nov. $1.03 bid, Dec. $1.02⅝ bid, May $1.11⅝ bid.

Oats—Nov. 43c bid, Dec. 43⅝c bid, May 50½c bid.

Toronto Grain Market.

Grain—
Wheat, spring, bush	$0 95	to $....
Wheat, fall, bush	1 00	1 02
Wheat, goose, bush	0 88	....
Wheat, red, bush	1 00	....
Peas, bush	0 88	....
Buckwheat, bush	0 70	....
Barley, bush	0 70	....
Oats, bush	0 53	0 53
Seeds—
Alsike, No. 1, bush	$8 25	to $8 60
Alsike, No. 2, bush	7 50	8 00
Hay and Straw—
Hay, new, per ton	$19 00	to $22 00
Cattle hay, ton	12 00	14 00
Straw, loose, ton	10 00	....
Straw, bundled, ton	18 00	....
Fruits and Vegetables—
Potatoes, per bag	$0 90	to $1 10
Apples, per barrel	1 75	3 50
Apples, snow, barrel	2 50	3 50
Onions, per bag	1 00	1 25
Poultry—
Turkeys, dressed, lb	$0 13	to $0 15
Geese, per lb	0 09	0 10
Spring chickens, lb	0 09	0 11
Spring ducks, lb	0 09	0 11
Fowl, per lb	0 07	0 08
Dairy Produce—
Butter, lb	$0 25	to $0 33
Eggs, strictly new-laid, per dozen	0 45	0 50

Toronto Dairy Market.

Butter, dairy, lb. rolls	0 27	0 28
Butter, tubs	0 26	0 27
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 30	0 31
Butter, creamery, boxes	0 29	0 30
Eggs, new-laid, dozen	0 30	....
Eggs, cold-storage, dozen	0 30	....
Cheese, large, lb	0 13¼	....
Cheese, twin, lb	0 13¾	....
Honey, extracted, lb	0 12	0 12½

Liverpool Grain and Produce.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 30.—Wheat—Spot, No. 2 red western winter, quiet, 7s 10¼d. Futures easy; Dec. 7s 10⅜d, March 6s 1⅞d, May 8s 1½d.

Corn—Spot quiet; prime mixed, American, 6s 7d. Futures quiet; Dec. 5s 5⅜d, Jan. 5s 3⅛d.

Peas—Canadian steady, 7s 10d.

Flour—Winter patents firm, 31s 3d.

Hops—In London (Pacific coast), dull, £2 to £3.

Beef—Extra India mess firm, 96s 3d.

Pork—Prime mess, western, steady, 85s.

Hams—Short cut, 14 to 16 lbs., easy, 42s.

Bacon—Cumberland cut, 28 to 30 lbs., easy, 51s; short rib, 16 to 24 lbs., easy, 54s; long clear middles, light, 28 to 34 lbs., dull, 53s; long clear middles, heavy, 35 to 40 lbs., dull, 52s; short clear backs, 10 to 20 lbs., easy, 48s; clear bellies, 14 to 16 lbs., easy, 50s; shoulders, square, 11 to 13 lbs., dull, 33s.

Lard—Prime western, in tierces, easy, 41s 6d; American refined, in pails, easy, 42s 6d.

Cheese—Canadian, finest white, new, quiet, 60s; Canadian finest colored, new, quiet, 61s.

Turpentine—Spirits dull, 36s. Rosin—Common steady, 10s 3d. Petroleum—Refined firm, 7¼d. Linseed oil—Dull, 25s. Cottonseed oil—Hull refined, Dec.-April, dull, 21s 9d.

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Butter, steady, unchanged; receipts, 6262.

Cheese, quiet, unchanged; receipts, 2277.

Eggs, firm, unchanged; receipts, 6736.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Firmer—Hogs Are Again Higher at Chicago.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—London cables are firmer at 10½c to 13c per lb. dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c per pound.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Beeves—Receipts, 1047; no trading of any importance; feeling dull, but steady. Exports to-day, 840 cattle and 4600 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 79; veals, steady; no grassers; common to good veals, $6 to $9; no strictly prime here.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4020; sheep, slow and easier for medium grades; prime lambs, steady; others, dull and weak; sheep, $3 to $5; few choice, $5.50; lambs, $5.50 to $6.75; common Canada lambs, $6.12½.

Hogs—Receipts, 3305; all for slaughterers; nominally, 15c to 25c higher.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Cattle—Receipts, about 1200; market, steady; beeves, $3.25 to $6.50; cows, $1.15 to $4.60; calves, $3 to $7; Texans, $3.10 to $3.90; westerns, $3.10 to $5.10; stockers and feeders, $2.10 to $4.15.

Hogs—Receipts, about 14,000; market 5c to 10c higher; light, $4.40 to $4.90; mixed, $4.45 to $4.95; heavy, $4.40 to $4.95; rough, $4.40 to $4.55; pigs, $3.70 to $4.60; bulk of sales, $4.65 to $4.80.

Sheep—Receipts, about 2000; market, steady; natives, $2 to $5; westerns, $2 to $4.90; yearlings, $4.50 to $5.25; lambs, $4.75 to $6.20; westerns, $3.75 to $6.25.

Thawing Dynamite.

Cobalt, Dec. 2.—P. M. Mallory, employed with the Davis Silver Mining Co., came down from Englehart on Saturday, and brought some details of a serious blasting accident, which happened on Friday at Bell's Cut, about four miles north of Boston station. Three Italians, engaged on rock work there, were thawing dynamite when it exploded, killing one man instantly and fatally injuring another. The third was also badly injured, but was able to walk.

Infant Found Dead.

Winnipeg, Dec. 2.—A young woman who came to Maidstone recently and endeavored to earn a livelihood by dressmaking was confined in her rooms without the knowledge of any one about two weeks ago, and the dead body of the infant has been found in her trunk by accident by a woman who was doing her washing. Death was due either to asphyxiation or neglect. The young woman is being detained by the police, pending further investigation.

Will Postpone Thaw Trial.

New York, Dec. 2.—The second trial of Harry K. Thaw will be called in the Supreme Court here to-day, but it is generally believed there will be a postponement of the case until after the Christmas and New Year's holidays. District Attorney Jerome will request that such action be taken. Martin W. Lyttleton, the new leading counsel for Thaw, has announced that he will oppose the motion.

Killed in a Runaway.

Maple Creek, Sask., Dec. 2.—James Paynton, a young homesteader, was killed in a runaway Saturday.

so that a new jail will be erected in Winnipeg, next year at the cost of $150,000.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
RAILWAY TIME TABLE

	Arrive.	Depart
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.40 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.25 a.m 5.38 p.m
Port Hope and points east to Montreal and Boston		8.30 a.m
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago & West, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.30 a.m. 5.33 p.m.	11.45 a.m 9.05 p.m
From Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Bowmanville and Port Hope	11.45 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stouffville, Uxbridge and Markham	10.05 p.m.	7.20 a.m
Lindsay Local	8.15 a.m.	9.10 p.m
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 8.40 p.m.	8.30 a.m 1.50 p.m
Lakefield and Stony Lake	9.50 a.m. 5.15 p.m.	8.20 a.m 12.20 p.m

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

DEPART FOR EAST

Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa and Montreal	11:16 a.m. and 12:28 Daily ex. Sun. Daily
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock and Tweed	7:47 p.m., Daily

DEPART FOR WEST

Toronto, London, Chicago and New York	5:16 a.m. Daily
Toronto & Intermediate, North Bay, Winnipeg and Northwest	8:00 a.m. Daily ex. Sun
Toronto, Galt, London, Detroit and Chicago	4:48 p.m. Daily ex. Sun

CANADIAN NORTHERN ONTARIO

SHORT LINE TO MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND

FALL TIME TABLE

NORTHBOUND

	No. 1	No. 3
TORONTO	† 9.00 am	† 6.30 pm
WASHAGO	12.38 pm	10.00 pm
PARRY SOUND	3.15 pm	....

SOUTHBOUND

	No. 2	No. 4
PARRY SOUND	†11.45 am	†...........
WASHAGO	2.13 pm	6.45 am
TORONTO	5.45 pm	10.10 am

Observation-Dining Parlor Cars between Toronto and Parry Sound serving meals a la carte.

† Daily except Sunday.

OFFICES: All Stations, also Cor. King and Toronto and Union Station. Phone, Main 5179.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CALIFORNIA MEXICO FLORIDA

Are the favorite winter Resorts.

Round trip tickets are issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System giving choice of all the best routes, going one way and returning another.

Full information may be obtained from

W. BUNTON,
City Passenger Agent

F. SANDY,
Depot Ticket Agent

Or write Mr J. D. McDonald, D.P.A., Union Depot, Toronto

CANADIAN PACIFIC

WINTER FAIR GUELPH

DEC. 9 TO 13, 1907

Return Tickets at

SINGLE FARE

FROM ALL STATIONS

Good going Dec. 7 to 13 inclusive. Returning until and on Dec. 16

Children under twelve half fare

Tickets and all information from

W. McILROY,
Canadian Pacific Agent,
343 George St., Peterboro

Or write C. B. FOSTER, D.P.A. Toronto.

Private Greeting Cards

THE highly colored and lithographed Christmas Card in vogue a few years ago has passed away entirely.

IN place has come the much more appropriate Personal Greeting Card.

OF these the Review Office is showing a great many original designs.

YOUR order should be given immediately, while the selection is so complete.

SHOULD you desire a Card specially designed to your order, promptness is absolutely necessary.

The Review
HUNTER STREET
PETERBOROUGH

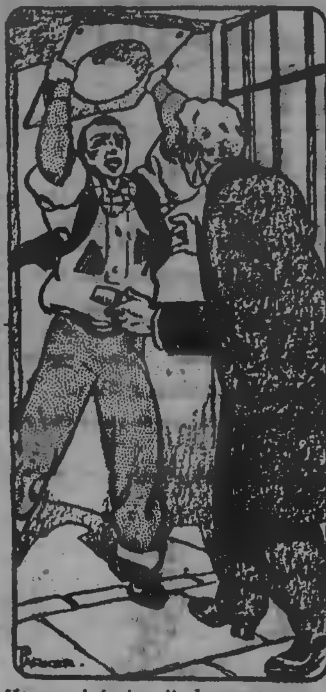
A Story of Absorbing Interest

The Rogue's March

By E. W. HORNUNG, author of "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," "Stingaree," etc.

"Lucky for you it was you!" he cried as the chaplain threw up his hands. "Unlucky for me. I'd have killed any other man in the place. Now you see what they've made of me. Better send them to tie me up. It's no good your wasting your breath."

The ordinary wrung his hands and gazed in the frenzied face with unspeakable anguish in his own, while louder and louder through the cell window came the clamor of the growing mob.



He was bringing it down upon gray hairs.

"Have you so utterly forgotten your God?" began the poor man, with the tears in his eyes. "He has never forgotten you."

"He has," said Tom doggedly, "or he wouldn't let me suffer for another man's crime."

"He has not!" shouted the chaplain, flourishing a paper from his pocket. "He has moved the hearts of those in authority over us. On your knees, sir, and give him thanks, for your life has been spared at the eleventh hour!"

CHAPTER XIV.

THE good news was broken to Claire by her father in the dead of night. She had thus some hours in which to prepare for what she was resolved should be her last conversation with Daintree on the subject of Tom. And she anticipated not only the last, but the riskiest of so many risky interviews. She felt that ineffable relief might prove harder to conceal than intolerable anxiety, and so no sooner were her worse fears dissipated than new fears took their place.

* * * * * * * *

She went for a ride with Daintree, and he wearied her more than ever. It was a heavenly June day, but luscious fields and a gorgeous sky were nothing to the poetaster. His own rhymes thereon at once usurped and exhausted the subject. A volume of his verse was in the press; every sight, sound or word suggested a quotation. Claire tried hard to think of all that he had done. She found herself thinking of Tom instead and in sheer depression turned early homeward.

With the new year came ill tidings from Australia. An investment had turned out badly. Daintree's interests in general were suffering from his absence. The very next day James Daintree led Claire Harding into her father's library and, even with his face in happy flames, struck an attitude before the writing table.

"She is mine!" he cried. "She has consented to share the poet's bays, to divide with Esau his inheritance in the wilderness!"

It was notable that no consent was asked of Nicholas Harding. He sat back in his chair, with a stifled sigh of unspeakable relief. Claire never forgot how his hands felt as he took both of hers and drew her toward him.

"But you spoke of sailing at once," said he, cloaking eagerness with an air of extreme deprecation. "It would have to be a very hurried affair."

The first cloud crossed Daintree's face.

"Ah, no!" said he. "I could not take her at a moment's notice to a house unfit for her reception. I must go and prepare it for her. That is a stern necessity. But you must bring her out to me yourself in six months' time."

Mr. Harding shook his head. He was a public man.

"Then Lady Starkle must."

Mr. Harding spoke warmly and unselfishly in favor of an immediate marriage, to no purpose, however. They had indeed made up their minds, though the reason was not that which Daintree had given. Vanity forbade him to disclose the real reason. It was her solitary but firm stipulation, and so much for his brave desire to get first to Sydney on Claire's account.

He was to sail in seven days.

Meanwhile the engagement was announced in the Morning Post of Jan. 15.

On the 16th Mr. Harding found a note from Sir Emilius at his office:

> Sir—My Morning Post informs me that a marriage has been arranged between your daughter and my son. If you care for the young lady's happiness, you will put a stop to this at once. Yours faithfully,
> EMILIUS DAINTREE.
>
> N. B.—I send this word of warning in duplicate, both to your city and to your private address, as I think it hardly likely that you will receive both copies if my son is still with you.

Mr. Harding started to his feet. He had not received the copy posted to his house. Was the father a liar or the son something worse? The father's reputation—stay!

It was the son.

He had been down before Mr. Harding that morning. The latter had found him in the dining room when he entered, and on his own plate were such letters as he had received. Harding seized his hat, then reflected. changed color and took a pen himself. The note which he subsequently dispatched by hand was a model of firmness, tempered by tact. He demanded, however, an immediate explanation of Sir Emilius Daintree's words, and the messenger was to wait for an answer. The messenger returned without one.

Then Mr. Harding called in person. Sir Emilius was not at home.

But next morning there was another brief note at the office:

> Dear Sir—I have been thinking the matter over. You have my sympathy, but I cannot enter into details. I absolutely decline to do so. You know the proverb, and a word should be enough for the wise, or you may go for your explanation to my son, who will tell you it is all my spite. It is for you as a man of the world to believe or to disbelieve him on that point. I will say, however, that so far as I know my son is not insane. I would to heaven he were! Yours, etc.,
> EMILIUS DAINTREE.

Mr. Harding was now a miserable man. The very sight of the betrothed pair became an hourly agony, yet he lacked either the courage or the will to interfere. Only four days remained. He called again on Sir Emilius Daintree, but again the baronet was invisible.

This time Harding left an urgent note, and yet another perfectly civil one awaited him in the city next morning. It was to be the last, however, and said so plainly in the following terms:

> My Dear Sir—You must excuse my unwillingness to see you or to correspond further upon the little matter of my son and your daughter. You will apprehend that the subject is probably more painful to me than to you, who have your remedy. I have none. My son need never become your son-in-law, but unhappily he will always be my son.
>
> Your last question is, however, a fair one, and I will answer it frankly on condition it is the last. So far as I am aware, then, my son has not already or (to my knowledge) has he ever had a wife. I should say he is quite capable of having half a dozen. However, this is not "it" at all. And I must beg you as a gentleman not to question me any further upon what is in fact a family matter and one only named to you in confidence for your own guidance.
>
> Upon this understanding I have the honor to remain, sir, your obedient servant,
> EMILIUS DAINTREE.

Mr. Harding held his tongue, and James Daintree sailed away the betrothed of Claire Harding, who was to follow him to Sydney in six months.

A year earlier Mr. Harding might have been tempted to keep silence for worldly reasons, for the sake of the connection—"my daughter, Lady Daintree"—and so forth. He was not himself a man of noble blood, but he loved the nobility and had of late very nearly cut himself off from their smile forever. The temptation, on worldly grounds alone, would have been strong enough the year before. Yet the father's heart would have resisted it. He would have spoken out then and acted, too, like an honest man. Now he did neither, because his mouth was stopped, and his hands were tied by a stronger thing than social considerations. He was gagged and bound by abject fear.

And this was why Daintree the younger was allowed to sail away betrothed to Claire toward the latter end of January, 1838.

CHAPTER XV.

THE capital sentence on the convict Erichsen having been commuted to one of transportation for life, he was transported to New South Wales, where he arrived, in the official phrase, per Seahorse, in the early morning of Tuesday, Dec. 5, 1837.

Some nineteen weeks before, still earlier in the morning, his draft had been chained together in gangs of six and marched from Millbank across the road and down the stone steps to the tug, which conveyed them to the convict ship then lying at the Nore.

The voyage was not the worst of Tom's experiences. The first few days they were all in chains, and his leg became excoriated through dragging the cruel harness in and out of his hammock, but presently the chains were struck off, and Tom did not earn a second dose of them. He distinguished himself in no way on board. In the usual attempt to seize the ship he bore no part, nor was it Tom who betrayed the ringleaders and saved so many lives. Yet he was fortunate enough to win the fancy of the surgeon superintendent, who employed him privately during a great part of the passage. This officer was in absolute command of the convicts, and to Tom he was very kind indeed—so much so that at the very end of the voyage Tom asked the other to take his word between themselves that he was innocent. He never asked this of any man again. And the lovely harbor with the vernal shores said no more to his stinging soul than to that of the most hardened felon in the ship.

The exiles were landed and marched to Hyde Park barracks, 200 strong. It was quite early in the forenoon, yet the heat of the ground struck through their shoes, and the hot land smell scorched their nostrils, as the ungainly detachment proceeded along the streets, all roving eyes and lurching sea legs. Suddenly the air filled with a jingle as of inharmonious bells, and around a corner came a team of twenty men in gray and yellow patchwork yoked to a wagon filled with stone and gravel. They had their chains to drag as well, and these made the mournful music wherever they went. One of the soldiers in charge of the newly landed draft chanced to catch Tom's eye flashing misery and defiance. "Don't you trouble your head about them," cried he. "It'll be your own fault, young fellow, if ever you come to that. There's none on you need."

Tom said nothing, but a convict near him called out: "I believe you, general! We've come out here to enjoy ourselves, and that's what we mean to do."

"And will, too!" said the soldier. "There's plenty of us chaps would change shoes with you if we could," he added below his breath. "Assigned servants is more in demand than ever, and a good 'un gets wages just the same as a free man. You'll all be snapped up before you've been in barracks a day. No, this ain't them. This is the 'orspital. Them's the barracks, around the corner to the left."

A high wall inclosed the somber pile, which looked the more sinister against that sky of unfathomable blue. Immoderate sunshine and the tantalizing proximity of the governor's pleasure grounds put a point to the ominous contrast, and there were misgivings among those bold spirits that had looked forward to New South Wales as a land of exclusive cakes and ale.

"If they're going to shut us up in there," said one to another, "we might as well have stayed where we was in blessed old Noogit!"

"I tell you they won't keep you above a day," resumed the soldier. "And you'll never see the place again unless you plays the fool and gets turned into gov'ment. Them as does that comes back, of course, and has a bad time of it too. Hear that! Hear that!"

Over the wall as the newcomers marched down one side of it there came from the other a series of shrill screams, and ere they reached the gate it was flung open and out marched four men carrying a fifth, screaming still, shoulder high between them. The white face was turned to the sky, the naked trunk writhing in agony, and the blood was running out of the man's boots as though he had been wading ankle deep in it, while his leg irons hung clanking from his legs.

"Aha!" said the soldier. "That's a Tom fool who's got turned into gov'ment, you see! They're carrying 'im across to the 'orspital, 'cause the cat's been scratching of 'im."

"The cat?" cried Tom, who was trembling all over.

"Ay, my lad; the one with nine tails. 'Tis the commonest breed out here!"

Tom never knew how his legs carried him through the barrack gates, and when the draft were drawn up within and formally addressed there by the deputy governor he caught but little of the harangue. He felt deadly sick; his heart ached like a tooth, and for hours to come those piercing screams pursued his tingling ears. However, he supposed the punishment must have been timed expressly as a salutary warning for the newcomers. Devoutly he hoped so, but he soon knew better. Next morning there were two floggings, and one again the morning after. It was, in fact, a daily detail at the Hyde Park barracks, which were, on the other hand, the headquarters of several hundreds of the most desperate felons in New South Wales. Tom and his draft were only to remain there until assigned into private service, but the rest had all been "turned into government" as unmanageable by their masters and were in barracks for repunishment. Their days were spent in road gangs or in other organized labor about the town, and not a few of their nights in depredations winked at by the barrack officers.

For the corruption of the place was as flagrant as the discipline was harsh. The very first night, when Tom was driven from his hammock by the fetid heat of the overcrowded dormitory, he witnessed an instructive incident from the window. It was the return of such a depredator and the division of his spoil with the officer on duty. Tom soon learned that burglaries and highway robberies were nightly occurrences in Sydney, and as often the work of convicts under nominal lock and key as that of the assigned servants who infested the streets after dark.

Meanwhile he was himself assigned to a resident in urgent quest of a "special," or "gentleman convict," as such as Tom were termed. The applicant was a genial graybeard, with a philosophic eye, which looked Tom well up and down at their interview.

"What I want," said he, "is a tutor for my son. I hear you are a university man. May I ask what makes you stare?"

"I a tutor!"

"Well?"

"You can't know what I was transported for."

"Oh, yes, I do. I could wish it had been for something else, certainly; but that doesn't make you any the less a university man. And the other specials seem to be a poor lot, and I mean to give you a trial. But we'll drop that name of yours, which I'm afraid may be known in my house, and you shall start fair. In half an hour, then, Jones, I shall call for you in my chaise."

And Tom actually found himself quite a privileged member of a decent household before he had time to realise his good fortune. The other servants were ordered to treat him with respect. His pupil was put entirely in his charge. He had his meals with the family and had reveled for one night in a deliciously clean bed and bedroom, when the master of the house came to him in the morning with a very wry face.

"It's all up, Jones," said that philosopher, with the blunt intimacy which had made Tom like him from the first. "My good wife has discovered who you are, and she refuses to leave her bed while you remain in the house. She has read of you in the English papers, confound them, and she simply won't have you on the premises! It seems unreasonable when you consider that our cook was a bloodthirsty baby farmer, our coachman a professional burglar and so on right through the staff—habitual criminals every one—which I don't think you are. Still there's another side to it. There's the boy to be considered, and though I think you're the very man for him, a mother's feelings must be studied in such matters. You see I like you well enough to be perfectly frank about the matter, but the fact is the chaise is waiting for us outside."

So ended that chapter, and Tom was back at barracks in time to hear the clank of chain gangs shuffling faintly out to work and the swish and whistle of the morning lash. Those two instruments supplied the street music of the convict city. There were few days and few hours when you might not hear their melancholy duet. To Tom the sound of it was still physical torture, the more unbearable after this cruel taste of better things. Nearly all his shipmates had been assigned and taken away in his absence. Only one other "special" was left, a London clerk transported for fraud. Tom's late master, a friend of the superintendent, was allowed to carry him off in Tom's stead, and long afterward the latter heard the curious sequel of his own misfortune. So thoroughly did his successor teach what he knew that both tutor and pupil were presently transported to Van Dieman's Land for life.

The incident was sufficiently disheartening at the time, and yet it had its hopeful side. It revealed the possibilities of the assignment system, or, rather, its better possibilities, from the convict's point of view. As a punishment it must needs prove a farce in a community which preferred to estimate convicts by their capacity as colonists rather than by their crimes as felons. Such was Tom's comforting reflection, for not yet did he realize how entirely the condition of the convict was dependent upon the character of the master; but, having had one good master, though for so brief a period, he looked cheerfully for another.

The other, however, was slow to come. His false start seemed to tell against Tom with the authorities. They were in no hurry to assign him again, and presently he found himself the last man of his draft in the barracks, with his hammock the only one a-swing between the stanchions of the great dormitory upstairs. Then one morning he heard a row in the yard, and there was a very overdressed, thickset and thick spoken young man abusing the officers because there were no convicts left.

"I tell you we applied for three, and I've come down expressly for them," he spluttered out. "Over a hundred blessed miles I've come, from Castle Sullivan, near the Hunter river, for two farm laborers and a groom, all properly applied for in lots of time. And just because I get a touch of the sun and can't come on the right day I'm to go back empty handed, am I? We'll see about that. I'll complain to the board."

"That won't do no good. We've only one man left, and the board can't split 'im into three."

"Oh, you have one, have you? Haul him out and let's have a look at the lubber."

So Tom was produced to receive the unsteady scrutiny of a swimming blue eye that told a tale, and was informed with an oath that he was a "special," and they wanted none of that kidney at Castle Sullivan.

Great was Tom's relief, for a coarser face he had seldom seen, but at this the officials remarked that it was a "special" or nothing, and the bleared eyes were on him once more.

"Come from the country?"

"Yes."

"Saddle a horse?"

"Yes."

"And ride him after?"

"Better try me."

"Well, so I will! You be ready in an hour, and a horse'll be ready for you. I'll go back with a groom if with nothing else!"

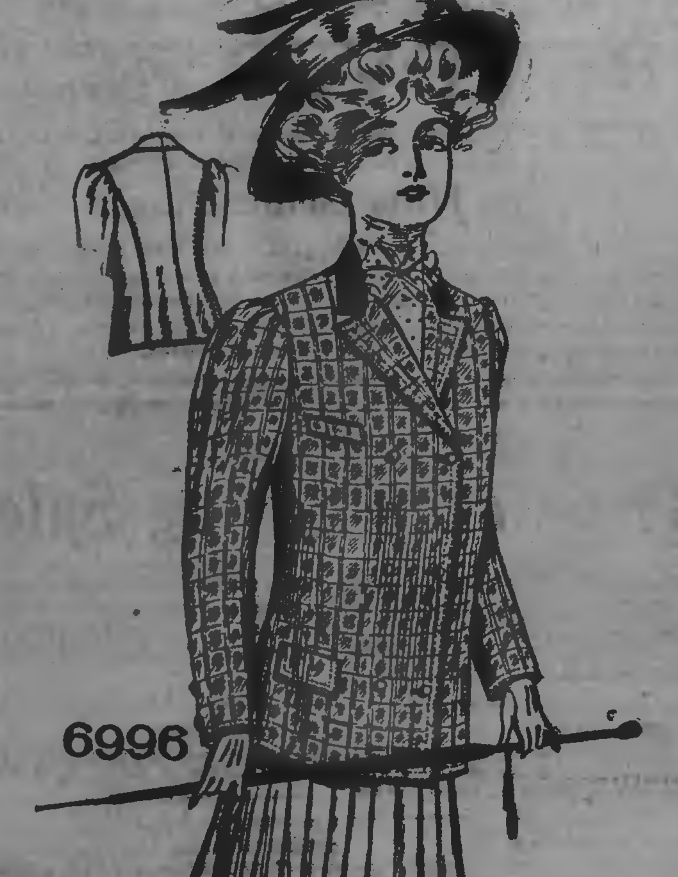
"Wait!" said Tom.

"What's up now?"

"I'm supposed to have committed a murder," said Tom through his teeth. "In one family they wouldn't keep me"—

The other drowned his words with a bellowing laugh.

To be continued.



A SMART SEMI-FITTING COAT

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited

97 Yonge Street, Toronto.

W. H. ISAAC, 228 Dublin Street, Peterborough.
Local Salaried Representative.
Machine 'Phone 22

FOR THE LADY WHO CALLS

Visiting List and Social Engagement Book —A Dainty and Useful Gift.

Those ladies who find it difficult to keep track of their social debts in the way of calls which have to be returned, invitations to various society functions which have been received will be pleased to learn that a dainty little book has been issued from the presses of the Review which will fill their need. The city has grown so rapidly of late years that it has become almost necessary for each lady to have a special reception day each month when her friends will be sure to find her at home. To keep a record of these will be an easy matter with one of these little books. They are prettily bound in blue linen, lettered in gold and printed on good paper. There are two pages for every day in the month, arranged, according as the day is, first Monday, second Tuesday, etc. At the back of the book are pages for invitations received, out-of-town addresses, special reception dates, and memoranda. One of the books would make a dainty and acceptable Xmas gift. The books are on sale at the bookstores at the price of 50c

Invitation Cards for AT Homes, Receptions and Evening Parties, partly printed for 1c each. Envelopes to match 10c package. On sale at the Review Office.

FIRE ALARM BOXES

The following are the numbers and locations of the city of Peterborough Fire Alarm Boxes.

BOX	LOCATION
WARD No. ONE
12	Lock and McGill
14	Westcott and Aylmer
15	Perry and George
16	Perry and Bethune
17	Park and Townsend
18	George, at C. P. R.
WARD No. TWO
21	George and King
22	Simcoe and Queen
23	George and Hunter
24	Hunter and Quaker
27	Water and McDonel
WARD No. THREE
31	Park and Sherbrooke
33	Charlotte and Stewart
35	Park and Hunter
38	McDonel and Reid
WARD No. FOUR
41	Park and London
42	George and Dublin
43	Edinburgh and Stewart
45	George and Smith
48	Water and Hilliard
WARD No. FIVE
52	Burnham and James
53	Rogers and Sophia
54	Hunter and Mark
57	Concession and Hazlitt
59	Auburn

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the Ward number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

R. A. ELLIOTT & CO.

Real Estate Agents

Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

Letterheads

¶What you think about you Business Stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks.

¶Don't have inferior paper and work in your Business Stationery. Don't try good work and paper because you like it, altogether, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

¶The Review Job Department will give you the best work obtainable and superior paper and envelopes. Your order set, printed and cared for for you, particularly you

¶A Call or Phone will bring to you samples.

THE REVIEW
PETERBOROUGH

YOUR OWN HAIR MADE UP AS DESIRED . .

By home talent, where you are sure of satisfaction, or matched correctly in shade and quality.

Switches, Natural Wavy Pomps Latest Coiffures

Let us show you what we can do before you patronize some outside party. We guarantee to please you at lowest prices in the city.

Back Hair Dressing, Shampooing, etc.

MRS. BYRNE'S

George Street, Second Door North of Dutton's

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

W. H. HILL, Esq.,

Manager of Central Ontario.

Dear Sir—After congratulating myself being a Sun Life Policy Holder, I am very much pleased with the handsome amount added to my Policy, and am surprised and gratified with the profits. I appreciate the good financial position which your Company holds to-day.

THOS. EDGAR,
Peterborough, Ont

November 29th, 1907.

N.B.—Policy Straight Life $2,000
Bonus for 5 Years $160
Policy No. 17,706

SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY,
November 23

Baby's Own Soap, regular 10c for	8c
Good Baking Powder, per lb	10c
All 25c Combs for	19c
Vaseline, regular 5c per bottle, 2 for	5c
Barron's Tonic, regular $1.00 for	75c
Thomas Eclectric Oil, regular 25c, 2 for	25c
Cuticura Soap, regular 35c for	25c
Hand Scrubs, regular 5c each, 2 for	5c
Castoria, regular 35c for	23c

Free Sample of Liquid Veneer given away to ladies only on Saturday, November 23rd.

WARNE BROS.
345 GEORGE ST. Phone 527

INTEREST PAID
QUARTERLY
—ON—
SAVINGS DEPOSITS of $1 and upwards
—THE—
BANK OF OTTAWA

Interest paid
February 28
May 31
August 31
November 30

PETERBOROUGH BRANCHES:
George Street, also
Corner Rubidge and Townsend Streets

A. A. HOLLINGSHEAD, Mgr

Xmas Photos

Send a family group or the children's photos to your friends at Christmas. Nothing is appreciated more than such remembrances, from

MENDEL'S STUDIO
374 1-2 George St. Entrance next Oke's

County Councils are Taking Action

Want Ontario Government to Establish Consumptive Homes

At a meeting of the Oxford County Council held recently in Woodstock, delegates were present from Brant, Perth, Waterloo and Oxford counties and it was decided to ask all county councils throughout Ontario to join in a united effort to induce the Ontario Government to establish one or more consumptive homes in the province.

County Clerk Elliott has received a letter from Mr. M. T. Buchanan, chairman of the Oxford County County Council, special committee, requesting that the Peterborough County Council at its December session appoint delegates and forward the names to County Clerk N. E. Burtch, Woodstock, who will advise them later as to the time selected for meeting in Toronto to lay the matter before the legislature.

Mr. Elliott will notify Mr. Burtch that the fall session of the Peterborough County Council has been held, but that this body is in sympathy with the movement.

EUCHRE CONTEST AT CLUB ROOMS

At a meeting of the executive of the Young Conservative club held on Saturday evening it was decided to hold a euchre contest on Wednesday night next, Dec. 4th, between the president and vice-president's sides.

"SANITOL"
PROPOSITION

If you are interested in an A1 offer for sterling good Toilet Preparations, call in and we will explain how you can get $2.70 worth of Sanitol Preparations for $1.00.

We know you will be pleased with the Goods and well satisfied with the bargain.

NUGENT DRUG CO.
A. J. JOHNSTON
366 GEORGE STREET

Robins Seen on the First of December

Noticed in Mr. John Straine's Yard Yesterday Morning—An Extraordinary Incident

A flock of robins is a rather rare thing to see at this season of the year, and it is rather hard to believe that they were seen yesterday by a citizen of Peterborough. However, Mr. John Straine, who resides on Robinson street, East city, says the pearance of these feathered creatures Sunday morning his back yard, chirping and flying about. Mr. Straine had thought the robins had migrated some time ago, and was surprised to see them.

What the interpretation of the appearance of this feathered creatures in cold wintry weather is, Mr. Straine is at a loss to know. It can hardly be an omen of spring and they must just be a few who intend to bear with the storms and cold blasts of winter.

The Burns-Moir Fight

Takes Place To-day—Result Will be Bulletined in Front of Review Office

The greatest interest in any fight since the big scraps, in which Fitzsimmons, Corbett, Sharkey and the invincible Jeffries figured, is being taken in the fight in London today between Tommy Burns, the heavyweight champion, and Gunner Moir, the British claimant for the world's pugilistic honors in the heavyweight division. This is due, to quite an extent to the fact of Burns being Canadian, and may be also attributed to it being the first battle for the title in which an Englishman has figured since the Corbett-Mitchell bout. Burns is a favorite in the betting at 5 to 4, and is getting lots of support. The big auditorium of the National Sporting Club will be packed to suffocation, and the sporting blood of the English fight fans is at fever heat over the contest. The fight starts at 4.30 Canadian time, and a bulletin telling of the result will be placed in front of the Review office just as soon as the intelligence can be received from the seat of war.

XMAS FRUITS
James R. Bell, 161 Hunter St., has the finest Raisins, Currants and Peels that there is in the city. Good values. Go and see him. id

ADAMS | The Ladies' Furnishing Store | ADAMS

A BIG SNAP
- IN - Lithegraph Cushion Tops
Wednesday Morning

We have just received a clearing lot of 180 Lithograph Cushion Tops bought much below their regular value, There are dozens of this season's newest designs to choose from in the bunch. The regular prices of these Cushion Tops are 50c and 75c

Wednesday Morning Your Choice for 32c

25c Cushion Girdles for 19c
10 Dozen Cushion Girdles sold at 25c regular, on sale Wednesday morning YOUR CHOICE FOR 19c

SALE CUSHION TOPS WILL NOT BE SOLD BEFORE MORNING ADVERTISED SEE WINDOW.

Harry Adams

Peterboro' Man Speaks of Conditions in the West

Mr. George Brooks, East City, Returns After Spending Six Months in Manitoba and Alberta—Much Impressed With the Prairie Country.

After spending the past six months in Western Canada, travelling between Calgary and Edmonton, Mr. George R Brooks, returned to his home on Sophia street, East City, on Saturday evening. He was accompanied by Mr. Charles Tighe, who has spent the past four years in the West, and who is home on a holiday. Mr. Brooks represented the Gould, Muir and Shepley Windmill Company, of Brantford, and in his travels had a grand opportunity to become acquainted with the country. He is greatly impressed with it, and but for the changeable climate, would like to live there. "This year has been a very bad one in the West," said Mr. Brooks to the Review. "The farmers keenly feel the stringency of the money market, and especially those who have had poor crops. The crops in the vicinity of Edmonton have been a failure and the settlers will have difficulty in meeting their payments. However, a large number of them, Mr. Brooks says, are going into stock raising as they have an abundance of feed for cattle.

From the 6th of September to the 10th there were heavy snowstorms and frosts and the crops weren't given a chance to ripen.

The grain on the high rolling land did not fare so badly. Mr. Tighe, who has a farm about three miles from Carstairs, a small town 40 miles from Calgary, had a little more than half a crop, which is considered splendid this year.

"Real estate in Calgary has taken a drop during the past four months," remarked Mr. Brooks. Up until the first of August there was a great boom and many houses were built. When the banks refused to advance any money several contractors were forced to quit work and things assumed a quieter aspect.

Mr. Brooks intends to spend the winter in Peterborough and has not yet decided whether he will return to the West in the spring.

SUNDAY WAS THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY
Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Alexandra Born at Copenhagen, Dec. 1, 1844.

Roadbed Disappears Almost As Quickly as it is Built

Difficult Task Before Smith Township Authorities.

FLOATING BRIDGE IS OUT OF SIGHT

And Stones Logs, and Loads of Earth are Now Under Water

Many people in Smith township are beginning to wonder if the bottom has fallen out of a piece of the west communication road a short distance from the Central Smith cheese factory. The stretch of highway in question is through a soft swamp and the portion where there now seems to be no bottom was formerly spanned by a floating bridge. The bridge got in bad repair, however, and the township council determined to do away with it and build a permanent roadbed. The ground underneath the bridge was exceedingly soft and it was a comparatively easy matter to sink the bridge below the surface. This was done about two weeks ago and then the township council secured men and teams and waggons to build the roadbed. Up to the present 200 loads of stone, 125 yards of clay and logs and timbers innumerable have been dumped in on top of the old bridge, but a roadbed is still lacking. A few days ago it was thought that everything was going to be alright as a fairly good roadbed had been secured and the men working on the job went home feeling satisfied that the task of hauling stones, logs and clay was now over.

But in the morning when they returned the whole business had sunk out of sight and the road bed was covered with water. The floating bridge, stones, logs and clay, like McGinty in the sea, had started going down and as far as can be learned are still going.

Reeve Scott and the township councillors are almost at a loss to know what to do, but they believe that there must be a bottom somewhere and will keep on dumping in stones, logs and earth until a roadbed has been secured. The piece of road that is sinking is about 200 yards in length.

House of Providence, Church And St. Joseph's Hospital

Are Remembered in the Will of the late Jas. Dolan

Provision is made in the will of the late Jas. Dolan for handsome bequests to the House of Providence, St. Joseph's hospital and the new Roman Catholic Church. As the value of the estate is not yet definitely known, the amount by which the above institutions will be benefitted cannot be determined. Mr. Dolan divided his estate into twelve equal shares; nine of these go to surviving relatives, and the other three to the institutions indicated, one share to the House of Providence, another to St. Joseph's hospital, and the third to the new Catholic Church.

The gifts will be handsome ones and go to show the kindly spirit of the deceased.

Have You Telephoned Through Your Chest Yet?

Have you talked over the telephone through your chest yet?

Scores are doing it in Peterborough today and the discovery that it is possible has aroused considerable interest. It's easy, as no doubt many have found out. Just place the transmitter to your chest, and talk in your natural tone of voice. You will be heard just as plainly as if you had the transmitter in front of your mouth. Try it and see.

In connection with the discovery that one can telephone with the transmitter pressed close against the

the Toronto World says;

Telephoning through the chest is not only possible, but quite practical, as no doubt scores of Sunday World readers, who have by this time experimented for themselves, already know.

One lady telephoned—through the chest—to the World office, to claim credit for Canada in the matter. She says she was given the wrinkle by a Toronto man of scientific tendencies six months ago, and found it to be quite satisfactory in performance.

Manager Dunstan, of the Bell Telephone Co., had not tried the experiment, and when assured by the World reporter that he was talking through his chest, excused himself for a minute, and went for a chair to try it.

At first the World could not hear, but as Mr. Dunstan shifted the transmitter, the words would come over the wire all right.

"I do not think it would be practical," said Mr. Dunstan, "nor any handier than the present one. It is very interesting, however."

Whether it would be feasible to arrange the device on an operator's bodice, thus doing away with the necessity of talking into the transmitter, he could not say.

PRESENT REEVE NOT LIKELY TO BE OPPOSED

Reeve Scott of Smith Will Probably Get Second Term by Acclamation

Smith township ratepayers are commencing to talk municipal matters and discussing the probabilities for the municipal elections in January. From what can be learned there is going to be no opposition to Reeve Scott for the reeveship and unless something unlooked for turns up he will have a second term by acclamation. Smith township will have a deputy reeve in 1908, having now over 1000 ratepayers, the number required to entitle the municipality to a deputy reeve. Some of the present councillors will likely aspire to the deputy reeveship.

Annual Meeting of Junior Chapter Brotherhood

Held in St. John's Schoolhouse Yesterday Afternoon

The annual meeting of the Junior Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew was held in St. Johns' school house yesterday afternoon with Mr. Joseph S. Bell, honorary director, in the chair.

Mr. Bell gave a verbal review of the work accomplished during the past year, and spoke encouragingly of the present prospects. Reports were read by Secretary F. Halpany and Treasurer Vaughan Mitchell

The rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, gave an excellent address, commending the boys very highly for their useful work, and predicted even greater results in the future.

The election of officers resulted as follows;—

Hon. Director—Jos S Bell.
Director—Frank Halpany.
Vice Director—Hugh Burritt.
Secretary—Frank Mitchell.
Treasurer—Vaughan Mitchell.
School Board Scripture Union Department—Harold Smith and Arthur Andrews.

At the meeting of the senior Chapter held last Wednesday, Mr. Frank Linton was appointed to act with Mr. Bell in the capacity of honorary director.

OBITUARY

INFANT EXPIRES.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Glover, Munro Ave., will sympathize with them in the loss they have sustained by the death of their two months' old child.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, to Little Lake cemetery.

A municipal plant in St. Thomas to distribute hydro-electric power will cost $42,493.

ESTABLISHED 1873
LEAVE YOUR MEASURE

Hurry up and leave your measure now for your new

CHRISTMAS SUITS and OVERCOATS

Prices have been cut very low, when you can get made to your order on the premises—

A Stylish Ordered Suit from $15.00 up
A First-class Melton or Beaver Overcoat for $16.00 up
A Full Dress Suit for $25.00 up
Good Pair of Tweed Trousers for $3.25 up.

FIT AND SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

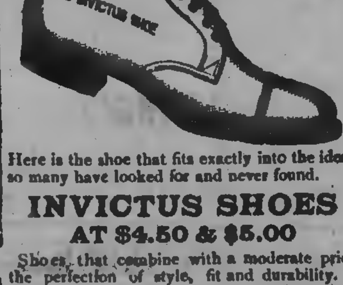
H. LeBrun & Co.
Two Entrances George and Hunter Sts.

MORE ROOM FOR TURNBULL COMPANY

The premises on Simcoe street that have just been vacated by Adamson & Dobbin have been taken by the J. C. Turnbull Company who require more room for the display of their Christmas goods. After the holiday season the newly acquired premises will be used as an addition to the carpet department.

Porter's Delicatessen
CUT RATE GROCERY STORE

Black Tea, 3 lbs	.50
Select Raisins 3 lbs	.20
Cooking Figs, 4 lbs	.25
Mince Meat, 3 lbs.	.20
Chopped Suet, per lb	.10
Washing Soda, 3 lbs	.05
Tomatoes, per tin	.10
Beans, Peas, Corn, per tin	.08
3 bottles Pickles	.25
3 bottles Ketchup	.25
Horse Shoe Salmon, tin	.15
Potatoes, per pk	.15
Apples, per pk	.10



Here is the shoe that fits exactly into the ideal so many have looked for and never found.

INVICTUS SHOES
AT $4.50 & $5.00

Shoes that combine with a moderate price the perfection of style, fit and durability. "Invictusized" Patent Leather Shoes are a revelation. This secret process does something never before accomplished. Renders the leather soft and pliable, increases the life of the shoes at least one third and reduces checking or breaking to a minimum.

ASK THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM

J T. STENSON
364 George St.

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES
AND
VETERINARY INFIRMARY
193 Hunter Street west of Oriental Hotel.

If you wish a rig of any kind for any occasion ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 278. Night Phone Bell 426 B.

D. McKERCHER, V.S.

ADAMSON & DOBBIN
Stove Dealers, Tinsmiths, Plumbers, Etc.
REMOVED Across the Street

To their new and more commodious Store premises, warerooms and workshop, No. 175 Simcoe Street,

In New Brick Block

Come and see us. We'll be glad to welcome all our friends and patrons, and lots of new customers, in our up-to-date shop. No change in our store policy. Prices will continue to be on the same reasonable scale as before. Superior Stoves, Tinware, Furnaces and Work always at moderate figures.

THE DAYLIGHT STORE
The Money-Saving Sale

Of Clothing and Furnishings now going on at this Store is meeting with success for the reason that our patrons are getting values in High-class Goods which have never been equalled. It is not what you pay, but what you get for your money that counts. Low prices alone does not make a bargain, but we are truly giving good quality at a low price.

Men's Suits
Mostly traveller's samples, cut in single and double breasted styles, latest models, worth up to $10.00, for 6.90

Youths' Suits
In fancy Tweed, beautifully lined and guaranteed fronts, worth $10.00, for 6.90

Men's Overcoats
Beautiful cloths, dark colors, hair cloth fronts, worth $13.00, for 9.90

BOYS' CLOTHING at reduced prices
MEN'S UNDERWEAR all reduced
MEN'S WORKING SHIRTS, guaranteed fast colors, at reduced prices.

Come, expecting great value. Prices are cut deep, and everything is on the move here. EARLY PICKERS SECURE THE CHOICEST FRUIT

LANG & MAHER,
CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW
409-411 George St., Peterborough

FRENCH, GERMAN AND ENGLISH CRETONNES

These bright drapery and upholstering materials, by the yard or made up to order. For making into bright, cheerful, artistic, window hangings, bed coverings and canopies, box coverings, etc. Here are French, German and English Cretonnes in a wide variety of tasteful and beautiful designs. In these we offer some very exceptional values, giving you the opportunity to fit your home with cozy and beautiful hangings, at a very small cost. These goods you may purchase by the yard if you like. We will make them up to your order for any purpose you may desire, and leaving them at your home. For this work our charges are moderate and you may be sure that it will be thoroughly well done. Our stock is very select, chosen with discriminate taste and will especially appeal to the woman who appreciates refinement in house-furnishing. You are invited to come and see the many splendid values now held out in this stock and make early choice while the variety is fresh and full.

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED
353 AND 355 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH
STORE OPENS AT 8 A.M. CLOSES AT 6 P.M.,EXCEPT SATURDAY

FOR FINE
Lemons, Oranges
Malaga Grapes
Bananas
and all kinds of fruit and vegetables try
MINOCOLO BROS.
Wholesale and Retail.
Both Phones 337.

FRAMED VIEWS In COLORED SEPIA
and BLACK : : : : :
FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS
THE ROY STUDIO
Ask for Roy's Famous Souvenir Post Cards

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

	Opening	Closing
Amal. Copper	50¼	52¾
Atchison	71⅞	73¼
B. R. T.	33½	36¼
Can. Pacific x div.	150	152½
Erie	16	16½
Louis. & Nash.	93½	94⅛
Mo. Pac.	50½	50½
N. Y. Central	97⅞	97⅞
Penna	110⅞	112¼
Rock Island	14	14½
Reading	80¾	83¾
Smelters	73⅜	75⅜
Sugar	105¼	107½
St. Paul	99⅝	102½
So. Pac.	72	73¼
Union Pac. x-div. 2½	115½	117
U. S. Steel	25¾	26½
do. pfd.	85½	87¼
Twin City	77	77¼
McKay	51	51
Nipissing	6¼	6¼
Wheat	102¼	102¾
Corn	55¼	55¼
May Oats	50¼	51
Pork	13.00	12.95

THE CITY AND VICINITY

EVENTS TO-NIGHT

Grand Opera House—"The Burgomaster."

City Hall—Regular meeting City Council.

Y.M.C.A.—Special meeting Woman's Auxiliary.

City churches—Meetings of Young People's Societies.

Y.M.C.A.—Reception to young men by St. John's A.Y.P.A.

FUR LINED COATS

We clean and press them and guarantee no injury to the fur. My Valet, 204 Charlotte street. All goods called for and delivered. dtf

LADIES' AUXILIARY.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

EDISON RECORDS.

For December, just arrived. You should make your choice at once. They are beauties. Come and hear them at the J. M. Greene Music Co's. George street. 5d

THOSE PICTURES.

Which you have should be framed. It will preserve them and add to the appearance. New mouldings, new styles and neat work at the J. M. Greene Music Co's. store. Grand opera house building. George street. dtf

COUNTIES COUNCIL

The Counties Council will meet at Cobourg on Monday, December 9th, at 8 o'clock p.m., to pass a bylaw for the issuing of $20,000 debentures to complete the House of Refuge. The next day the regular meeting of the Council will be held.

PREACHED IN TORONTO

Saturday's Mail and Empire says—The Rev. Robert Pogue, who is to preach in Cooke's Church to-morrow morning and evening is a graduate of Knox College. For some years he has been associated with Dr. Wm. Patterson in Bethany Church, Philadelphia.

RECEPTION TONIGHT

Every Senior Member of the Association is invited to the A.Y.P.A. Reception, to be held in the Association, this evening from 8 to 10 p.m. Some may not receive invitations owing to the difficulty in finding the addresses but all are urged to come.

A GOOD GAIN.

As a result of a whirlwind membership campaign, 150 new members have been added to Lindsay Y. M. C.A.

NO POLICE COURT.

There was nothing doing in police court this morning. A good start for the beginning of the week.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

A regular meeting of the Board of Education will take place at the Secretary's office, 437 George street, on Tuesday next at 7.45 p.m.

RECEPTION TONIGTH

The A.Y.P.A. of St. John's church will render a good programme at the reception to be given the members of the Y.M.C.A. at the Association building from 8 to 10 tonight.

AN OPPORTUNITY.

Do you need help, male or female? Have you rooms to let, house to rent or sell, or are boarders wanted? Have you anything to sell and can't find a buyer? Try a Review want ad. it will go everywhere at trifling cost.

LAID TO REST.

The funeral of the late Mrs. C. Ranney took place this morning at 10 o'clock from her late residence, 345 Rubidge street, to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Canon Davidson conducted the services. The pall bearers were Messrs. R. E. Wood, H. Phelan, R. G. Kingan, Adam Hall, H. Rush and C. N. Brown. The floral offerings were very attractive. Mr. Young of Norwood, brother of deceased, was among the relatives in attendance.

ALD. PHELAN IS DISTRICT DEPUTY

Takes a Step Higher in Work of the C. M. B. A.

Ald Harry Phelan today received word from Hon. M. F. Hackett, of Stanstead, Que., to the effect that he had been appointed Grand District Deputy of the C.M.B.A. Mr. Phelan has been President of the local branch, No. 30, and is now Chancellor. He was the delegate from Peterborough to the triennial convention held in Montreal in August last.

Life Underwriters Meet December 16

Lt. Col. Ward, M. P., Invited to Address Gathering at Port Hope

At a meeting of the Central Ontario Life Underwriters' Association held in the offices of the Great West Life Assurance Company on Saturday it was decided to hold the next monthly meeting in Port Hope on Monday, December 16th. Col. H. A. Ward, M. P., of Port Hope, will be invited to address the meeting. The agents of Colborne, Cobourg, Bowmanville, Whitby and Oshawa have been invited to attend.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

At the regular meeting of the Young People's Society this evening a Scotch entertainment of readings and songs will be given, under the direction of the Social Committee of the Society.

On Wednesday evening the regular prayer service will be held at 6.45 o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of Woman's Home Missionary Society will be held on Thursday at 3 p.m.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

The Board of Managers will meet on Thursday evening.

On Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock, the children are requested to meet with the choir to make preparations for the Christmas music.

PERSONAL

Mr. J. G. Brophy, Trenton, is at the Oriental.

Mr. Frank J. Linton spent Sunday at his home at Campbellford.

Rev. J. R. Webb leaves for Toronto to-morrow to attend a meeting of the Baptist church edifice board.

Mrs. T. W. Robinson, Weller street, will not receive again until the third Tuesday in January.

Miss Luella Jobbit, of Peterboro, daughter of Conductor Jobbit, is visiting Mrs. James James, Port Hope

Mr. R. Colling, Jr., of Peterborough, was in town on Friday of last week, and gave us a call.—Madoc Review.

Mrs. A. A. Preston, of Peterboro, has returned home, after spending a week with her niece, Mrs. James H. Moore, north ward.—Lindsay Post.

Mrs. A. W. Turner will receive tomorrow afternoon at her home, 513 Gilmour street, and afterwards on the first and second Tuesdays of the month.

Mr. George Howson, inspector of weights and measures, has returned from a tour of inspection in Leeds and Grenville counties. He was absent several weeks.

Mr. Allen, of Toronto, Dominion agent for the Royal Templars of Temperance is in the city and has secured several new members for Dan Spence Council which meets to-morrow night.

Mr. David Campbell, representing the Canadian Free Library for the Blind, Markham, Ont., is in the city and receiving subscriptions with the object of increasing the usefulness and number of books in the library.

INITIALLED WRITING PAPER

One of the most acceptable of gifts that you can send is a dainty box of note paper and envelopes with one or more initials printed in gold on the top of the first sheet of paper or on the back of the envelopes. Good writing paper is always appreciated and you can make no mistake in including it in your list. Leave your order early at the REVIEW Office and you will be well satisfied. 3d

SANTA CLAUS
ON HIS WAY TO ROUTLEY'S

Goods are Pouring in--Our customers are Now Buying for Xmas

300 Dressed Dolls, reg. 25c, choice .14
375 China Tea Sets, regular 50c .25
25 Crokinole Boards, regular 1.25 .59
60 Leather Case Silk Lined Ebony Manicure Case, regular 2.50 for 1.50
20 only Military Brush Sets, Stirling Silver Mounted, regular 1.25 pair for .74
15 cases Children's Plated Knife, Fork and Spoon, with pearl handles, reg. 2.00 1.24

You will find that our clerks are attentive and that prices are reliable. We watch closely our buying as we know goods well bought are half sold at

TORONTO 262-4 QUEEN W ROUTLEY'S PETERBORO' 379 GEORGE ST

MAROONED IN FAR NORTH.

Crew of Fishing Schooner Rescued Just In Time.

The John Currier, a wooden, full-rigged ship of 3,000 tons, was built on the Atlantic coast about twenty years ago. She frequently called at Honolulu, and was one of the best wind-jammers flying the American flag. On one occasion she made the run between Newcastle, New South Wales, Australia and Honolulu in the remarkably fast time of thirty days, which is the record for sailing vessels, about double the time taken by steamers. On Aug. 9 this year the John Currier went ashore on a desolate and barren coast of the Behring Sea. She was commanded by Capt. P. S. Murchison of Point Prim, Prince Edward Island, and his wife and five children were with him at the time. The vessel was owned by a California shipping company, and was chartered for the fishing season by the Alaska Fishermen Packing Co. She left Bristol Bay Aug. 5, after a successful fishing season, bound for Astoria, having on board besides the captain and his family 240 white and Chinese fishermen. The ship went to pieces in Nelson's lagoon, near the Aleutian Islands, and while all on board were saved, the supply of provisions obtained from the wreck promised to last only until Oct. 1.

This report was brought by two of the survivors, who, with Indian guides, made a perilous trip over the mountains to Valdez, a distance of 700 miles. At first it was believed that the revenue cutter Manning had gone to the assistance of the Currier, but later it was found that she had not done so. Then it was announced that the underwriters, M. C. Harrison & Co. of San Francisco, had sent a steamer north. Later the underwriters received a telegram stating that the steamer had reached the lagoon, but making no reference to rescuing the passengers and crew of the Currier.

Finally Mrs. A. W. Doyle of San Francisco appealed to President Roosevelt to send help to her sister, the wife of Capt. Murchison, and also a native of Prince Edward Island. She urged the President to despatch a revenue cutter to Nelson's lagoon at once and bring the shipwrecked party out before navigation closed on account of the ice. Simultaneously with Mrs. Doyle's request for help Senator Perkins telegraphed the Secretary of the Treasury, asking that a revenue cutter be sent to the relief of the shipwrecked people.

In response to these appeals Capt. Munger, commander of the Behring Sea fleet of revenue cutters, was ordered by the Secretary of the Navy Department to send aid at once. He accordingly despatched the cutter McCulloch, which took off the marooned people and transferred them to the cutter Thetis, which landed the party in Seattle. They were rescued just in the "nick of time," as the food supply of the Currier was very low, and the barren region on which they were stranded afforded practically no sustenance.

MOUNTAIN RANGE CHANGED.

Transformation to Island of Bogoslof Result of Volcanic Action.

The remarkable transformation that has occurred in the topography of Bogoslof Island, Alaska, as the result of volcanic disturbances, is described in a report received at the Treasury Department from Lieut. H. B. Gamden, commanding the revenue cutter McCulloch. Regarding the subsidence of McCulloch peak, the report says that the peak had entirely disappeared, and that astonishing changes occurred in the profiles in the neighboring peaks, whose outlines "had been softened to a general symmetry by a padding of lava dust that almost disguised them beyond recognition, while the sand-spit connecting the peaks had attained a height varying from 20 to 100 feet.

"Incalculable tons of material, hundreds of feet in depth, had been deposited over the entire island. Fire Island and Perry Peak now towered into the air with a gentle incline rising from the beach several hundred yards distant to their summits."

Lieut. Camden says McCulloch Peak blew up a few hours before the fall of lava dust at Alaska, Sept. 1 last, about the origin of which there has been much discussion. He adds there is little doubt that the deposit of lava dust which has covered Mount Makush and surrounding mountains, believed from Bogoslof Island, when the McCulloch Peak explosion occurred.

Professor of Music at McGill.

Dr. Harry Crane Perrin, who has been appointed Professor of Music to the McGill University of Montreal, and Director of the Affiliated Conservatoire of the same city, has long been organist and choir-master at Canterbury Cathedral. Educated at Wellingborough Grammar School, Dr. Perrin studied music under Sir Robert Stewart, and took his degree of Doctor of Music and his F.R.C.O. at Trinity College, Dublin. He was organist of St. Colomba's College in that city some twenty years ago, and since then has served Lowestoft, Coventry and Canterbury in a similar capacity. Dr. Perrin has published several cantatas and songs, and he is still a young man, with a big musical future before him.

Pensions For Teachers.

The St. John School Teachers' Association recently adopted a pension scheme to submit to the Provincial Government. They suggest a pension of $400 for males and $250 for females, who have reached sixty years of age, and have taught thirty years. Those who have taught twenty years or more and are then incapacitated, may prove their case before the Government and receive a pension of as many thirtieths of the full pension as they have years of service. Teachers of grammar, superiors and holders of first and second-class licenses only are to be entitled to the pension. The teachers of the province will be asked to co-operate in asking the Government to adopt the plan and establish and pay the pensions.

George Fairweather, St. John, N. B. the twelve year old boy who cut his throat on Monday, died on Tuesday night.

Child Dying and Father Was Not There

With her two months' old child lying in a precarious condition, a young mother residing in East City on Friday evening sought the assistance of the police to locate her husband, who, she said, had not been home for several days, and she was at a loss to know where he was. Her child was seriously ill and she was then on her way to the doctor to bring him to the bedside of their child.

Saturday passed by and the father had not returned. No hope was held out for the child's recovery, but the mother's wish was that her husband would come home before the child died. The efforts to find the man were unsuccessful until late last night, but death had relieved the little sufferer a few hours before. The distress of the young mother can easily be imagined, but the kindness and sympathy of the neighbors and friends helped greatly to alleviate her sorrow.

Mr. J. B. Marion Was in the City

On Way From Montreal to Lindsay—Has Been in Search of Child

Mr. J. B. Marion, of Lindsay, was in the city this morning on his way from Montreal to Lindsay where he had been in search of his little adopted daughter, who was abducted a short time ago by the child's mother. Particulars of the affair are familiar to all readers of the daily press. The search that has been instituted for the child has been a most thorough one, but as yet she has not been recovered.

FOR PASSEPARTOUT WORK

The fad for passepartout pictures is again growing a favorite for pretty pictures and are always appreciated. One can always find room for a couple more on the walls and every one has their favorite subject. some like scenery, others historical subjects, many like kittens, and one boy in the city, has the walls of his bedroom fairly covered with pictures of dogs—small and large. When mounted on a suitable background and passepartouted they are very pretty and inexpensive to make up. The Review has a large stock of pictures in sepia and colors, mounting papers and passepartout to match. Call and see them at the REVIEW Office, Hunter street. 3d

Hit by Falling Plank.

Brockville, Dec. 2.—William D. Sands, aged 28, and a native of Virginia, was brought to the hospital here Saturday from Chesterville, where he was employed on the double-tracking of the C. P. R. between Smith's Falls and Montreal.

He was working under a bridge when a heavy plank fell from above, striking him in the abdomen. His injuries are of an internal nature, and very little hope is held out for his recovery.

Child's Skull Fractured.

Brockville, Dec. 2.—Phyllis, the little daughter of Dr. R. A. Bowie, lies in a precarious condition at her father's home, as a result of falling from the bannister at the third flight to the floor below, a distance of 25 feet Her skull was fractured in two places, and she has been unconscious since noon Saturday, when the accident occurred. The chances of recovery are slight.

FANCY POTTERY
All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.
GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

HARRIER CLUB
ATHLETIC MEET
Brock Street Rink
TUESDAY NIGHT, DEC. 3, 1907
Entries list will include best foot runners from Toronto, Hamilton, Peterborough and other cities.
TOM LONGBOAT WILL ATTEND
57th Regimental Band will provide music.
General Admission—East side, 25c; west side, 35c; reserved seats, 50c
Plan for reserved seats at Sanderson's
E. M. BEST, President R. M. GLOVER, Secretary

ALL THINGS ARE NOW READY
GEORGE R. RECORD
PRACTICAL
FRENCH DRY CLEANER AND PRESSER
Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments and Household Articles cleaned and guaranteed not to fade color or shrink any material. Charges moderate. Goods called for and delivered. Telephone 669.
NEW BRICK BLOCK, 173 SIMCOE ST.
Only Complete Dry Cleaning Plant In City

SAVE YOUR FURS
AND
FUR-LINED COATS
by having them cleaned by the
FRENCH DRY CLEANING
process, which kills all moths and does not injure in the slightest, the finest furs. This is very important at this season, and may mean the saving of the expense of buying new furs. None too fine for the process.
Dyeing, Cleaning, Pressing, and Repairing promptly and thoroughly done at
PARKER'S DYE WORKS
R. M. BEACH
PROPRIETOR.
Phone 250 177 Charlotte St

Money is Not Tight
On some of the property propositions we can offer you. We have some pretty locations where situation,price and terms are all to suit. Low priced houses, some of them brick and on good lots, $850 up
$1,000—Village store near the city, no competition. A good thing.
$1,600—Large modern, good looking brick house, south city.
$2,300—Very profitable apartment house renting to small families.
$1,800 and $2,350—Nice brick house, modern conveniences, well situated.
$3,000—Brick dwelling, stable, etc.; also some building lots. Just suit a retired farmer
$2,350 to $4,800—Beautiful residences on Gilmour, Homewood Ave., Weller, King, Water Sts, etc.
If you are thinking of going West we can show you something good in lands in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, with return ticket for selection trip. Farms for sale. Houses to rent.
BELL & TAYLOR
Real Estate. Fire Insurance
Office—376 Water Street.
Office Phone—498B House Phone 547B

HOCKEY
SKATES
From 75c to $5.00
Skates repaired and sharpened, General machine work.
METHEREL'S CYCLE WORKS
225 Hunter Street

Wood
POINT ST. CHARLES
Hemlock and Pine Slabs
Cedar Shingle Blocks
A. McDONALD Estate

ESTABLISHED 1879
J. R. HEINTZ & CO.
STOCKS, GRAIN, COTTON, COFFEE
J. N. BARBER, Manager
Phone 589

THE
DOMINION BANK
PAYS SPECIAL ATTENTION TO
SAVINGS ACCOUNTS
INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY
JOHN CRANE Manager
Corner George and Simcoe Sts.

SPECIAL TO SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS

GIFTS that will be appreciated by the children and yet not costly.

SHORT STORY BOOKS

1 in a book from 10 cts. to 25 cts. each. Better than making something which is not useful or not valued. See our stock.

F. C. CUBITT,
370 George Street, Peterborough
"CUBITT SELLS CHEAP"

Great Need for Mission Workers in the Northwest

Subject of Interesting Sermon by Rev. Dr. Tucker at St. Luke's Church—Thousands of Settlers Without a Preacher or a Church in Manitoba and Alberta.

The great and crying need for missionaries in Western Canada was presented in a striking and forcible manner to a large congregation at St. Luke's church yesterday morning by Rev. Dr. Tucker, of Toronto, secretary of the M.S.C.C. His sermon was a masterly discourse, and exceedingly interesting. "Behold, I set the land before you, go in and possess the land," found in the 8th verse of the first chapter of Deuteronomy, was the text on which the reverend gentleman based his remarks. "Let us try and study the great problem of the West, said the speaker. We hear of thousands of people pouring into that land, and we wonder where they are going and what are their needs." Leaving aside, Japan that fills such a large place in foreign mission work, China with its intelligent and virtuous people, in whom the speaker believed the destiny of the human race was bound up, India and Africa with their countless heathen, he drew attention to conditions in our own country. "Christ died for the whole world," continued the speaker, "but particularly interested should we be in the Christian welfare of our own relatives and friends who have made their homes in the Northwest. Christianity will either win over the heathen or the heathen will win the Christians, and those who have wandered into an uncultivated land must not be left to stray from the teachings of their youth which they received in their homes."

The speaker directed the thoughts of his congregation to one particular region in the West, on which he specially desired to speak. While New Ontario, Algoma, the Klondike, the Pacific Coast, with its mining, railway and logging camps, were deserving of hearty support, he wished to turn the eyes of those present to that fertile and promising land lying between Winnipeg and Edmonton in Manitoba and Alberta. "In these new and rich regions," he said, "are flocking thousands and thousands of immigrants each summer. Four years ago a vast tract of this country was unsettled. Since two years one hundred towns and three hundred rural communities have sprung up. The Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways opening up new roads will mean many more new towns. Realise these endless number of people without a pastor, without a church, and in many instances without a Sunday. Such is the problem of the West, and it must be given earnest consideration. Colonization companies and railways all are converging to this region," said Dr. Tucker, "and the Church must not neglect her children, who have chosen this land for their homes." The nation calls us to help, for are we not building up a strong and united country. Then there is the call of the Church, for it is our own fellow churchmen that are going to the West. "God calls us to this work said the reverend gentleman, and we are neglecting our duty to Him if we shirk it.

The eloquent preacher concluded by saying that in these days we are apt to give grudgingly to the cause of missions, but as the appeal comes home to each one, he must see there is no better way to spend money than in the upbuilding of a mighty nation.

Rev. Dr. Tucker addressed the scholars of St. Luke's Sunday School in the afternoon and in the evening preached to a large congregation at All Saints' Church.

News of the City Churches

MARK STREET CHURCH

The Epworth League meets to-night at 8 o'clock, followed by a meeting of the Finance committee of the church.

The usual prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, followed by a meeting of the men of the church for the purpose of organizing to take up some branch of church work.

A cottage prayer meeting will be held on Friday evening at the residence of Mr. Hatherly, James street.

CHARLOTTE ST. CHURCH

The Epworth League meets to-morrow night at 8 o'clock.

The Sabbath school committee meets to-morrow night at 8 o'clock.

The usual prayer service will be held on Wednesday at 8 o'clock.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

The session will hold a regular meeting this evening.

The regular weekly prayer service will be held on Wednesday evening.

Rev. Robert Pogue, the new pastor, will be inducted on Thursday evening.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold their regular monthly meeting on Friday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

On Monday evening next, Dec. 9th, the congregation will tender a reception to the new pastor and his wife. Refreshments will be served.

ALL SAINT'S CHURCH

The Women's and Girl's Guild of All Saints' church will meet to-night at 7.30 o'clock.

The Men's Association will meet to-morrow night at 8 o'clock.

The Junior Auxiliary will meet on Friday at 4 o'clock and the Senior Boy's club at 7.30 o'clock.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

The following meetings will be held at St. Luke's during the week:

Tuesday—The Confirmation class will meet in the infant class at 7 o'clock; the Girls' Auxiliary at 7.30 at the Rectory.

Wednesday—The annual meeting of the Mothers' Guild and election of officers will be held at 3 p.m.

8.00. Week night service will be held in the church. Brotherhood meeting and choir practice after the service.

Friday—The A.Y.P.A. will hold its regular meeting at 8 o'clock.

At the children's service in St. Luke's church yesterday, Rev. Dr. Tucker spoke to the Sunday School children.

Promotions took place at the Sunday School yesterday, and new classes were formed.

Dr. Langfeldt began a series of advent sermons last night on "Strong Foundations."

The New Pastor Has Arrived

Rev. Robert Pogue Will be Inducted at St. Paul's on Thursday

Rev. Robert Pogue, late of Philadelphia, the new pastor of St. Paul's church, arrived in the city today. He preached in Cooke's church, Toronto yesterday. He will be inducted as pastor of St. Paul's on Thursday evening next at 7.30 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Marsh, interim moderator of session, will preside. Rev. D. A. Thomson, of Hastings, will deliver the sermon. Rev. Wm. Johnston, of Millbrook, will deliver the charge to the pastor, and Rev. Dr. Talling to the people. Mr. Pogue will occupy the pulpit of St. Paul's on Sunday next at both services, and on the following Monday he and his wife will be tendered a reception by the congregation, for which the Ladies' Aid Societies are making elaborate preparations. Rev. Mr. Pogue's wife and family will reside in the residence lately occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morrow, corner of Downie and Brock streets.

MISSION BAND OF ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

Good Work Done During Past Year—$101 Was Raised.

The monthly meeting of St. Luke's Mission Band was held Friday afternoon, Mrs. W. J. Scott, the superintendent being in the chair. After devotional exercises Miss Lillian Rogers, the secretary, presented the annual report, which showed much good work done during the year, with an average attendance of 26 members at each meeting. Miss Edith Scott read the treasurer's report. During the year the Mission Band raised $101.00 for missionary purposes. At the meeting Friday $10 were voted to Northwest missions and $5.00 to special work in the Canadian mission field. Mrs. W. J. Scott called on the Rector to address the children. He paid glowing tribute to the energetic work of Mrs. Scott and he assistant, Mrs. G. R. Browning, and said that at no time had the Mission Band showed such marked progress in all departments as it had just now. He urged the children to do their work in the name and for the sake of the Lord Jesus Christ. This motive alone could make their work successful.

A programme consisting of the following numbers was then presented:—

Piano solo.—Miss Alice Neil.
Vocal solo.—Miss Prudence Long.
Reading.—Miss Reta Gaskins.
Recitation.—Miss Alma Curtis.
Piano solo.—Miss Marjorie Kennedy.
Recitation.—Miss Eunice Curtis.
Song.—Miss Marjorie Kennedy.
Recitation.—Miss Wilhelmine Gaskins.

Mrs. Gaskins, President of of the W. A., and Mrs. Browning, both added some words of encouragement. Refreshments were served and a pleasant hour spent. The meetings will be resumed again the third Friday in January.

CONVENTION AT LAKEFIELD

A large number of the members of the Epworth League of George Street church are going to Lakefield to-night, to attend the Epworth League district convention, which is being held there. The party is going out in busses. It is expected that a large number will be in attendance at the meeting to-night.

Special Services at S. A. Barracks

Dedication of Infant Last Evening—Twenty-four Converts Yesterday

At the Salvation Army barracks yesterday evening there were about four hundred in the meeting and a very profitable time was spent. In all yesterday there were twenty-four converts, a remarkable showing in one day. The addresses given by Staff-Capt. Goodwin, both morning and evening roused many of her hearers and they decided to lead better lives. A special dedication service was held last night, in which the infant child of Bandsman and Mrs. Sargeant was dedicated after the custom of the Salvation Army. Staff-Capt. Goodwin conducted the service.

LISTEN TO THIS

Thousands Will Benefit if Statement Made is Only Partly True.

It may be that some persons will be inclined to doubt the statement made by an eminent authority, at a recent meeting, that with a mixture of dandelion, kargon and sarsaparilla, he would give prompt relief to any sufferer of rheumatism or the usual forms of backache, caused by inactive, clogged kidneys, at many cases of long standing that had been entirely relieved were cited to prove the truth of his assertion. The same authority further stated that many cases which failed to yield to the healing waters of the famous health resorts, or the usual remedies as prescribed, salicylate of soda, potash, colchicum, etc.—were readily relieved by the use of this simple mixture—Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful dose after meals and at bedtime.

A well-known druggist, when approached upon the subject, stated that while this prescription, as written, is new, the ingredients are continually prescribed by the best physicians, and any good prescription pharmacy has them; they are inexpensive and harmless to use, and are mixed by shaking well in a bottle.

If the claims, made for this mixture, are only partly correct, it would seem that no sufferer here could afford to leave the prescription untried.

MR. KIPLING'S CANADIAN TOUR

Ontario and all Eastern Canada is deeply disappointed that Mr. Kipling upon the occasion of his recent visit to Canada, should have only seen "The West From a Car Window," and the East not at all. The older provinces are always proud and never jealous of the West, into which they are sending their shekels and their sons. With all his powers as a word painter, it is hardly to be expected that Mr. Kipling can do justice to all of Canada. He has not seen the thriving towns and cities of Ontario, with its splendid railways, mills and manufacturing industries. He had only a fleeting glimpse of Toronto, and saw nothing of the score or more other industrial centres of the Dominion. It is too bad, Canadians believe, that he should have spent the most of the time which he was able to give to the study of conditions in the Dominion to the troubled shores of the Pacific. With no desire to minimise the seriousness of the labor disturbances out there, or to disguise the fact that Canada is in sore need of more men to carry forward the work in hand, Canadians would have been proud of some pen pictures by Mr. Kipling of the industrial East, where the people are prosperous and happy. This conviction is by no means local—it is widespread, universal. ("Canada," London, Eng., Nov. 16th, 1907.)

TROOPER BRACE AT PARK STREET

Inspiring Services Conducted by the Son of the Pastor.

Large congregations greeted Trooper Rev. A. J. Brace at the Park street Baptist church yesterday. It was refreshing to witness the south African veteran renewing the old acquaintances of the veldt and also to see the local Y.M.C.A. workers gather around an expert among young men from the Pacific Coast. He was also fresh and enthused from the late Council of war in Washington. By request he based his morning sermon on the 27th Psalm, which is a war psalm. This was the identical one that he read on the eventful morning when six of the 2nd C.M.R. engaged a company of Boers in deadly combat and two of their number were shot and the other four were captured after an unequal fight of five hours at odds of 10 to1. The sermon bristled with incidents and many were in tears during the delivery.

At night the sermon was taken from Psalm 119-165. "Great peace have they which love thy law." Trooper Brace showed the preciousness and value of the Bible and said that eight thousand three hundred Y.M.C.A. centres were teaching its life giving truths. Two thousand delegates from all parts met at Washington last week 6000 men gathered to listen to a gospel address from Fred B. Smith, 400 workers were placed in position for work. At the after meeting 203 men professed conversion. During the day 10 centres were occupied by different Y.M.C.A. speakers and 700 hundred converts were reported. As a result 100,000 heard the Gospel in 3 days The day was full of inspiration.

The preacher sang a solo, "Jesus will hold thy hand," and the congregation joined in the refrain.

Mr. Brace left on the G.T.R. flyer at 7.20 this morning en route for Victoria, B.C.

Mr. Maplesden to Give Addresses

Mr. W. J. Maplesden, of Buffalo, returned to the city on Saturday and preached last night in Gospel Hall. He will leave here on Thursday morning for Buffalo, but before going he will give three addresses in the hall on the "Holy Spirit, His Person and work." In view of the many claims that are rife to-day concerning this most mysterious person all who are in any way interested should hear Mr. Maplesden, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 8 o'clock.

CANADIAN CLUB LUNCHEON

The executive of the Canadian Club has decided to have plain luncheons, to cost each member 50 cents. The speaker will be introduced by the president of the club, Mr. F. D. Kerr, and Prof. Shortt will be the only one to address the club. Only members will be permitted to attend. The membership tickets are $1.00 and may be procured from the following:—

F. D. Kerr.
D. O'Connell.
Dr. Cameron.
R. E. Layfield.
T. F. Matthews.
J. H. Larmonth.
J. Crane.
D. Hughes-Charles.
H. LeBrun.
H. R. H. Kenner.

Fort William Has Landed the Car Industry

Work on the Plant Will be Commenced in a Few Days

Fort William, Dec. 2nd.—Fort William Car Company, Limited which has been promoted by C. E. W. Smith, of the Carnegie Trust Company, of New York, has about completed the sale of the company's bond issue of $1,200,000 to a foreign syndicate, will be fully organized in a few days and work on the plant begun here.

A. H. Sisson, now general manager off the St. Louis Car Works, will have charge of the concern, and with him will be associated as sales agent R. W. Morrison, of the same concern, who sold to the Argentine Republic alone last year cars to the value of $1,500,000.

Mr. Smith says Fort William was selected because the three big railways advised it. Operations will be begun next September, with an output of twenty-five freight cars daily. but passengers coaches will also be turned out after the first year's operations and General Manager Sisson is authority for the statement that from one to two thousand men will be employed, all of whom will be skilled mechanics.

ARE MAKING ONE HUNDRED TOBOGGANS

The tobogganing season will soon be here, and this fascinating sport promises to have greater popularity in Peterborough than in any past years. The slide at Jackson Park will soon be in readiness and devotees of the sport are already getting their toboggans in shape.

To meet the local demand for toboggans, the Peterborough Canoe Company are manufacturing one hundred this season. The making of toboggans has become an important line with the Canoe Company, and they manufacture a large number each year.

QUARTER SESSIONS OPEN NEXT WEEK

The Quarter Sessions of the County Court will open on Tuesday next before His Honor Judge Weller.

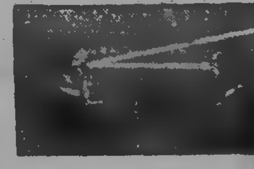
TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c

AT THE HOME OFFICE

On account of the illness of an optician in Orillia, Dr, Browett has cancelled appointments and is pleased to announce that he will be continuously at his home office until after Xmas. Appointments for eye examination are being made daily at our store.

P. S. This store will hereafter be open until ten o'clock every night and appointments for eye examinations can be made until that hour.

McDERMID & JURY, Druggists, Peterboro.



A Good Provider; Wife Could Work

Mr. Tom Millen, who has recently returned from Toronto, says that in the case of many people who find themselves destitute in the winter months they are altogether to blame themselves. He cites an instance of the case of a man who came to this country some months ago. He was making good wages in Toronto, but spent it all to a great extent in beer and cigarettes. A wife and four children are coming to Canada this winter and the father of the family will not have the means to provide for their support. He is of such a shiftless and indolent nature that when he was questioned as to what he was going to do to support them during the winter he said that "the woman could work."

STEAMSHIP MOVEMENTS

Special to the Review.

Montreal, Quebec, November 30th.—The Empress of Ireland sailed from St. John this morning at six-thirty o'clock with about fifteen hundred passengers on board.

Customs Returns for November

The customs receipts for the month have been issued, and while they do not come up to the amount of the corresponding month of 1906, they are a very creditable showing. The total receipts for the month are $30,295.99, a decrease of about $2,000 as compared with last year. It is altogether probable that this decrease is owing to the present stringency of the money market.

NEW PICTURES

We have just received a splendid line of pictures including.—

STEEL ENGRAVINGS
ENGLISH CARBONS,
WATER COLORS, Etc.

We invite your inspection of these while stock is complete. We also have the latest ideas in Picture, Mouldings and can frame your pictures on short notice

R. J. SODEN
369 George Street

Wild Geese Flew Over the City

Mr. A. H. Webb, Sherbrooke street, saw a flock of wild geese soaring over his place this morning, between eight and nine o'clock. The birds were flying in a southerly direction. This is an unusual sight at this time of the eyar.

There are 85 applications to the Clerk of the Commons for private legislation.

PREPARE FOR WINTER

BY SECURING A HOME FROM J. T. O'CONNELL & CO

2 STOREY RED BRICK HOUSE, 8 rooms, bath, light. Price on easy terms of payment	$2500
2 STOREY SOLID RED BRICK HOUSE, 7 rooms, light, city water, woodshed, drive shed, stable (new.) Price	$2750
2 STOREY BRICK, central, 7 rooms, bath, light, gas, furnace, nice lawn. Price on easy terms of payment	$2650
5 ROOMED FRAME HOUSE, stable, 2 acres of land near city. Price	$775

Several choice building lots on easy terms of payment. For prices and further particulars call at

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.
REAL ESTATE AGENTS
Phone 376. 136 Hunter St.

NOW IN FULL SWING

$100.00 In Rewards For Selling The "Review"
IN COLD CASH

This Grand Competition began Tuesday evening, October 8th, and will close December 31st, (New Year's Eve.) Boys carrying routes, boys selling to customers, boys selling on the street, boys who have never sold papers, are all urged to get up and get. Parents can let the little fellows come to THE REVIEW Office after school, and they will be taken care of—not allowed to stay in a dingy cellar or out on the street in the cold. Papers will be ready sharp after 4 o'clock each day. COME ON, BOYS! HERE'S A SURE THING!

Twenty-Six Prizes 26 Twenty-Six Prizes

To the twenty-six boys getting the largest number of New Customers for THE DAILY REVIEW:

1st PRIZE—$30.00 in Cash, or a high-grade 1908 Bicycle, worth $55.00 as winner may prefer.
2nd PRIZE—$20.00 in Cash, or Fur Goods to the value of $30.00, as preferred.
3rd PRIZE—$10.00 Cash, or $15.00 worth in China, dinner or tea set, or as selected.
4th PRIZE—$8.00 Cash, or $10.00 worth of goods of any kind, as selected.
5th PRIZE—$5.00 Cash.
6th PRIZE—$4.00 Cash.
7th PRIZE—$3.00 Cash.
8th to 12th PRIZES—$2.00 Cash. Five prizes of $2.00 each.
13th to 22nd PRIZES—$1.00 Cash. Ten prizes of $1.00 each.

NOTE—The option, cash or goods, in the first four prizes, is made in case the parents of the boys winning either of the prizes should prefer the larger amount in goods instead of cash.

Any boy may buy REVIEWS and sell—the more the merrier. The girls have an equal chance with the boys, and will be welcome.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES—Every boy who brings in a paid-up subscription to THE DAILY REVIEW for three months will receive a bonus of 20 cents; for six months a bonus of 40 cents; for a year a bonus of $1.00.

HERE'S A WEEKLY REWARD—In addition, every boy who buys one paper or more each night of the week, (six papers), will receive once each week, during this competition,

A FREE TICKET TO THE CRYSTAL MOVING PICTURES

See, Boys! You have a paid admission to this beautiful entertainment, even if you do no more than buy one paper each night. This privilege has been secured for you exclusively by THE REVIEW.

PLENTY OF TIME YET TO GET INTO THE COMPETITION AND WIN A BIG PRIZE

LEARN DRESS-MAKING BY MAIL
In your spare time at home, or
Take a Personal Course at School.

To enable all to learn we teach on cash or instalment plan. We also teach a personal class at school once a month. Class commencing last Tuesday of each month. These lessons teaches how to cut, fit and put together any garment from the plainest shirt waist suit, to the most elaborate dress. The whole family can learn from one course. We have taught over seven thousand dress-making, and guarantee to give five hundred dollars to any one that cannot learn between the age of 14 and 40. You cannot learn dress-making as thorough as this course teaches if you work in shops for years. Beware of imitations as we employ no one outside the school. This is the only experienced Dress Cutting School in Canada and excelled by none in any other country. Write at once for particulars, as we have cut our rate one-third for a short time. Address:—

SANDERS' DRESS-CUTTING SCHOOL,
31 Erie St., Stratford. Ont., Canada.

Memorial to Dr. Barnardo

Grave of Poor Boys' Friend Will be Marked by a Monument

London, Dec. 1.—An imposing memorial is to be erected over the grave Dr. Barnardo. The work has been entrusted to Mr. George Frampton, R. A., who hopes to have it completed for unveiling on "Founders Day" next year. By his own special desire Dr. Barnardo was buried in the centre of the green at the model village of Barkingside, Essex, which he created. At present the grave is covered by a plain stone slab. The memorial is to be fifteen feet in height. On the summit of the stone pedestal is a bronze group of three figures, a mother and children, symbolizing "Protection." A portrait medallion of Dr. Barnardo is at the side, and at the base, three children are seated.

Even Stratford Has Taken Notice

Classic City Newspaper Comments on Local Scribe's Handcuff Feats

The Stratford Herald says. — John Hogan, a reporter on one of the Peterborough papers, while fooling with a pair of handcuffs at the police head quarters the other day, managed to get them locked on him. There were no keys at the station, and he had to walk all the way up town to the Chief's house before he was released. Peterborough news people must be pretty bad, but we never thought they were so wicked the handcuffs would close on one of them automatically. Better fight shy of ropes, John or you might possibly get hanged some day.

Looked for Work Unable to get it

Two Men Tramp From Peterboro' to Kingston

Kingston, Dec. 2.—Two men were before the police magistrate to-day as vagrants and swore they had tramped all the way from Peterborough, looking for work in every place on the way down to this city and found none. They were no better off here, and in their fruitless quest were arrested for vagrancy. They were allowed to remain in police quarters

HOW'S THIS

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

W.C.T.U. Outlines Work for the Year

Gospel Temperance Will be Leading Part of Organization's Effort

The W.C.T.U. met Friday afternoon at the Y.M.C.A. Owing to a mistake in the announcement of the hour of meeting the attendance was small.

The Union decided to meet the last Friday of each month at the Y.M.C.A. the use of which the Board has kindly granted.

The Christian women of Peterborough are impressed with the need of some form of Gospel temperance work and decided to make this the leading department of their work, which will be under the superintedency of Mrs. James Kendry.

Other departments to be taken up up are:—

Scientific temperance instruction—Dr. Jessie Birnie, supt.

Press work and literature. — Miss Bryant, Supt.

Proportionate and systematic giving.—Mrs. A. R. Campbell, Supt

Work in Sabbath schools. Not appointed.

Prison and reformatory work.—Not appointed.

The topic for the next meeting is: "How the liquor traffic affects foreign Missions."

Mrs. W. C. Ackerman will have charge of the music.

Ald. Geary says he will remain in the Toronto mayoralty field, even if Dr. Beattie Nesbitt is a candidate.

On Charge of Incendiarism; Man is Arrested in Port Hope

Thomas Kow Confesses to Acts of Incendiarism.

Sets Fire to Large Barn Near Port Hope — Nine Horses With Many Cattle and Hogs Burned to Death —Man Says He Did It to Get In Jail—Thought to Be of Unsound Mind.

Port Hope, Dec. 2.—Thomas Kow, a French-Canadian, thirty-nine years of age, who speaks broken English and says that his home is at 505 Notre Dame street, Montreal, is now in the cells here charged with incendiarism.

About five o'clock yesterday morning a large frame barn belonging to John Harcourt at Port Britain, about three miles west of Port Hope, was set on fire, and in spite of all that could be done by neighbors was completely destroyed with its entire contents, consisting of twenty-six head of cattle, twenty hogs, nine horses and the year's crop of grain.

Immediately afterwards a straw stack some distance away belonging to Bill Brown was set on fire and burned. Sculthorpe and Dickinson, two farmers, who had been attracted to the first fire, noticed tracks leading from the barn. They easily followed them through the fresh snow that had fallen during the night. The tracks led to the straw stack and from there to the school-house. Thence they followed the footsteps to Wesleyville, where they saw Kow ahead of them.

When he saw them coming he stepped into the ditch at the side of the road and waited for them, but offered no resistance and was brought to Port Hope. There he was placed in the cells by Chief Bond. Speaking to a reporter Kow told an extraordinary story, and there is some doubt as to whether he is of sound mind. He says that he was on his way to Kingston from Toronto, and that he deliberately set fire to the barn and strawstack for the purpose of being sent to jail. He says that he also tried to set fire to the school-house, but did not succeed in doing so. He says that he has served eight months in jail at Ottawa for stealing $50, and also four months in Montreal for assault upon a girl. There was but $400 insurance on Mr. Harcourt's barn.

Local Labor Conditions as Reported to Labor Gazette

Labor Market Was Well Supplied, and Harmony Prevailed Between Employers and Employees—Conditions in the Different Trades.

The Labor Gazette for November contains the following report from the Peterborough correspondent, Ald. W. J. Johnston:

GENERAL ppCONDITION OF THE LABOR MARKET.

All branches of labor, both inside and outside, were well employed. Sewer work and the laying of pipes were still under way, and will be until the frost sets in. Granolithic sidewalks are also still being laid; about six miles of these walks have been laid this season, leaving three miles to be completed next year. The dredging of the river bed has been in full progress during the month, giving employment to large numbers of workmen. Considerable improvement work has been done in different places on the Trent Canal and is still being carried on.

The contract for the erection of a new Roman Catholic church has been awarded; the church will cost about $14,000. Work on the erection of Mann's new bakery building has been commenced. The firm of J. J. Turner and Sons have been awarded the contract for supplying the flags for all the rural schools in the Province of Ontario. The Quaker Oats Company has advanced, the price of cereal packages from 25 cents to 30 cents; the reason assigned for the increase is the present high price of oats and other grain.

Houses in Peterborough were more plentiful, but there are not enough houses at about $10 per month to meet the demand. The city assessment, now totals $10,000,000, being an increase over last year of $2,602,030. The population is 16,000. an increase of 1,038 over that of last year. There are 932 telephones in use in Peterborough. The Bell Telephone Company has completed its conduits for underground wires. Exports and imports have been very heavy during the month. Banks reported business steady. Wholesale and retail tradde has been excellent. All industries were running full time with full forces of employees. Flour had advanced in price from $2.70 to $2.80, and bread from 10 to 11 cents for a 3 lb. loaf, also milk from 6 to 7 cents a quart, and harmony prevailed between employers and employees.

CONDITION OF LOCAL INDUSTRIES.

Agriculture—Fall ploughing, the sowing of fall wheat, threshing, hauling of grain to market, etc., have been the principal employment of agriculturists.

Fishing—This industry was active.

Lumbering—Conditions were very active. The Cavendish Lumber Company has 300 men employed in its camps, and expect to cut about 12,000 feet of lumber this season.

Manufacturing—All industrial establishments were active.

Mining.—The surveying and testing of mineral lands throughout the district were being carried on, and it is reported that active operations will shortly begin in several places.

Railroad Construction and Employment.—Th efilling in of the viaducts at Port Hope gave employment to large numbers of workmen.

The Street Railway Company has been busily engaged getting its line in good shape for the winter.

CONDITION OF PARTICULAR TRADES.

Building—Busy condition prevailed.

Metal, Engineering and Shipbuilding.—Iron moulders, steam engineers ,blacksmiths, tool sharpeners and jewellers were active. Iron workers and helpers, machinists and engineers and sheet metal workers were busy, and electrical workers, tinsmen and brass workers were very busy; but bicycle workers and horseshoers found employment somewhat dull.

Woodworking and Furnishing.—Upholsters, varnishers ,polishers, carriage workers and coopers were busy, with patternmakers active and car builders dull.

Printing—The allied trades were active.

Clothing—Journeymen tailors had inactive employment; garment workers ,hat makers ,boot and shoe workers were busy.

Food and Tobacco Preparation—Bakers, confectioners, butchers, etc., were busy; cigar makers and tobacco workers active; and ice handlers were dull.

Leather—Harness makers and those employe dmaking collars were busy.

Miscellaneous—All were busy, with barbers active.

Transport—Steam railroad employees ,street railway employees and steamboat men were active.

Unskilled.—Busy conditions prevailed.

DISTRICT NOTES.

The fairs in nearly all the rural districts have been a success. The apple crop was a good one, and buyers were busy picking and shipping. The threshing machines were busy throughout the district ,grains yielding fairly well, though not as well as last season. The root crop was a good one. Cheese reached 12 9-16c. per pound. Rural saw and grist mills were busy, and country general stores reported business good. Market quotations were as follows:—Wheat, $1.05 ;oats, 55 cents per bushel; butter, 30 to 35 cents per pound; eggs, 30 cents per dozen; potatoes, $1 per bag, and hay $20 to $22 per ton.

Port Perry—A new industry for the manufacture of all kinds of clothing to employ about 50 workpeople, has commenced operations. Children over 14 years of age can earn $3 per week, nad more experienced help $10 per week, The hours are from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Kendry Station—The new freight sheds were about completed.

Campbellford—A bylaw to raise $80,000 for the erection of an electrical power pumping plant, to be controlled by the municipality, was carried by a vote of 296 for and 11 against.

MAKING CHANGE TO PREMISES

Ald. Johnston Doing Work in Port Hope and for the Turnbull Co.

Ald. W. J. Johnston, who has been doing contract work in Port Hope for the Traders' Bank, is in the city today. The bank is taking in a store adjoining, and will have fine premises when completed.

Ald. Johnston has also alterations to make to store recently vacated by Adamson and Dobbin on Simcoe street, for the J. C. Turnbull Company. The latter will soon occupy this additional floor space, which will give them much needed room.

PARLOR SOCIAL AT THE RECTORY

Girls' Auxiliary Provided Highly Enjoyable Evening

A large number of friends were present Friday night at St. Luke's rectory to attend the parlor social held under the auspices of the Girl's Auxiliary. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt acted as chairman and announced the following programme:—

Vocal solo.—Miss Ruth Dawson.
Recitation.—Miss Alma Carter.
Vocal Solo.—Mr. Kenneth Shook.
Recitation.—Miss Bessie Powell.
Vocal solo.—Miss King.
Vocal solo.—Mr. Watt.
Recitation.—Miss Bessie Powell.
Vocal Solo.—Mr. Kenneth Shook.

Miss Florence Butcher, Miss English and Miss Tully acted as accompanists.

A candy table was presided over by Miss Electa Strong and Miss Maud Stewart. All were delighted with the success of the social.

At Guysboro, N.S., Bernard Clinton remanded to jail for trial in the supreme court on a charge of sheep stealing, committed suicide, by taking carbolic acid.

BEER BUILDS BODIES

PURITY
Ontario beers are pure, above all else—far more pure than most of the milk sold in cities, because made under conditions of absolute hygiene.

FOOD-VALUE
Boiled potatoes contain not nearly the nutriment that is in pure beer; milk will not feed most folks so well, nor digest so thoroughly.

LAZY stomachs mean poor digestions — they don't work hard enough to extract the good of one's food.

Beer* is a food-drink that makes the stomach do its work better, because it increases the flow of the digestive juices and gives the stomach muscles more strength to do their work.

Beer* is better for run-down people than medicine; and for thin-blooded people nothing else will enrich the blood so surely and quickly.

Ask your own doctor if you hadn't better drink beer with your meals.

*BEER is a term which covers lager, ales, porter, and stout; and, in the practise of Ontario brewers, implies beverages made under most hygienic conditions, from Ontario barley (the best in the world) malt, hops, and pure water. 3

AMUSEMENTS

JAMESON LEE FINNEY IN "THE MAN ON THE BOX."

When Jameson Lee Finney makes his visit ot this city in the much talked about comedy, "The Man on the Box," which will be at the Grand, Wednesday, Dec. 4th, local local playgoers will have the privilege of not only seeing one of the best advertised comedy plays of recent years, but will at the same time see a young comedian whose ability has given him high rank among the really great actors of this present time. Mr. Finney has achievedd unusual distinction for one of his years. Mr. Finney is under the management of Walter N. Lawrence, one of the prominent New York producing managers. "The Man on the Box," as all know, who have read Harold McGrath's novel, depicts an unusual love romance at Washington, D.C. In being unusual, it is by no means unnatural, but because it is unusual is what makes it all the more entertaining. Mr. Finney plays the part of a prominent young army officer, who perpetrates a joke upon a young lady with whom he is in love by assuming the position of her coachman. A great many society girls throughout the country have of recent years come into public notice in consequence of their having married the family coachman. These are the tragedies of life; Mr. Finney in "The Man on the Box," makes it one of the comedies of life, consequently it amuses, entertains and puts playgoers in a good humor, and after all, that is usually the test of a popular play. Mr. Finney comes here with a first class company, of which Miss Elsie Leslie is the leading woman.

JIM, THE SECOND

There's joy in the Sheehy family, and why shouldn't there be? The following verses from the versatile pen of Charles J. O'Malley, an American newspaper man, will explain the reason of their rejoicing. Mr. Sheehy is a former Peterborough boy, and this place is his home town. The verses are;—

He has arrived, and he's him!
Who? Sheehy's first baby boy, Jim.
There's joy, now, out on all Wayne,
They're quaffing potations like rain.
They're making it powerful plain
That they're glad to the point of all tee-hee
Because of that little boy Sheehy.

New partner for publisher Hyland,
He'll push and he'll kick, and he'll smile and He'll shout, and he'll howl ,and I guess
He'll sure be a screaming success—
The boss of the firm, nothing less.
Ochone! when he's ris on his merry,
He'll make as much rechet as Jerry.

Wirrasthrue, here's a health to his mother!
And a health to Jimmy and t'other!
Sure, now, there's new life in the firm,
And poets and authors will squirm
Writing books to the end of the term,
For he has arrived, and 'tis Him,
Jim Sheehy's great baby boy Jim!

CHAS. J. O'MALLEY.

AUSTRALIANS WANT CANADIAN HEADACHE CURE

When the family of Mr. A. O. Norton, the Jack manufacturer, of Boston, and owner of the King copper mine, in this province, were travelling in Europe last year, they met a party of people from Australia, several of whom were suffering during their travels from severe headaches. It appears that Mr. Norton and his family also carry a supply of Zutoo Tablets, the well known Canadian headache cure, and that Miss Norton distributed some of these Tablets among the Australians. Now she is receiving letters from people in Australia asking where they can get a supply of the tablets which they found so effectual in curing their headaches, and at the same time so harmless. We might add that these are the same Zutoo Tablets advertised in our columns.

The York county council has decided to abolish the rewards for the conviction of automobilists.

JAP LABOR WAS FOR C. P. R.

Reason Disclosed For Rush of Asiatics to Canada.

Vancouver, Dec. 2.—Drafts of five-year contracts now in force between Gotch and six corporations for the supply of Japanese labor were presented at the closing session Saturday of Commissioner King's investigation.

The two principal ones were those signed by Governor James Dunsmuir for the Wellington Coal Co. and that of the C. P. R. The others were: Macdonell, Gzowski & Co., British Columbia General Contract Co. and two saw mills. Gotch made a hard fight against the presentation of these contracts, but it was urged that unless he presented them Governor Dunsmuir, Marpole, for the C. P. R., and others would be called to testify.

In the contract of the Wellington colliery, 500 miners are to be employed, the total wages being paid to the Canadian Nippon Co., at a rate from $1.35 to $1.90 per day. The Canadian Nippon Co. is to receive $5 for each man supplied. An agreement with the C. P. R. is similar, lasting till 1919, at similar wages, the Japs being entitled to free transportation and low freight rates. Here is a summary of the results of the investigation, although Commissioner King's report probably will not be ready for a week.

That no one is promoting a Chinese or Hindu invasion; the Japs' Boarding-house Association is responsible for the influx from Hawaii; the Canadian Nippon Co. frankly admits having brought in 1,400 laborers, 40 being supplied to the Wellington Colliery Co., 15 to the British Columbia General Contracting Co., and over one thousand to the C. P. R.

GREATER OTTAWA.

Eight Thousand People Will Be Added to the Capital.

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—The boundaries of Ottawa will be largely extended in the near future. Ottawa East has just agreed upon annexation with the city on terms of fixed assessment for eight years, and no taxation of improvements. Rideauville and Ottawa South decided Saturday upon annexation if the same terms can be arranged. To-day Hintonburg will pass upon the question, and there is little doubt that it will be carried.

The additional population to the city will be about 8,000, but these suburbs are remarkably progressive, and have been growing fast this last few years.

FATAL FIRE AT CONVENT.

Catholic Church Suffers Heavy Loss at Covington—Priest Burned.

Covington, La., Dec. 2.—One life is known to have been lost, and over $100,000 worth of property was destroyed in a fire near here Saturday, when St. Joseph's Academy, St. Joseph's Convent, St. Joseph's Monastery and St. Joseph's Catholic Church were burned. All of these institutions occupied a lot together near Covington. When the ruins were searched the charred body of Rev. Joseph Buck, who was attached to the academy, was found.

The fire which started in the dormitory of St. Joseph's Academy, was caused by a radiator becoming too hot. There were 110 students in the academy when the alarm was started, and many of them had narrow escapes, but Rev. Mr. Buck is believed to have been the only one to lose his life.

The buildings were all practically new. Father Buck's library, containing over 8,000 valuable works and that of the students with 1,000, were destroyed.

Soo Forgers Sentenced.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Dec. 2.—Harry Smith and Harry Howard, recently arrested for passing bogus checks here, were sentenced Saturday by Magistrate Elliott. Smith drew two years at the Central Prison, Toronto. Howard got seven years for carrying explosives, three years for having burglar tools in his possession, and five years for burglary, the sentences to run concurrently.

Smith refused to reveal his real name. He is afraid the blow would kill his aged mother, who lives somewhere in England.

Was Chinaman Bowstrung.

Vancouver, Dec. 2.—A sensational story surrounds the mysterious death of a Chinaman, named Ah Chong, who was in jail awaiting trial on a charge of theft. His body was found leaning against a window ledge in the lavatory by the acting jailer and a trusty.

The trusty says that when he touched the body it fell into his arms. The story is now rife that the trusty says he cut a noose off the Chinaman's neck. The report is that the Chinaman was bowstrung.

Hanged With Clothesline.

New York, Dec. 2.—Despondent over the fact that he had failed to withdraw in time a considerable sum he is said to have had on deposit in the suspended Borough Bank of Brooklyn, George Fruitman, aged 32, a diamond-polisher, committed suicide Saturday night by hanging himself with a piece of clothesline at his home in Brooklyn.

Speaker Cannon Re-nominated.

Washington, Dec. 2.—In the caucus of the Republican members of the House Saturday night, Speaker Cannon was re-nominated for Speaker. All the old members of the House also were re-nominated. The caucus refused to seat Peter A. Potter of the 34th New York district, who was elected as an independent.

Copper Dividend Dwindling.

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 2.—The Calumet and Arizona Mining Co. declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share Saturday as compared with $5 three months ago. The heavy cut is said to be due to the drop in the price of copper and inability to sell the product readily.

Dr. J. Alexander Hewett, formerly of Morristown, Ontario, is dead in Saskatchewan.

COAL-CARTAGE
ONTARIO COAL CO. LIMITED PETERBORO
Best Hard COAL $7.50 per ton
No. 2 Nut COAL $6.50 per ton
Butts or English Cannel COAL $7.50 per ton
HEAD OFFICE AND YARDS: 160 Aylmer Street Phone 116
CITY OFFICE: 387 Water St. PHONES: Bell 325. Machine 325
ONTARIO COAL CO., Limited
A. J. McCLELLAN C. CURRIER G. K. RACKHAM

PEACE IN PORTUGAL.

Reports as to Civil War Prove to Be Baseless.

Lisbon, Dec. 2.—The baseless character of the alarmist rumors representing that Portugal was on the eve of civil war, and revolution has been fully established by the independent investigation of a staff correspondent of the Associated Press.

There never seems to have been the slightest excuse for the stories circulated from the frontier that the King was a prisoner in the castle, that the crown prince had been banished, and that the navy had mutinied.

A strong suspicion exists that such reports were part of a campaign of Premier Franco's enemies, instituted in order to create distrust abroad in the country's financial position, and thus discredit and bring about the downfall of the Premier at home.

Nothing could be more peaceful than the appearance of the country through which the Associated Press correspondent traveled from Madrid to Lisbon. Not the remotest evidence of popular excitement or agitation was observable.

In Lisbon business moves on in the traditional dreamy Portuguese fashion. The King drives and walks daily unattended, and Saturday night occupied his box at the opera. Franco, "the dictator," also goes abroad unmolested.

THE CURE FOR IRELAND.

Self-Government as It Exists In Canada, Says Redmond.

London, Dec. 2.—(C. A. P.)—John Redmond, speaking at Glasgow, drew a direct analogy between the political position of Canada and Ireland. The remedy which made the Dominion prosperous and happy was that which Ireland needed, he said. He pointed out the divergence between the French and British in Canada was much greater than between the Catholics and Unionists in Ireland, yet Sir Wilfrid Laurier enjoyed the confidence of both the former to a remarkable degree. He expressed his appreciation of Canadian support of home rule for Ireland.

Cunard Line to Canada.

London, Dec. 2.—A correspondent of the Canadian Associated Press, wiring from Liverpool, says it is more than probable that the Cunard Co. in the very near future will secure a share of the emigration traffic to Canada, as it is understood negotiations are now going on regarding the Cunard line running steamers direct to Canada. It is believed that the traffic the Cunard Co. seek a share of is continental.

A Melbourne cable says that Premier Deakin, speaking at the Imperial Federation League, said a solution of the question of the adjustment of relations between the Mother Country and the dominions overseas is necessary and would no doubt be reasonably dealt with. In the meantime it was desirable that principles should be laid down.

Illicit Liquor Seized.

Kenora, Dec. 2.—Over thirty gallons of liquor, seized by the Dominion police along the G. T. P. construction line, were poured down a sewer. The most ingenious ways of smuggling the liquor into camps are being resorted to, and the police have a difficult task in suppressing the illicit trade.

To make matters worse, Indians, who refuse to tell where they obtain the liquor, are engaged in smuggling, and during the past week two of them were sentenced to three months each for the offence.

Fell Dead In Quarrel.

Quebec, Dec. 2.—Theodore Tanguay, an engineer, 60 years old, residing on Wolfe street, Levis, went into a young men's club at Levis Saturday night, about 11 o'clock, and quarrelled with a man named Wagner. During the quarrel he fell heavily on the ground with Wagner upon him, and when Wagner got up they found that Tanguay was dead.

St. Mary's Power Bylaw.

St. Mary's, Ont., Dec. 2.—It is announced that a debenture bylaw for $20,000 will be sufficient to cover the cost of a distribution plant here for Niagara power. This is $10,000 less than was first estimated.

Hon. R. L. Borden had a fine reception in Ottawa on Wednesday night.

EGGS
FOR SALE by the case
Fresh and Pickled Choice Stock at our warehouse, Robinson Street, East City
Scott&Hogg
PHONE 264, BOTH PHONES

PRICE OF Coal FOR OCTOBER IS $7.50 Ton, cash with order
THE PETERBORO FUEL & CARTAGE CO LIMITED.
162 Charlotte-st. Telephones—(Bell) 261, 270. (Machine)—270.
134 Aylmer-st. Tel. (Bell) 362.

D.L. & W'S SCRANTON COAL

SOLD BY R. HICKS & CO. AT $7.50 Per Ton
for Month of October, in lots of not less than half ton.
This is the Standard Anthracite. 60 % of the Coal sold in Ontario is SCRANTON.
Terms Positively Cash.
R. HICKS & CO.
Coal Builders' Supplies, Etc.

COAL AND WOOD
Best of Coal—Best of Wood
COAL FOR OCTOBER
$7.50 PER TON
J. E. A. FITZGERALD
Cor. Brock and Bethune Sts
BOTH PHONES 111

Palace Livery Barn
For the smartest and most up-to-date LIVERY OUTFITS, at reasonable rates, go to
TOM FOSTER & CO.
Successors to Bruce Lee & Co
Rear of Snowden House.
AUCTION SALE OF HORSES BUGGIES, HARNESS, ETC., EVERY SATURDAY
Phones-Bell 286-Machine 289

Steer Straight
for the best Beer ever brewed, and you are sure to come to us! Our Bottled Beer is "bottled health." It means vigor and strength, a good appetite and high spirits. It is the best medicine for the weak and the best food for the strong. Keep our excellent in Beer your home as a beverage and you will have no need of a doctor. Nothing but the purest ingredients used in the brewing.
—THE—
CALCUTT BREWING AND MALTING CO
of Ashburnham Limited

The Store just vacated by Messrs. Adamson & Dobbin will be opened by The J. C. TURNBULL CO. about December 12th with an

IMMENSE SALE OF USEFUL XMAS GIFTS

After January 1st this Store will be re-modelled and re-fitted as increased space for our Carpet and Homefurnishing Department, and when completed will give us the largest and best equipped Ground Floor Carpet Department in Ontario.

SPORTING NEWS

Montreal Ran Up Big Score On Peterborough Rugby Team

Ontario Champions Go Down Before the Interprovincial League Winners.

PETERBOROUGH STARTED STRONG

And Scored First Touch Down—Home Team Finished Strong

The Peterborough Rugby team met defeat at Montreal on Saturday by a score of 71 points to 9. The locals were out of their class, and weakened as the game progressed. A Montreal despatch has the following account of the game:

Montreal, Dec. 1. — Peterborough and Montreal met here to play off for the Canadian Rugby championship. Montreal won the toss and chose to play against the sun and with the wind which was but slight.

The visitors got off with a good start, but as the game progressed in its initial stages, the younger members of the visiting team seemed to get an attack of stage fright, and were very nervous. The Peterborough team have some splendid material and if handled by a proficient coach and drilled in some of the fine points of the game would be a difficult proposition for the best of them to buck up against.

In Saturday's game Colledge was one of the best men on the field. Crowley and Hurtubuise also did good work.

THE GAME.

The return of Peterborough's kick-off by Russell was brought back because Montreal forwards forgot to give five yards. Peterborough had the ball at Montreal's 25-yard line. The first scrimmage resulted in a fumble, but Montreal's wings were persistently off-side, and Peterborough was given a free kick. Colledge booted to the line, Russell fumbled, and the ball rolled away and crossed the goal. Peterborough followed up, and Hurtubise fell on the oval for a try, which Colledge converted. Peterborough 6, Montreal 0. Colledge returned kick-off, but the forwards were off on the 3-yard rule and the ball was given to Montreal 20 yards from Peterborough's line. On the first scrimmage Montreal worked a criss-cross, Gordon to Russell to Gordon, and the Montrealer ran the distance for a try, which was not converted. Peterborough 6, Montreal 5. The return kick-off brought the play to midfield with Peterborough in possession. There was a delay to allow Peterborough's half-back to get his wind.

During the intermission it was seen that Ernie Hamilton and Jimmie Craig were setting a football fashion, being comforted by warm woollen gloves. On exchange of punts O'Brien kicked to touch. Montreal's ball. Craig ran 25 yards, slipped and fell. On the third down Stinson booted, kicking the ball over the dead-ball line for a point, which evened the score. Montreal 6, Peterborough 6.

PETERBOROUGH ON DEFENSIVE.

Peterborough was on the defensive, and was compelled to kick. Colledge booted to center. Stinson picked up and went 50 yards through a broken field, and was nailed just outside the line. Kelly bucked for a try on first scrimmage, which Molson failed to convert. Montreal 11, Peterborough 6. Montreal did not give yards on Russell's return, and the ball was given to Peterborough. Colledge kicked over the line, and Russell picked up and kicked clear. Prompt following up by Montreal wings forced Peterborough back, and play was in the visitors' territory. Hurtubise ran 20 yards and was taken down by Craig. Colledge fumbled on the first scrimmage and Lessor got the ball. On the first scrimmage Gordon passed to Russell, the back, who gave it to Craig, and the latter went 40 yards for a try, which Molson converted. Montreal 17, Peterborough 6. A fumble by Colledge gave Stephens a chance. The lanky wing dribbled and the ball bounded on and on, finally going over Peterborough's line, where Kelly dropped on it for a try. Molson converted. Montreal 23, Peterborough 6.

WALK AWAY FOR MONTREAL.

Russell returned the kick-off, and play was in the center. Colledge's kick fell clear and Stinson had to chase it back, getting it out by a nice pick-up and kick. Failure to give yards brought the ball to Montreal's quarter-field. Then with varying success the leather traveled into each territory without anything startling occurring. Just as Montreal was penalized for a forward pass, time was called, and the first quarter ended. The return of the kick-off saw play in Montreal's ground. Stinson was grassed. Montreal lost the ball because of off-side work. Colledge kicked over. Stinson fumbled. Russell picked up ahead of Stinson. For this off-side play Peterborough was given a free kick. Colledge kicked a goal and got two points for a penalty. Montreal 23, Peterborough 8. After the kick-off there was a series of fumbles and Montreal dribbled the ball to Peterborough's line. Crough muffed and Stephens kicked. There was a mix-up at the goal and Lessor dived on the ball for a try, which Molson converted. Montreal 29, Peterborough 8. Craig caught a punt and marked. Mulhern missed the kick and put every body on side by touching the ball as it bounded by him. Gilmour went after the leather and went over for a try, which Molson converted. Montreal 35, Peterborough 8.

HALF-TIME SCORE 35 TO 9.

On the kick-off the ball was kicked to Stinson, who missed, and the ball struck a goal post. As it bounded, Russell kicked and sent the ball to touch, 30 yards out. Colledge kicked over, Stinson picked up and went out 40 yards, but made forward pass, and the ball was given to Peterborough. A long kick sent the oval across Montreal's line, where Gilmour dropped on it and rouged. Montreal 35, Peterborough 9. The next feature was a 30-yard run by Jimmy Craig. Montreal lost possession. Peterborough was given a free kick, because Russell charged an opponent. Craig fumbled the kick and Peterborough had the ball in Montreal's territory. There was a respite to allow Hurtubuise to regain his bearings after a collision. Half-time was called soon afterwards. Montreal 35, Peterborough 9.

Three kicks followed the kick-off; then Craig caught on the first play. Ted Savage was given the ball. He ran 45 yards and was downed. As he fell he sent the ball back. Molson got it and went the remaining 30 yards for a try, which he himself converted. Montreal 41, Peterborough 9.

Craig's return of the kick-off was fumbled by Crough, but Peterborough held the ball. On the first scrimmage Peterborough let the ball loose and McAllen secured it. A forward pass gave Peterborough possession and Colledge kicked to Montreal's 25 yard line. Russell returned. Play followed about midfield. In a mix-up Colledge, the Peterborough's center half, was hurt and was compelled to go off. This was a big loss, because the lanky half-back had been playing a great game for the Ontario champions. Fumbles brought play to Peterborough's quarter field. Caniff, who had replaced Colledge, saved once. Montreal got the ball a yard from the line. Craig tried to drop a goal, but was blocked. Savage saved the ball. Stinson kicked over the line. The ball was loose when Savage pounced on it for a try, which Molson failed to convert. Montreal 46, Peterborough 9.

Stinson returned the kick-off and Crough got the ball. Craig marked, all were on side and Molson followed up. He failed to get the ball and Gilmour kicked it. The leather sailed along and over the line, madly followed by the backs. The first flight over ran the ball and Gilmour, who had followed up promptly, fell on it for a try. Molson failed to convert. Montreal 51, Peterborough 9.

The return of the kick-off was followed by Craig punting to touch at center. Molson stole the ball on the first down. Stinson kicked 50 yards over the line and Mulhern dropped on the ball for a rouge. Montreal 52, Peterborough 9.

Gordon tried to drop a goal from center field and was just short, the ball falling on the line, where Crough got it. Montreal got the ball on the kick; Craig ran and crossed the line, but went into touch-in-goal. Montreal 53, Peterborough 9.

The kick-off was returned promptly and play opened 30 yards from Peterborough's goal. Caniff kicked out, Kelly caught and ran back the punt for 15 yards for a try. This was converted. Montreal 59, Peterborough 9.

Reynolds was sent off for a minute for a trip. This was the first penalty of the match.

In the last quarter Montreal scored 12 more points to Peterborough's nil.

Final score; Montreal 71, Peterborough 9.

The teams lined up as follows;

Peterborough (9)—Full, Mulhern; right half, Quinlan; center half, Colledge; left half, Crough; quarter, Lundy; scrimmage, Dennard, Clarke and O'Brien; inside wings, Dickson and Dillon; middle wings, Fitzgerald and Burtubuise; outside wings, O'Connor and Crowley.

Montreal (71)—Full, Stinson; right half, Hamilton; center half, Craig; left half, Russell; quarter, Gordon; scrimmage, Lessor, McAllen and Gilmour; inside wings, Kelly and Molson; middle wings, Murphy and Stephens; outside wings, Savage and Reynolds.

Referee—M. Britton. Umpire—M. B. Burland.

Havelock is Sending Big Contingent

To Cheer on Railroad Town Runners at the Athletic Meet To-morrow Night

Special to the Review.

Mr. W. J. Burney and Mr. E. Moss, of town, will be accompanied to Peterborough on Tuesday next by a large number of the local sports to cheer the local runners to victory in their respective races at the meet of Y.M.C.A. Harriers' Club in the Brock street rink on Dec. 3rd. Both these runners are well known in Peterborough as well as Havelock, and bid fair to give the other competitors in the race a hard tussle.

McBurney, who ran fourth in the Examiner race last year, has given up the long distance running for the mile, and is making good time at that distance, and we are sure that "Bee" will run a good race.

Mr. E. Moss, who ran third in the Examiner race this year, has started in the three mile handicap, in which Fred. Simpson and Ben Howard will run. Moss did good running this year on Thanksgiving Day, making the ten miles between Lakefield and Peterborough in 57 minutes. He has also tried the 5 mile race, doing it up in 28 minutes, and we are quite confident that he will make a good showing in the three mile event.

THE TURF

BLACK CLOUD BETTER

Yesterday, Mr. Jas. Kelly had his fast horse Black Cloud out for the second time since the horse was seriously injured on Thanksgiving Day, in a runaway due to the carelessness of an inexperienced driver. The horse was badly lacerated in the breast at the time of the runaway, but is now completely recovered and travels along as well as ever. Black Cloud is a valuable animal, and his owner is to be congratulated on not having his horse permanently injured or disfigured.

NAT RAY FOR ICE RACES

Nat Ray, the well known steeplechase rider returned to this city Saturday for the winter. He reports having had a splendid season, principally with his pacing gelding, John McEwen (2.08 1-4) with which he won several good races, beating some of the crack pacers of the Eastern states including Ecstatic (2.01 3-4). Nat will get John McEwen and Prince Greenlander (2.09 1-2) ready for the ice circuit.—Toronto World.

HARRIER NOTES

The west side rush seats for the Harriers' meet at the Brock Street Rink tomorrow night are on sale now at Sanderson's jewellery store. Secretary Crowe, of the C.A.A.U, will be here to-morrow to arrange for the registration of all who will participate in the meet and are not yet connected with the C.A.A.U.

Substantial Bill of Fare For Council

A civic grant to David Hartley.

The isolation question.

The proposed garbage by-law.

The proposition to grant fixed assessment to the Peter Hamilton Co.

The proposed by-law to have the Water Commissioners levy a frontage tax.

The above along with several minor matters comprises the bill of fare at to-night's Council meeting. There is a big batch of business on the order paper and a long session is likely. The Council will first meet in committee of the whole at eight o'clock and afterwards in regular session.

Serious Accident Narrowly Averted

A serious accident was narrowly averted this afternoon, between one and two o'clock on Charlotte street, when two members of the Jewish settlement of the city escaped at a very close margin fatal injury. Mr. D. Florence with another man was driving out of the G.T.R. freight sheds, and not noticing a street car coming towards George street, attempted to cross the track. Mr. Tom Bacon, motorman on the car, deserves praise for the quickness in which he stopped it. The waggon was not only struck very forcibly, but the horse got scared, and ran to its stable. The occupants of the vehicle were thrown out, and one of them received a rather painful injury to his left leg. Otherwise, not much damage was done.

Second Trial of Harry K. Thaw

Special to the Review.

New York, Dec. 2.—Justice Dowling today fixed January 6th as the date for the second trial of Harry K. Thaw.

Fire did $20,000 damage to the stock of the Montreal Wadding Company yesterday.

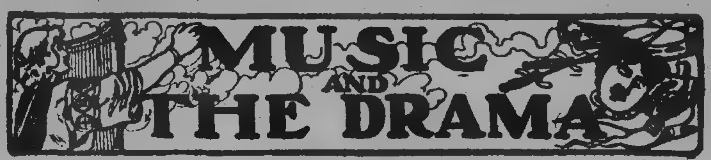
Peterboro' Lumber Company Has Had Very Busy Season

Over 7,000,000 Feet Cut—Mill Closed for Winter on Friday Night—Company Sending Men to the Camps.

The big sawmill of the Peterborough Lumber Co. at Burnham's Point, closed down on Friday night after a most successful season's operations. The total cut was 7,000,000 feet of lumber, which is considerably larger than last year. Over 100 men were employed in the saw mill, shingle, lath and planing mills. The season opened on April 14th and continued without interruption until November 29th. The planing mill is still running.

The company reports that there has been a good demand for lumber at fair prices during the past few months and the output has been marketed in different Canadian centres.

The Peterborough Lumber Co. has two camps in Methuen and Burleigh township and many of the employees in the mill will spend the winter in the woods. There are about 75 men engaged in the company's limits and it is expected that some 0,000,000 feet of logs will be taken out for the coming year.



JAMESON LEE FINNEY IN "THE MAN ON THE BOX"

Jameson Lee Finney, the popular comedian, is soon to be seen in this city in the comedy drama, "The Man on the Box." Mr. Finney has for the past ten or twelve years been particularly conspicuous in New York, as one of the most popular actors. His services have been so much in demand by producing managers in bringing out new plays that had long Metropolitan runs that he has had little opportunity to make himself acquainted with theatregoers throughout the country. All this however, has given him a reputation extending to all the states, but this is the first time he has ever been brought face to face with the public in a stellar capacity. Mr. Finney will be presented here at the "Grand" Wednesday, Dec. 4th, by Walter N. Lawrence, who, during the past five years has made great advancement as one of the leading producing managers in New York. It can be said to Mr. Lawrence's credit that in the great number of plays he has brought out, he has, so far, never had any but what were successful. Mr. Lawrence is sending Mr. Finney here supported by a splendid company. The principals are, Miss Elsie Leslie, Miss Jeannette Farrall, Miss Madge Piera, Sydney Booth, William Herbert, Fred W. Peters, Neil Moran, Jas. C. Spottiswood, C. W. Schaeffer, Chester Beecroft and Robert Tesseman.

Does it pay to tell a fib to clothe the naked truth or will the unclothed article serve the purpose better? In case you are ever caught in a Ferris wheel over night and your wife asks you where you have been tell the plain unadulterated truth or you are liable to get into an immense amount of trouble. In "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," which was presented at the Grand Saturday night, Jack Temple instead of sticking to the absolute truth tells wifey a feasible story. She sends a telegram to find out the truth and around this a complication as closely woven and intricate as a spider's web is worked. The play is very cleverly written and was interpreted with fine humor and in good taste. Ludicrous situations were introduced and comedy surprises too multitudinous were sprung on the audience and greeted with spontaneous outbursts of merriment. "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" is easily the cleverest piece of its kind that has been seen in Peterborough in a long while and is deserving of packed houses wherever it is played.

Every member of the cast was a star and the intelligence and ability with which they interpreted their various roles placed them as artists of the metropolitan standard and much better than those usually seen outside the larger city theatres. Alan Murnane as Frank Fuller, and Carl Anthony as Jack Temple filled the leading male roles in a highly capable manner, while Miss Frances Gaunt as Mrs. Jack Temple, had a worthy vehicle in which to display her highly developed and versatile histronic powers. Miss Eleanor Parker as Dorothy, her sister, also gave a pleasing portrayal of the part. All the other players did full justice to their respective roles. Those playgoers who missed the production of "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," have much to regret.

SHAKESPEARE RECITAL

In the Conservatory of Music Hall, Wednesday evening, Dec. 4th, Miss Minnie M. Williams, the celebrated English reader and reciter, will give an evening from Shakespeare's "As You Like It." Her professional career covers a period of twelve years, during which time she has made two extended tours of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. In one season she gave four recitals in London, two in Cambridge, six in Edinburgh, four in Glasgow, eight in Liverpool, eight in Birmingham, five in Dublin, four in Stratford-Upon-Avon, and eighty-six in other provincial cities. Miss Williams' audiences were critical and representative, and she was welcomed by both press and public as a scholarly interpreter of the plays.

In rendering Shakespeare, verbal music intelligently directed is not all. The supreme importance is psychological. It is human nature, wonderfully varied—which has to be translated—what manner must rest with the reader. Miss Williams' superb technique enables her with voice, facial expression and gesture, admirably to interpret the spirit of the master-poet. Admission, 25 cents.

Patrick O'Donohue, of Brockville, a cab driver, was found drowned in the river.

Hon. G. E. Foster addressed a rousing Conservative rally in Truro last night.

Rev. Mr. Brace at Gilmour Church

The Rev. A. H. Brace preached yesterday afternoon at the Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church in Smith township to a large congregation. The people met at the close of the services and discussed on a Shredded Wheat Banquet, early in February.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH

There will be no meeting of the Epworth League tonight on account of the convention at Lakefield.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3.30 o'clock.

The Class Leaders' Association of the city will meet at George street church tomorrow night.

The Mission Study Class will meet tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. James Kendry.

The usual prayer service will be held on Wednesday night.

The Mission Band is holding a sale on Friday evening.

MURRAY ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

The Young People's Union will meet this evening at 6 o'clock; the executive at 7.30 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Mission Circle will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4.15.

On Wednesday at 4.15 o'clock the Mission Band will meet.

The regular prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday night and at 9 o'clock an important congregational meeting will be held.

Last evening Rev. J. R. Webb, the pastor, preached a powerful sermon on athletics, from the words, "They do it to obtain a corruptible crown, but we are incorruptible."

KNOX CHURCH

The Young People's Guild meets tonight. There will be a debate, "Resolved, that a man shall get his own breakfast." The affirmative to be taken by ladies, and the negative by the young men.

Tomorrow evening there will be a joint meeting of the board of managers and session.

On Wednesday night there will be a congregational reunion. An excellent programme has been prepared, and refreshments will be served.

On Friday the Boys' Club will meet. Magistrate Dumble will address the boys.

FACTS—JUST PLAIN, POINTED FACTS

HERE'S A LINE OF

$9.75

OVERCOATS

That are positively unequalled for good value in the City

75 OVERCOATS, Traveller's Samples, bought 25% less than former wholesale prices. Made of Fancy Tweeds, Meltons, Beavers and Cheviots, lined and trimmed in first-class style, some long, some medium lengths, single and double-breasted, some with storm collars, which would make an excellent driving coat. Regular prices $11.00, $12.00, $13.50 and $1500. For this week only $9.75

SO COME EARLY, AS FIRST SELECTION IS ALWAYS THE BEST

MERRELL & MEREDITH

CLOTHIERS, FURNISHERS and HATTERS

375-377 GEORGE ST. PHONE 35

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

COPYRIGHT
FACTS

IT IS A FACT

That we have the finest stock of Skates, Sticks and Hockey Supplies in the city.

BANK'S SKATE STORE

Under the Market Clock

THE CANADA LIFE

PETERBOROUGH OFFICES:
435 George Street
(Upstairs)

S. E. SALLS, Agent and District Manager | S. G. SALLS, Cashier and District Secretary

A MESSAGE FROM CHINA HALL

China Hall's Stock is now complete, and the present is now a good time to make selections for Christmas. China Hall's Stock is the heaviest and most varied it has ever been, and taken as a whole it would do credit to the largest city in the Dominion. The Store will be open evenings during December, and the public are invited to visit the two show rooms during the present week and view the newest productions in Pottery. Our Dinner Ware show room (just completed) is worth a visit.

CHINA HALL CO. New Premises 394 GEORGE STREET
(NEXT TO H. LeBRUN & CO.)

GET THE LATEST

The Review Supplies the Correct Things in Wedding Invitations Programmes, Personal Stationery, Etc . . . .

THE DAILY REVIEW

LUMBER

and BUILDING MATERIAL of all kinds. Shingles, Scantling, Joists and Bill Stuff. Mouldings, Casings and Base, and all kinds of finish. Boxes and Box Shooks.

ALF. McDONALD ESTATE

Point St. Charles Mill, Peterborough.

VOL LV., NO. 133 PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1907 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

PROBABILITIES

Moderate, mostly east and north, light local snow falls or flurries, but generally fair and cold to-day and on Wednesday.

FAIR'S | THE GOLDEN LION STORE | FAIR'S

Buy Warm Woollen Goods

. . AT . .

The GOLDEN LION STORE

Just a little better at the price than elsewhere. Throughout our whole store you will find this to be the case, but especially so just now in such wanted goods as

Ladies' Underwear, Children's Underwear
Ladies' Black Tights, Children's Black Tights
Ladies' and Children's Woollen Gloves and Mitts
Ladies' and Children's Clouds and Shawls
Ladies' and Children's Knitted Toques
Ladies' and Children's Wool Hosiery
Ladies' and Children's Sweaters and Golfers
Cotton Filled and Down Comforters
Wool Blankets, Crib Comforters
Crib Blankets, Crib Quilts, etc

Have you considered making a present of a new CARPET this Christmas? If so, you cannot do better than leave your order with us. Make your selection now and we will lay it just when you want it,

Our Carpet assortment embraces Union, All Wool Ingrain, Tapestry, Balmorals, Brussels, Velvets, Wiltons and Axminsters. Any purse and any taste can be suited from our immense stock. Special prices prevail for Xmas selling

IN THE MILLINERY DEPT.

We are making a beautiful showing of High-class Winter Millinery. Ideas and styles are here from the great fashion centres—Paris, London and New York.

Here you can combine STYLE and VALUE in your Hats. The most modern ideas and best materials and workmanship.

Robert Fair & Co.

383 GEORGE STREET Limited

Phone—Dry Goods 145 Phone—Dressmaking 145B

GIRLS' WANTED

SIX GIRLS. Apply at the Gate House, Canadian General Electric Co., Limited, Peterborough.

For Sale or To Rent

FOR SALE

FIRST-CLASS NEWCOMBE PIANO for sale. Price reasonable. Apply at this Office for particulars. 9d

TO RENT

TWO FURNISHED ROOMS with or without board. Modern conveniences and telephone. Address J. F. Galvin, 358 Brock St. dtf

FOR SALE

TYPEWRITER, latest model American Oliver, brand new. Good discount off lowest selling price for a quick sale. Apply Review Office. tdf

New Advertisements

A. BROWN & CO.,
The Real Estate Agents, 396 Water Street

$100 will secure good Cottage with large lot 50x200
$500 will secure an up-to-date House with all modern improvements.
$1,000 will purchase good Cottage and large lot
$600 will secure Cottage, Stable and 4 acres good land near city.

We have some great snaps in Houses, Farms and City lots for sale and to rent.

Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.

Bell Phone 136 and 474 B. Machine 117

FANCY POTTERY

All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.

GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

BIG SALE
. . OF . .
Enamelled Ware
Friday and Saturday

HUTCHINSON-STURGEON CO

Bell and Machine 'Phones 235 342 George Street

It Pays

To get old Furniture fixed over. It lasts longer than much of the new. Upholstering and all kinds of work on Furniture done here. Samples of fine Covering at reasonable prices

A. R. JACKSON

Aylmer. Corner of Charlotte. Bell Phone 494B

GET READY!

Summer has gone by and winter is at hand. Are you settled in a house of your own, where you can stay and not be forced out in the cold? If not, take warning, and buy one of our Cheap New Houses and be at home, or buy one of our Modern Houses at $2,100 and up. We also have first-class large houses from $3,000 up

Companies Good as the Best in all lines of Insurance but Life. Rates moderate.

R. G. Ivey, Special Agent, 326 George St. Phone 3 Bell W. MIGHT

For Sale or To Rent
AT REASONABLE PRICES

Three small farms, good soil, suitable for gardening purposes, close to city. Also a few small, comfortable, dwelling houses, and choice building lots, well situated in good localities.

Properties sold, purchased or exchanged.
Private Funds to Loan on Real Estate.

INSURANCE

Agents for reliable Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Liability Insurance Companies. For particulars as to rates, etc., apply to

J. J. McBAIN & SON
Real Estate and Insurance Agents.
Office Cor. Simcoe and George-sts
Office 'Phone 454 Residence Phone 109A

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!

A nice pair of Snowshoes or a good Toboggan would make a most acceptable present to lady, gentleman, girl or boy. We carry a very large assortment. Call and see them.

J. J. TURNER & SONS
TENT MANUFACTURERS
George Street. Peterborough

International Correspondence Schools
Of Scranton, Penn.

Industrial Science Taught by Mail.

LOCAL OFFICE - - 430 George Street
R. C. BALFOUR, Representative

The Talk of the Town—OUR COOKING
TOOTHSOME
WHOLESOME
PALATABLE

Try a loaf of our Brown and Currant Bread
FRY'S MILK CHOCOLATE DROPS
BURNT ALMONDS

COLEMAN BROS.
Phone 335. 426 George St

SPECIAL RATES FOR FAMILY WASHING

Prices were never lower than now at
Parkers' Steam Laundry
Goods called for and delivered free to any part of the city.
W. P. HETHERINGTON
9 CHARLOTTE ST. PHONE 65

Special Inducements TO BUY HEATERS

You gain nothing by delay. See our
Standard Oak
Quebec Ideal
Art Laurel

They are great fuel savers. Easily operated and splendid heat distributors.

F.R.J. MACPHERSON & CO.
341 George St. Phone 116
F.R.J. MACPHERSON ANGUS MACPHERSON

MEALS—LUNCHES
AT ALL HOURS

For quick service, well-cooked meals and popular prices—go to

FOWLER'S RESTAURANT
McCallum's Old Stand - 390 George St

LADIES, CUT THIS OUT

Dr. Cristion's
FRENCH TOILET ARTICLES
Have been placed on sale with
Miss E. Smith
567 GEORGE STREET
MANICURING, SHAMPOOING
SCALP TREATMENT and FACIAL
MASSAGE SKILFULLY DONE
Appointments made. Mach. Phone 13

Photography

Amateur Supplies, Cameras, Souvenir Books, Post Cards and all kinds of high-grade Photography at W. G. LENDRUM'S, 170 Charlotte St. Agent for the celebrated Heintzman & Co's Pianos.

"DON'T BURN THEM"

We will buy all kinds of Second-hand boots and shoes

JAY'S SECOND-HAND STORE
390 Aylmer Street

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

105th WEDNESDAY 105th
BARGAIN ANNEX

Opens 8.10 a.m December 4th Closes 5.15 p.m.

AFTER DECEMBER 4th THERE ARE ONLY 17 MORE SHOPPING DAYS AND 2 ANNEX DAYS BEFORE CHRISTMAS

RATHER SHOOT THAN BE SHOT AT

How about these bombs (fifty in all) that we are going to shoot from the 4th Floor Bargain Annex Wennesday ought to make quite a report, but we would sooner shoot than be shot at. Fifty Big Money Saving Specials, many of which are in themselves quite good enough attractions to warrant you leaving a cosy fireside to be on hand at the Annex early Wednesday morning. Xmas Gift Suggestions in many and varied lines. See the red dodgers for full list of items.

9 ANNEX LEADERS

Lace Shades

New lot, 24 dozen, never shown by us before, natty designs in Lace, bought especially for the Annex. Made of good opaque cloth, cream or white, on strong spring roller; all 7 ft long; reg width; 6 inch fancy lace applique; reg. 60c

Wednesday in Annex .47

Curtain Samples
FRESH NEW GOODS

280 NOTTINGHAM LACE Curtain Samples, mostly 2 yards long and good widths, neat floral and conventional designs; large purchase of fall samples; worth each 35c to 65c

Wednesday Annex .19

Children's Coats

16 only CHILDREN'S and MISSES' LONG BLUE MILITARY COATS, with red and gold trimmings; also large cape collar. Regular $5.00

Wednesday In the Annex 1.98

Cloth Skirts

4 only Women's Heavy Blue and Black Skirts, well made and neatly trimmed, nearly all sizes; worth from $3.50 to $5.09

Wednesday Annex Price 1.48

Felt Slippers

This line of Slippers is a special from the new Shoe Dept. They are fur trimmed with flexible soles. A cosy winter house Slipper, worth $1.25. All sizes.

Wednesday Annex for .89

Dresden Ribbons
For Fancy Work, Sashes, Etc

978 Yards fine Persian and Dresden patterns in 4 and 5 inch Ribbon, light and dark grounds, exquisite colorings. An entire clean-out of all the 978 yards, regularly sold at 35c to 65c per Yard

Wednesday Annex, per Yard .18

REMEMBER—Only Two More Annex Days Before 'Xmas.

2 O'CLOCK SPECIAL
White Counterpanes

78 only, large double bed size White Counterpanes. This Spread comes in two patterns and is always sold for $1.25

Wednesday Annex At 2 O'clock, not before .75

ALL DAY LEADERS
Torchon Laces

200 Yards White Torchon Laces and Insertions from 1 to 2 inches wide; also 100 yards wide Pillow Laces. Reg prices 8c to 12½c.

Wednesday in Annex, Per Yard .2½

Rain Coats
CHILDREN'S and MISSES'

Cravanette Rain Coats in dark gray and fawns, nearly all sizes, mostly ¾ lengths; a pretty little coat for younger members of the family, neatly made; regular $5.00 and $6.00

Annex Crowder for 1.98

STORE HOURS 8.10 - - 5.45 Cressman's 385, 387, 389 GEORGE STREET

Set Out on Gallant Errand But Was Quickly Repulsed

Man Heard Scream of Woman and Went to Rescue —Occupants of Buggy Both Resented His Action.

A gentleman residing on the southern portion of Aylmer street, informed the Review this morning that he received small thanks last night about 9.30, for what he intended to be an act of gallantry.

He was sitting in his library at the time mentioned above, enjoying a quiet smoke, and reading the evening newspapers, when he heard a scream from the outside so close to him that he was very much startled. Putting down his pipe and throwing aside his paper, he rushed out of the front door of his house and saw a horse and buggy on the road, and heard a rather loud conversation being carried on by two persons, who were apparently a young man and young woman.

Advancing to the buggy and addressing the young lady, he said, "What's the matter; is there anything I can do for you?"

"Oh, you go on," came the reply from both almost simultaneously.

"What do you want, anyway?" said the young man.

"I dont think anybody asked you to come around," said the feminine occupant of the carriage.

Crestfallen and somewhat disconcerted, he returned to his house, and says he will endeavor in the future to find out some knowledge of his ground before attempting to play the part of the rescuing knight.

The Capital Account of The House of Refuge

County Treasurer Ed. M. Elliott has issued a statement of the House of Refuge, covering the operations for 1906-1907.:

1906-1907

Dr.
Farm with interest	$ 6,383.00
Contract house proper	18,093.00
Plumbing, heating, wiring .	3862.00
Furnishings	1,467.14
Poles, wire, electric fixtures	608.21
Range and fittings	210.00
Fuel while building	90.75
Carpenters' risk insurance ...	70.40
Printing	89.65
Improving property	436.02
Municipal expenses, 1906 and 1907	1,062.25
Engineer	889.20
Expenses on farm	59.10
Utensils	144.40
Machinery, farm implements, etc	526.00
Sewer	59.00
Sundries	130.93
Stock	849.05
Estimated for fencing, etc..	733.30
	$35,161.00
Cr.
Received for $30,000 issue debentures at 4 per cent.	$29,214.09
Received for $2,000 issue debentures at 4 per cent	1,950.00
Received for Govt. grant ...	4,000.00
	$35,164.00

1907.

Extras not current expenditures by 1907 properly, to be met currently

Insurance that covers three years, 2-3 of $250	$ 166.00
Lumber	47.28
Feed for stock, etc., and seed	228.04
Completion of steps	8.25
Utensils	56.51
Completion of water system to date	419.74
Establishing of institution to be met by current money	$ 923.82
Brought down	35,164.00
	$36,059.82
Less insurance as above	166.00
Total cost to date for establishing, etc......	$ 35,924.82

Are Doing Much for the Destitute

Mr. Switzer's Bible Class Undertaking Commendable Work

Mr. W. C. Switer's Bible class of ladies in George Street Methodist Church Sunday School are doing much creditable work at this season of the year in looking after the wants and comforts of the poor. Clothing, bedding, etc., are being forwarded to deserving ones. The members meet each Thursday afternoon and evening, at the residence of one of their number, and do considerable sewing. They have already sent out considerable clothing and quilts, and have arranged for a supply of furniture and stoves to some destitute families. With the ladies this is a work of love, and their efforts are worthy of emulation.

PAINTER'S WIFE IS SUING FOR DIVORCE

The actions of a local painter, who is at present in Colborne, are not meeting with the approval of his wife, from whom he has been separated for some time, and as a result is suing him for a divorce. Proceedings in connection with the obtaining of the divorce are being carried on.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

NOTICE is hereby given, pursuant to the Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 129, that all Creditors and others having claims against the Estate of William Hetherington, late of the City of Peterborough in the County of Peterborough, Hostler, who died on or about the Twenty-fifth day of November 1906, are required on or before the Twenty-seventh day of December 1907, to send by Post prepaid, or deliver to the undersigned Solicitors for the Administrator of the said deceased, their Christian and surnames, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars of their claims and statement of their accounts and the nature of the securities, if any, held by them.

And further take notice, that after such last mentioned date, the said Administrator will proceed to distribute the assets of the deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which he shall then have notice, and that said Administrator will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose claims Notice shall not have been received by him at the time of such distribution.

Dated 11th. day of November 1907.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR,
415 Water Street, Peterborough, Ont.,
Administrators' Solicitors

Music

PIANO, HARMONY, Etc

ALFRED DAVIES

Teacher of Piano, Harmony, etc. Pupils prepared for all examinations. 106 McDonnel St., Bell Tel. 463, P.O. Box 592 3m

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 4

JAMESON LEE FINNEY IN

"The Man on the Box"

A clean, witty, intelligent comedy. A delightful dramatization of Harold MacGrath's famous novel by GRACE L. FURNISS, presented with the same care that characterized the performances during its run of Seven Months at the Madison Sq. Theatre New York.

PRICES—25, 35, 50, 75, $1.00 First two rows ground floor $1.50

SEAT SALE OPENS MONDAY

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, SATURDAY DECEMBER 7

MATINEE AND NIGHT

Frank L. Whittier's Second Edition, Great Big Laughing Hit of the Season

"A Dutchman's Honeymoon"

A Musical Melange in three acts. Bigger, Brighter, Better than ever. See—The Funny Dutchman, the Irish Policeman, the Pretty Girls, the Clever Dancers. 6 All New Specialties

Prices—15c, 25c, 35c, and 50c. Matinee 15c and 25c

THE CRYSTAL

OPEN EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING

Smuggling Chinese into United States
Illustrated Song
"NO ONE TO LOVE ME"

Complete Change of Programme Mon., Wed., Fri.

ADMISSION - - ONLY 5 CENTS

Medical

E. V. FREDERICK, M.B., Tor.
M.R.C.S., Eng.; L.R.C.P., Lond. Lic. Univ. o New York.
Removed to No. 492 George St., formerly office of Dr. McFaul
Private nursing home for surgical ca.

DR. G. STEWART CAMERON
Office and Residence
No. 273 Charlotte St. 'Phone 128

DR. G. C. LEACH
Late House Surgeon of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio; also of Cook County Hospital, Chicago
OFFICE—384 Hunter St., formerly occupied by Dr. Coughlin Phone, Bell 819.
Special Attention to Diseases of Women

DR. JAS. V. GALLIVAN
Office 215 Simcoe St. Late of St. John's Hospital New York. Lic. University of New York.
Telephone 668.

Osteopathy

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY
Osteopathic Physician
Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Water Street entrance.
Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. Consultation free.

Dental

W. C. GOWAN
DENTAL SURGEON
Graduate Chicago College of Dental Surgery
Office: 168 BROCK ST. Phone 36 B

Legal

R. E. WOOD
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Etc. Office removed from Bank of Commerce Building to 435 George street, recently occupied by E. B. Edwards. Money to Loan

W. H. MOORE
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, to the Supreme Court etc. Office—Hunter street, first stairs west of Post Office.

HALL & HAYES
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS and NOTARIES PUBLIC, Hunter Street, Peterborough, next to English Church Money to Loan at the lowest rates of interest.
E. H. D. HALL LOUIS M. HAYES

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON
(Successors to Stratton & Hall)
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., Peterborough Ont. Office—Corner of Hunter and Water Sts. over Bank of Commerce.
E. H. HALL G. F. MEDD W. S. DAVIDSON

EDMISON & DIXON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc. Office in Clarxon's Block, corner of Hunter and George streets, over Dickson's store.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc
415 Water Street, Peterborough
R.A. PECK R. D. KERR R. M. DENNISTOUN

Money

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASY TERMS
O'CONNELL & GORDON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS NOTARIES, Etc
Canadian and United States Patent Attorneys
184 Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office.
[illegible] O'CONNELL GEORGE N. GORDON

ROGER, BENNET & GOODWILL
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., 37 Water St. Peterborough. Telephone No. 191.
Money at Current Rates
Upon Easy Terms.
[illegible] J. W. BENNET [illegible]

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

PAID UP CAPITAL $1,000,000.00
RESERVE FUND 580,000.00

SAVINGS
An Account may be opened at any time with a Deposit of One Dollar.
3½ % Interest allowed on daily balances.
DEBENTURE DEPT.
Four Per Cent. paid half yearly on sums of $100.00 and upwards.
MONEY TO LOAN
at current rates of interest.
W. G. MORROW, Manager

Children's Aid Society
FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.
Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898
Information required. Informants name kept strictly private.
CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION
Office Hours—11.00 to 12.00 a.m.
OFFICE—DIVISION COURT BLDG
GEO. COCHRANE, Agent and Asst Sec

WEAK MEN AND WOMEN

The Most Perfect Restorative Known and Invigorating Tonic Vitalizer —Greatest Health-Renewer

Nature's greatest cure for weak, pale men and women is Ferrozone. It is invaluable for run-down, overworked, delicate people, and will restore them to robust health more quickly, at smaller expense, than any other tonic you can select.

We quote the following cases to show what Ferrozone has done for others. In your case it will act just as efficiently:—

FOR BUSINESS MEN
The Experience of a Well-known Lawyer Proves Ferrozone an Ideal Tonic.

Mr. N. W. Burles, a well known lawyer in Meriden, says:—"When I first took Ferrozone I was in a nervous run-down condition, almost sick enough to give up work. I lacked strength, and felt as if I could not get down to work. Ferrozone at once gave me a good appetite, and drove away the nervous, apprehensive feelings that formerly made my life miserable. As I continued the use of Ferrozone I grew stronger, and am glad to say it has brought me back to perfect health. I know that Ferrozone is an excellent tonic for business men and people inclined to a sedentary life. I can recommend it to such."

FOR NERVOUS WOMEN
Nothing Compares With the Nerve-Strengthening Power of Ferrozone.

Mrs. B. D. Emmerson, of Copeville, says:—"I am glad to think that there is at least one honest remedy for nervous people. No one can imagine what I suffered with my nerves, and I sometimes wonder at the number of useless prescriptions and medicines I took. But Ferrozone acted differently from all the rest. It built up my system, and gradually the irritability left my nerves, and I got well. Ferrozone cured me by removing the cause of my trouble, and by giving me enough additional strength to overthrow the attack of nervousness. I can recommend Ferrozone strongly."

THOUSANDS ANNUALLY CURED BY FERROZONE

If you want to get well and keep well, by all means use Ferrozone. If you suffer from insomnia, nervousness, debility, loss of appetite, poor digestion, or any other symptom of disordered blood, nothing will tone up and vitalize your system like Ferrozone. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by all druggists, or sent safely by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

FERROZONE

Will Pugsley Accept Challenge; Lively Discussion in the Commons

Mr. Borden Asks For Full Investigation of Campaign Funds.

Twits Sir Wilfrid on His New Ministers—Criticizes Postal Facilities—Deals With Quebec Disaster—Mr. Hall Moves the Address—Premier Not Yet Ready For Public Ownership—Adjourned at 11 o'Clock.

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—The debate in the Commons had a good deal the look of a pre-election movement. Sir Wilfrid took a serious view of the situation and felt it his duty to say where he was on public ownership. He shied quite a lot of stones at it, charged Mr. Maclean, member for South York, for forcing it upon the Conservatives, and upon the House for that matter, and indicated that he had not much use for it at the present time, but with a kind of suspicion left to engender that he might plunge in himself before long.

And because Sir Wilfrid had stoned public ownership, Mr. Foster came out for the first time for it.

The sum and substance of it all is the significant hold public ownership has on every one and the certainty that in a couple of years the great bulk of the public men of Canada will be public ownership men, and many of them are trying to crowd one another out of the bed.

Robert Hall of Peterboro it was who moved the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

An Honor Appreciated.

Mr. Hall expressed his appreciation of the honor done to his constituency through his being chosen to move the address—a constituency of whose commercial and agricultural importance he reminded the House. He also referred to the wisdom of the Conservatives in constructing the C. P. R. and to the increase of trade under their 18 years' administration, but contrasted with it the much greater increase under the Liberal administration which succeeded to power in 1896.

The great increase in trade, Mr. Hall observed, was largely the outcome of judicious expenditure, an instance of this being the good results which had flowed from the establishment of direct steamship communication between Canada and Mexico.

Next to Japan, Canada, he said, stood highest in increase of trade last year, the ratio being 170 per cent., while the United States could boast of an increase of only 160 per cent.

Mr. Lancelot of Richelieu, speaking in French, seconded the address.

R. L. Borden's Reply.

R. L. Borden was warmly cheered by his followers as he arose to continue the debate. He criticized the postal facilities, pointing out their inadequacy, and then proceeded to deal with the Cabinet changes.

"Were these men," he asked, "in the 120 or 130 men on the Government side worthy, that Sir Wilfrid had to go outside to find a Minister of Railways and a Minister of Public Works? Some explanation was due, not to the Opposition, but to Government supporters themselves. (Hear, hear.) Was it because Sir Wilfrid had taken the lantern of Diogenes, looked them all in the face and then arrived at the conclusion that none of them could measure up to his standard of honesty? Or was Sir Wilfrid determined to teach the lesson of divine philosophy about weakness and inability in necessary things? Was it the intention of the Government, as announced in some of their organs, to appoint under-secretaries of state? If so, what of the former complaint of Liberals, that there were already too many Ministers?

Defi For Mr. Pugsley.

While the Opposition would give the two new Ministers a fair trial in their several departments, he would remark so far as one of them (Dr. Pugsley) was concerned, that as to his recent charges in the matter of election expenses he would repeat his challenge to the hon. Minister to have a full investigation into the campaign funds of both parties. Not only that, but since what was known as the La Presse deal had been referred to, he would invite a searching enquiry into all the circumstances, not stopping short, of course, of investigation of the second deal, by which this publication came under control of the Liberal party. (Cheers.)

Senatorial Appointments.

Mr. Borden dealt next with the Senatorial appointments, asking whether their resignations from the Commons had not been made for the purpose of their appointment to the Upper House.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that he was not aware that any of them had resigned.

Mr. Borden retorted with a quotation from the official record of the "vacancies" in the Commons caused by the "resignations" of members Derbyshire, Campbell and Belcourt. Did anyone suppose Mr. Derbyshire didn't know of his reward when he resigned in Brockville, or that Mr. Belcourt hadn't long been ready for his position? What had become of Liberal principles in this matter? (Hear, hear.)

On Quebec Bridge Disaster.

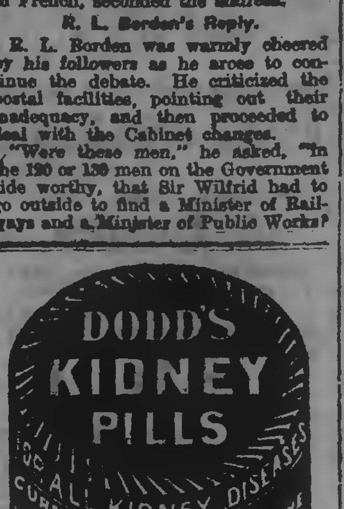
Dealing with the Quebec bridge disaster, Mr. Borden remarked that it had always seemed a marvel that the Government of Canada, in an undertaking of such magnitude, should have committed it to a company which, up to 1903, had only put $66,000 of its own money into the work. He wanted to know if the Government had lived up to its responsibility, in accepting the bridge plans by order-in-council. It was stated that the Phoenix Bridge Co. had been hampered for funds. Therefore, although an enquiry was now proceeding, he would ask upon whose shoulders the responsibility for this disaster lies. (Hear, hear.)

Uncurbed Expenditure.

It was noticeable, said the Opposition leader, how, in referring to the financial stringency, the Government was careful to specify its "world-wide character," but was the Government not reaping the result of its own lavish expenditure at a time when the Finance Minister himself was warning others to practice economy and retrenchment? The taxation on the five-year period ended in 1896 averaged twenty-seven and three-quarter millions yearly, and $5.60 per head. This had been increased to thirty-six and one-half millions, and $6.93 per head in the five-year period ended in 1902, and to a yearly average of fifty-seven millions, and $9.47 per head in the five-year period of 1907, while for the nine months ended March 31, 1907, the taxation equaled a yearly average of sixty-eight and three-quarter millions, and of $10.34 per head. In fact the people were paying $800,000 more per week than they did eleven years ago. Besides the total adverse balance of trade in five years amounted to $287,161,006.

Mr. Borden criticized the indefiniteness of the promise regarding Government control of telegraph and telephones, and the lack of progress in construction of the Transcontinental Railway. He joined heartily in the proposals to purify elections and place them on the high standard of the British system. In this the Opposition would co-operate with the Government in no partisan spirit. (Conservative cheers.)

Mr. Fielding moved the adjournment of the debate and the House rose at 11 o'clock.



LANCASTER WARNS SENATE.

Must Pass Speed Regulation Bill, or Be Wiped Out.

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—E. A. Lancaster, M. P. for Lincoln, has declared war upon the Senate. The House of Commons has twice passed his bill to amend the Railway Act to provide that "no train shall pass over any highway crossing at rail level in any thickly-populated portion of any city, town or village at a greater speed than ten miles an hour, unless such crossing is properly protected." Last session the Senate railway committee killed the bill after it had gone through the Commons. Now Mr. Lancaster is going to reintroduce the bill and gives fair warning to the Senate that if it "again thwarts the will of the people" an agitation will arise in this country which will end in "a mammoth petition to the Imperial Parliament to wipe the Senate out of existence."

Mr. Lancaster will reintroduce his bill to provide that no person shall obtain a certificate as a master or mate of a ship registered in Canada unless he has been a resident of Canada for at least three years.

BORDEN GETS APOLOGY.

British Editor Sorry That Scandalous Story Was Printed.

London, Dec. 3.—(C. A. P.)—The October number of The Nineteenth Century quoted an article re Sir Frederick Borden from The Calgary Eye-Opener. In the December number the editor unreservedly withdraws the same, and apologizes sincerely to Sir Frederick for any injury which possibly could have occurred to him from such a scandalous story.

The Bristol dock people are not quite satisfied that Hon. Clifford Sifton saw sufficient of their docks and city during a recent visit, and are again inviting him to pay another visit before returning to Canada.

PUBLIC OWN COAL MINE.

Saskatchewan Has Acquired Large Area In Eagle Lake District.

Regina, Dec. 3.—It is announced here that the Saskatchewan Government has acquired from the Federal Government a coal area in the Eagle Lake district, and that operations will be pushed so that the coal may be mined under Government ownership and operation as early as possible in the coming spring.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will traverse the district, and coal can thus be readily hauled to settlers. The railway traverses a district where there is little or no fine wood.

SMASH-UP AT CARDINAL.

Engineer and Fireman Had Close Call—Jumped For Their Lives.

Brockville, Dec. 3.—A bad smash-up took place at noon yesterday on the line of the Grand Trunk at Cardinal. The second section of a through St. Alban's fast freight caught a pick-up train, going in the same direction, doing some shunting, and before the line could be cleared a pitch-in resulted.

Edward Companion of the fast train, with his fireman, George Carter, jumped. Companion was badly injured by striking a rail which tore a large gash in his side. He was attended by doctors and brought on to Brockville and placed in a hospital. Carter escaped injury. It was well the men jumped, for the engine was buried under the debris.

Congress Opens.

Washington, Dec. 3.—The first session of the 60th Congress convened yesterday and resembled a social function rather than a gathering for the transaction of important business of the country.

Early in the day the capital was filled with spectators and in all the corridors leading to the gallery entrance there were lines of men and women extending for long distances.

Mustn't Scalp Tickets.

Washington, Dec. 3.—The Supreme Court of the United States yesterday decided the case of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co. v. Marcus K. Bitterman and others, involving the right of the defendants to engage in scalping the tickets of the railroad company, in favor of the company.

Arrested on Serious Charge.

Belleville, Dec. 3.—John Laval, a contracting carpenter of this city, was arrested here yesterday on the complaint of his wife, charged with incest.

The complaint is made on behalf of Irene, the 14-year-old daughter of the prisoner.

Can Build to the Skies.

New York, Dec. 3.—No limitation is to be placed on the height of New York's tall buildings, provided the structure is of such form as to guarantee a reasonable amount of light and ventilation to his neighbors on all sides.

Interpreter Arrested.

Montreal, Dec. 3.—Abraham Ddeika, the Syrian interpreter at the court house, was arrested yesterday on a charge of being the author of the theft of $1,700 from a court house safe a few days ago. He pleads not guilty.

Three Killed In Wreck.

Baltimore, Dec. 3.—In a wreck on the B. & O. R. at Shenandoah Junction yesterday, three passengers were killed and a dozen other persons were injured.

RUSSIAN JEWS ABUSED

Land of Freedom in Southern States Proved No Haven.

Troubles Started on Board Ship—Cruelly Beaten by Sailors—Forced Into Slavery by Brutal Negroes—Left to Sleep In the Fields—Given Food They Could Not Eat — Fifteen Escaped.

New York, Dec. 3.—A band of poor Russian Jews, fleeing from the American southwest, reached this city with a harrowing tale of peonage and persecution on account of their faith.

According to Moise Opotowski, he and many fellow-workmen of Moscow were attracted by an advertisement in a newspaper there, offering $18 to $20 a week wages in agreeable employment, near Galveston, Texas. Seventy-five of the men paid 785 rubles each for passage to the United States.

Nine days out Opotowski says the immigrants rebelled against a diet of bread, herrings and potatoes, and there was a general fracas, in which the sailors beat the Russians unmercifully.

At Galveston, after being at sea 25 days, the party was met by a labor agent. They then traveled two days with the agent, until they arrived at Pueblo, Col., and were made the next day to walk nine miles out to a clearing. They were handed over to negroes, who gave them saws and ordered them to get to work at once sawing limbs from trees. Many of the immigrants demurred, saying that was not the kind of work they had been engaged for. Then the negroes took switches and thrashed them as if they were slaves.

The immigrants were left to sleep in the fields, and all they could get to eat was pork and beans, with leavened bread, which their religion forbade them to partake of. They had to eat the food provided or else starve.

After four days of this sort of existence, Opotowski says, most of the companions fled in various directions, in small bands, without having received a penny in wages. He and at least fifteen of his countrymen escaped and reached Lincoln, Neb., whence a charitable Jew sent them to Omaha, and there a man name Zieman, of the Hebrew charity organization, provided them with tickets for Chicago. From there they came to New York.

MUTINOUS RUSSIAN CREW.

On Piratical Cruise; Hold Up German Steamer For Coal.

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 3.—A runaway Russian destroyer, with a mutinous crew, is on a piratical cruise in the Sea of Japan, according to reports brought from Nagasaki by the steamer Monteagle.

A German steamer at Nagasaki reported having been intercepted fifty miles north of Tsushima Island by the destroyer, whose seamen forcibly took a quantity of coal. The destroyer is reported as having escaped from Vladivostock.

Advices from Shanghai tell of a battle between a flotilla of Imperial war junks and the salt smuggling fleet at Quinsan. After severe fighting, costing many lives, the smugglers captured the entire flotilla of 19 war junks.

Struck by a Train.

Caledonia, Dec. 3.—Isaac Weylie of Seneca Township was seriously injured, his horse killed, and buggy destroyed while crossing the G. T. R. tracks here. Mr. Weylie saved his life by jumping.

London Butcher Poisoned.

London, Dec. 3.—Ervin Foster a butcher, is in a critical condition from strychnine poisoning. It looks like a case of attempted suicide. He is formerly from Port Hope.

Death Sentence For Twenty-One.

Vladivostock, Dec. 3.—The court-martial, which has been trying the men who participated in the recent mutinies, yesterday sentenced 21 men to death.

Mount Temple Wrecked.

Halifax, Dec. 3.—The steamer Mount Temple, Antwerp for St. John, with 600 passengers, was wrecked on Iron Bound, at the mouth of Lahave River, near Bridgewater, N. S.

All passengers were landed safely, but it is feared the steamer will be a total wreck.

The steamer showed signals of distress early yesterday morning and boats were sent out to her assistance from Bridgewater.

The Mount Temple carried a crew of 150 men and was one of the finest in the immigration service.

Swallowed Deadly Poison.

Chatham, Dec. 3.—Mistaking a carbolic acid wash for cascara, which was on a chair beside it, Mrs. Julia Verlyn Fox, who lived with her son-in-law, Elder Stewart Lamont of the Saints Church, took a large dose of deadly poison Sunday morning. She expired shortly afterwards. She was 72 years of age.

Still Indicted For Perjury.

New York, Dec. 3.—Seven indictments for forgery against John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., growing out of the recent life insurance investigation, were dismissed by Supreme Court Justice Dowling. Three indictments for perjury were sustained.

New Masonic Secretary.

Hamilton, Dec. 3.—Grand Master A. T. Freed of the Grand Lodge of the Masonic Order of Canada yesterday appointed R. L. Gunn of this city to act as grand secretary of the order until the next meeting of the grand lodge at Niagara Falls next July.

The United States Congress opened yesterday.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

Monday Evening, Dec 2.

Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day ⅛d to ¼d up; corn, ¾d up.

At Chicago, Dec. wheat closed 1c lower; Dec. corn, ½c lower, and Dec. oats ¼c lower.

Winnipeg Options

Following are the closing quotations on Winnipeg grain futures to-day:

Wheat—Dec. $1.02 bid, May $1.12 bid, July $1.11½ bid.

Oats—Dec. 44¼c bid, May 51c bid.

Toronto Grain Market.

Grain—
Wheat, spring, bush	$0 95 to	$....
Wheat, fall, bush	1 00	1 02
Wheat, goose, bush	0 88	....
Wheat, red, bush	1 00	....
Peas, bush	0 88	....
Buckwheat, bush	0 70	....
Barley, bush	0 70	....
Oats, bush	0 52	0 53

Toronto Dairy Market.

Butter, dairy, lb. rolls	0 27	0 28
Butter, tubs	0 26	0 27
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 30	0 31
Butter, creamery, boxes	0 29	0 30
Eggs, new-laid, dozen	0 30	....
Eggs, cold-storage, dozen	0 20	....
Cheese, large, lb	0 13½	....
Cheese, twin, lb	0 13¾	....
Honey, extracted, lb	0 13	0 13½

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Butter, steady; receipts, 4227; creamery specials, 28½c; thirds to first, 22c to 27c; held, seconds to special, 23c to 27c; state dairy, common to finest, 21c to 27c; imitation creamery, first, 22c to 23c; process, common to specials, 16c to 23½c; western factory, common to first, 16c to 20½c.

Cheese, quiet; receipts, 1301; state, full cream, small, colored and white, Sept., fine, 15¼c; do., October best, 12c; small, late made, best, 11¾c to 11¾c; do., good to prime, 11¼c to 11½c; do., common to fair, 9c to 11c; do., large, colored, Sept., fine, 15c; do., white, 14¾c; do., large, October best, 11¾c; do., common to prime, 9c to 11¼c; skims, 1c to 11c.

Eggs, firm; receipts, 4181; state Pennsylvania and nearby fancy selected, white, 45c to 50c; good to choice, 38c to 43c; brown and mixed fancy selected, 36c to 40c; average best, 34c to 35c; first to extra first, 29c to 33c; western and southern firsts, 30c to 31c; seconds, 26c to 29c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—Hogs Are Again Firmer in U. S. Markets.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—London cables are firmer at 12c to 12¾c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c per pound.

Toronto Junction Live Stock.

TORONTO, Dec. 2.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 40 car loads, composed of 927 cattle, 73 sheep and 16 calves.

Exporters.

Prices ranged from $4.25 to $4.70, McDonald & Maybee having sold one load, 1440 lbs. each, at the latter price. Export bulls sold at $3.35 to $3.75.

Butchers.

The best load of butchers' cattle on the market were those brought in by Mr. Kinnear, which were bought for the Levack Dressed Beef Co., at $4.65; best loads sold from $4.25 to $4.65; medium, $3.75 to $4; common, $3.25 to $3.50; cows, $2.50 to $3.50; canners, 75c to $1.50 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

Not many feeders or stockers were offered, altho there was a good demand for them, Harry Murby and several farmers and live stock dealers being on the lookout for them. Prices were quoted unchanged by Mr. Murby, as follows:

Milkers and Springers.

Milkers and springers were in good demand and sold from $37 to $62 each.

Veal Calves.

Trade steady at unchanged quotations, at $4 to $6.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Export sheep sold at $4 per cwt., and lambs, at $5 to $5.25 per cwt.

Hogs.

Gunn's, Limited, quoted hogs unchanged at $5 per cwt., fed and watered, and $4.75, f.o.b., cars, at country points.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Dec. 2.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Nov. 30, were 4596 cattle, 2762 sheep and lambs, 3092 hogs and 396 calves, while the offerings for local consumption this morning were 1890 cattle, 1150 sheep and lambs, 1725 hogs and 425 calves. Owing to the seasonable weather and the somewhat scarcity of good to choice beeves, the undertone to the market for the grades was firmer and the impression is that as soon as the glut of poor stock which has been coming forward now for several weeks, is over, prices for the better grades will advance, but there was no actual change to-day. In the early part of the day trade was rather slow, but later buyers came forward more freely with a disposition to operate and the demand for both and outside account became good, consequently on the whole an active trade was done and a good clearance was made in spite of the large offerings of rough and inferior stock. Cable advices from Liverpool on Saturday reported trade fair in Canadian cattle, but noted no improvement in prices, as compared with a week ago. Choice beeves here sold at 4¾c; good, at 4¼c to 4½c; fair, at 3¼c to 4c; common, at 2¼c to 3c, and inferior, at 1½c to 2c per lb.

Owing to the continued liberal supply of lambs coming forward, a weaker feeling has prevailed in the market and prices for good choice stock have declined ¼c per lb.; at this reduction the demand was good this morning and an active trade resulted, with sales of choice stock at 5¾c; good, at 5¼c to 5½c, and common at 4¾c to 5c per lb. There was no further change in the condition of the market for sheep, prices having ruled steady at the decline noted a week ago. The demand is fairly good and sales of export stock were made at 4c, butchers' stock at 3¼c to 3¾c, and culls at 3c per lb. The trade in calves was fairly active, but supplies are commencing to decrease and prices are firm. Choice veals sold at $12 to $15; good, at $8 to $10; fair, at $5 to $7, and common, at $3 to $4 each.

In sympathy with the continued weak advices and downward tendency of prices for Canadian bacon in the leading European markets, a much weaker feeling has developed in the local hog situation and prices since this day week have declined 50c to 72½c per cwt., making a net reduction of $1.20 to $1.35 since the last week of October, while, according to our own private cables, Canadian bacon in Liverpool during the month of November declined 12s per cwt., in London, 8s to 11s, and in Bristol 8s. The market here for hogs to-day was in an unsettled condition and packers were bidding $5.10 to $5.25, and $5.50 per cwt. for selected lots for delivery during the balance of this week here, while sales to-day were made at $5.40 per cwt. weighed off cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Dec. 2.—Cattle—Receipts, 4800 head; active; good, 10c to 15c higher; common, steady; prime steers, $6.00 to $5.85; shipping, $4.85 to $5.60; butchers, $4.15 to $5.25; heifers, $3.25 to $5; cows, $2.50 to $4.40; bulls, $2.75 to $4.50; stockers and feeders, $2.50 to $4.25; stock heifers, $2.25 to $2.75; fresh cows and springers, choice, steady; common, $2 lower; $30 to $64.

Hogs—Receipts, 13,700 head; active and 10c to 15c higher; heavy mixed, yorkers and pigs, $5.30 to $5.40; roughs, $4.25 to $4.75; stags, $3 to $3.75; dairies, $5.25 to $5.40.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 39,000 head; sheep, active and steady; lambs, slow; ratives, 10c lower; lambs, $5 to $6.80; yearlings, $5.25 to $5.50; wethers, $5.25 to $5.40; ewes, $4.75 to $5.25; sheep, mixed, $2.00 to $5.15; Canada lambs, $6.25 to $6.60.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
RAILWAY TIME TABLE

	Arrive.	Depart
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.40 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.25 a.m 5.38 p.m
Port Hope and points east to Montreal and Boston		8.30 a.m.
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago & West, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.20 a.m. 5.33 p.m.	11.45 a.m 9.05 p.m
From Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Bowmanville and Port Hope	11.45 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stoufville, Uxbridge and Markham	10.05 p.m.	7.20 a.m
Lindsay Local	8.15 a.m.	2.10 p.m
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 8.40 p.m.	8.30 a.m 1.50 p.m
Lakefield and Stony Lake	9.50 a.m. 5.15 p.m.	8.30 a.m 12.20 p.m

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

DEPART FOR EAST

Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa and Montreal ...... 11:16 a.m. and 12:28 Daily ex. Sun. Daily
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock and Tweed .. 7:47 p.m., Daily

DEPART FOR WEST

Toronto, London, Chicago and New York .... 5:16 a.m. Daily
Toronto & Intermediate, North Bay, Winnipeg and Northwest .... 8:00 a.m. Daily ex. Sun
Toronto, Galt, London, Detroit and Chicago .... 5:48 p.m. Daily ex. Sun

CANADIAN NORTHERN ONTARIO

SHORT LINE TO MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND

FALL TIME TABLE

NORTHBOUND

	No. 1	No. 3
TORONTO	† 9.00 am	† 6.30 pm
WASHAGO	12.35 pm	10.00 pm
PARRY SOUND	3.15 pm	....

SOUTHBOUND

	No. 2	No. 4
PARRY SOUND	†11.45 am	† ....
WASHAGO	2 13 pm	6.45 am
TORONTO	5.45 pm	10.10 am

Observation-Dining Parlor Cars between Toronto and Parry Sound serving meals a la carte.

† Daily except Sunday.

OFFICES: All Stations, also Cor. King and Toronto and Union Station. Phone, Main 5179.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CALIFORNIA MEXICO FLORIDA

Are the favorite winter Resorts.

Round trip tickets are issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System giving choice of all the best routes, going one way and returning another.

Full information may be obtained from
W. BUNTON, City Passenger Agent
F. SANDY, Depot Ticket Agent
Or write Mr J. D. McDonald, D.P.A., Union Depot, Toronto

CANADIAN PACIFIC

WINTER FAIR GUELPH

DEC. 9 TO 13, 1907
Return Tickets at
SINGLE FARE
FROM ALL STATIONS
Good going Dec. 7 to 13 Inclusive
Returning until and on Dec. 16
Children under twelve half fare
Tickets and all information from
W. McILROY, Canadian Pacific Agent, 343 George St., Peterboro
Or write C. B. FOSTER, D.P.A. Toronto.

Private Greeting Cards

THE highly colored and lithographed Christmas Card in vogue a few years ago has passed away entirely.

IN place has come the much more appropriate Personal Greeting Card.

OF these the Review Office is showing a great many original designs.

YOUR order should be given immediately, while the selection is so complete.

SHOULD you desire a Card specially designed to your order, promptness is absolutely necessary.

The Review
HUNTER STREET
PETERBOROUGH

A Story of Absorbing Interest

The Rogue's March

By E. W. HORNUNG, author of "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," "Stingaree," etc.

"You won't be the only one at Castle Sullivan!" cried he. "We don't mind what you've done, bless you, so long as you don't try it on again up there. If you do"—and he jerked a great close cropped head in the direction of the barrack triangles, while a bloated lower lip stuck out like a tongue between his short fair beard and mustache. "There never yet was the lag that bested Nat Sullivan," he added, with another of his oaths, "and you don't look the fool to try it on. So be ready in an hour sharp, or you look out!"

"Is he Nat Sullivan?" said Tom to the officers as the stout young man staggered off.

"Ay, ay," said they; "that's the celebrated Mr. Nat."

"Celebrated?"

"They're all that, you'll find, are the Sullivans of Castle Sullivan. You wait and see. I shan't say nothing to set you agen 'em, but I wish you joy of each other, don't you, Bill?"

Bill laughed, and Tom troubled them with no more questions.

Mr. Nat did not come in an hour. He came in three, swaying in his saddle, but still managing to lead a pack horse and a horse for Tom. His blue eyes were now half closed, and Tom understood him to curse the sun and to mutter something about a fresh touch that morning. They rode off, however, and were near the outskirts of Sydney when Mr. Nat rolled quietly out of his saddle and lay insensible in the middle of Brickfield hill.

Tom was at his side in an instant. No bones were broken. He was simply fast asleep. Tom shook him up and managed to get him to the nearest inn, where he again fell asleep, anathematizing the sun, and so never stirred for hours.

And the convict servant stood over the grunting carcass of his free master, and now he marveled at the system which sought to accomplish the amelioration of the felon by trusting him in such hands as these. The thing had not even the excuse of an irregularity. There was a brand new government document sticking out of a pocket of the loud check coat within a few inches of the bloated face, and Tom guessed rightly that it referred to himself. Then there had been more preliminaries than he had thought, but that only made matters worse, since what was a scandal in itself was immeasurably more scandalous as part and parcel of a system.

Evening came, and Mr. Nat still lay snoring, with his swollen lips wide apart. Tom had not left him yet, being partly occupied with his own thoughts and partly taken up with the various sounds of the inn. Some of these sounds were sinister, as when stealthy steps came along the passage and an unseen hand tried the bedroom door, which Tom had locked. He did not care to leave the room, not knowing what the other might have in his pockets, but at last he did so after turning the key behind him and putting it in his pocket.

He went first to the stables, where he was surprised to find the horses saddled and bridled in their stalls. He had unsaddled them himself after engaging the room for Mr. Nat. There was nobody about, however, to afford an explanation, and it occurred to Tom that the sooner they did get away the better. So he left the horses as they were, but looked into the taproom on his way upstairs, when all he heard and saw confirmed his impression not only of that particular inn, but of the widespread corruption of the convict town. A cattle stealer was drinking with a constable and openly boasting before the latter of his exploits. As Tom listened, however, he heard something else that interested him more. It was the sound of hoofs in the yard behind the inn. He darted out and met a man riding his master's horse and coolly leading the other two.

"What are you doing with those horses?"

"What's that to you? Hands off or I'll brain ye!"

"They're my master's. Come out of that saddle. Ah! You would, would you?"

And Tom, receiving the loaded whip on his forearm, sprang at the rider's neck and brought him heavily to earth among a dozen hoofs. Then he caught and tethered all three animals and returned to his man as the latter was sitting up and rubbing his eyes in the moonlight. He was a little horsy bowlegs, and Tom dragged him all the way into the taproom in the sitting posture, only relinquishing him at the constable's feet.

"Here's something for you!" he cried. "Caught him in the act of riding off with my master's horses!"

"Why, it's my 'ostler!" roared the landlord.

"I was only fetching of 'em round to the door, 'cos I thought they was goin'!" whined bowlegs.

"It's you that I'll get run in, I'm thinking," remarked the constable severely to Tom.

"Fetching them round!" cried the latter. "Then why didn't you say so, and what made you strike at me when I said they were my master's horses? Oh, I see the kind of place I'm in!" And he rushed upstairs to the room and nearly trod on something crouching at the door that fled with a flutter, while a little instrument fell from the keyhole and rang upon the floor. Tom picked it up, unlocked the door and strode in.

Mr. Nat took some waking, but started up at length with clinched fists and an oath.

"We're in a den of thieves!" whispered Tom. "Don't you remember me? Your new groom! We must get out of this as quick as we can!"

"Why, where are we?"

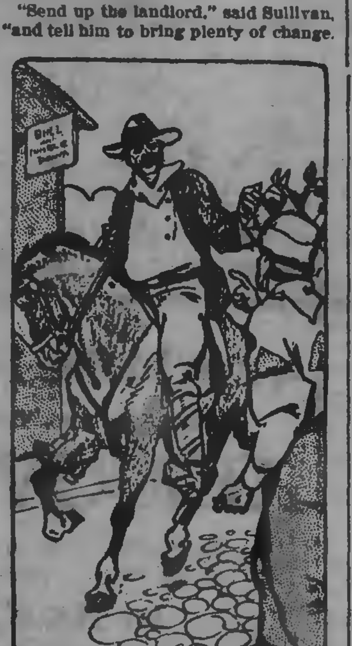
"At an inn, the 'Bull and Tumbledown.'"

Mr. Nat whistled and flung his legs over the side of the bed.

"One of the worst houses in Sydney," said he. "Ring the bell, if there is one."

There was one, and a woman servant answered its summons.

"Send up the landlord," said Sullivan, "and tell him to bring plenty of change. Now, landlord," he continued when that worthy appeared with a lighted candle, "give me change out of that, and don't you force me to give you any out of this!"



"What are you doing with those horses?"

He presented a sovereign in his left hand, a pistol in his right, but it was the great besotted face at which Tom stood gazing. Besotted it still was, and brutal and low, but one virtue shone out of it in the candle light. There was plenty of cool courage in the bloodshot blue eyes and an indomitable determination about the pendulous lower lip.

"Sir," whispered the landlord, falling back, "there's a constable in the house. I shall fetch him up. Such an outrage upon a lawabiding citizen"—

"Lawabiding grandmother!" cried Mr. Nat. "I know all about you and your inn. Who doesn't? I never would have set foot inside such a den if it hadn't been your infernal Sydney sun that bowled me over. You may know my name. I'm Nat Sullivan of Castle Sullivan, near the Hunter river, and I never was bested by a convict yet, no, nor an emancipist either, my fine fellow! There, keep the rest, but you lead me straight downstairs and out to my horses or you may have something else to keep besides."

In another minute they were in their saddles, and as they rode away Tom put a skeleton key in his master's hand, saying he had picked it up outside the bedroom door.

"And you give it to me!" cried Mr. Nat. "You don't keep it to use yourself? Well, well, you've not made a bad beginning, Erichsen. You looked after me when I was bowled over, and you saved my horses when most of you chaps would have been the first to take 'em. That landlord's an old lag himself. I know how to treat the breed. I never was beated by one of you yet, so put that in your pipe and smoke it. But you're a wonder, you are! Seen the inside of a Sydney pub and come out sober! Well, there's one like that to every hundred inhabitants, to say nothing of the sly grogshops. It's a warm place, Sydney, I can tell you. But the Sydney sun, that's hotter still."

It was under a brilliant moon, however, that Tom had his last glimpse of the town for several months to come. Nor did he ever see its sad sights again with the same startled eyes nor hear its sad sounds with the same thrill of horror. It was a different nature—it was another man—that came back to Sydney after many weeks.

The exodus in the meanwhile proved a pleasanter experience than had at first appeared possible. The small adventure at the Bull and Tumbledown had established some degree of mutual regard between Mr. Nat and his new groom. Their ride up country spread over the better part of a week, during which time the master suffered more than once as he had been suffering when the man first met him. But in the intervals he treated Tom with a certain stupid good humor, which, however, never for a moment concealed the capacity for an equally stupid cruelty, and the nearest approach to a quarrel on the way was occasioned by the brutal beating of the pack horse, in which Tom interfered. They were good friends, however, on the whole, and once or twice Mr. Nat made quite an interesting guide. In Parramatta he pointed out a large building, like a poorhouse, and offered to wait outside while Tom went in to choose a wife.

"A wife!" said Tom, with a shudder. "What is the place?"

"They call it a factory. It is for the women what Hyde Park barracks are to you fellows. They go there till they're assigned and afterward when they're turned into government. Cut in and take your choice. I'm not joking. I've chosen 'em for our men before today, and you're the sort that deserves one. Get a lightweight, and we'll take her up on the pack horse."

Tom shook his head and thought of Claire until they stopped at an inn where a new surprise awaited him. The resplendent landlord stared when he saw Tom and tilted a white top hat over his eyes, but not before the latter had recognized a fellow convict per Seahorse. They had parted in the barrack yard, where Tom had seen the other carried off by a gorgeous female in a nankeen pelisse and bright green veil, to whom he had been assigned. Tom now caught a glimpse of the nankeen pelisse in the bar parlor, and as he rode away he asked Mr. Nat whether convicts were ever assigned to their wives.

"They have been often enough," was the reply, "but it's being put a stop to now. Why, some of the best shops in Sydney are carried on by convicts assigned to their wives and on capital which was originally the proceeds of the robbery the husband was lagged for! The wife brings it out and is here to meet him when he lands! At least that used to be the dodge, but Bourke tried hard to put his foot on it, and if you hear of a case just let me know."

So Tom said no more.

But the most interesting roadside character was encountered at a contractor's store much farther on the way, where Mr. Sullivan nudged Tom and made him take note of a portly man in a magnificent waistcoat, who sang a song in the most charming baritone while the travelers were having their supper.

"Do you know who that was?" said Tom's master when they were once more on their way. "That was Hunt, the accomplice of Thurtell, who murdered a man called Weare. You remember it, do you? Well, that's the man, and he just bears out what I say—we don't care a kick what a convict has done in the old country so long as he don't go doing it again out here. But there, I keep forgetting you're one yourself. Somehow or other you're not like the rest, and you take my advice and go on like you've begun." As he paused the voice of Hunt was wafted to their ears in a new song that died very sweetly on the soft night air.

The latter stages of the journey were marked by looks of recognition wherever young Sullivan baited his horses, but by never a single look of welcome, and an ominous climax was reached when the little cavalcade passed a stockade and a chain gang within twenty miles of their destination.

Here was a long line of heavily ironed men, some eighty in all, strung together like beads on a rosary and at work with pick and shovel beneath the burning sun and the eyes and muskets of the military. As the riders approached word seemed to go along the line, and face after face was raised with a curse and a howl as the horses passed. Such faces as they were! Tom had not seen the like in Newgate, nor aboard the Seahorse, nor yet, in such a number, in Sydney itself. Those, on the whole, were only on the lower slopes of degradation, but these had reached its lowest depths, and Tom rode by them with an aching heart and averted eyes.

His attention, indeed, became concentrated upon his companion, who had checked his horse instead of urging it forward and was walking instead of galloping this horrible gauntlet. Tom could see but one sunburnt cheek and one cold blue eye, but the first kept its color, the second never flinched, and the gross lip that jutted out between beard and mustache never quivered once all the way. Nor until he was well past the gang did Mr. Nat put spurs to his horse, but when he did it was not to draw rein until they reached the next roadside inn, and there he vanished, to reappear next day with running eyes and shaking hands.

"I wouldn't be assigned to him for something!" said the barman, with whom Tom made friends. "You might as well go to Norfolk island straight as to Castle Sullivan. Tell you what, mate, I'd give him the go-by tonight, for you'll never have a better chance. And see here, I'll come with you, for I'm dead sick of my job!"

Tom shook his head.

"No, no, my friend; he may be all you say, but he's treated me well enough so far, and I mean to stick to him."

"Oh, the young cove's not the worst. It's the old cove I was thinking of."

"What old cove?"

"Dr. Sullivan, this one's father."

He had a father, then? Mr. Nat had never mentioned him. And the old man was worse to do with than the son?

Tom put these questions to himself and then another to his friend the barman, after shortly telling the latter about the behavior of the iron gang. "Why was all that?" said Tom.

"Why? Because half them crawlers have worked for the Sullivans in their time. They get you flogged and flogged and flogged till all the work's flogged out of you; then they get you six months in the crawlers, and like as not that's the end of you."

"Why doesn't somebody put a bullet through them both?"

"Because the coves have got the pluck. That's their secret. They don't know what fear is. So there's seventy strong men up there and over a hundred in harvest time, and the whole boiling afraid of them two!"

Tom said no more; neither did he have much to say to Mr. Nat next day in their saddles. Neither did Mr. Nat have anything at all to say to him before nightfall, so severe had been his latest "touch of the sun," but toward evening they left the road, and as the moon was rising in a velvet sky lights also broke upon them through some trees. Dogs innumerable began to bark, and as young Sullivan stooped to open a gate he pointed across it to the lights and said that there was Castle Sullivan at last.

"And hark you here," he added savagely, seizing Tom's bridle on the other side, as though every redeeming trait was now left behind upon the neutral ground that they had traversed together, "hark you to this and recollect it well! You've been right enough on the way, and you've the makings of a decent groom, but you won't find me as easy up here as I could afford to be down the road, and one word about that sunstroke"—

He glared at Erichsen, then let the bridle go without finishing his threat, and without another syllable they rode through the trees toward the lights.

CHAPTER XVI.

The new groom rubbed his eyes in the moonlight. He could have laughed aloud. English castles he had seen, Irish castles he had heard about, but what was this? A jumble of slab huts on the right, and facing these a wooden, one storied rectilinear eyesore—three sides house, the fourth a formidable palisade, and in their midst an arid courtyard overlooked by French windows and glass doors. No creeper clung to the whitened walls. No shrub softened the rigid angles of the yard, and the veranda was too shallow for real shade. Yet the site had been chosen on a ridge of red gums that had been left unfelled beyond the palisade and rustled restfully above the slab huts opposite, rendering the latter the more inviting quarter of the two.

The riders dismounted at a gate in the palisade, and as young Sullivan led the way into the courtyard a tall, bent figure in a frogged coat and a plaited straw hat stepped down from the veranda and then stood still.

"What's this?" cried an arrogant and aged voice. "Only one, eh? What have you done with the other two?"

"Couldn't get them, sir," responded Mr. Nat in a tone quite new to Tom. It was a very model of filial respect and dutiful subservience.

"Couldn't get them, sir! Why, what d'ye mean?" the old man thundered. "We applied for two laborers and a groom. Why couldn't you get them?"

"The fact is I did," stammered Nat, "only two out of the three were hopeless cases, in the last stages of—of"—

"Phthisis?" cried Dr. Sullivan, who was an old army surgeon and the bugbear of sick convicts and malingerers alike. "Not phthisis, eh?"

"That was it, sir—the very word the doctor used when I made him overhaul them. He said it was no use my taking them, as they'd certainly die on our hands."

"Humph! He may have been right, but I'd trust a convict to sham death itself—with anybody but me," said the old gentleman, looking hard at Tom. "I wish I'd seen them myself. However, I'll take his word and yours and complain to the assignment board"—

"I've done all that, sir," hurriedly interrupted the son. "I stayed the week out doing nothing but complain. They'll remember me, I promise you. It'll never happen again to us. Then at the end of the week I couldn't resist another Sunday, and you wouldn't grudge it me, father, if you'd heard the sermons I heard in St. Philip's church morning and evening. I must tell you about it later on."

"You must, you must. No; I don't grudge you that, my boy, heaven knows," said the old man, mollified in a moment. He took a bamboo cane from under his arm and rapped Tom smartly across the shoulders. "And what of this rascal?" he added. "What's he good for?"

"Groom."

"Can the ruffian ride?"

"Not so badly."

"Understands horses, does he, and has behaved himself on the way?"

"Yes, on the whole, very well."

"Then let him take them round to the stables and come back here for his supper. He may have it in the kitchen tonight; only recollect, you convict, that if you misbehave either there or anywhere else on Castle Sullivan you'll smart for it pretty quick and pretty heavy. Recollect that. You're here as a convicted felon, not a free man, and I don't care what you've done to get here. Whatever it was, the punishment for it is scandalously light. But the punishment for anything you do amiss on my estate shall be all the heavier on that account. So now you know. And don't you say you hadn't a fair warning at the start."

With this Dr. Sullivan shook his cane in the new groom's face and called his overseer, for whom he had directions to which Tom did not listen. He was more interested in a lighted door on the right, where stood a female on the threshold of what he conceived to be the kitchen and whither Mr. Nat himself had thrown furtive glances. But now father and son went indoors arm in arm. The overseer came up, a gruff man with flaming whiskers, and Tom caught him also looking wistfully toward the lighted door before he was bidden to "come this way."

So he followed the fiery whiskers to the stables, a long log building some little distance beyond the house, and here Tom was so smart in unsaddling and so quick to find chaff bin and oat sack and saddle room that his surly companion was moved to rude advances.

"You're pretty handy," he growled. "Been a groom before?"

"Only since we left Sydney."

"Well, you're in luck too. The groom here has a room to himself next the saddle room. Come and I'll show it you."

The room in question was very small and squalid, with a fixed bunk and a foul paillasse, but Tom thought it would be delightful with nice clean straw, and to be alone at nights was to compass an unexpected and unspeakable luxury. Ginger whiskers pointed out the other convicts' quarters on their way back to the house. They were the slab huts opposite the palisade. Two were large, the others all small. That was the overseer's hut with the big chimney and the little veranda.

To be continued.

A religious census is being taken in Winnipeg.

SPECIAL TO SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS

GIFTS that will be appreciated by the children and yet not costly.

SHORT STORY BOOKS

1 in a book from 10 cts. to 25 cts. each. Better than making something which is not useful or not valued. See our stock.

F. C. CUBITT,
370 George Street, Peterborough
"CUBITT SELLS CHEAP"

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited
97 Yonge Street, Toronto.
W. H. ISAAC, 226 Dublin Street, Peterborough.
Local Salaried Representative.
Machine 'Phone 22

FOR THE LADY WHO CALLS

Visiting List and Social Engagement Book —A Dainty and Useful Gift.

Those ladies who find it difficult to keep track of their social debts in the way of calls which have to be returned, invitations to various society functions which have been received will be pleased to learn that a dainty little book has been issued from the presses of the Review which will fill their need. The city has grown so rapidly of late years that it has become almost necessary for each lady to have a special reception day each month when her friends will be sure to find her at home. To keep a record of these will be an easy matter with one of these little books. They are prettily bound in blue linen, lettered in gold and printed on good paper. There are two pages for every day in the month, arranged, according as the day is, first Monday, second Tuesday, etc. At the back of the book are pages for invitations received, out-of-town addresses, special reception dates, and memoranda. One of the books would make a dainty and acceptable Xmas gift. The books are on sale at the bookstores at the price of 50c

Invitation Cards for AT Homes, Receptions and Evening Parties, partly printed for 1c each. Envelopes to match 10c package. On sale at the Review Office.

FIRE ALARM BOXES

The following are the numbers and locations of the city of Peterborough Fire Alarm Boxes.

WARD No. ONE

BOX LOCATION
12—Lock and McGill
14—Westcott and Aylmer
15—Perry and George.
16—Perry and Bethune
17—Park and Townsend
18—George, at C. P. R.

WARD No. TWO

21—George and King
22—Simcoe and Queen
23—George and Hunter
24—Hunter and Quaker
27—Water and McDonel

WARD No. THREE

31—Park and Sherbrooke
33—Charlotte and Stewart
35—Park and Hunter
36—McDonel and Reid

WARD No. FOUR

41—Park and London
42—George and Dublin
43—Edinburgh and Stewart
45—George and Smith
48—Water and Hilliard

WARD No. FIVE

52—Burnham and James
53—Rogers and Sophia
54—Hunter and Mark
57—Concession and Haslitt
59—Auburn

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the War number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

R. A. ELLIOTT & CO.

Real Estate Agents

Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

Letterheads

¶What you think about you Business Stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks.

¶Don't have inferior paper and work in your Business Stationery. Don't try good work and paper because you like it altogether, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

¶The Review Job Department will give you the best work obtainable and superior paper and envelopes. Your order set, printed and cared for for you, particularly y u

¶A Call or Phone will bring to you samples

THE REVIEW
PETERBOROUGH

YOUR OWN HAIR MADE UP AS DESIRED . .

By home talent, where you are ure of satisfaction, or matched correctly in shade and quality.

Switches, Natural Wavy Pomps Latest Coiffures

Let us show you what we can do before you patronize some outside party. We guarantee oplease you at lowest prices in the city.

Back Hair Dressing, Shampooing, etc.

MRS. BYRNE'S
George Street, Second Door North of Sutton's

W. H. HILL, Esq.,
Manager of Central Ontario.

Dear Sir—After congratulating myself being a Sun Life Policy Holder, I am very much pleased with the handsome amount added to my Policy, and am surprised and gratified with the profits. I appreciate the good financial position which your Company holds to-day.

THOS. EDGAR,
Peterborough, Ont

November 29th, 1907.

N.B.—Policy Straight Life $2,000
Bonus for 5 Years $160
Policy No. 17,706

LOOK! Warne's Prices on Patent Medicines are LOWEST YET.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Chase's Nerve Food, reg. 50c for	39c
Wampole' Tooth Paste, reg. 25c for	10c
10S Nox a Cold, reg. 25c for	15c
Gin Pills, reg. 50c, for	29c
Baby's Own Soap, for	8c
Cuticura Soap, regular 35c for	25c
Chase's Pills, reg. 25c for	15c
Dr. Williams Pink Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Eclectric Oil, Thomas, genuine	12 1-2c
Electric Oil, other than genuine Thomas	9c

See our large assortment of Xmas gifts at cut rate prices.

W. B. WARNE

348 GEORGE ST. Phone 527

Xmas Photos

Send a family group or the children's photos to your friends at Christmas. Nothing is appreciated more than such remembrances, from

MENDEL'S STUDIO

374 1-2 George St Entrance next Oke's

Civic Grant of $100 to Dave Hartley

Council Will Give This Sum When Citizens Raise a Substantial Sum

The City Council will give a grant of $100 to David Hartley provided the citizens of Peterborough raise a substantial sum with which to purchase a house and lot for the pedestrian. The matter was discussed at the committee of the whole council last night when the above decision was reached. The majority of the aldermen were in favor of doing something for Hartley and voiced their opinion to that effect. Ald. Duncan opposed the move. He would rather have each alderman put his hand in his own pocket and give something rather than use the civic funds. He had opposed the grant to the British bowlers on the same principle.

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. Morrow that the Council defer action in this matter until the citizens raise a substantial fund for Hartley.

Ald. McIntyre moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Morgan that the Council agree to give Hartley $100 when the citizens raise a substantial sum with which to purchase a house and lot for him.

The amendment carried.

The Quarter Sessions of the County Court will open on Tuesday next before His Honor Judge Weller.

"SANITOL" PROPOSITION

If you are interested in an A1 offer for sterling good Toilet Preparations, call in and we will explain how you can get $2.70 worth of Sanitol Preparations for $1.00.

We know you will be pleased with the Goods and well satisfied with the bargain.

NUGENT DRUG CO.

A. J. JOHNSTON

388 GEORGE STREET

ADAMS | The Ladies' Furnishing Store | ADAMS

A BIG SNAP

- IN -

Lithograph Cushion Tops

Wednesday Morning'

We have just received a clearing lot of 180 Lithograph Cushion Tops bought much below their regular value. There are dozens of this season's newest designs to choose from in the bunch. The regular prices of these Cushion Tops are 50c and 75c

Wednesday Morning Your Choice for 32c

25c Cushion Girdles for 19c

10 Dozen Cushion Girdles sold at 25c regular, on sale Wednesday morning YOUR CHOICE FOR 19c

SALE CUSHION TOPS WILL NOT BE SOLD BEFORE MORNING ADVERTISED SEE WINDOW.

Harry Adams

INTEREST PAID

QUARTERLY

—ON—

SAVINGS DEPOSITS

of $1 and upwards

—THE—

BANK OF OTTAWA

Interest paid
February 28
May 31
August 31
November 30

PETERBOROUGH BRANCHES:
George Street, also Corner Rubidge and Townsend Streets

A. A. HOLLINGSHEAD, Mgr

The Fire Drill Is Frequent

At the Deaf and Dumb Institute Belleville—Dr. Coughlin Praised

The Canadian Mute of Belleville says: Dr. Doughlin recognizes the the great responsibility of having so many little ones in his care, and is anxious that our fire drill should be as nearly perfect as possible. It is not because he cannot go to bed and sleep himself that he occasionally drops over in the night and either smokes or rings all our folks out of bed and down stairs. He wants to see that all are prepared to act promptly if a real occasion should arise.

STEAMSHIP MOVEMENTS

Special to the Review.

St. John's N.B., Dec. 2,—Lake Manitoba off harbor 5.30 Monday night. Will dock and land passengers West St. John, 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

A despatch received by the C. P. R. this morning says "The Lake Manitoba docked and landed her passengers at St. John at ten o'clock today.

Not One Child at the Shelter Present Time

Unusual State of Affairs in Connection With the Children's Aid Society

Something out of the usual has happened in connection with the local Children's Aid Society. For the first time in years the shelter is without an inmate with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Henry, who are in charge of the institution. When the society moved from the old shelter on Charlotte street to the new one on the Hilliard farm a few weeks ago there was one inmate, but this one has since been sent out to a family in the country, leaving Mr. and Mrs. Henry without a ward.

However, it is not likely that the present state of affairs will continue long as the society is now looking after some children who will likely be taken to the shelter.

All the children who have been in the shelter have been given out to good homes and reports as to their conduct are satisfactory.

By the explosion of black damp in a Monongabela, Pa., mine last night between twenty-five and thirty miners were entomed, and it is feared all have perished.

Many Cases Come Under the Notice of Charity Board

There will be many cases for the local charity board to consider this winter. Innumerable applications for relief are being made, many of them justifying chairy, and others due purely to the negligence or neglect of the sufferers. Numbers of bread winners have been spending their "winnings" in an improvedential manner, and as work is now scarce and in fact often absolutely not to be had, the dilemma they face is a very serious one. In cases where men have have many mouths to feed, and have been unable to secure steady employment, they and theirs are also in a poverty stricken condition owing to the high prices now prevailing in nearly all lines of necessities.

City Relief Officer Finch visited W. Miller visited a house on Smith street on Sunday afternoon last, and found the family in an absolutely destitute condition. They had practically no clothes or fuel, and nothing to eat except what the neighbors brought them in. Just previous to his visit to this unhappy home, he called at an East City residence, where the mother had not the necessary money to look after the needs of a dying child. The father was away spending his money, and did not return until some hours after the death of his infant, at the tender age of two months. Mr. Miller, when asked by the Review concerning the cases that come under his notice, was reticent to give much information, and said he did not care to give any names or cite specific examples. He stated, however, that he was constantly being called upon by people who had the means of support, and quite often by others who were really not in need of assistance, but who had the habit of soliciting for alms, whether they actually required them or not.

Many Matters Dealt With By Committee of the Whole

City Council Given Free Deed of Site for Public Library—The Question of Unpaid Taxes.

The City Council met in committee of the whole for two hours last night and transakted considerable business. Those present were:—Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Wilson, Elliott, Tovey, Morgan, Stevenson, Leary, McIntyre, Bradburn, Morrow and Phelan.

Mr. Richard Hall, one of the trustees of the Nicholls Estate, appeared and presented the city with a free deed of the building on Simcoe steet, formerly used by Richard Hall & Son, excepting that portion purchased by the Bank of Montreal. The deed is absolutely free, the only provision being that the building must be used as a public library and have in plain letters the words "Nicholls Public Library."

On motion of Ald. Phelan and Ald. McIntyre, a vote of thanks was tendered the trustees of the Nicholls estate for their splendid gift.

The Romaine street sewer trouble was then taken up and after some discussion Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by Ald. Tovey,—That the outfall sewer from Romaine street be carefully examined and blockage removed.—Carried.

UNPAID TAXES.

The question of arrears in taxes was then taken up. The Mayor reported that there are $8,200 unpaid taxes. Some of this amount is owing by poor people, but a large proportion of it is due from people who can well afford to pay, but who can use their money to better advantage than by paying their taxes. He thought something should be done to make the latter class pay up. The city needed the money.

Ald. Morrow and Ald. Phelan said the taxes had been well paid this year and they did not favor any radical action being taken.

Finally it was moved by Ald. Wilson, seconded by Ald. Tovey,—That the tax collector be instructed to return a list of all ratepayers who have not paid their taxes by December 31st, with observations as to reasons why they have not been collected.—Carried.

Arranging for Convention Of Canadian Bill Posters

Which Will be Held in Peterboro on May 24th Next—Board of Directors Met in Toronto Yesterday.

Arrangements are under way for the annual meeting of the Canadian Bill Posters' Association, which will be held in Peterborough on May 24th next. Mr. Walter Stocker, accompanied by Mr. H. Williams, of the Canadian Poster Company, Montreal, were in Toronto yesterday attending a meeting of the Board of Director of the Canadian Bill Posters' Association, when preliminary arrangements for the annual convention was made. It is expected that this will be the most successful annual gathering ever held by the association. Mr. Stocker is already hard at work and is arranging for something new. The Bradburn estate has granted the association the use of this large lot south of the customs house for the day of the convention. Large steel bill boards will be erected on it, and these will be covered with paper during the day by different members of the association. This will be very interesting, especially to the members of the association from the smaller towns.

In the evening a grand banquet will be held at one of the local hotels, given by the Canadian National Solicitors. About fifty delegates from all parts of the Dominion will be in attendance.

Mr. Williams, of Montreal, spent a few hours with Mr. Stocker here yesterday.

President Roosevelt Sends Strong Message to Congress

Does Not Recede From Position Taken With Regard to Control of Corporations—Compulsory Investigation of Industrial Disputes Through Federal Machinery is Urged.

Special to the Review.

Washington, Dec. 3. — President Roosevelt's message was sent to Congress to-day. It was very voluminous, and covered a large variety of topics. Nowhere is to be noted any recession from the position in regard to corporations' control taken by Mr. Roosevelt in the past, and emphasised by him in his speeches through the year. He insists upon the necessity of the Federal Government directing the supervision and regulation which he desires.

He claims alleged inadequacy of the individual States of the Union properly to cover the subject by legislation. He welcomes, however, co-operation of the States with the general government. He asserts that there should be either a national incorporation act or a license law, or a combination of the two, to govern both the railroads and the large industrial corporations. He recommends giving the Interstate Commerce Commission power to pass upon future issues of securities, and to make a physical valuation of any railroads whenever in its judgment such seems necessary.

The President recommends amending the Sherman anti-trust law so as to permit agreements among the railroads and combinations among the industrial corporations, where the same are not detrimental to public interest, and provided the consent and supervision of some government machinery is obtained.

Publication of accounts and inspection of books and papers by government officials he regards as necessary. He contends that the additional legislation he desires will be beneficial to all interests affected. No specific currency reform measure is advocated in this message. The subject is urged upon the attention of Congress, and the President emphasises the need of greater elasticity in this currency, as well as an emergency issue effectively secured.

The President recommends the adoption of an income tax, and an inheritance tax as part of the national revenue raising scheme. He denies that either one is Socialistic or objectionable. It is also declared that there is some warrant for complaint as to the use of court injunctions in labor disputes, and Congress is urged to devise means to prevent the abuse of this legal instrument if the U. S. Supreme Court decides that the Employers' Liability Act is constitutional.

He thinks, also, that Congress should extend the eight hour day to all branches of government work. Compulsory investigation of industrial disputes through Federal machinery is urged. The President recommends the preservation of the forests, the repeal of the tariff on wood pulp, and laws against corporation contributions for Presidential campaign purposes. He favorably directs the attention of Congress to the suggestion of the postmaster-general regarding postal savings banks. Many army and navy recommendations are presented. The most striking feature of this message is the moderation of its tone as compared with some of the President's former state papers, to say nothing of his numerous speeches. Emphatic denunciation is largely missing, and in other ways the message apparently seems to indicate conservative treatment.

Mrs. Bradley is Found "Not Guilty"

Special to the Review.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 3.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Bradley charged with the murder of Senator Brown, of Utah, this morning returned a verdict of not guilty.

Fire did $20,000 damage to the stock of the Montreal Wadding Company yesterday.

WOMEN AS FARM HANDS.

Winnipeg, Man.—Unable to obtain men enough for the harvest fields, Manitoba farmers hired women in their places. They are said to have done just as good work as the former farm hands, and there was much less shirking among them.

That is the way with women. They work too hard—and often overtax their strength. Then the system becomes run down, the liver gets out of order, and constipation and biliousness make life miserable. Mrs. John Cline, of Aylmer, Ont., suffered from these troubles for ten years and found no relief until she tried "Fruit-a-tives." "I want to say a word in regard to Fruit-a-tives,'" writes Mrs. Cline, "I had liver trouble for ten years and tried different remedies, but Fruit-a-tives cured."

"Fruit-a-tives" are made of fruit juices and tonics and never fail to cure Liver, Kidney, Stomach, Skin and Bowel Troubles. 50c a box.

Presentation of Passion Play at the Crystal

Will be Seen Commencing Monday December 9th—The Orginal Version

Commencing on Monday, December 9th, the original version of "The Passion Play," will be presented at the Crystal. This beautiful story of Christ's life is told in a very large number of beautifully painted slides and should appeal strongly to every citizen. Manager Edwards has gone to much trouble to complete arrangements whereby his patrons are assured of the most correct and artistic as well as the most elaborate production of "The Passion Play" ever seen in Peterborough. An article explaining in interesting terms the origin and history of the "Passion Play," will appear in Wednesday's and Saturday's issues of the Review.

Seedless Valencia Raisins, 2 lbs. for 25c; Green Ginger, per lb, 30c; C & B Preserved Ginger, per jar, 25c; Natural Figs, per 3 lb box, 50c.—R. A Dutton, George st. Bell and Machine Phones 304.

Heard of Way Down in Denver

Firm of Horse Buyers There Noticed Article in Review and Wrote Mr. J. Duncan

The Review certainly has a wide publicity. An article appeared in its columns some time ago telling of the feeble state of the horse market. Mr. J. Duncan was the Review's informant, supplying the intelligence embodied in the article. A short time ago Mr. Duncan received a letter from a Denver, Col., firm of horse buyers, asking him the prices of horses and what would be the amount of their transportation, the duty, etc., from Peterborough to Denver. The firm mentioned above must have just casually picked up the paper, as Mr. Duncan says he did not send a copy to them and did not call their attention to the article in any way.

POSTPONEMENT

Owing to the illness of Miss Minnie M. Williams, who was to have given the recital from Shakespeare's Works, at the Conservatory Music Hall, Wednesday evening, 4th, the event has been postponed for two weeks. The date will be announced later.

Staff Appointed for the "Echoes"

First Number Will be Issued About December 18th

At a meeting of the executive of the Collegiate Institute Philomathean Society yewsterday afternoon the following staff was appointed for "Collegiate Echoes;"

Ed'tor-in-Chief—Colin Lees.
Sub-Editors—Miss Gladys Crane, Miss Katie Leary, Max Dobbin and Stanley Pringle.
Business Manager—Max Dobbin.
Assistants—Misses Cameron and Rankin.

It is expected that the first number of the "Echoes" will be issued about December 18th, and afterwards monthly.

A row in Levis on Saturday ended in the death of a drunken man.

ESTABLISHED 1873

LEAVE YOUR MEASURE

Hurry up and leave your measure now for your new

CHRISTMAS SUITS and OVERCOATS

Prices have been cut very low, when you can get made to your order on the premises—

A Stylish Ordered Suit from $15.00 up

A First-class Melton or Beaver Overcoat for $16.00 up

A Full Dress Suit for $25.00 up

Good Pair of Tweed Trousers for $3.25 up.

FIT AND SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

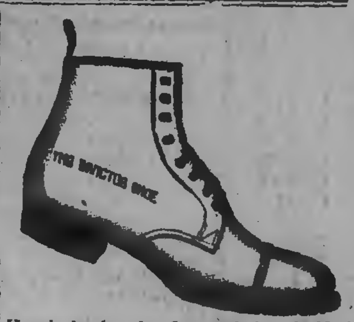
H. LeBrun & Co.

Two Entrances George and Hunter Sts.

Porter's Delicatessen

CUT RATE GROCERY STORE

Black Tea, 3 lbs	.50
Sleer Raisins 3 lbs	.20
Cooking Figs, 4 lbs	.25
Mince Meat, 3 lbs	.20
Chopped Suet, per lb	.10
Washing Soda, 3 lbs	.05
Tomatoes, per tin	.10
Beans, Peas, Corn, per tin	.08
3 bottles Pickles	.25
3 bottles Ketchup	.25
Horse Shoe Salmon, tin	.15
Potatoes, per pk	.15
Apples, per pk	.10



Here is the shoe that fits exactly into the ideal so many have looked for and never found.

INVICTUS SHOES AT $4.50 & $5.00

Shoes that combine with a moderate price the perfection of style, fit and durability. "Invictusized" Patent Leather Shoes are a revelation. This secret process does something never before accomplished. Renders the leather soft and pliable, increases the life of the shoes at least one third and reduces checking or breaking to a minimum.

ASK THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM

J. T. STENSON

384 George St.

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES

AND

VETERINARY INFIRMARY

193 Hunter Street west of Oriental Hotel.

If you wish a rig of any kind for any occasion ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 278. Night Phone Bell 425 B.

D. McKERCHER, V.S.

ADAMSON & DOBBIN

Stove Dealers, Tinsmiths, Plumbers, Etc.

REMOVED Across the Street

To their new and more commodious Store premises, warerooms and workshop, No. 175 Simcoe Street,

In New Brick Block

Come and see us. We'll be glad to welcome all our friends and patrons, and lots of new customers, in our up-to-date shop. No change in our store policy. Prices will continue to be on the same reasonable scale as before. Superior Stoves, Tinware, Furnaces and Work always at moderate figures.

THE DAYLIGHT STORE

The Money-Saving Sale

Of Clothing and Furnishings now going on at this Store is meeting with success for the reason that our patrons are getting values in High-class Goods which have never been equalled. It is not what you pay, but what you get for your money that counts. Low prices alone does not make a bargain, but we are truly giving good quality at a low price.

Men's Suits
Mostly traveller's samples, cut in single and double breasted styles, latest models, worth up to $10.00, for 6.90

Youths' Suits
In fancy Tweed, beautifully lined and guaranteed fronts, worth $10.00, for 6.90

Men's Overcoats
Beautiful cloths, dark colors, hair cloth fronts, worth $13.00, for 9.90

BOYS' CLOTHING at reduced prices
MEN'S UNDERWEAR all reduced
MEN'S WORKING SHIRTS, guaranteed fast colors, at reduced prices.

Come, expecting great value. Prices are cut deep, and everything is on the move here. EARLY PICKERS SECURE THE CHOICEST FRUIT

LANG & MAHER, CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW
409-411 George St., Peterborough

FRENCH, GERMAN AND ENGLISH CRETONNES

These bright drapery and upholstering materials, by the yard or made up to order. For making into bright, cheerful, artistic, window hangings, bed coverings and canopies, box coverings, etc. Here are French, German and English Cretonnes in a wide variety of tasteful and beautiful designs. In these we offer some very exceptional values, giving you the opportunity to fit your home with cozy and beautiful hangings, at a very small cost. These goods you may purchase by the yard if you like. We will make them up to your order for any purpose you may desire, and leaving them at your home. For this work our charges are moderate and you may be sure that it will be thoroughly well done. Our stock is very select, chosen with discriminate taste and will especially appeal to the woman who appreciates refinement in house-furnishing. You are invited to come and see the many splendid values now held out in this stock and make early choice while the variety is fresh and full.

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED

353 AND 355 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

STORE OPENS AT 8 A.M. CLOSES AT 6 P.M., EXCEPT SATURDAY

FOR FINE

Lemons, Oranges

Malaga Grapes

Bananas

and all kinds of fruit and vegetables try

MINOCOLO BROS.

Wholesale and Retail.

Both Phones 337.

FRAMED VIEWS

In COLORED SEPIA and BLACK : : : :

FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

THE ROY STUDIO

Ask for Roy's Famous Souvenir Post Cards

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

	Opening	Closing
Amal. Copper	51⅞	49¾
Atchison	72⅞	72¾
B. R. T.	36	36
Can. Pacific x div	152	151⅝
Erie	16⅝	16⅝
Louis. & Nash.	94½	92½
Mo. Pac.	51	49¾
N. Y. Central	97½	96⅜
Penna	111½	110¾
Rock Island	14⅝	15
Reading	92⅜	94
Smelters	75¼	76⅜
Sugar	106¼	106
St. Paul	101½	[illegible]
So. Pac.	73¼	72⅜
Union Pac. x-div. 2½	116¼	115¼
U. S. Steel	26¼	26⅛
do. pfd.	87¼	87⅛
Twin City	77	77½
McKay	50½	50½
Nipissing	6½	6½
Wheat	101⅝	101⅝
Corn	56⅛	56⅛
May Oats	50⅝	52⅛
Pork	12.97	13 10

THE CITY AND VICINITY

EVENTS TO-NIGHT

Brock street rink—Y.M.C.A. Harriers' athletic meet.

Ashburnham Hall—Drivers' ball and supper.

Board of Education.

FUR LINED COATS

We clean and press them and guarantee no injury to the fur. My Valet, 204 Charlotte street. All goods called for and delivered. dtf

HOTEL MAN FINED

A Kingston hotel man was fined $20 and costs the other day for permitting a raffle to take place on his premises.

MUTUAL BENEFIT.

Help somebody in need and at the same time get a little ready cash for yourself by selling that spare article through the "For Sale" column of the Review. Only costs 25c for one time, or 50c for three times.

RETURNS THANKS.

Mrs. John A. McWilliams, Rogers-st., east city, and family desire to express their sincere thanks to all those who sent tokens of sympathy in their late bereavement. They also wish to convey their thanks to the members of the Scarlet Chapter of West Peterborough, L.O.L., 1175, and the district Orange lodges for their kind letters of condolence.

THE DULL TIMES

Dorset correspondent of Minden Echo says; It looks as if the prophesied hard times were here, for many of the lumber camps have closed down, and in those who are still keeping open the men have had their wages reduced $10 on the month. And in view of the fact that nothing else has had a fall in price, it surely means hardship for many.

SLAP FROM LINDSAY

Just read the following from the Lindsay Post:—A Peterborough clergyman complains of having been tendered only 50c, as a fee for marrying a couple recently. We don't mean to be ungallant, but a good looking youth in our press room says if the girl was as ill-favored as the Peterborough young women he has met, the fee was really a munificent one.

FINE PICTURE FRAMING.

New mouldings, good work, reasonable prices. J. M. GREENE Music Co., George street. dtf

A CORRECTION.

In the announcement of the prayer meeting in St. Andrew's to-morrow, Wednesday, evening, the hour should have read 7.45 instead of 6.45.

CLOSE LINE ROBBED

The clothes line of Mr. Harry Hutchinson, Sheridan street, was robbed of blankets, sheets and several other articles of wearing apparel last night. Other residents should take warning.

FINGER AMPUTATED.

Yesterday Thos. Ball of the C.G.E. carpenter shop, had one of the fingers of his right hand amputated while engaged at work in the shop. He was taken to Nicholls hospital where his injuries were looked after.

LADIES' LITERARY.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T.A.S., will be held on Friday evening, Dec. 6th, when an interesting essay will be read by Miss Kate McGrath. A musical programme will also be presented. 4d

TAKE NOTE

Of our fine line of Violins, Mandolins, Guitars, etc. Some excellent values, and within easy range for the Xmas trade. Special prices to Old Santa Claus. J. M. GREENE Music Co., Grand opera house building, George street. dtf

STOVE WANTED

A family who are in destitute circumstances are in great need of a cooking stove. Any one who has one that they will sell cheap, or donate, possibly, will confer a favor by leaving their name at the Review Office. 2d

"Scotch" Night at St. Andrew's

Young People Spent Pleasant Time Last Evening

The "Scotch Night" in St. Andrew's school hall last night, under the auspices of the Social Committee of the Young People's Society, was in every way a decided success. Rev. J. G. Potter presided and during the evening gave an interesting outline of "Traits of Scotch Character." The musical programme was excellent throughout. The piano solo by Mr. Barrie was excellently rendered, as was Mr. Clarke's selections of Scotch music on the banjo. The vocal numbers were delightful and were all very highly appreciated by the members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenslade, in the rendition of a Scotch selection, showed artistic taste. Mrs. Greenslade later sang "Angus McDonald," in a fine rich voice that pleased everybody. Mrs. Davidson excelled in her very fine solo befitting the occasion, "Within a Mile o' Edinburgh Town." Mr. F. C. Freeland thundered forth in grand voice, "The March of the Cameron Men," in a fashion that made the Scotch blood course faster in the veins of the bairns o' the land o' cakes. Mr. C. S. McDonald presided at the piano in a very efficient manner.

At the close of the programme the Social Committee treated all present to a cup o' tea and oatmeal cake and short-bread, which was greatly appreciated, after which everybody sang lustily, "For Auld Lang Syne."

OPEN AT NIGHT

James R. Bell's Store, 161 Hunter Street, will be open each night, commencing Wednesday the 4th, until the New Year. Customers and friends, will kindly take advantage of this, especially those who work all day. Special prices.

PERSONAL

Mrs R J Kidd will not receive again until after the New Year.

Mrs. N. E. Brown, Port Hope, is registered at the National.

Miss Cora B. Eastwood, Hall's Bridge, is in the city to-day.

Messrs. F. W. Hunt and Wilson P. McDonald, Chicago, are at the National.

Mrs. John Crane will receive tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon, and not again until February.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Barber have returned from spending a few days in Hamilton.

Mr. M. W. Matchett returned to Toronto yesterday after spending a day or two at his home here.

Mr. Thomas Dawson, western traveller for Stewart & Co., Toronto, is spending a few weeks holidays at his home here.

Mr. Melville M. Robinson, assistant sporting editor of the Toronto News, and son of Mr. W. S. Robinson, of this city, arrived in the city last night from Toronto, and will take charge of Jack Tait, who is entered in the Harriers' meet tonight. He is also here as a representative of the News and will report tonight's proceedings for his journal.

George St. Methodist Mission Band Bazaar Dec. 6th Beautiful Dolls, Toys, Fresh Candy, Collars, Handkerchiefs, Aprons, Postal Cards and Albums, Bric Brac. Japanese Tea Room. Admission free.

Royal Hotel Has New Proprietor

The Royal Hotel, Hunter street, has again changed hands.

Mr. Ed. Flaherty, who recently became proprietor, has sold out to Mr. Stephen Holland, former proprietor of the American House. Mr. Holland took possession of the Royal today.

SANTA CLAUS ON HIS WAY TO ROUTLEY'S

Goods are Pouring in--Our customers are Now Buying for Xmas

300 Dressed Dolls, reg. 25c, choice	.14
375 China Tea Sets, regular 50c	.25
25 Crokinole Boards, regular 1.25	.59
60 Leather Case Silk Lined Ebony Manicure Case, regular 2.50 for	1 50
20 only Military Brush Sets, Stirling Silver Mounted, regular 1.25 pair for	.74
15 cases Children's Plated Knife, Fork and Spoon, with pearl handles, reg. 2.00	1 24

You will find that our clerks are attentive and that prices are reliable. We watch closely our buying as we know goods well bought are half sold at

TORONTO 262-4 QUEEN W ROUTLEY'S PETERBORO' 379 GEORGE ST

Peterborough Delegates Got Wrong Busses

At Lakefield Last Evening—Some of Them Came Very Nearly Spending the Night in Bridgenorth

A strange and rather amusing incident occurred last evening at Lakefield, when the large number of delegates who attended the Epworth League Convention, were about to return to their respective homes.

There were about six different 'busses to convey the visitors home, two for the Charlotte street Methodist members, three for the George street church people and one for the Bridgenorth delegates. When they came to get in the sleighs some of them evidently forgot which one they came in. Charlotte street members were in George street 'busses, George street people were in Bridgenorth 'bus, and there was a general mix-up. The mistake was not noticed until they had drove out of the village some distance and the 'busses were brought to a standstill. Each one then got in their correct 'bus.

The affair afforded a great deal of amusement, and a number of the delegates are thankful that they are not spending the day in Bridgenorth.

CONVENTION AT LAKEFIELD

Of Sabbath School and Epworth League Workers a Great Success—Many Attend From City

Six 'bus loads of the Epworth Leagues and Sunday school workers in the Methodist churches of the city drove out to Lakefield last night to attend the District Sabbath School and Epworth League convention. The meetings opened yesterday afternoon and an interesting and profitable time was spent. Papers on different branches of the work were read by visiting delegates, and proved very instructive. In the evening the Sunday school was packed to the doors, and Mr. J. Tisdale, of this city, acted as chairman. Rev. H. M. Manning gave a short address, after which Rev. S. T. Bartlett, who is travelling in the interest of Sunday school work, gave a profitable address on "Bible Study."

Rev. E. A. Pearson, of George street church, gave a talk on the "Loyalty to the Church," and a vocal duet by the Misses Kline and Galvin, was loudly applauded.

The convention was a great success and productive of much good.

To Put Culvert at Original Place

City Council Takes Action in Reference to Creek Trouble

The Edinburg street creek trouble was up again at the meeting of the committee of the whole council last night. It has been decided to have another culvert built on the place where the first one was located, and work on this will start at once.

Ald. Monrow moved, seconded by Ald. Bradburn—That no action be taken in this matter other than constructing another culvert on the spot where the first one was located.

Ald. Duncan moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Elliott.—That a pipe drain be laid through Mr. Bogue's property, not less than 24 inches, of course with the latter's consent.

The amendment was lost, and the motion carried.

Should a Man Get His Breakfast?

Subject of Interesting Debate at Knox Church Last Evening

A very successful meeting of the Young People's Society of Knox church, was held last evening when a large number were present. The chair was occupied by Mr. H. Wilkie and the chief feature of the evening was the debate, "Resolved, that a man should get his own breakfast." The affirmative was led by Miss Menzies, who pointed out the many failings in the present organization and showed how man escaped the duties of home. Mr. Roy Laing then argued for the negative, stating that if a man had to get his own breakfast, married life would cease and men would remain bachelors. Miss Cunningham for the affirmative thought that man was stronger than woman and it should be a pleasure for him to get up and get his breakfast. Mr. Roy Menzies was the next speaker of the negative and Miss Barclett followed him with a number of good remarks for the affirmative. Mr. D. Campbell was the concluding speaker for the negative and in an effective and amusing speech brought out several strong points for his side.

Mrs. H. J. Keith acted as counsel for the affirmative and Mr. Parker the negative.

Mr. Sheriff Hall officiated as judge and after carefully considering all points presented, gave his decision in favor of the affirmatives.

At the conclusion of the meeting the young men met and made arrangements for the rink this winter. It was decided to let Mr. Herb McCannan have full charge of it and it will be on the north side of the church.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Undisputed Facts About

Zutoo

Zutoo tablets are now recognized as being without doubt or question, the best and only safe remedy on the market for headaches and colds.

They have practically displaced all other cures, and are now the only one used to any extent.

The reason is doubtless found in this further fact.

Zutoo tablets not only cure headache and colds but, unlike many other remedies, do not affect the heart, nerves or stomach.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

POOR SEASON IN SHOW BUSINESS

Mr. Eugene Wilson Tells of Existing Conditions in Theatrical World

Mr. Eugene Wilson, representing the Sweely, Shipman Company, was in the city this morning, and in conversation with the Review, stated that the present theatrical season was a very poor one. In the United States, particularly, the show business is much below the average, and in Canada it is pretty nearly as bad. Hundreds of actors and actresses are unable to secure engagements, and many pieces on the road are having painfully small returns. Musical plays are the most liberally patronized of any being presented, and the better productions in this class are receiving pretty good support.

It is quite natural that there should be a sympathetic depression in the theatrical world, in view of the existing conditions in industrial and other spheres.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

SALE and BANQUET

— AT —

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

SALE—Wednesday afternoon and evening Thursday afternoon and evening

No admission fee. Everybody welcome.

BANQUET—(Shredded Wheat) Thursday evening

Full Course Dinner Only 25 Cents

Tables will seat 150 at a time. Dinner on from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Proceeds for Building Fund, New Church

WM. MAJOR. Rector

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

What more appropriate gift could you make than by purchasing a home for your family?

Come and see J. T. O'Connell & Co's bargains.

$2,350—New red brick house, central, cement floor in cellar; hall, parlor, dining room, kitchen, large pantry, front and back stairs, 4 bedrooms, bathroom fitted, 3 clothes closets, attic finished, electric lights, large verandah and balcony, woodshed and summer kitchen. Can be bought on monthly payments. Possession at once.

$9.0 buys red brick cottage East City, 6 rooms, hard and soft water, large lot.

To Rent—New house with all conveniences. Possession at once.

For further particulars apply to

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.

Phone 376. 136 Hunter St.

GEORGE RUTH

Properties for Sale:

Come and inspect our list of HOUSES We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.

8 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.

A few first-class homes to rent with modern improvements.

395 Water Street, open evenings

HARRIER CLUB

ATHLETIC MEET

Brock Street Rink

TUESDAY NIGHT, DEC. 3, 1907

Entries list will include best foot runners from Toronto, Hamilton, Peterborough and other cities.

TOM LONGBOAT WILL ATTEND

57th Regimental Band will provide music.

General Admission—East side, 25c; west side, 35c; reserved seats, 50c

Plan for reserved seats at Sanderson's

E. M. BEST, President

R. M. GLOVER, Secretary

ALL THINGS ARE NOW READY

GEORGE R. RECORD

PRACTICAL

FRENCH DRY CLEANER AND PRESSER

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments and Household Articles cleaned and guaranteed not to fade color or shrink any material. Charges moderate. Goods called for and delivered. Telephone 669.

NEW BRICK BLOCK, 173 SIMCOE ST.

Only Complete Dry Cleaning Plant in City

SAVE YOUR FURS

AND

FUR-LINED COATS

by having them cleaned by the

FRENCH DRY CLEANING

process, which kills all moths and does not injure in the slightest, the finest furs. This is very important at this season, and may mean the saving of the expense of buying new furs. None too fine for the process.

Dyeing, Cleaning, Pressing, and Repairing promptly and thoroughly done at

PARKER'S DYE WORKS

R. M. BEACH

PROPRIETOR.

Phone 250 177 Charlotte St

Money is Not Tight

On some of the property propositions we can offer you. We have some pretty locations where situation, price and terms are all to suit.

Low priced houses, some of them brick and on good lots, $850 up

$1,000—Village store near the city, no competition. A good thing.

$1,600—Large modern, good looking brick house, south city.

$2,300—Very profitable apartment house renting to small families.

$1,800 and $2,350—Nice brick house, modern conveniences, well situated.

$3,000—Brick dwelling, stable, etc.; also some building lots. Just suit a retired farmer

$2,350 to $4,800—Beautiful residences on Gilmour, Homewood Ave., Weller, King, Water Sts, etc.

If you are thinking of going West we can show you something good in lands in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, with return ticket for selection trip. Farms for sale. Houses to rent.

BELL & TAYLOR

Real Estate. Fire Insurance

Office—376 Water Street.

Office Phone—498B House Phone 547B

HOCKEY SKATES

From 75c to $5.00

Skates repaired and sharpened. General machine work.

METHEREL'S CYCLE WORKS

225 Hunter Street

Wood

POINT ST. CHARLES

Hemlock and Pine Slabs

Cedar Shingle Blocks

A. McDONALD Estate

ESTABLISHED 1879

J. R. HEINTZ & CO.

STOCKS, GRAIN, COTTON, COFFEE

J. N. BARBER, Manager

Phone 520

THE

DOMINION BANK

PAYS SPECIAL ATTENTION TO

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY

JOHN CRANE Manager

Corner George and Simcoe Sts.

FREE Spear's Mine Development for November contains a map of the Otto Lake district, showing Crawford Mines and other properties—Tells about present conditions of Larder Lake—Gives information about Cobalt and other mining sections of Canada. I will send this paper FREE to all who will write for it. Just drop a line and ask me to send you the November issue of "Spear's Mine Development." Write as soon as you read this notice, if possible. Address L. W. SPEAR, 61 Victoria St., Toronto, Canada, or Plainfield, N. J.

Ministerial Association Oppose Sunday Funerals

Committee Appointed to Take Up the Matter With Officials of Cemetery

Many Subjects Dealt With at Meeting of the Association Yesterday

The Ministerial Association held a regular meeting yesterday morning, and cleared a large amount of business off the other paper. Arrangements were made for the services during the week of prayer and for the annual municipal sermon. Hospital visitation was also arranged, and steps taken towards doing away with Sunday funerals, except where absolutely necessary.

The president of the Assocition, Rev. J. R. Webb, was in the chair, and the first matter taken up was the arranging of a collection for the Bible Society. A committee consisting of the President and Secretary was appointed to arrange for a collection in the city, through one or two appointed agents. The committee will make a report at the next meeting of the Association.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Arrangements were also made for the week of prayer, the first full week of January, and the services will be held as follows:—

Monday, Jan. 6th—St. Andrew's.

Tuesday—Murray street and Park street churches.

Wednesday—George street.

Thursday—Knox church and Mark street.

Friday—St. Paul's.

The president and secretary were appointed to arrange the ministers and subjects for the different meetings. An offering will be taken at the last meeting to defray certain expenses.

S.S. ASSOCIATION.

The following resolution was introduced by Rev. J. G. Potter in reference to the Sabbath School Association;—

"That the Ministerial Association rejoices with the Sabbath School Association in the unprecedented success that has attended the work of study on Friday evening, and approves of the desire to continue the class and promises its hearty co-operation."

The resolution was carried unanimously.

SUNDAY FUNERALS.

The question of Sunday funerals was also taken up, being introduced by Rev. Canon Davidson. The matter was thoroughly discussed and a committee appointed to take it up with the officials of the Little Lake cemetery and to report at the next meeting. It is understood that the ministers are opposed to Sunday funerals and are desirous that they shall not take place.

MUNICIPAL SERMON.

It was arranged to have Rev. J. R. Webb deliver the annual sermon to the Mayor and aldermen of the city, at Murray street church early in January.

HOSPITAL VISITATION.

Hospital visitation for December was arranged as follows;—

First week—Rev. Mr. Coon; second week, Rev. Canon Davidson; third week, Rev. Mr. Manning; fourth week, Rev. A. H. Brace; fifth week, Rev. Mr. Reid, curate at St. Luke's.

The paper of the day was by Rev. Dr. Marsh, entitled, 'The Heavens Declare the Glory of God.' The subject was dealt with in a masterly manner and the address was listened to with much interest.

We'll Not Go Home Till Morning, Not a Favorite With Aldermen

Ald. Tovey Objects to Midnight Sessions and Carries His Point.

ANOTHER SESSION MONDAY NIGHT

Reports Read and Some Minor Matters Dealt With Last Night

It was ten o'clock when the City Council went into regular session last night, two hours having been spent in committee of the whole. The aldermen had only been going a few minutes, when Ald. Tovey arose and moved that the council adjourn. From the amount of work ahead of them he could not see the finish of the session until one o'clock in the morning. He claimed that another meeting should be held on Monday evening next.

"I have to get up at six o'clock in the morning," Ald. Tovey said, "and I don't want to stay here all night. It may be all right for some of you, but I'm not going to do it."

Ald. Morrow agreed with this, and so did Ald. Wilson. There was too much business on hand for one night and another session could be held next Monday night.

It was then 25 minutes to eleven and, after some discussion, Ald. Tovey agreed to let his motion for adjournment be for eleven o'clock. It was carried unanimously on the understanding that there would be another meeting next Monday night.

Those present were Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Tovey, Elliott, Stevenson, Bradburn, Morgan, Wilson, McIntyre, Duncan, Leahy and Phelan.

The reports of committees were taken up, but several of them were changed before passing, discussion on the proposed garbage bylaw and isolation hospital being left till next Monday night.

POWER FOR CITY.

Ald. Stevenson reported as follows;

Gentlemen,—Your special committee on light, etc., has been in communication with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission in regard to securing power for the city through the services of the committee, and two engineers of the commission, Messrs. Richards and Acres, have been here procuring information as to the available water powers and we expect to have a report soon giving information that will enable the council to ascertain what it will cost to secure the supply of power.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SOUTH END PARK.

Ald. Tovey submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your special committee appointed to negotiate with the Board of Education for that part of park lot No. 4 between George and Aylmer streets, beg leave to report that they have held two meetings with the Property Committee of the Board of Education and that the lowest price the board will take for the property is $3,000.

This report was voted to stand over till next Monday night.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

Ald. Bradburn submitted the following report:

Gentlemen,—Your special committee appointed in regard to an isolation hospital beg leave to report as follows:

We have not been able to find a building suitable for the purpose and sufficiently isolated that we can purchase and use for such a hospital. We recommend that the managers of the Nicholls hospital and the St. Joseph hospital be seen by the committee to ascertain whether arrangements can be made to have a building erected at each of the hospitals, one for diphtheria and the other for scarlet fever and to have the hospitals manage these isolation hospitals, and further that if such arrangements cannot be made that the committee be authorized to get plans for a building for an isolation hospital to be erected on some part of the Hilliard property, providing the consent of the City Trust Commissioners can be obtained.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

MANUFACTURERS' COMMITTEE.

Council of the City of Peterborough:

Gentlemen, —Your Manufacturers' Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:—

1. That the assessment of the Peter Hamilton Co., be fixed at $15,000 for a period of ten years, on conditions similar to those given to other manufacturing concerns as to the local improvements, etc., and that a bylaw be prepared for this purpose.

2. That one hundred copies of the special industrial edition of The Times be purchased at a cost of $10.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Clause one of this report was referred to the Committee of the Whole Council.

PROPERTY COM. REPORT.

Ald. McIntyre submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Property Committee beg leave to report as follows:

1. We instructed the city solicitor to prepare a bylaw for taking a vote of all municipal electors at the municipal elections on the question. "Are you in favor of the establishment of a system for the collection of garbage?"

2. We recommend that the sanitary inspector be given two weeks' leave of absence at a time to be fixed by the chairman of this committee.

3. We recommend that the City Trust Commissioners be asked to consent to the placing of a hospital tent for contageous diseases on the Hilliard property when needed, until such time as the isolation hospital is built, and that they be asked to designate which part of the property may be used for this purpose.

4. That the chairman be authorized to procure a overcoat for the use of the sanitary inspector similar to those furnished the police, as soon as the sanitary inspector has been sworn in as a constable.

Clause one was laid over for further consideration as to place the garabge question intelligently before the people. The remaining clauses were adopted.

WEAR IT

Wear the White Ribbon, my sister,
O, wear it abroad!
You cannot tell how it's whiteness,
May speak for the Lord.
Somebody's eye will be caught,
Someone will ponder in thought,
Lessons of purity taught—
To this no reward!

Wear the White Ribbon, my sister,
O, wear it at home!
Influence there may re-echo
Through Heaven's high dome.
Children about you at play,
Callers that drop in today,
Carry impressions away,
Though you may not roam.

Wear the White Ribbon, my sister,
O, never forget!
Grand opportunities lost, you
Will some day regret.
Are you dismayed in the fight,
This little emblem of white,
Steadily keep in your sight,
Will cheer your heart yet.

Wear the White Ribbon, my sister,
And earnestly pray;
He who is Lord of all being
May use it each day.
Pray that it's unspoken word
Where there is need may be heard;
Pray that the soul which is starred
May have grace to obey.

—CHARLOTTE E. L. SLOCUM.

DECIDE NOT TO CHANGE THE SNOW BY-LAW

Chief of Police Will be Instructed to Enfore it With Discretion

The City Council in committee of the whole last night, decided to make no change in the present snow cleaning by-law. The Chief of Police will be instructed to enforce the law with discretion, in other words that the spirit of the by-law is not broken while the letter of it may not be kept with exactness.

The Mayor brought up the matter, commenting on the fact that the by-law had not been put in force as it should have last year and perhaps some change would be advisable.

The matter was discussed at some length and after several opinions had been expressed as to what should be done it was decided to leave the by-law as it is at present and to instruct the Chief of Police to enforce it, using his own discretion.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

The men's meeting at the Y.M.C.A. Sunday afternoon, was one of much interest. Rev. J. R. Webb gave a strong address showing the great "Love of God" for his children. Miss Reesor sang "Would You Believe" very beautifully.

A number of strangers attended the Strangers Fellowship Club Tea Sunday night at 5.30. Short interesting addresses were given by each one present.

Next Sunday afternoon an illustrated lecture will be given by Mr. R. E. Harding. The subject will be "The Life of Joseph." Special music will be rendered.

To Publish the List of Changes

City Council Decides to Publish Changes in Street Numbering

The City Council has decided to have a list prepared of the numbers of the streets where the numbering has been changed and to have it published in the newspapers. This is for the convenience of merchants and others who use the city directory to a large extent. The Water Commissioners have also found it difficult to send out their notices since the changes have been made.

The matter was brought up by the Mayor at last night's meeting of the committee of the whole and after some discussion Ald. Tovey moved and Ald. Duncan seconded, that the city treasurer be authorised to co-operate with the Water Commissioners in having a list prepared of the changes in street numbers.—Carried.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

At St. John's Church, the following meetings will be held this week.—

Tonight—8 p.m., Girls' Guild; 8 p.m. Choral practice, "Daughters of Jairus," in school room.

Wednesday—8 p.m., Brotherhood of St. Andrew; 8 p.m., choir practice boys at 7.30.

Friday—4 p.m., Mission Band; 8 p.m., Rev. Canon Davidson's confirmation class.

Saturday—9 a.m., boys' choir training class.

FOR PASSEPARTOUT WORK

The fad for passepartout pictures is again growing a favorite for pretty pictures and are always appreciated. One can always find room for a couple more on the walls and every one has their favorite subject. some like scenery. others historical subjects. many like kittens and one boy in the city has the walls of his bedroom fairly covered with pictures of dogs—small and large. When mounted on a suitable background and passepartouted they are very pretty and inexpensive to make up. The Review has a large stock of pictures in sepia and colors, mounting papers and passepartout to match. Call and see them at the REVIEW Office, Hunter street. 3d

Mr. James J. Hill is warning New York that unless its prices come down western produce will go east by Canada and New Orleans.

SIX MEN DROWNED.

Survivor Returns From Wilds of B. C. With Thrilling Story.

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 3.—Upset in the boiling waters of one of the rapids of the Upper Fraser River, dashed over the falls against the knife-like edges of protruding rocks until his tortured nerves and failing strength almost made him resign himself to death, clinging all the while to a fellow-woodsman, whose arms were locked about him in life's last clasp, were a few of the experiences of M. McLaughlin, a timber cruiser, just returned after a summer in the wilds of interior British Columbia.

That he is alive to tell the story, he considers a miracle, certainly as he unfolds his tale it seemed so like dime novel wonders as to be almost unbelievable. As it was six men were drowned.

McLaughlin and his partner, John Evans, were the only survivors out of a party of seven white men and one Indian. The names of all those lost are not known to Mr. McLaughlin. They were all employed by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. in survey work, and were on their way west at the time of the catastrophe.

BRADLEY CASE WITH JURY.

Locked Up For Night Because Could Not Find Verdict.

Washington, Dec. 3.—After a trial which has attracted widespread interest since its inception almost three weeks ago, with witnesses brought nearly across the continent, the case of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, charged with the murder of former United States Senator Arthur M. Brown of Utah, last night rested in the hands of the jury. Throughout the earlier part of the day. Attorneys Powers and Hoover, with recitals of the episodes that led to the tragedy, and pleading insanity of the defendant at the time she shot Brown in a hotel here on Dec. 8 last, argued for the defence, and when the court convened after recess District Attorney Baker, attacking the theory of insanity and arraigning the defendant in scathing language, made the close address.

Judge Stafford occupied 52 minutes in charging the jury.

At 10 o'clock last night the word came from the jury-room that there was no prospect of reaching a verdict. Accordingly, Judge Stafford ordered that the jury be locked up until court meets this morning.

IMPORTANT FISHERY SEIZURE.

Officers Surprised United States Poachers at Gros Cap.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Dec. 3.—Fishery Inspector T. A. Hand, Canadian Soo, accompanied by a number of officers from the Canadian side, made an important seizure of nets at Gros Cap on Saturday. The nets had been placed for the capture of herring by Americans from Iroquois. The owner of the outfit, is said by the officers, is Simon Johnston of that place. The officers descended on Gros Cap from the west, and before reaching the place noticed a gasoline launch making off after frantic efforts to raise the nets.

The poachers partly succeeded in their object, but, before getting clear, found it necessary to cut the nets and escape as best they could, crossing the American line. The remaining nets seized contained a large number of herring.

HOMESTEADER ARRESTED.

Turned His Wife Out of Doors—Was Rescued by Brother.

Dasyland, Alta., Dec. 3.—Charles Sanderlin, a homesteader near here, has been committed for trial on a charge of attempted murder. He turned his wife out of doors very scantily clad, and his brother then wrapped a fur coat about the woman and took her to his own shack.

Sanderlin followed and fired several shots through the door of the shack. The prisoner has been taken to Fort Saskatchewan to await trial.

Did Not Resemble Druce.

London, Dec. 3.—James Whiting, a naturalist, who formerly was employed at Welbeck Abbey, the estate of the fifth Duke of Portland, testified that a photograph of T. C. Druce did not resemble the duke. Another witness, a photographer, declared that he had taken a photograph of Druce wearing a false beard, and that he had seen Druce in 1885 after his supposed death.

Almost Hanged.

Brockville, Dec. 3.—While gathering eggs in a henhouse on his father's farm, the five-year-old son of J. L. Sweeney of Oxford slipped between the roosts and hung suspended by the neck. He was almost dead from strangulation when found by his mother, the rescue being a timely one.

Died In His Buggy.

Brockville, Dec. 3.—While driving from the depot to his home in Heckston, H. Hughes died in his buggy of heart disease. He was 67 years of age. He was postmaster and general merchant at Heckston, and ex-warden of the United Counties of Leeds and Grenville.

Trial of the Goolds.

Monte Carlo, Dec. 3.—The trial of Vere St. Leger Goold and his wife Marie for the murder of Emma Levin, at Monte Carlo last summer, began yesterday.

Death by the guillotine will be the penalty if the Goolds are convicted.

Thaw Trial Jan. 6.

New York, Dec. 3.—The second trial of Harry K. Thaw, on the charge of killing Stanford White, was yesterday postponed until Jan. 6. A panel of jurymen will be summoned.

Death Sentence Commuted.

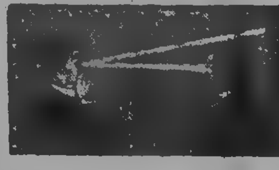
Karlsruhe, Dec. 3.—The death sentence placed upon Karl Rau for the murder of his mother-in-law, Frau Molitor, has been commuted to life imprisonment.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c

AT THE HOME OFFICE

On account of the illness of an optician in Orillia, Dr. Browett has cancelled appointments and is pleased to announce that he will be continuously at his home office until after Xmas. Appointments for eye examination are being made daily at our store.
P. S. This store will hereafter be open until ten o'clock every night and appointments for eye examinations can be made until that hour.

McDERMID & JURY, Druggists, Peterboro.



FAVORS GOSPEL TEMPERANCE LEAGUE

To the Editor of the Review,

Dear Sir,—Some time ago a letter appeared in your columns over the signature of M. L. which interested me very much and I have been hoping that some thoughtful man or woman would have taken up the subject to which it referred and have given some expression of appreciation for the sentiments conveyed by it. I refer to the letter suggesting that a Gospel Temperance League be formed in our city. The writer speaks of the great good that has been accomplished through this organization in the city of Toronto, and I would like to bear testimony to this fact also, having attended several of the Sunday afternoon meetings in Massey Hall, and can bear witness that numbers went forward at the close of each meeting to sign the pledge. Is drunkenness on the increase in our city? I fear it is judging from the number of intoxicated men one meets on our streets. A prominent gentleman who has recently come to the city from Toronto said to the writer that he was amazed at the number of drunken men to be seen any day on our streets, more he said than he had ever seen in Toronto. If it is on the increase, what is the reason? Are Christian people doing all that they might to counteract the influence of the saloon and hotel? We have fourteen or fifteen Protestant evangelical places of worship in our city in addition to a flourishing Y.M.C.A. and yet we are compelled to the conclusion that very little active, aggressive work is undertaken to save the young men in and out of our churches from this fearful drink habit.

The T.A.S. is doing a grand work for the Catholic young men of the city, with its membership of several hundred pledged abstainers and its reading and club rooms and every true Christian rejoices in its success. In addition to the T.A.S. there is one Temperance Society, the Royal Templars, struggling along against great odds striving to save some, but outside of these there is no united organized aggressive moral movement to reach the men who are going down through this fearful habit, unless some helping hand is held out them. Some one may say "There are the churches and there is the Y.M.C.A.; these people can get help if they wish to be helped." To such I would answer that the church must not hope to reach the great masses who need her help the most, unless she is prepared to reach them in the way her Master reached mankind. He left His high abode and came down to this sinful world and we quote His own words as to the object of his coming: "The Son of Man is come to SEEK and to save that which was lost." Luke 19, 10. The pulpit of the city is faithfully proclaiming the message, but if our fellow citizens are to be rescued and restored the men who sit in the pews must unite together in a strong effort to seek and save them.

"This is the way the Master went,
Should not the servant tread it still."

Yours faithfully,
G.K.

NEW PICTURES

We have just received a splendid line of pictures including.—

STEEL ENGRAVINGS
ENGLISH CARBONS,
WATER COLORS, Etc.

We invite your inspection of these while stock is complete. We also have the latest ideas in Picture Mouldings and can frame your pictures on short notice

R. J. SODEN
369 George Street

You have heard the Sailor Boys' plea, buy to-day for your dinner to-morrow "Sailor Boy" Canned Goods, Tomatoes Corn, Peas and Salmon. Your money does not buy better Goods. Do you get "Sailor Boy" or substitute?

NOW IN FULL SWING

$100.00 In Rewards For Selling The "Review"
IN COLD CASH

This Grand Competition began Tuesday evening, October 8th, and will close December 31st, (New Year's Eve.) Boys carrying routes, boys selling to customers, boys selling on the street, boys who have never sold papers, are all urged to get up and get. Parents can let the little fellows come to THE REVIEW Office after school, and they will be taken care of—not allowed to stay in a dingy cellar or out on the street in the cold. Papers will be ready sharp after 4 o'clock each day. COME ON, BOYS! HERE'S A SURE THING!

Twenty-Six Prizes 26 Twenty-Six Prizes

To the twenty-six boys getting the largest number of New Customers for THE DAILY REVIEW:

1st PRIZE—$30.00 in Cash, or a high-grade 1908 Bicycle, worth $55.00 as winner may prefer.
2nd PRIZE—$20.00 in Cash, or Fur Goods to the value of $30.00, as preferred.
3rd PRIZE—$10.00 Cash, or $15.00 worth in China, dinner or tea set, or as selected.
4th PRIZE—$8.00 Cash, or $10.00 worth of goods of any kind, as selected.
5th PRIZE—$5.00 Cash.
6th PRIZE—$4.00 Cash.
7th PRIZE—$3.00 Cash.
8th to 12th PRIZES—$2.00 Cash. Five prizes of $2.00 each.
13th to 22nd PRIZES—$1.00 Cash. Ten prizes of $1.00 each.

NOTE—The option, cash or goods, in the first four prizes, is made in case the parents of the boys winning either of the prizes should prefer the larger amount in goods instead of cash.

Any boy may buy REVIEWS and sell—the more the merrier. The girls have an equal chance with the boys, and will be welcome.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES—Every boy who brings in a paid-up subscription to THE DAILY REVIEW for three months will receive a bonus of 20 cents; for six months a bonus of 40 cents; for a year a bonus of $1.00.

HERE'S A WEEKLY REWARD—In addition, every boy who buys one paper or more each night of the week, (six papers), will receive once each week, during this competition,

A FREE TICKET TO THE CRYSTAL MOVING PICTURES

See, Boys! You have a paid admission to this beautiful entertainment, even if you do no more than buy one paper each night. This privilege has been secured for you exclusively by THE REVIEW.

PLENTY OF TIME YET TO GET INTO THE COMPETITION AND WIN A BIG PRIZE

THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacement, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Local Weaknesses, than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregular, Suppressed or Painful Periods, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to it. Deranged organs causing pain, weight and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it invigorates the female system.

It quickly removes that bearing-down feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't-care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues" and headache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the organs which this medicine surely cures. Chronic Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex, the Vegetable Compound cures.

Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

The Daily Review

TUESDAY, DEC. 3, 1907

LONDON ELECTION TRIAL

The conviction of the four defendants in the London election trial is one of the most important events in connection with political affairs in Canada which has happened in years. The marked growth of corruption in our political affairs during past decade has been viewed by right-thinking Canadians with much uneasiness. It has marked an increasing departure from British political ideals, and a tendency toward the imitation of the worst phases of political life in the United States. There has also been an unfortunate tendency as time went by and no effective action was taken by the crown prosecutors or the courts to deal with this class of misdemeanor for public opinion to regard such offences as venial. Especially among the rising generation, the impression, says the Ottawa Citizen, was gaining ground that the laws against political corruption were not made to be enforced, and certainly the laxity of the authorities gave some ground for this impression. Occasionally, when deference to public opinion made it necessary that a victim must be found, the unfortunate mercenaries who were mere tools in the game, were prosecuted, but the men "higher up" invariably were left alone.

In the London case, the prosecution was directed against the men "higher up," who in all such instances are chiefly responsible. So long as that class in a constituency were undisturbed, the game was sure to go on, because, by the promise of rewards and protection from the law, disreputable tools are always available for such work. In the London case the accused have been convicted. The decision is to be appealed, and fought out on technical grounds, and what the eventual result will be remains to be seen. The mere fact of the conviction, however, will have a most salutary effect, and will cause politicians who have been taught to consider themselves immune in the matter of prosecution to be more careful in taking chances. It will demonstrate that the law in Ontario at least is not a respecter of persons, and that in deference to a healthy public opinion a strong effort will be made to rid this province of the corruption which has disgraced its elections for some years past. The evidence brought out at the trial amply indicated the shameless manner in which ballot box stuffers, ballot switchers, and bribers have carried on their traffic in the past. The sophisticated public is quite aware that such men as the tools who gave evidence at that trial did not risk the chance of a term in the penitentiary out of enthusiasm for the political cause in which they were employed. Arrangements have to be made by those "higher up," and the money has to be provided, and so long as the alleged respectable inciters to such acts remain unwhipt of justice there will be no let up on the stealing of votes and constituencies. The result of this trial will have a most beneficial effect throughout the whole country, and is the first really effective action taken towards the stemming of this tide of corruption.

PEN POINTS

Does not the cold weather make you feel good even though you may be poor.

Three weeks from to-morrow will be Christmas. Do your shopping early.

A ton of coal or a cord of wood would be as acceptable a gift as anything else at this particular season of the year.

Fort William Canadian Club has got off to a good start and so will the Canadian Club of Peterborough on the 13th inst.

Why do not the municipal candidates announce themselves. Is it through scruple or diffidence they are holding back?

Those parliamentary chaps will just nicely get down to work when the festivities of the holiday season will break into the political game.

David Hartley made more out of the City Council last night than he did out of his 12 hour walk with Jimmy Reynolds in Toronto.

Strange, but Mr. Hall in referring to the growth of Canada and quoting some figures, forgot all about the West Northumberland and Colchester, N. S. bye-election returns.

The only regret at Ottawa is that Mr. Bourassa is not on hand this year, so that Sir Wilfrid Laurier could take him out now and again for a spin in that $8,000 automobile which was presented to the Premier.

And so Fort William has captured the big car works. Well, we can't expect every good thing and when an individual or municipality does the best possible that is all that can be expected.

Brockville's municipally owned light and power plant earned a gross surplus of $12,295.10 in the past twelve month. After deducting $4,203.19 for depreciation and paying $6,727.23 debentures, a surplus of $1 861.68 remained, despite a reduction of 12 1-2c per thousand cubic feet of gas allowed to consumers.

The Civic Electric Commission and the Ottawa Electric Co. have compromised upon $28,000 as the price to be paid by the city for the street lighting plant of the company. The plant will be taken over gradually and all the streets will be lighted by the city by December 20th.

Mr. Pugsley, the new Ottawa Minister, who acquired fleeting notoriety by pretending that Mr. Borden had had a corruption fund of half a million for the last election, has been floored by the proposition of Mr. Borden that a Royal Commission be appointed to enquire into the campaign funds of both parties. Mr. Pugsley does not want the funds of the Ottawa grafters examined into, and there is reason to suspect that the ruling men have ordered him ot drop the subject. The Laurier Government collects millions for every election, and the money comes indirectly from the Public Treasury.

Industries Want Fixed Assessment

Three Applications Received at Meeting of the City Council Last Night—Referred to Manufacturers' Committee

Applications are coming in thick and fast for fixed assessment. The Peterborough Canoe Company, the Auburn Woollen Company, and the estate of A. McDonald, are the latest to make claim for the boon of fixed assessment. The fact that the manufacturers' committee has recommended that the Peter Hamilton Company be given fixed assessment has apparently stirred up other local industries, and they are after fixed assessment also.

Mr. John Carnegie waited on the city council last night, and asked that fixed assessment be granted the Auburn Woollen Mills. He pointed out that the company had been an employer of labor for over twenty-five years, and maintained that the industry was as much entitled to fixed assessment as those to which it had been granted in the past.

Mr. James Kendry also wrote the council supporting the claim for fixed assessment for the Auburn Woollen Mills. Mr. Kendry pointed out that the Auburn Company had to provide its own fire protection.

The Peterborough Canoe Company through their solicitors, Dennistoun, Peck and Kerr, also wrote asking for fixed assessment.

A similar request was also received from the estate of A. McDonald.

After giving his views on the matter, Ald. Stevenson moved and Ald. Morgan seconded, that the applications of the Peterborough Canoe Co., the Auburn Woollen Company and the estate of A. McDonald, for fixed assessment, be referred to the committee of the whole council. — Carried.

Clause one of the report of the Manufacturers' Committee, recommending a fixed assessment of $15,000 for ten years for the Peter Hamilton Company, was also referred to the manufacturers' committee, to be dealt with in connection with the other three applications.

HOW'S THIS

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Visiting Officers at the Barracks

Brigadier Hargrave and Wife Will be Here Next Sunday

Brigadier Hargrave, of Montreal, provincial officer for Eastern Ontario and Quebec provinces, and Mrs. Hargrave will arrive in the city on Saturday next, and conduct special services in the barracks on Saturday, Sunday and Monday next.

On Monday evening of next week a special business meeting of the Army will be held.

DURHAM CONSERVATIVES

Officers Elected at Annual Meeting of the Association.

The annual meeting of the Durham County Conservative Association was held at Newcastle on Friday. The officers elected were:—Hon. president Dr. Hillier, Bowmanville; president, F. H. McLean, Newcastle; first vice-president, C. A. Hagerman, Port Hope second vice-president, A. Tait, Bowmanville; third vice-president, H. Leslie Canton; treasurer, G. W. Jones, Newtonville; secretary, E. G. Rooke, Port Hope. Resolutions of confidence in Mr. Borden and in the government of Hon. J. P. Whitney were passed.

The Queen celebrated her sixty-third birthday yesterday at Sandringham. The King and Queen of Norway are among the guests. Handsome gifts were received from most of the crowned heads of Europe.

Fierce Blaze at Little Current; Village Visited by a Bad Fire

Flames Wipe Out Great Portion of Business Section.

Loss Estimated at Seventy Thousand Dollars—Postoffice Burned—Steamer Majestic and Fire Tug Render Splendid Aid—British Ship on Fire—Theatre Burned at Houston—Court Records Destroyed.

Little Current, Manitoulin, Ont., Dec. 3.—A seventy thousand dollar fire at Little Current destroyed the McArthur office, the postoffice, Carruther's drug store, McKie and Terry's pool-room, Powell's hardware and buildings, and Vincent's general store, Currie's drug store, Mensour's general store and Kingsboro's hardware store. The fire tug Cuyler, commanded by Capt. Mosier, and the Northern Navigation Co.'s steamer Majestic, responded to the alarm and did splendid work all night, with the town engine, arresting the flames, and saving the western part of the business portion of the town at Turner's and Kingsboro's stores. Kingsboro's is almost a total loss, but Turner's was saved with a slight loss by moving the stock.

Houston, Texas, Dec. 3.—Fire on Sunday night destroyed business property in the heart of Houston to the value of $750,000. Breaking out in the rear of the Frank Dunn jewelry store and pawn shop, the flames spread in all directions through the block, and it was not until 2 a. m. that they were under control. The buildings destroyed included the Houston Theatre, in which were located the Federal Court offices, and all records and fixtures were a total loss.

Ship Montana Afire.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 3.—Fire was discovered shortly before 10 a.m. in the hold of the British ship Montana, which arrived here early yesterday morning from London. The vessel caught fire at sea. When the forward hatch was opened the fire was discovered. The flames spread rapidly, and it is thought the big vessel will be a total loss.

Big Fire at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Dec. 3.—The Pullman Co.'s big paint shop here burned to the ground in less than an hour last night. Twenty-one Pullman cars were destroyed. The total loss will be about $400,000.

About 250 men are thrown out of employment.

Old Hotel Burned Down.

Quebec, Dec. 3.—An old landmark in the surroundings of Quebec, the Hotel Burea, at Montmorency Falls, one of the best known hotels in Canada, was reduced to ashes yesterday morning. The fire was caused by the furnace. The losses are valued at $15,000; insurance $10,000.

Czar's Comment on Douma.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 3.—Emperor Nicholas received and perused a copy of the address of the Douma in reply to the speech from the throne at the opening of Parliament, with coldness. On the margin of the document he wrote the following note: "I am ready to believe the expressed sentiments. I await productive work."

More Applicants Than Children.

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—The number of children coming to Canada from the Dr. Barnardo and other homes in the old country numbered, last year, 3,258, but as there were 19,374 applications for children for adoption, the Department of the Interior, which looks after these little ones, could not begin to meet the demand.

Two Are Canadians.

London, Dec. 3.—(C. A. P.)—According to a message from Rio Janeiro Herbert George Rickard and Cecil Barker, Canadians, are amongst the captured filibusters, who attacked the town of Ilhess recently.

Archbishop Bruchesi, in his episcopal letter, read in the churches on Sunday, forbade the display of moving pictures on Sunday.

A Representative Collection of up-to-date Canadian Work

The Review is indebted to that excellent publication, "Printer and Publisher," the official organ of the printing trade, for the following complimentary remarks and criticism of work turned out by the REVIEW JOB DEPARTMENT. It will be seen that in point of design and execution, as well as in variety of style, the Review has a decided lead over all competitors in fine work. The ability to do fine work, in competition with the best city establishments, carries with it the assurance that all forms of commercial printing, covering a wide range of orders, are done with the same care as to results that characterizes the class of work mentioned below.

From the Printer and Publisher, November, 1907

"A package of samples received from the Peterborough Review Job Department, contains some really excellent work. We are glad to be able to reproduce a group of several of the booklets submitted.

The Review has achieved a well-deserved reputation for clean and original work, and a study of the samples before us abundantly demonstrates their ability to produce the goods.

They are especially strong in cover designs. What could be neater or more effective than the "Lake Lodge" and the "Fifth Annual Banquet" covers? The former printed on white deckle-edged stock, has the letters in a brown tint and the design in a pale blue. The latter is printed entirely in dark brown on a light brown stock, with the single exception of the little ornament under the date, which is printed in red.

The cover of the "Review, Peterborough," booklet, is a brick red on a light brown deckle-edge stock. This little piece of printed matter is a delight to the eye, and next month we hope to be able to reproduce it by itself, believing that it deserves separate consideration. The "St. John's Day" booklet gleams in scarlet and gold, or rather in pale blue and gold. The effect of the turn-over at the top of the cover, with the blue ruling across, is tasty. The "P. C. H. L." booklet illustrates the extent to which fancy border inside plain rules can be effectively utilized. In this case the fancy borders have been done in gold.

The other samples are likewise striking specimens of the printer's skill in devising novel effects. On opening the various booklets the same clever handling is to be noticed on the type pages. As a representative collection of up-to-date Canadian work, this contribution from Peterborough would be hard to beat."

ONTARIO COAL CO. LIMITED PETERBORO

COAL - CARTAGE

Best Hard COAL $7.50 per ton
No. 2 Nut COAL $6.50 per ton
Butts or English Cannel COAL $7.50 per ton

Head Office and Yards: 160 Aylmer Street Phone 116
City Office: 387 Water St. Phones: Bell 325. Machine 325

ONTARIO COAL CO., Limited

A. J. McCLELLAN C. CURRIER G. K. RACKHAM

WILLING MAIDENS.

Nearly a Hundred Ready to Wed Lonely Colonial.

Sometime ago a letter was published which Mr. Harry Newbury, a lonely settler in British Columbia, had written to the Guildford Board of Guardians, asking them to assist in providing him with a wife.

Mr. Newbury said he did not want an angel, but a nice, sensible girl, and nearly all the fair applicants for his hand and heart let it be understood in their letters that whatever else they might be, they were, at any rate, sensible. One of them said she felt ashamed of herself at writing, but she wanted a friend. A would-be bride said she was at college until a little while ago, and she warned the colonist that she was still as full of fun and mischief as any girl who had just left school.

Another girl who asked to be introduced to the young man said she was not at all a "bad sort, very nice and sensible, fair and dimpled." Another appraised her charms rather highly, stating that she was "graceful and ladylike, with a figure divine"; moreover, she had an immaculate olive complexion, aquiline nose, rosy red lips, and was level-headed. Once she had been disappointed in love, but, she significantly added, "her capacity still held good."

A girl who was good at making things homely wrote that she was sure she would make a good little wife for a working man. From Wales came a letter stating that the writer was holding a humble position, but she had a heart, and was willing to comply with all Mr. Newbury's wishes, and would send on a character if necessary.

A young woman who had the misfortune to lose her intended recently was now looking out for somebody else, and men of his kind were scarce where she was living. The father of a young woman, who would meet all requirements, said he would send her out if the young man would forward the passage money as a guarantee of good faith.

Simple Life in Holland.

A Canadian tourist, who has been making a prolonged stay in the Netherlands under circumstances which brought him into close contact with the peasantry, thinks that disciples of the "simple life" could get some valuable lessons in rural Holland.

"As far as possible," he says, "we avoided the big cities while in Holland, and lived out in the country in close touch with the people. We found them charming, kind, and unaffected. They didn't even know that they were interesting and picturesque. So far as we could discover, they have reduced life to the simplest possible basis. They are unharried by ambition, and are satisfied with the sound elements of a healthy life. They show in their daily business and pastimes how easily one could follow 'simple-life' ideas without being a crank."

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

EGGS

FOR SALE by the case

Fresh and Pickled Choice Stock at our warehouse, Robinson Street, East City

Scott&Hogg

PHONE 264, BOTH PHONES

PRICE OF Coal FOR OCTOBER IS $7.50

Ton, cash with order

THE PETERBORO FUEL & CARTAGE CO LIMITED.

162 Charlotte-st. Telephone—(Bell) 261, 270. (Machine)—270.
134 Aylmer-st. Tel. (Bell) 362.

D.L. & W's SCRANTON COAL

SOLD BY R. HICKS & CO. AT

$7.50 Per Ton

for Month of October, in lots of not less than half ton.

This is the Standard Anthracite. 60 % of the Coal sold in Ontario is SCRANTON.
Terms Positively Cash.

R. HICKS & CO.

Coal Builders' Supplies, Etc.

COAL AND WOOD

Best of Coal—Best of Wood

COAL FOR OCTOBER

$7.50 PER TON

J. E. A. FITZGERALD

Cor. Brock and Bethune Sts
BOTH PHONES 111

Palace Livery Barn

For the smartest and most up-to-date LIVERY OUTFITS, at reasonable rates, go to

TOM FOSTER & CO.

Successors to Bruce Lee & Co
Rear of Snowden House.

AUCTION SALE OF HORSES BUGGIES, HARNESS, ETC., EVERY SATURDAY

Phones—Bell 286—Machine 289

Steer Straight

for the best Beer ever brewed, and you are sure to come to us! Our Bottled Beer is "bottled health." It means vigor and strength, a good appetite and high spirits. It is the best medicine for the weak and the best food for the strong. Keep our excellent in Beer your home as a beverage and you will have no need of a doctor. Nothing but the purest ingredients used in the brewing.

—THE—

CALCUTT BREWING AND MALTING CO

of Ashburnham Limited

THE
BEEHIVE
The Ladies' Big
Ready-to-wear Store

SPECIAL PRICES
—FOR—
Flannelette Wear
—FOR—
TUESDAY & WEDNESDAY

Well made gowns with yoke front and back, special for Tuesday and Wednesday for

39c

Extra heavy gowns, strong, durable and made very full, special price for Tuesday and Wednesday for

98c

Pretty Flannelette skirts silk embroidered trimming special price on Tuesday and Wednesday for

49c

Dainty corset covers, lace trimmed, Tuesday and Wednesday for

25c

Perrin's kid gloves in all the new styles and shades

Register now for the free embroidery classes.

THE
BEEHIVE
The Ladies' Big
Ready-to Wear Store

DIAMOND ORANGE LODGE NEW OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of Diamond L.O.L., No. 80, held last evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

Bro. Chas. E. Wiley, W.M.
Bro. C. H. Luffman, D.M.
Bro. Rev. A. H. Brace, Chap.
Bro. W. H. G. Armstrong, R.S.,
Bro. E. G. Clarke, F.S.
Bro. Robt. Wilson, Treas.
Bro. Wm. G. Pratley, D. of C.
Bro. Jos. Crowe, 1st Lecturer.
Bro. Jas. Davis, 2nd Lecturer.
Bros. Wm. Noftall, Thos. Arnott, H. F. Weir, Wm. H. Dundas, H. Wilson, committee.

The above officers were duly installed by Bro. W. A. Kindred, P.M.

The Kaiser was burned in effigy in Lemburg, Galicia, on Saturday at a meeting of Polish land owners.

SPORTING NEWS

W. McGee Challenges Davy Hartley to Go-as-you-please Contest to be Held Indoors

W. McGee, of this city, known as "White McGee," challenges David Hartley to an indoor go-as-you-please contest, the event to occupy any length of time from twelve hours to twenty-four hours.

Mr. McGee advised the sporting editor of the Review last night that he was prepared to meet the celebrated East City walker on conditions as cited above. He says he does not require any great length of time in which to get into shape, and states that he will be satisfied with three weeks in which to get into shape. He requests Mr. Hartley to either accept or decline his challenge through the medium of this paper, and would be pleased to have a reply from him at his earliest convenience.

All in Readiness for the Big Harrier Meet To-night

Everything is in readiness for the big athletic meet under the auspices of the Harrier Club, which will be held at the Brock street street rink to-night. The field, as will be seen by the list of entries that have been published in the local papers is very large. The athletes who will take part in the different events are proving great drawing cards and the seats have sold remarkably well. The local men who will participate in the meet are in the best of condition. The cracks from Toronto are also in great trim and the sport will be fast and interesting from the first crack of the pistol.

None of the Irish-Canadians have arrived in the city yet, but will be here on the 5.38 G.T.R. from Toronto.

The events start at 8.15 sharp and the 57th Regimental band will be in attendance. On account of the large number of ladies who will be in attendance the committee in charge have decided not to allow any smoking in the rink.

BURNS DEFEATS GUNNER MOIR

Scores Knockout in Tenth Round —A Decisive Victory

London, Dec. 3.—Tommy Burns of Toronto knocked out Gunner Moir of England in the tenth round before the National Sporting Club here last night. Englishmen never had great hopes of the ability of their representative to regain their lost honors in the boxing arena, and in a somewhat unexciting contest the champion had a comparatively easy task in disposing of Moir's pretensions and retaining for himself the title of heavyweight champion of the world.

After the fifth round Burns' victory was certain and in the tenth round, when the gunner failed to rise to the call of time and was literally cut to pieces, Burns left the ring with scarcely a mark.

Harrier Window Attracts Notice

Resplendent in colors of white and blue is the Y.M.C.A. Harrier window in Lang & Maher's store. This firm have supplied the sweaters for the Harrier's which will be worn for the first time to-night. In white letters are "P.H.C." and also triangle. In the attractive window are pictures of Simpson, Howard, Wilson, Wallace and Ray Best. The whole display is artistically arranged and reflects credit on the firm of Lang & Maher, who are offering a gold medal for the three mile running event to-night.

THE RING

Tommy Burns, the Canadian heavyweight champion, certainly proved his calibre as a fighter when he defeated Gunner Moir, the British pugilist, in ten rounds. Burns proved himself vastly superior to his opponent. A short jolt to the jaw with the right got the gunner going, and two others put him down and out. It was Burns' fight all the way through, and his great showing won him much praise from the sporting critics who witnessed the battle.

MR. LASTAR'S PARENTS ARE COMING HERE

Mr. B. Lastar waited on the city council last night and asked that he be granted a certificate to the effect that he is in a position to provide for his father and mother, who are coming to Peterborough from Russia. This certificate is demanded by the immigration authorities who will not permit persons to enter the country unless they can provide for themselves or have someone to look after them.

Mr. Lastar's request was granted on motion.

SWITCH BOARD IS INSTALLED

The new switchboard was placed in position in the Bell Telephone Co.'s new building on Hunter street yesterday. The new switchboard is automatic in operation, and when it is in use when the new building is occupied, patrons of the company expect an even better service than they are getting at the present time.

PETERBOROUGH RAG AND METAL COMPANY

prepared to pay the highest market price and will give a square deal for Scrap Iron, Rags, Rubbers, Wool Pickings, etc. Don't sell before you see them. Call up Phone 694.

YARD AND OFFICE:
COR. SIMCOE and BETHUNE, West
D. FLORENCE & SON

Relaying of Sewer Has Been Done

The work of relaying the Aylmer street portion of the "Romaine street sewer" was completed at noon today. The pipes have all been relaid properly and the trench has been filled up. Another obstacle to the success of the sewer has arisen in the fact that the portion of the drain leading from the King Edward school to Aylmer street is not working properly, allowing sand to enter. This will have to be remedied before the sewer will work properly.

MAJOR HOWDEN PASSES AWAY AT PORT HOPE

Information was received in the city to-day of the death at Port Hope of Major Richard Howden, collector of Inland Revenue at that place. Major Howden was seventy-four years of age and was a former resident of Millbrook. He was one of the best known men in that part of the province and his death will be deeply regretted. He was a brother of the late Mrs. Ormonde and the late Robert Howden, who passed away in Peterborough several years ago.

Entertained Y.M.C.A. Members

Last night the ladies of St. John's A.Y.P.A. entertained the gentlemen members of the Y.M.C.A. in the assembly hall of that association. The ladies showed themselves to be excellent hosts and the gentlemen thoroughly enjoyed themselves. A splendid programme was rendered mostly by members of the association. The programme was as follows:—

Vocal solo.—Mr. Baylis.
Selection.—Mr. Greenhalgh.
Violin duet.—Miss Evelyne Dorris and Miss Kathleen McCarthy.
Vocal solo.—Mrs. Evans.
Comic song.—Mr. Charles Coleman.
Vocal solo.—Mr. Northcote.
Comic song.—Mr. Coleman.

Mr. T. E. Daly, the famous local acrobat came forward at the last moment and concluded the programme by giving an athletic exhibition on the platform and his performance was very much appreciated by the audience.

Refreshments were served by the ladies, after which the President, Vice-President and Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. delivered short addresses in which they expressed their pleasure at this society using their rooms.

The evening then broke up with the singing of the National Anthem and the Doxology.

ANOTHER BAD RUNAWAY ON CHARLOTTE ST.

This Afternoon—Fire Brigade Horse Creates Excitement

Another runaway occurred on Charlotte street this afternoon, when one of the fire brigade horses hitched to a truck took a lively spurt. It was standing in front of the hall on Aylmer street when it suddenly became frightened and started off. It turned the corner of Charlotte street and at the G.T.R. track, struck Giles delivery waggon, the driver having a narrow escape from serious injury. The spirited animal turned up Bethune street, where it collided with a telegraph post, leaving the truck behind. The frightened horse ran around the block to its stable. Fortunately no one was injured, but the truck and Giles' delivery waggon were damaged.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

JAMESON LEE FINNEY IN "THE MAN ON THE BOX."

Mr. Jameson Lee Finney who will be presented to play-goers in this city at the Grand to-morrow evening by Walter N. Lawrence, in the famous comedy "The Man on the Box," has the distinction of having a national reputation as one of the cleverest comedian's on the stage. There have been very few new plays brought out in New York during the past ten years—particularly high-class comedies, in which the name of Mr. Finney has not been conspicuously associated. He has added his personality to the success of every play in which he has appeared. "The Man on the Box," gives Mr. Finney a superb opportunity for the display of his wonderful talent. Everybody says this of him, and what everybody says, must be true.

"A DUTCHMAN'S HONEYMOON."

"A Dutchman's Honeymoon," which comes to the Opera House, Saturday, Dec. 7, promises to be an innovation to lovers of wholesale comedy. It's story deals with the elopement of Hans Schnitzle, a young German, and Araminta Jason, of questionable mental capacity, whose father objects to her suitor. Hans, with his fiancee goes to the home of Adolph Busch, a compatriot of his, and asks to be hidden until they can slip away from the police. Busch, in company with Jack Clinton, are hiding from an official, Hans, seeing the policeman outside the house, thinks he is after him, and explains the situation to Vinitia, Busch's daughter. She suggests that Hans and Araminta get married at once, by the new minister, an alias, under which Busch had to explain his presence in the house at introduce Jack Clinton, in order to eleven o'clock at night. They start on their honeymoon. Mrs. Busch, discovering that Jack is not what she supposed he was, but an expert in the manly art of self defence, tries to stop the honeymoon. The complications which arise from the mock marriage, Jacks' stratagem in trying to redeem himself, and Hans' quandary, as to "Am I my wife's husband," or "If I am married, how is it I am still single," furnish the comedy element and plot of the play.

THE MAN ON THE BOX

MISS ELSIE LESLIE AND MISS JEANETTE FERAELL
With Jameson Lee Finney in "The Man on the Box" "Grand" Tomorrow Night.

Will There be War Between The United States and Japan?

The Outlook is Ominous—Report That Japanese Ambassador at Washington Has Been Recalled.

Special to the Review.

Washington, Dec. 3.—It was reported this morning that Viscount Aoki, the Japanese Ambassador, called on the President and Secretary of State Root yesterday, and presented his letters of recall.

NEW OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

St. Peter's No. 22, C.O.F., met last evening and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:

D.C.R.—James P. Bryson.
P.C.R.—N. Trombley.
C.R.—Nelson Graham.
V.C.R.—John Noyes.
Rec. Secretary—John O'Brien.
Fin. Secretary—Frank Eano.
Treasurer—James Clancy.
Trustees—Messrs. John Halpin, Jos. Donno.

The officers will be installed at the next regular meeting.

The "Nineteenth Century" has apologized to Sir Frederick Borden.

Board Will Have to Take Some Action

In Connection With Their Portion of the Romaine St. Sewer

The Board of Education will have to dig up their portion of what is known as the "Romaine street sewer," and have the pipes relayed properly, as it is apparent that they are not connected closely. This is the opinion of the City Council and the Board of Education will be notified of existing conditions. The part of the sewer for which the Board is responsible, runs from Aylmer street to the school. A couple of days ago one of the city laborers removed several pails of sand from the manhole at the end of the school's portion of the sewer so that it is apparent that the pipes are not connected properly. As long as they are in this condition and permit sand to get in, the sewer will not work satisfactorily, and will eventually become blocked with sand.

A band of poor Russian Jews arrived in New York from Galveston, Texas, report that they were beaten by negro overseers and given nothing to eat but pork and beans.

FACTS--JUST PLAIN, POINTED FACTS

HERE'S A LINE OF $9.75
OVERCOATS
That are positively unequalled
for good value in the City

75 OVERCOATS, Traveller's Samples, bought 25°/. less than former wholesale prices. Made of Fancy Tweeds, Meltons, Beavers and Cheviots, lined and trimmed in first-class style, some long, some medium lengths, single and double-breasted, some with storm collars, which would make an excellent driving coat. Regular prices $11.00, $12.00, $13.50 and $1500. For this week only $9.75

SO COME EARLY, AS FIRST SELECTION IS ALWAYS THE BEST

MERRELL & MEREDITH
CLOTHIERS, FURNISHERS and HATTERS
375-377 GEORGE ST. PHONE 35

Ontario Liquor License Act

License District of West Peterborough

Notice is hereby given that Edward Flaherty has made application for permission to transfer his Hotel License for the premises Nos. 217-219 Hunter St., in the City of Peterborough, known as the Royal Hotel, to Stephen Holland, of the City of Peterborough; and that the said application will be considered at the meeting of the Board of License Commissioners to be held at the Inspector's Office in the City of Peterborough on the 18th Day December, 1907 at the hour of 8 o'clock p. m.

All persons interested will govern themselves accordingly.

JOSEPH STEWART
License Inspector, West Peterborough

Dated at Peterborough this 3rd Day of December, 1907.

COPYRIGHT
FACTS

IT IS A FACT
That we have the finest stock of Skates, Sticks and Hockey Supplies in the city.

BANK'S SKATE STORE
Under the Market Clock

HEAD TAX ON ORIENTALS

Ralph Smith of Nanaimo, will move in the commons that the head tax regulations applied to the immigration of Chinese be extended to all orientals including the Japanese. Mr. Smith cannot hope to persuade the government to take this view of the case, but he is not likely to forswear his allegiance when the government says no to his proposition. What his constituents may think may be another matter.—Ottawa Journal.

THE CANADA LIFE
PETERBOROUGH OFFICES:
435 George Street
(Upstairs)

S. E. SALLS,
Agent and District Manager

S. G. SALLS,
Cashier and District Secretary

A MESSAGE FROM CHINA HALL

Ch : Hall's Stock is now complete, and the present is now a good time to make selections for Christmas. China Hall's Stock is the heaviest and most varied it has ever been, and taken as a whole it would do credit to the largest city in the Dominion. The Store will be open evenings during December, and the public are invited to visit the two show rooms during the present week and view the newest productions in Pottery. Our Dinner Ware show room (just completed) is worih a visit.

CHINA HALL CO. New Premises 394 GEORGE STREET
(NEXT TO H. LeBRUN & CO.)

GET THE LATEST

The Review Supplies the Correct Things in Wedding Invitations Programmes, Personal Stationery, Etc . . . .

THE DAILY REVIEW

LUMBER

and BUILDING MATERIAL of all kinds. Shingles, Scantling, Joists and Bill Stuff. Mouldings, Casings and Base, and all kinds of finish.
Boxes and Box Shooks.
ALF. McDONALD ESTATE
Point St. Charles Mill, Peterborough.

VOL LV., NO. 128 — PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1907 — TEN CENTS PER WEEK

UNION LABEL

PROBABILITIES.

Moderate northerly winds, fair and cold.

Thursday, variable winds, fair; not much change in temperature.

Friday, milder.

FAIR'S | THE GOLDEN LION STORE | FAIR'S

Buy Warm Woollen Goods

. . AT . .

The GOLDEN LION STORE

Just a little better at the price than elsewhere. Throughout our whole store you will find this to be the case, but especially so just now in such wanted goods as

Ladies' Underwear, Children's Underwear
Ladies' Black Tights, Children's Black Tights
Ladies' and Children's Woollen Gloves and Mitts
Ladies' and Children's Clouds and Shawls
Ladies' and Children's Knitted Toques
Ladies' and Children's Wool Hosiery
Ladies' and Children's Sweaters and Golfers
Cotton Filled and Down Comforters
Wool Blankets, Crib Comforters
Crib Blankets, Crib Quilts, etc

Have you considered making a present of a new CARPET this Christmas ? If so, you cannot do better than leave your order with us. Make your selection now and we will lay it just when you want it,

Our Carpet assortment embraces Union, All Wool Ingrain, Tapestry, Balmorals, Brussels, Velvets, Wiltons and Axminsters. Any purse and any taste can be suited from our immense stock. Special prices prevail for Xmas selling

IN THE MILLINERY DEPT.

We are making a beautiful showing of High-class Winter Millinery. Ideas and styles are here from the great fashion centres—Paris, London and New York.

Here you can combine STYLE and VALUE in your Hats. The most modern ideas and best materials and workmanship.

Robert Fair & Co.

383 GEORGE STREET — Limited
Phone—Dry Goods 145 — Phone—Dressmaking 145B

[illegible]

GIRLS' WANTED

SIX GIRLS. Apply at the Gate House, Canadian General Electric Co., Limited, Peterborough.

For Sale or To Rent

FOR SALE

FIRST-CLASS NEWCOMBE PIANO for sale. Price reasonable. Apply at this Office for particulars. 3d

TO RENT

TWO FURNISHED ROOMS with or without board. Modern conveniences and telephone. Address J. F. Galvin, 358 Brock St. dtf

FOR SALE

PIANO CASE ORGAN, double the usual volume, (8 sets reeds) good as new, less than half price on easy weekly or monthly payments. A nice Christmas present easy to buy. 77 Park St., corner Park and Parnell. tf

FOR SALE

TYPEWRITER, latest model American Oliver, brand new. Good discount off lowest selling price for a quick sale. Apply Review Office. tdf

New Advertisements

FANCY POTTERY

All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.

GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

BIG SALE

. . OF . .

Enamelled Ware

Friday and Saturday

HUTCHINSON-STURGEON CO

Bell and Machine 'Phones 238 — 342 George Street

It Pays

To get old Furniture fixed over. It lasts longer than much of the new. Upholstering and all kinds of work on Furniture done here. Samples of fine Covering at reasonable prices

A. R. JACKSON

Aylmer. Corner of Charlotte. Bell Phone 494B

GET READY !

Summer has gone by and winter is at hand. Are you settled in a house of your own, where you can stay and not be forced out in the cold ? If not, take warning, and buy one of our Cheap New Houses and be at home, or buy one of our Modern Houses at $2,100 and up. We also have first-class large houses from $3,000 up

Companies Good as the Best in all lines of Insurance but Life. Rates moderate.

R. G. Ivey, Special Agent.
286 George St. Phone 3 Bell — W. MIGHT

For Sale or To Rent

AT REASONABLE PRICES

Three small farms, good soil, suitable for gardening purposes, close to city. Also a few small, comfortable, dwelling houses, and choice building lots, well situated in good localities.

Properties sold, purchased or exchanged.

Private Funds to Loan on Real Estate.

INSURANCE

Agents for reliable Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Liability Insurance Companies. For particulars as to rates, etc., apply to

J. J. McBAIN & SON
Real Estate and Insurance Agents.
Office Cor. Simcoe and George-sts.
Office 'Phone 454 — Residence Phone 109A

CHRISTMAS IS COMING !

A nice pair of Snowshoes or a good Toboggan would make a most acceptable present to lady, gentleman, girl or boy. We carry a very large assortment. Call and see them.

J. J. TURNER & SONS
TENT MANUFACTURERS
George Street, Peterborough

International Correspondence Schools

Of Scranton, Penn.

Industrial Science Taught by Mail.

LOCAL OFFICE - - 490 George Street
R. C. BALFOUR, Representative

The Talk of the Town—OUR COOKING

TOOTHSOME
WHOLESOME
PALATABLE

Try a loaf of our Brown and Currant Bread

FRY'S MILK CHOCOLATE DROPS
BURNT ALMONDS

COLEMAN BROS.
Phone 335. — 426 George St

SPECIAL RATES FOR FAMILY WASHING

Prices were never lower than now at

Parkers' Steam Laundry

Goods called for and delivered free to any part of the city.

W. P. HETHERINGTON
9 CHARLOTTE ST, — PHONE 65

Special Inducements TO BUY HEATERS

You gain nothing by delay. See our
Standard Oak
Quebec Ideal
Art Laurel

They are great fuel savers. Easily operated and splendid heat distributors.

F.R.J. MACPHERSON & CO.
341 George St. — Phone 118
F.R.J. MACPHERSON — ANGUS MACPHERSON

MEALS——LUNCHES

AT ALL HOURS

For quick service, well-cooked meals and popular prices—go to

FOWLER'S RESTAURANT
McCallum's Old Stand - 330 George St

LADIES, CUT THIS OUT

Dr. Cristion's

FRENCH TOILET ARTICLES

Have been placed on sale with

Miss E. Smith
367 GEORGE STREET

MANICURING, SHAMPOOING
SCALP TREATMENT and FACIAL
MASSAGE SKILFULLY DONE

Appointments made. Mach. Phone 13

Photography

Amateur Supplies, Cameras, Souvenir Books, Post Cards and all kinds of high-grade Photography at W. G. LENDRUM'S, 170 Charlotte St. Agent for the celebrated Heintzman & Co's Pianos.

"DON'T BURN THEM"

We will buy all kinds of Second-hand boots and shoes

JAY'S SECOND-HAND STORE
290 Aylmer Street

THE

BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to-wear Store

We show a great variety of Children's Dresses for winter wear—strong, durable dressy and attractive. All sizes—made up in all the latest cloths, from 75c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $3.00, $4.00 $5.00, Etc., Etc.

Children's Dressy Coats in long and short lengths. in all the new cloths—dainty and comfortable, from $1.00

gradually up

Babies Cashmere Cloaks tastily embroidered with silk, in long and short lengths. See our special values at $3.75

We have all the new styles and latest lengths in Perrin's Kid Gloves.

Register now for the February free embroidery classes.

THE

BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to Wear Store

A. BROWN & CO.,
The Real Estate Agents, 396 Water Street

$100 will secure good Cottage with large lot 50x200
$500 will secure an up-to-date House with all modern improvements.
$1,000 will purchase good Cottage and large lot
$600 will secure Cottage, Stable and 4 acres good land near city.
We have some great snaps in Houses, Farms and City lots for sale and to rent.
Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.
Bell Phone 126 and 474 B. — Machine 117

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

Linen Demonstration

Thur. 8.10 And Four Days' Sale Mon. 5.45

A PRE-CHRISTMAS LINEN EVENT

This big Demonstration and Sale of Linens is to introduce this mammoth department—one of the largest in Ontario, and carrying all the finest imported Linens. A look in our window this evening will perhaps help you to decide on the Xmas remembrances for your friends. Below are a few of the Specials. See Examiner for further particulars :

LINEN TABLE CLOTHS

400 cloths at big money saving prices for the Xmas Linen Sale. This lot consists of cloths slightly imperfect in the weave and over-bleached cloths. Neither imperfection is easily detected, except by an expert, and the cloths are easily worth as much as a No. 1 article for all practical purposes. There is a set standard for the bleaching of linens and when goods pass this mark they are classed as seconds. These cloths cloths are bordered all round in beautiful floral and conventional designs and will be sold at prices 25% Less Than Manufacturer's Prices. Meaning—A cloth that you pay $2.40 for during this sale you save $1.10. Here's a chance to save on your Xmas purchases. 12 lines to choose from as follows :—

7-4x7 4 full bleached, regular 95c for 69c
8-4x8 4 full bleached, regular 1.35 for 98c
8-4x8-4 full bleached, regular 2.50 for 1.65
8-4x8-4 satin damask, regular 3.00 for 2.10
9-4x8-4 all linen hemmed, regular 1.60 for 98c
9-4x8-4 satin damask, regular 3 00 for 1 98
9-4x9-4 satin damask, regular 4.50 for 2.98
10-4x8-4 linen damask, regular 2.10 for 1.19
10-4x8-4 very fine damask, reg. 3.60 for 2.40
11-4x8-4 fine satin damask, reg. 4.00 for 2.98
12-4x8-4 fine satin damask, reg. 3.35 for 2.33
12-4x8-4 superior damask for 2.98

THIS IS FOR YOU

TABLE LINENS—A gift most acceptable for Xmas is a table cloth either hemmed or from the piece. These two lines are 72 inches wide, full bleached satin damask linen.

All $1.00 lines for . . . 79c
All 1.15 and 1.25 lines for 93c stock too heavy and must be lowered at these prices at once.

HEMSTITCHED TRAY CLOTHS ETC.—Three special lines of tray cloths, shams and runners, at exceedingly low prices.

18 x 27 in. Tray Cloths for 25c
30 x 30 in. Shams for . . 30c
18 x 54 in. Runners for each 35c

TABLE LINEN SETS—Two only table cloths with half-dozen napkins to match; cloths are 2 x 2½ yds, napkins are 24 x 24 in. regular price per set 5.50
Linen sale price 4.00

SHEETING—1,000 yards unbleached and 500 yards bleached sheeting, good quality fine smooth weave, worth from 28 to 33c yd. Linen sale price per yd .24

SWISS MUSLIN GOODS—Shams and runners, three specials in Swiss goods, all fine muslin and best swiss work, selling for the four days only at 25c, 30c, 35c.

BARBERS' TOWLS—This special should be of interest to the barbers of the city. Fringed pure linen huck towels with red borders, size 14 x 22 inch Linen sale price per doz. .65

LINEN TOWELS

5 Lots at big savings

I—10 dozen Huck Towels with fancy damask patterns, 18x34 in.

10 dozen Huck Towels with wide red border, hemmed, 18 x 34 in. Regular 40c, for 28c Pair

II—20 dozen Huck Towels, red border, hemmed, 18x34 in.

25 dozen Huck Towels with red border, hemmed, 20x40 in. Regular 30c, for 26c

III—20 dozen Terry Towels, white or cream, 15x27 in. Regular 20c, for 14c

IV—10 dozen grass bleached Huck, hemmed, 20x36 in.

10 dozen grass bleached Huck, fringed, 20x40 in.

10 dozen grass bleached, hemstitched, Regular 50c, for 36c Pair

V—20 dozen very fine Huck with fringed border, 90c Pair regular, for 68c

TABLE NAPKINS

These Napkins are all made of the finest Irish Linen, in beautiful damask patterns, but during the alterations and rebuilding this summer the outside edges of each dozen were slightly soiled and must now be cleared quickly. 10 dozen Napkins, regularly sold for $6.00 per dozen
Special Price 3.99

TABLE NAPKINS

Five Special Values

Lot No. 1—Hemmed ready for use, 20x20 in.; regular $1.35, for $1.05

Lot No. 2—Hemmed ready for use, 16x16 in. and 22x22 in.; reg $1.75, for $1 29

Lot No. 3—Hemmed, ready for use, 22x22 in.; reg $2, for $1.59

Lot No. 4—Hemmed ready for use, 22x22 in; regular $2.75, for $1.99

Lot No. 5—Hemmed ready for use; 25x24; regular $3.25, for $2 59

STORE HOURS :
8.10 - - 5.45
Closes Saturday at 10 p.m.

Cressman's 385, 387, 389 George Street

GEORGE RUTH

Properties for Sale:

Come and inspect our list of HOUSES We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.

8 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.

A few first-class homes to rent with modern improvements.

395 Water Street, open evenings

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

What more appropriate gift could you make than by purchasing a home for your family ?

Come and see J. T. O'Connell & Co's bargains.

$2,350—New red brick house, central, cement floor in cellar; hall, parlor, dining room, kitchen, large pantry, front and back stairs, 4 bedrooms, bathroom fitted, 3 clothes closets, attic finished, electric lights, large verandah and balcony, woodshed and summer kitchen. Can be bought on monthly payments. Possession at once.

$900 buys red brick cottage East City, 6 rooms, hard and soft water, large lot.

To Rent—New house with all conveniences. Possession at once.

For further particulars apply to

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.
Phone 376. — 126 Hunter St.

R. A. ELLIOTT & CO.

Real Estate Agents

Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

A runaway Russian destroyer, with a mutinous crew, is reported on the rampage in the Sea of Japan.

PALMISTRY

Prof. C. SHEPHERD of San Francisco, California, is visiting Peterborough for a limited time, and may be consulted at
Mrs. R. King's, George Street (upstairs) Rooms, First Floor
Hall entrance next Times Office. Hours from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Appointments made. Your past, present and future about Business and Marriage correctly told. Machine Phone 7

The two-year-old daughter of Mr. Bernard Brownstein, Montreal, was missing from her home for five hours yesterday. At last the frantic parents found her in a notorious Italian resort on St. Paul street, where the maid, in whose charge the little one had been placed, was drinking with several Italians.

PIANO, HARMONY, Etc

ALFRED DAVIES

Teacher of Piano, Harmony, etc. Pupils prepared for all examinations. 106 McDonnel St., Bell Tel. 463, P.O. Box 592 3m

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 4

JAMESON LEE FINNEY IN

"The Man on the Box"

A clean, witty, intelligent comedy. A delightful dramatization of Harold MacGrath's famous novel by GRACE L. FURNISS, presented with the same care that characterized the performances during its run of Seven Months at the Madison Sq. Theatre New York.

PRICES—25, 35, 50, 75, $1.00 First two rows ground floor $1.50

SEAT SALE OPENS MONDAY

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, SATURDAY DECEMBER 7

MATINEE AND NIGHT

Frank L. Whittier's Second Edition, Great Big Laughing Hit of the Season

"A Dutchman's Honeymoon"

A Musical Melange in three acts. Bigger, Brighter, Better than ever. See—The Funny Dutchman, the Irish Policeman, the Pretty Girls, the Clever Dancers. 6 All New Specialties

Prices—15c, 25c, 35c, and 50c. — Matinee 15c and 25c

THE CRYSTAL

OPEN EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING

Excelsior of Strength
Illustrated Song
"MADGE AND I"

Complete Change of Programme Mon., Wed., Fri.

ADMISSION - - ONLY 5 CENTS

Medical

E. V. FREDERICK, M.B., Tor.
M.R.C.S., Eng.; L.R.C.P., Lond. Lic. Univ. o New York.
Removed to No. 493 George St., formerly office of Dr. McFaul
Private nursing home for surgical ca.

DR. G. STEWART CAMERON
Office and Residence
No. 273 Charlotte St. 'Phone 128

DR. G. C. LEACH
Late House Surgeon of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio; also of Cook County Hospital, Chicago OFFICE—224 Hunter St., formerly occupied by Dr. Coughlin. Phone Bell 219.
Special Attention to Diseases of Women

DR. JAS. V. GALLIVAN
Office 215 Simcoe St. Late of St. John's Hospital New York. Lic. University of New York.
Telephone 668.

Osteopathy

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY
Osteopathic Physician
Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Water Street entrance.
Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. Consultation free.

Dental

W. C. GOWAN
DENTAL SURGEON
Graduate Chicago College of Dental Surgery
Office: 166 BROCK ST. Phone 36 B

Legal

R. E. WOOD
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Etc. Office removed from Bank of Commerce Building to 435 George street, recently occupied by E. B. Edwards. MONEY TO LOAN

W. H. MOORE
BARRISTER SOLICITOR, in the Supreme Court etc. Office—Hunter street, first stairs west of Post Office.

HALL & HAYES
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS and NOTARIES PUBLIC, Hunter Street, Peterborough, next to English Church. MONEY TO LOAN at the lowest rates of interest.
R. E. D. HALL. LOUIS M. HAYES

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON
(Successors to Stratton & Hall)
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., Peterborough Ont. Office—Corner of Hunter and Water Sts. over Bank of Commerce.
R. E. HALL. G. F. MEDD. W. C. DAVIDSON

EDMISON & DIXON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc. Office in Clarkson's Block, corner of Hunter and George streets, over Dickson's store.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc 415 Water Street, Peterborough.
R.A. PECK. F. D. KERR. R. M. DENNISTOUN

Money

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASY TERMS
O'CONNELL & GORDON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS NOTARIES, Etc
Canadian and United States Patent Attorneys
124 Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office.
SAMUEL O'CONNELL. GEORGE N. GORDON

ROGER, BENNET & GOODWILL
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., 27 Water St. Peterborough. Telephone No. 191.
Money at Current Rates
Upon Easy Terms.
L. ROGER. J. W. BENNET. E. L. GOODWILL

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

PAID UP CAPITAL $1,000,000.00
RESERVE FUND 580,000.00

SAVINGS
An Account may be opened at any time with a Deposit of One Dollar.
3½% Interest allowed on daily balances.
DEBENTURE DEPT.
Four Per Cent. paid half yearly on sums of $100.00 and upwards.
MONEY TO LOAN
at current rates of interest.
W. G. MORROW,
Manager

Children's Aid Society
FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.
Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898
Information required. Informants name kept strictly private.
CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION
Office Hours—11.30 to 12.30 a.m.
OFFICE—DIVISION COURT BLDG
GEO. COCHRANE,
Agent and Asst Sec

"Fashion-Craft"

DRESS SUITS

¶ There is not one tailor in a hundred who can make a dress suit for $40. equal in material and workmanship to a Fashion-Craft Dress Suit at $30.

Or :—

¶ Who can make a dress suit for $45. equal to a Fashion-Craft at $35.

Or :—

¶ Who can make a dress suit for $50. equal to a Fashion-Craft at $40.

And :

¶ There is not one tailor in a thousand who can equal the style of a Fashion-Craft Dress Suit at any price.

¶ We make and emphasize this claim because the conventional Dress Suit is so well defined that comparison is easy and we invite you to make the comparison.

¶ It is a business matter—in this as in other business matters use business judgment. We are on trial—you are the judge—

Laidlaw & Oles, Props.
PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO

Policy Will Mean Ruin if Change is Not Soon Made

Mr. Cockshutt Sounds Note of Warning to Government.

Minister of Finance Is Flippant—Resents Criticism of Opposition Leader — Turns His Attention to Hon. George E. Foster Who Twits Him With Colchester Result—Defends the Tariff.

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—Mr. Fielding resumed the debate on the address in the House yesterday afternoon. The Finance Minister at once turned his attention to Mr. Foster, declaring that his attack on the Government was all sound and fury, violent and composed of charges which had been made and refuted in the country time after time.

Mr. Foster: "What about Colchester?"

"We shall hear about that later," replied Mr. Fielding, after an illustration, that Mr. Foster's abuse had simply served to confirm the party loyalty of any Liberal member who might have been in doubt. He thought, too, that Mr. Foster, as well as Mr. Borden, had exhibited too much concern and curiosity as to the selection by Sir Wilfrid Laurier of the new Ministers, pouring out sympathy upon Liberal members of long service, who, as they said, had been passed over and slighted. But why was Mr. Borden, a comparatively new member, selected as Conservative leader, while Mr. Foster, Mr. Haggart, Mr. Monk and Mr. Bergeron were passed over. Was it because the latter two came from Quebec? Thank heaven the Liberals did not care what a man's province or what his race or religion.

Proceeding Mr. Fielding alluded to other old Conservatives who had been passed over. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, Messrs. Taylor, Sproule, W. F. Maclean, Henderson and Martin of P. E. I. As for Mr. Borden's reference to his (Mr. Fielding's) views against surpluses 24 years ago, if Mr. Borden had searched further in the newspaper files of that day he might have come across a report of a Liberal meeting in which he (Mr. Borden) took part. It wasn't always safe to criticize views on the question of surpluses.

"I was only commending their good sense," observed Mr. Borden, laughingly.

"And I was referring to the time when the hon. gentleman had good sense," Mr. Fielding retorted to the amusement of his friends.

Figures That Sound Familiar.

Mr. Fielding claimed that in the last eleven years of Conservative rule there had been a net yearly deficit of $249,000, and $62,000,000 in all had been added to the public debt, while in the eleven years of Liberal rule there had been $127,000,000 of surpluses and only $5,000,000 added to the public debt. To the criticism that the taxation had been increased, Mr. Fielding answered that the people were in a better position to buy goods now than in 1896.

Mr. Fielding defended the tariff, and said that if as Mr. Borden now contended the country suffered for lack of sufficient postal facilities it must have been infinitely worse.

He denounced as dangerous the encouragement which Mr. Borden gave to British Columbia to renew the agitation for increased provincial subsidy. The arrangement which Mr. Borden tried to disturb was the one arrived at by the provincial conference held in Ottawa in 1907. Mr. McBride came to that convention determined that he would accept nothing that could be offered him. He wanted an arbitration, which could not be granted. But the people of British Columbia were not complaining—they were too big for that. It was no quarrel between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and British Columbia, for Sir Wilfrid had nothing to do with rejecting the demand of British Columbia for arbitration. It was rejected by the convention in which Premier Whitney of Ontario and Premier Roblin of Manitoba concurred.

Result In Colchester.

Mr. Fielding did not think the result in Colchester was remarkable, as the county had generally gone Conservative anyway. But as for the bye-elections in general, of the 36 which had been held since the last general election, 29 had been carried by Liberals and only six or seven by the Conservatives. He concluded by prophesying that the people would weave the Halifax platform into the record of the Tory party, and contrasting it with the results of Liberal rule, would contine in office the party under which, since 1896 the country had enjoyed the blessings of peace and prosperity. (Government cheers.)

Mr. Cockshutt's Reply.

Mr. Cockshutt of Brantford replied. He went on to say that by its policy of reckless extravagance the Government was courting disaster. While the Government was exulting in a large influx of immigrants hundreds of willing hands were idle in the cities for want of employment. He predicted a return to "soup kitchens" and that before long the banks would have to help the Government instead of the Government helping the banks.

Soup Kitchen Prophecies.

Mr. Miller (South Grey) followed. He contended that for eleven years the policy of expending public money in the public interest has been followed by the Liberal Government and referred to the good work done by the much-abused Arctic in hoisting the British flag on the far north islands.

Mr. Miller criticized at some length Mr. Cockshutt's pessimistic views of the financial situation, hinting that his fondness for "soup kitchen" prophesies was due to the Tories having been so many years in the soup themselves. There might be several hundred recent arrivals in Toronto without work who would have to be provided for, but it was because they were of a class unfitted to go on the land, a class of immigrants not encouraged by the Government. It was the Canadian Manufacturers' Association that encouraged the coming to Canada of artisans and laborers.

Mr. Clement of Kent moved the adjournment of the debate.

Public Bills Introduced.

Previous to the resumption of the debate on the address a number of important public bills were introduced.

Mr. Lancaster introduced his bill of last session to amend the Canada Shipping Act so as to provide that masters and mates of Canadian vessels on inland waters shall be British subjects. Mr. Lancasters' bill respecting the safety of railway crossings was also re-introduced.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Turriff of Assiniboia to prevent the constant renewal of railway charters. He suggests that in all cases at least ten per cent. of the work be done in the first two years, the same in each of the two years following, and the road be completed in five years.

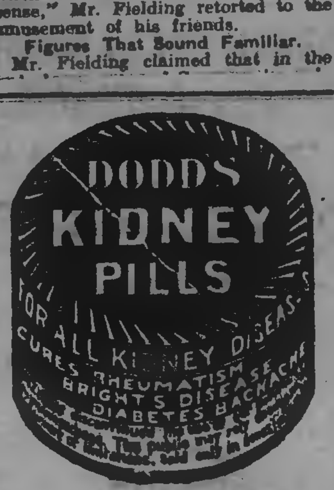
Mr. Monk's bill to promote co-operation and co-operative banks, which was reported favorably upon by the special committee of last year, was introduced and read a first time.

W. F. Maclean re-introduced his bill of last session, which provides for demurrage penalties against railways for neglect to supply cars or neglect to place cars on siding as required by shippers, and also against shippers in case of delay in loading or unloading cars so placed by the railway company.

Would Bar Cigarettes.

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. R. W. Scott and Hon. George P. Graham received a large delegation of ladies in the Railway Committee room of the House of Commons yesterday, who asked for the prohibition of the manufacture, sale and importation of cigarettes.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier would not commit himself to favoring the abolition of tobacco for use by men, but as to extending the power of the provinces to pass a law, the same as was done with the Scott Act in regard to counties, that was a new proposition which would be looked into.



WILL NAME THE MAN.

Bridge Commissioners Ready to Fix Responsibility For Quebec Collapse.

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—The report of the commission appointed to enquire into the collapse of the Quebec bridge will fix definitely the responsibility of it, and upon whose shoulders it rests. Henry Holgate, C.E., of Montreal, who is in the city, makes this statement.

"Our report," he said, "will be ready before the end of the month. I might say the evidence is now complete in all phases, but in connection with the enquiry at Phoenixville, some new points arose, and upon this aspect of the case we wish to further examine Mr. Cooper. In consequence the commission will again go to New York."

"Does the evidence make it clear where the blame rests?" was asked.

"I think I can safely say that in the report we will not hesitate to place the responsibility definitely."

Delegation From France.

London, Dec. 4.—(C. A. P.)—The Canadian Associated Press learns that an important deputation of French commercial men are to visit Canada shortly. M. Mascurand, president of the committee of commerce and industry, accompanies them.

Sent to the Central.

Chatham, Dec. 4.—William Adkin, aged 15 years, of Dresden, was in the County Court yesterday on a charge of assault on a nine-year-old girl. He was sentenced to 15 months in the Central Prison.

WOMEN MAKE SERIOUS CHARGE.

Swear That Horseman Choked His Wife to Death.

Salisbury, N. B., Dec. 4.—Monday Mrs. Charlotte Horseman was drowned in a well near the house under suspicious circumstances. The husband discovered her in five feet of water, but contends he was unable to pull her out without assistance which arrived in a short time, but not before the woman was past recovery.

At the coroner's inquest two female witnesses swore Horseman choked his wife to death after she was carried into the house. She was able to speak, and the husband after telling her she would probably mind him more in the future laid a quilt on her head and putting his hand to her throat, as if to ease her dress, worked his fingers until the woman turned black in the face. She died soon after.

Horseman admitted on the stand they had often had spats and his daughter in sobs said her parents had a fierce quarrel just before the drowning. Horseman contends his wife went to the well for a pail of water and fell in. The verdict was death by drowning, but sensational developments will likely follow.

Ontario Subsidy Arrives.

Toronto, Dec. 4.—The annual half-year Dominion subsidy has been received by Hon. A. J. Matheson, provincial treasurer, to the amount of $397,472.40. It was immediately disbursed in settlement of railway construction work and other payments due.

Under the new act the increase is made up of $80,000 extra fixed allowance and the balance per ratio of population of the last census, including 2,182,944. The previous census gave a population of 1,390,091. The total payment annually is now $2,128,772.08. The former sum was $1,330,287.28. The increase is thus nearly $800,000.

Freight Shed Stealing.

Port Arthur, Ont., Dec. 4.—A sensation has been caused by the arrest of Reginald Newman, forman in the Canadian Northern Railway local sheds; Charles Caroll, shipper for a Cumberland street produce dealer, and William Williamson, a teamster, in connection with the alleged conspiracy by which it would appear the Canadian Northern Railway has for some time been systematically robbed through abstraction of goods from the local sheds.

A further result of the investigation pursued was the arrest of William Swinton of the local C. P. R. shed.

Shot Former Toronto Man.

Buffalo, Dec. 4.—James Connell, formerly of Toronto, a saloon-keeper at Tonawanda, N. Y., was shot and probably fatally wounded last night. A sailor, John Knapp of Detroit, is under arrest.

When Connell closed his place and started for home he was met by Knapp and two of his friends. Knapp, it is said, drew a revolver and fired five shots, two of which struck Connell in the head.

Killed by Robbers.

Salem, Ore., Dec. 4.—The bodies of Mrs. Casteel, her daughter, aged 24; her son, aged 15; and a man named Montgomery, aged 50, foreman of the ranch, were found in the buried ruins of their home, near MacLeay, yesterday. They probably had been killed by robbers.

Mr. James J. Hill is warning New York that unless its prices come down western produce will go east by Canada and New Orleans.

FINDING MANY BODIES

Remains of Mine Victims Charred Beyond Recognition.

Rescuers Find No Signs of Life Anywhere—Death List Grows Larger—Gas Impedes the Work — Second Explosion Feared In Naomi Pit—Frenzied Women Surround Top of Shaft.

Pittsburg, Dec. 4.—The bodies of 27 of the miners caught by an explosion of fire damp Sunday night in the Naomi Mine of the United Coal Co., located near Fayette City, 35 miles south of this city, had been reached by rescuers yesterday. The bodies were burned and charred almost beyond recognition. The rescuers are now nearing the end of the workings, and they have found no signs of life anywhere. In the opinion of the owners of the mine, few, if any, more victims will be found. Among miners and others in the village there is a firm belief that the total number of victims is between 40 and 50.

Because of the accumulation of gas, the work of rescue in the remote sections of the mine is greatly impeded. A second explosion is a constant menace, and every precaution is being taken to avert such a catastrophe.

Scores of frenzied women constantly surround the pit mouth, and the special detail of officers has much trouble in preventing them from interfering with the work of the rescuers.

CHARGED WITH BLACKMAIL.

Ottawa Man Accused of Demanding Money From Hon. Mr. Emmerson.

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—John R. Labatt, Ottawa, manager of the Labatt Brewing Co. of London, Ont., appeared in the Police Court yesterday to answer a charge of attempting to levy blackmail.

From what can be learned a number of prominent Ottawa men have for several months past been receiving letters demanding money upon pain of exposure of certain private or personal affairs. The writer of the letters hinted at information in his possession and intended that cash alone would prevent exposures.

On July 18, 1907, Hon. H. R. Emmerson received a letter demanding the sum of $1,500 upon pain of exposure of certain alleged acts. The matter was put into the hands of detectives, and for months the work has been quietly prosecuted. Just what additional charges, if any, will be preferred against the prisoner, is unknown.

It is stated that Labatt had written quite a few letters of the nature described, and that in some cases he had succeeded in obtaining the money demanded.

BLACK SOD ROUTE BEST.

Distinguished Irishmen Will Lay the Matter Before Government.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—Rev. Dr. Clancy, Bishop of Elphin, Sligo, Ireland; R. W. Ambrose, M. P. for West Mayo, and C. N. Armstrong, M. P., arrived here yesterday from New York on the way to Ottawa, where they will lay before Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Government the advantages and claims of the Black Sod Bay route.

The Bishop of Elphin declares that the thorough success of the scheme would be assured by a subsidy of a million and a half dollars a year by British and Canadian Governments. He claims that the service proposed would bring the journey to New Zealand from London to 21 days, to Sydney, Australia, 24 days. At present the voyage to New Zealand occupies five weeks. The scheme, says his lordship, is one which both the Canadian and British Governments are bound to take up if they consider it impartially.

WERE GOOD SAMARITANS.

But Caught the Itch and Are Now Shunned by Their Fellows.

Kingston, Dec. 4.—Two of Queen's students passing along a street the other day had their attention arrested by an appeal from two children for help. The students stopped at the little ones, and found that their mittens were off and they could not pull them on. Their hands were apparently freezing. The students pulled the mittens on and went away.

A few days after the good samaritans found they had the itch, and had communicated it to some of their fellow boarders. The further result is that the young men have to leave college till such time as they are cured of the disease.

Lord Chancellor Married.

London, Dec. 4.—In the little Gothic crypt of the chapel beneath Westminster Hall, Sir Robert Threshie Reid, Baron Loreburn, the lord chancellor, was married yesterday to Miss Violet Hicks-Beach, a niece of Lord St. Aldwyn.

The ceremony, which was quiet, was especially interesting from the fact that this is the first occasion that a lord chancellor has been married during the term of his office, and that this marriage was the first ever performed within the precincts of the House of Parliament.

Bomb Failed to Kill.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 4.—An alleged attempt to assassinate President Cabrera of Guatemala two weeks ago, by throwing a bomb at his carriage, is reported by passengers of the steamer Ansels. The bomb is said to have exploded under the President's carriage, killing the coachman and wrecking the vehicle, but not injuring Cabrera.

Kingston's Grain Receipts.

Kingston, Dec. 4.—The amount of grain received at Kingston from the west during the season is 15,732,526 bushels, an increase over last year of 1-3.

The amount of coal received up to December 1st, was 58,289 tons, an increase of 11,140 tons.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
RAILWAY TIME TABLE

	Arrive.	Depar
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.40 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.26 a.m. 5.38 p.m.
Port Hope and points east to Montreal and Boston		8.30 a.m.
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago & West, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.20 a.m. 5.33 p.m.	11.45 a.m. 9.05 p.m.
From Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Bowmanville and Port Hope	11.46 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stouffville, Uxbridge and Markham	10.05 p.m.	7.20 a.m.
Lindsay Local	8.15 a.m.	9.10 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 8.40 p.m.	8.30 a.m. 1.50 p.m.
Lakefield and Stony Lake	9.50 a.m. 5.15 p.m.	8.30 a.m. 12.20 p.m.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

DEPART FOR EAST

Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa and Montreal...... 11:16 a.m. and 12:28 Daily ex. Sun. Daily
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock and Tweed... 7:47 p.m., Daily

DEPART FOR WEST

Toronto, London, Chicago and New York.......... 5:16 a.m. Daily
Toronto & Intermediate, North Bay, Winnipeg and Northwest.......... 8:00 a.m. Daily ex. Sun
Toronto, Galt, London, Detroit and Chicago... 4:48 p.m. Daily ex. Sun

SHORT LINE TO MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND

FALL TIME TABLE

NORTHBOUND

	No. 1	No. 3
TORONTO	† 9.00 am	† 6.30 pm
WASHAGO	12.38 pm	10.00 pm
PARRY SOUND	3.15 pm	....

SOUTHBOUND

	No. 2	No. 4
PARRY SOUND	†11.45 am	†...........
WASHAGO	2.13 pm	6.45 am
TORONTO	5.45 pm	10.10 am

Observation-Dining Parlor Cars between Toronto and Parry Sound serving meals a la carte.

† Daily except Sunday.

OFFICES: All Stations, also Cor. King and Toronto and Union Station. Phone, Main 5179.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CALIFORNIA MEXICO FLORIDA

Are the favorite winter Resorts.

Round trip tickets are issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System giving choice of all the best routes, going one way and returning another.

Full information may be obtained from
W. BUNTON,
City Passenger Agent
F. SANDY,
Depot Ticket
Or write Mr J. D. McDonald, D.P.A., Union Depot, Toronto

CANADIAN PACIFIC

WINTER FAIR
GUELPH
DEC. 9 TO 13, 1907
Return Tickets at
SINGLE FARE
FROM ALL STATIONS

Good going Dec. 7 to 13 Inclusive
Returning until and on Dec. 16

Children under twelve half fare

Tickets and all information from
W. McILROY,
Canadian Pacific Agent,
343 George St., Peterboro
Or write C. B. FOSTER, D.P.A. Toronto.

Private Greeting Cards

THE highly colored and lithographed Christmas Card in vogue a few years ago has passed away entirely.

IN place has come the much more appropriate Personal Greeting Card.

OF these the Review Office is showing a great many original designs.

YOUR order should be given immediately, while the selection is so complete.

SHOULD you desire a Card specially designed to your order, promptness is absolutely necessary.

The Review
HUNTER STREET
PETERBOROUGH

A Story of Absorbing Interest

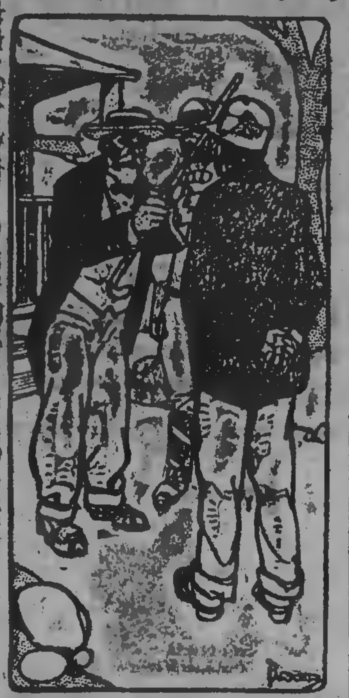
The Rogue's March

By E. W. HORNUNG, author of "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," "Stingaree," etc.

"And who's the overseer?" inquired Tom. "Mr. Nat?"

"No, I am, and hark'ee, my beauty, here we are at the kitchen, and you're a well set up youngster, ain't you? But no games with the girl or there'll be trouble! In you go. You'll thank me for the warning when you've seen a bit."

Tom thanked him then and there and was in the kitchen next moment. It was empty, but from the adjoining scullery there came a sound of scuffling, followed by a crash which arrested Tom's steps. Spurs then jingled out of the scullery by an outer door, and in the inner one stood a fine young woman, with black hair disheveled, and a broken piece of crockery in either hand.



"You're here as a convicted felon, not a free man."

"An' me to pay for it!" Tom had heard her mutter, but in the doorway she stood without a word, her steel gray eyes upon him till he colored, when she flung the broken pieces on the dresser and clapped her hands.

"The first blush iver seen at Castle Sullivan!" cried she. "An' is it the new groom ye are? Shake hands, then, and make frinds wid the cook. It's Peggy O'Brine me name is, so now tell me yours and all yer hist'ry, while I get ye as good a male as ye can hould."

So he told her his name, but nothing more, and she looked at him closely as she laid the cloth. "Sure, it's a special he is!" she murmured. "Poor man, I might have seen it wid half an eye." And she sighed and clicked her tongue as she put meat and bread upon the board; then looked at him wistfully and long with her clear, bright eyes, for he had rested his elbows on the table and had hidden his face, touched to the heart by the womanly kindness of her voice. He had heard nothing like it since that fatal night in April, now eight long months ago, nor, when he looked up, had he seen anything from that night to this like the womanly compassion in those Irish eyes.

She cut him some mutton and a slice of bread. She put the knife and fork in his hands, but he made no use of them.

"Ah, now, pluck up!" she coaxed. "Pluck up an' ate."

He made an effort, but could not finish what was on his plate.

"Your kindness has taken away my appetite, Peggy," he said with a smile as he pushed back his chair. "It's the first I've had, from a woman, at all events, for many's the long month."

With that he rose to go, but she got between him and the door.

"Glory be to God, an' it shan't be the last!" said she, her bosom heaving and a tear in her eye. "Peggy's your frind, remember that, sorr, an' it's the cook can be the usefullest frind to the assigned servants. If ye'd only say out what it is that's throublin' ye so this minute!"

"Coming up here as a convict, that's all, Peggy."

"There's hundhreds more in thim huts forninst us."

"That's no comfort, I'm afraid. You see, I am very selfish, I think only of myself."

"But they're all convicts here. Ivery mother's son but the ould cove and Mr. Nat."

"What, the overseer too?"

"Ginger? It's Ginger we call 'm, an' a dacent man at most times is Ginger, though you needn't be tellin' 'm I said so. But, faith, he's no betther than the rest of us. If he isn't a convict now he's a ticket-of-lave, an' it's ivery wan of us'll be that, sorr, if we live long enough."

"Yes? Don't 'sir' me, Peggy. Call me Tom. I'm not even like Ginger, you know. I'm a convict of the deepest and the newest dye."

"An' what am I?"

"Not you, too, Peggy!"

"Me, too, Tom, an' it's siven year I'm here for. So don't you make such a song of it, me dear, or it's me ye'll be puttin' to the blush!"

Indeed he had done so already. And, to believe Peggy, the second blush ever seen at Castle Sullivan was still mantling her pleasant face when spurs jingled again in the scullery, and Mr. Nat stood on the inner threshold. Some moments he stood there without a word, a furious glitter in his cold blue eye, his lewd mouth showing through his beard like a gash. Peggy shrank back. Tom was wondering if the brute had ever struck her, when he was addressed in a voice that shook with ill governed ferocity.

"What are you doing here, Erichsen?" were the words.

"I have just had my supper. I was told to have it here."

"Oh, you've had it, have you? Then why the devil haven't you cleared out?" roared young Sullivan, losing all control. "I tell you what, Peggy, this man's a cold blooded murderer. That's what he is, and that's what he's here for. Why they didn't hang him God knows, but they didn't, so we've got the benefit instead. Let me never catch him in here again. He'd cut your throat as soon as look at you. Clear out, you gallows bird, and show your nose inside the palisade again if you dare!"

Tom replied with his eye, and only scorn was in its steady gaze. When the other ceased, he waited a little to ascertain if that were all; then he turned upon his heel, opened the door, walked out and shut it very quietly behind him.

There were high voices in the kitchen as he went his way. And Tom himself was less cool when he reached his room, where, indeed, he lay awake half the night still wondering whether Nat Sullivan had ever struck Peggy O'Brien and whether Peggy would admit it if he had. But in the end he slept soundly on the clean straw with which he first took care to line his bunk.

Soundly, but not long, for in the middle of the night, as it seemed to Tom, the clanging of a great bell brought him to his feet in a state of high alarm. He slid into his trousers and rushed out. It was that black hour before dawn, and at first in the failing starlight he could see nobody; then he descried a figure in a long coat parading to and fro before the huts, but the bell was silent, though still swaying from the twisted arm of a gigantic gum tree, when Tom ran up and inquired of this man what it meant. He found he was speaking to the night watchman, who said his business was to ring the bell first an hour before sunrise, then half an hour later and lastly when the sun appeared.

"So you're to be groom?" added the watchman. "I wouldn't swap my job for yours."

"No?" said Tom.

"Not me! 'Cause why? I'm on all night, but off all day, so I see less of the coves than any other blessed man on the place. Now you'll see more of 'em, and Lord help you if you trot out a lame nag or a piece of harness the old cove can't see his ugly mug in! I wouldn't be in your shirt for something; it'll be stickin' to your back by this day week!"

Tom was returning to his room when a sash was softly raised in the main building, and there was Peggy at an outer window in an inky shower bath of pitch black hair. She beckoned him with her finger, but transferred it swiftly to her lips.

"You did well! You did well!" she whispered. "I was in the holy terror lest you answered Mr. Nat. If you'd done that"—

She shuddered and shut her lips.

"Well, what if I had?" said Tom, beginning to feel sorry he had not.

"Niver ask me!" she returned. "Only bear in mind that what they'll call 'insolence' is a crime out here. Give 'em cheek, an' it's twenty-five or fifty—an' now I've told ye! 'Tis well ye should know. There's some poor feller from here gets it ivery Monday as iver is. But you mustn't; so niver cheek 'em, me dear, and niver come near me kitchen anny more. Sure it'd be the dith of a young gintleman like you."

"Would it?" said Tom. "Well, never you fear, Peggy! I'm not such a fool as all that, and I'll give them no reason, you may depend."

"They may be afther makin' one, Tom, dear. Faith an' they'd have one ready made if they cot ye here! There's the second bell. For God's sake be off—an' remimber Peggy's words."

"I'll go when I'm ready, Peggy, not until; and don't shut down that window or you'll take off my fingers. Your hand again! It's to you I shall owe my whole skin!"

He gave her his hand. She took it between both of hers and pressed it with a fervor that should have given him another warning on the spot. But her kind voice only put him in mind of Claire so far away; nor did he hear it again for some few days. Now and then she would wave to him from the kitchen window, but it was always to wave him back. More often he waved to her from the stable door, but she invariably shook her black head at him with the greatest vigor.

Meanwhile her words came true.

Mr. Nat had conceived a palpable spite against the new groom, and from things the latter heard in the convicts' hut, where he went for his meals, he might have understood the reason, these same things making him the less eager to see very much more of Peggy the cook. Still, he gave her a wave whenever he espied her in the distance, for he owed the girl much already. He was daily profiting by her good advice, since no day passed without its measure of willful provocation from the ruffianly Nat. But Tom was not to be provoked by sneer or taunt or oath. Moreover, he made an excellent groom and, being seen no more about the house, gave no further occasion to the enemy, who dropped his overt persecutions, but detested Tom the more for his unexceptionable conduct.

This feeling was intensified by the effect of that conduct in a certain quarter. Tom became quite a favorite with the despotic old army surgeon, and Mr. Nat went in constant dread of his "sunstrokes" in Sydney and on the road coming to his father's ears. It was this dread that decided him to let Tom alone and to bide his own time for revenge, for, besides being privy to the son's irregularities and dangerously established in the father's favor, the new groom had indeed done Mr. Nat an injury of which he himself was all unconscious. Days grew into weeks meanwhile, the old year burnt into the new, and one week day was still much like another on this primitive Australian farm. When the third bell rang at sunrise, every hut disgorged its surcharge of convicts, and Ginger called them over like so many schoolboys in front of the palisade. Then the shepherds to the pastures, the plowmen to the arable land, the bullock drivers to their teams, and Tom to his stables for the livelong day. Such as could come were summoned to breakfast at 8 and to dinner at 1 by the great bell clanging in its eucalyptian belfry, and all hands were recalled by it between 8 and 9 at night.

Sunday was a nominal day of rest which included two long compulsory services in the courtyard beneath a savage sun. Dr. Sullivan read the prayers with the voice of an executioner, his bamboo cane on the desk in front of him for use as a baton or as an instrument of correction for the man who dared to smile or to whisper within his reach. The terrible old man would also take this weekly opportunity of animadverting on the lost souls and abandoned character of his convicts in general, with particular allusions to those whose enormities had earned them the lash during the preceding week. He never failed to assure future offenders that they would be punished without mercy in their turn and would slash the desk with his cane to emphasize his words. So religion and ferocity ran hand in hand at Castle Sullivan, nor was hypocrisy very far behind. Mr. Nat led the hymns in a devout, sustained, stentorian bellow, while a maiden sister, the only lady of the establishment, whose voice the convicts never heard and whose face they seldom saw but on these occasions, supplied a perfunctory accompaniment on the pianoforte.

Amid the branches of the red gums without flocks of parrots would chatter mockingly, their vivid reds and yellows lighting up the somber hues of those perennial leaves that whispered none the less enticingly of cool siestas in the shade. Yet Sunday after Sunday these tyrannical observances were maintained and enforced, and the evangelical doctor loved to boast of the device whereby he had enforced them in the beginning. On the first Sunday nine-tenths of his men had announced themselves Roman Catholics. So he had drawn up these gentry in line outside the palisade and there kept them standing out of earshot, but in the full glare of the sun, during the entire service. And on the Sunday following there was not a Roman Catholic among them.

What remained of their ruined day the convicts spent in breaking as many as possible of those commandments which Dr. Sullivan had been dinning in their ears. Larceny, however, was the crime most in favor at the farm, whose boundaries were seldom exempt from that foul parasite of the convict, the squatter of the early days. He must not be confounded with the squatter of subsequent civilization. The former was usually a ticket-of-leave man, who built himself a hut in an unoccupied spot, with a preference for the near neighborhood of a plentiful contingent of assigned convicts. The squatter would supply the convicts with rum. The convict would pay the squatter with the only currency within his reach—namely, that of stolen property. The squatter was sly publican and sly pawnbroker in one, and a pretty specimen of his class had his wigwam and his black gin on a creek not a hundred miles from Castle Sullivan.

Hither was Tom taken by one of his fellows on an early Sunday evening. Half a dozen others were there before them. Not one of these were sober when they arrived. And the strong fumes tempted Tom. Smoldering misery was in flames at this chance of quenching it for the nonce. He might have followed suit had not his companion produced a screw hammer in payment for the liquor. Tom glanced at the implement and then at his mate.

"You're never going to pay with that, Mac?"

"An' what for no?"

"There's the farm brand staring you in the face! It isn't yours."

"What's aboot it? If a man mayn't bilk the coves, wha may he bilk? They gie us nae wages for our work, so we maun help oursels!"

And as this was the principle of all present and indeed of the average convict throughout the colony, honest Tom had no choice but to turn on his heel and walk away amid the execrations of his fellows. But not a hand was raised against him. He had still the eye and the bearing that discourage a blow. Even the elder Sullivan had given up tapping and rapping him with that bamboo wand which was forever quickening felon fingers and sowing black murder in felon hearts.

But the incident of the screw hammer made an unpopular man of Tom among his fellows, and worse was to come of it. The theft was brought home to the man Macbeth, and the very next night Tom met him with a white, pinched face and his coat on back to front.

"Why, Mac!" cried Tom. "What now?"

The foulest maledictions were his only answer, a white lip quivering with the words.

"What on earth have I done?"

"You ken weel. This, then!"

He turned his back, and Tom started back with horror. The shirt beneath the open coat was sopping red.

In vain Tom protested that he had never told a soul about the hammer. Nobody would believe him. His indignation and his sympathy were treated with scorn as so much hypocrisy. His name was execrated in the convict huts, and so much of the convict spirit survived in Ginger that he was with the men in this and never spoke to Tom now. The overseer besides shared Nat Sullivan's grievance against Tom. A furtive admiration for the girl O'Brien was one of his softer traits, and she was the same to neither of them now.

At the end of a month the groom's truest friend was the terrific old doctor himself. Peggy was his friend indeed; but, though her gray eyes watched him wistfully enough from the window, he seldom heard her full, rich brogue. Nor was it consideration for the girl that made Tom deny himself that small consolation. Young Sullivan had forbidden him the house and was sufficiently his enemy as it was. Indeed, the groom discovered he was becoming a bone of contention between father and son.

The son wanted to have him turned out of the stables and put to felling timber. The father would not hear of it.

The father granted him the usual good conduct indulgences of tea, sugar and tobacco, in addition to the regulation rations. The son laid himself out to catch Tom smoking at night and at once put a stop to the tobacco.

Then came the very hottest day of the summer, for which the son had waited. He had brought from Sydney on the pack horse a quantity of new harness, saddles, bridles and the like, and he made the groom devote the very hottest day to seasoning the brand new leather with castor oil, to be rubbed into every inch of it in the stifling heat of the little saddle room. When Tom was finishing, nauseated with the smell, swollen with mosquito bites and in streams of perspiration from head to foot, Mr. Nat came in and patiently nagged at him. But even this did not compass the destruction of Tom's skin. He perceived the design and defeated it with imperturbable civility.

Mr. Nat was driven into deeper plots. He had never been bested by a convict yet. And now at last Tom read revenge in the jaundiced eyes, but revenge for what? He felt more mystified than afraid. All he had to do was to keep his temper, but what had he done? To nobody on the farm had he breathed a word about aught that happened in Sydney or on the road. He never ventured within the palisade. What, then, was his offense?

One night as he lay puzzling his head about it and yet half asleep, a sound startled him.

It came from the saddle room next door. Tom sat up in his bunk.

The sound was very thin and wholly metallic, as the scraping of a dinner knife between the prongs of a fork. Suddenly a bolt shot back, with a little slam.

CHAPTER XVII.

TOM sat still in his bunk.

"A licht, a licht!" whispered a voice that he knew.

"He'll hear ye, Mac. He's only next door."

"What's about it? I'll slit his juggler if he daurs to interfere. Heard ye that?"

"I did. That's better!"

The crafty groom was snoring where he sat, with one eye at a cranny in the rude partition between his lair and the saddle room. In the latter there was as yet no light.

"An' that's better still," muttered Macbeth as one was struck. "Slit his juggler!" he repeated, with a chuckle. "I wadna think twice o't, the mosing blackguard! Now, whaur's thae saddles, for my hands is free?" And his teeth snapped on something that gleamed between them in the light.

"Wait a bit. I smell the oil. Aha, here's one."

"An' here's the ither. Dinna heed the bridles. Awa' we go afore Jarman turns in."

Jarman was the squatter on the creek. The hour was still short of midnight, and Tom, who had bounded lightly to the floor, now stood irresolute. In the end he let the rascals go. Their footsteps had already left the saddle room. The groom listened and lost them in the night. Then he felt about for his clothes.

He was thankful he had not waylaid the thieves at the saddle room door; the field would have been too unequal, the consequences perhaps too serious for one and all. And he foresaw the neatest triumph now. Jarman's name had given him a foregone victory, for now he knew the way to Jarman's ramshackle hut, and the saddles should be back upon their pegs before morning. So full was Tom of confidence as he dressed himself in the dark. But the thought of betraying his comrades in captivity was as far from his heart as that of allowing his master's saddles to be quietly stolen before his eyes. Stolen they might be, but only for the moment; he would call in Macbeth and his mate to see how nice they looked in the morning.

In a few minutes he was fully dressed and dodging Roberts, the night watchman, behind the convict huts. No other man among them would have found this precaution necessary, but the groom was an unpopular character, whom Roberts would have reported none the less readily after winking, as he must have done, at the theft of the saddles. With luck and ingenuity, Tom managed to elude him, however, and was soon racing down the wooded slope where the timber was being felled, leaping the stumps as he ran and steering by the Southern Cross for the southern boundary of the farm, which was, in fact, the creek on whose further bank the squatter was now encamped.

To be continued.

The Dominion Parliament expects to be occupied for the first three days of the week with the debate on the speech from the throne. "Fireworks" are prophesied early in the discussion.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

SPECIAL TO SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS

GIFTS that will be appreciated by the children and yet not costly.

SHORT STORY BOOKS

1 in a book from 10 cts. to 25 cts. each. Better than making something which is not useful or not valued. See our stock.

F. C. CUBITT,
370 George Street, Peterborough
"CUBITT SELLS CHEAP"

There is Only One
"Bromo Quinine"
That is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
USED THE WORLD OVER TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Always remember the full name. Look for this signature on every box. 25c. E W Grove

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME
"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited
97 Yonge Street, Toronto.
W. H. ISAAC, 228 Dublin Street, Peterborough.
Local Salaried Representative.
Machine 'Phone 22

FOR PASSEPARTOUT WORK

The fad for passepartout pictures is again growing a favorite for pretty pictures and are always appreciated. One can always find room for a couple more on the walls and every one has their favorite subject, some like scenery, others historical subjects, many like kittens and one boy in the city has the walls of his bedroom fairly covered with pictures of dogs—small and large. When mounted on a suitable background and passepartouted they are very pretty and inexpensive to make up. The Review has a large stock of pictures in sepia and colors, mounting papers and passepartout to match. Call and see them at the REVIEW Office, Hunter street. 3d

Fire did $20,000 damage to the stock of the Montreal Wadding Company yesterday.

FIRE ALARM BOXES

The following are the numbers and locations of the city of Peterborough Fire Alarm Boxes.

WARD No. ONE

BOX LOCATION
12—Lock and McGill
14—Westcott and Aylmer
15—Perry and George
16—Perry and Bethune
17—Park and Townsend
18—George, at C. P. R.

WARD No. TWO

21—George and King
22—Simcoe and Queen
23—George and Hunter
24—Hunter and Quaker
27—Water and McDonel

WARD No. THREE

31—Park and Sherbrooke
33—Charlotte and Stewart
35—Park and Hunter
38—McDonel and Reid

WARD No. FOUR

41—Park and London
42—George and Dublin
43—Edinburgh and Stewart
45—George and Smith
48—Water and Hilliard

WARD No. FIVE

52—Burnham and James
53—Rogers and Sophia
54—Hunter and Mark
57—Concession and Hazlitt
59—Auburn

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the War number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

Letterheads

¶What you think about you Business Stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks.

¶Don't have inferior paper and work in your Business Stationery. Don't try good work and paper because you like it, altogether, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

¶The Review Job Department will give you the best work obtainable and superior paper and envelopes. Your order set, printed and cared for for you, particularly you

¶A Call or Phone will bring to you samples.

THE REVIEW
PETERBOROUGH

YOUR OWN HAIR MADE UP AS DESIRED . .

By home talent, where you are sure of satisfaction, or matched correctly in shade and quality.

Switches, Natural Wavy Pomps Latest Coiffures

Let us show you what we can do before you patronize some outside party. We guarantee to please you at lowest prices in the city.

Back Hair Dressing, Shampooing, etc.

MRS. BYRNE'S
George Street, Second Door North of Dutton's

W. H. HILL, Esq.,
Manager of Central Ontario.

Dear Sir—After congratulating myself being a Sun Life Policy Holder, I am very much pleased with the handsome amount added to my Policy, and am surprised and gratified with the profits. I appreciate the good financial position which your Company holds to-day.

THOS. EDGAR,
Peterborough, Ont
November 29th, 1907.

N.B.—Policy Straight Life $2,000
Bonus for 5 Years $160
Policy No. 17,706

LOOK Warne's Prices on Patent Medicines are LOWEST YET.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Chase's Nerve Food, reg. 50c for	29c
Wampole' Tooth Paste, reg. 25c for	10c
108 Nox a Cold, reg. 25c for	15c
Gin Pills, reg. 50c, for	29c
Baby's Own Soap, for	8c
Cuticura Soap, regular 35c for	25c
Chase's Pills, reg. 25c for	15c
Dr. Williams Pink Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Eclectric Oil, Thomas, genuine	12 1-2c
Electric Oil, other than genuine Thomas	9c

See our large assortment of Xmas gifts at cut rate prices.

W. B. WARNE

345 GEORGE ST. Phone 327

Xmas Photos

Send a family group or the children's photos to your friends at Christmas. Nothing is appreciated more than such remembrances, from

MENDEL'S STUDIO

374 1-2 George St Entrance next Oke's

The Meetings of Farmer's Institute

One at Ennismore on Saturday, Other at Lakefield Monday

The Farmers' Institute of West Peterborough, will hold meetings in the Ennismore town hall on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 7, at 1.30 p.m., and 7,30 p.m., and at Lakefield town hall on Monday, Dec. 9, at 1.30 p.m, and 7,30 p.m. It is expected there will be a large attendance of farmers and others interested at the meetings. A good programme of music and songs will be rendered. At Ennismore St. Martin's church choir and local people will provide the entertainment in the evening and at the Lakefield evening meeting the programme will be under the direction of the Women's Institue. Mr. J. N. Telford, of Bridgenorth, is president of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute and Mr. William Collins, of Peterborough, is secretary.

Among the speakers at the Ennismore meeting on Saturday afternoon and evening and at Lakefield on Monday afternoon and evening are Mr. T. G. Raynor, of Ottawa. Dr. Annie Backus, of Aylmer, Mr. E. C. Drury, of Crown Hill and Mr. F. H. Reid, teacher of agriculture in the Lindsay high school. The public is cordially invited to all the meetings.

There are fears in Cape Colony of a Zulu uprising. Dinizulu, the chief, has been implicated in several murders lately, and the Zulus, whose loyalty to the head of the royal house is one of their strong characteristics, will, it is believed, fight to the last man in his defence.

"SANITOL" PROPOSITION

If you are interested in an A1 offer for sterling good Toilet Preparations, call in and we will explain how you can get $2 70 worth of Sanitol Preparations for $1.00.

We know you will be pleased with the Goods and well satisfied with the bargain.

NUGENT DRUG CO.

A. J. JOHNSTON

386 GEORGE STREET

INTEREST PAID

QUARTERLY

—ON—

SAVINGS DEPOSITS

of $1 and upwards

—THE—

BANK OF OTTAWA

Interest paid
February 28
May 31
August 31
November 30

PETERBOROUGH BRANCHES:
George Street, also
Corner Rubidge and Townsend Streets

A. A. HOLLINGSHEAD, Mgr

Many Pupils at the Local Public Schools

Commercial Classes Have to be Removed From King Edward School

Central School is Crowded and a Class Will be Taken Away First of the Year

Recent events have proved conclusively that the Board of Education made no mistake when they made the King Edward school a twelve room building and provided for increased accommodation at the Queen Alexandra school in the north ward. At the King Edward school at the present time there are a sufficient number of pupils to fill seven class rooms with 45 to each room and if the rate of increase after the Christmas and Easter holidays is anything like it has been during the past few months the eight rooms at the King Edward will be filled with public school pupils at the close of the present school year. Since the school was opened the first of September only six of the eight rooms have been used for public school purposes, the other two being taken up by the commercial classes form the Collegiate Institute. Arrangements are being made, however, to transfer the commercial classes to two rooms in the Queen Alexandra school the first of the year.

A gentleman who has considerable to do with local educational affairs, stated to the Review to-day that it was surprising the way the number of pupils in the public schools of Peterborough was increasing.

Every room in the South Central school is filled at present time, in fact some of them are congested. The West Ward school is comfortably filled and so is the school in East City.

The Central school is crowded to such an extent that inspector Mowat has found it necessary to form another class which will be transferred to the Queen Alexandra after the Christmas holidays.

The new six room addition to the North Ward, or Queen Alexandra school, will be ready for occupancy the first of the year. The commercial classes will take up two of them, the class that is being formed at the Central school, another one, and one or more will be required to relieve the congestion in the four rooms at present.

The Board of Education is fortunate in having accommodation available at the Queen Alexandra school. If it had not been enlarged the Board would be in a bad position at the present time. The present condition of affairs goes to show that the Board has acted wisely and had been making provision for to-morrow as well as to-day.

FOR XMAS GREETING

Order your cards now and secure the best as the prettiest are always sold out first. Many different styles printed with your own greeting and name, at all prices. Call and make your selection at the Review Office.

ADAM'S

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

—SALE OF—

Sample Silk Blouses and Fancy Neckwear

We have been fortunate in securing a manufacturer's lot of Sample Silk Blouses which had served their purpose as samples. We bought them at a fraction of their regular value and pass them on to our customers at less than the cost of making.

$3.25, $3.50, $4.00 $5.00 SILK BLOUSES FOR $2.38

4 dozen only, Sample Silk Blouses, White and Black, made of fine quality Japanese Silk, with allover embroidered fronts, lace and insertion trimmings, large and fine tucks, long and short sleeves. Regular values $3.25, $3.50, $4.00 & $5.00

Friday and Saturday Your Choice For $2.38

35c and 50c FANCY COLLARS FOR 25c

25 dozen beautiful new Silk Collars, the newest novelties for the Christmas trade—bought much less than regular value.

Friday and Saturday Your Choice For 25c

THIS IS A RARE SILK BLOUSE AND COLLAR BARGAIN EVENT WHICH YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS. THEY MAKE VERY SUITABLE CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Harry Adams

A Soldier of Fortune Pays Visit to Peterborough

Mr. Gerald Eyre of Denver Colorado, Passes Through City on Way to Cobalt—Has Served in American Navy and Fought Under Col. Baden-Powell in South African War—Has Seen Much of the World.

An interesting gentleman in the person of Mr. Gerald H. Eyre, Denver, Colorado, was in the city this morning on his way to the Cobalt. Mr. Eyre has travelled a great deal, and might well be termed a soldier of fortune. He is apparently about thirty-five years of age, and has seen considerable active warfare. He was an active member of the American navy at the time of the Spanish-American war, and fought under Baden-Powell during the South African war, being present at the relief of Mafeking. On account of his many experiences, he is naturally an interesting talker, and told the reporter of many episodes and incidents connected with his journeys.

IS A WRITER.

Besides being a soldier, Mr. Eyre is considerable of a writer, and has contributed articles on matters, naval and military, to several American newspapers and periodicals. He received a first-class education, his father being a wealthy rancher, near Austin, Texas, for many years, and after he had made enough to keep him in luxury for the rest of his life, bought a palatial residence in Denver, where he has resided for the past fifteen years. Mr. Eyre is naturally of a roving disposition, and despite the fact that he received a splendid education with the view that he should take up the study of law, he could not restrain his natural tendencies to see the world. Mr. Eyre has an old friend of his, Mr. Wills in the Silver City. He does not intend to buy any mining stock or take out any claims, and his visit is purely of a personal nature.

"Although I am a rambler," he said, and naturally have the speculative instinct developed to quite an tent, I have to be shown when it comes to mining or stock taking deals."

Member for West Peterboro' Used Numerous Superlatives

In Moving the Address in the House—Said Mothing That Was New or Original—He Was Extremely Extravagant in His Phraseology.

In the House of Commons on Mon- Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., of West Peterborough, moved the address in reply to the speech from the throne. Under the heading of the "Same Old Thing," the Toronto Telegram says:

Mr. Hall delivered himself of an oration built on the established lines. Movers of addresses for 30 years have made the same speech, with the possible difference that they have done it better. The Peterborough man forebore to bother with any reference, however vague, to the original utterances of the Governor-General. This course is invariably followed by properly equipped movers of addresses. The Peterborough member was heard to express the opinion that the Prime Minister had selected him to be the mover, not so much out of compliment to himself as to the city which he had the honor, eto Movers of addresses for thirty years have said exactly the same thing, with the possible difference already mentioned.

Mr. Hall opined that the greatness of Peterborough in the matter of butter and cheese might have had someinfluence with Sir Wilfrid. He afterwards summarized the contents of a few blue books on the subject of trade expansion. The rest of the speech was made up in part of the words "illimitable resources," "satisfactory results," "great and remarkable," and by a couple of violent conflicts between singular nouns forced into association of verbs of the other number. There was a congratulatory reference to the fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was 66 years of age, a reference which did not appear to be the most desirable thing in the world to Mr. Hall's leader.

The First Touch of Cold Weather

Thermometer Registered 6 Degrees Below Zero Last Night

The cold weather has arrived. It was cold, very cold, last night, and the probs indicate this brand of weather will continue for some days.

According to the Government thermometer, it was six degrees below zero last night. At about 8 oc'lock this morning the mercury stood at five below. As the day advanced it grew milder, and at noon, the thermometer stood 10 above zero

Even at this no one was found on the street complaining of the heat.

Commercial Pupils Change Schools Again

After the New Year They Will Attend Queen Alxandra School

The commercial pupils of the Collegiate Institute, who have been holding their classes ever since midsummer at the King Edward school, will, after the New Year, meet at the Queen Alexandra school. This change has been found necessary by the board owing to the crowded conditions where they are at present situated. Some of the members of the Board thought that if this transfer could possibly be avoided, it would be much better. Mr. Pringle stated that he had investigated the matter fully. There was no possible chance of making any additional accommodation at the Collegiate. He had tried to see if arrangements could be made with the Separate School, but that failed. It was finally seen that the only feasible solution of the difficulty was to send them up to the Queen Alexandra school.

Emily L.O.L. Has Elected Officers

Installation Was Conducted by Past Master Fowler of Peterborough

At the regular meeting of L.O.L. No. 41, Emily, on Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the coming year:—

Master—Bro. Sam Fry.
Deputy Master—V. Lowes.
Chaplain—W. McGee.
Rec.-Sec.—Geo. Jackson.
Fin.-Sec.—Fred McGee.
Treas.—W. Jackson.
Dir. of Ceremonies—Alex Henry.
Lecturer—George McCabe.
1st. Com.—Geo. Lowes.
2nd Com.—W. Pelt.
3rd Com.—R. Tully.
4th Com.—R. Kenny.
5th Com.—T. E. Henry.

The installation of officers was conducted by Past Master J. H. Fowler, of Peterborough. After the business of the evening was over, refreshments were served and a social time spent.

WEDDING BELLS

STOCKDALE—DUNLOP

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Andrew's manse this afternoon at 3 o'clock, the contracting parties being Miss Bertha A. Dunlop and Mr. Frederick W. Stockdale, both of Peterborough. Rev. J. G. Potter was the officiating clergyman. The couple were unattended. The bride who has been employed at the lamp department of the C.G.E. Co., received a handsome present from her fellow employees and was also honored with many beautiful presents from her numerous friends in the city.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Stockdale left for a honeymoon trip to Toronto, Hamilton and other points. On their return they will reside at 529 Homewood avenue.

Another Family With no Money

The poor are always with us, and this winter they will be with us in greater numbers than ever. Another destitute family has asked for assistance from this city. In this instance it is an immigrant family, consisting of a father, mother and three children, who came direct from the Old Country to Peterborough three weeks ago. The father has been unable to find employment, and the roseate picture of Canada that was painted for him before he left his home across the seas has assumed a very sombre tinge. The family are without any means of support whatever, and have the long cold winter to face without any means of meeting their wants.

Was Injured in Collision Yesterday

These are the days of street car and delivery rig collisions, it seems and about one each day is recorded. Yesterday afternoon at four o'clock Edgar Harris, driver of Alex. Gordon's meat delivery, received some bad injuries by colliding with a street car. Mr. Harris attempted to cross before the car at the corner of George and Charlotte streets, but was unable to do so, and was thrown from the sleigh. He received injuries to his back and limbs. Medical aid was summoned and the Dan Spence ambulance called. The injured man was removed to Nicholls' hospital, where he is now progressing favorably.

Board Will Have Sewer Opened up

The Board of Education is taking action to have the portion of the sewer at the King Edward school, for which the Board is responsible, opened up to ascertain whether the pipes are properly laid. As noted in the Review yesterday, it is apparent that sand is getting into the sewer between the school and Aylmer street, and the defect will have to be remedied before the drain will be satisfactory. The sewer will be opened at once and the compaint investigated.

Industrial Sale Formally Opened

Interior of Old Opera House Presents Pretty Spectacle

Bradburn's Opera House today presents one of the prettiest spectacles that has ever been seen in this city. It is one dazzling array of gorgeous color effect. It is the occasion of the Industrial Sale, held under the auspices of the Women's and Girls' Guilds of All Saints' church. The ladies have been working hard for the past few days, and now are highly pleased with the splendid appearance they have put the building in. Mrs. J. Harris McClellan and her able assistants deserve credit for their painstaking efforts. They have spared neither time nor expense to make the affair a great success. Mrs. McClellan has an arduous task in superintending such a large undertaking, as the Industrial Sale. However, the successfull manner in which she and others have conducted similar events in the past, is a guarantee that this one will be equally as successful.

The sale opened this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and will continue until tomorrow night.

No admission fee is being charged, but a shredded wheat banquet will be served on Thursday night, when a fee will be collected at the table.

On entering the hall, the visitor is greeted with a beautiful display of all that one could desire in almost any line. There are a number of booths, most artistically arranged, resenting an exceedingly attractive appearance. The first one is the "Jack in the box," arranged with flags. Mrs. Davis and Miss Sabin have charge of this. The booths are all so bewitching that it is difficult to discriminate. Each one seems to vie with the other in point of beauty, and al have reached a high degree of excellence.

The "ice cream garden" is arranged in pale green and white, and looks very becoming. Mrs. D. J. Lundy, Mrs. Tonus and Mrs. Metheral are in charge. The "Japanese tea room" is next. It is very unique. Japanese umbrellas forming a canopy for it, and other decorations are Japnaese lanterns. Mrs. Wolstenholme and Mrs. Corcoran are directing this one.

The candy booth, under the direction of Misses Duggan and Hutchison, is done in red and white.

Yellow and white are the prevailing colors around the grocery stand. A full line of provisions is sold there Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Babcock have charge of it.

The fancy booth in mauve and white is in charge of Mrs. Cotterell, and Miss Cotton.

The apron booth is regarded by some as the prettiest of all, made in the shape of half a moon. The color scheme is pale blue and white. Mrs. Koen, Mrs. Cornell and Miss Watt are in charge.

The post office and telephone office is in charge of Misses Cairns and H. Melville.

The news stand is under the direction of Messrs. Metheral, Hopkins and Rummett.

Tonight a short programme of music will be given.

Dominion Agent for R.T.O.T. Here

Mr. H. Allen in This City Look- After Matters in Connection With Order

Mr. H. Allen, Toronto, Dominion agent for the R.T.O.T., is in the city in the interest of the Templars, and will remain for about two weeks. He is looking after the insurance and sick benefit interests of the society he represents. Since leaving Toronto, he had visited besides this city Port Hope, Cobourg, Bowmanville and Whitby. Mr. Allen travels all over the Dominion on the business that brings him here, and says that the R.T.O.T. is in a very flourishing condition, and reports that the growth and prosperity of the order in the past year has been very encouraging.

Dr. Ellbrecht, the Danish dairy expert who visited Canada last year, is telling Danish dairymen that they are in danger of competition from Canada as the quality of Canadian butter is steadily improving and it will soon be possible to land it in England within eight days after it is made.

ESTABLISHED 1873

LEAVE YOUR MEASURE

Hurry up and leave your measure now for your new

CHRISTMAS SUITS and OVERCOATS

Prices have been cut very low, when you can get made to your order on the premises—

A Stylish Ordered Suit from $15.00 up

A First-class Melton or Beaver Overcoat for $16.00 up

A Full Dress Suit for $25.00 up

Good Pair of Tweed Trousers for $3.25 up.

FIT AND SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

H. LeBrun & Co.

Two Entrances George and Hunter Sts.

MENS' ASSOCIATION

The Men's Association of All Saints' church held a meeting last night, at which there was a good attendance. Mr. A. Graham, the president, presided. After the transaction of routine business, the members wended their way to the old opera house, and assisted the ladies in the decoration of the booths for the industrial sale.

Porter's Delicatessen

CUT RATE GROCERY STORE

Black Tea, 3 lbs	.50
S ec1 Raisins 3 lbs	.20
Cooking Figs, 4 lbs	.25
Mince Meat, 3 lbs	.20
Chopped Suet, per lb	.10
Washing Soda, 3 lbs	.05
Tomatoes, per tin	.10
Beans, Peas, Corn, per tin	.08
3 bottles Pickles	.25
3 bottles Ketchup	.25
Horse Shoe Salmon, tin	.15
Potatoes, per pk	.15
Apples, per pk	.10

THE INVICTUS SHOE

Here is the shoe that fits exactly into the ideal so many have looked for and never found.

INVICTUS SHOES

AT $4.50 & $5.00

Shoes that combine with a moderate price the perfection of style, fit and durability. "Invictusized" Patent Leather Shoes are a revelation. This secret process does something never before accomplished. Renders the leather soft and pliable, increases the life of the shoes at least one third and reduces checking or breaking to a minimum.

ASK THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM

J T. STENSON

364 George St.

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES

AND

VETERINARY INFIRMARY

193 HUNTER STREET west of Oriental Hotel.

If you wish a rig of any kind for any occasion ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 278. Night Phone Bell 425 B.

D. McKERCHER, V.S.

ADAMSON & DOBBIN

Stove Dealers, Tinsmiths, Plumbers, Etc.

REMOVED Across the Street

To their new and more commodious Store premises, warerooms and workshop, No. 175 Simcoe Street,

In New Brick Block

Come and see us. We'll be glad to welcome all our friends and patrons, and lots of new customers, in our up-to-date shop. No change in our store policy. Prices will continue to be on the same reasonable scale as before. Superior Stoves, Tinware, Furnaces and Work always at moderate figures.

THE DAYLIGHT STORE

The Money-Saving Sale

Of Clothing and Furnishings now going on at this Store is meeting with success for the reason that our patrons are getting values in High-class Goods which have never been equalled. It is not what you pay, but what you get for your money that counts. Low prices alone does not make a bargain, but we are truly giving good quality at a low price.

Men's Suits
Mostly traveller's samples, cut in single and double breasted styles, latest models, worth up to $10.00, for 6.90

Youths' Suits
In fancy Tweed, beautifully lined and guaranteed fronts, worth $10.00, for 6.90

Men's Overcoats
Beautiful cloths, dark colors, hair cloth fronts, worth $13.00, for 9.90

BOYS' CLOTHING at reduced prices
MEN'S UNDERWEAR all reduced
MEN'S WORKING SHIRTS, guaranteed fast colors, at reduced prices.

Come, expecting great value. Prices are cut deep, and everything is on the move here. EARLY PICKERS SECURE THE CHOICEST FRUIT

LANG & MAHER,

CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW

409-411 George St., Peterborough

FRENCH, GERMAN AND ENGLISH CRETONNES

These bright drapery and upholstering materials, by the yard or made up to order. For making into bright, cheerful, artistic, window hangings, bed coverings and canopies, box coverings, etc. Here are French, German and English Cretonnes in a wide variety of tasteful and beautiful designs. In these we offer some very exceptional values, giving you the opportunity to fit your home with cozy and beautiful hangings, at a very small cost. These goods you may purchase by the yard if you like. We will make them up to your order for any purpose you may desire, and leaving them at your home. For this work our charges are moderate and you may be sure that it will be thoroughly well done. Our stock is very select, chosen with discriminate taste and will especially appeal to the woman who appreciates refinement in house-furnishing. You are invited to come and see the many splendid values now held out in this stock and make early choice while the variety is fresh and full.

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED

353 AND 355 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

STORE OPENS AT 8 A.M. CLOSES AT 6 P.M., EXCEPT SATURDAY

FOR FINE

Lemons, Oranges

Malaga Grapes

Bananas

and all kinds of fruit and vegetables try

MINOCOLO BROS.

Wholesale and Retail.

Both Phones 337.

FRAMED VIEWS

In COLORED SEPIA and BLACK : : : : :

FORCHRIST MAS PRESENTS

THE ROY STUDIO

Ask for Roy's Famous Souvenir Post Cards

New Books Added to Public Library

The following new books have been added to the Peterborough Public Library:—

The Prodigal—Brooks.

The Lady of the Decoration—Little.

The Broken Road—Mason.

The Haunters of the Silences — Roberts.

The Daughter of Anderson Crow — McCutcheon.

Her Son—Vachell.

Debating Club Meets To-night

The Y.M.C.A. Debating Club will meet tonight at the Association building. The subject for debate is:—"Resolved, that the individual control of capital is opposed to the best interests of the people."

There will be good speakers on both the affirmative and negative sides, and all the members and others interested are asked to be present.

THE CITY AND VICINITY

EVENTS TO-NIGHT

Grand Opera House—"The Man on the Box."

Yung Conservative Club rooms — Euchre match, President vs. Vice-president.

Knox Church—Congregational reunion.

Mark Street Church—Meeting of men to organize.

Curling Rink—Bowling Club smoker.

Y.M.C.A.—Debating Society.

Y.M.C.A.—Meeting of Junior hockey league.

FUR LINED COATS

We clean and press them and guarantee no injury to the fur. My Valet, 204 Charlotte street. All goods called for and delivered. dtf

RINK FLOODED.

The rink was flooded last night after the athletic meet, and there will be ice in a short time. Season tickets will be on sale in the usual places, the names of which will be published shortly.

AN OPPORTUNITY.

Do you need help, male or female? Have you rooms to let, house to rent or sell, or are boarders wanted? Have you anything to sell and can't find a buyer? Try a Review want ad. it will go everywhere at trifling cost.

WILL HOLD SOCIAL

At the meeting of the Ladies' Aid of George street Methodist church yesterday it was decided to hold a social in the church parlors next Tuesday evening. A good programme is being arranged and a pleasant time is assured.

COMING CARNIVAL

Mr. Sheridan intends to hold the last carnival of the roller skating season some time next week. The costumes are to be comic and old-fashioned, and the affair is to resemble the carnivals held years ago. —Lindsay Post.

RECEPTION AT Y.M.C.A.

At the reception and "at home" given at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday night, to the members of the association, by St. John's church A.Y.P.A., the gentlemen were responsible for the excellent programme provided, while the lady members of the A.Y.P.A. served dainty refreshments.

ST. ANDREW'S CHOIR PRACTICE

St. Andrew's Choir meets for practice tonight at 6.45 in the school house The Christmas music will be rehearsed, and a full attendance is requested

FINE PICTURE FRAMING.

New mouldings, good work, reasonable prices. J. M. GREENE Music Co. George street. dtf

AT KNOX CHURCH.

There will be a congregational reunion at Knox church this evening. A good programme will be presented and refreshments served.

JOINT MEETING.

A joint meeting of the Board of Managers and the Session of Knox church was held last night. Only routine business was transacted.

BENEATH OUR NOTICE

A Peterborough man claims to have seen a flock of robins last Sunday. Peterborough people have been seeing things ever since that walking match.—Belleville Intelligencer.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Mr. M. A. McNamara, owner of the Kincald farm in Otonabee, is having several improvements made to the property. The fences are being repaired, a new stable built and other attentions given to the place.

AT ST. LUKE'S.

The regular mid-week service will be held at St. Luke's church this evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will conduct the service. At the close there will be a choir practice, while the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will also meet.

TAKE NOTE

Of our fine line of Violins, Mandolins, Guitars, etc. Some excellent values, and within easy range for the Xmas trade. Special prices to Old Santa Claus, J. M. GREENE Music Co., Grand opera house building, George street. dtf

LADIES' LITERARY.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T.A.S. will be held on Friday evening, Dec. 6th, when an interesting essay will be read by Miss Kate McGrath. A musical programme will also be presented. 4d

GOING HOME.

Mr. John Edwards, of the Brinton Carpet Company, leaves this evening for his former home in Kidderminster, England. He was tendered a banquet by several of his friends at the Head House, Hunter street, on Monday night.

PRAYER SERVICE.

The regular prayer service of St. Andrew's church will be held this evening at 7.45 o'clock.

SANDSTONE BRICK CO.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Company was held this afternoon.

COURT NEWS.

The semi-annual sessions of the county court and general sessions of the peace will open at the court house on Tuesday, Dec. 10th. His Honor Judge Weller will preside, and the cases will be tried by jury.

BANQUET FOR THE DOCTOR

Rev. Dr. M. P. Talling, B. A., 148 Berkley street, Toronto, who has been supplying St. Paul's Presbyterian pulpit in Peterborough for several weeks, lectured in that city on the Destiny of Japan, the other evening, and the lecture was highly praised. The papers gave a lengthy report of it and a fairly good summary will be found on an inner page of this paper. Read it. Dr. Talling is one of the Durham boys who has won distinction as an author and preacher.—Bowmanville Statesman.

BOTHERED TO DEATH

An amusing incident is related of a young man who resides a short distance from the village, and who, on Wednesday, became a happy father for the fifth time. The young man's friends kept the telephone busy during the day asking what the stork had brought to his home. Becoming a little weary of the repeated inquiries, he requested a young lady to tell a certain party, if she made any further inquiries, that the new arrival was twins. Needless to say the report spread quickly and the happy father was the recipient of many congratulations on the additions to his family.—Lakefield News.

A LONG DELAYED LETTER

Fenelon Falls Star.—A few days ago Constable John Jones' daughter Dolly about eight years old, received a letter which had been posted at Collin's Inlet, on the north shore of Georgian Bay, eighteen years ago, and had spent the intervening time on the way Needless to say, the letter was not intended for the young lady who received it, but for her aunt, who, when the letter was written, lived at the Falls, and bore the same name as the recipient, though she has now for many years been Mrs. Peter Deyman, and is at present a resident of Guelph The letter was written by one of her brothers.

PERSONAL

Mr L F Charry, Hastings, is at the Oriental.

Mr J J English, Hastings, is in the city today.

Mr. M. Conkey and wife, Haileybury, are in the city today.

Mr. D. E. McKenzie, Beaverton, is registered at the Oriental.

Mrs. Alex. Mowat, 368 Brock street, will receive this and to-morrow (Thursday) afternoons and afterwards on Thursday of each week.

Mr. Harry G. Thompson, of the Toronto Savings and Loan, has returned from an extended trip to Winnipeg, Seattle, Chicago and other cities.

Mrs. P. Downham, 417 Stewart street, who has been ill, is recovering, and will not receive again until the first and second Thursdays in January.

Lindsay Post.—Mrs. Hugh Waddell of Peterborough, and Miss M. Waddell, of Dunedin, New Zealand, are visiting friends friends in town.....Mr. Geo. Southwell, of Peterborough, was in town to-day on business.

Mr. C. O. Giroux of the Bank of Montreal, was called to Peterborough on Tuesday of this week, by the sad news of his brother's death. His brother had been ill for some time past, and passed away on Tuesday.—Tweed News.

SANTA CLAUS
ON HIS WAY TO ROUTLEY'S

Goods are Pouring in--Our customers are Now Buying for Xmas

300 Dressed Dolls, reg. 25c, choice	.14
375 China Tea Sets, regular 50c	.25
25 Crokinole Boards, regular 1.25	.59
60 Leather Case Silk Lined Ebony Manicure Case, regular 2.50 for	150
20 only Military Brush Sets, Stirling Silver Mounted, regular 1.25 pair for	.74
15 cases Children's Plated Knife, Fork and Spoon, with pearl handles, reg. 2.00	124

You will find that our clerks are attentive and that prices are reliable. We watch closely our buying as we know goods well bought are half sold at

TORONTO 262-4 QUEEN W ROUTLEY'S PETERBORO' 379 GEORGE ST

DRIVERS HELD FIRST DANCE LAST NIGHT

Over Two Hundred Couple Were in Attendance—A Very Successful Affair

The first dance under the auspices of the local drivers was held in the East City town hall last night, and was a very successful gathering. Over 200 couples were in attendance, and all present thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Excellent music was supplied by Messrs. Ferguson and Mahoney, and it was "on with the dance" until the hours when the clock struck seldom. The committee in charge consisted of Messrs. W. Howell, Percy Clarke and Robert Wilson, and they are to be congratulated on the splendid manner in which all arrangements were carried out and the success of the gathering generally.

Xmas Crackers, Xmas Table decorations, Xmas Bells, see window display.

R. A. Dutton.

CLASS MEETING AND ITS WORK

Subject of Interesting Paper Read by Mr. Wm. Miller Last Evening

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the class leaders of the city held at George street Methodist church last evening. The president, Mr. Jos. Batten, was in the chair and opened the meeting. The chief feature of the evening was the reading of a paper on "The class meeting and its work," by Mr. Wm. Miller. This was very interesting and profitable. A discussion followed and was entered in by all. At the next meeting Mr. Frank Mason will read a paper on "How to promote a revival."

ROMAINE ST. SEWER AGAIN DISCUSSED

By the Board of Education at Their Meeting Last Evening

The matter of the Romaine street sewer was dealt with at the school board meeting again last evening. Mr. Pringle stated that Mr. Bartlett had thoroughly investigated the matter. He had asked Mr. Bartlett if this was a favorable season to do the work, and he was told "yes." Mr. W. B. Robinson explained the impossibility of fixing the sewer. The outlet portion is 18 inches under water, and the sewerage is forced backwards. He thought the board should take steps to put this part into first-class condition. Mr. Fair remarked that Mr. Pringle, as chairman of the King Edward school, had the matter in charge, and had power to take whatever steps he deemed advisable.

Two Drunks in the Police Court

There has been little doing in police court this week. This morning two drunks faced His Worship. The same old story of being found drunk in a public place, was read out to them. Each one pleaded guilty, and were fined two dollars, to be paid in ten days.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 82, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Induction Service To-morrow Night

Impressive Ceremony Will be Conducted at St. Paul's

The new pastor of St. Paul's church, Rev. Robert Pogue, will be inducted to-morrow night. The ceremony will begin at 7.30 o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Marsh, interim moderator of session, will preside. Rev. D. A. Thomson, of Hastings, will deliver the sermon. Rev. Wm. Johnston, of Millbrook, will deliver the charge to the pastor, and Rev. Dr. Talling to the people. Mr. Pogue will occupy the pulpit of St. Paul's on Sunday next at both services.

The Horse Was Too Anxious

And the Dealer and the Stove Were Thrown Overboard

A fractious or too eager horse is often the cause of much trouble. This morning, about 9 o'clock, Mr. Burritt, a local second hand dealer, was placing in position on his waggon a stove that he had purchased at a Downie street residence, when the horse made a bound forward and both Mr. Burritt and the stove went out into the snow. With the assistance of the driver the stove was again placed on the waggon, and the trip was made without any further mixup.

Dyeing with Soap!

Maypole Soap is the Household Dye that washes and dyes with one operation. Used almost exclusively in England. Yields fast, brilliant colors. Dyes to any shade. No streaks. And above all—CLEANLY, SAFE, SURE.

Maypole Soap

10c. for Colors—15c. for Black.

Frank L. Benedict & Co., Montreal. 65

Euchre Contest This Evening

Will be Held at Young Conservative Club Rooms

There will be a euchre contest this evening at the Young Conservative club rooms, George street. An interesting match is expected. The combat will be between sides championed by President Buller and Vice-President Gibbs. As this is the first match of the season a large attendance is expected.

NEW PASSENGER COACHES

The Grand Trunk Railway System have added to their equipment twenty beautiful new passengers coaches of the most modern construction and conveniences. The company are being commended by the travelling public for the exquisite workmanship and the superior accommodations they afford the public.

The cars are exceedingly neat, spacious and in every respect and detail has been given the most careful consideration by the mechanical department of the Grand Trunk Railway System. The management had in view the accommodations of the patrons of the road and wanted to afford them the best possible.

DESCRIPTION OF CARS.

The cars are 67 feet 6 inches long over end sills, 9 feet 6 inches wide over side sills, affording a total seating capacity of 75 passengers. They are designed so as to afford the greatest possible strength, having steel platform, wide vestibules, bottom and end construction being welded iron throughout, and mounted Grand Trunk standard six-wheel trucks equipped with steel-tired wheels. They are provided with windows having double sash of latest design and semi-elliptic gothic sash set with opalescent glass of neat pattern.

The interior of the car is a model of beauty. It is made of selected mahogany, being a flush design and provided with inlay lines and ornaments. The ceiling is of the empire design, neatly decorated in gold, the interior gothics being semielliptic set with opalescent art glass. Dainty pattern silk-faced pantasote curtains are used.

The coaches are equipped with patent high-back seats upholstered in the best quality green frieze plush, while the commodious smoking room, which affords room for 14 passengers, is fitted up with leather covered seats.

The cars are heated with direct system of steam heat, lighted with gas, equipped with statuary bronze trimmings and white metal lavatories and water flushing toilets.

XMAS CHEER

CENTRAL LIQUOR STORE

141 HUNTER STREET

Brandies, Port and Sherry Wines, St. Augustine, Native Port, also the highest grade Scotch Whiskies to be found in Peterborough.

Something good in Rye, namely:—

MITCHELL'S SPECIAL RYE WHISKY

Quality the best in Peterborough and a little better.

Remember the place

The Old Reliable Liquor Store

F. J. R. MITCHELL

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

SALE and BANQUET

— AT —

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

SALE—Wednesday afternoon and evening

Thursday afternoon and evening

No admission fee. Everybody welcome.

BANQUET—(Shredded Wheat) Thursday evening

Full Course Dinner Only 25 Cents

Tables will seat 150 at a time. Dinner on from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Proceeds for Building Fund, New Church

WM. MAJOR. Rector

ALL THINGS ARE NOW READY

GEORGE R. RECORD

PRACTICAL

FRENCH DRY CLEANER AND PRESSER

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments and Household Articles cleaned and guaranteed not to fade color or shrink any material. Charges moderate. Goods called for and delivered. Telephone 689.

NEW BRICK BLOCK, 173 SIMCOE ST.

Only Complete Dry Cleaning Plant in City

SAVE YOUR FURS

AND

FUR-LINED COATS

by having them cleaned by the

FRENCH DRY CLEANING

process, which kills all moths and does not injure in the slightest, the finest furs. This is very important at this season, and may mean the saving of the expense of buying new furs. None too fine for the process.

Dyeing, Cleaning, Pressing, and Reparing promptly and thoroughly done at

PARKER'S DYE WORKS

R. M. BEACH

PROPRIETOR.

Phone 250 177 Charlotte St

Money is Not Tight

On some of the property propositions we can offer you. We have some pretty locations where situation, price and terms are all to suit. Low priced houses, some of them brick and on good lots, $850 up

$1,000—Village store near the city, no competition. A good thing.

$1,600—Large modern, good looking brick house, south, city.

$2,300—Very profitable apartment house renting to small families.

$1,800 and $2,350—Nice brick house, modern conveniences, well situated.

$3,000—Brick dwelling, stable, etc.; also some building lots. Just suit a retired farmer

$2,350 to $4,800—Beautiful residences on Gilmour, Homewood Ave., Weller, King, Water Sts, etc.

If you are thinking of going West, we can show you something good in lands in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, with return ticket for selection trip. Farms for sale. Houses to rent.

BELL & TAYLOR

Real Estate. Fire Insurance

Office—376 Water Street.

Office Phone—498B House Phone 547B

HOCKEY SKATES

From 75c to $5.00

Skates repaired and sharpened. General machine work.

METHEREL'S CYCLE WORKS

225 Hunter Street

Wood

POINT ST. CHARLES

Hemlock and Pine Slabs

Cedar Shingle Blocks

A. McDONALD Estate

ESTABLISHED 1879

J. R. HEINTZ & CO.

STOCKS, GRAIN, COTTON, COFFEE

J. N. BARBER, Manager

Phone 520

THE

DOMINION BANK

PAYS SPECIAL ATTENTION TO

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY

JOHN CRANE Manager

Corner George and Simcoe Sts.

FREE Spear's Mine Development for November contains a map of the Otto Lake district, showing Crawford Mines and other properties—Tells about present conditions of Larder Lake—Gives informatio about Cobalt and other mining sections of Canada. I will send this paper FREE o all who will write for it Just drop a line and ask me to send you the November issue of "Spear's Mine Development." Write as soon as you read this notice, if possible. Address L. W. SPEAR, 61 Victoria St., Toronto, Canada, or Plainfield, N. J.

Regular Monthly Meeting of the Board of Education

Held Last Evening—Much Business Transacted—Inspector Says City Public Schools are Highly Satisfactory—Member of Board Makes Complaint—Resolutions Passed.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of education was held last evening, when considerable business was transacted. Those present were Chairman Robert Fair, Messrs. W. G. Morrow, D. W. Dumble, Dr. Burnham, Wm. Pringle, W. H. Hill, W. S. Robinson, John Crane, Dr. Morrison, L. M. Hayes, and A. Mowat, public school inspector.

The following communications were read;

From Principal Fessenden, of the Collegiate Institute staff, thanking the board for the granting of his request to be relieved of the duties of principal.

From Miss Anna M. Watt, Barrie, who has been given an appointment on the teaching staff of the public schools, asking for leave of absence during December.—Committee on appointments.

From W. Miles, Brock street, applying for the position of janitor in some one of city schools.—Committee on appointments.

CONTRACTS LET

The chairman of the building committee of the new collegiate, Dr. Morrison, reported and recommended that the contracts for desks, book cases, and chairs be let to the various furniture dealers of the city.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

	En'd.	Av.	P.C.
Central	433	402	92
South Central	418	391	93
East Ward	197	184	93
King Edward	257	223	87
North Ward	199	181	92
Park Street	167	143	86
Kindergarten	162	116	73
	1833	1640	90

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

	En'd	Av.
Form IV	20	20
Form III	41	40
Form II	52	49
Form Ia	45	43
Form Ib	44	42
Form Ic	48	44
Commercial II	20	19
Commercial I	30	28
	300	285

STATEMENT OF MONEYS RECEIVED

City Treas., Queen Alexandra school	$ 3000.00
City Treas., municipal grant	4000.00
G. W. Green, for scrap iron	20.04
City Treas., Queen Alexandra School	2000.00
Text book fees	236.32
City Treas., Queen Alexandra school	4000.00
Collegiate Institute fees	204.00

STATEMENT OF ACCOUNTS PAID.

Upon motion, the payment of the following accounts was confirmed;

A. Crouter	$ 8.00
J. J. Hannah	375.00
C. Barrett	14.00
M. T. Dutcher	3.00
O. A. J. Duranceau	1500.00
O. A. J. Duranceau	500.00
Baptie Bros.	4100.00
A. Crouter	10.00
C. Barrett	6.00

ACCOUNTS PRESENTED

F. Bartlett	$ 5.60
E. B. Clegg & Co.	3.60
Alliance Ins. Co.	1.88
G.N.W.	4.03
Examiner	4.50
G. Gumpricht	2.00
G. W. Green	8.07
Mail and Empire	2.68
L. & Power	2.37
L. & Power	2.87
Davis-Thompson	7.50
F. Sloane	75.00
Alexander & Miller	1.45
Wm. Taylor & Co.	175.00
Mercantile Fire Ins.	1.38
Peterborough Canoe Co.	10.67
T. A. Rehill	34.67
B. F. Ackerman	8.30
J. J. Turner & Son	20.00
Peterborough Hardware Co.	3.38
E. B. Clegg & Co.	46.60
Mann Lumber Co.	3.15
Steinberger, Henry & Co.	1.75
W. H. Hamilton	5.75
W. Might	17.50
Pet. L. & P. Co.	6.00

These were referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Hayes, chairman of the finance committee, recommended the payment of the following accounts;

Market drug store	$ 57.00
Davis-Thompson Co.	21.00
Sun Insurance Co	28.00
Alliance Insurance Co	7.50
Mercantile Fire Insurance	11.25
Mail and Empire	2.44
Peterborough Examiner	2.88
G.N.W.	30
News Publishing Co.	4.06
Globe Printing Co	1.48
E. F. Mann & Co.	2.00
Duncan & Doupe	30.00
Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co.	1.30
Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co.	34.25
D. T. McAinsh	38.00
Peterborough Lumber Co.	14.32
Peterborough Canoe Co	37.55
F. Clarke & Son	6.50
A. H. Stratton	3.40
Alex. Reid	.75
Kingan Hardware Co.	1.34
Kingan Hardware Co.	18.86
Peterborough Light and Power Co.	5.00
Peterborough Light and Power Co.	.87
Peterborough Light and Power Co.	3.13
Peterborough Water Commissioners	45.02
Mann Lumber Co	3.15
Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co.	1450.03

All of which is respectfully submitted.

L. M. HAYES,
Chairman.

Mr. Hill, chairman of the committee on appointments, reported on behalf of his committee as follows;

That the commercial classes of the collegiate institute be transferred from the King Edward school to the Queen Alexandra school, after Christmas vacation. This is necessary on account of the crowded state of the King Edward at the present time.

That Miss Sloan, of Owen Sound, Miss Staples of Barrie, and Miss Massacar, of Ancaster, be appointed to positions on our public school staff at the minimum salary of $400 each, duties to begin at date of opening school in January, 1908.

MEMBER COMPLAINED

Mr. W. S. Robinson, a member of a certain committee, complained that he was not notified of a meeting of that committee. Whilst he might belong to a different class from the rest of the board, he had just as much rights as any to get equal courtesy. Mr. Dumble arose and said that he was sorry to see such a spirit exhibited. As far as he knew no exceptions in discrimination had been made. Mr. Hayes assured Mr. Robinson that if he did not get his notice, it was merely an accident. Evidently his letters had gone astray or to a man by the same name.

SCHOOLS IN GOOD ORDER.

Mr. A. Mowat, school inspector, addressed the board, and in a few remarks stated that he had visited the various rooms in the city schools and found everything highly satisfactory.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Dumble moved that a strong resolution of regret be sent to Principal Fessenden, at his withdrawal from the position of principal, and expressing appreciation of the faithful services rendered. This motion was heartily endorsed by all the members.

Mr. Hill moved, seconded by Dr. Brunham, that a copy of the resolution regretting the withdrawal of Mr Duncan Walker, as late inspector of public schools, be forwarded to him.—Carried.

The board then adjourned.

TELLS US HOW TO MAKE MIXTURE

Splendid Remedy for Stomach and Kidneys and Rheumatism

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep them healthy," exclaimed a well known authority. "The numerous cases of stomach trouble, kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine has been neglected.

Stop loading your system with patent medicines and cure-alls; but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicines—plain common vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach."

When requested for such a prescription for the cure of rheumatism and kidney trouble the answer was, "You must make the kidneys do their work they are filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and, most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach trouble, and poor digestion. For these conditions I would suggest the following prescription which is composed of only vegetable ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy. Any one can mix them by shaking well in a bottle. Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. To be taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, but don't forget the water. Drink plenty and often." This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in every household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache, or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.

Invitation Cards for AT Homes, Receptions and Evening Parties, partly printed for 1c each. Envelopes to match 10c package. On sale at the Review Office.

The Quarter Sessions of the County Court will open on Tuesday next before His Honor Judge Weller.

TO REPORT ON IMMIGRATION.

Japanese Ambassador to the United States Recalled to Explain.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Ambassador Aoki has been summoned to Japan by his Government to explain personally and in detail the precise situation in this country in regard to the Japanese immigration problem.

The ambassador has been making very careful enquiry on his own account, and through the various Japanese consular officers, into the extent of the reported race feeling existing in some sections of the United States towards Japanese immigrants. Already Baron Ishii, one of the secretaries of the Japanese Interior Department, has made an investigation of conditions existing, not only in California, Oregon and Washington, but also in British Columbia on the north, upon which he has based a special report to his Government. But it is believed that the purpose of the Japanese Government in summoning Viscount Aoki to Tokio is to secure from him information which Baron Ishii could not possibly have acquired during his short stay in America regarding the attitude of the Administration here, with particular reference to the measures which have recently been applied by the Japanese Government to restrict the departure from Japan for America of the coolie element. Also the Japanese Government desires a prudent forecast of the likelihood of Congressional action in the direction of legislation providing for the exclusion of Japanese immigration.

At the Japanese Embassy it is stated that the ambassador will probably leave Washington for Tokio by way of San Francisco or Victoria in about a fortnight, a fact of which he yesterday notified President Roosevelt and Secretary Root. There is no intimation that he is not to return to Washington. During his absence Mr. Miyaoka, the counsellor of the Embassy, will be in charge.

LAWYER UNDER FIRE.

His Evidence Is Held to Have Been Tainted With Suspicion.

Toronto, Dec. 4.—The crown and the Law Society are recommended by Justice Riddell to investigate the part played by Alfred Hall, a solicitor of Haileybury, in a legal difficulty with David Perry of the same town. Hall, it seems, undertook to buy from Perry a house in Haileybury for $2,250. He paid $375 on account, and alleges that certain repairs were to be done. He states that he spent $750 on these improvements. An action was brought for specific performance, and the defendant counterclaimed for $1,875, the balance he claimed due.

"In this appeal," says Justice Riddell, "counsel for both parties state that either plaintiff or defendant was before the master guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury, and I fear that the statement must be considered well founded. Upon the reference which I directed to the master of North Bay, the plaintiff, a solicitor of the court, produced a document which he swore was signed by the defendant in his presence. This the defendant denied. The effect of the master's finding is admitted to be that in his judgment the defendant's account is a correct one."

MRS. BRADLEY FREE.

Washington Jury Acquits Her on Charge of Murder.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, charged with the murder of former United States Senator Arthur Brown, of Utah, at a local hotel on Dec. 8 last, yesterday brought in a verdict of not guilty.

A demonstration of applause followed the announcement of the verdict.

Mrs. Bradley left the court house in an automobile following an ovation. She expressed gratitude over the outcome of the trial, which she had confidently anticipated and declared she had made but few plans.

Situation In Portugal.

Lisbon, Dec. 4.—Bernardino Machido, who is regarded as the inevitable choice of the Republicans in the event of a change of regime in Portugal, declared yesterday that the tranquility of the country was superficial, and that, instead of being indifferent to the political struggle now in progress, the masses are moved by what is happening.

"The establishment of a dictatorship," he said, "has aroused the deepest resentment amongst the people, who are accustomed to a liberal monarchy, and are indignant with what they consider the restoration of absolutism. As King Charles openly supports Premier Franco, the royal prerogative has suffered correspondingly. The present strain cannot long be maintained. Any violent incident, with its necessary repression, might precipitate the gravest event."

Cashier Shoots Himself.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—Gladwyn Cobban, cashier of the C. P. R., shot himself in the temple with a revolver at the Windsor street offices yesterday afternoon. He was removed to the General Hospital, where he is likely to die.

The act was committed in one of the lavatories of the building.

Cobban was a prominent member of the Montreal A. A. A., and a few years ago was well known as a football player.

Goes to Prison For Double Murder.

New York, Dec. 4.—Frank H. Warner, who shot and killed Esther C. Norling, whom he had previously employed as a stenographer, and who then killed John C. Wilson, was sentenced to a term of not less than 20 years yesterday.

Trolley Upset: Five May Die.

Dayton, O., Dec. 4.—More than a score of persons, mostly women from Xenia, were injured, five probably fatally, yesterday, when a traction car got beyond control of the motorman on a steep hill and overturned at a curve.

Mrs. Bradley, charged with the murder of Senator Brown in Washington was today declared by the jury to be not guilty.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

Tuesday Evening, Dec. 3.

Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day 1⅝d to 2¼d lower; corn ¼d to ½d lower.

At Chicago, December wheat closed ⅛c lower; December corn ⅝c higher; December oats 1⅛c higher.

Winnipeg Options.

Following are the closing quotations on Winnipeg grain futures to-day:

Wheat—Dec. $1.09⅞ bid, May $1.09¾ bid.
Oats—Dec. 45⅝c bid, May 52c bid.

Toronto Grain Market.

Grain—

Wheat, spring, bush	$0 95	to $....
Wheat, fall, bush	1 00	1 02
Wheat, goose, bush	0 88	....
Wheat, red, bush	1 00	....
Peas, bush	0 83	....
Buckwheat, bush	0 70	....
Barley, bush	0 70	....
Oats, bush	0 52	0 53

Toronto Dairy Market.

Butter, dairy, lb. rolls	0 27	0 28
Butter, tubs	0 26	0 27
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 30	0 31
Butter, creamery, boxes	0 29	0 30
Eggs, new-laid, dozen	0 30	....
Eggs, cold-storage, dozen	0 30	....
Cheese, large, lb	0 13½	....
Cheese, twin, lb	0 13¾	....
Honey, extracted, lb	0 12	0 12½

Liverpool Grain and Produce.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 3.—Closing—Wheat—Spot, quiet; No. 2 red western winter, 7s 9½d; futures, dull; Dec., 7s 8⅝d; March, 7s 11⅝d; May, 7s 10¼d. Corn—Spot, quiet; prime mixed American, 5s 6½d; futures, quiet; Dec., 5s 5¼d; Jan., 5s 2⅜d.

Hams—Short cut, 14 to 16 lbs., dull, 42s 6d. Bacon—Short rib, dull, 54s 6d; long clear middles, light, dull, 54s; long clear middles, heavy, dull, 53s; short clear backs, dull, 49s; clear bellies, dull, 51s. Lard—Prime western, quiet, 42s 3d; American, refined, dull, 44s. Flour—Winter patents, steady, 30s 9d.

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Butter—Irregular; receipts, 6015; creamery, thirds to firsts, 21c to 27c; held, seconds to specials, 15c to 23½c; western factory, common to first, 16c to 20c. Cheese—Firmer; receipts, 3572; state, full cream, small colored and white, Sept., fine, 15½c; large white and colored, Sept., fine, 15¼c; large Oct., best, 12c. Eggs—Firm; unchanged; receipts, 3572.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—Hogs React Again on the U. S. Markets.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—London cables are firmer at 12c to 12¾c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c per pound.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Dec. 3.—Receipts of live stock at the City Market, as reported by the railways, were 79 carloads, composed of 1449 cattle, 194 hogs, 1371 sheep and lambs, with about 90 calves.

Exporters.

The export trade is dull, few offering and few wanted; one lot of 36, weighing 1400 lbs. each, sold at $4.50 per cwt., and one lot, 1350 lbs. each, at $4.25.

Butchers.

The best lots of butchers offered sold from $4 to $4.25, and a few single animals at a little more money; loads of medium to good, $3.75 to $4; common, at $3.25 to $3.50; cows, $2.50 to $3.50; canners, 75c to $1.50 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

Harry Murby reports the feeder and stocker trade as being about steady with few of the good kinds offering. Mr. Murby quotes prices as follows: Best feeders, 1000 to 1100 lbs., at $3.50 to $3.90 per cwt.; best feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs., at $2.90 to $3.50; best stockers, 800 to 900 lbs., at $2.85 to $3.15; best stockers, 600 to 800 lbs., at $2.40 to $2.75; common stockers, unchanged, at $1.50 to $1.75.

Milkers and Springers.

Good to choice milkers and springers were scarce, the best on sale being quoted at $40 to $55 each, and one extra choice cow would have brought a much higher quotation had she been sold separately; common to medium cows sold at $25 to $35 each.

Veal Calves.

Trade about steady at unchanged prices; at $3 to $6 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts were not large; prices easy, especially for exported sheep. Export ewes, $3.75 to $4.

Hogs.

Receipts light. Mr. Harris reports prices unchanged at $5 for selects, $4.75 for lights, and $4.50 for stores.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Dec. 3.—Cattle—Receipts, 125 head; steady; prices unchanged.

Veals—Receipts, 150 head; active and 25c lower; $5 to $9.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 4300 head; active and 5c to 10c higher; heavy, mixed, yorkers and pigs, $5.45 to $5.50; roughs, $4.75 to $5; stags, $3.50 to $4; dairies, $5.45 to $5.50.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 8000 head; slow; sheep steady; lambs, 10c lower; lambs, $5 to $6.50; Canada lambs, $6 to $6.40.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Beeves—Receipts, 1281; no trading; feeling steady; exports, 821 cattle and 2400 quarters of beef; tomorrow, 38 sheep and 2240 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 383; veals, steady; barnyard calves, unchanged; westerns, dull and weak; veals, $5 to $9.75; barnyard calves, $2.50 to $4; westerns, nominal; Indiana calves, $3.25 to $6.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 2989; sheep, steady; choice lambs, firm; others, slow, but steady; sheep, $3 to $3.25; culls, $2 to $2.75; lambs, $5.25 to $6.80; one car choice, $6.85; culls, $4 to $5.

Hogs—Receipts, 3214; firm; 5c to 10c higher, at $5.25 to $5.75.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Cattle—Receipts estimated at about 8000; market steady; steers, $3.90 to $6.50; cows, $2.65 to $4.25; heifers, $2.50 to $2.65; bulls, $2.60 to $4.85; calves, $4.50 to $7; stockers and feeders, $3 to $4.

Hogs—Receipts estimated at 34,000; weak to 10c lower; choice heavy spring, $5 to $5.15; light butchers', $5 to $5.15; light mixed, $4.85 to $4.95; choice light, $5 to $5.15; packers, $4.40 to $5; pigs, $3.50 to $4.75; bulk of sales, $4.85 to $5.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts estimated at 12,000; steady; sheep, $3 to $3.25; lambs, $2.25 to $6.25; yearlings, $4.25 to $5.25.

Quebec Tanner Loses Heavily.

Quebec, Dec. 4.—A general alarm yesterday brought the fire brigade to a fire which had broken out in the three-storey brick building in St. Valier street, occupied as a tannery and leather store by Messrs. Clement and Marchand.

For a brief period it looked as if the blaze might develop into a disastrous fire. Firemen worked hard and succeeded in confining it to the one building, which was completely gutted.

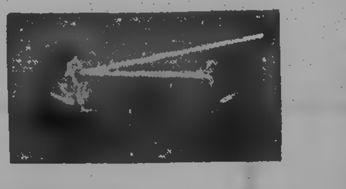
The losses are heavy but covered by insurance.

Strike Settled at St. John.

St. John, N. B., Dec. 4.—The longshoremen's strike was settled last night. An arrangement was made between the men and the steamship companies whereby a scheduled rate of 32 1-2 cents an hour will be paid.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c

AT THE HOME OFFICE



On account of the illness of an optician in Orillia, Dr. Browett has cancelled appointments and is pleased to announce that he will be continuously at his home office until after Xmas. Appointments for eye examination are being made daily at our store.

P. S. This store will hereafter be open until ten o'clock every night and appointments for eye examinations can be made until that hour.

McDERMID & JURY, Druggists, Peterboro.

SCORE OF LIVES LOST

Steamer Defender Believed to Have Sunk to Lake.

Was Heard Blowing Distress Signals—Thick Fog Prevailed—Struck Dangerous Reef—Boats Afraid to Venture Out—Feared All Hands Are Lost—Other Drowning Fatalities—Three Men Capsized In Boat.

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 4.—A despatch from Coeur d'Alene City, Idaho, says that the steamer Defender is thought to have gone down in Lake Coeur d'Alene, with 15 passengers and the crew. The lake is covered with a thick fog, and boats will not venture out. It is thought that the passengers were mostly lumberjacks on their return from the camps. The Defender's whistle was heard blowing a distress signal, and a steamer lying in Mica Bay answered the call, but got no rejoinder. Navigators believe that the Defender struck a dangerous reef near Mica Bay and sank after whistling furiously for aid.

Steamer Coban on the Rocks.

North Sydney, N. S., Dec. 4.—During the height of Monday night's fierce blow, and in a thick snow squall, which prevailed about seven o'clock, the Dominion Coal Co.'s steamer Coban ran hard on the rocks at Black Point and it is feared she will be a total loss. She is worth $35,000.

Four Railroad Men Drowned.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 4.—A telephone message from Mount Pleasant, Ga., says that George Mooney, A. J. Elliott of Atlanta, and John Horne, and W. F. Hunt of Savannah, all railroad men, were drowned yesterday by the capsizing of their boat while on a fishing trip.

Drowns In Well.

Shelburne, Dec. 4.—W. J. Ferguson, a prominent farmer, living about two miles from here, was accidently drowned yesterday morning in a well.

NEW PICTURES

We have just received a splendid line of pictures including .—

STEEL ENGRAVINGS
ENGLISH CARBONS,
WATER COLORS, Etc.

We invite your inspection of these while stock is complete. We also have the latest ideas in Picture, Mouldings and can frame your pictures on short notice

R. J. SODEN
369 George Street

FOR THE LADY WHO CALLS

Visiting List and Social Engagement Book—A Dainty and Useful Gift.

Those ladies who find it difficult to keep track of their social debts in the way of calls which have to be returned, invitations to various society functions which have been received will be pleased to learn that a dainty little book has been issued from the presses of the Review which will fill their need. The city has grown so rapidly of late years that it has become almost necessary for each lady to have a special reception day each month when her friends will be sure to find her at home. To keep a record of these will be an easy matter with one of these little books. They are prettily bound in blue linen, lettered in gold and printed on good paper. There are two pages for every day in the month, arranged, according as the day, is, first Monday, second Tuesday, etc. At the back of the book are pages for invitations received, out-of-town addresses, special reception dates, and memoranda. One of the books would make a dainty and acceptable Xmas gift. The books are on sale at the bookstores at the price of 50c

NOW IN FULL SWING

$100.00 IN COLD CASH In Rewards For Selling The "Review"

This Grand Competition began Tuesday evening, October 8th, and will close December 31st, (New Year's Eve.) Boys carrying routes, boys selling to customers, boys selling on the street, boys who have never sold papers, are all urged to get up and get. Parents can let the little fellows come to THE REVIEW Office after school, and they will be taken care of—not allowed to stay in a dingy cellar or out on the street in the cold. Papers will be ready sharp after 4 o'clock each day. COME ON, BOYS! HERE'S A SURE THING!

Twenty-Six Prizes 26 Twenty-Six Prizes

To the twenty-six boys getting the largest number of New Customers for THE DAILY REVIEW:

1st PRIZE—$30.00 in Cash, or a high-grade 1908 Bicycle, worth $55.00 as winner may prefer.
2nd PRIZE—$20.00 in Cash, or Fur Goods to the value of $30.00, as preferred.
3rd PRIZE—$10.00 Cash, or $15.00 worth in China, dinner or tea set, or as selected.
4th PRIZE—$8.00 Cash, or $10.00 worth of goods of any kind, as selected.
5th PRIZE—$5.00 Cash.
6th PRIZE—$4.00 Cash.
7th PRIZE—$3.00 Cash.
8th to 12th PRIZES—$2.00 Cash. Five prizes of $2.00 each.
13th to 22nd PRIZES—$1.00 Cash. Ten prizes of $1.00 each.

NOTE—The option, cash or goods, in the first four prizes, is made in case the parents of the boys winning either of the prizes should prefer the larger amount in goods instead of cash.

Any boy may buy REVIEWS and sell—the more the merrier. The girls have an equal chance with the boys, and will be welcome.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES—Every boy who brings in a paid-up subscription to THE DAILY REVIEW for three months will receive a bonus of 20 cents; for six months a bonus of 40 cents; for a year a bonus of $1.00.

HERE'S A WEEKLY REWARD—In addition, every boy who buys one paper or more each night of the week, (six papers), will receive once each week, during this competition,

A FREE TICKET TO THE CRYSTAL MOVING PICTURES

See, Boys! You have a paid admission to this beautiful entertainment, even if you do no more than buy one paper each night. This privilege has been secured for you exclusively by THE REVIEW.

PLENTY OF TIME YET TO GET INTO THE COMPETITION AND WIN A BIG PRIZE

LEARN DRESS-MAKING BY MAIL
In your spare time at home, or
Take a Personal Course at School.

To enable all to learn we teach on cash or instalment plan. We also teach a personal class at school once a month. Class commencing last Tuesday of each month. These lessons teaches how to cut, fit and put together any garment from the plainest shirt waist suit, to the most elaborate dress. The whole family can learn from one course. We have taught over seven thousand dress-making, and guarantee to give five hundred dollars to any one that cannot learn between the age of 14 and 40. You cannot learn dress-making as thorough as this course teaches if you work in shops for years. Beware of imitations as we employ no one outside the school. This is the only experienced Dress Cutting School in Canada and excelled by none in any other country. Write at once for particulars, as we have cut our rate one-third for a short time. Address:—

SANDERS' DRESS-CUTTING SCHOOL,
31 Erie St., Stratford, Ont., Canada.

The Daily Review

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 4, 1907.

CONSUMPTIVE HOMES

The representatives of Oxford, Brant, Waterloo and Perth met at Woodstock last week to discuss the proposal for a joint Consumptive Sanitarium, it being the opinion that Norfold, Elgin and Wellington should also be taken into the group.

This question, which had its birth in Waterloo county, has been fairly well discussed by the municipalities represented at the Woodstock conference. The proposal is based not only on economic requirements, but also on humanitarian necessities. At the present time the indigent consumptive is treated in a matter entirely discreditable to a Christian people. They refuse him admission to the House of Refuge; the public hospitals will not admit him; the County Jailer has no safe place for the unfortunate, and the public shun him.

What is he to do?

The Woodstock Conference decided that the matter of care comes within the jurisdiction of the Provincial Government, the delegates having agreed to ask the Premier for two sanitariums, one for Western Ontario, and the other for the eastern part of the Province. The Review regards this as the proper view. It is more than a local question, the White Plague being a menace to the entire country. The municipalities cannot well direct and maintain a Union Hospital. And moreover, it is not their business, the duty of caring for this class of indigents belonging to the Provincial Government.

HOW'S THIS

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

CHOIR ENJOY SOCIAL EVENING

At the George St. Church Parlors Last Evening

A very pleasant social time was spent last evening by the George street Methodist church choir, in the church parlors. Six of the lady members entertained them, and an enjoyable evening was spent in singing and social intercourse, after which refreshments were served.

A vote of thanks was passed and presented to the soloists who assisted them in their recent concerts, namely, Miss Reesor, and Messrs. Johnson, Morphet, Norris and Myles, also to the Ladies' Aid of the church, who banquetted them at the close of the concert.

Before closing the thanks of the choir was presented to the ladies who so ably entertained them. A most pleasant evening was brought to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

The VELOX
LADIES' Flanged BEAVER
Two famous models of the famous Starr Skates. The "VELOX" is our new hockey skate — and embodies 42 years experience in skate making.
"LADIES' FLANGED BEAVER," an old favorite—that is better and more popular than ever.
If your dealer does not handle Starr Skates, write for free copy of our 1908 Skate Book and name of the dealer in your neighborhood who will supply you.
The Starr Manufacturing Co., Limited
DARTMOUTH, N. S. CANADA.
BRANCH OFFICE TORONTO, ONT.
Starr Skates

Canada's Best Runners Competed at Peterborough Harriers Meet

FIRST ANNUAL INDOOR MEET OF LOCAL CLUB ATTENDED WITH GREAT SUCCESS

Tom Longboat Given Great Welcome on His First Visit

Toronto Athletes Carried off Many of the Prizes — Locals Make Good Showing

Jack Tait of West End Y.M.C.A. Won the Special Three Mile Event in Easy Style.

The first annual indoor meet of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers is over. Nearly 2000 people were at the Brock street rink last night to see the different events—and Tom Longboat. The great Onondaga runner was the stellar attraction of the evening, and was given a great reception. The meet will go on record as a splendid success, and the Harriers' Club are to be heartily congratulated on the outcome of their efforts. Perhaps a few more of the honors might have come to Peterborough without any harm being done, but every event was fairly contested, and the winner in each one was given a warm reception. The best kind of sportsmanship was in evidence during the evening, and incidentally it might be stated that those present saw some of the best sport to which Peterborough has been treated for many a day.

The track was in excellent condition, but was a little too small for record time. A short distance over 14 laps had to be covered for a mile, and some of the runners found the corners a little hard to negotiate at a lively clip. However, the Toronto visitors expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the arrangements at the rink, and the way the meet was conducted in every respect.

Probably at no athletic event in Canada in years has there been such an array of talent as at Brock street rink last evening. Among those present were Tom Longboat, the world's greatest long distance amateur runner; Percy Sellen, the Canadian five mile champion; Jack Tait, Bredin, Galbraith, McIlmurray, Greenwood, McGrath, Wilson, the Canadian five mile indoor champion, Ray Best, and "Tim O'Rourke, the champion weight thrower.

The programme was carried out without a hitch. The only disappointment of the evening was the non-appearance of George Adams, of the Hamilton Y.M.C.A., who was entered in the three mile special invitation race. The speedy man from the city with the mountain did not show up nor sent word why he was not able to be on hand.

The only regrettable incident during the evening was the accident to Fred Simpson in the one mile open. The Indian and Haddleton of the Irish-Canadians were running a beautiful pace and promised to make an exciting finish, but Simpson's injuries made it impossible for him to continue. Fortunately, however, he will be alright again in a few days.

Jack Tait's victory in the three mile special was well deserved and, although the crowd would have liked to have seen Ernie Wilson win, the West End boy's victory was not begrudged.

Before the three mile special race was run, Hon. J. R. Stratton made a short speech in which he welcomed the Toronto runners to Peterborough and paid a tribute to Tom Longboat, whom he alluded to as the great long distance amateur runner in the world.

On behalf of the Harrier's Club, Mr. Ernest Clarry presented Tom with a beautiful boquet of flowers. The great runner smiled and bowed his thanks, but there were loud calls for a speech.

"Tell them I'm a runner and not a speech maker," Tom said to Mr. Stratton, and when this information was conveyed to the crowd there was great applause.

Tom Flannagan, the manager of the Irish-Canadians, was not able to come, but Tim O'Rourke, big, genial and smiling, was on hand and made a short speech in which he thanked the citizens of Peterborough for their reception and said that the next time they came here he hoped they would be able to have Longboat run.

"Tom has quit running until next spring," Mr. O'Rourke announced, "but we are sorry that he cannot give you an exhibition."

The meet will have a great effect in fostering athletics in Peterborough. Much new material has been developed and it is safe to say that when the next meet is held there will be even more entries than there was last night.

BAND PRESENT.

Splendid music was furnished during the evening by the 57th regiment band under the leadership of Mr. Glidden. They rendered a fine program of popular selections.

It is pleasing to note that the meet was a financial success, although the expenses were considerable.

50 YARDS HANDICAP.

This was the first event of the evening, and brought out some fast starters. In the first heat, D. Hillier, with a handicap of 1 yard, won first place, and Len Dobson, with 1 1-2 yards, was second.

In the second heat N. Darling, Y.M.C.A., with a yard handicap, crossed the tape first, with Price Adamson, 1 yard, second. Time 5 3-5 seconds. McIlmurray, I.C.A.C. scratch, won the third heat, and Dick Baker, Y.M.C.A., 1 yard, came second, 5 3-5 seconds.

In the third heat Fred. McGrath, beat J. Neary, 2 yards, and C. Knapp, the other entry, finished somewhat behind the others. 5 3-5 seconds. McGrath, Hillier, Darling and McIlmurray toed the scratch in the final, the first mentioned winning, with Darling a good second. 5 4-5 seconds.

ONE MILE RACE (OPEN)

This event was one of the most interesting of the evening. A. W. Haddleton, I.C.A.C., Ray Best, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, and Fred. Simpson, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, were the starters. Haddleton took the lead at the start and then Best set the pace for a while. Simpson finally got to the front and struck a fast clip. Best dropped out just before the finish, and it was ding dong between Haddleton and the Hiawatha man. In the last lap the two got tangled up, and fell, and Simpson sustained such painful injuries to his knees that he was unable to start in the three mile handicap, and did not finish. The time was 5.16 4-5.

880 YARDS HANDICAP.

The following were the entries in this race; A. W. Haddleton, I.C.A.C. scratch; Allan Gravendaer, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, 25 yards; Peter Wallace, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, 25 yards; L. Dobson, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, 25 yards; D. Hillier, 30 yards; J. O'Donnell and P. Adamson, 35 yards; Charles Thorpe, 30 yards; Norman Darling, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, 25 yards, and W. J. McBurney, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, 20 yards. Dobson won, with Darling and Wallace second and third respectively. The time was 2.21 5-8.

220 YARDS HANDICAP.

In the first heat D. Hillier, J. Greenwood, Central Y.M.C.A., and J. O'Donnell finished in the order named. 30 2-5 seconds. The second, third and fourth heat were all run off together, and McIlmurray, I.C.A.C. won with J. Neary second, and J. Doughty third. 30 seconds. In the final McIlmurray and Hillier put up a great contest. The Toronto man had the race well in hand from the start, but the local runner made a brilliant dash. 29 seconds.

THREE MILE HANDICAP.

Ben Howard, Y.M.C.A. Harriers, scratch; and Hilton Greene, I.C.A.C., scratch, gave a great exhibition in this event, and it was see-saw between the two redskins all the way through. Charles Thorpe, with 1 1-2 laps handicap, finished third. Howard's chance to win looked good to his supporters, but Greene finally beat him out. Both men ran a fine race and never were separated by any great distance. They used their heads to quite an extent in trying to outgeneral each other, and did not make fast time, as they would have had they broken away to make the best possible time. Greene headed Howard in the stretch and won by a close margin. Time, 17.09.

THREE MILE INVITATION RACE.

This was undoubtedly the race of the evening. George Adams, the celebrated distance man from the Y.M.C.A. Harriers, Hamilton, did not show up, but the other four entries were on hand, and those who romped away to the crack of the starter's pistol were P.C. Sellen, I.C.A.C.; Jack Tait, West End Y.M.C.A.; Bredin Galbraith, Central Y.M.C.A. and Ernie Wilson, of the local Y.M.C.A. Harriers. The time was 16.14 3-4, and the contest was a grind all the way through. In the earlier stages of the race Tait took the lead and increased it till the finish, winning out by over a lap and a half. He is a beautiful runner and covered the ground in quick and easy fashion. He had things all his own way and completely captured the spectators by his great work. Sellen couldn't stand the pace and had to quit, and Galbraith also withdrew near the finish. Wilson stepped briskly over the tape and has the distinction of beating two of the most formidable men in the game.

SUMMARY.

Below will be found the summary of the different events;—

50 YARDS HANDICAP.

First Heat.

1 D Hillier, unattached, Peterborough.

2. Len Dobson, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

Time, 6 seconds.

Second Heat.

1 N Darling, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

2 P Adamson, unattached, Peterborough.

Time, 5 3-5 seconds.

Third Heat.

1 McIlmurray, Irish Canadian Athletic Club, Toronto.

2 Richard Baker, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

Time, 5 3-5 seconds.

Fourth Heat.

1. Fred McGrath, Peterborough.

2 J Neary, unattached, Peterborough.

Time, 5 3-5 seconds.

Final Heat.

1 Fred McGrath, Peterborough.

2 N Darling, Peterborough Y.M.C.A Harriers.

Time, 5 4-5 seconds.

MILE RACE, OPEN.

1 A W Haddleton, I.C.A.C., Toronto.

Simpson and Best did not finish.

Time, 5.16 4-5.

880 YARDS HANDICAP.

1 L Dobson, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

2 N Darling, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

3 Peter Wallace, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

Time, 2.21 5-8.

220 YARDS HANDICAP.

First Heat.

1 D Hillier, unattached, Peterborough.

2 J Greenwood, Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto.

Time, 30 2-5 seconds.

Second Heat.

1 McIlmurray, I.C.A.C., Toronto.

2 J Neary, unattached, Peterborough.

Time, 30 seconds.

Final Heat.

1 McIlmurray.

2 Hillier.

Time, 29 seconds.

THREE MILE HANDICAP.

1 Hilton Greene, I.C.A.C., Toronto.

2 Ben Howard, Peterborough.

3 Charles Thorpe, unattached, Peterborough.

Time, 17.9.

THREE MILE SPECIAL.

1 Jack Tait, West End Y.M.C.A. Toronto.

2 Ernie Wilson, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

Time, 16.14 4-5.

Galbraith and Sellen dropped out.

THE OFFICIALS.

To the following officials of the meet great credit is due for the splendid manner in which everything was run off:—

Starters—50 and 220 yards dashes heats and finals—W Heffernan. 1 mile race—T O'Rourke, 3 mile handicap—T. O'Rourke. 3 mile special invitation—Thos. Longboat.

Timers—Alex Gibson and W E Wasson.

Scorers—F D Craig, W Richardson, C Sisson, A C Yokome, D Campbell, Ross Dobbin.

Judges—Hon. J. R. Stratton, N. Eastwood, J. J. Howden.

Track Referees—E Bruce and C E Frost.

Clerk of Course—Arthur Poe.

Announcer—W S Davidson.

Secretary—R M Glover.

TOM LONGBOAT TALKS

With a happy smile and the glad hand for everybody, Tom Longboat was the man in the limelight at the big athletic meet last night.

"How did you like it, Tom?" asked a Review man, as the crowd was leaving the rink.

Tom smiled all over his face, and showed a fine row of pearly teeth.

"Fine, fine," said the Indian. "Peterborough is all right. Hilton Greene is a good one, and I was glad to see him win. Peterborough has many good runners, and I'll come again some time."

You have heard the Sailor Boys' plea, buy to-day for your dinner to-morrow "Sailor Boy" Canned Goods, Tomatoes Corn, Peas and Salmon. Your money does not buy better Goods. Do you get "Sailor Boy" or substitute?

Sending Out the Fags to Schools

Local Firm is Forwarding Many of Them

It is expected that nearly 6,000 rural schools in the Province will be in possession of the Union Jacks furnished by the Educational Department before Christmas. These are being sent out by mail at the present time. Each flag measures six feet by three feet in size. Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons of this city, have the contract to supply the flags.

BEER* STEADIES THE NERVES

GOOD beer, used as a beverage with meals, makes steadier, stronger nerves because it helps the stomach do its work better.

Your own doctor will tell you that the right use of beer is good for almost every adult,—women especially.

The little alcohol in beer (less than there is in cider) helps digest food. Get the right idea about beer, and be healthier for using it.

*BEER is a term which covers lager, ales, porter and stout; and, in the practice of Ontario brewers, implies beverages made under most hygienic conditions, from Ontario barley (the best in the world) malt, hops and pure water 101

Why Some Men do Not Go to Church

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Some few weeks ago you published an article on the above, but you did not reach the conclusion which those who have dug for it have come too. A week ago one of the clergymen of our city urged upon the members of his congregation the necessity of attending church servcie and all its social functions. That clergyman could have easily given some reasons why the members of his congregation do not go to church.

Some years ago the writer along with some two or three others sent out one hundred reply post cards asking the persons to whom they were sent to reply and give the reasons why they did not attend church regularly? About 90 replies were received. Fully 25 per cent. said they would not go because their ministers and fellow churchmen fairly snubbed them. One-half of the rest said that there was no use in going no one made them feel at home, in fact, they were made to feel they were not wanted at all. Some said there were too many hypocrits in the churches Some could not worship; some could not sing. Some could not feel that they were doing any good by going either to themselves or anyone else.

Now Mr. Editor, some of these reasons apply to Peterborough of today. And not to one denomination or parish, but to all. A majority, of those who go to church go from some selfish motive and not from a desire to worship their God in a manner befitting the act. I have come to the conclusion that many do not know what is worship! Some time in the near future I may endeavor to explain what is worship from the Bible standpoint and that of some of our most talented writers of the day. Now I wish to point out to some of our church workers and officials that in a measure they are to blame for a good deal of the careless attendance at the House of Worship.

I sometimes attend church where no one is eligible to usher at the morning service unless he wears the faultless "Prince Albert" and "can show that he has the money to back it up." At least this is a quotation from a speech the writer heard at one of the meetings in this church, when one of the young men arose and entered a protest at the treatment they were receiving, and subsequent events proved the truth of his statement. I always understood that the "Court frock or Prince Albert coat," was purely an evening dress, or it was used wholly on occasions when regal or vice-reagal functions were on tapis.

Well, another reason why some absent themselves are, they get a nice invitation to go to church services and socials and then when on their way they are told they had better stay away, they are not wanted. I know of two cases in one congregation in this city that this happened.

These reasons, of course, are nothing in themselves when one comes to analyze them, but the real reason lays with the preachers of to-day. How many of them try to preach to preach Christ and His Gospel as He would have them do it? What do the regular church goer, or even the casual attender, care about "The pace that kills," or "How to get to Heaven," or some of the other sensational subjects which are published to attract the public's eye. Nothing whatever, I should say. Let the ministers of to-day preach sermons which are "full to the brim" of the plain Gospel truths, and let them show to their congregations that they mean what they say, and carry it out in their own lives, and see that as far as in their power that no stumbling blocks are put in the path of the weak children of God in this congregation. What I mean is, when they know that any of the church officials are living such lives, that will throw discredit upon the church, or, that they are not allowing the choirs to conduct what, really is, Sunday sacred concerts during the services on the Sunday. Then, and not till then will the common everyday man of work, be found in his place of worship. "The world and the church are walking hand in hand" now, but not in the right way. The world is saying "you must conduct Sunday tea meetings "to bring men into contact with men, so we can cajole them in to the church." You must conduct parish concerts, sales Cinderella dances, fairs, socials and a dozen and one other pernicious and unholy means to entice the young people together and if you have not mind of your own and will do all that you are told to do, in short become "an automaton." you will go on and prosper, but let you have an opinion of your own, then see the treatment you get. I know of four cases where men and their wives attended a certain church's socials and they were not recognized, nor were they served with refreshments when they were passed round on all sides of them. This is of course a sample only of what occurs in churches where they cater too much to the world and all its ways. The church of to-day must wake up and do what Christ once did in the Temple, make "a scourge of small cords," and drive out all these iniquitous doings, and cleanse the House of God, and come and worship at His altars.

Until this is done the indifference shown by the masses who do not attend Divine worship will never be overdome.

Yours sincerely,
AN OBSERVER.

COAL-CARTAGE
ONTARIO COAL CO. LIMITED PETERBORO
Best Hard COAL $7.50 per ton
No. 2 Nut COAL $6.50 per ton
Butts or English Cannel COAL $7.50 per ton
Head Office and Yards: 160 Aylmer Street Phone 116
City Office: 387 Water St. Phones: Bell 335. Machine 335
ONTARIO COAL CO., Limited
A. J. McCLELLAN C. CURRIER G. K. RACKHAM

THE VISITORS ENTERTAINED

Pleasant Gathering at the Dominion Cafe After the Meet

After the meet last night the visiting I.C.A.C, and Y.M.C.A. athletes were entetained at supper by the Harrier's at the Dominion Cafe. Such an array of speedy track men never before gathered round a Peterborough festive board. All those who were present enjoyed themselves and incidentally the supper. The affair was a purely informal and impromptu one and no toast list was run off.

SASKATCHEWAN 'PHONES.

Government Thoroughly In Earnest In Public Ownership Policy.

Regina, Sask., Dec. 4.—The creating of the department of telephones as a section of the department presided over by the commissioner of railways for Saskatchewan is a practical step towards the institution of the provincial system of Government telephones.

It is expected that the actual construction work will commence in the spring, should the Legislature approve of the Government's scheme. The Government's intention is to build a system of trunk lines through all the more settled portions of the province.

S. P. Porter, recently chief homestead inspector in this district, has been appointed deputy commissioner of railways. It is understood that in addition to telephones, the Government will initiate an aggressive transportaton campaign.

FRAUDULENT WEIGHT.

Five Pounds Tacked Onto Bales Sent to English Spinners.

Manchester, Eng., Dec. 4.—At the annual meeting of the Manchester Cotton Association held here yesterday, Thomas Coates, chairman of the buying company, caused a sensation. Mr. Coates was one of the delegates to the recent cotton congress at Atlanta, Ga.

He said that he had been impressed particularly in the United States by the barefaced and fraudulent manner in which sworn Government cotton weighers in America actually put on five pounds per bale to every bale weighed. This, however, Mr. Coates continued, "was not done in the case of cotton supplied to American spinners."

Opened Chatham Armories.

Chatham, Dec. 4.—The new 24th Regiment armories were formally opened here yesterday, and a grand concert at which the 48th Highlanders' band was present, was given in the new building. A military ball will be given on Dec. 12.

The new armories are one of the finest buildings in Chatham.

Shot While Hunting Rabbits.

Guelph, Dec. 4.—Cecil Savage, a young man of 18 years of age, and son of John Savage of Gourock, was accidentally shot through the body yesterday by a companion, while hunting rabbits on the farm of James Buchanan, Puslinch. He died in the afternoon.

Fatal Fire.

New York, Dec. 4.—One man killed, another seriously injured and three firemen overcome by backdrafts in a fire which caused a loss of $45,000 to the building at 103 Bleecker-street, early yesterday.

Brakeman Killed.

St. Thomas, Dec. 4.—Hiram Perrin, a Pere Marquette brakeman, was caught between an engine and a freight car at Blenheim yesterday morning and instantly killed.

FOR XMAS WORK OR BAZAARS
Pictures in Sepia or Colors, from 3c to 15c
Mounting Papers and Card, in White, Browns and Gray.
Leather in all shades—Brown, Tan, Green and Red.
Calendar Pads, all sizes, from 2c to 10c each.
Passepartout in all shades.
AT REVIEW STATIONERY DEPT.

EGGS
FOR SALE by the case
Fresh and Pickled Choice Stock at our warehouse, Robinson Street, East City
Scott&Hogg
PHONE 264, BOTH PHONES

PRICE OF Coal
FOR OCTOBER IS $7.50
Ton, cash with order
THE PETERBORO FUEL & CARTAGE CO
LIMITED.
162 Charlotte-st. Telephones—(Bell) 261, 270. (Machine)—270.
134 Aylmer-st. Tel. (Bell) 302.

D.L. & W's SCRANTON COAL

SOLD BY R. HICKS & CO. AT
$7.50 Per Ton
for Month of October, in lots of not less than half ton.
This is the Standard Anthracite. 60 % of the Coal sold in Ontario is SCRANTON.
Terms Positively Cash.
R. HICKS & CO.
Coal Builders' Supplies, Etc.

COAL AND WOOD
Best of Coal—Best of Wood
COAL FOR OCTOBER
$7.50
PER TON
J. E. A. FITZGERALD
Cor. Brock and Bethune Sts
BOTH PHONES 111

Palace
Livery Barn
For the smartest and most up-to-date LIVERY OUTFITS, at reasonable rates, go to
TOM FOSTER & CO.
Successors to Bruce Lee & Co
Rear of Snowden House.
AUCTION SALE OF HORSES BUGGIES, HARNESS, ETC., EVERY SATURDAY
Phones—Bell 286—Machine 289

Steer Straight
For the best Beer ever brewed, and you are sure to come to us! Our Bottled Beer is "bottled health." It means vigor and strength, a good appetite and high spirits. It is the best medicine for the weak and the best food for the strong. Keep our excellent [illegible] in your home as a beverage and you will have no need of a doctor. Nothing but the purest ingredients used in the brewing.
—THE—
CALCUTT BREWING AND MALTING CO
of Ashburnham Limited

PE-RU-NA CHEERFULLY RECOMMENDED FOR COLDS AND CATARRH.

A Prominent Canadian Gives His Experience With the World-Famous Remedy For Catarrh.

Chronic Catarrh Always Begins With An Ordinary Cold.

So Says Dr. Hartman, the Greatest Living Authority On Catarrhal Diseases.

THE first effect of a cold is a thickening of the mucous membranes of the nose and throat.

This gives rise to a discharge, or at least a stuffiness of the nasal passages.

Sometimes fever accompanies the first attack, also a feeling of languor, dullness and aching of the bones.

If no attention is paid to it, the mucous congestion is liable to spread down into the larynx, producing hoarseness and into the bronchial tubes, producing a cough.

Even when this occurs, many people pay no attention to it.

Under such circumstances, the congestion is liable to become chronic, producing a condition of the mucous membranes known as catarrh. Catarrh lasts an indefinite time. Catarrh is essentially a chronic condition and does not leave except something is done to relieve it.

CURE COLDS—PREVENT CATARRH.

What should be done when a person catches cold is to take a few doses of Peruna.

Taken at the onset, Peruna would break up the cold and prevent all the train of symptoms which usually follow.

But, even in cases where the cold has been neglected and hoarseness or a cough has developed, Peruna can be relied upon to give prompt and permanent relief.

The frequency of coughs and colds in the winter makes Peruna a popular remedy for these ailments.

A number of the best people of various countries have given testimonials as to the value of Peruna in such cases.

Followed Dr. Hartman's Advice—Restored to Health.

Mrs. Samuelle Vigneau, Avre au Berd, Isle de La Magdaline, Canada, writes:

"I write to tell you that I am perfectly well. I took only three bottles of your Peruna according to your advice and the directions in your book and it restored my health."

C. H. Parker, Ex-Warden of Compton Co., Quebec, has been mayor of Scotstown for a number of years. He is an influential resident in Scotstown and widely known.

He writes concerning Peruna. Read his letter below:

C. H. PARKER.

"I had several attacks of colds from time to time and finally a severe attack developed into catarrh.

"I was advised to use your celebrated catarrh remedy, and after taking three bottles I find myself completely cured, and I no longer suffer from catarrh or colds.

"I can cheerfully recommend Peruna for colds and catarrh."

If Peruna had no other medicinal value than the promptness with which it relieves common colds, it would be well worth while for any family to keep it in the house constantly.

SPORTING NEWS

Tait Will Attempt to Lower Famous Redskin's Record

Mr. Jack Tait, the West End Y.M.C.A. man, who made such a splendid showing at the meet last night, will attempt to lower Longboat's record for two miles and a half next Saturday in Toronto, providing the weather will permit of his doing so. The mark for the distance made by the red wonder is 12.46. Those who saw Tait run last night are of the opinion that he has a good chance to beat the Indian's time. His brother, Mr. Will Tait, informed the Review last night that his endeavor to lower Longboat's colors will probably be the last running the West End crack will do this season.

"They want him to go to Hamilton on Christmas Day to run there," he said, "but I hardly think he will."

Tait's trainer is C. A. Ashley, physical director of the West End Y.M.C.A., and his brother, Mr. Will Tait, advises him to a great extent. However, he has a good head of his own, and is a resourceful and intelligent runner. He has been running since spring, and was in superb shape for the meet, as he showed when he so handily won the three mile invitation event.

Prizes for the Bowling Competitions

Mr. J. T. Smyth, of the Majestic Bowling Alleys, has decided that, instead of giving a cash prize as heretofore to the bowler making the highest consecutive score in three games, for the month, he will, on December 24th award a fifteen pound turkey as the prize in the above mentioned competition for the best score made during the month to that date. He also intends holding a novice tournament on December 13th, at which suitable prizes will be given to teams composed of five members of the novice class.

BOWLING

SMOKER TO-NIGHT.

The Peterborough Bowling club will hold a smoker at the Charlotte street rink this evening when the prizes won during the past year will be presented. An enjoyable time is anticipated.

HOCKEY

THE GAME ON ROLLERS

The match this Wednesday evening on Lindsay Roller Rink, between Peterborough and Lindsay teams is expected to prove the most interesting and spectular event ever witnessed in the town, says the Lindsay Post. Hockey on rollers is something new in Lindsay at any rate; and unexpected developments may be looked forward to with confidence. Leon Koyl will have a good team of fast skaters, while the Peterborough boys, having played the game before, will be imbued with all kinds of confidence. It will be a great game beyond a doubt.

A roller hockey team will go to Lindsay this evening to play with a septette representing that town. The locals have a strong aggregation, and expect to win out. Their team is, as follows:—Goal, M. Jameson; point, G. Miller; cover, B. Gibbs; rover, R. Agnew; right wing, H. Simonton; centre, J. Miller; left wing, P. Perrington.

Mr. Agnew will not return to this city, but will spend the winter in Lindsay.

CURLING

The Charlotte street curling rink will be ready in the course of a few days for playing. Extensive repairs are now being made. The hardwood floor has been covered with sand, and the first flooding will be given it to-morrow or Friday. If the present cold weather continues they will have excellent ice in a short time.

OPEN AT NIGHT

James R. Bell's Store, 161 Hunter Street, will be open each night, commencing Wednesday the 4th, until the New Year. Customers and friends, will kindly take advantage of this, especially those who work all day. Special prices

Rebekah Lodge Held "At Home"

The members of Golden Link Rebekah Lodge, No. 81, entertained a large number of their friends to an "at home" last evening in their hall, George street. A large number were present, and the evening was pleasantly spent. Games were played, and a musical and literary programme was given, after which refreshments were served, and a social hour enjoyed.

BIG CUT OF LUMBER

The Cavendish Lumber Company, of Lakefield, have closed down their big mill for the season. The past summer was a very busy one. Over 17,000,000 feet of lumber were cut and employment given to a large number of men, the mill being at its fullest capacity.

GIFT MAKING HINTS.

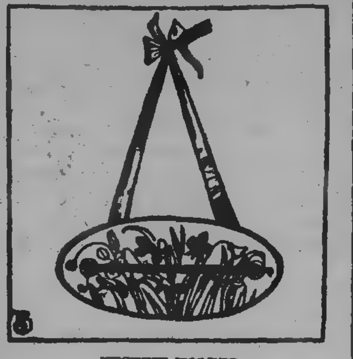
Presents Clever Women May Construct at Home.

WORKBOX AND TIE HOLDER.

Two Attractive Christmas Remembrances, in the Manufacture of Which Embroidery and Amateur Carpentry Figure.

THERE is an interesting variety of pretty Christmas gifts that women can make at home this year for trifling expense if they are ingenious enough to do a little carpentry work and have also the ability to embroider and crochet or knit.

One of these practical and desirable presents for either a man or woman is a necktie holder. It can be fashioned as simply or elaborately as is wished once the woodwork is made. These holders that may be hung on a bureau knob, attached to the gas jet or nailed to the wall in a bedroom are made of an oval piece of light whitewood that is covered with denim, crash, linen or satin in any shade desired. They are serviceable if the material is left plain, but when embroidered with tulips in red, white and yellow silk with green leaves or in a solid rose pattern in natural colors they are decorative and are really an ornament to any apartment. On this wood plaque a round steel rod is screwed, and on it the scarfs and ties are hung when not in use. At the back two ribbons—any length needed to suspend the holder from a desirable place—are attached and tied in a bowknot. The ribbons may be of a color to match the material.

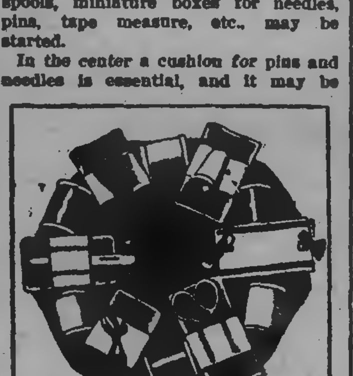


NECKTIE HOLDER.

Instead of an oval of whitewood a six sided piece about ten inches in diameter is needed for the modern workbox that is just now so acceptable because it contains all the necessary things that a housekeeper wants when she sits down to sew or mend.

Once the wood is carefully sawed into a hexagon it may be covered with dark red or deep green satin or with less expensive material, and then the task of fitting the workbox with spools, miniature boxes for needles, pins, tape measure, etc., may be started.

In the center a cushion for pins and needles is essential, and it may be made as decorative as is desired. Around it the small cardboard or pill boxes, covered with satin or whatever goods is used on the base, are glued in place, and between these boxes spools of thread are tied into place with narrow baby ribbon. On the tops of the boxes slips of ribbon are attached so that scissors, bodkins, knitting needles, thimbles and emery bags will have a place on the workbox.



MODERN WORKBOX.

Novel Pincushion.

A pincushion is a very necessary adjunct to the average woman's dressing table, and she is apt to be specially appreciative if the one bestowed upon her at Christmas is made in some novel form.

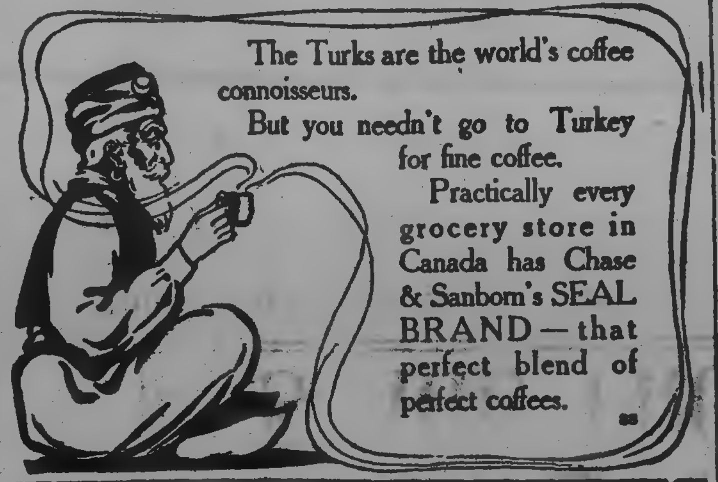
Brooches that are worn often are generally kept somewhere within easy reach, and they are preserved in better condition if their ordinary resting place is a wash leather cushion instead of a china or metal pin tray.

To make this brooch pincushion, use a round cushion covered with wash leather for your center and sew to this four flaps of velvet, heavy silk or any other material that you choose, lining each flap with the wash leather. Stick your brooches into the center cushion and fold the flaps over. The two that fold on top are tied together with ribbon.

Needlecase.

A charming present the business woman will appreciate is an individual needlecase. It is so small that she can slip it in her purse and take it down to the office, where it will not occupy any space in her desk. It is made just a little larger than a package of needles and is of silk covered cardboard. On one side is a strap to hold the package, and there are, besides, three thin flannel leaves for the loose needles.

A smallpox case was discovered in Stratford yesterday.



The Turks are the world's coffee connoisseurs.
But you needn't go to Turkey for fine coffee.
Practically every grocery store in Canada has Chase & Sanborn's SEAL BRAND — that perfect blend of perfect coffees.

Presentation to Past Pres. Kitney

By Sons of England—Officers Elected for Coming Year

Lansdowne Lodge, No. 25, S.O.E.B.S., met in their lodge rooms Monday evening, and no more enthusiastic and harmonious meeting could possibly have been held. It was the occasion of their annual meeting, when the reports of officers, nomination and election of officers, took place. One would have imagined that there was nothing but sunshine on earth, to have seen the smile of that veteran first guide, Bro. Wm. Taylor, as he moved about among his "lads." This meeting always brings a vast amount of business and it was disposed of in short order by the Worthy President, Bro. E. W. Elcome. After he had put five new candidates through the mysteries of the "Sons," a very pleasing event took place. Bro. C. F. Kitney, Past President, was asked to come forward, which he did, being conducted to the pedestal by Bro. R. Tivey, P.P., where he was met by Bro. T. Gunn, who expressed the pleasure it was for him to officiate on this occasion. In the course of his remarks, he said that he took part in a similar function just 21 years ago tonight, when he was presented with a similar jewel. This jewel is only presented to Past Presidents who have gone through the chair of the lodge, and is a valuable reminder of the year's work in that honorable position. In presenting the jewel he said he hoped that Bro. Kitney would live to come of age, and many years longer. The Past President's Jewel is composed of sterling silver, silk ribbon and coin gold. The top bar is surmounted with a lion "rampant." On the bar is engraved the recipient's name, "Bro O. F. Kitney." Hung from this bar on a rich blue watered silk ribbon, are the two flags that all Englishmen love, in enamel and silver, the Union Jack and St. George's flag. Underneath this is two roses, a white and a red one. Attached to the ribbon is another silver bar, with the inscription, ("From Lansdowne Lodge, No. 25," Hung from this bar is a rising sun, the centre of which is a gold sovereign of King Edward VII reign, which is encased in a band of enamel and silver, on which are the words, "The Sons of England B.S."

Messrs. Shiner and Moore, on behalf of the Demonstration Commiteee, gave the lodge a full report of what that committee had done, and the action of the committee was unanimously endorsed, and the people of Peterborough may look forward to the biggest event of 1908. Remember the date, July 1st, 1908.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The nomination and election of officers resulted as follows. Bros. Roberts, of Leeds Lodge, Weston, Ont., R. Tivey, and Harry Long acted as scrutineers;—

P. Pres.—E. W. Elcome.
Pres.—Dr. T. H. W. Young.
Vice-Pres.—R. F. Buntin.
Chap.—George Maughan.
Fin.-Sec.—S. A. Oke.
Rec.-Sec.—W. R. Shiner.
1st Com.—Wm. Taylor.
2nd Com.—J. Brown.
3rd Com.—Robert Sheppard.
4th Com.—Jas. Theobald.
5th Com.—Jas. R. Runnett.
6th Com.—W. D. Roberts.
I. Guard—R. Waram.
O. Guard—S. Coveney.
Surgeon—Dr. Young.
Auditors—H. L. Beal and C. F. Kitney.
Trustees—Harry Long and D. Curtis.
Representative to Grand Lodge—E. W. Elcome.
Hall Trust—Dr. Young, E. W. Elcome and Alf. Kingscote.
Organist—George W. Allan.

Installation will take place at the first meeting in January.

Good Propects for Company

The United Agency Co. is Now Fully Incorporated

The United Agency Co., Limited, has just been incorporated by letters patent. Its head office is in Peterborough. The objects of the company to carry on the business of real estate, insurance, etc., collecting and auditing accounts, etc., have already been stated in the Review.

The names, descriptions and addresses of the original incorporaters of the company are:; John Oliver Fife, Otonabee; Hugh Patterson Lindsay, Peterborough, and William Franklin Nelson, Peterborough, insurance agents.; Roland Maxwell Glover, Peterborough, accountant; Ernest Victor Frederick, Peterborough, physician, and Peter Spiers Ewing, of the village of Warkworth, township clerk.

The United Agency Company, Limited, anticipate that the real estate business of considerable magnitude, may be profitably conducted. With this end in view, the real estate branch of the company will be given the most particular attention, under a most capable and experience manager.

The company has made a contract with the most aggressive life company in Canada, having about thirty-five agents, all of whom will promote the interests of the company, not only in life business, but accident, fire, employers' liability and marine.

Warning is Given to the City Clergy

More Street Enforcement of Act as to Burial of the Dead

All the clergy residing in Peterborough have received notice from Dr. Charles Hodgetts, Toronto, deputy-registrar general of the province, respecting a more strict enforcement of the act respecting the burial of the dead.

The circular is as follows:

Dear Sir,—Your attention is respectfully called to the following provision of the Act respecting the registration of births, marriages and deaths, being sub-division 1 of Section 24 of the said Act, which reads as follows:

"No removal of the dead body of undertaker, sexton, householder or other person, shall engage in the burial of the dead body of any person, unless a certificate of registration (burial permit) has been previously obtained to the knowledge of the person so removing or engaging in the burial of the dead body."

In order, therefore, to secure as far as possible the registration of all deaths happening in the province, you are hereby requested to note the above statutory provision in each and every case where you in any way engage in the burial of a dead body of any person, and to require the production of the official certificate of registration of death (burial permit) as authorized by the Registrar-General, and bearing on the reverse side the signature of the undersigned. Should any burials occur without the above mentioned statute being complied with, notification should at once be made to this department. Trusting for a ready compliance with the law.

Building Season Was Very Busy One

Curtis Bros.' brick yard, which closed down for the season some time ago, was busier this year than ever. The total output of brick was 4,300,000, which is a quarter of a million more than in 1906. This shows that building operations during 1907 were even more extensive than last year.

Montreal has every year five thousand cases of consumption and one thousand deaths from it, was the grave testimony of Dr. Dagenais at the meeting of the Brehmer Rest yesterday.

FACTS—JUST PLAIN, POINTED FACTS

HERE'S A LINE OF

$9.75

OVERCOATS

That are positively unequalled for good value in the City

75 OVERCOATS, Traveller's Samples, bought 25% less than former wholesale prices. Made of Fancy Tweeds, Meltons, Beavers and Cheviots, lined and trimmed in first-class style, some long, some medium lengths, single and double-breasted, some with storm collars, which would make an excellent driving coat. Regular prices $11.00, $12.00, $13.50 and $1500. For this week only $9.75

SO COME EARLY, AS FIRST SELECTION IS ALWAYS THE BEST

MERRELL & MEREDITH

CLOTHIERS, FURNISHERS and HATTERS

375-377 GEORGE ST. PHONE 35

Otonabee Pioneer Now no More

Jas. Wood Passes Away at Villiers, Aged Eighty Years—Was Prominent Resident

Special to the Review.

Keene, Dec. 4.—One of the oldest residents of Otonabee township, in the person of Mr. Jas. Wood, passed away at his home at Villiers this morning. He was 80 years and 8 months of age, and death was caused largely by his advanced years. The late Mr. Wood was a native of Scotland, but settled in Otonabee township at an early age, and has resided at Villiers ever since. He is survived by three sons, James, George and Robert, of Otonabee, and one daughter, Miss Mary Wood, of the same township. One brother, Mr. John Wood, of Keene, also survives.

In religion Mr. Wood was a Presbyterian, and in politics a Liberal. For many years he was actively identified with municipal matters in the township in which he resided, and was a member of the township council for several terms. Mr. Wood had a large number of friends and his death will be sincerely regretted.

The funeral will take place on Friday at one o'clock, from his late residence, Villiers, to Keene cemetery.

LADIES' AID

A meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Murray street Baptist church was held yesterday afternoon when there was a good attendance of the members. Mrs. Montgomery was in the chair. The Society is planning a movement to increase the membership

COPYRIGHT
FACTS

IT IS A FACT

That we have the finest stock of Skates, Sticks and Hockey Supplies in the city.

BANK'S SKATE STORE

Under the Market Clock

Three indictments for forgery against John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, growing out of the recent life insurance investigation, were sustained by Mr. Justice Dowling, of the Supreme Court, in New York yesterday. An appeal will be taken by the attorneys for Mr. Hegeman.

The York county council has decided to abolish the rewards for the conviction of automobilists.

THE CANADA LIFE

PETERBOROUGH OFFICES:

435 George Street

(Upstairs)

S. E. SALLS, Agent and District Manager | S. G. SALLS, Cashier and District Secretary

A MESSAGE FROM CHINA HALL

China Hall's Stock is now complete, and the present is now a good time to make selections for Christmas. China Hall's Stock is the heaviest and most varied it has ever been, and taken as a whole it would do credit to the largest city in the Dominion. The Store will be open evenings during December, and the public are invited to visit the two show rooms during the present week and view the newest productions in Pottery. Our Dinner Ware show room (just completed) is worth a visit.

CHINA HALL CO. New Premises 394 GEORGE STREET

(NEXT TO H. LeBRUN & CO.)

GET THE LATEST

The Review Supplies the Correct Things in Wedding Invitations Programmes, Personal Stationery, Etc . . . .

THE DAILY REVIEW

LUMBER

and BUILDING MATERIAL of all kinds. Shingles, Scantling, Joists and Bill Stuff. Mouldings, Casings and Base, and all kinds of finish. Boxes and Box Shooks.

ALF. McDONALD ESTATE

Point St. Charles Mill, Peterborough.

VOL LV., NO. 129 PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1907 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

CHRISTMAS 1907 GRAND OPENING CHRISTMAS 1907

THE GOLDEN LION STORE

Invites the people of Peterborough and vicinity to attend tne Most Magnificent Display
You have ever seen of

FANCY AND STAPLE DRY GOODS

Your Xmas Shopping

Will not be complete unless you have seen our BRILLIANTLY ILLUMINATED and DECORATED STORE and ELABORATE DISPLAY OF PRETTY AND DAINTY FANCY ARTICLES.

STOP THE CAR AT OUR STORE
COPYRIGHT

We especially invite the gentlemen to this display—as where can you better expect to procure a suitable gift for a lady—young or old—than at a RELIABLE DRY GOODS STORE, such as ours. This season we are better prepared than ever with a splendid assortment of suitable Christmas Gifts, at very reasonable prices, a few of which are enumerated here.

Hand Drawn Linens
Battenburg Linens
Table Cloths
Linen Handkerchiefs
Linen Towels
White Bed Quilts
Down Comforters
Wool Blankets
Carpets, Rugs
Curtains and Portiers
Hand Embroidered Centre Pieces
Black and Colored Silk Skirts
Table Covers
Etc., Etc.

Umbrellas
Gloves, Belts
Fancy Collars
Fancy Hose
Silk Opera Bags
Leather Bags and Purses
Side and Back Combs
Necklaces, Ribbons
Fancy Blouse Pins
Embroidered Handkerchiefs
Real Lace Handkerchiefs
Fancy Hose Supporters
Work Companions
Bonnet Brushes
Dress Silks
Etc., Etc.

Wool Toques
Wool Mufflers
Llama Scarfs
Chiffon Scarfs
Lace Ties and Collars
Fancy Pin Cushions
Fancy Baskets
Whisk Holders
Mirrors, Work Boxes
Work Baskets, Satin Lined
Silk Handkerchief Bags
Hair Receivers
Pomade Jars
Jewel Cases
Dress Goods
Etc., Etc.

Kid Gloves, Fancy Collars, etc., boxed free of charge in pretty Boxes for 'Xmas Gifts

We will keep your purchase here if you wish and deliver when and where you want them

Express Postage or Freight Prepaid on out-of-town Orders, within a radius of fifty miles, during December

ROBERT FAIR & CO.

383 George Street LIMITED Peterborough

Wanted

GIRLS' WANTED

SIX GIRLS. Apply at the Gate House, Canadian General Electric Co., Limited, Peterborough.

WANTED

BY THE FIRST OF JANUARY, A COOK for the Lakefield Preparatory School; also young girl as kitchen maid. Good situation for mother and daughter. Apply, with reference, to THE MATRON, The Grove, Lakefield. 3d

For Sale or To Rent

FOR SALE

AT A BARGAIN, slightly used piano, handsome walnut case, full length panels, 3 pedals, 7⅓ octave, beautiful tone. May be seen at 440 WATER STREET. 3d

FOR SALE

FIRST-CLASS NEWCOMBE PIANO for sale. Price reasonable. Apply at this Office for particulars. 9d

TO RENT

TWO FURNISHED ROOMS with or without board. Modern conveniences and telephone. Address J. F. Galvin, 358 Brock St. dtf

FOR SALE

PIANO CASE ORGAN, double the usual volume, (8 sets reeds) good as new, less than half price on easy weekly or monthly payments. A nice Christmas present easy to buy. 27 Park St., corner Park and Parnell. tf

FOR SALE

TYPEWRITER, latest model American Oliver, brand new. Good discount off lowest selling price for a quick sale. Apply Review Office. tdf

Lost and Found

LOST

A NARROW GOLD BAND BRACELET, ornamented with horse shoe setting, between Grafton's Store and the Post Office, about four or five o'clock on Tuesday, December 3rd. Finder will be rewarded by leaving at Grafton's Office or Review Office.

BIG SALE
. . OF . .
Enamelled Ware
Friday and Saturday

HUTCHINSON-STURGEON CO

Bell and Machine 'Phones 228 342 George Street

It Pays

To get old Furniture fixed over. It lasts longer than much of the new. Upholstering and all kinds of work on Furniture done here. Samples of fine Covering at reasonable prices

A. R. JACKSON

Aylmer. Corner of Charlotte. Bell Phone 494B

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

What more appropriate gift could you make than by purchasing a home for your family?

Come and see J. T. O'Connell & Co's bargains.

$2,250—New red brick house, central, cement floor in cellar; hall, parlor, dining room, kitchen, large pantry, front and back stairs, 4 bedrooms, bathroom fitted, 3 clothes closets, attic finished, electric lights, large verandah and balcony, woodshed and summer kitchen. Can be bought on monthly payments. Possession at once.

$900 buys red brick cottage East City, 6 rooms, hard and soft water, large lot.

To Rent—New house with all conveniences. Possession at once.

For further particulars apply to

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.

Phone 376. 136 Hunter St.

FANCY POTTERY

All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.

GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

MINING PROPERTY FOR SALE

PURSUANT TO POWERS CONTAINED IN A CERTAIN MORTGAGE AND BOND there will be offered for sale by Public Auction, at the Munro House in the City of Peterboro', Ontario, on Thursday the Twelfth day of December 1907 at 2 p. m., certain Mining Property situated in the Township of Barrie, County of Frontenac, Composed of:—The South Half of Lot 24 in the 10th Concession; Lot 31 in the 9th Concession (Except 2½ Acres); Parts of Lots 32 and 33 in the 10th Concession; Lot 25 in the 9th Concession; Part of Lot 26 in the 10th Concession, and certain rights in Lot 26 in the 10th Concession of said Township, together with machinery, chattels, stamp mills, boilers, engines, blacksmiths' tools, hoisting apparatus, and other personal property, used in connection with said Mining Property.

Terms 10 per cent down and balance in one month hereafter without interest.

For further particulars apply to the undersigned

Dated 4th November 1907.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR,
415 Water St. Peterborough, Ont.
Vendors' Solicitors.

9d

RICHMOND STUDIO

SPECIALS for XMAS PHOTOS

Newest Mountings Newest Styles
Pictures Plain Cards
Folders Calendars

First-class work at night by electric light
Sittings by appointment.

147 HUNTER STREET

GEORGE RUTH
Properties for Sale:

Come and inspect our list of HOUSES We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.

8 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.

A few first-class homes to rent with modern improvements.

395 Water Street, open evenings

A. BROWN & CO.,
The Real Estate Agents, 396 Water Street

$100 will secure good Cottage with large lot 50x200
$500 will secure an up-to-date House with all modern improvements.
$1,000 will purchase good Cottage and large lot
$600 will secure Cottage, Stable and 4 acres good land near city.

We have some great snaps in Houses, Farms and City lots for sale and to rent.

Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.

Bell Phone 136 and 474 B. Machine 117

R. A. ELLIOTT & CO.

Real Estate Agents

Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

For Sale or To Rent
AT REASONABLE PRICES

Three small farms, good soil, suitable for gardening purposes, close to city. Also a few small, comfortable, dwelling houses, and choice building lots, well situated in good localities.

Properties sold, purchased or exchanged.

Private Funds to Loan on Real Estate.

INSURANCE

Agents for reliable Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Liability Insurance Companies. For particulars as to rates, etc., apply to

J. J. McBAIN & SON
Real Estate and Insurance Agents.
Office Cor. Simcoe and George-sts.
Office 'Phone 454 Residence Phone 109A

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!

A nice pair of Snowshoes or a good Toboggan would make a most acceptable present to lady, gentleman, girl or boy. We carry a very large assortment. Call and see them.

J. J. TURNER & SONS
TENT MANUFACTURERS
George Street. Peterborough

International Correspondence Schools
Of Scranton, Penn.

Industrial Science Taught by Mail.

LOCAL OFFICE - - 430 George Stree
R. C. BALFOUR, Representative

The Talk of the Town—OUR COOKING

TOOTHSOME WHOLESOME PALATABLE

Try a loaf of our Brown and Currant Bread

FRY'S MILK CHOCOLATE DROPS
BURNT ALMONDS

COLEMAN BROS.
Phone 335. 426 George St

SPECIAL RATES FOR FAMILY WASHING

Prices were never lower than now at

Parkers' Steam Laundry

Goods called for and delivered free to any part of the city.

W. P. HETHERINGTON
9 CHARLOTTE ST, PHONE 65

Special Inducements TO BUY HEATERS

You gain nothing by delay. See our
Standard Oak
Quebec Ideal
Art Laurel

They are great fuel savers. Easily operated and splendid heat distributors.

F.R.J. MACPHERSON & CO.
341 George St. Phone 116
F.R.J. MACPHERSON ANGUS MACPHERSON

MEALS—LUNCHES AT ALL HOURS

For quick service, well-cooked meals and popular prices—go to

FOWLER'S RESTAURANT
McCallum's Old Stand - 330 George St

LADIES, CUT THIS OUT

Dr. Cristion's
FRENCH TOILET ARTICLES
Have been placed on sale with
Miss E. Smith
567 GEORGE STREET
MANICURING, SHAMPOOING
SCALP TREATMENT and FACIAL MASSAGE SKILFULLY DONE
Appointments made. Mach. Phone 13

Photography

Amateur Supplies, Cameras, Souvenir Books, Post Cards and all kinds of high-grade Photography at W. G. LENDRUM'S, 170 Charlotte St. Agent for the celebrated Heintzman & Co's Pianos.

"DON'T BURN THEM"

We will buy all kinds of Second-hand boots and shoes

JAY'S SECOND-HAND STORE
390 Aylmer Street

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

LINEN DEMONSTRATION
AND
FOUR DAYS' SALE

To choose Christmas Gifts is sometimes rather a trying and difficult piece of work, but when such a beautiful stock of Fancy Linen as we carry is shown you for the mere asking, it is a pleasure and not a trouble to choose some nice remembrance for your lady friends—Gifts that are good, yet inexpensive. Then, too, we have so many lines cut in price for the four days that you can easily save money on your anticipated purchases. Sale is on until Monday at 5.45 p.m. Shop early.

Linen Dept, Main Floor, Right

STORE HOURS 8.10 - 5.45 Cressman's 385, 387, 389 George Street

PALMISTRY

Prof. C. SHEPHERD of San Francisco, California, is visiting Peterborough for a limited time, and may be consulted at Mrs. R. King's, George Street (upstairs) Rooms, First Floor

Hall entrance next Times Office. Hours from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Appointments made. Your past, present and future about Business and Marriage correctly told. Machine Phone 7

Annual Meeting Of Mothers' Guild

Object of Work is to Help Finances of Church

The annual meeting of St. Luke's Mothers' Guild was held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. T. H. G. Denne, the president, was in the chair. The rector opened the meeting with devotional exercises. After the transaction of business a discussion arose regarding the name of the society. It was decided to change the name to "St. Luke's Ladies' Aid Society." The object of its work is to help the finances of the church by taking in sewing and giving entertainments. The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. R. B. Rogers.
Vice-president—Mrs. E. C. Hubbs.
Secretary—Mrs. W. Gibbs.
Treasurer—Mrs. T. H. G. Denne
Visiting Committee — Mesdames Hubbs, Waterman, Strain and Denne.

A substantial sum was donated to the finances of St. Luke's church.

The next meeting will be held at the call of the president in January.

Xmas Crackers, Xmas Table decorations, Xmas Bells, see window display.
R. A. Dutton.

Given Banquet By His Friends

Mr. George Pope, of Lindsay, Returning to Peterborough to Reside

Mr. George Pope, who has been employed in the Sylvester Works, Lindsay, was banqueted by his associates in that town on Monday night, at the home of Mr. J. Meehan. He was presented with a handsome case pipe. Mr. Pope is returning to Peterborough to reside. He is a son of Mr. Wm. Pope, 25 Pearl avenue.

PROBABILITIES

Fresh south-west and south winds; Fine and a little milder. Friday, fresh southerly winds; fine and milder.

MEETINGS OF RATEPAYERS

North Monaghan Residents Will Discuss Municipal Matters

A public meeting of the ratepayers of North Monaghan will be held in May's school house, on Tuesday evening, November 10th, for the purpose of discussing municipal matters and selecting candidates for 1908. As the date for the municipal elections draws near, considerable interest is being taken in public affairs throughout the township and it is expected that there will be a large attendance at the public meeting called.

Statement of City's Finances

Will be Presented at Meeting of City Council Monday Night

A meeting of the legal committee of the city council will be held this afternoon, and a meeting of the finance committee to-night. These are preparatory to the council meeting on Monday night, when several important matters will come up, including the isolation hospital, garbage by-law, and one or two other important questions.

City Treasurer Adams will have a statement of the city's finances up to the end of November for the meeting on Monday night, and it will be awaited with considerable interest.

PIANO, HARMONY, Etc

ALFRED DAVIES

Teacher of Piano, Harmony, etc. Pupils prepared for all examinations. 106 McDonnel St., Bell Tel. 463, P.O. Box 592 3m

GET READY!

Summer has gone by and winter is at hand. Are you settled in a house of your own, where you can stay and not be forced out in the cold? If not, take warning, and buy one of our Cheap New Houses and be at home, or buy one of our Modern Houses at $2,100 and up. We also have first-class large houses from $3,000 up

Companies Good as the Best in all lines of Insurance but Life. Rates moderate.

R. G. Ivey, Special Agent.
386 George St. Phone 2 Bell W. MIGHT

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | MONDAY DECEMBER 4

ERNEST SHIPMAN Presents

MISS BIANCA WEST and Company in the Evergreen Play of Knighthood Days

"DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON HALL"

By Charles Major and Paul Kester

Prices, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c; few at $1.00 Plan Opens Friday Morning

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, SATURDAY DECEMBER 7

MATINEE AND NIGHT

Frank L. Whittier's Second Edition, Great Big Laughing Hit of the Season

"A Dutchman's Honeymoon"

A Musical Melange in three acts. Bigger, Brighter, Better than ever. See—The Funny Dutchman, the Irish Policeman, the Pretty Girls, the Clever Dancers. 6 All New Specialties

Prices—15c, 25c, 35c, and 50c. Matinee 15c and 25c

THE CRYSTAL

OPEN EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING

Excelsior of Strength
Illustrated Song
"MADGE AND I"

Complete Change of Programme Mon., Wed., Fri.

ADMISSION - - ONLY 5 CENTS

Medical

E. V. FREDERICK, M.B., Tor.
M.R.C.S., Eng.; L.R.C.P., Lond. Lic. Univ. o New York.
Removed to No. 492 George St., formerly office of Dr. McPaul
Private nursing home for surgical es.

DR. G. STEWART CAMERON
Office and Residence
No. 273 Charlotte St. 'Phone 128

DR. G. C. LEACH
Late House Surgeon of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio; also of Cook County Hospital, Chicago
OFFICE—234 Hunter St., formerly occupied by Dr. Coughlin Phone Bell 219.
Special Attention to Diseases of Women

DR. JAS. V. GALLIVAN
Office 215 Simcoe St. Late of St. John's Hospital New York. Lic. University of New York.
Telephone 669.

Osteopathy

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY
Osteopathic Physician
Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Water Street entrance.
Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. Evenings by appointment. Consultation free.

Dental

W. C. GOWAN
DENTAL SURGEON
Graduate Chicago College of Dental Surgery
Office: 168 BROCK ST. Phone 36 B

Legal

R. E. WOOD
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Etc. Office removed from Bank of Commerce Building to 435 George street, recently occupied by E. B. Edwards. MONEY TO LOAN

W. H. MOORE
BARRISTER SOLICITOR, in the Supreme Court etc. Office—Hunter street, first stairs west of Post Office.

HALL & HAYES
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS and NOTARIES PUBLIC, Hunter Street, Peterborough, next to English Church. MONEY TO LOAN at the lowest rates of interest.
E. H. D. HALL. LOUIS M. HAYES

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON
(Successors to Stratton & Hall)
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., Peterborough Ont. Office—Corner of Hunter and Water Sts. over Bank of Commerce.
E. H. D. HALL, M.P. G. T. MEDD. W. S. DAVIDSON

EDMISON & DIXON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc. Office in Clarkson's Block, corner of Hunter and George streets, over Dickson's store.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc
415 Water Street, Peterborough.
R.A. PECK F. D. KERR. R. M. DENNISTOUN

Money

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASY TERMS
O'CONNELL & GORDON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS NOTARIES, Etc
Canadian and United States Patent Attorneys
134 Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office.
DANIEL O'CONNELL. GEORGE N. GORDON

ROGER, BENNET & GOODWILL
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., 37 Water St. Peterborough. Telephone No. 191.
Money at Current Rates
Upon Easy Terms.
G. M. ROGER. J. W. BENNET. E. L. GOODWILL

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

PAID UP CAPITAL $1,000,000.00
RESERVE FUND 580,000.00

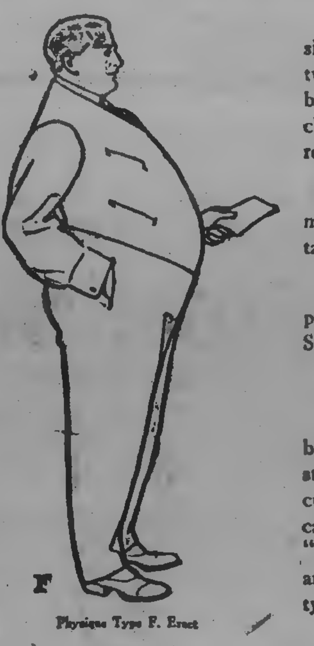
SAVINGS
An Account may be opened at any time with a Deposit of One Dollar.
3½% Interest allowed on daily balances.

DEBENTURE DEPT.
Four Per Cent. paid half yearly on sums of $100.00 and upwards.

MONEY TO LOAN
at current rates of interest.

W. G. MORROW,
Manager

Children's Aid Society
FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.
Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898 Information required. Informants name kept strictly private.
CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION
Office Hours—11.00 to 12.00 a.m.
OFFICE—DIVISION COURT BLDG
GEO. COCHRANE,
Agent and Asst Sec



Physique Type F. Erect

Do not think because you are a six-footer or because you have passed two-hundred-pound mark that you cannot be correctly fitted, and your suit of clothes finished to measure in the "Semi-ready" Store.

Ask to see the Type F. Suits for medium stout men, or the Type G. for tall stout men.

If you are tall and slim then you will pass by the stouter type of Semi-ready Suit and Ask to see the Type C. Suit.

There is a perfect fit for men of all builds in garments that are as smart in style and of better finish than more costly custom tailor suits. No custom tailor can hire the expert tailors who make the "Semi-ready" garments, and who fashion and finish them on the scientific physique type system.

Semi-ready Tailoring

Cressman's AGENT PETERBORO'

The Meat Inspection Act Criticized in the Commons

Member For West Kent Scores Hon. Sydney Fisher.

Ridiculous, Unnecessary and Unjust Says Mr. Clements — Rules Ruin the Hog Industry—Mr. Hyman's Resignation Again—G. T. P. Construction—Bank Negotiations Confidential—Ross Rifles Ordered.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—Yesterday's proceedings in the Commons opened with answers to a budget of queries by members.

Replying to a question by Mr. Foster, the Minister of Railways said that between Winnipeg and Edmonton 800 miles of the Grand Trunk Pacific are under construction; west of Edmonton, none; east of Winnipeg, 860 miles. The estimated cost of grading, track-laying and ballasting, including cost of ties and rails on the portions under contract between Winnipeg and Edmonton is $18,400,000; between Edmonton and the coast, $60,700,000; between Winnipeg and Moncton, $41,946,258, these amounts including the cost of engineering and contingencies. The estimated mileages from Moncton to Winnipeg, Winnipeg to Edmonton, and Edmonton to the coast were, respectively, 1,807, 800 and 940 miles.

Mr. Foster also asked about Mr. Hyman's resignation and salary as Minister of Public Works.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that Mr. Hyman left active control of the Public Works Department on Dec. 4, 1906, the date of his first resignation being Nov. 19, 1906. He had declined to accept Mr. Hyman's resignation, urging him to continue in office.

On returning to Ottawa about July 22, Sir Wilfrid found that His Excellency the Governor-General was in the Maritime Provinces. As soon as possible, however, the matter was laid before him, and on Aug. 29, 1907, Mr. Hyman's connection with the Public Works ceased, his successor being sworn in on that day. Mr. Hyman's salary was paid up to the last-mentioned date.

Fielding and the Banks.

Replying to a question by Mr. Foster, the Minister of Finance said that his negotiations with the banks as to arrangements to provide funds for the removal of the wheat from the west were confidential, and it would not be well to make them public at the present time. Later on he hoped to be able to make a statement on the matter.

Replying to Mr. Borden, the Finance Minister said that the increased subsidies to the province, with the exception of that to Alberta, had been paid. There was a question as to the proper interpretation of the act in the case of Alberta, which, if it had not been settled in the last few hours, would be settled very shortly.

Sir Frederick Borden informed the Hon. Col. Worthington that there were no negotiations between the Government and the Vickers-Maxim Co., or any other concern looking to the transfer or other disposition of the Ross Rifle Co.'s contract with the Government to the Vickers-Maxim Co. or any other firm.

Mr. Macdonell of Toronto read a telegram from Mayor Coatsworth, saying that 300 destitute Bulgarian immigrants were stranded in the city. The municipal authorities were caring for them, and urging that the matter be brought to the attention of the Minister of the Interior. Mr. Oliver promised to make enquiries.

Complained of Ottawa Service.

George Taylor drew the attention of the Minister of Railways to the inconvenience caused to the traveling public by the failure of Grand Trunk and C. P. R. trains to make connections at Brockville for passengers to and from Ottawa. Dr. Reid made a similar complaint as regards connections at Prescott. Messrs. Henderson and Bennett also pointed out inconveniences of a like character in other parts of Ontario, and Mr. Morin made complaint of the failure of the Intercolonial to afford connection in Quebec with the Quebec Central Railway.

Mr. Graham, Minister of Railways, promised to see that the Brockville case was brought before the Board of Railway Commissioners.

A question by Mr. Foster elicited the information that the Department of Militia has ordered to date 52,000 Ross rifles, of which 32,000 have been delivered. The sum of $1,173,654 has been paid to the company and $972,520 is still due. For 450 sub-targets the Department has paid $112,349.

Mr. Fisher informed Mr. Clements that under the new Meats and Canned Goods Act there are employed 51 veterinary and 22 lay inspectors.

Mr. Paquet was informed that during the past two years 964 immigrants were refused admittance to Canada, and 338 were deported. Between Jan. 1, 1906, and Oct. 1 of this year, 61,676 children under 12 years of age were admitted to Canada as immigrants.

Arch. Campbell's Hard Luck.

Mr. Clements of Kent, resuming the debate on the address, raised a laugh by remarking upon the hard luck of Archie Campbell, who instead of being taken into the Cabinet was sent over among the grey-haired old fellows in the Senate. In this connection Mr. Clements expressed the opinion that an elective Senate would be more popular in the country than the institution as at present constituted. After referring with regret to the evidences of decreased prosperity, Mr. Clements dealt with the Minister of Agriculture and his hostile reception by the farmers of Chatham, because of the unpopularity of the meat inspection regulations which he criticized at length and described as ridiculous, unnecessary, and unjust. He made a strong plea for encouragement of the tobacco growing industry, also for an efficient cold storage service and rural postal delivery.

Encountered Bitter Feeling.

Mr. Fisher, in reply, admitted that in Chatham he encountered a bitter feeling against the meat inspection regulations, which, however, he defended as both necessary and advantageous.

Mr. Fisher disapproved of the rural free delivery scheme, to the evident dissatisfaction of his follower, Mr. McIntyre of South Perth.

E. Norman Lewis moved the adjournment of the debate.

LEMIEUX BANQUETTED.

Receives Assurances That Jap Emigration Will Be Controlled.

Tokio, Dec. 5.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Canadian Minister of Labor, was tendered a banquet Tuesday night by the municipality. Among those present were: Sir Claude M. Macdonald, the British ambassador; Viscount Hayashi, the Japanese Foreign Minister; Baron Chinda and Messrs. Verret and Preston.

Mr. Shibusawa presided and toasted Mr. Lemieux, who responded, expressing the firm belief that all differences would be amicably settled.

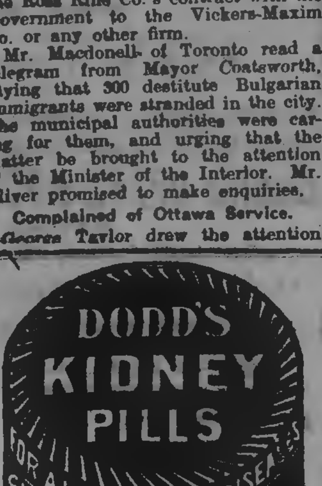
In an interview Viscount Hayashi stated that the Government was anxious to avoid any sacrifice of Japanese treaty rights with Canada or the United States, but that it could and would control emigration to both countries.

Kow Pleads Guilty.

Cobourg, Dec. 5.—Thomas Kow, charged with setting fire to Mr. William Harcourt's barn and a stack of straw belonging to Mr. Charles Lyall, near Wesleyville, pleaded guilty and was committed for trial.

Captured the Harems.

Tangier, Dec. 5.—Mountain tribes have captured a large caravan consisting of the harems of the Ministers of Abd-el-Aziz, the Sultan, on the road to Rabat.



ASSASSIN WAS FOILED

Unsuccessful Attempt to Kill Governor-General of Moscow.

Woman Hurled Bomb at Carriage—General Escaped But Horses Were Blown to Atoms—Coachman Also Hurt—Would-Be Murderer Terribly Mutilated—In Dying Condition—Terrorist Plot Discovered.

Moscow, Dec. 5.—An unsuccessful attempt was made in this city yesterday upon the life of Lieut.-Gen. Guerschelmann, Governor-General of Moscow. He escaped death only by a narrow margin. A woman hurled a bomb at the general's carriage while he was driving yesterday morning in the Lefort quarter of the city. The horses were blown to pieces and the coachman was seriously wounded. The Governor-General, however, came out of the explosion untouched. The woman was so severely mutilated by her own bomb that she had to be removed to a hospital. She is in a dying condition.

Terrorists Make Plans.

Paris, Dec. 5.—A Geneva despatch received here states that the police have discovered a Russian Terrorist plot to assassinate the Emperor, blow up the Imperial Palace and the Douma, and pillage the Imperial Bank of Russia. One arrest has been made in connection with the alleged plot.

MAYOR BURCHELL ARRESTED.

Alleged Shortage While Superintendent of Company's Stores.

Glace Bay, N. S., Dec. 5.—Last night Mayor Burchell was arrested at the instance of the Dominion Coal Co. The mayor at the time was walking up the street on his way to the Clan Macdonald banquet, at which he was the guest of honor. He was taken to Sydney. Bail was fixed at the sum of $10,000.

Burchell is now out on bail, preliminary to a hearing Tuesday next. Several years ago, when the Dominion Coal Co. took charge of the Cape Breton mines, Mr. Burchell was appointed superintendent of stores and held this position 13 years, at the end of which time the company dispensed with his services.

At that time there was talk concerning an alleged heavy shortage in his department. Talk on the matter died away, but was occasionally revived. Rumors have of late been rife once more in connection with the case, but the denouement came with startling quickness. As to the amount of the shortage alleged against Mr. Burchell there is a wide divergence given. It is variously stated from about $10,000 upwards to $150,000.

EXPLOSION AT GALT.

Three Men Burned by Tongue of Flame—A Long Fall.

Galt, Dec. 5.—There was an explosion yesterday afternoon in the cellar of the Malleable Iron Works, caused by sewer gas, when two foreign workmen went into the cellar and lit a match. There was a terrific noise and an outburst of flame 20 feet high. Both men were burned. Thomas Stockford, outside, was caught by the flame and also severely scorched.

Robert Veitch, while walking along a pit at the lime kiln, fell a distance of 60 feet. He lit on his side and escaped with injuries to the head and three ribs broken.

Elephant Killed His Mate.

Atlanta, Dec. 5.—In a quarrel over a bale of hay at Bostock's arena Roger, the 20-year-old male elephant, killed Lil, his female companion, and was himself badly injured. The trainer had put the hay between them instead of following the custom of giving each one a separate bale. After the fight Roger for a time stood over his fallen companion trumpeting fiercely, but as soon as he realized that Lil was dead his anger seemed to turn to grief, which he expressed by dismal wailing.

King Oscar Ill.

Stockholm, Dec. 5.—The health of King Oscar again is unsatisfactory and on the advice of physicians His Majesty has handed over the reins of government to Crown Prince Gustave, who was formally appointed regent yesterday.

A bulletin issued says that the King is suffering from catarrh of the bladder and protracted insomnia. His heart and kidneys are seriously affected.

Immigration Merger.

Tokio, Dec. 5.—At a convention of the immigration companies held yesterday it was resolved to consolidate into one large company. Minister Hayashi told the convention that steps must be taken fully to regulate emigration.

It was also resolved to enlarge the bureau of emigration.

Runaway Balloon Lands.

Belfast, Dec. 5.—An airship believed to be La Patrie descended on a farm near Ballysallagh, County Down. The machinery of the car was wrecked.

The French Minister of War has investigated the loss of the military balloon La Patrie and finds that no one was responsible.

Boiler Exploded.

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 5.—One life lost and scores of others endangered was the result of a boiler explosion here yesterday at the German Home for the Aged. There was no water in the boiler.

Mid-Air Excursions.

Berlin, Dec. 5.—A new aeronautical society has been founded here for the purpose of arranging pleasure trips in the air both by steerable and spherical balloons.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

A HEALTHY OLD AGE

OFTEN THE BEST PART OF LIFE

Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life.

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs. M. J. Dabbruzz

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary J. Dabbruz, of 150 Main Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a blessing to me through that delicate period known as the change of life. For six years it disturbed my entire system. I had hot flushes, was extremely nervous, became pale and debilitated, very irregular in the monthly flow, and the blood all seemed to be in my head. I had frequent palpitation and throbbing of the heart; in fact, my whole system seemed to be in disorder.

"I received no relief from the suffering incident to this period until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; but I date my relief from the time I took the first bottle. I gradually improved, nature took her course painlessly, and in due time I was a well woman."

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock—The Latest Quotations.

Wednesday Evening, Dec 4.

Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day ½d to 1d up. Corn, ¼d to ¾d up.

At Chicago, December wheat closed 1c lower; Dec. corn ⅛c lower, and Dec. oats ⅛c higher.

Winnipeg Options.

Following are the closing quotations on Winnipeg grain futures to-day:

Wheat—Dec. $1.09⅛ bid, May $1.09⅜ bid.
Oats—Dec. 47c bid, May 53⅞c bid.

Toronto Grain Market.

Grain—
Wheat, spring, bush	$0 95	to $....
Wheat, fall, bush	1 00	1 02
Wheat, goose, bush	0 88	....
Wheat, red, bush	1 00	..
Rye, bush	0 83	0 85
Peas, bush	0 88	....
Buckwheat, bush	0 65	0 68
Barley, bush	0 70	....
Oats, bush	0 52	0 53

Toronto Dairy Market.

Butter, dairy, lb. rolls	0 27	0 28
Butter, tubs	0 26	0 27
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 30	0 32
Butter, creamery, boxes	0 29	0 30
Eggs, new-laid, dozen	0 30	....
Eggs, cold-storage, dozen	0 22	....
Cheese, large, lb	0 13½	....
Cheese, twin, lb	0 13¾	....
Honey, extracted, lb	0 13	0 13½

Liverpool Grain and Produce.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 4.—Closing—Wheat, spot, dull; No. 2 red western, winter, 7s 9d; futures, quiet; Dec., 7s 9¼d; March, 8s ½d; May, 7s 11⅛d. Corn, spot, quiet; prime mixed American, 5s 6½d; futures, steady; Dec., 5s 5¾d; Jan., 5s 3½d. Bacon, Cumberland cut, dull, 51s 6d; long clear middles, light, steady, 55s; long clear middles, heavy, steady, 54s; short clear backs, quiet, 49s 6d; clear bellies, quiet, 52s. Shoulders, square, 11 to 13 lbs., quiet, 34s. Lard, prime western, in tierces, steady, 48s 3d; American refined, in pails, steady, 44s 3d. Tallow, prime city, dull, 29s 6d.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—Hogs Lower at Chicago—Higher at Buffalo.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—London cables are firmer at 12c to 12¾c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c per pound.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Dec 4.—Cattle, fair demand and firm; prices unchanged; Veals, receipts, 250 head; active and 25c higher, $5 to $9.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 4300 head; active and 5c to 10c higher; heavy, mixed yorkers and pigs, $5.50 to $5.60; roughs, $4.75 to $5; stags, $3.50 to $4; dairies, $5.50 to $5.60.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 7000 head; sheep, slow and steady; lambs, active and 15c higher; lambs, $5 to $6.60; ewes, $4.75 to $5.00; Canada lambs, $6.25 to $6.60.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Beeves—Receipts, 2011. Steers, dull, to 10c lower; bulls, steady to easier; bologna cows, steady; medium and good cows, extremely slow; steers, $3.35 to $5.75; stockers, $2.50; oxen, $2.75 to $4.10; bulls, $2.50 to $4; cows, $1.40 to $3.40; exports, 1000 quarters of beef; to-morrow, 100 cattle and 5000 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 1903; veals, steady; barnyard and western calves, 25c to 50c lower; veals, $6 to $9.75; culls, $4 to $5.50; barnyard calves, $3 to $3.85; western calves, $3.87½ to $5.40.

Sheep and Lambs — Receipts, 14,077; sheep, steady; lambs, firm to 15c higher; sheep, $3 to $5; few choice, $5.25; culls, $2 to $2.50; lambs, $5.50 to $7; culls, $4 to $5.

Hogs—Receipts, 10,580; feeling, firmer; quoted at $5.65 to $5.90.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Cattle—Receipts, about 29,000; market dull; steers, $3.90 to $6.30; cows, $2.65 to $4.25; heifers, $2.50 to $5; bulls, $2.60 to $4.85; calves, $3 to $6.50; stockers and feeders, $3 to $4.25.

Hogs—Receipts, about 35,000; market, weak, to 5c off; choice heavy shipping, $5 to $5.15; light butchers', $5 to $5.17½; light mixed, $4.90 to $5.05; choice light, $5 to $5.15; packing, $4.50 to $5; pigs, $2.50 to $4.20; bulk of sales, $4.85 to $5.10.

Sheep—Receipts, estimated about 22,000; market, steady; sheep, $2 to $5; lambs, $5.25 to $6.25; yearlings, $4.25 to $5.85.

Much of the legislation to be considered this session of parliament will consist of bills left over from last session.

LADY SWINDLER CAUGHT.

Lillian Hamilton Who Robbed St. Catharines' Banker Arrested.

St. Catharines, Dec. 5.—After baffling the authorities for three weeks, Lillian Hamilton, who so easily induced Leonard H. Collard, private banker, to part with $200 upon a note, to which the name of B. C. Fairfield had been forged, is now in the county jail awaiting trial, which has been fixed for Monday next.

It seems the woman attempted to work some similar swindle upon the bank at Bridgeburg, but the scheme was detected and she was traced to Buffalo, where her arrest was made yesterday morning by Chief Mains of the provincial police force. The woman at once acknowledged the crime and returned with Chief Mains to the Falls, waiving all extradition proceedings.

Chief Parnell brought the woman from the Falls, and at 4 o'clock she was taken before Police Magistrate Comfort and elected to be tried by him. She explained that her name was formerly Warner, but that she had been brought up by the late James McKelvey of this city, and had been known as Ida McKelvey. She claims to have been married to a man named Hamilton, and says she left two small children in Buffalo when arrested. The woman asked for a few days' remand to enable her to get sufficient money to repay Collard, as she told the magistrate she thought that ought to have a tendency to reduce the sentence accordingly. She looks to be about 35 years of age, and since telling who she is, has been recognized by the officials.

MISSING EIGHT WEEKS.

Shipwrecked Timber Cruisers Return to Vancouver.

Vancouver, Dec. 5.—Three timber cruisers, whose schooner was wrecked on Calvert Island on Oct. 3, and who were unable for fifty-eight days to get away from the island, arrived at Vancouver yesterday on the steamer Venture.

The men, W. Wylder, S. Burdette and W. Campbell, all of Vancouver, sailing north in a small schooner on a timber cruising expedition, were caught by gales off Smith's Inlet, the boat's steering gear was carried away, and they drifted towards Calvert Island, where an anchor was let go but would not hold.

The schooner was driven ashore in a heavy surf, and wrecked on Oct. 3. Fortunately, it was a sandy beach, and most of the provisions, guns and ammunition were saved. Ducks, geese and deer being plentiful, the ship-wrecked party were in no danger of starvation. Finally, as no help came, a punt was made out of lumber whipsawed from the solid logs, and the seams of the craft were caulked with canvas from the torn sails of the schooner. In this roughly made craft the men put out and intercepted the American steamer Alaskan, which took them on board and carried the party down to a point near Alert Bay, where there punt was launched and they came into port here.

The strangely made craft in which they arrived is being kept as a curiosity at Alert Bay.

Gave Mate Their Skin.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—A remarkable operation was performed yesterday by Dr. Kidd. Eugene Herbert Reynolds, who was injured in the Plantaganet wreck on Sept. 11, has lain in the hospital ever since, and there has been doubt that one of the legs, from which most of the flesh and skin had been burned off, could be saved. However, it was stated by Dr. Kidd that if the skin of a healthy man could be procured and grafted Reynolds would have more than a fighting chance. Hearing of this, 14 railway men at once volunteered to help their mate, and from the arms of ten of them little pieces of skin were removed and attached to Reynolds' limb. The operation was most successful.

Young Girl Killed.

Windsor, Dec. 5.—Blanche Latourneau, the 12-year-old daughter of a farmer of that name residing a few miles east of this city, was struck by an eastbound fast train on the Grand Trunk at Tecumseh Railway crossing at noon yesterday, and instantly killed. Her body was thrown forty feet and horribly mangled and the neck broken. An inquest was held last night, and the verdict was that death was due to the girl's own negligence in not observing the approaching train.

Chinaman Hanged.

Kamloops, B. C., Dec. 5.—Sam Lock, Chinaman, was executed yesterday morning. Groaning and very nervous the aged Chinaman walked to the gallows.

Lock, who was a cook in Cariboo last April killed a countryman who had stolen his savings.

The murderer had been forty years in British Columbia.

Arrested on a Serious Charge.

Beeton, Dec. 5.—Provincial Detective Reburn made an important arrest of Robert Thomas Christian of Adjala, who is charged with having committed an assault on Margaret Ethel Clark, eight years of age, on the public highway.

Christian gave the little girl's parents $200 to not enter criminal proceedings.

Caron to Be Unopposed.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—Ottawa Conservatives in convention last night decided, in view of the near approach of the general elections, not to contest the seat rendered vacant by the appointment of N. A. Belcourt to the Senate. This means the election of Caron, the Liberal candidate, by acclamation.

Japan Likes the Speech.

Tokio, Dec. 5.—The Ashi publishes a 1,000 word special cable on President Roosevelt's message, and comments on it, expressing gratification at its general friendly tone toward Japan. It says that the naval and military program guarantees the peace of the world.

Damage of $25,000 was done by a fire on the premises of the Canadian Neckwear company, 40 Scott street, Toronto.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
RAILWAY TIME TABLE

	Arrive.	Depart
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.40 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.25 a.m 5.38 p.m
Port Hope and points east to Montreal and Boston		8.30 a.m
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago & West, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.20 a.m. 5.33 p.m.	11.45 a.m 9.05 p.m
From Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Bowmanville and Port Hope	11.15 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stouffville, Uxbridge and Markham	10.05 p.m.	7.20 a.m
Lindsay Local	8.15 a.m.	9.10 p.m
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 8.40 p.m.	8.30 a.m 1.50 p.m
Lakefield and Stony Lake	9.50 a.m. 5.15 p.m.	8.30 a.m 12.20 p.m

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

DEPART FOR EAST

Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa and Montreal...... 11:16 a.m. and 12:28 Daily ex. Sun. Daily
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock and Tweed... 7:47 p.m., Daily

DEPART FOR WEST

Toronto, London, Chicago and New York........... 5:16 a.m. Daily
Toronto & Intermediate, North Bay, Winnipeg and Northwest........... 8:00 a.m. Daily ex. Sun
Toronto, Galt, London, Detroit and Chicago... 4:48 p.m. Daily ex. Sun

CANADIAN NORTHERN ONTARIO

SHORT LINE TO MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND

WINTER TIME TABLE
In effect December 9th, 1907

NORTHBOUND

	No. 1	No. 3
TORONTO	† 9.00 am	† 5.30 pm
WASHAGO	12.48 pm	9.00 pm
PARRY SOUND	3.10 pm	....

SOUTHBOUND

	No. 2	No. 4
PARRY SOUND	† 9.00 am	†... ......
WASHAGO	11 25 am	6.45 am
TORONTO	3.00 pm	10.10 am

Observation-Dining Parlor Cars between Toronto and Parry Sound serving meals a la carte.
† Daily except Sunday.
OFFICES: All Stations, also Cor. King and Toronto and Union Station. Phone, Main 5179.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CALIFORNIA MEXICO FLORIDA

Are the favorite winter Resorts.

Round trip tickets are issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System giving choice of all the best routes, going one way and returning another.

Full information may be obtained from
W. BUNTON,
City Passenger Agent
F. SANDY,
Depot Ticket
Or write Mr J. D. McDonald, D.P.A., Union Depot, Toronto

CANADIAN PACIFIC

WINTER FAIR
GUELPH
DEC. 9 TO 13, 1907
Return Tickets at
SINGLE FARE
FROM ALL STATIONS
Good going Dec. 7 to 12 Inclusive
Returning until and on Dec. 16
Children under twelve half fare
Tickets and all information from
W. McILROY,
Canadian Pacific Agent,
343 George St., Peterboro
Or write C. B. FOSTER, D.P.A. Toronto.

Private Greeting Cards

THE highly colored and lithographed Christmas Card in vogue a few years ago has passed away entirely.

IN place has come the much more appropriate Personal Greeting Card.

OF these the Review Office is showing a great many original designs.

YOUR order should be given immediately, while the selection is so complete.

SHOULD you desire a Card specially designed to your order, promptness is absolutely necessary.

The Review
HUNTER STREET
PETERBOROUGH

A Story of Absorbing Interest

The Rogue's March

By E. W. HORNUNG, author of "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," "Stingaree," etc.

It was a perilously clear night. A white moon grizzled the peeling bark of a small forest of red gums, and the famous constellation burned but feebly in the south. Tom kept his eye on it, however, and, bearing slightly to his left, struck the creek at last, out of earshot of the squatter's hut. Here he paused to cool his feet in the delicious running water. His plan was to cross the creek and then reconnoiter the enemy's position from the rear. And so well did it work out that Tom skipped behind a friendly trunk just as the thieves succeeded in making Jarman hear, who now appeared with his black gin in the mouth of the wigwam.

New saddles? What in thunder was the use of new saddles, or old ones either, to him? Where was he to stow them in the meanwhile? Did they want him to be landed with the swag on his hands and lagged all over again to oblige a pair of lubbers like them? And here Tom felt that a door would have slammed had there been one. As it was, the outraged Jarman came to a pause for want of breath, and Macbeth got in his word at last.

Tom could not hear it, but it seemed to make a difference. It made the very plainest difference in the squatter's tone.

"What? What's that? I don't believe it!" cried Jarman in one breath. "Take your oaths to it, will you? Well, if it's a fact, it'll bear thinking about. Said all that, did he? And you think he won't go and round on us after all? Well, then, come inside, and we'll talk it over. In you go, missus, and light up."

Tom took a peep as the men followed the black woman into the hovel. They had left the saddles outside, but to snatch them now was impossible. The sacking that did duty for a door had been drawn aside and hitched to a nail. On the lighting of a candle stuck in a bottle within some eager face was revealed to Tom whenever he dared to look from behind his tree. Even if he were not seen he would be heard. Besides, the party might break up at any moment.

So he stood where he was and listened to the voices, but ceased straining after the words. Then a cork popped, the voices were raised in a minute; in less than ten he must hear every syllable whether he would or no. But he would, for his own name was on their lips, coupled with hideous imprecations and the name of Mr. Nat.

"You savvy?" said the Scotchman's mate, a young convict known as Brummy. "He wants to get the bloke his fifty if not his spell in the crawlers too."

"An' sairves him richt!" cried Macbeth with an oath. "Didna he squeak and get me my fifty for yon screw hammer? Man, but he'll be squeakin' fine the noo!"

"You've only to say Erichsen brought 'em," added Brummy, "and you were too drunk to see what they were or you'd never have taken them in."

"He'll know different."

"Aye, but he's going to pretend," explained the Scot, "an' you've just to do the same."

"Then I'm to lug them back myself, am I?"

"First thing in the morning, and the cove'll tip you the stumpy himself."

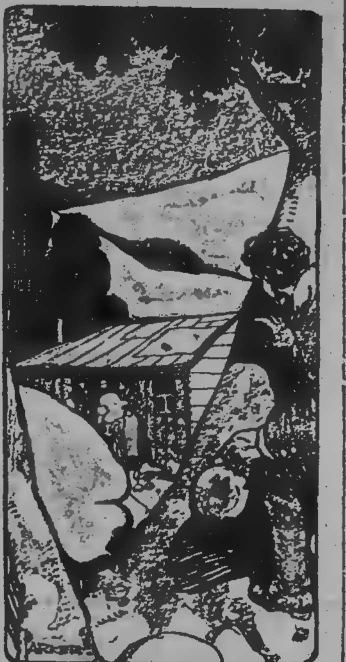
"The young cove?"

"Yes."

"Dinna we keep tellin' ye it's Nat's idee? He thairsts for that man's blood as much as I do mysel'. An' I'd slit's juggler if I got the chance."

The villains went on talking for another hour. But the foul truth clogged Tom's mind, and he took in but little more of what he heard.

So it was not a theft, but a conspiracy, and the arch conspirator was the beast that Tom had cared for in his cups, the petty tyrant whose property he was even now risking his life to rescue from his own confederates! Tom ground his teeth. He would rescue it still. And not only Macbeth and Brummy, but Mr. Nat himself should see the saddles on their pegs in the morning.



Tom took a peep as the men followed the black woman into the hovel.

The villains went on drinking as they talked. Another cork popped, yet the moon was still high in the lucid heavens when the two convicts staggered off. Jarman at once put out his light, and in a little all was still but the leaves, the locusts and the tiny tributary of the Hunter in which Tom had laved his feet.

He came from behind his tree. The saddles were still outside.

He stole near; nearer yet; near enough to hear Jarman and his gin already breathing heavily in their sleep.

But they might not be sleeping heavily, and what if they awoke? The stirrup irons might ring together. Tom knelt down and crossed the leathers over the top of each saddle. The new pigskin might creak, for all the oil it had absorbed; in fact, it did as Tom lifted the saddles, and he stood there with one on each arm ready to fling them down and to fight for them still. But nothing happened. So he crept away.

This time he crossed the creek without dallying and only halted within a few hundred yards of the farm buildings. Here he sat on a stump, mopped his forehead and wondered whether he should take the trouble to elude the night watchman a second time, and as he sat the moon twinkled in the four stirrup irons, which shone like silver, they were so beautifully clean, and as he was admiring them it suddenly came home to Tom the groom that he had cleaned those stirrup irons himself.

Yes, in spite of all, he had taken a sort of involuntary pride in his work. And that was another thing for which his fellow convicts had cursed and hated him. But tonight he scorned and cursed himself for it, with twice their bitterness, and an oath broke into a sob as he caught up the saddles and started to his feet.

In a word, the sight of his own honest handiwork so cruelly thrown away drew blood from a heart that had remained adamant under studied provocation and cool but a minute since in the face of monstrous treachery. To have done a hand's turn for such wretches! That was the intolerant thought. It awoke the restless rebel that had slept so long in this tortured bosom. Not another stroke of willing work would he do. He would be as his fellows from that moment, only, beginning there and then, he would condescend to hide and dodge no more. So the groom marched boldly upon the gate across which Mr. Nat had pointed with his whip to the lights of Castle Sullivan and would have slammed the gate behind him but for one circumstance. Mr. Nat was leaning against it now.

Nor was he alone. The girl O'Brien was at his side. Tom was upon them before he could check his steps, but he did not try. He strode up to his enemy and stood before him without a word, but with a saddle speaking for itself on either arm.

"Well—well?" cried Mr. Nat. "What are you doing out of your room? And what — what — what have you got there?"

"The new saddles."

"So I see. My saddles. What have you been doing with them? Where did you find them, eh?"

The tone was loud and blustering, but uncertain and surprised. In the moonlight Tom looked his enemy coolly and steadily in the face, and the girl drew away from her companion and gazed at Tom, who never so much as glanced at her as he replied:

"They were stolen. Thieves broke into the saddle room and stole your saddles. I heard them and followed them, but I never saw their faces close to and I wouldn't swear to a voice. I followed them to Jarman's hut, and, you see, I've brought you your saddles back."

Mr. Nat never said a word. His blue eyes glared fixedly at Tom out of a white face, from which the girl O'Brien edged farther and farther away.

"No; I can't tell you who the men were," continued Tom, "but I can tell you who put them up to it. It was not a convict, Mr. Sullivan, but a meaner hound than any convict on your farm. One who has a special spite against me—the Lord knows why! So he bribed these men to take the saddles simply in order to get me into trouble. What do you think of that? I overheard all about it out at Jarman's hut. I heard his name too. Would you like to know what it is?"

"Sure it's himself—the dhirty divil!"

And Peggy O'Brien was at Tom's side, with one hand clutching his arm and the other pointing scornfully at the baleful blue eye and the vile, quivering lips of the younger Sullivan.

What followed was the affair of a moment. It was as if a mad bull had made a rush, though whether at the girl or Tom or both it was impossible to say. Tom thought the first, dropped the saddles, and his right arm flew out from the shoulder. A sharp smack, a heavy thud, and Nat Sullivan lay in a heap on the ground, with a livid mark between the ear and the eye that lay upturned to the moon.

"Ye've kilt'm! Ye've kilt'm!" cried the girl, clinging in terror to Tom's arm.

"I hope I have," he answered. "It will be a good thing done for all concerned."

"Whisht! They'll be afther hearin' ye. Look behind!"

Even as he turned the gate swung open, and there was Dr. Sullivan himself, with his frogged coat flying and his night shirt flapping outside his nankeen breeches. The watchman Roberts was at his master's naked heels, closely followed by Ginger, the overseer, in similar dishabille. These two seized Tom, who showed no semblance of resistance, while the doctor knelt over the fallen man and felt his heart.

"Only stunned," said he, looking up. "But you shall smart for this, you miscreant, if you don't hang yet! The very man he warned me against—the very man whose part I took against him! What have you to say for yourself, you ruffian, before I have you put in irons and locked up?"

"You saw the blow, Dr. Sullivan?"

"You dare to ask me? With my own eyes, you villain!"

"Then you also saw the cause."

"Cause? What cause? As if there could be any!"

"He would have struck a woman if I hadn't struck him first."

"It's a lie," said a hollow voice from the ground. And a bloodthirsty eye covered Tom.

"Ha, my boy! Thank God, you are no worse. But sit still and leave this dog to me. A woman, do you say? An impudent slut who's at the bottom of the whole mischief and shall go back to government tomorrow! Be off, you hussy! Be off to your bed before I have you taken there by force!"

Peggy glared at Tom and only went at his nod. The tacit interchange brought Nat to a sitting posture with doubled fists.

"I was ordering her there myself," he vowed. "I had found her prowling about."

"A brazen baggage!" cried Dr. Sullivan. "Not another female will I ever apply for. They are ten times worse than the men. So you thought he was going to strike her, did you? Anything else, I wonder?"

"Nothing that you will believe, but he was at the bottom of a plot to get me flogged for nothing. He had bribed two of the men to steal those saddles that you see and put it on me, but I followed them and had got your property back when at the gate here"—

"I'll stop his lies!" said Nat and staggered to his feet, but the doctor pinned him by the arm.

"You will not! You will leave him to me," said the father sternly. He was the stronger man. The son stood quelled. "We know they're lies," the doctor added. "All convicts are liars. Have any two men been out of the huts tonight, Roberts?"

"Not one, sir—out of the huts. I can swear to that. How this one escaped me"—

"It makes no matter," said Dr. Sullivan, gripping his son's arm still. "The saddles are not the point. I saw the blow and shall inquire into nothing else. The blow, you ruffian, you shall answer for tomorrow before the nearest magistrate. Now take him away. Clap him in the heaviest irons we've got. Come, make haste! Let me see him in front of me!"

So Tom was led off, unresisting still, but scornfully silent now, between watchman and overseer, and the father stalked and the son slouched behind.

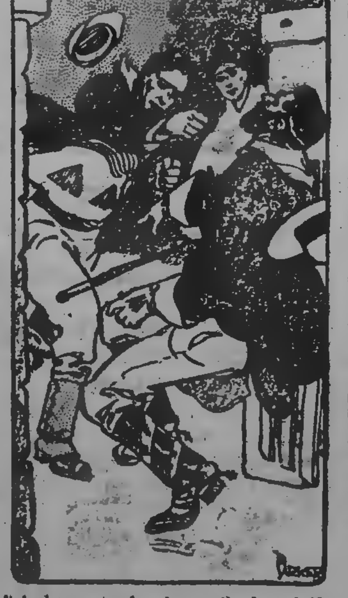
CHAPTER XVIII.

The nearest magistrate was an Anglo-Indian of the name of Strachan, another employer of convict labor on a large scale and a disciplinarian second only to Dr. Sullivan himself. The two were close friends and indispensable to each other in certain ways. Both, in fact, were magistrates, but no magistrate was competent to deal judicially with his own offending convicts, and thus an interchange of mutual favors was kept up between the pair.

They would meet on Mondays at the courthouse situated midway between their respective strongholds, and at this courthouse Dr. Sullivan would oblige Mr. Strachan by sentencing any servant of the latter to as many lashes as his master liked, while Mr. Strachan was only too glad to do the same for Dr. Sullivan. So great was the mutual convenience that either potentate was delighted to hold a special inquiry in any exceptional case to oblige the other, and one was held accordingly in the forenoon following Tom's assault upon his master's son.

A mounted messenger was dispatched to Mr. Strachan, who sent back word that he would be at the courthouse as soon after 12 o'clock as possible. And he arrived within a few minutes of Dr. Sullivan, his red bearded overseer and the culprit, who had spent the night in heavy irons, which he still wore.

The doctor led his brother magistrate aside, and Tom, raising his lackluster eyes for once, watched them walking arm in arm in the sunlight for several minutes before entering the courthouse. Ginger stood by and told the constables the kind of man Tom was. Tom heard him without a word or a look. The constables agreed that, whatever else he was, he was evidently a sulky brute. Tom heard them, too, but sat doggedly in the strong sunlight, with sullen eyes upon the two magistrates, whom he instinctively knew to be deciding his fate before the case began. Not a word had he spoken since the irons had been clamped upon his limbs and clasped about his soul.



"A sharp smack, a heavy thud, and Nat Sullivan lay in a heap.

Not a word did he speak in the justice room within. His attention, however, was engaged at the outset by the extremely moderate tone in which the charge was preferred against him. Dr. Sullivan, put on his oath, gave a perfectly true account of what he had himself seen and heard in the small hours of that morning. He even admitted, in response to a question from the bench, his impression that his son was the first to raise a hand and added of his own accord a hope that that circumstance would be taken into due consideration on his servant's behalf.

Tom could hardly believe his ears. He was still lost in wonder at this extraordinary intercession on the part of Dr. Sullivan, of all men, when Mr. Strachan addressed him in a tone no less clement and benign.

"You are charged," said he, "with a very grave offense, which you do not attempt to deny. In the ordinary course I should feel compelled to commit you to another court, and your lightest punishment would be a term in the chain gang, even if you were not sent straight away to Norfolk Island. It is your good fortune, however, to have been assigned to a humane and merciful master, who has spoken for you as I am bound to say I should not have done in his place. He has magnanimously made the most of the one slender point that might be urged in your favor. He has begged me to deal with you here and now. He is generously anxious to give you another chance, of which, for your own good, I would exhort you to take grateful advantage. Meanwhile you have not me to thank, but Dr. Sullivan entirely, for the ridiculously inadequate punishment which I am about to order you. You will be taken into the yard, and you will receive fifty lashes with the cat o' nine tails."

At these words Tom turned very white and opened his lips as if to speak, but shut them tight without a syllable. His dogged eyes gleamed, his handcuffs rattled and his leg irons clanked together as the constables took him by either arm and led him without a murmur from the room.

"Did I say too much?" asked Mr. Strachan, biting at a cheroot, when the magistrates were left alone.

"Not one word," replied the doctor cordially. "I am infinitely obliged to you for saying what you did—for the constables' benefit particularly. They seemed to see nothing wrong."

Mr. Strachan shook his head.

"It was distinctly irregular, doctor. A clearer case for quarter sessions I have never heard."

"Perhaps not; but then I should have lost a most competent groom, and now, thanks to you, I shall keep him."

"Are you sure he will be worth keeping after this?" asked the Anglo-Indian, sucking at his cheroot, which was but a shade darker than his withered face.

"Worth keeping? He will be better worth it than before. It does them good."

"That is not my invariable experience," said Mr. Strachan, shaking his head again.

"But it is mine," cried the doctor. "They are never any good until they feel your power. They never feel your power until they have first felt the lash." And he emphasized the sentiment by giving the table a cut with his cane.

"I have not always found it so," maintained the other. "In your place I should have let that man go to quarter sessions. There are the makings of a desperate criminal in him or I'm much mistaken."

Dr. Sullivan flushed and brightened beneath his white hairs, like a man on his mettle. "Desperate criminal?" be repeated eagerly. "He's one already, my dear sir, and all the better! We'll see what we can do to tame him. We'll see what we can do to break his spirit! You know what my son says, Strachan? He never was bested by a convict yet. It would never do for him to remain bested by this one, and that's another reason why he mustn't slip through our fingers just yet. No; we shall show him who are his masters. We shall bend or break his spirit as I bend"—

He sprang up, with his bamboo cane, and rushed to the door, as a sudden outcry arose in the yard. At the door, however, even Dr. Sullivan paused aghast.

"Strachan! Strachan!" he cried. "Good heavens! You were right! Look here!"

To be continued.

At Guysboro, N.S., Bernard Clinton remanded to jail for trial in the supreme court on a charge of sheep stealing, committed suicide, by taking carbonic acid.

Dr. Ellbrecht, the Danish dairy expert who visited Canada last year, is telling Danish dairymen that they are in danger of competition from Canada as the quality of Canadian butter is steadily improving and it will soon be possible to land it in England within eight days after it is made.

FOR PASSEPARTOUT WORK

The fad for passepartout pictures is again growing a favorite for pretty pictures and are always appreciated. One can always find room for a couple more on the walls and every one has their favorite subject, some like scenery, others historical subjects, many like kittens and one boy in the city has the walls of his bedroom fairly covered with pictures of dogs—small and large. When mounted on a suitable background and passepartouted they are very pretty and inexpensive to make up. The Review has a large stock of pictures in sepia and colors, mounting papers and passepartout to match. Call and see them at the REVIEW Office, Hunter street. 3d

It is said that the Grand Trunk Pacific will build through the Yellow Head Pass.

FIRE ALARM BOXES

The following are the numbers and locations of the city of Peterborough Fire Alarm Boxes.

WARD No. ONE

BOX	LOCATION
12	Lock and McGill
14	Westcott and Aylmer
15	Perry and George
16	Perry and Bethune
17	Park and Townsend
18	George, at C. P. R.

WARD No. TWO

BOX	LOCATION
21	George and King
22	Simcoe and Queen
23	George and Hunter
24	Hunter and Quaker
27	Water and McDonel

WARD No. THREE

BOX	LOCATION
31	Park and Sherbrooke
33	Charlotte and Stewart
35	Park and Hunter
38	McDonel and Reid

WARD No. FOUR

BOX	LOCATION
41	Park and London
42	George and Dublin
43	Edinburgh and Stewart
45	George and Smith
48	Water and Hilliard

WARD No. FIVE

BOX	LOCATION
52	Burnham and James
53	Rogers and Sophia
54	Hunter and Mark
57	Concession and Hazlitt
59	Auburn

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the War number is given first, then a pause, and then there-maining numbers of the Box.

Dyeing with Soap!

Maypole Soap is the Household Dye that washes and dyes with one operation. Used almost exclusively in England. Yields fast, brilliant colors. Dyes to any shade. No streaks. And above all—CLEANLY, SAFE, SURE.

Maypole Soap

10c. for Colors—15c. for Black.

Frank L. Benedict & Co., Montreal. 65

Big Bargains in Note Paper at

Cubitt's Book, Stationery and Fancy Goods Store

370 George Street, Peterborough, on

SATURDAY NEXT

1 quire Splendid Linen Note Paper and 1 package Envelopes, regular 25c, sale price

17c

1 Large Pad—85 sheets—and 1 package Envelopes regular 20c, sale price

13c

"CUBITT SELLS CHEAP"

When washing greasy dishes or pots and pans, Lever's Dry Soap (a powder) will remove the grease with the greatest ease.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited

97 Yonge Street, Toronto.

W. H. ISAAC, 228 Dublin Street, Peterborough.
Local Salaried Representative.
Machine 'Phone 22

There is Only One

"Bromo Quinine"

That is

Laxative Bromo Quinine

USED THE WORLD OVER TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Always remember the full name. Look for this signature on every box. 25c. E.W.Grove

Letterheads

¶What you think about you Business Stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks.

¶Don't have inferior paper and work in your Business Stationery. Don't try good work and paper because you like it, altogether, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

¶The Review Job Department will give you the best work obtainable and superior paper and envelopes. Your order set, printed and cared for for you, particularly you

¶A Call or Phone will bring to you samples.

THE REVIEW
PETERBOROUGH

YOUR OWN HAIR MADE UP AS DESIRED . .

By home talent, where you are ure of satisfaction, or matched correctly in shade and quality.

Switches, Natural Wavy Pomps
Latest Coiffures

Let us show you what we can do before you patronize some outside party. We guarantee oplease you at lowest prices in the city.

Back Hair Dressing, Shampooing, etc.

MRS. BYRNE'S
George Street, Second Door North of Dutton's

W. H. HILL, Esq.,
Manager of Central Ontario.

Dear Sir—After congratulating myself being a Sun Life Policy Holder, I am very much pleased with the handsome amount added to my Policy, and am surprised and gratified with the profits. I appreciate the good financial position which your Company holds to-day.

THOS. EDGAR,
Peterborough, Ont

November 29th, 1907.

N.B—Policy Straight Life $2,000
Bonus for 5 Years $160
Policy No. 17,706

LOOK Warne's Prices on Patent Medicines are LOWEST YET.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Chase's Nerve Food, reg. 50c for	29c
Wampole' Tooth Paste, reg. 25c for	10c
100 Nox a Cold, reg. 25c for	15c
Gin Pills, reg. 50c, for	29c
Baby's Own Soap, for	8c
Cuticura Soap, regular 35c for	25c
Chase's Pills, reg. 25c for	15c
Dr. Williams Pink Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Eclectric Oil, Thomas, genuine	12 1-2c
Electric Oil, other than genuine Thomas	9c

See our large assortment of Xmas gifts at cut rate prices.

W. B. WARNE
345 GEORGE ST. Phone 527

Xmas Photos

Send a family group or the children's photos to your friends at Christmas. Nothing is appreciated more than such remembrances, from

MENDEL'S STUDIO

374 1-2 George St Entrance next Oke's

OBITUARY

RUBY EVALINE HENRY.

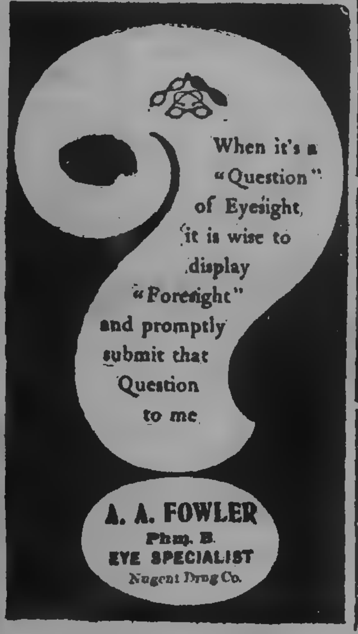
The death occurred yesterday of Ruby Evaline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry, Brown Street, North Monaghan. She was nineteen years of age, and had been ill for a year and a half with lung trouble. Miss Henry was of a bright, cheerful disposition, and her death will be greatly regretted. She is survived by her father and mother, three sisters, Mrs. W. Buyers, and Hazel and Gladys, of Peterborough and two brothers, William and John, also of this city.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the the family residence to Little Lake cemetery.

PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR GUELPH

On account of the Provincial Winter Fair the Grand Trunk Railway System will issue return tickets at single first class fare from all stations in Ontario, Kingston and West to Guelph, Ont. Good going Dec. 7th to Dec. 13th. Valid for return until Monday, Dec. 16th, 1907. Full information may be obtained from any Grand Trunk Ticket Agent.

The total yield of all grain in the West is estimated at 163,926,500 bush.



When it's a "Question" of Eyesight, it is wise to display "Foresight" and promptly submit that Question to me

A. A. FOWLER
Phm. B.
EYE SPECIALIST
Nugent Drug Co.

ADAM'S

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

—SALE OF—

Sample Silk Blouses and Fancy Neckwear

We have been fortunate in securing a manufacturer's lot of Sample Silk Blouses which had served their purpose as samples. We bought them at a fraction of their regular value and pass them on to our customers at less tnan the cost of making.

$3.25, $3.50, $4.00 $5.00 SILK BLOUSES FOR $2.38

4 dozen only, Sample Silk Blouses, White and Black, made of fine quality Japanese Silk, with allover embroidered fronts, lace and insertion trimmings, large and fine tucks, long and short sleeves. Regular values $3.25, $3.50, $4.00 & $5.00

Friday and Saturday Your Choice For $2.38

35c and 50c FANCY COLLARS FOR 25c

25 dozen beautiful new Silk Collars, the newest novelties for the Christmas trade—bought much less than regular value.

Friday and Saturday Your Choice For 25c

THIS IS A RARE SILK BLOUSE AND COLLAR BARGAIN EVENT WHICH YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS. THEY MAKE VERY SUITABLE CHRISTMAS GIFTS . . . .

Harry Adams

INTEREST PAID
QUARTERLY
—ON—
SAVINGS DEPOSITS of $1 and upwards
—THE—
BANK OF OTTAWA

Interest paid
February 28
May 31
August 31
November 30

PETERBOROUGH BRANCHES:
George Street, also Corner Rubidge and Townsend Streets

A. HOLLINGSHEAD, Mgr

Jolly Smoker of Bowling Club

Prizes Won During the Past Season Were Presented

The Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club held a jolly smoker at the Charlotte street rink last night when the prizes offered for competition during the past season were presented to the winners.

Dr. T. N. Greer, president of the club, made a capital chairman and delivered a happy address reviewing the contests and pleasant associations of last summer.

All the prizes were handed over to the respective winners by former president D. H. Moore, and the recipients made neat replies. Cigars were provided by the club and about thirty-five bowlers were in attendance.

Mr. R. M. Waddell's rink captured the handsome silver cup given by Mr. G. E. Frost in the rink competition, and Skip Waddell acknowledged the gift of the trophy in a few pleasant words.

DR. T. N. GREER
President of Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club

W. J. Thomoson who won the Scotch Scotch doubles, Mr. J. P. Cunningham the senior singles, Mr. M. J. Kirn junior singles and Mr. W. J. Thompson and Dr. Holloway, the Scotch doubles, were also awarded a set of bowls and expressed their thanks in suitable terms.

The donors of bowls were Messrs. J. E. A. Fitzgerald, W. G. Ferguson, D. H. Moore and A. H. Stratton. The smoker last evening was a decided success and was a fitting finale to a most enjoyable and profitable season.

Enough Men Cannot be Obtained

In writing the Review, renewing his subscription, Mr. J. E. Whiten, of Kenora, says in part;

"There is plenty of work here for men working on the Grand Trunk Pacific, at from $30 to $40 per month and board. Enough men cannot be secured. One of the largest tourist hotels in Ontario is being built here for next summer's trade. Business is O.K. With best wishes to all in Peterborough."

Individual Communion Cups For Murray Street Church

They Will be Used the First Sunday in the New Year —Congregational Meeting Leld Last Night.

At a congregational meeting of Murray street Baptist church last evening the pastor, Rev. J. R. Webb, presiding, a resolution was unanimously carried to the effect that the diaconate of the church be requested to have individual communion cups in service on the first Sunday in January, when the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed.

There was a large attendance and the decision was reached without a dissenting voice.

In several of the city churches individual communion cups have been used and the change has in every instance given satisfaction. On sanitary and many other grounds their adoption has been welcomed.

Japan Will Restrict Number Of Immigrants to Canada

Special to the Review.

Tokio, Dec. 5.—Hon. Rudolphe Lemieux, the Canadian Minister of Labor, held a lengthy conference to-day with Vicount Hayashi, Minister of Foreign Affairs, at the Foreign Office. He received verbal assurances of the limitation of Japanese immigration under full details of plans on foot for control would be given him later.

Sandstone Brick Co's Good Year

Company Has all the Orders it Can Handle—Officers Elected for Coming Year

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Company, Limited, was held at the Company's office, Water street, Peterborough, yesterday morning.

A large number of the shareholders were present, including Mr. Walter Alford, Belleville; John Carter, Wm Hoar, J. J. English and L. F. Clarry, Hastings; George Duncan, C. S. Damond, C. Fagan, Wm. Harstone, R. A. Elliott, E. S. Clarry, R. Harstone, D. Fleming and J. J. Hartley, Peterborough. There was a large number of shareholders represented by proxy.

A highly satisfactory report was laid before the meeting, showing that the company had a very successful year. All of the Company's products were sold during the past year, and a large quantity of bricks on hand now at the Company's yard, is sold, to be delivered just as soon as building operations commence in the spring. Several large orders were taken during the past season, including those from the contractors for the Government Armories in Belleville, and also in the city of Peterborough. There are between 175 and 200 buildings erected of sand lime brick in Peterborough, and in the neighboring towns. These buildings include a number of very handsome residences. The prospects for next year's business are very bright, and the company has all the orders that it can at present fill. A dividend of 6 per cent for the past year was declared on all the stock of the Company.

The following directors were elected for the ensuing year;—J. J. English, R. Harstone, R. A. Elliott, J. J. Hartley and L. F. Clarry.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors, the following officers were elected;—

President—J. J. English.
Vice-President—J. J. Hartley.
Secretary—E. S. Clarry.
Manager—William Harstone.

Seventeen Meetings Already

Court of Revision Hard at Work Want More Salary

Although not much is being heard about the Court of Revision these days, it must not be inferred that the work of revising the assessment for 1908 is not proceeding. The Court is meeting every afternoon and evening, Saturday and Sunday excepted, but so many were the appeals that it will be several days before the list has been gone through. To date the court has held seventeen meetings for the purpose of considering appeals. These are exclusive of the meetings held to hear appelants.

The number of meetings held is a record in the history of the city. Incidentally it may be stated that the members of the Court of Revision have applied to the City Council for an increase of salary, and there is no doubt but that the request will be granted. The matter is being dealt with by the Finance Committee.

Record Crowd at Industrial Sale

There was a record breaking crowd at the Industrial Sale last evening at Bradburn's opera house. The booths were well patronized, and some of them were nearly sold out. A short programme of music was given on the gramaphone. The sale is being continued this afternoon and evening, when it is expected even larger crowds will attend.

There will be a shredded wheat banquet to-night.

Hon. Dr. Reaume, Ontario minister of public works, who is at Windsor, recovering from an operation performed at Grace hospital, in Toronto, is making satisfactory progress.

Objects to Grant Made to Hartley

City Fathers Come in for Some Stern Admonition

To the Editor of the Review:

Sir,—I see none of the papers have raised a word of protest or offered any criticism of the city council in making a grant to $100 to David Hartley, the long distance walker.

Now, I have not a word to say against Mr Hartley. Other men have brought distinction to the town, and have not been the recipients of civic grants, neither were they looking for them. Why should Mr Hartley fare differently? Of course, I know it is not a direct cash grant of $100, and is only to be paid over by the city in case the citizens subscribe a sufficient sum to buy the long distance pedestrian a house and lot. Now, is our money so plentiful that we can fritter it away in this fashion? We have many poor families requiring help this winter, and have other heavy obligations to meet as a corporation. Mr. Hartley is certainly not walking for the benefit of his health for the town, but for the benefit of his pocket. This he has a perfect right to do, and I say all credit to him for his splendid performance. But we should draw the line at civic receptions and grants. We have no surplus cash during the present period of stringency to squander in a spectacular method, and if the aldermanic representatives feel so generously disposed, they should, as Ald. Duncan suggested, go down into their own purses for these sort of things.

Yours, etc.,
BETHUNE ST.

Peterborough, Dec. 4th, 1907.

Big Bank Has Closed Its Doors

National Bank of Commerce Fails—Has Deposits of $30,000,000

Special to the Review.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 5.—The National Bank of Commerce, the largest bank in Kansas City, did not open its doors this morning. The bank had deposits exceeding thirty million dollars.

Lively Meeting of Debating Society

Individual Control of Capital Opposed to Best Interest of People

The regular meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Literary and Debating Club was held in the Y.M.C.A. club rooms last evening, and was largely attended. The president, Mr. Shiner, occupied the chair.

Mr. Harry Cooke gave a very interesting and concise review of the current events for the past two weeks, after which the debate of the evening, 'Resolved, that the individual control of capital is opposed to the best interests of the people," was ably contested. Messrs. Greenhalgh, Armstrong and Common were appointed judges. The affirmative was led by Mr. Badge and Mr. Shutt. The negative was led by Mr. Hammon and Mr. Shiner. The question was ably dealt with by the respective speakers, and many interesting and valuable points were fought out by both sides. While the judges retired to decide the debate, a general discussion of the subject in debate was indulged in by the members and friends present. Many valuable and interesting points were made.

The judges decided in favor of the affirmaive by 2 points to one.

Mr. J. E. Hodgson, critic of the Society, was unable to be present, and Mr. Stubbs, of the collegiate institute staff, acted as critic.

In summing up the debate, Mr Stubbs congratulated the debaters on the excellent manner in which they had handled the subject, and the fine choice of language. He was glad to see the success the club was meeting with, as evidenced by the large attendance last night.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 11th one week earlier than usual, as the club intend to hold two meetings before Christmas. The programme will be announced later.

Congregation Hold Re-union

People of Knox Church Spend Pleasant Evening—Encouraging Reports

A large number were present last evening at the congregational reunion at Knox church, and a pleasant and profitable time was spent.

Reports from the different organizations of the church were read, and showed great progress in each branch. Sheriff Hall reported for the Sunday School, Mrs. Pollock for the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. McPherson for the Home Missionary Society, Miss Hall for the Mission Band, Mr. Duncan Campbell, for the Young People's Society, and Rev. H. J. Keith for the prayer meeting.

REV. H. J. KEITH
Pastor of Knox Church

Rev. H. J. Keith, the energetic pastor, presided last evening, and a delightful programme was presented, as follows;

Piano solo—Miss Chiles.
Vocal solo—Master Harold Hatcher.
Vocal solo—Miss Carr.
Recitation—Mr. D. McLean.
Vocal solo—Mr. D. Campbell.

An interesting feature was the signing of the deed of transfer of Knox church from St. Paul's, by the trustees. A resolution of appreciation of the gift and the work of St. Paul's congregation was passed and will be forwarded to them.

Refreshments were served and a pleasant time spent.

Presentation to the Sergt.-Major

Instruction Class of 57th Give Him a Pair of Sabres

At the conclusion of the examination of the class of the 57th regiment for non-commissioned officers last evening, Sergt.-Major Britton, the instructor, was made the recipient of a handsome pair of French dueling sabres from the class. Lieut. A. G. Carruthers, in a few appropriate remarks referred to the friendly feelings that always existed between instructor and the men. The Sergt.-Major was untiring in his work with the class and was always willing to give any advice asked. On behalf of the men Sergt.-Major Duffus, of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, made the presentation.

Sergt.-Major Britton, although taken completely by surprise, expressed his sincere thanks for the thoughtfulness and kindness of the class. He appreciated it very much and nothing they could have given would have pleased him half so much as the handsome pair of sabres.

The class consisted of twenty-two members. Eighteen tried their examinations in squad, rifle, firing, skirmishing, guard mounting and company drill for non-com. officers. The other four will go to Toronto to the Royal School of Infantry, at Stanley Barracks, to qualify for their commissions as lieutenants. There have been twenty-six lessons during the fall and the members never missed one. Major Clegg, Capt. Dennett and Lieut. Hodgson were the examining officers and the results will be published in a week.

ESTABLISHED 1873

UNDERWEAR BARGAINS

---- AT ----

LeBRUN'S

The cold weather did not catch us napping. We have laid in the largest stock of Underwear we ever had and are reducing the prices in every line to make quick selling.

SCOTCH WOOL, NATURAL WOOL, SILK and WOOL, WOLSELY HYGIENE FLEECE LINED

All sizes for men and boys, as high as 50 inches, and at prices, ranging from 25c to $3.50 per garment

Also FLANNELL SHIRTS, all colors, Blue, Black and Gray, with or without collars, are reduced in price.

Cardigan Jackets and Heavy Sweaters at close prices.

H. LeBrun & Co.
Two Entrances George and Hunter Sts.

An Extension of Time is Desired

Railway From Blairton to Ivanhoe Not to be Built Yet

Ottawa, Dec. 3.—The Campbellford, Lake Ontario and Western Railwys, chartered to build from Blairton or Ivanhoe, passing through Campbellford, Warkworth, Cobourg, Port Hope, Newcastle, Bowmanville, Oshawa and Whitby, to Leaside Junction, is asking for an extension of time.

Likes Living at The County Gaol

Andy Fawcett Having Just Got Out Asked to be Sent Back Again

After having just been released from a six months sojourn in the county gaol, Andy Fawcett came to the police station this morning and asked to be sent up again for the same length of time. The necessary papers were filled out and Andy joyfully turned his footsteps towards Nesbitt Castle. "I want to be back there for dinner," said the old man. "I have nothing to do but to keep one fire going. The wood is carried in and all I do is to put it in the stove.

FINED TWO DOLLARS.

A man by the name of Crowley was fined two dollars, to be paid in ten days, for being drunk in a public place last evening. He had a badly mutilated face as a result of colliding with the pavement.

THE INVICTUS SHOE

Here is the shoe that fits exactly into the ideal so many have looked for and never found.

INVICTUS SHOES AT $4.50 & $5.00

Shoes that combine with a moderate price the perfection of style, fit and durability. "Invictusized" Patent Leather Shoes area revelation. This secret process does something never before accomplished. Renders the leather soft and pliable, increases the life of the shoes at least one third and reduces checking or breaking to a minimum.

ASK THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM

J T. STENSON
364 George St.

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES
AND
VETERINARY INFIRMARY
193 Hunter Street west of Oriental Hotel.

If you wish a rig of any kind for any occasion ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 278. Night Phone Bell 425 B.

D. McKERCHER, V.S.

ADAMSON & DOBBIN
Stove Dealers, Tinsmiths, Plumbers, Etc.

REMOVED Across the Street

To their new and more commodious Store premises, warerooms and workshop, No. 175 Simcoe Street,

In New Brick Block

Come and see us. We'll be glad to welcome all our friends and patrons, and lots of new customers, in our up-to-date shop. No change in our store policy. Prices will continue to be on the same reasonable scale as before. Superior Stoves, Tinware, Furnaces and Work always at moderate figures.

THE DAYLIGHT STORE

The Money-Saving Sale

Of Clothing and Furnishings now going on at this Store is meeting with success for the reason that our patrons are getting values in High-class Goods which have never been equalled. It is not what you pay, but what you get for your money that counts. Low prices alone does not make a bargain, but we are truly giving good quality at a low price.

Men's Suits
Mostly traveller's samples, cut in single and double breasted styles, latest models, worth up to $10.00, for 6.90

Youths' Suits
In fancy Tweed, beautifully lined and guaranteed fronts, worth $10.00, for 6.90

Men's Overcoats
Beautiful cloths, dark colors, hair cloth fronts, worth $13.00, for 9.90

BOYS' CLOTHING at reduced prices
MEN'S UNDERWEAR all reduced
MEN'S WORKING SHIRTS, guaranteed fast colors, at reduced prices.

Come, expecting great value. Prices are cut deep, and everything is on the move here. EARLY PICKERS SECURE THE CHOICEST FRUIT

LANG & MAHER,
CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW
409-411 George St., Peterborough

FALL AND WINTER COATS

An Exhibition of Fashionable Models

This assemblage of Women's Coats for Fall and Winter authoratatively represents the newest fashionable effects in outer garments. They are tailored in a faultless manner—perfectly cut and fitted, giving a decided modish appearance, The materials are new, plain cloths, velvets, caraculs, fancy mixtures. Excellence of quality abounds in all other fabrics.

Embraced are imported models and the latest and newest Canadian effects. Individual beauty characterizes each garment. The charm of these Coats is enhanced by the unusual lowness of their prices. We trust you will ascertain in person the excellence of these offerings.

CLOTH COATS

High-grade imported models of extra fine quality Broadcloth in black and colors. Navy Blue, Brown and Green. Principally the seven-eighth length, tourist style. Some are semi-fitting, others fitted, stitched strapping of self forming panels back and front. Others with fancy braids and full ripple skirt. Splendid value at $15, $18, $25, $30, $40

VELVET COATS

Handsome three-quarter length imported models; full ripple back, trimmed with silk braid down the front and back; lined throughout with fine quality black satin. Extra special value at $35.00

CARACUT COAT

New three-quarter length models; also short pony effect with trimmings of broadcloth straps and braid on collars and cuffs; large kimona sleeve. These garments must be seen to be appreciated. Prices from $15.00 up to $35.00

TWEED COATS

All the latest and newest effects in Tweed coats, $\frac{7}{8}$ lengths, broad shoulders, full backs, splendidly tailored and trimmed with self strappnge; new full sleeves. Special value at $15.00 up to $25.00

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED

353 AND 355 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH
STORE OPENS AT 8 A.M. CLOSES AT 6 P.M., EXCEPT SATURDAY

FOR FINE
Lemons, Oranges
Malaga Grapes
Bananas
and all kinds of fruit and vegetables try
MINOCOLO BROS.
Wholesale and Retail.
Both Phones 337.

FRAMED VIEWS
In COLORED SEPIA and BLACK : : : : :
FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS
THE ROY STUDIO
Ask for Roy's Famous Souvenir Post Cards

Men of Murray Street Church

Will Hold Banquet on Jan. 16th —Noted Speaker Coming

It has been decided by the men of Murray street Baptist church to hold a banquet in the church on January 16th. The men of Park street and Gilmour Memorial Baptist churches will be invited to attend.

The special preacher will be Rev. Dr. Kierstad, of McMaster University, Toronto. He is an able speaker and a deep thinker. His subject will be, "The Ministry of the Man in the Pew." A committee of fourteen members, of which Rev. J. R. Webb is chairman, has been appointed to make full arrangements for the banquet.

This committee is composed of Rev. J. R. Webb, chairman, T. F. Matthews, Dr. Scott, Dr. Browett, V. Eastwood, Principal Dunlop, B. A. Lillie, George Cochrane, P. Downham, R. F. Harding, Porter White, C. B. Routley, W. Shiner, James Filis and John Riddell.

GOLD GIFTS FOR XMAS

Our stock is always a pleasure to inspect and particularly so at present. Assuming a more than ordinary Xmas like appearance, there is much to interest the shopper who is desirous of first chance in selecting. In all lines one may see the most attractive and useful gifts imaginable—And the earlier one inspects the better for one's self.

SCHNEIDER'S

391 GEORGE STREET OPEN EVENINGS
Goods laid aside on small deposit. Issuer of Marriage Licenses

THE CITY AND VICINITY

EVENTS TO-NIGHT

City Hall—Finance Committee.

St. Paul's church.—Induction of Rev. Robert Pogue as pastor, at 7.30 o'clock.

Old opera house.—Shredded wheat banquet.

FUR LINED COATS

We clean and press them and guarantee no injury to the fur. My Valet, 204 Charlotte street. All goods called for and delivered. dtf

CHRISTMAS CAKE.

Best of fruit, choicest of flavorings and perfection of baking makes Elliott's Christmas cake the finest to be had. Leave orders now. Iced as desired. dtf

AN OPPORTUNITY.

Do you need help, male or female? Have you rooms to let, house to rent or sell, or are boarders wanted? Have you anything to sell and can't find a buyer? Try a Review want ad, it will go everywhere at trifling cost.

ST. ANDREW'S LADIES AID

Every lady of St. Andrew's church is invited to the Ladies' Aid Society meeting on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp. The election of officers for the year will take place and other business of importance will be transacted.

IF INTERESTED—RING UP 577.

There was something in the Review to-night about a poor family in need of a stove. Someone at 'phone 577 says there is a wood stove to be had at their place for the taking away. Stove must be taken awya in the morning, as people are moving.

FINE PICTURE FRAMING.

New mouldings, good work, reasonable prices. J. M. GREENE Music Co., George street. dtf

ST. ANDREW'S CHOIR.

In preparation for special Christmas music the children of St. Andrew's church will practice this evening at 7.30 o'clock. Regular choir practice will be held at 8 o'clock.

TAKE NOTE

Of our fine line of Violins, Mandolins, Guitars, etc. Some excellent values, and within easy range for the Xmas trade. Special prices to Old Santa Claus. J. M. GREENE Music Co., Grand opera house building, George street. dtf

For Xmas baking

You will have no doubt of the success of your Christmas pudding or cake if you use the Crescent brand of Currants and Raisins with other fruits and spices, got at E. F. Mason & Cos'. 3 stores.

LADIES' LITERARY.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T.A.S., will be held on Friday evening, Dec. 6th, when an interesting essay will be read by Miss Kate McGrath. A musical programme will also be presented. 4d

HASTINGS FIRE BRIGADE

The new fire engine has not appeared as yet on the scenery, but the boys are pushing the organisation as far as possible without the appliances, and will soon be in shape after the engine arrives. The brigade meets tonight, "Thursday," on account of the council using the room on Friday. — Hastings Star.

ST. LUKE'S A.Y.P.A.

The A.Y.P.A. of St. Luke's church will hold a regular meeting to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, when an interesting programme and lecture will be provided.

MAKE CALENDARS.

Why not make calendars? They are pretty cheap and always acceptable. We have pictures in sepia and colors, fancy embossed cards and dainty calendar pads in many designs. See them at the Review office. 3d most annoying

There is nothing more annoying than to get sand between your teeth when eating Christmas cake or pudding. Avoid this by getting Crescent brand Raisins and Currants. E. F. Mason & Co. 3 stores.

WILL NOT USE GASOLMNE

The C.P.R. has decided to dispense with gasoline as a lighting agent, owing to its explosive qualities when a wreck occurs, and will substitute Pintsch gas. The change will be made over the entire system in less than two months.

AFTER THE CHILDREN

A number of youngsters from Great Britain have been adopted by the farmers in the vicinity of Tweed. The number of children coming to Canada from Dr. Barnardo and other homes in the Old Country numbered last year, 3,258, but as there were 19,374 applications for children for adoption, the Department of the Interior, which looks after these little ones, could not begin to meet the demand.

For nice Fowl, Geese, Chickens, Turkeys, try James R. Bell, 161 Hunter St. Also Cape Cod Cranberries. Both Phones

PERSONAL

Mr. Stephens, of Port Elgin, is in the city.

Mr. A. McLean, of London, is in the city.

Mr. C. R. Denison, of Hamilton, is here on business.

Mr. J. T. Griffith, of Lachute, is registered at the Oriental.

Dr. W. C. Brown, of Lakefield, is in the city.

Mr. R. J. McLaughlin, barrister, of London, is in the city.

Mrs. H. F. Foote, 809 George street, will not receive until after the New Year.

Mrs. G. L. Hay, 155 Hunter street east, will not receive again until after the new year.

Mrs. George H. Davison, of Lindsay, is the guest of Mrs. R. A. Dutton, London street.

Miss Laura Belleghem has returned from Toronto, where she was the guest of Mrs. J. L. Wood.

Mr. Harry Noyes and Miss Ella Noyes of Keene, are visiting relatives in Havelock.

Messrs. W. Blackhall and U. Bailley, who have been in the city in the interests of the Dominion Express Co. for the past few days, left for Lindsay this morning.

Hastings Star.—Mr. George Johnston, of Peterborough, visited friends in town this week......Mr. R. Hood, of Peterborough, was in town Tuesday ......Mr. Frank Tyler was in Peterborough on Tuesday.

Mr. H. J. Lillie, chief operator of the G.T.R. Telegraph Co., at Toronto, is the guest of his brother, Mr. B. A. Lillie, manager of the Machine Telephone Company, while on his way to Montreal.

Lindsay Post:—Mr. T. E. DeHart, of Peterborough, was in town today on business......Mr. Dan McMillan, of Peterborough, who was here recently officiating as trainmaster, during the absence of Mr. J. I. Irwin, is again in charge of the G.T.R. instruction car, which is at present located in Peterborough.

LIFE OF CRIME.

Accomplice of "Chicago May" Sentenced In England.

An echo of the case in which Guerin, the escaped convict from Devil's Island, and "Chicago May" and her companion Smith figured recently, was heard at the Sussex Assizes at Lewes recently, when a fashionably-attired young man was sentenced by Mr. Justice Grantham to five years' penal servitude for stealing a quantity of valuable jewelry from a private house at Eastbourne.

Prisoner was charged under the name of Edward Miller, but to the police of this and other countries he is known by the name of Ferrari.

Counsel said prisoner was an Italian, and was a most notorious criminal. He had been deported from South Africa for shop-breaking, and landed in this country as an accomplice of the notorious "Chicago May" and the man Smith, who was recently sent to penal servitude for life, for shooting Guerin.

A Bow street detective told the court that prisoner had lived with "Chicago May" and Smith, and had assisted them in their blackmailing operations.

The judge, in passing sentence, said he would do his best to prevent England being pestered with such a scoundrel. At the expiration of his sentence Ferrari would be deported to Italy.

Since the arrest of "Chicago May" he has lived something like a life of cultivated luxury among fashionable hotel guests (whom he victimized) and his books (which he read in four or five languages). He speaks Italian, French, German, Russian, and English well.

He is a member of a wealthy and highly-esteemed family in Italy. When "Smith" met him he had already disgraced his family by clever thefts, and "Smith" enlisted him as an accomplice.

A bad blunder over a Turin bank "job" made it politic for the couple to dash for safety, and they made they way to the South African gold and diamond fields, not to do any digging, but to carry on systematic and wholesale robbery of the mines. They moved from camp to camp, committing daring robberies nightly under the most desperate circumstances. Drugs were freely used. In the large towns of South Africa they lived brief lives of dissipation on the proceeds of their camp robberies.

It was in Kimberley that Ferrari came to grief over a particularly daring robbery. He broke into an hotel at the dead of night and attempted to force the safe unsuccessfully after an hour's hard work with his tempered tools. He actually ascended to the bedroom of the proprietor to search for the keys. Whilst he was moving stealthily about the landlord's wife awoke. Ferrari dropped flat on his stomach and held his breath. The landlord's wife actually got out of bed and looked out of the window, and then returned to bed without having her suspicions aroused. Ferrari lay until she fell asleep again, and then he continued his search. He found the keys under the landlord's pillow, opened the safe, and got away. The mark of one of his tools, however, gave him away, and he was arrested.

After their next arrest and sentence they were ordered to be deported to America, of which country they claimed to be citizens, but they "jumped" the boat at Southampton, and after robbery at an hoted to "make their fares" went on to London.

Here, in the Regent's park district they lived in elegant style, and Ferrari indulged his taste in literature in a splendid library. To this place they lured the blackmailed victims of "Chicago May" whom they met in London.

COMPANIONS FOR DOGS.

New Occupation Opened For Women by London Society.

A "visiting companion" for dogs is the latest profession which has been opened for women.

A lady living at Chelsea advertised recently that she would be willing to exercise dogs and care for them at their owners' homes.

"My idea is to call at various houses and take the pet dog out for a walk," the visiting companion explained.

"There are many ladies who are as fond of dogs as if they were children, and yet have not much time to devote to their pets.

"I can undertake the dog's diet if necessary, and attend to his toilet, washing and combing him when required."

Electrical Cooking.

An "electrical dinner party" is the latest solution of the problem of the young wife whose husband unexpectedly brings home a party of friends.

The exhibition of electrical cookery and heating appliances organized by the Borough Council at the Hampstead Town Hall recently proved that it is possible to cook an excellent meal in twenty minutes.

The cold mutton can be minced in two minutes in an electrical mincer while the potatoes are boiling in an electrical saucepan. The kettle is ready in three minutes for tea or coffee, and a further surprise awaits the unexpected visitors. A tasty sponge pudding can be baked in the electric oven without active electricity. When the meat has been removed and the lights switched off, the pudding cooks in the warmth that remains.

If the hostess has run short of bread, she can bake tiny scones or rolls on an electric hot plate in half a minute; and if she is anxious to tidy herself, an electric heater will warm her curling tongs in a quarter of a minute, while a crushed blouse or skirt can be renovated by the aid of an electric iron.

Mrs. Godfrey Sutcliffe demonstrated how it was possible to make a sachet cake in three-quarters of an hour.

This elaborate cake, resembling a handkerchief sachet in shape, was made of sponge cake, filled with jam, iced with lilac-colored icing, decorated with sprays of crystallized violets, and tide with satin ribbon.

Patrick Cummings, a handlogger at Chatham Channel, B.C., was killed by being crushed between logs and carried down a mountain side.

American Capitalist in the North

Believes Northern Part of County is Rich in Mineral Wealth

Messrs. W. G. Thomas and F. G. Fetterman, of Johnstown, Penn., passed through the city today on their way home after spending a couple of days in the northern part of the county in connection with mining matters. Mr. Thomas is a prominent capitalist and Mr. Fetterman an expert mining engineer.

It is understood that both gentlemen were well pleased with the mineral prospects in the north of Peterborough county, and it is not unlikely that Mr. Mr. Thomas will invest some capital in developing certain properties in which he is interested.

Gilmour Church Calls Pastor

Rev. Mr. Bonner Will Take Charge of Congregation on Jan. 1st.

Gilmour Memorial church in Smith township has called a pastor to succeed Rev. L. McKinnon, who some months ago removed to Calvin, North Dakota.

The new pastor will be Rev. Mr. Bonner, of White Lake, Ont. He will take charge of Gilmour Memorial and and Selwyn Baptist churches on the first Sunday in January. Mr. Bonner comes highly recommended.

Mr. Preston is Again Selected

As the Standard Bearer of East Durham Conservatives

At a largely attended meeting of the East Durham Liberal-Conservative association held in Millbrook on Wednesday, Mr. J. J. Preston, received the unanimous nomination for the Local House.

Among the speakers were: Mr. Preston, the nominee.: Col. Henry Ward, who is retiring from Dominion politics, and Mr. Jonas Thornton, the nominee for the Federal House at the coming general elections.

The meeting was a very enthusiastic one, and all pledged themselves to elect the prospective members for both the local and the Dominion House.

All the old officers were re-elected by acclamation.

XMAS CHEER
CENTRAL LIQUOR STORE
141 HUNTER STREET

Brandies, Port and Sherry Wines, St. Augustine, Native Port, also the highest grade Scotch Whiskies to be found in Peterborough.

Something good in Rye, namely:—
MITCHELL'S SPECIAL RYE WHISKY
Quality the best in Peterborough and a little better.

Remember the place
The Old Reliable Liquor Store
F. J. R. MITCHELL

Porter's Delicatessen

CUT RATE GROCERY STORE

Black Tea, 3 lbs	.50
Select Raisins 3 lbs	.20
Cooking Figs, 4 lbs	.25
Mince Meat, 3 lbs......	.20
Dates, 3 lbs............	.25
Washing Soda, 3 lbs....	.05
Tomatoes, per tin	.10
Beans, Peas, Corn, per tin	.08
3 bottles Pickles.........	.25
3 bottles Ketchup......	.25
Cross Fish Brand Sardines 2 tins for..............	.25
Potatoes, per pk..........	.15
Apples, per pk	.10

ALL THINGS ARE NOW READY
GEORGE R. RECORD
PRACTICAL
FRENCH DRY CLEANER AND PRESSER

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments and Household Articles cleaned and guaranteed not to fade color or shrink any material. Charges moderate. Goods called for and delivered. Telephone 669.

NEW BRICK BLOCK, 173 SIMCOE ST.
Only Complete Dry Cleaning Plant in City

SAVE YOUR FURS
AND
FUR-LINED COATS
by having them cleaned by the
FRENCH DRY CLEANING

process, which kills all moths and does not injure in the slightest, the finest furs. This is very important at this season, and may mean the saving of the expense of buying new furs. None too fine for the process.

Dyeing, Cleaning, Pressing, and Reparing promptly and thoroughly done at
PARKER'S DYE WORKS

R. M. BEACH
PROPRIETOR.
Phone 250 177 Charlotte St

Money is Not Tight

On some of the property propositions we can offer you. We have some pretty locations where situation, price and terms are all to suit. Low priced houses, some of them brick and on good lots, $850 up

$1,000—Village store near the city, no competition. A good thing.
$1,600—Large modern, good looking brick house, south, city.
$2,300—Very profitable apartment house renting to small families.
$1,800 and $2,350—Nice brick house, modern conveniences, well situated.
$3,000—Brick dwelling, stable, etc.; also some building lots. Just suit a retired farmer
$2,350 to $4,800—Beautiful residences on Gilmour, Homewood Ave., Weller, King, Water Sts, etc.

If you are thinking of going West we can show you something good in lands in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, with return ticket for selection trip. Farms for sale. Houses to rent.

BELL & TAYLOR
Real Estate. Fire Insurance
Office—376 Water Street.
Office Phone—498B House Phone 547B

HOCKEY SKATES
From 75c to $5.00
Skates repaired and sharpened.
General machine work.
METHEREL'S CYCLE WORKS
225 Hunter Street

Wood
POINT ST. CHARLES
Hemlock and Pine
Slabs
Cedar Shingle Blocks
A. McDONALD Estate

ESTABLISHED 1879
J. R. HEINTZ & CO.
STOCKS, GRAIN, COTTON, COFFEE
J. N. BARBER, Manager
Phone 589

THE
DOMINION BANK
PAYS SPECIAL ATTENTION TO
SAVINGS ACCOUNTS
INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY
JOHN CRANE Manager
Corner George and Simcoe Sts.

SANTA CLAUS
ON HIS WAY TO ROUTLEY'S

Goods are Pouring in--Our customers are Now Buying for Xmas

300 Dressed Dolls, reg. 25c, choice..................	.14
375 China Tea Sets, regular 50c..................	.25
25 Crokinole Boards, regular 1.25..................	.59
60 Leather Case Silk Lined Ebony Manicure Case, regular 2.50 for..........	1 50
20 only Military Brush Sets, Stirling Silver Mounted, regular 1.25 pair for....	.74
15 cases Children's Plated Knife, Fork and Spoon, with pearl handles, reg. 2.00	1.24

You will find that our clerks are attentive and that prices are reliable. We watch closely our buying as we know goods well bought are half sold at

TORONTO 262-4 QUEEN W ROUTLEY'S PETERBORO' 379 GEORGE ST

IT IS A FACT

That we have the finest stock of Skates, Sticks and Hockey Supplies in the city.

BANK'S SKATE STORE

Under the Market Clock

Separate School Board Meeting

New Principal Will be Engaged for St. Peter's School

The regular meeting of the Separate School Board was held last evening, there being present Mr. J. Goselin, chairman, presiding, and Messrs. Primeau, Clancy, Lynch, Burns, Carveth, Lane, Murty, Hickey and Henry.

The Rev. Father McColl, local superintendent, was also in attendance.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and confirmed.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were presented:

Estate A. McDonald	$ 5.50
Kingan Hardware Co.	2.32
Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company	235.05
Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company	12.08
W. H. Hill	30.40
J. P. Shannon	3.50

ATTENDANCE.

The reports of attendance for the month of November were received.

	On roll.	Ave
Lake Street school	251	230
Convent school	240	212
St. Peter's school	269	245
	760	687

FOR NEW PRINCIPAL.

On motion of Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Primeau, the secretary was instructed to have advertisements inserted in the Globe, Mail and Empire and Catholic Record, for a principal for St. Peter's school, duties to begin after the Christmas holidays.

ELECTION OF TRUSTEES

On motion of Mr. Hickey, seconded by Mr. Burns, the secretary was instructed to make the necessary arrangements for holding the elections for trustees for 1908.

The board then adjourned.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

The Boys' Committee of the Y.M.C.A. meet tonight, to further their plans for the winter work. The committee is composed of the following members; Geo. A. Hamlin, chairman, G. L. Galley, E. E. Lord, Dr Middleton, V. Eastwood, Rev. E. A. Pearson and Rev. H. C. Coon. Messrs. N. Perry, C. E. Sisson and B. A. Lillie are also invited to be present. The boys' executive, composed of H. Johnston, president; V. Mitchell, secretary; E. Mann, treasurer, and M. Turner, chairman of the social committee; L. Fitzgerald, chairman of the physical committee, and H. Lees, chairman of the membership committee, will be on hand.

The social committee will meet on Friday night at 8 p.m. This committee is composed of the following members: Messrs. Chas. Coleman, chairman, D. Campbell, A. E. Walker, N. Perry, H. L. Brace, A. McCarroll, and Rev. Canon Davidson. In addition, Messrs. C. B. Sisson, Geo. Martin, H. Cooke, H. Gerrcah, W. J. Coleman, G. E. Burns, E. M. Best, B. Huston, H. Crossman, J. H. Connal, J. S. Knapman, G. Carton, H. Males and Ray Best have been requested to serve on this committee. Big preparations will be made for the New Year's Day reception.

SUBSCRIBERS PLEASE NOTICE

Readers, whose street number has been lately changed, will confer a favor if they will notify this office so that the correction can also be made on our list. tf

Will Organize A Men's Guild

At the close of the prayer meeting at Mark Street church last evening, a meeting of the men of the congregation was held. A large number were present, and the question of organizing a men's guild was considered. After some discussion, it was decided to hold a reception to all the men of the congregation a week from Monday next. A committee consisting of Messrs. A. Fowler, S. Taylor, A. Flukes, A. Throop and Wesley Crowe was appointed to look after all arrangements. It is likely a society will then be formed, and officers elected.

TO DIE BY GUILLOTINE

Mrs. Goold Sentenced to Death For Monte Carlo Crime.

Husband to Be Imprisoned For Life—Court Found That Woman Was Chief Instigator of Atrocious Murder—Trunk Case Excited World-Wide Interest—Prisoners Formerly Lived In Montreal.

Monte Carlo, Dec. 5—After a speedy trial before the Superior Court of Monaco, Vere St. Leger Goold and his wife Marie, were convicted yesterday of the murder of Emma Levin here last summer. The court found that Mrs. Goold was the chief instigator of the crime and sentenced her to death by the guillotine, and that Goold was less responsible by reason of his being under the influence of liquor at the time the murder was committed, and sentenced him to imprisonment for life.

The trial of the Goolds consumed less than three days. It attracted attention from all over the world because of the enormity of the crime, the manner in which the murder was committed and the dramatic arrest of the principals, who were taken by the police while seeking to escape with a trunk containing portions of the body in their possession.

Goold and his wife left Monte Carlo early last August, going to Marseilles. A hotel porter in that city noticed blood oozing from a trunk which the two had brought with them, and when they drove off with the trunk the porter notified the police and the arrest followed.

Statements made as to the facts in the case were at great variance, Goold himself confessing that he had committed the murder and that his wife had nothing to do with it. The police did not put much faith in his story, and as the case was presented to the court, his wife was shown to be the real instigator.

The evidence went to show that Emma Levin, who was possessed of considerable jewelry and some money, had been invited to visit the Goolds, who were in needy circumstances. There she was killed and later a quantity of her jewelry was found in the possession of Goold and his wife. Her body was dismembered and packed away in a trunk and valise which the murderers were trying to dispose of when the crime was discovered.

The Goolds at one time were residents of Montreal.

TO CAPTURE ZULU CHIEF.

Natal Troops Begin March Against Cetewayo's Son.

London, Dec. 5.—The march of Natal's troops into Zululand began yesterday. The avowed object of the expedition is the capture of Dinizulu. There is general apprehension that Cetewayo's son, who has already had the experience of being a British prisoner at St. Helena and didn't like it, will resist, and as the Zulus gathered about the royal kraal are said to be well armed with rifles, while 10,000 spearmen are ready to take the field, the expedition is believed to have a difficult task ahead.

New Naval Base.

Glasgow, Dec. 5.—The plans for the new naval base at Rosyth, Scotland, have been completed and the work will commence early in 1908.

The basin will cover an area of 56 acres, with a depth of 36 feet at all tides. Access will be obtained through a lock 850 feet long.

The basin is to be practically square, with quay accommodation for 22 warships, although this may be doubled.

The plans provide for the construction of a graving dock to accommodate the largest of this amount of ships.

Must Go to the Courts.

Berlin, Dec. 5.—Minister of War Von Einem announced in the Reichstag yesterday that the Emperor had ordered the suspension of the court of honor proceedings against Gen. Count Wilhelm Von Hohenau, who, together with Major Count Johannes Lynar, was compromised by the testimony given in the Harden-Von Moltke libel suit.

The action means that Count Von Hohenau must take his chances in an ordinary court of justice.

Burglar's Busy Night.

Chatham, Dec. 5.—Nine houses were burglarized on Victoria avenue Tuesday night, including that of Police Magistrate Houston. The houses entered were those of M. Houston, loss, plum pudding; John Walker, K. C., loss, $13; Frank Laurie, loss, $8; S. T. Martin, loss, $2; J. S. Black, William Ball, W. J. Moore, small loss, and J. C. Fleming.

Seven Men Ground to Pieces.

Glasgow, Dec. 5.—A gang of nine platelayers was run down yesterday by a locomotive on the Glasgow-Paisley line.

Seven of the men were killed outright.

They were so terribly mutilated that their bodies had to be gathered up in sacks.

Decrease In Consumption.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—There were ninety-five deaths from tuberculosis in Ottawa during the year, compared with 104 during the preceding period. The medical officers attribute the decrease mainly to the effect of the Tuberculosis Society.

His Life For His Property.

New York, Dec. 5.—Charles Johnson, an aged printer, was burned to death yesterday while fighting a fire single-handed, which destroyed his printing establishment on Warren street.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Terryberry, of Hamilton, celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding.

SHOT MAN AND SUICIDED.

Detroit Woman's Crime Growing Out of a Love Affair.

Windsor, Dec. 5.—The attempted murder of Dr. J. A. Attridge, and subsequent suicide of the woman who shot him, Mrs. James B. Griffith, in the latter's luxurious apartments in Detroit Tuesday night, possesses a peculiar interest for Canadians, for the reason that Dr. Attridge was himself a Canadian, coming from Highgate, near Ridgetown, where he was born.

Dr. Attridge is 35 years old, and graduated from the Detroit College of Medicine in 1893. Not only was he Mrs. Griffith's physician, but her lover as well, and for this cause Griffith left his wife some months ago. The estrangement began between Griffith and his wife, when Dr. Attridge prescribed a course of travel for her and then went along to look after her himself, Griffith footing the bills.

A SIGNIFICANT WARNING.

Premier Deakin Sees It In Franco-Canadian Treaty.

Melbourne, Dec. 5.—(C. A. P.)—Premier Deakin said the actual execution of the Franco-Canadian treaty constitutes a striking significant warning to those in Britain who continue to oppose a reciprocal preference.

The Financial News questions whether the financial situation in Canada is so sound as Canadians would have Britain believe. It says that complaints of Yankee methods are heard and hints that leading institutions should restrain smaller banks who are overstepping bounds.

Big Algoma Deputation.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—This morning a big deputation will arrive in Ottawa from the District of Algoma, to interview the Government regarding the needs of the district.

The delegates will all belong to the Advisory Union of Algoma Municipalities, an organizaton formed about a year ago to supply the need felt for a body which could speak for the whole district, a territory 200 miles wide by 700 long.

In Algoma there is no body corresponding to the county councils of older Ontario, and the struggling municipalities had hitherto each to plead its own cause, while the unorganized territory had no show at all.

Five Killed In Train Wreck.

Baltimore, Dec. 5.—Five persons were killed and about twenty others injured in a rear-end collision between local passenger trains on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at Hanover, Md., twelve miles west of here, yesterday morning.

The first train was 25 minutes late, having been delayed by a broken rail. While standing at Hanover station, the second train came around a curve at a high rate of speed and crashed into the rear car of the stationary train.

Her Age Was 115.

Strathroy, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Mary Featherstone died last night in Adelaide Township, 10 miles north of here, at an age estimated from 110 to 115 years. She was a native of Ireland.

Mrs. Nancy McNeil, who was buried on Saturday, aged 97, stated shortly before her death that Mrs. Featherstone was as old as her own mother. The estimate of her great age is therefore fairly well established.

Tried to Stop Runaway—Killed.

Ingersoll, Dec. 5.—Fred George, aged 38, unmarried, was killed at the Burnside cheese factory, Dorchester Township, yesterday. He tried to stop Duncan McVicar's runaway team, but fell, and was run down by his own team, also a runaway. His skull was fractured. Many teams standing in line waiting for whey also became frightened.

Mr. King Returning.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—Mr. Mackenzie King, Deputy Minister of Labor, having completed his investigation into the question of Asiatic immigration, will leave Vancouver to-day for home, via San Francisco.

Happy Islanders.

The difficulty of collecting rates in a number of islands lying off the coast of Donegal was discussed recently at Donegal County Council meeting.

It was stated that rates had not been paid in Tory Island for the last twenty years, and that within the past few years the islanders of Gole, Inisherer, Inishmair, Inishboffin, and others, had followed the example of their Tory brethren, and developed a conscientious objection to rate collectors. It was impossible to get boatmen to take out collectors to serve demand rates or to make collections, and even summons-servers, who had summonses for the islanders, were refused a passage.

On one occasion the collector engaged a boat and succeeded in reaching the first island before his mission was discovered. The boatman then refused to take him back to the mainland, and it was only after much promising and pleading that he was allowed to re-enter the boat.

One councillor said that short of catching the islanders when they came to the mainland and stripping the clothes off them, he did not see how they were to be made to pay.

Not Needed.

In this country in our own day many words have been coined descriptive of every form of speed, of hearing at a distance, of seeing at a distance, of writing at a distance, of propelling oneself in various ways, of killing by electricity, of curing by electricity, and all the rest, but not one word has been coined for any new form of keeping still.

Language a Growth.

The opinion, which was once quite prevalent, that originally all mankind had one and the same speech is no longer held by competent authorities. Language is a growth, and the various tongues have reached their present status through countless ages of development.

HIS MAJESTY AT HOME

HOW KING EDWARD SPENT HIS BIRTHDAY AT SANDRINGHAM.

Little Princes Bring Presents — Receives Enormous Number of Congratulatory Messages — Great Cullinan Diamond — Employes Celebrate Occasion In Park—State Dinner at Night.

The very first persons to wish King Edward happy returns of his sixty-sixth birthday were his grandchildren—Prince Olaf and his little cousins of Wales.

Prince Olaf was brought over from Appleton House by his nurse. The mysterious present for his grandfather, the secret of which he has kept so well, was a medallion of himself in the national costume of Norway. Each of the Prince of Wales' children had brought an individual present, but their treasure was a handsome cigar case bought with the united savings of the small group, whose personal pocket-money, by the way, is very limited.

Banged at the King's Door.

The party of children tore down the corridor where His Majesty's apartments are situated, and banged at the King's door, entreating him to make haste to receive them and their presents. They were allowed to stay to breakfast, which was a very happy gathering of children and grand-children, with the King and Queen of Spain also present.

The sideboards of the breakfast-room were covered with parcels of books, china, jewel cases, photographs, paintings, and curios—presents from crowned heads and presidents of many countries.

Before he received the Cullinan diamond the King was occupied all the morning in his business room, going through his congratulatory letters and telegrams, and dictating replies. An additional staff of operators had to be sent to Sandringham to cope with the rush of messages, and extra grooms had to be employed to take the mail bags from Wolferton station.

Just before luncheon the King and Queen took a little walk in the gardens, and during their perambulations came across a baby in charge of a nurse. Queen Alexandra loves babies, and never passes one without notice if she can help it. She stopped at once, and showed such interest and asked so many questions that the King grew anxious about the time, and after twice taking out his watch he took the Queen's arm and drew her away in the direction of home and luncheon.

All the royal children came to this meal, the birthday pudding proving a great attraction.

The Great Event.

The great event of the afternoon was the dinner given by the King to his 500 employes. This was laid in a large marquee put up in the park near the residence of Sir Dighton Probyn. Nearly all the members of the royal party were present for about half an hour, the Queen of Spain looking very pretty in her dress of electric blue with beaver trimmings.

The King made a neat little speech in reply to Mr. Beck, who proposed His Majesty's health.

Sir John Hare and his company arrived in time for afternoon tea, after which they were taken to see the gardens, glasshouses, and Queen's dairy.

The dinner was quite a family affair, but as five sovereigns were present, it was served with much state. The tables were laid in the state dining-room—which is hung with Spanish tapestry—and the buffets had a magnificent display of gold plate. The King took in the Queen of Spain, King Alfonso taking Queen Alexandra. The Queen of Norway was escorted by the Prince of Wales.

After dinner two theatrical performances took place—Sir John Hare in "A Quiet Rubber," and Mr. Cyril Maude in "A Clandestine Marriage." The scene was very impressive and picturesque. The ball-room is a spacious apartment, the walls of which are decorated with Indian arms. Banked in sections were tall palms and flowering plants, quantities of which also fronted the stage. On either side of this latter more palms and flowers concealed the musicians; the floor was covered in scarlet, and two rows of gilded chairs in half-circles were arranged for the royal personages and their suites, those for the monarchs standing well in front. The royal programs were printed in blue and gold on white satin, and were headed with the crowns and monograms of England and Spain.

At the close Sir John Hare and Mr. Maude were asked to supper with the royal party.

Child Mayoress.

Miss Doris Foster, aged five and a half years, has been duly invested with the gold chain of office as Mayoress of Portsmouth.

The mayor, Councillor F. G. Foster, is a widower, his wife having died a few months ago, and his little daughter consequently takes the official position.

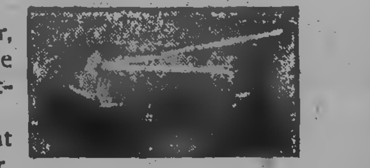
Little Miss Foster promises to be a very efficient mayoress. She attended her first official function, the customary church parade, on Sunday, and went through it with befitting gravity and dignity. She afterwards held quite a reception, and several members of the corporation begged permission to kiss her, observing that it was the first time they had ever had the pleasure of kissing a mayoress.

The youthful mayoress said that she would open bazaars, and make speeches, too, whenever called upon, and was quite sure she would do it satisfactorily.

Esquimalt.

Esquimalt is the only place in the British Empire that exceeds London in cloudiness. Esquimalt is also the dampest place in the Empire, while Adelaide, in Australia, is the driest. Ceylon is the hottest and northwest Canada the coldest possession that the British flag floats over.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVES signature is on each box. 25c



AT THE HOME OFFICE

On account of the illness of an optician in Orillia, Dr. Browett has cancelled appointments and is pleased to announce that he will be continuously at his home office until after Xmas. Appointments for eye examination are being made daily at our store.

P. S. This store will hereafter be open until ten o'clock every night and appointments for eye examinations can be made until that hour.

McDERMID & JURY, Druggists, Peterboro.

Wolves Are Numerous.

Fort Alexander, Man., Dec. 5.—Wolves are very numerous here, and a great nuisance this winter. The following is their bill-of-fare since Oct. 1: Six sheep, fifteen spring lambs, 125 young chickens, twenty turkeys, six geese, two pigs and one calf. Six wolves were shot by local nimrods.

Young Thomas Dupont had a thrilling experience with a big wolf. He has a small 22 calibre rifle, and, in company with his dog, came unexpectedly upon a huge wolf at close range. He poured four bullets into the animal and badly wounded the brute, which frenzied with pain, made a rush on Thomas, with mouth wide open. The plucky lad stood his ground, and, thrusting the barrel in the beast's mouth, pulled the trigger and killed the wolf.

President May Send Troops.

Washington, Dec. 5.—President Roosevelt issued orders yesterday to have Federal troops held in readiness to aid in restoring order at Goldfields, Nevada. This action was taken upon representations from Governor Sparks of that state, that the miners at Goldfield are in revolt and riot. Nevada is the one state in the Union which has no state militia. Governor Sparks does not deem the situation such as to justify immediate Federal interference.

Arrested For Murder.

Salisbury, N. B., Dec. 5.—Christopher A. Horseman, husband of the woman who lost her life in the well back of her home three days ago, was arrested last night on a charge of murdering her. He was taken to jail, leaving eight children all under 14 years of age in the house alone, crying and afraid.

Gave Life For Brother.

Rexton, N. B., Dec. 5.—Two children, Willie and Grace Orr, nine and seven years old, were drowned at Jardinville at noon yesterday while en route home from school. The boy went out on some ice and the girl trying to save him fell in. The bodies were found in five feet of water.

OPEN EVENINGS

FROM NOW UNTIL AFTER CHRISTMAS

with a complete stock of new and up-to-date holiday suggestions. Remember we have the greatest variety of Gift Books to be found in Peterboro', as well as Fine China and Cut Glass, Pictures, High-Grade Leather Goods, Stationery, Bibles, Hymn Books, Cards Calendars, etc., to which we invite your inspection. Be sure and get our prices before purchasing. You will be convinced that they are Rock Bottom.

R. J. SODEN

369 George Street

FOR THE LADY WHO CALLS

Visiting List and Social Engagement Book—A Dainty and Useful Gift.

Those ladies who find it difficult to keep track of their social debts in the way of calls which have to be returned, invitations to various society functions which have been received will be pleased to learn that a dainty little book has been issued from the presses of the Review which will fill their need. The city has grown so rapidly of late years that it has become almost necessary for each lady to have a special reception day each month when her friends will be sure to find her at home. To keep a record of these will be an easy matter with one of these little books. They are prettily bound in blue linen, lettered in gold and printed on good paper. There are two pages for every day in the month, arranged according as the day is first Monday, second Tuesday, etc. At the back of the book are pages for invitations received, out-of-town addresses, special reception dates, and memoranda. One of the books would make a dainty and acceptable Xmas gift. The books are on sale at the bookstores at the price of 50c

NOW IN FULL SWING

$100.00 In Rewards For Selling The "Review"

IN COLD CASH

This Grand Competition began Tuesday evening, October 8th, and will close December 31st, (New Year's Eve.) Boys carrying routes, boys selling to customers, boys selling on the street, boys who have never sold papers, are all urged to get up and get. Parents can let the little fellows come to THE REVIEW Office after school, and they will be taken care of—not allowed to stay in a dingy cellar or out on the street in the cold. Papers will be ready sharp after 4 o'clock each day. COME ON, BOYS! HERE'S A SURE THING!

Twenty-Six Prizes 26 Twenty-Six Prizes

To the twenty-six boys getting the largest number of New Customers for THE DAILY REVIEW:

1st PRIZE—$30.00 in Cash, or a high-grade 1908 Bicycle, worth $55.00 as winner may prefer.
2nd PRIZE—$20.00 in Cash, or Fur Goods to the value of $30.00, as preferred.
3rd PRIZE—$10.00 Cash, or $15.00 worth in China, dinner or tea set, or as selected.
4th PRIZE—$8.00 Cash, or $10.00 worth of goods of any kind, as selected.
5th PRIZE—$5.00 Cash.
6th PRIZE—$4.00 Cash.
7th PRIZE—$3.00 Cash.
8th to 12th PRIZES—$2.00 Cash. Five prizes of $2.00 each.
13th to 22nd PRIZES—$1.00 Cash. Ten prizes of $1.00 each.

NOTE—The option, cash or goods, in the first four prizes, is made in case the parents of the boys winning either of the prizes should prefer the larger amount in goods instead of cash.

Any boy may buy REVIEWS and sell—the more the merrier. The girls have an equal chance with the boys, and will be welcome.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES—Every boy who brings in a paid-up subscription to THE DAILY REVIEW for three months will receive a bonus of 20 cents; for six months a bonus of 40 cents; for a year a bonus of $1.00.

HERE'S A WEEKLY REWARD—In addition, every boy who buys one paper or more each night of the week, (six papers), will receive once each week, during this competition,

A FREE TICKET TO THE CRYSTAL MOVING PICTURES

See, Boys! You have a paid admission to this beautiful entertainment, even if you do no more than buy one paper each night. This privilege has been secured for you exclusively by THE REVIEW.

PLENTY OF TIME YET TO GET INTO THE COMPETITION AND WIN A BIG PRIZE

SAVED, FROM HERSELF.

Masson, Que.—Just two years ago, the residents of this pretty village viewed, with alarm, the change that crept over Florence, the daughter of Mr. Jamison. From a bright, carefree child, she emerged into young womanhood, worn and wasted. It became a "nine-days wonder." There was no radical trouble and yet her health perceptibly failed. Finally, physicians were consulted. They prescribed—failed to do any good—and were discharged. All at once, Florence began to improve. Her eyes brightened, the color returned, and today, there is not a brighter, happier, healthier girl in Canada.

"I was a martyr to constipation," writes Miss Jamison. "I had every symptom of kidney irritation and had been told by physicians that my kidneys were affected. I consulted a number of physicians and took various remedies, but received very little benefit. Then I was advised to try 'Fruit-a-tives.' After I had taken half a box, the constipation was relieved—headaches left me—pain in the back was better—and I could sleep."

"Fruit-a-tives" always cure kidney trouble, because they cure the cause. They stimulate the liver and kidneys to increased action. Get a box—take them properly—and cure yourself to stay cured. Made of fruit juices and tonics. 50c a box; 6 for $2.50. At druggists or sent on receipt of price. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

The Daily Review

THURSDAY, DEC. 5, 1907.

A WARNING NOTE

Mr. Cockshutt, M.P., of Brantford, has sounded a warning note in the Commons, and some Liberal journals, who do not relish the tone and force of his remarks, are shouting that he is raising a "blue ruin" cry.

Not at all! Mr. Cockshutt has simply pointed out that it is time for the Laurier Government to call a halt; to pause in its reckless extravagance. It has largely contributed to the present financial stringency in Canada by creating conditions such as have caused an adverse balance of trade of over $120,000,000 annually. Too much money has, in other words, been going out of the country, and lack of ordinary business prudence and foresight has been evidenced. This adverse balance is rather alarming. Hon. Mr. Fielding has been dodging the issue of the present stringency, telling of the prosperity of the past rather than giving attention to immediate conditions or requirements.

While the Finance Minister is boasting of a large surplus, "how is it," pertinently inquired Mr. Cockshutt, "if all this money is available or on hand that the Government is the slowest of paymasters? I for one, am very sceptical as to the amount of money the Minister has got in the bank. Judging from what I have heard from contractors and others, they have been paid very slowly. In some cases they have been told there is no money to pay them with, and they have been put off for months. I am told that the Government today is one of the slowest paymasters in Canada."

The member for South Brant also furnished some figures which are appalling and are calculated to make reasonable men sit up and think. The Customs and inland revenue taxation for the nine months ending 31st March, 1907, was at the rate of $68,754,120, for a period of twelve months. During the past five years the average taxation of the people has amounted to sum of $57,105,177, annually. The adverse balance of trade against Canada has enormously increased during recent years, and for the past twelve months ending August 31st, 1907, amounted to no less than the sum of $121,467,844; the expenditure for the nine months ending 31st March, 1907, was at the rate of $87,000,000 per annum, and the total expenditure during the past five years has reached the alarming figure of more than $383,000,000 and exceeds by $170,000,000 the expenditure during the corresponding period ending 30th June, 1896, when a Conservative Government was in power.

SENATE REFORM

When the Liberals held a big Dominion convention in Ottawa away back in the early nineties, one of the planks then adopted in the famous platform, was "Reform of the Senate."

At that time there was a large Conservative majority in the Upper House, but during the past eleven years, many of them elderly occupants of seats in the "red parlor" have been removed by the hand of death. These vacancies have been held up as plums for party workers, defeated Grit candidates or importunate claimants for cabinet preferment. The Laurierites now have a majority in the Senate of about thirty and of late years little or nothing has been heard from them on the all important question of senate reform. Various flimsy pretexts have been advanced for neglecting to bring in a measure looking to the reformation of the Upper House, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, for instance, having the effrontery to inform a western Ontario audience some time ago that the reason the premier had not taken the matter up was "because he had not had time."

Just think of it; no time in eleven years! It is encouraging, however, to note, although the cabinet has not acted, being too busy probably in seeking to protect corruption and scandal, and to cover up jobbery and land deals that at least a couple of members to the Speaker's right have given the problem some attention and will force it upon the cabinet. Two Liberals, Mr. McIntyre of South Perth, and Mr. Miller, of North Gray, have come forward with proposals, that of the latter being of a rather radical character, he being in favor of "reforming" this "refuge for political hacks," as it has been called, out of existence. Mr. Miller proposes "That the Canadian Senate, as an institution, has not proved to be of any decided benefit to Canada and cannot be regarded as a necessity; that the disadvantages connected with and resulting from the maintaining of the Senate greatly outweigh the advantages and benefits derived therefrom; and that the Senate with advantage may be abolished."

Mr. McIntyre is more modest. He wants a conference with the Upper House, or a joint committee to consider the advantages to be gained by changes in the composition of the Senate looking at —1, an age limit for retirement and a shortened term of service for future Senators; 2, an extension to other authorities than the present one of power to select persons for filling positions of future vacancies in the Senate; 3, a rearrangement of some of the duties and work of the two Houses; 4, making recommendations in regard to these and other changes calculated to place the Senate in a position of increased usefulness and of increased responsibility to the people.

While public opinion may not be prepared to sanction the entire wiping out of the Senate as Mr. Miller suggests, it will certainly welcome any change tending to increase the usefulness, activity and service of the Upper House and to render that moribund and, at present, comparatively insignificant body more amendable to the voice of the people, and the duties and responsibilities of free representative government.

PEN POINTS

Pick out your Christmas presents and also your aldermanic candidates.

Read the advertising columns of the Review for timely and helpful suggestions on Christmas gift giving.

For the first time in history a Canadien—Tommy Burns—sports the title of champion heavyweight pugilist of the world.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier says whenever he sees a small boy smoking a cigarette, he feels like spanking him. Many kids would consider that an honor.

Mr. Fielding told some funny stories in the House on Tuesday, but when forced to make a reference to the Colchester bye-election his remarks were not at all funny.

Corney Burns, of the Peterborough Baseball Club, champions of the Midland League, can knock out a few flies, but his namesake, Tommy Burns, is a better man, as this week he knocked out Moir.

If the Halifax platform of Mr. Borden is nothing but a "thing of shreds and patches," as certain Liberal parliamentarians maintain, why, then, are they devoting so much attention to it?

Mr. Turriff has introduced a bill in the House to amend the Railway Act. At present a company is only required to begin construction within two years. His measure, if it becomes law, will require ten per cent of the road to be constructed and in operation at the end of two years, ten per cent more at the end of the third year, and ten per cent more at the end of the fourth year, under penalty of forfeiture of its charter. This is a measure which should be adopted. It would prevent certain individuals holding "blanket" charters for years, just for what they can make out of them. It would also put a check on a great many railway promoters who are endeavoring to promote principally their own interests rather than those of the country, or the communities to be served by railways that are always going to be, but too rarely are constructed.

PETERBOROUGH RAG AND METAL COMPANY

Prepared to pay the highest market price and will give a square deal for Scrap Iron, Rags, Rubbers, Wool Pickings, etc. Don't sell before you see them. Call up Phone 694

YARD AND OFFICE:
COR. SIMCOE and BETHUNE, West

D. FLORENCE & SON

Cavendish Lumber Company Cut Over 17,000,000 Feet

Football Supper of Grove School—New Doctor in Lakefield—Former Resident Expires—Other Notes.

Lakefield, Dec. 3.—Miss Tanner left on Friday last for a round of visits to friends and relatives in Peterborough.

Miss Maud Nugent, of Millbrook, is visiting Miss Sherin.

Miss Eveline Chasty, of Peterborough, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harper.

The District Convention of the Epworth League and Sunday school of the Methodist church was held in the church on Monday last. Many ministers and delegates from outside points were present at the meeting, which was a successful one in every respect.

Miss Lightfoot spent Sunday last at her home in Peterborough.

Miss Landerville also spent Sunday at her home in Peterborough.

Rev. S. T. Bartlett, a former pastor of the Methodist church, and who will be remembered by many residents of the village, was in Lakefield on Monday last, attending the Epworth League convention.

The Cavendish Lumber Company closed down on Saturday last after a a most successful season's operations. The company cut over 17,000,000 feet of lumber during the season.

Mr R C Best, of the G.T.R. staff, spent a few days last week at his home in Uxbridge.

Miss McKibbon and Miss Mabel Walker arrived home on Saturday last after a month's visit to friends near Campbellford.

Mrs. Badgley and Miss Badgley, of Ottawa, are in the village, the guest of Mrs. Chamberlain.

Mrs. Lewin, of Toronto, arrived at "The Grove" on Tuesday last, on a visit to Mrs. McKenzie.

Miss Zimmerman, who has been visiting in Lakefield for some months past, returns to her home in Toronto on Friday next.

The death of Mr. P. Band severs one more link with Lakefield's past. Mr. Band was one of Lakefield's early pioneers, having come out from England in the fifties, as a pupil of the late Colonel Strickland. He was for some years bursar of the Penetanguishene Reformatory, and only relinquished the appointment a few years ago.

The football supper, one of the great annual functions of the Grove school, takes place on Thursday, Dec. 5th. This is an event which is always looked forward to with great pleasure by the pupils as additional relish is given to the occasion by the presentation of the prizes won in the various sports of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Gallichan, who have been living for some weeks past in Mr. Le Fevre's cottage, left on Tuesday for Vernon, B.C., where Mr Gallichan, has secured a situation on Mr. Grieves' ranch.

Dr. Brown has sold out his practice to Dr. Graham, of Toronto, and leaves this week for New York. His successor arrived in the village at the latter end of last week, in order to start in the practice of his profession.

Mr. H. J. Le Fevre left Lakefield on Monday, in order to attend the funeral of the late P. Baird, in Toronto.

An entertainment will be held in St. John's church school house on Friday next, under the auspices of St. John's choir. The best of local talent has been procured, for the occasion, and an enjoyable evening is assured.

Mr. J. M. Pygott and family have entered into residence in the home lately occupied by Mr. Blomfield.

Mr. Chas. Cumberland, of the Sovereign Bank, Toronto, arrived in Lakefield on Wednesday, Dec. 4. on a visit to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Cumberland.

Miss Birdie Nichollls, of Buckhorn, who has been visiting Miss Florence Simpson, returned home last week.

News was received last week that James Wilson, an old resident of Lakefield, who went to Mimico a short time since, died there on Thursday last. His remains were interred at Mimico.

Mrs. R. P. Davidson left on Monday last for a visit to friends in Toronto.

Deputation to Go to Ottawa To Urge the Government

To Grant Lease to Power Company in Connection With Healey Fall's Development—Havelock Council to Go in a Body

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Dec. 4.—The village Council met on Monday night at 7.30. Present Reeve Thompson, and Councillors Young, Knox and Campney.

Minutes of last meeting were read and adopted.

Moved by Couns. Knox, seconded by Couns. Campney,—That the following accounts be paid:

Jas. Backus, work on streets	$9.60
Jas. Backus, caretaking	7.50
Dave Hogg, carting	.50
T. P. Lancaster, bal. contract	25.00
Electric lights for Nov.	33.33

Moved by Coun. Knox, seconded by Coun. Young,—That Mr. Jno. A. Burnett get a rebate of income tax, amounting to $2.70, on account of being assessed for property.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Campney, seconded by Coun. Knox,—That the clerk be instructed to ask for tenders for snow ploughing sidewalks, tenders to be received up to Dec. 16th, same specifications to be in price as last year.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Knox, seconded by Coun. Campney,—That C. W. Coon be paid his account as follows:—

Hauling stones off street 12 hrs.	$3.60
20 hrs. work man and team	6.00
20 hrs. for extra man	3.00
Hauling gravel, 10 hours	3.00
Hauling gravel 15 hours	4.50
	$20.10

—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Campney seconded by Coun. Young,—That Mr. James Backus be instructed to procure planks and extend sidewalk on south side of Mathison street east, in accordance with a previous motion of the Council.—Carried.

MR. CULVERWELL SPEAKS.

Mr. J. A. Culverwell, managing director of the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., Limited, addressed the Council as the spokesman of a deputation of prominent Havelock ratepayers, requesting the Council to send two of their number as members of a deputation, which will wait on the Dominion Government requesting the lease of the Government's middle portion of Healey Falls and urged on the Council the importance to Havelock of such a step, both as an aid to the village and the 25 stockholders of the company who reside at Havelock.

Messrs. Jas. Mark, S. S. Joyce, Chas. Fanning, Thos. Hubble, Jas. Watson and Thos. Wood also addressed the Council, all urging the importance of the Council doing all in their power to assist the company in order that Havelock may be afforded an opportunity of obtaining cheap power as inducement to manufacturers to locate here. After considerable discussion on the matter it was moved by Coun. Campney, seconded by Coun. Young.—That the whole Council be a deputation to go to Ottawa along with a deputation of leading business men and manufacturers of the lake front towns and cities to endorse the memorial to the Dominion Government of the Council dated the 29th day of Aug., 1907, and to press the immediate settlement of the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., Limited. application for the intervening portion of upper Healey Rapids, the company holding a lease from the Ontario Government of the falls and lower rapids, and owning portions of the upper rapids and a patent for the land required for development works.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Knox, seconded by Coun. Campney,—That Wm. Rose's account for electric light fixtures and new lights for street, amounting to $17.15, less 50c deduction, and also R. J. Graham's account for $3.50 for work and material, cutting door in dressing room, be paid.

The clerk was instructed to obtain advice from the solicitor of the Council regarding the liability of the business tax in certain cases of transfer of business, and also to write the Municipal World for their opinion on the matter.

Council adjourned.

ANXIOUS TO WORK BUT CAN'T FIND ANY

Young Englishman Seeks Employment in Vain—In Canada Four Months

The number of cases of young Englishmen in the city without employment is amazing, and it is a matter of wonder how they live.

A respectable looking young man who has just been out from England four months, informed the Review yesterday, that he was out of work, and all efforts to obtain any were of no avail. On coming to this country, he worked for a farmer, but for several weeks had been in Nicholls Hospital. He said that a friend of his assisted him by giving him a bed to sleep on, but what he got to eat had to be earned in some way. He had been cutting wood wherever a wood cutter was required, but he says work of any description is very hard to get. No matter how menial it is, he will be pleased to have it, for apparently he is an industrious and reliable young man.

The working hours on the M. C. R. shops at St. Thomas have been reduced from 50 hours to 45 hours a week.

AMUSEMENTS

"DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON HALL"

Since "Trilby" started the fashion, the book play like the breakfast food has multiplied with startling rapidity and a few of either have been palatable; Miss Bianca West, however, is fortunate in her new offering, "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," in which she will be seen at the Grand, next Monday. It is more than palatable; it is delicious; at least the opinions of the critics where both the play and star have been seen have it that way. Charles Major's beautiful story of the romantic career of dainty "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" has been read by nearly everyone, and the play that Paul Kester has made of it, is one that everyone should see. It is bright and happy in dialogue, rich in romantic incident abundant in historical facts and very entertaining. The winsome, witty, and willful Dorothy browbeats her father, defies her aunt, betrays and saves the Queen of Scotland, hoodwinks the Queen of England, and finally elopes with her true lover, as she does in the book.

THE MAN ON THE BOX.

"The Man on the Box," which was presented at the Grand Opera House last night, must be claimed as one of the stellar attractions of the season. The audience was not as large as it should have been, but the house was well filled and there was a unanimity of opinion regarding the play that it was the equal of any of its class ever presented in this city. Harold McGrath's fascinating novel loses nothing in the dramatization into a three act play. The story is one of society life at Washington. Lieut. Robert Warburton, young, wealthy and handsome, decides to play the part of the family coachman for one night, in order to perpetrate a joke on his sister. In the rush of cabs at the close of a ball he gets on the wrong carriage, and then come many complications. After many situations that give scope for splendid acting, everything ends as it should.

The star of the evening was Elsie Leslie, as Elizabeth Annesley. Her delineation of that part was everything that could have been desired, and she was received with enthusiasm. Jameson Lee Finney, as Lieut. Robt. Warburton, had the leading male role and showed great histronic power. The supporting company was excellent in every respect, and the audience was pleased beyond measure.

Induction Service At St. Paul's Tonight

The services in connection with the induction of the Rev. Robt. Pogue to St. Paul's Church will be held this evening. The Presbytery will meet at 7 o'clock and the congregation at 7.30. Rev. Dr. Marsh, the interim moderator, will preside. Rev. D. A. Thompson, of Hastings, will preach the induction sermon, which will be before the induction. Rev. Wm. Johnston will then deliver the charge to the preacher, and Rev. Dr. Talling will deliver the charge to the congregation.

HOW'S THIS

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

You have heard the Sailor Boys' plea, buy to-day for your dinner to-morrow "Sailor Boy" Canned Goods, Tomatoes Corn, Peas and Salmon. Your money does not buy better Goods. Do you get "Sailor Boy" or substitute ?

Annual Meetings Cheese Factories

Patrons Bear Reports of Operations for Past Season

The annual meeting of Westwood cheese factory was held on Tuesday afternoon in the town hall. There were a large number in attendance, and the addresses given by Mr. N. G. Somerville and Inspector Ward were listened to with deep interest. Mr. Fred. Warner was in the chair, owing to the absence of the president, Mr. John Lancaster. The following statement of the operations of the past year was presented;

Total amt. milk, 1,913,568 lbs.
Total amt. cheese, 167,711 lbs.
Money rec'd for cheese, $19,673.49.
Money rec'd for whey, $382.71.
Interest, $93.74.
Gross receipts, $20,149.94.
Amt. milk for 1 lb. cheese, 11.40 lbs
Average price for cheese, 11.73c.
Gross price per standard, $31.59.
Net to patrons per standard, $26.87.

The four patrons sending the largest amount of milk during the year were as follows;

F. Warner, 92,275 lbs.
Thomas Lynch, 59,266 lbs.
J. C. Breckenridge, 56,757 lbs.
M. J. Healy, 60,200 lbs.

The proprietor of Westwood factory is Mr. J. Ryan.

ORMONDE.

The annual meeting of Ormonde cheese factory was held last night. Mr. John Coughlin, the president, was in the chair, and the following report of the past season's operations was presented;

Total amt. milk, 2,122386 lbs.
Total amt. cheese, 191,836 lbs.
Receipts for cheese, $22,509.72.
Interest, $24.44.
Gross receipts, $22,534.16.
Amt. milk for 1 lb. cheese, 11.06 lbs
Average price for cheese, 11.71 lbs.
Net price per standard to patrons, $26.94.

An advance in the price of manufacturing was granted for the above two factories.

PINE GROVE.

Pine Grove factory held its annual meeting on Monday afternoon, when addresses were given by Messrs. Somerville and Ward. A report of the season's work was presented as follows;—

Amount milk—1,149,612 lbs.
Amount cheese—104,336 lbs.
Amount milk for 1 lb. cheese—11.65.
Total receipts—$12,165.95.
Average price per lb.—11c.
Amount money paid patrons—$10,997.41.
No. of patrons—54.

SELWYN.

Monday night the annual meeting Selwyn factory was held. Mr. Ford McKee was in the chair, and there was a large turnout of the patrons. Supper was served during the evening and a good programme was provided, including addresses by Messrs. Ward and Somerville. A report of the season's operations will appear later.

The first public test of the gas from the new fifteen-hundred-foot well at Lethbridge, was a complete success.

ONTARIO COAL CO. LIMITED PETERBORO

COAL-CARTAGE

Best Hard COAL $7.50 per ton
No. 2 Nut COAL $6.50 per ton
Butts or English Cannel COAL $7.50 per ton

HEAD OFFICE AND YARDS: 160 Aylmer Street Phone 116
CITY OFFICE: 387 Water St PHONES: Bell 325. Machine 325

ONTARIO COAL CO., Limited

A. J. McCLELLAN C. CURRIER G. K. RACKHAM

THE FINANCES OF THE COUNTY

Information of Interest to Many of the Ratepayers

County Treasurer E. M. Elliott has handed the Review the following statement of the finances of the County of Peterborough up to Nov. 30th, 1907, as well as an estimate of its financial standing, currently speaking, at the close of the year;

RECEIPTS.

Jan. 1, cash on hand	$ 2.61
Jan. 1, Cr. at bank, current account	4125.96
Jan. 1, Cr. at bank, capital account	5401.62
County rates	2639.74
Land tax	471.42
Licenses	300.00
Schools	7976.12
Registry office	476.00
Roads and bridges	629.43
Administration justice	1894.42
Debentures	1950.00
Magistrates' fines	83.15
Interest	70.89
Redemptions	267.99
Division Court	14.11
Miscellaneous	4021.25
House of Refuge rates	43.17
House of Refuge, current account	386.05
Tax sale	826.59
Nov. 30, debit at bank, current account	21,563.95
	$53,144.47

PAYMENTS.

Land Tax	$ 1289.69
Schools	8425.11
Registry office	637.55
Roads and bridges	8057.83
Administration of justice	6118.23
Debentures	5276.30
Interest	302.50
Redemptions	389.99
Division Court	49.00
Miscellaneous	52.82
Miscellaneous grants	754.65
Municipal expenses	2336.20
Gaol	2471.53
Printing, postage, etc	535.18
County property	422.81
Insurance, light, heat, etc.	1114.31
House of Refuge, current account	3559.15
House of Refuge, capital account	11,218.32
Nov. 30, at bank, capital account	133.30
	$53,144.47

AN ESTIMATE.

The following is an estimate of the financial standing of the county, speaking, at the close of the year;

ASSETS.

Rates from all sources due by townships, etc	$26,933.80
Award due by city, ad. justice, 1907	2840.00
Annuity on Chemong bridge due by city	200.00
Due by government sep. gr. ad. justice	500.00
Due by government, Dec. gr. ad. justice	1200.00
Registry office	450.00
Debentures issued, $4,1000, at 4 per cent	3700.00
Revenue House Refuge	200.00
	$36,023.80

LIABILITIES.

Nov. 30, overdraft	$21,563.95
Schools	4370.00
Ad. justice	1500.00
Roads and bridges	2400.00
Municipal expenses	400.00
Land tax	150.00
Interest	75.00
Debentures and int. on same	3815.00
House Refuge, current acct.	650.00
Gaol	400.00
Estimated assets in excess to to meet emergencies	999.85
	$36,023.80

FOR XMAS WORK OR BAZAARS

Pictures in Sepia or Colors, from 3c to 12c

Mounting Papers and Card, in White, Browns and Gray.

Leather in all shades—Brown, Tan, Green and Red.

Calendar Pads, all sizes, from 2c to 10c each.

Passepartout in all shades.

AT REVIEW STATIONERY DEPT.

EGGS

FOR SALE by the case

Fresh and Pickled Choice Stock at our warehouse, Robinson Street, East City

Scott&Hogg

PHONE 264, BOTH PHONES

PRICE OF Coal FOR OCTOBE R IS $7.50 Ton, cash with order

THE PETERBORO FUEL & CARTAGE CO LIMITED.

182 Charlotte-st. Telephones—(Bell) 261, 270. (Machine)—270.
184 Aylmer-st. Tel. (Bell) 362.

D.L. & W's SCRANTON COAL

SOLD BY R. HICKS & CO. AT

$7.50 Per Ton

for Month of October, in lots of not less than half ton.

This is the Standard Anthracite. 60 % of the Coal sold in Ontario is SCRANTON. Terms Positively Cash.

R. HICKS & CO.

Coal Builders' Supplies, Etc.

COAL AND WOOD

Best of Coal—Best of Wood

COAL FOR OCTOBER

$7.50 PER TON

J. E. A. FITZGERALD

Cor. Brock and Bethune Sts
BOTH PHONES 111

Palace Livery Barn

For the smartest and most up-to-date LIVERY OUTFITS, at reasonable rates, go to

TOM FOSTER & CO.

Successors to Bruce Lee & Co
Rear of Snowden House.

AUCTION SALE OF HORSES BUGGIES, HARNESS, ETC., EVERY SATURDAY

Phones - Bell 286-Machine 289

Steer Straight

for the best Beer ever brewed, and you are sure to come to us! Our Bottled Beer is "bottled health." It means vigor and strength, a good appetite and high spirits. It is the best medicine for the weak and the best food for the strong. Keep our excellent in Beer your home as a beverage and you will have no need of a doctor. Nothing but the purest ingredients used in the brewing.

—THE—
CALCUTT BREWING AND MALTING CO
of Ashburnham Limited

THE
BEEHIVE
The Ladies' Big
Ready-to-wear Store

We show a great variety of Children's Dresses for winter wear—strong, durable dressy and attractive. All sizes—made up in all the latest cloths, from 75c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $3.00, $4.00 $5 00, Etc., Etc.

Children's Dressy Coats in long and short lengths, in all the new cloths—dainty and comfortable, from $1.00

gradually up

Babies Cashmere Cloaks tastily embroidered with silk, in long and short lengths. See our special values at $3.75

We have all the new styles and latest lengths in Perrin's Kid Gloves.

Register now for the February free embroidery classes.

THE
BEEHIVE
The Ladies' Big
Ready-to Wear Store

SPORTING NEWS

Peterborough Will Have Intermediate O. H. A. Team

Application Has Been Accepted by the Association—Strong Team Can be Put on the Ice.

Peterborough will have intermediate O.H.A. hockey this winter

Secretary G. G. Graham yesterday forwarded to Secretary Hewitt, of the O.H.A., the entry of an intermediate team from this city and information has since been received that the entry has been accepted. Peterborough asked to be grouped with Lindsay, Cobourg, Port Hope and Whitby, and they will likely be placed as requested. The grouping committee of the O.H.A. meets to-morrow night and the Peterborough club will hold a meeting at an early date to reorganize for the season.

The application for admission to the O.H.A. was made at the request of a large number of citizens who were anxious for something else besides city league hockey this winter.

Peterborough should be able to place a strong team on the ice, having a number of last year's senior team to draw from in addition to a big bundle of city league material. Bert Lang, "Jakey" Moore, and "Giddey" Miller, of last year's seniors, will be found on the line up and there are some of the older players who will turn out if necessary.

MEDALS WILL BE PRESENTED

Winners of Indoor Meet Will Receive Prizes Tomorrow Night

The medals won at the athletic meet at the Brock street rink on Tuesday night will be presented at the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow night. There will be two basketball matches, one between the first and second teams, and the other between the Tigers and Harriers, and the presentation of the medals will take place between the two games. The medals arrived yesterday, and are beautiful specimens of the jeweller's art. Those won by the Toronto men will be forwarded them at once. There will be no admission to the basketball matches and presentation, and there will no doubt be a large number in attendance.

Bridgenorth Will Apply To the League

And Ask to be Admitted—Promise to Have a Fast Team

There is talk of Bridgenorth entering a team in the Peterborough city league. At any rate the boys from the sawmill village will make application for membership in the league, and hope to be able to present credentials that will entitle them to admittance.

Bridgenorth can put a fast team on the ice, and as they will have a rink to practice on this winter, they should be able to keep in good shape.

White With the New St. George's

Will Probably Play With Toronto Senior O.H.A. Aggregation

Mr. Harold White, who played such brilliant hockey with the champion Strathconas in the city league last winter, will probably figure on the lineup of the new St. George's, the Toronto senior O.H.A. team. White is a top notch puck chaser and should be of great service to any team.

HOCKEY

NO MEETING.

A meeting was to have been held at the Y.M.C.A. last night for the purpose of organizing a juvenile city hockey league but none of those interested showed up.

Clubs are sending in their fees at a good rate to Secretary W. A. Hewitt, and it looks like a record year for the O H.A. in the number of teams entered.

Orillia will reorganize Thursday night, and will enter intermediate and junior teams in the O.H.A. The boys will have a huge new rink to perform in this season.

Guelph Mercury: The professional situation in Guelph is promising. The team will be a strong one. Since Galt has not entered the professional ranks, Corbeau will play with Guelph. He will make quite a strong man, and, with a good point player, the defence will be complete.

THE RING

In a bout with "Billie" Glover, of Boston, Artie Edmunds, the well known Canadian boxer-wrestler, was worsted by the bean eater.

RUNNING

Last night's Toronto News says:—Freddy McGrath of Peterborough, who retired in 1904, has decided to don running togs again.

Tuesday evening at the Y.M.C.A. Harriers' indoor meet, he made his first appearance on a running track in three years, winning the 50-yard handicap dash from scratch in 5 1-5 seconds. He ran under the colors of the Irish-Canadian Club, of Toronto, of which he is a member, and showed that he is just as good as ever.

A ten flat hundred yard runner, one of the fastest quarter milers in the country, he will be a welcome addition to track athletics, making a good running mate for Bobbie Kerr in the spring.

Absconded With Funds of Express Co.

The local office of the Dominion Express Co., have been notified to be on the lookout for Charles Wiley of Minneapolis, Minn., who absconded with the funds of the Wells, Fargo Express Co., on the 23rd of last month. A full description and picture of him is given and a reward of $300 is offered for his arrest. His photo will be hung in a conspicuous place in the local office, and the police have been notified so that in case the culprit strikes this city, he will have a poor chance of escaping detection.

Bruce Ridpath Will Likely be Home Before Long

Bruce Ridpath, the canoe expert, who made such a hit in Germany with his marvellous stunts, may be home shortly. In a letter he inquires anxiously about the "pro" hockey situation here, and remarks that his season in Germany may close at any time. Bruce got some great press notices in Berlin. One reads:

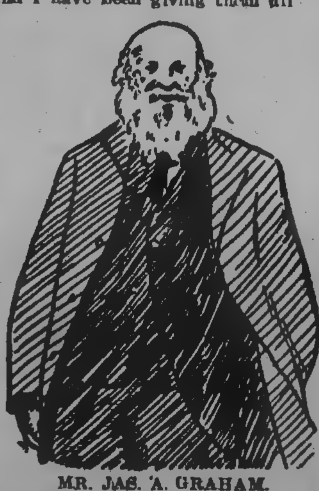
"A water acrobat is the newest drawing card at the Circus Busch. Mr Ridpath, an American, oustles around in his pitchim canoe in the water of the manege of 4 m depth in such a clever way that one could desire him to teach all water sportsmen, etc., this art. All accidents on the water would then be considerably decreased. But Mr. Ridpath's act is only one of the many chances which the Pantomime "Auf der Hallig" gives, and in quite a charming way. Hundreds of people wait at the closed box office every night."

Buffalo Man Wants to Meet Hartley

In Walking Match Contest From 25 Miles to Six Days

Lockport, Dec. 7.—James A. Graham, of Buffalo, a pedestrian, formerly of Lockport, issues a challenge, in which he offers to meet either Jas. Reynolds or David Hartley, from 25 miles to six days, for fun or money, at any place in Canada, Buffalo or Lockport. Graham, who formerly lived in South Transit street, this city, styles himself the "champion 27 hour heel and toe walker of America." He is managed by Fred Reaster, of Buffalo, who writes as follows:—

"For some time past most of the American pedestrians, and especially in Canada, have been making boasts of their walking and running powers, and some of them have gone so far as to say that there was no other man to meet. This is not so, and I have been giving them all a chance. I have James A. Graham, the former Lockport champion, in charge, and now I find most of the pedestrians claim to be amateurs. I have watched Tom Longboat, the Indian, and others, and I find that Graham is their master if given a chance.



MR. JAS. A. GRAHAM.

"Graham ran three miles in 1 minute and 30 seconds faster than the Indian, Longboat, ever did, and I stand ready to match him with any man in the world, if any have the nerve to race him. I have signed Graham in a number of roller rinks in two mile races against roller skaters, and also have a number of long races by the first of January.

"Mr. Graham wants to run in his own city of the locks, Lockport, before spring. I am trying to arrange a 12-hour race in Toronto for the championship of Canada. Graham has backing up to $1000, if any of the boys that wear the pretty red and blue sweaters will come out."

STEAMSHIP MOVEMENTS

Special to the Review.

Montreal, Dec 5th.—C.P.R. steamship Lake Erie, arrived in Liverpool three p.m. to-day.

SIMPSON AND WILSON MAY GO

Are Prospective Candidates for the Olympic Team

The Toronto Star last night had an article on prospective candidates for the Canadian Olympic team and includes Fred. Simpson among the available long distance men, and Ernie Wilson as a possible five miler.

An Election Not Looked For in Board

Five Members of Board of Education, Who Retire, Will Likely be Re-elected by Acclamation

The retiring members of the Board of Education at the close of the present yearr are Messrs. Dumble, Pringle, Hill, Crane and Burnham. They will then have completed their two year tenure of office and will be out of the Board unless re-elected. The other four members of the Board, Messrs. Morrison, Fair, Robinson and Ackerman, were elected last year and have a two year term to serve.

As far as can be learned at the present time there will be no opposition to Messrs. Dumble, Hill, Pringle, Crane and Burnham if they decide to stand for re-election. It is generally admitted that the Board of Education as it is at present constituted, cannot be much improved upon and it does not look as if there would be an election unless something unexpected turns up.

BAND WILL GIVE SERIES OF CONCERTS

Winter Entertainments of Several Years Ago to be Revived

Mr. R. Gliddon, bandmaster of the 57th regiment band, is making arrangements for holding a series of band concerts during the winter. This will be good news to admirers of the band and lovers of good music generally, as during the past two or three years there has not been much opportunity of hearing the band during the winter months. Several years ago concerts were given by the band in the market hall during the winter and they proved exceedingly popular. The revival of the old custom will be hailed with delight.

Further particulars will appear later.

Milder Weather Now on the Way

Thermometer Registered Four Degrees Below Last Night

To-morrow will be fine and mild, so the Probs say.

Last night the Government thermometer touched four degrees below zero. This morning at seven o'clock the mercury was five degrees above zero.

President's Men Won the Contest

Enjoyable Time Spent at the Young Conservative Club Rooms

There was a euchre contest at The Young Conservative Club rooms last night when the men championed by President William Buller defeated the side captained by Vice-President Wm. Gibbs, by 164 points. There were 20 players on each side and the contest was a spirited one. The captain of the losing side had to provide the Havannas, but, of course, the good natured president could not see the genial vice-president bear all the entire loss and generously "chipped in." The rooms were crowded and a very pleasant time was spent.

On Thursday night of next week, December 12, there will be an attractive entertainment. Music and songs will be provided and former President Mr. J. H. Burnham, of Toronto, will give an address appropriate to the glad holiday season.

Invitation Cards for AT Homes, Receptions and Evening Parties, partly printed for 1c each. Envelopes to match 10c package. On sale at the Review Office.

OBITUARY

JAMES LYNCH.

After an illness of about three weeks duration, James Lynch, one of the best and favorably known young men of this vicinity passed away from heart failure on Thursday last, says the Hastings Star.

On the opening of the deer hunting season Mr. Lynch had gone to the north country according to his usual custom, but exposure to the inclement weather brought on a severe attack of rheumatism and he had to be brought home. Complications set in and on account of the weakened state of his heart he was unable to rally and passed away as stated above.

Deceased was a native of Asphodel township, and had been a resident of Hastings for a number of years. He leaves to mourn his loss besides his widow, his father and several brothers and sisters. The brothers are Edward, Joseph and Leo, of Hastings, George, of Asphodel, and Thomas of Percy, and Charles of Minnesota. The sisters are Mrs. F. McGuire, of Percy, Mrs. John English, of Asphodel, and Maud and Irene at home.

The funeral took place on Saturday morning to the R.C. cemetery, Hastings, and was under the auspices of the Catholic Order of Foresters, of which deceased was a member.

MYLES FROATES.

The death occurred yesterday in Yonkers, N.Y., of a former resident of this city, in the person of Mr. Myles Froates. The late Mr. Froates was well known in Peterborough, having resided here for many years. He was born in Sherbrooke, Que., He came here from Montreal about seventeen years ago, and left this city seven years ago. His wife predeceased him. Two daughters, Misses Margaret and Louisa, of Yonkers, are left to mourn this loss.

The unerfal will tak eplace to-morrow evening, on the arrival of the 5.38 G.T.R. train to the Little Lake cemetery.

DEPUTATION FROM NORWOOD

Will Go to Ottawa in Connection With Healey Falls Development

Special to the Review.

Special to the Review.

Norwood, Dec. 4.—A meeting of the village council was held this week when the matter of power was discussed.

Several speakers expressed themselves, and, judging by the tone of their remarks do not intend to let certain parties in Peterborough city dictate to East Peterborough as to what they shall do on the important and urgent question of power.

This delegation to Ottawa will not be a "pink tea party" but if necessary a Boston tea party. The following resolution was unanimously passed by the Council:—

"Resolved, that the whole council of Norwood be a deputation to go to Ottawa, along with Havelock council, and with a deputation of leading business men and manufacturers of the lake front towns and cities to endorse the memorial to the Dominion Government of this council, dated Sept. 4th, 1907, and to press for the immediate settlement of the Northumberland-Durham Power Company's application for the intervening portion of Upper Healey rapids, the company holding a lease from the Ontario Government of the falls and lower rapids, and owning portions of the Upper Healey rapids, and also a patent for the 66 acres of land required for development works. We also record our apperciation of the sentiments expressed by the deputation from Havelock, viz., Wm. Mathison, J.P., Councillor Joseph Knox, Thos. Wood, of Havelock, and Managing Director J. A. Culverwell, of Port Hope, viz., that unity is strength."

Dated at Norwood this 4th December, 1907.

After the meeting the council and deputation were the guests of Mr. Culverwell at an oyster supper.

MRS. EDDY DECORATED

Concord, N.H., Dec. 4—The French Government, through the Minister of Public Instruction and Fine Arts, Briand, has decorated the Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy, as an Officer d'Academie. The certificate of decoration was sent by the French Government to Dr. William H. Tolman, commissioner-general of the American section of the International Books and Paper Exposition, just closed at Paris, and formerly presented by him in person to Mrs. Eddy at her home here.

Mrs. Eddy was awarded a grand prize for her work, and also got a diploma of honor as founder of the Christian Science movement.

FACTS—JUST PLAIN, POINTED FACTS

HERE'S A LINE OF $9.75
OVERCOATS
That are positively unequalled
for good value in the City

75 OVERCOATS, Traveller's Samples, bought 25% less than former wholesale prices. Made of Fancy Tweeds, Meltons, Beavers and Cheviots, lined and trimmed in first-class style, some long, some medium lengths single and double-breasted, some with storm collars, which would make an excellent driving coat. Regular prices $11.00, $12.00, $13.50 and $1500. For this week only $9.75

SO COME EARLY, AS FIRST SELECTION IS ALWAYS THE BEST

MERRELL & MEREDITH
CLOTHIERS, FURNISHERS and HATTERS
375-377 GEORGE ST. PHONE 35

DISMISSED WITH COSTS

The following item of local interest appears in to-day's Osgoode Hall reports:

Before Mabee, J.

Robertson v. Robertson—Judgment (H) in action tried without a jury at Peterborough. Action to recover $2,400 for arrears of rent or for use and occupation of the east half of lot 2 in the 4th concession of South Monaghan. Action dismissed with costs. A. P. Poussette, K.C., and L. M. Hayes (Peterborough) for plaintiffs. F. D. Kerr (Peterborough) for defendant.

WEIGHING GHOSTS.

Startling Stories of Heavy Spirits Who Lost Weight.

A description of the weighing of "materialized spirit forms" at a seance was a startling feature of an address delivered to the members of the London Spiritualist Alliance at the Royal Society of British Artists, London.

The speaker was Mr. Geo. Spriggs, once a well-known medium, and he described this remarkable seance as follows:

"My clothes were taken off before the sitting commenced, and weighed, and I also was weighed. The same procedure took place after the sitting, and I always found that as a result of the seance I had lost about three pounds in weight, which it took me three days to recover."

The first spirit form who stepped on the scales, it appeared, turned the beam at 100 pounds, but subsided so rapidly in weight as to prevent a successive record being taken. Indeed, failing to turn the scale at 80 pounds, he hurriedly retreated. Returning again, his weight was registered at 104 pounds, then 102 pounds, and then under 100 pounds. The 20 pound weight being then removed, he failed to turn the beam at 80 pounds, "losing at least 24 pounds in weight in about thirty seconds."

Another spirit form weighed 139 1-2 pounds at first, and then subsided to 117 pounds. Dr. Mueller, who was present, said Mr. Spriggs distinctly felt the pulsation of the forms, "the medium being shown sitting on his chair immediately afterwards." Dr. Motherwell also found the beating of the heart to be quite natural.

A seance held in Cardiff was also dealt with, at which one of their "regularly attending spirit friends, of erect, soldierly bearing, who exceeded by some six inches the stature of the medium, appared in a long white robe, which set off his tall figure to advantage." He quitted the room entirely, it seemed, and walked downstairs, returning in a few minutes with a dish of fruit, which he was kind enough to hand round, as well as to partake of himself. His greatest effort, however, consisted of his quitting the house through a back door, and presently returning to the circle room bearing in his arms bunches of a fuchsia bush.

In Melbourne, at one seance, according to Mr. Spriggs, a spirit form, dressed in a white gown and red girdle, drank half a tumbler of water and ate a biscuit.

LONDON IN 1960.

First City of the World With Sixteen Million Inhabitants.

The London Metropolitan Water Board is engaged in trying to solve the great problem of the first city's water supply fifty years hence, when the population within its area will be more than doubled. As a step towards the solution of the problem the board is now erecting in various parts of London large storage reservoirs.

The experts of the Water Board calculate that by 1916 the population of London will be 8,000,000, and that by the year 1960 it will be 16,000,000. Whence is to come the unpolluted water to supply that vast aggregation of human beings? That is the very serious question which it is necessary for the present authorities to answer for the sake of coming generations.

Mr. G. G. Easton, Mayor of Fulham and a member of the London Water Board, said that the matter was receiving the very earnest attention of the board. "At present," he said, "London's water comes principally from the Thames, taken out between Hampton and Staines. It is possible that with the increase of people and new means of communication the Thames Valley may have a population of two millions.

"Will it then be possible to draw upon that necessarily polluted water for a supply? Shall we have to go further up the river for it? If so, how far up the river will it be practicable for us to go? Those are some of the questions we have to deal with. Fifty-five per cent. of our water comes from the Thames, about 20 per cent. from the Lea, and something under 30 per cent. is pumped from wells.

"The suggested solution of the problem of the future," continued Mr. Easton, "was to secure water from the rivers at flood time and store it. Already great reservoirs were being provided, reservoirs which would contain more water than the cubic space of the interior of St. Paul's Cathedral. It had been found that water not altogether pure became pure by natural action after storage for a few weeks.

"There is actually stored in London at the present moment," said Mr. Easton, "enough water to last for some months."

The city of Montreal, with less than 400,000 inhabitants, carried only twenty-four hours' supply of water.

Milton's Family Bible.

New York, Dec. 5.—The Milton family Bible, printed in 1588 and with the autograph of the Poet John Milton, dated Feb. 24, 1654, on a slip of paper pasted on the inside cover, brought $1,225 at an auction sale.

An Arrest at London.

London, Dec. 5.—William Blakeley was arrested last night on a charge of horse-stealing.

Rodney and West Lorne desire to be incorporated as villages.

A MESSAGE FROM CHINA HALL

China Hall's Stock is now complete, and the present is now a good time to make selections for Christmas. China Hall's Stock is the heaviest and most varied it has ever been, and taken as a whole it would do credit to the largest city in the Dominion. The Store will be open evenings during December, and the public are invited to visit the two show rooms during the present week and view the newest productions in Pottery. Our Dinner Ware show room (just completed) is worth a visit.

CHINA HALL CO. New Premises 394 GEORGE STREET
(NEXT TO H. LeBRUN & CO.)

GET THE LATEST

The Review Supplies the Correct Things in Wedding Invitations Programmes, Personal Stationery, Etc . . . .

THE DAILY REVIEW

LUMBER

and BUILDING MATERIAL of all kinds. Shingles, Scantling, Joists and Bill Stuff. Mouldings, Casings and Base, and all kinds of finish. Boxes and Box Shooks.

ALF. McDONALD ESTATE
Point St. Charles Mill, Peterborough.

VOL LV., NO. 130 — PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1907 — TEN CENTS PER WEEK

CHRISTMAS 1907 — GRAND OPENING — CHRISTMAS 1907

THE GOLDEN LION STORE

Invites the people of Peterborough and vicinity to attend tne Most Magnificent Display
You have ever seen of

FANCY AND STAPLE DRY GOODS

Your Xmas Shopping

Will not be complete unless you have seen our BRILLIANTLY ILLUMINATED and DECORATED STORE and ELABORATE DISPLAY OF PRETTY AND DAINTY FANCY ARTICLES.

STOP THE CAR AT OUR STORE
COPYRIGHT

We especially invite the gentlemen to this display—as where can you better expect to procure a suitable gift for a lady—young or old—than at a RELIABLE DRY GOODS STORE, such as ours. This season we are better prepared than ever with a splendid assortment of suitable Christmas Gifts, at very reasonable prices, a few of which are enumerated here.

- Hand Drawn Linens
- Battenburg Linens
- Table Cloths
- Linen Handkerchiefs
- Linen Towels
- White Bed Quilts
- Down Comforters
- Wool Blankets
- Carpets, Rugs
- Curtains and Portiers
- Hand Embroidered Centre Pieces
- Black and Colored Silk Skirts
- Table Covers
- Etc., Etc.

- Umbrellas
- Gloves, Belts
- Fancy Collars
- Fancy Hose
- Silk Opera Bags
- Leather Bags and Purses
- Side and Back Combs
- Necklaces, Ribbons
- Fancy Blouse Pins
- Embroidered Handkerchiefs
- Real Lace Handkerchiefs
- Fancy Hose Supporters
- Work Companions
- Bonnet Brushes
- Dress Silks
- Etc., Etc.

- Wool Toques
- Wool Mufflers
- Llama Scarfs
- Chiffon Scarfs
- Lace Ties and Collars
- Fancy Pin Cushions
- Fancy Baskets
- Whisk Holders
- Mirrors, Work Boxes
- Work Baskets, Satin Lined
- Silk Handkerchief Bags
- Hair Receivers
- Pomade Jars
- Jewel Cases
- Dress Goods
- Etc., Etc.

Kid Gloves, Fancy Collars, etc., boxed free of charge in pretty Boxes for 'Xmas Gifts

We will keep your purchase here if you wish and deliver when and where you want them

Express Postage or Freight Prepaid on out-of-town Orders, within a radius of fifty miles, during December

ROBERT FAIR & CO.

383 George Street — LIMITED — Peterborough

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

DEC. 7—ONLY 14 MORE SHOPPING DAYS BEFORE XMAS

PRE-XMAS SATURDAY SNAPS

JUST THINK! Only 14 more shopping days until Christmas!—14 days to sell thousands of dollars worth of Goods, and practically half sold in the last two or three days. Such a jam! Yes, every year it's the same. Then you buy what is left or buy in such a hurry that you get no satisfaction.

Shop Early While the Choice is Good

LINEN SECTION

BIG LINEN DEMONSTRATION

Two deys still left of this monster Sale of fine plain and fancy Linens. Following is a sample of the leaders:

TOWELS—5 LOTS

10 dozen Huck, with fancy damask patterns, 18x 34 in.; regular 40c, for .28

20 dozen Huck Towels, red border, hemmed, 18 x 34; regular 35c, for .26

20 dozen Terry Towels, white or cream, 15 x 27; regular 20c For .14

10 dozen grass bleached Huck, hemmed, 20 x 36 inches; regular 50c For, Pair .36

20 dozen very fine Huck Towels, with fringed border; regular 90c For, Pair .63

TABLE CLOTHS—12 Big Specials, of which the two following are leaders:

9-4 x 7-4, full bleached; reg 75c, for .69

9 4 x 8-4 all linen; reg $1.60 for .98

Linen Dept. Main, Left

WRITING TABLETS—Newton bond, linen finished paper, in two sizes; large size 8 x 10 in; reg 20c Saturday for .14

SMALL SIZE, 5 x 8 in; regular 15c Saturday for .8

BOXED PAPETERIES—Linen finished paper, 24 sheets and 24 envelopes in each box. Four lines—

Regular 45c, for 28c
Regular 35c, for 23c
Regular 30c, for 19c
Regular 22c, for 14c
Per Box

Also a big range of 7c and 8c Writing Tablets; full size, 5 x 8 inchees Saturday for, Each .5

NOTION SECTION

LEATHER BELTS—All colors and a large range of styles; all the latest novelties; regular 50c Saturday .39

BOXES HANDKERCHIEFS—Three Fancy Handkerchiefs in a box, suitable for Christmas remembrance; reg 75c Saturday .59

LONG MITTS—Elbow length Cashmere Mits, in white and red; regular 75c Saturday .59

DRESDEN RIBBONS—All the latest color and pattern effects in Dresden patterns and Persian stripes; very wide; regular 35 and 65c Saturday .19

Notion Dept, Main Floor, Centre

TAN CASHMERE HOSE—In plain woven heavy Cashmere, good shades, all sizes; regularly sold for 35c Saturday for .24

EMBROIDERED HOSE — Fancy hand embroidered cashmere in colors; blue, white, red and yellow on black; regular price 50c Saturday .34

Hosiery Dept, Main Floor, Left

SCOTCH CANVAS—A famous brand of Note Paper, and has been our special leader; put up in 1 lb packages (5 quires) in blue or white; regular 35c, Saturday for .23

A Package of 75 Envelopes to match, regular 35c, Saturday 23c
This Paper is controlled by us for Peterborough and district.
Stationery Department, Main Floor, Centre

DRESS GOODS

SATURDAY SNAPS

In the Daylight Dress Goods Department

XMAS GIFTS — Seasonable holiday remembrances—a thing that pleases and will be welcomed by any woman—a new gown or waist, especially when it is of the very newest, nattiest material from Fashion's big store house. Remember, when you are buying the material for a woman, that she is a judge and you need the honest opinion of an expert dress goods salesman. Our salesmen will help you materially to decide.

DRESS SILKS—10 pieces of plain and fancy dress and waist silks in good makes, including stripes and shot effects etc. Regular 75, 85 and 1.00 Saturday .49

SHOE SECTION—MEN'S

MEN'S VELOUR CALF—Extra fine quality leather, goodyear welted soles, new shape; a style that gives not only a neat appearance to the feet, but also comfort. Regular $4.00 Saturday 3.00

MEN'S BOX CALF—A Shoe with the winter wear qualities, strong, neat and dressy; reg $3.50 Saturday 2.75

MEN'S VELOUR CALF—Circular boxed, Blucher cut; a neat stylish toe; extra well made; goodyear welted soles; regular $4.00 Saturday 2.95

Men's Shoes, Main Floor

DRESS GOODS

SATURDAY SNAPS

In the Daylight Dress Goods Department

DRESS GOODS—10 pieces of 75c and 85c Goods in some of the season's choicest materials, including Venetians, Panamas, Armures, Tricords, Cheviots, Tartans and Plaids; a good assortment of fall shades, but not all shades in every line; a clean-up of broken lines; Saturday at .59

MELTON CLOTH—5 pieces plain and twilled Melton, 44 inches wide; an elegant class of Goods, suitable for costumes, coats, etc. Comes in navy, green, black, fawn and gray; reg 30c Saturday for .19

DARK DRESS TWEEDS—6 pieces of broken checks and fancy plaids; 54 inches wide. These Goods represent some of our best selling lines this fall, and sold at 60c and 75c Saturday Snap .39

Is there anything more noticeable than a pretty shoe on a woman? Anything more admired than neat, dainty shoes? As the gift season is nearly here, a pleasing remembrance would be a pair of natty shoes. Below are a few at reduced prices, Saturday only.

WOMEN'S SHOES—Fine quality vici-kid, pretty, neat, comfortable shoes for women Regular 2.50 Saturday 1.95

Women's Shoes 2nd floor

WOMEN'S

WOMEN'S VICI KID—Straight-lace, good year welt soles, neatly made, natty style regular 3.25 Special for Saturday 2.59

WOMEN'S FELT SHOES—Leather boxed bals, good quality felt, a cosy winter wear shoe, regular 2.00 Special for Saturday 1.60

WOMEN'S FELT SHOES—Patent colt, Blucher cut, Goodyear welt, extra fine quality leather, pretty style, reg. 3.50 Saturday 2.85

Womens' Shoes 2nd floor

GREEN PRICE TICKET DAY

STORE HOURS:
8.10 - - 5.45
Closes Saturday at 10 p.m.

Cressman's 385, 387, 389 George Street

Wanted

WANTED

BY THE FIRST OF JANUARY, A COOK for the Lakefield Preparatory School; also young girl as kitchen maid. Good situation for mother and daughter. Apply, with reference, to THE MATRON, The Grove, Lakefield. 3d

For Sale or To Rent

HOUSE TO RENT

HOUSE TO RENT at 778 Water Street. Good comfortable dwelling, bath room and electric light. Immediate possession given. Apply to J. J. Turner and Sons, Tent Manufacturers, George St. 3d

FOR SALE

AT A BARGAIN, slightly used piano, handsome walnut case, full length panels, 3 pedals, 7⅓ octave, beautiful tone. May be seen at 449 WATER STREET. 3d

FOR SALE

FIRST-CLASS NEWCOMBE PIANO for sale. Price reasonable. Apply at this Office for particulars. 9d

FOR SALE

PIANO CASE ORGAN, double the usual volume, (8 sets reeds) good as new, less than half price on easy weekly or monthly payments. A nice Christmas present easy to buy. 27 Park St., corner Park and Parnell. tf

FOR SALE

TYPEWRITER, latest model American Oliver, bran new. Good discount off lowest selling price for a quick sale. Apply Review Office. tdl

General

GET READY!

Summer has gone by and winter is at hand. Are you settled in a house of your own where you can stay and not be forced out in the cold? If not, take warning, and buy one of our Cheap New Houses and be at home, or buy one of our Modern Houses at $2,100 and up. We also have first-class large houses from $3,600 up

Companies Good as the Best in all lines of Insurance but Life. Rates moderate.

R. G. Ivey, Special Agent.
386 George St. Phone 2 Bell — W. MIGHT

BIG SALE

. . OF . .

Enamelled Ware

Friday and Saturday

HUTCHINSON-STURGEON CO

Bell and Machine 'Phones 233 — 342 George Street

FOR XMAS

Furditure fixed up like new. Upholstering and all kinds of similar work done. Mattresses made over.

A. R. JACKSON

330 Aylmer. Corner of Charlotte. Bell Phone 494B

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

What more appropriate gift could you make than by purchasing a home for your family?

Come and see J. T. O'Connell & Co's bargains.

$2,350—New red brick house, central, cement floor in cellar; hall, parlor, dining room, kitchen, large pantry, front and back stairs, 4 bedrooms, bathroom fitted, 3 clothes closets, attic finished, electric lights, large verandah and balcony, woodshed and summer kitchen. Can be bought on monthly payments. Possession at once.

$900 buys red brick cottage East City, 6 rooms, hard and soft water, large lot.

To Rent—New house with all conveniences. Possession at once.

For further particulars apply to

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.

Phone 376. — 136 Hunter St.

FANCY POTTERY

All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.

GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

MINING PROPERTY FOR SALE

PURSUANT TO POWERS CONTAINED IN A CERTAIN MORTGAGE AND BOND there will be offered for sale by Public Auction, at the Munro House in the City of Peterboro', Ontario, on Thursday the Twelfth day of December 1907 at 2 p. m., certain Mining Property situated in the Township of Barrie, County of Frontenac. Composed of:—The South Half of Lot 24 in the 10th Concession; Lot 31 in the 9th Concession (Except 24 Acres); Parts of Lots 32 and 33 in the 10th Concession; Lot 25 in the 9th Concession; Part of Lot 25 in the 10th Concession, and certain rights in Lot 26 in the 10th Concession of said Township, together with machinery, chattels, stamp mills, boilers, engines, blacksmiths' tools, hoisting apparatus, and other personal property, used in connection with said Mining Property.

Terms 10 per cent down and balance in one month hereafter without interest.

For further particulars apply to the undersigned

Dated 4th November 1907.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR,
415 Water St. Peterborough, Ont.
Vendors' Solicitors.

9d

RICHMOND STUDIO

SPECIALS for XMAS PHOTOS

Newest Mountings	Newest Styles
Pictures	Plain Cards
Folders	Calendars

First-class work at night by electric light
Sittings by appointment.

147 HUNTER STREET

GEORGE RUTH

Properties for Sale:

Come and inspect our list of HOUSES. We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.

8 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.

A few first-class homes to rent with modern improvements.

395 Water Street, open evenings

A. BROWN & CO.,

TheReal Estate Agents, 396 Water Street

$100 will secure good Cottage with large lot 50x200
$500 will secure an up-to-date House with all modern improvements.
$1,000 will purchase good Cottage and large lot
$600 will secure Cottage, Stable and 4 acres good land near city.

We have some great snaps in Houses, Farms and City lots for sale and to rent.

Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.

Bell Phone 125 and 474 B. — Machine 117

R. A. ELLIOTT

& CO.

Real Estate Agents

Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

For Sale or To Rent

AT REASONABLE PRICES

Three small farms, good soil, suitable for gardening purposes, close to city. Also a few small, comfortable, dwelling houses, and choice building lots, well situated in good localities.

Properties sold, purchased or exchanged.

Private Funds to Loan on Real Estate.

INSURANCE

Agents for reliable Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Liability Insurance Companies. For particulars as to rates, etc., apply to

J. J. McBAIN & SON

Real Estate and Insurance Agents.

Office Cor. Simcoe and George-sts.

Office 'Phone 454 — Residence Phone 109A

"DON'T BURN THEM"

We will buy all kinds of Second-hand boots and shoes

JAY'S SECOND-HAND STORE

390 Aylmer Street

PALMISTRY

Prof. C. SHEPHERD of San Francisco, California, is visiting Peterborough for a limited time, and may be consulted at

Mrs. R. King's, George Street (upstairs) Rooms, First Floor

Hall entrance next Times Office. Hours from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Appointments made. Your past, present and future about Business and Marriage correctly told. Machine Phone 7

PIANO, HARMONY, Etc.

ALFRED DAVIES

Teacher of Piano, Harmony, etc. Pupils prepared for all examinations. 106 McDonnel St., Bell Tel. 463, P.O. Box 592 3m

---

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!

A nice pair of Snowshoes or a good Toboggan would make a most acceptable present to lady, gentleman, girl or boy. We carry a very large assortment. Call and see them.

J. J. TURNER & SONS
TENT MANUFACTURERS
George Street. Peterborough

THE CRYSTAL

OPEN EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING

The Adventures of a Lover
Illustrated Song
"I Love You, Girlie, But I Don't Know Why"

Complete Change of Programme Mon, Wed., Fri.

ADMISSION - - ONLY 5 CENTS

Medical

E. V. FREDERICK, M.B., Tor.
M.R.C.S., Eng.; L.R.C.P., Lond. Lic. Univ. of New York.
Removed to No. 402 George St., formerly office of Dr. McFaul
Private nursing home for surgical cases.

DR. G. STEWART CAMERON
Office and Residence
No. 273 Charlotte St. 'Phone 128

DR. G. C. LEACH
Late House Surgeon of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio; also of Cook County Hospital, Chicago. OFFICE—224 Hunter St., formerly occupied by Dr. Coughlin. Phone Bell 219.
Special Attention to Diseases of Women

DR. JAS. V. GALLIVAN
Office 215 Simcoe St. Late of St. John's Hospital New York. Lic. University of New York.
Telephone 868.

Osteopathy

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY
Osteopathic Physician
Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Water Street entrance.
Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. Evenings by appointment. Consultation free.

Legal

R. E. WOOD
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Etc. Office removed from Bank of Commerce Building to 435 George street, recently occupied by E. B. Edwards. MONEY TO LOAN

W. H. MOORE
BARRISTER SOLICITOR, in the Supreme Court etc. Office—Hunter street, first stairs west of Post Office.

HALL & HAYES
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS and NOTARIES PUBLIC, Hunter Street, Peterborough, next to English Church. MONEY TO LOAN at the lowest rates of interest.
E. R. E. HALL. LOUIS M. HAYES

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON
(Successors to Stratton & Hall)
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., Peterborough Ont. Office—Corner of Hunter and Water Sts. over Bank of Commerce.
R. R. HALL, M.P. S. T. MEDD. W. S. DAVIDSON

EDMISON & DIXON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc. Office in Cluxton's Block, corner of Hunter and George streets, over Dickson's store.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc 415 Water Street, Peterborough.
E. A. PECK F. D. KERR R. M. DENNISTOUN

Money

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASY TERMS
O'CONNELL & GORDON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS NOTARIES, Etc
Canadian and United States Patent Attorneys
134 Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office.
SAMUEL O'CONNELL. GEORGE M. GORDON

ROGER, BENNET & GOODWILL
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., 37 Water St. Peterborough. Telephone No. 191.
Money at Current Rates
Upon Easy Terms.
O. M. ROGER. J. W. BENNET. E. L. GOODWILL

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

PAID UP CAPITAL $1,000,000.00
RESERVE FUND 580,000.00

SAVINGS
An Account may be opened at any time with a Deposit of One Dollar.
3½ % Interest allowed on daily balances.

DEBENTURE DEPT.
Four Per Cent. paid half yearly on sums of $100.00 and upwards.

MONEY TO LOAN
at current rates of interest.
W. G. MORROW,
Manager

Children's Aid Society
FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.
Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898 Information required. Informants name kept strictly private.
CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION
Office Hours—11.00 to 12.00 a.m.
FFICE—DIVISION COURT BLDG
GEO. COCHRANE,
Agent and Asst Sec

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES
AND
VETERINARY INFIRMARY
133 Brock Street west of Oriental Hotel.
If you wish a rig of any kind for any occasion ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 278. Night Phone Bell 426 B.
D. McKERCHER, V.S.

IT'S ALL PURE

COWAN'S
PERFECTION
COCOA (Maple Leaf Label)

Is a delicious beverage at all times. After a social party, a drive or brisk walk, a cup of Cowan's Cocoa has a stimulating and delightfully refreshing effect.

THE COWAN CO., Ltd., TORONTO

10

Lawyers Got Fat Fees as Result of Investigation

Total Cost of the Insurance Commission Was $85,842.

Finance Minister Heckled With Questions—Mr. Lewis Points Out Defects In Criminal Law—Urges Export Duty on Pulpwood — French Treaty Attacked—Mr. Cockshutt's Amendment Defeated.

Ottawa, Dec. 6.—At the opening of the House yesterday afternoon sympathetic reference to the death of Mr. Lovell, member for Stanstead, were made by the leaders on both sides.

Mr. Claude Macdonell enquired what had been done in the case of the Bulgarians stranded in Toronto. The Minister of the Interior replied that Mr. Blake Robertson, one of the officers of his Department, had gone to Toronto the night before and had met the derelicts refered to. Lacking an interpreter, however, had had found some difficulty in communicating with the Bulgarians, but an interpreter will be sent to the scene at once.

The Finance Minister informed the House that the total cost of the Insurance Commission was $85,842.

Judge McTavish of Ottawa was paid $4,650, and $947 transportation and living expenses; Mr. Kent $4,290 and $1,087; Mr. Langmuir $4,470 and $768; Mr. Shepley $25,000, and Mr. Tilley $12,300.

Mr. Monk enquired as to the total amount of Government temporary loans, and from what banks such were obtained, since July 1.

The Finance Minister replied that the information was not yet obtainable, an answer which Mr. Monk declared to be most unsatisfactory..

Mr. Fielding's answer was, however, ruled by the Speaker to be unquestionable.

The Minister of Interior, replying to Mr. Ames, said that application had been made by Messrs. Belcourt and Ritchie, in 1907, for grazing leases on behalf of J. W. Woods, A. W. Fleck and D. M. Finnie of Ottawa. No leases were granted, but Messrs Finnie and Fleck transferred their applications to John R. Craig, who was granted two ranches comprising 43,800 acres, subject to cancellation. No action was taken on the application of Mr. Woods.

The Debate Resumed.

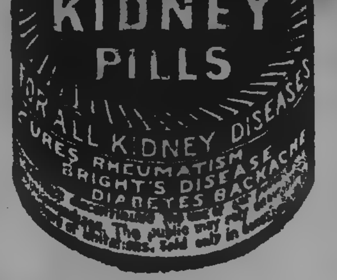
E. N. Lewis of West Huron resumed the debate on the address. He paid considerable attention to the criminal law, pointing out serious discrepencies in its provisions. He advocated making it a criminal offence for a man to shoot a fellow man in mistake for a deer, a class of casualty becoming, he said, altogether too frequent. Mr. Lewis also urged that a law be passed to prepare for the inspection of locomotive as well as stationary boilers. He did not agree with Mr. Cockshutt or anybody else who talked of hard times. There were no hard times or at all events not in West Huron. The banks were shortening sail and curtailing credit, but this precaution was not unreasonable in view of conditions in other countries. But with all his admiration for the Canadian banking system and Canadian banks, Mr. Lewis did think that when the banks increased their rate of interest from six to seven per cent. they should be obliged to increase from three to four per cent. allowed on savings deposits. In this connection he remarked that in the village of Exeter there were two millions of money in the savings banks.

Transportation Facilities.

On the need of better transportation facilities the member from West Huron spoke impressively. He told of instances where manufacturing firms were obliged to restrict their output for lack of cars and asked the pertinent question why it was that railways from seven ports on Georgian Bay were unable to handle the business brought by two lines of railway to Fort William and Port Arthur? One result of this was, he said, that twelve million bushels of Canadian wheat was shipped by way of Buffalo.

Mr. Lewis also made a strong plea for an export duty on pulp wood. American industries were buying Canadian pulpwood at $6 per cord and selling at $30 in the finished product.

The debate upon the address was continued by Messrs. Clarke (Essex), Roche (Halifax), Barr (Dufferin), Lalor (Haldimand), Chisholm (Huron), and Elson (Middlesex). Dr. Chisholm attacked the French treaty, and claimed that it would not increase the trade between France and Canada, and Mr. Elson pleaded for rural delivery. The amendment to the address, moved by Mr. Cockshutt (Brantford), caused the first division this season. It was a party vote, and the Government was sustained by a majority of 30. The debate may continue for some days.



Mosquito Fever, Not Malaria.

Mexico City, Dec. 6.—Hereafter the world will know it as "mosquito fever," instead of malaria. Such is decided by delegates to the third international Sanitary Congress, so that the public may know the real cause of the disease.

Printing Inks Burn.

New York, Dec. 6.—A six-storey factory building, occupied by Ault & Wiberg, printing inks, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning, loss $100,000. Excavations for the laying of saltwater fire mains hampered the firemen.

Two Trainmen Killed.

Johnstown, Pa., Dec. 5.—Two trainmen were killed and one received probably fatal injuries yesterday with a freight train on the B. & O. Railroad, which failed to pass over a switch at Adams, near here.

"TAPPED THE ENGINEER."

Incident Probably Without Parallel In Canadian Railroading.

London, Dec. 6.—An example of the manner in which the rules of the Grand Trunk are strictly carried out is demonstrated in an incident of recent occurrence on the London, Huron and Bruce at Wingham.

Engineer Matthew Brown, one of the best known men on the road, was suffering from an attack of dropsy, and just before he came to Wingham he was seized suddenly and found it impossible to go any further.

Under the rules of the company when an engineer dies or is taken sick on his engine, the train must be placed into a siding until another engine is secured. The fireman, no matter how capable a man, is not permitted to take charge of the engine.

A physician was summoned in this case and he immediately set about to perform an operation, to "tap" the engineer.

This was successfully done, and when the engineer had recovered, an hour and a half later, he again took charge of his engine and brought it to the city. Another engineer had not been available.

Railroad men say that Engineer Brown's case is without a parallel in the history of railroads.

He has now completely recovered, and has his run on the Bruce, but hopes for no more such unique experiences.

TORONTO AGENT'S DEATH.

Detroit Police Have Held Body For Postmortem Examination.

Windsor, Dec. 6.—John Christie, agent of a Toronto building supplies firm, and whose home is in that city, died suddenly in a Brush street resort in Detroit at an early hour yesterday morning under circumstances which are considered highly suspicious.

Christie, who was a fine appearing man, about 50 years old, reached Detroit Wednesday on his way to Ohio. Missing his train at this point he decided to remain over and to pass away the evening he visited several places of amusement, finally winding up at the home of Mrs. Harvey on Brush street, shortly after four o'clock yesterday morning. Within a few minutes after his arrival there he was taken ill and died before medical assistance could be called.

The inmates of the house say that Christie had taken several drinks while there, but nothing stronger than wine was offered. The coroner, however, has ordered the body removed to the county morgue, and a postmortem will be held to determine the exact cause of death.

In the pockets of the dead man was found several hundred dollars in Canadian currency, as well as letters which served to establish his identity.

Bank Clerk Shoots Himself.

Burford, Dec. 6.—Utterly without explanation is the suicide of R. R. Dawson, teller of the Crown Bank, here yesterday. He shot himself with a pistol at 10.30, and was dead a few minutes later.

The manager, R. H. Forneri, heard the shot in Dawson's room above the bank, and, rushing upstairs, he found the young man dead with a revolver beside him.

Young Dawson was not short in his accounts.

He was of an exceptionally buoyant disposition and enjoyed himself the night before at a dance at Harley, returning at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

He complained of being ill shortly before taking his life.

An inquest was considered unnecessary, and the body was sent to his home in Orangeville for burial.

TO LIMIT EMIGRATION

Hon. Mr. Lemieux Gets Assurances From Viscount Hayashi.

Japanese Told by Foreign Minister That Numbers Will Be Closely Limited—Agents Are Angry—Objection to Laborers—Commissioner Ishii Comments on Tyranny of Trades Unions.

Tokio, Dec. 6.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the Canadian Minister of Labor, held a lengthy conference yesterday with Viscount Hayashi, Minister of Foreign Affairs, at the Foreign Office, and received verbal assurances of the limitation of Japanese emigration, and that he will be given later full details of plans on foot for its control.

A committee from the emigration agencies here has held a conference with Minister Hayashi, who announced that the plan of the Japanese Government was closely to limit all emigration to the United States and Canada. Some members of the committee angrily announced their opposition to this course, but Minister Hayashi remained firm and dismissed the committee without changing his attitude or making any compromise.

Kiki Yiro Ishii, chief of the Japanese Bureau of Commerce, who a few days ago returned from his visit to the United States and Canada, where he was sent to investigate the emigration problem, gathered representatives of the Tokio newspapers around him at the Foreign Office last evening and discussed his mission abroad. He said that there were two classes of Japanese in America, day laborers, of whom there were 15,000, and a few agriculturists. It was against the emigration of the former that objection was raised. He found that many of this class were desired by employers, but others said their methods of living were objectionable. The Japanese agriculturists generally were successful.

Baron Ishii described the existing economic conditions in America, and explained the method of state self-government in the United States. He said that between the trusts and the labor unions the middle class of Americans and foreign laborers suffered, declaring that union labor was largely controlled by unreasoning persons, their attitude being almost that of tyrants, and they were liable to destroy anything standing in their way.

"Japanese engaged in agriculture as land owners or leasers," said Baron Ishii, "require a few of the best class of their countrymen as laborers, but the Government of Japan has been limiting the emigration of this class."

SMOKE CUT OFF ESCAPE.

Domestics In Guelph Hotel Were Rescued by Firemen.

Guelph, Dec. 6.—Fire broke out yesterday in a storeroom in the basement of the Royal Hotel, and before it was put out some damage was done to the basement of the building. Volumes of smoke spread throughout the whole hotel, and the escape of several of the domestics was cut off. Two of them were taken from the upper storeys by the firemen and carried in safety to the ground, none the worse except for the fright they got. The damage amounts to only about $2,000. The hotel proper will continue in working order, as the ground floor and the upper portion of it is untouched.

NEGRO RUNS AMUCK.

Shot Seven White Persons Then Was Riddled Himself.

Augusta, Ark., Dec. 6.—Crazed by cocaine, Wash Muscay, negro, ran amuck here yesterday, shooting seven white persons, two of whom were women. The negro was finally corralled in the railroad yard and shot to death by a posse, fighting until he fell, literally riddled with bullets. One of Muscay's victims will die.

Royal Couple Seasick.

Brest, France, Dec. 6.—There was a very heavy sea in the channel Wednesday night, and H. M. battleship Renown was tossed about so violently that the royal couple were sea-sick, and the Renown made for this harbor.

To-day they will go by train to Bordeaux, where the King will be examined by a specialist in connection with the recent operation on his throat.

H. J. Clark New Inspector.

Belleville, Dec. 6.—Johnston Johnston, for 35 years school inspector for South Hastings, resigned yesterday, and his resignation was accepted by the county council, now in session. H. J. Clarke, a teacher in the high school here, was appointed in Mr. Johnston's stead.

Revolver Duel With Burglars.

Montreal, Dec. 6.—An attempt to rob the east end branch of the Bank of Hochelaga was frustrated yesterday morning by the courage of the night watchman, who, after a lively revolver duel with the burglars, succeeded in frightening them away.

Bank Manager Gone, Also $4,000.

Butler, Pa., Dec. 6.—Milan Urich, manager of the International Exchange Bank at Lynder, near here, has been missing since last week.

Yesterday when an expert locksmith opened the bank vault it was discovered $4,000 was gone.

Baby Burned.

Brantford, Dec. 6.—While Albert Blasdell of Linden was away at work and his wife out of the house assisting her son to look for some money which had been lost on the road, the building caught fire and a two-year-old boy was cremated.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

There's a glow of warmth in the very appearance of the Semi-ready Storm Ulster. It is the coat for winter travelling in Canada.

Made in heavy woollen Tweeds, of fine soft Australian wool, double-breasted, with storm collar and lapels, $18, $20, $25, and $30, according to quality and lining.

Semi-ready Tailoring

Cressman's Agent Peterboro

Stanley Beeston's Suicide.

Winnipeg, Dec. 6.—Stanley Beeston, a clerk in the Bank of Montreal, and a popular young clubman, committed suicide, by blowing out his brains. He came to Winnipeg from Port Hope five years ago. His father is a prominent insurance company official there.

Deceased was teller of the bank, there. He left his desk without explanation suddenly at 11 a. m. Wednesday, and was not seen again until his body was found yesterday. He was not a drinking man, and is believed to have become suddenly insane.

Fined the Cock-Fighters.

Chatham, Dec. 6.—Charged with cock-baiting, the following young men pleaded guilty before Judge Houston yesterday and were each fined $8.72, costs and fine: Albert Vanduzen, J. Arnold, Henry Labombard, James Rice, William Skinner, David Skinner, James Etches, Frank Hallinan, Percy Moss and Edward Rickman. The young men were caught red-handed.

Made Base Coin.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 6.—Ernest R. Workman of Winnipeg, indicted by the Federal grand jury on a charge of having violated the Federal law regarding counterfeiting, pleaded guilty and sentence was deferred until Monday.

Workman came to Winnipeg from Ontario about four years ago, and was married only a year and a half ago.

Gets a New Position.

Stockholm, Dec. 6.—M. Juhlin, who resigned the office of Minisiter of the Interior on account of dissensians in the Cabinet, has been appointed Postmaster-General.

Big Action Against G. T. R.

St. Catharines, Dec. 6.—For the loss of race-horses in the wreck at Trenton, Norman R. Sutherland is suing the G. T. R. for $16,000.

Run Over by Train.

Quebec, Dec. 6.—A Levis man named Lessard was killed yesterday morning at Daviluyville Station, a train running over him.

Firemen Overcome by Gas.

New York, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Annie Litahan, aged 76, was burned to death in a five-storey brick tenement in East Seventeenth street yesterday. Thirty others were rescued from windows.

Illuminating gas nearly proved the death of seven firemen in William street when a gas pipe burst.

Five Years For Wife-Beater.

New York, Dec. 6.—Five years in prison and a fine of $1,000 is the penalty John Nahan must pay for wife-beating. The sentence, the maximum provided by the law, was imposed yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Dowling. It appears from the testimony that Nahan assaulted his wife with a shovel.

Four Heads Decorate the Gates.

Tangier, Dec. 6.—Mogador, the Anflous tribesman, has won a decisive victory over the troops of Mulai Hafid, the so-called Sultan of the south.

The tribesmen took many prisoners, and the heads of four of Hafid's leaders are now exposed on the gates of Mogador.

Half-Million Dollar Fire.

Boston, Dec. 6.—The East Cambridge machine shops and roundhouse of the Boston & Maine Railroad were burned last night. The loss is estimated at $500,000.

The total yield of all grain in the West is estimated at 163,936,500 bush.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Lower, Chicago Higher—Live Stock —The Latest Quotations.

Thursday Evening, Dec. 5.

Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day 1¼d to 1⅝d lower. Corn ⅝d to 1d lower.

At Chicago December wheat closed 1c higher. Dec. corn ⅜c higher, and Dec. oats ⅝c higher.

Winnipeg Options.

Following are the closing quotations on Winnipeg grain futures to-day:

Wheat—Dec $1.00⅞ bid, May $1.09¾ bid.
Oats—Dec. 46¼c bid, May 52⅝c bid.

Toronto Grain Market.

Grain—
Wheat, spring, bush	$0 95	to $....
Wheat, fall, bush	1 00	....
Wheat, goose, bush	0 88	....
Wheat, red, bush	1 00	....
Rye, bush	0 83	0 85
Peas, bush	0 88	....
Buckwheat, bush	0 64	0 65
Barley, bush	0 70	....
Oats, bush	0 52	0 53

Toronto Dairy Market.

Butter, dairy, lb. rolls	0 27	0 28
Butter, tubs	0 25	0 27
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 29	0 31
Butter, creamery, boxes	0 29	0 30
Eggs, new-laid, dozen	0 30	....
Eggs, cold-storage, dozen	0 22	....
Cheese, large, lb	0 13½	....
Cheese, twin, lb	0 13¾	....
Honey, extracted, lb	0 13	0 13½

Liverpool Grain and Produce.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 5.—Wheat—Spot, easy; No. 2 red western winter, 7s 8½d.; futures, dull; Dec., 7s 7¾d; March, 7s 10⅛d; May, 7s 10⅛d. Corn, spot, quiet; prime mixed American, 5s 6½d; futures, dull; Dec., nominal; Jan., 5s 2½d.

Bacon, long clear middles, light, steady, 55s 6d; long clear middles, heavy, firm, 55s; short clear backs, steady, 50s; clear bellies, steady, 53s. Shoulders, square, steady, 36s. Turpentine spirits, dull, 36s 9d.

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Dec 5.—Butter, firm; receipts, 4763. Creamery, specials, 28½c to 29c.

Cheese, steady, unchanged; receipts, 1422.

Eggs—Firm; receipts, 4007. State, Pennsylvania and nearby brown and mixed first to extra firsts, 31c to 34c; western and southern firsts, 30c to 32c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—Cattle Steady, Hogs Lower at Buffalo.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—London cables are firmer at 12c to 12¾c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c per pound.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Dec. 5.—Receipts of live stock at the city market were large for Wednesday and Thursday, over 120 loads, but not being able to get the G. T. R. returns, we cannot give a definite account of the numbers in each class.

Exporters.

There was one load of exporters that weighed 1450 lbs. that were bought for butcher purposes at $4.75 per cwt. There were no buyers for export cattle.

Butchers.

Geo. Rowntree bought for the Harris Abattoir Company, 18 car loads of cattle and quoted prices as follows: A few good loads at $4.15 to $4.50; good cows and medium steers, $3.25 to $3.80; common cows, and light steers and heifers, $2 to $3; canner bulls, at 75c to $2 per cwt. Also one load of cattle (exporters), from Maybee & McDonald, 1440 lbs. each, at $4.55 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

H. & W. Murby report the best class of heavy feeders as being scarce, and a trifle firmer, while the common grades of feeders and stockers barely held their own. Messrs Murby handled over 400 cattle during the week, and quote prices as follows: Best feeders, 1000 to 1100 lbs., at $3.50 to $3.90 per cwt.; best feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs., at $2.90 to $3.50; best stockers, 800 to 900 lbs., at $2.85 to $3.15; best stockers, 600 to 800 lbs., at $2.40 to $2.75; common stockers, unchanged, at $1.50 to $1.75.

Milkers and Springers.

Deliveries of milkers and springers were large this week, but the quality generally was not as good as on some previous weeks, as will be seen reflected in the average prices of loads sold by the dealers, altho there were some few choice quality cows. Prices ranged from $25 to $62.50 each.

Veal Calves.

Receipts not very large and quality generally not first-class. Prices steady at $3 to $6 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

The run of sheep and lambs was large and prices were lower. Export ewes sold at $3.75 to $4; lambs, $4.25 to $5.25 per cwt.; calves, at $3 to $6 per cwt. Cull sheep, $2.75 to $3 per cwt.

Hogs.

Deliveries light and prices unchanged. Mr. Harris quotes selects at $5; lights, $4.75; stores, $4.50.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Dec. 5.—Cattle—Steady; prime steers, $5.60 to $5.85.

Veals—Receipts, 350 head; active and 25c lower, $5 to $9.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 5100 head; fairly active; pigs, steady; others, 5c to 10c lower; heavy mixed and yorkers, $5.50 to $5.55; mostly $5.50; roughs, $4.75 to $4.90; stags, $3 60 to $4.25; dairies, $5.40 to $5.55.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 10,000 head; slow and lower; lambs, $5 to $6.50; yearlings and wethers, $5 to $5.25; ewes, $4.50 to $5; sheep, mixed, $2.50 to $5.10; Canada lambs, $6 to $6.40.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Beeves—Receipts, 1290; no trading; feeling weak. Exports, 100 cattle and 5000 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 400; veals slow, but steady; barnyard calves and westerns, in fair demand and weak. Ordinary to fair veals sold at $7 to $9.50; No sales of barnyards or western calves.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 7001; sheep, dull and 25c lower; lambs, slow to 10c lower. Sheep sold at $4.25 to $5; lambs, at $5 to $6.90.

Hogs—Receipts, 1949, all consigned direct to the slaughterers. Feeling nominally steady.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Cattle—Receipts, estimated at about 7000; market steady to strong; steers, $3.75 to $6.40; cows, $2 to $5.25; heifers, $2.50 to $5; bulls, $2.00 to $4.60; calves, $3 to $6.50; stockers and feeders, $2 to $4.50.

Hogs—Receipts, estimated at about 30,000; market, steady; choice heavy and shipping, $5.10 to $5.20; light butchers', $5.10 to $5.20; light mixed, $4.95 to $5.05; packers, $4.05 to $5; pigs, $4 25 to $4.90; bulk of sales, $4.90 to $5.10.

Sheep—Receipts, estimated at about 12,000; market, dull; sheep, $2 to $5; lambs, $5.25 to $6.25; yearlings, $4.25 to $5.25.

Mauretania Breaks Record.

Queenstown, Dec. 6.—The arrival of the Mauretania off Daunt's Rock (Queenstown) at 5.40 p. m. means that she has covered the distance from Sandy Hook lightship in 4 days 22 hours and 28 minutes. The previous record of 4 days 22 hours and 50 minutes was made by the Lusitania, sister ship of the Mauretania. Consequently the Mauretania has beaten the Lusitania by 22 minutes.

The Mauretania cleared Sandy Hook lightship Nov. 30, at 2.21 p. m.

Damage of $25,000 was done by a fire on the premises of the Canadian Neckwear company, 40 Scott street, Toronto.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
RAILWAY TIME TABLE

	Arrive.	Depar
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.40 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.25 a.m 5.38 p.m
Port Hope and points east to Montreal and Boston		8.30 a.m
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago & West, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.20 a.m. 5.33 p.m.	11.45 a.m 9.06 p.m
From Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Bowmanville and Port Hope	11.45 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stoufville, Uxbridge and Markham	10.05 p.m.	7.20 a.m
Lindsay Local	8.15 a.m.	2.10 p.m
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 8.40 p.m.	8.30 a.m 1.50 p.m
Lakefield and Stony Lake	9.50 a.m. 5.15 p.m.	8.30 a.m 12.20 p.m

CANADIAN PACIEIC RAILWAY

DEPART FOR EAST

Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa and Montreal...... 11:16 a.m. and 12:28
Daily ex. Sun. Daily
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock and Tweed... 7:47 p.m., Daily

DEPART FOR WEST

Toronto, London, Chicago and New York........... 5:16 a.m. Daily
Toronto & Intermediate, North Bay, Winnipeg and Northwest........... 8:00 a.m. Daily ex. Sun
Toronto, Galt, London, Detroit and Chicago... 4:48 p.m. Daily ex. Sun

CANADIAN NORTHERN ONTARIO

SHORT LINE TO MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND

WINTER TIME TABLE
In effect December 9th, 1907

NORTHBOUND

	No. 1	No. 3
TORONTO	† 9.00 am	† 5.30 pm
WASHAGO	12.48 pm	9.00 pm
PARRY SOUND	3.10 pm	....

SOUTHBOUND

	No. 2	No. 4
PARRY SOUND	† 9.00 am	†..........
WASHAGO	11 25 am	6.45 am
TORONTO	3.00 pm	10.10 am

Observation-Dining Parlor Cars between Toronto and Parry Sound serving meals a la carte.

† Daily except Sunday.

OFFICES: All Stations, also Cor. King and Toronto and Union Station. Phone, Main 5179.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CALIFORNIA-MEXICO FLORIDA

Are the favorite winter Resorts.

Round trip tickets are issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System giving choice of all the best routes, going one way and returning another.

Full information may be obtained from
W. BUNTON,
City Passenger Agent
F. SANDY,
Depot Ticket Agent
Or write Mr J. D. McDonald, D.P.A., Union Depot, Toronto

CANADIAN PACIFIC

WINTER FAIR GUELPH

DEC. 9 TO 13, 1907
Return Tickets at
SINGLE FARE
FROM ALL STATIONS

Good going Dec. 7 to 13 Inclusive
Returning until and on Dec. 16

Children under twelve half fare
Tickets and all information from
W. McILROY,
Canadian Pacific Agent,
343 George St., Peterboro
Or write C. B. FOSTER, D.P. A. Toronto.

Private Greeting Cards

THE highly colored and lithographed Christmas Card in vogue a few years ago has passed away entirely.

IN place has come the much more appropriate Personal Greeting Card.

OF these the Review Office is showing a great many original designs.

YOUR order should be given immediately, while the selection is so complete.

SHOULD you desire a Card specially designed to your order, promptness is absolutely necessary.

The Review
HUNTER STREET
PETERBOROUGH

A Story of Absorbing Interest

The Rogue's March

By E. W. HORNUNG, author of "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," "Stingaree," etc.

What had happened will be the better understood when it is explained that the courthouse was not a house at all, but a mere ring of weather board huts, of which the justice room was one, the lockup another, the constables' quarters a third and a store and a stable a fourth and fifth. The yard thus formed was furthermore inclosed by a brushwood fence, broken only between the stables and the justice room, where there was a gate instead, and in the very center of this open space, blotting the edge of the deep sky and scoring the dazzling earth with shadows like scars, stood that worse than gallows, at which men were beaten into brutes and brutes into devils week after week throughout the year.

A sergeant and two constables formed the garrison of this lodge of law and order in the wilderness. The sergeant was an emancipist, and of the trio only one had come to the country on his own account. The third was actually a convict at this very time and a glaring ruffian into the bargain. Originally a butcher boy, who had robbed his master in the City road, he still smacked of the slaughter house, with his raw red face and cruel eye, and on this young felon devolved the congenial task of administering the lash.

In such hands Tom was led to the triangles, with a white face, but quickened eyes. The ticket of leave overseer was also of the party, filling his pipe and grinning to himself between his flaming whiskers, like a man prepared to enjoy the thing thoroughly. The sergeant, however, made him stand back a little, though with a wink as he touched the culprit on the shoulder.

"Come, my lad," said the sergeant confidentially, "it needn't hurt you when all's said and done."

Tom looked at him in faint astonishment.

"We ain't obliged to lay it on that thick," pursued the sergeant in the same confidential tone. "It's all left to us. It needn't hurt him, need it, mates?"

"Not if he comes up to the mark. But he won't, no fear!" said the ex-butcher, who had got the cat and was practicing with it upon the woodwork of the whipping frame.

"We'll ask him," said the sergeant. "We'll give him the chance. Will you come up to the mark, my son, or will you take it hot?"

Tom looked at his inquisitors with a sullen, puzzled expression and chanced to see the overseer at a little distance shaking his head and touching his pockets.

"Not got any?" cried the sergeant.

"You ask him," returned Ginger.

"Got no money?" said the sergeant. "That's what we mean by coming up to the mark, you know."

"A pound apiece," suggested the free constable—"that'd soften the job."

He stared at them in dogged defiance.

"I told you so," said the butcher, throwing down the cat. "Let's truss him up."

"Even a pound between us"— the sergeant had said, when the butcher began to grumble and Tom's lip to curl, and this settled it.

"Up with him!" cried the sergeant. "We'll teach you to sneer at us, my gamecock! Stop a bit, though. His legs won't stretch in these here irons. Who the blazes put them on?" And the zealous officer knelt himself to unfasten a pair of anklets coupled by a short but massive chain and employed illegally by Dr. Sullivan on his farm.

A pair of figure 8 handcuffs had been locked upon Tom's wrists at the same time, but both his wrists and his hands were small, and during the night he had found that he could slip out of these at any moment. He was out of them now before a soul dreamed of it, so slyly did he stand to have the shackles off his feet.

The heavy handled scourge lay on the ground. Its raw faced wielder was halfway out of his coat. The other constable was talking to Ginger in the shade. The sergeant had undone the second anklet and was just rising from his knees with the pair.

Next moment he was on his back in the dust, and Tom was planted before the triangles, with the scourge caught up by the thongs in his two hands and the heavy handle whirling round his head.

The butcher rushed at him with one sleeve still in his coat and received the butt end of his pet instrument full upon the forehead, where a great green wart sprang out as if by magic even as he reeled away. It was at this there arose the outcry which brought Dr. Sullivan to the justice room door, and the sight that staggered even him was the sight of his groom, the blood all flown from his face to his eyes, gnashing his white teeth and whirling that thick oak handle round a head of wavy yellow hair. Tom had not improved in looks since his arrival in New South Wales, but at that moment there was a fineness in his ferocity, a sublimity in his despair, which were not lost upon both the gentlemen now watching from the door. Mr. Strachan, for one, beheld a fellow man fighting for a manhood that was more to him than life against a degradation worse than death, and he wished himself back at his farm.

Not so Dr. Sullivan, whose consternation lasted but a moment. The next he was in the thick of it, rallying the constables, flourishing his cane and leading a rush which made the rebel slip beneath the triangles and take to his heels. The pack followed, all but Dr. Sullivan, who now fell back, with the sun glistening on his white hair and a gnarled hand shading his eyes.

Tom plunged between the lockup and the store and ran round the fence to the left, like a rat in a ring, but it was too high for him at every point. The pack doubled and had hemmed him in when he swerved and was through them, leaving Ginger on the ground with redder whiskers than before. The Anglo-Indian, at the justice room door, was irresistibly reminded of his youth at Rugby and had an old cry in his throat when he recollected himself and gulped it down in time. The convict was rushing straight for the outlet between stables and justice room. The pack were at his heels. In front of him the gaunt old doctor stood his ground like a grenadier, with his bamboo cane, and the open gate and a tethered horse beyond.

Mr. Strachan stood petrified by sheer curiosity as to what would happen next. It never occurred to him to interfere.

He thought the doctor must give way. The doctor did no such thing. He stood fast, with his cane as though it had been a saber, and Tom, whirling his weapon still, whirled it high into the sky and bowed to the doctor because he could not strike him down. As he bowed the bamboo slashed his shoulder and would have cloven him to the ribs had it been steel. Next instant he was overpowered, and they dragged him back to the triangles as Dr. Sullivan turned to his brother magistrate, with a heightened color and sparkling eyes.

"A hundred!" cried the doctor in his most dictatorial voice.

"A hundred what?" asked Mr. Strachan.

"Lashes!" said the doctor, wiping his forehead with a red silk handkerchief. "You can't give him less after this. I'd like to make it two! But we needn't haul him in again to hear it. Just give the order out here."

"I beg your pardon," said Strachan nervously. "I decline to give it at all."

"Decline to order him another fifty for a bloodthirsty outrage like this?"

"Yes, I do."

"You must have taken leave of your senses!" cried the domineering doctor. "Or is it that you sympathize with the man who felled my son?"

Mr. Strachan turned a deeper yellow.

"You know me better than that, Dr. Sullivan!" he cried hotly. "Sympathize with a convict! It's not that at all. It's because it's irregular. I doubted whether it was a case for summary jurisdiction in the beginning. I know it isn't now, and I'll have no more to do with it."

"You won't? Then I will!" said Dr. Sullivan. "I'll take the responsibility upon myself!"

"I won't be a party to any further irregularity," said Strachan, "and it's a clear case for quarter sessions if ever there was one. That's my only point. The man deserves it, of course."

Yet he retired into the justice room and shut the door, but failed to shut out the rasping sound of Dr. Sullivan's voice, exultantly doubling the sentence and crying to the ex-butcher to lay on the whip cord as he had never laid it on before.

"Trust me!" came the reply through the open window. "Look at my forehead, sir. I'll cut his bowels out for that!"

Mr. Strachan sprang up and shut the window with a bang. He was strangely shaken. Many were the floggings he had ordered or inspired and even witnessed without a qualm. There was something in this man's face that had appealed to him and troubled him from the first. As he shut the window there was something else in the white sheen of the doomed nude back over yonder that made him feel instinctively there was the remnant of a gentleman, tied up for whipping like a cur. And this conviction made the Anglo-Indian, who was the remnant of a gentleman himself, more uncomfortable than he had felt for years.

He turned his back on the window and sat down, listening against his will, in the very chair from which he had delivered prearranged judgment. He heard it once and winced and twitched his shoulders, as though the stroke had fallen on them. He heard it again. He began mumbling the end of a new cheroot and listening to the flies on the window pane, whose buzzing had suddenly become very loud. But louder yet were those horrible sounds outside, and even more horrible was the exultant croak of the old doctor at regular intervals between sounds.

"Comb your lashes, my good man!" his rasping voice kept crying. "Comb those lashes! Comb those lashes!"

Strachan found himself counting them, with that striking face still before him and those desperate eyes waiting upon his as they had waited here while he was delivering his mealy mouthed address and looking at him as they had looked for one moment when he was done. A white stare of incredulity, a flash of reproach, another of contempt, and a back turned disdainfully with a shrug. That was all, but it had burned the magistrate at the time. It would burn him in the retrospect ever after.

To stop counting he put his thumbs in his ears, always with an eye on the door, so that none should surprise him in that position, but "Comb those lashes!" came to them still, and then he began listening for another voice and a different cry. He listened for these in positive terror, with the perspiration dripping from his nose and his ears moaning like the sea beneath both thumbs. However, no voice reached them but that of the savage old doctor, crying not about the lashes up to the end. Then came a pause. Mr. Strachan made sure it was a pause, dried his face, put his thumbs in his armholes and tilted back his chair. His features were sufficiently composed when Dr. Sullivan strode into the room with a deeply dissatisfied air.

"Well?" drawled Mr. Strachan.

"Not a sound!" growled the doctor. "Not a moan. But I'll break his spirit yet! I'll break him or I'll know the reason why!" And he ground what teeth he had and wiped his wrinkled forehead with the red silk handkerchief.

"Bravo!" cried Mr. Strachan.

Dr. Sullivan looked up sharply, but took this expression of enthusiasm to himself, as a tribute to that indomitable and ferocious will which was his pride.

"You know me, Strachan," said he. "What I say I mean, and if you'd backed me up just now and stopped outside you'd know why I say it. Not—one—solitary—groan! But I'll break him yet. Upon my soul I believe I could have done it with this cane! The fool of a fellow didn't half lay on. He said he'd give it him all the harder for that nice thing on his forehead, but it's my opinion"—

The sergeant rushed into the room.

"He's gone, sir! He's gone!"

The doctor whipped a leather case from his pocket and went out hurriedly. In five minutes he was back. His colleague was sitting like a yellow ghost.

"Gone?" chuckled the doctor. "A little faint, nothing more, and as stubborn as a mule the moment I brought him to. But I'll break him yet, Strachan; I'll break him yet!"

"He had his full hundred?"

"Every lash."

"His—his skin"—

"Like tissue paper; drew at the fourth, but not a sound, not a syllable all through."

"And he's fit to go back to the farm?"

"Fit enough if I let him," the doctor declared. "But I prefer to keep him where he is till tomorrow. Here in the lockup he can do no mischief, and they know how to look after them here. But what's the matter with you, Strachan? You look used up. The heat, eh?"

"The climate altogether!" cried the other, rising. "I'm sick of this country, Sullivan. India was a fool to it. I'd give all I've got to be going back there tomorrow!"

CHAPTER XIX.

THE sergeant had looked into the lockup for the last time that night. He had made his last overture to the prisoner, had cursed and cuffed him for a sulky dog, and so taken leave of him for the night. Not a word had Erichsen uttered in all these hours. He had answered no question, replied to no taunt nor yet once raised his eyes from the ground. There he sat with a damp blanket about his torn body and his rough yellow head between his hands. Food had been put before him and remained there still. A pannikin of tea stood cold and sour and black with drowned flies upon the ground. The flies were the worst of all his outward ills. But the shocking torments of a brain cruelly cleared by pain and weakness were worse than the flies.

And now he was alone for the night. The key had been turned in the padlock and put in its place on the beam above. The sergeant's bluster had died away, and the sergeant's footsteps followed suit. Across the yard there came a laugh, an oath, a good night ironically shouted, then a throwing off of boots that jingled and a shutting of doors. Now all was still, and in the lockup the stillness was as unbroken as elsewhere. He never stirred but to shrug away a fly. The moon shone in through holes in the tin lid roof, through crevices in the matchwood walls, and in the soft sifted light he sat immovable. It was such a prison as a man of spirit could have broken with preposterous ease. But this one had no spirit left. He was no longer a man. His precious manhood had been beaten out of him like dust from a carpet. And the sense of that irrevocable loss bit deeper than the glutted flies.

Was it a horse outside against the brushwood fence? The sound was the first Tom seemed to have heard for many years. In his blackened brain it struck a first inappreciable spark of interest. He listened. Then came another and a nearer sound as of something torn. He listened eagerly. What could it be? Minutes passed. There were no more sounds until the padlock was tried and a hand went feeling for the key. Tom raised his head for the first time as the moon streamed in through the open door, when he perceived that it was Peggy's bare feet which had made no noise. With that he lowered his head again, for there was no place in it even for surprise. But unconsciously he gave a moan.

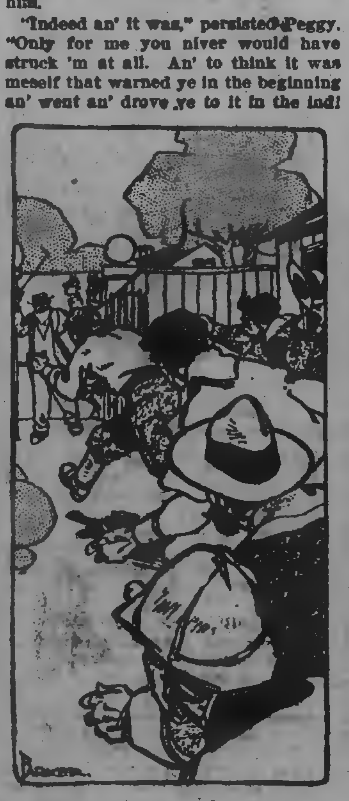
She went upon her knees beside him and flung out her arms, but drew them back, with a shiver, from that loose spread blanket. "Tom!" she whispered. "Speak to me, darlin'. It's Peggy come to see how y' are."

He never spoke, never looked up nor gave any sign that he heard her words, unless it was that his bowed head hung more heavily than before.

"It's Peggy O'Brine," the girl pursued, with a sob in her throat. "Sure an' ye've not forgotten Peggy the cook? It's to comfort ye I've come, dearie, an' haven't I the right? Ah, then, an' wasn't it all through me it was?"

The sob got loose, and she was wringing her hands and gazing at Tom through her tears as though her heart would break for him. In return he stared heavily at her, but shook his head as her meaning came home to him.

"Indeed an' it was," persisted Peggy. "Only for me you niver would have struck 'm at all. An' to think it was meself that warned ye in the beginning an' went an' drove ye to it in the ind! If only you had let 'm strike me dead at his feet! It 'd have been betther than that—an' this!"



The pack were at his heels.

Still he looked at her without a word, and still there was no light, no life, no feeling in the look, but only dumb and dead despair.

"You thought I liked 'im!" exclaimed Peggy wildly. "They've been tellin' ye their black lies in the huts. It's little they know how it's been between us from the sthart. I'll tell ye this, Tom, betther a hundhred times be the man he's a spite agin than the girl he's his wicked eye upon. That's Mr. Nat for ye, an' I hate 'im—I loathe 'im—'tis God's truth I'm telling ye. Tom, dear, he cot me out there last night—I niver wint out wid 'im. He cot me prowlin' about, as he said, an' that's the truth, too, though he tould it. I couldn't sleep for thinkin' o' the two o' yez. It's well I knew he was up to some divil's work at last. I'd seen 'im talkin'—an' what do you suppose he's up to now?" asked Peggy, going off at a tangent. "What do you suppose he's doin' at this moment? Lyin' dhrunk on his bed—lyin' de'd dhrunk for the shame of it! You knocked 'm down. You knocked 'm down. He won't get over 't till his dyin' day. Nobody else iver so much as lifted a han' agin 'im on the farm. But glory be to God, you knocked 'im down!"

There was more than unthinking exultation in her tone; there was a very singular sort of pride also, and this as unthinking as the other, it was so ingenuous and plain. But Tom saw nothing with those dreadful eyes and heard but little beyond her soothing brogue. And then she did think and saw a mark on the blanket in a rod of moonlight (for she had shut the door) and cried out to God to forgive the most selfish woman in all the world.

She had thought of herself and not of Tom. She had talked about herself and not about Tom. In her selfishness she had forgotten what she had brought him, and a medicine bottle of pilfered milk and rum was at his parched lips in an instant. She made him drink of it, and drink deep, and mutton sandwiches, deliciously cut and salted, she put between his teeth with her own fingers, bite after bite, as though he had been her infant. And all the time she was railing at herself for forgetting this and being the most selfish woman in the world, while he ate and drank from her tender hand and never said a word.

But when this was over he took that hand in his, and so they sat as it seemed for hours in a thin rain of filtered moonshine. Still his eyes were steadily downcast the whole time. Thus they missed the happy tears in hers.

At last he spoke, and it was terrible, for she could not understand a word. Then he coughed and tried again and said, "God bless you, Peggy—only there isn't one in New South Wales!" And that left them both silent and the girl grieving openly for almost as long again.

Then he said quite quietly:

"You know I've been in the condemned cell, Peggy. But it was nothing to this. My God, it was nothing to this!"

Peggy pressed his hand.

"The condemned cell at Newgate," he went on. "I was there up to the very last night and heard the people taking their places to see me swing. Well, that night was nothing to this. And if they had hanged me in the morning it would have been nothing—nothing—it would have been nothing"—

The hoarse voice broke, sob after sob shook the tortured body, and the girl glowed with shame to find herself the useless witness of an agony so supreme. But his tears dried hers and bound their fount. It froze her heart to hear and see him. She was afraid to speak to him, to touch his hand. She withdrew a little, and her bare foot pressed a cold oasis on the warm ground. She stooped and picked up a coin.

"Ha!" cried Tom.

His voice was very bitter now, but under control in a moment.

"Where did it come from?" asked Peggy, with the coin to a shining crevice.

"I am ashamed to tell you," and he ground his teeth. "But you will never guess. From a greater brute than either of the Sullivans. He came to look at me just afterward. I was steaming like a horse in this blanket, and he came and gloated over me and flung me a farthing—a farthing—the very beast who ordered me the lashes and pretended to be so kind."

"A farth'n'!"

"Yes. God help him if ever I get his yellow throat between these ten fingers!" And they were clutching murderously in the air, and there was murder in every vibration of the husky voice.

To be continued.

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION
DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited
97 Yonge Street, Toronto.
W. H. ISAAC, 228 Dublin Street, Peterborough.
Local Salaried Representative.
Machine 'Phone 22

Some World Wide Crop Reports

The Outlook on the Whole Regarded as Favorable

Liverpool, Dec. 5. — Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary says—

United Kingdom and Spain—The outlook for seeding is generally favourable, but there are occasional complaints heard. Supplies are fair.

France and Italy—Seeding is about finished and the outlook is favourable. Supplies are liberal.

Germany—The outlook is mostly favourable, and supplies are increasing.

Austria Hungary—The outlook has been more favourable until the advent of cold weather yesterday which caused apprehension. Prices are firm.

Roumania—The weather is mild and favourable. Estimates on the outlook for the seeding are thought generally to be all right. Arrivals of wheat from the interior are moderate, and of corn, fair.

Russia—The weather in the south is rather more favourable. The crops in the east are bad, as much frost has occured. Arrivals from the interior continue light.

Turkey — Good rains have fallen, which were beneficial to the crops.

North Africa—The outlook is favourable.

India — Latest advices are that drought continues, no rains having fallen.

Argentine—In the corn districts the quality is only medium, while elsewhere the quality is favourable. Offerings of new wheat are liberal.

FIRE ALARM BOXES

The following are the numbers and locations of the city of Peterborough Fire Alarm Boxes.

WARD No. ONE

BOX LOCATION
12—Lock and McGill
14—Westcott and Aylmer
15—Perry and George
16—Perry and Bethune
17—Park and Townsend
18—George, at C. P. R.

WARD No. TWO

21—George and King
22—Simcoe and Queen
23—George and Hunter
24—Hunter and Quaker
27—Water and McDonel

WARD No. THREE

31—Park and Sherbrooke
33—Charlotte and Stewart
35—Park and Hunter
38—McDonel and Reid

WARD No. FOUR

41—Park and London
42—George and Dublin
43—Edinburgh and Stewart
45—George and Smith
46—Water and Hilliard

WARD No. FIVE

52—Burnham and James
53—Rogers and Sophia
54—Hunter and Mark
57—Concession and Hazlitt
59—Auburn

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the Ward number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

FOR XMAS WORK OR BAZAARS

Pictures in Sepia or Colors, from 3c to 12c

Mounting Papers and Card, in White, Browns and Gray.

Leather in all shades—Brown, Tan, Green and Red.

Calendar Pads, all sizes, from 2c to 10c each.

Passepartout in all shades.

AT REVIEW STATIONERY DEPT.

Letterheads

¶What you think about your Business Stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks.

¶Don't have inferior paper and work in your Business Stationery. Don't try good work and paper because you like it, altogether, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

¶The Review Job Department will give you the best work obtainable and superior paper and envelopes. Your order set, printed and cared for for you, particularly you

¶A Call or Phone will bring to you samples.

THE REVIEW
PETERBOROUGH

YOUR OWN HAIR MADE UP AS DESIRED . .

By home talent, where you are sure of satisfaction, or matched correctly in shade and quality.

Switches, Natural Wavy Pomps
Latest Coiffures

Let us show you what we can do before you patronize some outside party. We guarantee to please you at lowest prices in the city.

Back Hair Dressing, Shampooing, etc.

MRS. BYRNE'S
George Street, Second Door North of Dutton's

Big Bargains in Note Paper at

Cubitt's Book, Stationery and Fancy Goods Store
370 George Street, Peterborough, on SATURDAY NEXT

1 quire Splendid Linen Note Paper and 1 package Envelopes, regular 25c, sale price

17c

1 Large Pad—85 sheets—and 1 package Envelopes regular 20c, sale price

13c

"CUBITT SELLS CHEAP"

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

W. H. HILL, Esq.,
Manager of Central Ontario.

Dear Sir—After congratulating myself being a Sun Life Policy Holder, I am very much pleased with the handsome amount added to my Policy, and am surprised and gratified with the profits. I appreciate the good financial position which your Company holds to-day.

THOS. EDGAR,
Peterborough, Ont

November 29th, 1907.

N.B.—Policy Straight Life $2,000
Bonus for 5 Years $160
Policy No. 17,706

LOOK Warne's Prices on Patent Medicines are LOWEST YET.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Chase's Nerve Food, reg. 50c for	29c
Wampole' Tooth Paste, reg. 25c for	10c
10s Nox a Cold, reg. 25c for	15c
Gin Pills, reg. 50c, for	29c
Baby's Own Soap, for	8c
Cuticura Soap, regular 25c for	25c
Chase's Pills, reg. 25c for	15c
Dr. Williams Pink Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Eclectric Oil, Thomas, genuine	12 1-2c
Electric Oil, other than genuine Thomas	9c

See our large assortment of Xmas gifts at cut rate prices.

W. B. WARNE

345 GEORGE ST. Phone 327

Xmas Photos

Send a family group or the children's photos to your friends at Christmas. Nothing is appreciated more than such remembrances, from

MENDEL'S STUDIO

374 1-2 George St Entrance next Oke's

Special Subjects to be Dealt With

By Rev. A. H. Brace at Park St. Church During December

The following are the special subjects to be treated by Rev. A. H. Brace, at Park street church during the month of Dece,ber ;—

Sunday, Dec. 8th.—Subject; "More Precious Than Gold."

Friday, Dec. 13.—Tea and entertainment.

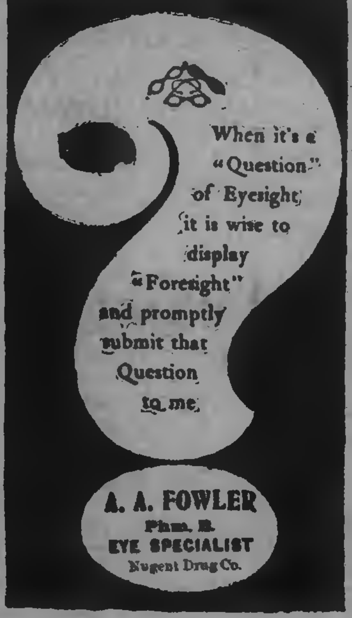
Sunday, Dec. 22.—Christmas sermons; 11 a.m., "The Little Stone Cut out of Mountain Without Hands." 7 p.m., song sermon by pastor and choir." "Protestant Christianity Stepping Down from the Cross and Flooding the World."

Sunday, Dec. 29.—Subject, "What All Want and What Few Possess."

Tuesday, Dec. 31.—11 p.m.—Watchnight service, a popular meeting. "Watch the old year out and the new year in." A song service each night at 6.45. Choruses, duets and solos by choir.

MOST ANNOYING

There is nothing more annoying than to get sand between your teeth when eating Christmas cake or pudding. Avoid this by getting Crescent brand Raisins and Currants. E. F. Mason & Co. 3 stores.



When it's a "Question" of Eyesight, it is wise to display "Foresight" and promptly submit that Question to me.
A. A. FOWLER
Phm. B.
EYE SPECIALIST
Nugent Drug Co.

INTEREST PAID

QUARTERLY

—ON—

SAVINGS DEPOSITS

of $1 and upwards

—THE—

BANK OF OTTAWA

Interest paid
February 28
May 31
August 31
November 30

PETERBOROUGH BRANCHES:
George Street, also Corner Rubidge and Townsend Streets

HOLLINGSHEAD, Mgr

Street Car Struck Cutter On Charlotte St.

This Afternoon—Man Narrowly Escaped Serious Injury

A man by the name of Williamson had a narrow escapef rom serious injury this afternoon when driving along Charlotte street. Mr. Williamson was driving west and had safely passed in front of a west bound street car. When he had just crossed his cutter swung round and thes wiftly moringo ar struck it. It was upset and the occupant was thrown several feet. The motorman at once brought the car to a standstill. The driver was not seriously injured, but the cutter was considerably damaged.

Xmas Crackers, Xmas Table decorations, Xmas Bells, see window display.

R. A. Dutton.

McWilliams vs. Dickson Company

The following appears in today's Osgoode Hall (Toronto) reports:—

Single Court.—Before Riddell, J.

McWilliams v. Dickson.—Grayson Smith for defendant. A. R. Clute for plaintiff. Appeal by defendant from report of local Master at Peterborough Stands sine die, the registrar to write the stenographer that evidence must be prepared.

The "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" Co, carry full equipment for every act and scene. The settings are massive and historically correct. Plan now open.

Mr. W. H. Hill Will Seek Re-Election

As Member of Board of Water Commissioners

Mr. W. H. Hill is the retiring member of the water commissioners at the close of the present year. Mr. W. H. Moore retired last year, but was re-elected. Mr. Hill drops out this year, and Mr. T. F. Matthews will be the man to retire next year. In all probability Mr. Hill will be re-elected by acclamation, as his record while a water commissioner is a strong recommendation why he should be kept there.

Mr. Hill was a commissioner of the old water company for seven years, and has been a member of the present water commissioners since the service was taken over by the city

Don't forget "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" at the "Grand" next Monday evening. Plan now open.

ADAM'S

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

——SALE OF——

Sample Silk Blouses and Fancy Neckwear

We have been fortunate in securing a manufacturer's lot of Sample Silk Blouses which had served their purpose as samples. We bought them at a fraction of their regular value and pass them on to our customers at less tnan the cost of making.

$3.25, $3.50, $4.00 $5.00 SILK BLOUSES FOR $2.38

4 dozen only, Sample Silk Blouses, White and Black, made of fine quality Japanese Silk, with allover embroidered fronts, lace and insertion trimmings, larg and fine tucks, long and short sleeves. Regular values $3.25, $3 50, $4.00 & $5.00

Friday and Saturday Your Choice For $2.38

35c and 50c FANCY COLLARS FOR 25c

25 dozen beautiful new Silk Collars, the newest novelties for the Christmas trade—bought much less than regular value.

Friday and Saturday Your Choice For 25c

THIS IS A RARE SILK BLOUSE AND COLLAR BARGAIN EVENT WHICH YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS. THEY MAKE VERY SUITABLE CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

Harry Adams

Presbytery of Peterborough Will Honor Retiring Moderator

Will Take Part in the Jubilee Ceremony of Rev. Peter Duncan at Colborne on December 30th—Entertained by Ladies of St. Paul's—Impromptu Banquet Held.

A special meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough was held last evening in St. Paul's church, previous to the induction ceremony.

There were present Rev. Dr. Marsh, Springville; Rev. William Beattie, Cobourg; Rev. S. S. Burns, Lakefield; Rev. Jas. Skene, Baltimore; Rev. Wm. Johnson, Millbrook; Rev. D. D. McDonald, Keene; Rev. J. A. G. Stirling, Havelock; Rev. J. G. Potter, Rev Dr. Talling, Rev. Robt, Pogue, Elders W. F. Sandy, Keene, McIntosh & Sanderson Springville, Wm. Fowler J. C. Shook, Robert Harrison and others.

The credentials and transfer papers of Rev. Robert Pogue, the new pastor, of St. Paul's, were received.

The presbytery decided that its next regular meeting would be on Dec. 30th at Colborne, when the members will take part in the jubilee of Rev. Peter Duncan, moderator of the presbyerty, who has for fifty years been pastor of Colborne Presbyterian church, and is, after a life filled with devotion, service and zeal for his Master, retiring from the work of the active ministry.

The Synod of Toronto and Kingston is recognizing the semi-centennial of Mr. Duncan, and the Presbytery of Peterborough will join with that body.

It is expected that a suitable memorial will be presented to the veteran clergyman.

HELD BANQUET.

The members of the Presbytery were entertained to tea by the ladies of St. Paul's church, who provided a bountiful spread. A short toast list was afterwards introduced. Rev. D. D. McDonald, of Keene, proposed a toast to the ladies, who had so kindly provided for the visitors. The ministers and elders sang, "For They are Jolly Good Fellows," and Rev Wm. Beattie, of Cobourg, championed the cause of the fair sex in an admirable address.

Rev. Dr. Talling offered a toast to Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Pogue, which was enthusiastically honored. The new pastor of St. Paul's replied in felicitious terms.

Rev. Dr. Marsh presided, and the gathering was a very happy one.

Awful Explosion in Coal Mine; Many Lives Are Reported Lost

Despatches Estimate the Number of Dead From 150 to 1000—Entrance Not Yet Effected to the Mine—Details Are Meagre.

Special to the Review.

Fairmont, W. Va., Dec. 6—An explosion has occurred in the mines No. 6 and No. 8 of the Fairmont Coal Co., at Monongahela, aout six miles from here. One despatch says 150 men were in the mine, another says five hundred. The explosion wrecked the tipple. It is said to have been a dust explosion.

Nothing is positively known of the number of men in the mines at the time of the explosion, but it is feared the accident is a serious one. The mines are part of those owned by the Consolidated Coal Co. of Baltimore.

ANOTHER REPORT.

Special to J. R. Heintz & Co.

Fairmont, W. Va., Dec. 6—An explosion at mines Nos. 6 and 8, of the Fairmont Coal Company, at Monongahela, six miles from here, is reportde. It is said that a thousand men are in the two mines. It is impossible to get in the mines, and the number of dead and injured cannot be told until an entrance is effected. Over 100 men are known to have escaped.

Royal Black Preceptory Honors Two of its Members

Past Preceptor's Jewel Presented to Bro. Jos. Batten and to Bro. W. H. G. Armstrong—Election of Officers.

The regular meeting of the Royal Black Preceptory, No. 261, Knights of Ireland, was held last night in the Orange Hall, Simcoe street. The election of officers for the ensuing year took place, and the occasion was marked by a presentation to two members of the Preceptory who have given most faithful service to the Order for many years. Wor. Sir Knight W. H. G. Armstrong and Rt. Wor. Sir Knight Jos. Batten, both of whom were presented with a handsome Past Preceptor's jewel as a mark of the esteem in which they are regarded by their fellow members of the Preceptory.

The presentation to Sir Knight Batten was made by Sir Knight Armstrong on behalf of the Order, while the following address was read by Sir Knight E. G. Clarke:

Peterborough Royal Black Preceptory, No. 261.
December, 5. 1907.

To Right Worshipful Sir Knight Joseph Batten, Past Preceptor of R.B.P. No. 261, Peterborough, Ont,

Dear Sir Knight and Brother,—

It is with extreme pleasure that we, your fellow Sir Knights, gathered in regular open preceptory, take this opportunity of expressing to you in some small degree our appreciation of your esteemed services for so many years past in this preceptory. Having obtained all the degrees that the institution is capable of conferring upon you, there was at once a manifestation on your part of a devoted interest in the work of the Chapter.

Your good counsel ever tended for peace and harmony in our meetings, your regular attendance while Worshipful Preceptor of the Preceptory, showed your willingness to devote your abilities and time towards advancing the interests of our most glorious institution. During the many occasions on which you attended the meetings of the Grand Black Chapter you have always upheld the prestige of the Order, andt his local Preceptory. As you advance in years we deem it a duty as well as a golden opportunity, to express to you our great regard for your untiring labors. We beg of you to accept this Past Preceptor's jewel as a small memento of the great esteem and regard in which you are held by your fellow Sir Knights and upon the many occasions which we hope it may adorn your breast may it serve to remind you of the good feelings for you of a united brotherhood.

Signed and sealed on behalf of the members of Royal Black Preceptory No. 261.

The following address was read by Sir Knight E. G. Clarke to Sir Knight Armstrong, while Sir Knight Robt. Juby made the presentation of the handsome jewel:

Peterborough Royal Black Preceptory, No. 261.
December 5th, 9017.

To Worshipful Sir Knight, W. H. G. Armstrong, Past Preceptor of R.B.P. No. 261, Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir Knight and Brother,—

It is with great pleasure that we take this opportunity of expressing to you our high esteem and tender gratitude for the very able services you have rendered this Preceptory, and our fellow Sir Knights during your term of office. You have not only devoted much time and talent on your work as a Preceptor, but you have given every encouragement and assistance possible to the several fellow officers of this Royal Black Preceptory

Since your entrance to office your noble bearing and splendid ritualistic work has inspired us all to attain to th ehighest degree and become more attentive and interested in the aims and objects of this noble Order.

Time is too short, space does not permit, and words are incapable of expressing to you our heartfelt gratitude and kind regards for your untiring labors, undaunted courage and persistent efforts towards the furtherance of those principles which tend to better citizenship among your fellow Sir Knights.

Signed and sealed on behalf of the members of Royal Black Preceptory, No. 261.

The following officers were elected;—

W.P.—H T Everett.
D P—E G Clarke.
Chaplain—Rev A H Brace.
Reg—R E Juby.
Treasurer—Jos. Johnston.
1st Lecturer—A McDonald.
2nd Lecturer—R B McGill.
1st Censor—John Carscallen.
2nd Censor—Jos Crowe.
1st Standard Bearer—J Bradfield.
2nd Standard Bearer—Jas. Jackson.
Pur—James Garside.
1st Com—Jos Batten
2nd Com.—Robt Wilson.
3rd Com—W A Kindred.
4th Com—J. Biggs.
5th Com—Robert Maxwell.
6th Com—F. McGee.

The above officers were afterwards installed by Rt. Wor. Sir Knight Jos. Batten, Grand Chaplain, for Eastern Ontario.

MR. JOS. BATTEN. MR. W. H. G. ARMSTRONG

Who Were Each Presented With Past Preceptor's Jewel Last Night.

MR. H. T. EVERETT

Elected W. P. of Royal Black Preceptory No. 261.

"It's Confidence That Does It"

WHITE & GILLESPIE

TO HOUSEKEEPERS:

Another Christmas will soon be here We can assure Housekeepers of both city and country that we are now ready to provide them with an abundance of the good things necessary for Christmas baking and cooking at enticing prices.

NEW FRUITS

Raisins, Currants, Figs, Prunes, Dates, Candied Peel, Extracts, Syrups, Molasses, Shelled Walnuts and Almonds, Sauces, Pickles, Spices, Sugars, Teas, Coffees, Flour, Biscuits, Cheese, Prime Butter, Fresh Eggs, Breakfast Cereals, etc.

336 GEORGE ST. Phone 208

Book your seats early for "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall." Plan now open.

THE MERCHANTS ARE THANKED

Ladies of All Saints' Church are Grateful—Sale Was Success

Mrs. J. H. McClellan, supervisor of All Saints' Industrial Sale, desires on behalf of the ladies of the Guilds to take this opportunity of thanking the following merchants who so kindly contributed materials, etc., for the sale;—

A. W. Cressman.
J. C. Turnbull & Co.
Robert Fair & Co., Ltd.
A. G. Dickson.
T. H. Adams.
Richard Hall & Sons, Ltd.
W. H. Hamilton.
R. Dutton.
E. F. Mason & Co.
A. Graham.
Stroud Tea Co.
McDermid & Jury.
McFarlane Wilson.
A. Comstock.
Hutchinson-Sturgeon Co.

Thanks ae also due Mrs Koen, of A. W. Cressman's who arranged so artistically the schemes of decoration in the different booths. Mrs. McClellan also wishes to thank Mr. John, of the John Tea Co., who supplied tea, cream and sugar for the tea room; also the ladies of the different booths who put forth every effort to make the sale the success it has been. The gentlemen who assisted in the sale also deserve great credit; also Mrs. J. D. Lundy, who was one of the hardest workers among the ladies.

FACTS—JUST PLAIN, POINTED FACTS

BOYS' SUITS

Good words our Good Boy's Clothing are coming back to us in good business, what better proof could you ask of our value-giving than these.

BUSTER BROWN STYLE

Gray mixed Tweeds, plain, well made and trimmed, sizes 22 to 25 .... 3.25

Gray stripe Tweed, well made and trimmed, 22 to 25 3.50

Blue and black Serge, well made and trimmed sizes 22 to 26 .... 4.00

2-PIECE NORFOLK STYLE

Dark gray stripe Tweed, sizes from 25 to 30, special 2.00

Gray mixed Tweed, pepper and salt effects, all sizes, 24 to 30, Special 2.50

Brown Scotch Tweed effect, double breasted Norfolk, sizes 26 to 29, prices 4.00, 4.50, 5.00

3 piece Double Breasted Styles—dark gray check and stripe Tweed, Lion Brand, with double elbows and double seats and knees, well padded and well made, sizes 28 to 33 .... 4.50 and 5.00

Dark gray over plaids and dark stripes, the newest designs for boys' suits, double breasted, sizes 28 to 33 .... 6.00, 6.50, 7.00

Boys' and Youth's Reefers—Dark gray and black Frieze, Tweed lined, all sizes up to 28 .... 2.00, 2.25

Dark gray and black Frieze, Tweed lined, 29 to 34 2.75

MERRELL & MEREDITH

CLOTHIERS, FURNISHERS and HATTERS

375-377 GEORGE ST. PHON E 35

The government will send agents to England to advocate the advantage of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick for immigrants.

Photography

Amateur Supplies, Cameras, Souvenir Books, Post Cards and all kinds of high-grade Photography at W. G. LEN DRUM'S, 170 Charlotte St. Agent for the celebrated Heintzman & Co's Pianos.

Porter's Delicatessen

CUT RATE GROCERY STORE

Black Tea, 3 lbs	.50
Select Raisins 3 lbs	.20
Cooking Figs, 4 lbs	.25
Mince Meat, 3 lbs.	.20
Dates, 3 lbs.	.25
Washing Soda, 3 lbs	.05
Tomatoes, per tin	.10
Beans, Peas, Corn, per tin	.08
3 bottles Pickles	.25
3 bottles Ketchup	.25
Cross Fish Brand Sardines 2 tins for	.25
Potatoes, per pk	.15
Apples, per pk	.10

XMAS CHEER

CENTRAL LIQUOR STORE

141 HUNTER STREET

Brandies, Port and Sherry Wines, St. Augustine, Native Port, also the highest grade Scotch Whiskies to be found in Peterborough.

Something good in Rye, namely:—

MITCHELL'S SPECIAL RYE WHISKY

Quality the best in Peterborough and a little better.

Remember the place

The Old Reliable Liquor Store

F. J. R. MITCHELL

COMMON SENSE GIFTS

If you want to make two families genuinely happy thi holiday season, try giving the old cook stove that has give you years of service, to some needy household, and presen the good wife with a

PANDORA RANGE

You will thus make two homes happy, especially your own where the great comfort of using the Pandora Range will b greatly appreciated.

ADAMSON & DOBBIN

NEW BRICK BLOCK—SIMCOE STREET

THE DAYLIGHT STORE

DOLLARS FOR YOU

At Our Own Money-Saving Sale

There are dollars waiting for you here. Come in and get them. We'll cut them off the prices of our Clothing and Furnishings.

The wise man who has his eye on his pocket book will now get busy and buy all the wearables he can use. Don't wait too long. This Sale will soon end.

MEN'S SUITS of fine English and Scotch Tweed, beautifully lined in both single and double-breasted style, were up to $14 and $15, for 11.90

MEN'S OVERCOATS—Heavy English Overcoatings in Kersey and Tween, with wool and Italian linings; worth $12 and $13, for 9.90

MEN'S UNDERWEAR in heavy all wool, double-breasted, worth regular $1.00, for 69c

Braces, Gloves, Hosiery, Ties, Handkerchiefs, etc., all at bargain prices.

There's a constant flow of bargains from our great sale. Now is the time to clothe up every member of the family, large or small. Remember it is always "Money back if you want it" when you buy here.

LANG & MAHER, CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW

409-411 George St., Peterborough

AFTER SUPPER SALE

Last, but not least. Look at the items. Consider the prices Then figure how much it will cost you to remain away from the After Supper Sale,

Velveteens

Fancy Figured Velveteen in shades green, navy blue and rose ; some in 4 yd ends for waists. Others in skirt lengths. Regular 60c and 70c yard

After Supper Sale 28c

Table Cloths

2x2 yards. slightly damaged, all the newest patterns and designs, guaranteed all pure linen ; full grass bleached ; splendid bargain ; worth up to $4.00

After Supper Sale $2.25

Table Cloths

2 x2½ yards, slightly imperfect, handsome floral and conventional designs. The After Supper Sale affords you the opportunity to save much money on your Xmas Linen. Worth up to $5.00 each

After Supper Sale $3.2

Flannelette

Extra heavy English Flannelette, good range of patterns, pink and white and blue and white stripe effects ; also plain colors All guaranteed fast, per Yard

fter Supper Sale 10c

Handkerchiefs

Fine quality White Lawn Handkerchiefs, hemstitched 1½ inch hem, worth up to 6c Each

After Supper Sale 3c

Handkerchiefs

Something new—Mercella Handkerchiefs for women ; plain centres with fancy borders ; hemstitched ; put up one doz in a box

After Supper Sale $1.00

Gloves

Women's Cashmere Gloves, Perrin's make, very fine quality pure cashmere yarn ; two dome fasteners ; color black, navy, brown and gray. Special per Pair

After Supper Sale 25c

Handkerchiefs

Fancy Lawn Handkerchiefs, hemstitched borders and drawn work centres regular 8c each

After Supper Sale 5c

Hosiery

Women's Ribbed Cashmere Stockings, good heavy winter weight ; seamless, all sizes ; regular 35c per Pair

After Supper Sale 27c

Laces

Pretty Val Laces and Insertions, a splendid lot of dainty patterns. Just what you need for Xmas fancy work. Special, per Yard

After Supper Sale 3c

Ribbons

Pure Silk Ribbons, 1¼ inches wide ; color white, sky, pink, cream, navy and black, per Yard

After Supper Sale 5c

$35.00 Coats

10 only Women's Broadcloth Coats, black and navy, green and brown ; this season;s newest styles ; semi-fitting back ; regular up to $35 00

After Supper Sale $17.50

Children's Coats

Children's Red and White Knitted Coats, Norfolk style, just the thing for these cold days. Special, Each

After Supper Sale $1.78

$18.00 Women's Suits

Cheviots, Tweeds and fancy mixtures ; good serviceable suits, only last season's styles. No one need go without a Suit for Xmas. Here is your opportunity. Regular up to $18.00. On sale at 7.30 sharp.

After Supper Sale $1.98

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED

353 AND 355 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

STORE OPENS AT 8 A.M. CLOSES AT 6 P.M.,EXCEPT SATURDAY

FOR FINE

Lemons, Oranges

Malaga Grapes

Bananas

and all kinds of fruit and vegetables try

MINOCOLO BROS.

Wholesale and Retail.

Both Phones 337.

FRAMED VIEWS

In COLORED SEPIA and BLACK : : : : :

FORCHRIST MAS PRESENTS

THE ROY STUDIO

Ask for Roy's Famous Souvenir Post Cards

The Octagon Club Will Hold "At Home"

In Conservatory of Music Hall This Evening

The Octagon Club will hold an "at home" in the Conservatory of Music Hall, this evening, December 6th. The patronesses will be Mesdames James Hamilton, Roland Denne, G. Dickson Hall, Cyril Currier, F. L. Roy and H. Thompson. The committee is composed of Messrs. E. A. Ford, B. Gillespie, C. Ross Cameron, W. E. Hillhouse, C. Barber, M. Moore, F. Sawers. Mr. W. Gresham Ferguson is secretary.

FOR XMAS BAKING

You will have no doubt of the success of your Christmas pudding or cake if you use the Crescent brand of Currants and Raisins with other fruits and spices, got at E. F. Mason & Cos'. 3 stores.

: : CHRISTMAS : :

is coming soon and you will be face to face with that perplexing question

WHAT SHALL I BUY FOR A PRESENT?

We are ready and willing to solve it for you easily and at a small expenditure of time and money. Here you will find the most beautiful 1907 designs in gold and silver goods. Designs and prices that cannot be found elsewhere.

SCHNEIDER'S

RELIABLE JEWELLERS, 391 GEORGE STREET

THE CITY AND VICINITY

EVENTS TO-NIGHT

Conservatory Music hall.—Octagon club dance.

Peterborough club.—Annual meeting.

George street church.—Mission Band sale.

St. Peter's T.A.S.—Ladies' Literary Society meeting

St. Luke's church.—A.Y.P.A. meeting.

Boys' clubs of Knox, All Saints' and St. Andrew's churches meet.

FUR LINED COATS

We clean and press them and guarantee no injury to the fur. My Valet, 204 Charlotte street. All goods called for and delivered. dtf

CHRISTMAS CAKE.

Best of fruit, choicest of flavorings and perfection of baking, makes Elliott's Christmas cake the finest to be had. Leave orders now. Iced as desired. dtf

AN OPPORTUNITY.

Do you need help, male or female? Have you rooms to let, house to rent or sell, or are boarders wanted? Have you anything to sell and can't find a buyer? Try a Review want ad, it will go everywhere at trifying cost.

NEW INSPECTOR.

At the meeting of the Hastings County Council in Belleville Mr. John Johnston, for the past thirty-six years Inspector of Public Schools for South Hastings, tendered his resignation, which was accepted. Mr. Harry J. Clark, B.A., mathematical teacher in Belleville High School, was unanimously chosen as successor, his duties to commence January 1.

FINE PICTURE FRAMING.

New mouldings, good work, reasonable prices. J. M. GREENE Music Co., George street. dtf

ANNIVERSARY

Anniversary services will be conducted on Sunday at the Presbyterian church, Springville, of which Rev. Dr. Marsh is pastor.

TAKE NOTE

Of our fine line of Violins, Mandolins, Guitars, etc. Some excellent values, and within easy range for the Xmas trade. Special prices to Old Santa Claus. J. M. GREENE Music Co., Grand opera house building, George street. dtf

HANDSOME VIEWS.

Mr. R. M. Roy & Son, photographers, took a number of flashlight views of the different booths at the Industrial Fair in the old opera house. The views are decidedly clear, and attractive, and are among the finest ever taken in this city.

LADIES' LITERARY.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T.A.S. will be held on Friday evening, Dec. 6th, when an interesting essay will be read by Miss Kate McGrath. A musical programme will also be presented. 4d

FELL INTO WELL

Mr. Bert Strong, son of Mr. R. J. Strong, had the misfortune of losing a team of good horses last week while filling in an old well with a scrapper. The horses got too near the well and one fell in pulling in the other, both being dead before they could be got out. This is a serious loss to Mr. Strong, indeed.—Millbrook Reporter.

BOYS GUILD.

The St. Andrew's Boy's Guild will meet to-night at 7.15. A full meeting of the boys is requested.

COMMITTEES DID NOT MEET

The meetings of the Legal and Finance Committees, which were to have been held yesterday, did not take place.

MAKE CALENDARS.

Why not make calendars? They are pretty cheap and always acceptable. We have pictures in sepia and colors, fancy embossed cards and dainty calendar pads in many designs. See them at the Review office. 3d

ST. LUKE'S A.Y.P.A.

The regular meeting of St. Luke's A.Y.P.A. will be held tonight at 8. Besides a programme a lecture will be given by Sheriff Hall on "Dickens."

CARPENTERS AND JOINERS

A meeting of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union will be held tonight at eight o'clock, in the Orange Hall, Simcoe street. The annual election of officers will take place.

OPEN AIR RINKS.

The Peterborough Radial Railway Company has flooded the open air rink at Jackson Park, and it is expected that the rink will be ready for skating in a few days. The toboggan slide will also be placed in order.

HOSUE OF REFUGE

The County House of Refuge will be formally opened tomorrow afternoon. It is expected that a number of prominent persons will be in attendance at the ceremony, including Hon. J. W. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, and Hon. N. Monteith, Minister of Agriculture. A luncheon for the invited guests will be provided at the building.—Belleville Intelligencer.

ATTENTION! ATTENTION

The C.P.R. Atlantic Steamship Line have chartered the twin screw steamer "Cassandra," to sail from West St. John, Dec. 14th, Will carry only second cabin passengers. Rates, $35.00, $37.00 and $42.50, from St. John to London direct, and land passengers in ample time to reach their homes for Christmas. For tickets and all information see W. McIlroy, agent, 342 George street. 2d

For nice Fowl, Geese, Chickens, Turkeys, try James R. Bell, 161 Hunter St. Also Cape Cod Cranberries. Both Phones

PERSONAL

Mrs. (Dr.) Talling, of Toronto, is in the city.

Rev. J. A. G. Stirling, of Havelock, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. Ernie Cherry, of Peterborough, was home on Sunday.—Millbrook Reporter.

Mr. G. A. MacLennan, pastor of Norwood Presbyterian church, is laid up with an attack of the mumps

Mr. Charles MacDonnel, Principal of St. Peter's school, is still confined to his home by illness.

Rev. Father Joseph O'Sullivan, of Victoria Road, was in the city this week.

Mr. Thos. Mark, of Peterborough, was at the Falls on Thursday and Friday of last week.—Fenelon Falls Gazette.

Lindsay Post ; Mr. J. E. Firth, Peterborough, was in town yesterday. Mr. George B. Stevenson, of Peterborough, was in town last evening, and saw the hockey match

Rev. J. J. Wright who has been absent from the city for the past two months in the interest of Queen's university endowment fund, has returned. He visited Arnprior, Melrose, Lynn and many other places.

Twenty-five first-class actors support "Bianca West" in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall." Plan now open.

SANTA CLAUS

ON HIS WAY TO ROUTLEY'S

STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING

Goods are Pouring in--Our customers are Now Buying for Xmas

300 Dressed Dolls, reg. 25c, choice	.14
375 China Tea Sets, regular 50c	.25
25 Crokinole Boards, regular 1.25	.59
60 Leather Case Silk Lined Ebony Manicure Case, regular 2.50 for	1 50
20 only Military Brush Sets, Stirling Silver Mounted, regular 1.25 pair for	.74
15 cases Children's Plated Knife, Fork and Spoon, with pearl handles, reg. 2.00	1 24

You will find that our clerks are attentive and that prices are reliable. watch closely our buying as we know goods well bought are half sold at W

TORONTO 262-4 QUEEN W ROUTLEY'S PETERBORO' 379 GEORGE ST

Bank Clerk Ends His Life

Stanley Burton Shot Himself as Result of Melancholia.

Formerly Worked in Bank of Montreal in Peterboro'.

A Winnipeg despatch says ; Stanley S. Burton, receiving teller of the Bank of Montreal, blew out his brains in a deserted shack in the suburbs last night. He left his desk suddenly at noon Wednesday, and was not seen alive again by his friends. He came here from Port Hope five years ago, where he was connected with the Bank of Montreal. His father resides there.

About two months ago deceased went through an operation for the removal of a large abscess in his head This operation was not entirely successful, and he had complained ever since of the same trouble. Besides this, he was a sufferer from acute indigestion, and for some days had been worried over these matters.

The late Stanley Burton was employed in the Peterborough branch of the Bank of Montreal about six years ago. He will be remembered by many local people, a large number of whom were personal friends of the deceased.

Rich costumes made from old paintings and plates from the period of Queen Elizabeth are used in the production of "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" "Grand" next Monday evening. Plan now open.

Another Bank Closes its Doors

Fort Pitt National Bank of Pittsburg Has Suspended

Special to J. R. Heintz & Co.

Pittsburg Pa., Dec. 6.—The Fort Pitt National Bank failed to open its doors this morning.

State Bank Examiner Cunningham has taken charge. The bank has a capital of $1,000,000 and its deposits approximate $4,000,000.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 6—At the treasury department to-day it was stated that the Fort Pitt National Bank of Pittsburg was not closed by orders of controller of the currency Ridgely, but that the directors at a meeting held last night decided to close.

A statement will be issued to the controller in regard to the institution.

Pittsburg, Dec. 6.—In its report to the controller of the currency giving its conditions on Dec. 3rd, the Fort Pitt National Bank showed loans and discounts $3,761,607. Capital stock $1,000,000 ; surplus funds $1,000,000 ; deposits subject to checks, $1,937,615, and clearing house certificates received $100,000. Its liabilities were $5,522,142. The bank was established in 1885.

Housekeepers will find it profitable to call on James R. Bell 161 Hunter street, for the farmers have him loaded up with dairy butter, fresh eggs, apples, (cheap) potatoes, etc. Store open at night. Both Phones.

GOOD RINK AT HASTINGS

The fence around the skating rink at Hastings has been completed and the waiting room is also built, and by the time the ice is ready the lights will be on for the young folks to enjoy the winter sport. The rink will be larger this year, as the waiting room has been built at the north end, which was never used by the skaters. Mr. John Coughlan, jr., has charge of the management of the rink, and is patiently waiting for Jack Frost to do his part in order to do his work for the season.

Robert T. Christian, of Adgals, is in jail on a charge of assaulting a young girl.

Lost and Found

LOST

A NARROW GOLD BAND BRACELET, ornamented with horse shoe setting, between Grafter's Store and the Post Office, about four or five o'clock on Tuesday, December 3rd. Finder will please leave at Grafton's Office or Review Office. 2d

MEALS——LUNCHES

AT ALL HOURS

For quick service, well-cooked meals and popular prices—go to

FOWLER'S RESTAURANT

McCallum's Old Stand - 330 George St

LADIES, CUT THIS OUT

Dr. Cristion's

FRENCH TOILET ARTICLES

Have been placed on sale with

Miss E. Smith

567 GEORGE STREET

MANICURING, SHAMPOOING SCALP TREATMENT and FACIAL MASSAGE SKILFULLY DONE

Appointments made. Mach. Phone 13

THE

BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to-wear Store

We show a great variety of Children's Dresses for winter wear—strong, durable dressy and attractive. All sizes—made up in all the latest cloths, from 75c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $3.00, $4.00 $5 00, Etc., Etc.

Children's Dressy Coats in long and short lengths, in all the new cloths—dainty and comfortable, from $1.00

gradually up

Babies Cashmere Cloaks tastily embroidered with silk, in long and short lengths. See our special values at $3.75

We have all the new styles and latest lengths in Perrin's Kid Gloves.

Register now for the February free embroidery classes.

THE

BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to Wear Store

ALL THINGS ARE NOW READY

GEORGE R. RECORD

PRACTICAL

FRENCH DRY CLEANER AND PRESSER

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments and Household Articles cleaned and guaranteed not to fade color or shrink any material. Charges moderate. Goods called for and delivered. Telephone 669.

NEW BRICK BLOCK, 173 SIMCOE ST

Only Complete Dry Cleaning Plant in City

SAVE YOUR FURS

AND

FUR-LINED COATS

by having them cleaned by the

FRENCH DRY CLEANING

process, which kills all moths and does not injure in the slightest, the finest furs. This is very important at this season, and may mean the saving of the expense of buying new furs. None too fine for the process.

Dyeing, Cleaning, Pressing, and Repairing promptly and thoroughly done at

PARKER'S DYE WORKS

R. M. BEACH

PROPRIETOR.

Phone 250 177 Charlotte St

Money is Not Tight

On some of the property propositions we can offer you. We have some pretty locations where situation, price and terms are all to suit. Low priced houses, some of them brick and on good lots, $850 up

- $1,000—Village store near the city, no competition. A good thing.
- $1,600—Large modern, good looking brick house, south, city.
- $2,300—Very profitable apartment house renting to small families.
- $1,800 and $2,350—Nice brick house, modern conveniences, well situated.
- $3,000—Brick dwelling, stable, etc.; also some building lots. Just suit a retired farmer
- $2,350 to $4,800—Beautiful residences on Gilmour, Homewood Ave., Weller, King, Water Sts, etc.

If you are thinking of going West we can show you something good in lands in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, with return ticket for selection trip. Farms for sale. Houses to rent.

BELL & TAYLOR

Real Estate. Fire Insurance

Office—376 Water Street.

Office Phone—498B House Phone 547B

HOCKEY SKATES

From 75c to $5.00

Skates repaired and sharpened. General machine work.

METHEREL'S CYCLE WORKS

225 Hunter Street

Wood

POINT ST. CHARLES

Hemlock and Pine Slabs

Cedar Shingle Blocks

A. McDONALD Estate

ESTABLISHED 1879

J. R. HEINTZ & CO.

STOCKS, GRAIN, COTTON, COFFEE

J. N. BARBER, Manager

Phone 529

THE

DOMINION BANK

PAYS SPECIAL ATTENTION TO

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY

JOHN CRANE Manager

Corner George and Simcoe Sts.

IT IS A FACT

That we have the finest stock of Skates, Sticks and Hockey Supplies in the city.

BANK'S SKATE STORE

Under the Market Clock

They Should be Leased for Ranching

Townships Should be Taken Out of Free Grant List

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—A short time ago I wrote a letter, which you kindly published, on the subject, "Free Grant Townships in the Northern Part of this County and Adjoining Counties," taking the stand that these townships should be taken out of the free grant list, and that large portions of these townships, which were totally unfit for agricultural purposes, should be leased to ranching companies.

Four years ago I applied to the Ross Government, on behalf of a syndicate, for a tract of this waste land, and since to the present Government. In both cases I could get no satisfaction.

In these free grant townships, Mr. Editor, there are ten thousand tons of good fodder for cattle going to waste on account of a do-nothing policy of our legislators. And, on the other hand, all along the southern parts of these counties a scarcity of fodder, and hay $20 a ton. And the result to a farmer is a reduction in the value of his live stock to about one-half of what it was six months ago. I think many of the farmers, especially in the eastern part, would gladly avail themselves of an opportunity of having their cattle wintered over by a ranch company at the rate of $5.00 per head.

The cry for some time of our politicians has been, Develope New Ontario. Let them do so, by all means; but that is no reason why they should not do something towards developing the northern parts of Central Ontario. If not, they should put it in such shape as others could. We have a right, Mr. Editor, to expect our ministers to be something more than book keepers, with a fly on the wheel policy.

Perhaps I am speaking rather strongly on this subject, but in the last 20 years a large portion of the county has been burnt over several times. The first fire was, perhaps, unavoidable, but if these burnt areas had been seeded down there would have been no other fires, and during these 20 years hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of valuable fodder have gone to waste.

Yours truly,

R. C. STRICKLAND.

Lakefield, Dec. 6th 1907.

THE HARTLEY EPISODE

To the Editor of the Review

Sir,—Many of our citizens must have been glad to see the expression given by "Bethune Street," in your last night's issue to sentiments which have been widely felt and uttered during the past week.

While the public generally can see and feel the fitness or unfitness of things, it is only an occasional person who will take the trouble to express himself in print. Let it not be taken for granted however, that glaring headlines, or the shouts of an excited crowd represent the good sense of the citizens of Peterborough generally. It would be reasonable enough for a sporting club to tender a reception to a sporting man who had accomplished an unmistakable feat, but general and undoubted service as a citizen should be demanded before the Mayor and Council venture to represent the citizens in giving public honor and voting away public money.

Yours,

CITIZEN.

P.S.—I am very glad to learn since writing the above that Mr. ley "has declined the civic grant, which I consider redounds greatly to his credit and good judgment.

WILL PROVIDE CHRISTMAS CHEER

Meeting of all Interested in Chileren's Aid Society to be Held

The officers of the Children's Aid Society are calling a meeting for Tuesday evening next, at 7.30 o'clock, at the City Council Chambers. It is for the purpose of organizing and preparing some means to give Christmas cheer to the poor families of the city. Heretofore it has been customary to distribute baskets of good things to deserving people, but this year there are so many of them it has been suggested that the society hold a dinner and provide an entertainment and Christmas tree, to which all the poor families will be invited. It is desirable that all religious bodies in the city be represented at this meeting.

Two Criminal and Four Civil Cases on the Docket

For County Court Which Opens on Tuesday Next

JUDGE WELLER WILL PRESIDE

Man Who Attempted to Shoot P. C. Newhall Will Come Up for Trial

County court and the semi-annual sessions of the peace will open at the court house on Tuesday next, before His Honor Judge Weller. There are two criminal and four civil cases, on the docket, and more of the latter may yet be entered.

The criminal cases are those of the Crown vs. Haines, and the Crown vs. Murray. Haines is charged with house breaking in the northern part of the county, and James Murray is charged with attempting to shoot P. C. Newhall at the C.P.R. station a few weeks ago.

The civil cases already filed are as follows:

COLLIER vs. DONOHUE.

The plaintiff, Mr. W. H. Collier, is a manufacturer residing in the City of Peterborough, and the defendant, T. J. O'Donohue, resides in Montreal. The plaintiff claims that on May 23rd, 1903, defendant made a promissory note, now due, whereby he promised to pay to the plaintiff or his order, $500, one month after date.

The defendant denies the allegations in the plaintiff's statement of claim, an claims that the note has been paid in full.

Hall, Medd & Davidson for plaintiff, O'Connell & Gordon for the defendant.

McINTYRE vs. NELSON.

The plaintiffs, A. A. McIntyre & Malcolm McIntyre, contractors, are suing Martha Brown for $189, which they claim is due them on the contract price of a house, which they erected for the defendant. The contract price for the dwelling was $2,200, but the plaintiffs allege that while it was being built the defendant ordered certain changes made, deviating from the original plans, and that as a result of these operations, extra work and material were necessary. The defendant has paid the plaintiffs $2,100, and the latter claim that $189 is still due them.

The defendant claims that $50 over the contract price was the sum agreed upon for the extra material and work made necessary by the change in plans, and also charges that the plaintiffs have not yet completed their contract, and have left the house in an unfinished condition, and that inferior material was used, and the work not done properly. She has a counter claim of $200.

O'Connell & Gordon, for plaintiffs, Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr for defendant.

Later.—The above case has been settled out of court.

MACPHERSON vs. PAPPAS

F. R. J. MacPherson & Co., the plaintiffs, claim $197.28, and interest thereon from the time due until the writ was issued, from the defendant, M. Pappas, also of Peterborough. The plaintiffs state that they performed work for the plaintiff amounting to $247.28, and that $197.28 was still due them, defendant having paid $50 on the account.

The defendant claims that the work was not done properly, and that the goods and materials supplied were not in accordance with the agreement. He has a counter claim of $100, and also asks for costs. The counter claim is for injury done defendant's business by the improper and unskilful work of the plaintiffs.

G. W. Hatton for plaintiffs, O'Connell & Gordon for defendant.

McCOLLUM vs. LEARY.

A writ was issued to-day by H. A. McCollum, against Robt. H. Leary for $500 damages. The plaintiff alleges that Leary has committed a breach of contract, Leary having agreed not to go into the hack or livery business in Peterborough for twenty years, dating from February 21st, 1905. McCollum also asks for an injunction to restrain Leary from going into the business indicated.

O'Connell & Gordon are acting for McCollum.

Madman, Looking for the Governor, Shot Labor Leaders

Shocking Tragedy in State House at Boston Yesterday.

Insane Man Uses Revolver With Deadly Effect—President of American Federation Fatally Wounded—Were Waiting to See Governor When Shooting Occurred — Madman Finally Overpowered.

Boston, Dec. 6.—John A. Steele, an insane man of Everett, walked into the ante-room of the executive chamber of the State House yesterday afternoon, and finding Governor Guild's door closed, turned on three prominent labor leaders and fired three shots at them, probably fatally wounded Edward Cohen of Lynn, president of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor; seriously wounding Dennis D. Driscoll of Boston, secretary of the same board, and painfully injuring with the muzzle of his revolver, Arthur M. Huddel of Boston, former president of the Central Labor Union of this city. Steele was overpowered by Secretary Charles S. Groves and Gen. J. H. Whitney, chief of the State Bureau.

Steele was released on parole last month from the Danvers Insane Asylum. He was 37 years old.

Governor In His Office.

Governor Guild was in his office only a few feet away when the shooting occurred, and, rushing out, assisted in subduing Steele, and subsequently directed the removal of the wounded men to the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Cohen was shot twice through the head and is in a critical condition. Tht third bullet struck Driscoll a glancing blow on the side of the forehead and rendered him unconscious. He recovered consciousness half an hour later. Huddell's wound was not serious.

The three labor leaders came to the State House to meet the governor in regard to a pardon. They fonnd that the governor was busy at the time and were asked to wait in one of the ante-rooms.

All three were standing beside a long table conversing pleasantly, while at the further end of the room Secretary Groves was dictating a letter to a stenographer.

Grappled With Steele.

Suddenly Steele appeared at the door of the room from the hallway, and without announcing his mission, walked by the doorkeeper and a messenger and glanced toward Governor Guild's room, about ten feet away. The door was closed. Steele then drew a revolver and fired at Cohen, who was about six feet away. Cohen's back was turned and the bullet struck the back of the head, passed directly through and coming out at the forehead, drove a great splash of blood on the opposite wall beside the picture of Abraham Lincoln. The wounded man turned, only to receive another bullet in the head, which also passed completely through. Cohen sank unconscious to the floor. Steele then swung around and fired at Driscoll, who fell unconscious. Huddell, in attempting to close in on the man, was struck on the cheek by the muzzle of the revolver and knocked down. Steele made no attempt to fire again.

By this time Private Secretary Groves had leaped over a table and grappled with Steele, and almost at the same moment Gen. Whitney, who had been summoned to the Kennedy hearing, came through the door and rushed to the assistance of Mr. Groves.

Huddell also jumped up and wrenched the revolver away, while one of the messengers dashed into the governor's office and said: "They are murdering people in the lobby."

The governor instantly went out and helped to overpower the insane man. Word was sent for assistance to the office of the state police in the basement of the building, and a force of officers quickly reached the scene and handcuffed Steele.

In the meantime Governor Guild had knelt by Cohen's side and was wiping his face with a handkerchief and towel. In response to a call for medical assistance, Dr. Owen Copp, chairman of the State Board of Insanity, was the first to reach the executive department. He immediately recognized Steele, having had him under observation for more than five years in various state insane institutions. Other doctors soon appeared and aided in the removal of the wounded men to the hospital.

Meeting of Star of East Company

The stockholders of the Star of the East Mining Co., will meet in the Sons of England hall on Wednesday next, December 11th, at 10.30 o'clock. The sale of the property and plant in Barrie township, is advertised to take place at the Munro House on the following day.

FOR XMAS GREETING

Order your cards now and secure the best as the prettiest are always sold out first. Many different styles printed with your own greeting and name, at all prices. Call and make your selection at the Review Office.

At Springfield, Arthur McCallum, aged 76, of Welland, was sentenced to six months in jail. He was caught burglarising a farm house.

Rev. C. McKinnon, of Winnipeg has been nominated for the chair of practical theology and church history of the Presbyterian college, Halifax.

ST. JOHN'S J. W. A.

BIG SHIPMENT FOR MONTREAL

Fifty-three Lambs and Several Cattle Weighed at the Market To-day

Today has been a good one at the local market. This morning fifty-three lambs were weighed at the scales. They were bought from Mr. James Jopling, of Bridgenorth, by Messrs. Norris and Brown, for shipment to Montreal. Eleven head of fine cattle was also bought from Mr. Jopling by the same firm.

The largest bull that has been weighed at the market for some time was one that Mr. J. H. Mann, of Bridgenorth, brought in this morning. It tipped the scales at 2,110 pounds

There was a large supply of hay and wood also fo rsale on the market today.

Big Cheese Firm Makes Compromise With Its Creditors

It is stated that a big Montreal cheese firm, which had extensive dealings in this district, and is reported to have been in difficulties lately, had a meeting with its creditors in Montreal yesterday afternoon, and made an offer of settlement on a basis of 25 cents on the dollar, which was accepted.

The firm in question is Alex. Grant, and Co. Several cheese factories in this vicinity had extensive accounts with the above firm.

Not only did the representatives present agree to the 25-cent compromise, but most of them signed the settlement agreement before leaving the meeting, and great sympathy was expressed with the firm in their business troubles.

Those Who Will Receive Medals

Local Men Will Receive Theirs at the Y.M.C.A. To-night

The following are the prize winners at the recent indoor athletic meet. The local men will receive their medals at the Y.M.C.A. to-night, the presentation to be made by Mr. N. Eastwood:

60 YARDS DASH.

1 Fred McGrath, Peterborough.

2. N. Darling, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

MILE RACE OPEN.

1 A. W. Haddleton, I.C.A.C, Toronto.

2 Fred. Simpson.

3 Ray Best.

880 YARDS HANDICAP.

1 L. Dobson, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

2. N. Darling, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

3 Peter Wallace, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

220 YARD DASH.

1 McIlmurray.

2 D. Hillier, Peterborough.

THREE MILE HANDICAP.

1 Hilton Greene, I.C.A.C. Toronto

2 Ben Howard, Peterborough.

3 Charles Thorpe, unattached, Peterborough.

THREE MILE SPECIAL.

1 Jack Tait, West End Y.M.C.A., Toronto.

2 Ennis Wilson, Peterborough Y.M.C.A. Harriers.

The medals won by the Toronto men are being forwarded them at once.

PIONEER IS LAID TO REST

Funeral of late Major Howden of Millbrook Yesterday

The funeral took place at Millbrook yesterday of the late Major Richard Howden, who passed away at Port Hpe on Tuesday. The remains arrived on the 11.19 train from Port Hope on Tuesday. The remains are St John's Anglican cemetery, at Cavanville. A large number were in attendance, many old friends coming from a distance to pay this last tribute of respect to one who was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. The services at the grave were conducted by the rector of the parish, Rev. Rural Dean Allen.

The pall bearers were Messrs. N. G. Dingman, Inspector of Inland Revenue, Kingston; J. C. Kells, Major Winslow, Chas. Needler Millbrook, Robert Fair and Dr. King, of Peterborough.

WEDDING BELLS

MOREAU—O'BRIEN

The Strathcona Chronicle says; The wedding took place at St. Anthony's church this morning of Mr. Isavene Moreau, of Strathcona, and Miss Fanny O'Brien, daughter of John O'Brien, late of Indian River, Ont. The Rev. Father McQuaid performed the ceremony. Miss Mary O'Brien was bridesmaid, and Mr. Elzar Pare, groomsman. On account of the recent death of a relative of the bridegroom, the marriage was a quiet one. After the wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's father, the happy couple left for Banff, where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will reside in Strathcona.

EAST—MEIN

A very pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Mein, 49 Sophia street, east city, when her youngest daughter, Miss Margaret, was united in marriage to Mr. Geo. W. East, late of London, Eng. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. H. Brace, of Park street Baptist church, in the beautifully decorated drawing room in the presence of over forty guests. The bride, who was Given away by her brother, Mr. Wm. Mein, was attired in white silk and carried white carnations. She was assisted by Miss Hazel Edgar, who was also gowned in white silk. She carried pink carnations. The groom was supported by Mr. Ernest Thurston.

After the ceremony and hearty congratulations had been bestowed upon the bride and groom, a sumptuous repast was partaken of: The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents, among them being a china tea set from the employees of the dye works, where the bride worked for ten years.

Mr. and Mrs. East are spending their honeymoon in Toronto and on their return will reside at 49 Sophia street.

Constable Wittenhoult, of Berlin, was dismissed for allowing a burglar to escape after he had been caught by a hotelkeeper.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c

AT THE HOME OFFICE

On account of the illness of an optician in Orillia, Dr. Browett has cancelled appointments and is pleased to announce that he will be continuously at his home office until after Xmas. Appointments for eye examination are being made daily at our store.

P. S. This store will hereafter be open until ten o'clock every night and appointments for eye examinations can be made until that hour.

McDERMID & JURY, Druggists, Peterboro.

Twenty Days For John Doig

Unable to Pay His Fines He Has to Go to Gaol

John Doig, who a few weeks ago was fined ten dollars and costs on two charges, one for a breach of the Lord's Day Act, and another for buying brass, knowing it to be stolen, is unable to pay the fines, and today went up on the hill to spend a twenty day vacation. He made arrangements for the keep of his hose during his absence, and came to the police station and gave himself up. He said that business is poor at this season of the year, and it would be a long time before he could make up the required amount.

SUBSCRIBERS PLEASE NOTICE

Readers, whose street number has been lately changed, will confer a favor if they will notify this office so that the correction can also be made on our list. tf

EVANGELISTS ARE IN CITY

Mr. Richard Irving, of Belleville, and Mr. Fleming May, of Bancroft, evangelists, are in the city and will speak at the Bible meeting at Gospel hall to-night. They will also have charge of the services on Sunday. They are talented speakers and a large number should hear them.

Mr. Maplesden, who has been here for several days, has returned to Buffalo.

Benefit Concert for David Hartley

Committee Will Meet To-night to Arrange Matters

A special committee composed of several aldermen and private citizens will hold a meeting this evening at 8 o'clock, at the city hall to make preliminary arrangements for a benefit concert for Mr. David Hartley, the famous long distance pedestrian. The best local musical talent has kindly offereds to assist and the concert will probably be held in the Grand opera house. The admission fee will be 50 and 25 cents and a splendid programme will be presented.

Banquet for the Employed Boys

Will be Held at Y.M.C.A. on Monday Night—Other Notes

The Boy's committee and Boy's executive of the Y.M.C.A., met last night and after a great deal of study of the work of the junior department, decided to lay their plans before the boys' for their approval and co-operation. The committee decided to tender the intermediate class of employ-boys a banquet on Monday night, Dec. 9th, at 6.30 p.m., when plans for the work in their department will be proposed and discussed.

The Social committee composed of twenty-one memberrs meet to-night to prepare plans for the New Year's reception.

Coming Visit of Rev. Andrew Allan

Noted Scotch Evangelists Mission Will Begin January 12th

Rev. Andrew Allan, of Glasgow, Scotland, who is a widely known evangelist, will not come to St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, to conduct a ten days mission until January 12th. It was arranged that Mr. Allan would open his mission there on Sunday next but, owing to the proximity of the holiday season, it was thought advisable to postpone the visit until January 12th, when the noted Scotch evangelist will be here, as stated, for ten days.

No Site Selected Yet for Church

Special Committee of Methodist Church Met Last Night

The special committee appointed, of which Mr. D. W. Dumble is chairman, to consider the question of the erection of a new Methodist church in the southern part of the city, met last night to talk over the matter of a site. It is understood that the committee have two or three eligible locations in view. Nothing definite was decide upon last night and the committee will meet again at an early date.

PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR GUELPH

On account of the Provincial Winter Fair the Grand Trunk Railway System will issue return tickets at single first class fare from all stations in Ontario, Kingston and West to Guelph, Ont. Good going Dec. 7th to Dec. 13th. Valid for return until Monday, Dec. 16th, 1907. Full information may be obtained from any Grand Trunk Ticket Agent.

OPEN EVENINGS

FROM NOW UNTIL AFTER CHRISTMAS

with a complete stock of new and up-to-date holiday suggestions. Remember we have the greatest variety of Gift Books to be found in Peterboro', as well as Fine China and Cut Glass, Pictures, High-Grade Leather Goods, Stationery, Bibles, Hymn Books, Cards Calendars, etc., to which we invite your inspection. Be sure and get our prices before purchasing. You will be convinced that they are Rock Bottom.

R. J. SODEN

369 George Street

FOR THE LADY WHO CALLS

Visiting List and Social Engagement Book —A Dainty and Useful Gift.

Those ladies who find it difficult to keep track of their social debts in the way of calls which have to be returned, invitations to various society functions which have been received will be pleased to learn that a dainty little book has been issued from the presses of the Review which will fill their need. The city has grown so rapidly of late years that it has become almost necessary for each lady to have a special reception day each month when her friends will be sure to find her at home. To keep a record of these will be an easy matter with one of these little books. They are prettily bound in blue linen, lettered in gold and printed on good paper. There are two pages for every day in the month, arranged according as the day is, first Monday, second Tuesday, etc. At the back of the book are pages for invitations received, out-of-town addresses, special reception dates, and memoranda. One of the books would make a dainty and acceptable Xmas gift. The books are on sale at the bookstores at the price of 50c

Potatato Cheating; Purchasers Warned

The Grocers' Section of the Retail Merchants' Association have sent out printed cards to grocers and other dealers containing the following warning against light weight potatoes:—

"Some persons are selling potatoes n bags weighing only 75 to 80 lbs., and as there is no law in this province regulating the same, ask and see that you get 90 lbs. in each and every bag. This is issued for the protection of the public in the interests of honest trade."

The association will support a measure that will be introduced in the Legislature to make 90 lbs. the fixed weight for a bag of potatoes.—Toronto News.

Hold-up-man Given Tommy Burns Touch

Port Hope Man Landed on Tough Who Was After His Money

Port Hope, Dec 6.—While passing under the viaduct on Queen Street on Saturday evening a well known resident of the town was accosted by a rough looking stranger who demanded his money. The gentleman promptly knocked down the hold-up man and walked on with his money intact.

The gentleman was returning from the Standard Ideal factory, which he had visited on business. He left the factory about half-past six. When near the canning factory he noticed a lighted cigar suddenly disappear under the viaduct. On nearing the spot he heard something moving in the weeds and also noticed a man leaning against one of the abutments. The stranger asked him if he had a dollar about him, and the citizen replied that he had not. He was about to continue his walk when the stranger caught hold of him, saying that he wanted to talk to him and telling him not to be in such a hurry.

The hold-up man had no sooner spoken than the citizen landed on his jaw wit ha Fitzsimmons left and the thug took the count. After performing his good work the gentleman continued his walk. He says that he feels positive that the noise he heard in the weeds was caused by a confederate of his victim. It was pay day at the Ideal factory and the thugs evidently thought that the citizen was an employee returning with his wages, which they hoped to secure.

Distribution Of Seed Grain And Potatoes

Is Being Made by Government From Experimental Farm, Ottawa

By instruction of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a distribution is being made this season of samples of superior sorts of grains and potatoes to Canadian farmers for the improvement of seed. The stock for distribution has bee nsecured mainly from the Experimental Farms at Indian Head, Sask., and Brandon, Man. The samples consist of oats, spring wheat, barley, Indian corn, (for ensilage only) and potatoes. The quantity of oats sent is 4 lbs. and of wheat or barley, 5lbs., sufficient in each case to sow one-twentieth of an acre. The samples of Indian corn and potatoes weigh 3 lbs. each. A quantity of each of the following varieties has been secured for this distribution:—

Oats—Banner, Wide-Awake, White Giant, Danish Island, Thousand Dollar, Improved Ligowo, all white varieties. Black oats are not recommended for general cultivation. A few samples, however, are available which can be sent if speedily asked for.

Wheat—Red Fife (beardless) Preston, Pringle's Champlain and Huron (early bearded sorts); Percy and Stanley (early beaded varieties).

Barley—Six-rowed—Mensury, Odessa, Mansfield and Claude. Two-rowed.—Standwell, Invincible, Canadian Thorpe and Sidney.

Indian Corn (for ensilage).— Early sorts, Angel of Midnight, Compton's Early and Longfellow; later varieties, Selected Leaming, Early Mastodon and White Cap Yellow Dent.

Potatoes—Early varieties, Early White Prize and Rochester Rose. Medium to late varieties, Carman No. 1 and Late Puritan. These later varieties are as a rule more productive than the earlier kind.

Only one sample can be sent to each applicant, hence if an individual receives a sample of oats he cannot also receive one of wheat, barley, Indian corn or potatoes. Lists of names from one individual, or applications for more than one household, cannot be entertained. The samples will be sent free of charge through the mail.

Applications should be addressed to the Director of Experimental Farms, Ottawa, an may be sent in any time before the 15th of February, after which the lists will be closed, so that the samples asked for may be sent out in good time for sowing. Applicants should mention the variety they prefer, with a second sort as an alternative. Applications will be filled in the order in which they are received, as long as the supply of seed lasts. Farmers are advised to apply early to avoid possible disappointment. Those applying for Indian cor nor potatoes should bear in mind that the corn is not usually distributed until April, and that potatoes cannot be mailed from here until danger from frost in transit is over. No postage is required on mail matter addressed to the Central Experimental FaFrm, Ottawa.

WM. SAUNDERS,

Director of Experimental FaFrms.

Brockville May Have Municipal Telephones

roBckville, Dec. 4.— Brockville's franchise to the Bell Telephone Company expires the end of this year, and before the Town Council enters into another agreement the Company will be asked to make certain concessions in rates to subscribers in addition to a general improvement of the service.

Otherwise the company will be called upon to pay a much larger sum for the use of Brockville's streets.

The discussion had led to the suggestion of the installation of a municipal system.

LEARN DRESS-MAKING BY MAIL
In your spare time at home, or
Take a Personal Course at School.

To enable all to learn we teach on cash or instalment plan. We also teach a personal class at school once a month. Class commencing last Tuesday of each month. These lessons teaches how to cut, fit and put together any garment from the plainest shirt waist suit, to the most elaborate dress. The whole family can learn from one course. We have taught over seven thousand dress-making, and guarantee to give five hundred dollars to any one that cannot learn between the age of 14 and 40. You cannot learn dress-making as thorough as this course teaches if you work in shops for years. Beware of imitations as we employ no one outside the school. This is the only experienced Dress Cutting School in Canada and excelled by none in any other country. Write at once for particulars, as we have cut our rate one-third for a short time. Address:—

SANDERS' DRESS-CUTTING SCHOOL,
31 Erie St., Stratford, Ont., Canada.

The Daily Review

FRIDAY, DEC. 6, 1907.

MARCH OF PROGRESS

"In ten years there will not be a hotel bar in Ontario, except in the larger cities," remarked a well known authority recently.

"Why?" he was asked.

"Well," he replied, "temperance sentiment is making great progress, and, then, certain hotel men will not observe the law. As a result of frequent violations of the act on their part, they bring discredit on the whole body."

The fact that local option is making progress is demonstrated in the large number of municipalities who will vote on it at the forthcoming municipal election. In over 100 communities a vote will be taken. There seems to be no doubt that the cry, "Banish the bar" is a far-reaching one. In the United States nearly one-third of the population is now in a prohibition zone, and in Canada the area is constantly being enlarged.

A great force of moderate, solid business and professional opinion has been enlisted in its behalf, remarks an exchange. It is held by this section of the people that whatever force there may be in the argument for individual liberty, the community is not bound to supply opportunities for social drinking, that the open bar is a menace to public morals and to industrial efficiency, and that it is entirely within the right of the community to determine whether or not such places shall be licensed and protected by public authority. It is difficult to show the necessity for the open bar in small towns, villages and rural communities, and in the residential districts of cities, and there is hardly any doubt that if the abolition of the bar were accepted as a settled policy other and as satisfactory means for providing the necessary public accommodation would be provided. The movement will continue to have its seasons of advance and its times of retrogression, but it is reasonable to conclude that steadily more and more ground will be gained and permanently held, and that immense moral, social and industrial advantages will result from this gradual extinction of the licensed trade in intoxicants.

REFORM OR ABOLITION

In addition to the resolutions proposed by Mr. Miller, of North Grey, for the abolition of the Senate, and by Mr. McIntyre, of South Perth, for certain changes in the constitution of that body, Senator McMullen, who, when the Conservatives were in power, affected supreme contempt for the Upper House, of which he is now a member, has also given notice relating to Senate reforms.

The Honorable James McMullen's motion declareth "that in view of the agitation regarding the usefulness and necessity of the Senate as a part of a legislative system, and in view of the criticisms both in Parliament and the press with respect to appointments to this Chamber, it is in the opinion of this House desirable that the question of the method of appointment and the term for which appointments are to be made in future should be considered and the system recast with the object of bringing it more in unison with the popular sentiment of the people than it is at present."

The press generally is calling for reform or abolition. The Toronto Star (Liberal), has an able article on the question and strongly endorses the plan of Mr. Millar to wipe out the second chamber. Its summing up of the situation is candid, and clear, and many free thinking, independent electors will coincide with its views.

The only argument for preferring reform to abolition is that the Senate exists, will not abolish itself, and could offer a stout resistance to any outside movement for putting it out of existence, says the Star. Assuming that there must be a second chamber of some kind, Mr. McIntyre's proposals are on the right lines. The second chamber ought not to be appointed by the Government of the day. Parliament should be a representative body, and a Senate appointed by the executive can lay no claim to that title. A second chamber, if it is to be of any value, must be a check upon the dominant party in the House of Commons. The Senate is itself appointed by the head of the dominant party.

The Senate, instead of being a check upon the Government, is a means of increasing the power and influence of the Government, exactly where it ought not to be increased. It is a huge and needless addition to the patronage at the disposal of the Government. Few positions in the civil service can be compared with an appointment which carries with it $2500 for life and duties of a nominal character. Where the selection is made, as it usually is, from the House of Commons, the tendency must be to impair the independence of Parliament. If the appointments were not for life and were not made by the Government, two of the strongest objections would be removed. But the necessity for the existence of a second chamber of any kind would remain to be proved.

What is the advantage of having Parliament meeting and doing business in two sections? It does not facilitate the transaction of business. It does not make Parliament more representative in character. It does not improve the quality of the membership. The British House of Lords owes its existence to class distinctions, and to the idea of representation of classes. The Canadian Senate owes its existence to blind and unreasoning imitation.

PEN POINTS

What do you expect Santa Claus to bring you?

It is time some bashful municipal candidates announced their "coming out."

Read the Review advertising columns for timely suggestions on holiday shopping.

Be loyal to Peterborough and purchase your Christmas presents at home.

Nowhere in Canada are there more attractive holiday displays made than by the enterprising merchants of Peterborough.

Those robins which stayed over in Peterborough, thinking we would have a mild winter, must have developed cold feet by this time. — Belleville Intelligencer.

Have you noticed how cheery Conservatives all over the country are just now? Not for years have they ben so full of fight. There's disaster coming for Laurier as the next general election. It is in the air.

Business men are commenting on the fact that Canada during the 1st four or five years has bought from other countries two hundred and thirty million dollars more than she has sold to them. They suspect paying-time may come with a rush.

The Toronto Telegram at times says some unpalatable things. Here is one for instance:—

"Seeing that Noah Brusso is of Methodist origin, the Guardian should print his picture on its front page. Thomas being at least as creditable a representative of the denomination as some of the coercionist politicians the Guardian delights to honor with pictorial notice."

The induction service in St. Paul's church last night was an impressive one. A warm welcome was extended to the new pastor by the members of the Presbytery and congregation. Much is naturally expected of Mr. Pogue, but his friends have no doubt that he will measure up to requirements. Mr. Pogue has a splendid record as a man, a pastor, a preacher and a cultured, high-minded Christian.

The days of sacrifice of brotherly love and heroism are not yet over. An Ottawa despatch says over a dozen railwaymen attended at St. Luke's hospital to-day to assist in saving the limb of one of their fellows. On Sept. 11th, Herbert Reynolds, engine driver for the C.P.R., was injured in a wreck at Plantaganet. He has been on the broad of his back ever since, but while recovered from his bruises the wound in his leg would not heal. Rather than amputate the limb and cripple Reynolds for life, skin grafting was decided upon, and the operation was successfully performed by Dr. Kidd this afternoon. Fourteen strapping drivers, stokers and conductors attended to make the willing sacrifice of a portion of their cuticle, and to ten the knife was applied.

WERE SCARED OR CHARMED?

A yarn from Peterborough tells how a Scot, who was hunting at the head of Stony Lake, scared away a pack of wolves by playing the bagpipes. Our good friend, Dr. Gilchrist, would like a quiet word or two with the boom who started such a tale as that!—Orillia Packet.

Rev. Robert Pogue Inducted As Pastor of St. Paul's Church

Impressive Ceremony Conducted Last Night—Edifice Crowded With Large Congregation—Many Clergymen Took Part in the Solemn Service—Memorable Event in History of the Church.

Not for over 31 years has there been an induction service in St. Paul's Presbyterian church until last evening when Rev. Robert Pogue, late of Philadelphia, was formally made pastor. Mr. Pogue is a young man of exceptional ability and has met with great success in ministerial work. His congregation at Philadelphia were loath to let him go, and what is their loss is Peterborough's gain.

The addresses were all bright and practical. Rev. D. A. Thomson, of Hastings, preached the induction sermon. Rev. William Johnson, of Millbrook delivered the charge to the new pastor, whom he has known for many years, and Rev. Dr. Talling delivered the charge to the people. Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville, interim moderator of Session, presided and there were several visiting members of the Presbytery of Peterborough in attendance.

The church was well filled last night and the service was an impressive one. Rev. D. A. Thomson, of Hastings, conducted the opening exercises. The musical part of the even was particularly bright, all the members of the choir being present. An anthem, with solo by Miss Helen Davies, was well rendered.

INDUCTION SERMON.

Rev. D. A. Thomson, of Hastings, in a forcible and striking manner than delivered the induction sermon, basing his remarks on the words found in the 16th verse of the first chapter of St. Paul's epistle to the Romans, "For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ."

St. Paul's great desire was to magnify man and he took great delight in preaching, said the speaker. He thought it a great necessity and considered it was his debt to man to give them the Gospel. The apostle had to face many difficulties. Jesus Christ, the author of the Gospel, was not received by His own people. The first teachers of it were humble fishermen. The Gospel was also at variance with the Jewish teachings. Notwithstanding these obstacles, St. Paul goes to Rome. He knows that he has a superior message to Roman religious systems. It was of divine origin and it was a glorious story of salvation. Humanity was designed for happiness, the speaker said, and he believed that it was only obtainable through the Gospel which removed all sin. Religion elevates man and it is the power of God.

The reverend gentleman referred to two evidences of the force of religion. It was manifested by the fact that men forsake evil and live righteous lives. Looking around us, we see monuments of Christianity in our hospitals, homes, and other charitable institutions.

The Gospel is within the reach of everyone, said the reverend gentleman. It is the gift of God, and is nothing to be ashamed of.

It is the story of salvation that your minister will preach to you, said Mr. Thomson, and from Philadelphia comes the report that he is an evangelist and his past work has been productive of much good. The speaker concluded by hoping that the same co-operation would be given the new minister as has been accorded him heretofore.

THE INDUCTION.

After the singing of an hymn and the induction prayer by Rev. J. G. Potter, Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville, interim moderator of the Session, related the steps leading up to the call. Rev. Mr. Pogue then came forward and the questions incidental to induction were answered by him and the right hand of fellowship extended to him by Dr. Marsh and the other members of the Presbytery.

ADDRESS TO THE PASTOR.

Rev. Wm. Johnson addressed the newly inducted pastor, prefacing his remarks by expressing his appreciation of the kindness of the Presbytery in asking him to address the minister. The speaker reminded Mr. Pogue of the responsibility of the ministry of the gospel. It is often asked, he said, who is sufficient for these duties? If it were not for the assurances in the Gospel, there would be many pastors seeking other lines of work. Great things will be expected of you by the congregation and inasfar as you are able you must endeavor to meet these expectations. Be natural in all your duties and the many things involving on you, endeavor to carry them out faithfully. The speaker hoped there would be an outpouring of salvation as a result of Rev. Mr. Pogue's teachings.

ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE.

Rev. Dr. Talling had been appointed to the duty of delivering the address to the people and thereby spoke for the last time to the congregation over which he has had charge for some months. His remarks were of a very practical nature and could be taken to heart by every member of the congregation. He introduced his address by stating that the responsibilities of the new pastor were not entirely from those of the people. He was brought here to help bear your burdens, said Dr. Talling, and the people should give him every assistance.

Rev. Dr. Talling thanked the Presbytery for the honor they had conferred upon him by inviting him to assist in the induction ceremonies and especially to deliver the address to the people.

REV. ROBERT POGUE

Who Was Inducted as Pastor of St. Paul's Church Last Evening.

His first advice was not to expect too much of the new pastor, Rev. Mr. Pogue. "Do not expect him to recognize you all in a few weeks," he said, and stated that such pettishness should never be allowed to enter the minds of the people. He asked them to give the pastor every assistance in performing his pastoral duties, and not to expect him to know by intuition where there was illness in the the parish, but to kindly tell him, as it is impossible that he should know everything that is taking place. By many other references Rev. Dr. Talling emphasized his statement that the congregation must not expect too much of their new pastor.

His two other statements were first, "Do not cripple the pastor's work by unguarded criticisms" and second "co-operate with him for the advancement of the cause which you have in common with him". In regard to the first Rev. Dr. Talling remarked that the people cannot be too careful and unfounded criticism frequently does great harm. If the interest of the pastor is injured in this way, the interests of the church suffer to a corresponding extent. The people, he said, should encourage the minister by regular attendance at church and at prayer meeting. "Prayer is power," he said, and the more earnest the prayer the greater the power of the church. His concluding words were, "May the Lord crown you and your new pastor with an abundance of success."

Miss Helen Davies then sang "Rock of Ages," after which a hymn was sung and the benediction pronounced by Rev. Mr. Pogue.

Before the service the Presbytery were entertained to dinner by the ladies' Aid, and Mr. Pogue was examined as to his doctrine and character. The new pastor will occupy the pulpit on Sunday morning and evening, and on Monday night a reception will be tendered him and Mrs. Pogue. The congregation will also take this opportunity of bidding farewell to Dr. Talling.

BE LOYAL TO PETERBOROUGH

Peterborough People Should do Their Christmas Shopping at Home

Peterborough people should, and with the possible exception of a few, do stand loyal to the Peterborough stores. People who travel tell us time and again that the Peterborough stores are very attractive and certainly present as broad assortments and as good if not better values than any other city in the country. Very few cities, if any, in America, the size of Peterborough, have stores carrying such large, complete and comprehensive stocks of merchandise. Local people will do well to realise the goodness and high excellence of Peterborough stores, and buy everything at home. The Christmas stocks are now at their best, and the wide and vast selection possible at Peterborough stores will provide satisfaction for every person no matter what they want.

Be loyal to Peterborough. Make all your Christmas purchases at home.

Invitation Cards for AT Homes, Receptions and Evening Parties, partly printed for 1c each. Envelopes to match 10c package. On sale at the Review Office

THE BANQUET DREW CROWDS

Industrial Sale at Old Opera House Has Been Marked Success

The Industrial Sale, held in the old opera house, under the auspices of All Saints' church, came to a close last night. The feature was, of course, the Shredded Wheat banquet, and a most successful function it proved to be. A splendid menu was provided by the Shredded Wheat Company and the ladies who acted as waitresses were most attentive and obliging. The tables were prettily decorated, and although they seated a large number, they were filled several times. There were many choice dishes on the bill of fare, and an abundance of everything that was good.

The sale was a great success, and as a result of their enterprise the ladies will have a substantial sum to apply to the fund for the new church. Those in charge are to be congratulated on the splendid manner in which the arrangements were made and carried out.

The ladies in charge of the Industrial Sale desire to thank Mr. Creasman for supplying such a large quantity of decorative material, and Mr. Koen, who did most of the decoration in such an attractive and artistic manner.

High Praise for Local Vocalist

Canadian Courier Refers in Appreciative Terms to Miss Helen Davies

The Canadian Courier, Toronto, this week contains an excellent cut of Miss Helen Davies, who will sing at the National Chorus concert in Massey Hall, Toronto, this month. The Courier says.—The National Chorus concerts to be given at Massey Hall, Toronto, on December 16th and 17th promise to be events of unusual interest even for Dr. Ham's well-conducted organization. The New York Symphony Orchestra of seventy-five pieces under Mr. Walter Damrosch, will form the assisting attraction whose excellence Canada has proved by experience. Mr. Francis Rogers, baritone, and Mr. Kelly Cole, tenor, have artistic records which assure the public of excellent interpretation while Miss Helen Davies, of Peterborough, soprano soloist, is vividly remembered by those who heard her sing in the National Chorus concerts of two years ago. Her solo work in Sir Frederick Bridge's setting of Mr. Kipling's "The Flag of England" was especially fine. Among the prominent numbers on the programme are "The Death of Minnehaha," by Coleridge-Taylor, Bishop's "Now Tramp O'er Moss and Fell," Sir Hurbert Parry's "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," and Sir Villiers Stanford's "Sea Songs."

HOW'S THIS

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

You have heard the Sailor Boys' plea, buy to-day for your dinner to-morrow "Sailor Boy" Canned Goods, Tomatoes Corn, Peas and Salmon. Your money does not buy better Goods. Do you get "Sailor Boy" or substitute?

Fellow Wanted Something to "Brighten Him Up"

Rather Unusual Request Made to Local Druggist

"Could you give me something that will sober me up, as I don't want to go home drunk?"

The speaker was a man about 30 years of age, and the words were uttered in a local drug store yesterday.

The man went on to explain that he wanted something to "brighten him up," as he was going home, and didn't want his folks to know that he had been drinking.

The drug clerk recommended a cup of hot tea and a couple of hours' sleep, but the fellow apparently was not inclined to act on that advice. The clerk assured him that there was nothing in the drug store that would "brighten him up," and the man departed with an unsteady step.

TRY IT, ANYWAY

Prepare It at Home By Shaking Well in a Bottle

What will appear very interesting to many people here is this article taken from a prominent health journal, giving a simple prescription, as formulated by a noted authority who claims that he has found a positive remedy to cure almost any case of backache or kidney or bladder derangement, in the following simple prescription, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease:

Fluid Extract Dandeline, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well-known local druggist, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and can be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic afflictions with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the entire kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

To Inspect Stony and Clear Lakes

Provincial Board of Health Has Come to This Decision

A Toronto despatch says: At the meeting of the Provincial Board of Health yesterday afternoon, it was decided to have the waters of Clear and Stony Lakes inspected.

Both the Ontario and Quebec Boards of Health have agreed that they will not approve of any municipalities using the Ottawa river for their sewage unless they treat it satisfactorily, and for those systems already established the Provincial Boards will see that the municipalities provide for the purifying of the sewage.

ONTARIO COAL CO. LIMITED PETERBORO

COAL - CARTAGE
Best Hard COAL $7.50 per ton
No. 2 Nut COAL $6.50 per ton
Butts or English Cannel COAL $7.50 per ton

Head Office and Yards: 160 Aylmer Street Phone 116
City Office: 387 Water St Phones: Bell 325. Machine 325

ONTARIO COAL CO., Limited
A. J. McCLELLAN C. CURRIER G. K. RACKHAM

Hartley Will Not Accept Civic Grant

Will Not Take Money Under Any Circumstances—Is Thankful, However

"You can tell the public that I will not accept the civic grant of $100 under any circumstances."

This was the statement made to the Review last night by David Hartley, the famous long distance walker. "I notice that the action of the council in making the grant has not met with unanimous approval, so I will not take the money under any circumstances. I am thankful to those who interested themselves in the matter, but I feel that I cannot accept the grant. I hope there will be no further controversy regarding the same."

Wages on Farm At Highest Point

Employers Cannot Afford to Pay Any More

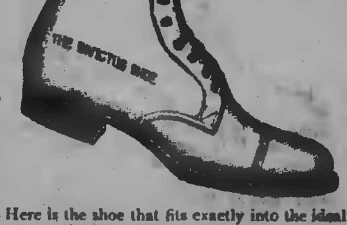
The Ontario Agricultural Department has issued the following statement on wages and labor from the farmers' standpoint:

"While a considerable number of correspondents hold that there was an adequate supply of farm labor during the working season, the greater parts of the reports speak of a scarcity, more especially of men of the right quality. While some of the immigrant help are favorably referred to, more frequently there is a remarkable outspokenness as to the unfitness of many of the Old Country men offering for Ontario farm labor. As to the rate of wages, correspondents are almost unanimous in declaring that it is not likely to go higher, as farmers cannot afford to pay more. A number of the reports suggest a fall in price of farm labor, in sympathy with the dullness now beginning to effect some of the town industries. Improved farm implements and the co-operation of the neighbors are also helping to relieve the strain. Domestic servants on the farm were never more difficult to procure."

To Hold Supper New Year's Day

Newsboys to be Banquetted at Gospel Hall

At a meeting held at Gospel hall on Wednesday night it was decided to hold the newsboys' supper on the evening of New Year's day. The boys will have no papers of any kind to deliver on that day and all will be free to attend the feast. Arrangements are coming along nicely for the event and there is no doubt, but that the hearts of the boys will be made happy.



Here is the shoe that fits exactly into the ideal so many have looked for and never found.

INVICTUS SHOES
AT $4.50 & $5.00

Shoes that combine with a moderate price the perfection of style, fit and durability. "Invictusized" Patent Leather Shoes are revelation. This secret process does something never before accomplished. Renders the leather soft and pliable, increases the life of the shoes at least one third and reduces checking or breaking to a minimum.

ASK THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM

J. T. STENSON
364 George St.

EGGS
FOR SALE
by the case

Fresh and Pickled Choice Stock at our warehouse, Robinson Street, East City

Scott&Hogg
PHONE 264, BOTH PHONES

PRICE OF Coal
FOR OCTOBER IS $7.50
Ton, cash with order

THE PETERBORO FUEL & CARTAGE CO
Limited.
162 Charlotte-st. Telephones—(Bell) 261, 270. (Machine)—270.
134 Aylmer-st. Tel. (Bell) 362.

D.L. & W's SCRANTON COAL

SOLD BY R. HICKS & CO. AT
$7.50 Per Ton
for Month of October, in lots of not less than half ton.
This is the Standard Anthracite. 60 % of the Coal sold in Ontario is SCRANTON.
Terms Positively Cash.

R. HICKS & CO.
Coal Builders' Supplies, Etc.

COAL AND WOOD
Best of Coal—Best of Wood
COAL FOR OCTOBER
$7.50
PER TON
J. E. A. FITZGERALD
Cor. Brock and Bethune Sts
BOTH PHONES 111

Palace
Livery Barn
For the smartest and most up-to-date LIVERY OUTFITS, at reasonable rates, go to
TOM FOSTER & CO.
Successors to Bruce Lee & Co
Rear of Snowden House.
AUCTION SALE OF HORSES BUGGIES, HARNESS, ETC., EVERY SATURDAY
Phones—Bell 286—Machine 289

Steer Straight
for the best Beer ever brewed, and you are sure to come to us! Our Bottled Beer is "bottled health." It means vigor and strength, a good appetite and high spirits. It is the best medicine for the weak and the best food for the strong. Keep our excellent in Beer your home as a beverage and you will have no need of a doctor. Nothing but the purest ingredients used in the brewing.
—THE—
CALCUTT BREWING AND MALTING CO
of Ashburnham Limited

"NEVER PUT OFF TILL TO-MORROW WHAT YOU CAN DO TO-DAY"

MAKE HIM HAPPY

ON CHRISTMAS MORNING

LeBrun & Co. Can Help You

What will Santa Claus bring? That's the all-absorbing topic, and it's NOW that the thing should be settled, if you really want to do your best. For Christmas is just round the corner.

THIS is our 35th Christmas Anniversary and the Big Clothing Store is still prospering and growing--- thanks to the continued confidence of the public.

Every year more and more people do their Christmas shopping at LeBrun's for two reasons. 1st:--Because they are sure of something out of the ordinary and 2nd, because they are sure of being charged an honest price.

We want to make this Anniversary a record-breaker. We have done our part by providing the right goods at the right prices. We leave the rest to you with the request to do it NOW.

CHRISTMAS SUGGESTIONS
SUIT
OVERCOAT
HAT
UNDERWEAR
NECKWEAR
GLOVES
HOSIERY
SHIRTS
HOUSE COAT NIGHT ROBE
SUSPENDERS
MUFFLER UMBRELLA
BATH ROBE
COLLARS & CUFFS
RAIN COAT

We want the Ladies to feel at home at LeBrun's, for this is a Lady's Store at Xmas as well as a Man's. A lady's present to her husband, and a young woman's present to her brother, or some other girl's brother, will have all the good sensible points about it that LeBrun's High-Class Furnishings and Fine Clothing presents. Christmas Handkerchiefs are a leading line at LeBrun's. We show very fine samples for gentlemen in Silk, Linen, Lawn, etc., initialled and plain, and put up in Fancy Boxes.

The City Clothing Store

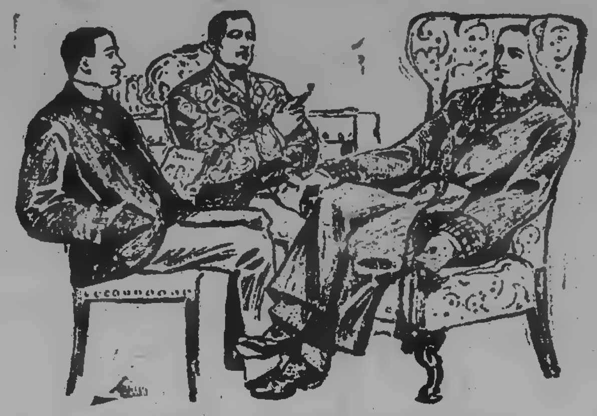
Has made extensive purchases in SENSIBLE GIFTS for men, youg men and boys. Let it be distinctly understood, too, that we are CUTTING PRICES so that even our large stock may be too small for wise, moneysaving fathers mothers, husbands, wives, lovers, brothers and sisters. Look over this list and you'll be sure to find something that he would like to find in his "stocking."



ENGLISH FANCY KNITTED WOOL VESTS
FANCY SILK AND WOOL VESTS
MEN'S PYJAMAS AND GOWNS

Handsome Silk Umbrellas, with ornamental handles,	$1.50 to 5.00
Good Tweed Working Overcoats	$5.00 to 6.00
Fine Winter Overcoats	$7.00 to 8.50
Stylish Melton and Beaver Overcoats ....Special at	$10.00 to 15.00
Heavy Tweed Suits	$4.50 to 7.00
Scotch Tweed and Worsted Suits	$8.00 to 12.00
Fine Black Worsted Suits	$10.00 to 15.00
Fine Worsted or Tweed Pants	$2.50, 3.00, 4.00
Good Heavy Wool Working Pants	$1.00, 1 50, 2.00
Boys' Cosy Winter Overcoats	$3.00 to 4.50
Boys' Storm Proof Overcoats	$4 00 to 6.50
Boys' 3-piece Suits	$2.50 to 4.50
Boys' 2-piece Suits	$1.50 to 2.50

Ordered Work—If you need an Overcoat, or Suit, made to order before New Year's, you can't find a choicer selection of cloth to pick from. Best of work and satisfaction.

Every Kind of Underwear for Every Taste

We make a feature of fineness, delicacy of texture, softness—and the stock shows how we succeed.

We always have a grand assortment, comprising the largest stock in the city, which is all reduced in price before New Year's. Men's sizes up to 50 ins., all sizes for Boys.

All the underwear we sell stands for quality. That means comfort. Come and see what we call value:

SCOTCH SHETLAND WOOL UNDERWEAR regular 75c, reduced to	50c
HEAVY ELASTIC RIBBED UNDERWEAR Utica Brand, fleece lined, regular 90c, reduced to	65c
or for the Suit	$1.25
HEAVY WOOL RIBBED SHIRTS AND DRAWERS, regular 60c for	45c
Fleece lined	45c, 50c
Very fine qualities of SCOTCH WOLSEY and NATIONAL WOOL UNDERWEAR	up to $2.50

H. LeBRUN & CO., Sign of the Golden Horse Shoe Next Toronto Bank 2 Entrances, George and Hunter Sts.

SPORTING NEWS

LINDSAY BEAT PETERBOROUGH

Big Crowd Saw Roller Hockey Match—Game Was Fast

The Lindsay Post has the following account of the roller hockey match between Lindsay and Peterborough on Wednesday night:

A large crowd patronized the Roller Rink last night to enjoy a skate and to witness the first roller hockey match ever played in Lindsay. The temperature in the rink was ideal for skating, but a little cool for standing around, and no doubt many would have enjoyed the match a good deal more if they had not been so chilled.

The game was both fast and clean, and pleased everybody immensely. Both the Peterborough and Lindsay teams showed themselves good sports and there was no rough play. The game was fast — a good deal faster than was expected, and held the fixed attention of the spectators from start to finish. Reeve Begg faced the ball —for a ball is used instead of a puck in roller hockey. The first goal was scored by Seymour, of the Lindsay team, in five minutes; another Lindsay goal was scored by Elliott half a minute later. These were the only two goals scored in the first half, although both teams made strenuous efforts to do so. Elliott and Cotton each got one minute penalty for body checking.

In the second half Randal scored a goal eleven minutes after the play recommenced; Koyl followed with one four minutes from time, and Denison scored another before the end of the game. Seymour, of town, and Staunton, of Peterborough, were the only two penalized. The score at the end of the game stood, Lindsay 5, Peterborough 0.

One of the funniest incidents of the game happened when Staunton came tearing down the floor, and was unable to steer out in time to avoid the goalkeeper's net. He fell and plunged his feet in the net, and was securely caught, like a spider in a web. He struggled alone till the goalkeeper had to extricate him.

Peterborough line-up was: Goal, Jamieson; point, W. Miller; cover-point, S. Gibbs; center, Staunton; rover, R. Agnew; right wing, Parrington; left wing, J. Miller.

Lindsay line-up; Goal, Warner, point, Koyl; cover-point, Seymour; centre, Denison; rover, Cotton; right wing, Elliott.

Timekeepers, Burke and Taylor; penalty, G. Reilly; referee, Artie Parkin.

HOCKEY

The Toronto Star: For the first time in years the well known blue and white of Peterborough will not be seen in the O.H.A. this winter, and the famous old breeding place of hockey players will have to be content with a city league and memories of ancient battles in the days when the Armstrongs, Eddie Howell, Whitcroft and other famous war horses were in the limelight.

The Star is mistaken. Peterborough will be represented by a first-class team in the intermediate league, as Lindsay will find out.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | MONDAY DECEMBER 9

ERNEST SHIPMAN Presents

MISS BIANCA WEST and Company in the Evergreen Play of Knighthood Days

"DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON HALL"

By Charles Major and Paul Kester

Prices, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c; few at $1.00 Plan Opens Friday Morning

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, SATURDAY DECEMBER 7

MATINEE AND NIGHT

Frank L. Whittier's Second Edition, Great Big Laughing Hit of the Season

"A Dutchman's Honeymoon"

A Musical Melange in three acts. Bigger, Brighter, Better than ever. See—The Funny Dutchman, the Irish Policeman, the Pretty Girls, the Clever Dancers, 6 All New Specialties

Prices—15c, 25c, 35c, and 50c. Matinee 15c and 25c

PRESENTATION OF THE MEDALS

Will Take Place at the Y.M.C.A. To-night

The presentation of the medals won at the indoor meet will take place at the Y.M.C.A. tonight. Two basketball matches are on the programme, and the presentations will take place between the two games. The Harriers and Tigers will meet at eight o'clock, and the second game will be between the first and second teams. There will be no admission and the gymnasium gallery will not doubt be crowded.

"Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" is one of the Shipman attractions which is a guarantee that it is above the average. Plan now open.

RUNNING

A READABLE YARN.

Fred. Simpson, the Hiawatha Indian, who ran second in the Herald road race, ran from Hiawatha to Peterborough one day last week to see a man on business. Then he ran home. The total distance is 28 miles. He said the roads were too bad for his horse.—Hamilton Spectator.

Enjoyable Dance At Foresters' Hall

An enjoyable dance was held last night in the Foresters Hall, Simcoe street, at which about fifty couples were present. The affair was gotten up by a number of young men of the city. Mr. Archie Moore was master of ceremonies, and excellent music was provided by Wilson's orchestra. Refreshments were served by Mr. William Wheeler. The dance was well managed and everybody had a pleasant time.

George St. Methodist Mission Band Bazaar Dec. 6th Beautiful Dolls, Toys, Fresh Candy, Collars, Handkerchiefs, Aprons, Postal Cards and Albums, Bric Brac. Japanese Tea Room. Admission free.

MARRIED

EAST—MEIN.—At the home of the bride's mother, on December 5th, by Rev. A. H. Brace, Mr. G. W. East of London, Eng., to Miss Margaret Mein, of Peterborough.

Legislation to be Asked for Two Year Term for Council

Peterborough Will Make This Request to Legislature

The Second Time For Application

Request is Likely to be Granted—Other Matters

The City of Peterborough is again going to make application to the Legislature of the Province for permission to elect the city council for a term of two years instead of one year as at present. A similar request was made three years ago, but at that time it was refused. In all probability it will be granted this time, however, as Kingston was given the privilege last year, and there seems no reason why Peterborough should not be treated similarly.

Kingston was given permission to elect its aldermen for a term of three years, one-third to retire each year.

Peterborough will make application for a two-year term, one-half to retire each year. It is believed that aldermen would be able to render better service to the city if they were elected for a two year period, and there is little doubt but that the change would be approved of by the ratepayers.

When Peterborough applied three years ago for legislation to have the council elected for two years, the request was refused, the Legislature maintaining that no other city in the province had the privilege, and there was no reason why Peterborough should be different from the rest. Last year, however, Kingston was given legislation along the same line as that asked for by Peterborough, and it is hardly likely that Peterborough's request will be refused this time.

The legal committee of the city council are now preparing a list of the legislation to be asked for at the coming session of the Legislature. The two year term for aldermen is the most important matter at the present time. If fixed assessment is granted the industries that have applied for it, the assessment will have to be confirmed by the Legislature. There are several other matters of minor importance for which legislation will be applied for.

STEAMSHIP MOVEMENTS

Special to the Review.

Montreal, Dec. 6.—Empress of Ireland reported 150 miles east of Cape Race at one o'clock a.m. today. Due to arrive at St. John about midnight Saturday.

PROBABILITIES

To-day and on Saturday moderate to fresh south to south-westerly winds, fine and milder.

Are Not Likely to Withdraw

Ald. Leary and McIntyre Will re-consider Their Former Decision

A few days ago Ald. R. H. Leary and A. A. McIntyre announced that they intended retiring at the end of the present year from municipal life. It was learned to-day that owing to the pressure brought to bear by friends and the general desire that they remain in the Council these gentlemen have decided to reconsider their original decision and go before the people for re-election.

Special Inducements TO BUY HEATERS

You gain nothing by delay. See our
Standard Oak
Quebec Ideal
Art Laurel

They are great fuel savers. Easily operated and splendid heat distributors.

F.R.J. MACPHERSON & CO.
341 George St. Phone 116
F.R.J. MACPHERSON ANGUS MACPHERSON

SPECIAL RATES FOR FAMILY WASHING

Prices were never lower than now at

Parkers' Steam Laundry

Goods called for and delivered free to any part of the city.

W. P. HETHERINGTON
9 CHARLOTTE ST. PHONE 65

International Correspondence Schools
Of Scranton, Penn.

Industrial Science Taught by Mail.

LOCAL OFFICE - - 410 George Stree
R. C. BALFOUR, Representative

The Talk of the Town—OUR COOKING
TOOTHSOME
WHOLESOME
PALATABLE

Try a loaf of our Brown and Currant Bread
FRY'S MILK CHOCOLATE DROPS
BURNT ALMONDS

COLEMAN BROS.
Phone 335. 426 George St

A MESSAGE FROM CHINA HALL

China Hall's Stock is now complete, and the present is now a good time to make selections for Christmas. China Hall's Stock is the heaviest and most varied it has ever been, and taken as a whole it would do credit to the largest city in the Dominion. The Store will be open evenings during December, and the public are invited to visit the two show rooms during the present week and view the newest productions in Pottery. Our Dinner Ware show room (just completed) is worih a visit.

CHINA HALL CO. New Premises 394 GEORGE STREET
(NEXT TO H. LeBRUN & CO.)

GET THE LATEST

The Review Supplies the Correct Things in Wedding Invitations Programmes, Personal Stationery, Etc . . . .

THE DAILY REVIEW

LUMBER

and BUILDING MATERIAL of all kinds. Shingles, Scantling, Joists and Bill Stuff. Mouldings, Casings and Base, and all kinds of finish. Boxes and Box Shooks.

ALF. McDONALD ESTATE

Point St. Charles Mill, Peterborough.

VOL LV., NO. 131 PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1907 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

PROBABILITIES

Moderate south-west to south winds: fair and mild.

FAIR'S | THE GOLDEN LION STORE | FAIR'S

CHRISTMAS

is getting really near. So near that you cannot delay your purchasing much longer. You havc a distinct advantage in selecting your gifts now. Not only in avoiding the hurry and crowding of late shopping, but in the extra values we are offering as an inducement to early shoppers—and then consider how much better selection you can make now, while stocks are fresh and unbroken.

These few items are reasons for buying now :—

LADIES' AND MISSES' COATS

TREMENDOUSLY REDUCED IN PRICE

Popular, stylish Coats--just the correct length and styles—New tweeds and plain cloths, specially priced for Christmas selling, at about ⅓ less than regular price.

LOVELY PINCUSHIONS

Gem of Silk, Satin and Lace

A dainty gift—an ornament for a lady's dressing table—Colors are Pink, Sky-Nile, Yellow and Cardinal—30 styles to select from. Special Christmas prices, each

25c to $2.50

USEFUL UMBRELLAS

For Ladies and Gentlemen

Gloria and all Silk Coverings, with exquisite handles in natural wood, smoked pearl, gold and silver plate, etc.—Always an acceptable gift—Specialy priced for Christmas.

$2.00 to $6.50

SPECIAL GIFT LINENS

Never before has Peterboro's Linen Warehouse offered as many gift suggestions in Fancy Linens as this season. We can help you make many selections from these values :—5 o clock Tea Cloths, Tray Cloths, Side Board Scarfs, Stand Covers, Centre Pieces, Doylies in all sizes, in Mexican Drawn Work, Battenburg, Hand Embroidered Clung Lace Edged. Sizes are from 6 x 6 inches to 45 x 45 inches. Specially priced for Christmas selling at each

10c to $10.00

SILK UNDERSKIRTS

Such as never before shown in this city

Made of good quality French Taffetta, in Black and Colors and Black and Black and White Pekin Striped Massalines, trimmed with velvet and laces—Special Christmas prices

$5.00 to $20.00

KID GLOVES

Always Reliable at "FAIR'S"

Perrin's and Reynier's best makes in short two button and twelve button length, in Black, White, Tans and all colors—Every pair guaranteed – at per pair

$1.00 to $3.00

Gloves, Handkerchiefs, Colars, etc., put in pretty boxes, free of extra charge.

BRING THE CHILDREN INTO OUR STORE TO SEE SANTA CLAUSE

Robert Fair & Co.

383 GEORGE STREET Limited

Phone—Dry Goods 145 Phone—Dressmaking 145B

GIRL WANTED

GIRL ABOUT 15 or 16 years of age wanted to do light housework. Apply at 529 REID ST. after four o'clock, evenings.

WANTED

BY THE FIRST OF JANUARY, A COOK for the Lakefield Preparatory School; also young girl as kitchen maid. Good situation for mother and daughter. Apply, with reference, to THE MATRON, The Grove, Lakefield. 3d

For Sale or To Rent

HOUSE TO RENT

HOUSE TO RENT at 173 Water Street. Good comfortable dwelling, bath room and electric light. Immediate possession given. Apply to J. J. Turner and Sons, Tent Manufacturers, George St. 3d

FOR SALE

AT A BARGAIN, slightly used piano, handsome walnut case, full length panels, 3 pedals, 7⅓ octave, beautiful tone. May be seen at 440 WATER STREET. 3d

FOR SALE

FIRST-CLASS NEWCOMBE PIANO for sale. Price reasonable. Apply at this Office for particulars. 9d

FOR SALE

PIANO CASE ORGAN, double the usual volume, (8 sets reeds) good as new, less than half price on easy weekly or monthly payments. A nice Christmas present easy to buy. 27 Park St., corner Park and Parnell. tf

FOR SALE

TYPEWRITER, latest model American Oliver, brand new. Good discount off lowest selling price for a quick sale. Apply Review Office. tdf

Lost and Found

LOST

A NARROW GOLD BAND BRACELET, ornamented with horse shoe setting, between Grafton's Store and the Post Office, about four or five o'clock on Tuesday, December 3rd. Finder will please leave at Grafton's Office or Review Office. 2d

LOST

ON SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30th, a Purse with owner's name inside. If finder will keep the money and leave the purse at Review Office or drop a card to BOX 783, Peterborough, the owner will be thankful.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!

A nice pair of Snowshoes or a good Toboggan would make a most acceptable present to lady, gentleman, girl or boy. We carry a very large assortment. Call and see them.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

TENT MANUFACTURERS

George Street. Peterborough

FOR XMAS

Furniture fixed up like new. Upholstering and all kinds of similar work done. Mattresses made over.

A. R. JACKSON

220 Aylmer. Corner of Charlotte. Bell Phone 494B

GET READY!

Summer has gone by and winter is at hand. Are you settled in a house of your own, where you can stay and not be forced out in the cold? If not, take warning, and buy one of our Cheap New Houses and be at home, or buy one of our Modern Houses at $2,100 and up. We also have first-class large houses from $3,000 up

Companies Good as the Best in all lines of Insurance but Life. Rates moderate.

R. G. Ivey, Special Agent. 226 George St. Phone 3 Bell W. MIGHT

For Sale or To Rent

AT REASONABLE PRICES

Three small farms, good soil, suitable for gardening purposes, close to city. Also a few small, comfortable, dwelling houses, and choice building lots, well situated in good localities.

Properties sold, purchased or exchanged.

Private Funds to Loan on Real Estate.

INSURANCE

Agents for reliable Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Liability Insurance Companies. For particulars as to rates, etc., apply to

J. J. McBAIN & SON

Real Estate and Insurance Agents.

Office Cor. Simcoe and George-sts

Office Phone 454 Residence Phone 108A

RICHMOND STUDIO

SPECIALS for XMAS PHOTOS

Newest Mountings — Newest Styles
Pictures — Plain Cards
Folders — Calendars

First-class work at night by electric ligh Sittings by appointment.

147 HUNTER STREET

FANCY POTTERY

All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.

GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

GEORGE RUTH

Properties for Sale:

Come and inspect our list of HOUSES We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.

8 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.

A few first-class homes to rent with modern improvements.

395 Water Street, open evenings

A. BROWN & CO.,

The Real Estate Agents, 396 Water Street

$100 will secure good Cottage with large lot 50x200

$500 will secure an up-to date House with all modern improvements.

$1,000 will purchase good Cottage and large lot

$600 will secure Cottage, Stable and 4 acres good land near city.

We have some great snaps in Houses, Farms and City lots for sale and to rent.

Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.

Bell Phone 126 and 474B. Machine 117

"DON'T BURN THEM"

We will buy all kinds of Second-hand boots and shoes

JAY'S SECOND-HAND STORE

390 Aylmer Street

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

What more appropriate gift could you make than by purchasing a home for your family?

Come and see J. T. O'Connell & Co's bargains.

$2,350—New red brick house, central, cement floor in cellar; hall, parlor, dining room, kitchen, large pantry, front and back stairs, 4 bedrooms, bathroom fitted, 3 clothes closets, attic finished, electric lights, large verandah and balcony, woodshed and summer kitchen. Can be bought on monthly payments. Possession at once.

$900 buys red brick cottage East City, 6 rooms, hard and soft water, large lot.

To Rent--New house with all conveniences. Possession at once.

For further particulars apply to

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.

Phone 376. 136 Hunter St.

PIANO, HARMONY, Etc.

ALFRED DAVIES

Teacher of Piano, Harmony, etc. Pupils prepared for all examinations. 106 McDonnel St., Bell Tel. 463, P.O. Box 592 3m

MEALS—LUNCHES

AT ALL HOURS

For quick service, well-cooked meals and popular prices—go to

FOWLER'S RESTAURANT

McCallum's Old Stand - 330 George St

BIG SALE

. . OF . .

Enamelled Ware

Friday and Saturday

HUTCHINSON-STURGEON CO

Bell and Machine 'Phones 225 — 342 George Street

James Fleming is walking from St. Catherines to Guelph on a wager.

Premier Scott, of Saskatchewan, is in Ottawa en route to the Mediterranean.

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

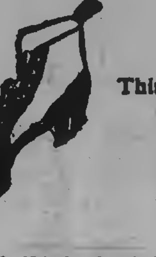
INTRODUCTORY SALE

OF

MEN'S and WOMEN'S SHOES

High-Class Footwear at Greatly Reduced Prices

FOR TWO WEEKS



This two week's sale is to quickly and permanently introduce to the people of Peterborough the finest High-class Shoe Department in the city. These Shoes are all positively UNION MADE and are the highest grade Footwear on the market. Every Shoe that is sold is warranted to give the best satisfaction. No old shop worn Goods in the store. All brand new stock. Two weeks only—commences Monday, 8:10 a m.

STYLE NO. 137—Men's Blucher cut Bals in velour calf with heavy sole goodyear welted; a regular $5.00 Shoe to sell for 3.75

MEN'S SHOE—Goodyear welted, box calf in Blucher cut; a fine winter weight shoe—a shoe to wear without rubbers; regular $3.75; in several styles for 2.74

MEN'S PATENT COLT in Blucher cut bal, goodyear welted sole; dressy shoes in new styles; several lines to choose from; regular $3.75 for 2.95

MEN'S BOX CALF—Goodyear welt bal, military heel; made of reilable leather, in new styles. This shoe is a fine factory or every day hard wear shoe; reg $3.25 2.50

STYLE 116—Men's patent colt, goodyear welted sole; a handsome appearing shoe, with the good-wear qualities; regular $5.00, for 3.50

STYLE 143—Men's heavy box calf shoe, goodyear welted sole, Blucher cut bal; making a good stalwart shoe for the winter days; reg $4.50, for 3.30

STYLE 133—Men's solid calf shoe; heavy extension sole; goodyear welted, made on a neat last; a genuine winter shoe, made in the Blucher cut; regular $5.50, for 4.00

STYLE 113—This natty men's shoe is made of patent colt leather in the popular Blucher cut; goodyear welted sole. Is a splendid heavy winter shoe; reg $5.50, for 3.75

STYLE 16—Women's high-class patent colt shoe, neat toe, high Cuban heel; regular $5.00, for 3.50

WOMEN'S PATENT COLT—Blucher cut shoe; a smart dressy shoe with good reliable wearing qualities; regular $3.50, for 2.75

STYLE 41—A woman's heavy walking shoe, made of heavy calf leather; college cut; goodyear welted soles, Cuban heels; reg $5.00, for 3.50

STYLE 20—Women's patent colt, Blucher cut, plain toe, turn sole. This Shoe makes a dressy evening foot garment; regular $5.00, for 3.50

WOMEN'S VICI KID Bals, patent tip, good weight sole for the wet, snowy weather; regular $2.50, for 1.85

STYLE 42—Women's velour calf shoe, popular Blucher cut bal; goodyear welt; high Cuban heels; regular $4.50, for 3.50

STYLE 30—Women's fine kid shoe; made of extra quality leather; goodyear welt sole; new cut, regular $5.00, for 3.50

WOMEN'S SHOES for evening wear or any dress occasion; made of patent colt; Blucher cut bal; stylish in appearance; reg $3.25 2.65

STYLE 27—Women's patent colt, Blucher cut, college style, which is one of the most favored styles of the season; reg $4 50, for 3.30

WOMEN'S FELT SHOES—High lace shoe with leather boxing; shoe for comfort during wintry days, especially for driving; reg $1.75 1.35

RUBBERS AND OVERSHOES

Our immense stock of Rubber Footwear will be found most complete with the newest styles of the season. All lines will be reduced in price for the two weeks only.

STORE HOURS
8.10 - - 5.45
Closes To-night at 10 a.m.

Cressman's

385, 387, 389
GEORGE STREET

Died While Being Brought To the Nicholls Hospital

Hope Township Man Injured in Runaway

AMBULANCE AT STATION

But Injured Man Died on Train Before Reaching Millbrook

While being hurried on a train to Nicholls Hospital in this city, John Hunter, a farmer living near Carmel, in Hope township, passed away a short distance south of Millbrook, as a result of injuries sustained in a runaway accident.

Mr. Hunter had driven into Garden Hill with a load of peas yesterday afternoon and delivered them at J. D. Gray's storehouse. Just as he left the place, the horses, a team of colts started to run away. The driver was thrown from his seat, but one of his arms caught in some part of the waggon, and he was dragged alongside it for several hundred feet. The horses went along the street at a terrific pace, and when they crossed a bridge on the road, Mr. Hunter was thrown against the side of the structure and received terrible injuries. His skull was fractured and he was injured internally. Dr. Beatty was at once called, and, after giving what temporary aid he could, the injured man was put on the afternoon train, to be taken to the Nicholls Hospital at Peterborough. He died before the train reached Millbrook. The body was taken charge of by an undertaker at Millbrook. The Dan Spence ambulance was waiting at the G. T.R. station to convey the injured man to the hospital, but its services were not required.

Mr. Hunter was about 60 years of age, and unmarried. He is survived by one sister, Annie, who resided with him, and one brother, William, of Midland. The funeral will take place on Monday. Mr. Hunter was highly respected in the community where he resided, and his death was a great shock.

Two Extra Men for the Local Postal Service to Handle Mails During Holiday Rush

The rush of mail is already being felt at the post office, and in about two weeks the inside staff and carriers will be very busily engaged in handling the heavy consignments of mail matter. To be able to adequately look after the heavy holiday work an additional member of the office staff, Mr. T. W. Robinson, will be taken on, while Mr. Jack O'Brien, of Wolfe street, will be the extra carrier. These new additions to the local service will be made on Dec. 16th. It may be necessary to have another carrier placed permanently on the staff of mail deliverers, owing to the large amount of matter that reaches the city for distribution. However, this matter has not been definitely decided upon.

XMAS DINNER RUINED

Do not spoil your Xmas day by having dissatisfaction in the prpearation of the dinner, caused by using doubtful or inferior fruits, spices, etc., when you can get the Crescent Brand of Raisins, Currants and Pure Spices at E. F. Mason Co. Limited

PALMISTRY

Prof. C. SHEPHERD of San Francisco, California, is visiting Peterborough for a limited time, and may be consulted at

Mrs. R. King's, George Street (upstairs) Rooms, First Floor

Hall entrance next Times Office. Hours from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Appointments made. Your past, present and future about Business and Marriage correctly told. Machine Phone 7

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | Wednesday, December 11

EDWARD HALL AMUSEMENT CO. presen MR. WILLIAM WALCOTT, Supported by Miss Florence Rossland, in the Powerful Modern Play

THE FATAL FLOWER

By Howard Hall. The most beautiful dramatic production of the season. Prices—25c, 35c, 50c and 75c

THE CRYSTAL

OPEN EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING

The Adventures of a Lover
Illustrated Song
"I Love You, Girlie, But I Don't Know Why"

Complete Change of Programme Mon., Wed., Fri.

ADMISSION - - ONLY 5 CENTS

What better Christmas Present could be given to a young man or woman than a course at the

Business College

Nothing could be given that would be of greater or more lasting value.

THINK ABOUT IT CAREFULLY

DAY AND EVENING CLASSES

Medical

E. V. FREDERICK, M.B., Tor.
M.R.C.S., Eng.; L.R.C.P., Lond. Lic. Univ. o New York.
Removed to No. 492 George St., formerly office of Dr. McFaul
Private nursing home for surgical ca.

DR. G. STEWART CAMERON
Office and Residence
No. 273 Charlotte St. 'Phone 128

DR. G. C. LEACH
Late House Surgeon of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio; also of Cook County Hospital, Chicago OFFICE—224 Hunter St., formerly occupied by Dr. Coughlin. Phone Bell 219.
Special Attention to Diseases of Women

DR. JAS. V. GALLIVAN
Office 215 Simcoe St. Late of St. John's Hospital New York. Lic. University of New York.
Telephone 668.

Osteopathy

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY
Osteopathic Physician
Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Water Street entrance.
Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. Evenings by appointment. Consultation free.

Legal

R. E. WOOD
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Etc. Office removed from Bank of Commerce Building to 435 George street, recently occupied by E. B. Edwards. MONEY TO LOAN

W. H. MOORE
BARRISTER SOLICITOR, in the Supreme Court etc. Office—Hunter street, first stairs west of Post Office.

HALL & HAYES
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS and NOTARIES PUBLIC, Hunter Street, Peterborough, next to English Church. MONEY TO LOAN at the lowest rates of interest.
E. H. D. HALL. LOUIS M. HAYES

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON
(Successors to Stratton & Hall)
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., Peterborough Ont. Office—Corner of Hunter and Water Sts. over Bank of Commerce.
E. H. D. HALL, M.P. S. T. MEDD. W. S. DAVIDSON

EDMISON & DIXON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc. Office in Clarson's Block, corner of Hunter and George streets, over Dickson's store.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc
415 Water Street, Peterborough.
E.A. PECK F. D. KERR. R. M. DENNISTOUN

Money

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASY TERMS
O'CONNELL & GORDON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS NOTARIES, Etc
Canadian and United States Patent Attorneys
134 Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office.
DANIEL O'CONNELL. GEORGE N. GORDON

ROGER, BENNET & GOODWILL
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., 37 Water St. Peterborough. Telephone No. 191.
Money at Current Rates Upon Easy Terms.
G. M. ROGER. J. W. BENNET. E. L. GOODWILL

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

PAID UP CAPITAL $1,000,000.00
RESERVE FUND 580,000.00

SAVINGS
An Account may be opened at any time with a Deposit of One Dollar.
3½% Interest allowed on daily balances.
DEBENTURE DEPT.
Four Per Cent. paid half yearly on sums of $100.00 and upwards.
MONEY TO LOAN
at current rates of interest.
W. G. MORROW, Manager

Children's Aid Society
FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.
Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898 Information required. Informants name kept strictly private.
CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION
Office Hours—11.00 to 12.00 a.m.
FFICE—DIVISION COURT BLDG
GEO. COCHRANE, Agent and Asst Sec

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES
AND
VETERINARY INFIRMARY
193 Hunter Street west of Oriental Hotel.
If you wish a rig of any kind for any occasion ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 218. Night Phone Bell 436 B.
D. McKERCHER, V.S.

WEAKNESS
Foe of the Aged.
With Enervated Strength and Impoverished Blood, this is a Season of Danger.

Right now, to-day, is the time to look for better health. If you use Ferrozone you'll find it. Ferrozone is a grand blood renovator, makes the vital fluid rich, red and nutritious. By strengthening the blood, a current of life is sent into every nook and corner of the body that puts stamina and staying power into all weak organs.

A complete restoration to the health and spirits of youth is within the reach of everyone that uses the food tonic Ferrozone. You can hardly afford to miss the benefit of such a strength-giving medicine. Hadn't you better try it?

FERROZONE

It is impossible for any one to be weak or nervous if they use Ferrozone. It possesses the power to kindle new vitality and strength in systems of people almost dying of weakness.

It is an extraordinary and magical tonic, a wonderful rebuilder, far famed for its lasting cures.

You'll never know what real good health means until you have used Ferrozone, which contains more actual nourishment and strength-giving elements than you can get in any other way

As a blood purifier, nerve-strengthener, and appetizing tonic, Ferrozone has positively no equal.

Ferrozone is sold by all dealers in 50c boxes, or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Extension of Free Mail Delivery to the Country

Mr. Armstrong Advocates Public Ownership in the House.

Government to Operate Telegraphs and Telephones — Farmers to Receive Greater Attention—Questions on Bank Loans—Mr. Fielding Gives Statistics In Regard to Debt—Subsidies Paid to Provinces.

Ottawa, Dec. 7.—Joseph Armstrong (East Lambton) made a splendid speech yesterday on behalf of the principle of Government ownership and operation of telegraph and telephones and for the extension of free mail delivery to rural communities, in continuing the debate on the address in the House. He did not finish, but in an hour's address he quoted extensively from records of the United States Government showing the success of rural mail delivery in that country.

Mr. Armstrong on Monday will move an amendment to the address. He was given a splendid opening yesterday by Mr. Crawford (Liberal) of Portage la Prairie, whose antagonism to public ownership was most marked. Mr. Crawford began by accounting for the prosperity of the past decade after the manner of previous Liberal speakers, namely, a bountiful Providence and a benign Government. There was, at the present time, of course, a money tightness, which he did not regard as serious. The banks had treated the western farmers liberally, but it had taken more money to handle grain this year than formerly. There was plenty of money, but it had been diverted out of proper channels. That was the sum and substance of the money situation.

Favored Public Ownership.

Mr. Armstrong followed, with a strong public ownership argument. The previous speaker, he said, had not given the House the benefit of the experience of his own town, where the municipality successfully operated the electric lighting plant. Public ownership of telegraphs and telephones would confer a great benefit on the people of Canada. The first Minister had quoted figures of the operation of telegraphs in Great Britain by the Government, but had not shown that the larger portion of the expenditure under this head was chargeable to capital account, while the principal advantage of the system in Britain was that the charge of the message that cost 25 cents here was but 12 cents.

Mr. Armstrong was an ardent advocate of free rural mail delivery, and described the success of the system in Great Britain and the United States. There was no class in the community that received more generous treatment and encouragement than the farmers and their interests could be well served by the extension of the system of free delivery to the rural districts. He had gone to the United States for statistics showing the cost of rural free delivery and had found that the system had become practically self-supporting. Evidently the Government did not intend to take up the question, but he was pleased that the leader of the Opposition had seriously grappled with it and proposed to put it into effect as soon as he became leader of the Government, which would be at no distant date.

An Overdraft In London.

Hon. W. S. Fielding informed Parliament, replying to the Opposition, that the Government overdraft in London amounts to £301,619, and this bears current Bank of England rate; that temporary loans of Government amount to £500,000, and that portions of the debt falling due this year will be temporarily cared for until the present money stringency is relieved.

The questions which drew out the Finance Minister's explanation of the indebtedness of the Dominion were put on paper by R. L. Borden, Mr. Foster and Mr. Mott. The loan of $9,376,386, falling due May 1, has been renewed at the same rate of interest for four years, to May 1, 1911, with option until April 30 1910, of converting into Dominion Government 3 per cents., due 1938, at the rate of £106 of 3 per cent. for each £100 at 4 per cent. Since July 1, 1906, the Government has borrowed £250,000 on security of treasury bills at 4 5-8 per cent. for six months through the Bank of Montreal in London. These were redeemed May 1 last. On Aug. 17 the Government borrowed £500,000 on security of treasury bills at 4 1-2 per cent. for one year.

There are no overdrafts in banks in Canada, but the account with the Bank of Montreal in London has been overdrawn on current account, as usual these being carried by remittances from this side or by treasury bills. Overdraft in London is £301,619, being current Bank of England rate. Total amount temporary loans at present is £500,000 on security of treasury bills for one year at 4 1-2 per cent. Portion discounted outside Bank of Montreal was at the same rate, with the addition of 1-8 per cent. to the Bank of Montreal, in accordance with the agreement respecting the management of the Government's financial business in London.

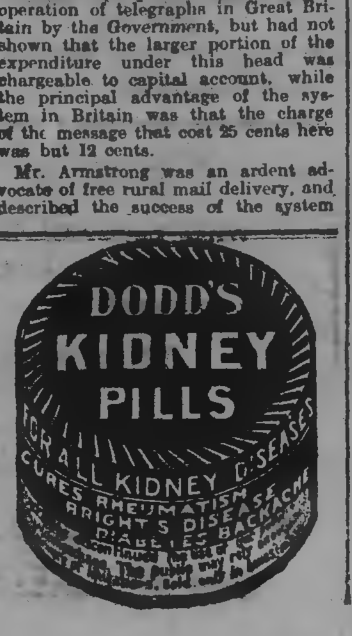
Debts Falling Due.

To Mr. Borden's query, what portions of the debt have fallen due since Oct. 31, 1906, and how has such indebtedness been met? Mr. Fielding said the 4 per cent. loan of 1876 fell due Nov. 1, 1906, and amounted to £2,500,000. Against this there was a sinking fund of £658,867, leaving a balance of £1,841,132 to be provided for. The whole was redeemed.

Amounts Paid Provinces.

In reply to Mr. Blain (Peel), the Finance Minister informed the House of the amounts paid the various provinces under the present agreement and the amounts paid previously. The amounts are as follows, the first figures being under the old arrangement:

Ontario	$989,643	$1,084,386
Quebec	543,356	843,289
New Brunswick	245,680	310,680
Nova Scotia	216,402	305,2[illegible]
British Columbia	153,538	261,069
P. E. I.	125,529	160,575
Saskatchewan	565,167	630,167
Alberta	562,062	627,062
Manitoba	310,708	375,748



NOT A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

Opinion of Dundee Advertiser on the All-Red Route.

London, Dec. 7.—"The idea of an 'all-red' route has thoroughly captivated the Canadian imagination," says The Dundee Advertiser, "and Hon. Clifford Sifton, who is at present in this country as its missionary, is evidently engaging much British support as well. In the project of linking up by wire and by means of swift lines of steamers connected with express trains there is nothing that antagonizes and much that charms, but business ends will continue to suggest doubts.

"At present Mr. Sifton, in effect, admits that the 'all-red' route is not a business proposition, for it requires heavy national subsidies from Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, but he thinks that when established it will grow into a business proposition. Will it? The route from Britain to Australia by way of Canada describes two sides of a gigantic triangle.

"When the Panama Canal is opened the third side of the triangle, the long side, but still much shorter than the other two, will be described by an almost straight line from the English Channel to Sydney. Thus the future contains a possibility which may make the route even less of a business proposition than it is to-day."

IMMENSE NEW OIL FIELDS.

Ancient Fire Worshippers Made Use of Natural Gas.

Baku, Dec. 7.—A new oil gusher has been opened at Surakhent, ten miles from this city. The new well gives 10,000 barrels a day.

It is located on the site of an ancient temple dedicated at one time to a cult of fire-worshippers, and it has now been learned that the "eternal flames" that burned at the altar of the temple were maintained by natural gas issuing from the ground.

According to geologists this discovery opens up a possibility of tapping an oil strata in a region 40 times larger than the present one.

SHIP AFIRE AT SEA.

Thrilling Escape of Crew of German Steamer.

Brest, Dec. 7.—The crew of the 2,834-ton German steamer Milos arrived here yesterday and told a thrilling tale of their escape from the burning vessel at sea. The steamer was bound from Hamburg for Brest, and fire broke out in her hold during the voyage. The crew battled valiantly against the flames until off Ushant Island, 27 miles west of Brest, when realizing that their task was a hopeless one, they took to the boats and were barely able to save themselves.

Unemployed at Vancouver.

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 7.—A new phase of the immigration question involving whites was only brought to light when 200 unemployed paraded the streets, and appointed a deputation of three to wait on the mayor. The speakers claimed they had been induced to come west by misleading advertisements.

The mayor explained that the city itself was now laying off men. The city had not the money to carry work on now if it wanted to. The speakers emphasized the danger of the men becoming desperate from hunger.

Wreck on the Wabash.

Cayuga, Dec. 7.—A rear-end collision occurred on the Wabash Railroad yesterday, a heavy gravel train crashing into a freight that was standing on the bridge crossing the Grand River, while the engine was taking water down the track. A van was wrecked and three cars. Two cars were burned on the track and one down the bank. One car was loaded with butter and burned for five hours.

It is said that the cause of the wreck was a defective semaphore and the heavy down grade.

Mount Temple Abandoned.

Halifax, Dec. 7.—Capt. Boothby last night abandoned the stranded steamship Mount Temple. A heavy northeast snowstorm swept over the coast of Nova Scotia all day, and there was a tremendous sea.

Capt. Boothby, his officers and those members of the crew who had remained with him left the ship and landed on Iron Bound Island, where they are spending the night. They believed it would not be safe to take chances on the ship and there was nothing aboard.

Labor Men Will Appeal.

Kingston, Dec. 7.—In the case against the two tailors, who last week were fined $100 each by the police magistrate for intimidating non-union workers, the labor unions have agreed to appeal to the Attorney-General of the province against such large fines.

Resolutions are to be passed by all the labor unions of Ontario condemning the judgment.

Insane Man's Victim Dies.

Boston, Dec. 7.—Edward Cohen, president of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor, who was shot Thursday in the State House by an insane man, died yesterday.

Steele is held for the grand jury with $100,000 bail required.

Preferred Dog to Husband.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 7.—Alice Nicolay, claiming to belong to Ontario, has got a divorce here. Her husband, she said, abused her because she took a pet dog to bed with them.

New German Harbor.

Berlin, Dec. 7.—The Government has completed plans for the construction of a harbor on the Island of Heligoland, in the North Sea, at a cost of $7,500,000.

Plates That Would Last.

"John," said Mrs. Jenkins, looking up from the paper she was reading, "you know how many dishes Kate has broken lately?"

"Yes," said John. "What of it?"

"Well," continued Mrs. Jenkins, "there is something in the newspaper here about steel plates. I don't know just what they are, but I should think they might be indestructible."

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs Martha Pohlman

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate Nurse from the Blockley Training School at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes:

"I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use.

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bloat after eating and frequently become nauseated. I had pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant for many years before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is strictly confidential.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds where Others Fail.

Awful Disaster in Coal Mine; 500 Miners Were Entombed

Awful Tragedy Reported From West Virginia Mines.

Great Majority Believed to Be Dead—Explosions Took Place Simultaneously In Two Mines—Heard Eight Miles Away—Some Bodies Recovered—Rescue Parties Are Still at Work.

Monongahela, W. Va., Dec. 7.—Three charred and blackened bodies, lying in the improvised morgue, prepared near the entrance to the mine; four men hovering between life and death from the awful bruises sustained and the deadly gases inhaled, in a temporary hospital, into which one of the company's buildings has been transformed, and 493 men imprisoned by tons of coal and mine debris in the depths of the hills surrounding this mining town, and the chances all against a single one of them being alive, is the most accurate summary obtainable last night of the results of a mine explosion yesterday, which, in all probability, was attended by greater loss of life than any former disaster in the history of the bituminous coal mining industry of America.

The explosion occurred shortly after 10 o'clock, after the full force of 500 men had gone to work in the two mines affected.

These mines are Nos. 6 and 8, of the Consolidated Coal Co., located in opposite sides of the Westork River, at this place, but merged in their underground workings by a heading, and on the surface by a great steel tipple and bridge.

The finding of the three corpses and the four badly injured men is the only reward for strenuous and uninterrupted work on the part of large rescuing forces that immediately set to work at every possible point.

The living men are unable to give any details regarding the disaster, or to even explain how they reached the surface. They state that, immediately back of them when they began their frantic struggle for liberty, there was a large number of men engaged in a similar struggle, while still further back in the workings there was a larger number, of whom they know nothing.

It is the opinion of the mine owners and others familiar with mine operation that these men had not penetrated the mine as far as had the majority of the day shift when the explosion occurred, and that they headed for and reached the main entry before the heavy cave-in that now blockades the entrance more than a few hundred feet beyond the main opening of mine No. 6.

As to the miners referred to by the rescued men as having been alive when last seen, it is believed that they were caught back of a heavy cave-in of coal and mine roof, and that they could not have survived more than a few minutes in the deadly gases with which the entry filled as soon as the ventilation was interrupted.

There is more hope for those in more remote sections of the mine, as they have reached workings where fresh air is supplied by other openings. But, at best, only the most slender hope is entertained for the survival of any one of the men in the mine until the debris can be cleared away and communication with the outside re-established.

The two mines regularly employ 1,000 men, working in two shifts, 500 during the day and 500 during the night, and the best information obtainable at this time is that the entire day force had gone to work yesterday morning, and that all were caught.

Speculation as to Cause.

There is much speculation as to the cause of the explosion, but the most generally accepted theory is that it resulted from blackdamp, scientifically known as methane.

It is believed that a miner attempted to set off a blast which blew out and ignited the highly inflammable substance found in greater or less quantities in all West Virginia mines.

Pathetic Scenes About Pits.

Along the hills, far back from the main opening of mine No. 8, there are a number of openings in the mine, and to these hundreds of relatives and friends of the entombed men frantically rushed in the vain hope that their loved ones might find escape through these channels, or that they might be more readily reached and released. So far as known, however, not a single man escaped this way, and the would-be rescuers are helpless at these points for at each entry there is pouring a volume of poisonous gas, which no human being can face for more than a few minutes at a time. The scenes round about the entries to the mines and throughout the town are pathetic and heartrending. Wives, mothers and sweethearts, together with children and members of the stronger sex move from place to place vainly seeking information and making no attempt to conceal their grief. But little news can be given them, and such as they do get is bad. None is encouraged to hope that anyone in the mine has survived the explosion and the suffocating gas that immediately after filled the mine. From time to time there comes word from the searchers in the mine that bodies have been found at one place or another, and in nearly every instance it is also stated that the bodies are either terribly torn and mangled or burned and blackened.

Punishing the Tribesmen.

Paris, Dec. 7.—A report has been received, saying that the first move of the French forces to punish the Benis Nassen tribesmen was made Thursday, when a force of Arabs was routed.

Only two Frenchmen were wounded, the fighting lasting practically all day.

Invitation Cards for AT Homes, Receptions and Evening Parties, partly printed for 1c each. Envelopes to match 10c package. On sale at the Review Office

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
RAILWAY TIME TABLE

	Arrive.	Depart
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.40 a.m. 9.00 p.m.	8.25 a.m 5.38 p.m
Port Hope and points east to Montreal and Boston		8.30 a.m
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago & West, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.20 a.m. 5.33 p.m.	11.45 a.m 9.05 p.m
From Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Bowmanville and Port Hope	11.45 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stouffville, Uxbridge and Markham	10.05 p.m.	7.20 a.m
Lindsay Local	8.15 a.m.	9.10 p.m
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 8.40 p.m.	8.30 a.m 1.50 p.m
Lakefield and Stony Lake	9.50 a.m. 5.15 p.m.	8.30 a.m 12.20 p.m

CANADIAN PACIEIC RAILWAY

DEPART FOR EAST

Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa and Montreal...... 11:16 a.m. Daily ex. Sun. and 12:28 Daily
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock and Tweed.. 7:47 p.m., Daily

DEPART FOR WEST

Toronto, London, Chicago and New York........ 5:16 a.m. Daily
Toronto & Intermediate, North Bay, Winnipeg and Northwest........ 8:00 a.m. Daily ex. Sun
Toronto, Galt, London, Detroit and Chicago... 4:48 p.m. Daily ex. Sun

CANADIAN NORTHERN ONTARIO

SHORT LINE TO MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND

WINTER TIME TABLE
In effect December 9th, 1907

NORTHBOUND

	No. 1	No. 3
TORONTO	† 9.00 am	† 5.30 pm
WASHAGO	12.45 pm	9.00 pm
PARRY SOUND	3.10 pm	....

SOUTHBOUND

	No. 2	No. 4
PARRY SOUND	† 9.00 am	†.........
WASHAGO	11.25 am	6.45 am
TORONTO	3.00 pm	10.10 am

Observation-Dining Parlor Cars between Toronto and Parry Sound serving meals a la carte.
† Daily except Sunday.
OFFICES: All Stations, also Cor. King and Toronto and Union Station. Phone, Main 5179.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

CALIFORNIA MEXICO FLORIDA

Are the favorite winter Resorts.

Round trip tickets are issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System giving choice of all the best routes, going one way and returning another.

Full information may be obtained from
W. BUNTON, City Passenger Agent
F. SANDY, Depot Ticket
Or write Mr J. D. McDonald, D.P.A., Union Depot, Toronto

CANADIAN PACIFIC

WINTER FAIR GUELPH

DEC. 9 TO 13, 1907
Return Tickets at
SINGLE FARE
FROM ALL STATIONS

Good going Dec. 7 to 13 Inclusive
Returning until and on Dec. 16

Children under twelve half fare
Tickets and all information from
W. McILROY, Canadian Pacific Agent, 343 George St., Peterboro
Or write C. B. FOSTER, D.P.A. [illegible]

Private Greeting Cards

THE highly colored and lithographed Christmas Card in vogue a few years ago has passed away entirely.

IN place has come the much more appropriate Personal Greeting Card.

OF these the Review Office is showing a great many original designs.

YOUR order should be given immediately, while the selection is so complete.

SHOULD you desire a Card specially designed to your order, promptness is absolutely necessary.

The Review
HUNTER STREET
PETERBOROUGH

"Fashion-Craft"

Values

The "Storm King" a most comfortable cold weather overcoat, made from naps, tweeds and fancy friezes, lined with worsted $18 to $40

Take this overcoat for instance!

There is no custom-made coat that has the style and distinction of a "Fashion Craft" "Storm King."

Improved style is increased value.

The better your clothes look and the better your clothes fit, the longer are you willing to wear them. "Fashion Craft" clothes look better than other clothes.

Lengthened wear is increased value.

The better the material and the more thorough the workmanship, the more wear and tear the clothes will stand. "Fashion Craft" clothes wear long and well.

A longer clothes life is increased value.

Therefore "Fashion-Craft" clothes are cheaper

Laidlaw & Oles

Proprietors, Peterboro'

Class Meeting Has Become Sour Grapes for the Young

Says Mr. Wm. Miller, Who Declares That the Advantages and Merits of This Ancient Institution Are Not Fully Appreciated by Present Day Methodists

At a meeting of the Class Leaders' Association, held in the George street Methodist church on Tuesday night last, Mr. Wm. Miller read a profitable and timely paper on "The Class Meeting." In the course of his remarks he said:—The class meeting is an institution of long standing, with advantages and merits that are not fully appreciated, even by those that have often been blessed in that sacred retreat of thousands.

The class has been the spiritual mothers of babes in Christ, who, becoming the sincere milk of the word, they are soon able to use strong meat.

If the class has made Methodism what it was, and the decline of the class has left Methodism what it is—shorn of its spiritual and soul-saving power, where shall we draw the line for those that sit in high places have silent tongues.

The class meeting has become sour grapes to the youth of our church. The old paths are not sought for, and milk cisterns that can hold no water are the order of the day. Remove the class and the last landmark of John Wesley will soon be obliterated.

Personally I do not hold that attendance at class is absolutely necessary in order to be saved. Compulsory measures destroy free will, and without free will we have no inspiration, and inspiration coming from a loving heart has a mighty drawing power. But, I contend, that in every age God left not Himself without witnesses, for we read that those who loved God spake often one to another, and a book of remembrance was written of them. Has God changed? Is He not the same today as then? "Wherever two or three are gathered together in My Name, there am I."

From what I have felt and seen in others is this, that just as soon as our hearts are touched by the finger of God, we seek the companionship of those holding the same precious faith. The love of God constrains us, so that spiritual fellowship is necessary. To my mind there is no spot on earth better adapted to satisfy the needs of hungry souls than the class. The social and spiritual element of the class creates a home-like or family feeling so strong that a visitor soon feels at home in His Father's house, and this is just the place where doubting Thomas may soon be set at liberty. To feel that you stand in the presence of God induces self-examination. This is a trying moment. Be careful. God is testing; the people are listening. Does the silent tear moisten the eye as the heart warms and love lifts the soul upward? I have no use for desire only, for good desires are only the approaches. Adults should never go to the class with a sentence testimony in their mouth; neither should they keep something that God may hear; but the leader and members cannot get any inspiration.

Having attended the class from childhood, I feel like saying:

Woodman, spare that tree,
Touch not a single bough;
For in youth it sheltered me,
And I'll protect it now.

The Christian Endeavor was the first blow at the class meeting. It separated both boys and girls from the class room of their fathers. Great things were expected, but they soon found that we had a church within a church, whose interests were entirely different. The fiery zeal of youth and experience of age may never meet again for we get no recruits. Doing away with the quarterly ticket and the ministerial visit a second blow, and now from Dan to Beersheba the child of tender years is taken from parental care, placed under tutors elsewhere, and the class is deprived of great inspiration by the loss of the lambs and the leaders' grandest opportunity to admonish the parents is lost.

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited
97 Yonge Street, Toronto.
W. H. ISAAC, 228 Dublin Street, Peterborough.
Local Salaried Representative. Machine 'Phone 22

BOY LOVER'S SUICIDE.

Found Shot After Writing Pathetic Letter to Sweetheart.

A romantic story hangs round the determined suicide of George Russam, a Birmingham, Eng., youth of 17, who shot himself and then jumped into a place known as the "Devil's Pit."

Inside his watch were found three photographs. On the back of one was written: "I love you; don't be a flirt like your sister."

Since Easter, according to his father, the lad had been flirting with the daughter of a next-door neighbor, but Mr. Russam disapproved of the attachment, and a few days before the tragedy he had given his son a thrashing.

Next day the lad decided to leave home, and actually took lodgings, but he changed his mind and made peace with his father.

Getting up at the usual time, he left home with the intention of going to his employment, but instead he visited his sweetheart, who was ill in bed. After remaining a few minutes he left the girl, and was not seen again by any of his friends.

By the last post the same night the girl received a long letter, commencing, "My dearest Nellie," and continuing:

"I write you this letter, which will be the last which you or anyone else will receive from me. I cannot stand this any longer, and if my father and mother say that you are to blame it is a lie."

He hinted that he was about to take his life, and added:

"Perhaps it is for the best that I am gone, as I dare say my parents will be content to know that I am not with you."

A seven-chambered revolver was found beside Russam's body. Five cartridges had misfired, but two of the shots had taken effect.

British Channel Ferry.

The hopelessness of the British public ever becoming reconciled to the idea of a tunnel under the Channel moves Mr. Lloyd-George, the President of the Board of Trade to advocate a Channel car ferry between Dover and Calais. The wonder is, considering the need for it, that the project has been so long delayed.

It is only about twenty miles from Dover to Calais. While the Channel bears a bad reputation because of its choppy currents, it offers no serious obstacles to the operation of train ferry-boats. Across Lake Michigan there is a 63-mile railroad ferry from Frankfort, Mich., to Kewaunee, Wis., where each boat carries 24 cars on four parallel tracks. The boats are designed to break their way through ice. Railroad trains are regularly ferried across the Straits of Mackinaw in spite of tremendous ice gorges. There is another car ferry across Lake Erie. The Russian Government maintained a car ferry 28 miles in length across Lake Baikal on the Trans-Siberian Railroad, and has only lately built tracks around the lake.

There is no reason known to practical railroading why the traveler leaving England for the Continent should be forced to change cars between London and the Mediterranean. But it is not merely as a convenience to travelers that a ferry across the British Channel is urged. The economics effected in the moving of freight and especially of perishable goods would be enormous. Part land and part water traffic, with double loading and unloading is slow and expensive.

Bruce, McBean & Co., of Winnipeg, grain dealers, have resumed operations.

A VESSEL'S TONNAGE.

The Method of Figuring by Which It Is Ascertained

STANDARD IS FIXED BY LAW.

Our Government Recognizes Two Kinds of Tonnage, Gross and Net. Displacement, the Scale by Which Our Ships of War Are Described.

The vocabulary of the sea, always bewildering to landsmen, is crowded full of strange, technical jargon and of words of familiar meaning on shore which afloat contract a new and arbitrary significance. Take, for example, this matter of tonnage of shipping. On shore everybody knows that a ton is 2,000 pounds if a short ton or 2,240 if a long one. Therefore it seems to the landlubber that a 1,000 ton ship ought to be, if it is not, a ship which can carry a thousand tons weight of cargo. As a matter of fact, a thousand ton ship can probably convey about 1,300 or 1,400 tons of coal or heavy merchandise.

Yet the tonnage of shipping is not so arbitrary as it seems. It follows a fixed standard, established by national law. There are two kinds of tonnage recognized by our government authorities—gross tonnage and net tonnage. The gross tonnage of a vessel is its entire internal capacity measured in tons of 100 cubic feet, and the navigation laws of the United States prescribe in careful detail how this measurement for tonnage shall be ascertained. Net tonnage is measured by subtracting from the gross tonnage of a vessel all space used for the accommodation of officers and crew, for certain gear for the working of the ship and, if a steam vessel, for her propelling power or machinery, including boilers and engines.

In other words, the net tonnage of a ship is virtually the space, expressed in tons of 100 cubic feet, available for the carrying of passengers or cargo. In the case of sail vessels, from which no machinery space has to be deducted, the gross tonnage and net tonnage of a vessel are very nearly the same. But in steamers the two measurements are widely different. Take, for example, one of the largest of American merchant steamships, the American liner St. Louis. Her gross tonnage is 11,629, her net tonnage 5,894. So with the well known steamer Governor Dingley of the line from Boston to Portland. Her gross tonnage is 3,826, her net 2,856.

In all or nearly all of the ports of the world ship taxes or dues are based upon tonnage, in the United States upon net tonnage. This is also the standard of tolls for the Suez canal. As a result the effort of naval architects and shipbuilders and shipowners generally is to keep the net tonnage of a ship as small as possible, and many ingenious devices for "cheating measurement" have been adopted; designers of merchant vessels being as adept in this art as designers of racing yachts. But the navigation laws of the United States are exceedingly vigilant on this point and are regarded as fair and reasonable in their requirements, so that this evil of fraudulent tonnage is believed to be less serious under the flag of the United States than in the merchant navies of some other countries.

Landsmen may well be pardoned for their perplexity that tonnage, in the vernacular of the sea, should mean sometimes one thing and sometimes another. The navy department adds to the inevitable confusion by describing our ships of war in terms not of gross register or net register, but of displacement. Thus the Massachusetts is spoken of officially as a battleship of 10,300 tons and the Vermont as a battleship of 16,000 tons. This means in each case that the ship displaces so many tons of water. But the Massachusetts if measured as merchant vessels are measured would have a net tonnage of only 3,204 and would have to pay dues on that only if passing through the Suez canal. This practice of the navy department of using displacement tonnage instead of gross or net tonnage gives the public an exaggerated idea of the actual size of our ships of war. As a matter of fact, the greatest battleships we have fall short of the bulk of the mightiest of our merchantmen.

Again, another complexity as to tonnage arises in the cargo capacity of a merchant ship. Take, for example, a typical Boston steam freighter, the Lyra of the Boston Towboat company. Her gross tonnage is 4,417; her net, 3,516. But the Lyra has a capacity of upward of 5,000 tons dead weight of cargo.

These national measurements of shipping, though apparently arbitrary, are indispensable, for ships cannot be classified with any exactness on the basis of the tons of cargo they will actually carry. A ship which could receive and transport safely 5,000 tons of weight of pig iron would not hold 5,000 tons of hay or cotton. Therefore the governments of the world have had to prescribe measurement standards of their own, in which the great marine insurance companies have had a powerful hand. And the tendency is to bring these standards into more and more complete conformity.

Comforting to Her.

"Oh, my beautiful vase!" exclaimed Mrs. Hauskeep. "Oh, Bridget, that's the very worst thing you could have broken!"

"Faix, ma'am," replied Bridget, "I'm glad it wasn't the best."—Minneapolis Journal.

QUITE A NICE GAME.

Why the Girl Who Proposed It Lost Her Temper.

The other day Miss Fannie Lomer ran across the road to see an intimate friend. As is usual with young ladies, they had a good deal to tell one another. In the course of the conversation Fannie said:

"I used to think that Gus Simpson was a nice young man, but I just hate him now."

"Why, what has he done?"

"He's treated me shamefully."

"In what way?"

"Why, the other evening at a party I said to him: 'Let's play the old game of temptation. If I say "Yes" or "No" to your questions, I'll owe you a box of gloves, and if you say "Yes" or "No" you'll give me a box.'"

"Then what?"

"Well, after the party he took me home, and all the way there he talked as sweetly as could be about love and that men should not live alone, and all that. And when we got to the front gate he said, 'Fannie, I have waited for this opportunity a long time—will you marry me?' I whispered 'Yes' in a low voice, and"— (Here her sobs choked her voice).

"And what did he do then?" inquired her listener eagerly.

"He—just—chuckled and said, 'You have lost, Fannie; I take No. 9's,' then laughed with all his might. That's what he did."—London Answers.

A Tennyson Growl.

In Walter Crane's autobiography he gives an interesting picture of Tennyson. It was at a dinner party at the Rev. Stopford Brooke's and the poet was reading to the company his "Ballad of the Fleet" "in his deep, impressive voice in a way which reminded me of his own description in the 'Morte d'Arthur' of how the poet Everard Hall (which may have been himself)

"Read, mouthing out his hollow o's and a's, Deep chested music."

When the reading was finished and when the applause and gratitude of the small audience had subsided the laureate growled out, 'Yes, and to think that these wretched fellows of the nineteenth century gave me only $1,500 for it.'"

Marriage as a Failure.

There is more nonsense talked in the abstract about marriage as a failure than is talked about any other branch of the conduct of life. If a census on the subject could be taken I am sure it would be found that the majority of married people jog along very comfortably and are much happier in their united state than they possibly could have been had they remained unmarried. The number of divorces is usually quoted to prove that marriage is a failure, but what, after all, is the number of divorces in proportion to a population of many millions of married people?—Mme. Sarah Grand in London Chronicle.

Thoughtful.

Mrs. Greene—My husband is such a thoughtful man! He always goes down into the basement kitchen to smoke. Mrs. Gray—And lets the smoke come upstairs into the dining room through the dumb waiter. Mrs. Greene—Yes, but that's because he is absentminded, poor man! That has nothing to do with his thoughtfulness, you know.

Mixed.

Earnest Female—Professor, I hear you are a great ornithologist. Professor—I am an ornithologist, madam. Earnest Female—Then could you kindly tell me the botanical name for a whale?—Punch.

His Protest.

The milk dealer fined for selling a watered article protested. "Why," he exclaimed indignantly, "if I didn't water the milk half of my customers wouldn't get any."

The attitude of unhappiness is not only painful; it is mean and ugly.—James.

Didn't Half Try.

Father—How's this, Harold? I hear you have been as bad as you could be today. What have you got to say for yourself? Small Harold—Please don't believe all you hear, papa. I could have been a whole lot worse.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION
Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

CONSTIPATION

You have tried all kinds of pills, waters and cathartics for Constipation and Liver Complaint. Now Get the REAL Cure. Take NR Tablets and see how much better they are. See the difference in results. Their action is never attended by that all-gone-sick sensation—they make you feel better the minute you take them. They brace you up and put new life in you, make you feel stronger and better, because they are made to regulate the entire digestive system. One dose will convince you. Get a 25c. Box.

BETTER THAN PILLS FOR LIVER ILLS.

The A. H. Lewis Medicine Co., - - - St. Louis, Mo.

NR Nature's Remedy NR
REG. U.S. PAT. OFFICE
NR - TABLETS - NR

McDERMID & JURY, Druggists, Peterborough, Ont.

NIAGARA FALLS ON HUDSON.

Some Hazy Notions of Canada Which Britishers Are Losing.

A Canadian girl traveling in England writes of Old London in a style that is very readable. Especially realistic is her description of a ride through streets of the metropolis in a four-wheeler.

"The wonderful process," as she terms it, "of threading in and out among the streams of traffic gives one plenty of opportunities to become accustomed to the fact of being actually in the Metropolis. A four-wheeler is a comparatively slow vehicle, and we are often passed by other conveyances; the motor 'bus roars by, leaving a puff of dust and reminiscences of gasoline and oil; a coster boy with his barrow darts out—it seems—from under our very wheels, and disappears again (apparently), under other wheels. A graceful touring-car glides past in time to pass the cross-thoroughfare before the traffic is suspended for the moment. A hansom attempts to dash across in the wake of the motor, and at the warning gesture of the guardian of the peace, the horse is pulled back on its haunches, while, under the protecting authority of that autocrat of the street-corner, the party of waiting pedestrians sallies boldly forth to cross the street.

"How does a Canadian act, as a rule, when he is in London?

"Does he walk as though the streets belonged to him, and feeling himself a part of the order of things, or does he walk with the air of one absolutely overawed and feeling himself a stranger?"

"I should like to know if there is any prescribed line of action and feeling laid down for the Canadian in London. This is my fourth visit, and I fancy that the general atmosphere is more favorable towards Canada; it may be only an impression, but still it is there. English people know now the difference between the United States and Canada. That may sound rather ridiculous, but I assure you, that when I was in England two years ago, I found nothing so annoying, as for example, such a dialogue as the following:

"This is your first visit to England, Miss X——?"

"Yes."

"Everything here must seem very odd and conventional to an American, don't you think so?"

"But I am not an American—I am a Canadian!"

"Oh, but that's quite the same, isn't it?"

"But that is not all; a boy in the fifth form at Rugby asked me if the Niagara Falls were on the Hudson River. Some one else asked me if Yellowstone National Park was near where I lived in Canada, and if the weather was ever warm enough for us to leave off wearing fur coats.

"I had no end of fun with these questioners of mine, and told them that we passed herds of buffalo on the way to church; that we never expected to put our head out of the door in the morning without seeing an Indian—a red Indian in full war paint—looking at us from behind a birch tree; moreover, that the wolves generally howled around the house all night, and so on until I had them quite excited.

"I had the extreme pleasure of meeting the British press party which toured Canada this summer under the auspices of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., and I feel that their visit to the Dominion has been the veritable forging of another and yet stronger link between Canada and the Mother Country.

"The greatness of Canada has been appreciated by these writers to such an extent that the articles which have been appearing since their arrival home are ample proof of the value—both to Canada and England—resulting from the point of view expressed by a thoroughly intelligent and representative Englishman, refined and mellowed by the traditions of his own land, yet possessing that knowledge and enthusiasm which renders him appreciative of the strivings, attainments and possibilities of a powerful young country. Four articles of Mr. A. J. Dawson, of The Standard, entitled, 'Canada the Nation,' which appeared in The Standard early in October, are about the most comprehensive descriptions of the power and possibilities of the Dominion which you could ever wish to read. They would convince the most skeptical."

WED IN MID-STREAM.

Cowboy Elopes by Moonlight With His Indian Bride.

An elopement and marriage on horseback in the middle of the Red River, directly followed by a gunshot from ambush which wounded the bridegroom, was the experience of Joseph Anse, a Texas ranger and Miss Annie Bunts, a Choctaw Indian girl. The bullet shattered Anse's left arm.

Anse had courted the Indian maiden for six months. Clandestine meetings followed the objection of her father to Anse. He did not want her to marry outside of her own race.

Anse and the girl fled on horseback in the moonlight. A minister, waiting at the junction of the Red and Kimita rivers, performed the ceremony in mid-stream. The party wheeled their horses to continue on their way when a rifle shot rang out, and a bullet buzzed past the minister's face and pierced Anse's arm. The rifle was fired from the woods on the river bank.

Quick as a flash the ranger whipped his revolver from its holster and fired into the woods near the spot where the flash was seen. Fearful lest the would-be assassin might be one of her tribesmen, the bride tugged at her husband's sleeve until he consented to flee from the spot on the gallop.

The bridal party galloped to the nearest village, where Anse received surgical attention.

A Source of Revenue.

One of the sources of income to certain Burma provincial governments is the letting of rights to collect edible birds' nests in the northern and southern groups of the Moscos islands, in the Tavoy district.

Thought He Knew Him.

A laborer was engaged in the grounds of an asylum and received instructions to pay no attention whatever to the remarks of the patients.

Some little time after he commenced work the governor of the asylum, a well known doctor, looking at the progress of the work, mildly suggested one alteration. The workman dug steadily on and never lifted his head.

The doctor raised his voice, but the man, without answering, went on digging energetically. The doctor threatened, stormed and finally, thundered out:

"Do you know who I am?"

The laborer straightened his back, looked at him a minute and, shaking his head, sorrowfully exclaimed:

"Poor chap! I am sorry for ye," and went on calmly with his work.—London Express.

A Monster Spring.

No state in the Union has larger or more numerous springs than Florida. Many of them form good sized streams from the start, and some of them are navigable. The largest spring in the state, and one of the largest and probably the best known in the United States, is Silver spring, which is located six miles east of Ocala. This spring forms the source of the Oklawha river, a tributary of the St. Johns, and steamboats traversing the river enter the spring basin, which has an area of several acres. The water is from twenty-five to thirty feet deep and is wonderfully clear, appearing absolutely devoid of color.

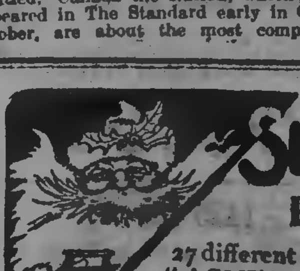
Etiquette Not Involved.

Mrs. Hendricks (the landlady)—Can I help you to some more soup, Mr. Dumley?

Mr. Dumley—No, thanks.

Mrs. Hendricks (engagingly)—Don't refuse, Mr. Dumley, because it isn't considered good form to be helped twice to soup. We're not particular people here.

Mr. Dumley—Oh, etiquette has nothing to do with it, madam. It's the soup.



Starr Skates For Christmas

27 different patterns—from the genuine "ACME" self-fastening skates, to the "VELOX" hockey and "TUBE RACERS" Made in a variety of styles, from the plain metal to gold and silver plated. There are Christmas gifts galore—for men and women, boys and girls—in Starr Skates.

Write for free copy of 1908 Skate Book so you can see all the new models.

The Starr Manufacturing Co., Limited
DARTMOUTH, N. S. CANADA. 23
BRANCH OFFICE - - - - - TORONTO, Ont.

Dye With Maypole Soap
Dye With Ease at Home
Dye With Sure Results

10c. for colors, 15c. for black.
Frank L. Benedict & Co., Montreal.
66

LOOK Warne's Prices on Patent Medicines are LOWEST YET.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Chase's Nerve Food, reg. 50c for	29c
Wampole' Tooth Paste, reg. 25c for	10c
108 Nox a Cold, reg. 25c for	15c
Gin Pills, reg. 50c, for	29c
Baby's Own Soap, for	8c
Cuticura Soap, regular 35c for	25c
Chase's Pills, reg. 25c for	15c
Dr. Williams Pink Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Eclectric Oil, Thomas, genuine	12 1-2c
Electric Oil, other than genuine Thomas	9c

See our large assortment of Xmas gifts at cut rate prices.

W. B. WARNE
345 GEORGE ST. Phone 527

Xmas Photos

Send a family group or the children's photos to your friends at Christmas. Nothing is appreciated more than such remembrances, from

MENDEL'S STUDIO

374 1-2 George St Entrance next Oke's

INTEREST PAID
QUARTERLY
—ON—
SAVINGS DEPOSITS of $1 and upwards
—THE—
BANK OF OTTAWA

Interest paid
February 28
May 31
August 31
November 30

PETERBOROUGH BRANCHES:
George Street, also
Corner Rubidge and Townsend Streets

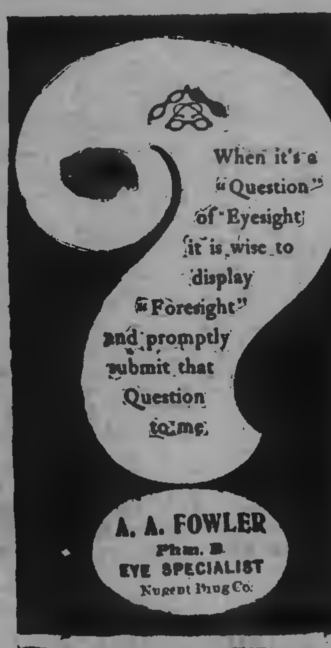
A. A. HOLLINGSHEAD, Mgr



When it's a "Question" of Eyesight it is wise to display "Foresight" and promptly submit that Question to me.

A. A. FOWLER
Phm. B.
EYE SPECIALIST
Nugent Drug Co.

ADAM'S
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
SALE OF——
Sample Silk Blouses and Fancy Neckwear

We have been fortunate in securing a manufacturer's lot of Sample Silk Blouses which had served their purpose as samples. We bought them at a fraction of their regular value and pass them on to our customers at less tnan the cost of making.

$3.25, $3.50, $4.00 $5.00 SILK BLOUSES FOR $2.38

4 dozen only, Sample Silk Blouses, White and Black, made of fine quality Japanese Silk, with allover embroidered fronts, lace and insertion trimmings, large and fine tucks, long and short sleeves. Regular values $3.25, $3 50, $4.00 & $5.0

Friday and Saturday Your Choice For $2.38

35c and 50c FANCY COLLARS FOR 25c

25 dozen beautiful new Silk Collars, the newest novelties for the Christmas trade—bought much less than regular value.

Friday and Saturday Your Choice For 25c

THIS IS A RARE SILK BLOUSE AND COLLAR BARGAIN EVENT WHICH YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS. THEY MAKE VERY SUITABLE CHRISTMAS GIFTS . . . .

Harry Adams

How the Residue of Nicholls Estate is Being Disposed of by the Trustees

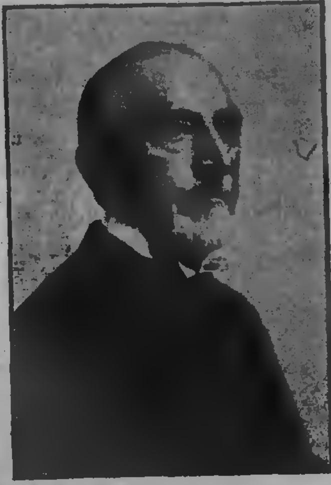
Endowment Fund of Nicholls Hospital Increased From $85,000 to $200,000, and $30,000 Granted for Extension of Present Building.

This Excellent Institution Will Now be Self Sustaining—How Peterborough Has Benefited by Benefactions of Mrs. Nicholls—Trustees of Estate Have Faithfully Administered it and Carried Out Her Wishes—Many Splendid Gifts to the City.

NICHOLLS ESTATE
For addition to Hospital Building	$30,000
Extra Donation to endowment fund of Institution	$115,000
Grant to the Protestant Home	$2,000

Once more does Peterborough and its institutions come in for consideration from the Nicholls estate which is now being wound up by the trustees.

Only this week a splendid building on Simcoe street, valued at $20 000, was handed over to the city by the trustees for a public library. This time—another institution—the Nicholls hospital receives a liberal grant.



MR. RICHARD HALL
One of the Trustees of the Nicholls Estate

Owing to the rapid growth of Peterborough extra accommodation will soon be required at the hospital and $30,000 has been specifically set aside for enlarging the structure.

Mrs. Nicholls. who during her life time founded and built the edifice at an outlay of about $35,000 and presented to the city, in her will bequeathed to the institution $85,000 for an endowment.

This sum has now been increased by the trustees, with the sanction of the Attorney-General of the Province, to $200,000, the extra $115,000 being granted this week. Another donation of $2,000 has been given the Peterborborough Protestant Home.

DETAILS OF DONATIONS.

At a meeting of the Nicholls Board held yesterday afternoon in the Dominion Bank, chambers the following letter which explains itself, was read:—

Peterborough, Dec. 6th, 1907.
The Board of Trustees,
Nicholls Hospital Trust,

Gentlemen,—The time having arrived for the final disposition of the residue of the Nicholls Estate, a scheme was recently submitted to the Honorable the Attorney-General of Ontario, and approved by him, by which, after making certain specific donations the Executors and Trustees proposed that the remainder should be given to the Nicholls hospital. Among the specific donations is the sum of $30,000 to be expended upon additional building for the hospital. The balance in the hands of the trustees largely consists of United States railway bonds, which, at present, have an abnormally low market value; consequently it has been suggested that these should be handed over to the Hospital Trust to be dealt with by that body; this suggestion has also been approved by the Honorable the Attorney-General.

I. therefore, have great pleasure in apprising you that I am now in a position to place in your hands, in addition to the sum of $30 000 for building, securities, which with the present endowment of $85,000 will give the hospital an endowment of about $200,000. This, with the income from patients and the grant from the Government, should make the hospital self-sustaining, a condition of affairs which will undoubtedly give the Board great pleasure.

I am sure you will rejoice with me that such a large sum is being added to the Endowment Fund of the hospital an object which all are aware was so dear to the late Mrs. Nicholls, the benefactress to whom our city owes so much.

I am, Gentlemen,
Yours faithfully,
(Sgd.) RICHARD HALL.
For Trustees Estate late Mrs. C. J. Nicholls.

TRUSTEES THANKED.

Needless to relate the trustees were warmly thanked by the Board for their decision as to how the residue of the estate should be disposed of.

Mrs. Nicholls took in the hospital great pride and interest, being anxious that the poor and suffering of Peterborough might receive treatment withing its walls without money and without price.

During the past twelve years the hospital has been carried on without a cent of cost to the city; the institution receiving no civic or personal grants whatever, although, by the act of incorporation of the Nicholls Hospital Trust, the Board is empowered to call upon the city each month to make up any difference between income and expenditure.

This has not been done, all deficits being made up out of the funds of the Nicholls estate. During the past 12 years the estate trustees have handed over to the Nicholls Hospital Board the sum of $35,000 for the purpose of wiping out any and all overdrafts.

THE NICHOLLS HOSPITAL

By the terms of the will $85,000 was as already stated, donated as an endowment. This haan ow been increased to $200,000. The interest from this augumented fund together with the income from patients and the Government grant, will make the institution self-sustaining—a most gratifying condition of affairs.

BENEFACTIONS IN WILL.

The public benefactions mentioned in the will of the late Mrs. Nicholls were:—

To churches, schemes of the churches and Sunday schools, $130,000.

To Nicholls hospital as an endowment, $85,000.

To Peterborough Protestant Home, $20,000.

To Peterborough Y.M.C.A, $30 000,

To Peterborough Public Library, $10,000.

For parks for the city, $80,000.

These bequests were in accordance with the terms of the will. Since the death of Miss Nicholls, the trustees of the estate, Messrs. Richard Hall, and C. McGill, have had large discretionary powers in the administration of it. They have faithfully and earnestly endeavored to carry out the intention and expressed wishes of the noble lady, who has been such a warm and true friend of the City of Peterborough.

A good many objects and institutions, of course, thought they should be remembered, but the trustees have to keep within bounds in the administration of the large estate, being restricted to such propositions as were mentioned in the will — hospitals, churches, public library, parks and charities—these being the schemes favored in the will.

HOW DISPOSED OF.

The trustees have increased the grants to parks from $60,000 to $80,000, and given, as already pointed out, $35,000 toward the maintenance of the Nicholls Hospital during the past twelve years. Other subsequent grants are;

Y.W.C.A.	$ 2,000
Y.M.C.A.	7,500
Additional for parks	20,000
Maintaining the hospital	35,000
Children's Aid Society	1,300
St. Paul's church......	3,000
St. Andrew's church	3,000
Knox church......	3,000
Public Library building	20,000
$300 each to the various Sunday schools	6,000
For addition to hospital uilding...	30,000
extra gran tto endowment fund of institution	115,000

To city lodges for benevolent purposes numerous small sums been granted, and the trustees deserve the thanks of the citizens for the conscientious and satisfactory manner in which the estate has been administered.

TOTAL DONATIONS.

The total amount of the donations to the city, its institutions and charities is about $609,000. This of course, does not include private legacies or numerous small benefactions.

SPLENDID BUILDINGS.

To the generosity and foresight of the late Mrs. Nicholls, Peterborough is indebted for the splendid Y.M.C.A. building, the new public library struc. on Simcoe street, the excellentlye equipped Nicholls Hospital and several attractive and well kept parks, such as the Nicholls oval, Inverlea and Jackson parks.

Peterborough is the richer and better from these grants, and in the winding up of this large estate, hundreds who have benefited by its disposition at the hands of the trustees, thankfully exclaim, "Well done."

LARGE DONATIONS.

Nicholls Hospital building, $35,000.
Twelve years' maintenance, $35,000.
Endowment fund, $200,000
Addition to building, $30,000.
Churches and schemes of the churches, $130,000,
Protestant Home, including $2,000 granted this week, $22,000.
Public Library, including building, $30,000.
Y.M.C.A, all told, $27,500.
City parks, $80,000.
Y.W.C.A. $2,000
Knox, St. Andrew's and St. Paul's chuches, $11,000.
Children's Aid Society, $1,300.
For Sunday School libraries, $6,000.

A large number of small bequests are not included in foregoing summary, besides various private legacies mentioned in this will, which aggregate a vast sum.

Peterborough honors the great and good woman to whose foresight, charity and generosity the city owes so much.

All honor to her memory and the good work done by the trustees by so faithfully, carefully and judiciously administering the great estate, and carrying out so worthily and well the wishes of the noble departed.

Very Promising Mine in Cobalt

One of the most promising mines of Cobalt is that situated about fifteen miles north-east of the town of Cobalt, and known as "The Casey Mountain Cobalt Mining and Developing Co., Limited." This property consists of ten claims of forty acres each, and is heavily mineralized, having at least twenty-five well defined veins traversing the entire property.

Three shafts have already been sunk one 112 feet deep ,another 40 feet, and another 20 feet. The first is the main shaft, and the one in which present operations are confined. At the fifty-foot level a drift has been made into the mountain 90 feet deep, and in this drift a tremendous lode or chimney of ore was encountered, carrying silver in values from 20 to 30 dollars per ton. It was thus decided to continue the main shaft, and from the 112 foot level a drift of fifteen feet was made, at which point the big lode was again encountered, onl ycarrying values 50 per cent richer, and the superintendent estimates that already 50,000 tons of ore are in sight, and, taking this block of ore at the low values of $20 per ton, would mean a value of 1,000,000 dollars, and he further states that this company can depend on this vein going down at least 2,000 feet, and is convinced that values will still surther increase with depth.

The company is at present negotiating with a firm regarding the purchase of a concentrating plant which firm guarantees to instal a plant with a capacity of 100 tons every 24 hours for the sum of $15,000, dollars and to save 95 per cent of silver values, also the coablt and nickle, and that only three men are required to operate it. By this process the ore will be reduced from twenty to one, that is, every twenty tons of ore put through the concentrator, only one ton will have to be shipped to the smelter to reduce the silver, thus making a great saving in freight charges.

The company has a low capitalization being only 250,000 dollars, the shares at present selling at one dollar each, and the directors are confident that they have one of the largest mining propositions in the Cobalt district.

The head office of this company is in Toronto, 210 Manning Chambers, Queen street west, from which place any further information desired may be obtained.

Ten Chatham youths were caught cock-fighting in a barn yesterday.

"It's Confidence That Does It"
WHITE & GILLESPIE

TO HOUSEKEEPERS:

Another Christmas will soon be here We can assure Housekeepers of both city and country that we are now ready to provide them with an abundance of the good things necessary for Christmas baking and cooking at enticing prices.

NEW FRUITS

Raisins, Currants, Figs, Prunes, Dates, Candied Peel, Extracts, Syrups, Molasses, Shelled Walnuts and Almonds, Sauces, Pickles, Spices, Sugars, Teas, Coffees, Flour, Biscuits, Cheese, Prime Butter, Fresh Eggs, Breakfast Cereals, etc.

336 GEORGE ST. Phone 208

The same big caste and stage effects used in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" as were used when presented at the "Grand" last New Year's Day. A whole car of special scenery.

OBITUARY

FUNERAL TOMORROW

The remains of the late Myles Froates who passed away in Yonkers, N.Y., arrived in the city last evening.

Funeral takes place tomorrow afternoon from Mr. A. Comstock's undertaking establishment to Little Lake cemetery.

Xmas Crackers, Xmas Table decorations, Xmas Bells, see window display.
R. A. Dutton.

Henry C. Cope, one of Ingersoll's oldest residents, is dead, aged 85,

ESTABLISHED 1873
UNDERWEAR BARGAINS
- - - - AT - - - -
LeBRUN'S

The cold weather did not catch us napping. We have laid in the largest stock of Underwear we ever had and are reducing the prices in every line to make quick selling.

SCOTCH WOOL, NATURAL WOOL, SILK and WOOL, WOLSELY HYGIENE FLEECE LINED

All sizes for men and boys, as high as 50 inches, and at prices, ranging from

25c to $3.50 per garment

Also FLANNELL SHIRTS, all colors, Blue, Black and Gray, with or without collars, are reduced in price.

Cardigan Jackets and Heavy Sweaters at close prices.

H. LeBrun & Co.
Two Entrances George and Hunter Sts.

Prominent S. A. Officer Coming

Brigadier Hargrave Will Conduct Meetings at Barracks To-morrow

Brigadier Hargrave, of Montreal officer for the Eastern Ontario Province of the Salvation Army, arrives in the city to-night and will have charge of the meeting at the barracks to-night and will also conduct the meetings to-morrow at 11 a.m. and 3 and 7 p.m. This is the first time in several months that the brigadier has been in Peterborough and everybody is cordially invited to hear him.

The government will send agents to England to advocate the advantage of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick for immigrants.

Photography

Amateur Supplies, Cameras, Souvenir Books, Post Cards and all kinds of high-grade Photography at W. G. LENDRUM'S, 170 Charlotte St. Agent for the celebrated Heintzman & Co's Pianos.

XMAS CHEER
CENTRAL LIQUOR STORE
141 HUNTER STREET

Brandies, Port and Sherry Wines, St. Augustine, Native Port, also the highest grade Scotch Whiskies to be found in Peterborough.

Something good in Rye, namely:—
MITCHELL'S SPECIAL RYE WHISKY
Quality the best in Peterborough and a little better.

Remember the place
The Old Reliable Liquor Store
F. J. R. MITCHELL

Porter's Delicatessen
CUT RATE GROCERY STORE

Black Tea, 3 lbs	.50
Select Raisins 3 lbs	.20
Cooking Figs, 4 lbs	.25
Mince Meat, 3 lbs......	.20
Dates, 3 lbs............	.25
Washing Soda, 3 lbs....	.05
Tomatoes, per tin	.10
Beans, Peas, Corn, per tin	.08
3 bottles Pickles........	.25
3 bottles Ketchup......	.25
Cross Fish Brand Sardines 2 tins for............	.25
Potatoes, per pk........	.15
Apples, per pk	.10

COMMON SENSE GIFTS

If you want to make two families genuinely happy this holiday season, try giving the old cook stove that has given you years of service, to some needy household, and present the good wife with a

PANDORA RANGE

You will thus make two homes happy, especially your own, where the great comfort of using the Pandora Range will be greatly appreciated.

ADAMSON & DOBBIN
NEW BRICK BLOCK—SIMCOE STREET

THE DAYLIGHT STORE
DOLLARS FOR YOU
At Our Own Money-Saving Sale

There are dollars waiting for you here. Come in and get them. We'll cut them off the prices of our Clothing and Furnishings.

The wise man who has his eye on his pocket book will now get busy and buy all the wearables he can use. Don't wait too long. This Sale will soon end.

MEN'S SUITS of fine English and Scotch Tweed, beautifully lined in both single and double-breasted style, were up to $14 and $15, for 11.90

MEN'S OVERCOATS—Heavy English Overcoatings in Kersey and Tweeds, with wool and Italian linings; worth $12 and $13, for 9.90

MEN'S UNDERWEAR in heavy all wool, double-breasted, worth regular $1.00, for.............. 69c

Braces, Gloves, Hosiery, Ties, Handkerchiefs, etc., all at bargain prices.

There's a constant flow of bargains from our great sale. Now is the time to clothe up every member of the family, large or small. Remember it is always "Money back if you want it" when you buy here.

LANG & MAHER, CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW
409-411 George St., Peterborough

FALL AND WINTER COATS

An Exhibition of Fashionable Models

This assemblage of Women's Coats for Fall and Winter authoratatively represents the newest fashionable effects in outer garments. They are tailored in a faultless manner—perfectly cut and fitted, giving a decided modish appearance, The materials are new, plain cloths, velvets, caraculs, fancy mixtures. Excellence of quality abounds in all other fabrics.

Embraced are imported models and the latest and newest Canadian effects. Individual beauty characterizes each garment. The charm of these Coats is enhanced by the unusual lowness of their prices. We trust you will ascertain in person the excellence of these offerings.

CLOTH COATS

High-grade imported models of extra fine quality Broadcloth in black and colors. Navy Blue, Brown and Green. Principally the seven-eighth length, tourist style. Some are semi-fitting, others fitted, stitched strapping of sel forming panels back and front. Others with fancy braids and full ripple skirt. Splendid value at $15, $18, $25, $30, $40

VELVET COATS

Handsome three-quarter length imported models; full ripple back, trimmed with silk braid down the front and back; lined throughout with fine quality black satin. Extra special value at $35.00

CARACUT COAT

New three-quarter length models; also short pony effect with trimmings of broadcloth straps and braid on collars and cuffs; large kimona sleeve. These garments must be seen to be appreciated. Prices from $15.00 up to $35.00

TWEED COATS

All the latest and newest effects in Tweed coats, 7/8 lengths, broad shoulders full backs, splendidly tailored and trimmed with self strappings; new full sleeves. Special value at $15.00 up to $25.00

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED

353 AND 355 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

STORE OPENS AT 8 A. M. CLOSES AT 6 P. M., EXCEPT SATURDAY

FOR FINE

Lemons, Oranges
Malaga Grapes
Bananas

and all kinds of fruit and vegetables try

MINOCOLO BROS.

Wholesale and Retail.
Both Phones 337.

FRAMED VIEWS

In COLORED SEPIA and BLACK : : : : :

FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

THE ROY STUDIO

Ask for Roy's Famous Souvenir Post Cards

PERSONAL

Mr. Bert Kindred returned from Western Canada yesterday, after spending three years there in the pursuit of agriculture.

Rev. Robert Pogue, the new pastor of St. Paul's church, will preach at both services to-morrow. Rev. Dr. Tailing will conduct the Bible class at 3 p.m.

Mr. Chas. Tucker, who has been ill in Dr. Caven's private hospital, Toronto, has returned home again. His many friends will be pleased to learn that he is improving daily.

Miss Helen Coleman, assistant superintendent of Nicholls Hospital, has resigned. She will leave in a few days for Fernie, B.C., where she will take a position in the hospital of that town.

PLEASURE REALIZED

They pleasure every house keeper realizes in using the Crescent Brand of Raisins, Currents and pure Spices with the special prepared Pastry Flour in cooking is only surpassed by the triumphs of the cook's art made from these select goods.

E. F. MASON CO., LTD

∴CHRISTMAS∴

is coming soon and you will be face to face with that perplexing question

WHAT SHALL I BUY FOR A PRESENT?

We are ready and willing to solve it for you easily and at a small expenditure of time and money. Here you will find the most beautiful 1907 designs in gold and silver goods. Designs and prices that cannot be found elsewhere.

SCHNEIDER'S

RELIABLE JEWELLERS, 391 GEORGE STREET

THE CITY AND VICINITY

EVENTS TO-NIGHT

Garnd Opera House— "The Dutchman's Honeymoon."

FUR LINED COATS

We clean and press them and guarantee no injury to the fur. My Valet, 304 Charlotte street. All goods called for and delivered. dtf

CHRISTMAS CAKE.

Best of fruit, choicest of flavorings and perfection of baking, makes Elliott's Christmas cake the finest to be had. Leave orders now. Iced as desired. dtf

AN OPPORTUNITY.

Do you need help, male or female? Have you rooms to let, house to rent or sell, or are boarders wanted? Have you anything to sell and can't find a buyer? Try a Review want ad. it will go everywhere at triflying cost.

MAKE CALENDARS.

Why not make calendars? They are pretty cheap and always acceptable. We have pictures in sepia and colors, fancy embossed cards and dainty calendar pads in many designs. See them at the Review office. 2d

ATTENTION! ATTENTION!

The C.P.R. Atlantic Steamship Line have chartered the twin screw steamer "Cassandra," to sail from West St. John, Dec. 24th, Will carry only second cabin passengers. Rates, $35.00, $37.00 and $42.50, from St John to London direct, and land passengers in ample time to reach their homes for Christmas. For tickets and all information see W. McIlroy, agent, 342 George street. 2d

FINE PICTURE FRAMING.

New mouldings, good work, reasonable prices. J. M. GREENE Music Co., George street. dtf

A PRACTICE.

The singers in Stainer's "Daughter of Jairus," will meet on Sunday evening after service in St. John's school.

CIVIC NOTES.

The city council meets on Monday night. A meeting of the charity board will also be held.

MEETINGS POSTPONED.

The regular weekly meetings of the Reading Club of the Woman's Art Association, have been postponed until January 6th.

CLOSED FOR REPAIRS

The Standard Chemical Company's works at the Falls are closing down this week for extensive repairs. As new resorts are to be put in, it is unlikely that the manufacture of chemicals will be resumed before spring. The rumor that the works were to be removed from the Falls is without foundation.—Fenelon Falls Gazette.

TAKE NOTE

Of our fine line of Violins, Mandolins, Guitars, etc. Some excellent values, and within easy range for the Xmas trade. Special prices to Old Santa Claus. J. M. GREENE Music Co., Grand opera house building, George street. dtf

ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

Belleville Daily Ontario: The need of an isolation hospital is generally recognized, but there is no occasion for a large and costly structure, such as has been talked of by the Board of Health and the Council. The city owns a number of lots east of the circus ground, where an excellent site could be selected, and a building to cost from $1500 to $2,500 would be sufficient for all requirements.

NAMES WERE OMITTED.

In the list of merchants and others whom the ladies of All Saints' church wish to thank for assistance given at the recent Industrial Sale, the names of Peter Connal, Alexander and Millar and the Peterborough Light & Power Company were omitted. Alexander & Miller did the electric wiring free of charge, and the Light & Power Company furnished the light.

A SECTION JUST

A commercial traveller, who makes frequent trips to the West from New York, is on friendly terms with the porter of the sleeping car, who rejoices in the name of Lawrence Lee. 'Well, Lawrence," announced the salesman, gleefully, "I have good news for you. We've had a birth in our family, twins." "George. Dat am no birth, sir," said Lawrense, "dat's a section."

XMAS CANTATA.

The children of St. John's Sunday School met this morning at 10 a.m. to practice their Christmas cantata, "Story of a Star." Mr. R. J. Devey conducting, with Miss Margaret English at the piano. The next rehearsal will be in the school room on Tuesday next in the schoolroom at 4.15 p.m. The cantata will probably be given on Friday, Dec. 27th, in the school room.

Like all other "Shipman" attractions, "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" is a dramatic treat for theatre-goers. "Grand" Monday night.

Reception to the New Pastor

Will be Held in St. Paul's Church on Monday Night

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's church held a regular meeting yesterday and made arrangements for the reception to be tendored the new pastor, Rev. Mr. Pogue, and wife, on Monday evening next. Tea will be served in the Sunday school room from 6.30 to 7.30 o'clock, while there will be addresses of welcome and a programme of music in the church.

Smoker Will be Held on Thursday

At Young Conservative Club Rooms—A Fine Programme

The first of the season's series of club smokers—which were so successful last year—will be given on Thursday of next week, the 12th inst, at 8 p.m., in the Young Conservative Club rooms.

For that evening the club has a most attractive programme. The late President, Mr. J. H. Burnham, has kindly consented to come down and give a reading from Dickens, "A Christmas Carol," and from Thompson-Seton's "Lives of the Hunted." There will be a good programme of songs, etc., which will be announced later.

The public are cordially invited. It should be said that these smokers are altogether non-political and the club will extend a hearty welcome to Mr. Burnham's many friends, irrespective of their politics.

A new Methodist church, to cost $10,000, is proposed in New Liskeard.

Mr. Baul, of London, is the new principal of the Delhi public school.

SANTA CLAUS
ON HIS WAY TO ROUTLEY'S

STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING

Goods are Pouring in--Our customers are Now Buying for Xmas

300 Dressed Dolls, reg. 25c, choice .... .14
375 China Tea Sets, regular 50c .... .25
25 Crokinole Boards, regular 1.25 .... .59
60 Leather Case Silk Lined Ebony Manicure Case, regular 2.50 for 1 50
20 only Military Brush Sets, Stirling Silver Mounted, regular 1.25 pair for .... .74
15 cases Children's Plated Knife, Fork and Spoon, with pearl handles, reg. 2.00 1 24

You will find that our clerks are attentive and that prices arreliable watch closely our buying as we know goods well bought are half sold a

TORONTO
262-4 QUEEN W
ROUTLEY'S
PETERBORO'
379 GEORGE ST

St. Andrew's Ladies Elected Officers

Ladies Aid Society Has Had a Most Successful Year

A very interesting part of the St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid Society meeting Friday afternoon, was the presentation of a life membership in the Woman's Home Missionary Society, to Mrs. T. C. Elliot, who has so ably presided over the work of the Ladies' Aid Society for the past three years. The Auxiliary in St. Andrews is popularly known as the Elizabeth Bell Auxiliary of the Woman's Home Mission Society.

The president, Mrs. T. C. Elliot, was in the chair, until the new officers were elected as follows:—

Pres.—Mrs. J. L. Robinson.
Vice-Pres.—Mrs. A. McFarlane.
Secretary—Mrs. Frank Atkinson.
Assistant Secretary—Mrs. C. McClennan.
Treasurer—Mrs. R. J. McWilliams.
Organist—Mrs. I. W. F. E. Davidson.

The society meets on the third Friday of each month.

MISSION BAND SALE A SUCCESS

The Mission Band sale at George Street church last night was a most successful event. It was held in the Sunday School room, which was prettily decorated, and the different booths were veritable bowers of beauty. Everything sold radily, and the proceeds were gratifying. Great credit is due those in charge, and the officers of the Mission Band, all of whom worked hard for the success of the undertaking. The following were the ladies in charge of the different departments;

Japanese tea room—Misses May Elliott, Lillian Morrow, Laura Edwards, Frances Thewlis, Lillian and Ruth Carlyle. They were dressed in Japanese costumes, and made a charming appearance.

Handerchief table — Misses Olive Maguire and Mabel Chasty.

Apron table—Mrs. H. P. Lindsay and Mrs. Bathray.

Dolls, toys, etc.—Misses Ethel Goodfellow and G. Allison.

Post card table—Misses Irene Booth, Mildred Micks and Marjorie Mann.

Candy department—Misses H. Dobbin, Violet Stevens and Mazie Armstrong.

The officers of the Mission Band, Miss Butcher, president, and Miss Davis, secretary, deserve great credit, also the superintendent, Mrs. Mann.

The Band wishes to return thanks to A. W. Cressman, R. J. Soden and C. B. Routley for courtesies extended.

Mr. Eddie Mann made an efficient auctioneer.

A special meeting of Court Chemong 530, I. O. F., will be held this Saturday evening at Madill's Drug Store at 8 p. m. to make arrangements for the funeral of our late Bro Miles Froates. Wm. Miles, Chief Ranger; J. W. Buyers, Rec. Sec. 1d

"At Home" Was Most Delightful Event

Over seventy-five couples were present at the Octagon club dance in the Conservatory of Music hall last evening. The event was one of the most enjoyable of the season and great credit is due the promoters, Messrs. E. A. Ford, B. Gillespie, C. Ross Cameron, W. E. Hillhouse, C. Baker, M. Moore, F. Sawers and Mr. W. Graham Ferguson, secretary. The music was supplied by Mr. Musgrove, of Toronto, whose piano playing left nothing to be desired. The catering was done by Mr. T. H. Hooper and was of unusual excellence. The patronesses were Mesdames James Hamilton, Roland Denne, S. Dickson Hall, Cyril Currier, F. L. Roy and H. Thompson.

FUNERAL NOTICE

The members of Court Chemong 530, I. O. F. are requested to meet at the S. O. E. hall at 2 p. m. to attend the funeral of our late Bro. Miles Froats, on Sunday Dec. 8th at 3 p. m. The funeral takes place from Comstock's undertaking rooms to Little Lake Cemetery. Wm. Miles, Chief Ranger; J. W. Buyers, Rec Sec. 1d

Presentation to Mr. J. E. Carscallen

At the regular meeting of J W Bell Memorial L.O.L. No. 1,175, the following officers were elected for the year 1908;—

W M—H T Everett.
D M—J E Carscallen.
Chaplain—H Smith.
Rec.—R E Juby.
Fin.—Jas. Garside.
Treas—G E Williamson.
Dir. of Cer.—A. McDonald.
1st Lec.—A E Bartley.
2nd Lec.—Boyd McMullen.
1st Com—Wm Maxwel.
2nd Com—Everett Rombough.
3rd Com—U. Hawley.
4th Com—Wm Butler.
5th Com—Wm. T. Henry.

After the election the officers were installed by Bro. A. Robson, District Master.

An interesting feature of the evening was the presentation of a past master's jewel to Bro. J. E. Carscallen. Addresses were made by County Master W. H. G. Armstrong, Bros. A. Robson, district master, and others, all referring in eulogistic terms to Bro. Carscallen's faithful service in the interests of the order.

THE
BEEHIVE
The Ladies' Big
Ready-to-wear Store

We show a great variety of Children's Dresses for winter wear—strong, durable dressy and attractive. All sizes—made up in all the latest cloths, from 75c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $3.00, $4.00 $5 00, Etc., Etc.

Children's Dressy Coats in long and short lengths, in all the new cloths—dainty and comfortable, from $1.00

gradually up

Babies Cashmere Cloaks tastily embroidered with silk, in long and short lengths. See our special values at $3.75

We have all the new styles and latest lengths in Perrin's Kid Gloves.

Register now for the February free embroidery classes.

THE
BEEHIVE
The Ladies' Big
Ready-to Wear Store

ALL THINGS ARE NOW READY

GEORGE R. RECORD

PRACTICAL
FRENCH DRY CLEANER AND PRESSER

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments and Household Articles cleaned and guaranteed not to fade color or shrink any material. Charges moderate. Goods called for and delivered. Telephone 689.

NEW BRICK BLOCK, 173 SIMCOE ST.
Only Complete Dry Cleaning Plant in City

SAVE YOUR FURS

AND

FUR-LINED COATS

by having them cleaned by the

FRENCH DRY CLEANING

process, which kills all moths and does not injure in the slightest, the finest furs. This is very important at this season, and may mean the saving of the expense of buying new furs. None too fine for the process.

Dyeing, Cleaning, Pressing, and Reparing promptly and thoroughly done at

PARKER'S DYE WORKS

R. M. BEACH
PROPRIETOR.
Phone 250 177 Charlotte St

LADIES, CUT THIS OUT

Dr. Cristion's
FRENCH TOILET ARTICLES
Have been placed on sale with
Miss E. Smith
567 GEORGE STREET
MANICURING, SHAMPOOING
SCALP TREATMENT and FACIAL
MASSAGE SKILFULLY DONE
Appointments made. Mach. Phone 13

Money is Not Tight

On some of the property propositions we can offer you. We have some pretty locations where situation, price and terms are all to suit. Low priced houses, some of them brick and on good lots, $850 up

$1,000—Village store near the city, no competition. A good thing.
$1,600—Large modern, good looking brick house, south, city.
$2,300—Very profitable apartment house renting to small families.
$1,800 and $2,350—Nice brick house, modern conveniences, well situated.
$3,000—Brick dwelling, stable, etc.; also some building lots. Just suit a retired farmer
$2,350 to $4,800—Beautiful residences on Gilmour, Homewood Ave., Weller, King, Water Sts, etc.

If you are thinking of going West we can show you something good in lands in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, with return ticket for selection trip. Farms for sale. Houses to rent.

BELL & TAYLOR
Real Estate. Fire Insuranc
Office—376 Water Street.
Office Phone—498B House Phone 547B

HOCKEY SKATES

From 75c to $5.00

Skates repaired and sharpened.
General machine work.

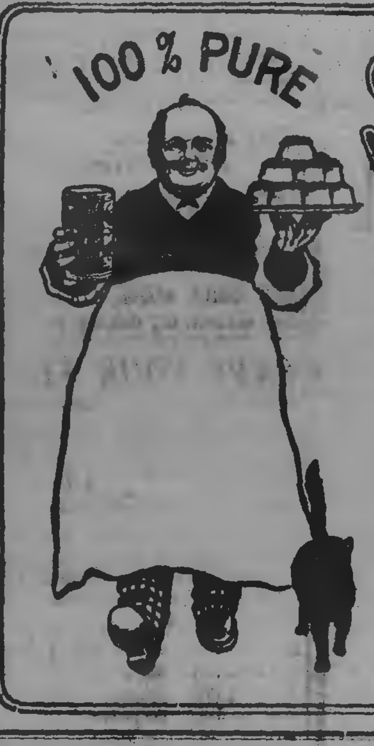
METHEREL'S CYCLE WORKS
225 Hunter Street

ESTABLISHED 1879

J. R. HEINTZ & CO.
STOCKS, GRAIN,
COTTON, COFFEE

J. N. BARBER, Manager
Phone 529

THE
DOMINION BANK
PAYS SPECIAL ATTENTION TO
SAVINGS ACCOUNTS
INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY
JOHN CRANE Manager
Corner George and Simcoe Sts.



St. George's Baking Powder
Makes Light, White Biscuits
Cake & Pastry.

The Services In The Churches On Sunday

St. Peter's Cathedral

At St. Peter's Cathedral there will be three masses celebrated—at 8.00 a.m., low mass; children's mass at 9.15 a.m.—High mass at 10.30; Vespers at 7 p.m., with sermon.

St. John's (Anglican)

Rev. Canon Davidson, M.A., rector. 2nd Sunday in Advent. 8.30 a.m. Holy Communion. 11 a.m., Morning Prayer and sermon. 3 p.m., Sunday school and Bible class. 7 p.m., Evensong and sermon.

All Saint's Church

(Anglican) Cor. Rubidge and Sherbrooke streets. Rev. W. Major, rector. 2nd Sunday in Advent. 11 a.m. morning prayer, Litany and sermon. 3 p.m. Sunday school and Bible class. 7 p.m., Evensong and sermon. The subject of Rev. Mr. Major's sermon in the evening will be the "Signs of the Times."

St. Luke's (Anglican)

(Anglican) East side.—Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, M.A., rector, 2nd Sunday in Advent. 8 a.m., Holy Communion. 11 a.m., Morning Prayer and Sermon. 3 p.m., Sunday school and Bible class. 7 p.m. Evensong and sermon. Week night service Wednesday at 8. Rev. A. L. Reed will preach at the morning service and the Rector at the evening service will preach the second sermon of his series on "Strong Foundations," the subject being "Christ." The Brotherhood of St. Andrew are reminded of to-morrow being their communion Sunday.

St. Paul's Presbyterian

The new pastor of St. Paul's church, Rev. Robert Pogue, will preach at both services to-morrow.

Knox Presbyterian

Rev. H. J. Keith will occupy the pulpit at both services at Knox church to-morrow.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian

Rev. J. G. Potter, the pastor, will preach at both services in St. Andrew's church to-morrow. In the morning he will preach on "Caleb the man of Vision." The following music will be rendered to-morrow:—Morning service, Sanctus, "Holy, Holy, Holy."; anthem, "O, Taste and See," by Sir John Goss; solo, "Shepherd Divine," by Ollerenshaw, Mrs. Davidson. Evening service, anthem, "Lead kindly Light," Dudley Buck; solo, "Abide with Me," by Torrington, Mr. Freeland.

George Street Methodist

Rev. E. A. Pearson will preach at both services at George street Methodist church to-morrow. In the evening he will close his series of sermons on a young man's life preaching on "Success." In the afternoon the Men's Social Bible class, conducted by the pastor, meets at 2.30 o'clock.

Charlotte Street Methodist

Rev. H. M. Manning, will preach at Charlotte street Methodist church tomorrow at both services.

Mark Street Methodist

Rev. Mr. Butler, of Omemee, will preach at both services at Mark-st. church to-morrow. Rev. Mr. Coon will preach missionary sermons for Mr. Butler on the Bethel circuit.

Murray Street Baptist

Rev. J. R. Webb will occupy the pulpit at both services at Murray-st. church to-morrow.

Park Street Baptist

Rev. A. H. Brace, pastor. Special sermons for to-morrow. 11 a.m., subject, "The Warrior in Armour." 7 p.m. subject, "More Processes than Gold." Sunday school and Bible class at 3. Subject "Ruth's Choice." Sunday a.m. prayer meeting at 10.45. Sunday p.m., song service, 6.45, Monday B.Y.P.U, Young people in charge, Wednesday public service, pastor in chair. All seats free, hymn books provided.

Gospel Hall

Mr. R. Irving, of Belleville and Mr. F. May, of Bancroft, will conduct the evangelistic meeting to-morrow night at seven. All welcome.

Bethany Tabernacle

Pastor and Mrs Steurenagel will have charge of the services both morning and evening. The public generally is cordially invited.

Salvation Army Barracks

Simcoe street. —Staff Captain Goodsey, assistant. Sunday meetings 7 a.m. prayer meeting; 11 a.m. holiness meeting; 3 p.m. free and easy; 7 p.m. salvation meeting. All are welcome.

Nearly 300 Permits Have Been Issued Since April

Estimated Value of Buildings Completed or Under Way is $767,546

SYSTEM WORKS SATISFACTORILY

May Was the Biggest Month of the Year—Some Interesting Figures

Since the building permit system was introduced in Peterborough, near the close of last April, 293 permits have been issued, with an estimated value of $767,546. During the past few weeks there have been few permits issued, and the amount of those issued between now and the first of this year is not likely to be material. There is little doubt but that the amount of building under way this year is considerably larger than in any past year, but this is largely due to the fact that several large public buildings are under way in Peterborough at the present time. The new Armory, Collegiate Institute, Normal School and new Roman Catholic Church are among the larger structures under way at the present time and upon which work was started this year.

It is interesting to look at the permits issued during the different months. It was the closing days of April when the system came into effect, and as a result only two permits were issued during that month. May was easily the busiest month of the year as far as the issuing of permits was concerned. 134 being taken out, with an estimated value of $538,635, or about 70 per cent. of the total for the year. The permits for the new Armory, Collegiate Institute and Normal School were all taken out during May. Outside of May, October was the biggest month, the permit for the new Catholic Church, valued at $56,000 running up the amount for that month.

ALD. A. A. McINTYRE
Father of the Building Permit System in Peterborough.

During the year there was only one man who took out a permit and later returned it, having decided not to build, as he had intended.

The building permit system enables the public and the civic officials to know the extent of the building going on in the city, and is proving very satisfactory.

Below will be found the total number of permits issued during the year and the value, along with the number and value for each month:

	No. of Permits.	Value.
April	2	$ 2,425
May	134	538,635
June	42	55,678
July	21	20,790
August	20	18,090
September	33	42,370
October	28	78,643
November	8	8,325
December	5	1,990
	293	$767,546

SUBSCRIBERS PLEASE NOTICE

Readers, whose street number has been lately changed, will confer a favor if they will notify this office so that the correction can also be made on our list. tf

Annual Meeting at Young's Point

Cheese Factory Has Had Good Year—Secretary's Report

The annual winding-up meeting of the patrons of the Young's Point cheese factory was held on Friday afternoon, Nov. 29th, and was largely attended by those interested. The secretary's report was read, which showed that the season just closed had been a most successful one.

Following is the report:—

No lbs. milk received—807,327.

No lbs. cheese made—74,562.

Average price of cheese per lb.—11.72c.

No. lbs. milk to 1 lb. cheese—10.84

Price per standard of milk to patrons—29.04.

Price of whey—$240.23.

Interest—$10.47.

Total value to patrons—$7,831.89.

Gross value—$8,831.44.

A. A. SMITH,
Secretary.

PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR GUELPH

On account of the Provincial Winter Fair the Grand Trunk Railway System will issue return tickets at single first class fare from all stations in Ontario, Kingston and West to Guelph, Ont. Good going Dec. 7th to Dec. 13th. Valid for return until Monday, Dec. 16th, 1907. Full information may be obtained from any Grand Trunk Ticket Agent.

PERSONAL

Mr. H. W. Conny, of Toronto, is in the city.

Mrs. R. F. McWilliams will not receive again until January.

Mr. H. W. Stroud, of Montreal, was in the city yesterday, the guest of Mr. Wm. Stroud.

Mrs. S. Eugene Salls will receive at her home, 21 Scott street, on Thursday, December 12th, and afterwards on the second and fourth Thursdays.

Rev. P. B. Thornton, B.A., of Toronto, who has been the guest of his cousin, Mr. Wilbert Thornton, Rubidge street, for a few days, has returned home. Mr. Thornton is a Presbyterian minister, and at the beginning of the new year, will take charge of a church in Colborne.

Mrs. R. M. Denniston was the charming hostess at a smart luncheon yesterday. Covers were laid for fourteen at a table artistically arranged with white 'mums, the guests being Lady McMillan, Lady Schultz, Mrs. H. H. Smith, Mrs. W. Tupper, Mrs. A. W. Ross, Mrs. Denison, Mrs. Whyte, Mrs. Coombs, Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Alloway.—Winnipeg Free Press.

WEALTH FROM FARMING

PROSPERITY DUE TO IMPROVED SYSTEM OF AGRICULTURE.

Wheat Not Only Source of Profit—Mixed Farming Now the Rule—Feeding Grain to Cattle Not Waste—Live Stock Fetches High Price—Winter the Time For Money-Making.

Too few people understand the real sources of wealth. These are largely the products of the farm. The prosperity which we have enjoyed for a decade has been largely due to good crops, but it has been due in a much greater degree to an improved system of agriculture. Some years ago the Canadian farmer looked upon wheat as his only source of profit. He grew a few other things, mostly for his own use, but his thoughts, his calculations were all for wheat — it was his fetich. He lived practically on his credit all year round until harvest time. If the wheat crop was good all was well. If it failed he was in hard case for another year. The wheat was his only resource. But during the past few years, through the work of farmers' institutes and agricultural colleges and the stimulus given to observation and experimental work by an increase of the reading habit on the farm, the business of agriculture has been revolutionized, especially in Ontario. "Mixed farming" is now the rule. The farmer does not put all his eggs in one basket. He grows various crops and he pays much more attention than formerly to raising stock. He aims to have some sort of product ready for market every month in the year. If one source fails he has another—one that will bring the ready cash when it is needed. It took him a long while to learn that it is often more profitable to feed grain to cattle, which in prime condition will bring a high price, than to sell it by the bushel at a low figure. And it took him still longer to cultivate the courage to put his knowledge into practice. But he has done it. Mixed farming has probably had more to do with the prosperity which we have enjoyed than anything else. This unusual prosperity has made it possible for certain smart non-producing manipulators of stocks and of such commodities whose value depends almost solely upon the attitude of the public mind to evolve a crazy system of "finance." We have just seen the result. But the real sources of wealth are unimpaired, and all the coming winter the farmer will be effectively working them. Now, as that cheerful writer, "The Khan," observes, "winter is the time when this country makes her money. Winter is the time when she fattens her stock and gets out her cordwood, and pulpwood, and sawlogs, and ties, and timber, when she hauls her stone and gravel."

WOMAN DETECTIVE'S COUP.

Traced Alleged Brass Thief to Montreal by Clever Trick.

Salmon Herman of Cleveland was recently taken back from Montreal to Cleveland to face a charge of receiving thousands of dollars' worth of brass stolen from the National Tube Co.

The return marks a signal triumph for a young woman, Mrs. Dan Muckler, 2,537 Scoville avenue, Cleveland, employed by a local detective agency, who succeeded in locating Herman, and having him arrested, after dozens of detectives and secret service men had spent months of time and thousands of dollars in a search for him that failed.

She went to Lorain, where representing herself as being a fugitive from justice, she won the confidence of Herman's wife. One day Mrs. Herman came to her. "I can't write the English," she said, "Will you address a letter for me?"

It was the address, under an assumed name, of the man she had been looking for. She wrote the required words calmly, though she knew that she was at last on the trail of the man. She hurried to Montreal. At Montreal Herman was working in a car shop under the name of Cohen. Mrs. Muckler recognized him from the descriptions she had.

"Hello, Salmon Herman!" she said.

"Hello," said Herman, staring at her wonderingly.

It was the end of the great search. The story of the pursuit reads like a chapter from Sherlock Holmes. The National Tube Co., a subsidiary concern of the United States Steel Co., had been missing small loads of brass from its Lorain plant for months. For a long time no clue existed. Then some of the booty was unearthed in a Cleveland junk shop.

Chinese Head Tax.

If a decision given by the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia in the case of the Chinamen who were smuggled into Cape Breton a few weeks ago is sustained, Celestials who have been paying $500 head tax on entering Canada will be kicking themselves that they did not sooner seek the arbitrament of the law courts. The Chinamen were arrested in Cape Breton on arrival from Newfoundland charged with non-payment of the head tax. On argument before the court, Mr. O'Connor, for the accused, claimed that no offence was committed in the nonpayment of the tax, which could be sued for. The court quashed the conviction, holding in effect that it was no offence for a Chinaman to enter Canada, that he could not be arrested for the nonpayment of the head tax, but could be sued in a civil action therefor, his case being analogous to that of a commercial traveler who entered a municipality where a special tax was imposed.

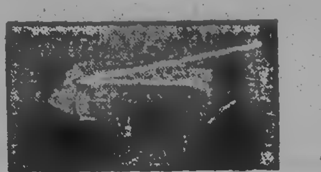
Mr. Justice Drysdale dissented from the majority of the court, holding that the clear intention of the act was to prevent Chinamen entering Canada except upon payment of $500 head tax.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c

AT THE HOME OFFICE

On account of the illness of an optician in Orillia, Dr. Browett has cancelled appointments and is pleased to announce that he will be continuously at his home office until after Xmas. Appointments for eye examination are being made daily at our store.
P. S. This store will hereafter be open until ten o'clock every night and appointments for eye examinations can be made until that hour.

McDERMID & JURY, Druggists, Peterboro.



IMMIGRATION RETURNS.

Great Increase in Arrivals From the British Isles.

For the first ten months of the present calendar year ending Oct. 31, the total immigration to Canada was 254,077, an increase of 59,103, or nearly thirty per cent., as compared with the first ten months of last year. The increase had been made up largely in immigration from Great Britain, which is over forty per cent. larger than last year. Immigration from the United States, on the other hand, shows a decrease of about eight per cent. For the first seven months of the present fiscal year the total immigration was 211,859, an increase of 50,297, or thirty-one per cent. over last year. The increase via ocean ports was forty-five per cent., while immigration from the United States decreased eight per cent.

During October the total immigration was 21,264. Via ocean ports the number was 17,093, as compared with 13,597 for October, 1906. The number of immigrants arriving from the United States last month was 4,171, as compared with 5,022 during October last year. If the rate of increase in immigration maintained so far this year is kept up until the end of December, the total for the whole year will be about 288,060, or over nine times the total annual immigration of six years ago.

OPEN EVENINGS
FROM NOW UNTIL AFTER CHRISTMAS
with a complete stock of new and up-to-date holiday suggestions. Remember we have the greatest variety of Gift Books to be found in Peterboro', as well as Fine China and Cut Glass, Pictures, High-Grade Leather Goods, Stationery, Bibles, Hymn Books, Cards Calendars, etc., to which we invite your inspection. Be sure and get our prices before purchasing. You will be convinced that they are Rock Bottom.

R. J. SODEN
369 George Street

Instructive Address on Some Elements of Success

Interesting Subject Dealt with Before St. Peter's T.A.S. Literary Society by Miss Kate McGrath—Pleasing Programme Rendered.

At the regular meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T.A.S. last evening, a large and appreciative audience assembled in the Association Hall to enjoy the excellent programme presented. The most interesting feature of the evening was however, the essay on "Some Elements of Success," by Miss Kate McGrath. The subject, though a broad one, was dealt with in a most praiseworthy manner, and from beginning to end proved to be highly interesting and most instructive.

Success was very clearly defined as the favorable termination of anything attempted; a termination in other words, which answers the purpose intended. A commercial success won on conservative lines and maintained by cautious and prudent methods, is the success most highly regarded in the business world today. The meteor-like commercial flash, so admired by the average young person seldom has a firm foundation, and rarely commands the confidence of successful business men. The truest success is that which is earned slowly, but which surely strengthens itself. Ostentation is never typical of true success. Success is simply doing anything to the utmost of one's ability, making as much of one's position as it is possible to make.

The first element of success, which was very ably dealt with, was aspiration or idealism. The ideal is the continual image that is cast upon the brain; these images are as various as the stars, and, like them, differ from one another in magnitude. It is the quality of the ideal that determines the true success or failure of a life. As is a man's ideal, or aspiration, so shall his life be. Aspiration has been likened to a ladder, up which hope lifts us step by step, the top of which no eye has ever seen. Though we do not find what hope promised, yet we are stronger for the climbing, and we get a broader outlook upon life, which repays the effort. Ambition is but the shadow of aspiration. Man is made to be that which he is made most capable of desiring, but he must desire the thing itself, and not the shadow. The unattained still beckons us towards the summit of life's mountains, into the atmosphere where good souls live, breathe and have their being.

Life, continued the essayist, is full of opportunities. Every business transaction is an opportunity to be polite, to be honest and to make friends. Every proof of confidence is a great opportunity, every responsibility thrust upon our strength and honor is priceless. Life pulsates with chances. They may not be dramatic or great, but they are important to those who would succeed in this world. It is the idle man who is always complaining that he has no opportunity. Open eyes will discover opportunities everywhere, open ears will never fail to detect cries of those who are perishing for assistance, open hearts will never want for worthy objects upon which to bestow their gifts, open hands will never lack for noble work to do.

An important factor in a successful life, stated the writer, is a determined will power and the knowledge how to use it. The saddest failures in life are those that come from not putting forth the power and will to succeed. "As men in a crowd," says Dwight, "instinctively make room for one who would force his way through it," so mankind makes way for one who rushes towards an object beyond him. Nothing can be done with a man who has no invincible purpose in him. Difficulties and opposition do not daunt him. He thrives upon persecution; it only stimulates him to more determined endeavor. No success is worthy of the name unless it is won by honest industry and brave breasting of the waves of fortune.

Luck and labor were then very very ably contrasted. "Luck is ever waiting for something to turn up," says Cobden. Labor, with keen eyes and strong will will turn up something. Luck relies on chance, labor on character. Luck lies in bed and wishes the postman would bring him news of a legacy. Labor turns out at an early hour, with busy pen or ringing hammer, and lays the foundation of a competence. Luck has never made an ignoramus utter lectures on science: a coward win at Yorktown, Waterloo, or Richmond; a careless stonecutter carve an Apollo, a Minerva or a Greek slave.

Continuing, the writer stated that nothing counts like perseverance. It has put in motion millions of spindles, winged as many flying shuttles, harnessed thousands of iron steeds to as many freighted cars, and set them flying from town to town, from nation to nation, travelled mountains of granite and annihilated space with lightning speed. It has whitened the waters of the world with the sails of a hundred nations, navigated every sea, and explored every land. It has reduced Nature in her thousand forms to as many sciences, taught her laws, prophesied her future movements, and measured her untrodden spaces. Genius darts and tires, but perseverance wears and wins.

Concentration, that gift of which Emmerson speaks of as "the one prudence in life" was then touched upon. The great difference between those who succeed and those who fail consists in the amount of intelligent work done. Many who fail labor at haphazard, building up with one hand, only to tear down with the other. It matters not how rich the material we have gleaned from the years of study and toil, if one goes out into life with no well defined idea of one's future work. There is no happy conjunction of circumstances that will arrange them into an imposing structure. Concentration and steadfastness were the main traits of William Pitt's character. Charles Dickens and Carlyle attributed their success to the power of concentration.

In every well balanced life, concluded the essayist, there is one grand central purpose, in which all the lesser powers of the soul are brought to a focus, where they will find fit expression. Since the shuttle of creation shot for the first time through chaos, design has marked the course of every golden thread. Every leaf, every flower, every crystal, every atom has a purpose stamped upon it, which unmistakably points to the crowning summit of Creation—Man.

This very able essay was of a decidedly intellectual nature, and was presented in a most attractive manner.

The following musical programme, which prefaced the reading of the essay, and which was rendered in a faultless manner, was introduced by Miss Eva Tangney, who occupied the chair for the evening:—

Instrumental duet—Misses B. Picard and and E. Gordon.

Vocal solo—Miss Mamie Theobald.

Recitation—Miss Mabel Pringle.

Instrumental duet—Miss M. Trombley and Master G. Sheehy.

Dialogue—The Old Maid. Characters—Miss Flint, Miss Mary O'Brien; Miss Jennie Lee, Miss Irene Doris; Miss Anna Steele, Miss Mabel Tangney; Dr. Thorntongrove, Mr. James O'Brien.; Deacon White, Mr. Frank Pope.

Special mention must be made of the dialogue, which was presented in a manner that won merited and hearty applause from the enthusiastic audience. Misses O'Brien, Tangney and Doris performed their parts admirably, while Messrs. Pope and O'Brien could not be surpassed in their clever impersonations of Deacon White and Dr. Thorntongrove.

The accompanist of the evening was Mr. H. Theobald.

This interesting meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

The next meeting of the society will be held on Friday evening, Dec. 20, when an essay will be read by Miss Milaney.

IT IS A FACT
That we have the finest stock of Skates, Sticks and Hockey Supplies in the city.
BANK'S SKATE STORE
Under the Market Clock

An Elevating Scene Festival

Passion Play at the Crystal Commencing Monday Afternoon at 2 O'clock

Commencing at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon, the Passion Play in animated picture form, will be presented at the Crystal. The presentation will be the original one, and will be beautiful and edifying from artistic and moral standpoints. Full particulars may be found in a lengthy and interesting article in another column of the Review.

ENGLISH EXPERTS CRITICIZE REPORT

Findings of the Canadian Insurance Commission Declared to be Impracticable.

LONDON, Eng., Dec. 5.— English insurance experts criticize severely the recommendations of the Canadian Royal Commission, upon which it is stated the new Government insurance bill will be founded. One representative English insurance authority expresses the utmost astonishment over the proposals and says in the Canadian Gazette: "The principal sections of the Royal Commissioner's bill appear to be merely copied from the New York law in many cases the exact wording is repeated. It provides for limitations of investments, which must result in enormous loss to policyholders. It limits expenses in a way which the most economically managed companies in England would find intolerable. It provides for only a few standard forms of policies, which we think badly adapted to meet the requirements of the general insuring public. The bill is not yet law, and we sincerely hope, never will be."

R. A. ELLIOTT
& CO.
Real Estate Agents
Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

BEER* BENEFITS THE WHOLE BODY
(NO OTHER FOOD-BEVERAGE DOES THAT MUCH)

NOT six people in a thousand (and those six have either diabetes or gouty tendencies) can get anything but real good from the use of good beer with their meals. Because that kind of beer (and no other kind is brewed in Ontario) benefits the whole body of the normal adult,—enriches the blood, vitalizes the stomach, makes kidneys and liver active, builds flesh and betters nerves.

Beer Is Not A Mere Tonic

Good beer, drank with meals and at bedtime, is not merely a tonic—for a tonic simply gets one part of the system to work better for a while, by stimulating its activity, while beer, rightly used, does the whole system permanent good.

Beer Builds Up Thin Folks

That is why good beer is such a notable flesh-builder, and why it is so effective in changing the too-white blood of aenemic people into the red, strong, healthy blood of the vigorous. It has qualities that are very valuable to women, especially. It is distinctly NOT an intoxicant, nor a hurtful stimulant. Ask your doctor if beer wouldn't be good for you as an item of daily diet.

* BEER is a term which covers lager, ale, porter and stout; and, in the practise of Ontario brewers, implies beverages made under most hygienic conditions from Ontario barley (the best in the world) malt, hops, and pure water. 302

Col. E. B. Edwards Writes Interestingly of Edmonton

Tells of Magnificent Country Surounding the Capital of Alberta—Many New Settlers Arriving—Frost Did Some Damage to Grain But General Conditions are Encouraging.

To the Editor of theR eview.

Sir,—In answer to your request for a letter giving some information as to matters in this part of the West. It may perhaps be of interest to give you some account of a coupleo f trips which I took into the country recently.

On one of these trips I visited the famous Clover Bar district, to which visitors are generally taken when they want to see something of farming in this neighborhood. The first part of the drive for four or five miles is not particularly interesting, as the land is to a large extent held by speculators, and is left in its natural wild state, generally in bush. Passing through this, however, one comes upon the agreeable contrast of a wide miles in every direction, with comfortable farm buildings, good fences and all that goes to make up a prosperous and well cultivated district. Here were grown the oats which in 1900 and 1901 at the Paris and Glasgow Expositions, won for Canada the highest awards and attracted attention to the possibility of this part of the West. Tommy Daly, as he is familiarly called, was the grower, and he is a man who on this account and in other respects as well, is highly thought of here, so highly indeed, that when he became a resident of Edmonton and was nominated as alderman a year ago, he came out at the head of the polls. On one of the farms which I visited was a field of wheat of eighty acres standing in stook. It looked as beautiful as anything I had ever seen, but it had been touched by frost. A week more more of ripening weather would have brought a crop of fifty bushels to the acre. With such possibilities, the farmers here are in no way discouraged, for they feel that in an ordinary season they can count with certainty on a crop that will easily wipe out the losses of a bad season this.

A little further on I visited the home of Mr. Charlie Bremner, a big, whole souled representative of the West and one of the best known and most popular men in the neighborhood of Edmonton. He has a farm of 1000 acres. His house is charmingly situated on a slight eminence and overlooks a grain field of 130 acres stretching in an unbroken slope to the southward for a mile. Here two teams and four men were busily engaged stacking oats. The grain was slightly frosted, but for the purposes of feed, it will be scarcely less valuable than if it had been fully ripened. Passing a poplar bluff behind the house we came upon a field of barley of 100 acres which appeared to be all right. Mr. Bremner believes in mixed farming, and has a large number of beautiful cattle. He also raises large numbers of hogs and finds this the best means of converting his coarse grains into money. Three of four fine riding horses in a paddock back of the house a Scotch stag hound, a grey hound and a half dozen greyhound puppies gave some indication of the tastes of the owner. An old countrymen by birth, Mr. Bremner delights in giving the visitor the excitement of a ride after a coyote when the harvesting is not so pressing as it was on the day of our visit. A house furnished with all the taste, provided with all the comforts and conveniences of a city house, including a telephone, giving him connection with his neighbors in the country as well as with all the shops and his friends in Edmonton. There did not seem to be much of hardship or isolation in farming at Clover Bar.

LT. COL. E. B. EDWARDS.

Returning home at the close of a beautiful October day, we could not but feel that in its possibilities and in what it has already realized, Alberta far exceeds anything that people in the East imagine with regard to it.

The second trip which I made was in the opposite direction to the Ray and Riviere Qui Barre districts. Passing through St. Albert, the picturesque little village on the banks of the Sturgeon, about 8 miles north-west of Edmonton, we had a fine view from the heights of Big Lake, which is discharged by the Sturgeon River.

We entered upon a fine stretch of farming land which extended for many miles to the north and west. Here again were to be seen as at Clover Bar, extensive fields of grain, good farm buildings and evidences of prosperity. The country is high and slightly undulating, largely open prairie with occasional pieces of timber to give variety to the scene. We passed through a section where the hail in the beginning of September had thrashed out the grain. It covered, however, only a narrow stretch of country and beyond this the grain had not only escaped the hail, but it had ripened well. Some of the farmers with whom I spoke had the good fortune to have large crops of ripened grain fit for seed for the coming year, and with the high prices that prevail, they can well afford to look happy and contented. There are a number of French people in this district, but the larger proportion of the settlers are Scotch.

Our drive was 30 miles out and back and in going and coming we overtook or met a number of parties of settlers moving out to their homesteads. It makes no difference apparently, whether it is spring, or summer, or fall—they are always on the move to the west and the north. Generally speaking the waggons were well laden with all kinds of supplies. The same thing was told me by people who had settled during the past summer at some distance to the east of Edmonton, and a considerable distance north from the line of the Canadian Northern railway. Each district seems to be filling up fast, and those who went in early last spring found themselves before the season was out, in the midst of a good sized community. The financial stringency of which we hear so much is even helping to bring about the result of sending people from the cities to the farms.

Just a word about the weather. When you hear of frost injuring the grain before it was ripe, the thought that naturally suggests itself is that the frost was the beginning of an early winter. So far from this being the case, however, the fact is that the frost which did the injury was only a summer frost of two or three degrees, a downward dip of the thermometer on one or two nights. We have had one of the most delightful autumns that I have known in my lifetime, a succession of bright sunshiney days without wind and without rain, fresh and crisp, without being cold. Nothing more than a summer overcoat has been necessary so far. The frost which stopped plowing did not come any earlier than it usually comes in Ontario, about the middle of November. There has been no heavy frost up to the present, and no snow—no ice for curling I am sorry to say. It is true that a heavy fall of snow occurred in Southern Alberta some time ago, but North Alberta was not so favored. Practically the only difference between the fall here and that in the neigborhood of Peterborough is that we have had less rain, less wind, and less disagreeable, cloudy weather than in the average fall at home. The lighter air due to the higher altitude Edmonton is in the neighborhood of 1500 feet higher than the level of Peterborough—produces a feeling of exhilaration and comfort that is hard to be realized by one who has not lived in such a climate.

Though so far away, we have not ceased to take interest in our Peterborough friends, and your paper keeps us in touch with all that is going on in the old town.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.
Edmonton, Nov. 26th, 1707.

HOW'S THIS

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

What is Really Meant by Hell?

Preacher Says it Simply Means the Grave—Not a Place of Eternal Torment

In pamphlets being distributed around the city, a sermon is reprinted entitled, "To Hell and Back." In the course of the sermon it is stated by the preacher that there is no literal hell, that hell is nothing more or less than the grave. He says that God is not the merciless creature torturing through eternity creatures that He has put on the earth, but that He is a God of love and justice, and the popular conception of Him is wrong and shocking.

Numerous quotations from Scripture which, the speaker alleges, bear out the truth of his contentions, are given.

It is also stated in the sermon that the general belief concerning hell has caused more infidelism than any other cause, on account of the fact that those who have lost their faith could not not associate a place of place of everlasting torment with a merciful and loving Father.

The views as set forth by the preacher are held, as is generally known, by some theologians, but differ widely from the orthodox.

You have heard the Sailor Boys' plea, buy to-dayfor your dinner to-morrow "Sailor Boy" Canned Goods, Tomatoes Corn, Peas and Salmon. Your money does not buy better Goods. Do you get "Sailor Boy" or substitute?

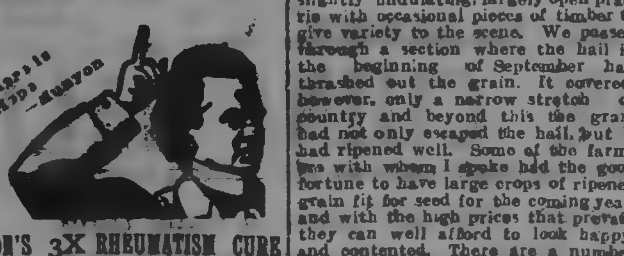
NEW OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

Last Evening—Annual Meeting of Carpenters and Joiners Society

The annual meeting of the amalgamated society of Carpenters and Joiners was held last evening, when considerable business was transacted and the election of officers took place. Mr. S. Anglesay occupied the chair. The election of officers resulted as follows;—

President—S J Angelesay.
Secretary—A. Hope.
Treas.—J Skippen.
Sick Steward—A. Sparrow.
Trustees—Messrs. T V F Warren, W H Carty, G V Lancaster, V W Lancaster, A. Sparrow.
Referee—L V F Warren.
Delegates to Trades and Labor Council—S. J. Anglesay, W H Carty, A. Hope.

Blanche Letourneau, aged 12, was killed by a train at Tecumseh yesterday.



Get Well

MUNYON'S 3X RHEUMATISM CURE

seldom fails to relieve in one to three hours, and cures in a few days; price, $1.

Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure is guaranteed to cure all forms of indigestion and stomach troubles. Price, 25c.

Munyon's 3X Kidney Cure speedily cures pains in the back, loins or groins and all forms of kidney disease. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Headache Cure stops headache in three minutes. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Blood Cure eradicates all impurities of the blood. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Cold Cure prevents pneumonia and breaks up a cold in a few hours. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Pile Ointment positively cures all forms of piles. Price, 25c.

Munyon's Vitalizer restores lost powers to weak men. Price, $1.

Munyon's Remedies at all druggists, mostly at 25 cents a vial.

FRUIT BETTER THAN DRUGS.

MODERN WAY TO CURE DISEASE.

Wonderful Results In Kidney, Liver and Skin Troubles.

Apple juice is the natural liver tonic, and increases the flow of bile. The bile, secreted in the liver, is the only purgative common to the human system. Apple juice also stimulates and strengthens the kidneys. Orange juice beautifies the skin and complexion as nothing else will. Figs and prunes increase the digestive fluids, strengthen the stomach, and build up digestion.

The medicinal part of fruit is much less than one part in a hundred. That is, in one hundred pounds of apples, there would not be a pound of the bitter substance that cures kidney and liver troubles.

An Ottawa physician discovered a method by which he combined the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes in such a way that an additional quantity of the bitter principle was added to the new compound. Then he further added rare tonics and internal antiseptics which greatly assist the intensified fruit juices in curing disease.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the name of this new discovery—and thousands of people owe their good health to its virtues. For Constipation, Billousness, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Skin, it is a certain and speedy cure.

If your druggist does not handle "Fruit-a-tives," refuse substitutes. Enclose price—50c a box; 6 for $2.50—we will send your order postpaid.

Fruit-a-tives Limited, - Ottawa, Ont.

WILL AGAIN SEEK ELECTION AS ALDERMAN

Mr. Allan McCarthy, East City Will be in the Field at Municipal Elections

It is learned on good authority that Mr. Allan McCarthy, Concession St., East City, will be a candidate at the next Aldermanic elections. He has signified his intention of again entering the field. It will be remembered that Mr. McCarthy was only defeated by a very narrow margin last year, and his chances in the coming contest will be much better.

Rebuilding of St. Paul's Organ

The Instrument Will be Ready for Use Again by Dec. 17th.

Messrs. Breckels and Matthews, of Toronto, who have been rebuilding the organ of St. Paul's church for the past few months, expect to have the practically new instrument installed in a few days. The firm will have representatives here on Monday to assemble the parts, and the instrument will be ready for use by Dec. 17th.

WILL SPEAK AT GOSPEL HALL

"Our Responsibility to the Jew" Will be Subject at Four O'clock To-morrow

At four o'clock to-morrow afternoon, Mr. Conny, of the Toronto Jewish Mission, will speak in Gospel Hall, on "Our Responsibility to the Jew."

The Toronto mission has been in operation for about sixteen years. Mr. Conny is one of the council and principal workers. He speaks to the Jews in (Yeddish), their own language, and has been wonderfully blessed in the work. Every Christian of whatever name or denomination is invited to hear Mr. Conny, as this work is the privilege of every Christian. This mission is supported by voluntary contributions of churches of Toronto. The meeting to-morrow will commence at four o'clock sharp.

SPECIAL SUBJECT AT PARK STREET

"More Precious Than Gold" is the theme of Rev A. H. Brace, at the Park street Baptist church tomorrow night, being the second subject in the December series. Special music during the month. A fifteen minute song service will precede the sermon.

PILES CURED at HOME by New Absorption Method.

If you suffer from bleeding, itching, blind or protruding Piles, send me your address, and I will tell you how to cure yourself at home by the absorption treatment; and will also send some of this home treatment free for trial, with references from your own locality if requested. Immediate relief and permanent cure assured. Send no money but tell others of this offer. Write to-day to Mrs. M. Summers, Box P 62, Windsor Ont.

"THE LAST ROBIN"

Lyrics and Sonnets by Ethelwyn Wetherald.

Wm. Briggs, Toronto.

Ethelwyn Wetherald, probably the greatest literary woman of Canada, has just issued her fourth volume of lyrics and sonnets, entitled "The Last Robin." This volume is particularly notable, as it is the first book of verse published by the author in her native country, and as it contains 161 of her best poems.

For lovers of good poetry, who have not yet come acquainted with Miss Wetherald's verse, there in in store a rare treat, and for those already familiar therewith, a fresh delight.

Miss Wetherald has lived most of her life on a fruit farm in Pelham township, near Chantler, in the County of Welland, Ont., and Nature in many phases and moods, and the tender joys and sorrows of home are delicately and exquisitely expressed in her beautiful poems.

IF ONE MIGHT LIVE.

If one might live ten years among the leaves,
Ten—only ten—of all a life's long day,
Who would not choose a childhood 'neath the waves
Low-sloping to some tender footpath way?

With the young grass about his childish feet,
And the young lambs within his ungrown arms,
And every streamlet side a pleasure seat
Within the wide day's treasure-house of charms.

To learn to speak while young birds learned to sing,
To learn to run e'en as they learned to fly;
With unworn heart against the breast of spring,
To watch the moments smile as they went by.

Enroofed with apple buds afar to roam,
Or clover-cradled on the murmurous sod,
To drowse within the blessed fields of home,
So near to earth—so very near to God.

How could it matter—all the after strife,
The heat, the haste, the inward hurt the strain,
When the young loveliness and sweet of life
Came flood-like back again and yet again?

When best begins it liveth through the worst;
O happy soul, beloved of Memory,
Whose youth was joined to beauty as first
The morning stars were wed to harmony.

While her communings with nature particularly give character and charm to her poetry, the author sings of other themes with rare grace and power. How the following lines appeal to the fighting spirit of the Anglo-Saxon:

PLUCK.

Thank God for pluck—unknown to slaves—
The self ne'er of its Self bereft,
Who, when the right arm's shattered, waves
The good flag with the left.

MY ORDERS.

My orders are to fight,
Then if I bleed, or fail,
Or strongly win, what matters it?
God only doth prevail.

The servant craveth naught
Except to serve with might.
I was not told to win or lose,—
My orders are to fight.

SELF-RIGHTEOUSNESS

Unto the diamond with a flaw
The perfect pebble spake:
"Alas, poor sister, some great law
Of heaven you did break.

"S'nce ,Iperfections's curse I see
Whene'er your form I view;
But cheer up! some day you may be
A perfect pebble, too."

HIS TURN.

A good soul once, not without qualms,
Knocked at the gates eternal,
And begge dof Lazarus an alms
For use o freakms infernal.

"The rich man of whose crumbs you ate
Needs water. O surprise him
With just one drop." He smiled sedate:
"I fear 'twould pauperize him.

"And, then, you, I can't revoke
My rule, which is unswerving;
I never give to wealthy folk
Unless they are deserving."

How heart-reaching is the tenderness expressed in

LEGACIES

Unto my friends I give my thoughts,
Unto my God my soul,
Unto my foe I leave my love—
These are of life the whole.

Nay, there is something—a trifle—left;
Who shall receive this dower?
See, Earth Mother a handful of dust—
Turn it into a flower.

The volume contains twenty-nine and strength that the author will at once take high rank as a sonnet writer. Long allotted space forbids quotation.

Not only the poet, but the publishing firm, is to be warmly congratulated. The book is a beautiful example of the printer's art. The last robin in colors adorns the front cover, and in fancy one can hear him singing in clear, full tones of the well-merited fame of this gifted literary artist.

J. W. GARVIN.

FOR PASSEPARTOUT WORK

The fad for passepartout pictures is again growing a favorite for pretty pictures and are always appreciated. One can always find room for a couple more on the walls and every one has their favorite subject. some like scenery, others historical subjects, many like kittens and one boy in the city has the walls of his bedroom fairly covered with pictures of dogs—small and large. When mounted on a suitable background and passepartouted they are very pretty and inexpensive to make up. The Review has a large stock of pictures in sepia and colors, mounting papers and passepartout to match. Call and see them at the REVIEW Office, Hunter street. 3d

A chapter of the Royal Arch Masons has been installed at Madoc.

A Good Thing is Sure to be Appreciated

COWAN'S PERFECTION COCOA (Maple Leaf Label)

Is gaining in favor every day. Our output last year was double the preceding one. The most healthful and nutritious of beverages.

THE COWAN CO., Ltd., TORONTO

ONTARIO COAL CO. LIMITED PETERBORO

COAL-CARTAGE

Best Hard COAL $7.50 per ton
No. 2 Nut COAL $6.50 per ton
Butts or English Cannel COAL $7.50 per ton

Head Office and Yards: 160 Aylmer Street Phone 116
City Office: 387 Water St Phones: Bell 325. Machine 325

ONTARIO COAL CO., Limited

A. J. McCLELLAN C. CURRIER G. K. RACKHAM

PRICE OF Coal FOR OCTOBER IS $7.50 Ton, cash with order

THE PETERBORO FUEL & CARTAGE CO LIMITED.

162 Charlotte-st. Telephones—(Bell) 261, 270. (Machine)—270.
134 Aylmer-st. Tel. (Bell) 362.

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhœa and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

THE INVICTUS SHOE

Here is the shoe that fits exactly into the ideal so many have looked for and never found.

INVICTUS SHOES AT $4.50 & $5.00

Shoes that combine with a moderate price the perfection of style, fit and durability. "Invictusized" Patent Leather Shoes are revelation. This secret process does something never before accomplished. Renders the leather soft and pliable, increases the life of the shoes at least one third and reduces checking or breaking to a minimum.

ASK THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM

J T. STENSON
364 George St.

D.L. & W'S SCRANTON COAL

SOLD BY R. HICKS & CO. AT $7.50 Per Ton

for Month of October, in lots of not less than half ton.

This is the Standard Anthracite. 60 % of the Coal sold in Ontario is SCRANTON. Terms Positively Cash.

R. HICKS & CO.
Coal Builders' Supplies, Etc.

EGGS

FOR SALE by the case

Fresh and Pickled Choice Stock at our warehouse, Robinson Street, East City

Scott & Hogg
PHONE 264, BOTH PHONES

COAL AND WOOD

Best of Coal—Best of Wood

COAL FOR OCTOBER $7.50 PER TON

J. E. A. FITZGERALD
Cor. Brock and Bethune Sts
BOTH PHONES 111

Palace Livery Barn

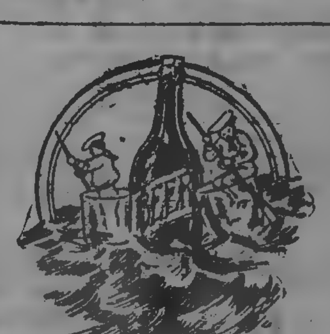
For the smartest and most up-to-date LIVERY OUTFITS, at reasonable rates, go to

TOM FOSTER & CO.

Successors to Bruce Lee & Co
Rear of Snowden House.

AUCTION SALE OF HORSES BUGGIES, HARNESS, ETC., EVERY SATURDAY

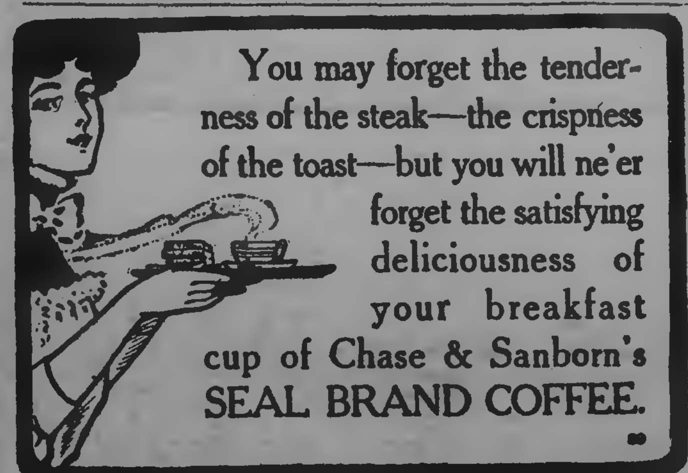
Phones - Bell 286 - Machine 289



Steer Straight

for the best Beer ever brewed, and you are sure to come to us! Our Bottled Beer is "bottled health." It means vigor and strength, a good appetite and high spirits. It is the best medicine for the weak and the best food for the strong. Keep our excellent in Beer your home as a beverage and you will have no need of a doctor. Nothing but the purest ingredients used in the brewing.

—THE—
CALCUTT BREWING AND MALTING CO
of Ashburnham Limited



You may forget the tenderness of the steak—the crispness of the toast—but you will ne'er forget the satisfying deliciousness of your breakfast cup of Chase & Sanborn's SEAL BRAND COFFEE.

FACTS—JUST PLAIN, POINTED FACTS

BOYS' SUITS

Good words our Good Boy's Clothing are coming back to us in good business, what better proof could you ask of our value-giving than these.

BUSTER BROWN STYLE

Gray mixed Tweeds, plain, well made and trimmed, sizes 22 to 25.......... 3.25
Gray stripe Tweed, well made and trimmed, 22 to 25 3.50
Blue and black Serge, well made and trimmed sizes 22 to 26.......... 4.00

2-PIECE NORFOLK STYLE

Dark gray stripe Tweed, sizes from 25 to 30, special 2.00
Gray mixed Tweed, pepper and salt effects, all sizes, 24 to 30, Special.......... 2.50
Brown Scotch Tweed effect, double breasted Norfolk, sizes 26 to 29, prices.......... ...4.00, 4.50, 5.00
3 piece Double Breasted Styles—dark gray check and stripe Tweed, Lion Brand, with double elbows and double seats and knees, well padded and well made, sizes 28 to 33 ....4.50 and 5.00
Dark gray over plaids and dark stripes, the newest designs for boys' suits, double breasted, sizes 28 to 33.......... ....6.00, 6.50, 7.00
Boys' and Youth's Reefers—Dark gray and black Frieze, Tweed lined, all sizes up to 28..........2.00, 2.25
Dark gray and black Frieze, Tweed lined, 29 to 34 2.75

MERRELL & MEREDITH
CLOTHIERS, FURNISHERS and HATTERS
375-377 GEORGE ST. PHON E 35

SPORTING NEWS

Boxing and Wrestling Classes at Local Y.M.C.A. This Winter

Movement on Foot to Form Them—Instructor in Boxing has Offered His Services—Would Be Interesting and Beneficial Sports.

It was learned today on excellent authority that there will in all likelihood be boxing and wrestling classes at the Y.M.C.A. this winter. This will be welcome news to lovers of these branches of manly sport, and there is no doubt if the classes are formed, that they will be largely attended. The matter of boxing will be somewhat of an innovation in Y. M. C. A. athletic circles, and should prove very popular. A young man in the city who can handle the padded mitts with as much dexterity as the large majority of professionals, when approached by some interested with the view of securing his services as instructor, generously offered to officiate in that capacity without remuneration.

David Hartley Will be Given Benefit Concert by Citizens

Decided at Enthusiastic Meeting in Council Chamber Last Evening—Many Attended—Committees Were Appointed and Definite Steps Taken to Get Up an Excellent Entertainment.

A large and enthusiastic gathering of citizens met at the City Council Chamber last evening and took definite steps towards getting up a benefit concert for David Hartley, who recently brought great honor to the city by defeating Jimmy Reynolds of Port Hope in a twelve hour walking contest. It is likely the entertainment will take place in the Grand opera house, the week after next. Committees will at once get busy and all necessary arrangements will be made to make it a grand success.

This enterprise is worthy of the citizens' hearty support and they are generally asked to help the affair all they possibly can. An excellent programme will be presented and will be well worthy of patronage.

Among those present at the meeting last evening were Ald. H. Phelan, Morgan, McIntyre, Elliott and Messrs. A. Moore, H. Morgan, R. J. Munro and W. McIlroy. Mr. O. Mitchell was appointed secretary pro tem. Upon motion, Ald Phelan was appointed chairman. He drew attention to the object of the meeting that of tendering the city's popular pedestrian a benefit concert. The proposition seemed to meet with the hearty approval of all present and upon motion of Ald. Morgan, seconded by Ald. Elliott, a committee consisting of Messrs. John Crane, Wm. McIlroy, George Lynch, W. S. Davidson and R. Gliddon were appointed to look after the programme. They will arrange the whole entertainment and it is safe in predicting that it will be an excellent one.

Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by Mr. Archie Moore that a finance committee consisting of Messrs. H. R. H. Kenner, Ernie Best, R. M. Glover, Jos. Maher, R. J. Munro and A Moore, be appointed. This committee will look after printing and advertising.

Mr. W. S. Davidson was unanimously chosen secretary-treasurer. The above committees will meet on Monday night at 7 o'clock at the Council chamber to complete arrangements.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | MONDAY DECEMBER 9
ERNEST SHIPMAN Presents
MISS BIANCA WEST and Company in the Evergreen Play of Knighthood Days
"DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON HALL"
By Charles Major and Paul Kester
prices, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c ; few at $1.00 Plan Opens Friday Morning

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, SATURDAY DECEMBER 7
MATINEE AND NIGHT
Frank L. Whittier's Second Edition, Great Big Laughing Hit of the Season
"A Dutchman's Honeymoon"
A Musical Melange in three acts. Bigger, Brighter, Better than ever. See—The Funny Dutchman, the Irish Policeman, the Pretty Girls, the Clever Dancers. 6 All New Specialtie
Prices—15c, 25c, 35c, and 50c. Matinee 15c and 25c

TIGERS BEAT THE HARRIERS

Interesting Basketball Match at Y.M.C.A. Last Night

In a league basketball match at the Y.M.C.A. last night, the Tigers defeated the Harriers, 24—14. The half time score was 14—6 in favor of the jungle denizens. The match was hard fought throughout, but the winners were in better form than last year's champs. Len Dobson made a satisfactory referee. The teams were as follows;—

Harriers.		Tigers.
	Back.
R Best		Weatherstone
Campbell		Loomis
	Centre
MacRae		Staunton
	Forward
E Best		Sutherland
Huston		Wallace

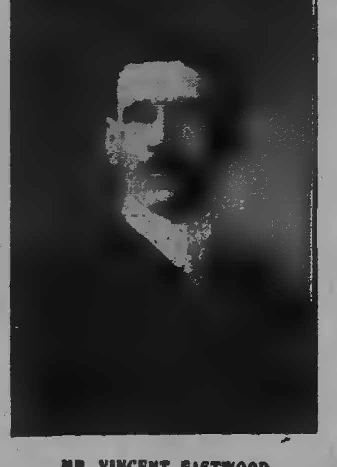
The first and second teams held a practice game afterwards.

Winners at Indoor Meet Get Medals

Presented to Them at Y.M. C.A. Last Night.

Success of the Recent Meet is Commented Upon.

The local boys who won prizes at the recent indoor meet held under the auspices of the Harriers' club, were presented with their medals at the Y.M.C.A, last night. The presentation took place at half time in the basketball match between the Harriers and Tigers, and was made by Mr. Vincent Eastwood. Mr. Eastwood referred to the success that had attended the Harriers' Club meet and bespoke great things for the future. For the first event of its kind held in Peterborough the meet had been a great success and it was gratifying to know that the local boys had made such a good showing. The Harrier's club was doing great work for the Y.M.C.A, and had the heartiest support of the association. Mr. Eastwood's statement that Peterborough would in all probability be represented on the Olympic team for England next summer, was received with great applause.



MR. VINCENT EASTWOOD
Who Presented the Medals at the Y.M.C.A. Last Night.

The following are the local men who received medals:—

Fred McGrath and Norman Darling, first and second respectively in the 50 yards dash.

Fred Simpson and Ray Best, second and third in the one mile open.

Len Dobson, Norman Darling and Peter Wallace, first, second and third in the 880 yards handicap.

D. Hillier, second in the 220 yards dash.

Ben Howard and Charles Sharpe, second and third in the 3 mile handicap.

Ernie Wilson second in the three mile special race.

Mr. E. M. Best, president of the Harrier's club, gave a few remarks in which he thanked the people for their support and said the club was just getting started and would be heard of many times in the future.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD

The members of Sherwood Forest Camp No. 50 are urgently requested to attend the next regular meeting to be held on Monday evening Dec 9th at 8 O'clock. Business of unusual importance and election of officers. id

HOCKEY

PETERBOROUGH'S GROUP.

At a meeting of the grouping committee of the O.H.A., in Toronto last night, the Peterborough intermediate team was placed with Lindsay, Port Hope, Cobourg and Whitby. Convener D. McMillan, Port Hope. To meet at Port Hope.

The Ingredients of Zutoo

One ingredient is soda—just old-fashioned soda, that our grandmothers took to settle the stomach, and there is nothing better.

Among the other ingredients there is not one that did not come from old Mother Earth herself.

There is not one that is not approved by both the British and American Pharmacopœias,—the highest medical authorities in the world.

There is not one that your family physician, even if a personal friend, would not approve of and prescribe.

If you are using some other headache remedy, why do you not change and use Zutoo instead?

It will cure your headaches and colds just as quickly and safeguard you against the bad after effects which may some day come from using the ordinary remedies. Zutoo tablets

Are Harmless as Soda.

Passion Play At the Crystal

Impressive Sacred Drama to be Presented Next Week

Thousands of people go many miles each year to witness the beautiful and fascinating Passion Play at Oberammergau, Bavaria. At an expense of nearly $10,000, the Crystal has succeeded in getting an exact reproduction of this famous play. The reproduction consists of almost two miles of film.

The Passion Play is a sacred drama, founded on the life of Christ as portrayed in the New Testament.

In 1663 the peasants in the village of Oberammergau, in Bavaria, were visited by a terrible plague, which devasted their country. On its cessation the entire population made a vow to perform the passion play of our Saviour every tenth year, out of gratitude, and as a means of religious instruction—a vow which has ever since been faithfully and regularly observed. The inhabitants of this secluded village have a rare union of artistic ability, and cultivation with perfect simplicity. Their familiarity with religious subjects is even beyond what is usual in the alpine parts of Germany, and the spectacle is looked on with the same feelings with which it originated. What would appear elsewhere as impious, is, to these peasants, devout and edifying.

The impersonator of Christ considers his part an act of worship. He and all the rest of the performers are selected for their holy life, and are consecrated to their work with prayer and fasting. In fact, it is the ambition of every child in the village to act a part in this great event of their life, and in order to do so they must show by their daily life that they are worthy of such an honor. Every village girl has an ambition to portray the part of Mary, the Mother of Christ, and they believe that in order to attain this they must not, even in thought, do anything contrary to the virtuous and pure character required for the part of the Mother of the Saviour. Not to be considered fit to take any part, however small, in this grand play is, in Oberammergau, considered to be a great disgrace. To take a part away from an actor is a shame that can hardly be borne, and it is on record that once a man to whom this happened sank into melancholy, which became madness.

The intention of this company is to give to the public in general as near an exact reproduction of the famous Passion Play (as witnessed in Oberammergau) as possible, and we conscientiously assert that there is nothing in this grand performance that will be sacrilegious or irreverent, or any picture presented offensive to any Christian of any denomination, but, instead, continual scenes and moving pictures illustrating the fascinating Passion Play. Every man, woman and child will not only enjoy this grand performance, but will be held spellbound at the sight of the fascinating and sublime life-size moving pictures of our Saviour and the multitude, and the beautiful surrounding scenes.

Every parent and Sunday School teacher should take advantage of this opportunity to vividly impress upon the children these scenes in the Christ-life — impressions that can never be effaced while the lamp of this life holds out to burn. In no other way, short of a personal visit to the village of Oberammergau in Bavaria, at the time of this stupendous enactment, can so lasting a realization of the Crucifixion of Christ be made. This story is divided into three sections. On account of its length the first section will be shown on Monday and Tuesday afternoon and evening, second section Wedesday and Thursday, and third section Friday and Saturday.

Remember the date — one entire week, commencing Monday, Dec. 9th. The Crystal, 408 George street. Admission 10c.

PROGRAM OF ICE RACES AT OTTAWA

A Great Bill of Fare Prepared—Seven Days of Racing

The Ottawa ice race meet is always a splendid one, and this year should be better than ever. The programmes for the seven day race meet in the Capital City, which commences Saturday, February 1st, have been prepared, and are being distributed. Anyone who desires one or any information concerning the meet should apply to E. McMahon, secretary Canada Racing Association, 26 Sparks street, Russell House block, Ottawa.

The list of events and prizes are given below;

First day—Saturday, Feb. 1st—
2.04 trot and pace, $300. Local race, horses owned within 50 miles Ottawa
2.12 trot and pace, stake $1000.
Second day—Monday, Feb. 3rd—
2.20 trot, stake $1000
2.15 trot and pace, $500
Third day—Tuesday, Feb. 4th—
2.35 pace, stake $1000.. Windsor Hotel stake.
2.24 trot and pace, $500.
Fourth day—Wednesday, Feb. 5th—
2.35 trot, stake $1000. Grand Union Hotel stake.
Free for all, stake $1000. Stallion trot and pace.
Fifth day—Thursday, Feb. 6th—
2.18 pace, stake $1000. Russell House stake.
2.28 pace, $500.
Sixth day, Friday, Feb. 7th—
2.25 trot, $500.
Free for all, stake $1000.
Seventh day—Saturday, Feb. 8th—
2.20 trot and pace, $500.
Five mile, $1000.
Consolation race, $400. For nonmoney winners at the meet.

Peterborough Club Elects its Officers

Annual Meeting Held Last Night—Was Largely Attended

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Club, was held last night in the rooms of the club, Bank of Commerce Building, Hunter street, when the election of officers took place and much business of a private character was transacted. There was a large attendance of members at the meeting.—

The following are the officers for the coming year:

President.—Dr. Boucher.
Vice-President.—Mr. R. E. Wood.
Sec.-Treas.—Mr. W. R. Morris

TRIBUTE TO JOHN'S TEA

A delightful blend of John's tea was the refreshing beverage served by the ladies at All Saints' Bazaar and Sale lately held in the old opera house. This fine, delicately flavoured tea is capturing the tea drinkers all over the city and district. It possesses good quality with strength and flavour. It is a rich, moderately stimulating drink that satisfies. John's tea is a tea that goes a long way, and is therefore, economical, as well as being good. You can get your supplies in attractive air-tight packages, from Mr. John, whose office and warerooms are in the Grand Opera House block, next to J. J. Turner & Sons. If you take the trouble to ask for a sample you will be able to judge for yourself. Have John's tea for Christmas.

Twenty-five people support "Bianca West" in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" the beautiful production at the "Grand" Monday evening.

PASSED AWAY IN KINGSTON

Brother of Mr. C. B. Routley Died There Yesterday

The many friends of Mr. C.B. Routley will sympathize with him in the loss he has sustained by the death of his brother, John Routly, who passed away in Kingston yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Routly are in Kingston attending the funeral.

The Kingston Whig says:—Many expressions of sorrow and regret were heard this morning, when the death of John Routly, one of Kingston's most prominent business men, was announced. Mr. Routly had been in failing health for some months, but his strong constitution stood him in good stead, and until yesterday it was hoped that he might rally. But his strength gradually failed, and at three o'clock this morning he passed peacefully away. He was an Anglican, and Canon Starr was with him shortly before the end came. John Routly was born in Kingston, June 10th, 1852, and was a son of the late W. K. Routly, who died in September of last year. He leaves to mourn his loss besides his wife and mother, five brothers and four sisters.

Mr. Routly was of a quiet, unassuming disposition, respected in business, and beloved by his friends. He was a keen sportsman and had hunted in many parts of Canada. The sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mrs. Routly and the family with the feeling that Kingston loses in Mr. Routly, one of its most worthy business men.

Mr. J. B. T. Caron, Liberal, will be elected in Ottawa by acclamation.

Special Inducements TO BUY HEATERS

You gain nothing by delay. See our
Standard Oak
Quebec Ideal
Art Laurel
They are great fuel savers. Easily operated and splendid heat distributors.

F.R.J. MACPHERSON & CO.
341 George St. Phone 118
F.R.J. MACPHERSON ANGUS MACPHERSON

PE-RU-NA CHEERFULLY RECOMMENDED FOR COLDS AND CATARRH.

A Prominent Canadian Gives His Experience With the World-Famous Remedy For Catarrh.

Chronic Catarrh Always Begins With An Ordinary Cold.

So Says Dr. Hartman, the Greatest Living Authority On Catarrhal Diseases.

THE first effect of a cold is a thickening of the mucous membranes of the nose and throat.

This gives rise to a discharge, or at least a stuffiness of the nasal passages.

Sometimes fever accompanies the first attack, also a feeling of languor, dullness and aching of the bones.

If no attention is paid to it, the mucous congestion is liable to spread down into the larynx, producing hoarseness and into the bronchial tubes, producing a cough.

Even when this occurs, many people pay no attention to it.

Under such circumstances, the congestion is liable to become chronic, producing a condition of the mucous membranes known as catarrh. Catarrh lasts an indefinite time. Catarrh is essentially a chronic condition and does not leave except something is done to relieve it.

CURE COLDS—PREVENT CATARRH.

What should be done when a person catches cold is to take a few doses of Peruna.

Taken at the onset, Peruna would break up the cold and prevent all the train of symptoms which usually follow.

But, even in cases where the cold has been neglected and hoarseness or a cough has developed, Peruna can be relied upon to give prompt and permanent relief.

The frequency of coughs and colds in the winter makes Peruna a popular remedy for these ailments.

A number of the best people of various countries have given testimonials as to the value of Peruna in such cases.

Followed Dr. Hartman's Advice—Restored to Health.

Mrs. Samuelle Vigneau, Avre au Berd, Isle de La Magdaline, Canada, writes:

"I write to tell you that I am perfectly well. I took only three bottles of your Peruna according to your advice and the directions in your book and it restored my health."

C. H. Parker, Ex-Warden of Compton Co., Quebec, has been mayor of Scotstown for a number of years. He is an influential resident in Scotstown and widely known.

He writes concerning Peruna. Read his letter below:

C. H. PARKER.

"I had several attacks of colds from time to time and finally a severe attack developed into catarrh.

"I was advised to use your celebrated catarrh remedy, and after taking three bottles I find myself completely cured, and I no longer suffer from catarrh or colds.

"I can cheerfully recommend Peruna for colds and catarrh."

If Peruna had no other medicinal value than the promptness with which it relieves common colds, it would be well worth while for any family to keep it in the house constantly.

Ask Your Druggist for Free Pruna Almanac for 1908

cal option should it carry in Aldborough township.

St. John's J. W. A., will hold a social and sale of dolls' clothes, home made candy, cake, etc., in the school house on Saturday afternoon, December 14th.

SPECIAL RATES FOR FAMILY WASHING

Prices were never lower than now at
Parkers' Steam Laundry
Goods called for and delivered free to any part of the city.
W. P. HETHERINGTON
9 CHARLOTTE ST, PHONE 65

International Correspondence Schools
Of Scranton, Penn.
Industrial Science Taught by Mail.
LOCAL OFFICE - - 410 George Stree
R. C. BALFOUR, Representative

The Talk of the Town—OUR COOKING
TOOTHSOME
WHOLESOME
PALATABLE
Try a loaf of our Brown and Currant Bread
FRY'S MILK CHOCOLATE DROPS
BURNT ALMONDS
COLEMAN BROS.
Phone 335. 426 George S

A MESSAGE FROM CHINA HALL

China Hall's Stock is now complete, and the present is now a good time to make selections for Christmas. China Hall's Stock is the heaviest and most varied it has ever been, and taken as a whole it would do credit to the largest city in the Dominion. The Store will be open evenings during December, and the public are invited to visit the two show rooms during the present week and view the newest productions in Pottery. Our Dinner Ware show room (just completed) is worih a visit.

CHINA HALL CO. New Premises 394 GEORGE STREET
(NEXT TO H. LeBRUN & CO.)

Big Bargains in Note Paper at

Cubitt's Book, Stationery and Fancy Goods Store

370 George Street, Peterborough, on

SATURDAY NEXT

1 quire Splendid Linen Note Paper and 1 package Envelopes, regular 25c, sale price

17c

1 Large Pad—85 sheets—and 1 package Envelopes regular 20c, sale price

13c

"CUBITT SELLS CHEAP"

ALAMEDA, SASK., BURNT

Nearly the Whole Business Section Wiped Out.

Loss Is Two Hundred Thousand Dollars, With Fair Insurance—Explosion of Lamp Causes Destruction of Harrisburg Station—Orton and Lancaster Also Suffer Heavy Losses by Fire.

Alameda, Sask., Dec. 7.—This little town was devastated by fire on Thursday night. The loss will be fully $200,000, with insurance probably $125,000. The principal losses are as follows: King Bros., butcher shop, $2,000; Broadfoot's American Hotel, $20,000; Emerson's livery stable, $4,000; B. B. Teed, law office, $1,000; R. T. Gibson's men's store, $14,000; Hopper Bros., general store, $25,000; Crosk & McDowell's implement warehouse, $15,000; Wood & Gibson's general store, $14,000; Brown Lumber & Hardware Co., $25,000; Farmers' Elevator & Trading Co., $50,000; Masonic Hall, $1,000; Crown Lumber & Hardware Co., $20,000; Brighton Hotel, $20,000. The insurance companies principally interested are the Commercial Union, the London, the Liverpool & Globe, and the Western Assurance Co. Several others have small risks. There is not a building left standing on the east side of the business portion of Main street, or on the south side of First avenue, except J. R. Trumpour's warehouse.

Cornwall, Dec. 7.—The tailor shop and dwelling at Lancaster, occupied by Mr. J. B. Lalonde, merchant tailor, were burned to the ground Thursday. Mr. Lalonde lost nearly everything in the shop and house. The building was insured, also the contents. This property is situated on Main street, adjoining the Grand Trunk. It was owned and occupied for nearly a quarter of a century by Mr. E. C. White, who left for the Island of Jersey, a few years ago, after selling out to Moses Smith of Montreal.

Orton, Alberta, Dec. 7.—The store and stock of the Orton Mercantile Co. was burned here yesterday. Loss $4,000, with $1,700 insurance.

Brantford, Dec. 7—The Grand Trunk station at Harrisburg was burned to the ground yesterday morning by the explosion of a lamp. No effort was made to save the building, which was an old landmark. It is said $200 which was in the till was destroyed.

Fastest Torpedo Boat.

Portsmouth, Dec. 7.—The British turbine torpedo-boat destroyer Tartar has beaten all records for her class by steamer 35.952 knots an hour against the tide on the Admiralty course between Southampton and Maplin Sands. This record was made early in the week, when the Tartar was being prepared for the official trials. The official trials took place yesterday, and, carrying a greater load than that stipulated in the contract, the Tartar made 34.857 knots as a mean of six runs over the Admiralty measured mile course.

Stole an Indian Boy.

St. Catharines, Dec. 7.—A peculiar case was heard by Police Magistrate Kidd at Grimsby yesterday. Some time ago, Maggie Green, a reservation Indian, visited Mrs. Dockstadder, near Grimsby Park, and took a small child, her brother, Rubbie Green, back to the reservation, and, refusing to return him, was arrested for abduction. At the hearing it transpired that the girl had been given $2 by an Indian named Hill to steal the boy. Both Hill and the girl were committed for trial.

Went Through the Ice.

Port Arthur, Dec. 7.—Rufus Pywell was found drowned in the lake between Wabigoon and Moose Lodge. He had gone to Dinorwic on a business trip, and the ice being considered good, set out to skate the distance of several miles home over the lake.

Word has reached here from Wabigoon that a young Englishman named J. Field, employed at Mather's camp, near Gull River, lost his way returning from his day's work, and died of exposure.

Bandits Attacked Monastery.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 7.—Particulars have just been received here of an attack by 20 Lettish-Kethonian bandits upon a monastery near Pskov. The fighting was fierce and determined. The bandits were finally driven off by the monks, who had six men killed and three wounded in the fray. The aggressors were then pursued by troops and gendarmes and practically exterminated.

Collision on I. C. R.

Amherst, N. S., Dec. 7.—Yesterday afternoon a west bound freight ran head-on into a shunting engine, which was smashed to pieces. The driver and fireman both jumped and escaped injury.

A carload of machinery from the Robb Engine Co. for Truro was turned over and badly demolished. Two flatcars were broken into kindling wood.

Farmer Swallowed Poison.

Windsor, Dec. 7.—While suffering from a fit of melancholia, Thomas Richardson, a well-to-do retired farmer, living on Howard avenue, ended his life by taking carbolic acid yesterday. Deceased was about 40 years of age, and leaves a young wife.

More Want Divorces.

Ottawa, Dec. 7.—Notice appears in The Canada Gazette of two more applications for divorces from Toronto, nine having already been received from that city. The applicants are Mrs. Annie Bowden and Isaac Moore.

Triple Tragedy on Street.

Smithville, Texas, Dec. 7.—E. W. Swanson shot and killed his former wife and her husband and then committed suicide in the street yesterday morning.

FOR XMAS GREETING

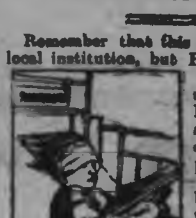
Order your cards now and secure the best, as the prettiest are always sold out first. Many different styles printed with your own greeting and name, at all prices. Call and make your selection at the Review Office.

Men and Women of Ontario

This APPEAL ......is for...... You

The Great Provincial Charity, The Hospital for Sick Children, Calls On You For Aid.

Remember that this Hospital is not a local institution, but Provincial.

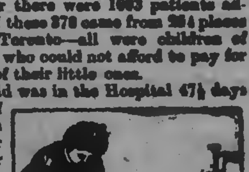


"I LIKE PICTURES"

It cares for every sick child in the Province of Ontario whose parents cannot afford to pay for treatment. Busy dollars are better than idle tears. The sympathy that Weeps is good, but the Hospital has to have the sympathy that Works.

Last year there were 1603 patients admitted. Of these 378 came from 284 places outside of Toronto—all were children of poor people who could not afford to pay for treatment of their little ones.

Each child was in the Hospital 47½ days at a cost of $1.31 each per day, or $62.22 for the 47½ days stay.



MASSAGE

If your dollar could straighten the feet of a little boy or girl with club feet, you would gladly give it, and your dollar will do that. There were 79 cases of club feet treated last year. Out of the 79, about 50 were from the country.

BEFORE. AFTER.

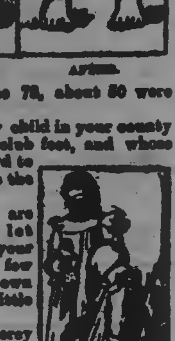
If you know of any child in your county who is sick or has club feet, and whose parents can not afford to pay, send the name to the Hospital Secretary.



EYE CASES.

The stock books are open. Won't you let the Hospital write your name down for a few shares in Heaven's own work of healing little children?

A great mine of Mercy—the mining stock that always pays dividends—is bought with the money that helps The Hospital for Sick Children to extract the Gold of Life from the Quartz of Death.

Please send contributions to J. Ross Robertson, Chairman, or to Douglas Davidson, Sec.-Treas., of the Hospital for Sick Children, College Street, Toronto.

HUNDREDS OF SALOONS CLOSE.

Local Option In Illinois—Two Hotelmen Suicide.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Hundreds of saloons were closed in Illinois yesterday, the local option voted at the last election in 14 counties becoming effective at midnight. Eight counties are now totally "dry," while six allow saloons in only a few precincts.

In addition, a systematic campaign for the Sunday closing of saloons has been undertaken in Chicago and several score of saloonkeepers of the city have been arrested on evidence gathered by agents of the Chicago Law and Order League.

Two Chicago saloonkeepers committed suicide under remarkable circumstances Thursday. The members of their families attribute the deaths solely to worry lest the Sunday closing agitation of the Law and Order League ruin the saloon business here.

RACED 85 MILES FOR LIFE.

Man's Arm Torn From Socket, Nearest Physician at Saskatoon.

Saskatoon, Dec. 7.—Hector Lachapelle, a homesteader, living 85 miles from here, arrived in the city Thursday night in charge of friends and expired a few minutes later in the city hospital. Lachapelle Thursday was working with a threshing machine and got his hand caught in the machinery. The arm was literally torn from the socket. The nearest physician was absent, and as every moment was vital to the homesteader, owing to his bleeding to death, the party hurriedly left for the long drive to Saskatoon.

BATTLESHIP ADRIFT.

St. George Runs Amuck In Harbor and Is Badly Damaged.

Portsmouth, Eng., Dec. 7.—There was an exciting scene in this harbor Thursday night when the battleship Prince George broke away from her moorings and went adrift.

The Prince George grazed a number of warships anchored in the harbor and then collided with such force with the new cruiser Shannon, which had just arrived in from her trials, that a big hole was pierced in the battleship's side. The Prince George took in water rapidly and by the time she had been secured by a tug and towed to dock, she had a heavy list to starboard.

Steeplejack In Peril.

Cleveland, Dec. 7.—For three hours yesterday, Arthur O'Donnell, a steeplejack of New Rochelle, N. Y., faced death in a swaying seat, suspended from the spire of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, 190 feet above the ground. The rope had caught in a cornice when he started to descend after four hours' work in the air. After all expedients had failed to reach him, firemen burst a hole in the steeple's side and loosened the rope. O'Donnell's hands and face were frozen, and he collapsed as the seat touched the ground before a crowd of a thousand.

Japs Hope For Prohibition.

Tokio, Dec. 7.—A strong movement has developed in an unexpected quarter looking to the prohibition of emigration of all laborers to America and Canada, and it is understood that a number of prominent persons, formerly of the Cabinet, and others, intend to urge the adoption of such a measure.

They will require the Government to undertake the development upon a large scale of Korea and Manchuria, in order to give employment to Japanese.

Stole Diamonds For Girl.

New York, Dec. 7.—Diamonds worth $10,000, stolen by an eighteen-year-old bookkeeper from the jewelry firm of Rudolph Noel & Co., No. 37 Maiden lane, furnished the Tenderloin with its latest spectacular spender and put Louis J. Harris in the Tombs prison Thursday.

Harris might still be uncaught if he had not persisted in paying for dinners at Sherry's and for automobiles in diamonds instead of gold.

$300 For Child's Life.

Montreal, Dec. 7.—In view of the verdict for $300 damages given in the case of Anderson against the Protestant School Board of Montreal, it is thought that sixteen other cases of the same kind will be settled on that basis. Anderson was the father of one of the children lost in the Hochelaga School fire.

Dunsmuir May Resign.

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 7.—According to excellent political authority here, Lieutenant-Governor Dunsmuir will be invited by the Federal Government to resign as a result of the disclosures at the Japanese enquiry recently regarding contracts where Jap laborers were for Dunsmuir's coal mines.

Thrown From His Wagon.

Garden Hill, Dec. 7.—John Hunter, a farmer living between Garden Hill and Millbrook, was thrown from his wagon in a runaway at Garden Hill yesterday. He died an hour later on the train, while being hurried to St. Nicholas' Hospital, at Peterboro.

Franz Joseph In Danger.

Budapest, Dec. 7.—The Nap, a newspaper of this city, publishes a sensational story yesterday to the effect that an anarchist plot upon the lives of Emperor Joseph and Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the heir to the throne, has been discovered.

Thirty Drown.

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 7.—The Brazilian coasting steamer Guasca, Capt. Ramos, 550 tons, has gone down off Paranagua, Brazil, as a result of a collision with an unknown vessel.

Thirty persons who were on board the Guasca were drowned.

Engineer Killed.

Buffalo, Dec. 7.—John Bain of St. Thomas, Ont., Wabash locomotive engineer, was fatally scalded Thursday night in a collision between his engine and several runaway cars.

Damage of $25,000 was done by a fire on the premises of the Canadian Neckwear company, 40 Scott street, Toronto.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

Friday Evening, Dec. 6.

Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day ⅜d to ½d higher. Corn, ⅝d higher.

At Chicago December wheat closed ⅛c higher; Dec. corn, ⅜c higher, and Dec. oats ⅛c higher.

Winnipeg Options.

Following are the closing quotations on Winnipeg grain futures to-day:

Wheat—Dec. $1.00⅝ bid, May $1.09⅞ bid.

Oats—Dec. 46c bid, May 53c bid.

Toronto Grain Market.

Grain—
Wheat, spring, bush	$0 96	to $....
Wheat, fall, bush	0 98	1 00
Wheat, goose, bush	0 87	0 88
Wheat, red, bush	1 00	....
Rye, bush	0 83	0 85
Peas, bush	0 88	....
Buckwheat, bush	0 64	0 65
Barley, bush	0 70	....
Oats, bush	0 53	0 53

Toronto Dairy Market.

Butter, dairy, lb. rolls	0 27	0 28
Butter, tubs	0 26	0 27
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls..	0 30	0 31
Butter, creamery, boxes ...	0 29	0 30
Eggs, new-laid, dozen	0 30	....
Eggs, cold-storage, dozen..	0 22	....
Cheese, large, lb	0 13½	....
Cheese, twin, lb	0 13¾	....
Honey, extracted, lb	0 13	0 13½

Liverpool Grain and Produce.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 6.—Wheat, spot No. 2 red western winter, 7s 8½d; futures, easy; Dec., 7s 8¼d, March, 7s 11d; May, 7s 10⅝d. Corn, spot, prime mixed American, 5s 6d; futures, quiet; Dec., nominal; Jan., 5s 2¾d. Bacon, short ribs, quiet, 56s 6d; long clear middles, light, firm, 56s 6d; long clear middles, heavy, firm, 55s. Short clear backs, firm, 51s; shoulders, square, firm, 35s 6d. Turpentine spirits, dull, 35s 6d. Flour, winter patents, quiet, 30s 6d.

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Butter, firm; receipts, 4756; creamery, specials, 29c; do., held, seconds to specials, 22c to 27½c.

Cheese, firm; receipts, 2909. State full cream, colored and white, October best, 13¾c.

Eggs—Firm, unchanged; receipts, 6204.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Firmer—American Markets Are About Steady.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—London cables are firmer at 11c to 12¾c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c to 10½c per pound.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Dec. 6.—Cattle—Receipts, 100 head; steady, prime steers, $5.60 to $5.95.

Veals—Receipts, 1000 head; opened active and strong at $5 to $9.25; a few, $9.50, closed slow and lower at $9.25, top price.

Hogs—Receipts, 12,800 head; slow on light, active on heavy; 5c to 15c lower; heavy and mixed, $5.40 to $5.45; yorkers, $5.30 to $5.45; pigs, $5.40 to $5.45; roughs, $4.00 to $4.90; stags, $3.50 to $4.25; dairy, $5.30 to $5.40.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 20,000 head; dull and lower; lambs, $5 to $6.40; yearlings and wethers, $4.75 to $5; ewes, $4.25 to $4.75; sheep, mixed, $2.50 to $4.85; Canada lambs, $5.75 to $6.25.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Beeves—Receipts, 1559; steers, slow to 10c lower; bulls and cows, dull to 10c to 15c off; steers, $4 to $5.70; bulls, $3.75 to $4.25; cows, $1.40 to $3.65; extra heavy western, do., $4. Exports to-morrow, 800 cattle and 5200 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 605; prime veals, scarce and firm; others, slow; barnyard calves dull to 25c lower; westerns, steady; veals, $6 to $9.75; barnyard calves, $3 to $3.25. Choice light western, do., $5.10.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 555; sheep, dull and 25c lower; lambs, 10c to 15c lower. Sheep, $2.75 to $4.75; culls, $2 to $2.50; lambs, $6.25 to $6.75; culls, $3.50 to $5; yearlings, $5 to $5.25; culls, $3.50.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Cattle—Receipts, estimated at 3000; market, steady to strong; steers, $3.75 to $6.50; stockers and feeders, $2 to $4.50; cows, $2.75 to $4.50; heifers, $2.50 to $5.25; bulls, $2.00 to $4.50; calves, $3 to $7.

Hogs—Receipts, estimated at about 30,000; market, 5c to 10c lower; choice heavy shipping, $5.10 to $5.20; light butchers', $5.10 to $5.20; light mixed, $4.05 to $5.10; packing, $4.40 to $5.05; pigs, $4 to $4.70; bulk of sales, $4.90 to $5.

Sheep—Receipts, estimated at 9000; market slow and dull; sheep, $2.50 to $5; lambs, $5.25 to $6.65; yearlings, $4.25 to $5.25.

Both Are Recovering.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 7.—Dr. James A. Attridge, formerly of Highgate, Ont., is making good progress at Harper Hospital, and hopes are now entertained that he will recover.

Mrs. Florence Griffith, too, is recovering at Grace Hospital. Not until the patients have recovered will the question of a criminal charge be taken up by the authorities in connection with the recent shooting.

Grafts 1,874 Pieces of Skin.

Westboro, Mass., Dec. 7—One of the most remarkable skin-grafting achievements on record was completed yesterday at the farm of J. G. Kestler, when the last of 1,874 pieces of skin was placed on the arm of Mrs. Kestler. All the pieces were taken from the arms and legs of her husband. The operation has lasted more than three months.

Republics to Arbitrate.

Washington, Dec. 7.—A practical agreement on the outlines of an arbitration treaty, with an international court for the arbitration of differences arising between them, it is said authoritatively, has been reached by the delegates to the Central American peace conference, which is in session here.

One Year For Shaw.

Kingston, Dec. 7.—Charles Shaw was charged with bigamy in the Police Court yesterday and with a display of tears admitted his crime and asked for immediate sentence. He was given a year in the Central Prison. His victims were not called upon to testify.

German Balloon Ran Away.

Berlin, Dec. 7.—While being filled for a match race arranged by the Aeronautical Society of the Lower Rhine the balloon Rambler was torn from its anchorage at Muehlerg yesterday. Nothing has been heard of the balloon since.

Teachers' Pension Scheme Presented.

St. John N. B., Dec. 7.—The Provincial Government yesterday heard a delegation of teachers who presented their scheme for a teachers' pension fund. The Government will take up the matter next Friday.

Col. J. Twining of Halifax, a veteran of the Northwest Rebellion, is dead.

SHOT THROUGH THE MOUTH.

Well-Known Actress Suicides In a Baltimore Hotel.

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 6.—Mrs. Clara Bloodgood, the actress, committed suicide by shooting in her room at the Hotel Stafford here last evening.

Mrs. Bloodgood's body was found lying on the bed with a bullet-hole through the roof of her mouth. Nearby lay a book entitled, "How to Shoot Straight," and a 38-calibre revolver with three chambers empty. She attended a matinee performance at Albaugh's Theatre in the afternoon, and returned to her hotel about four o'clock, seemingly in the best of spirits.

Later, when it was time for the curtain to raise for her own show at the Academy of Music, where she was appearing in "The Truth," she had not put in an appearance. Word was sent to the Stafford Hotel and a bell-boy was sent up to her room. Just as he approached the door he heard a pistol shot. Hurrying back to the office, he notified the clerks of what he had heard. An investigation was made, and Mrs. Bloodgood was found stretched on the bed as described.

Before retiring to her room, she had a talk with her stage manager, John Emergen, who declares that he observed nothing unusual in her demeanor.

The only motive he can ascribe is that Mrs. Bloodgood feared an attack of nervous prostration. She had been working very hard, he said, and she feared a breakdown.

Mrs. Bloodgood left a note addressed to her husband, who is said to be on his way to this city.

The audience at the Academy of Music was dismissed with the announcement that there would be no performance owing to a sudden indisposition of Mrs. Bloodgood.

MILL HANDS WALKED OUT.

Mark of Sympathy With Men Charged With Treason.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 6.—Fifty thousand mill hands employed in St. Petersburg walked out yesterday on a one-day strike as a mark of sympathy with the thirty-seven Social-Democratic members of the second Douma, who were yesterday arraigned on a charge of high treason.

Seventeen soldiers and civilians are also being tried, charged with the same offences.

In addition the students of the University of St. Petersburg tried to hold a big demonstration.

Several thousand young men and women listened to revolutionary speeches, but they were rapidly dispersed by troops and police.

ONE WIFE TOO MANY.

Police Take Charles Shaw From Bridal Reception.

Kingston, Dec. 6.—A man from Hamilton, Charles Shaw, a motorman, was married on Tuesday night, and Wednesday night he was an inmate of the police cells, accused of bigamy. He was taken from the home of the bride while receiving congratulations.

He is accused of deserting a wife and two babies, one four weeks' old, living on Montreal street, and within a few blocks away from Miss Ethel Watkins, whom he had just married.

The young woman fainted when she learned she had been deceived, so did the first wife, who was formerly Miss M. Gascoign of this city.

Old Man Rescued.

Brockville, Dec. 6.—Rescued just in the nick of time, as his house was burning down, was the experience of Thomas Miller, a farmer, living alone about 15 miles from Brockville.

It was just before daybreak yesterday morning that the attention of neighbors was directed to the scene by the reflection of the blaze. Miller, who is very old, deaf and an odd character generally, had come outside and was about to re-enter for some valuable papers he had forgotten, when he was restrained by force. The house collapsed a few minutes later, destroying the entire contents.

Man's Nose Cut Off.

St. Thomas, Dec. 6.—Mr. Oscar Little met with a strange accident at Union, where the Bell Telephone Co. is doing some work. Mr. Little is foreman of an erecting gang, and had gone up a high pole to make a fastening. The wire was at high tension and as he approached it broke, coming down across his face in such a manner that it made a clean cut of his nose. The organ was left hanging, and the unfortunate man held it back in place and immediately visited Dr. Jackson, who stitched it on.

Judge's Sudden Death.

Butte, Mon., Dec. 6.—Judge E. W. Harney, aged 46 years, died suddenly Wednesday night of cerebral hemorrhage. He occupied the district bench during the Heinz-Amalgamated Copper Co. litigation, and it was upon an allegation that he had been unduly influenced that the Amalgamated Company attorneys obtained a new trial.

Protected the Secretary.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 6.—William H. Taft, the United States Secretary of War, left yesterday for Berlin.

The request of a group of students to send a deputation to welcome Secretary Taft upon his arrival was denied by the authorities, as it was feared that this deputation was merely a cover for a revolutionary demonstration.

Fire at Rodney.

Rodney, Dec. 6.—A fire occurred in the village yesterday morning which destroyed the home of William Sprague. Considerable furniture was saved. The house, which was owned by Mr. Richard Johnston, carried no insurance.

Twenty Below Zero.

Utica, N. Y., Dec. 6.—In the Mohawk Valley and throughout Adirondack points Wednesday night, the mercury was from zero to 5 below, while Moorehouseville reports 20 below, and Big Moose 24 below.

The Jas. Malloch Co., of Lindsay, dealers in waggons, is to be wound up.

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited

97 Yonge Street, Toronto.

W. H. ISAAC, 228 Dublin Street, Peterborough.
Local Salaried Representative. Machine 'Phone 22

FOR THE LADY WHO CALLS

Visiting List and Social Engagement Book—A Dainty and Useful Gift.

Those ladies who find it difficult to keep track of their social debts in the way of calls which have to be returned, invitations to various society functions which have been received will be pleased to learn that a dainty little book has been issued from the presses of the Review which will fill their need. The city has grown so rapidly of late years that it has become almost necessary for each lady to have a special reception day each month when her friends will be sure to find her at home. To keep a record of these will be an easy matter with one of these little books. They are prettily bound in blue linen, lettered in gold and printed on good paper. There are two pages for every day in the month, arranged, according as the day is, first Monday, second Tuesday, etc. At the back of the book are pages for invitations received, out-of-town addresses, special reception dates, and memoranda. One of the books would make a dainty and acceptable Xmas gift. The books are on sale at the bookstores at the price of 50c

Charles Kow admitted at Cobourg to firing William Rarcount's barns and stacks.

Since the burning of their church, New Liskeard Methodists meet in the Masonic hall.

FIRE ALARM BOXES

The following are the numbers and locations of the city of Peterborough Fire Alarm boxes.

WARD No. ONE

BOX LOCATION
12—Lock and McGill
14—Westcott and Aylmer
15—Perry and George
16—Perry and Bethune
17—Park and Townsend
18—George, at C. P. R.

WARD No. TWO

21—George and King
22—Simcoe and Queen
23—George and Hunter
24—Hunter and Quaker
27—Water and McDonel

WARD No. THREE

31—Park and Sherbrooke
33—Charlotte and Stewart
35—Park and Hunter
38—McDonel and Reid

WARD No. FOUR

41—Park and London
42—George and Dublin
43—Edinburgh and Stewart
45—George and Smith
48—Water and Hilliard

WARD No. FIVE

52—Burnham and James
53—Rogers and Sophia
54—Hunter and Mark
57—Concession and Hazlitt
59—Auburn

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A K[illegible] Box will be found hanging in a small [illegible] front, adjoining the Alarm Box. [illegible], remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the War number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

FOR XMAS WORK OR BAZAARS

Pictures in Sepia or Colors, from 3c to 12c

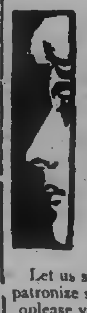
Mounting Papers and Card, in White, Browns and Gray.

Leather in all shades—Brown, Tan, Green and Red.

Calendar Pads, all sizes, from 2c to 10c each.

Passepartout in all shades.

AT REVIEW STATIONERY DEPT.



YOUR OWN HAIR MADE UP AS DESIRED . .

By home talent, where y are ure of satisfaction, or matche correctly in shade and quality.

Switches, Natural Wavy Pomp Latest Coiffures

Let us show you what we can do before you patronize some outside party. We guarantee oplease you at lowest prices in the city.

Back Hair Dressing, Shampooing, etc.

MRS. BYRNE'S

George Street, Second Door North of Dutton's

Letterheads

¶What you think about you Business Stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks.

¶Don't have inferior paper and work in your Business Stationery. Don't try good work and paper because you like it, altogether, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

¶The Review Job Department will give you the best work obtainable and superior paper and envelopes. Your order set, printed and cared for for you, particularly you

¶A Call or Phone will bring to you samples.

THE REVIEW PETERBOROUGH

W. H. HILL, Esq.,

Manager of Central Ontario.

Dear Sir—After congratulating myself being a Sun Life Policy Holder, I am very much pleased with the handsome amount added to my Policy, and am surprised and gratified with the profits. I appreciate the good financial position which your Company holds to-day.

THOS. EDGAR,
Peterborough, Ont

November 29th, 1907.

N.B—Policy Straight Life $2,000
Bonus for 5 Years $160
Policy No. 17,706

A Story of Absorbing Interest

The Rogue's March

By E. W. HORNUNG, author of "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," "Stingaree," etc.

"Sure, an' it isn't a farth'n' it is at all."

"What is it, then?"

"A sov'rin!"

And the soft Irish brogue was rich with honest satisfaction. She showed him the coin in triumph. He regarded it with a leaden eye.

"A sov'rin!" repeated Peggy, with enthusiasm. "Stick it in your pockut an' be grateful iver afther to Peggy's bare fut."

He shook his head.

"You wont?"

Another shake.

"'Tis sinful pride I call it," remonstrated the girl. "The kind man meant well"—

"The kind man?"

"An' isn't he?"

"I owe him a bit already," replied Tom. "Let me settle that first."

"But this he meant well, man. This is no farth'n' "—

"So much the worse. He thought to heal the wounds I owe him with a sovereign, did he? His conscience and my wounds! May they lie open and sting and throb and tickle all at once as they're doing now till I have my fingers at his throat!" The girl looked so frightened that he gulped at his passion and said: "You keep it yourself, Peggy, like a good girl. You deserve a purse of them for all you've done for me this night. Why, what now?"

He sat alone in the lockup. The girl had stolen swiftly out. In the unconscious egotism of his grief and shame this simply puzzled him. So he sat in the moonbeams, blinking at the moon, until she returned and once more closed the door.

"All's safe," she told him cheerfully. "I heard the thraps snorin' in their slape."

"Had you heard something else?"

"I had not."

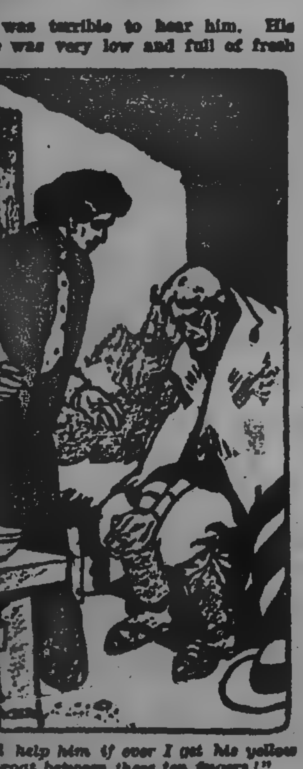
"Then what was wrong?"

"Is it why I went out?" said Peggy, fixing him with an eye that was cheerful too. "To dhrop that sov'rin to the very bottom of their well. An' it's we will dhrop it, too, if you plase."

Tom held out his hand.

"I've offended you, Peggy. God knows I didn't mean to. But I'm capable of all that's brutal tonight. You see what they've made of me already. Forgive me, Peggy. I'll never forgive them. I'll be even with every one of them, curse them, curse them, and then I'll swing as I should have done a year ago. I'm sorry I didn't keep that pound—to give it him back for his coffin!"

It was terrible to hear him. His voice was very low and full of fresh tears that made it all sound worse. Peggy asked him what he meant to do.



"God help him if ever I get his yellow throat between these ten fingers!"

He meant to die, but not of the lash—the rope. He meant to hang as he should have hung the year before. If only he had! If only he had! But at last he recognized the fate reserved for him by a Providence he blasphemed, so now he would meet it halfway. He was sorry he had not done so long ago. He was sorry he had not driven a knife through Nat in the very beginning. But it was never too late to kill and die. It was only too late to die with a whole skin. And again his sobs and blasphemies were horrible to hear. Yet Peggy listened patiently and gradually soothed him with a tender, tolerant, womanly word here and there, so that at last he looked at her through his tears—for he was utterly unmanned—and asked her out of pure curiosity what he had done to make such an enemy of Mr. Nat.

Peggy resumed her cheerful manner.

"An' don't ye know?" said she, masking a trembling lip with a smile. "Is it no notion ye have at all?"

"None whatever."

"Arrah, Tom, 'tis in love ye are entirely!"

At these words, which took him cruelly by surprise, he gave her a kind of wounded glare that was their confirmation, whereupon she forced a giggle and asked him whom he supposed Nat had suspected him of being in love with.

Tom wearily gave it up.

"Be thinkin' a minute," said Peggy self consciously.

"Not you, was it?"

Peggy nodded.

"But what nonsense!" he exclaimed.

"An' it was all that," said Peggy.

"I mean we never saw each other. And was that all he had against me?"

"No; there was a little more than that."

She hesitated.

"What?" he asked.

"More of his nonsense, then, for he thought I was as bad as you."

"Idiot!"

"Idjut, indeed," said Peggy sadly.

"When we hadn't exchanged a dozen words!"

Not a dozen? Not many dozens perhaps, for up to tonight Peggy had them every one by heart. She was not so sure that she would be able to remember all they were saying now; she was not so sure that she should want to. But she steeled herself to answer cheerfully. And he guessed nothing then, for to speak of love was still to think of Claire, and to think of Claire was to pray that never in this life or another might she know or dream what had befallen him that day. But even with the prayer in his heart he remembered there was no God to hear it and was retracing his steps in this blind alley of despair when Peggy took his hand and flashed a suggestion before his mind.

Why should he go back to the farm at all—to be bullied and beaten to death or desperation in a cruel and unequal war? He told her in reply what he calmly proposed to do, and her blood ran cold to hear him; then common sense came to her aid, and she showed him the folly rather than the wickedness of his diabolical plans. He listened sullenly, but said he could not answer for himself after this and pretended to take less than he really did to the suggestion that he should run away there and then. According to Peggy, there was not another minute to lose.

Tom wanted to know where he was to run to, but he began feeling about for his shirt. Peggy found it for him and noticed, with a pang of instinctive jealousy, as the blanket fell apart in his movements, a mysterious something that he wore next his breast like a scapula. It was sewn up in oiled silk, which glistened in the feeble light, and in the bitter intuition that this precious possession was a packet of true love's letters she made him ask his questions twice.

Peggy then told him he must run due east for the sea, for it was but thirty miles from there, and she had a good mind to run with him, since they were going to turn her into government without fail. This she said with a laugh, but he made no answer. His face was drawn with pain at every movement. It reminded Peggy of some scraps of cotton wool that she had brought for him to put next his lacerated skin, and a grateful look he gave her was her comfort and her hope, as she left him to fight his own battle with his shirt and set herself to pulling down the brushwood fence. A breach was easily and not noisily made, and both moon and stars were still crisp in the sky when Tom painfully followed the girl's lead and the two plunged together into the open bush.

"Djue east," repeated Peggy, stopping in the first thicket. "D'ye know the Southern Cross now? I'm afther misrememberin' it meself."

"Up yonder, Peggy. Those five."

"An' as like a cross as a han' saw! But as ye know 't ye can steer djue east by 't, an' djue east lies the say. If you're wantin' wather on the way, let the Southern Cross shine in your face, an' that'll bring ye to the river. I heard 'em say so as I waited table."

"I know, Peggy, I know. And when I get to the sea—if ever I do—well, at least my bones can sleep in it, instead of in this pestilent land!"

He stood eying her, eager to be gone, and yet reluctant to show ungrateful haste.

"An' why would they?" cried Peggy. "It's manny a convict has escaped on raf's before ye, so why wouldn't you? Only fetch up wid the say an' there's hope!"

"Then, Peggy, there's no time to lose." And his hand was out in an instant.

"Ah, thin, Tom, an' must I be lavin' ye?"

Her voice was altered.

"This is not the way to Castle Sullivan, Peggy. It's the very opposite direction. And I've got you into trouble enough, goodness knows."

Her lips parted as though more arguments were on her tongue. But it was upon his white face the moon was shining, and his eagerness to go and go alone was now transparent.

"They have made you cruile, Tom," said Peggy, with a sudden sad dignity. "Goodby. Go your ways. God bless you!"

"Cruel to you?" he said densely.

"Yes, cruile to me—to me that brought ye mate and dhrink, to me that 'd"—

"But what can I do?" he asked her in the same dull tone. "I am grateful to you with all the heart they've left me, but they tried their best to cut it out, and I believe they have. Make allowances for me, Peggy, and only tell me what I can do."

"Take me wid ye, Tom," she whispered.

"To the sea?"

"An' further!"

"My dear, how can I? If they follow me alone, I can fight them alone until I drop and die. With you I couldn't."

"An' wouldn't we dhrop and die together?"

And now there were tears in her voice that held his own tongue bound and now a light in her eyes that shot a ray through his brain at last. He understood and waited for his heart to bleed for her. When it would not, a great groan came from his soul.

"I can't help it, Peggy," he mumbled in his shame. "It's as you say. They've cut my heart out—cut it clean out, they have—and a cruel brute is all I can ever be now. Forgive me, my girl—and let me go. Never think twice about me. I'm not worth it—a brute like me! Peggy—Peggy"—

He had tried in his weakness to put his arms about her upon an impulse of pure sorrow and gratitude that flickered within him like the last ember in a fire. And the convict girl had turned so fiercely that her black hair swept and stung his face as she broke away from him once and for all. He saw her bare feet flashing in the moonlight; they fell too softly for his ears. But he heard her sobbing as she ran, and he pitied himself the more passionately for the little he found it in him to pity her.

CHAPTER XX.

To abscond from assigned service was to break yet another law of the land of bondage. And, though he little knew it, but cared less, Tom Erichsen was now liable to further transportation, even to Norfolk island, and that for life.

Six months in a chain gang was, however, a likelier term. He might even get off with another fifty lashes and doubtless would if he fell alive into the ruthless hands through which he had slipped at last. He set his teeth at the thought. It should never be. They might take his body—there would be one or two more to go with it when they did.

The stars were still sharp in the sky. They remained so for some hours longer when a breath of wind blew them out like candles, and day broke, or, rather, burst, like a shell.

Meanwhile Tom had struck a creek, waded a mile in it to destroy the scent, waded within a stone's throw of Jarman's hut, turned tail in a panic and waded back, and miles farther, in the opposite direction. In the creek also he slaked his thirst and laved his wounds. He had turned his back on it when the sun rose. And toward the rising sun he ran and ran until there was a great belt of blue beneath it in the sky, then hid for the day in a tiny clump of trees in the midst of an open plain.

Here he slept for hours, yet dreamed but one dream—of baying dogs and cantering hoofs. When he awoke, the first sound was actually audible, but far away and growing fainter. It passed altogether, and he fell asleep again. Awaking a second time, he found the stars back in the sky, but as yet no moon. And Tom was deadly faint for lack of food.

Also his wounds were so stiff that he could scarcely stir, every movement causing him pain. Yet he struggled up and tottered east, with those five fixed stars shining feebly upon his wan right cheek and haggard profile.

How long this continued Tom could never tell. It might have been hours later or only minutes that seemed like hours when the climax came. All he ever knew was that his head was by this time very light, and that the moon was no higher than the trees when it shone upon the stray wether bleating piteously in his path, which was to stand out terribly in his mind ever after. Yet up to that moment a forty hours' fast had been broken but once—with sandwiches. It was either this or lingering death.

The moon won clear of the trees. It shone into the glutted eyes and on the blood caked mouth and fingers of as desperate and abandoned a young convict as the settlement contained.

He pushed on now with a new and dreadful energy. He thought he smelt the sea. The country, however, was still well timbered, and instinctively rather than with conscious precaution the fugitive made his line where the trees were thickest. He was now steering jealously by the moon, with his head thrown farther back the higher it sailed. Thus it was that a little later he tripped and staggered without seeing what it was that had caught his foot, but it felt peculiar, and after a moment he turned round, stood still and went back.

It was the dead body of a man.

The body had not a rag upon it.

Tom knelt to examine it by the moonlight, and a cold thrill ran down him, which he resented when he had time to think. It showed there was something human in him yet.

The body was that of a very swarthy man, with wonderful white teeth, upon which the moon shone and glistened in the ghastliest manner, and pierced ears, from which the earrings had been brutally torn, and a chapfallen blue chin. Tom thought the man had not been many hours dead. What puzzled him was the apparent absence of a mortal wound where the other evidences of foul play were so glaring. When found, however, the wound itself puzzled him much more. It was at the back of the sunburnt neck and might have been a bullet wound, but Tom had never seen one before, nor would he have expected a bullet to drill a hole so clean and round.

He now behaved as though he had been tripping over murdered men all his life. He had not only recovered his composure; he was able to glory in it as a sign that his heart was dead after all and so past bleeding for anything or anybody any more. At this moment he raised his eyes, and his new found composure was at an end.

A light flashed through the trees into his eyes—a tongue of flame from some campfire.

Tom listened. No voices reached his ears save those of the nocturnal bush. The fire was farther off than he had thought.

He got up and first walked, then crept toward the light. The colony was infested with bands of bushrangers. What if here were one and this corpse their handiwork? Now Tom thought of it, one particular and most notorious band had been depredating this very part of the country ever since the new year. He had heard envious reports of the villains in the convicts' huts at Castle Sullivan, and especially had he heard of their terrible Italian chief, said to be an outlawed brigand come to seek fresh fortunes in New South Wales. Of the merciless ferocity of this free alien the most horrifying stories were afloat. Yet the worst of these but feebly expressed one who shot men from behind, stripped their corpses and tore the very rings from their ears.

Tom crept near the fire in a personal fright curiously exhilarating in its intensity. He might almost have been a free man once more, worth robbing, worth murdering for his money. The novel sensation brought back a momentary whiff of unconscious self respect. It was just the little thought of having a life worth taking once more, of being anything to anybody but a beaten dog, and it came and went and was forgotten in the same moment.

The next he was gazing on a curious scene, and his fears were also at an end.

In the light of the campfire four men were sitting solemnly at whist, and three faces more innocently intent—for the fourth was turned the other way—Tom had never seen in his life. On his left sat a long limbed stripling whom the others addressed as Slipper while they shuffled and cut and criticised his play. It was clear that Slipper was a novice, though an anxious student of the game. His partner was a wall eyed man without a smile. Neither did Tom hear a word from the one whose black hair and sullen shoulders were toward him, but opposite whom, facing Tom, sat the visible life and soul of the party.

This was a little elderly man with gray tufts upon his bloodless cheeks and horn spectacles pushed halfway up a singularly benevolent brow. He sat tailorwise, like the rest, but played his cards in a way of his own. He had only one hand for the job. His right arm terminated in a polished hook with a cork at the end of it, but there knelt at his side a gigantic aboriginal, who threw down each card as the player touched it with the cork. Such was the party. At the first glance Tom had looked anxiously for the bloodthirsty Italian brigand, but he soon forgot his existence in the presence of this innocent group, who were not even playing for money.

Tom heard their horses champing hard by beyond the firelight, set them down as a party of drovers and stepped fearlessly among them the instant the rubber came to an end. The wall eyed one immediately drew a pistol, while Slipper leaped to his long legs with a knife. But the man with the spectacles ordered them both to put away their weapons and sit quiet, and they both obeyed.

"I saw him some time ago," said he, lowering his glasses (as he had done once before while Tom was looking on), "and I am very much obliged to him. He didn't interrupt our rub, as a more thoughtless person most certainly would have done. He is a well bred young man, and I like the looks of him. Do you hear, sir? I like the looks of you, but what on earth's the matter with your mouth?"

Tom hung his head and told his story. At its conclusion the little gray man insisted on shaking left hands with him.

"You're the kind of young fellow I like to meet," said he. "A runaway convict, of course?"

The question was terribly abrupt, but Tom told the truth.

"There, there, never mind!" cried the little gray man. "You're not so singular in that respect as your sensitive imagination would appear to suggest. In fact, you are not the only one in the present circle, so you see that you may hold up your head again and even trust us with further particulars. May I ask from whose service you have fled?"

Tom hesitated. If they should carry him back!

"You would rather not say!" exclaimed the little man. "Very natural, very natural; but what if I can guess? What if I said his name began with S, and considered that of his homestead hardly justified by the facts, save insomuch as every man's dwelling is his Castle?"

Tom's face convicted him. It was transfigured with amazement. The travelers exchanged significant glances and proceeded to regard him with an interest obviously redoubled.

"How did you know?" he cried.

"I knew nothing. I only guessed."

"But how?"

"More convicts abscond from that particular establishment than from any other in the colony. Then I perceive that you are suffering from fifty lashes"—

"A hundred!"

"Indeed? And more convicts are flogged on that farm than on any other in the land. A nice place! I know something about it—I intend knowing more."

Slipper laughed.

"But you mustn't let a hundred lashes depress you," resumed the little gray man in his smooth and soothing voice. "Why, my friend Wall-eye here had 1,000 in three years—on the same farm, mind you!—before he came to me. What do you think of that? But it's high time I presented you to my friends. That's Wall-eye, this is Slipper, and over there you see De Gruchy scowling at you; but don't be frightened; he's been scowling at us all the whole evening," said the little man, with a gleam of his eyes behind their glasses. "You needn't trouble your head about De Gruchy! The heathen's name is Peter Pindar. He will provide for your needs in one moment. And my name is Hookey Simpson, at your service!"

His manner all through had been so softly grandiose as to point the humor of this anticlimax, which, however, was now lost upon Tom. He was too busy trying to remember where he had heard the name of Hookey Simpson before. And he had remembered nothing when soap and water were put before him by the black fellow, followed immediately by a supply of lukewarm mutton, which kept him silent for some time.

Meanwhile his entertainers kept silence, too, but replenished the fire and lit their pipes with the burning brands and rested their eyes on Tom in a meditative fashion while he ate. It was he who became communicative when he had finished. Suddenly thinking of it, he told them of the ghastly discovery he had made among those very trees about an hour before.

The effect was curious. Neither Hookey Simpson nor Wall-eye nor Slipper seemed in the least surprised or perturbed, but De Gruchy showed teeth as white as those of the corpse and ground them horribly, and Hookey Simpson fixed his spectacles upon De Gruchy, leaning forward with the tip of his hook between finger and thumb.

To be continued.

Local and District Agents For

DEERING Harvesting Machinery

MACLACHLIN Buggies and Carriages

Canadian Cordage Co. TWINE

STOREY & LEARY
SUPPLY HOUSE
381 Water Street
'Phone 458

BE LOYAL TO PETERBOROUGH

Peterborough People Should do Their Christmas Shopping at Home

Peterborough people should, and with the possible exception of a few, do stand loyal to the Peterborough stores. People who travel tell us time and again that the Peterborough stores are very attractive and certainly present as broad assortments and as good if not better values than any other city in the country. Very few cities, if any, in America, the size of Peterborough, have stores carrying such large, complete and comprehensive stocks of merchandise. Local people will do well to realize the goodness and high excellence of Peterborough stores, and buy everything at home. The Christmas stocks are now at their best, and the wide and vast selection possible at Peterborough stores will provide satisfaction for every person no matter what they want.

Be loyal to Peterborough. Make all your Christmas purchases at home.

Constable Winterhault, of Berlin, was dismissed for allowing a burglar to escape after he had been caught by a hotelkeeper.

At Springfield, Arthur McCallum, aged 70, of Welland, was sentenced to six months in jail. He was caught burglarizing a farm house.

Rev. C. McKinnon, of Winnipeg has been nominated for the chair of practical theology and church history of the Presbyterian college, Halifax.

ST. JOHN'S J. W. A.

PETERBOROUGH RAG AND METAL COMPANY

Prepared to pay the highest market price an will give a square deal for Scrap Iron, Rags, Rubbers, Wool Pickings, etc. Don't sell before you see them. Call up Phone 694

YARD AND OFFICE:
COR. SIMCOE and BETHUNE, West
D. FLORENCE & SON

NOW IN FULL SWING

$100.00 In Rewards For Selling The "Review"
IN COLD CASH

This Grand Competition began Tuesday evening, October 8th, and will close December 31st. (New Year's Eve.) Boys carrying routes, boys selling to customers, boys selling on the street, boys who have never sold papers, are all urged to get up and get. Parents can let the little fellows come to THE REVIEW Office after school, and they will be taken care of—not allowed to stay in a dingy cellar or out on the street in the cold. Papers will be ready sharp after 4 o'clock each day. COME ON, BOYS! HERE'S A SURE THING!

Twenty-Six Prizes 26 Twenty-Six Prizes

To the twenty-six boys getting the largest number of New Customers for THE DAILY REVIEW:

1st PRIZE—$30.00 in Cash, or a high-grade 1908 Bicycle, worth $55.00 as winner may prefer.

2nd PRIZE—$20.00 in Cash, or Fur Goods to the value of $30.00, as preferred.

3rd PRIZE—$10.00 Cash, or $15.00 worth in China, dinner or tea set, or as selected.

4th PRIZE—$8.00 Cash, or $10.00 worth of goods of any kind, as selected.

5th PRIZE—$5.00 Cash.

6th PRIZE—$4.00 Cash.

7th PRIZE—$3.00 Cash.

8th to 12th PRIZES—$2.00 Cash. Five prizes of $2.00 each.

13th to 22nd PRIZES—$1.00 Cash. Ten prizes of $1.00 each.

NOTE—The option, cash or goods, in the first four prizes, is made in case the parents of the boys winning either of the prizes should prefer the larger amount in goods instead of cash.

Any boy may buy REVIEWS and sell—the more the merrier. The girls have an equal chance with the boys, and will be welcome.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES—Every boy who brings in a paid-up subscription to THE DAILY REVIEW for three months will receive a bonus of 20 cents; for six months a bonus of 40 cents; for a year a bonus of $1.00.

HERE'S A WEEKLY REWARD—In addition, every boy who buys one paper or more each night of the week, (six papers), will receive once each week, during this competition,

A FREE TICKET TO THE CRYSTAL MOVING PICTURES

See, Boys! You have a paid admission to this beautiful entertainment, even if you do no more than buy one paper each night. This privilege has been secured for you exclusively by THE REVIEW.

PLENTY OF TIME YET TO GET INTO THE COMPETITION AND WIN A BIG PRIZE

GET THE LATEST

The Review Supplies the Correct Things in Wedding Invitations Programmes, Personal Stationery, Etc . . . .

THE DAILY REVIEW

LUMBER
and BUILDING MATERIAL of all kinds. Shingles, Scantling, Joists and Bill Stuff. Mouldings, Casings and Base, and all kinds of finish. Boxes and Box Shooks.
ALF. McDONALD ESTATE
Point St. Charles Mill, Peterborough.

VOL LV., NO. 132 — PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, MONDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1907 — TEN CENTS PER WEEK

PROBABILITIES

Tuesday—Strong winds and gales, northwest and north, turning colder, with local falls of sleet or snow.

FAIR'S | THE GOLDEN LION STORE | FAIR'S

CHRISTMAS

s getting really near. So near that you cannot delay your purchasing much longer. You have a distinct advantage in selecting your gifts now. Not only in avoiding the hurry and crowding of late shopping, but in the extra values we are offering as an inducement to early shoppers—and then consider how much better selection you can make now, while stocks are fresh and unbroken.

These few items are reasons for buying now :—

LADIES' AND MISSES' COATS

TREMENDOUSLY REDUCED IN PRICE

Popular, stylish Coats--just the correct length and styles—New tweeds and plain cloths, specially priced for Christmas selling, at about ⅓ less than regular price.

LOVELY PINCUSHIONS

Gem of Silk, Satin and Lace

A dainty gift—an ornament for a lady's dressing table—Colors are Pink, Sky-Nile, Yellow and Cardinal—30 styles to select from. Special Christmas prices, each

25c to $2.50

USEFUL UMBRELLAS

For Ladies and Gentlemen

Gloria and all Silk Coverings, with exquisite handles in natural wood, smoked pearl, gold and silver plate, etc.—Always an acceptable gift—Specialy priced for Christmas.

$2.00 to $6.50

SPECIAL GIFT LINENS

Never before has Peterboro's Linen Warehouse offered as many gift suggestions in Fancy Linens as this season. We can help you make many selections from these values :—5 o clock Tea Cloths, Tray Cloths, Side Board Scarfs, Stand Covers, Centre Pieces, Doylies in all sizes, in Mexican Drawn Work, Battenburg, Hand Embroidered Clung Lace Edged. Sizes are from 6 x 6 inches to 45 x 45 inches. Specially priced for Christmas selling at each

10c to $10.00

SILK UNDERSKIRTS

Such as never before shown in this city

Made of good quality French Taffetta, in Black and Colors and Black and Black and White Pekin Striped Massalines, trimmed with velvet and laces—Special Christmas prices

$5.00 to $20.00

KID GLOVES

Always Reliable at "FAIR'S"

Perrin's and Reynier's best makes in short two button and twelve button length, in Black, White, Tans and all colors—Every pair guaranteed—at per pair

$1.00 to $3.00

Gloves, Handkerchiefs, Colars, etc., put in pretty boxes, free of extra charge.

BRING THE CHILDREN INTO OUR STORE TO SEE SANTA CLAUSE

Robert Fair & Co.

383 GEORGE STREET — Limited
Phone—Dry Goods 145 — Phone—Dressmaking 145B

WANTED

FIRST CLASS WAITRESS. Apply at once at Oriental. td.

For Sale or To Rent

TO RENT

A FEW FINE, WELL LIGHTED AND HEATED ROOMS at the Y. M. C. A. for rent from $1.50 to $2.00 a week. 6td

HOUSE TO RENT

HOUSE TO RENT at 178 Water Street. Good comfortable dwelling, bath room and electric light. Immediate possession given. Apply to J. J. Turner and Sons, Tent Manufacturers, George St. 3d

FOR SALE

FIRST-CLASS NEWCOMBE PIANO for sale. Price reasonable. Apply at this Office for particulars. 9d

FOR SALE

PIANO CASE ORGAN, double the usual volume, (8 sets reeds) good as new, less than half price on easy weekly or monthly payments. A nice Christmas present easy to buy. 27 Park St., corner Park and Parnell. tf

FOR SALE

TYPEWRITER, latest model American Oliver, bran new. Good discount off lowest selling price for a quick sale. Apply Review Office. tdl

Lost and Found

FOUND

A LOGGING CHAIN. Owner can have the same by calling at 119 James St. (East City) and proving property and paying for this ad. 1d

Wanted

MINING PROPERTY FOR SALE

PURSUANT TO POWERS CONTAINED IN A CERTAIN MORTGAGE AND BOND there will be offered for sale by Public Auction, at the Munro House in the City of Peterboro', Ontario, on Thursday the Twelfth day of December 1907 at 2 p. m., certain Mining Property situated in the Township of Barrie, County of Frontenac, Composed of:—The South Half of Lot 34 in the 10th Concession; Lot 31 in the 9th Concession (Except 24 Acres); Parts of Lots 32 and 33 in the 10th Concession; Lot 25 in the 9th Concession; Part of Lot 25 in the 10th Concession, and certain rights in Lot 26 in the 10th Concession of said Township, together with machinery, chattels, stamp mills, boilers, engines, blacksmiths' tools, hoisting apparatus, and other personal property, used in connection with said Mining Property.

Terms 10 per cent down and balance in one month hereafter without interest.

For further particulars apply to the undersigned
Dated 4th November 1907.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR,
415 Water St. Peterborough, Ont.
Vendors' Solicitors.
9d

FOR XMAS

Furditure fixed up like new. Upholstering and all kinds of similar work done. Mattresses made over.

A. R. JACKSON
320 Aylmer. Corner of Charlotte. Bell Phone 494B

GET READY!

Summer has gone by and winter is at hand. Are you settled in a house of your own, where you can stay and not be forced out in the cold? If not, take warning, and buy one of our Cheap New Houses and be at home, or buy one of our Modern Houses at $2,100 and up. We also have first-class large houses from $3,000 up

Companies Good as the Best in all lines of Insurance but Life. Rates moderate.

R. G. Ivan, Special Agent, 326 George St. Phone 3 Bell — W. MIGHT

For Sale or To Rent
AT REASONABLE PRICES

Three small farms, good soil, suitable for gardening purposes, close to city. Also a few small, comfortable, dwelling houses, and choice building lots, well situated in good localities.

Properties sold, purchased or exchanged.

Private Funds to Loan on Real Estate.

INSURANCE

Agents for reliable Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Liability Insurance Companies. For particulars as to rates, etc., apply to

J. J. McBAIN & SON
Real Estate and Insurance Agents.
Office Cor. Simcoe and George-sts.
Office 'Phone 454 — Residence Phone 109A

RICHMOND STUDIO

SPECIALS for XMAS PHOTOS

Newest Mountings	Newest Styles
Pictures	Plain Cards
Folders	Calendars

First-class work at night by elec tric ligh Sittings by appointment.

147 HUNTER STREET

FANCY POTTERY

All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.

GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

GEORGE RUTH
Properties for Sale:

Come and inspect our list of HOUSES We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.

8 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.

A few first-class homes to rent with modern improvements.

395 Water Street, open evenings

A. BROWN & CO.,
The Real Estate Agents, 396 Water Street

$100 will secure good Cottage with large lot 50x200
$500 will secure an up-to-date House with all modern improvements.
$1,000 will purchase good Cottage and large lot
$800 will secure Cottage, Stable and 4 acres good land near city.

We have some great snaps in Houses, Farms and City lots for sale and to rent.

Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.
Bell Phone 126 and 474 B. — Machine 117

"DON'T BURN THEM"

We will buy all kinds of Second-hand boots and shoes

JAY'S SECOND-HAND STORE
290 Aylmer Street

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

What more appropriate gift could you make than by purchasing a home for your family?

Come and see J. T. O'Connell & Co's bargains.

$2,250—New red brick house, central, cement floor in cellar; hall, parlor, dining room, kitchen, large pantry, front and back stairs, 4 bedrooms, bathroom fitted, 3 clothes closets, attic finished, electric lights, large verandah and balcony, woodshed and summer kitchen. Can be bought on monthly payments. Possession at once.

$900 buys red brick cottage East City, 6 rooms, hard and soft water, large lot.

To Rent--New house with all conveniences. Possession at once.

For further particulars apply to

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.
Phone 378. — 136 Hunter St.

MEALS—LUNCHES
AT ALL HOURS

For quick service, well-cooked meals and popular prices—go to

FOWLER'S RESTAURANT
McCallum's Old Stand - 330 George St

BIG SALE
. . OF . .
Enamelled Ware
Friday and Saturday

HUTCHINSON-STURGEON CO
Bell and Machine 'Phones 235 — 342 George Street

Second Hand Stove Bargains
—AT—
BARRETT'S

Why pay $30 for a Heater or $40 for a Range when you can buy either for $5 to $15 at Barrett's Second Hand Store.

187 Simcoe St. next Cavanagh's

THE
BEEHIVE
The Ladies' Big Ready-to-wear Store

CHRISTMAS BOXES
—FOR—
Grown Ups, Youth, Childhood and the dear little Hope of the family

Christmas Waists
Christmas Skirts
Christmas Neckwear
Christmas Belts
Christmas Table Linen
Christmas Cashmere and Silk Hosiery
Silk Socks for him
Christmas Robes for baby
Christmas Dresses for the girls
Christmas Whitewear
Christmas Fancy Goods
Knitted Slippers
Christmas Handkerchiefs
Initialed Handkerchiefs
Christmas Furs
Christmas Headwear
Christmas Scarfs
Christmas Fascinators
Christmas Gloves
Perrin's Kid Gloves
And a thousand things not mentioned at

THE
BEEHIVE
The Ladies' Big Ready-to Wear Store

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!

A nice pair of Snowshoes or a good Toboggan would make a most acceptable present to lady, gentleman, girl or boy. We carry a very large assortment. Call and see them.

J. J. TURNER & SONS
TENT MANUFACTURERS
George Street, Peterborough

The C. P. R. upper lake service will be discontinued on Dec. 12.

The fisheries cruiser Vigilant is in winter quarters at Amherstburg.

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

Suggestions

Only a Few Hints From the Big Departmental Store

A mere hint sometimes does what days of thinking might fail to do. It gives the thread on which to work. Read the following list over carefully and you may benefit by it:

FANCY HOSIERY — A complete range of silk embroidered Cashmere Hose in prices from 50c, 75c, $100 up to $1.35 Pair; also pure silk in black only. Per Pair 1.75
Hosiery Dept. Main Floor, Left

FANCY LINENS—Including all the Irish, Swiss, Austrian, Japanese, Italian and Mexican goods in Doylies, Centres, Tray Covers, Runners, Shams, etc; also Table Linens and Napkins; a very large range of hand-made lace goods, such as Tatting, Renaissance, Battenburg and Hair Pin work, etc
Linen Dept. Main Floor, Right

LADIES' BELTS in all styles, silk, elastic, leather; season's newest creations. Prices 25c to 3.50

Note the NEW NOR' WESTERN Leather Belt—a decidedly natty novelty for .75
Notion Dept. Main Floor, Centre

FANCY NECKWEAR — Silk and embroidered linen and lace turn-overs from .15 up all styles, new effects in Silk Collars, ranging in price from 25c up to 3.50

Notion Dept. Main Floor, Centre

NEW HANDKERCHIEFS — The newest embroidery and lace trimmed Silk and Linen Handkerchiefs; dainty Xmas remembrances from, each 10c up to 3.50
Or in half dozen and one dozen boxes
Handkerchief Dept. Main Floor, Centre

DRESDEN RIBBONS—Pretty effects in the most popular ribbons of to-day, suitable for Sashes, etc., wide ribbon, square yard, 25c to 1.69
Narrow ribbon 7c yd
Ribbon Dept. Main Floor, Centre

BLOUSE FRONT EMBROIDERY—Dainty wide allover Embroidery in solid or shadow effects; makes a very nice holiday gift. Prices, yd $125, $1.35, $2.25 and 2.75
Lace Dept. Main Floor, Centre

A NEW DRESS—The material for a new costume or coat is also a very appropriate and much appreciated gift for a lady. Our stock is most complete with all the season's newest styles
Dress Goods Dept. Main Floor, Rear

CARPET SWEEPERS—The leading makes in Carpet Sweepers in the newest finishes. Nothing is more acceptable to the good housewife than a Bissell Roller Bearing. Prices range from $2.40 to 4.50
Homefur. Dept. 3rd Floor

FANCY BOXES FREE — Fancy Glove, Handkerchief and Glove Boxes are furnished with our Christmas Goods.

KID GLOVES

All the best French makes; newest shades in long and short gloves.
Women's Short Gloves, $1.00-$1.75
Women's Long Gloves, $2.00-$2.75
Children's Gloves 75c to 85c
Special attention is asked to our Leader, 1.10 Glove
Glove Dept. Main Floor, Centre

WOMEN'S FANCY FELT SLIPPERS—All new shades and patterns from 75c to 1.50

DAINTY DOLLY VARDEN SHOES from 4.00 upmake a very acceptable remembrance for the holiday time.

LADIES' SPATS—All the popular shades at, Pair 1.00

EVENING PUMPS in the popular evening shades in kid and canvas. Price 2.50

CHILD'S LEGGINGS—in good shades, 85c up to $1.50
Women's Shoe Dept. 2nd Floor

LADIES' COATS—All cloth and fur-lined coats reduced in price until after Xmas. An appropriate and serviceable Xmas gift.

EIDERDOWN JACKETS in pretty patterns and colors, range in price from 1.75 to 3.50

BATH ROBES from 5.00 to 8.00 Each

WOMEN'S GOLF JACKETS in all styles, including the Blouse and Eton. Prices 1.90-2.75

CHILDREN'S SWEATERS 1.75 to 2.00

BEARSKIN COATS 1.97 to 5.00 and 6.00
Ready-to-Wear Dept. 2nd Floor

STATIONERY—As Christmas Gifts the Stationery is very popular.
BOXES OF FANCY WRITING PAPER in Fancy Boxes, 18c, 25c, 35c, 65c up to $1.75 box
LEATHER GOODS—Collar and Cuff Bags and Cases from $1.50 to $1.75 Each
HAND BAGS from 50c to 75c
TEDDY BEAR BAGS for the Children 25c
FANCY BOXES made of reds and straw for fancy work, 5c, 10c, 15c up to 25c Each

13 MORE SHOPPING DAYS BEFORE CHRISTMAS

STORE HOURS:
8.10 - - 5.45
Closes Saturday at 10 p.m.

Cressman's 385, 387, 389 George Street

REMAINS WERE LAID TO REST

Funeral of the Late Myles Froates Conducted by Court Chemong I. O. F.

Many friends turned out yesterday afternoon to pay the last tribute of respect to the late Myles Froates, who passed away in Yonkers, N.Y., on Thursday. The funeral took place at two o'clock from Comstock's undertaking establishment to Little Lake cemetery. It was conducted by Court Chemong, No. 530, Independent Order of Foresters, of which deceased was a member. The members of the Court met at the Sons of England hall and marched in a body, to the undertaking rooms, and thence to the cemetery. There were over 130 in line, and the badges and sashes of the members were appropriately draped. The service at the undertaker's was conducted by Rev. Mr. Major, Bro. A. Allison, S.P.C.R., acted as chaplain at the grave, and was assisted by Bro. Myles, C.R., and Bro. Wallace, P.C. The service was very impressive.

The pall bearers were members of Court Chemong; Bros. J. Logan, R. Bradburn, W. Lailey, G. W. Spring, H. Baker and A. J. Longland.

Many floral tributes were received, including an anchor from Court Chemong, I.O.F.

The marshals for the funeral procession were Bros. F. C. Rooke, S. W., and George Metcalfe, J.W.

Mr. W. H. Corney at Gospel Hall

Told of the Work of the Jewish Mission in Toronto

Mr. W. H. Corney, of Toronto, gave an address in Gospel Hall yesterday on "Our Responsibility to the Jew." He read from the 10th chapter of Romans, where Paul declares they have a zeal for God but not according to knowledge. "It is no small matter for a Jew to become a Christian," said Mr. Corney. "The moment a Jew accepts Christ, he is mourned for by his family as dead, and his name is cast out as one to be abhorred."

There have been quite a number converted in Toronto, and Mr. Corney hopes they may soon be able to send out Jewish converts to work among the Jews all over Canada. In mentioning how the mission was supported, he corrected a statement in Saturday's paper that "the churches supported the mission." The support came entirely from private offerings of the Christians of Toronto. Mr. Corney left for Montreal to-day.

PALMISTRY

Prof. C. SHEPHERD of San Francisco, California, is visiting Peterborough for a limited time, and may be consulted at
Mrs. R. King's, George Street (upstairs) Rooms, First Floor
Hall entrance next Times Office. Hours from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Appointments made. Your past, present and future about Business and Marriage correctly told. Machine Phone 7

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

The banquet for employed boys at the Y.M.C.A. will be held at 6.30 p.m. this evening, when plans for the winter work will be brought up and decided on.

The afternoon meeting yesterday at 4 o'clock was, as usual, interesting. Mr. N. Howard-Moore gave a short sketch of the Life of Joseph. The pictures were excellent. Three of the hymns were illustrated, besides the pictures on "The Life of Joseph."

The Sunday evening song service was, as usual, much enjoyed by those present.

Midland is the happy home of a brick roller rink, 150 x 60.

The Jas. Malloch Co., of Lindsay, dealers in waggons, is to be wound up.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | MONDAY DECEMBER 9

ERNEST SHIPMAN Present
MISS BIANCA WEST and Company in the Evergreen Play of Knighthood Days
"DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON HALL"
By Charles Major and Paul Kester
Prices, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c; few at $1.00 — Plan Opens Friday Morning

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | Wednesday, December 11

EDWARD HALL AMUSEMENT CO. presen MR. WILLIAM WALCOTT, Supported by Miss Florence Roseland, in the Powerful Modern Play
THE FATAL FLOWER
By Howard Hall. The most beautiful dramatic production of the season. Prices—25c 35c, 50c and 75c

THE CRYSTAL
OPEN EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING
Passion Play "Life of Christ"
ALL THIS WEEK.
Beautifully illustrated song "ROCK OF AGES"
ADMISSION--10 CENTS

Medical

E. V. FREDERICK, M.B., Tor.
M.R.C.S., Eng.; L.R.C.P., Lond. Lic. Univ. o New York.
Removed to No. 402 George St.; formerly office of Dr. McFaul
Private nursing home for surgical cases.

DR. G. STEWART CAMERON
Office and Residence
No. 273 Charlotte St. 'Phone 128

DR. G. C. LEACH
Late House Surgeon of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio; also of Cook County Hospital, Chicago OFFICE—224 Hunter St., formerly occupied by Dr. Coughlin. Phone Bell 219.
Special Attention to Diseases of Women

DR. JAS. V. GALLIVAN
Office 215 Simcoe St. Late of St. John's Hospital New York. Lic. University of New York.
Telephone 668.

Osteopathy

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY
Osteopathic Physician
Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Water Street entrance.
Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. Evenings by appointment. Consultation free.

Legal

R. E. WOOD
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Etc. Office removed from Bank of Commerce Building to 435 George street, recently occupied by E. B. Edwards. MONEY to Loan

W. H. MOORE
BARRISTER SOLICITOR, in the Supreme Court etc. Office—Hunter street, first stairs west of Post Office.

HALL & HAYES
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS and NOTARIES PUBLIC, Hunter Street, Peterborough, next to English Church. MONEY TO LOAN at the lowest rates of interest.
R. R. D. HALL. LOUIS M. HAYES

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON
(Successors to Stratton & Hall)
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., Peterborough Ont. Office—Corner of Hunter and Water Sts. over Bank of Commerce.
R. R. HALL, M.P. G. T. MEDD. W. S. DAVIDSON

EDMISON & DIXON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc. Office in Clarton's Block, corner of Hunter and George streets, over Dickson's store.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc
415 Water Street, Peterborough.
E. A. PECK F. D. KERR R. M. DENNISTOUN

Money

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASY TERMS
O'CONNELL & GORDON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS NOTARIES, Etc
Canadian and United States Patent Attorneys
134 Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office.
SAMUEL O'CONNELL GEORGE M. GORDON

ROGER, BENNET & GOODWILL
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., 37 Water St. Peterborough. Telephone No. 191.
Money at Current Rates
Upon Easy Terms.
G. M. ROGER. J. W. BENNET. E. L. GOODWILL

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

PAID UP CAPITAL $1,000,000.00
RESERVE FUND 560,000.00

SAVINGS
An Account may be opened at any time with a Deposit of One Dollar.
3½% Interest allowed on daily balances.

DEBENTURE DEPT.
Four Per Cent. paid half yearly on sums of $100.00 and upwards.

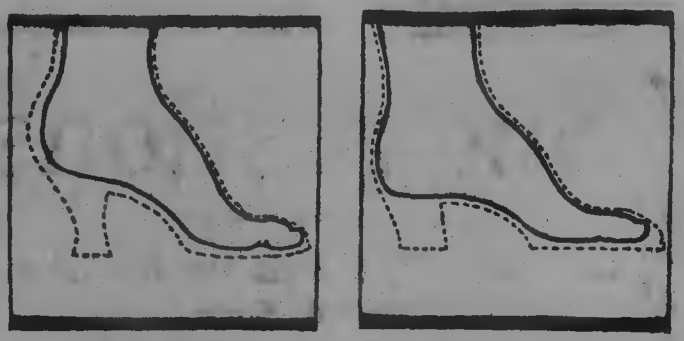
MONEY TO LOAN
at current rates of interest.
W. G. MORROW,
Manager

Children's Aid Society
FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.
Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898
Information required. Informant's name kept strictly private.
CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION
Office Hours—11.00 to 12.00 a.m.
OFFICE—DIVISION COURT BLDG
GEO. COCHRANE,
Agent and Asst Sec

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES
AND
VETERINARY INFIRMARY
193 Hunter Street west of Oriental Hotel.
If you wish a rig of any kind for any occasion ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 278. Night Phone Bell 435 B.
D. McKERCHER, V.S.

Barefoot Comfort

"One of the 14"



The Usual Inside
The Dolly Varden Inside

The claim that a shoe is as comfortable as a barefoot is a pretty strong claim, but we claim it for the Dolly Varden Shoe and our agent in your city is ready to prove our claim. By trying on a few pairs you can soon find out.

Why are they comfortable?

Because they are copies of perfect feminine feet which allow the feet to lie in their natural position.

Because of their Free Flat Tread.

Because of their newly devised, restful steel arch support which relieves the fatigue muscles of the arch and prevents crowding of the toes into the narrow front of the shoe, by holding the heel close to the back.

Because of their Dead Level Ball and Heel Balance.

Because of their Harmless High Heels—as comfortable as moccasins.

And because of their new "velvette kid" leather, which is as soft as cloth. $4.00 to $5.00 in Canada or the States. Every pair Goodyear welted.

The Dolly Varden Shoe

The Shoe of Fourteen New Features

Cressman's AGENT PETERBORO'

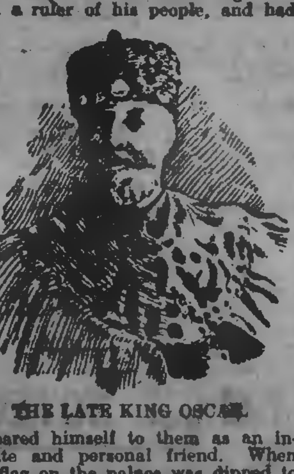
Sweden's Aged Ruler Dead; Son Succeeds to the Throne

Monarch Passes Away After Long and Peaceful Reign.

Had Ruled Since 1872—Loved by His People of All Rranks—One of the Most Scholarly European Sovereigns—Family With Him to the End — Gustave Succeeds to the Throne.

Stockholm, Dec. 9.—Oscar II., King of Sweden, died at 9.10 o'clock yesterday morning in the royal apartment of the palace, surrounded by the members of his family, including the aged Queen, Sophia, Crown Prince Oscar Gustaf, and high Ministers of state. Outside the palace great crowds stood with bowed heads and tearful eyes, long after the announcement came of the death of their well-beloved sovereign.

The whole country is bowed with grief, for Oscar was something more than a ruler of his people, and had endeared himself to them as an intimate and personal friend. When the flag on the palace was dipped to half mast there was a moan of anguish from the assembled multitude and many of them cried, "Our dear old King is dead."



THE LATE KING OSCAR.

The last hours of the expiring monarch were passed in unconsciousness, and up to the end he gave no sign of recognizing those about him. The Queen was grief-stricken because he could not bid her farewell.

In the palace courtyard in the dim, cold grey mist of the morning stood a crowd of school boys, being Oscar's most devoted friends. Here they stood for hours, cold and shivering, watching the palace flagstaff. There, also gathered many old men and women in rags, such as the King had always stopped to comfort with mild words and generous alms when he met them in the parks or streets, their faces tear-stained because their beloved King and benefactor was dying.

Suddenly the flag was dropped to half-mast, and a wail of misery and sorrow arose. The old folks clasped their hands and prayed and wept.

In a room near the death chamber, the first marshal of the court read to the Cabinet a draft of the new King's proclamation to the Swedish people.

In an ante-chamber high officers and officials discussed the policy of the new King. One by one the ships in the harbor and the buildings throughout the city displayed the flag at half-mast, and the people soon crowded the streets and open places near the palace, but all spoke in whispers, bearing witness to the kindliness of him who had departed and to the love they bore him.

In the death chamber knelt the heart-broken Queen, and gathered about her her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, praying for strength to bear their great affliction. The church bells began to toll, and the minute guns boomed. All Sweden mourned its great loss.

New King Takes Oath.

By succession the throne of Sweden passes to Gustaf, Duke of Vermland, eldest son of the dead monarch, who will reign as King Charles V. He took the oath of office before the Cabinet and court, assembled in the grand gallery yesterday afternoon. Then the princes of the blood swore allegiance to the King, who embraced and kissed them, giving his favorite brother, the giant Carl, a hearty slap on the back.

This ceremony concluded, the Cabinet resigned, but the King begged the Ministers to remain at their posts. They acceded. King Gustaf read his proclamation and announced his motto, "With the people for the fatherland."

The officers of the army and the navy and the civil officials then took the oath of allegiance.

The new Queen, until now Crown Princess Victoria, will arrive from the Continent to-day. The memorial service in the Lutheran Church, simple and solemn in form, with the singing of psalms and a sympathetic sermon, was held in the palace chapel yesterday afternoon.

The members of the royal family, the diplomatic corps, and the court functionaries attended.

No national mourning will be proclaimed. To-day all the theatres will open again, with the exception of the Royal Opera.

Died of Morphia Poisoning.

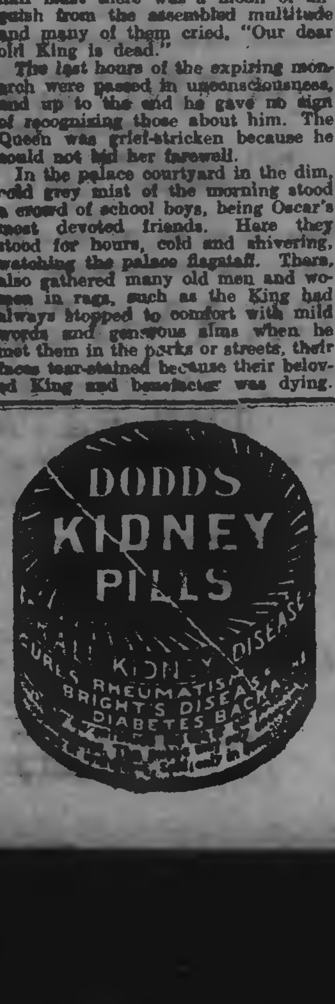
London, Dec. 9.—Count Edouard Sizzo Norris, a member of an exalted Austrian family, who was well known in diplomatic and society circles here, died mysteriously yesterday from morphia poisoning at his London home. He became notorious in 1903 through fighting a duel near Paris with Prince Radziwill, a member of the Russian Embassy in that city, the trouble arising from a dispute over cards.

Captain Arrested For Murder.

Victoria, Dec. 9.—Captain Leach of the steamer Chieftain has been arrested on a charge of attempted murder of Albert Hasting, bartender. Leach fired one shot at close range and the button and watch chain against which the bullet glanced undoubtedly saved Hasting's life.

The Woman Suicide's Hat.

An interesting contribution to the study of feminine psychology has been made by the Hampstead coroner. "Women always take off their hats before committing suicide," said he.—London Telegraph.



RAID BY NIGHT RIDERS

Masked Men Destroyed $200,000 Worth of Property.

Hopkinsville In Possession of Lawless Mob—Firearms Were Freely Used—Buildings Set on Fire—Two Men Injured—Police and Fire Stations Seized — Posse Chase the Marauders.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 9.—Five hundred "night riders," masked and heavily armed, marched into Hopkinsville early Saturday and destroyed property valued at over $200,000, while citizens, in terror of their lives, feared even to open their windows.

The police, fire department, telephone and telegraph offices, and even the railroad stations, were in possession of a wild mob, shooting right and left, flames from burning buildings meanwhile lighting up the city and surrounding country, until it seemed that the whole town was ablaze.

Only two men were injured, one of them being Lindsay Mitchell, a tobacco buyer, who was severely beaten with switches and clubs, and the other, a brakeman, who was shot in the back while trying to move his train from the path of the flames.

The raid of the "night riders" caught the city unawares, as for some time the depredations resulting from the tobacco war had been of a minor nature, and it was generally thought that in the "dark district" at least the worst was over. The property destroyed was as follows: W. H. Tandy, independent tobacco warehouse building, owned by J. H. Latham; B. M. Woolridge, association warehouse; Tandy & Farleigh, buyers' warehouse.

In addition, the entire glass front of The Hopkinsville Kentuckian, which has been severe in the condemnation of the "night riders," Mayor Meacham's paper, was destroyed, while windows in front of the Commercial Bankings & Savings Co., the First National, the Planters' Trust Co. and the Bank of Hopkinsville were punctured with bulletholes.

A number of other business houses and residences bear the marks of bullets, and it is considered remarkable that no one was killed. The insurance is believed to be about $60,000.

As soon as the "night riders" left town a posse of about 15, headed by Major Bassett of the local militia and Deputy Sheriff Cravens, entered buggies and followed the trails. As soon as the posse could get near enough they opened fire on the fleeing mob and the pursued returned the shots. It is believed none of the "night riders" was hit. The members of the posse escaped injury. They were outdistanced by the mounted men, and after chasing the marauders past Gracey, the officers returned home.

News was later received from all parts of the town indicating the spread of the raid of the riders. There was hardly a house in the business section of the city which did not suffer.

Just why no damage was done by the "night riders" to the Imperial or the American Snuff Co. warehouses is not known. They probably contained more stock than any other house.

KILLING WOLF, KILLED SELF.

Struck Animal With Stock of Gun—Charge Exploded.

Shebo, Sask., Dec. 9.—Details have been received of a distressing fatality in the neighborhood of Ebenezer, about fifty miles southeast. A German (name unknown) had come to the district for the purpose of hunting, and went out on horseback, accompanied by his hounds. Having run down a wolk, he alighted and struck it on the head with the barrels of his gun. This broke the barrels, and again he struck the wolf with the stock of the gun, but somehow or other the gun exploded and the full charge entered the man's body in the neighborhood of the heart, killing him instantly. An inquest was considered unnecessary.

Two Deer With One Shot.

Orono, Me., Dec. 9.—A positively authenticated instance of a hunter killing two deer with one rifle shot occurred one day last week less than two miles from this village.

Edwin Currier and two friends, all living at Basin Mills, were out hunting, when they came upon two deer, a small doe and a large buck. Both were side by side, the buck a few feet from the doe. Mr. Currier fired at the buck, but at the moment he pulled the trigger the doe threw up her head. Great was the hunter's surprise to see, not only the buck fall, but the doe to stagger off as if badly wounded, and fall within a few rods. Examination showed that the bullet had gone through the doe's neck, cutting the large vein, and had struck the buck fairly in the spine, killing him almost instantly.

Ocean Liner Buffeted.

New York, Dec. 9.—After a stormy passage the White Star liner Celtic arrived yesterday with two of her lifeboats stove in, the lashings of her aftermast funnel wrenched from their fastenings and her superstructure showing visible evidences of constant battling with mountaineous seas, which piled over her bows and tore along her decks. Only on one day during the voyage did the passengers catch a glimpse of the sun.

Orphan Asylum Burned.

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 9.—The House of Providence, an orphan asylum for boys, located just west of the city line, was burned to the ground yesterday morning, involving a property loss of $125,000, on which there is insurance amounting to about $28,000. The 150 inmates, ranging from 4 to 14 years old, escaped without injury, although all their personal effects were destroyed.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

WOMENS' NEGLECT

SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY

Health Thus Lost is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

Miss Clara Beaubien

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness or other female weakness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Clara Beaubien, of Beauport, Quebec, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"For several years I have suffered with a female weakness which proved a serious drain on my vitality, sapping my strength and causing severe headaches, bearing-down pains and a general worn-out feeling, until I really had no desire to live. I tried many medicines, but did not get permanent relief until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In two months I was much better and stronger, and in four months I was well; no more disagreeable discharge, no more pain. So I have every reason to praise the Vegetable Compound, and I consider it without equal for the ills of women."

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Her advice is free and always helpful. Address, Lynn, Mass.

WARRANT FOR DINIZULU.

Zulu Chief Must Stand Trial In Natal Court.

Pietermaritzburg, Natal, Dec. 9.—Magistrate Stuart has been entrusted with a warrant for the arrest of Dinizulu, the Zulu chieftain, whose loyalty has been questioned and whose alleged support of the rebels is declared to be responsible for the threatening situation in Natal arising from the increased boldness of the natives.

Mr. Stuart will proceed at once to Usutu, the Zulu capital. Should Dinizulu refuse to come in and stand trial by a civil court, the military forces already mobilized will take the field immediately.

Large numbers of Natal troops have been stationed on the frontier.

It is asserted by those who know the situation well that the Zulu uprising is part of a general movement all over the continent below the equator, having for its motto "South Africa for the blacks."

What is known as the Ethiopian movement has taken a firm hold upon the South African natives for years past. Friends of missionary effort resent the charge that this is a political propaganda, but careful investigation shows that under the cloak of religious effort it is really an agitation to drive the whites into the sea.

"LID ON" IN KANSAS.

Over 200 Theatrical People Indicted For Sunday Labor.

Kansas City, Dec. 9.—Drastic measures were taken here yesterday to enforce the Sunday closing law. The grand jury indicted 228 traveling actors and actresses and employes of local theatres charged with violating the Missouri law forbidding labor on Sunday.

Of this number 141 were arrested and gave bail for $200 each, while the others evaded the officers and left the city without being apprehended. Many of the performers went directly from the matinees to the Court House and had not had an opportunity to remove the paint from their faces. About one-third of them were women.

A fight for Sunday closing has been waged by Judge Wallace for several weeks. He recently ordered theatrical managers to close on Sunday. They refused to do so and secured a temporary injunction preventing his interference with their performances. The Federal Court dissolved the injunction, and Judge Wallace sought the indictments to force compliance. It is his intention to have the managers and players indicted each week, and to arrest them and place them under individual bonds.

FEROCIOUS HEAD HUNTERS.

Japanese In Formosa Take Steps to Exterminate Them.

San Francisco, Dec. 9.—The extermination of savage, murderous head-hunters by electrocution is the latest novelty introduced by Japanese in Formosa, according to William Clifton, who has just arrived here from the Orient.

"These head-hunters," said Clifton, "number about one hundred thousand, and infest the entire east coast of the island. All efforts to civilize them have failed. They recently inveigled a party of 300 Chinese and Japanese into an ambush on the pretence of showing some treasure and killed all but three.

"In punishment for this treachery, the Japanese inaugurated a method of electrocution. Large bodies of troops were sent out, and now when a company of head-hunters is located the place is surrounded by a wire fence. The wires are charged with electricity. The soldiers begin to shoot, the savages stampede, and then the deadly wire get those the bullets miss."

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Higher, Chicago Lower—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

Saturday Evening, Dec. 7.

Liverpool wheat futures ⅛d up, corn unchanged.

At Chicago, Dec. wheat closed ¼c lower, Dec. corn ⅝c lower, and Dec. oats ⅜c higher.

Winnipeg Options.

Following are the closing quotations on Winnipeg grain futures to-day:
Wheat—Dec. $1.01¼ bid, May $1.10½ bid.
Oats—Dec. 45c bid, May 52⅝c bid.

Toronto Grain Market.

Grain—
Wheat, spring, bush	$0 95	to $....
Wheat, fall, bush	0 98	....
Wheat, goose, bush	0 87	....
Wheat, red, bush	0 98	....
Rye, bush	0 83	0 85
Peas, bush	0 88	....
Buckwheat, bush	0 64	0 65
Barley, bush	0 70	....
Oats, bush	0 51	0 53
Seeds—
Alsike, No. 1, bush	$7 50	to $8 00
Alsike, No. 2, bush	6 75	7 25
Red clover, No. 1, bush	9 50	....
Hay and Straw—
Hay, new, per ton	$19 00	to $22 00
Cattle hay, ton	12 00	14 00
Straw, loose, ton	10 00	....
Straw, bundled, ton	16 00	....
Fruits and Vegetables—
Potatoes, per bag	$0 90	to $1 00
Apples, per barrel	1 75	3 50
Apples, Snow, barrel	2 50	3 50
Onions, per bag	1 00	1 25
Poultry—
Turkeys, dressed, lb	$0 12	to $0 15
Geese, per lb	0 09	0 10
Spring chickens, lb	0 09	0 11
Spring ducks, lb	0 09	0 11
Fowl, per lb	0 07	0 08
Dairy Produce—
Butter, lb	$0 25	to $0 33
Eggs, strictly new - laid, per dozen	0 45	0 55

Toronto Dairy Market.

Butter, dairy, lb. rolls	0 27	0 28
Butter, tubs	0 26	0 27
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 30	0 31
Butter, creamery, boxes	0 29	0 30
Eggs, new-laid, dozen	0 30	....
Eggs, cold-storage, dozen	0 22	....
Cheese, large, lb	0 13½	....
Cheese, twin, lb	0 13¾	....
Honey, extracted, lb	0 13	0 13½

Liverpool Grain and Produce.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 7.—Wheat—Spot, easy; No. 2 red western winter, 7s 8¾d; futures, dull; Dec., 7s 8½d; March, 7s 11¼d; May, 7s 10¾d. Corn, spot quiet; Prime American, 5s 6d; futures, steady; Dec., nominal; Jan., 5s 2¾d. Peas, Canadian, steady, 7s 10d. Flour, winter patents, quiet, 30s 6d. Hops in London (Pacific coast), dull, £2 to £3.

Beef, extra India mess, 96s 3d, firm. Pork, prime mess western, steady, 85s. Hams, short cut, 14 to 16 lbs., quiet, 43s. Bacon, Cumberland cut, 26 to 30 lbs., quiet, 52s 6d. Short ribs, 16 to 24 lbs., quiet, 55s 6d, long clear middles, light, 28 to 34 lbs., firm, 57s; long clear middles, heavy, 35 to 40 lbs. firm, 57s; long clear middles, heavy, 36 to 40 lbs., firm, 54s 6d; short clear backs, 16 to 20 lbs., firm, 51s 6d; clear bellies, 14 to 16 lbs., firm, 54s. Shoulders, square, 11 to 13 lbs., firm, 36s. Lard, prime western, in tierces, quiet, 42s 9d; American refined, in pails, quiet, 44s 3d. Cheese, Canadian finest white, new, quiet, 60s. Canadian finest colored, new, quiet, 61s. Tallow, prime city, steady, 29s 6d. Australian, in London, firm, 33s 4½d. Turpentine spirits, dull, 26s 6d. Rosin, common, steady, 10s 3d. Petroleum, refined, firm, 7½d. Linseed oil, easy, 24s 6d. Cotton, Hull refined, January, April, easy, 21s 9d.

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Butter, firm, unchanged; receipts, 3971.

Cheese—Steady, unchanged; receipts, 2091.

Eggs—Firm, unchanged; receipts, 2476.

CATTLE MARKETS.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Dec. 7.—Cattle—Receipts, 200 head; steady; prime steers, $5.00 to $5.85.

Veals—Receipts, 500 head; active at yesterday's close, $5 to $9.

Hogs—Receipts, 10,200 head; slow; pigs, 40c to 50c lower; others 10c to 20c lower; heavy and mixed, $5.10 to $5.15; yorkers, $5 to $5.10; pigs, $4.90 to $5; roughs, $4.25 to $4.75; stags, $3.50 to $4; dairies, $5.10 to $5.15.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 3000 head; sheep slow and steady; lambs opened slow, 5c lower, closing active; lambs, $5 to $6.25; yearlings and wethers, $4.75 to $5; ewes, $4.25 to $4.75; sheep, mixed, $2.50 to $4.85; Canada lambs, $5.75 to $6.20.

New York Live Stock.

New York, Dec. 7.—Beeves—Receipts, 1222 head, all for exporters and slaughterers; nothing doing in live cattle; feeling steady; dressed beef slow at 7½c to 10c. Exports to-day, 811 cattle and 5200 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 203; prime veals would sell steady; others slow and weak; barnyard and western calves dull and lower to sell; one car unsold; veals, $5 to $8.25; no good veals here; barnyard calves, $3 to $3.25; fed calves, $3.75; western, $4.25; dressed calves slow, except for prime city dressed veals, 8½c to 14½c; country dressed, 8c to 13c; dressed grassers, 6½c to 7½c.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 6471; sheep dull and weak; lambs 15c to 25c lower; one car of sheep unsold; common to good sheep, $3 to $4.50; culls, $2.50; lambs, $5.50 to $6.25; one car of choice, $6.65; culls, $4.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 6014; would sell 15c to 25c lower if here.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Cattle—Receipts, about 800; market steady; beeves, $3.25 to $6.40; cows and heifers, $1.15 to $4.70; Texans, $3 to $3.90; calves, $5 to $7; westerns, $3 to $5; stockers and feeders, $2.20 to $4.25.

Hogs—Receipts, about 20,000; market 15c lower; light, $4.50 to $5; mixed, $4.60 to $5.10; heavy, $4.55 to $5.05; rough, $4.55 to $4.75; pigs, $3.90 to $4.85; bulk of sales, $4.80 to $5.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, about 2000; market steady; natives, $2 to $5; westerns, $2 to $4.90; yearlings, $4.60 to $5.25; lambs, $4 to $6.25; westerns, $4 to $6.25.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—London cables are firmer at 11c to 12½c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c to 10½c per pound.

Fell Into Boiling Pulp.

Montreal, Dec. 9.—Leslie Williams was admitted to the General Hospital Saturday, having been brought by train from Tupper Lake, N. Y.

Williams is employed in a paper factory, and Saturday morning fell into a large vat of boiling pulp. He was completely covered with the scalding fluid, and was compelled to wade through it for ten feet to the side of the vat. When he reached the side he fell back into the pulp unconscious.

He was rescued by his fellow workmen. The doctors say he will not recover.

Students Wreck Theatre.

Kingston, Dec. 9.—Bijou Moving Picture Theatre, on Princess street, was wrecked by Queen's students on Saturday night. After the Alma Mater Society elections they had their usual street rushes and completed their performance by smashing doors of the Bijou and having a free fight inside as an audience was dispersing. Half a dozen policemen were called to disperse the rioters.

An average apple crop is 274,000 barrels, from the 312,800 apple trees in Middlesex county.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
RAILWAY TIME TABLE

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.40 a.m. 2.00 p.m.	8.25 a.m. 5.38 p.m.
Port Hope and points east to Montreal and Boston		8.30 a.m.
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago & West, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.30 a.m. 5.33 p.m.	11.45 a.m. 9.05 p.m.
From Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Bowmanville and Port Hope	11.45 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stouffville, Uxbridge and Markham	10.05 p.m.	7.20 a.m.
Lindsay Local	8.15 a.m.	9.10 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 8.40 p.m.	8.30 a.m. 1.50 p.m.
Lakefield and Stony Lake	9.50 a.m. 5.15 p.m.	8.30 a.m. 12.20 p.m.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

DEPART FOR EAST

Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa and Montreal	11:16 a.m. and 12:28 Daily ex. Sun. Daily
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock and Tweed	7:47 p.m., Daily

DEPART FOR WEST

Toronto, London, Chicago and New York	5:16 a.m. Daily
Toronto & Intermediate, North Bay, Winnipeg and Northwest	8:00 a.m. Daily ex. Sun
Toronto, Galt, London, Detroit and Chicago	4:48 p.m. Daily ex. Sun

CANADIAN NORTHERN ONTARIO
SHORT LINE TO MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND

WINTER TIME TABLE
In effect December 9th, 1907

NORTHBOUND

	No. 1	No. 3
TORONTO	† 9.00 am	† 5.30 pm
WASHAGO	12.46 pm	9.00 pm
PARRY SOUND	3.10 pm	....

SOUTHBOUND

	No. 2	No. 4
PARRY SOUND	† 9.00 am	†........
WASHAGO	11.25 am	6.45 am
TORONTO	3.00 pm	10.10 am

Observation-Dining Parlor Cars between Toronto and Parry Sound serving meals a la carte.
† Daily except Sunday.
OFFICES: All Stations, also Cor. King and Toronto and Union Station. Phone, Main 5179.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

$3.80 TO GUELPH AND RETURN
on account of
PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR

Tickets good going until December 13th. Valid for return until Monday, Dec. 16th.

When you travel by the
GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
You are assured of the best of everything that modern railway travel can offer
SMOOTH ROADBED FAST TRAIN
COMFORTABLE COACHES
Full information may be obtained from
W. BUNTON,
City Passenger Agent
F. SANDY,
Depot Ticket Agent
Or write Mr J. D. McDonald, D.P.A., Union Depot, Toronto

CANADIAN PACIFIC

WINTER FAIR GUELPH
DEC. 9 TO 13, 1907
Return Tickets at
SINGLE FARE
FROM ALL STATIONS
Good going Dec. 7 to 13 Inclusive
Returning until and on Dec. 16
Children under twelve half fare
Tickets and all information from
W. McILROY,
Canadian Pacific Agent,
343 George St., Peterboro
Or write C. B. FOSTER, D.P.A. T'nto

Private Greeting Cards

THE highly colored and lithographed Christmas Card in vogue a few years ago has passed away entirely.

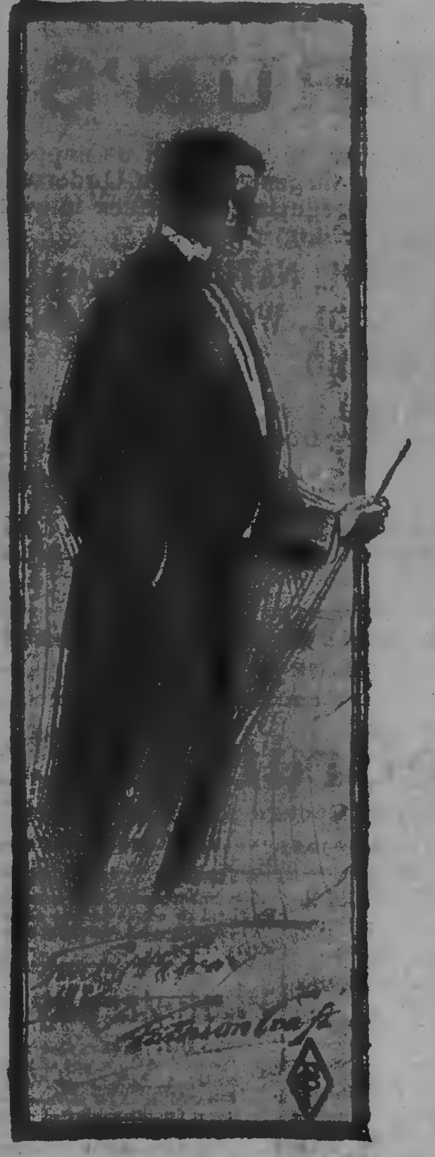
IN place has come the much more appropriate Personal Greeting Card.

OF these the Review Office is showing a great many original designs.

YOUR order should be given immediately, while the selection is so complete.

SHOULD you desire a Card specially designed to your order, promptness is absolutely necessary.

The Review
HUNTER STREET
PETERBOROUGH



"Fashion-Craft"

Dress Suits

If you knew positively that you could get a better fitting—better made—better quality dress suit at a Fashion-Craft store than at your tailors, at an economy of from $10 to $20, would you not buy it?

Just because you may not have figured out why this is so, is no reason that you should not know for your own guidance that it is so!

It requires no logic to convince you—Fashion-Craft dress suits await your examination.

In all business matters you use business judgment—and why not in the choice of a Dress Suit.

Dress Suits $30, $35, $40

And you get what you want, when you want it.

Laidlaw & Oles

Props., Peterborough

A Story of Absorbing Interest

The Rogue's March

By E. W. HORNUNG, author of "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," "Stingaree," etc.

"The fact is," said Tom, "I thought it must be the work of that Italian brigand fellow."

All but De Gruchy burst out laughing.

"And when I first saw your fire," he added, "I thought you must be his band!"

All but De Gruchy laughed louder than before. De Gruchy hid his sullen, foreign face in his hands, and the little gray man held up his hook for silence.

"We are!" said he.

"What? Bushrangers after all?"

"The band you speak of."

"Then where's the Italian?"

"You saw him for yourself about an hour ago."

And the little man's eyes were twinkling through their horn rimmed lenses as if he had made a joke. But there was no more laughing outright, though Tom heard Slipper chuckle and De Gruchy snarl. As for himself, he was shuddering in the most mortifying fashion under the fascinating spectacles of the little gray man.

"That was your leader!" he stammered out.

"So he flattered himself."

"And I thought it was his handiwork!"

"It was mine," said Hookey Simpson coolly. Indeed, a benign smile accompanied the confession, as though it were a public service he had performed, with the utmost mercy. But Tom thought of the stripped body with the torn ears, and those living faces, lit up by the crackling camp fire, lived ever after in his mind in the yet more lurid light of this dreadful revelation.

The high forehead, the twinkling spectacles, the gray tufts and the polished hook of the elderly man, the broad, keen, flashing blade with which Slipper sat paring his finger nails, the wall eyes' hard, dead stare; the knotted hands that hid De Gruchy's face and the blue black hair in turn hiding half his fingers, the harmless playing cards upon the ground, the ruddy, genial fire and the white, the watchful moon peering through a screen of trembling leaves—all these were as pieces of a mosaic inlaid at this instant in Tom Erichsen's brain, for him to carry there to his grave.

"So you killed him yourself?" he found himself saying at last in a stouter voice.

"I did," said Hookey. "I was under that painful necessity this very afternoon. It wasn't done for the fun of the thing, you understand, but only when it became evident that one of us must go. I naturally preferred to stay. At the same time, I must admit I was wearying of being hectored and bullied by a confounded foreigner, and there were three of us Englishmen of the same mind. So you perceive how it all fitted in. Last night we had words. Now, a house divided against itself cannot stand. Neither can a band of bushrangers, much less when the mounted police are on their track."

"Are they?" cried Tom.

"Maybe within fifteen miles," replied Hookey Simpson. "Maybe within five. An ensign, two sergeants and eighteen troopers, as I understand. But never mind them. We two had words. They had been coming on for weeks. Well, there were three on my side and only two on his. So we made it up, but lay and watched each other with one eye open all night. This afternoon at his suggestion we rode behind together to come to some understanding, but I saw him looking at me queerly," said the little gray man, "and that was enough for me. When I galloped after these good fellows our number was reduced by one, but the little question of leadership was at an end."

"A good job too!" cried Slipper, and Wall-eye nodded a grave assent.

"You see, the change is not unpopular," continued Hookey modestly, "though I'm bound to add that I don't see how it could be—among Englishmen. What was he before they kicked him out of his own country? The word that described our friend Barabbas was already applicable to the late lamented. But what was I before circumstances compelled me to leave mine? What do you suppose? Come, give a guess," said Hookey Simpson.

"You talk like a parson," suggested Tom to compliment the wretch.

"And I was next door to one!" cried the little man, beaming benevolently. "A schoolmaster! A pedagogue! A pattern to the village and its model church warden until an accursed organ fund brought trouble in its train! So here I am, and here I was while our late friend was cutting throats in Italy, yet he thinks I'm going to knuckle under to him forever. Likely, wasn't it? No, no; he was a bold enough man, but he'd met another, and I venture to say that tonight—my first in command—we're on a bigger job than we ever should have tackled under friend Francisco."

"Hear, hear!" cried Slipper, while Wall-eye nodded again, and Tom caught an evil gleam between De Gruchy's fingers. There followed a pause, for the mellifluous gray man had taken off his spectacles and was breathing on the lenses with as tranquil a deliberation as though he were still in the village schoolroom, ruling innocent children instead of grown men as infamous as himself.

Tom watched him still. Indeed, his eyes had scarcely left this venerable villain from the moment it appeared he was one, and now his fascination was complete. He glanced at his own legs, crossed in unconscious imitation of the little bushranger, and his trousers were all stained and his boots still stiff from the blood that had run down and into them, drawn by the lash. Then he looked at Hookey, so wicked and strong and sly, and his heart leaped as he had never thought to feel it leap again. Here was the man for a whipped dog to follow! He leaned eagerly forward and begged and craved admission to the band as another might have pleaded for his life.

Hookey Simpson surveyed him strangely. "Well, well," said he, "I was thinking it would never do to leave you here."

"Why not?"

"You were probably heading for the sea."

"I was."

"Well, the ensign and his men are, without doubt, between the sea and ourselves. You might have fallen in with them."

"That would have been my lookout."

"Mine, too, perhaps."

"What do you mean?"

"You might have put them on my scent."

Tom had seen it coming, yet he lost his temper when it came.

"So you think that of me?" he cried. "You see how I've been treated, and yet you think that!"

"I did think it," was the reply. "I don't say I do now. No; it never occurred to me to trust you on the grounds you suggest."

"Then what did it occur to you to do?"

Hookey Simpson shrugged his shoulders as one who would rather not say.

"To tie me to a tree perhaps and leave me there to starve."

Hookey Simpson bit his thin lips to avoid smiling, but bent his gray head when that was impossible, and Tom, bending his, saw that the cork was off the polished steel hook and its point as sharp as a needle. The little gray man was feeling it with his thumb as he still tried to swallow his smiles.

"I see!" said Tom in a low voice. "Yes, now I see!"

"We never do things by halves," observed Hookey, sucking a bead of blood, not without ostentation, from the end of his thumb. "We do them with all our might."

"So I see," repeated Tom. "Well, and so do I. You stick at nothing. I'll stick at less. I'll be with you in what you please, from whist to wholesale murder, only give me the chance! Man alive, can't you see for yourself I'm as desperate as any of you? Haven't you told me the mounted police are between me and the sea? Then what do you suppose I want with my life except to sell it as dear as possible and be done with it as quick? I tell you," cried Tom, "I'm the very man for you! See here. You're one short. Take me in his place and serve me the same if I turn out worse than my word!"

His sudden vehemence, his impassioned manner, his fevered and infuriated eyes all had their effect upon the bushrangers, who now, with the exception of Peter Pindar and De Gruchy, got up and held a whispered consultation some few paces from the fire. Tom watched them eagerly, and each time the wall eyes or the fire lit spectacles were turned upon him he made ready to rise. But now and then they glanced at De Gruchy instead, who was still nursing a sullen face, and at such times their whispers fell lower still, so that Tom was at once startled and interested when a new voice gobbled in his ear:

"Yabber-yabber 'longa him—him bael budgerie—him no use!"

It was Peter Pindar, whose oily locks and curling beard nodded disgustedly in De Gruchy's direction.

"Why not?" said Tom. "What has he done?"

"Him good fellow belonging [friend of] Francisco," replied the black. "Me leave 'm alonga Francisco, me Hookey Simp'on. Bael budgerie; me leave 'm alonga good fellow, my word!"

And the simian face grinned from ear to ear, in each of which Tom now beheld a gold earring smeared with blood. But he was determined to be horrified no more, and, the trio beckoning him, he joined them with what alacrity he could in the straight waistcoat of stiff wounds which now imprisoned him.

"Well," began the little gray man, "we're going to give you a trial!"

Tom broke out with impious thanks which the other instantly cut short.

"Stop till you hear what that means," said Hookey. "It means that we saddle up straight away and stick up Castle Sullivan before morning. It means that you've got to make yourself extra useful there, since you know the place. So what do you say to it now?"

For the moment Tom could say nothing at all. He was too surprised, and in his surprise he was thinking of the Sullivans and sweet revenge, of the detested spot he meant never to see again and of Peggy who must be protected all at once.

"Well?" said Hookey. "You know the place. What do you say?"

"I'm known there too!"

"What of that?"

"They'd make a mark of me. The Sullivans would have me back alive or dead. Then I have enemies among the men. They'd side against me out of spite."

"Well, we shall all wear masks."

Tom glanced down at his regulation jacket, shoes and trousers, took off his regulation cap and shook his head.

"It would never be enough. There are too many of them wearing the very same as these."

"Then you'll just have to take your chance," said Hookey sharply, "or you may kneel down and say your prayers."

"Stop!" said Slipper.

"Well, what now?"

"Francisco's rig!"

Hookey considered the suggestion and finally accepted it, though with an evil grace.

"All right; out with them," said he. "And you slip into them, young fellow, without more of your jaw. We shan't wait for you. Saddle up there, saddle up, or we'll never get off tonight!"

The little gray man was altogether changed. The long mellifluous word gave way to the monosyllable of short and sharp command, the horn spectacles seemed to kindle and flash to right, left and center all at once, and yet in three or four minutes they were bent as benignly as ever upon Tom, who was now, however, another man himself.

Long spurs, longer boots and a bright blue jacket with enormous buttons, though some sizes too large, became him wonderfully, upon the whole, and a straw hat such as Dr. Sullivan wore and the convicts plaited, but wreathed with leaves and berries in a foreign fashion, crowned a disguise which only required the mask to render it complete.

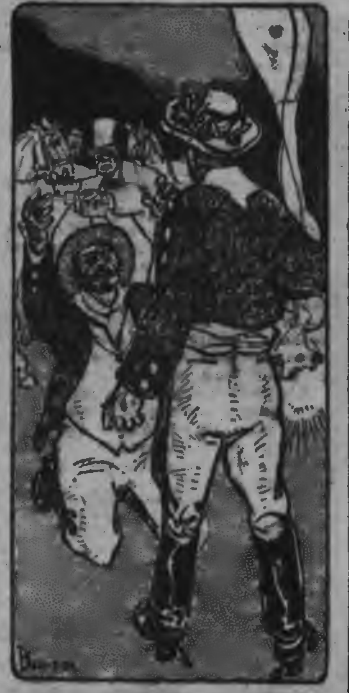
"Be good enough to turn round," said Hookey Simpson, with his former urbanity and some perceptible amusement.

Tom did so, and there was De Gruchy still sitting in the moonlight, with his head between his hands, and the others as busy as bees.

"Now turn back again—and many thanks! That was an admirable idea of Slipper's. They'll take you for Francisco himself, and, on the whole, it's just as well they should. Yet, mind you, he was a pretty hard nut. You mustn't disgrace his cloth."

Tom was shaking his head, when there was a loud cry of "Francisco! Francisco!" behind him, and he turned in time to catch De Gruchy on his knees, with his clasped hands raised and a face of ashes that broke into flames as the apparition of the dead man resolved itself into the newcomer in the dead man's clothes. With a single bound the Frenchman was upon him. The hat was torn off, and a gasping, glaring figure crouched with it in both hands as the others rushed up and closed about him.

"Calm yourself. Calm yourself," said Hookey Simpson, stepping forward.



He turned in time to catch De Gruchy on his knees.

He laid an arm upon the Frenchman's shoulder. It was the arm that ended in a hook, but the cork still guarded its terrible point. Nevertheless the man's face went white again. He started forward, but Hookey Simpson pushed him back. In a moment they were on the ground together.

This was all Tom had seen. All he now saw was Hookey Simpson getting to his feet, with the burst cork forced high up the hook, which gleamed in the moonlight as bright and cleanly as before.

"So that's all right!" said the little gray man, adjusting his spectacles, which had become crooked in the fray. "Half a heart is worse than no man, and as he couldn't get on without the other heathen, why, it was the kindest thing to do. What's more, gentlemen, I rather think that our young recruit here is going to prove himself worth the two of them put together."

And Tom got a playful prod with the round part of that murderous hook and yet stood his ground, though De Gruchy lay flat on his face, with the moon beating down on his neck and on a dark blob there in much the same place as that other mortal wound, which now puzzled Tom no more.

To be continued.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

FOR XMAS GREETING

Order your cards now and secure the best as the prettiest are always sold out first. Many different styles printed with your own greeting and name, at all prices. Call and make your selection at the Review Office.

cal option should it carry in Aldborough township.

Damage of $25,000 was done by a fire on the premises of the Canadian Neckwear company, 40 Scott street, Toronto.

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited

97 Yonge Street, Toronto.

W. H. ISAAC, 228 Dublin Street, Peterborough.
Local Salaried Representative.

Machine 'Phone 22

FOR THE LADY WHO CALLS

Visiting List and Social Engagement Book —A Dainty and Useful Gift.

Those ladies who find it difficult to keep track of their social debts in the way of calls which have to be returned, invitations to various society functions which have been received will be pleased to learn that a dainty little book has been issued from the presses of the Review which will fill their need. The city has grown so rapidly of late years that it has become almost necessary for each lady to have a special reception day each month when her friends will be sure to find her at home. To keep a record of these will be an easy matter with one of these little books. They are prettily bound in blue linen, lettered in gold and printed on good paper. There are two pages for every day in the month, arranged, according as the day is, first Monday, second Tuesday, etc. At the back of the book are pages for invitations received, out-of-town addresses, special reception dates, and memoranda. One of the books would make a dainty and acceptable Xmas gift. The books are on sale at the bookstores at the price of 50c

Charles Kow admitted at Cobourg to firing William Rercount's barns and stacks.

Since the burning of their church, New Liskeard Methodists meet in the Masonic hall.

FIRE ALARM BOXES

The following are the numbers and locations of the city of Peterborough Fire Alarm Boxes.

BOX	LOCATION
	WARD No. ONE
12	Lock and McGill
14	Westcott and Aylmer
15	Perry and George
16	Perry and Bethune
17	Park and Townsend
18	George, at C. P. R.
	WARD No. TWO
21	George and King
22	Simcoe and Queen
23	George and Hunter
24	Hunter and Quaker
27	Water and McDonel
	WARD No. THREE
31	Park and Sherbrooke
32	Charlotte and Stewart
35	Park and Hunter
38	McDonel and Reid
	WARD No. FOUR
41	Park and London
42	George and Dublin
43	Edinburgh and Stewart
45	George and Smith
48	Water and Hilliard
	WARD No. FIVE
52	Burnham and James
53	Rogers and Sophia
54	Hunter and Mark
57	Concession and Hazlitt
59	Auburn

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the War number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

FOR XMAS WORK OR BAZAARS

Pictures in Sepia or Colors, from 3c to 12c

Mounting Papers and Card, in White, Browns and Gray.

Leather in all shades—Brown, Tan, Green and Red.

Calendar Pads, all sizes, from 2c to 10c each.

Passepartout in all shades.

AT REVIEW STATIONERY DEPT.

YOUR OWN HAIR MADE UP AS DESIRED . .

By home talent, where y are ure of satisfaction, or matche correctly in shade and quality.

Switches, Natural Wavy Pomp Latest Coiffures

Let us show you what we can do before you patronize some outside party. We guarantee oplease you at lowest prices in the city.

Back Hair Dressing, Shampooing, etc.

MRS. BYRNE'S

George Street, Second Door North of Dutton's

Letterheads

¶What you think about you Business Stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks.

¶Don't have inferior paper and work in your Business Stationery. Don't try good work and paper because you like it, altogether, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

¶The Review Job Department will give you the best work obtainable and superior paper and envelopes. Your order set, printed and cased for for you, particularly you

¶A Call or Phone will bring to you samples.

THE REVIEW
PETERBOROUGH

W. H. HILL, Esq.,
Manager of Central Ontario.

Dear Sir—After congratulating myself being a Sun Life Policy Holder, I am very much pleased with the handsome amount added to my Policy, and am surprised and gratified with the profits. I appreciate the good financial position which your Company holds to-day.

THOS. EDGAR,
Peterborough, Ont

November 29th, 1907.

N.B.—Policy Straight Life $2,000
Bonus for 5 Years $160
Policy No. 17,706

LOOK Warne's Prices on Patent Medicines are LOWEST YET.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Chase's Nerve Food, reg. 50c for	29c
Wampole' Tooth Paste, reg. 25c for	10c
10s Nox a Cold, reg. 25c for	15c
Gin Pills, reg. 50c, for	29c
Baby's Own Soap, for	8c
Cuticura Soap, regular 35c for	25c
Chase's Pills, reg. 25c for	15c
Dr. Williams Pink Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Eclectric Oil, Thomas, genuine	12 1-2c
Electric Oil, other than genuine Thomas	9c

See our large assortment of Xmas gifts at cut rate prices.

W. B. WARNE

345 GEORGE ST. Phone 527

Xmas Photos

Send a family group or the children's photos to your friends at Christmas. Nothing is appreciated more than such remembrances, from

MENDEL'S STUDIO

374 1-2 George St Entrance next Oke's

Quartette to Sing Rock of Ages

During the Presentation of the Passion Play at Crystal This Week

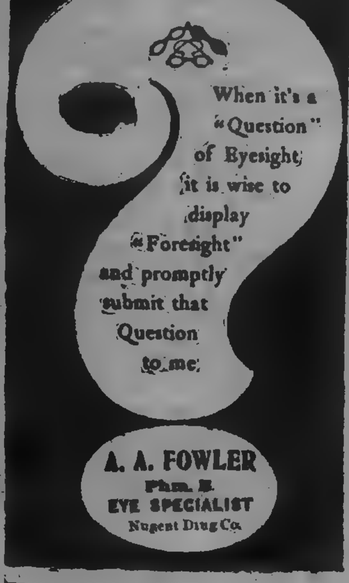
The musical number for the presentation of the Passion Play at the Crystal this week is highly appropriate and in harmony with the spirit of the entertainment. The beautiful hymn, "Rock of Ages," will be tendered by a quartette consisting of Misses Edwards and McKeever, soprano and alto, and Messrs. Chandler and Johnston, tenor and bass. The hymn will be illustrated by a set of carefully selected and well painted slides.

New Cheesemaker for Westwood

Mr. Richard McCracken Will Act in That Capacity Next Season

Westwood cheese factory has changed hands. Mr. R. McCracken bought out Mr. Jas. Ryan's interest in the factory. Mr. McCracken will be the manager for next season and as he is a well known and capable cheesemaker he should be very popular with his patrons.

New school in the East Ward of Midland cost $27,000.



When it's a "Question" of Eyesight, it is wise to display "Foresight" and promptly submit that Question to me.

A. A. FOWLER
Phm. B.
EYE SPECIALIST
Nugent Drug Co.

INTEREST PAID
QUARTERLY
—ON—
SAVINGS DEPOSITS of $1 and upwards
—THE—
BANK OF OTTAWA

Interest paid February 29, May 31, August 31, November 30

PETERBOROUGH BRANCHES: George Street, also Corner Rubidge and Townsend Streets

A. A. HOLLINGSHEAD, Mgr.

Perfection Secured in Window Tent

Walsh Window Tent an Invention of Exceptional Merit—Turner & Sons Have Canadian Rights of Manufacture

A simple and ingenious contrivance and one that is exactly suited to the purpose for which it was manufactured, is the Walsh Window Tent. To those suffering from tuberculosis or other pulmonary diseases, it is a boon beyond valuation, and to any who desire to breathe the fresh and invigorating air while sleeping, and at the same time be warm and comfortable in any weather, it is the ideal invention. It will fit any window, and can be made adjustbale to any bed. It is inexpensive and may be placed in position or removed in a moment. In fact, it can be manipulated with as much facility as an ordinary window screen. Hospitals and sanitariums have found it to be the very thing they have been looking for for years, and although it is only a recent invention, it is widely used in the above institutions, and its unsurpassable features and practicability are universally recognized and appreciated.

SOME OF THE SALIENT FEATURES.

In spite of its simplicity, it is impossible to fully enumerate in a small space all of its many commendable points. Its inventor, Dr. Walsh, has long realised the need of a proper fresh air sleeping accessory of such a character, and after much experiment has invented the perfect one—the Walsh Window Tent. A small awning attachment may be raised when required, affording protection from rain, wind or sleet, and a canvas shutter may also be regulated to suit the convenience of the sleeper. When not in use the tent may be folded up and placed under the bed or in any other convenient place. It is sanitary and washable, and is put in a window without the aid of of screws, nails or any other fastenings.

Messrs. J. J. Turner and Sons are sole manufacturing agents for Canada, and have the tent on exhibition in one of the front windows of the manufactory, on George street. They will be pleased to explain particulars in connection with it, and give pamplets explaining very thoroughly its purpose and many advantgaes.

PIANO, HARMONY, Etc.

ALFRED DAVIES

Teacher of Piano, Harmony, etc. Pupils prepared for all examinations. 106 McDonnel St., Bell Tel. 463, P.O. Box 592 3m

KID GLOVES FOR THE Gift-Giving Season

If you make your Christmas gift a pair of Kid Gloves you can rely on getting the finest qualities at ADAMS' TREFOUSSE and BOUILLON MAKE—EVERY PAIR GUARANTEED and boxed in a dainty fancy glove box, which will be greatly appreciated by the receiver.

OUR $1.00 KID GLOVE

Fine French Kid Gloves—Our leader, the PEERLESS, in all the newest shades, Tan, Brown, Gray, Navy, Green, Black, White Every pair guaranteed and boxed in a fancy glove box with the season's greeting per pair 1.00

OUR $1.25 KID GLOVE

Extra fine French Kid Gloves, "Aida" made from first choice skins, colors, Black, White, Gray, Brown, Tan, Dark Cardinal—Every pair guaranteed and boxed in a fancy glove box with the season's greetings, per pair 1.25

OUR $1.50 KID GLOVE

Finest real French Kid Gloves, "Pique Skin" "Trefousse Belmont" in all the newest shades—Every pair guaranteed and boxed in a fancy glove box with the season's greetings, per pair 1.50

LONG KID GLOVES

In the 12 and 16 button length Kid Gloves, we have the best values in the trade, colors, White, Black, Tan, Brown—Every pair guaranteed and boxed in a fancy glove box with the season's greetings, special at 2.75 and 3.00

LONG CASHMERE AND WOOLLEN GLOVES

are shown in all the popular shades, White, Navy, Cardinal, Gray, Black, Brown, extra fine qualities at 50c, 65c, 75c and $1.00.

Harry Adams

An Increase of Almost 50 Per Cent in Last Seven Years

Some Interesting Statistics Regarding the Taxes Paid by the Ratepayers of Peterborough—Amount Uncollected is Comparatively Small.

In view of the fact that there has been so much discussion of late among ratepayers on the subject of assessment it is interesting to note the increase in the amount of taxes in Peterborough during the past 7 years.

Like many other things during the past few years the taxes have jumped ahead in leaps and bounds, as it were. However, it must be taken into consideration that the city has been going ahead with great rapidity. New industries have been in operation, hundreds of new buildings have been erected and the value of real estate has increased to a remarkable extent.

The taxes in 1903 totalled $94,192.24 while the following year they amounted to $108,868.04, showing an increase of $14,675.80. On New Year's day, 1904, Ashburnham was annexed to Peterborough and the big jump in the revenue that year is due to the amalgamation. The year of 1903, the advance was in the neighborhood of $7,000. The taxes in 1905 was $5,743.23 over that of 1904. In 1906 they advanced $10,131.41, almost double the increase of the preceding year. The increase of the present year is $12,130.58, almost $2,000 more than 1906. The largest increase was in 1904.

It is gratifying to note that while the taxes have increased by nearly fifty per cent. in the last seven years there is only about $1000 difference in the amount uncollected in 1901 and 1906. The amount uncollected in 1907 has not yet been made out as the figures are not available until the end of the year.

Below will be found a summary of the amount of taxes for the city since 1901 along with the amount uncollected each year:—

1901, amount of taxes. $83,733.15; amount uncollected $1,619.87.

1902, amount of taxes $86,564.85; amount uncollected, $1,502.62.

1903, amount of taxes. $94,192.24; amount uncollected $1,456.48.

1904, amount of taxes $108,868.04; amount uncollected $1,358.48.

1905, amount of taxes $114,6111.27; amount uncollected $1,391.24.

1906, amount of taxes. $124,742.68; amount uncollected, $1,737.60.

1907, amount of taxes. $136,873.26;

The amount uncollected include remittances by Court of Revision, and charges against land, the owners of which are away; also statute labor tax and dog tax from persons who are out of the city.

Important Questions for Council

Garbage System and Fixed Assessment Among the Matters to be Considered To-night

The city council meets to-night at eight o'clock and will take up several important matters. Chief among them is the garbage by-law question, which has been receiving considerable attention of late. The property committee has recommended that a plebiscite be taken at the municipal elections in January as to whether the people are in favor of a garbage system, but there is some doubt as to whether this is the best course to pursue.

The matter of granting fixed assessment to the Peter Hamilton Co., the Auburn Woollen Co., the Peterborough Canoe Co., and the estate of A. McDonald, will also be up to-night and may cause a warm discussion. If the requests of the above concerns are granted the Council will without doubt be flooded with similar applications from other industries in the city.

The purchase of the land lying east of the King Edward school for the purpose of converting into a park, will also be considered to-night.

Several minor matters are also on the bill of fare.

AMUSEMENTS

"A DUTCHMAN'S HONEYMOON

"A Dutchman's Honeymoon" was presenrted at the Grand Opera House on Saturday matinee and night, and pleased two large audiences. The show was created for the purpose of making people laugh, and hits the mark as far as a certain class is concerned. There were many ludicrous situations and some lines that were brighter than the average.

To-night's attraction is Bianca West in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," and a crowded house should greet this talented actress and her splendid company in the stellar play they are presenting.

Milk Test Being Made At Toronto

Sanitary Inspector Bell is having another milk test made, this time by the provincial authorities at Toronto. A dozen samples were sent up a week ago to-day and ten more were forwarded this afternoon. Not more than a dozen samples can be tested at Toronto at once, hence the forwarding of the samples in two instalments.

The tests being made at Toronto will show whether there are any impurities or foreign material in the milk being delivered to Peterborough householders, and the report will be awaited with interest.

CASE SETTLED OUT OF COURT

The case of F. R. J. Macpherson and Co. vs. Mr. Pappas, has been settled out of court to entire satisfaction of the plaintiff and defendant and solicitors concerned. The plaintiffs claimed $197.28 and interest for work performed for defendant. The matter had been amicably adjusted and the issuing of the writ was apparently due to a misunderstanding. Mr. G. W. Hatton looked after the interests of the plaintiffs and Messrs. O'Connor & Gordon were solicitors for the defendant.

ALL SAINT'S CHURCH

Tonight the Girl's Guild meet at 7.30. Also the Supervision Committee meet at the same hour.

The Men's Association meet at 8 o'clock on Tuesday.

On Wednesday the Jr. Boys' Club meet at 7.30. Also on Wednesday Cottage Prayer Meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at Mrs. W. G. Howden's, Lansdowne St.

The Woman's Auxiliary meet at 3 o'clock on Thursday. The usual weeknight service will be held at 7.45 and choir practice at 8.30 o'clock on Thursday next. On Friday at 4 o'clock the Jr. Auxiliary meets and at 7.30 the Boys' Club.

BIRTH

BEAL.—On Monday, Dec. 9, 1907, to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Beal, Weller street, a son.

WEDDING BELLS

GARBUTT—NICHOLS

A wedding of much more than ordinary interest to an unusually large circle of friends, took place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Young, of Smith, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 4, at 7 o'clock, the bride and groom being two of the best known and popular young people of Smith. The occasion was the marriage of Miss Eva Mae Nicholls to Mr. Norman Bruce Garbutt, son of Mr. Robert Garbutt, of Lakefield. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. S. Northcote, wore a becoming gown of cream canvas de voile, with trimmings of embroidered net and silk. She wore a veil of Brussels tulle, caught with orange blossoms, and carried a sheaf bouquet of white carnations. The bride, who was attended by her cousin, Miss Ethel Quinn, of Peterborough, who was also prettily gowned, and carried a sheaf bouquet of pink carnations. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. W. O. Garbutt, of the Traders Bank, Lakefield. Miss Janet Quinn, of Peterborough, played the wedding march from Mendelssohn. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the Lakefield Presbyterian church, Rev. S. Sutherland Burns, B.A. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold neck chain and pendant, studded with diamonds; to the bridesmaid, a crescent of pearls, and to the groomsman a pearl scarf pin. The wedding supper was partaken of by about forty guests, all immediate friends of the families. The numerous costly and beautiful gifts received by the bride, testifying to the love and high esteem in which the young people are held, included a couple of substantial cheques, one from the groom's father, and the other from a cousin of the bride in the West. Mr. and Mrs. Garbutt will reside in Smith, and their many friends wish for them a long and happy wedded life.

Has Accepted Position at Edmonton

"Bill" Crowley, the stellar cover point of the Peterborough hockey team for several seasons, has accepted a position with the Canadian Machine Telephone Company, at Edmonton, and leaves for the Alberta city on Monday of next week. "Bill's" new position is a lucrative one, the salary running into three figures per month.

Crowley will, in all probability, play hockey with the Edmonton professional hockey team, of which Fred Whitcroft is manager, although hockey has nothing to do with his new situation. His many friends in Peterborough will wish him every success.

WILL USE SAND TO FILL BAD PIECE OF ROAD

Smith township council has purchased two acres of sand, which will be used in filling up the sink hole on the West Communication road. There seems to be no bottom to this stretch of highway, and the road-bed, no matter how often built up, persists in going down like beer at a German festival.

Will Reduce Its Operating Staff

A Toronto despatch says: It is understood that the Canadian Pacific Railway is about to make drastic reductions in its staff. Operating expenses have got to be reduced is the order from headquarters, and it is probable that within a week there will be men laid off all over the line in the operating department. Possibly the telegraphing department may be the first affected, for the company has not forgotten that recently the telegraphers secured a new and a very favarable agreement from the company. Reductions of staff in the passenger department may be made also, although no orders have yet been received. The blow, however, is expected to fall principally upon the operating department.

STEAMSHIP MOVEMENTS

St. John's, N.B., Dec. 8—Empress of Britain docked and landed passengers at West St. John at 1.30 this afternoon.

Annual Meeting of Golf Club Shareholders

Finances in Flourishing Shape—Board of Directors Were Elected

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club was held in the Bank of Montreal chambers on Saturday night. Mr. W. R. Morris, the secretary-treasurer, presented his report covering the last year, and the financial statement was a most satisfactory one.

The election of officers for the ensuing year took place and resulted in the following board being chosen;—Messrs. E. H. D. Hall, W. H. Denham, F. D. Mulholland, Hazen Ritchie and P. Campbell.

INSPECTOR VISITS THE COLLEGIATE

Mr. H. B. Spotton, one of the inspectors of Collegiate Institutes and High Schools for the province of Ontario, was in the city to-day and inspected the local Collegiate Institute. He expressed himself as well pleased with the work being done.

Xmas Crackers, Xmas Table decorations, Xmas Bells, see window display.

R. A. Dutton.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

The following meetings will be held at St. Luke's during this week;

Tuesday—Confirmation class at 8 o'clock.

Wednesday—Weeknight service at 8 o'clock. After the service the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will meet.

Thursday, 8 p.m.—Meeting of the junior chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

Friday, 8 p.m.—Confirmation class. Next Sunday evening Confirmation will be administered by Right Reverend Bishop Reeve.

The adult Bible Class of St. Luke's, of which Mr. J. J. Turner, jr. is the teacher, donated yesterday $50 to the funds of the church.

The annual prize giving and Christmas tree for St. Luke's Sunday School will be held on Friday, January 10, 1908.

James Fleming is walking from St. Catherines to Guelph on a wager.

"It's Confidence That Does It"

WHITE & GILLESPIE

TO HOUSEKEEPERS:

Another Christmas will soon be here We can assure Housekeepers of both city and country that we are now ready to provide them with an abundance of the good things necessary for Christmas baking and cooking at enticing prices.

NEW FRUITS

Raisins, Currants, Figs, Prunes, Dates, Candied Peel, Extracts, Syrups, Molasses, Shelled Walnuts and Almonds, Sauces, Pickles, Spices, Sugars, Teas, Coffees, Flour, Biscuits, Cheese, Prime Butter, Fresh Eggs, Breakfast Cereals, etc.

336 GEORGE ST. Phone 208

ESTABLISHED 1873

UNDERWEAR BARGAINS
---- AT ----
LeBRUN'S

The cold weather did not catch us napping. We have laid in the largest stock of Underwear we ever had and are reducing the prices in every line to make quick selling.

SCOTCH WOOL, NATURAL WOOL, SILK and WOOL, WOLSELY HYGIENE FLEECE LINED

All sizes for men and boys, as high as 50 inches, and at prices, ranging from

25c to $3.50 per garment

Also FLANNELL SHIRTS, all colors, Blue, Black and Gray, with or without collars, are reduced in price.

Cardigan Jackets and Heavy Sweaters at close prices.

H. LeBrun & Co.

Two Entrances George and Hunter Sts

PARK ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

This will be a busy week at the Park street Baptist church.

Monday, B.Y.P.U. at 8 o'clock.

Tuesday—Ladies' Mission Circle, Miss M. Mann in the chair.

Tuesday—The event of the week—Tea and concert by Mission Band.

MURRAY ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

The Young People will meet this evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Lila Webber will speak on "Answered Prayer."

Tomorrow (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock the Willing Workers will hold an open meeting. The pastor, Rev. J. R. Webb will give an address.

On Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, the regular weekly prayer service will be held. At 9 o'clock the men's banqueting committee will meet.

XMAS CHEER

CENTRAL LIQUOR STORE

141 HUNTER STREET

Brandies, Port and Sherry Wines, St. Augustine, Native Port, also the highest grade Scotch Whiskies to be found in Peterborough.

Something good in Rye, namely:—

MITCHELL'S SPECIAL RYE WHISKY

Quality the best in Peterborough and a little better.

Remember the place
The Old Reliable Liquor Store
F. J. R. MITCHELL

The government will send agents to England to advocate the advantage of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick for immigrants.

Photography

Amateur Supplies, Cameras, Souvenir Books, Post Cards and all kinds of high-grade Photography at W. G. LENDRUM'S, 170 Charlotte St. Agent for the celebrated Heintzman & Co's Pianos

Porter's Delicatessen

CUT RATE GROCERY STORE

Black Tea, 3 lbs	.50
Select Raisins 3 lbs	.20
Cooking Figs, 4 lbs	.25
Mince Meat, 3 lbs.	.20
Dates, 3 lbs.	.25
Washing Soda, 3 lbs.	.05
Tomatoes, per tin	.10
Beans, Peas, Corn, per tin	.08
3 bottles Pickles	.25
3 bottles Ketchup	.25
Cross Fish Brand Sardines 2 tins for	.25
Potatoes, per pk	.15
Apples, per pk	.10

COMMON SENSE GIFTS

If you want to make two families genuinely happy this holiday season, try giving the old cook stove that has given you years of service, to some needy household, and present the good wife with a

PANDORA RANGE

You will thus make two homes happy, especially your own where the great comfort of using the Pandora Range will be greatly appreciated.

ADAMSON & DOBBIN

NEW BRICK BLOCK—SIMCOE STREET

THE DAYLIGHT STORE

DOLLARS FOR YOU

At Our Own Money-Saving Sale

There are dollars waiting for you here. Come in and get them. We'll cut them off the prices of our Clothing and Furnishings.

The wise man who has his eye on his pocket book will now get busy and buy all the wearables he can use. Don't wait too long. This Sale will soon end.

MEN'S SUITS of fine English and Scotch Tweed, beautifully lined in both single and double-breasted style, were up to $14 and $15, for 11.90

MEN'S OVERCOATS—Heavy English Overcoatings in Kersey and Tweed, with wool and Italian linings; worth $12 and $13, for 9.90

MEN'S UNDERWEAR in heavy all wool, double-breasted, worth regular $1.00, for 69c

Braces, Gloves, Hosiery, Ties, Handkerchiefs, etc., all at bargain prices.

There's a constant flow of bargains from our great sale. Now is the time to clothe up every member of the family, large or small. Remember it is always "Money back if you want it" when you buy here.

LANG & MAHER, CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW

409-411 George St., Peterborough

FALL AND WINTER COATS

An Exhibition of Fashionable Models

This assemblage of Women's Coats for Fall and Winter authoratatively represents the newest fashionable effects in outer garments. They are tailored in a faultless manner—perfectly cut and fitted, giving a decided modish appearance. The materials are new, plain cloths, velvets, caraculs, fancy mixtures. Excellence of quality abounds in all other fabrics.

Embraced are imported models and the latest and newest Canadian effects. Individual beauty characterizes each garment. The charm of these Coats is enhanced by the unusual lowness of their prices. We trust you will ascertain in person the excellence of these offerings.

CLOTH COATS

High-grade imported models of extra fine quality Broadcloth in black and colors. Navy Blue, Brown and Green. Principally the seven-eighth length, tourist style. Some are semi-fitting, others fitted, stitched strapping of sel forming panels back and front. Others with fancy braids and full ripple skirt. Splendid value at $15, $18, $25, $30, $40

VELVET COATS

Handsome three-quarter length imported models; full ripple back, trimmed with silk braid down the front and back; lined throughout with fine quality black satin. Extra special value at $35.00

CARACUT COAT

New three-quarter length models; also short pony effect with trimmings of broadcloth straps and braid on collars and cuffs; large kimona sleeve. These garments must be seen to be appreciated. Prices from $15.00 up to $35.00

TWEED COATS

All the latest and newest effects in Tweed coats, ⅞ lengths, broad shoulders full backs, splendidly tailored and trimmed with self strappings; new full sleeves. Special value at $15.00 up to $25.00

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED

353 AND 355 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

STORE OPENS AT 8 A.M. CLOSES AT 6 P.M., EXCEPT SATURDAY

FOR FINE

Lemons, Oranges

Malaga Grapes

Bananas

and all kinds of fruit and vegetables try

MINOCOLO BROS.

Wholesale and Retail.

Both Phones 337.

FRAMED VIEWS

In COLORED SEPIA and BLACK : : : :

FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

THE ROY STUDIO

Ask for Roy's Famous Souvenir Post Cards

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

	Opening	Closing
Amal. Copper	46¾	47
Atchison	72¾	72¼
B. R. T.	40⅝	40½
Can. Pacific x div.	150	149⅞
Erie	16⅝	16½
Louis. & Nash.	94½	94⅞
Mo. Pac.	54½	52½
N. Y. Central	97½	97½
Penna	113½	113⅜
Rock Island	15¼	14¼
Reading	93½	93¼
Smelters	72¾	69¾
Sugar	106½	105
St. Paul	104	103⅜
So. Pac.	74⅝	73⅝
Union Pac. x-div. 2½	116⅝	116½
U. S. Steel	26⅝	26¼
do. pfd.	87⅛	87¼
Twin City	86	84
McKay	55	54⅝
Nipissing	6⅝	6⅝
Wheat	101½	100⅝
Corn	55⅝	56
May Oats	53⅞	53
Pork	12.82	12 75

: : CHRISTMAS : :

is coming soon and you will be face to face with that perplexing question

WHAT SHALL I BUY FOR A PRESENT?

We are ready and willing to solve it for you easily and at a small expenditure of time and money. Here you will find the most beautiful 1907 designs in gold and silver goods. Designs and prices that cannot be found elsewhere.

SCHNEIDER'S

RELIABLE JEWELLERS, 391 GEORGE STREET

THE CITY AND VICINITY

EVENTS TO-NIGHT

tonights events

Grand Opera House—Bianca West in "Dorothy Vernon, of Haddon Hall."

Oriental Hotel.—Annual meeting of Peterborough Hockey Club.

St. Paul's Church—Reception to Rev. Robert and Mrs. Pogue.

Y.M.C.A.—Banquet to employed boys Woodmen of World election of officers.

Young People's meetings in city churches.

PRESIDED AT ORGAN

Miss McCaw ably presided at the organ in All Saints' church yesterday.

AN OPPORTUNITY.

Do you need help, male or female? Have you rooms to let, house to rent or sell, or are boarders wanted? Have you anything to sell and can't find a buyer? Try a Review want ad. It will go everywhere at trifling cost.

MAKE CALENDARS.

Why not make calendars? They are pretty cheap and always acceptable. We have pictures in sepia and colors, fancy embossed cards and dainty calendar pads in many designs. See them at the Review office. 3d

ATTENTION! ATTENTION

The C.P.R. Atlantic Steamship Line have chartered the twin screw steamer "Cassandra," to sail from West St. John, Dec. 14th, Will carry only second cabin passengers. Rates, $35.00, $37.00 and $42.50, from St. John to London direct, and land passengers in ample time to reach their homes for Christmas. For tickets and all information see W. McIlroy, agent, 342 George street. 2d

FUR LINED COATS

We clean and press them and guarantee no injury to the fur. My Valet, 204 Charlotte street. All goods called for and delivered. dtf

COURT CHEMONG.

The annual meeting of Court Chemong, I.O.F., will be held on Thursday evening of this week. Election of officers will take place.

MEETING POSTPONED.

The meeting of the W.A.A. Reading Circle which was to have been held to-night will not take place until January 6th, at the Y.W.C.A.

PREACHED AT GILMOUR CHURCH

Rev. A. H. Brace preached at the Gilmour Memorial Baptist church yesterday afternoon to a large congregation.

CHRISTMAS CAKE.

Best of fruit, choicest of flavorings and perfection of baking makes Elliott's Christmas cake the finest to be had. Leave orders now. Iced as desired. dtf

COULD NOT SELL

Mr. J. Duncan has returned from Toronto where he has been for the past two weeks. Mr. Duncan has tried to sell thirteen horses which he has had up there for some time, but was unable to effect the sale.

CHANGES HANDS

The grocery business conducted by Mr. George A. Williams has been purchased by Mr. Elias Williams and Mr. H. Williams, and the new firm name is E. Williams & Son.—Havelock Standard

CHARITY BOARD.

The charity board will meet to-night at 7.30 o'clock.

FINE PICTURE FRAMING.

New mouldings, good work, reasonable prices. J. M. GREENE Music Co. George street. dtf

HAD BAD FALL

Mr. Wm. Might, George street, while descending the steps at his residence this morning slipped and fell, injuring his back. Mr. Might is able to be around, but is suffering considerable pain.

TAKE NOTE

Of our fine line of Violins, Mandolins, Guitars, etc. Some excellent values, and within easy range for the Xmas trade. Special prices to Old Santa Claus. J. M. GREENE Music Co., Grand opera house building, George street. dtf

PERSONAL

Mrs. J. J. McBain will not receive again until January.

Mr. George J. Sherry, barrister, of Norwood, is in the city.

Mr. Arthur Mann is home from the Ontario College of Pharmacy.

Mr. C. L. Owen, M.P., of Campbellford, was in the city on Saturday.

Rev. A. L. Reed, B.A., preached at St. Luke's yesterday both morning evening.

Mr. Will Cox, who is attending the Baptist College at Woodstock, is home on his holidays.

Dr. Brodd is confined to his room with an affection of the ear which is very painful.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt was unable preach yesterday at St. Luke's on account of a severe cold.

Mr. Robert Davidson, of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, is home on a visit to his parents.

Miss Froates and Miss Margaret Froates, of Yonkers, N.Y., are the guests of Mrs. E. Layfield, 283 Park street.

Miss Muriel Scott, daughter of Reeve Scott, of Smith, is threatened with appendicities, and an operation may be necessary.

Mr. Frank Burnham, of Lachine, Que., was the guest of Mr. E. A. Peck over Sunday. He left this morning for Toronto.

Mr. C. C. Forsyth, organist and choirmaster of Cambridge street Methodist church, Lindsay, formerly of Peterborough, is in the city.

Mrs. R. Dineen and Master Emmett McDonald, of Peterborough, are the guests of Mrs. Wm. Dineen.—Havelock Standard.

Mr. H. James, representing the Shurley-Dietrich Co., of Galt, and R. B. Smith Co. of St. Catharines, is registered at the National.

Mrs. R. R. Hall, who has been spending a few weeks visiting friends in British Columbia, has returned to the city.

Mrs. (Hon.) R. Hamilton, of Auburn, who has been visiting at St. Luke's rectory, will leave for St. Catharines, to take the baths at the "Welland."

Mrs. A. H. Preston, of Peterborough, has returned after spending a week with her niece, Mrs. James H. Moore, North Bay.—Watchman Warder.

Mrs. S. Eugene Salls will receive at her home, 21 Scott street, on Thursday, December 12th, and afterwards on the second and fourth Thursdays.

Mrs. H. A. Yenney, 532 Weller-st., and her daughter, Mrs. Gerrard, will receive on Tuesday, Dec. 10th, and in future on the second and third Tuesdays of each month.

Kingsley Waterman, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Waterman, James street, underwent an operation at Nicholls hospital yesterday for appendicitis. He is progressing favorably.

Mr. R. S. Cotton, of the engineering department of the Canadian General Electric Co., Peterborough, called on friends here yesterday while on his way home from Montreal.—Port Hope Guide.

Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun entertained at bridge yesterday afternoon. Mrs. McMahon and Miss Denholm carrying off the prizes. Mrs. Loucks and Mrs. A. Bain poured tea afterwards from a table decked with marguerites.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Mr. H. J. Nosworthy, secretary-treasurer of the Leader Publishing Company, Limited, left on Wednesday evening. While away Mr. Nosworthy will visit Montreal, Toronto, Peterborough and Lindsay.—Regina Leader.

Omemee Mirror:—Mr. J. D. Thornton, was in Peterborough on business on Saturday......Miss Irene Fee is visiting friends in Peterborough ...... Mr. James Dobson was in Lindsay and Peterborough Monday on business.

Lakefield News;—Mrs. Robinson, of Peterborough, was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cox, jr., this week......Mr. Harry Wannamaker and friends took in the opera at Peterborough on Monday evening last......The Misses Fox, of Peterborough, spent a few days in the village, this week, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cox, jr.

Millbrook Mirror:—Mr. Thos. Harkness and Son, Master Allie, were visitors to Peterborough last week...... Mrs. H. Richards and Master Eddie, and Mrs. C. W. Richards, were visitors to Peterborough today......Mrs. Wm. O'Brien was in Peterborough on Tuesday......Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Burns, of Peterborough, are visiting friends in town.

A Richmond Hill correspondent writes;—Rev. A. P. Brace, B.D., of this place, attended the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance, held at Port Perry Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Brace was elected Grand Worthy Patriarch of the province. He is a son of Rev. A. H. Brace, of Park street Baptist church, Peterborough.

Skates attached to shoes. The Banks Skate Store. 1d

FATHER McCOLL WAS AT COBOURG

Delivered Eloquent Address at St. Andrews Day Banquet

In the toast "The Day and all who Honor it" at the St. Andrew's Day banquet held in Cobourg under the auspices of the Sons of Scotland, the Cobourg Sentinel-Star says;

Father McColl, of Peterboro, responded. He said it was a pleasure for him to come here and see how his brother Scots honored the day. The day that St. Andrew was crucified was November 30th. Andrew comes from a Greek word, and means manhood and labor, and this exemplifies Scottish character. All Scotchmen honor the day. Scotchmen are men of intellect, and in the earliest ages Scotland had good schools. The first university was St. Andrews, then Glasgow, then Edinburg. Her children have been highly trained. They respected a man of education, and nothing pleased them more than to have their children have a university education. Scotland was celebrated for its great men. Mr. Gladstone was one of the finest orators in the world. In Canada many of our great men have been Scotchmen, and he instanced Sir John A. Macdonald and Hon. Alex. McKenzie, and in our province Sir Oliver Mowat and Hon. G. W. Ross. Her sons have been great in war, a man Macdonald was first to mount the walls of Quebec. Wallace and Bruce were great warriors; they fought to defend their country; Scotland never was conquered. Wherever they live they acquired wealth because they were cautious. They were also generous, and he instanced Lord Strathcona and Andrew Carnegie. They are certainly independent, and scarcely ever asked for charity. They have humor, and revel in sarcasm. An Irishman makes us laugh because he turns things upside down. An Englishman likes a practical joke, Scotchmen are sentimental; if you are in difficulty you will find him in your home. It is said they are clannish; he was thankful they were so and stuck by each other. We love each other, we love Scotland; let us cultivate this love.

MUSIC HAS CHARMS, ETC.

An Ottawa man composed a poem in the Scotch dialect on the miraculou escape of Donald McLean, the Warsaw piper, who scared away a pack of howling wolves by the skirling of the bagpipes. The following is the poem, with its inspiration, written in prose;

"Donald McLean, of Warsaw, while deer hunting at Stony Lake, heard the howl of timber wolves. His rifle being useless in the dark, he took out his bagpipes and played them, walking around a tree for severa lhours. The howling ceased, and the wolves finally disappeared."

[illegible] famished pack, on lunch intent,
"Wi' een aflame an' mou's agap' the eam' howlin' on;
They'd sniffed the gow aff Donald's naked shanks;
Nae fears o' gun or trap (erst shunned for what thae meant) obtruded on the scent o' mac-meat, heathreed sured.

"Loud on the dark'ning gloom, in strains frought wi' the doom o' man or beast wad dare the pluck o' a McLean, there soundit forth the extered, pibrohmohr challenge tae "Come on!! They halt, in dismay't, an' wi' a speed—display't he when from Alma's heights the "Forty-Twa" chased tae the bagpiped lift o' "Haud Dwa" the bearish Russian horde—turned tail and fled!!

'Twas ever thus; 'twill ever be;
In peace or war, on land or sea,
The obdurate maun, bend the knee
Tae Scotia's bagpipe melody.
Sae, let us a', whilst here below,
Our homage pay tae what's its due,
In hope, when summoned hence to go
Tae where they hae'e the bagpipes, too.

A. L. ANDERSON.

Ottawa, 30th Nov., 1907.

A CHANCE FOR TWO TICKETS

For Any Young Lady by the Name of Dorothy With Hair of the Proper Hue

Mr. Eugene Wilson, the business representative for "Dorothy Vernon, of Haddon Hall," says that any girl with auburn locks, and whose name is Dorothy, will be given complimentary tickets for two of the best seats for the production of Dorothy Vernon, of Haddon Hall, at the Grand Opera House tonight, if she applies for them at the box office. Dorothy Vernon is the vivacious and auburn haired heroine of the play, and it is owing to this fact that the offer is made.

OTONABEE LODGE WILL CELEBRATE

Its 25th Anniversary on Monday Night Next

Otonabee lodge No. 13 I.O.O.F. will celebrate its 25th anniversary of its resuscitation on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock, in the Oddfellows' Hall by holding a reunion of Past Grands. The initiation degree will be conferred by veterans of the Old Guard four of which are charter members.

Veterans' jewels will be presented to Bros. W. F. Green and D. Bellegham who joined the lodge on the night of the resuscitation, Dec. 1882.

Invitations have been extended to Grand Master Brett, of Essex, Grand Warden Derbyshire of Brockville and others to be present.

The old guard of 1882, (when the lodge was resuscitated are Bros. James Stevenson, R. W. Bell and M. Mowry, J. Matheson and G. J. Early. Mr. Stevenson is the sole surviving member of the lodge when it was first founded in 1846.

Bro. E. G. Poole is the present Noble Grand of Otonabee lodge and the following are the Past Grands.

Wm. Cluxton, E. Henderson, T. Workman, W. F. Green, T. M. Roy, T. Armstrong, J. Nugent, C. H. Huffman, J. A. McGill, H. D. McKenty, W. J. Paterson, J. Mills B. B. Armstrong, D. G. Armstrong. A. Rutherford, J. A. Tully, J. Edgecombe, D. E. Yarnold, Wm. Quinn, J. W. Miller, H. Morgan, A. Rose, W. D. Jewett, F. J. Might, J. M. Gemmell, W. J. Squires, E. B. Clegg, Wm. Comstock, W. A. Lewis, R. J. Matchett, W. R. G. Higgins, J. T. O. Higgins, J. T. C. Lan, W. S. Robinson, F. Wise, M. T. Breckenridge, S. G. Payne, G. O. Maitland, S. Sharpe, Wm. Roberts.

CHRISTMAS NUMBER

On Saturday, December 14, the Review will issue its annual Christmas number. This year it will be larger and better than ever before, and will contain much matter of especially appropriate nature for the glad Yuletide season. A large section of the paper will be printed on extra heavy paper, and will be done in colors.

The Christmas number is being issued several days before Christmas, in order to benefit the merchants, who have advertised most extensively.

As a limited number of copies will be printed, subscribers desiring extra copies should leave their orders early.

The Review would again urge the people of Peterborough to patronize home merchants for the Christmas buying. Help them and they will help you.

Will Inspect Victoria Co. Institution

Reeve Scott, of Smith, chairman of The Board of Management of the House of Refuge, County Clerk Ed. M. Elliott, and Superintendnet Beavis, of the House of Refuge will go to Lindsay on Wednesday to inspect the House of Refuge there with a view to getting pointers that may be of assistance to them in the management of the local institution.

HE WILL LEAVE FOR COBALT SOON

Mr. W. Grady leaves to-morrow for Toronto and from there will leave for Cobalt where he has secured a lucrative position with the firm of Rogers & O'Brien, Grand Trunk Pacific contractors. Mr. Grady will probably be absent until next spring.

SANTA CLAUS ON HIS WAY TO ROUTLEY'S

STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING

Goods are Pouring in--Our customers are Now Buying for Xmas

300 Dressed Dolls, reg. 25c, choice	.14
375 China Tea Sets, regular 50c	.25
25 Crokinole Boards, regular 1.25	.59
60 Leather Case Silk Lined Ebony Manicure Case, regular 2.50 for	1 50
20 only Military Brush Sets, Stirling Silver Mounted, regular 1.25 pair for	.74
15 cases Children's Plated Knife, Fork and Spoon, with pearl handles, reg. 2.00	1.24

You will find that our clerks are attentive and that prices are reliable. We watch closely our buying as we know goods well bought are half sold already

TORONTO 262-4 QUEEN W ROUTLEY'S PETERBORO' 379 GEORGE ST

ALL THINGS ARE NOW READ

GEORGE R. RECORD

PRACTICAL

FRENCH DRY CLEANER AND PRESSER

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments and Household Articles cleaned and guaranteed not to fade color or shrink any material. Charges moderate. Goods called for and delivered. Telephone 669.

NEW BRICK BLOCK, 173 SIMCOE ST.

Only Complete Dry Cleaning Plant in City

SAVE YOUR FURS

AND

FUR-LINED COATS

by having them cleaned by the

FRENCH DRY CLEANING

process, which kills all moths and does not injure in the slightest, the finest furs. This is very important at this season, and may mean the saving of the expense of buying new furs. None too fine for the process.

Dyeing, Cleaning, Pressing, and Repairing promptly and thoroughly done at

PARKER'S DYE WORKS

R. M. BEACH

PROPRIETOR.

Phone 250 177 Charlotte St

LADIES, CUT THIS OUT

Dr. Cristion's

FRENCH TOILET ARTICLES

Have been placed on sale with

Miss E. Smith

567 GEORGE STREET

MANICURING, SHAMPOOING

SCALP TREATMENT and FACIAL

MASSAGE SKILFULLY DONE

Appointments made. Mach. Phone 13

Money is Not Tight

On some of the property propositions we can offer you. We have some pretty locations where situation, price and terms are all to suit. Low priced houses, some of them brick and on good lots, $850 up

$1,000—Village store near the city, no competition. A good thing.

$1,600—Large modern, good looking brick house, south city.

$2,300—Very profitable apartment house renting to small families.

$1,800 and $2,350—Nice brick house, modern conveniences, well situated.

$3,000—Brick dwelling, stable, etc.; also some building lots. Just suit a retired farmer

$2,350 to $4,800—Beautiful residences on Gilmour, Homewood Ave., Weller, King, Water Sts, etc.

If you are thinking of going West, we can show you something good in lands in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, with return ticket for selection trip. Farms for sale. Houses to rent.

BELL & TAYLOR

Real Estate. Fire Insurance

Office—376 Water Street.

Office Phone—498B House Phone 547B

HOCKEY SKATES

From 75c to $5.00

Skates repaired and sharpened. General machine work.

METHEREL'S CYCLE WORKS

225 Hunter Street

ESTABLISHED 1879

J. R. HEINTZ & CO.

STOCKS, GRAIN, COTTON, COFFEE

J. N. BARBER, Manager

Phone 529

THE

DOMINION BANK

PAYS SPECIAL ATTENTION TO

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY

JOHN CRANE Manager

Corner George and Simcoe Sts.

IT IS A FACT

That we have the finest stock of Skates, Sticks and Hockey Supplies in the city.

BANK'S SKATE STORE

Under the Market Clock.

Women's Institute Was Organized

Ennismore Ladies Take Progressive Step

A Women's Institute was formed at the meeting of the Farmers' Institute at Ennismore on Saturday. The organization was done by Dr. Annie Backus, and the following officials were elected.;

President—Mrs. W. J. Stollard.

1st Vice-president — Mrs. Daniel Crough.

Secretary—Miss K. Donahue.

The meeting of the society is called for the first Saturday in January. Twenty-two members joined

TAKES TRIP TO HEATHER LAND

Mr. Alex. Archibald, the well-known local plumber, left on Saturday morning, accompanied by Mrs Archibald, for New York, whence they will sail on Monday on the steamer Lusitania, for the old land. They will spend two months at Mr. Archibald's former home in New Mines, Scotland, returning to Canada about February 1st. This is Mr. Archibald's first visit to Scotland, since coming out here five years ago.

SUBSCRIBERS PLEASE NOTICE

Readers, whose street number has been lately changed, will confer a favor if they will notify this office so that the correction can also be made on our list. tf

Are Driving Across Lake at Chemong

The ice across Chemong lake is now strong enough to permit teams crossing. Two residents of the Chemong village drove across the Narrows to Ennismore shore Saturday morning, and Mr. Dan Whitney, jr., came across Chemong lake with the stage Saturday, landing at Davis' Point, on the Smith township shore.

The ice on the lake is several inches in depth, and the skating is excellent.

WHAT WE KNOW ABOUT MARS.

Subject For Next Meeting of the Astronomical Society

The next meeting of the Peterborough section of the Royal Astronomical Society will be held next Friday evening in the Y.W.C.A. green room. The president, Rev. Dr. Marsh, will be the speaker of the evening and his subject will be "What we know of the planet Mars," and will have special reference to what has been discovered during the proximity of Mars to the earth during the past summer. The meeting promises to be an unusually interesting one and a large attendance of the members is expected.

AFTERMATH OF THE SMASH-UP

On Charlotte St. Friday Afternoon Heard in Police Court

The aftermath of the smash up at the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets on Friday afternoon was aired in the police court this morning, when Geo. Williamson, who had a narrow escape from being fatally injured, was fined five dollars and costs, amounting to [illegible]. He was charged with being drunk and disorderly. He did not appear, but witnesses were present to prove the case. Mr. Louis Elliott was called and stated that Williamson's wife asked him if he would get a buggy and drive her home and she would pay him. He procured his father's cutter and was going to take Williamson and his wife home. The defendant struck his wife and put her out of the sleigh. He took the lines and started off. At the corner of London and Aylmer streets he drove into the ditch and the cutter was badly broken up.

Mr. Geo. Pogue was the other witness. He corroborated Elliott's story. His Worship then imposed the above fine, to be paid in ten days.

Weird Scenes at the Mine ; Relatives Insane With Grief

Victims of Monongah Disaster Now Exceed Four Hundred.

Fifty-Three Bodies Recovered—Whole Town Plunged Into Grief—Women Crazed With Suspense — Gallant Work of Rescue Parties—Fire Again Hinders Proceeding—Another Explosion Feared—Loss $50,000.

Monongah, W. Va., Dec. 9.—But 53 bodies had been recovered from Mines Nos. 6 and 8 of the Fairmont Coal Co. when darkness closed last night.

Fifty-six hours had elapsed since the awful explosion, and a majority of the bodies brought to the surface were in a terrible condition, necessitating almost immediate burial.

It is now believed that the number of dead will not be over 400.

A thorough investigation was made by the company yesterday, and it was discovered that many miners believed to have been entombed had escaped because they had not gone to work Friday, after Thursday's holiday.

Shortly after 3 o'clock, fire broke out again in No. 8, and the rescuers were at once ordered to the surface.

Thousands of sightseers from the surrounding towns had gathered about the openings. Through megaphones the crowds were notified of the fire and the danger of another explosion, but they refused to leave, and it was with great difficulty that they were forced to seek places of safety.

Efforts were then directed toward extinguishing the fire, and it is thought it would be subdued within a few hours.

It was said by members of the rescuing party that over 100 bodies have been located in both mines, and that they will be brought to the surface as soon as the fire has been extinguished.

The system of rescue work was almost perfectly organized, and excellent results were obtained. It is now known just how long a man can stay in the foul air of the mines, and relays of fifteen miners have been provided. With clock-like precision the relief appears, and good progress was made all day until halted by the fire.

All day women crowded the sides of the hills overlooking the ill-fated mines and cried aloud. As the day advanced, they became almost crazed through grief and suspense. One woman pulled out her hair, handfuls at a time. Another tore all the skin from both of her cheeks with her finger nails. Some lay down on the frozen ground and cried themselves to sleep. In this condition many were carried to their homes near by, without awakening.

All saloons in Monongah have been closed since the explosion, and the 8,000 miners employed in other mines in the vicinity have suspended work and tendered their assistance to rescuing parties.

The property loss is estimated at $50,000, exclusive of the cost of rescue work.

Band to Serenade Local Citizens

The Salvation Army band will as usual serenade the citizens of Peterborough around Christmas time. Arrangements for this feature of the band's work are now being made. The band is now larger and better than ever before and citizens will be glad to hear that the usual serenading will be done.

Peterboro' Lady Noted Traveller

Two Children of Late Dr. Kincaid Win Distinction

Miss Lavina Rudberg was chosen by Yale University to travel far up into the wilds of the Quinault Indian reservation to take the physical measurements of the braves and squaws there. She has just returned from a journey of a wild and dangerous character through forests, over mountains and over lakes in a frail canoe. Miss Rudberg and Miss Zoe Kincaid hold the record for fearlessness among women adventurers. Miss Kincaid is a daughter of the late Dr. Kincaid, of this city, and her many Peterborough friends will be pleased to learn of her success. She is now residing in Washington Territory. Her youngest brother, Mr. Trevor Kincaid, is now a leading professor on the staff of a California university. He is a celebrated naturalist and has written several important works on this subject.

WATER COMMISSIONER

MR. W. H. HILL

Who Will Seek Re-election as a Water Commissioner.

YOUNG LADIES RECEIVED INTO THE SODALITY

Impressive Service at St. Peter's Cathedral Yesterday

Yesterday the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, was observed in local Catholic circles. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor preached at the different masses at St. Peter's Cathedral, and his sermon was appropriate for the occasion.

The members of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin attended eight o'clock mass in a body. They assembled at the convent hall and marched to the church over two hundred strong. The sight was a very impressive one.

At vespers over thirty new members were received into the Sodality, being confirmed by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor. A solemn and impressive sermon marked the occasion.

Invitation Cards for AT Homes, Receptions and Evening Parties, partly printed for 1c each. Envelopes to match 10c package. On sale at the Review Office

Tara had laid a 178x46 open air rink on the Dr. Thomas property, on Brock street.

AT SCENE OF CRIME.

That Is the Place to Lash Prisoners Says Despatch.

Kingston, Dec. 9.—Within the past few months, various judges throughout the country have been committing men to the Kingston Penitentiary to be flogged, in addition to their term of years. It is questionable whether this is a most desirable place to do the flogging. The authorities here think not, but rather that the punishment should be inflicted at the place where the crime was committed, thus being a greater punishment than if whipped privately and quietly, as is done in the prison here. The keepers who do the lashing regard it as a perfunctory duty, and therefore, do not wield the cat with the vigor that might be done if the punishment was inflicted, say, upon the home town square, and by those who felt aggrieved over the crime that had been committed.

Trade With Japan.

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—Alexander MacLean, Canadian trade commissioner at Tokio, reports that Canada's total exports to Japan for the nine months ending Sept. 30 were to the value of $114,377, mostly wheat products from Western Canada. During the same period Japan sent Canada raw silks and silk tissues valued at $169,052, as compared with $309,045 for the same period in 1906, and tea to the value of $427,829 as compared with $292,502 in the previous year. The rice crop will be 10 per cent. better than last year, and the tea crop will average about the same, although the Government has prohibited the picking of the fourth crop.

He makes some interesting references to Japanese business morality, and says that the Japanese are commencing to realize that it is better to conform to occidental ideas in doing business with people on this continent. There is a noticeably less tendency now on the part of the Japanese to repudiate bargains which do not promise to be profitable.

COLLIDED WITH LANDSLIDE.

Train Leaves Rails at Edge of Chasm, But Just Escapes.

Vancouver, Dec. 9.—The second section of the Pacific Express on the C. P. R. Saturday afternoon collided with a small rock-slide in the Fraser canyon, near Hope, 90 miles east of Vancouver. Instead of going over the embankment, the engine, baggage and first passenger car were luckily thrown against the rock walls on the side opposite the river when derailed. Engineer Ostrom and Fireman Lusson were slightly injured. No passengers were hurt. The track was cleared in four hours.

Drowned Near Elora.

Elora, Dec. 9.—Yesterday afternoon some boys noticed a man's hand projecting through the ice in the Irvine River, between Salem and Elora, and on investigation it was found to be the body of Ed. Klein, a man about 38 years of age. Klein had been in the employ of Thomas Cleghorn, a farmer, near this village; had been paid his wages on Saturday, Nov. 30, since which time has not been seen until to-day. His friends live in Berlin.

About $60 was found in the man's pocket. An inquest will be held today.

Wholesale Grocery Robbed.

Stratford, Dec. 9.—The Wholesale Grocery was burglarized Saturday night, and suspicion strongly points towards a man named Taylor. Chief McCarthy, who was hunting for another criminal in the vicinity of the station, met a burglar carrying a bag full of articles. The man dropped the bag and managed to escape. Taylor was arrested yesterday on suspicion.

Russia After Jap Trade.

Tokio, Dec. 9.—M. Shipoff, the former Russian Minister of Finance, has extended the time of his visit, conferring daily with, and receiving the opinions of politicians, bankers and merchants, with the view of improving Russia's trade relations with Japan.

Burglars at Paris.

Paris, Ont., Dec. 9.—Burglars entered five houses yesterday morning. Only an overcoat was taken, and it was thrown away in the road.

Blanche Latourneau, aged 12, was killed by a train at Tecumseh yesterday.

COST KING HALF MILLION.

Visit of German Emperor Was an Expensive Affair.

London, Dec. 9.—Taking all his expenses into consideration, it is probably very safe to estimate that King Edward's hospitality on the occasion of the state visit of the Emperor and Empress of Germany and the several other royalties who were his guests at about the same time, cost the King the tidy fortune of $500,000 out of his own private purse, not to mention what was spent by the Government, the City of London, other officials and private people.

Some of the principal items of expenditure will run about as follows:

Wages to extra court officials, waiters, huntsmen, musicians, interpreters, extra police, detectives, etc.	$ 50,000
Decorations, repair to Kensington Palace, Windsor Castle, other royal residences used by guests, and sweeping 2,500 royal chimneys	50,000
Street decorations in London, Windsor and Portsmouth	25,000
State banquets and entertainments	50,000
Reviews of troops, naval displays, etc.	150,000
Total	$325,000

A very large item of personal expense to the King and Queen when they entertain many royalties is the wholesale giving of presents, not only to their royal guests, but to each member of the visiting royalties' suites.

POLICE IN ARMOR.

Engage In Four Hours' Battle With Trapped Conspirators.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 9.—A force of police wearing armor raided the headquarters of a branch of the Revolutionist organization at Riga on Saturday.

The conspirators occupied the top rooms of a five-storey house. The door was barricaded, and when the police demanded admission a woman of 57, named Greta Tomson, replied: "We shall not surrender without a fight."

At the same instant a volley was fired through the door by the inmates, the bullets rattling against the armor of the men outside, one of whom was slightly wounded.

The police then entered an adjoining attic, from which the revolutionists could be more readily attacked, and for four hours a continuous fire was directed through the walls.

Gradually the replies of the conspirators became less frequent, and finally ceased. The police then broke into the apartments, and found four dead, including the woman Tomson, lying on the floor.

There were also five men and two girls wounded. The revolutionists, who were armed with a Mauser rifle and three Browning revolvers, had fired about 700 shots.

BOMB FOR KING CARLOS.

Startling Discovery of Plot In Lisbon Opera House.

London, Dec. 9.—According to the Madrid correspondent of The Express, two bombs have been found beneath the royal box at the opera house, Lisbon, where King Carlos will attend the opening of the season of Dec. 18. Electric wires from the bombs led to the rear of the stage.

The chief electrician, a violent Republican, was suspected and committed suicide by shooting himself as the police were about to arrest him.

Other persons who are suspected of being implicated in the plot have been arrested.

KIDNAPPED TO CANADA.

Thrilling Tale of Beautiful Girl and Determined Lover.

Boston, Dec. 9.—James Guriana and his wife are heartbroken over the kidnapping of their daughter, who is very young, and the police of all New England have been notified of the crime, which occurred at Athol, Mass.

The trail leads to Canada, and Chief Beatty has decided opinions that the girl has been taken there. He discovered that the alleged kidnapper, whose name is Salvadore, came from some part of Canada.

The girl is very talented and beautiful. She refused to marry Salvadore, who fell in love with her, and after that she was spirited away.

To Raise Tug Escort.

Port Dalhousie, Dec. 9.—The three tugs, Alert, Augusta ond Euphemia, have just returned after being out all day in search of the lost tug Escort. They report having found her in 78 feet of water. The diver put chains around her, and the three tugs all had a line connected to her, but could not move her. She will have to be raised with a pontoon.

The diver examined the cabin and the inside apartments in search of the bodies, but found none, all the doors being open. They will return again with the necessary tackle to raise her when the weather permits.

Fate of the Dundonald.

Bluff Harbor, New Zealand, Dec. 9. —A terrible tale of suffering was brought here by the New Zealand Government steamer Hinemoa. She had on board 16 survivors of the long missing British bark Dundonald, who were in a distressing state of emaciation as the result of nine months' existence on a totally uninhabited island, whose scant vegetation and shellfish, together with other produce of the sea, were practically their only means of subsistence during that period.

Sunfield Likely to Hang.

Hamilton, Dec. 9.—J. L. Counsell, Jake Sunfield's lawyer, says he has new evidence upon which to base his appeal to the Minister of Justice. He says he can produce witnesses who will refute the evidence of W. Walsh, who claimed that Radyk told him that Sunfield had done the shooting. Now that the Court of Appeal has confirmed the sentence, Dec. 27, will be the date of the execution unless Mr. Counsell is successful in his appeal to Ottawa.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c

AT THE HOME OFFICE

On account of the illness of an optician in Orillia, Dr, Browett has cancelled appointments and is pleased to announce that he will be continuously at his home office until after Xmas. Appointments for eye examination are being made daily at our store.

P. S. This store will hereafter be open until ten o'clock every night and appointments for eye examinations can be made until that hour.

McDERMID & JURY, Druggists, Peterboro.

Once Enough.

"Christmas comes but once a year."
"I'm glad of that," said popper,
"For two would break us up, I fear,
Since mommer's such a shopper."

Keeping Company.

Mother — Where are those oranges that were on the table?

Tommy—With the cookies that were in the cupboard, I suppose.—Harper's Weekly.

Open Confession.

"Though I am no philanthropist,"
The swindler said, "it's true
I'm always on the lookout for
The good things I can do."
—Denver News.

A Point In Casuistry.

"Miss Smith?"

"Well, Tommy?"

"What's an ocean greyhound after it's turned turtle?"—Puck.

Not a Fair Exchange.

When Otto tried to buy an auto
The dealer gave him the laugh
Because he was offered a due bill
On which was Otto's autograph.
—Chicago News.

By Contraries.

"How did that show of a ghost make out on the road?"

"Didn't have the ghost of a show."—Baltimore American.

First Love.

When Eve and Adam courted, she,
Like many another trustful human,
Believed him when he told her he
Had never loved another woman.
—Nixon Waterman in St. Louis Republic.

Could Use a Large Quantity.

Giraffe—Do you give gas?

Jungle Dentist—Yes.

Giraffe—How much a thousand feet?—New York Press.

A Change Coming.

The bachelor leads a single life,
But should he chance to wed
He'll probably find things different,
For then he will be led.
—Detroit Tribune.

OPEN EVENINGS
FROM NOW UNTIL AFTER CHRISTMAS

with a complete stock of new and up-to-date holiday suggestions. Remember we have the greatest variety of Gift Books to be found in Peterboro', as well as Fine China and Cut Glass, Pictures, High-Grade Leather Goods, Stationery, Bibles, Hymn Books, Cards Calendars, etc., to which we invite your inspection. Be sure and get our prices before purchasing. You will be convinced that they are Rock Bottom.

R. J. SODEN
369 George Street

PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR GUELPH

On account of the Provincial Winter Fair the Grand Trunk Railway System will issue return tickets at single first class fare from all stations in Ontario, Kingston and West to Guelph, Ont. Good going Dec. 7th to Dec. 13th. Valid for return until Monday, Dec. 16th, 1907. Full information may be obtained from any Grand Trunk Ticket Agent.

Turnbull Farm, 150 acres, near Attwood, Perth county, sold to R. J. Fannell for $8,200.

Live stock is cheap just now in Bruce county, cows selling from $6 up, at a Cargill sale.

R. A. ELLIOTT & CO.
Real Estate Agents

Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

NOW IN FULL SWING

$100.00 IN COLD CASH
In Rewards For Selling The "Review"

This Grand Competition began Tuesday evening, October 8th, and will close December 31st, (New Year's Eve.) Boys carrying routes, boys selling to customers, boys selling on the street, boys who have never sold papers, are all urged to get up and get. Parents can let the little fellows come to THE REVIEW Office after school, and they will be taken care of—not allowed to stay in a dingy cellar or out on the street in the cold. Papers will be ready sharp after 4 o'clock each day. COME ON, BOYS! HERE'S A SURE THING!

Twenty-Six Prizes 26 Twenty-Six Prizes

To the twenty-six boys getting the largest number of New Customers for THE DAILY REVIEW:

1st PRIZE—$30.00 in Cash, or a high-grade 1908 Bicycle, worth $55.00 as winner may prefer.
2nd PRIZE—$20.00 in Cash, or Fur Goods to the value of $30.00, as preferred.
3rd PRIZE—$10.00 Cash, or $15.00 worth in China, dinner or tea set, or as selected.
4th PRIZE—$8.00 Cash, or $10.00 worth of goods of any kind, as selected.
5th PRIZE—$5.00 Cash.
6th PRIZE—$4.00 Cash.
7th PRIZE—$3.00 Cash.
8th to 12th PRIZES—$2.00 Cash. Five prizes of $2.00 each.
13th to 22nd PRIZES—$1.00 Cash. Ten prizes of $1.00 each.

NOTE—The option, cash or goods, in the first four prizes, is made in case the parents of the boys winning either of the prizes should prefer the larger amount in goods instead of cash.

Any boy may buy REVIEWS and sell—the more the merrier. The girls have an equal chance with the boys, and will be welcome.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES—Every boy who brings in a paid-up subscription to THE DAILY REVIEW for three months will receive a bonus of 20 cents; for six months a bonus of 40 cents; for a year a bonus of $1.00.

HERE'S A WEEKLY REWARD—In addition, every boy who buys one paper or more each night of the week, (six papers), will receive one each week, during this competition,

A FREE TICKET TO THE CRYSTAL MOVING PICTURES

See, Boys! You have a paid admission to this beautiful entertainment, even if you do no more than buy one paper each night. This privilege has been secured for you exclusively by THE REVIEW.

PLENTY OF TIME YET TO GET INTO THE COMPETITION AND WIN A BIG PRIZE

IT IS A FACT

That we have the finest stock of Skates, Sticks and Hockey Supplies in the city.

BANK'S SKATE STORE

Under the Market Clock

Women's Institute Was Organized

Ennismore Ladies Take Progressive Step

A Women's Institute was formed at the meeting of the Farmers' Institute at Ennismore on Saturday. This organization was done by Dr. Annie Backus, and the following officials were elected.;

President—Mrs. W. J. Scollard.
1st Vice-president — Mrs. Daniel Crough.
Secretary—Miss K. Donahue.

The meeting of the society is called for the first Saturday in January. Twenty-two members joined.

TAKES TRIP TO HEATHER LAND

Mr. Alex. Archibald, the well-known local plumber, left on Saturday morning, accompanied by Mrs Archibald, for New York, whence they will sail on Monday on the steamer Lusitania, for the old land. They will spend two months at Mr. Archibald's former home in New Mines, Scotland, returning to Canada about February 1st. This is Mr. Archibald's first visit to Scotland, since coming out here five years ago.

SUBSCRIBERS PLEASE NOTICE

Readers, whose street number has been lately changed, will confer a favor if they will notify this office so that the correction can also be made on our list. tf

Are Driving Across Lake at Chemong

The ice across Chemong lake is now strong enough to permit teams crossing. Two residents of the Chemong village drove across the Narrows to Ennismore shore Saturday morning, and Mr. Dan Whitney, jr., came across Chemong lake with the stage Saturday, landing at Davis' Point, on the Smith township shore.

The ice on the lake is several inches in depth, and the skating is excellent.

WHAT WE KNOW ABOUT MARS.

Subject For Next Meeting of the Astronomical Society

The next meeting of the Peterborough section of the Royal Astronomical Society will be held next Friday evening in the Y.W.C.A. green room. The president, Rev. Dr. Marsh, will be the speaker of the evening and his subject will be "What we know of the planet Mars," and will have special reference to what has been discovered during the proximity of Mars to the earth during the past summer. The meeting promises to be an unusually interesting one and a large attendance of the members is expected.

AFTERMATH OF THE SMASH-UP

On Charlotte St. Friday Afternoon Heard in Police Court

The aftermath of the smash up at the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets on Friday afternoon, was aired in the police court this morning, when Geo. Williamson, who had a narrow escape from being fatally injured, was fined five dollars and costs, amounting to $6.50. He was charged with being drunk and disorderly. He did not appear, but witnesses were present to prove the case. Mr. Louis Elliott was called and stated that Williamson's wife asked him if he would get a buggy and drive her home and she would pay him. He procured his father's cutter and was going to take Williamson and his wife home. The defendant struck his wife and put her out of the sleigh. He took the lines and started off. At the corner of London and Aylmer streets he drove into the ditch and the cutter was badly broken up.

Mr. Geo. Pogue was the other witness. He corroborated Elliott's story.

His Worship then imposed the above fine, to be paid in two days.

Weird Scenes at the Mine ; Relatives Insane With Grief

Victims of Monongah Disaster Now Exceed Four Hundred.

Fifty-Three Bodies Recovered—Whole Town Plunged Into Grief—Women Crazed With Suspense — Gallant Work of Rescue Parties—Fire Again Hinders Proceeding—Another Explosion Feared—Loss $50,000.

Monongah, W. Va., Dec. 9.—But 53 bodies had been recovered from Mines Nos. 6 and 8 of the Fairmont Coal Co. when darkness closed last night.

Fifty-six hours had elapsed since the awful explosion, and a majority of the bodies brought to the surface were in a terrible condition, necessitating almost immediate burial.

It is now believed that the number of dead will not be over 400.

A thorough investigation was made by the company yesterday, and it was discovered that many miners believed to have been entombed had escaped because they had not gone to work Friday, after Thursday's holiday.

Shortly after 3 o'clock, fire broke out again in No. 8, and the rescuers were at once ordered to the surface.

Thousands of sightseers from the surrounding towns had gathered about the openings. Through megaphones the crowds were notified of the fire and the danger of another explosion, but they refused to leave, and it was with great difficulty that they were forced to seek places of safety.

Efforts were then directed toward extinguishing the fire, and it is thought it would be subdued within a few hours.

It was said by members of the rescuing party that over 100 bodies have been located in both mines, and that they will be brought to the surface as soon as the fire has been extinguished.

The system of rescue work was almost perfectly organized, and excellent results were obtained. It is now known just how long a man can stay in the foul air of the mines, and relays of fifteen miners have been provided. With clock-like precision the relief appears, and good progress was made all day until halted by the fire.

All day women crowded the sides of the hills overlooking the ill-fated mines and cried aloud. As the day advanced, they became almost crazed through grief and suspense. One woman pulled out her hair, handfuls at a time. Another tore all the skin from both of her cheeks with her finger nails. Some lay down on the frozen ground and cried themselves to sleep. In this condition many were carried to their homes near by, without awakening.

All saloons in Monongah have been closed since the explosion, and the 6,000 miners employed in other mines in the vicinity have suspended work and tendered their assistance to rescuing parties.

The property loss is estimated at $50,000, exclusive of the cost of rescue work.

Band to Serenade Local Citizens

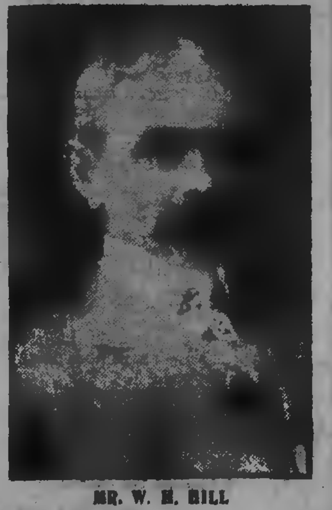
The Salvation Army band will as usual serenade the citizens of Peterborough around Christmas time. Arrangements for this feature of the band's work are now being made. The band is now larger and better than ever before and citizens will be glad to hear that the usual serenading will be done.

Peterboro' Lady Noted Traveller

Two Children of Late Dr. Kincaid Win Distinction

Miss Lavina Rudberg was chosen by Yale University to travel far up into the wilds of the Quinault Indian reservation to take the physical measurements of the braves and squaws there. She has just returned from a journey off a wild and dangerous character through forests, over mountains and over lakes in a frail canoe. Miss Rudberg and Miss Zoe Kincaid hold the record for fearlessness among women adventurers. Miss Kincaid is a daughter of the late Dr. Kincaid, of this city, and her many Peterborough friends will be pleased to learn of her success. She is now residing in Washington Territory. Her youngest brother, Mr. Trevor Kincaid, is now a leading professor on the staff of a California university. He is a celebrated naturalist and has written several important works on this subject.

WATER COMMISSIONER



MR. W. H. HILL

Who Will Seek Re-election as a Water Commissioner.

YOUNG LADIES RECEIVED INTO THE SODALITY

Impressive Service at St. Peter's Cathedral Yesterday

Yesterday the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, was observed in local Catholic circles. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor preached at the different masses at St. Peter's Cathedral, and his sermon was appropriate for the occasion.

The members of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin attended eight o'clock mass in a body. They assembled at the convent hall and marched to the church over two hundred strong. The sight was a very impressive one.

At Vespers over thirty new members were received into the Sodality, being confirmed by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor. A solemn and impressive sermon marked the occasion.

Invitation Cards for AT Homes, Receptions and Evening Parties, partly printed for 1c each. Envelopes to match 10c package. On sale at the Review Office

Tara, has laid a 176x46 open air rink on the Dr. Thomas property, on Brock street.

AT SCENE OF CRIME.

That Is the Place to Lash Prisoners Says Despatch.

Kingston, Dec. 9.—Within the past few months, various judges throughout the country have been committing men to the Kingston Penitentiary to be flogged, in addition to their term of years. It is questionable whether this is a most desirable place to do the flogging. The authorities here think not, but rather that the punishment should be inflicted at the place where the crime was committed, thus being a greater punishment than if whipped privately and quietly, as is done in the prison here. The keepers who do the lashing regard it as a perfunctory duty, and therefore, do not wield the cat with the vigor that might be done if the punishment was inflicted, say, upon the home town square, and by those who felt aggrieved over the crime that had been committed.

Trade With Japan.

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—Alexander MacLean, Canadian trade commissioner at Tokio, reports that Canada's total exports to Japan for the nine months ending Sept. 30 were to the value of $114,377, mostly wheat products from Western Canada. During the same period Japan sent Canada raw silks and silk tissues valued at $169,062, as compared with $309,045 for the same period in 1906, and tea to the value of $427,829 as compared with $292,502 in the previous year. The rice crop will be 10 per cent. better than last year, and the tea crop will average about the same, although the Government has prohibited the picking of the fourth crop.

He makes some interesting references to Japanese business morality, and says that the Japanese are commencing to realize that it is better to conform to occidental ideas in doing business with people on this continent. There is a noticeably less tendency now on the part of the Japanese to repudiate bargains which do not promise to be profitable.

COLLIDED WITH LANDSLIDE.

Train Leaves Rails at Edge of Chasm, But Just Escapes.

Vancouver, Dec. 9.—The second section of the Pacific Express on the C. P. R. Saturday afternoon collided with a small rock-slide in the Fraser canyon, near Hope, 90 miles east of Vancouver. Instead of going over the embankment, the engine, baggage and first passenger car were luckily thrown against the rock walls on the side opposite the river when derailed. Engineer Ostrom and Fireman Lusson were slightly injured. No passengers were hurt. The track was cleared in four hours.

Drowned Near Elora.

Elora, Dec. 9.—Yesterday afternoon some boys noticed a man's hand projecting through the ice in the Irvine River, between Salem and Elora, and on investigation it was found to be the body of Ed. Klein, a man about 38 years of age. Klein had been in the employ of Thomas Cleghorn, a farmer, near this village; had been paid his wages on Saturday, Nov. 30, since which time has not been seen until to-day. His friends live in Berlin.

About $50 was found in the man's pocket. An inquest will be held to-day.

Wholesale Grocery Robbed.

Stratford, Dec. 9.—The Wholesale Grocery was burglarized Saturday night, and suspicion strongly points towards a man named Taylor. Chief McCarthy, who was hunting for another criminal in the vicinity of the station, met a burglar carrying a bag full of articles. The man dropped the bag and managed to escape. Taylor was arrested yesterday on suspicion.

Russia After Jap Trade.

Tokio, Dec. 9.—M. Shipoff, the former Russian Minister of Finance, has extended the time of his visit, conferring daily with, and receiving the opinions of politicians, bankers and merchants, with the view of improving Russia's trade relations with Japan.

Burglars at Paris.

Paris, Ont., Dec. 9.—Burglars entered five houses yesterday morning. Only an overcoat was taken, and it was thrown away in the road.

Blanche Letourneau, aged 12, was killed by a train at Tecumseh yesterday.

COST KING HALF MILLION.

Visit of German Emperor Was an Expensive Affair.

London, Dec. 9.—Taking all his expenses into consideration, it is probably very safe to estimate that King Edward's hospitality on the occasion of the state visit of the Emperor and Empress of Germany and the several other royalties who were his guests at about the same time, cost the King the tidy fortune of $500,000 out of his own private purse, not to mention what was spent by the Government, the City of London, other officials and private people.

Some of the principal items of expenditure will run about as follows:

Wages to extra court officials, waiters, huntsmen, musicians, interpreters, extra police, detectives, etc.	$ 50,000
Decorations, repair to Kensington Palace, Windsor Castle, other royal residences used by guests, and sweeping 2,500 royal chimneys	50,000
Street decorations in London, Windsor and Portsmouth	25,000
State banquets and entertainments	50,000
Reviews of troops, naval displays, etc.	150,000
Total	$325,000

A very large item of personal expense to the King and Queen when they entertain many royalties is the wholesale giving of presents, not only to their royal guests, but to each member of the visiting royalties' suites.

POLICE IN ARMOR.

Engage In Four Hours' Battle With Trapped Conspirators.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 9.—A force of police wearing armor raided the headquarters of a branch of the Revolutionist organization at Riga on Saturday.

The conspirators occupied the top rooms of a five-storey house. The door was barricaded, and when the police demanded admission a woman of 57, named Greta Tomson, replied: "We shall not surrender without a fight."

At the same instant a volley was fired through the door by the inmates, the bullets rattling against the armor of the men outside, one of whom was slightly wounded.

The police then entered an adjoining attic, from which the revolutionists could be more readily attacked, and for four hours a continuous fire was directed through the walls.

Gradually the replies of the conspirators became less frequent, and finally ceased. The police then broke into the apartments, and found four dead, including the woman Tomson, lying on the floor.

There were also five men and two girls wounded. The revolutionists, who were armed with a Mauser rifle and three Browning revolvers, had fired about 700 shots.

BOMB FOR KING CARLOS.

Startling Discovery of Plot In Lisbon Opera House.

London, Dec. 9.—According to the Madrid correspondent of The Express, two bombs have been found beneath the royal box at the opera house, Lisbon, where King Carlos will attend the opening of the season of Dec. 18. Electric wires from the bombs led to the rear of the stage.

The chief electrician, a violent Republican, was suspected and committed suicide by shooting himself as the police were about to arrest him.

Other persons who are suspected of being implicated in the plot have been arrested.

KIDNAPPED TO CANADA.

Thrilling Tale of Beautiful Girl and Determined Lover.

Boston, Dec. 9.—James Guriana and his wife are heartbroken over the kidnapping of their daughter, who is very young, and the police of all New England have been notified of the crime, which occurred at Athol, Mass.

The trail leads to Canada, and Chief Beatty has decided opinions that the girl has been taken there. He discovered that the alleged kidnapper, whose name is Salvadore, came from some part of Canada.

The girl is very talented and beautiful. She refused to marry Salvadore, who fell in love with her, and after that she was spirited away.

To Raise Tug Escort.

Port Dalhousie, Dec. 9.—The three tugs, Alert, Augusta and Euphemia, have just returned after being out all day in search of the lost tug Escort. They report having found her in 78 feet of water. The diver put chains around her, and the three tugs all had a line connected to her, but could not move her. She will have to be raised with a pontoon.

The diver examined the cabin and the inside apartments in search of the bodies, but found none, all the doors being open. They will return again with the necessary tackle to raise her when the weather permits.

Fate of the Dundonald.

Bluff Harbor, New Zealand, Dec. 9.—A terrible tale of suffering was brought here by the New Zealand Government steamer Hinemoa. She had on board 16 survivors of the long missing British bark Dundonald, who were in a distressing state of emaciation as the result of nine months' existence on a totally uninhabited island, whose scant vegetation and shellfish, together with other produce of the sea, were practically their only means of subsistence during that period.

Sunfield Likely to Hang.

Hamilton, Dec. 9.—J. L. Counsell, Jake Sunfield's lawyer, says he has new evidence upon which to base his appeal to the Minister of Justice. He says he can produce witnesses who will refute the evidence of W. Walsh, who claimed that Radyk told him that Sunfield had done the shooting. Now that the Court of Appeal has confirmed the sentence, Dec. 27, will be the date of the execution unless Mr. Counsell is successful in his appeal to Ottawa.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c

AT THE HOME OFFICE

On account of the illness of an optician in Orillia, Dr. Browett has cancelled appointments and is pleased to announce that he will be continuously at his home office until after Xmas. Appointments for eye examination are being made daily at our store.
P. S. This store will hereafter be open until ten o'clock every night and appointments for eye examinations can be made until that hour.

McDERMID & JURY, Druggists, Peterboro.

Once Enough.

"Christmas comes but once a year."
"I'm glad of that," said popper,
"For two would break us up, I fear,
Since mommer's such a shopper."

Keeping Company.

Mother — Where are those oranges that were on the table?

Tommy—With the cookies that were in the cupboard, I suppose.—Harper's Weekly.

Open Confession.

"Though I am no philanthropist,"
The swindler said, "it's true
I'm always on the lookout for
The good things I can do."
—Denver News.

A Point In Casuistry.

"Miss Smith?"

"Well, Tommy?"

"What's an ocean greyhound after it's turned turtle?"—Puck.

Not a Fair Exchange.

When Otto tried to buy an auto
The dealer gave him the laugh
Because he was offered a due bill
On which was Otto's autograph.
—Chicago News.

By Contraries.

"How did that show of a ghost make out on the road?"

"Didn't have the ghost of a show."—Baltimore American.

First Love.

When Eve and Adam courted, she,
Like many another trustful human,
Believed him when he told her he
Had never loved another woman.
—Nixon Waterman in St. Louis Republic.

Could Use a Large Quantity.

Giraffe—Do you give gas?

Jungle Dentist—Yes.

Giraffe—How much a thousand feet?—New York Press.

A Change Coming.

The bachelor leads a single life,
But should he chance to wed
He'll probably find things different,
For then he will be led.
—Detroit Tribune.

OPEN EVENINGS
FROM NOW UNTIL AFTER CHRISTMAS

with a complete stock of new and up-to-date holiday suggestions. Remember we have the greatest variety of Gift Books to be found in Peterboro', as well as Fine China and Cut Glass, Pictures, High-Grade Leather Goods, Stationery, Bibles, Hymn Books, Cards Calendars, etc., to which we invite your inspection. Be sure and get our prices before purchasing. You will be convinced that they are Rock Bottom.

R. J. SODEN
369 George Street

PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR GUELPH

On account of the Provincial Winter Fair the Grand Trunk Railway System will issue return tickets at single first class fare from all stations in Ontario. Kingston and West to Guelph, Ont. Good going Dec. 7th to Dec. 13th. Valid for return until Monday, Dec. 16th, 1907. Full information may be obtained from any Grand Trunk Ticket Agent.

Turnbull Farm, 150 acres, near Attwood, Perth county, sold to R. J. Funnell for $8,200.

Live stock is cheap just now in Bruce county, cows selling from $6 up, at a Cargill sale.

R. A. ELLIOTT
& CO.
Real Estate Agents

Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

NOW IN FULL SWING

$100.00 In Rewards For Selling The "Review"
IN COLD CASH

This Grand Competition began Tuesday evening, October 8th, and will close December 31st, (New Year's Eve.) Boys carrying routes, boys selling to customers, boys selling on the street, boys who have never sold papers, are all urged to get up and get. Parents can let the little fellows come to THE REVIEW Office after school, and they will be taken care of—not allowed to stay in a dingy cellar or out on the street in the cold. Papers will be ready sharp after 4 o'clock each day. COME ON, BOYS! HERE'S A SURE THING!

Twenty-Six Prizes 26 Twenty-Six Prizes

To the twenty-six boys getting the largest number of New Customers for THE DAILY REVIEW:

1st PRIZE—$30.00 in Cash, or a high-grade 1908 Bicycle, worth $55.00 as winner may prefer.
2nd PRIZE—$20.00 in Cash, or Fur Goods to the value of $30.00, as preferred.
3rd PRIZE—$10.00 Cash, or $15.00 worth in China, dinner or tea set, or as selected.
4th PRIZE—$8.00 Cash, or $10.00 worth of goods of any kind, as selected.
5th PRIZE—$5.00 Cash.
6th PRIZE—$4.00 Cash.
7th PRIZE—$3.00 Cash.
8th to 12th PRIZES—$2.00 Cash. Five prizes of $2.00 each.
13th to 22nd PRIZES—$1.00 Cash. Ten prizes of $1.00 each.

NOTE—The option, cash or goods, in the first four prizes, is made in case the parents of the boys winning either of the prizes should prefer the larger amount in goods instead of cash.

Any boy may buy REVIEWS and sell—the more the merrier. The girls have an equal chance with the boys, and will be welcome.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES—Every boy who brings in a paid-up subscription to THE DAILY REVIEW for three months will receive a bonus of 20 cents; for six months a bonus of 40 cents; for a year a bonus of $1.00.

HERE'S A WEEKLY REWARD—In addition, every boy who buys one paper or more each night of the week, (six papers), will receive once each week, during this competition,

A FREE TICKET TO THE CRYSTAL MOVING PICTURES

See, Boys! You have a paid admission to this beautiful entertainment, even if you do no more than buy one paper each night. This privilege has been secured for you exclusively by THE REVIEW.

PLENTY OF TIME YET TO GET INTO THE COMPETITION AND WIN A BIG PRIZE

Maine Exposes Local Option

In the prohibition State of Maine, the arrests for drunkenness have increased this year at the rate of 122 a month over 1906.

Yet the "local option" Pharisees will tell you that their by-law will make your community more moral.

Stand up for your personal liberty, and your neighbor's.

Decent bars are better than "speak-easies."

Does Not Favor a Longer Term

One Year is Enough for Most of the Aldermen

To the Editor of the Review:

Sir,—I see an attempt is being made by our city fathers to get legislation for prolonging their term in the council to two years. This must not be tolerated by the people. They do enough harm now, in one year without making them autocrats for two years without any responsibility to those who elected them. How ingenious in their plan that the two year term, shall elapse for only haf of the council each alternate year, so that those that are in can use all their influence, just as the water commissioners do, to elect those that are out and want to get in. It will be a family compact, indeed. No gentleman, one year is too long. for most of you, and the harm which you could do in two years in spite of the electors, would be incalculable. It looks bad, indeed, when a council is not willing to abide by the municipal law of the land, but must seek special legislation. It carries with it a suspicion. If the proposed change is such a wise one, why not apply it to the whole province. Surely our legislators know their own business.

Yours, etc.,

TAXPAYER.

HOW'S THIS

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

You have heard the Sailor Boys' plea, buy to-day for your dinner to-morrow "Sailor Boy" Canned Goods, Tomatoes Corn, Peas and Salmon. Your money does not buy better Goods. Do you get "Sailor Boy" or substitute?

OBITUARY

JOHN ARMSTRONG.

The death occurred last evening at the Protestant Home, of John Armstrong, after a lengthy illness. The deceased was a native of Canada, and had been an inmate of the Home for four years. His wife predeceased him several years ago. He was 83 years of age and a Methodist in religion. One adopted daughter, Miss Etta Lycette, of Colborne, survives him.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Entertained at the Manse

Choir and S. S. Office Bearers of Springville Church Have Social Time

The choir and office bearers of the Sunday school of the Springville Presbyterian church, were entertained by Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Marsh at the manse Friday night. A most enjoyable time was spent. The choir is making a special effort in preparing the music for the anniversary services and had an excellent practice. The Sunday school office bearers made arrangements for the annual Christmas entertainment to be held under the auspices of the Sunday school on December 27th. The preparation of the programme will be started at once and the entertainment should be even a greater success than those of former years.

Refreshments were served during the evening and a jolly social time spent.

Farmer's Institute Meetings Prove Especially Interesting

Large Number in Attendance at Afternoon and Evening Sessions at Ennismore on Saturday—Valuable Knowledge Disseminated.

The first of the regular winter meetings of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held in the Ennismore town hall last Saturday afternoon and evening. Mr. J. N. Telford, president of the institute, was in the chair, and after a brief speech, introduced the speakers, Mr. Mr. L. G. Raynor, of Ottawa, and Mr. E. C. Drury, of Crown Hill, who delivered two very instructive addresses in the afternoon.

Mr. Raynor spoke on "Noxious Weeds and Methods of Destroying Them." He said the farmers do not realize the danger from the spread of noxious weeds, in the country. There are many ways by which noxious weeds spread, but mostly through seed houses, and by the threshing outfits which move from farm to farm. In the purchasing of new seed, the farmer should be very careful and obtain only the best. He should get his seed early and should not wait for the outlook of supply. In this country most kinds of grain are plentiful, but that at present the clover seed was scarce, and the seedsmen are unable to supply local demand. Many good crops are sacrificed by farmers in Ontario. Good crops can be obtained after the crops has been pastured for a time in the spring. Good crops are generally the rule when there is a plentiful supply of bumble bees. This year he stated that the first crop of clover was late, and the bumble bees were early. The clover plant is also a good fertiliser, and is worth something even if a good crop does not follow. When buying always get No. 1 seed from your seed merchant and sow five or six pounds to the acre to obtain best results. When land becomes well filled with clover, less seed will be necessary. He also pointed out that you don't need so much seed on a hoe crop ground when the manure is filled with clover seed, and that the best clover is grown from stable manure. Thus, by careful plowing your crops, the land is brought to a high standard of cultivation. To supply the demand for seed in this country, seed will be imported from Europe and Chili. Look out for weeds from this source. The weeds are a great nuisance in our crops, and they also get the same care as the grain, and being more sturdy, they consume considerable moisture needed for the crop. By all means then, master the weeds, and to do that we have to learn more about them. He referred them to the bulletin on noxious weeds issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. If you come to any weed seeds you do not know, they ought to be sent to the seed department at Ottawa. In selling seed it is advisable to send a sample to Ottawa, which goes free of charge, and obtain a correct value of your crop, thus overcoming risk of losing many dollars in your deal with a local merchant. We ought to be very familiar with the more important noxious weeds. He gave samples of the simple annual such as wild mustard, winter annual, the biennial—root crops, burdock perennial, bladder campion. The most successful plans of fighting these weeds are, first, by having well drained land, and, secondly, by a system of crop rotation suitable for the land. In some cases a three or four year rotation being best, and in others a six or eight year rotation being best suited. The most important crops for such rotations being clover and hoe crop, more time should be spent in cultivating the land than in ploughing, which is considered the best plan for combating the weeds. By this means, the weed seeds are started to grow, and are either killed by exposure to the sun or to the winter weather. The king cultivator and two furrow gang plows are important implements in killing weeds. The wild oat, which is well known in many districts, can be killed by early cultivation after harvest, and then turned under when they commence to germinate. If turned under very deep they will live for several years without losing their vitality. The mustard weed can be killed in the same way. Another method is that of seeding down to meadow, and leaving it for four or five years. They come on with the hay, and are cut before they mature. One can also come in and stir land early in the spring and leave for a while and then come on and prepare seed bed. In this way many are killed. Farmers should be sure and sow grain free from weed seeds. The blue weed, which is seen in some localities, is dangerous, and should be killed at first appearance. Biennials have roots which will start new plants if left in the ground, and the burdock, which is in this class, should be cut beneath the crown, or it will still live. Farmers should kill the white cockle or bladder campion, for it will live as long as roots are in the ground. Rib grass, which is a perennial, grows in the meadows and can be killed when it is worked out of the ground, or a short rotation will kill it, and sheep are fond of it. Bind weed is also very dangerous, and should be eliminated when first detected. It may be smothered out, or a good fallow will keep it down. Oxeye daisy can be killed by short rotation, and it should also be kept from going to seed on the roadside. The perennial sow thistle which is considered the most dangerous of all, can be killed by sheep pasturing on it, and by any means which would check its maturing. Plow once and use some implement which will cut the plant's roots, and doing this as many times as it appears above the ground. The king cultivator is a useful instrument for doing this work, and should be used extensively. You can also keep it down by summer fallowing. A question was asked whether the dandelion was considered a weed or not, and it was thought to be a benefit as a tonic in the feed.

AT THE NIGHT SESSION.

Mr. E. C. Drury spoke on "The Social Side of Farming." He said the farmer must become what he should be. We want to be men and to take enjoyment out of our calling. We want to better the farm population for as its prosperity goes up and down so will that of the country. We are not all we might be. We lack in education, self-respect and organization. We can make the best homes in the country, for there are less influences for evil there than in the city. Industry may be carried to extremes, and the home life left neglected. Farm homes are the best place for young people brought up there. The hours are shorter and, as a rule, the time is passed more pleasantly. The farmers who run on close hours are generally most progressive, although some hours are unavoidably long. The farmer has or ought to have, plenty of time for pleasure. Expensive homes are not always a means of enjoyment, and we might do away with more ornament, putting books and music lessons in place of it. The farmer is not a low class and should stand high in social circles. The farmers need more organization than there is at present. 1st, that they might help each other; 2nd, to promote education; 3rd, to form farmers' clubs, and, 4th, to promote each other's farming interests for self-defence against other organized classes.

Dr. Annie Backus mentioned some of the duties of the women's organization; 1st, that organization among the women on farms was also a necessity; 2nd, that co-operation was needed in the home life; 3rd, to discuss methods by which the women could do the work in the easiest methods possible. She gave only one rule in her night subject, "Training in the Home." Get the boys and girls to bed early.

Mr. Raynor also gave an interesting address at the night session. He dealt particularly with the selection of seed grain, and gave much valuable information along this line.

Mr. D. Hughes Charles, the next speaker, said he was glad to be at a Farmers' Institute meeting, as he always got some new information at such meetings. He stated that he was a believer in a good education. He favored a plan of organization among farmers. He said farmers should belong to an organization which extended over Ontario. By means of such union they could fight their rights with other companies, such as railways and combines.

Mr. F. D. Kerr was also one of the evening speakers and gave an interesting address.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME

The following excellent musical programme was given at the evening session:—

Selection by orchestra—Miss Aggie Scollard, piano; John Flood, violin, and Ernest Telford, cornet.
Song—Ernest Telford.
Song—Misses Kennedy and Crough.
Song—Miss Mary A. Crough.
Song—Aylmer Telford.
Song—Miss L. Kennedy.
Song—Miss Gertie Maloney.
Miss H. A. Telford was organist.

News of the City Churches

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

This congregation will tender a reception to their new pastor, Rev. Robert Pogue, and wife, this evening. It is expected there will be a large attendance, and addresses of welcome will be presented. The occasion will also be a farewell to Rev. Dr. Talling.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Managers will be held tomorrow evening in the Dominion Bank Chambers.

On Wednesday evening the regular prayer meeting will be held in the Sunday school room. Rev. Mr. Pogue will be in charge.

On Friday afternoon, Dec. 13th, at 3.30 o'clock the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Auxiliary will be held. Mrs. Jeffry, of Toronto, will be present and give an address.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH

The senior Epworth League will meet to-night at eight o'clock.

The Women's Mission Auxiliary will meet in the church parlor to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

An "At Home" will be held at the parsonage to-morrow night under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. There will be a musical programme and refreshments. All members of the congregation and friends are invited. There will a small admission fee.

The usual prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. At nine o'clock a meeting of the teachers and officers of the Sunday school will be held.

KNOX CHURCH

The Young People's Society meets to-night at 8 o'clock.

The Mission Band meets to-morrow night at 7.30 o'clock.

Prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

On Thursday afternoon the Ladies' Aid meet at 3 o'clock.

The Boys' Club meets on Friday at 7.30 o'clock.

LEARN DRESS-MAKING BY MAIL
in your spare time at home, or
Take a Personal Course at School.

To enable all to learn we teach on cash or instalment plan. We also teach a personal class at school once a month. Class commencing last Tuesday of each month. These lessons teaches how to cut, fit and put together any garment from the plainest shirt waist suit, to the most elaborate dress. The whole family can learn from one course. We have taught over seven thousand dress-making, and guarantee to give five hundred dollars to any one that cannot learn between the age of 14 and 40. You cannot learn dress-making as thorough as this course teaches if you work in shops for years. Beware of imitations as we employ no one outside the school. This is the only experienced Dress Cutting School in Canada and excelled by none in any other country. Write at once for particulars, as we have cut our rate one-third for a short time. Address:—

SANDERS' DRESS-CUTTING SCHOOL,
31 Erie St., Stratford, Ont., Canada.

MARK STREET CHURCH

The Epworth League meets tonight at 8 o'clock. The report of the district convention held at Lakefield, will be read.

The Woman's Missionary Auxiliary meet on Wednesday at 3 o'clock.

Prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

On Friday evening a cottage prayer meeting will be held at the residence of Mr. Charles Noyes.

CHARLOTTE ST. CHURCH

The temperance committee will have charge of the Epworth League meeting tonight. Dr. Neal will give an address on "The Effects of Alcohol upon the Stomach."

Prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The building committee will meet on Thursday at 8 o'clock.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

The Endeavor meets tonight at 8 o'clock. Tuesday evening at 8 there will be a meeting of the auxiliary for home missions. Prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening at 7.45. There will be a meeting of Boys' Guild on Friday evening at 7.30.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

The following are the meetings for week at St. John's church;

Monday—4.15, boys' choir practice. 8 p.m., special meeting A.Y.P.A.

Tuesday,—3.30, monthly meeting W. A. 4.15, Sunday School children's practice Xmas cantata. 8 p.m., choral practice, "Daughter of Jairus" 8 p.m., Girls' Guild.

Wednesday—8 p.m., Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

Thursday—7.30, choir boys' practice. 8 p.m. Xmas music practice.

Friday—4 p.m., Mission Band. 8 p.m., Rev. Canon Davidson's Confirmation class.

Saturday—9 a.m., boys' choir training class. 3 to 6 p.m. Mission Band sale of work. Mrs. Reeves, of Toronto, will be present as special deputation.

Sunday—10.30, Assistant Bishop Reeve at Confirmation service. 6.15 p.m., Brotherhood of St. Andrew tea. Strangers and out of work men welcome.

Large Numbers Heard New Pastor

Rev. Robert Pogue Delivered two Impressive Sermons at St. Paul's Church

Rev. Robert Pogue, the new pastor of St. Paul's church, occupied the pulpit at both services yesterday and preached to large audiences.

Mr. Pogue is an earnest, fluent and impressive speaker. He resorts to no "fireworks" or dramatic poses, to create effect, but delivers his message in a simple, plain style. One is thoroughly convinced of the sincerity of the man and his deep abiding faith in the great principles that he proclaims. His gestures are appropriate, his language is attractive and he presents the truths of the gospel in a manner that commands attention and arouses interest. His tall, athletic figure, his strong, resolute cast of countenance, and his words of help, encouragement and cheer on the blessings and comforts of the Christian life are not soon forgotten. To use a colloquial expression, the general verdict of the congregation is that the new shepherd of the flock will "make good." Rev. Dr. Talling, who has so efficiently filled the pulpit for the past three months assisted in the services.

In the morning Rev. Mr. Pogue spoke from Acts 11th chapter and 21st verse: "And the hand of the Lord was with them; and a great number believed and turned unto Christ."

He spoke of the influence, devotion and work of the early church. Mr. Pogue pointed out that it was the duty of the Christian church to turn men unto the Lord, the power by which this work may be done and the conditions on which the power may be secured.

In the evening he spoke from 1st Corinthians, 1st chapter, 23rd verse, "But we preach Christ Crucified."

Both sermons were strongly evangelical in character. The speaker in the evening dwelt upon the Godhead of Christ, His humanity and the excellency of the theme of our Saviour to win a sorrowing, sinful world back to Christ.

The discourses left no doubt that theme of all themes, which the new pastor will devote his time and talents to, is Jesus Christ and Him crucified, the power of the Saviour to redeem the world and save those who now know Him not.

This evening a reception will be tendered Mr. and Mrs. Pogue and a farewell said to Rev. Dr. Talling. Tea will be served in the Sunday school room, after which addresses will be delivered in the church by Rev. J. R. Webb, president of the Ministerial Association, Sheriff Hall, on behalf of the Session, and Mr. G. M. Roger on behalf of the managers and congregation.

APOSTOLIC RITE OF CONFIRMATION

Will be Administered in St. John's Church on Sunday Next

In St. John's church yesterday morning, the rector, Rev. Canon Davidson announced that His Lordship Bishop Reeves, who is assistant to His Grace Archbishop Sweatman of Toronto, would visit Peterborough on Sunday next, and administer the apostolic rite of confirmation at St. John's church.

As there are a large number of candidates to receive this rite of confirmation, at the morning service the hour of commencement will be 10.30 o'clock instead of 11 o'clock.

The front rows of the pews will be reserved for the confirmation candidates. In the afternoon of Sunday a fellowship tea will be served in the Sunday school for men without homes of their own, namely, men who are boarding out.

Preached at Mark St. Church

Rev. W. H. Buckler of Omemee Delivered Two Excellent Sermons

The services yesterday at Mark street church were of an especially bright and attractive character. Rev. W. H. Buckler, of Omemee, preached at both services. In the morning he took his text from the 5th verse of the 3rd chapter of Proverbs, and in the evening based his remarks on the 4th verse of the 10th chapter of 1st Corinthians, "And that Rock was Christ." Both discourses were helpful, and inspiring and productive of much good. At the evening service Mr. Scriver, of Toronto, sang two solos very acceptably.

PROV. OFFICER AT BARRACKS

There was a large attendance at the morning, afternoon and evening services at the Salvation Army barracks, when Brigadier Hargrave, provincial officer, gave interesting and helpful addresses. At last night's meeting there were five converts.

How to Make the Best Remedy

Fine Recipe for Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble Gives Prompt Relief—Fix This for Yourself

A large health publication tells its readers of a number of simple and safe prescriptions that can be made at home. The following, however, for the cure of rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles, receives the greatest praise, viz., Fluid Extract dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. These simple harmless ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy at little cost and are mixed by shaking well in a bottle.

The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime drinking a full tumblerful of water after each dose. It is further stated that this prescription is a positive remedy for kidney trouble and lame back, weak bladder and urinary difficulties, especially of the elderly people, and one of the best things to be used in rheumatic afflictions, relieving the aches and pains and reducing swellings in a short time.

A well known local druggist states that this mixture acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys; cleanses these sponge-like organs and gives them power to sift and strain the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood which is the cause of rheumatism.

Cut this out and hand it to some sufferer, which would certainly be an act of humanity.

SATURDAY'S MARKET

Saturday's market was a record breaker in regard to attendance, both buyers and sellers being present in large numbers. There was not much change in prices, the vendors holding their goods up to a high figure. Upstairs in the building the people were present in crowds, and the farmers found a ready sale for their butter, eggs and fowl. Butter ranged in price from 28 to 30 cents, eggs brought thirty cents, but a few were sold at 28 cents.

There evidently will be no scarcity of the lordly turkey this Christmas, and on Saturday they were sold very reasonable. They ranged in price according to size, anywhere from 85c to $1.60 each. Geese were also very plentiful at 90 cents to $1.25. Chickens were 60 and 65 cents a pair.

On the outside market, beef was in particularly large quantities. It sold at 4 1-2 and 5 1-2 cents. Pork went at 9 and 10 cents, and lamb at 10 and 12 cents. Potatoes remained the same and sold at 85 cents per bag.

Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID
IS A TABLET TAKEN INTERNALLY FOR THE CURE OF PILES
Guaranteed, or money refunded. Correspondence confidential. Booklet on Piles, with copy of Guarantee and Testimonials mailed Free on application. $1 a bottle at all dealers, or prepaid from THE WILSON-FYLE CO., Ltd., Niagara Falls, Ont.
Sold by James Lynch, Druggist, Peterborough.

A Good Thing is Sure to be Appreciated
COWAN'S PERFECTION COCOA (Maple Leaf Label)
Is gaining in favor every day. Our output last year was double the preceding one. The most healthful and nutritious of beverages.
THE COWAN CO., Ltd., TORONTO

COAL - CARTAGE
ONTARIO COAL CO. LIMITED PETERBORO
Best Hard COAL $7.50 per ton
No. 2 Nut COAL $6.50 per ton
Butts or English Cannel COAL $7.50 per ton
Head Office and Yards: 160 Aylmer Street Phone 116
City Office: 387 Water St. Phones: Bell 325, Machine 325
ONTARIO COAL CO., Limited
A. J. McCLELLAN C. CURRIER G. K. RACKHAM

NEARLY A RUNAWAY

The Chemong stage had a somewhat narrow escape from getting into a mix-up when coming down George street this morning. It was being drawn by a team of colts and they took fright when a street car approached. The driver, Mr. Dan Whetung, Jr., pulled them up quickly, but one of the lines broke and for a few seconds it looked like a runaway. Two of the male passengers jumped out, however, and caught the frightened steeds by the bridles before they could get away.

FOR PASSEPARTOUT WORK

The fad for passepartout pictures is again growing a favorite for pretty pictures and are always appreciated. One can always find room for a couple more on the walls and every one has their favorite subject, some like scenery, others historical subjects, many like kittens and one boy in the city has the walls of his bedroom fairly covered with pictures of dogs—small and large. When mounted on a suitable background and passepartouted they are very pretty and inexpensive to make up. The Review has a large stock of pictures in sepia and colors, mounting papers and passepartout to match. Call and see them at the REVIEW Office, Hunter street. 3d

THE INVICTUS SHOE

Here is the shoe that fits exactly into the ideal so many have looked for and never found.
INVICTUS SHOES AT $4.50 & $5.00
Shoes that combine with a moderate price the perfection of style, fit and durability. "Invictusized" Patent Leather Shoes are revelation. This secret process does something never before accomplished. Renders the leather soft and pliable, increases the life of the shoes at least one third and reduces checking or breaking to a minimum.
ASK THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM
J. T. STENSON
364 George St.

EGGS
FOR SALE by the case
Fresh and Pickled Choice Stock at our warehouse, Robinson Street, East City
Scott & Hogg
PHONE 264, BOTH PHONES

Palace Livery Barn
For the smartest and most up-to-date LIVERY OUTFITS, at reasonable rates, go to
TOM FOSTER & CO.
Successors to Bruce Lee & Co
Rear of Snowden House.
AUCTION SALE OF HORSES BUGGIES, HARNESS, ETC., EVERY SATURDAY
Phones—Bell 288—Machine 289

PRICE OF Coal FOR OCTOBER IS $7.50
Ton, cash with order
THE PETERBORO FUEL & CARTAGE CO
LIMITED.
162 Charlotte-st. Telephones—(Bell) 266, 270. (Machine)—270.
134 Aylmer-st. Tel. (Bell) 362.

D.L. & W's SCRANTON COAL

SOLD BY R. HICKS & CO. AT $7.50 Per Ton
for Month of October, in lots of not less than half ton.
This is the Standard Anthracite. 60 % of Coal sold in Ontario is SCRANTON. Terms Positively Cash.
R. HICKS & CO.
Coal Builders' Supplies, Etc.

COAL AND WOOD
Best of Coal—Best of Wood
COAL FOR OCTOBER $7.50 PER TON
J. E. A. FITZGERALD
Cor. Brock and Bethune Sts
BOTH PHONES 111

Steer Straight
for the best Beer ever brewed, and you are sure to come to us! Our Bottled Beer is "bottled health." It means vigor and strength, a good appetite and high spirits. It is the best medicine for the weak and the best food for the strong. Keep our excellent beer in your home as a beverage and you will have no need of a doctor. Nothing but the purest ingredients used in the brewing.
—THE—
CALCUTT BREWING AND MALTING CO
of Ashburnham Limited.

SPORTING NEWS

Jas. Sleemin of Toronto Sends Challenge to David Hartley

Another man is out with a challenge to David Hartley, the local pedestrian, and it is quite evident that there are a number of likely walkers around this country. Mr. Hartley received a letter from Mr. Jas. Sleemin, 17 Enderley Road, East Toronto, today, wanting to arrange a two hour walking contest with him. He says that he can show the people here some fancy heel and toe walking. He further states that he has just recently finished a 48 mile walk at Madison Square Gardens, New York City. He would accept half the receipts, and is willing to walk longer than two hours if Mr. Hartley desires him to.

"Well, I am not going to pay any attention to that challenge," said Mr. Hartley to the Review to-day. "There are a lot of fellows that have never been in contests before, want to walk just to make some money. I get lots of challenges like this one, but they might just as well not write them as far as I am concerned."

MR. HARTLEY CORRECTS WRONG IMPRESSION

Is Deeply Grateful to Those Who Want to Give Him Grant

Mr. David Hartley wishes to correct a wrong impression that appears to have got abroad in connection with his refusal to accept the civic grant of $100. Mr. Hartley is deeply grateful to those who arranged the welcome in his honor and to the members of the city council for the grant of $100. He realises that all these things have been done through the kindest motives, and his only reason for refusing the grant is that there was objection to it by some of the ratepayers. He feels that it would not be right for him to accept the money under the circumstances.

Hockey Club Meets To-night At Oriental

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Hockey club will be held at the Oriental to-night at 7.30. The officers will be elected for the season and other important matters will be arranged. A full attendance of all interested is looked for.

It seems only fair that the team to represent Peterborough should go under the name of the Strathconas as the players will to quite an extent have to be recruited from the ranks of last ear's city league champions and it the Strathconas cast in their lot with the seniors they would be forced to disband as a club if their name was not adopted. This will be one of the matters decided upon at to-night's meeting.

BRIDGENORTH FOR THE CITY LEAGUE

Mr. Kelly, of Bridgenorth, today forwarded the formal application for the admission of the team from the above place to the city league. Bridgeport will be welcomed by the other teams in the league. Last year a fast seven represented the northern hamlet, and it is said they have good material for their line-up this winter.

BREDIN'S BOY

The current issue of the Torontro Saturday night contains a cute cut of the infant son of W. Bredin Galbraith, the crack Toronto runner. Galbraith competed in the five mile invitation race at the recent Harriers' meet.

BOWLING

HIGHEST SCORE FOR MONTH.

There is considerable bowling being carried on at the Majestic bowling alleys, and much interest is being shown in bowling competitions. The highest score for the month is held by Mr. C. Gutterson, who has 23 to his credit. The score was made on Dec. 5. Mr. Geo Cairns is second with 185.

CITY LEAGUE MEETING

city leagu emeeting

There will be a meeting of the City Hockey League on Wednesday night at 7.30 at the Examiner office.

Go to the Banks Sporting Co. for skates and skate grinding. id

Big Corundum Mill Has Closed Down

The big corundum mill at Craigmont was closed down for four months on Saturday night and about 800 men were thrown out of employment. The office and shipping staffs are still on duty. The demand for corundum at present is limited and only a few days ago a $7000 order from a big American firm was cancelled. Other firms that have been in the habit of buying in seven and eight ton lots had cut their orders to half tons, and it was this that led to the closing down of the plant.

HAMILTON MAN MISSING

Chief Rozzel has received a communication from Wm. Huyckle, chief of the detective department at Hamilton, asking the police to be on the lookout for a man by the name of John Ongaw, a barber, who left Hamilton a few weeks ago. He deserted his wife and family, who are anxious to know of his whereabouts. No good reason is known why he left home.

Will Make Change in the Method

In the near future an important change will be made in the manner of collecting the milk for the milk tests. At present Sanitary Inspector Hall "holds up" the milkmen on the street and takes a sample of their goods. But he has devised a new method which will be followed when the next test is made. He requests that householders send him the address of their house and the name of their milkman and when the next test is to be made he will call at the houses and secure the samples required.

It is felt that this will be a better method than the one followed at present. It will be perfectly fair to the milk dealers and will give those who complain about receiving poor milk to have a sample of it tested.

SMITH FARMERS MAKE COMPLAINT

The farmers of Smith that come to the city by way of Water street are complaining of that portion of the street between Edinburg and Antrim streets. A farmer stated today that the city made a big mistake in building the sidewalk so near the road. It is now impossible for two teams to pass each other, there being no ditch. The sidewalk is on one side and a steep embankment on the other. Just the other day, the farmer said, a buggy was badly smashed in trying to pass a load of hay.

THE TRUTH

"Although ours is not an irreligious country, we can scarcely call it Christian, except to distinguish it from countries professing other creeds. The actual teachings of the faith ascribed to us have little to do with personal or public life. Political parties rule by the use of a thousand dishonesties. Men grow rich by deceiving the simple, yet profess to be our laders in all good works. Our laws operate to the destruction of the weak. As a people we keep our piety in steepled or spired storage buildings apart from business and everyday life."

SLIPPED ON THE PAVEMENT AND BROKE HIS NOSE

Mr. Wm. Henry who resides on Louis St., was the victim of a painful accident on George St. shortly before noon today. He was walking down the street, when opposite the City hotel he was seized with a sudden faintness and fell on the pavement. His nose bled profusely and upon examination was found to be broken. The Dan Spence ambulance was called and the injured man removed to his home. He is employed in the G. T. R. freight sheds.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH BOYS' GUILD OFFICERS

The Boys' Guild of St. Andrew's church met Friday night in the church parlor. Wilfrid Fortye, the president, occupied the chair.

Arrangements were made for the work of the guild for 1908, and the following were elected officers and committee men:

Hon. president—Rev. J. G. Potter.

Hon. vice-presidents—Mr. William Common, Mr. J. S. Ferguson.

President—Wilfrid Fortye.

1st Vice-president—Grant Potter.

2nd Vice-president — Chas. Thornton.

Secretary—William Gibson.

Treasurer—Sherlock Thompson.

Councillors — Arnold McWilliams, Norman Rae, Geo. Minorgan, Vernon Henry and honorary president and vice presidents.

COMMITTEES.

Devotional — Charles Thornton, Grant Potter, Vernon Henry.

Literary — Norman Rae, Ernest Thornton, Bruce Mills, William Harstone.

Athletic—Wilfrid Fortye, George Minorgan, Willie Gibson, Bruce Mills Orval Moore, James Gibson.

Social—Norman Laing, Arnold McWilliams, Robert Langford, Carl Potter, Vernon Henry.

Meetings will be held every Friday night from 7.15 to 8.15. Next Friday will be in charge of the social and athletic committees. The guild decided on the age limit for membership from 12 to 20. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

C. M. B. A. MEETING

The regular meeting of the C. M. B.A. will be held in their hall, George street tomorrow night. The following Grand officers will be present; J. J. Behan, Grand Sec. Kingston; Dr. Ryan, High Medical Supervisor, Kingston, and Bro. Latchford, Grand Solicitor, Brockville. Election of officers will also take place. All members are requested to attend.

P. J. HICKEY,
PRESIDENT.
2d

TRAGEDY OF THE COALFIELD.

How Disaster Overtook Rescue Party In South Wales.

Another of those stories of "silent heroism" associated with the oft-recurring mining disasters in the South Wales coalfield has to be recorded. The scene of the latest accident was the Seven Sisters colliery, Neath, where, singularly enough, two explosions occurred within 24 hours of each other. It appears that as a party of four miners descended the pit for the purpose of carrying out repairs in readiness for work on the following day, they encountered a heavy fall of roof. Hardly had they noticed this when a great tongue of flame lit up the whole area, and met them full in the face. On the plight of the men becoming known assistance was soon forthcoming, and three of the men, who were badly burned, were removed to a place of safety. The fourth man, Owen Gethin, could not be reached for some time. When his body was recovered it was found that he had been suffocated by after-damp. The poor fellow had evidently made a great struggle for life, and had pressed his cravat, soaked with tea, over his mouth in his effort to save himself from being asphyxiated. Then followed a second explosion. While an exploration of the workings was being made by a party of five a second accumulation of gas exploded with great violence and enveloped the whole group. Being old and experienced colliers they fell prone and there lay until the full effect of the explosion had expended itself. But still there remained, in the heading, a quantity of foul gas, and it was with the greatest difficulty that they managed to reach the pit bottom. When there they found that two of their number, both overmen, were missing. These were Morgan Hugh Jones and Evan Harris. When news of the second explosion got to the pit-head a rescue party was promptly organized, and after overcoming great difficulties they brought out David Williams, under-manager, Watkin Morgan, overman, and John Williams, seriously injured. But there was no trace of Jones and Harris. Yet another rescue party descended, but the work of exploration had now been rendered almost impossible by a fierce fire which was raging in the pit. Casks of water were lowered into the mine, and conveyed in trams to a spot as near as possible to the affected area. It was a fierce fight this fighting of the flames, for beyond undoubtedly lay the two entombed workmen. The work continued for hours, but still the flames would not be mastered, and on the following day hope was abandoned of reaching the poor men alive. It is a pathetic circumstance that both Jones and Harris had only a few hours before worked heroically to rescue their comrades in the first explosion, and it was Jones who recovered poor Gethin's body. After strenuous work the fire was overcome, and the bodies of Harris and Jones were found under a heavy fall of earth. Harris—a widower—leaves six children, and Jones leave a widow and four children. "Yes, Seven Sisters is a sad place," said a local colliery manager, "but what would have happened had the event occurred when all the men were at work? Yes, what would have happened? Probably, some hundreds of men would have been affected, and the whole valley plunged into mourning. As it is the results are most painful, but we all ought to be thankful that the explosion did not occur when hundreds of men would have been laboring in the pit."

ADRIFT IN ICY SEAS.

Wrecked Crew Row 400 Miles In Open Boats In the Arctic.

A thrilling story of the privations of the crew of the wrecked Dundee whaler Windward was told by the crew of the Diana, which arrived in the Tay recently from the Arctic.

On or about June 15, in a dense fog, the Windward struck a reef at Carey Island, and became a total wreck. From the report sent home by the Canadian Government cruiser, it was surmised that the other vessels of the fleet had been close at hand, and had rendered assistance. That, it now appears, was not the case, and the story of how the hapless mariners reached Pond's Bay, a voyage of 400 miles, in open whaleboats, is a thrilling one.

When the Windward struck, and it became evident that her position was hopeless, the boats were launched and provisioned, and the men were apportioned among them. The situation was desperate. To recross Melville Bay was impossible, or at the best could only have been accomplished with great loss of life. Further, it was extremely improbable that any of the minor settlements that might be reached would have sufficient food to meet the wants of so many mouths.

In the circumstances it was decided to make for Pond's Bay, distant to a steamship some 300 miles, but for small craft, which require to follow closely the coast line, about 100 miles more. For twelve days and nights the men struggled at the oars for dear life. Food supplies were short, and only a few biscuits were served out per day. Ice was melted to provide drinking water. Sleep was next to impossible.

Fantastic Bodyguard.

Much amusement has been caused in Armagh, Ireland, by a unique wedding display there. A wedding carriage was driven along the principal street followed by young men on bicycles and attired in fantastic raiment. Each wore a loose-fitting overall displaying all the colors in the rainbow, and caught at the waist with a fancy-colored belt, and carrying horns. Their headgear was even more fantastic, some wearing long conical hats, whilst others were of the Dolly Varden type, and bedecked with gay-colored streamers. The garb worn by the cyclists reminded one forcibly of a cycle gymkhana or a fancy dress ball. The wedding party in the carriage, were, it appears, unaware that they had such an extraordinary bodyguard. The bridal party, were, nat-

Sarnia Indian reserve has an area of 6,260 acres and a population of 293 Indians.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

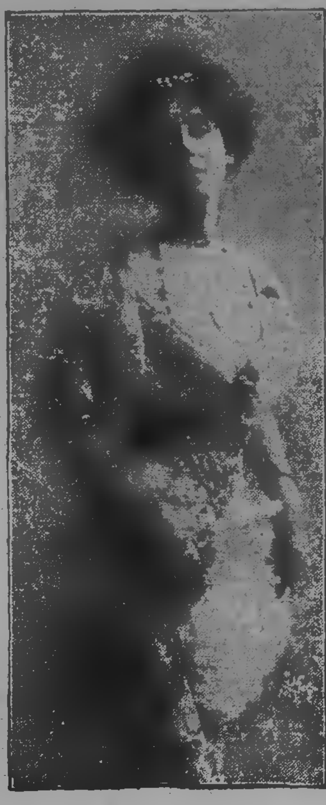
BIANCA WEST

To-night at Opera House as Dorothy Vernon.

Miss West and her company of twenty-five, with a special 60 foot baggage car, arrived this morning from Toronto, and will present the ever popular romantic play, "Dorothy Vernon, of Haddon Hall." Miss West has proved by press and public that she is the best Dorothy Vernon Mr Shapman has discovered. It seems to be a part made for her. The entire production, which has been so popular, is with this company, and the few Canadian cities that have seen Miss West are all favorable in their criticism, as are also those in the States.

THE FATAL FLOWER

We little know what an adverse suggestion can accomplish in the mind of its recipient. Say, for instance, that you know and had known a very eminent physician, a man that you know stood at the very top of the medical profession, especially on diseases of the blood. Now you have had a slight swelling of the face from an ingrowing hair, superinduced by irritation, a perfectly trivial affair, but you being a methodical man, bethink you of your friend, the great Dr. Blank. You call him in, he looks at your trouble, and with sombre intentness, backed by years of research and study, informs you that you have blood poisoning and could not live twenty-four hours. Can you imagine what would happen? Well, the chances are ten to one that you would die within the hours stated by your learned friend, but not from blood poisoning, but from adverse suggestion. The above idea is one of the predominating themes that help to make the play of "The Fatal Flower" so intense. To get the real idea of what a man would do under those condiditons, one must see Mr. William Walcott play the mind poisoned artist at the Grand next Wednesday, Dec. 11th, in the "Fatal Flower."



FLORANCE ROSSLAND

In "The Fatal Flower" "Grand" Wed. Dec. 11th Plan Now Open.

ARRANGING FOR THE RECEPTION

Social Committee of Y. M. C. A. Had Profitable Meeting

The Social Committee of the Y. M. C. A. held a very interesting and profitable meeting Friday night. There was a good attendance, and prospects are for a big New Year's Day Reception.

The following committees were appointed to prepare for that day's programme:—

Programme Committee—Messrs. D. Campbell, W. J. Coleman, G. E. Bruce E. M. Best and Rev. Canon Davidson.

Decorating Committee—Messrs. C. E. Sisson, J. S. Knapman, H. Males, H. Cook and R. Huston.

Reception Committee—Messrs. N. Penry, R. Gerrish, G. Carter, George Martin and H. L. Brace.

Refreshments — Messrs. P. Redgrave, A. E. Walker, J. H. Connal, H. Cressman and Ray P. Best.

It was also decided to have one or two members of the Social Committee on duty each evening as a Reception Committee. Messrs. P. Redgrave, G. E. Bruce and C. E. Coleman were appointed to arrange a schedule for the committees.

MR. SHERIFF HALL SPOKE ON "DICKENS"

At a meeting of St. Luke's A.Y.P.A. held on Friday night, there was a good attendance.

Owing to the illness of the president, Mr. H. Potter, the chair was ably occupied by Mr. Charles Crane, vice-president. After devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, and routine business, Mr. Sheriff Hall gave a thoughtful and edifying address on "Charles Dickens." At the close a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker on motion of Mr. Arthur Kingdom and Miss Pratley.

At the next meeting to be held on the 17th inst., there will be a debate The affirmative will be taken by Miss Clara Adams and Miss Mary Pratley, while Messrs. Arthur Pakenham and Guy Quartermaine will uphold the negative. The subject of debate will be selected by the participants.

IMPOSING ON THE PUBLIC

Mr. A. E. Wilson, manager of All Saints' Boys' Club, says that those who are taking subscriptions for the funds of a hockey team of All Saints' church, have not been given legitimate sanction to do so.

If a hockey club is organized at All Saints' this season no subscription campaign of the above kind will be pursued.

Those asking for money on behalf of the club will be prosecuted if they do not cease from doing so at once.

THE HOME JOURNAL

This publication has made great strides under the new management. The December number consists of 36 pages of bright, interesting matter, copiously illustrated. The special feature of this issue, which is a Holiday Number, are "Messages from the Churches," illustrated by portraits of the Evangelical denominations, and "Messages from Women," with portraits of leading Canadian Women workers. A reproduction of "Eventide," F. W. L. Forster's latest painting, is well worth framing. Judge Routhier gives a history of the writing of the Chant National and this is accompanied by a new arrangement of Lavallee's piece by Mr. Edward Broome, of the Toronto Conservatory. An illustrated article describes the production of the "staff of life" in an up-to-date bread factory. Two original short stories, one by Theodore Roberts and another by S. Davidson, another Canadian writer, are in addition to the other fiction. The other departments of the Journal are full, as usual, of crisp interesting, practical pointers for the home. The moral tone of the paper is such as should exercise a wholesale influence wherever it goes. It is issued by the Canadian Magazine Publishing Co., Limited, 59 John street, Toronto.

Scene From "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" the attraction at the "Grand" To-night.

FACTS--JUST PLAIN, POINTED FACTS

BOYS' SUITS

Good words our Good Boy's Clothing are coming back to us in good business, what better proof could you ask of our value-giving than these.

BUSTER BROWN STYLE

Gray mixed Tweeds, plain, well made and trimmed, sizes 22 to 25 .... 3.25
Gray stripe Tweed, well made and trimmed, 22 to 25 3.50
Blue and black Serge, well made and trimmed sizes 22 to 26 .... 4.00

2-PIECE NORFOLK STYLE

Dark gray stripe Tweed, sizes from 25 to 30, special 2.00
Gray mixed Tweed, pepper and salt effects, all sizes, 24 to 30, Special 2.50
Brown Scotch Tweed effect, double breasted Norfolk, sizes 26 to 29, prices 4.00, 4.50, 5.00
3 piece Double Breasted Styles-dark gray check and stripe Tweed, Lion Brand, with double elbows and double seats and knees, well padded and well made, sizes 28 to 33 .... 4.50 and 5.00
Dark gray over plaids and dark stripes, the newest designs for boys' suits, double breasted, sizes 28 to 33 .... 6.00, 6.50, 7.00
Boys' and Youth's Reefers--Dark gray and black Frieze, Tweed lined, all sizes up to 28 .... 2.00, 2 25
Dark gray and black Frieze, Tweed lined, 9 to 3 2.75

MERRELL & MEREDITH
CLOTHIERS, FURNISHERS and HATTERS
375-377 GEORGE ST. PHONE 25

Special Inducements TO BUY HEATERS

You gain nothing by delay. See our
Standard Oak
Quebec Ideal
Art Laurel

They are great fuel savers. Easily operated and splendid heat distributors.

F.R.J. MACPHERSON & CO.
341 George St. Phone 118
F.R.J. MACPHERSON ANGUS MACPHERSON

SPECIAL RATES FOR FAMILY WASHING

Prices were never lower than now at
Parkers' Steam Laundry
Goods called for and delivered free to any part of the city.
W. P. HETHERINGTON
CHARLOTTE ST. PHONE 65

International Correspondence Schools
Of Scranton, Penn.
Industrial Science Taught by Mail.
LOCAL OFFICE - - 430 George Stree
R. C. BALFOUR, Representative

The Talk of the Town—OUR COOKING
TOOTHSOME
WHOLESOME
PALATABLE
Try a loaf of our Brown and Currant Bread
FRY'S MILK CHOCOLATE DROPS
BURNT ALMONDS
COLEMAN BROS.
Phone 335. 426 George S

A MESSAGE FROM CHINA HALL

China Hall's Stock is now complete, and the present is now a good time to make selections for Christmas. China Hall's Stock is the heaviest and most varied it has ever been, and taken as a whole it would do credit to the largest city in the Dominion. The Store will be open evenings during December, and the public are invited to visit the two show rooms during the present week and view the newest productions in Pottery. Our Dinner Ware show room (just completed) is worih a visit.

CHINA HALL CO. New Premises 394 GEORGE STREET
(NEXT TO H. LeBRUN & CO.)

GET THE LATEST

The Review Supplies the Correct Things in Wedding Invitations Programmes, Personal Stationery, Etc.

THE DAILY REVIEW

LUMBER

and BUILDING MATERIAL of all kinds. Shingles, Scantling, Joists and Bill Stuff. Mouldings, Casings and Base, and all kinds of finish. Boxes and Box Shooks.

ALF. McDONALD ESTATE

Point St. Charles Mill, Peterborough.

VOL LV., NO. 133 PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1907 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

PROBABILITIES.

Strong winds and gales, north to northwest, colder, with local snowfalls or flurries.

Wednesday, moderate to fresh winds, becoming variable and cold.

PRACTICAL GIFT SUGGESTIONS

WILL BE FOUND AT

THE GOLDEN LION STORE

This December our store has been transformed into a distinctly Holiday Gift Shop, with hundreds of suggestions on every side, making the question of selection an easy problem. Special Xmas prices will enable you to make large savings on the articles selected; and the early visitors will carry away the best values.

Leather Goods

Appropriate gift suggestions; Shopping Bags, Hand Bags, Chatelaine Bags in various leathers black and colored

25c to $6.00

Fancy Neckwear

Dainty creations of chiffon and lace. Every collar at 50c or over in pretty box without extra charge

25c to $2.00

Side and Back Combs

Single and in sets, plain, hand carved, gold inlaid, cut steel, mounted and set with brilliants—colors, shell, amber, black and grey

15c to $3.50

Fancy Baskets

Unlined and satin lined, suitable for work baskets, hold-alls, etc. A useful and inexpensive gift

25c to $2.50

Armenian Hand Embroidered Work

Made by the converts in the British Missions in Turkey; exquisitely fine needlework on satin and bolting cloth, Doylies, Centre Pieces and Cushion Tops in various sizes and colors

50c to $8.50

Wool Toques

Suitable gift for a child or young lady in dark and light colors.

25c and 50c

Silk Mitts

Spun silk in black only warm and very serviceable

$1.25 and $1.75

Lined Gloves

Brown and tan Dogskin Gloves, fur and fleece lined

75c to $3.00

Down Comforters

Fine down proof French Sateen covering—first quality down filling

$5.00 to $7.50

Dainty Lawn Waists

More serviceable, cheaper and more becoming than low priced silk waists. A large consignment just placed in stock and specially priced for the holiday trade, elegantly embroidered fronts on Persian Lawn and Swiss Mull

$2.00 to $5.00

Robert Fair & Co. Limited

383 GEORGE STREET

Phone—Dry Goods 145 Phone—Dressmaking 145B

WANTED

FIRST CLASS WAITRESS. Apply at once at Oriental. 1d.

For Sale or To Rent

TO RENT

A FEW FINE, WELL LIGHTED AND HEATED ROOMS at the Y. M. C. A. for rent from $1.00 to $2.00 a week. 6td

FOR SALE

FIRST-CLASS NEWCOMBE PIANO for sale. Price reasonable. Apply at this Office for particulars. 9d

FOR SALE

PIANO CASE ORGAN, double the usual volume, (8 sets reeds) good as new, less than half price on easy weekly or monthly payments. A nice Christmas present easy to buy. 27 Park St., corner Park and Parnell. tf

FOR SALE

TYPEWRITER, latest model American Oliver, brand new. Good discount off lowest selling price for a quick sale. Apply Review Office. tdf

Lost and Found

LOST

ON FRIDAY EVENING between Dalhousie St. and Y. W. C. A. a teacher's Bible with name written inside the cover. Finder will please return to the Review Office or H. P. Kennedy's store, George Street. 1d

Ontario Liquor License Act

License District of West Peterborough

Notice is hereby given that Edward Flaherty has made application for permission to transfer his Hotel License for the premises Nos. 217-219 Hunter St., in the City of Peterborough, known as the Royal Hotel, to Stephen Holland, of the City of Peterborough; and that the said application will be considered at the meeting of the Board of License Commissioners to be held at the Inspector's Office in the City of Peterborough on the 18th Day December, 1907 at the hour of 8 o'clock p.m.

All persons interested will govern themselves accordingly.

JOSEPH STEWART

License Inspector, West Peterborough

Dated at Peterborough, this 3rd Day of December, 1907.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!

A nice pair of Snowshoes or a good Toboggan would make a most acceptable present to lady, gentleman, girl or boy. We carry a very large assortment. Call and see them.

J. J. TURNER & SONS

TENT MANUFACTURERS

George Street. Peterborough

GET READY!

Summer has gone by and winter is at hand. Are you settled in a house of your own, where you can stay and not be forced out in the cold? If not, take warning, and buy one of our Cheap New Houses and be at home, or buy one of our Modern Houses at $2,100 and up. We also have first-class large houses from $3,800 up.

Companies Good as the Best in all lines of Insurance but Life. Rates moderate.

R. G. Ivat, Special Agent. [illegible] George St. Phone 7 Bell W. MIGHT

For Sale or To Rent

AT REASONABLE PRICES

Three small farms, good soil, suitable for gardening purposes, close to city. Also a few small, comfortable, dwelling houses, and choice building lots, well situated in good localities.

Properties sold, purchased or exchanged.

Private Funds to Loan on Real Estate.

INSURANCE

Agents for reliable Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Liability Insurance Companies. For particulars as to rates, etc., apply to

J. J. McBAIN & SON

Real Estate and Insurance Agents.

Office Cor. Simcoe and George-sts.

Office Phone 454 Residence Phone 109A

FOR XMAS

Furniture fixed up like new. Upholstering and all kinds of similar work done. Mattresses made over.

A. R. JACKSON

320 Aylmer. Corner of Charlotte. Bell Phone 494B

FANCY POTTERY

All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.

GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

GEORGE RUTH

Properties for Sale:

Come and inspect our list of HOUSES. We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.

8 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.

A few first-class homes to rent with modern improvements.

395 Water Street, open evenings

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

What more appropriate gift could you make than by purchasing a home for your family?

Come and see J. T. O'Connell & Co's bargains.

$2,350—New red brick house, central, cement floor in cellar; hall, parlor, dining room, kitchen, large pantry, front and back stairs, 4 bedrooms, bathroom fitted, 3 clothes closets, attic finished, electric lights, large verandah and balcony, woodshed and summer kitchen. Can be bought on monthly payments. Possession at once.

$600 buys red brick cottage East City, 6 rooms, hard and soft water, large lot.

To Rent—New house with all conveniences. Possession at once.

For further particulars apply to

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.

Phone 376. 136 Hunter St.

MEALS—LUNCHES

AT ALL HOURS

For quick service, well-cooked meals and popular prices—go to

FOWLER'S RESTAURANT

McCallum's Old Stand - 330 George St

BIG SALE

. . OF . .

Enamelled Ware

Friday and Saturday

HUTCHINSON-STURGEON CO

Bell and Machine 'Phones 225 342 George Street

TENDERS FOR SUPPLIES, 1908

THE UNDERSIGNED will receive tenders up to noon on Monday, 4th November, 1907, for supplies of Butchers' Meat, Creamery or Dairy Butter, Flour, Oatmeal, Potatoes, Cordwood, etc., etc., for the following institutions during the year 1908 viz:—

At the Asylums for Insane at Toronto, London, Kingston, Hamilton, Mimico, Brockville, Cobourg, Orillia, and Penetanguishene; the Central Prison and Mercer Reformatory, Toronto, and the Hospital for Epileptics at Woodstock.

Exceptions—Tenders are not required for the supply of Meat to the Asylums in Toronto, London, Kingston, Hamilton, and Brockville, nor for the Central Prison or Mercer Reformatory, Toronto.

A marked cheque for five per cent. of the estimated amount of the contract, payable to the order of the Provincial Secretary, must be furnished by each tenderer as a guarantee of his bona fides. Two sufficient sureties will be required for the due fulfillment of each contract, and should any tender be withdrawn before the contract is awarded, or should the tenderer fail to furnish security, the amount of this deposit will be forfeited.

Specifications and forms of tender may be had on application to the Department of the Provincial Secretary, Toronto, or to the Bursars of the respective institutions.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Newspapers inserting this advertisement without written authoirty from this Department will not be paid for it.

W. J. HANNA,
Provincial Secretary.
Parliament Buildings, Toronto,
October 8th, 1907.

THE BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to-wear Store

CHRISTMAS BOXES

—FOR—

Grown Ups, Youth, Childhood and the dear little Hope of the family

- Christmas Waists
- Christmas Skirts
- Christmas Neckwear
- Christmas Belts
- Christmas Table Linen
- Christmas Cashmere and Silk Hosiery
- Silk Socks for him
- Christmas Robes for baby
- Christmas Dresses for the girls
- Christmas Whitewear
- Christmas Fancy Goods
- Knitted Slippers
- Christmas Handkerchiefs
- Initialed Handkerchiefs
- Christmas Furs
- Christmas Headwear
- Christmas Scarfs
- Christmas Fascinators
- Christmas Gloves
- Perrin's Kid Gloves

And a thousand things not mentioned at

THE BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to Wear Store

A. BROWN & CO.,

The Real Estate Agents, 396 Water Street

$100 will secure good Cottage with large lot 50x200

$500 will secure an up-to-date House with all modern improvements.

$1,000 will purchase good Cottage and large lot

$600 will secure Cottage, Stable and 4 acres good land near city.

We have some great snaps in Houses, Farms and City lots for sale and to rent.

Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.

Bell Phone 128 and 474 B. Machine 117

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

106th Event 106th Event

WEDNESDAY ANNEX

UNPARALLELED PRICE REDUCTIONS

SEASONABLE SAVINGS

No need to exploit the many reasons why, at this season of the year, a person should practice economy in their Christmas purchasing. There are many, and this year especially. Not only do our patrons find in the Annex the finest assortment of useful Christmas gift suggestions, but they also find that the prices are the lowest that has ever been attached to the same or similar goods outside the Annex. Read this list over and it will help to make easy an otherwise difficult task, viz. the choosing of Xmas remembrances for your friends. Be in the Annex early Wednesday—OPENS AT 8.10 SHARP. See dodgers for fuller particulars.

OIL PAINTING

45 only rich Oil Paintings, a splendid range of subjects, handsomely framed in the popular medallion shaped gilt and weathered oak frames. These Pictures are suitable for Christmas Gifts, and early choosing will secure the best subjects. The regular prices are $1.25 to $1,50. Wednesday Annex .63

2 O'Clock NOT BEFORE

Large Flannelette Blankets

70 Pairs, extra large double bed size Flannelette Blankets, splendid quality, with colored borders in pink and blue. Usual retail price $1.35 Pair. Wednesday Annex .97

TAFFETA RIBBON

1720 YARDS

BRIGHT NEW GOODS

4 inch Taffeta Ribbons in all the leading shades of the season, including red, navy, light blue, pink, brown, green, etc., also black, white and cream. A very popular Ribbon at 20c yard. Wednesday at sharp 8.10—Wdenesday Annex .10

SEE WINDOW

WIDE FLANNELETTE

1200 YARDS

All good patterns and colors, splendid quality of wide English Flannelette, bought specially for this week, and well worth 12½c per yd. At 8.10 sharp in Annex at .8

SEE WINDOW

Lace Curtains Over 300 Pairs of beautiful Nottingham Lace Curtains arrived to late for the fall trade, and in consequence we received a substantial rebate from the manufacturer, which enables us to sell this entire lot at prices about 1-2 Less than the Original. Three lines—

No. 1—3 1-2 yards long, very wide, regular $1.50, for 89c Pair
No. 2—3 1-2 yards long, good width, regular $1.29, for 79c Pair
No. 3—Nearly 3 yds long, handsome curtain, good width, worth $1, 59c Pair

STORE HOURS:
8.10 - - 5.45
Closes Saturday at 10 p.m.

Cressman's 385, 387, 389 George Street

ENDED LIFE BY SHOOTING WITH RIFLE

Robert Graham of Anstruther Deliberately Committed Suicide in Lumber Camp

A sad case of suicide is related in the city today, by Mr. William Haines, of Cavendish, who is here attending the sessions of the County Court.

Last Thursday the farmers in the back country were shocked to hear of the tragic death of Mr. Robert Graham, a resident of Minden, and who was engaged in the lumber camp of W. S. Robinson, in Anstruther.

With apparently no reason whatever, Mr. Graham took a 44 Winchester rifle, and as he sat on the floor of the shack, deliberately shot himself.

Placing the muzzle in his mouth he fired and was instantly killed. The bullet penetrated the top of his head. His fellow workers in the shanties were terrified, and a gloom has been cast over the men. Graham was one of the most popular fellows in the camp, and was highly respected by all who knew him. His strange action cannot be accounted for. He was 47 years of age, and unmarried.

The funeral took place at Minden Saturday last.

That Two Year Term Discussed

Attitude of the City Council is Defended

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I notice a letter in yesterday's issue of the Review, headed, "Does not favor a longer term," in which a person signing himself "Taxpaper," comes out strongly against the proposition to have the aldermen elected for two years instead of one. Crankiness and cynicism are written all over the letter. "Taxpayer's" arguments are about as forcible as a man trying to roll a rock with a toothpick, and about as logical as the plea of a mercenary barrister.

Our aldermen have made mistakes. Who has not? Aldermen and everybody else for that matter, will always make mistakes. There are good men in the council but the majority of them lack experience, and they will only get it by leaving them in the council for a few years. What would the institutions of our land be like if the officials were changed every two years? Let the ratepayers use discretion in electing their men, and then give them a chance to show what they can do. They can't put the city entirely on the rough in two years.

Peterborough is progressive, and because this city wants something different from the rest of the province is no reason why someone should start knocking. Kingston now has a three year term for its aldermen, and its safe, but that Kingston's aldermen are no better than those of Peterborough, but then, I suppose, Kingston will be going to the dogs in a year or two.

If "Taxpayer" fills in with fresh atmosphere the vacuum he has created by the emission of his spiel of hot air he may feel better.

Yours,

"NOT A TAXPAYER"

A vat of whiskey expended in a New York warehouse while two employees were looking for a leak, burning both men seriously.

PALMISTRY

Prof. C. SHEPHERD of San Francisco, California, is visiting Peterborough for a limited time, and may be consulted at

Mrs. R. King's, George Street (upstairs) Rooms, First Floor

Hall entrance next Times Office. Hours from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Appointments made. Your past, present and future about Business and Marriage correctly told. Machine Phone 7

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

NOTICE is hereby given, pursuant to the Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 129, that all Creditors and others having claims against the Estate of William Hotherington, late of the City of Peterborough in the County of Peterborough, Hostler, who died on or about the Twenty-fifth day of November 1907, are required on or before the Twenty-seventh day of December 1907, to send by Post prepaid, or deliver to the undersigned Solicitors for the Administrator of the said deceased, their Christian and surnames, addresses and descriptions, the full particulars of their claims and statement of their accounts and the nature of the securities, if any, held by them.

And further take notice, that after such last mentioned date, the said Administrator will proceed to distribute the assets of the deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which he shall then have notice, and that said Administrator will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose claims Notice shall not have been received by him at the time of such distribution.

Dated 11th. day of November 1907.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR,
415 Water Street, Peterborough, Ont.,
Administrators' Solicitors

"DON'T BURN THEM"

We will buy all kinds of Second-hand boots and shoes

JAY'S SECOND-HAND STORE

390 Aylmer Street

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | Wednesday, December 11

EDWARD HALL AMUSEMENT CO. presen MR. WILLIAM WALCOTT, Supported by Miss Florence Rossland, in the Powerful Modern Play

THE FATAL FLOWER

By Howard Hall. The most beautiful dramatic production of the season. Prices—25c 35c, 50c and 75c

THE CRYSTAL

OPEN EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING

Passion Play "Life of Christ"

ALL THIS WEEK.

Beautifully illustrated song "ROCK OF AGES"

ADMISSION—10 CENTS

Medical

E. V. FREDERICK, M.B., Tor.
M.R.C.S., Eng.; L.R.C.P., Lond. Lic. Univ. New York.
Removed to No. 482 George St., formerly office of Dr. McFaul
Private nursing home for surgical cases.

DR. G. STEWART CAMERON
Office and Residence
No. 273 Charlotte St. 'Phone 128

DR. G. C. LEACH
Late House Surgeon of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio; also of Cook County Hospital, Chicago. OFFICE—224 Hunter St., formerly occupied by Dr. Coughlin. Phone Bell 619. Special Attention to Diseases of Women

DR. JAS. V. GALLIVAN
Office 215 Simcoe St. Late of St. John's Hospital New York. Lic. University of New York. Telephone 668.

Osteopathy

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY
Osteopathic Physician
Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Water Street entrance.
Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. Evenings by appointment. Consultation free.

Legal

R. E. WOOD
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Etc. Office removed from Bank of Commerce Building to 426 George street, recently occupied by E. B. Edwards. Money to Loan

W. H. MOORE
BARRISTER SOLICITOR, in the Supreme Court etc. Office—Hunter street, first stairs west of Post Office.

HALL & HAYES
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS and NOTARIES PUBLIC, Hunter Street, Peterborough, next to English Church. Money to Loan at the lowest rates of interest.
R. M. D. HALL. LOUIS M. HAYES

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON
(Successors to Stratton & Hall)
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., Peterborough Ont. Office—Corner of Hunter and Water Sts. over Bank of Commerce.
R. R. HALL, M.P. E. T. MEDD. W. E. DAVIDSON

EDMISON & DIXON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc. Office in Clarton's Block, corner of Hunter and George streets, over Dickson's store.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc. 415 Water Street, Peterborough
E.A. PECK F. D. KERR R. M. DENNISTOUN

Money

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASY TERMS
O'CONNELL & GORDON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS NOTARIES, Etc.
Canadian and United States Patent Attorneys
134 Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office.
DANIEL O'CONNELL GEORGE N. GORDON

ROGER, BENNET & GOODWILL
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., 37 Water St. Peterborough. Telephone No. 191.
Money at Current Rates
Upon Easy Terms.
G. M. ROGER. J. W. BENNETT. S. L. GOODWILL

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

PAID UP CAPITAL $1,000,000.00
RESERVE FUND 580,000.00

SAVINGS
An Account may be opened at any time with a Deposit of One Dollar.
3½% Interest allowed on daily balances.
DEBENTURE DEPT.
Four Per Cent. paid half yearly on sums of $100.00 and upwards.
MONEY TO LOAN
at current rates of interest.
W. G. MORROW, Manager

Children's Aid Society
FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.
Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898. Information required. Informants name kept strictly private.
CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION
Office Hours—11.00 to 12.00 a.m.
OFFICE—DIVISION COURT BLDG
GEO. COCHRANE, Agent and Asst Sec

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES
AND
VETERINARY INFIRMARY
138 Hunter Street west of Oriental Hotel.
If you wish a rig of any kind for any occasion ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 278. Night Phone Bell 496 B.
D. McKERCHER, V.S.

HEADACHES
They indicate more than a trifling stomach disorder, for the liver and kidneys are sure to be affected.
To cure the cause of headaches, and prevent new attacks, use FERROZONE. It aids the stomach, tones the kidneys, sends a stream of red, vitalizing blood to the brain and nerves.
FERROZONE
BRACES, GIVES TONE, ELEVATES YOUR SPIRITS!
No such health-bringer or cure for headaches known as Ferrozone. Nothing so certain and lasting in effect. Don't fail to get Ferrozone. Avoid substitutes!
Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A. 230

Rural Mail Delivery is Urged in the Commons

East Lambton's Member Moves Favoring Amendment.

Progress of Debate in the House—Mr. Armstrong Wants Legislation to Benefit Farmers—Cause of Financial Stress — Protest Against Wildcat Schemes—Pulpit and Press Are Paralyzed Says Mr. Wright.

Ottawa, Dec. 10.—George W. Fowler, author of wine, women and graft charges of last session, made his first appearance last night and the Opposition side rang with a welcome. He will be followed in a day or two by Stanfield, the victor of Colchester. The official declaration of his election should be in the Speaker's hands by this time. Yesterday the House listened to a number of speeches, of which the majority were contributed by the Opposition, the Government apparently desiring that the end of the debate should come soon. Mr. Armstrong (East Lambton) moved an amendment favoring free rural mail delivery, but the succeeding speakers carefully avoided any reference whatever to this subject.

Rural Mail Delivery.

Mr. Armstrong (East Lambton) argued that there had been no legislation to benefit the farmer. He concluded by moving the following amendment:

"We desire to express our regret that more adequate reference has not been made to matters of public interest alluded to in Your Excellency's gracious speech, and that other matters of grave public concern have altogether escaped mention therein.

"We also desire to express our regret that Your Excellency's speech contains no allusion to the importance of inaugurating a system of rural free mail delivery, under which rural populations may enjoy, as far as Canada's resources will permit, the great advantages in that respect which have been secured to the rural communities of other countries."

Mr. Hughes (P. E. I.) followed. He set out to prove that the prosperity of a country did not depend on the balance of trade being in its favor. A few nights ago the Finance Minister had shown that most of the prosperous countries of Europe had a balance of trade against them.

Dr. Sproule enquired as to the position of the United States, which showed a large excess of exports over imports, amounting in 118 years to ten thousand millions.

But Mr. Hughes was prepared to convince even Dr. Sproule, reasoning that it was quite possible that all nations of earth might trade with each other and imports of all might exceed their exports.

Mr. Staples (Macdonald, Man.) devoted some attention to Mr. Crawford, who spoke on Friday. The latter had deprecated the tendency of his own province towards the operation by the Government of a telephone system, but Mr. Staples was able to state that Mr. Crawford was one of those Liberals who attended a Liberal convention in Manitoba, at which it was unanimously declared that the Liberals were prepared to go a step further than the Roblin Government in the direction of public ownership of telephones.

Mr. Wright Continues Debate.

The Government not putting in a man to reply, Mr. Wright (Muskoka) took the floor at 6 o'clock.

At the evening session Mr. Wright took up the discussion of the cause of the financial stress. He believed that the present stringency was due to some extent to the contribution by this country of lambs to be slaughtered to fatten the financial magnates of New York. Another cause was the amount of money that had been put into Cobalt and other mining districts. Some of the press had raised a warning voice against wildcat schemes, but he feared newspaper writers had their arms paralyzed while many preachers had voices silenced by the get-rich-quick microbe. The farmers of the United States were in a better position than the farmers of Canada. There they built up large towns by means of industries which manufacture all their own articles and a large portion for Canada and the rest of the world.

Mr. Wright humorously told of the padding of immigration returns. Every body on westbound trains, whether commercial travelers, people from east going out to visit relatives and peripatetic show people, all are counted in as new citizens. Conditions were not as encouraging as they should be, and the exodus to the United States had not been stopped. The speaker found fault with the class of people assisted to this country. Attention should be paid to quality rather than to quantity.

George Smith (North Oxford) eulogized the leader of the Government, defended the Government's version of th balance of trade and almost applauded the Doukhobors. These immigrants, he had been informed, were very much like the Menonite settlers of Oxford County.

Mr. Jackson (East Elgin) discussed the needs of the country from the standpoint of the farmer. He complained that appointments to the Senate were not always made with the view of serving the interests of the people, but to serve party ends.

Ottawa, Dec. 10.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday informed Parliament that nothing was being done with respect to the establishment of an all-red steamship line and that no one had been authorized by the Government to enter into negotiations. He believed that certain parties were forming a company, but the Government was not directly concerned. The statement was given in reply to a question by Mr. Foster.

The matter also came up later when a similar question by Mr. Monk was reached. Mr. Monk desired to know if there was any person in England specially accredited by the Canadian Government in connection with the proposed all-red line to treat with the British Government, and was told by Sir Wilfrid that there was no such ambassador. The early part of the afternoon was taken up with questions and answers.

Mr. Templeman informed Mr. Bergeron that the question of reintroducing the bill of last session concerning drugs and patent medicines during the present session was still under consideration. It is understood that should the bill be reintroduced the Government will absolutely prohibit the sale of cocaine.

Mr. Fisher informed the House that 72 meat, canned fish and vegetable inspectors had been appointed for the whole Dominion, permanent seed inspectors and 9 fruit inspectors.

Prince Edward Tunnel.

A. McLean (P. E. I.) declared that Borden was following the lead of Sir John Macdonald in enunciating a policy. This policy had been enthusiastically endorsed by Conservatives everywhere. Mr. McLean spoke of the need of a tunnel, and showed that Prince Edward Island had reason to complain of the mail service.

Uriah Wilson (Lennox and Addington) moved the adjournment of the debate at 11 o'clock.

DODD'S
KIDNEY PILLS
FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
CURES RHEUMATISM
BRIGHT'S DISEASE
DIABETES BACKACHE

BENJ. B. GUNN, M. P., DEAD.

Was First Conservative to Represent South Huron Since Confederation.

Ottawa, Dec. 10.—Benjamin B. Gunn, Conservative member for South Huron, died in St. Luke's Hospital last night. He was operated on a few days ago for a tumor, and very little hope was entertained for his recovery. Mr. Gunn's family were with him when he died.

This is the second time the House of Commons has been bereaved this session, the first death being that of Henry Lovell, M. P. for Stanstead, Quebec.

At the late general election Mr. Gunn defeated Thomas Fraser, Liberal, by 111 majority. Previous to that, since 1867, the constituency has been Liberal, the majorities ranging as low as 85 and as high as 855, which was rolled up by Mr. McMillan in 1891.

Mr. Gunn was born at Wallacetown about fifty years ago. He was a man of fine appearance, over 6 feet tall, and exceedingly popular in South Huron. Until the time of his election he was a merchant in Seaforth, but sold out on his return to Parliament.

Two sons survive, Gordon, a medical student at the University of Toronto, and John, a lad of 12 years, as well as the widow.

The late member had served in the municipal councils, and in religion was a Methodist.

Police Chased Oldfield.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—Barney Oldfield and two companions in a racing automobile were chased through the downtown streets by policemen in a large touring car early yesterday and arrested after an exciting pursuit.

The police charge that Oldfield and his companions ran into and demolished a carriage, throwing its occupants to the street.

Drops From Sight.

London, Dec. 10.—"I'm going to the barber's for half an hour. I shall not stay out late to-night."

These were the last words uttered by Harry Bartlett, a laborer in the employ of the waterworks department, as he left his boarding-house at 286 Clarence street on Thursday night. He has not been seen since.

STOLEN BY HIS DADDY.

Man Outwits His Wife—Takes Wrong Train and Is Arrested.

North Bay, Dec. 10.—A bold abduction case caused considerable excitement here yesterday and gave the police force a hard day's work.

Some months ago Mrs. Augusta Rotter left her husband, E. D. Rotter, in Chicago, owing to domestic troubles, and disappeared with her 7-year-old son, Arthur, leaving no address. The husband engaged detectives and the chase for his wife and boy began, the continent being scoured without avail for some time. Recently the trail of the fugitives was found and the American sleuths traced mother and son to North Bay. The next act in the drama was the arrival of Rotter in North Bay yesterday morning, and his appearance at police headquarters, where he solicited the assistance of Chief of Police Mitchell in locating the wife and child.

A visit to the public schools was rewarded by the finding of little Arthur Rotter, who seemed far from pleased at the sight of his father and cried bitterly for his mother. A visit to the mother was then suggested by Chief Mitchell, and the two started ostensibly for her apartments, but Rotter gave the policeman the slip on a plausible excuse and disappeared with the boy.

Crown Attorney Browning was notified of the facts of the case and the police were instructed to secure Rotter. It was ascertained that Rotter dragged the boy, crying and struggling, to the suburban station of the T. & N. O. Railway, where they boarded the northbound express. Rotter evidently thought it was the Grand Trunk Toronto train. Telegrams were despatched to northern towns, asking for the arrest of the abductor and the case grew exciting, the mother coming on the scene when she found that her boy had been snatched from her.

Late yesterday afternoon a message was received from New Liskeard, that Rotter had been arrested there on the arrival of the train and would be taken back to North Bay on the first train, with the boy. Mrs. Rotter states that she left her husband in Chicago because he did not use her right, and she demands the custody of the child.

The case will be aired in the Police Court to-day.

GEN. STOESSEL'S TRIAL.

Charged With Cowardice In Surrendering Fortress of Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 10.—The final stage of the court-martial of Lieut.-Gen. Mikhailovitch Stoessel will begin in this city to-day. There have been protracted delays in taking the testimony of the witnesses in the Far East, but now all this material is in order and the proceedings will go ahead rapidly.

Gen. Stoessel is accused of having surrendered the fortress of Port Arthur before he had exhausted all the resources of defence. The punishment for this, under the Russian code, is death. He is to be tried also on the charge of lacking in initiative, and with having exceeded his powers. Gen. Fock and Gen. Reiss are co-defendants with him. The first is accused of having conspired the surrender of the fortress, and the second with having executed the order of surrender.

Gen. Smirnoff, Gen. Stoessel's most bitter enemy, is to tried on a minor count.

The basis of the indictment is practically identical with that set forth in the secret report of the defence of Port Arthur, made by Gen. Smirnoff, but counsel for the defence have announced their intention of broadening the scope of the enquiry, to bring in the conduct of the Ministry of War, both prior to and during the war with Japan.

The trial is exciting the most intense interest in army circles. Every ticket to the little auditorium in the Army and Navy Club, where the hearing will be held, has been taken by army officers of high rank.

Death From Asphyxiation.

Kingston, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Felix Farney, York street, whose husband is a bartender in the Randolph Hotel, met death Sunday morning from asphyxiation. When she awoke at 6 o'clock in the morning she felt faint, the house being full of coal gas that had escaped from a stove. She awoke her husband and succeeded in getting him to a window, where he revived. Mrs. Farney lay down again, feeling very sick, while her husband went out for a doctor. When he returned his wife was dead. Mrs. Farney was 25 years of age.

Mine Employe Disappears.

Port Arthur, Dec. 10.—John Elliott, an employe of the St. Anthony mine at St. Anthony reef, seven miles from Sturgeon Lake, left the mine on Nov. 20 to go to the hotel at Sturgeon Lake, and has not been heard of since. It is feared that he was drowned while crossing the lake over the ice.

Sifton Satisfied.

London, Dec. 10.—"Everything is running along smoothly, and I am very well satisfied," was all Mr. Sifton would say yesterday when asked by the Canadian Associated Press re the "all-red route." Mr. Sifton sails on Saturday per the Mauretania.

120 Men Drowned.

Paimpol, France, Dec. 10.—Three Newfoundland fishing vessels, the Angler, Jacques and Croisade, with crews totalling 120 men, have been given up for lost, as they have not been reported since Oct. 1, when they left Miquelon.

Trying For the Escort.

Port Dalhousie, Dec. 10.—Carter's wrecking outfit, at work at the tug Escort, accomplished nothing yesterday. They parted a 10-inch line and had to give up until more favorable weather.

Killed by Sleigh.

Brockville, Dec. 10.—While jumping on sleighs in Cardinal Village, a lad named Morrison was run over and instantly killed.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

KILLED BY WIFE'S LOVER

Brutal Murder Follows Carousal of Partners.

Wife Placed Under Arrest—Charged With Complicity In Crime—Slayer Confesses to Police — Husband's Skull Was Fractured and Throat Cut—Half-Breed Shoots His Wife—Other Tragedies.

Iola, Kansas, Dec. 10.—William Stewart, proprietor of a restaurant in East Iola, and member of a prominent family in Yates County, Kansas, was murdered near his place of business Sunday. The body bore evidence of several wounds, any one of which would have produced death. The skull had been fractured in four places and the throat cut. Stewart's partner, W. D. Creviston, is under arrest pending an investigation of the murder.

Stewart and Creviston were carousing together at Stewart's home until after midnight. Then someone knocked at a back door. Stewart answered the summons, and announced that he was going out for a short walk. He was not again seen alive by his family.

Creviston, the police say, confessed that he killed Stewart because of his love for Stewart's wife, whom he wanted to marry. Mrs. Stewart was arrested Sunday night, charged with complicity in the murder of her husband.

Half-Breed Killed His Wife.

Providence, R. I., Dec. 10.—In an attempt, as he claims, to frighten her, Clarence V. Johnson, a half-blood Sioux Indian, yesterday shot and killed his wife Evelyn, aged 24, at No. 101 Broadway, where she was employed as a domestic. Johnson, upon realizing the result of his act, went to the police station and gave himself up. He is 22 years old, and has been employed as a chauffeur. The couple have not lived together for some time.

SHOT BY HER HUSBAND.

Man Murders His Wife In Church and Then Suicides.

Lisbon, O., Dec. 10.—In the sight of twenty horrified churchgoers Harry Webber confronted his bride of four weeks on the threshold of the Disciples' Church just as the choir within was beginning the opening anthem, Sunday morning and shot her down. A minute after the young man fell with a bullet in his own brain, crying: "She chose between her religion and me!"

Mrs. Webber, who was only 20, was devoted to her church, and she and her husband frequently quarrelled over her attendance at the Sunday school and religious society meetings.

Kills Two Grandchildren.

Somerville, Mass., Dec. 10.—Announcing that she had killed her two grandchildren, Mrs. Emery Huntley walked into a police station and gave herself up yesterday. The children had been stupified by illuminating gas, and then placed in a bathtub and drowned.

The mother died by suicide shortly after the death of her husband.

SALOONS REPLACE THEATRES.

Effects Noticed In New York's First "Blue Law" Sunday.

New York, Dec. 10.—New York had its first taste of a Sunday without any theatrical amusement.

In accordance with Justice O'Gorman's decision of last week, the doors of 500 concert halls and theatres were closed; but the backrooms of 5,000 saloons and all the billiard and pool parlors, together with bowling alleys, were wide open.

Every one of these did the largest business for any Sunday in their history, and never before were so many intoxicated men seen in the streets.

Dancing academies and roller skating rinks were closed tight, while restaurants and beer gardens operating under restaurant licenses were permitted to run without hindrance and with musical accompaniment.

For the first time in December in fifty years no ball was held on Sunday night in Tammany Hall.

City Without Water.

St. John, N. B., Dec. 10.—The city is entirely without water owing to the leaking of a water main, and as a consequence most of the manufacturing and industrial plants have been compelled to shut down, throwing thousands out of work. The street railway is stopped, and householders are also without a service.

The break will be repaired to-day.

A Double Train Wreck.

Toronto, Dec. 10.—An eastbound G. T. R. freight was wrecked by the breaking of a wheel at midnight on Sunday near the Sunnyside crossing, tearing up the track for about 100 yards. A wrecking train was sent out and crashed into the stalled freight and left the rails. By 11 o'clock Monday morning all the damage to the track was repaired.

Carried Factory Bylaw.

Deseronto, Ont., Dec. 10.—A bylaw granting the Deseronto Furniture Co. a bonus of $20,000 was voted on here yesterday and carried. This means a great deal to the people of Deseronto, as it furnishes work for 75 to 100 men the year round.

Poisoned by Morphine.

London, Dec. 10.—Count Edward Sixze of Norris, a member of a wealthy and prominent Austro-Hungarian family, and connected with the diplomatic service, died from morphine poisoning in his room.

Zulu Chief Surrenders.

Pietermaritzburg, Natal, Dec. 10.—Dinizulu has surrendered to the authorities without resistance of any kind.

The negroes of Richmond, Va., plan to install electric lights in cemeteries so that funerals can be held at night.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

Monday Evening, Dec. 9.

Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day ⅛d to ⅛d lower, corn ⅛d lower.

At Chicago, December wheat closed ⅝c lower, December corn ½c lower, and December oats unchanged.

Winnipeg Options.

Following are the closing quotations on Winnipeg grain futures to-day:

Wheat—Dec. $1.00¾ bid, May $1.05½ bid.
Oats—Dec. 43⅞c bid, May 51c bid.

Toronto Grain Market.

Grain—
Wheat, spring, bush	$0 95	to $....
Wheat, fall, bush	0 97	....
Wheat, goose, bush	0 87	....
Wheat, red, bush	0 98	....
Rye, bush	0 83	0 85
Peas, bush	0 88	....
Buckwheat, bush	0 64	0 65
Barley, bush	0 70	....
Oats, bush	0 53	....

Toronto Dairy Market.

Butter, dairy, lb. rolls	0 27	0 28
Butter, tubs	0 26	0 27
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 30	0 31
Butter, creamery, boxes	0 29	0 30
Eggs, new-laid, dozen	0 30	....
Eggs, cold-storage, dozen	0 22	....
Cheese, large, lb.	0 13½	....
Cheese, twin, lb.	0 13¾	....
Honey, extracted, lb.	0 13	0 13½

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Butter—Firm; receipts, 8228; creamery, specials, 29½c; extras, 29c; thirds to firsts, 21c to 28c; held, second to specials, 22c to 28c; state dairy, common to finest, 21c to 28c; process, common to specials, 16c to 23½c; western factory, common to first, 15c to 20c; imitation creamery, 21c to 22c.

Cheese—Firmer; receipts, 2496; state, full cream, small, colored and white, fine, 15⅝c; do., good to prime, 14½c to 15c; do., late made, best, 11¾c to 12c; do., common to fair, 9½c to 11½c; do., large, colored, 15⅝c; do., white, 12½c; skims, 1c to 11c.

Eggs—Firm; receipts, 6874; state, Pennsylvania and nearby, fancy, selected, white, 46c to 50c; good to choice, 38c to 43c; brown and mixed, average, finest, 34c to 36c; first to extra first, 31c to 34c; western first, 30c to 32c; seconds, 26c to 29c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—Hogs Are Again Weak In American Markets.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—London cables are firmer, at 11c to 12⅝c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c to 10½c per pound.

Toronto Junction Live Stock.

TORONTO JUNCTION, Dec. 9.—Receipts of live stock at the yards were 90 carloads, composed of 1562 cattle, 7 hogs, 2370 sheep and 48 calves.

Exporters.

Prices ranged at from $4.25 to $5. Bulls sold at $3.50 to $4 per cwt.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots of Christmas cattle sold at from $5.25 to $5.75, and in two or three instances at as high as $6, $7 and even $9 per cwt. was quoted, but only one, two and three-cattle lots brought these high quotations.

Feeders and Stockers.

Good loads of Christmas heifers sold at from $4.75 to $5.25; medium to good, $4.50 to $4.75; common, $3.50 to $4.25; cows, $2.50 to $3.50; canners, $1 to $1.50 per cwt.

Milkers and Springers.

A limited number sold at $35 to $65 each.

Veal Calves.

Prices for veal calves ranged at from $4 to $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Export sheep sold at $3.75 to $4 per cwt.; lambs at $4.50 to $5.25 per cwt.

Hogs.

Gunns, Limited, reported the hog prices 25c per cwt. higher; selects, $5.25, fed and watered, and $5, f.o.b. cars at country points.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Dec. 9.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yard, west end market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Dec. 7, were 5093 cattle, 3228 sheep and lambs, 3238 hogs and 837 calves. The supply for local consumption this morning consisted of 2000 cattle, 1300 sheep and lambs, 900 hogs, and 400 calves. An easy feeling prevailed in the market for cattle and prices were fully ¼c per lb. lower than a week ago, which was attributed to the returned very unseasonable weather for the season of the year and the fact that supplies were much larger and in excess of the requirements of the trade, as the demand from both local and outside buyers was somewhat lighter on account of the mild weather and the approaching holiday offerings. The percentage of cattle on the market was larger than it has been for some weeks past, but still the supply of rough and inferior grades continues to be excessive, which tends to depress the market for the better stock. Cattle advices from Liverpool on Saturday reported trade in cattle fair, but noted no improvement in prices. The demand from exporters here is very slow, as they are buying all the stock they require for shipment from St. John, N.B., in the west. Choice cattle in this market sold at 4½c, good at 4c to 4¼c, fair at 3½c to 3¾c, common at 3¼c to 3½c, and inferior at 1½c to 1¾c per lb. There has been no further change in the condition of the market for sheep and lambs since this day week, but the feeling is still easy. The trade in sheep was slow with export stock quoted at 4c, butchers' at 3½c to 3¾c, and culls at 3c per lb. A fairly active trade continues to be done in calves and prices rule steady, with sales of choice stock at $12 to $15, good at $8 to $10, fair at $5 to $7 and common at $3 to $4 each.

A stronger feeling has developed in the market for hogs and prices since this day week have advanced 25c to 40c per cwt. This is not due to the slight advance in prices for Canadian bacon in the Liverpool and Bristol markets last week, but to the fact that supplies of dressed hogs brought forward have not been sufficient to fill packers' requirements. In order to increase receipts of live stocks they were obliged to bid up for them. A fair trade was done this morning and sales of selected lots were made at $5.75 to $6 per cwt., weighed off cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Dec. 9.—Cattle—Receipts, 4700 head; fairly active and steady; Christmas fancy, $5.50 to $6.00; prime steers, $5.50 to $5.75; shipping, $4.75 to $5.40; butchers', $4.25 to $5.25; heifers, $3.25 to $5; cows, $2.50 to $4.25; bulls, $2.75 to $4.50; stockers and feeders, $2.50 to $4.15; stock heifers, $2.25 to $2.75; fresh cows and springers, $2 to $3 lower, $18 to $54.

Hogs—Receipts, 25,500 head; fairly active; pigs, 40c to 50c lower, others 20c to 30c lower; heavy and mixed, $4.75 to $4.85; yorkers, $4.70 to $4.85; pigs, $4.50; roughs, $4.25 to $4.40; stags, $3.50 to $4; dairies, $4.75 to $4.85.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 27,000 head; good lambs active; common lambs and sheep lower; market easier; lambs, $5 to $6.25; yearlings, $4.75 to $5; wethers, $4.50 to $4.75; ewes, $4 to $4.25; sheep, mixed, $2 to $4.50; Canada lambs, $5.75 to $6.15.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Cattle—Receipts, estimated at about 22,000; market steady to 10c higher; steers, $3.90 to $6.00; cows, $2.65 to $4.25; heifers, $2.50 to $5; bulls, $2.60 to $4.60; calves, $3 to $7.75; stockers and feeders, $2.40 to $4.25.

Hogs—Receipts, estimated at about 60,000; market, 20c to 25c lower; choice heavy shipping, $4.30 to $4.40; light butchers', $4.50 to $4.70; light mixed, $4.55 to $4.60; choice light, $4.60 to $4.65; packing, $4 to $4.25; pigs, $4.20 to $4.50; bulk of sales, $4 to $4.50.

Sheep—Receipts, estimated at about 25,000; market weak to 10c to 15c lower; sheep, $3.50 to $5; lambs, $5.25 to $6.25; yearlings, $4.25 to $5.

Twenty national banks in Texas show 47 per cent of cash reserve, ten more than 65 per cent, and none less than 34 per cent.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
RAILWAY TIME TABLE

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.40 a.m.	8.25 a.m
	9.50 p.m.	5.38 p.m
		8.30 a.m
Port Hope and points east to Montreal and Boston
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago & West, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.20 a.m.	11.45 a.m
	5.33 p.m.	9.05 p.m
From Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Bowmanville and Port Hope	11.45 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stouffville, Uxbridge and Markham	10.05 p.m.	7.20 a.m
Lindsay Local	8.15 a.m.	9.10 p.m
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m.	8.30 a.m
	5.40 p.m.	1.50 p.m
	9.50 a.m.	8.30 a.m
Lakefield and Stony Lake	5.15 p.m.	12.30 p.m

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY
DEPART FOR EAST

Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa and Montreal	11.16 a.m. and 12.28 Daily ex. Sun. Daily
Indian River, Norwood, Havelock and Tweed	7.47 p.m., Daily

DEPART FOR WEST

Toronto, London, Chicago and New York	5.16 a.m. Daily
Toronto & Intermediate, North Bay, Winnipeg and Northwest	8.00 a.m. Daily ex. Sun
Toronto, Galt, London, Detroit and Chicago	6.48 p.m. Daily ex. Sun

SHORT LINE TO MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND
WINTER TIME TABLE
In effect December 9th, 1907

NORTHBOUND

	No. 1	No. 3
TORONTO	9.00 am	† 5.30 pm
WASHAGO	12.45 pm	9.00 pm
PARRY SOUND	3.10 pm

SOUTHBOUND

	No. 2	No. 4
PARRY SOUND	9.00 am
WASHAGO	11.25 am	6.45 am
TORONTO	3.00 pm	10.10 am

Observation-Dining Parlor Cars between Toronto and Parry Sound serving meals a la carte.
† Daily except Sunday.
OFFICES: All Stations, also Cor. King and Toronto and Union Station. Phone, Main 5179.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
$3.75
TO GUELPH AND RETURN
on account of
PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR
Tickets good going until December 13th. Valid for return until Monday, Dec. 16th.
When you travel by the
GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
You are assured of the best of everything that modern railway travel can offer
SMOOTH ROADBED FAST TRAIN
COMFORTABLE COACHES
Full information may be obtained from
W. BUNTON, City Passenger Agent
F. SANDY, Depot Ticket Agent
Or write Mr J. D. McDonald, D.P.A., Union Depot, Toronto

CANADIAN PACIFIC
WINTER FAIR
GUELPH
DEC. 9 TO 13, 1907
Return Tickets at
SINGLE FARE
FROM ALL STATIONS
Good going Dec. 7 to 13 Inclusive
Returning until and on Dec. 16
Children under twelve half fare
Tickets and all information from
W. McILROY, Canadian Pacific Agent, 343 George St., Peterboro
Or write C. B. FOSTER, D.P.A. Toronto

Private Greeting Cards

THE highly colored and lithographed Christmas Card in vogue a few years ago has passed away entirely.

IN place has come the much more appropriate Personal Greeting Card.

OF these the Review Office is showing a great many original designs.

YOUR order should be given immediately, while the selection is so complete.

SHOULD you desire a Card specially designed to your order, promptness is absolutely necessary.

The Review
HUNTER STREET
PETERBOROUGH

A Story of Absorbing Interest

The Rogue's March

By E. W. HORNUNG, author of "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," "Stingaree," etc.

CHAPTER XXI.

IT presently appeared that Tom had not traveled above a dozen miles toward the sea he fancied he had smelled at eighteen, but this he declined to believe until the gray man produced a tattered map and pricked out the positions with his book. Tom then gave in, but climbed into De Gruchy's saddle with incomplete convictions upon the point. The delirium of his famished flight still magnified both the time and the space which it had covered. Thinking of the murder done before his eyes and looking on these villains whom he had joined, he could half believe he was delirious still. The incredible thing was that in two more hours he would be back upon that hated spot whither he had sworn never to return alive.

But a man's fate was stronger than his will, as it seemed to Tom during that midnight ride when not care, but a very merciful sort of fatalism, sat behind the reckless horseman. Fatalistic he had felt before, but never with this result. Hitherto the feeling had only deepened his despair, whereas now it was his single solace. It consoled him for the horrors he had countenanced that night, it even nerved him for what deeds he must himself commit before the night was out.

In the law's eye he was a branded murderer as it was. He seemed destined to deserve that brand. He would kick no more against a fate so plain and so persistent. So he decided as he rode, too slowly for his spirit, to deliberate crime, for despite philosophy his one immediate longing was for a gallop to rekindle blood which the murder of De Gruchy had turned from fire to ice, and a greater comfort than he would have owned to himself came of his resolve to save and protect Peggy and Miss Sullivan from this ruthless crew. Otherwise he was one of them and would play his part. But he was not yet the villain he had hoped.

Objective details impressed him little at the time. And yet he was left with the very sharpest memories of floating gum trees and a drooping moon, of the masks they all put on and the battered top hat that Hookey wore above his, the pistols that they loaded and the brace of horse pistols handed to himself; the little conversation on the way, the startling of an old man kangaroo that shone an instant gray and glossy in the moonlight, then boomed and bounded into silence and the shades; of all such things, in fact, to the final plan of attack and division of villainy, made almost within sight of the devoted homestead.

At the time, however, though Tom listened (as he thought) attentively and was much consulted in the strength of his present knowledge of the place, he grasped very little beyond his own instructions. He was to show them the overseer's hut (the night watchman would already be on their side or dead), then he was to station himself beneath the great bell and to ring it furiously so soon as Ginger was hauled out and his hut set well on fire. Tom was also to answer to the name of Francisco and to affect a foreign accent, because the Italian's terrible reputation had been the best part of him.

The bell and the fire were calculated to tempt both Sullivans forth unarmed. At all costs those two were to be taken alive. "And then?" said the little man, poking Wall-eye in the ribs with his book.

"What then?" inquired Tom.

"We shall do unto them as we've all been done by."

"But you were never here yourself?"

"Next door to it," returned Hookey Simpson. "I was at Strachan's, and this old tyrant ordered me my fifties. We'll see how he likes them himself—just for a start."

"I wish it was Strachan's we were coming to," muttered Tom, with a flash of his former passion.

"It'll be his turn next."

"But when?"

"Tomorrow—if all goes well."

"Then you don't mean to stop at Castle Sullivan?" cried Tom, amazed.

"You'll see," rejoined Hookey, "and so shall I. There's no saying where I may stop with seventy convicts at my back."

Seventy convicts! That was the rough number at Castle Sullivan. Then what was this to which the little man was leading them? No petty robbery, after all! A grand rebellion instead! Tom's heart lightened at the thought. He gazed at the confident little man, looking more like a monkey dressed up as a highwayman and perched upon a horse, and he felt that he could have followed so spirited a leader with all the spirit he himself had left but for the thing that had been done before his eyes that night. There was no more, however, to be said. They were at the farm.

At the gate (not the gate of former scenes; this one lay east beyond the stables) all dismounted but the little general, who was to keep his saddle as generals do. The others led their horses to the stables, and, while Wall-eye stalled them, Tom showed Slipper and the black his old lair. Another convict had succeeded him as groom, and in a few moments young Brummy was dragged forth by Peter Pindar. So far from offering any resistance, however, the obliging youth at once put himself at the bushrangers' disposal. His zeal and enthusiasm augured well for the other seventy in the huts. Under his eager guidance the watchman, Roberts, was immediately captured in his sleep beneath the bell, whereupon that official joined the enemy with no more demur than Brummy. Indeed, he went the length of shaking hands with the supposed Italian and personally thanking him for having come at last.

Hookey on his horse cut this profession short and drove both prisoners before him toward the overseer's hut, which Tom had already pointed out. The latter was now left in charge of the bell rope, with a last order not to ring until the hut was well ablaze.

"I thought he was gov'nor?" Tom heard Roberts remark.

"The less you think the better," retorted Hookey. "But about this overseer of yours—a ticket of leave, I understand. True man, eh?" by which term Hookey meant its opposite.

"I doubt it," said Roberts.

"Then all the worse for him!"

Ginger's hut was but a few yards from the bell. Tom heard them enter and held his breath. The door was shut, and then he heard no more.

In the main building all was dark and still. He watched it keenly, with his ears, as it were, upon the hut behind. At last the door reopened, and he heard the striking of lucifers, accompanied by another sound, as of something being dragged from the hut. He looked round, and it was Ginger's bed. The overseer lay upon it, bound and gagged.

Tom drew a deep breath. He had expected worse.

Brummy and Roberts were now dispatched to the convicts' huts to tell the rest at the right moment what was happening and how they would all be free men within an hour if they abstained from interference, but dead men if they did not. Then the black crept up close to the palisade, while Hookey rode to one side and the other two hid behind trees. Meanwhile the overseer's hut was beginning to crackle, and all at once Tom saw the shadow of his tree leap out toward the palisade, upon a ground of glaring red.

"Ring! Ring!" cried Hookey from his horse.

Almost with his words a terrific clang, clang, clang, burst out from amid the red gum's leaves, and almost with the alarm a couple of white figures leaped out into the red glare behind the palisade.

Tom stood and watched like an actor who has forgotten he is on the stage himself.

He saw the white figures dash through the gate and a black one glide in front of it next moment. He saw Nat Sullivan stop running, seize his father's arm and point excitedly toward the burning hut. He saw them both about to turn when the son was lifted off his legs as though he had been an infant, and there were coal black arms entwined about his nightshirt and snow white teeth grinning over his shoulder. Hookey Simpson galloped up. Slipper and Wall-eye darted from behind their trees. All had pistols in their hands and masks upon their faces, and the masks reminded Tom that he was looking on through one himself and had no business to be a looker on at all.

He had vaguely wondered why the bell was still ringing. Now he let go the rope, and ran a step or two forward, but they were four to two without him, and the four were armed, and watch he must.

The Sullivans were being dragged or driven backward upon the palisade. Tom could make little of the swaying, struggling group, for Hookey Simpson brought up the rear on his horse, but through the animal's legs he had glimpses of fluttering calico and sparkling spurs as the glare grew more and more intense. It was now as light as day. Every board of the main building stood out in abnormal detail against the blackened sky, while the shadows of the palisade made a glowing gridiron of the yard within.

The scuffle was over. Something was happening that Tom could not see when a flake of redhot bark lit upon his ear. He was face about in time to see the roof of the burning hut tumble in and a column of clean flame spout high into the night. And there was the wretched Ginger writhing in his bonds within reach of the burning walls and with the flame of a fallen brand licking the very camp bed on which he lay.

This time Tom did not forget his part. He ignored it and had the overseer out of harm's way in a few seconds. In two more his mask was among the rest and his pistol pointed with the others at the two white figures that now stood side by side against the palisade, with torn nightshirts and clinched fists, defenseless, but still defiant.

"Now, look you here, my fine gentlemen!" exclaimed Hookey from his saddle. "If you've got any sense between you, let's see you show it. You'll only cut things shorter if you don't. What chance do you think you've got? Ah, it's too late to look that way now, you old fool!"

The doctor's eyes were on his convict huts; the men were pouring out of them pellmell. Hookey Simpson wheeled his horse and rode up to them with a magnificent air, dropping his reins to wave his battered chimney pot as if it were a general's cocked hat.

"My lads," cried he, "your kind master would call upon you to stand by him in his hour of need. Now's the time to show him your gratitude. Stop! Stop! Not all of you at once!" And with his horse he stemmed a rush of zealous spirits who explained themselves in chorus as they unwillingly fell back.

"Stand by him?" cried one. "Get at him, you mean! Only give us the word and we'll take him off your hands"—

"And cut his throat"—

"An' slit his juggler"—

"And Nat's after"—

"The bluidy tyrants!"

Hookey waved them back.

"Is there a single man who'll take the coves' side in the time of need? Let him speak now or forever after hold his mouth!"

Not a convict stirred.

"Then," said Hookey, "you leave the rest to us, and don't you interfere. You're dead men if you do, but free men if you stop where you are. Your blood be on your own heads!"

And he cantered back to the palisade with his chimney pot hat on the side of his head and the book stuck rakishly against his ribs.

Tom ran up to him and caught his rein.

"The women have got into the store—I saw the light—it's where they keep the guns—will you leave them to me?"

"No bloodshed, then; they're scarce!"

"I'll make them prisoners."

"And none of your larks just yet!"

Tom was gone. With a horse pistol in each hand, he dashed into the store and caught Peggy and Miss Sullivan in the act of lifting down the fowling pieces.

"Surrender!" he roared.

Miss Sullivan shrieked and hid her face. Peggy advanced.

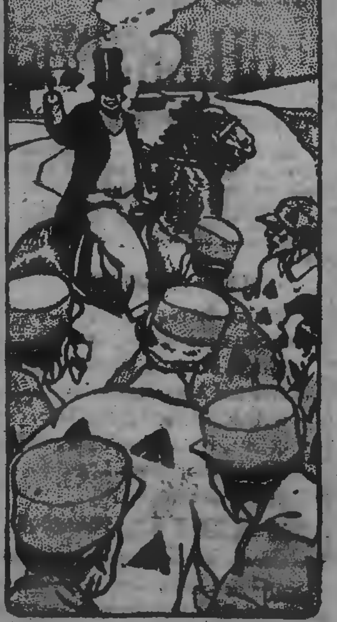
"Shoot a woman if you dare," said she. "'Tis me that dares ye!"

"Peggy!" he whispered.

"Tom!"

"I am here to save you both. Do as I tell you, and make her do the same. I'm here to save you both!" he repeated aloud. "There are horses in the stable. Come with me, and I'll put you on them. Undo those outer doors, Peggy."

He had said her name by accident. She gave him a warning glance. And now Miss Sullivan stood her ground steadfastly and, having recovered that mettle which was in the blood, refused to move until she knew what they were going to do with her father and brother.



"Don't you interfere. You're dead men if you do."

"Nothing at all," said Tom. "It's you they're after."

"Me, indeed!"

"The two of you," said Tom. "The men are all right, they've given in, but they'll carry off the women if they can, though not if I know it."

By this time Peggy O'Brien had unfastened the great outer doors at which the store drays could unload without entering the yard. In another moment Tom had both women out in the open, with the front west angle of house between them and the palisade. Even the burning hut was thus hidden from their view. Yet the voice of Hookey Simpson sounded dreadfully close.

"You shall lay it on yourselves!" he was shouting out. "Let the man who had the last fifty come forward and lay on the first."

"That's me," said Macbeth's voice. "Gi'e us the cat!"

There was none.

"Then the aul cove's cane."

Tom had seized Miss Sullivan by the arm.

"I don't stir!" she declared. "Not one step!"

"Then worse will come of it."

"But my father!"

"It's idle threats—they don't mean a word of it."

"Ah, miss, come on!" urged Peggy in an agony for Tom.

"She shall!" he muttered, with the nozzle of one pistol against the lady's neck. And so between them they got her to the back of the house and thence across the open space to the stables. As they ran Tom turned his head and just saw one end of a chain of ruddy convict faces, all horribly intent upon some unseen spectacle before the palisade.

The stable proper faced the open gate through which the bushrangers had ridden. Their saddled horses stood two in a stall, and Tom was backing out a couple when he discovered Peggy meddling with a third. He told her three would not be wanted.

"An' what about you?"

"I stay with my mates."

"Wid thim murtherin' vill'ns?"

"I'm one myself."

"Already?" she cried. "Tom, Tom"—

It was his turn to hold up a warning hand.

Miss Sullivan stood listening at the door, but not to them.

Tom listened too.

For some instants all was still.

Then a thwack, thwack, thwack, was greeted with a yell of savage joy, and Miss Sullivan was gone from the door.

"Let her go!" cried Tom, seizing Peggy's wrist. "I did my best for her. You, at all events, shall be saved."

"Not without you, Tom."

"Nonsense, Peggy! I must see this through."

"An' so must I, then."

With these words, she set her back to the open door. But there stood Tom, looking past and beyond her, as though he had not heard one of them. Presently a soft laugh came from his lips.

"All right, Peggy! You are safer than I thought. Look behind you."

The girl obeyed, and there, trotting two abreast through the open gate, were a score of troopers, with the glare from the still blazing hut reddening their whiskered faces, jeweling their spurs and gilding from hilt to point the waving sword of the lad who rode at their head.

Peggy stood aghast, with an amazement that left no room for thought. It was only when the cavalcade had swept close by and so out of sight at a gallop that she heard Tom speaking to her from a height. He had himself mounted one of the horses and was entreating her to stand aside and let him out.

And then she realized how the situation had reversed itself and how he was now the one to fly and gallop for his life. Without a word, she sprang out of his way. He clattered under the lintel and was gone. She came out to see him gallop through the open gate. He had already vanished, but not that way. He had dashed to the assistance of his rascally mates.

But a dozen shots had been fired already and blue wreaths were curling in the glare-like clouds at sunset. Wall-eye lay stretched upon his face. Slipper and the aboriginal were fighting desperately back to back, but both were wounded and their moments numbered. Troopers surrounded them; others were already endeavoring to restore order among the convicts, while one, a sergeant, was being dragged and bumped about with one foot twisted in his stirrup and his dead face smothered with blood.

Tom looked about for Hookey Simpson and found him on the verge of shaking off four troopers and the ensign. One saddle he had emptied with his pistol. As Tom came near he hooked the ensign out of his, but was within an ace of being dragged to the ground in doing so. The ensign's stock gave way and saved him. Ere he could recover himself a trooper took deliberate aim at the little man. Tom saw him, however, and fired point blank at the outstretched arm. It fell, and the next Tom knew was that he and Hookey were galloping neck and neck for the gate with but one pursuer close upon them.

Hookey had apparently received no hurt. The battered hat was off and his benevolent forehead rose high and white above his mask. It was to be Tom's last memory of the little gray man. He had thrown away one pistol, drawn another and turned to fire it with every furrow of that fine brow showing in the glare. But Tom heard the man behind fire first and saw those furrows leap into space like snapped fiddle strings, and he galloped through the gate alone.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. FOR HEADACHE. FOR DIZZINESS. FOR BILIOUSNESS. FOR TORPID LIVER. FOR CONSTIPATION. FOR SALLOW SKIN. FOR THE COMPLEXION

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Whether the slayer came to grief over the slain or how else to account for it, Tom never knew, but he now got a start which he was destined to keep and to increase. Now also he began for the first time to appreciate the piece of hard bitted horseflesh between his knees. He had taken the dead Italian's roan, which had been led riderless to the farm and was thus comparatively fresh. It was a great gaunt brute, with a mouth like leather, as Tom had discovered to his cost in the skirmish. Once through the gate, however, he felt that no more; the beast had run away without his knowing it.

Indeed he knew very little for the first few minutes except that the moon was setting at his back and he was once more heading for the sea. This he gathered from the grotesque shadow leaping along between the roan's ears. His first conscious effort was to keep that shadow dead ahead. Now he lost it where the timber thickened, now he found it in an open glade. At length the shadow failed and vanished, and it was very dark indeed, but on went the roan with Tom on its withers to avoid invisible boughs, and when the sky lightened he could have shouted for joy, for the roan's ears took shape against its lightest point.

He did not shout because his pursuers would have heard him, for all this time he had heard them at intervals, and whenever the ground changed from hard to soft their hoofs rang out the instant the roan's were muffled.

The joy of that wild ride through the gum trees to the sea! He forgot the little value he had set upon his life and rode for it now as men ride for nothing else. Yet he recked but little of the result. He knew no fears and no regrets, but instead an exhilaration such as he had never known before. It might be his last hour. He reveled in it the more—was the more grateful for it—on that account. To have tasted such life as this at life's end! To die after this with no more pain! To reach the sweet sea and swim out to rest!

And now he smelt it. The rushing air was spiced with salt. Even in the pungent forest he detected it through all the odors and was mistaken in that no more. Only one question remained in his mind. Would the roan hold out? Would the roan hold out?

Long ago the pace had slackened. Long ago Tom had stooped and ripped his big boots down to the ankles and cast them from him with all else that had been the Italian's. He was now riding a light ten stone in his shirt and trousers. His bare feet were numb from standing in the stirrups to ease the roan. But the trees had been rushing past in myriads half the night, and still they stood against the morning skyline, like blots of ink upon a slate, in myriads more.

On the other hand, he had heard nothing of his pursuers for some time and was beginning to wonder whether they had given up the chase. Their horses might well have started less fresh than his. Had they given it up or had they not?

Tom had asked himself the question for the twentieth time when something happened, and he had his answer sitting stupidly on the ground. The roan was disappearing amid the trees, with the saddle beneath its belly. Its startled gallop died away like the roll of a drum. But heavier hoofs were coming up behind.

Tom sprang up, but sat down again with a yelp of pain. His ankle was badly sprained. He felt for a weapon, but he had thrown them all away. Even his knife he seemed to have hurled after the long boots or left in a pocket of the blue jacket, which had been jettisoned in its turn.

He sat still and groaned. To have to surrender sitting still! What an end to his ride! What a beginning of the end of all!

The heavy hoofs came nearer, nearer. Three troopers labored into view, gave a yell and put spurs to their tired horses, but ceased to spur them when they saw their man.

"Why, who are you?" cried they.

"The man you want."

"I wish you were. You're all we shall get with these horses. But you must have heard him pass."

A light broke over Tom. He said he had heard it, but some time since, when it was darker and he was half asleep.

"And what made you think you were our man?" asked another trooper suspiciously.

"I—I—I'm a runaway convict."

"Then you're better than nothing," cried the former speaker. "You'll come with us. But the man we've lost is an Italian, and there's precious little of the Italian about you."

There was less than little. He had thrown everything away, but without a thought of saving his neck by so doing. Nor indeed had he saved it yet.

To be continued.

Ontario Was Asked.

Toronto, Dec. 9.—Premier Whitney denies that the appointment of an immigration agent-general from Ontario for London, had been considered or discussed by the Cabinet.

"When I was in England the people who are projecting the Strand buildings, expecting the Dominion Government to take offices there, asked me if we would also, which might imply the appointment of an agent-general, but nothing of the kind has been considered," Mr. Whitney declared.

Carmania Aground.

New York, Dec. 9.—The big Cunard liner Carmania, which became wedged fast on a soft mudbank across the New Ambrose Channel while leaving port yesterday for Europe, was floated into deep water at high tide last night by tugs and returned to quarantine apparently none the worse for her experience.

James Fleming is walking from St. Catherines to Guelph on a wager.

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited

97 Yonge Street, Toronto.

W. H. ISAAC, 228 Dublin Street, Peterborough.
Local Salaried Representative.
Machine 'Phone 22

FOR THE LADY WHO CALLS

Visiting List and Social Engagement Book —A Dainty and Useful Gift.

Those ladies who find it difficult to keep track of their social debts in the way of calls which have to be returned, invitations to various society functions which have been received will be pleased to learn that a dainty little book has been issued from the presses of the Review which will fill their need. The city has grown so rapidly of late years that it has become almost necessary for each lady to have a special reception day each month when her friends will be sure to find her at home. To keep a record of these will be an easy matter with one of these little books. They are prettily bound in blue linen, lettered in gold and printed on good paper. There are two pages for every day in the month, arranged, according as the day is, first Monday, second Tuesday, etc. At the back of the book are pages for invitations received, out-of-town addresses, special reception dates, and memoranda. One of the books would make a dainty and acceptable Xmas gift. The books are on sale at the bookstores at the price of 50c

SUBSCRIBERS PLEASE NOTICE

Readers, whose street number has been lately changed, will confer a favor if they will notify this office so that the correction can also be made on our list. tf

FIRE ALARM BOXES

The following are the numbers and locations of the city of Peterborough Fire Alarm Boxes.

BOX	LOCATION
	WARD No. ONE
13	Lock and McGill
14	Westcott and Aylmer
15	Perry and George
16	Perry and Bethune
17	Park and Townsend
18	George, at C. P. R.
	WARD No. TWO
21	George and King
22	Simcoe and Queen
23	George and Hunter
24	Hunter and Quaker
27	Water and McDonel
	WARD No. THREE
31	Park and Sherbrooke
33	Charlotte and Stewart
35	Park and Hunter
38	McDonel and Reid
	WARD No. FOUR
41	Park and London
42	George and Dublin
43	Edinburgh and Stewart
45	George and Smith
48	Water and Hilliard
	WARD No. FIVE
52	Burnham and James
53	Rogers and Sophia
54	Hunter and Mark
57	Concession and Hazlitt
58	Auburn

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the Ward number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

FOR XMAS WORK OR BAZAARS

Pictures in Sepia or Colors, from 3c to 12c

Mounting Papers and Card, in White, Browns and Gray.

Leather in all shades—Brown, Tan, Green and Red.

Calendar Pads, all sizes, from 2c to 10c each.

Passepartout in all shades.

AT REVIEW STATIONERY DEPT.

YOUR OWN HAIR MADE UP AS DESIRED . .

By home talent, where you are sure of satisfaction, or matche correctly in shade and quality.

Switches, Natural Wavy Pomp Latest Coiffures

Let us show you what we can do before you patronize some outside party. We guarantee to please you at lowest prices in the city.

Back Hair Dressing, Shampooing, etc.

MRS. BYRNE'S

George Street, Second Door North of Dutton's

Letterheads

¶What you think about you Business Stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks.

¶Don't have inferior paper and work in your Business Stationery. Don't try good work and paper because you like it, altogether, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

¶The Review Job Department will give you the best work obtainable and superior paper and envelopes. Your order set, printed and cared for for you, particularly you

¶A Call or Phone will bring to you samples.

THE REVIEW
PETERBOROUGH

W. H. HILL, Esq.,
Manager of Central Ontario.

Dear Sir—After congratulating myself being a Sun Life Policy Holder, I am very much pleased with the handsome amount added to my Policy, and am surprised and gratified with the profits. I appreciate the good financial position which your Company holds to-day.

THOS. EDGAR,
Peterborough, Ont

November 29th, 1907.

N.B.—Policy Straight Life $2,000
Bonus for 5 Years $160
Policy No. 17,706

LOOK Warne's Prices Patent Medicines are LOWEST YET.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, reg. 50c for	29c
Chase's Nerve Food, reg. 50c for	29c
Wampole' Tooth Paste, reg. 25c for	10c
10s Nox a Cold, reg. 25c for	15c
Gin Pills, reg. 50c, for	29c
Baby's Own Soap, for	8c
Cuticura Soap, regular 35c for	25c
Chase's Pills, reg. 25c for	15c
Dr. Williams Pink Pills, reg. 50c for	39c
Eclectric Oil, Thomas, genuine	18 1-2c
Electric Oil, other than genuine Thomas	9c

See our large assortment of Xmas gifts at cut rate prices.

W. B. WARNE
345 GEORGE ST. Phone 327

Xmas Photos

Send a family group or the children's photos to your friends at Christmas. Nothing is appreciated more than such remembrances, from

MENDEL'S STUDIO
374 1-2 George St Entrance next Oke's

Smoker Will be Held on Thursday

At Young Conservative Club Rooms—Good Programme

The first of the season's series of club smokers—which were so successful last year—will be given on Thursday of this week, the 12th inst., at 8 p.m., in the Young Conservative Club rooms.

For that evening the club has a most attractive programme. The late president, Mr. J. H. Burnham, has kindly consented to come down and give a reading from Dickens, "A Christmas Carol," and from Thompson-Seton's "Lives of the Hunted." There will be a good programme of songs. The public is cordially invited to attend.

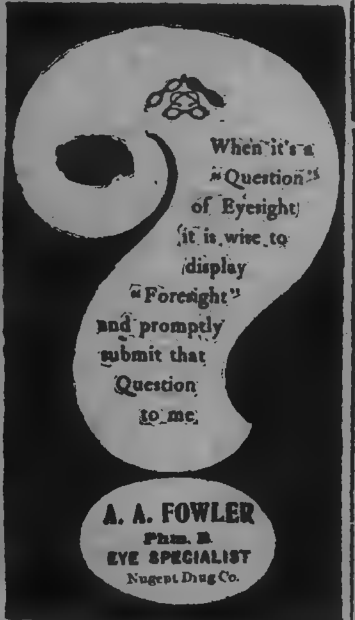
The Comet Was Photographed

Local Astronomical Society Receives Bulletin From Howard

Dr. Neal, secretary of the Peterborough section of the Royal Astronomical Society, has received the following bulletin from the observatory at Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass.:

"A cablegram has been received at the observatory from the astronomical centre at Kiel, stating that comet 1907A was photographed by Prof. Max Wolfe on December 4th. Right ascension, 3 hours, 23 mins, 40 secs.; declination 50 mins. 35 secs. Daily motion in right ascension, 3 mins. 16 secs.; daily motion in declination, 6 mins. 34 secs."

The above comet can be seen with a good telescope almost directly over Peterborough about 10 o'clock at night.



When it's a "Question" of Eyesight it is wise to display "Foresight" and promptly submit that Question to me.
A. A. FOWLER
Phm. B.
EYE SPECIALIST
Nugent Drug Co.

INTEREST PAID
QUARTERLY
—ON—
SAVINGS DEPOSITS of $1 and upwards
—THE—
BANK OF OTTAWA

Interest paid
February 28
May 31
August 31
November 30

PETERBOROUGH BRANCHES:
George Street, also Corner Rubidge and Townsend Streets

A. A. HOLLINGSHEAD, Mgr

Large Crowds at the Passion Play

Quartette Sang the Illustrated Hymn, "Rock of Ages"

In spite of the disagreeable weather, there wer every large crowds in attendance at the scenic reproduction of the Passion Play at the Crystal last night. It was most impressive, and the illustrations of the life of Christ were realistic and appealing. A quartette consisting of Misses Edwards and McKeever, and Messrs. Chandler and Johnston sang "Rock of Ages," the illustrated hymn. Their voices blended well, and they sang with much expression and in fine sympathy with the sacredness of the theme.

Xmas Crackers, Xmas Table decorations, Xmas Bells, see window display.
R. A. Dutton.

Annual Meeting of Rural Schools

Will be Held This Year on Thursday Dec. 26.

Annual school meetings in rural schools are usually held on the last Wednesday of December, but as that day this year is Christmas, there seems to be some doubt as to the day for meeting. Having been asked the question by several interested parties, and believing that there may be many others that are in doubt, the Review begs to quote for their information Section 14 of the Public Schools Act, which reads as follows;

"A meeting of the ratepayers of every school section shall be held annually on the last Wednesday of December, or, if such Wednesday be a holiday, then on the next day following."

The school meetings will, therefore, be held this year on Thursday, the 26th December.

At Leominster, Mass., the shirt factories of the Cluett-Peabody Company, employing 2,000 hands, have resumed work on full time.

A steam locomotive in a test in Clayton, New Jersey, made a fraction more than 99 miles an hour. A test of electric locomotives is soon to be made.

KID GLOVES
FOR THF
Gift-Giving Season

If you make your Christmas gift a pair of Kid Gloves you can rely on getting the finest qualities at ADAMS' TREFOUSSE and ROUILLON MAKE—EVERY PAIR GUARANTEED and boxed in a dainty fancy glove box, which will be greatly appreciated by the receiver.

OUR $1.00 KID GLOVE
Fine French Kid Gloves—Our leader, the PEERLESS, in all the newest shades, Tan, Brown, Gray, Navy, Green, Black, White Every pair guaranteed and boxed in a fancy glove box with the season's greeting per pair 1.00

OUR $1.25 KID GLOVE
Extra fine French Kid Gloves, "Aida" made from first choice skins, colors, Black, White, Gray, Brown, Tan, Dark Cardinal—Every pair guaranteed and boxed in a fancy glove box with the season's greetings, per pair 1.25

OUR $1.50 KID GLOVE
Finest real French Kid Gloves, "Pique Skin" "Trefousse Belmont" in all the newest shades—Every pair guaranteed and boxed in a fancy glove box with the season's greetings, per pair 1.50

LONG KID GLOVES
In the 12 and 16 button length Kid Gloves, we have the best values in the trade, colors, White, Black, Tan, Brown—Every pair guaranteed and boxed in a fancy glove box with the season's greetings, special at 2.75 and 3.00

LONG CASHMERE AND WOOLLEN GLOVES
are shown in all the popular shades, White, Navy, Cardinal, Gray, Black, Brown, extra fine qualities at 50c, 65c, 75c and $1.00.

Harry Adams

Cordial Reception Extended to the New Pastor and His Wife

St. Paul's Church Warmly Greets Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Pogue—Presentation to Rev. Dr. Marsh, Interim Moderator of Session and to Rev. Dr. Talling—Greetings From Ministerial Association—Memorable Occasion in the History of the Congregation,

Cordial in the extreme and most representative in character was the reception tendered by St. Paul's congregation last evening to its new pastor, Rev. Robert Pogue, and his amiable wife.

It was also the occasion of a farewell to Rev. Dr. Talling, of Toronto, who has so acceptably filled the pulpit for the past few months. As each person arrived he or she was introduced to the new pastor and his wife, who held a reception in the guild room. Afterwards the visitors were conducted upstairs, to the Sunday School room, where refreshments were served by the laides. There was a large corps of ready assistants, and no one had to wait. After the preliminary of an introduction to the new pastor and his fair partner, then the appeasing of the appetite, the visitors engaged in social converse for some time, and finally adjourned to the auditorium of the church, where shortly after eight o'clock, the choir took up its position, and Mr. R. E. Wood, the chairman, announced that the programme was about to begin.

During the evening presentations were made to Rev. Dr. Marsh interim moderator of session, to Rev. Dr. Talling, and to Mrs. Pogue. The choir sang an anthem, Miss Davies taking the solo part in an admirable manner. Mr. W. R. Norris contributed a solo, "Dream of Paradise," with fine effect, and in splendid voice. Miss Helen Davies sang "Come Unto Me" with great acceptance, and added not a little to the pleasure of the evening's programme.

REV. ROBERT POGUE
The New Pastor of St. Paul's Church.

Mr. Wood, the chairman, had associated with him on the platform Rev. Robert Pogue, Rev. Dr. Talling, Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville, and Rev. J. R. Webb, president of the Ministerial Association.

The chairman explained that they would like to have all the other city clergy present take seats on the platform, but, unfortunately, the room was limited.

Rev. Wm. Johnson, of Millbrook, offered the opening prayer.

The chairman explained that they had all met this evening for a threefold purpose—of bidding a hearty welcome to the new pastor, to say farewell to Rev. Dr. Talling, and to express their appreciation of Rev. Dr. Marsh, interim moderator of session.

THE WELCOME.

Sheriff Hall, who represented the office bearers of St. Paul's church, was the first speaker. He said that on November 2nd, 1834, the first Presbyterian church was organized in Peterborough, with Rev. J. M. Roger as pastor. In 1844 Mr. Roger and the session agreed to sever their connection with the Church of Scotland, and form the Presbyterian Church of Canada. St. Paul's church had had only two pastors, Mr. Roger, who was its minister for forty-three years, and in 1876 was succeeded by Rev. Dr. Torrance, who had spiritual charge of the flock for 31 years. The sheriff referred to the strong and powerful character of Rev. Mr. Roger and his sweet and lovely wife.

The office bearers of the church realized that while they had made many failures and mistakes, they they always had in view the best interests of the church. He spoke of the delightful associations they had had with Rev. Dr. Marsh as interim moderator. The doctor had been untiring in his efforts, and had rendered the office bearers great assistance.

He took pleasure in presenting Rev. Dr. Marsh with a purse of gold. As to the work of Rev. Dr. Talling, as permanent supply, the latter had come among them three months ago as a stranger; he left as an intimate, personal, warm friend of each office bearer.

Sheriff Hall also made graceful reference to the new pastor, Rev. Mr. Pogue and his estimable wife, and, at proper moment, Miss Marguerite Connal, the pretty little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Connal, stepped forward and presented Mrs. Pogue with a choice bouquet of flowers. Sheriff Hall, after dwelling upon Rev. Dr. Talling's splendid work in connection with the Bible Class, closed by remarking: "We welcome Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Pogue to our church and promise them our sympathy, our prayers and our co-operation."

Mr. G. M. Roger spoke next on behalf of the congregation, and its various organizations. He said that perhaps this reception was colored by selfishness, in expectation of the good things to come. The new pastor might disappoint the congregation, and the latter might disappoint the new pastor. It was impossible for a pastor to please everybody. He believed that Mr. Pogue had made a sacrifice in many ways in coming to Peterborough from a large city, and he believed that he was actuated by a sincere desire to minister to the spiritual needs of the people, and was imbued by the spirit of the Master. "We look forward to growth and profit and many blessings together."

ANOTHER PRESENTATOIN.

After referring appreciatively to the work of Rev. Dr. Marsh as interim moderator of Session and, Rev. Dr. Talling's capable work in filling the pulpit for the past three months, and particularly in reference to his splendid instruction in connection with the Bible class, Mr. Roger said that the class and a few friends felt that they must express some tangible appreciation of his service and they took pleasure in presenting Dr. Talling with thirty-three bound volumes of the Century Bible. The books were handed to the recipient by Mr. Josiah Robertson.

REV. MR. WEBB.

Rev. J. R. Webb, pastor of Murray street Baptist church, and president of the Peterborough Ministerial Association conveyed greetings on behalf of the latter body and warmly welcomed Rev. Mr. Pogue to the city. He referred to Mr. Pogue as an old friend of his boyhood days. He dwelt upon the spirit of church unity, which prevailed in Peterborough, where the congregations though worshipping apart, were in real unity. He referred to the character work and fidelity of Rev. Dr. Torrance and the beautiful spirit, strong manliness and Christian sympathy of Rev. Dr. Talling. Mr. Webb made several humorous allusions to Rev. Mr. Pogue, as a Canadian "coming home," and said that he believed he would have a long, useful and effective career as pastor of St. Paul's. He felt confident of the success of his work there, the blessing he would prove to the congregation, and the active support he would be to the Ministerial Association.

REV. DR. MARSH.

Rev. Dr. Marsh in returning thanks for the gift tendered him said that it was entirely unexpected. He had as interim moderator of Session done nothing more than his duty. He had good, faithful conscientious and devoted men to work with and one would not ask for more pleasant associations. He bespoke many good things for St. Paul's and believed they would do all they could to assist their new pastor. He also made an appreciative reference to Rev. Dr. Talling.

Rev. DR. TALLING.

Rev. Dr. Talling said that he had never served a congregation so uniformly kind as St. Paul's. He also thanked the people for kindnesses extended to Mrs. Talling during her brief stay here. He would always take a deep interest in the work of St. Paul's congregation. He referred to the faithful pastorate of Rev. Dr. Torrance, the agreeable association with Dr. Marsh and the sympathy and support received by himself, not alone from the people, but the Bible class as well. He cordially thanked them for the tangible appreciation of his efforts in the presentatrion made to him, an honnor quite unexpected, but very highly prized.

REV. J. R. WEBB
President of Ministerial Association Who Extended Greetings on Behalf of That Body

REV; ROBT. POGUE.

The new pastor, Rev. Robt. Pogue, was hte last speaker and he was given an enthusiastic reception. On behalf of Mrs. Pogue and himself he returned heartfelt thanks to all for the reception and the many kind things said. He felt that a difficult duty devolved upon him. The references of the different speakers to him had touched him deeply. He was also thankful for the warm greeting of the Ministerial Association. He had always endeavored to live in close fellowship with his brother ministers and he felt that he would get along well with them. High ideals had been set up for him and the sense of responsibility almost weighed him down, but with the earnest co-operation of all the office bearers and the people, he hoped that his pastorate would be fruitful and that many would be led to take hold of God. "I cannot adequately express," he concluded, "my thanks to St. Paul's for this hearty and cordial welcome. I fell in love with you at the first sight and, as the stream grows deeper and deeper as it flows, I trust that my affection for you will continue to increase and that as a pastor and people we may be richly blessed and, if ever I grow weary in the great and important work I have the consolation of knowing where I can obtain a good supply. I refer to Rev. Dr. Talling."

Dr. Talling was deeply touched by the reference and said that he would be glad at any time to return to St. Paul's church to act as a supply to a pastor and people whom he greatly beloved. The memorable gathering then broke up after the benediction had been pronounced by Rev. Dr. Talling.

The reception committee was composed of Mrs. Robert Hall, president of the Ladies' Aid Society, Mrs. T. G. Hazlitt, one of the oldest members of the congregation, Mrs. W. M. Roger, Mr. G. M. Roger and Mr. Richard Hall.

EMPLOYED BOYS HOLD A BANQUET

Jolly Time is Spent—Plans for Season are Outlined

The intermediate class of employed boys of the Y.M.C.A. held a successful banquet last night. There was a large number present and a pleasant time spent by all. Dr. J. E. Middleton occupied the chair, and after the good things provided by Caterer C. E. Coleman, were stowed away by the boys, the chairman briefly stated the object of getting the boys together, and asked the secretary, Mr. H. C. Wright, to explain the plans for the work this winter.

The first thing proposed was a weekly tea at 6.30 p.m. on Thursday, for which each person was to pay 10 cents, and a Bible class to follow immediately after, to last not longer than twenty or thirty minutes, and to be conducted by Dr. Middleton.

Sixteen boys signified their desire to join the class and come each week for tea. A few of the boys who could not get here in time for tea promised to come for the Bible class.

It was also proposed to have a social evening on each Tuesday evening, with something of special interest each week, this to be under the supervision of Mr. C. E. Sisson, and to be held in the junior rooms in the basement. Much interest was shown in this plan and was heartily endorsed by the boys.

It was decided to hold the first tea and Bible class next Monday evening, Dec. 16th, at 6.30 p.m., and the second one to be on Dec. 26th, and each Thursday after.

The following officers of the club were elected unanimously;—
President—Bert Gillespie.
Secretary—Percy Stock.
Treasurer—Mitchell Hart.

WAS REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

Question of Fixing up New Public Library Premises

The matter of fitting up the new premises on Simcoe street for the Public Library was referred to the Property Committee at the meeting of the City Council last night:—

Ald. Stevenson moved, seconded by Ald. Morrow, that the Property Committee report on some practicable plan for converting the building donated by the Nicholls estate for Public Library purposes into suitable premises, and that they meet the Mechanics Institute Board to discuss the matter.—Carried.

"It's Confidence That Does It"

WHITE & GILLESPIE

TO HOUSEKEEPERS:

Another Christmas will soon be here We can assure Housekeepers of both city and country that we are now ready to provide them with an abundance of the good things necessary for Christmas baking and cooking at enticing prices.

NEW FRUITS

Raisins, Currants, Figs, Prunes, Dates, Candied Peel, Extracts, Syrups, Molasses, Shelled Walnuts and Almonds, Sauces, Pickles, Spices, Sugars, Teas, Coffees, Flour, Biscuits, Cheese, Prime Butter, Fresh Eggs, Breakfast Cereals, etc.

336 GEORGE ST. Phone 208

ESTABLISHED 1873

UNDERWEAR BARGAINS
- - - - AT - - - -
LeBRUN'S

The cold weather did not catch us napping. We have laid in the largest stock of Underwear we ever had and are reducing the prices in every line to make quick selling.

SCOTCH WOOL, NATURAL WOOL, SILK and WOOL, WOLSELY HYGIENE FLEECE LINED

All sizes for men and boys, as high as 50 inches, and at prices, ranging from

25c to $3.50 per garment

Also FLANNELL SHIRTS, all colors, Blue, Black and Gray, with or without collars, are reduced in price.

Cardigan Jackets and Heavy Sweaters at close prices.

H. LeBrun & Co.
Two Entrances George and Hunter St.

The government will send agents to England to advocate the advantage of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick for immigrants.

Photography

Amateur Supplies, Cameras, Souvenir Books, Post Cards and all kinds of high-grade Photography at W. G. LENDRUM'S, 170 Charlotte St. Agent for the celebrated Haintzman & Co's Pianos

PIANO, HARMONY, Etc.

ALFRED DAVIES
Teacher of Piano, Harmony, etc. Pupils prepared for all examinations. 106 McDonnel St., Bell Tel. 463, P.O. Box 592 3m

Porter's Delicatessen

CUT RATE GROCERY STORE

Black Tea, 3 lbs	.50
Select Raisins 3 lbs	.20
Cooking Figs, 4 lbs	.25
Mince Meat, 3 lbs.	.20
Dates, 3 lbs.	.25
Washing Soda, 3 lbs.	.05
Tomatoes, per tin	.10
Beans, Peas, Corn, per tin	.08
3 bottles Pickles	.25
3 bottles Ketchup	.25
Cross Fish Brand Sardines 2 tins for	.25
Potatoes, per pk	.15
Apples, per pk	.10

XMAS CHEER
CENTRAL LIQUOR STORE
141 HUNTER STREET

Brandies, Port and Sherry Wines, St. Augustine, Native Port, also the highest grade Scotch Whiskies to be found in Peterborough.

Something good in Rye, namely:—
MITCHELL'S SPECIAL RYE WHISKY
Quality the best in Peterborough and a little better.

Remember the place
The Old Reliable Liquor Store
F. J. R. MITCHELL

COMMON SENSE GIFTS

If you want to make two families genuinely happy this holiday season, try giving the old cook stove that has given you years of service, to some needy household, and present the good wife with a

PANDORA RANGE

You will thus make two homes happy, especially your own' where the great comfcrt of using the Pandora Range will be greatly appreciated.

ADAMSON & DOBBIN
NEW BRICK BLOCK—SIMCOE STREET

THE DAYLIGHT STORE

DOLLARS FOR YOU
At Our Own Money-Saving Sale

There are dollars waiting for you here. Come in and get them. We'll cut them off the prices of our Clothing and Furnishings.

The wise man who has his eye on his pocket book will now get busy and buy all the wearables he can use. Don't wait too long. This Sale will soon end.

MEN'S SUITS of fine English and Scotch Tweed, beautifully lined in both single and double-breasted style, were up to $14 and $15, for 11.90

MEN'S OVERCOATS—Heavy English Overcoatings in Kersey and Tween, with wool and Italian linings; worth $12 and $13, for 9.90

MEN'S UNDERWEAR in heavy all wool, double-breasted, worth regular $1.00, for 69c

Braces, Gloves, Hosiery, Ties, Handkerchiefs, etc., all at bargain prices.

There's a constant flow of bargains from our great sale. Now is the time to clothe up every member of the family, large or small. Remember it is always "Money back if you want it" when you buy here.

LANG & MAHER,
CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW
409-411 George St., Peterborough

FALL AND WINTER COATS

An Exhibition of Fashionable Models

This assemblage of Women's Coats for Fall and Winter authoratatively represents the newest fashionable effects in outer garments. They are tailored in a faultless manner—perfectly cut and fitted, giving a decided modish appearance. The materials are new, plain cloths, velvets, caraculs, fancy mixtures. Excellence of quality abounds in all other fabrics.

Embraced are imported models and the latest and newest Canadian effects. Individual beauty characterizes each garment. The charm of these Coats is enhanced by the unusual lowness of their prices. We trust you will ascertain in person the excellence of these offerings.

CLOTH COATS

High-grade imported models of extra fine quality Broadcloth in black and colors. Navy Blue, Brown and Green. Principally the seven-eighth length, tourist style. Some are semi-fitting, others fitted, stitched strapping of sel forming panels back and front. Others with fancy braids and full ripple skirt. Splendid value at $15, $18, $25, $30, $40

VELVET COATS

Handsome three-quarter length imported models; full ripple back, trimmed with silk braid down the front and back; lined throughout with fine quality black satin. Extra special value at $35.00

CARACUT COAT

New three-quarter length models; also short pony effect with trimmings of broadcloth straps and braid on collars and cuffs; large kimona sleeve. These garments must be seen to be appreciated. Prices from $15.00 up to $35.00

TWEED COATS

All the latest and newest effects in Tweed coats, ⅞ lengths, broad shoulders full backs, splendidly tailored and trimmed with self strappings; new full sleeves. Special value at $15.00 up to $25.00

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED

353 AND 355 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

STORE OPENS AT 8 A.M. CLOSES AT 6 P.M., EXCEPT SATURDAY

FOR FINE

Lemons, Oranges Malaga Grapes Bananas

and all kinds of fruit and vegetables try

MINOCOLO BROS.

Wholesale and Retail.

Both Phones 337.

FRAMED VIEWS

In COLORED SEPIA and BLACK : : : :

FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

THE ROY STUDIO

Ask for Roy's Famous Souvenir Post Cards

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

	Opening	Closing
Amal. Copper	46⅝	46⅞
Atchison	71⅞	71
B. R. T.	40	38¼
Can. Pacific x div.	148½	148½
Erie	16	15⅞
Louis. & Nash.	93¼	93
Mo. Pac.	51½	51⅝
N. Y. Central	96⅝	97
Penna	113	112¾
Rock Island	14⅛	14⅛
Reading	92¼	90¼
Smelters	69	69¼
Sugar	104¼	102
St. Paul	108¼	101⅛
So. Pac.	73¾	72
Union Pac. x-div. 2½	116	115¼
U. S. Steel	25⅝	25⅝
do. pfd.	87	87
Twin City	81	81
McKay	53⅜	53
Nipissing	6¼	6⅛
Wheat	100	99¼
Corn	54⅜	55⅛
May Oats	53½	52¾
Pork	12.70	12.92

THE CITY AND VICINITY

EVENTS TO-NIGHT

"Crystal"—Passion Play.

George street parsonage. —Ladies' Aid "At Home."

City Hall.—Children's Aid Society public meeting at 7.30.

C.M.B.A.—Election of officers

NOTHING DOING.

There was nothing doing in police court this morning. A moral wave must surely have struck the city.

CHRISTMAS CAKE.

Best of fruit, choicest of flavorings and perfection of baking, makes Elliott's Christmas cake the finest to be had. Leave orders now. Iced as desired. dtf

AN OPPORTUNITY.

Do you need help, male or female? Have you rooms to let, house to rent or sell, or are boarders wanted? Have you anything to sell and can't find a buyer? Try a Review want ad. it will go everywhere at trifling cost.

MAKE CALENDARS.

Why not make calendars? They are pretty cheap and always acceptable. We have pictures in sepia and colors, fancy embossed cards and dainty calender pads in many designs. See them at the Review office. 3d

FEW TRUANTS.

Truant Officer Cochrane reports that the attendance at both the public and separate schools is very regular. "There has not been a case of truancy reported to me for two weeks," remarked the officer today.

TRADES AND LABOR

The regular monthly meeting of the Trades and Labor Council will be held tomorrow night. Officers for the year will be elected and other important matters will come up. Every member should be in attendance.

A FLOWERY WELCOME.

At the Bridge Street Methodist Sunday School, Belleville, on Sunday last, each class brought gifts of cut flowers and presented them in honor of the birthday of the pastor, Rev. J. P. Wilson, who is a former of George Street Methodist church, Peterborough. Mr. Wilson made an appropriate reply to the floral greeting.

FINE PICTURE FRAMING.

New mouldings, good work, reasonable prices. J. M. GREENE Music Co., George street. dtf

CHARITY BOARD

The Central Charity Board held a short session last night when routine business was transacted.

FUR LINED COATS

We clean and press them and guarantee no injury to the fur. My Valet, 204 Charlotte street. All goods called for and delivered. dtf

MEETING POSTPONED.

The meeting of the W.A.A. Reading Circle which was to have been held to-night will not take place until January 8th, at the Y.W.C.A.

GIFT TO SHELTER.

The officers of the Children's Aid Society desire to thank Miss Watt of the post office, for the donation of a single bedstead and mattress for the new shelter.

TAKE NOTE

Of our fine line of Violins, Mandolins, Guitars, etc. Some excellent values, and within easy range for the Xmas trade. Special prices to Old Santa Claus. J. M. GREENE Music Co., Grand opera house building. George street. dtf

SHOT IN LEG.

C. Howard, a young man residing near Crookston, Ont., was accidentally shot in the leg, while hunting near Millbridge, north of Belleville. The unfortunate young man was in company with a party of deer hunters, who were examining their rifles before entering the woods, when in some unaccountable way one of the guns was discharged, the ball entering Mr. Howard's leg below the knee, shattering the bone, and tearing the flesh terribly. He was taken to Belleville Hospital on the morning train, where it is feared it will be necessary to amputate the leg at the knee.

CALF SHOOTING CASE

Recently James B. Aylesworth laid a complaint before Justice Wood that he had lost two valuable calves, both having been shot, and he was informed that two young lads, Arthur Cox and Malcolm Broadworth, were the guilty parties. Young Cox was in Belleville and was brought to Madoc. When confronted before the Magistrate both parties charged the other with the act and positively denied their own culpability. After trying to decide which was the guilty party, Mr. Aylesworth withdrew the case, as he said he did not care to prosecute Broadworth, whose father was seriously ill, and so the matter stands. The Magistrate warned that if any further cases occurred in which either were implicated there would be a strong suspicion against them as matters now stood.—Madoc Review.

PERSONAL

Mr. E. Moynes, Peterborough, was in town on business today.—Lindsay Post.

Mrs. H. P. Kennedy, of Aylmer street, will not receive until after the new year.

Miss Nina Sherin, of Lakefield, who has been the guest of Mrs. H. P. Kennedy, returned to Lakefield yesterday.

Mr. D. Hughes Charles, entertained about forty gentlemen friends at his home last night. A most enjoyable time was spent.

Mrs. (Dr.) Neal, 314 Rubidge street, will not receive tomorrow, but after the New Year, she will receive on the first and second Wednesdays of each month.

Mr. D. J. Moher, Patterson street, received a telegram today conveying the sad news of the death of his brother-in-law, Mr. John J. Moloney, formerly of Peterborough.

Mr. Bert. McCollum will probably leave for Cuba in the immediate future and may be accompanied by Messrs. M. Lowry and C. Chowen. He left for Toronto this morning and it is not known whether he will return befor leaving or go direct from there to the sunny isle. His brother Robert has large plantation interests in Cuba.

AMUSEMENTS

DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON HALL.

The Grand Opera House has had no better attraction this season than "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," which was presented to a large audience last night. Probably no romantic drama has ever had a more talented or artistic interpreter than Miss Bianca West, who plays the part of Dorothy Vernon. Her acting at all times was above criticism and won enthusiastic applause from the audience. The supporting company could hardly be improved upon, each role being portrayed in a manner that left nothing to be desired.

"Dorothy Vernon, of Haddon Hall," is by the same author as "When Knighthood was in Flower," Paul Kester. The time of Elizabeth's reign in England marks the passages of the play, and all the grand dames and court gallants of her time figure in the play, as does her beautiful, but unfortunate cousin, Mary, Queen of Scots. The plot is one of absorbing interest and has many strong situations

The production was gorgeously mounted, both as regards costumes and scenery.

Thrown From His Buggy on Geo. St.

At the corner of George and Hunter streets this morning, an old man was thrown out of his buggy violently to the ground. The horses got tangled in some wire, utilized by the Bell Telephone Company in their work on George street, causing a sudden jolt. As a result the occupant of the vehicle was given a bad fall, but fortunately was not seriously injured. He was soon able to proceed on his way.

SANTA CLAUS ON HIS WAY TO ROUTLEY'S

STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING

Goods are Pouring in--Our customers are Now Buying for Xmas

300 Dressed Dolls, reg. 25c, choice	.14
375 China Tea Sets, regular 50c	.25
25 Crokinole Boards, regular 1.25	.59
60 Leather Case Silk Lined Ebony Manicure Case, regular 2.50 for	1.50
20 only Military Brush Sets, Stirling Silver Mounted, regular 1.25 pair for	.74
1 cases Children's Plated Knife, Fork and Spoon, with pearl handles, reg. 2.00	1.24

You will find that our clerks are attentive and that prices are reliable. We watch closely our buying as we know goods well bought are half sold already

TORONTO 262-4 QUEEN W ROUTLEY'S PETERBORO' 379 GEORGE ST

A PASSING INCIDENT

An incident came up at the city council meeting last night which is worth more than a passing notice. It appears that during the past summer, Mr. William Davidson, Dickson street, put in a sewer connection at his house and made a deposit with the city treasurer of $20, which is the usual course in such matters. Mr. Davidson also declares that he first obtained permission from the city engineer to go ahead. The sewer was put in, and it seems that Mayor McWilliams refused to sanction the return of the cheque. Mr. Davidson then applied to the council to have the rebate made, and that body granted his request, although His Worship opposed such action, on the plea that he wanted the matter referred to the Board of Works. After the regular session, the Mayor called another session on a "personal matter," and said that the action taken previously in deciding to refund the money to Mr. Davidson was "a slap in the face." He pleaded that the dignity of the chair had received a jolt. Some of the aldermen then went back on their former decision, and decided to refer the question to the Board of Works.

Mr. Davidson, as already stated, declares he had permission from the city engineer to go ahead before opening up the street for the construction of the sewer. The Mayor contended last night that in his course and the determined fight that he made to gain his point, he was not actuated by "personal motives whatever." What, then, animated him?

WHY THE DELAY?

It is assuredly time that a convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of West Peterborough was held to nominate a candidate for the House of Commons.

It has been deferred on one pretext and another far too long. For what reason it is difficult to tell. Is there any valid excuse for delay? The question has been hanging fire for some weeks now and still no definite action appears to have been taken. Other constituencies knowing full well that there will be a general election immediately after the present session of parliament, are placing their men in the field, but not a single forward move appears to have yet been made in this riding.

In the last federal election victory was secured by the Liberals solely owing to the fact that the Conservative standard bearer did not take the field until the eleventh hour.

Is the mistake of 1904 to be repeated? Cannot the experience of the past be made to serve as a useful and timely lesson? The Review has no axe to grind, no favorite to play and no sinister motive in view in advocating that a convention be called at once.

It has merely the best interest and welfare of the party at heart and a firm belief that if an able and aggressive candidate is put in the field at once, West Peterborough, during the next contest will be redeemed, the error of four years ago rectified and that this constituency once more will line up on the side of good, honest, efficient and clean government.

Then again Mr. R. L. Borden, on the occasion of his recent visit here, strongly urged that a standard bearer be placed in the field without delay. Is the admonition of the Conservative leader to be followed or is it not? This is the question of paramount importance and here are Mr. Borden's words as recorded in his address in the Grand opera house in September last:

Refering to the last general elections, he said "the Conservative leaders had expected that the two Peterborough ridings would return Conservative members, but in this they were disappointed. The party had been defeated, and the defeat was probably not due to popular sentiment, but owing to lack of organization, and delay in getting candidates in the field. 'Let us remember,' said the leader, 'that if these things did exist they must be removed. Have your candidates in the field early, and have your preparations for the election made plenty of time in advance. See that your methods are clean, however, and that nothing is done that will not stand the closest scrutiny. With the platform we have and clean methods and perfect organization, methods and perfect organization we test."

NEW PRESIDENT WAS ELECTED

Interesting Meeting of Charlotte St. Epworth League

At the meeting of the Charlotte Street Epworth League last night, Dr Neal gave a splendid paper on "The Effect of Alcohol on the Stomach." A large number were in attendance, and the meeting was an unusually interesting one.

Dr. Neal handled his subject in a very comprehensive manner, and was listened to with deep interest.

A new president for the league was elected last night to succeed Mr. Horsley, who has left the city. Mr. Goodwin was elected to the position.

The Republican National Convention of 1908 will be held in Chicago, June 16th.

If You Suffer From

Headache

Zutoo Tablets Will Cure It.

The tablets cure my headaches so completely that I don't mind having them any more.

ANSON A. GARD,
Litterateur (Wandering Yankee),
Ottawa, Ont.

Delicate women have in your remedy something they can use with satisfaction.

MRS. THOS. PATRICK,
Bulwer, Que.

The editor of the Chronicle keeps a box in his desk and can testify from personal experience, that they do what is claimed for them.

L. E. CHARBONNEL,
Ex-GrandMaster Grand Lodge, I.O.O.F.,
Cookshire, P.Q.

They are Harmless as Soda.

Second Hand Stove Bargains

—AT—

BARRETT'S

Why pay $30 for a Heater or $40 for a Range when you can buy either for $5 to $15 at Barrett's Second Hand Store.

187 Simcoe St. next Cavanagh's

BROCK ST. RINK

SEASON 1907-8

Tickets for the season entitling the holder to all skating privileges, now on sale at the Examiner Office, Peterborough Bookstore, Sanderson & Co., F. A. Clarke's, Best Hardware Co., the Secretary, C. G. Graham, at the Oriental Hotel.

Gentlemen	3.00
Ladies	2.00
Youths, 16 to 18	2.00
Boys under 16	1.50
Girls	1.50

Nothing makes a better Christmas gift for your boy or girl than a Season Ticket for the Brock Street Rink.

The Boys Should be Looked After

Peterborough, Dec. 10, 1907.

To the Editor of the Review,

Dear Sir,—What is to be done to demolish the various "shacks" in the city, and save the young boys who frequent them from vice and degradaion, and possible ruin? The question is a serious one, and cannot be lightly turned aside with the excuse that the young fellows are simply having a little innocent amusement, and that no harm will result from their frequent gatherings at these shacks. Most pernicious practices are being carried on by the boys who assemble there, and among various forms of amusement are gambling and drinking. Other practices of a vicious character are also indulged in.

In many cases the frequenters of these juvenile dens are becoming almost incorrigible, and in some cases the parents are to blame. Not by any means because they want to see their children go on the downward path, but on account of the fact that they do not realise the danger, and because they are altogether too lax in enforcing their powers of paternal discipline.

The matter is one that should be looked into as soon as possible. I think it would be a good idea if the police would do what they could in this matter. Surely they have the authority to cleanse the city of such places.

Yours truly,
ONE WHO IS INTERESTED.

PETERBOROUGH RAG AND METAL COMPANY

Prepared to pay the highest market price an will give a square deal for Scrap Iron, Rags, Rubbers, Wool Pickings, etc. Don't sell before you see them. Call up Phone 694

YARD AND OFFICE:
COR. SIMCOE and BETHUNE, West

D. FLORENCE & SON

ALL THINGS ARE NOW READ

GEORGE R. RECORD

PRACTICAL

FRENCH DRY CLEANER AND PRESSER

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments and Household Articles cleaned and guaranteed not to fade color or shrink any material. Charges moderate. Goods called for and delivered. Telephone 669.

NEW BRICK BLOCK, 173 SIMCOE ST.

Only Complete Dry Cleaning Plant In City

SAVE YOUR FURS AND FUR-LINED COATS

by having them cleaned by the

FRENCH DRY CLEANING

process, which kills all moths and does not injure in the slightest, the finest furs. This is very important at this season, and may mean the saving of the expense of buying new furs. None too fine for the process.

Dyeing, Cleaning, Pressing, and Reparing promptly and thoroughly done at

PARKER'S DYE WORKS

R. M. BEACH

PROPRIETOR.

Phone 250 177 Charlotte St

LADIES, CUT THIS OUT

Dr. Cristion's

FRENCH TOILET ARTICLES

Have been placed on sale with

Miss E. Smith

567 GEORGE STREET

MANICURING, SHAMPOOING SCALP TREATMENT and FACIAL MASSAGE SKILFULLY DONE

Appointments made. Mach. Phone 13

Money is Not Tight

On some of the property propositions we can offer you. We have some pretty locations where situation, price and terms are all to suit. Low priced houses, some of them brick and on good lots, $850 up

$1,000—Village store near the city, no competition. A good thing.

$1,600—Large modern, good looking brick house, south, city.

$2,300—Very profitable apartment house renting to small families.

$1,800 and $2,350—Nice brick house, modern conveniences, well situated.

$3,000—Brick dwelling, stable, etc.; also some building lots. Just suit a retired farmer

$2,350 to $4,800—Beautiful residences on Gilmour, Homewood Ave., Weller, King, Water Sts, etc.

If you are thinking of going West we can show you something good in lands in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, with return ticket for selection trip. Farms for sale. Houses to rent.

BELL & TAYLOR

Real Estate. Fire Insurance

Office—376 Water Street.

Office Phone—498B House Phone 547B

HOCKEY SKATES

From 75c to $5.00

Skates repaired and sharpened. General machine work.

METHEREL'S CYCLE WORKS

225 Hunter Street

ESTABLISHED 1879

J. R. HEINTZ & CO.

STOCKS, GRAIN, COTTON, COFFEE

J. N. BARBER, Manager

Phone 529

THE DOMINION BANK

PAYS SPECIAL ATTENTION TO

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY

JOHN CRANE Manager

Corner George and Simcoe Sts.

At F. C. Cubitt's

Book, Stationery and Fancy Goods Store, 370 George St.

You will find the best and largest assortment of Fancy Papeteries, suitable for Christmas Presents at prices to suit all. Also the NEWEST and best selected line of Christmas Goods ever offered in Peterborongh.

AGENTS FOR "HOME JOURNAL"

A New Ladies' Journal Only 50c a Year

"CUBITT SELLS CHEAP"

IT IS A FACT

That we have the finest stock of Skates, Sticks and Hockey Supplies in the city.

BANK'S SKATE STORE

Under the Market Clock.

Paper on the Life of Dr. Livingstone

Read Before Knox Church Young People Last Evening

A missionary meeting of Knox Young People's Society was held last evening, when a fairly large number were present. After devotional exercises by Mr. Carruthers, Mr. D. Campbell read a paper on the life of Dr. Livingstone. The essay was a very comprehensive one, tracing the great hero's life to the age of 21 years, when he was called to Africa to engage in mission work. Mr. Parker gave a brief account of Dr. Livingstone's explorations and discoveries.

A collection was taken for missions, after which the meeting closed with prayer by Rev. H. J. Keith.

Was Injured in Lively Runaway

Last Tuesday as Mr. Robt. Johnston was driving near Mount Lorch, his horse took fright and ran away. His brother, Mr. Walter Johnson, was thrown in such a way as to break his arm. The cutter was dashed to pieces by the frightened animal. Mr. Johnston's arm was set and he is now doing nicely.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Death of Mr. Wm. Carter of Otonabee Aged 84 Years

Special to the Review.

Keene, Dec. 9.—The death occurred at 4 p.m. today of Mr. William Carter, a well known resident of this village, who passed away in his eighty-fourth year, after several months' illness. Death was due to a general breakdown of the system, caused by extreme age. The deceased was a lifelong resident of the township, living most of his life on his farm near Jermyn, removing to Keene a few years ago. His wife and one son, William, of Edmonton, Alta., survive him. Arrangements for the funeral at the time of going to press have not been made but it will probably be held Wednesday.

WANTS LIGHTS IN DARK PLACES

Ald. Morgan Wants Lights Placed in Dark Alleys—City Council in Session

The City Council met in committee of the whole last night and afterwards went into regular session. Several important matters came up before them. Those present were Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Elliott, Leary, Bradburn, Morgan, Duncan, Wilson, McIntyre, Morrow and Phalen.

BY-LAWS PASSED.

The following by-laws passed their several reading last evening.

By-law 1349, providing for a granolithic sidewalk on Dixon street.

By-law 1350, providing for snow ploughing for winter of 1907-08.

By-law 1351, providing for a sewer on Dixon street.

A by-law appointing the deputy returning officers for the several polling sub-divisions was passed.

A by-law authorizing the laying out of a certain street to be called Princess street, was carried.

SMITH STREET BRIDGE

Ald. Leary thought that the present council should consider the building of a new bridge over the Otonabee at Smith street. He thought Otonabee at Smith street. He thought that the bridge was in a bad condition and the council should take immediate action. No definite steps were taken.

DARK ALLEYS OF THE CITY.

Ald. Morgan moved that eight dark lanes in the centre of the city, which he named, be lighted. He said that rowdyism would be put an end to by doing this. Drunken men are often lying in these dark places and the policemen say that where it is now necessary for two officers to patrol a laneway, if they were lighted only one need go through them. It would not be very expensive and it would only require eight incandescent lights. The matter was referred to the Fire, Water and Light committee.

MODERN SURGERY.

Its Minute and Elaborate System of Sterilization.

The scene at an operating table in one of our hospitals now would make one of the old masters of surgery stare. The operator himself and all his staff are dressed like the old holy priests of Solomon's temple, wearing white caps and gowns, with the nurses standing around like priestesses all in spotless white, while every one about the table has gone through as many ablutions as befits the occasion of a bloody sacrifice under the auspices of the immaculate goddess of cleanliness. A minute and elaborate ritual has been observed of sterilizing everything—towels, threads, needles, forceps, instruments and what not—while the floor itself is made of glass or glazed tiles rather than of wood. The surgeon himself does not venture to cut the victim till he has put on his sterilized gloves, because he cannot possibly clean his fingers enough. Should any onlooker take his hand out of his pocket to reach for the gaping wound he would be ejected instanter for spoiling the whole performance with his defiling touch.

The results of this vigilant war against microbes are simply marvelous and can be fully appreciated only by those who, like myself, can remember the surgery of former days in hospital wards and on the battlefield.—Everybody's Magazine.

BUTTER BY THE YARD.

The Way It Is Sold, Pure and Sweet, in Cambridge, England.

In Cambridge, England, butter is sold by the yard. For generations it has been the practice of Cambridgeshire dairy folk to roll their butter into lengths, each length measuring a yard and weighing a pound. Deftly wrapped in strips of clean white cloth, the cylindrical rolls are packed in long, narrow baskets made for the purpose and thus conveyed to market. The butter women who, in white linen aprons and sleeves, preside over the stalls in the market have no need of weights or scales for dispensing their wares. Constant practice and experienced eyes enable them with a stroke of the knife to divide a yard of butter into halves or quarters with almost mathematical exactness.

The university people are the chief buyers of this curiously shaped product. In addition to being famed for its purity and sweetness Cambridge "yard butter" is eminently adapted for being served to the students in the daily commons. Cut in conveniently sized pieces and accompanied by a loaf of the best wheat bread, a stated portion is sent round every morning to the rooms of the undergraduates for use at breakfast and tea.

INITIALLED WRITING PAPER

One of the most acceptable of gifts that you can send is a dainty box of note paper and envelopes with one or more initials printed in gold on the top of the first sheet of paper or on the back of the envelopes. Good writing paper is always appreciated and you can make no mistake in including it in your list. Leave your order early at the REVIEW Office and you will be well satisfied. 3d

THE DOLLAR.

Its Evolution From the One Time Bleat or Bellow.

The dollar took some rounding. Nor did it formerly ring true, but, much alive, simply gave a bleat or bellow. Cattle, among country folk, at one time constituted the dollar, while primitive man generally made use of any article sufficiently abundant for the standard payment of all merchandise.

Thus, in ancient Greece, a large bronze tripod had the value of a dozen oxen. A good hardworking woman, on the other hand, was given in exchange for only four such beasts.

When metal took the place of money the dollar clung to its traditions, and coins were still called after live stock. Thus "pecunia," applied to metal money, derived its origin from "pecus" (cattle). From the custom of counting heads of cattle came the present designation of a sum in cash—capital or "capita" (heads). In Sanskrit roupa (herd, flock) made roupya or the Indian rupee, while ingots of electrum or admixture of gold and silver when first in use as money bore the impress of an ox or cow.

Not clumsy, but too fragile, were the shells in use as money by the negroes of Africa and throughout ancient Asia, where the natives, taken by its beauty, gave the shell a money value.—R. Holt-Lomax in Harper's Weekly.

THE MINE PACK BURRO.

Information Gleaned by the Newcomer in Camp.

He was a newcomer in the mining camp, and as everything he saw appeared novel and interesting he kept up a rapid fire of questions that seemed mighty foolish to the boys.

The placid little pack burros, mostly ears and voice, pleased him immensely, and he supposed they were kept as pets or else as camp scavengers to nibble the labels from old cans and eat stray newspapers. He came across one packing a wheelbarrow secured on its back with wheel and handles in the air.

"My good man," he asked the owner, "can you tell me why the little donkey is tied to the wheelbarrow in that odd fashion?"

"I shore can, stranger," replied that accommodating individual. "This here jassax has been acquired by old Walapai Huggins for a house pet at the Bully Boy mine, an', bein' as the annimule is too dellycat' to walk all the way over them rough trails, the old man drives him uphill an' at the summit jes' naterally turns him down the other side. Yessir, it do come hard on old Walapai, but it's mighty restin' for the jassax."—Success Magazine.

Eating on the Train in Spain.

As even express trains seldom attain a higher rate of speed than twenty-five miles per hour travel is slow and tedious, though fairly comfortable, and to enjoy Spain one must assume the leisurely indifference of the Spaniard to whom manana is always the chosen time. He is wise who carries his own luncheons, and never are dainty tea baskets more indispensable than on these long journeys. Spanish etiquette demands that the traveler before partaking of his food must politely offer it to those who share the compartment with him. It may either be graciously accepted or declined. In no country is it so difficult to travel and to secure information, as but little English is spoken even by important officials.—Travel Magazine.

Not Business.

Two highland farmers met on their way to church.

"Man," said Donald, "I was wonderin' what you will be askin' for yon bit sheep over at your steadin'?"

"Man," replied Dougal, "I was thinkin' I wad be wantin 50 shullin's for that sheep."

"I will tak' it at that," said Donald, "but, och, man, Dougal, I am awful surprised at you doing business on the Sawbath."

"Business!" exclaimed Dougal. "Man, sellin' a sheep like that for 50 shullin's is not business at all. It's just charity."—Dundee Advertiser.

He Had the Name.

She had gone up the scales once, and then she had gone down the scales. Then she had done the same thing over again, after which some one asked:

"In what school of music were you taught?"

Thereupon some one else interrupted in an undertone:

"Judging by the speed, I should say it was a riding school."

And there were many present who deemed the sentiment a good one.

Fair Share.

It was at a theater in Manchester. The king, aged and infirm, was blessed with two sons. He was pacing up and down the stage with a wearied, troubled look, exclaiming aloud, "On which of these my sons shall I bestow my crown?" Immediately came a voice from the gallery, "Why not 'arf a crown apiece, guv'nor?"—London Mail.

The Prodigal Son.

Prodigal—Father, I have come home to die!

"Confound you! Haven't you cost me enough already without adding the expense of a funeral?"—Life.

The Usual Way.

"Say, pop, what's a raffle?"

"A raffle, my son, is where I buy nineteen chances on a diamond ring and the fellow with one chance wins it."

The hardest thing to win in the world is your own self respect.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A safe weighing 500 pounds was stolen from an express waggon in Chicago.

ACTION OF ALCOHOL.

The Seven Stages of Drunkenness and the Results.

According to the evidence given recently by Dr. R. T. Williams, an English physician, in a London police court, says the Literary Digest, he distinguishes seven stages of drunkenness—irritable, mellow, pugnacious, affectionate, lachrymose, followed, if the total doses were large enough, by collapse and death. It is noted by the British Medical Journal, from which this report is taken, that other authorities have formulated these stages in different ways. Says this paper:

"Magnan, who was one of the first to begin the scientific study of the physiological action of alcohol, distinguished five stages—first, slight excitement and a feeling of well being, in which speech and gestures became more animated; in the second stage ideas became crowded together and confused, the mood being, without any very obvious reason for the difference, gay or sad or full of tender emotion; in the third stage the confusion of ideas was greater and accompanied by incoherence, perversion of taste and smell, illusions, thick speech, vacant countenance and staggering gait; the fourth stage was coma and the fifth death. Magnan's second stage has been graphically described by Claye Shaw as 'a loss of the sense of awareness of surroundings.'"

MEN AND MACHINES.

The Limit of Human Speed Has About Been Reached.

One thing alone can intervene and put the curb on the desire for speed—man's powers of endurance. Already there are signs that it has almost reached its limit. The increase of nervous diseases, the spread of insanity, these and other warnings should serve as danger signals that the speed of modern life is excessive. The adjusting of a man's frame to rapidly changing conditions, great though it be, yet has its limits.

Machinery may be perfected to an incredible degree, but man—unless we are to conceive of him as becoming absolutely machine-like—will always have his limitations of flesh and blood. He will always be a fantastic creature subject to strange emotions, uncertain gusts of passion, sudden tricks of nerves or of physical exhaustion. Among the daily catastrophies from the lust of speed it is rare to find that it is the machinery which is at fault. It is the failure of the eye to transmit with sufficient rapidity the danger message to the brain or an error in judgment or a sudden nerve failure, one of these which brings about disaster. Man may perfect the machine, but he remains himself ever imperfect. —London Saturday Review.

Nurses Dread Lightning.

Of all people who are glad when the season of thunderstorms is past, none are more thankful than professional nurses.

"It isn't that we are so afraid of lightning ourselves," said a nurse in Roosevelt hospital, "but it has a harmful effect on our patients. Most sick people have an unreasonable fear of lightning. In cases of extreme weakness or nervousness a dozen flashes of blinding lightning reduce the patient to such a state of prostration that it takes extraordinary efforts on the part of the nurse to bring him around. If one sick person requires all that extra attention in a thunderstorm, just imagine the predictment of the nurse who has a whole ward full of them on her hands."

On the Job.

Amusing epitaphs are common enough, but it is not often that a tombstone inscription is meant to carry a business advertisement. A West Virginia man tells of a singular one which may be seen in a certain cemetery. It was the idea of a widow of a man named Perkins, a partner in a commercial house known as Perkins & Parker. Soon after the decease of her spouse Mrs. Perkins married Mr. Parker, her late husband's business associate. The inscription reads:

"Sacred to the memory of James Perkins, for thirty years senior partner of the firm of Perkins & Parker, now Parker & Co."

Her Helpful Hint.

The honeymoon had waned, and the cupboard was bare.

"Don't worry, Mabel," said the romantic husband as he opened the piano. "Remember music is the food of love."

But the practical little wife shook her head.

"If you really think music is the food of love," she responded, "perhaps you'll step round and get the butcher to give you a beefsteak for a mere song."—London Answers.

New York Life.

The life of New York seems a tragic matchiche, a religious can-can, the maddest blend in all Christendom of common sense and lunacy, dignity and folly, poetry and a furious pogrom against everything that makes for beauty.—Cor. Pall Mall Gazette.

Telling Tales.

Unsophisticated Visitor (trying to use the telephone)—Kitty, what do you say when you take this thing off the hook? Little Girl—Papa always says, "Darn, you, central, you've given me the wrong number!"

A Domestic Debate.

"What kept Mrs. Clubleigh at home?"

"A discussion of the servant girl question."

"With her club?"

"No; with her girl."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c

AT THE HOME OFFICE

On account of the illness of an optician in Orillia, Dr. Brewett has cancelled appointments and is pleased to announce that he will be continuously at his home office until after Xmas. Appointments for eye examination are being made daily at our store.

P. S. This store will hereafter be open until ten o'clock every night and appointments for eye examinations can be made until that hour.

McDERMID & JURY, Druggists, Peterboro.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS.

The First One Was Sung Nearly Two Thousand Years Ago.

The first Christmas carol was sung to the startled shepherds of Judaea nearly 2,000 years ago. It voiced the praises of the Newly Born, and it rang out on the frosty air:

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

This is sung today by all Christendom to celebrate the birth of the Christ. The first carol has been repeated yearly by all mankind.

Many have been the meanings given to the word "carol," but the simplest comes from the Latin derivation "carolare," which literally translated means "to sing songs of joy."

Christmas is the first joyous festival of the Christian church, and carols are the songs of joy sung at this festival. And, though the word carol is used for the Easter hymn and songs of other festivals, it rightfully belongs to the Christmas one alone.

The history of the carol in England—and even today we look to England for the majority of our carols—has been varied from reign to reign. In early days the Chapel Royal choir sang carols at court. There is a record of a Christmas kept by Henry VII. when the singers "sang a carol." Queen Elizabeth kept Christmas in right royal fashion "with the singing of carols and with dancing." Charles I. ordered the nobility and gentry to keep open house on Christmas day at the country seats and bade them sing "carols and joyous music." But Puritanism did away with "all observations of the five and twentieth day of December, commonly called Christmas day," and the Scotch parliament in 1582 decreed against the "singing of carols without or within kirks and all sik uthers superstitions and papistical rites."

During the last few years a marked change has been observed in the matter of Christmas carols in England and in our own country. The great number of writers of music in England are one and all writers of church music, and the carol has been one of their proudest compositions.

Carol writing has been successfully tried by Sullivan, Stainer, Barnby, Monks, Dykes, George William Warren, Gerrit Smith, John Hyatt Brewer, Homer N. Bartlett, Frederick Grant Gleason, Harry Rowe Shelley and others.

The Christmas carols of the 1,800 years have changed greatly. At one time they were only wassails, to be sung over the punch bowl of the dissolute kings, but the carol of today takes highest rank in music.—New York Telegram.

Select your aldermanic candidates.

OPEN EVENINGS

FROM NOW UNTIL AFTER CHRISTMAS

with a complete stock of new and up-to-date holiday suggestions. Remember we have the greatest variety of Gift Books to be found in Peterboro', as well as Fine China and Cut Glass, Pictures, High-Grade Leather Goods, Stationery, Bibles, Hymn Books, Cards Calendars, etc., to which we invite your inspection. Be sure and get our prices before purchasing. You will be convinced that they are Rock Bottom.

R. J. SODEN

369 George Street

R. A. ELLIOTT & CO.

Real Estate Agents

Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

NOW IN FULL SWING

$100.00 IN COLD CASH In Rewards For Selling The "Review"

This Grand Competition began Tuesday evening, October 8th, and will close December 31st, (New Year's Eve.) Boys carrying routes, boys selling to customers, boys selling on the street, boys who have never sold papers, are all urged to get up and get. Parents can let the little fellows come to THE REVIEW Office after school, and they will be taken care of—not allowed to stay in a dingy cellar or out on the street in the cold. Papers will be ready sharp after 4 o'clock each day. COME ON, BOYS! HERE'S A SURE THING!

Twenty-Six Prizes 26 Twenty-Six Prizes

To the twenty-six boys getting the largest number of New Customers for THE DAILY REVIEW:

1st PRIZE—$30.00 in Cash, or a high-grade 1908 Bicycle, worth $55.00 as winner may prefer.

2nd PRIZE—$20.00 in Cash, or Fur Goods to the value of $30.00, as preferred.

3rd PRIZE—$10.00 Cash, or $15.00 worth in China, dinner or tea set, or as selected.

4th PRIZE—$8.00 Cash, or $10.00 worth of goods of any kind, as selected.

5th PRIZE—$5.00 Cash.

6th PRIZE—$4.00 Cash.

7th PRIZE—$3.00 Cash.

8th to 12th PRIZES—$2.00 Cash. Five prizes of $2.00 each.

13th to 22nd PRIZES—$1.00 Cash. Ten prizes of $1.00 each.

NOTE—The option, cash or goods, in the first four prizes, is made in case the parents of the boys winning either of the prizes should prefer the larger amount in goods instead of cash.

Any boy may buy REVIEWS and sell—the more the merrier. The girls have an equal chance with the boys, and will be welcome.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES—Every boy who brings in a paid-up subscription to THE DAILY REVIEW for three months will receive a bonus of 20 cents; for six months a bonus of 40 cents; for a year a bonus of $1.00.

HERE'S A WEEKLY REWARD—In addition, every boy who buys one paper or more each night of the week, (six papers), will receive once each week, during this competition,

A FREE TICKET TO THE CRYSTAL MOVING PICTURES

See, Boys! You have a paid admission to this beautiful entertainment, even if you do no more than buy one paper each night. This privilege has been secured for you exclusively by THE REVIEW.

PLENTY OF TIME YET TO GET INTO THE COMPETITION AND WIN A BIG PRIZE

You will enjoy every mouthful you eat—and digest it, too—after you start in to take

Fruit-a-tives

OR—FRUIT LIVER TABLETS.

It is wonderful, the good they will do you—and quickly, too. Made of fruit juices and tonics. 50c a box—at druggists'. 131

The New Tariff is Too High, Says Council

Think Post Office Box Rent Should Not be Over Two Dollars—Firemen to Get Their Cheques

The city council will request the post office department to reduce the rent of post office boxes from $4.00 to the old figure $2.00. This is being done because the boxes are now held almost entirely by farmers who receive no benefits from the free delivery system.

At the council meeting, Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the city clerk be authorized to with the Postmaster-General asking that the price of post office boxes be reduced from four to two dollars.

Most of the holders were farmers, Ald. McIntyre explained, and the postal delivery did not reach them. As they are not benefited by it, they should not be taxed over the old charge of two dollars. The motion carried.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan, that as the formal opening of the new fire hall was to take place on New Year's Day, the firemen be paid their cheque of $100, which was granted them some time ago.—Carried.

WILL BUY IF TRANSACTION WILL BE LEGAL

City Council's Decision Regarding Purchase of Property for Park

The city council will buy the three acres of land lying east of the King Edward school from the Board of Education for $3,000, if the city solicitor says the transaction will be legal. This was the decision come to by the city council last night when the matter received considerable attention.

The report of the special park committee was received and upon motion of Ald. Duncan and Stevenson, was adopted. Ald. Morrow then moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre,—That a cheque for $3,000 be paid the School Board for the property. The Mayor did not think this advisable. He did not think the city capable of doing it as their accounts were overdrawn. He said there were two reasons why this step should not be taken. There was the question of legality and of whether the council should buy it without first consulting the people. Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan, in amendment,—That the question be submitted to the people to vote upon. Ald. Morrow thought the council surely should be at liberty to do what they deemed advisable.

Ald. McIntyre said that when the council agreed to purchase it, they should not back out. Several larger offers had been made for the property. Ald. Morrow's motion was changed to read that if the city solicitor says the council has the right they devote $3,000 to purchase the property from the school board. This motion was carried.

THE SENDING OF GIFTS

Little Touches That Will Add to the Pleasure of Recipient.

A good deal of the pleasures of Christmas lies in the opening of the mysterious packages that find their way to your door. If these are daintily wrapped, the present is perhaps the more appreciated. The proper way to send a pretty gift is to secure some white wrapping paper, enclose your card, one of those Christmas greetings and a spray of holly embossed on it; seal the first wrapper with one of the holly seals — there are four patterns — and then wrap in a stronger paper. On this use one of the gummed Christmas labels, or a shipping tag with an embossed holly design on it. If one is sending a number of parcels to one address for different members of a family, there are miniature shipping tags, prettily decorated with holly, only costing 5 cents a dozen, which will be nice to use. There are more elaborate tags, ground in shape with a wreath of holly, and smooth bright red ribbon attached to tie a bow on the parcel.

The use of all these gives a distinctive touch to the gift, and will be sure to repay the extra trouble taken. The holly seals, labels, cards, and tags are all on sale at the Review office. Call and get a variety of them before you send out your gifts.—tf.

Twenty persons were seriously injured in a trolley collision at South Bend, Ind.

Rising in South Africa; Zulus Threaten Trouble

Natives March on Town in Orange Colony.

Five Hundred Employed in Diamond Mine Revolted and Completely Wrecked Plant—Troops Hastening to Point of Attack—Zulu King Surrenders—Movement Causing Grave Alarm.

London, Dec. 10.—Dinizulu, the Zulu king, who is accused of fomenting trouble among the natives, with the result that murders and outrages have become more and more frequent of late, has surrendered to the Natal authorities, without offering any resistance or rendering necessary the assistance of the troops which were held ready to aid the civil power.

While the trouble in Natal seems to be becoming better owing to Chief Dinizulu's surrender, an unexpected outbreak has occurred in the Orange River Colony. Five hundred natives, who were working at the Vorspoed diamond mine, revolted and completely wrecked the plant. They then marched toward Kroonstad, where only 20 police are stationed. Reinforcements are hastening to the town. The situation there is regarded as serious.

There is an end to the threatened rebellion in Zululand which is of considerable importance. It is asserted by those who knew the situation well that the uprising is part of a general movement all over the continent below the equator, having for its its motto "South Africa for the blacks."

What is known as the Ethiopian movement has taken a firm hold hold upon the South African natives for years past. Friends of missionary effort resent the charge that this is a political propaganda, but careful investigation shows that under the cloak of religious effort it is really an agitation to drive the whites into the sea.

The preachers came from America. They went first to Liberia and then spread to the territories south of the Zambesi River. They are described as negroes who have absorbted most of the vices and few of the virtues of the white races. The effect of their work has been that tribal hostilities have almost disappeared, all the tribes uniting in one purpose.

Five Applications Now on Order Paper of Council

Peterborough Lock Co. the Latest to Ask for Fixed Assessment

No Action by City Council

Matter Will Come up at Meeting Next Monday Night.

Matters are still in "statu quo," as far as the city council and fixed assessment for a number of local industries are concerned. The matter was up again at the meeting of the city council last night, and was referred back to the committee of the whole council, and will be one of the topics to be dealt with at the meeting next Monday night.

At the last meeting of the council the requests of the Peterborough Canoe Company, Peter Hamilton Company, Auburn Woollen Company and the estate of Alf. McDonald for fixed assessment were referred to the Manufacturers' Committee. The committee had no report to make last night, but the council was waited upon by Mr. E. A. Peck, acting for the Peterborough Canoe Company, and the estate of A. McDonald, who presented several reasons why these two concerns should be given fixed assessment.

A letter from the Peterborough Lock Mfg. Company, asking for fixed assessment was read during the meeting.

The five applications will be discussed in committee of the whole next Monday night.

Mr. E. A. Peck, solicitor for the Alf. McDonald Estate, and the Peterborough Canoe Company, addressed the council on behalf of these companies. He said that the former employed some one hundred men. They expended about $80,000 yearly in wages, with an additional expenditure of $20,000, making a total of $100,000. The assessment of the estate this year on the land is $21,000, with a business assessment of $13,000.

On behalf of the Peterborough Co., Mr. Peck explained that they employed fifty men, paying out $25,000 yearly in wages. Their assessment was $10,000, with a business asment of $6,000. Mr. Peck thought that these two industries were entitled to a fixed assessment, such as the Rapid Tool Company, Peterborough Shovel Company, Wm. Hamilton Company, J. J. Turner & Sons, and Quaker Oats Company. Some of these are comparatively young, and do not employ any more men than the Peterborough Canoe Company or Alf. McDonald Estate. Mr. Peck thought that the industries were the backbone of the city, and to encourage them a fixed assessment should be given every one of them. He considered it the greatest question before the Council, and as a citizen would heartily endorse it. Mr. Peck hoped the council would give it their earnest consideration.

Mr. James Hamilton, for the Peter Hamilton Company, thought they should have a fixed assessment. He said that when they purchased their property they got it cheap. At present it was almost too valuable for manufacturing purposes, and the assessment got higher each year. Then, in other cities, implement firms got concessions such as was now asked for. The Peter Hamilton Company employed about 100 men and their pay roll amounted to $60,000 annually.

Mr. Carnegie asked for a fixed assessment on behalf of the Auburn Woollen Mills, presenting several reasons why they should have it.

A communication was read from the Peterborough Lock Mfg. Co., asking for similar concessions as given other industries.

Council Rescinded Motion At the Mayor's Suggestion

Matter of Payment of a Bill Left Over Until the Parties Interested are Interviewed.

One of the communications that was read at the council meeting last evening was from Mr. Wm. Davidson, McDonnel street, asking for $20 for opening up a portion of the street for the construction of a sewer. The Mayor considered that Mr. Davidson had no right to open up the street without permission from the city engineer. He thought that the city engineer should be heard before the bill was paid.

Ald. Duncan contended that other citizens had been paid for the same thing. Mr. Davidson claimed that he got the necessary permission.

Ald Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that Mr. Davidson be refunded the money. This was carried.

At the conclusion of the meeting His Worship the Mayor said that he desired to speak to the council on a personal matter. He considered that the action taken by the council in granting Mr. Davidson the twenty dollars was the only "slap in the face" he had ever received from the aldermen. He said that from no personal motive whatever did he object to the payment of Mr. Davidson's claim. If he got permission from the engineer he was quite willing that he should get his money. Otherwise he did not think he should.

Ald. Phelan arose and said that in moving the resolution the thought never entered his mind of offending anyone. He thought that Mr. Davidson deserved the money. Ald. Elliott also expressed his regret at there being any offence taken. He did not intend to "slap anyone in the face" by seconding the motion. The other aldermen also made similar remarks stating that in supporting the motion no offence was meant whatever.

It was moved by Ald. Morgan, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the motion be rescinded and that the matter be referred back to the Board of Works, and that the city engineer and Mr. Davidson be interviewed.

This motion carried.

The Service Has Been Re-instated

On Express Packages Leaving Peterborough at 11.45 a.m. for Toronto

Some weeks ago the service, as given by the Canadian Express Company on train No. 11, which made connection at Port Hope for Toronto and western points, was discontinued by that train.

Patrons will be pleased to learn that this quick service was reinstated on Dec. 9th whereby packages leaving Peterborough at 11.45 a.m. arrive in Toronto at 3.20 and receive immediate delivery.

The fisheries cruiser Vigilant is in winter quarters at Amherstburg.

DEVOTED TO HER WORK

How Peterborough Young Lady Came to Engage in Nursing.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—A beautiful name, and a beautiful character, is the title bestowed upon Miss Ella Ray, by a local gentleman, now a resident of Toronto, who had the pleasure of calling on the young lady at the hospital, where she is preparing to become a nurse, and who wishes to publish the details of his short visit in all its simplicity, innocence and beauty.

I arrived at the institution about 2.30 p.m., and was very warmly greeted by Miss Ray, who expressed her keen pleasure at seeing me. In my presence she seated herself and told me the history of her very young but noble life. "I am sure," she said, "you never thought I would settle down to train for a nurse. I love my work and consider it a noble calling. Of course, a life like this is not all sunshine. We meet with shadows as well, and sometimes very dark ones, too; but I always look on the bright side. Everyone is so nice and kind to me. The Superintendent is simply lovely, and life here is a perfect paradise, that is, if we make it one. I am the youngest and smallest girl in the hospital, and now coming on the Christmas holidays I feel very homesick, as this is the first Christmas I've ever been away from home."

I asked her how she came to go into nursing as a profession. She said: "I did not like going to school. I would not clerk in a store. Papa wanted I should take up a commercial course. I detested book keeping. So what was I good for? I often asked myself. I thought, surely I must have some vocation in life, and longed for it to come to me. I went up stairs one afternoon to read. On going into the study to get a book, the first one I came across was the life and history of Florence Nightingale. I thought what a noble woman, what a good and useful life, and on the impulse of the moment I decided to try my skill at nursing. The hardest trials are easy to me, because my heart and soul—yes, my whole life is in my work.

"I have never been sick since I've been here, nor my feet never played out.

"I am very sorry my time is limited, as I must get back on duty, so you will please call again," were the parting words of this beautiful young lady, not scarcely out of her teens, who left home and friends to use her ability and become useful in this world.

Yours, etc.,

AN ADMIRER OF HONOR AND SELF-RESPECT.

LEARN DRESS-MAKING BY MAIL

in your spare time at home, or

Take a Personal Course at School.

To enable all to learn we teach on cash or instalment plan. We also teach a personal class at school once a month. Class commencing last Tuesday of each month. These lessons teaches how to cut, fit and put together any garment from the plainest shirt waist suit, to the most elaborate dress. The whole family can learn from one course. We have taught over seven thousand dress-making, and guarantee to give five hundred dollars to any one that cannot learn between the age of 14 and 40. You cannot learn dress-making as thorough as this course teaches if you work in shops for years. Beware of imitations as we employ no one outside the school. This is the only experienced Dress Cutting School in Canada and excelled by none in any other country. Write at once for particulars, as we have cut our rate one-third for a short time. Address:—

SANDERS' DRESS-CUTTING SCHOOL,
31 Erie St., Stratford, Ont., Canada.

Council Wants Gates Placed at Crossings

Will Petition Railway Commission in Regard to two Places That are Considered Dangerous

Ald. Morrow introduced an important matter last night at the city council meeting, when he moved that the city clerk write the Railway Commission to have the G.T.R. Co. place gates at the crossing on Reid street, near the Wm. Hamilton Co.'s plant, and the C.P.R. Co. to have gates built at Aylmer street. Ald. Morrow considered these very dangerous crossings, and the railway companies should be compelled to put gates on them to protect the public. Considerable discussion followed on this question, and Ald. Morrow's views met with the hearty approval of all present.

Alderman Leary stated that last Sunday, when driving first the Aylmer street crossing, he had a narrow escape from being run down. He thought that gates should be built at these crossings. Ald. Phelan, on seconding this motion, thought that they were needed at several other parts of the city, but that in making application to the Railway Commissioners, two were enough to ask for at once.

This motion carried unanimously.

HOW'S THIS

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

You have heard the Sailor Boys' plea, buy to-day for your dinner to-morrow "Sailor Boy" Canned Goods, Tomatoes Corn, Peas and Salmon. Your money does not buy better Goods. Do you get "Sailor Boy" or substitute?

PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR GUELPH

On account of the Provincial Winter Fair the Grand Trunk Railway System will issue return tickets at single first class fare from all stations in Ontario, Kingston and West to Guelph, Ont. Good going Dec. 7th to Dec. 13th. Valid for return until Monday, Dec. 16th, 1907. Full information may be obtained from any Grand Trunk Ticket Agent.

The C. P. R. upper lake service will be discontinued on Dec. 12.

ONTARIO MUST PAY.

Lump Sum of $388,000 to Be Handed to Federal Government.

Ottawa, Dec. 10.—Justice Burbidge of the Exchequer Court has given judgment in the matter in dispute between the Dominion and Ontario as to the money spent by the Dominion on the territory at one time in dispute between Manitoba and Ontario. Such expenses as were incurred by the Dominion in negotiating the treaties, and securing land from the Indians, must be borne by Ontario, while the Dominion must shoulder the expenses incurred for Indian schools; suppression of the liquor traffic and for the encouragement of agriculture among them.

This judgment means that Ontario will be obliged to pay a lump sum to the Dominion of some $388,000, and will be obliged to pay in perpetuity a portion, about $2.75, of the annuity of $5 a head received by the Indians of the region affected. The province also must assume a perpetual liability of $1,500 a year to the Indians for nets and ammunition.

Bank President Arrested.

San Francisco, Dec. 10.—David F. Walker, president of the California Safe Deposit Co., which closed its doors in November, was found speeding south on a Southern Pacific train Sunday night, when he was supposed to have been at his home. He was placed under arrest and taken from the train at Santa Barbara.

Bankers Brown and Bartnett were arrested Sunday night.

Shot Robbers to Death.

Wenlock, Wash., Dec. 10.—Two men who had attempted to rob the post-office here early yesterday were chased by the posse, surrounded in the woods and shot to death. Their names are not known. Before being surrounded one of the men shot and seriously wounded, T. N. McFadden, a constable.

Crushed by a Log.

Kenora, Dec. 10.—Douglas Orman, aged 19 years, was killed at Gardner's lumber camp. He was engaged building a stable when a log rolled upon him with fatal results.

Shipbuilding Resumes.

Bridgeburg, Ont., Dec. 10.—The Canadian Shipbuilding Co. recommenced operations at their Bridgeburg yards yesterday morning, with about 250 men.

NEVER SAW HIS WIFE.

Man Has Sight Restored After Being Married 20 Years.

Denver, Dec. 10.—Almost unable to conceal her joy, Mrs. Gale C. Hoskins of Cleveland made a hurried departure for home. She had received a letter stating that sight had been given to her husband, who had been blind from birth.

The wife, formerly Miss Lottie Hall of Colorado Springs, left Denver, and in the course of three days the husband will see her for the first time, although they have been married 20 years.

Hoskins' life, in spite of his affliction, is said to have been comparatively happy. From 1890 until 1896 he was in Denver, having married Miss Hall in 1887. From 1896 until nine years ago, when they settled in Cleveland, they traveled.

The wife says that until September last Hoskins refused to consult doctors concerning his affliction. Then he consulted the eye specialist who has given him his sight. Mrs. Hoskins was visiting friends here when she learned the great news. Her husband was educated in Chicago, and has done some literary work, she being his amanuensis.

HEAVY GALES IN CHANNEL.

Disastrous Collision Off Folkestone—Seven Men Drowned.

London, Dec. 10.—Heavy gales in the Channel resulted in a disastrous collision off Folkestone, between the Dutch steamer Scheldestrom and the British bark Forfarshire. The Scheldestrom had a big hole stove in her side and ran for Folkestone, where she was beached. The life-savers sent out a boat to the rescue, but before it could reach the steamer the captain of the Scheldestrom, with ten of the crew, entered a small boat, which was driven on the rocks and wrecked. Seven of the men, including the captain, were drowned.

Stratford's Power Bylaw.

Stratford, Dec. 10.—The Niagara power bylaw was given its second reading at the council meeting last night, and will now go to the ratepayers for their endorsement at the January election. The bylaw received little opposition, only one member of the council offering any objection.

Death of Noted Professor.

Frankfort-on-the-Main, Dec. 10—The death is announced of Prof. Moritz Schmidt, the well-known laryngogist. He removed a pulypus from the throat of Emperor William several years years ago, and for this service the Emperor conferred upon him the title of Excellency.

Miner's Head Blown Off.

Cobalt, Dec. 10.—Another fatality is recorded from Cobalt, caused by picking into a missed hole. Yesterday afternoon, in the drift from Shaft No. 12, at the Nipissing Mine, Andrien Dubec, a Pole, was mucking when an explosion occurred, blowing his head off.

Not Laying Off Hands.

Montreal, Dec. 10.—The Canadian Pacific Railway officials at the head office here deny the story emanating in Toronto that they are laying off an unusual number of employes.

Took Carbolic.

Gananoque, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Richard Henderson, aged 44, died last night from the effects of accidentally taking carbolic acid.

Walter McFarland, 35 years old, was found with his neck broken and legs fractured on a car track in Chicago.

PURE GOODS ARE
Cowan's Perfection Cocoa
(Maple Leaf Label)
Cowan's
Milk Chocolate
Crequettes, Wafers, Medallions, Etc.
Cowan's Cake Icings
EVERY GROCER KEEPS THEM
THE COWAN CO., Ltd., TORONTO

ONTARIO COAL CO. LIMITED PETERBORO

COAL-CARTAGE
Best Hard COAL $7.50 per ton
No. 2 Nut COAL $6.50 per ton
Butts or English Cannel COAL $7.50 per ton

HEAD OFFICE AND YARDS: 160 Aylmer Street Phone 116
CITY OFFICE: 387 Water St. PHONES: Bell 336. Machine 335

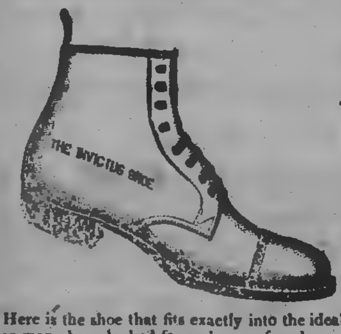
ONTARIO COAL CO., Limited
A. J. McCLELLAN C. CURRIER G. K. RACKHAM

SMITH FARMER LOSES FINGER

Mr. Wm. Paul, a well known farmer, who resides on the fourth line of Smith township, while fixing his windmill on Sunday morning, got his left hand caught in the cogs. Three of his fingers were crushed. He was brought to the city, and the fingers amputated at the Nicholls Hospital. He is getting on as well as could be expected.

FOR PASSEPARTOUT WORK

The fad for passepartout pictures is again growing a favorite for pretty pictures and are always appreciated. One can always find room for a couple more on the walls and every one has their favorite subject, some like scenery, others historical subjects, many like kittens and one boy in the city has the walls of his bedroom fairly covered with pictures of dogs—small and large. When mounted on a suitable background and passepartouted they are very pretty and inexpensive to make up. The Review has a large stock of pictures in sepia and colors, mounting papers and passepartout to match. Call and see them at the REVIEW Office, Hunter street. 3d



Here is the shoe that fits exactly into the ideal so many have looked for and never found.

INVICTUS SHOES
AT $4.50 & $5.00

Shoes that combine with a moderate price the perfection of style, fit and durability. "Invictusized" Patent Leather Shoes are revelation. This secret process does something never before accomplished. Renders the leather soft and pliable, increases the life of the shoes at least one third and reduces checking or breaking to a minimum.

ASK THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM

J. T. STENSON
364 George St.

EGGS
FOR SALE
by the case

Fresh and Pickled Choice Stock at our warehouse, Robinson Street, East City

Scott&Hogg
PHONE 284, BOTH PHONES

Palace Livery Barn

For the smartest and most up-to-date LIVERY OUTFITS, at reasonable rates, go to

TOM FOSTER & CO.
Successors to Bruce Lee & Co
Rear of Snowden House.

AUCTION SALE OF HORSES BUGGIES, HARNESS, ETC., EVERY SATURDAY

Phones—Bell 286—Machine 289

PRICE OF Coal
FOR OCTOBER IS $7.50
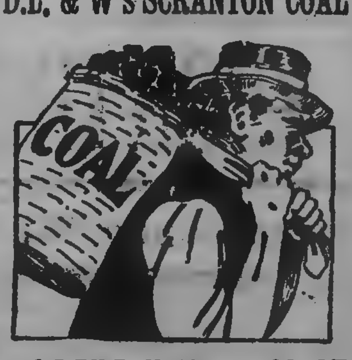
Ton, cash with order

THE PETERBORO FUEL & CARTAGE CO
LIMITED.
162 Charlotte-st. Telephones—(Bell) 261, 270. (Machine)—270.
134 Aylmer-st. Tel. (Bell) 362.

D.L. & W'S SCRANTON COAL



SOLD BY R. HICKS & CO. AT
$7.50 Per Ton
for Month of October, in lots of not less than half ton.
This is the Standard Anthracite. 60% of Coal sold in Ontario is SCRANTON.
Terms Positively Cash.

R. HICKS & CO.
Coal Builders' Supplies, Etc.

COAL AND WOOD
Best of Coal—Best of Wood
COAL FOR OCTOBER
$7.50 PER TON
J. B. A. FITZGERALD
Cor. Brock and Bethune Sts
BOTH PHONES 111

Steer Straight
for the best Beer ever brewed, and you are sure to come to us! Our Bottled Beer is "bottled health." It means vigor and strength, a good appetite and high spirits. It is the best medicine for the weak and the best food for the strong. Keep our excellent in Beer your home as a beverage and you will have no need of a doctor. Nothing but the purest ingredients used in the brewing.

—THE—
CALCUTT BREWING AND MALTING CO
of Ashburnham Limited

County Court Opened To-day; Judge Weller is Presiding

Grand Jury is Inspecting the County Institutions—Collier vs Donohue First Case Taken Up.

County Court and the semi-annual sessions of the peace opened at the Court House this afternoon before His Honor Judge Weller. The following gentlemen compose the grand jury: Messrs. W. A. Conway, forman, Thos. Davidson, A. C. Denike, Wm. Garbutt, Jos. Green, G. M. Hamilton, W. S. Johnston, W. Kelly, Thos. Lillico, A. McIntrye, Robt. Millar, A. R. Nicholl and Thos. Nicholl. After they were sworn His Honor addressed them commenting on the two cases to come up before them. He said that there were several persons in the county gaol at the present time, eight vagrants and four on charges of theft.

The first case for your consideration, said His Honor, is that of a man attempting to shoot a police officer, P.C. Newhall. He impressed upon the minds of the jurors the seriousness of the offence. An officer in the discharge of his duties, he said, has the right to place his hand upon upon right to place his hand upon anyone who he thinks has been committing any offence. You will have to investigate this matter thoroughly and find out if his intention was to shoot the policeman.

The second case, His Honor explained is that of a man named Haines, in the back country, charged with theft. His Honor jocularly remarked that he did not think there was anything to steal back there. He referred to the incidents of this base. The accused went to a house and took goods which he claims were his own. A man has no right tot ake the law into his own hands when there is a dispute as to the ownership, said His Honor. While the accused may not have forcibly entered the defendant's house, if you are satisfied that he intended to steal the articles he is guilty. His Honor urged upon the jurors that if they had any reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the prisoners they should give them the benefit of the doubt.

In speaking of the number of vagrants in the gaol, His Honor said that a great many that would otherwise be in gaol on charges of vagrancy are now in the House of Refuge near Lakefield. His Honor hoped that soon suitable arrangements could be made between the city and county and the poor who now have to go to gaol, might be sent to the Lakefield home for the aged ones.

The grand jury then went out and inspected the county gaol and if they deemed it advisable His Honor told them to visit the hospitals and Children's Shelter and the House of Refuge.

The case of Collier vs. Donoghue, civil, was then taken up.

Burglars Tried to Enter Residence of Mr. Wm. West; Two Men Arrested on Suspicion

Between 10 and 10.30 last night two burglars attempted to break into the residence of Mr. Wm. West, 551 Waterford street. They smashed the window in the front porch and unlocked the door from the inside. They were trying the front door when frightened away by the house dog. Mr. West, who is employed at Mr. R. Gibbs livery barns, Chambers street, was working at the time and his wife and sister were sitting in the rear portion of the house. The blinds were drawn however, and the house appeared to be in darkness. They looked out when they heard the dog barking and saw the would-be housebreakers disappearing in the darkness.

P.C. Meharry arrested two suspicious looking young men this afternoon at the G.T.R. station, and they will be held on the charge of attempted robbery. They will appear before the Magistrate to-morrow morning.

In Guthrie, Okla., the Jim Crow Bill passed the Senate by a vote of 36 ayes, 3 nays, 4 absentees and one excused.

Miss Stella M. Blethen, stenographer to the late George Francis Porter, a millionaire, is heiress to $100,000, left her by her employer.

SPORTING NEWS

Strathconas Will Represent Peterborough in the O.H.A.

Organization Meeting Held at Oriental Last Night—Will be Known as Peterboro' Strathconas—The Officers Those of Last Year's City League Champions.

Last night in the Oriental hotel the Peterborough Hockey club held its annual meeting, with Mr. F. A. Clarke in the chair. Reports of last season were presented by Secretary Chris. Graham, and adopted unanimously.

The Strathconas, champions of last season's city league, were handed over the Peterborough franchise and will represent this city in the intermediate series of the O.H.A. this season.

The following officers were elected for the Peterborough Strathcona Hockey Club for the coming season as follows:

Hon. Pres.—Jas. Kendry
Hon. Vice-Pres.—V. Eastwood
President.—C. G. Graham,
1st Vice-Pres.—R. M. Glover,
2nd Vice-Pres.—F. A. Clarke,
Secretary F. D. Craig.
Treasure.—W. Regan.
Manager.—W. J. Metherel.

EXECUTIVE.

Messrs. Chas. Barber, Dr. Wightman, Clarence Wilson, Leonard Dobson and W. F. Wasson, were appointed to the Executive. Mr. F. D. Craig will represent the club at the meeting to be held at Port Hope on Wednesday to arrange the district schedule.

The teams in this district are Lindsay, Port Hope, Whitby, Cobourg and Peterborough.

The Strathconas this year have all their splendid bunch of last year except H. White, who will this season play with the St. George's of Toronto, and Jack Seymour, this year with the Lindsay Midgets.

In addition to their strong team of last year the Strathconas will have Reilly Glover and Jake Moore, both of last year's seniors and also a lot of new talent. The Strathconas won the admiration of all lovers of good clean sport, by their fast and successful team, as well as individual work last season, and will assuredly get the enthusiastic suppor of the public this winter. The Strathconas start out this season under the must favorable auspices.

The officers elected are to a large extent the same as those chosen by the Strathconas at their annual meeting.

Will Try to Beat Walking Record

About a week and a half ago three local men walked from here to Nassau and return, the winner making good time. It is said that for a side bet a Lakefield man, with pedestrianistic proclivities, will attempt to beat his mark in a short time. He is in active training for the grind now.

Winter Meet of the Turf Club

A meeting of the Peterborough Turf Club was held yesterday, when Dr. Johnston was elected president.

It was decided to hold the annual winter meeting on Tuesday and Wednesday, January 21st and 22nd. On the first day there will be the 2.35 and 2.18 class, and on the second day there will be a 2.22 and free-for-all. The races will be held at the Driving Park and good purses will be hung up.

HOCKEY

Presently if the weather turns colder and ice be given us hockey will be the game having the call. In order that the sport may be played with vigor and correctly, C. R. Banks & Co., the sporting goods dealers have issued a neat booklet, giving the rules for hockey. The rules are authoritative and right and give the latest decisions on all points of the game. No doubt to those who call at the store Messrs. Banks & Co. will be glad to give a copy. Come in and get one.

Mr. C. G. Graham has been elected secretary of the Peterborough Hockey Rink Company. Mr. Graham should make a splendid official in the above capacity.

THE GREAT NORTHWESTERN TELEGRAPH CO. OF CANADA

Kingston, December 9th, 1907

J. J. Turner & Sons, Mgr. Grand Opera House,
Peterborough, Ontario

The "Fatal Flower" delighted audience to-night. Company fine. Scenery beautiful. Recommend to patrons.

D. P. BRANIGAN,
Mgr, Kingston Opera House

TENDERS FOR PULPWOOD CONCESSIONS.

TENDERS will be received by the undersigned up to and including the 16th of December next for the right to cut pulpwood on certain areas tributary to the Nipigon River, in the District of Thunder Bay and Rainy Lake, in the District of Rainy River, and make the same into paper. Tenderers should state the amount they are prepared to pay as bonus in addition to such dues as may from time to time be fixed for the right to operate a paper making industry on the areas referred to. Separate tenders must be made for each area or territory, and the successful tenderers will be required to erect a mill or mills on each of the territories or in such other localities as may be approved by the Government of Ontario.

Parties tendering for the pulpwood rights shall accompany their tenders with a marked cheque for 25 per cent. of the amount tendered, payable to the Trreasurer of Ontario, and to be forfeited in the event of their failing to enter into agreements to carry out conditions, etc.

With respect to the Rainy Lake pulp concession, tenderers will be required to make a tender for the right to cut the pine, tamarac and cedar on the territory offered. Parties making tenders for these timbers to state the amount they are prepared to pay per thousand feet B.M., as bonus, in addition to Crown dues of $2.00 per thousand feet B.M. A marked cheque for $5,000.00 payable to the Treasurer of Ontario must accompany the tender for pine timber, and to be forfeited in the event of their failing to enter into agreements to carry out conditions, etc.

No timber shall be cut on either of the concessions of less diameter than 9 inches, 2 feet from the ground.

The successful tenderers to enter into agreements with the Government for the erection of the mills, expenditure of money, etc.

For full particulars as to the conditions, etc., application should be made to the undersigned.

HON. F. COCHRANE,
Minister of Lands,
Forests and Mines.

N.B.—No unauthorized publication of this notice will be paid for.

Toronto, Oct. 16th, 1907.

PUT RING IN HIS MOUTH.

Clergyman Reads Burial Service at Marriage Ceremony.

Some painful stories were told at a Consistory Court of the Diocese of Bath and Wells, held at Taunton, England, to investigate charges of drunkenness against Rev. James Henry Taylor, vicar of Isle Abbots, near Taunton. Among them was an allegation that the vicar recently appeared to conduct a marriage service while in a state of intoxication, and on that occasion mixed up the burial and baptismal services with the wedding service.

Chancellor Mr. Chadwyck Healey, K. C., presided over the court, and was assisted by five assessors, one of whom was Right Hon. Henry Hobhouse.

The charges, which were brought under the Clergy Discipline Act, alleged that the defendant was drunk on Easter Day, 1906, and also on Aug. 16, 19 and 20 last. There was a further charge that the defendant had during the last five years given himself up to habits of drunkenness. The prosecution was undertaken, at the request of the bishop, by Rev. James Street, rural dean of Ilminster, who was represented by Mr. Vachell, the defence being conducted by Mr. Weatherley.

In detailing the history of the case, counsel for the prosecution stated that the defendant was for some years in South Africa, and on his return to England was for a time deputation secretary for the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel.

After he had gone to Isle Abbots he became bankrupt through building a vicarage, and thereafter, according to counsel, gave way to drinking bouts, during which he mixed up services, and these were very irregularly held. This caused a great scandal in the parish and emptied the church and Sunday School, said Mr. Vachell, who went on to tell the remarkable story of a marriage service at the defendant's church in August last.

The vicar, said counsel, commenced the service before the bride had arrived, spoke almost inarticularly, smelled strongly of spirits, being obviously in an advanced state of intoxication.

When the service recommenced he read what appeared to be a part of the burial service, saying: "I commit these persons to the ground, earth to earth."

The bridegroom broke in and said: "That's not right, what are you doing?"

The vicar thereupon held up his finger, and said: "Hush! Keep quiet." He afterwards resumed and went into the baptismal service, and was heard to say: "I baptize these people with water."

Subsequently, said counsel, he put the bride's ring into his mouth and repeatedly kissed the hands of the contracting parties.

Another clergyman came and finished the service.

William Shepherd, sole churchwarden of Isle Abbots, gave evidence as to the vicar's alleged drunken condition at the services, and said he had led him out of church drunk.

In cross-examination witness said the defendant had told him he suffered from malaria, gravel, neuralgia, and weakness of the ankles. Witness denied that the vicar had said that when so suffering he did not know what he was doing or saying.

Mr. Weatherley, the defending counsel, said that, after consulation with his client, he would plead guilty to the original charges.

In mitigation of the sentence he contended that Mr. Taylor was not a habitual drunkard, but had only taken drink because of the terrible pains which he suffered, and which overcame him.

The defendant had always put forward to his churchwarden the excuse of ill-health.

The Bishop of Bath and Wells will pass sentence in due course.

Garbage System Left in Hands of the Ratepayers

They Will Have an Opportunity at the Municipal Elections to Say Whether or Not They Want it.

The ratepayers of Peterborough will have an opportunity at the municipal elections in January to say whether they want a system of garbage collection or not. This was the decision reached at the meeting of the city council last night, after the matter had been fully discussed. If the people want a garbage system, the work of framing a bylaw to provide for it will have to be done by next year's council.

After considerable discussion last night, it was decided on motion that;

The vote of the electors of the City of Peterborough, qualified to vote at municipal elections, shall be taken at the annual municipal election, to be held on the sixth day of January, 1908, on the following question;

"Are you in favor of establishing a system of garbage?"

In the discussion as to the manner of payment for the collection of garbage, Ald. Elliott, father of the bylaw, considered it should be supported out of the general tax. The plan of each citizen paying 15 cents a month was not agreeable to Ald. Elliott. He considered that the man living in the cottage should not be taxed as much as the one in the mansion.

Ald. Bradburn moved that if it was decided to pay for the collection by general tax, only freeholders be allowed to vote on the question to be submitted to the people in January.

This motion did not carry.

Ald. Morrow moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan, that the manner be left to the next year's council to decide. This motion carried, and the garbage bylaw was laid aside until January, when the electors will vote on it.

FLORENCE ROSSLAND
In "The Fatal Flower" the attraction at the "Grand" Wednesday Dec. 11th.

St. Andrew's Church to Raise $500 For Charitable Purposes

"Ye Old Tyme Concerte" to be Repeated on January 7th in Opera House—Money Also to be Raised by Subscription.

A grand benefit concert will be held on January 7th, for the benefit of the poor and people in distressed circumstances.

Saint Andrew's church has decided to raise a sum of money as near to five hundred dollars as they possibly can, for the purpose of alleviating some of the distress in the city.

The managers have been intrusted with the task of raising the money and are given to January 9th to raise it, when it, or as much as has been gathered together at that time, will be handed over to a distributing committee, composed of the minister, an elder, one man from the congregation, one lady from the Aid, and one lady from the Mission Society.

The managers will simply raise the money; they will not distribute it.

Already an encouraging amount is being gathered together by subscription.

This choir has kindly consented to give their unique concert, "Ye old tyme concerte" in the opera house, on January 7. This concert is perhaps one of the best entertainments ever given in Peterborough. Many people were turned away each time it was given.

In putting the matter before the public, the board of managers of St. Andrew's state; "We feel free to ask every one in our city to boom this concert for sweet charity's sake, for with due regard to preventing duplication, the question asked will simply be, Are you in need?

"And, in addition, there are many industrious self-respecting men, who are temporarily distressed at this time, who would suffer greatly before going to the city charity board for help. It is proposed in some cases to lend a small sum weekly to these people without security.

"Let everyone help this scheme along; it will be good for the helper and the helped."

HE WANTED TO START PICTURE SHOW IN CITY

An American gentleman was in the city yesterday, and approached Mr. George Fowler, of Fowler's restaurant, with a view of buying his premises to establish a moving picture entertainment there. He also saw Mr. M. Pappas for the same purpose. Neither of the above, however, were willing to accommodate him, although he was anxious to locate here and offered a tempting figure.

FACTS—JUST PLAIN, POINTED FACTS

BOYS' SUITS

Good words our Good Boy's Clothing are coming back to us in good business, what better proof could you ask of our value-giving than these.

BUSTER BROWN STYLE

Gray mixed Tweeds, plain, well made and trimmed, sizes 22 to 25.......... 3.25
Gray stripe Tweed, well made and trimmed, 22 to 25 3.50
Blue and black Serge, well made and trimmed sizes 22 to 26.......... 4.00

2-PIECE NORFOLK STYLE

Dark gray stripe Tweed, sizes from 25 to 30, special 2.00
Gray mixed Tweed, pepper and salt effects, all sizes, 24 to 30, Special.......... 2.50
Brown Scotch Tweed effect, double breasted Norfolk, sizes 26 to 29, prices..........4.00, 4.50, 5.00
3 piece Double Breasted Styles-dark gray check and stripe Tweed, Lion Brand, with double elbows and double seats and knees, well padded and well made, sizes 28 to 33..........4.50 and 5.00
Dark gray over plaids and dark stripes, the newest designs for boys' suits, double breasted, sizes 28 to 33.......... ....6.00, 6.50, 7.00
Boys' and Youth's Reefers--Dark gray and black Frieze, Tweed lined, all sizes up to 28..........2.00, 2.25
Dark gray and black Frieze, Tweed lined, t o3 4 2 75

MERRELL & MEREDITH
CLOTHIERS, FURNISHERS and HATTERS
375-377 GEORGE ST. PHONE 35

Bold Robbery On Stewart St.

Fifty Dollars' Worth of Jewelery Taken From Mr. T. Brightman's

Another robbery was committed this morning, when the back door of Mr. T. Brightman's house on Stewart street, between Simcoe and Charlotte streets, was broken into while there was no one in the house. The two fellows suspected were arrested this afternoon by P. C. Meharry.

The robbery took place between 10 and 11 o'clock, and about $50 worth of jewellery is missing. Mr. and Mrs. Brightman are out of the city.

Benefit Concert Committees Met

The committees looking after the arrangements for the David Hartley benefit concert met in the City Council Chamber last evening. There were present Messrs. Jos. Maher, R. Gliddo, Ald. Morgan, Ald. McIntyre, Ald. Elliott, Archie Moore, R. M. Glover, R. J. Munro and Ald. Phelan. Mr. Maher was in the chair, and Mr. R. M. Glover acted as secretary pro tem. Upon motion of Ald. Elliott, seconded by Ald. Phelan, it was moved that all details in connection with the entertainment be left in the hands of the joint committees. It was deemed advisable by some to leave the concert till the week between Christmas and New Year's. However, this was left in the hands of the committee to decide. A committee of Messrs. Munro, Gliddon and Maher were appointed to look after the procuring of the Grand Opera House, and if that was not available, to try and get the market hall. Excellent progress is being made by the promoters of the affair.

TWO DIVISION COURTS FOR THE COUNTY

An important announcement was made by His Honor Judge Weller at the County Court this afternoon, when he said that on January 9th, next, a meeting of the Judge, Sheriff, Warden and Inspector of Division Courts would be held at the Judge's Chambers, for the purpose of abolishing the Third Division Court and place one portion of it with the second and the remaining part of it with the first Division Courts. The Third Court is in Keene, and it is thought that the work of it could be divided between Norwood and Peterborough, the other two courts. This is considered the most feasible plan of handling all the business of the county.

Special Inducements TO BUY HEATERS

You gain nothing by delay. See ou

Standard Oak
Quebec Ideal
Art Laurel

They are great fuel savers. Easily operated and splendid heat distributors.

F.R.J. MACPHERSON & CO.
341 George St. Phone 116
F.R.J. MACPHERSON ANGUS MACPHERSON

SPECIAL RATES FOR FAMILY WASHING

Prices were never lower than now at

Parkers' Steam Laundry

Goods called for and delivered free to any part of the city.

W. P. HETHERINGTON
CHARLOTTE ST. PHONE 65

International Correspondence Schools
Of Scranton, Penn.
Industrial Science Taught by Mail.
LOCAL OFFICE — 430 George Stree
R. C. BALFOUR, Representative

he Talk of the Town—OUR COOKING

TOOTHSOME
WHOLESOME
PALATABLE

Try a loaf of our Brown and Currant Bread
FRY'S MILK CHOCOLATE DROPS
BURNT ALMONDS

COLEMAN BROS.
Phone 335. 426 George S

A PLEASANT EVENING AT CHINA HALL

A pleasant evening may be spent by paying a visit to the show rooms of China Hall. Our present stock (got together after 10 months of careful buying, backed by over 30 years' experience) would do credit to the largest city in the Dominion. The assortment is so varied that it cannot be seen in a few minutes and an hour or two may be pleasantly spent in looking through the two show rooms. You will see the following celebrated makes as well as the very cheapest goods. Royal Crown Derby, Royal Doulton, Old Greek "Prince Albert," Royal Worcester, Knol, Royal Vienna, Royal Bavarian, Coalport, Royal Saxony, Maioka, etc., etc.

CHINA HALL CO. New Premises 394 GEORGE STREET
(NEXT TO H. LeBRUN & CO.)

GET THE LATEST

The Review Supplies the Correct Things in Wedding Invitations Programmes, Personal Stationery, Etc

THE DAILY REVIEW

LUMBER
and BUILDING MATERIAL of all kinds. Shingles, Scantling, Joists and Bill Stuff. Mouldings, Casings and Bases, and all kinds of finish. Boxes and Box Shooks.
ALF. McDONALD ESTATE
Point St. Charles Mill, Peterborough.

VOL LV., NO. 134 — PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1907 — TEN CENTS PER WEEK

PROBABILITIES

Fresh to strong northwest winds; cold; light local snow falls.

Thursday, moderate winds, generally fair and cold.

PRACTICAL GIFT SUGGESTIONS

WILL BE FOUND AT

THE GOLDEN LION STORE

This December our store has been transformed into a distinctly Holiday Gift Shop, with hundreds of suggestions on every side, making the question of selection an easy problem. Special Xmas prices will enable you to make large savings on the articles selected; and the early visitors will carry away the best values.

Leather Goods
Appropriate gift suggestions: Shopping Bags, Hand Bags, Chatelaine Bags in various leathers black and colored
25c to $6.00

Side and Back Combs
Single and in sets, plain, hand carved, gold inlaid, cut steel, mounted and set with brilliants—colors, shell, amber, black and grey
15c to $3.50

Fancy Neckwear
Dainty creations of chiffon and lace. Every collar at 50c or over in pretty box without extra charge
25c to $2.00

Fancy Baskets
Unlined and satin lined, suitable for work baskets, hold-alls, etc. A useful and inexpensive gift
25c to $2.50

Armenian Hand Embroidered Work

Made by the converts in the British Missions in Turkey; exquisitely fine needlework on satin and bolting cloth, Doylies, Centre Pieces and Cushion Tops in various sizes and colors

50c to $8.50

Wool Toques
Suitable gift for a child or young lady in dark and light colors.
25c and 50c

Lined Gloves
Brown and tan Dogskin Gloves, fur and fleece lined
75c to $3.00

Silk Mitts
Spun silk in black only warm and very serviceable
$1.25 and $1.75

Down Comforters
Fine down proof French Sateen covering—first quality down filling
$5.00 to $7.50

Dainty Lawn Waists

More serviceable, cheaper and more becoming than low priced silk waists. A large consignment just placed in stock and specially priced for the holiday trade, elegantly embroidered fronts on Persian Lawn and Swiss Mull

$2.00 to $5.00

Robert Fair & Co. Limited
383 GEORGE STREET
Phone—Dry Goods 145 Phone—Dressmaking 145B

[redacted]

WANTED

FIRST CLASS WAITRESS. Apply at once at Oriental. 1d.

For Sale or To Rent

TO RENT

BRICK HOUSE AT 77 WATER ST., bath and electric light. Immediate possession. Apply to J. J. TURNER & SONS, Tent Manufacturers, George Street. 3d

TO RENT

A FEW FINE, WELL LIGHTED AND HEATED ROOMS at the Y. M. C. A. for rent from $1.50 to $2.00 a week. 6d

FOR SALE

PIANO CASE ORGAN, double the usual volume, (8 sets reeds) good as new, less than half price on easy weekly or monthly payments. A nice Christmas present easy to buy. 27 Park St., corner Park and Parnell. tf

FOR SALE

TYPEWRITER, latest model American Oliver, brand new. Good discount off lowest selling price for a quick sale. Apply Review Office. tdf

Lost and Found

LOST

ON FRIDAY EVENING between Dalhousie St and Y. W. C. A. a teacher's Bible with name written inside the cover. Finder will please return to the Review Office or H. P. Kennedy's store, George Street. 1d

Ontario Liquor License Act

License District of West Peterborough

Notice is hereby given that Edward Flaherty has made application for permission to transfer his Hotel License for the premises Nos. 217-219 Hunter St., in the City of Peterborough, known as the Royal Hotel, to Stephen Holland, of the City of Peterborough; and that the said application will be considered at the meeting of the Board of License Commissioners to be held at the Inspector's Office in the City of Peterborough on the 18th Day December, 1907 at the hour of 8 o'clock p.m.

All persons interested will govern themselves accordingly.

JOSEPH STEWART
License Inspector, West Peterborough

Dated at Peterborough this 3rd Day of December, 1907.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!
A nice pair of Snowshoes or a good Toboggan would make a most acceptable present to lady, gentleman, girl or boy. We carry a very large assortment. Call and see them.
J. J. TURNER & SONS
TENT MANUFACTURERS
George Street. Peterborough

GET READY!
Summer has gone by and winter is at hand. Are you settled in a house of your own where you can stay and not be forced out in the cold? If not, take warning, and buy one of our Cheap New Houses and be at home, or buy one of our Modern Houses at $2,100 and up. We also have first-class large houses from $3,000 up
Companies Good as the Best in all lines of Insurance but Life. Rates moderate.
R. G. Ivey, Special Agent, 388 George St. Phone 3 Bell — W. MIGHT

For Sale or To Rent
AT REASONABLE PRICES
Three small farms, good soil, suitable for gardening purposes, close to city. Also a few small, comfortable, dwelling houses, and choice building lots, well situated in good localities.
Properties sold, purchased or exchanged.
Private Funds to Loan on Real Estate.
INSURANCE
Agents for reliable Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Liability Insurance Companies. For particulars as to rates, etc., apply to
J. J. McBAIN & SON
Real Estate and Insurance Agents.
Office Cor. Simcoe and George-sts.
Office 'Phone 454 Residence Phone 109A

FOR XMAS
Furniture fixed up like new. Upholstering and all kinds of similar work done. Mattresses made over.
A. R. JACKSON
320 Aylmer. Corner of Charlotte. Bell Phone 494B

FANCY POTTERY
All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.
GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

GEORGE RUTH
Properties for Sale:
Come and inspect our list of HOUSES We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.
8 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.
A few first-class homes to rent with modern improvements.
395 Water Street, open evenings

CHRISTMAS GIFTS
What more appropriate gift could you make than by purchasing a home for your family?
Come and see J. T. O'Connell & Co's bargains.
$2,250—New red brick house, central, cement floor in cellar; hall, parlor, dining room, kitchen, large pantry, front and back stairs, 4 bedrooms, bathroom fitted, 3 clothes closets, attic finished, electric lights, large verandah and balcony, woodshed and summer kitchen. Can be bought on monthly payments. Possession at once.
$900 buys red brick cottage East City, 6 rooms, hard and soft water, large lot.
To Rent--New house with all conveniences. Possession at once.
For further particulars apply to
J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.
Phone 376. 136 Hunter St.

MEALS—LUNCHES
AT ALL HOURS
For quick service, well-cooked meals and popular prices—go to
FOWLER'S RESTAURANT
McCallum's Old Stand - 330 George St

R. A. ELLIOTT & CO.
Real Estate Agents
Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

STOVES, RANGES —AND— HEATERS
Enamel and Tinware
Plumbing and Eavetroughing
HUTCHINSON-STURGEON CO
Bell and Machine 'Phones 238 — 342 George Street

International Correspondence Schools
Of Scranton, Penn.
Industrial Science Taught by Mail.
LOCAL OFFICE - - 490 George Street
R. C. BALFOUR, Representative

The Talk of the Town—OUR COOKING
TOOTHSOME
WHOLESOME
PALATABLE
Try a loaf of our Brown and Currant Bread
FRY'S MILK CHOCOLATE DROPS
BURNT ALMONDS
COLEMAN BROS.
phone 335. 426 George St.

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

XMAS GIFTS FOR 'HIM'

Something He Will Appreciate

For months we have been on the alert for the most tasteful and appropriate ideas to please "Him," and with our present complete array of clever seasonable male accessories, we are more than confident that we can satisfy your most exacting choice.

XMAS CRAVATS
The smartest Christmas Cravats will come from here. We make this line a hobby, and our showing proves unquestionably. The most clever conceits in silk weaves are here in profuse assortment for your choosing. You see them at a glance in our cases 50c, 75c, $100, 1.25 to 1.50

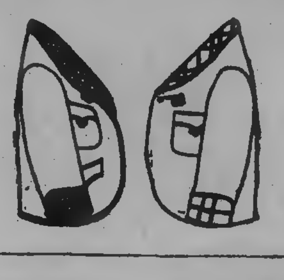
REEFER SCARFS
The best approved style of Silk Muffler. Plain colors only, in assorted weaves, all the season's newest shades—Helio, Blue, Plum also Black and White. Prices
$1.25, 1.50, 1.75, 2.00 to 3.75

THINGS HE WILL LIKE

NOVELTIES
In Collar Bags, Handkerchiefs, Braces, Pyjamas, Hosiery, etc. You are welcome to take a look through our shop for suggestions.

JEWELRY
A beautiful Stock of Jewelry in the most correct designs, including Fobs, Scarf Pins, Cuff Links, etc., at Toggery Prices



House Coats
Smoking Jackets
Lounging Robes
and Bath Gowns

We bought these in plenty this season to get a special price inducement and have marked them very close for quick selling. Prices
$4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $6.50, $7, $8.50 to $12

GLOVES
We sell only guaranteed Gloves from the most reliable makers. A most useful and seasonable gift. In Mochas with wool knitted lining
$1.00, 1.25, 1.50 to 2.50
FUR LINED at $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50
GENUINE SQUIRREL LINED, $4.00 and $4.50
KID and SUEDE GLOVES, silk lined, $1.50 and $2.00
CAPE GLOVES, $1.00 and $1.50

NOVELTY VESTS
Latest New York styles in the new Browns and Grays; plain grounds, stripes and checks. Also self figured patterns. Prices
$3.00 to $5.00

CANES, UMBRELLAS
All the newest designs in these natty Xmas gifts. The values are better than the prices indicate. Marked at Toggery Prices
$1.00, 1.50, 2.00, 2.50 to 4.00

STORE HOURS
8.10 - - 5.45
Cressman's
385, 387, 389
GEORGE STREET

Second Hand Stove Bargains —AT— BARRETT'S
Why pay $30 for a Heater or $40 for a Range when you can buy either for $5 to $15 at Barrett's Second Hand Store.
187 Simcoe St. next Cavanagh's

SPECIAL RATES FOR FAMILY WASHING
Prices were never lower than now at
Parkers' Steam Laundry
Goods called for and delivered free to any part of the city.
W. P. HETHERINGTON
CHARLOTTE ST, PHONE 65

A. BROWN & CO.,
The Real Estate Agents, 396 Water Street
$100 will secure good Cottage with large lot 50x200
$500 will secure an up-to-date House with all modern improvements.
$1,000 will purchase good Cottage and large lot
$600 will secure Cottage, Stable and 4 acres good land near city.
We have some great snaps in Houses, Farms and City lots for sale and to rent.
Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.
Bell Phone 136 and 474 B. Machine 117

Photography
Amateur Supplies, Cameras, Souvenir Books, Post Cards and all kinds of high-grade Photography at W. G. LENDRUM'S, 170 Charlotte St. Agent for the celebrated Heintzman & Co's Pianos.

PIANO, HARMONY, Etc.
ALFRED DAVIES
Teacher of Piano, Harmony, etc. Pupils prepared for all examinations. 106 McDonnel St., Bell Tel. 463, P.O. Box 592 3m

First of the Criminal Cases is Being Heard

County Court resumed this morning at 10 o'clock, before His Honor Judge Weller. The first of the criminal cases was taken up. William Haines, of Cavendish, was charged with breaking into the house of Richard Bell on the 12th day of October, stealing a number of articles, including 300 feet of lumber, a blanket and a glass tumbler. Mr. R. E. Wood conducted the case for the Crown, and Messrs. F. D. Kerr and R. L. Goodwill appeared for the defendant. Haines pleaded not guilty. A jury was then empanelled. After jurors were sworn, Crown Attorney R. E. Wood addressed them, explaining to them the facts of the case. It appears that Wm. Haines, defendant, sold a house and some property to Richard Bell, who was to have possession by the first of October. Bell agreed to pay Haines $27, and have the contents of the house. On the Sunday following the payment of the twenty-seven dollars, Bell visited the house which he had then rented to a man by the name of Vickers, and found it locked, but a window was smashed. He went over to Westlake's, a nearby neighbor, got Vickers, and returned to the house. Upon examination, the above mentioned articles were missing. Haines was suspected as having carried them off.

The case will likely be concluded tomorrow.

SHAREHOLDERS AND DIRECTORS

Meeting of Star of East Mining Co. To-day

A meeting of the directors and shareholders of the Star of the East Gold Mining Company was held this morning in the Sons of England Hall, Hunter street. Only a small number were in attendance and no business of importance was transacted. Among the prominent officers of the company in attendance was Mr. LaDale, of Franklin, Penn.

PALMISTRY
Prof. C. SHEPHERD of San Francisco, California, is visiting Peterborough for a limited time, and may be consulted at
Mrs. R. King's, George Street (upstairs) Rooms, First Floor
Hall entrance next Times Office. Hours from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Appointments made. Your past, present and future about Business and Marriage correctly told. Machine Phone 7

Turkey Shoot Held Yesterday

The Gold Lake Hunt Club held a turkey shoot in Jackson Park yesterday afternoon. Messrs. J. Robertson, J. Hoolihan, Jas. Bremener, I. Eastwood, and A. Blade captured all the prizes. The shooting was at a hundred yard range target.

An orthodox Jewish hospital is to be established in Chicago at a cost of $125,000.

"DON'T BURN THEM"
We will buy all kinds of Second-hand boots and shoes
JAY'S SECOND-HAND STORE
390 Aylmer Street

Select your aldermanic candidates,
XMAS CHEER
CENTRAL LIQUOR STORE
141 HUNTER STREET
Brandies, Port and Sherry Wines, St. Augustine, Native Port, also the highest grade Scotch Whiskies to be found in Peterborough.
Something good in Rye, namely:—
MITCHELL'S SPECIAL RYE WHISKY
Quality the best in Peterborough and a little better.
Remember the place
The Old Reliable Liquor Store
F. J. R. MITCHELL

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | Wednesday, December 11
EDWARD HALL AMUSEMENT CO. present MR. WILLIAM WALCOTT, Supported by Miss Florence Rossland, in the Powerful Modern Play
THE FATAL FLOWER
By Howard Hall. The most beautiful dramatic production of the season. Prices—25c 35c, 50c and 75c

THE CRYSTAL
OPEN EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING
Passion Play "Life of Christ"
ALL THIS WEEK.
Beautifully illustrated song "ROCK OF AGES"
ADMISSION--10 CENTS

Medical

E. V. FREDERICK, M.B., Tor.
M.R.C.S., Eng.; L.R.C.P., Lond. Lic. Univ. o New York.
Removed to No. 482 George St., formerly office of Dr. McFaul
Private nursing home for surgical cases.

DR. G. STEWART CAMERON
Office and Residence
No. 273 Charlotte St. 'Phone 128

DR. G. C. LEACH
Late House Surgeon of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio; also of Cook County Hospital, Chicago
OFFICE.—284 Hunter St., formerly occupied by Dr. Coughlin. Phone Bell 219.
Special Attention to Diseases of Women

DR. JAS. V. GALLIVAN
Office 215 Simcoe St. Late of St. John's Hospital New York. Lic. University of New York.
Telephone 668.

Osteopathy

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY
Osteopathic Physician
Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Water Street entrance.
Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. Evenings by appointment. Consultation free.

Legal

R. E. WOOD
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Etc. Office removed from Bank of Commerce Building to 435 George street, recently occupied by E. H. Edwards. Money to Loan

W. H. MOORE
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, in the Supreme Court etc. Office—Hunter street, first stairs west of Post Office.

HALL & HAYES
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS and NOTARIES PUBLIC, Hunter Street, Peterborough, next to English Church. Money to Loan at the lowest rates of interest.
E. H. D. HALL. LOUIS M. HAYES

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON
(Successors to Stratton & Hall)
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., Peterborough Ont. Office—Corner of Hunter and Water Sts. over Bank of Commerce.
E. H. HALL, M.P. S. T. MEDD. W. E. DAVIDSON

EDMISON & DIXON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc. Office in Claxton's Block, corner of Hunter and George streets, over Dickson's store.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc
415 Water Street, Peterborough.
E. J. PECK F. D. KERR. R. M. DENNISTOUN

Money

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASY TERMS
O'CONNELL & GORDON
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS NOTARIES, Etc
Canadian and United States Patent Attorneys
134 Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office.
DANIEL O'CONNELL. GEORGE N. GORDON

ROGER, BENNET & GOODWILL
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., 37 Water St. Peterborough. Telephone No. 181.
Money at Current Rates
Upon Easy Terms.
G. M. ROGER. J. W. BENNET. E. L. GOODWILL

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

PAID UP CAPITAL $1,000,000.00
RESERVE FUND 580,000.00

SAVINGS
An Account may be opened at any time with a Deposit of One Dollar.
3½ % Interest allowed on daily balances.

DEBENTURE DEPT.
Four Per Cent. paid half yearly on sums of $100.00 and upwards.

MONEY TO LOAN
at current rates of interest.
W. G. MORROW, Manager

Children's Aid Society
FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.
Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898 Information required. Informants name kept strictly private.
CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION
Office Hours—11.30 to 12.30 a.m.
OFFICE—DIVISION COURT BLDG
GEO. COCHRANE, Agent and Asst Sec

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES
AND
VETERINARY INFIRMARY
136 Hunter Street west of Oriental Hotel.
If you wish a rig of any kind for city business ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 278. Night Phone Bell 425 B.
D. McKERCHER, V.S.

Girl Toilers

Gain Strength for Work

In office and factory, shop, store or kitchen girls are at work all over this land, and, alas! far beyond their strength. Young women who work are especially liable to female ills. Too often the girl is the bread winner of the family and she must toil unremittingly, no matter if her back does ache, her limbs and abdomen throb with dull pain and dragging sensations, and dizzy spells make her utterly unfit for work. These are the sure signs of female irregularities which kill beauty and youth.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

builds health and strength for all women who work and are weary. It creates the vitality that makes work easy. From the thousands of grateful letters written by working girls to Mrs. Pinkham we quote the following:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Overwork and long hours at the office, together with a neglected cold, brought on a female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I tried change of scene and climate, but found that I did not regain my health. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when her health was in the same condition that mine was, and straightway sent out for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve, but after that my recovery was very rapid, and when I had finished the sixth bottle I was well and able to go back to work again. I certainly think your medicine worthy of praise, and am indeed glad to indorse it.

MLLE. ALMA ROBITAILLE, 78 rue St. Francois, Quebec, Que.

Oh, if Canadian girls who work would only realize that they have but one life to live, and make the most of their precious health and strength!

Mrs. Pinkham extends to every working girl who is in ill health a cordial invitation to write her for advice. Such letters are always kept strictly confidential, and from her vast experience Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help you—and may save your life.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures Where Others Fail

ATTACKS THE NEW MINISTER; HON. MR. PUGSLEY DENOUNCED

Sits in House Like a "Whipped Spaniel," Says Mr. Kemp.

Mr. Pugsley Sits Mum Under Scathing Challenge—Attempt to Drew Him Out on That $500,000 Fund—Remedy For Faulty Train Service—Tributes to the Late Mr. Gunn, M. P. for South Huron.

Ottawa, Dec. 11.—Yesterday the House of Commons had the first instalment of the reply to the Pugsley campaign fund allegations when A. E. Kemp (Toronto) made an attempt to draw from the new Minister of Public Works a definite statement of what he knows about the existence of a fund of half a million dollars to carry the general election of 1904 for the Conservative party.

Mr. Pugsley did not reply. He sat in the seat throughout the speech taking notes and he occasionally interrupted, but he did not rise to reply. When Mr. Kemp sat down it was expected that Mr. Pugsley would take the floor, but instead Dr. McIntyre of Strathcona was put up. His appearance was greeted with cries of "speak now" directed at Mr. Pugsley. The belief is entertained that Mr. Pugsley will not reply till Mr. Borden has spoken on the same subject.

Challenged to Go Full Length.

Mr. Kemp challenged Mr. Pugsley to go the full length and repeat on the floor of the House what he said on the platform. "It doesn't make any difference who is hit," he declared. "If he refuses to go farther he stands condemned before the country. He has sat in this House all the week like a whipped spaniel. He is now before the bar of public opinion and let him choose his court."

This defi hurled at the head of the Minister of Public Works roused the Opposition to hearty applause, which was renewed with double force when the challenged Minister sat dumb and a back-bench member was put up to steer the debate along other lines.

Campaign Contributions.

When Mr. Kemp rose to continue the debate on the address he immediately launched upon topic of campaign contributions. The Minister of Public Works, he said, had gone about the country making insinuations concerning the campaign fund of the Conservative party at the last general election. He would ask why Mr. Pugsley, who was Attorney-General of New Brunswick, did not prosecute the guilty parties under the criminal law if he knew that a large sum of money was illegally spent by Conservatives in that campaign. This hon. gentleman, however, was now in the House, and he might be expected enlighten them. He had spoken a great deal on the public platform, but he had not said a word while in the House.

Mr. Kemp proceeded to call attention to what he said was the most sensational thing that took place at that time, a certain function held not far from the city of Ottawa in October, 1904. This was an excursion extending 1,086 miles and composed of 190 gentlemen and chiefly controlled by the Minister of Public Works and David Russell—(Opposition cheers)—there were rumors at the time that it was the intention of the party to capture the portfolio of Railways and Canals for Mr. Pugsley. What did it mean if not to bring that gentleman to the attention and have him supersede Mr. Emmerson? As to what happened, Mr. Kemp referred to the accounts in some of the Liberal papers. The public were informed that the gentlemen were guests of Mr. Russell, and he paid the bill. We were told that the weather was damp and the party were supplied with rubbers and overshoes.

Mr. Kemp read the opinions of some of the Liberal papers as to what was the purpose of the banquet. It was a most spectacular affair, and was said to cost about $15,000. There was not much doubt, in his opinion, as to what the aim and object of the affair was. Mr. Pugsley and Mr. David Russell were intimate in newspaper deals and in land deals.

Brought Pugsley to His Feet.

Mr. Pugsley was on his feet. "The hon. gentleman when he states that I was associated with Mr. Russell in newspaper deals and in land deals is entirely incorrect."

Mr. Kemp: I understand that the hon. gentleman owned the The St. John Gazette.

"I was one of the proprietors and I sold out my interest to Mr. Russell and got the cash," said Mr. Pugsley, amid Opposition cheers.

Quick Switch to Rural Delivery.

Dr. McIntyle (Strathcona) followed, talking to the Armstrong amendment in favor of free rural mail delivery.

The House rose at 5.30 yesterday to enable the members to attend the funeral service over the remains of the late B. B. Gunn, M. P. for South Huron.

Before the orders of the day were called, Mr. Fielding, in the absence of the Prime Minister, made a touching reference to the death of Mr. Gunn, upon whose desk in the House lay a massive floral wreath, the tribute of his fellow Conservative members. Mr. Fielding alluded to the fact that this was the second death since the session began, a circumstance which lent it additional sadness. He spoke of the deceased as a man who was most assiduous in attendance at the Parliamentary committees, who seldom took part in the debates in the House, but when he did so, always commanded attention. In conclusion, he expressed, on behalf of the members on the Government side, the sympathy of the Commons for Mrs. Gunn and the bereaved family.

R. L. Borden spoke with much feeling. It was but a week since the late member, he said, was walking about in evident good health, and only on Saturday, when Mr. Borden last saw him, neither of them had any premonition of the hon. member's fast approaching death. To Mr. Fielding, the Opposition leader voiced the thanks of the Conservative members for his tribute to their late friend, closing with a similar expression of deep sorrow and of heartfelt sympathy with the bereaved family.

Inadequate Train Accommodation.

Mr. Taylor again brought up the subject of inadequate train connection between the C. P. R. and G. T. R. at Brockville.

Mr. Graham said he had referred the matter to the Board of Railway Commissioners, and had received from them a communication in which they gave a history of what had been done in the matter. "More a history of what has been done than of what has been accomplished," he added. The Minister went on to say that it was a case where one railway company blamed the other for the present unsatisfactory state of affairs.

A tentative arrangement had been come to whereby the C. P. R. agreed to hold its train ten minutes at Brockville if the Grand Trunk would wire ahead that there were passengers on its train desiring to transfer at Brockville. But for five days last week the Brockville mails were held a day later there and on one occasion the mail car went off with half the mail, the other half being left on the platform truck because the C. P. R. people would not wait.

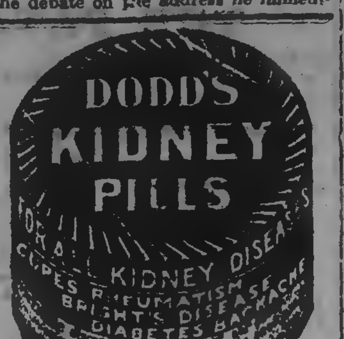
"This can and must be remedied immediately," declared the Minister forcibly, adding that if necessary he would have the Railway Act amended so as to make the companies accommodate the public in this matter.

The House voted last night on Mr. Armstrong's amendment, favoring free rural mail delivery. Dr. Paquet (Conservative, L'Islet) announced that he would vote against the amendment. There should be more post-offices and increased postal facilities. Rural mail delivery, he thought, would be premature. Lavergne, Verville and Robitaille also voted with the Government. The Government majority was 49.

Samuel Barker (Conservative, Hamilton) adjourned the debate. He will move an amendment condemning the Government for the Quebec bridge disaster.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth took his seat in the House yesterday afternoon.

The C.P.R. upper lake service will be discontinued on Dec. 12.



NEW BRIDGE COLLAPSED

Floods Undermine Structure Over Susquehana River.

Seven Men Are Killed—Forty Others Badly Injured—Disaster Happened at Nightfall — Details Similar to Those at Quebec—Bodies Crushed Under Heavy Girders and Iron Work.

Bloomsburg, Pa., Dec. 11.—High water last night caused the collapse of a new bridge in course of erection over the west branch of the Susquehanna River at Mifflinville, eight miles north of here, and resulted in the death of seven men and the injury of nearly a score of others, two perhaps fatally. Forty men were at work on the traveler, on the middle span of the structure, when it collapsed. They were all thrown into the swollen river.

The accident occurred just at nightfall, when the men were preparing to abandon their work. As a result, the work of rescuing those who were thrown into the water and caught in the mass of twisted iron and steel was greatly retarded. The second span of the bridge was being erected, and it was this section that fell with the big traveler.

The bodies of those killed were found floating on the surface of the water entangled in the bent and twisted girders and ironwork, but the others have not been found.

One of the most miraculous escapes was that of William Nesbitt, who was caught in the ironwork and held a prisoner for an hour with his mouth and chin above water before being rescued.

HOSTILITY TO STOESSEL.

Court Abruptly Refuses His Request For Two Witnesses.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 11.—Before a brilliant assemblage of his old comrades in arms, Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel, yesterday was placed on trial to answer with his life and reputation for the loss of Port Arthur on Jan. 1, 1905, and in firm tones and with confident manner, the general pleaded not guilty to the charge of needlessly surrendering the fortress and thereby humiliating the Russian army.

There were also present 200 officers and soldiers, who had been at Port Arthur and who were clad in their full dress uniforms, blazing with stars and decorations.

Gen. Stoessel alone was in civilian attire, and this made him conspicuous. He wore proudly around his neck the cordon of the military Order of St. George, which was conferred upon him by the Emperor during the siege, and on his breast was pinned the cross of George III., awarded the general for conspicuous bravery in frontier fighting.

The other accused officers, Gens. Fock, Reiss and Smirnoff, came to the court clad in their uniforms.

One or two incidents showed the attitude of the court to be unfavorable to Stoessel. His personal request that two additional witnesses be called in was dismissed without ceremony. Those witnesses could give evidence of vital importance to Stoessel. One of them, Dr. Rozanoff, was chief of the Red Cross within the fortress. At the preliminary hearing, he testified that at the time of the surrender Gen. Stoessel had at his disposal only 8,000 able-bodied men to defend the hundreds of miles of fortifications, and that the bitter cold winds prevailing at the time, made it difficult for the soldiers to even hold their rifles in their hands. Gen. Nadien, the other witness excluded, is the author of a deposition similar to that of Dr. Rozenoff.

The absence of ex-Viceroy Alexieff from the trial is interpreted to mean that the Government is not willing to enhance the magnitude of the proceedings. Alexieff escaped going on the witness stand with difficulty.

FIRE IN MONTREAL SCHOOL.

Seven Hundred Pupils Marched Out in Two Minutes.

Montreal, Dec. 11.—With 790 pupils under their care and with the horrors of the Hochelaga school fire fresh in their minds, the teachers of Montcalm school were startled yesterday to see smoke pouring out of a storeroom on a third floor.

The principal promptly signaled fire drill and the pupils marched out in two minutes in perfect order.

The firemen confined the fire to the one room. The fire was caused by a defective gas jet.

Would Remove Dunsmuir.

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 11.—Unconstitutional and disloyal were the terms used in the resolution passed by the Asiatic League sent to Ottawa last night, condemning the action of Lieut.-Governor Dunsmuir in signing a contract with the Canadian Nippon Co., to import for his company, the Wellington Colliery, 500 Japanese miners, as disclosed in W. L. M. King's enquiry, while almost at the same date withholding his assent to the provincial natal act. The resolution calls for his removal.

The Trades and Labor Council has taken similar action, which may be followed by like resolutions by the Conservative Association.

Stork Carries 18 Pounds.

Richmond, Ind., Dec. 11.—A baby daughter, weighing 18 pounds, has been born to Mrs. Frank Squires, wife of a farmer living near Washington, Ind. The attending physician and other doctors say the child is a record-breaker for weight. It is well proportioned.

Peterboro Home Robbed.

Peterboro, Dec. 11—The residence of T. Brightman, 343 Stewart street, was entered and jewelry valued at $50 taken. Three men are under arrest, and last night a man was taken into custody while trying to dispose of the stolen jewelry in a store.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

Tuesday Evening, Dec. 10.

Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day ⅛d lower, corn ⅛d off.

At Chicago, December wheat closed ⅜c lower, December corn ⅛c lower.

Winnipeg Options.

Following are the closing quotations on Winnipeg grain futures to-day:

Wheat—Dec. $1.00½ bid, May $1.09¼ bid.
Oats—Dec. 43⅛c bid, May 51½c bid.

Toronto Grain Market.

Grain—
Wheat, spring, bush	$0 95	to $....
Wheat, fall, bush	0 97	....
Wheat, goose, bush	0 87	....
Wheat, red, bush	0 96	....
Rye, bush	0 83	0 85
Peas, bush	0 88	....
Buckwheat, bush	0 64	0 65
Barley, bush	0 70	....
Oats, bush	0 53	....

Toronto Dairy Market.

Butter, dairy, lb. rolls	0 27	0 28
Butter, tubs	0 26	0 27
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 30	0 31
Butter, creamery, boxes	0 29	0 30
Eggs, new-laid, dozen	0 30	....
Eggs, cold-storage, dozen	0 22	....
Cheese, large, lb	0 13½	....
Cheese, twin, lb	0 13¾	....
Honey, extracted, lb	0 13	0 13½

Liverpool Grain and Produce.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 10.—Wheat—Spot weak; No. 2 red western winter, 7s 8d. Futures steady; Dec. 7s 7¼d, March 7s 10d, May 7s 9⅛d.

Corn—Spot quiet; prime mixed, American, 5s 5⅛d. Futures quiet; Dec. nominal, Jan. 5s 1⅛d.

Bacon—Cumberland cut, 26 to 30 lbs., firm, 54s 6d; long clear middles, light, 28 to 34 lbs., strong, 58s; long clear middles, heavy, 35 to 40 lbs., strong, 57s; short clear backs, 16 to 20 lbs., strong, 53s.

Lard—American refined, in pails, quiet, 44s. Turpentine—Spirits dull, 35s 3d.

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Butter—Steady, unchanged; receipts, 9044.

Cheese—Quiet, unchanged; receipts, 4027.

Eggs—Firm, unchanged; receipts, 7891.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Dec. 10.—Receipts of live stock at the City Yards, as reported by the railways, were 92 carloads, composed of 1374 cattle, 575 hogs, 2334 sheep and lambs and 100 calves.

Exporters.

There were none offered and none wanted, owing to lack of shipping space at present.

Butchers.

The best butchers' heifers and steers sold at from $4.20 to $4.50; medium at $3.50 to $3.80; common at $3 to $3.50; cows at $2.25 to $3.25; canners at 75c to $1 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

There is a fair demand for good stockers and feeders. Prices are about steady at following quotations: Best feeders, 1000 to 1100 lbs., at $3.50 to $3.90 per cwt.; best feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs., at $2.90 to $3.50; best stockers, 800 to 900 lbs., at $2.85 to $3.15; best stockers, 600 to 800 lbs., at $2.40 to $2.75; common stockers unchanged at $1.50 to $1.75.

Milkers and Springers.

There was a fair trade, but prices were easier, ranging from $30 to $54 each, but only one cow was reported at the latter price.

Veal Calves.

There were over 300 calves on sale. Prices ruled steady at $3 to $6 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts were large, but there was little change in quotations. Export ewes, $3.75 to $4 per cwt.; lambs, $4 to $5.25 per cwt.

Hogs.

Mr. Harris reports prices 25c higher; selects at $5.25 per cwt.; lights, $5, and stores at $4.50.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Dec. 10.—Cattle—Receipts, 300 head; fairly active and steady; prime steers, $5.50 to $5.75.

Veals—Receipts, 600 head; slow and 25c lower, $5 to $9.

Hogs—Receipts, 12,600 head; fairly active, strong to 5c higher; heavy and mixed, $4.80 to $4.90; yorkers, $4.65 to $4.85; pigs, $4.50 to $4.55; roughs, $4.20 to $4.40; stags, $3.25 to $3.75; dairies, $4.20 to $4.80.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 9000 head; good lambs active and 10c higher; common and sheep slow and steady; lambs, $5 to $6.25; Canada lambs, $5.75 to $6.10.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Beeves—Receipts, 870; nothing doing in live cattle; feeling steady for steers; weak for bulls and cows; dressed beef slow, at 7½c to 10c. Exports to-day, 760 cattle and 3100 quarters of beef; to-morrow, 150 cattle and 2800 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 498; choice veals steady; others weak; barnyard calves nominal; westerns dull to lower; veals, $5 to $9.50; westerns, $3.75 to $4.25; yearlings, $2.50; dressed calves dull and easier, except for prime veals; city dressed veals, 8c to 14c; country dressed, 7c to 13c; dressed barnyard calves, 6c to 7c.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 8881; sheep dull and unchanged; lambs firm and 15c higher; sheep, $3 to $4.50; culls, $2.50; lambs, $5.75 to $6.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 6485; nominally steady, at $4.85 to $5.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Cattle—Receipts, estimated at about 10,000; market steady to slow; steers, $4 to $4.60; cows, $2.75 to $4; heifers, $2.50 to $4; bulls, $2.60 to $4.35; calves, $3 to $7.25; stockers and feeders, $2.40 to $4.25.

Hogs—Receipts, estimated at about 28,000; market 15c to 25c lower; choice heavy shipping, $4.40 to $4.60; light butchers', $4.40 to $4.60; light mixed, $4.25 to $4.30; choice light, $4.35 to $4.40; packing, $4 to $4.25; pigs, $3.25 to $4.25; bulk of sales, $4.25 to $4.35.

Sheep—Receipts, estimated at about 12,000; market steady; sheep, $3.50 to $5.75; lambs, $5.40 to $6.15; yearlings, $4.25 to $4.90.

British Cattle Markets.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—London cables are firmer, at 11c to 12½c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c to 10½c per pound.

Girl Takes Carbolic.

Brantford, Dec. 11.—Maggie Statibaum, a school girl, 15 years of age, committed suicide yesterday by swallowing carbolic acid. The motive is unknown.

She told her sister that she had taken the acid, but the latter thought she was joking, until physical indications proved her story to be true. A doctor was hurried for, but her life couldn't be saved.

British Vessels Patrol Rivers.

Pekin, Dec. 11.—Piratical depredations on the Whangho River are giving the Chinese Government considerable trouble. Because of difficulty in controlling the lawless element, a fleet of fourteen British vessels in Chinese waters will patrol the river.

Fire in the West.

Vegreville, Alta., Dec. 11.—The fifty thousand dollars of fire loss Monday night was distributed thus: Alberta Hotel, Mohr & Corbutt, clothiers and the bank. Fort Saskatchewan sent a fire engine to help the firefighters.

Twenty national banks in Texas show 47 per cent of cash reserve, ten more than 05 per cent, and none less than 34 per cent.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
RAILWAY TIME TABLE

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.40 a.m. 9.09 p.m.	8.25 a.m. 5.38 p.m.
Port Hope and points east to Montreal and Boston		8.30 a.m.
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago & West, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.20 a.m. 5.33 p.m.	11.45 a.m. 9.06 p.m.
From Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Bowmanville and Port Hope	11.45 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stouffville, Uxbridge and Markham	10.05 p.m.	7.30 a.m.
Lindsay Local	8.15 a.m.	9.10 p.m.
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m. 8.40 p.m.	8.30 a.m. 1.50 p.m.
Lakefield and Stony Lake	9.50 a.m. 5.15 p.m.	8.30 a.m. 12.20 p.m.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

To Peterboro' Going East,
11.16 a. m., Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal
7.51 p. m., Indian River, Norwood, Havelock, Tweed.
12.31 a. m. midnight, Havelock, Tweed, Smith's Falls, Montreal, Quebec, Portland, Boston and New England points.
1.10 a. m., Ottawa express, Norwood, Havelock, Ivanhoe, Tweed, Smith's Falls, Carleton Jct., Ottawa.
To Peterboro' Going West,
4.48 a. m. for Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, New York, Woodstock, St. Thomas, Chicago, etc.
5.26 a. m. Do. Do.
7.56 a. m. for Cavanville, Manvers, Pontypool, Burkton, etc., Fort William, Winnipeg and all western points in North West Canada.
4.48 p. m. Pontypool, Lindsay, Toronto, Hamilton, Galt, Woodstock, London, Detroit Chicago, etc.

CANADIAN NORTHERN ONTARIO
SHORT LINE TO MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND

WINTER TIME TABLE
In effect December 9th, 1907

NORTHBOUND

	No. 1	No. 3
TORONTO	† 9.00 am	† 5.30 pm
WASHAGO	12.45 pm	9.00 pm
PARRY SOUND	3.10 pm	....

SOUTHBOUND

	No. 2	No. 4
PARRY SOUND	† 9.00 am	†........
WASHAGO	11.25 am	6.45 am
TORONTO	3.00 pm	10.10 am

Observation-Dining Parlor Cars between Toronto and Parry Sound serving meals a la carte.
† Daily except Sunday.
OFFICES: All Stations, also Cor. King and Toronto and Union Station. Phone, Main 5179.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
$3.75
TO GUELPH AND RETURN
on account of
PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR
Tickets good going until December 13th. Valid for return until Monday, Dec. 16th.
When you travel by the
GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
You are assured of the best of everything that modern railway travel can offer
SMOOTH ROADBED FAST TRAIN
COMFORTABLE COACHES
Full information may be obtained from
W. BUNTON, City Passenger Agent
F. SANDY, Depot Ticket Agent
Or write Mr J. D. McDonald, D.P.A., Union Depot, Toronto

CANADIAN PACIFIC
WINTER FAIR
$3.75
GUELPH AND RETURN FROM PETERBORO'
Good going until Dec. 7 to 13 Inclusive
Returning until and on Dec. 16
Tickets and all information from
W. McILROY, Canadian Pacific Agent, 343 George St., Peterbo
Or write C. B. FOSTER, D.P.A. Toronto.

Private Greeting Cards

THE highly colored and lithographed Christmas Card in vogue a few years ago has passed away entirely.

IN place has come the much more appropriate Personal Greeting Card.

OF these the Review Office is showing a great many original designs.

YOUR order should be given immediately, while the selection is so complete.

SHOULD you desire a Card specially designed to your order, promptness is absolutely necessary.

The Review
HUNTER STREET
PETERBOROUGH

"Fashion-Craft"

The Artistic View Point

Rightly or wrongly, "Fashion-Craft" believes that its salesmen should be just as hard to please as its most fastidious customers.

Tnat is, none but men trained in clothes knowledge can sell "Fashion-Craft" clothes.

They must understand not only Fit, which is elementary knowledge, but color effect and pattern effect, so that their taste and judgment is used to the buyer's interest.

Think what this means—helping the customer to choose, and not forcing him to buy.

The Commercial View Point

"Fashion-Craft" business suits include fine English Worsteds, Saxonies and Cheviots, in ample varieties from $15 to $30.

The $15 suit has $15 worth of substantial wearing value and the appearance of higher priced garments.

Every suit at whatever price is intended to emsize one fact, that "Fashion Craft" clothing is a distinct type and that the wearer is getting the best a custom tailor can do—plus "Fashion-Craft" distinction.

Suit for suit—price for price, "Fashion-Craft" wins the confidence of good dressers.

BUSINESS SUITS

Laidlaw & Oles Props., Peterborough

A Story of Absorbing Interest

The Rogue's March

By E. W. HORNUNG, author of "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," "Stingaree," etc.

CHAPTER XXII.

THE stockade smoldered in the midst of a hard baked plain that was as brown as shoe leather and as devoid of any sort or kind of vegetation, as though it were shaved every morning with some monstrous razor. Trees there were in the distance, marking more than half the skyline, as though the place had been shaved especially for the stockade, but not a solitary bush was within reach. And the sight of the trees, whose leaves they never heard and whose shade they never felt, was one more torment to those of the eighty prisoners who still lifted their heads to look so far. The majority, however, let their dull eyes redden by the day together on those few hard and blinding yards which might chance to occupy their picks and shovels from 5 in the morning till the going down of the sun.

All day they labored in chains beneath the barrels and bayonets of the military. In the evening when they returned to the stockade loaded muskets and fixed bayonets showed them the way. Even in the stockade itself fixed bayonets and loaded muskets gave them their supper. Thereafter they were locked up for the night in so many small boxes lined with ledges something more spacious than bookshelves. On these ledges they lay down, as close as mummies in catacombs, until it should be 5 o'clock once more, and perhaps after a time the only sound would be the clank of his fetters as this man or that turned over in the magnificent space of eighteen inches that was allotted to each.

It was the same stockade of which Erichsen had seen the outside on his way to Castle Sullivan in the early part of December. He saw the inside by the end of February when Strachan gave him six months of it for absconding and by so doing made open enemies of the Sullivans. They wanted to have the breaking of Tom's spirit all to themselves and tried to dictate another fifty lashes and the convict's return to service, but this time Strachan was firm, passing, indeed, the most merciful sentence possible in the circumstances.

The six months began on Wednesday, the last of February, in the year 1838.

First they took his name and made an inventory of his marks, scars and the color of his eyes and hair. Then they cropped the latter and shaved off the yellow stubble which had lately hidden the hollow cheeks and softened the haggard jaw, and it was an old man's face that saw itself with sunken eyes in the barber's glass.

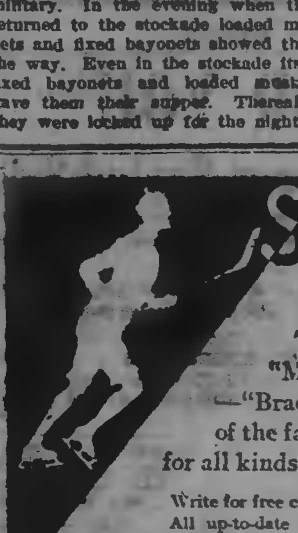
Next they took away his farm laberer's clothes, which were not branded, and put him in a Parramatta frock and trousers, which were. And now they clasped around his body a green hide belt, from which depended in front a heavy chain that became two heavy chains at about the level of the knees, and the two chains ended in still heavier rings around either ankle, and the whole made a capital Y upside down. In this harness it was impossible to walk, though with practice you might waddle, and it was never struck off for a single instant on any pretext whatsoever.

They now presented him with a spoon all to himself. His knife and fork, his pannikin and his mess kid he was to share with five other felons.

Lastly they showed him his eighteen inches, where he passed the intolerable night in wondering why he had not given himself up as the Italian's understudy and in wondering even more why he still would not do so if it were all to come over again, for he knew he would not. Indeed, one of the most dreadful features of this present phase was the tenacity with which the poor wretch found himself clinging to life in each emergency despite all his cooler longings for the end. He longed for that more than ever, but he saw now that death must come to him. He might sink to murder; to self murder he could never stoop.

Or so he thought at the beginning of this term of broiling days and fetid nights, with foul company and heavy irons common to both. Meanwhile such feelings as were left him were still tolerably keen, and it was a real thrill that toward the end of the first week he woke up at his work to hear the others hooting and turned round to see Nat Sullivan once more riding down the line.

To be continued.



Starr Skates

For Hockey

The "Velox"—"Regal"—"Micmac"—"Starr"—"Chebucto"—"Bracketed." Six famous models of the famous Starr Hockey Skates—for all kinds of ice and all kinds of players.

Write for free copy of the 1908 Skate Book.

All up-to-date dealers have Starr Skates and "Rex" and "Micmac" Hockey Sticks.

The Starr Manufacturing Co., Limited

DARTMOUTH, N. S. CANADA. 15

BRANCH OFFICE • • • • TORONTO, Ont.

There are very few aldermanic candidates in sight in Sarnia.

The wooden steamer City of Glasgow was burned three miles out of Green Bay, Wis. The crew of 18 men were rescued.

BODIES ARE A MENACE

Outbreak of Epidemic Is Feared at Monongah.

Hurried Funerals Held In the Rain—Rescuers Taken Ill—May Have to Destroy Corpses In Mine With Quicklime—Evidence Shows Many of the Victims Died In Great Agony.

Monongah, W. Va., Dec. 11.—The relief work for the victims of the mine disaster is well under way. There is now plenty of food, but there is urgent need of clothing in many families. Cash funds are being raised in many places and instalments are already being forwarded from some points. The coal companies of this district have contributed $20,000 cash.

Many of the bodies taken out Monday night were far advanced in decomposition. Some were so bad that hurried funerals were held in the rain. A tent has been erected in the cemetery to be used as a morgue for such as are too far gone to be taken to the bank building.

Health authorities fear an epidemic of fever due to the decaying bodies of the men and the animals and have prepared to enforce heroic measures if it becomes necessary. Quick lime will be taken into the mine and scattered over the bodies if conditions become much worse, and thus the last chance of identifications and restoration to relatives for Christian burial will have passed away.

Many of the rescuers have been stricken with illness and it was found necessary to bring a number of recruits here from the George Creek district. The coroner and his deputies remain constantly upon the scene, viewing the bodies as they come out.

Chief State Mine Inspector Paul is quoted as saying he believed the explosion was started by an electric spark from runaway cars in the main entry. A string of these cars was piled up in the entry at the bottom of a slope.

Nearly 150 bodies have been recovered.

Members of the rescuing party stated last night that a number of the men who were suffocated show evidence of great agony before death relieved them. One miner was found tightly grasping a piece of paper in one hand and a lead pencil in the other. An American miner was recovered who was not marked, nor were his hands or face soiled a particle. The average conditions of the bodies, however, is bad, heads being blown off, arms and legs broken and twisted, and fine pieces of coal are found imbedded in the bodies, showing the terrific force of the explosion.

COUNTERFEITER SENTENCED.

Winnipeg Man Gets Fourteen Months In State Reformatory.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 11.—Yesterday afternoon Judge Page Morris in the United States District Court sentenced Ernest Workman, aged 25, the self-confessed counterfeiter, who came from Winnipeg, to fourteen months in the state reformatiry.

With the usual deduction for good behavior this will give Workman his liberty in a year. The sentence was pretty nearly the minimum.

Howard Wheeler, attorney for Workman, told the court his client was born near Exeter, Ont., and had had but two years schooling. That he had made no attempt to pass the gold certificates which he had made in St. Paul, and they were made so poorly they could hardly deceive anybody.

But the most telling point was made by Wheeler, when he read a letter written to Workman by his 19-year-old wife begging him to plead guilty so their separation would be all the shorter and pledging herself to stand by her husband to the end.

FOUR WORKMEN KILLED.

Accident on the Canadian Northern at Key Harbor.

Parry Sound, Dec. 11.—An inquest was held here Monday night to determine the cause of the death of four Italians, which occurred as the result of an explosion at Key Harbor, last Thursday.

Some eighteen men were working in a rock cut near Key Harbor, on the C. N. O. R. spur line, when a piece of rock, which was rolled down from the face of the cut, exploded, killing three Italians instantly, and wounding some others, one of whom subsequently died.

No one seems to be able to account for the explosion. There had been no dynamite used in the cut for days previous to this explosion, and it was three days before that six battery shots and some block holes had been fired.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Soap That Dyes!

"MAYPOLE"!—that's the name of the cake of soap that makes successful dyeing at home cleanly, successful, safe. The colors are fast and brilliant. It dyes to any shade. No streaks. No mess or trouble. Give yourself a real pleasant treat with cleanly "Maypole"!

Maypole Soap

10c. for colors. 15c. for black.

Frank L. Benedict & Co., Montreal. 67

FUNERAL SERVICE AT OTTAWA.

Remains of B. B. Gunn, M. P., Taken to Seaforth.

Ottawa, Dec. 11.—The funeral service over the remains of the late B. B. Gunn, M. P., was held last night at Rogers' undertaking establishment. Rev. Mr. Richardson of McLeod street Methodist Church officiated, and about 100 members of Parliament were present, including the Speaker and Deputy Speaker, R. L. Borden, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. Wm. Paterson and Hon. G. E. Foster.

E. N. Lewis, M. P., with Mrs. Gunn and her two sons accompanied the remains to Seaforth.

NEW ZEALAND'S LOSS.

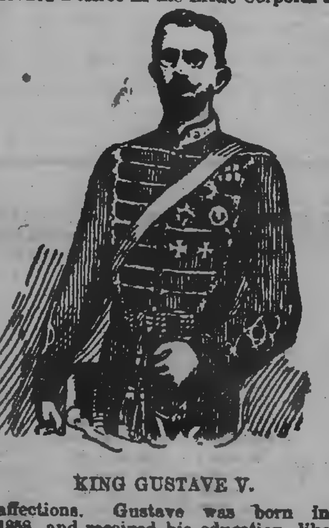
Houses of Parliament Destroyed by Fire.

Wellington, N. Z., Dec. 11.—The Parliament Houses were, last night, entirely destroyed by fire.

SWEDEN'S NEW KING.

New Monarch Has Soldierly Instincts Rather Than Scholarly.

Stockholm, Dec. 11.—Gustave V., the fourth of the descendants of Field Marshal Bernadotte to occupy the throne of Sweden, can trace his connection with the great Napoleon in two others ways. He is the great-grandson of Desiree Bernadotte's Queen, whom Napoleon once thought of making Empress of the French, and he is the great-great-grandson of Josephine of Beanharnois, who succeeded Desiree in the Little Corporal's affections. Gustave was born in 1858, and received his education, like his father before him, at the University of Upsala. He entered the army in 1875, and attained to the rank of general-lieutenant in 1892. He is not unused to the cares of state, having frequently acted as Regent during the illness and absence of his father. He is personally very popular with the citizens of Stockholm, who look upon him as possessing his father's simplicity and sincerity. But while King Oscar was a scholar, King Gustave is a soldier, soul and body, and is somewhat inclined to rashness. It is said that he regards the Kaiser as the ideal ruler and emulates him as far as possible. He won the enmity of the Norwegian Storthing before the separation by suggesting that the Norwegians be tamed by force of arms.



KING GUSTAVE V.

BOY BURGLARS ARRESTED.

Enough Stolen Goods to Stock a Store—Read Dime Novels.

Stratford, Dec. 11.—Charged with wholesale burglary, three Stratford boys, Fred Bart, Fred Hoeltzje and Anthony Steeves, all under 18 years of age, were arrested and remanded. Bart pleaded guilty, while the other two pleaded not guiltq. Several hundred dollars' worth of goods were found in the homes of the boys, and included everything from cigarette paper to revolvers and razors.

It required a large dray to haul the booty to the police station. Chief McCarthy, who ran the boys down, says that he has got to the bottom of the petty thieving that has harrassed merchants and citizens alike during the past year.

The police force was baffled and despite the increased staff of night men, were unable until yesterday to trace the robbers. The boys had in their possession hundreds of keys, which gave them access to almost any store they wished. Burglars' tools, including chisels, pincers and deadly-looking weapons, formed part of the arsenal.

Hundreds of dime novels stolen from local bookstore, were found stowed away beneath the floor. Dozens of boxes of cigars, hundreds of packages of cigarettes, groceries, skates, razors, revolvers, knives, in fact, enough to stock a store.

It is believed that the boys have been carrying on their nefarious operations for months. Their latest robbery was at the wholesale grocery on Downie street, several sacks of goods having been stolen. While returning home with one of these sacks Hoeltaje was overtaken by Chief McCarthy at midnight, but he managed to escape in the darkness.

James Fleming walking from St. Catherines to Guel on a wager.

IF YOUR PIANO BEARS THE NAME

"GERHARD HEINTZMAN"

It has the excellence that comes of years of experience and study, carefully and intelligently applied.

A SINGING EVEN TONE PERFECT ACTION DELICACY OF TOUCH

combined with durability and beauty of design are the distinguishable characteristics of the "Gerhard Heintzman."

In buying a piano it is the truest form of economy to get the best, the few dollars additional in the price being returned tenfold in wear, pleasure and pride of ownership. Write for catalogue.

Gerhard Heintzman, Limited

97 Yonge Street, Toronto.

W. H. ISAAC, 228 Dublin Street, Peterborough.

Local Salaried Representative. Machine 'Phone 22

FOR THE LADY WHO CALLS

Visiting List and Social Engagement Book—A Dainty and Useful Gift.

Those ladies who find it difficult to keep track of their social debts in the way of calls which have to be returned, invitations to various society functions which have been received will be pleased to learn that a dainty little book has been issued from the presses of the Review which will fill their need. The city has grown so rapidly of late years that it has become almost necessary for each lady to have a special reception day each month when her friends will be sure to find her at home. To keep a record of these will be an easy matter with one of these little books. They are prettily bound in blue linen, lettered in gold and printed on good paper. There are two pages for every day in the month, arranged, according as the day is, first Monday, second Tuesday, etc. At the back of the book are pages for invitations received, out-of-town addresses, special reception dates, and memoranda. One of the books would make a dainty and acceptable Xmas gift. The books are on sale at the bookstores at the price of 50c

SUBSCRIBERS PLEASE NOTICE

Readers, whose street number has been lately changed, will confer a favor if they will notify this office so that the correction can also be made on our list. tf

FIRE ALARM BOXES

The following are the numbers and locations of the city of Peterborough Fire Alarm Boxes.

WARD No. ONE

BOX LOCATION
12—Lock and McGill
14—Westcott and Aylmer
15—Perry and George
16—Perry and Bethune
17—Park and Townsend
18—George, at C. P. R.

WARD No. TWO

21—George and King
22—Simcoe and Queen
23—George and Hunter
24—Hunter and Quaker
27—Water and McDonel

WARD No. THREE

31—Park and Sherbrooke
33—Charlotte and Stewart
35—Park and Hunter
38—McDonel and Reid

WARD No. FOUR

41—Park and London
42—George and Dublin
43—Edinburgh and Stewart
45—George and Smith
48—Water and Hilliard

WARD No. FIVE

52—Burnham and James
53—Rogers and Sophia
54—Hunter and Mark
57—Concession and Hazlitt
59—Auburn

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A Key for the Alarm Box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the Alarm Box. Break the glass, remove the Key, and open the Box; pull the lever down, when the Alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station and residences of the Firemen. Do not attempt to remove the Key from Box, as this can only be done by the use of a small Relieving Key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the Alarm is sent in is always sounded on the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the Box nearest to the fire, and when an Alarm is sounded, the War number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the Box.

FOR XMAS WORK OR BAZAARS

Pictures in Sepia or Colors, from 3c to 12c

Mounting Papers and Card, in White, Browns and Gray.

Leather in all shades—Brown, Tan, Green and Red.

Calendar Pads, all sizes, from 2c to 10c each.

Passepartout in all shades.

AT REVIEW STATIONERY DEPT.

YOUR OWN HAIR MADE UP AS DESIRED . .

By home talent, where y are ure of satisfaction, or matche correctly in shade and quality.

Switches, Natural Wavy Pomp Latest Coiffures

Let us show you what we can do before you patronize some outside party. We guarantee to please you at lowest prices in the city.

Back Hair Dressing, Shampooing, etc.

MRS. BYRNE'S

George Street, Second Door North of Dutton's

Letterheads

¶What you think about you Business Stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks.

¶Don't have inferior paper and work in your Business Stationery. Don't try good work and paper because you like it, altogether, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

¶The Review Job Department will give you the best work obtainable and superior paper and envelopes. Your order set, printed and cared for for you, particularly you

¶A Call or Phone will bring to you samples.

THE REVIEW
PETERBOROUGH

W. H. HILL, Esq.,

Manager of Central Ontario.

Dear Sir—After congratulating myself being a Sun Life Policy Holder, I am very much pleased with the handsome amount added to my Policy, and am surprised and gratified with the profits. I appreciate the good financial position which your Company holds to-day.

THOS. EDGAR,
Peterborough, Ont

November 29th, 1907.

N.B.—Policy Straight Life $2,000
Bonus for 5 Years $160
Policy No. 17,706

FLORENCE ROSSLAND
WILLIAM WALCOTT

"THE FATAL FLOWER"

A Big Scenic Production with Wm. Walcott in the Leading Roll

Prices: 75, 50, 35, 25c

If you miss it
You miss a treat
A car load of all New Scenery.
A specially fine Cast of players.
(This show plays at the Grand, Toronto, all next week.)

To-Night - GRAND OPERA HOUSE - To-Night

INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY
—ON—
SAVINGS DEPOSITS of $1 and upwards
—THE—
BANK OF OTTAWA

Interest paid
February 28
May 31
August 31
November 30

PETERBOROUGH BRANCHES:
George Street, also Corner Rubidge and Townsend Streets

A. A. HOLLINGSHEAD, Mgr

When it's a "Question" of Eyesight it is wise to display "Foresight" and promptly submit that Question to me.

A. A. FOWLER
Phm. B.
EYE SPECIALIST
Nugent Drug Co.

ADAMS' XMAS SILK WAISTS

Adams' Great Snap
- - IN - -
NEW XMAS SILK WAISTS
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

A timely purchase from a large manufacturer of high-class Silk Waists—all their broken lines of new Christmas Waists at about the cost of making, enables us to give to the ladies of Peterboro' and vicinity the greatest Silk Waist Bargain ever offered them. Coming at the Gift Giving Season gives you a rare chance of a nice useful gift for little money,

$5.00, $6.00 and $7.00 for $3.98

48 only, beautiful Silk Waists, made for the Xmas trade, Black and White, many styles to choose from, trimmed with allover embroidery fronts and lace, 3-4 sleeve, open back. Regular retail prices $5.00, $6.00 and $7.00.

FRIDAY and SATURDAY (Not Before) Your Choice For $3.98

SALE WAISTS ON EXHIBITION IN OUR SHOW WINDOW

Harry Adams

CONCERT AT ALL SAINTS' ON TUESDAY NEXT

At a meeting of the Men's Association of All Saints' last night it was decided to hold a concert in the school room on Tuesday next. The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the building fund of the new church. A first class programme is being prepared and the securing of talent is in the hands of the programme committee, Messrs. Featherstone and Hopkins.

Enjoyable Time at Dummer Home

Mr. George Lonsboro, who resides in Dummer township, near Warsaw, entertained about seventy friends at a fowl supper and dance at his home last night. A most enjoyable time was spent, Mr. Lonsboro leaving nothing undone that would provide entertainment for his guests. Some of those present came from twenty miles distant. Ms. F. Board, of Peterborough, was among the guests.

RAINS CAUSE FLOODS AND MUCH DAMAGE

Special to the Review.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 11.—Loss of life and great damage to property was reported from central and eastern points in the States by floods caused by the heavy rains of the past few days.

A steam locomotive in a test in Clayton, New Jersey, made a fraction more than 99 miles an hour. A test of electric locomotives is soon to be made.

Col. J. Twining, of Halifax, a veteran of the Northwest Rebellion, is dead.

The Finances of the City; Standing at End of November

Situation is Not as Bad as it Appears

OVERDRAFT LOOKS LARGE

But it Will be Reduced When Debentures are Sold.

The city's overdraft at the end of November was $101,729.43. This seems rather large, but the situation is not nearly as bad as it looks, as the city started with an overdraft of $55,949.17 on January 1st, 1907 This has just been about doubled during the year, largely on account of various debentures not being disposed of. Large sums have been paid on the new schools, but the debentures for these have not yet been sold. They will be disposed of, however, in a few days. The financial stringency has had considerable to do with the delays in selling the debentures.

The following statement of the receipts and payments of the city from January 1st, 1907, to November 30th, 1907, has been issued by City Treasurer Adams:

CURRENT ACCOUNTS.

	Receipts.
Arrears of taxes	$ 159.68
Administration of justice	53.43
County Registrar	416.94
City Trust Co.'s, general debentures	50.00
Dog tax	984.00
Fire department	17.50
Licenses	7597.95
Market tolls	964.16
Miscellaneous	220.99
Otonabee Power Co.	300.00
Police Court	1674.51
Peterborough Light and Power Co.	300.00
Provincial railway tax	295.08
Streets and bridges	98.47
Taxes, 1906	5817.09
Taxes, 1907	125,044.77
Water Commissioners, rent account	200.00
	$144,194.57

	Payments.
Administration of justice	$ 5545.73
Assessments and taxes	2318.10
Board of Education	31,000.00
Charity	1866.52
Chairman's expenses	12.15
Dog tax	39.45
Elections and bylaws	637.80
Fire department	6408.67
Health	1787.87
Heating	490.63
Interest	3133.09
Insurance	135.87
Law and legislation	688.59
Light	6157.19
Licenses	[illegible]
Market	174.18
Miscellaneous	972.50
Municipal Government	3709.20
Parks	706.74
Printing, stationery and advertising	415.69
Property	558.88
Repairs to city buildings	1399.23
Roman Catholic Separate Schools	3000.00
Refunds	259.04
Special grants	2315.00
Streets and bridges	18,885.11
Street watering	1770.76
Snow removal	865.05
Sewer maintenance	780.82
Street numbering	62.02
Water Commissioners, hydrants, etc	6085.29
	$101,577.17

SPECIAL ACCOUNTS.

	Receipts.
Concrete walks No 21, 1907	$ 17.30
City Trust Commissioners—Loval improv. Deb. frontage	57.49
City Trust Commissioners—Waterworks debentures	19.00
Debentures	39389.60
Public schools, Government grant	1144.00
Railroad damages	50.00
Street extensions	274.36
Sewer connections	1688.00
Sewer contract No. 21, J. Robson	3.44
Sewer construction No. 25 city	22.22
Water Commissioners—Interest and sinking fund	19002.00
	$ 61,667.41

	Payments.
Aylmer street fire hall	$ 9115.77
Ashburnham creek	3466.05
Bridges reconstruction, by-law 1370	1066.46
Bridges reconstruction, by-law 1119	2403.66
Collegiate institute	26502.00
Concrete crossings	4689.98
Concrete walks, No. 20 1906	23.28
Concrete walks No 21, 1907	23306.70
City Trust Commissioners, waterworks debentures	5571.50
Public schools, Government grant	1144.00
Public schools, King Edward	10500.00
Public schools, Queen Alexandra	20000.00
Rapid Tool Co.	1206.00
Railroad damages	50.00
Street extensions	14950.59
Sewer connections	1460.75
Sewer contract No. 18	3.70
Sewer contract No. 19, J. Bogue	1924.75
Sewer contract No. 20, J. E. Hayes	1141.33
Sewer contract No. 21, J. Robson	1360.43
Sewer contract No. 22, R. Sheehy	1233.60
Sewer construction No. 23,
Sewer contract, No. 24, R. Sheehy	1762.79
city	254.01
Sewer construction No. 25, city	14731.70
Water Commissioners, interest and sinking fund	2.00
Water Commissioners, debentures	9181.00
Water lots	1769.79
	$158,821.84

Payments in excess of receipts, special accounts	97,154.43
Receipts in excess of payments, current accounts	42,617.40
Difference	$ 54,537.03
Bank overdraft, January 1, 1907	55,949.17
Cash on hand, November 30th, 1907	243.23
Bank overdraft, Nov. 30, 1907	$110,729.43

Thief Was Caught Redhanded Tried to Sell Stolen Jewelry

Chas. Miller Placed Under Arrest by P. C. Adams Last Night—Pleaded Guilty to Stealing From Residence of Mr. T. Brightman—Remanded for a Week.

Charles Miller, was taken into custody last night by P.C. Adams, on the charge of stealing jewellery valued at $50, from the residence of Mr. T. Brightman, 343 Stewart street, He is apparently not a very seasoned crook, for last night he tried to dispose of the stolen property at Clarke's and Schneider's jewellery stores, which was an exceedingly unwise move on his part, as the police had naturally been informed of the robbery and were looking for the culprit. In Mr. Clarke's store he became much annoyed when his offerings were rejected and threatened to call around some night and clean the place up.

JEWELLERY IDENTIFIED.

After Miller had been placed behind the bars, the jewellery, which was Miss Brightman's property and was stolen from her room, was submitted to her for inspection. She unhesitatingly identified it and it was returned to her at the police station this morning. It included a couple of watches, a chain, two rings and a pair of bracelets. Miller had not succeeded in disposing of any of it.

PLEADED GUILTY.

He appeared before His Worship P. M. Dumble at the police court this morning, and, asked to how he would be tried, elected to be tried summarily by His Worship.

When asked if he was guilty or not guilty, Miller said; "Guilty; I done it all right."

"Where do you come from?" questioned the Court.

"I was born in Toronto," he said, "but have been working on the C.P. Th ef was caught R. near Georgian Bay."

"I would like a remand for a week," said the Chief," and the remand was granted.

MEASURED AND PHOTOGRAPHED

Miller's height was taken by P. C's. Meharry and Adams, and the former took him out and had him weighed and afterwards proceeded with him to Roy's, where he was photographed. He is exactly 5 feet 6 inches in height, of medium complexion, slight in build and has a moustache. He has not the appearance of a hardened criminal, and, judging by the course he took in trying to sell the jewellery, is not one. The police will endeavor to find out his past record.

MR. BRIGHTMAN'S THANKS.

Mr. Brightman wishes to thank the police for their quick and satisfactory work in the case, and for the return intact of everything that Miller stole from his residence.

Grand Officers Gave Addresses

To Members of C. M. B. A. Last Evening

At the regular meeting of the C. M.B.A. held last evening a number of excellent addresses were given. The meeting was attended by a large number and the president, Mr. P. J. Hickey was in the chair. The grand officers present were, Mr. J. J. Beehan, Grand Secretary, Kingston, Dr. Ryan, High Medical Supervisor, Kingston, and Bro. Latchford, Grand Solicitor, Brockville. They each gave addresses on their particular line of work in connection with the Order, which proved interesting and profitable. Owing to the lateness of the hour the election of officers was postponed until next meeting.

OBITUARY

JOHN F. GRAY.

The death occurred last night of an old and very highly respected resident of this city in the person of Mr. John F. Gray, who passed away at his late residence, 209 Murray-st. He had been ill for over a year with cancer of the stomach and during his long illness was a patient sufferer. He was born in the north of Ireland, sixty-three years ago. He came to this country when five years old, but has only resided in this city for the past eighteen years. He was widely known throughout Peterborough county and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was a loyal member of the Nassau Orange Order, having been identified with it for some forty-six years. He was a member of St. John's Anglican church.

A wife and nine children are left to mourn his loss. The sons are John, of Chesley, William of the Northwest, Joe. of this city, Austin and Walter residing at home. The daughters are Mrs. D. J. Moore, city, Mrs. J. T. Nelson, of Lang, Mrs. Geo. E. Muller, of Smith, and Miss Maccie at home.

The funeral will take place at 2.30 o'clock on Friday afternoon from the family residence, Murray street, to the Little Lake cemetery.

"It's Confidence That Does It"

WHITE & GILLESPIE

TO HOUSEKEEPERS:

Another Christmas will soon be here We can assure Housekeepers of both city and country that we are now ready to provide them with an abundance of the good things necessary for Christmas baking and cooking at enticing prices.

NEW FRUITS

Raisins, Currants, Figs, Prunes, Dates, Candied Peel, Extracts, Syrups, Molasses, Shelled Walnuts and Almonds, Sauces, Pickles, Spices, Sugars, Teas, Coffees, Flour, Biscuits, Cheese, Prime Butter, Fresh Eggs, Breakfast Cereals, etc.

336 GEORGE ST. Phone 208

The beginning and the end of the meals of the day should be Chase & Sanborn's SEAL BRAND COFFEE. It's the first thing for breakfast—the last for dinner—and the "best thing" in every meal.

ESTABLISHED 1873

UNDERWEAR BARGAINS
- - - - AT - - - -
LeBRUN'S

The cold weather did not catch us napping. We have laid in the largest stock of Underwear we ever had and are reducing the prices in every line to make quick selling.

SCOTCH WOOL, NATURAL WOOL, SILK and WOOL, WOLSELY HYGIENE FLEECE LINED

All sizes for men and boys, as high as 50 inches, and at prices, ranging from

25c to $3.50 per garment

Also FLANNELL SHIRTS, all colors, Blue, Black and Gray, with or without collars, are reduced in price.

Cardigan Jackets and Heavy Sweaters at close prices.

H. LeBrun & Co.
Two Entrances George and Hunter Sts

Grand Jury Went to Lakefield

To Visit the County House of Refuge—Will Make Presentment To-morrow

The Grand Jury of the County Court, drove out to Lakefield this afternoon to inspect the House of Refuge. Yesterday afternoon and this morning they visited the hospitals, Children's Shelter, county gaol and other charitable institutions. They will make their presentment to His Honor Judge Weller to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Annual Meeting Selwyn Factory

At the annual meeting of the Selwyn cheese factory, held this week, the auditors' report was presented as follows:

Milk, 1,604,276 lbs.
Cheese, 146,238 lbs.
Total money received, $17,091.40.
Average lbs milk to 1 lb. cheese, 10.90.
Average price per lb., 11.68.

Bert Smith, of London, and formerly of the Dutton Advance, has taken a position as linotype operator on the Brandon Sun.

COMMON SENSE GIFTS

If you want to make two families genuinely happy this holiday season, try giving the old cook stove that has given you years of service, to some needy household, and present the good wife with a

PANDORA RANGE

You will thus make two homes happy, especially your own where the great comfort of using the Pandora Range will be greatly appreciated.

ADAMSON & DOBBIN
NEW BRICK BLOCK—SIMCOE STREET

THE DAYLIGHT STORE

DOLLARS FOR YOU
At Our Own Money-Saving Sale

There are dollars waiting for you here. Come in and get them. We'll cut them off the prices of our Clothing and Furnishings.

The wise man who has his eye on his pocket book will now get busy and buy all the wearables he can use. Don't wait too long. This Sale will soon end.

MEN'S SUITS of fine English and Scotch Tweed, beautifully lined in both single and double-breasted style, were up to $14 and $15, for 11.90

MEN'S OVERCOATS—Heavy English Overcoatings in Kersey and Tweed, with wool and Italian linings; worth $12 and $13, for 9.90

MEN'S UNDERWEAR in heavy all wool, double-breasted, worth regular $1.00, for 69c

Braces, Gloves, Hosiery, Ties, Handkerchiefs, etc., all at bargain prices.

There's a constant flow of bargains from our great sale. Now is the time to clothe up every member of the family, large or small. Remember it is always "Money back if you want it" when you buy here.

LANG & MAHER,
CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS TO MEN WHO KNOW
409-411 George St., Peterborough

FALL AND WINTER COATS

An Exhibition of Fashionable Models

This assemblage of Women's Coats for Fall and Winter authoratatively represents the newest fashionable effects in outer garments. They are tailored in a faultless manner—perfectly cut and fitted, giving a decided modish appearance. The materials are new, plain cloths, velvets, caraculs, fancy mixtures. Excellence of quality abounds in all other fabrics.

Embraced are imported models and the latest and newest Canadian effects. Individual beauty characterizes each garment. The charm of these Coats is enhanced by the unusual lowness of their prices. We trust you will ascertain in person the excellence of these offerings.

CLOTH COATS

High-grade imported models of extra fine quality Broadcloth in black and colors. Navy Blue, Brown and Green. Principally the seven-eighth length, tourist style. Some are semi-fitting, others fitted, stitched strapping of sel forming panels back and front. Others with fancy braids and full ripple skirt. Splendid value at $15, $18, $25, $30, $40

VELVET COATS

Handsome three-quarter length imported models; full ripple back, trimmed with silk braid down the front and back; lined throughout with fine quality black satin. Extra special value at $35.00

CARACUT COAT

New three-quarter length models; also short pony effect with trimmings of broadcloth straps and braid on collars and cuffs; large kimona sleeve. These garments must be seen to be appreciated. Prices from $15.00 up to $35.00

TWEED COATS

All the latest and newest effects in Tweed coats, 7/8 lengths, broad shoulders full backs, splendidly tailored and trimmed with self strappings; new full sleeves. Special value at $15.00 up to $25.00

RICHARD HALL & SON, LIMITED

353 AND 355 GEORGE STREET, PETERBOROUGH

STORE OPENS AT 8 A.M. CLOSES AT 6 P.M., EXCEPT SATURDAY

FOR FINE

Lemons, Oranges

Malaga Grapes

Bananas

and all kinds of fruit and vegetables try

MINOCOLO BROS.

Wholesale and Retail.

Both Phones 337.

FRAMED VIEWS

In COLORED SEPIA and BLACK : : : : :

FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

THE ROY STUDIO

Ask for Roy's Famous Souvenir Post Cards

BROCK ST. RINK

SEASON 1907-8

Tickets for the season entitling the holder to all skating privileges, now on sale at the Examiner Office, Peterborough Bookstore, Sanderson & Co., F. A. Clarke's, Best Hardware Co., the Secretary, C. G. Graham, at the Oriental Hotel.

Gentlemen . . . 3.00

Ladies 2.00

Youths, 16 to 18 2.00

Boys under 16 . 1.50

Girls 1.50

Nothing makes a better Christmas gift for your boy or girl than a Season Ticket for the Brock Street Rink.

Ladies' Hand Bags and Purses

Just the thing for Useful and Beautiful Gift now on display at the store that gives the largest choice, the best leathers and closest prices.

Ladies' and Gentlemen's TRAVELLING SATCHELS and TRUNKS of all kinds, in the largest selection in the city.

B. SHORTLY SIGN OF THE BIG HORSE AT THE DOOR

TELEPHONE No. 319

THE CITY AND VICINITY

EVENTS TO-NIGHT

Grand Opera House — "The Fatal Flower."

"Crystal"—Passion Play.

Y.M.C.A.—Basketball matches.

Y.M.C.A.—Debating Society

Trades and Labor Council.

St. John's Church—Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

FUR LINED COATS

We clean and press them and guarantee no injury to the fur. My Valet, 204 Charlotte street. All goods called for and delivered. dtf

CHRISTMAS CAKE.

Best of fruit, choicest of flavorings and perfection of baking, makes Elliott's Christmas cake the finest to be had. Leave orders now. Iced as desired. dtf

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

The Public and Separate Schools will close for the Christmas holidays on Friday, Dec. 20th, and will re-open on Monday, January 6th.

AN OPPORTUNITY.

Do you need help, male or female? Have you rooms to let, house to rent or sell, or are boarders wanted? Have you anything to sell and can't find a buyer? Try a Review want ad. It will go everywhere at trifling cost.

MAKE CALENDARS.

Why not make calendars? They are pretty cheap and always acceptable. We have pictures in sepia and colors, fancy embossed cards and dainty calendar pads in many designs. See them at the Review office. 3d

FINE PICTURE FRAMING.

New mouldings, good work, reasonable prices. J. M. GREENE Music Co., George street. dtf

ST. LUKE'S CHOIR.

The choir of St. Luke's Church will practice this evening at 8.30 o'clock, after the midweek service. A full attendance is requested.

ROYAL TEMPLARS

The Royal Templars of Temperance will meet on Friday night at eight o'clock at the Y.M.C.A.

INSTITUTE AT WARSAW.

A Farmers' Institute meeting was held at Warsaw last night and a large number were in attendance. Interesting addresses were given by several speakers and a good musical program was provided.

TAKE NOTE

Of our fine line of Violins, Mandolins, Guitars, etc. Some excellent values, and within easy range for the Xmas trade. Special prices to Old Santa Claus. J. M. GREENE Music Co., Grand opera house building, George street. dtf

WILL HOLD CONCERT.

A very important meeting of St. John's A.Y.P.A. was held Monday evening, when arrangements were furthered in regard to the concert to be provided Tuesday next in the Conservatory of Music Hall, by the "Musical Eckhardts," the Swiss Bell Ringers. The A.Y.P.A. is a very active organization in furthering the objects, social and otherwise, of the church, and hope to have the large hall filled.

BOARD OF MANAGERS.

The Board of Managers of St. Paul's church met last evening and transacted routine business.

PRAYER SERVICE.

The regular prayer meeting of St. Andrew's church will be held tonight at 8 o'clock. "The Law of Kindness," is the subject.

THE CITY'S BANKING.

A meeting of the joint committee appointed to place the city's banking for 1908 is being held this afternoon. It is understood that nearly all the local banks have tendered.

STORY OF A STAR.

The children's of St. John's Sunday school met yesterday at 4.30 p.m., to practice their Xmas cantata "Story of a Star." The next practice will be held on Thursday afternoon at 4.15 p.m. in the Sunday school.

DAUGHTER OF JAIRUS.

A splendid rehearsal of Stainer's choral work, the "Daughter of Jairus," took place last night in St. John's school, when the largest turnout of orchestra and chorus met at 8 p.m. The chorus work will evidently be a great feature of the forthcoming performance.

DR. TUFTTS HONORED.

Concerning the Rev. Dr. Tuftts, who visited Peterborough in September, the Presbyterian Witness, of Halifax, N.S., says:—"The Presbytery of Inverness met at Orangedale on the 3d inst., and unanimously nominated Dr. Tuftts, of Stellarton, to fill the chair of Church History and Practical Theology in the Presbyterian College, Halifax.

ENTITLED TO THE REFUND.

In connection with the incident of Mr. Wm. Davidson, asking a refund of $20 from the city council, after having completed his sewer, Mr. Davidson says that he deposited $46 with the city treasurer, $25 being retained by the city for the expense in connection with the McDonnel and Dickson street sewers. The $20 which he asks be returned to him, is the usual amount paid into the treasury as a guarantee that the street will be left in good condition. The sewer connection with his house now being made, and the street left in a satisfactory state, Mr. Davidson feels that he is entitled to the refund.

Navel Oranges 25, 30, & 40c. Holly (English) for decorating. On and after Friday night 13 inst. store will be open late. R. A. DUTTON.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

The schools of the city close for the Christmas holidays on Friday, December 20th, and will reopen on Monday, Jan. 6th. This gives sixteen days relaxation from duties for pupils and teachers—a longer period than usual, owing to Christmas coming in the middle of the week.

Valuable Fur Taken From Y.W.C.A. Office

A valuable sable ruff belonging to one of the boarders at the Y.W.C.A., was taken from the office of that institution yesterday. Evidently someone feeling rather chilly saw a good opportunity to keep warm in the future and walked off with the costly wrap. The theft was a bold one and the police have been notified and are on the lookout for the guilty party.

SANTA CLAUS ON HIS WAY TO ROUTLEY'S

STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING

Goods are Pouring in—Our customers are Now Buying for Xmas

300 Dressed Dolls, reg. 25c, choice	.14
375 China Tea Sets, regular 50c	.25
25 Crokinole Boards, regular 1.25	.59
60 Leather Case Silk Lined Ebony Manicure Case, regular 2.50 for	1.50
20 only Military Brush Sets, Stirling Silver Mounted, regular 1.25 pair for	.74
1 cases Children's Plated Knife, Fork and Spoon, with pearl handles, reg. 2.00	1.24

You will find that our clerks are attentive and that prices are reliable. We watch closely our buying as we know goods well bought are half sold already

TORONTO 262-4 QUEEN W ROUTLEY'S PETERBORO' 379 GEORGE ST

SNAPS FOR XMAS

Ebony Mirrors
Ebony Hair Brushes
Ebony Clothes Brushes
Ebony Manicure Sets
Ebony Military Brushes
Real Seal Skin Purses
Hand Satchels
Ladies' Companions
Gentlemen's Companions
Perfumes, etc.

at lowest prices

WARNE BROS.

345 GEORGE ST. PHONE 327

Xmas Photos

Send a family group or the children's photos to your friends at Christmas. Nothing is appreciated more than such remembrances, from

MENDEL'S STUDIO

374 1-2 George St Entrance next Oke's

Children Paid Visit to Toyland

Central Kindergarten Given a Treat by Mr. R. J. Soden

The children of the Central School kindergarten were given a big treat this morning, at the kind invitation of Mr. R. J. Soden. They were taken down to Mr. Soden's store, where they spent an hour roaming through toyland. They examined the beautiful display of toys, and were perfectly delighted with the many rocking horses, music boxes, toy animals, trains and other things that appeal to the children. Miss Warner, directress of the kindergarten, desires to heartily thank Mr. Soden for his kindness, which is deeply appreciated by the scholars.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

Nominations for municipal elections will take place this year on Monday, Dec. 30th, and voting takes place on Monday, January 6th. Municipal gossip is beginning to fly thick and fast, and it begins to look as if there will be lively contests in some quarters.

COURT STANLEY ELECTS OFFICERS

They Will be Installed on January 14th

The regular meeting of Court Stanley, No. 7,080 A.O.F., was held last night in the S.O.E. Hall. There was a large attendance of members. The C.R., Bro. T. Hendry, presided. One candidate was duly initiated. After the business of the evening was concluded the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

P C R—Bro H Hanwell.
C R—T Hendry, acclamation.
S C P—Jas McDonald, acclamation.
Treasurer—S Adlam, acclamation.
Secretary—R J McWilliams, acclamation.
Senior Woodward—A Brotherson.
Junior Woodward—George East.
Senior Beadle—C C Mowry.
Junior Beadle—George Tremain.
Trustees—H Hanwell, R J Goodenough, George Tremain.
Auditors—Wm Johnston, George R. Record A. Gilbert.
Medical Officers—Drs. Scott and Amys.
Sub. Sec.—A. H. Dryland.
Chaplain—D. Hamilton.
— Correspondent to Forester—George R. Record.
Arbitration Committee—T Hendry, R J McWilliams, S Adlam, George R. Record, Jas. McDonald, H. Hanwell, George Tremain.

A vote of thanks was passed to the following members who acted as scrutineers;—Bros. George R. Record, Jas. Kyle, H. Hanwell. The newly elected officers will be duly installed the first meeting in January, the 14th

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

Next Sunday evening a confirmation service will be held. Right Rev. Bishop Reeve will administer the holy rite and will also preach the sermon.

The weekly cottage meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. Sedgwick, sr., on Thursday, Dec. 20, at 8 p.m.

PERSONAL

A. E. Root, New York, is at the Oriental.

Mr. W. R. Deaton, Belleville, is in the city today.

Mr. R. L. Woodcock, Cobourg, is registered at the Oriental.

Evangelist Wm. Meikle, of Toronto, was in the city this week.

Mr Robert Stuart, of Chicago, treasurer of the Quaker Oats Company, is in the city.

Mr. J. H. McClellan Superintendent of the Trent Canal, has returned from a business trip to Ottawa.

Messrs. Bert McCollum and M. Lowry left today for Cuba. They will return in the spring.

Mr G. P. Preen, manager of the Brinton Carpet Company, will leave this week for Kidderminster, England, to spend the Xmas holidays with his parents. Mr. Preen's many friends will wish him a pleasant visit.

THE

BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to-wear Store

CHRISTMAS BOXES

—FOR—

Grown Ups, Youth, Childhood and the dear little Hope of the family

Christmas Waists
Christmas Skirts
Christmas Neckwear
Christmas Belts
Christmas Table Linen
Christmas Cashmere and Silk Hosiery
Silk Socks for him
Christmas Robes for baby
Christmas Dresses for the girls
Christmas Whitewear
Christmas Fanty Goods
Knitted Slippers
Christmas Handkerchiefs
Initialed Handkerchiefs
Christmas Furs
Christmas Headwear
Christmas Scarfs
Christmas Fascinators
Christmas Gloves
Perrin's Kid Gloves

And a thousand things not mentioned at

THE

BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to Wear Store

ALL THINGS ARE NOW READY

GEORGE R. RECOR

PRACTICAL

FRENCH DRY CLEANE

AND PRESSER

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments and Hous hold Articles cleaned and guaranteed not to fade color or shrink any material. Charges moderate. Goods called for and del ered. Telephone 669.

NEW BRICK BLOCK, 173 SIMCOE S

Only Complete Dry Cleaning Plant In C

SAVE YOUR FURS

AND

FUR-LINED COATS

by having them cleaned by the

FRENCH DRY CLEANING

process, which kills all moths and does no injure in the slightest, the finest furs. This very important at this season, and may mea the saving of the expense of buying new furs. None too fine for the process.

Dyeing, Cleaning, Pressing, and Reparing promptly and thoroughly done at

PARKER'S DYE WORKS

R. M. BEACH

PROPRIETOR.

Phone 250 177 Charlotte St

LADIES, CUT THIS OUT

Dr. Cristion's

FRENCH TOILET ARTICLES

Have been placed on sale with

Miss E. Smith

567 GEORGE STREET

MANICURING, SHAMPOOING SCALP TREATMENT and FACIAL MASSAGE SKILFULLY DONE

Appointments made. Mach. Phone 13

Money is Not Tight

On some of the property propositions we can offer you. We have some pretty locations where situation, price and terms are all to suit. Low priced houses, some of them brick and on good lots, $850 up

$1,000—Village store near the city, no competition. A good thing.
$1,600—Large modern, good looking brick house, south, city.
$2,300—Very profitable apartment house renting to small families.
$1,800 and $2,350—Nice brick house, modern conveniences, well situated.
$3,000—Brick dwelling, stable, etc.; also some building lots. Just suit a retired farmer
$2,350 to $4,800—Beautiful residences on Gilmour, Homewood Ave., Weller, King, Water Sts, etc.

If you are thinking of going West, we can show you something good in lands in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, with return ticket for selection trip. Farms for sale. Houses to rent.

BELL & TAYLOR

Real Estate. Fire Insurance

Office—376 Water Street.

Office Phone—498B House Phone 547B

HOCKEY SKATES

From 75c to $5.00

Skates repaired and sharpened. General machine work.

METHEREL'S CYCLE WORKS

225 Hunter Street

ESTABLISHED 1879

J. R. HEINTZ & CO.

STOCKS, GRAIN, COTTON, COFFEE

J. N. BARBER, Manager

Phone 529

THE

DOMINION BANK

PAYS SPECIAL ATTENTION TO

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

INTEREST PAID QUARTERLY

JOHN CRANE Manager

Corner George and Simcoe Sts.

SODEN'S BOOKSTORE 369 GEORGE-ST.

THE BEST CHRISTMAS STORE

Christmas is almost here. Have you bought your Christmas Presents? If not begin at once by going to Soden's. The Stock at this Store is the newest and best selected in its line in Peterborough, comprising

Books, Stationery, Pictures, Fancy Goods Leather Goods, China, Toys and Games

BOOKS

All the latest and best fiction, beautifully bound, cloth bound and padded poets, children's picture and story books. All the newest and most up-to-date gift books, ranging in prices from 10c to $3.00 each.

STATIONERY

All the best makes and designs from leading American and Canadian manufacturers--See our special Papeteries, Calendars, Christmas Cards.

PICTURES

Don't fail to inspect this stock. We are the largest importers of High Class Pictures between Toronto and Montreal. We frame on the ground and on short notice Our prices in this, as in all other lines, are RIGHT.

LEATHER GOODS

Fancy goods and China--We import direct from the factories. Our designs are the newest, our qualities the best to be had in the world's markets.

OUR PRICES are as low as you can buy inferior Goods for elsewhere, and quality considered are LOWER than any others in Peterborough. Come, see for yourself, and be satisfied.

SPECIAL PRICES ON BOOKS FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

SODEN'S BOOKSTORE 369 GEORGE-ST.

Special Inducements TO BUY HEATERS

You gain nothing by delay. See our

Standard Oak
Quebec Ideal
Art Laurel

They are great fuel savers. Easily operated and splendid heat distributors.

F.R.J. MACPHERSON & CO.
341 George St. Phone 116
F.R.J. MACPHERSON ANGUS MACPHERSON

Philomathean Society Had Fine Debate

Motion to Exclude Second Formers From Meetings Caused Spirited Discussion

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Literary Philomathean Society, was held in the Y.M.C.A. hall Monday afternoon. The hall was crowded to the doors, a large number of the fair sex being present. The president, Mr. M. O'Brien, was in the chair, and succeeded in having the programme carried out without a hitch. Each performer rendered his or her part very creditably. The minutes were read by Ernest G. Grant and adopted. Then, as there was no business to be attended to, the programme was carried out. At the last meeting, Mr. H. Brown gave notice that at the next regular meeting of the society he would move that the constitution be amended in such a way as to exclude from all benefits and privileges of the society, all pupils of Form II. Great interest was excited by this, and three second Formers had prepared speeches against it. Mr. H. Brown brought in the motion, and having laid it before the school in a few well chosen words, he proceeded to give his reasons for taking such a step. He said that he felt great sorrow at taking such a move, but as it was for the good of the school, he felt compelled to do it. He was slightly excited at first, but as he continued he steadied down and finished his speech in a clear and excellent manner. Mr. S. Pringle then followed. It gave him much pleasure to second this motion, and in support of it he he said that the second formers would influence the others if allowed to remain. He spoke in a clear voice, and had evidently been service on the platform before.

Mr. M. Adams then appeared for Form II. The next speaker for Form II. was Mr. Harry Hall. He did splendidly, and if he keeps on as he has been doing in the past there is a great future in public life before him. His enunciation was of the best, and could be heard in all parts of the hall. He was not nervous, like those before him, and his manner of dealing with the points left nothing to be desired. At the conclusion of his speech on behalf of the Form II. girls, he challenged all III. and II. Form girls to a contest either of beauty, wit, debate or of any athletic sports for girls. This caused great excitement, and it is likely that the challenge will be heard from again. The closing speaker, Miss F. Hurley, has been seen before in literary circles, so much will not be said about her. Nevertheless she conducted herself in an excellent manner. The motion was not put to the vote, then, but it will be voted on later.

The rest of the programme was as follows:

Piano solo—Miss E. Connor.
Reading—Miss E. Pollock.
Vocal solo—Miss B. Reid.
Recitation—Miss A. Bennet.
Piano solo—Mr. A. Primeau.

After the programme Mr. R. N. Merritt, of the collegiate staff, criticised the meetings The meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem.

IF YOUR BACK ACHES

Mix This Simple, Helpful Recipe at Home And Try It.

Get from any prescription pharmacy the following:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Shake well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful dose after each meal and at bedtime.

The above is considered by an eminent authority as the finest prescription ever written to relieve Backache, Kidney Trouble, Weak Bladder and all forms of Urinary difficulties. This mixture acts promptly on the eliminative tissues of the Kidneys, enabling them to filter and strain the uric acid and other waste matter from the blood which causes Rheumatism.

Some persons who suffer with the afflictions may not feel inclined to place much confidence in this simple mixture, yet those who have tried it says the results are simply surprising, the relief being effected without the slightest injury to the stomach or other organs.

Mix some and give it a trial. It certainly comes highly recommended. It is the prescription of an eminent authority, whose entire reputation, it is said, was established by it.

Two O'clock Caller Wanted To Stay for the Night

A well known citizen who resides on George street north had a somewhat unusual experience Monday night, or early this morning.

In answer to a loud knocking at the front door, about two o'clock in the morning, he came down stairs and found a man standing on the verandah, apparently waiting to be admitted. This fellow had evidently cut loose from temperance ethics, and to use the street vernacular, was pretty well "jagged." He wanted to know if he could not secure lodgings for the remainder of the night, but was told that his company would not be at all desirable under the circumstances. He was in no hurry in taking the hint, however, and almost insisted that he should be taken in and given a bed. Considerable persuasion, with threats of something stronger, finally induced this wanderer to move on, and the citizen returned to his bed, wondering why such things should be.

The Underwriters Association and Christmas Decorations

Dangers of Certain Forms of Christmas Displays Pointed Out

Expert Should do Electric Wiring

Some Information That Merchants Should Give Heed to

Local merchants have received a circular from John A. Robertson, secretary of the Canadian Fire Underwriters Association, calling attention to the dangers of certain kinds of Christmas decorations. The circular is as follows and is worthy of careful perusal:

Dear Sir,—Following our usual custom at this season of the year I beg to call your attention to the dangers to life and property from Christmas decorations, displays, etc., which are frequently made at this time of the year. The use of Christmas greens, harvest specimens and other inflammable materials such as draperies, scenery, cotton to represent snow, and the like, (especially in connection with electric and other lighting systems,) is decidedly an increase of hazard, it being impossible to make displays of that nature perfectly safe.

The third statutory condition of your insurance policy reads in part as follows:—

"Any change material to the risk, but within the control of knowledge of the assured, shall avoid the policy, (as to the part affected thereby, unless the change is promptly notified in writing to the company or its local agent."

In addition to the danger to property from the displays referred to, the danger to life in crowded stores or places of meeting, by reason of a panic occasioned by a fire, even though it be small and easily controlled, is so great that the Underwriters, who have made a study of such hazards, would fail in their duty should they not give this warning.

By order,
JOHN A. ROBERTSON,
Secretary.

Mr. Robertson further states:

"Wherever any kind of a display is made, special care should be given to electrical installations, particularly those of a temporary nature. They should only be put in by competent electricians, and all fuse blocks and cut-outs should be located away from inflammable material, and what is known as "enclosed" or "cartridge" fuses only should be used. "Open" fuses are particularly dangerous. The enclosing of incandescent lights with paper and other inflammable material is, I am afraid, altogether too common a practice, and is highly dangerous."

HOW'S THIS

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A number of the members of the Y.M.C.A., London, have formed a swimming and life-saving association

Why Peterborough Citizens Now Come to Dr. Browett for Glasses

FIRST REASON. The Eye glasses supplied by Dr. Browett are ground in one of the largest and best optical factories in America. Skilled workmanship and quality have placed the lenses produced by this firm far in advance of those ground in the ordinary factory. Dr. Browett devotes his exclusive attention to Optical Work—examining eyes, and teaching Opticians the use of the modern eye instruments. The number of Optical colleges this gentleman has attended, his experiences throughout the United States and Canada as a teacher of opticians, the thousands of satisfied patrons in various parts of America, wherever he has visited in his teaching capacity, his equipment of instruments and knowledge of their use are sufficient reasons for Dr. Browett's success since making Peterborough his permanent home, and our store his head office.

McDERMID & JURY'S, Drug Store,
390 George Street, Peterborough, Ont.

Ladies' Aid Held Pleasant "At Home"

Enjoyable Time Spent at the George Street Parsonage

The "At Home" held at the George street Methodist church parsonage last night under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, proved a most successful event, both socially and financially. A large number were in attendance and a most enjoyable time was spent. An excellent programme was rendered. Rev. Mr. Pearson acting as an impromptu chairman. Vocal solos were given by Miss Reesor and Miss Mowry and Messrs. Norris, Barber, Cunningham, Taylor, Skitch and Rev. Mr. Pearson. Piano solos were rendered by Miss L. Carlisle, Miss Knapman and Miss E. Chesty. The programme was arranged by Mr. McCann.

Refreshments were served by a number of young ladies under the supervision of the Ladies' Aid.

The financial returns were most gratifying and the money will be used to pay for recent improvements made at the parsonage.

Presentation to the President

Miss Lillie Pratt Honored by St. John's Girls' Guild

At a meeting of St. John's Girl's Guild, held last night, Miss Lillie Pratt, president, who is removing to Toronto, at the end of the present school term, was presented with an appreciative address and a pretty gold ring. The address was read by Miss Minnie Smith, while the presentation was made by Miss J. I. Layfield, Miss Pratt made a grateful and appropriate reply. She has been a most active worker for the guild, and has filled many offices with great acceptance. She has been on the teaching staff of the public school for several years, and the Board of Education very much regret her departure for Toronto where she will reside with her mother.

Miss Pratt has been a faithful member of St. John's church, and in different organizations has taken an active part. Last evening two trophies for regular attendance were presented, one to Miss Edith Horsefield, and the other to Miss Kate Martin. The former received a pretty hat pin, and the latter a maple leaf pin. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served.

You have heard the Sailor Boys' plea, buy to-day for dinner to-morrow "Sailor Boy" Canned Goods, Tomatoes Corn, Peas and Salmon. Your money does not buy better Goods. Do you get "Sailor Boy" or substitute?

Smoker Will be Held on Thursday

At Young Conservative Club Rooms—Good Programme

The first of the season's series of club smokers—which were so successful last year—will be given to-morrow, Thursday evening, at eight p.m., in the Young Conservative club rooms.

For that evening the club has a most attractive programme. The late president, Mr. J. Hampden Burnham has kindly consented to give a reading from Dickens, "A Christmas Carol," and from Thompson-Seton's "Lives of the Hunted." There will be a good programme of songs. The public is cordially invited to attend.

A WINDSOR LADY'S APPEAL.

To All Women: I will send free with full instructions, my home treatment which positively cures Leucorrhoea, Ulceration, Displacements, Falling of the Womb, Painful or Irregular Periods, Uterine and Ovarian Tumors or Growths, also Hot Flushes, Nervousness, Melancholy, Pains in the Head, Back or Bowels, Kidney and Bladder troubles, where caused by weakness peculiar to our sex. You can continue treatment at home at a cost of only about 12 cents a week. My book, 'Woman's Own Medical Adviser," also sent free on request. Write today. Address, Mrs. M. Sum-

FIRST PRIZE AND DIPLOMA

J. J. Turner & Sons Get Premier Honors at Toronto Exhibition

J. J. Turner & Sons today received a letter from Mr. J. O. Orr, manager and secretary of the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, informing them that they have been awarded first prize and diploma for their exhibit at this year's exhibition. This is the third year that Messrs. Turner have exhibited at Toronto and the third time they have carried off the first prize and diploma. Their exhibit consisted of tents and flags and its excellence was noted by the many visitors at the fair.

THE SENDING OF GIFTS

Little Touches That Will Add to the Pleasure of Recipient.

A good deal of the pleasures of Christmas lies in the opening of the mysterious packages that find their way to your door. If these are daintily wrapped, the present is perhaps the more appreciated. The proper thing to send a pretty gift is to secure some white wrapping paper, enclose your card, one of those Christmas greetings and a spray of holly embossed on it; seal the first wrapper with one of the holly seals — there are four patterns — and then wrap in a stronger paper. On this use one of the gummed Christmas labels, or a shipping tag with an embossed holly design on it. If one is sending a number of parcels to one address for different members of a family, there are miniature shipping tags, prettily decorated with holly, only costing 5 cents a dozen, which will be nice to use. There are more elaborate tags, ground in shape with a wreath of holly, and enough bright red ribbon attached to tie a bow on the parcel.

The use of all these gives a distinctive touch to the gift, and will be sure to repay the extra trouble taken. The holly seals, labels, cards, and tags are all on sale at the Review office. Call and get a variety of them before you send out your gifts.—adv.

Local Option Winks At Drink

In a license town, drinking is done under rigid laws and in the eyes of the public. Every condition operates to make men restrain themselves. The beverages sold are of honest quality, and pure. In a local option town, men drink adulterated stuff of the worst quality, and drink far more because public opinion is blinded by the law.

Practically, local option banishes the decent bar and tolerates the "blind pig." It winks at the abuse of alcohol and fosters its abuse.

803

Under local option, the man who profits is the keeper of the "blind pig," who sells adulterated stuff by stealth and contributes naught to the local revenues.

Under license, the community benefits as a whole, for the liquor traffic is regulated, is taxed, and is conducted under the watch of the whole population, with all the restrictions that implies. Local option takes the traffic from the grip of the law and delivers it over to private greed.

Local Option Profits The Few

804

They Were Given the "23" Signal

Geo. Valois and John Powell Told to Beat it at Their Earliest Convenience

Geo. Valois, a former resident of this city, who has done time from sentences given him in the local police court, arrived in the city the other night from Toronto in quest of employment, pleaded not guilty to a charge of vagrancy at the police court this morning. John Powell, of Woodstock, who was arrested with him, was also arraigned on the same count.

Both pleaded not guilty, and said they could get employment chopping wood in a lumber bush if they were allowed to go. The magistrate allowed them both to go on the understanding that they would get out of the city.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

At the request of the chief, Bruce Carland was told to pay $2 forthwith for being drunk last night, with the usual alternative of ten days on the hill. Bruce hails from another town, and is hoping that one of his friends who accompanied him will pay the fine. His personal assets this morning amounted to 30 cents.

KEENE HOCKEY CLUB ORGANIZES

Will Enter the City League—Other Notes From Village

Keene, Dec. 10.

A meeting of the Keene Hockey Club was held Thursday evening for the purpose of organising and making plans for the coming season. The following officers were elected:—

Hon President—A. St. A. Smith.
Pres.—F. A. Eason.
Vice-Pres.—W. H. Bell.
Sec.-Treas.—A. B. Fee.
Captain—Jas. Hickson.
Manager—V. McCarthy.
Trainer—J. P. McIntyre.
Com. of Management—F. A. Eason, W H Bell, Jas Quinn, F M Deane, Leo Walsh.
Representatives to the City League—Dr. V. H. McWilliams and F. M. Deane.

Keene team will enter the City League.

Mrs Clarry, of Hastings, visited friends in Keene Monday.

Messrs. A. St. A. Smith and A. B. Fee, of the local branch of the Bank of Toronto, spent Thursday evening in Peterborough.

Mr J D Lundy, Colborne, was in Keene Monday.

Miss Lillian Bell, who has been visiting friends in Orillia, returned on Wednesday.

Mrs. (Dr.) V. H. McWilliams returned from a visit to Toronto this week.

Messrs. A. St. A. Smith and A. B. Fee, who hav ebeen doing some good pedestral stunts this fall, propose making a walking tour around Rice Lake as soon as the roads are in a fit condition.

Mr. Thomas Taylor, of Detroit, is the guest of his brother, Mr. J. H. Taylor.

Messrs. Johnson Paudash and Fred Simpson, of the Hiawatha Indian Reserve, spent Friday in Keene.

The annual meeting of Keene cheese factory was held on Dec. 4th, and another season's business was wound up.

Rev. D. D. McDonald preached in Stirling Sunday, exchanging pulpits with Rev. Mr. Robertson, of that town. In addition to conducting the usual church service, Mr. Robertson gave an address before the C.E. Society on the "Jerry McCauley Mission," of New York, in which he spent several years.

Mr. Charles Stapleton, Peterborough, sold by auction Tuesday afternoon the farm stock and implements of Mr. Leonard Brown, who is giving up farming and moving to Keene. Fair prices were realized from the stock, but the implements sold rather low.

Mr. Henry Lane, Young's Point, visited his sister, Miss E. Lane, last week.

Mr. Henry Humphries, Hastings, spent Saturda yi nKeene.

Ratepayers should remember that on all taxes unpaid after Saturday, Dec. 14th, an addition of 5 per cent will be charged.

L.O.L. will hold their last meeting of the year on Thursday evening, Dec. 19th.

The Shredded Wheat banquet was held in the town hall Friday evening, under the auspices of the Epworth League. A concert was also given in connection with the banquet in the Methodist church. Misses Lillian Bell, Margaret Bryce and Mabel Harrison supplied the programme.

Have Big Car Load of Scenery

The Fatal Flower Company, which plays at the Grand Opera House to-night, arrived in the city to-day from Belleville. They carry a 60 foot car of scenery, some of it being the most gorgeous ever seen at the Grand. The company goes from here to Ottawa, where they play three days, and then return to Toronto for a week's engagement at the Grand Opera House in that city. Seats are selling well for to-night's performance.

New Members Join the Y.M.C.A.

Quite a number of new members have been received during the past month at the Y.M.C.A. and renewals are coming in better. The dormitories are again filling up and more interest is being taken in the different departments of the work.

The lockers are being all overhauled, repaired and put in first class shape. The Programme Committee are at work for the New Year's day reception, and a strong, interesting programme will be presented.

The Board of Directors meet Thursday night at eight o'clock.

Are Installing Arc Gas Lamps

The Peterborough Light and Power Company are installing Welsbach gas arc lamps in the Snowden House, Crown Inn, and the Munro House. The new light is a brilliant one.

At F. C. Cubitt's

Book, Stationery and Fancy Goods Store, 370 George St.

You will find the best and largest assortment of Fancy Papeteries, suitable for Christmas Presents at prices to suit all. Also the NEWEST and best selected line of Christmas Goods ever offered in Peterborongh.

AGENTS FOR "HOME JOURNAL"
A New Ladies' Journal Only 50c a Year

"CUBITT SELLS CHEAP"

Good Meetings at Lakefield

Farmers' Institute Gatherings Were Largely Attended—Able Addresses

A representative meeting of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held on Monday afternoon at Lakefield, with J. N. Telford, President, in the chair. Owing to the absence of Mr. F. H. Reid, B.S.A., teacher of Agriculture at Lindsay High school, his subject of "Tile draining, its cost and its returns," had to be dispensed with.

Mr. E. C. Drury, of Crown Hill, took up the subject of "The Farmer's Flock and took the stand that a flock of sheep, properly managed, are as profitable as any branch of stock on the farm. He stated that the sheep would give a greater return for amount of labor expended in their care, than any other stock. As a great percentage of the weeds on the farm are good feed for sheep, they eat a lot of matter that would not be used up in any other way, thus both doing the farm good and giving a profit on what would otherwise be waste.

As a sample of what can be done with a small flock he told of this season's dealing with his sheep. In March of this year, he sold 26 lambs, weighing 123 lbs each on an average, for which he received $6.85 per 100, also four sheep, weighing 185 lbs. each at $4.00 per 100, a total of $245.92. These sheep gave 8 1-2 lbs. of wool each, which brought him $50.40, bringing up the total receipts to over $296. The total cost of feed, he placed at $150, counting the prevailing price of grain for the past season.

During the fattening time he fed about one pound a day of some kind of grain to each lamb. Mr. Drury said the theory that turning a sheep on to a young clover field was an injury to the clover was all nonsense as he found they were rather a benefit than an injury. He would not turn a herd of cattle on to such a field because they would kill more with their hoofs than they would with their mouths.

He would prefer a flock of lambs to come rather late to a very early one, as they found weather conditions favorable, and they often did better and were more profitable than the early lambs.

For wintering sheep, he said they needed nothing but a dry place with a shelter from the wet, and good feed, but that cold was no harm to the sheep whatever.

For feed he preferred clover and pea straw to any other hay, as he considered oat straw and timothy no good for sheep. Some turnips may be fed early in the winter, but not too many, as the lambs will be too large and soft, but if feeding turnips is dropped one month before lambing time and a little grain given, the lambs will be smaller, but more wiry, and a much larger percentage will live.

Sheep are not hard on a pasture, but if pastured with cows they will run over it and pick out the nice bits and the cows must take the balance, but he did not pasture together, and he knew of no better way to improve a pasture than to run a flock of sheep on it for a season, as they destroy the weeds and the clover will be thicker, Mr. Drury strongly advised early castration of the ram lambs as the flesh of the wether is very much superior to that of a ram lamb. He considered three weeks about the proper age for the operation, and the tails should be cut a short time after. Another important part of the work was to keep down the ticks, and he advised dipping both the sheep and the lambs when the shearing is done. The speaker also advised carrying the lambs through and finishing with a grain feed so as to kill in March, the great gain in price more than paying for the cost of the feed. He let the lambs run on a clover pasture in the fall, and the turnip field after the crop was gathered, at the same time, but would not let them have the run of a turnip field without the pasture, as they were liable to scour and it would take a long time to get them into shape again.

He fed the lambs the turnips sliced, and commenced the grain feed at about 1-2 lb each, and gradually increased to about 1 1-2 lbs. By this means an increase of 15 to 20 lbs. on each lamb could be made, and this with the better price, made the carrying over the lambs pay.

After an interesting discussion of the subject, the president asked Mr. Drury, as the other speaker, Mr. Reid, was not present, to give some of his talk and ideas on "Soil Moisture." The meeting unanimously seconded this request, and were well repaid by the clear and forcible manner in which Mr. Drury handled this important subject. By his system he showed that on a heavy clay land, by proper treatment, this extremely dry season, fields on one side of a fence gave 59 bushels of oats per acre, while on the other, a field grown by another farmer, the yield was only 15 bushels. The result was brought about by the one soil having the proper admixture of humus in the soil, brought about by ploughing down plenty of vegetable matter, and putting the soil into proper condition to hold an adequate supply of surface moisture for the crop.

He dwelt on the different ways of treating different soils, showing that he had made a most careful and exhausting study of the moisture conditions of soils and his talk was most interesting and helpful, being given, as it was, in such a clear and easily understood manner.

SUPPER SERVED.

After the meeting the members and speakers adjourned to the Foresters' hall, where they were regaled by a sumptuous supper, served by the ladies of the Women's Institute.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

The Women's Farmers' Institute held their meeting in the afternoon in the Foresters' Hall, where they were addressed by Dr. Annie Backus, of Aylmer, whose subject, "The Influence and Meaning of Woman's Work," was handled in a wonderfully comprehensive and delightful manner. The speaker divided her subject into three heads, "Motherhood," "Home Making" and "Housekeeping," and the intensely practical way in which these three departments of a woman's life work were treated was an inspiration to the large number of ladies who were present and a privilege to listen to that all thoroughly enjoyed.

Miss Backus' experience as a physician admirably fitted her to handle the subject in many aspects, and her undoubted ability as a public speaker enabled her to tell in a clear, convincing manner, the result of her study of the problems that face the feminine portion of the dwellers on the farm.

The attendance was an unusually large one, about seventy ladies being present and filling the hall almost to its capacity.

EVENING SESSION

In the evening a joint meeting of the Men's and Women's Institutes was held in the town hall, where the program partook more of a social nature, several musical numbers being provided by the ladies, and a number of short, pithy addresses were given.

Dr. Burgess, Reeve of Lakefield, occupied the chair, and in his opening address said that 25 or 30 years ago such a thing as a Farmers' Institute was not known, and the information at the disposal of the farmer was very meagre. He gave a retrospective outline of the advancement made in the farming business, and he now thought the farmer should be the happiest man in the world, as he could come into the house at night and be contented, throwing off all worry and enjoy himself in reading, or whatever way he desired.

An instrumental duet by Misses Kline and Nelson was the next item on the programme.

MRS. COLIN CAMPBELL.

"The Housekeeper, her Importance to the State," was the subject of an able address by Mrs. Colin Campbell, of Windsor. The speaker dwelt on the great importance of the education of the girls of the home, alleging that if it was necessary for the farmer to study the best way to feed the stock on the farm, it was as important to know how to feed a man as a cow. The girls should learn how to manage a home, how to furnish a home, and how to care for the furnishings after she has got them. What domestic science is was dwelt on, one of the important phases being ventilation, a subject that is not given enough attention. No cause for foul air should be allowed for a moment, more especially in the bedrooms, where one-third of our lives are passed. Flowering plants should not be kept in bedrooms, because while they absorb carbonic acid gas in daytime, the process is reversed at night, and they give off the gas, which is very injurious to the health.

Sanitation was also dwelt on as a most important part of the study of domestic science. As a recipe for fine young ladies to catch a husband, Mrs. Campbell told them to copy the young man who goes out to catch a colt. He puts some oats in a pan, goes int the pasture, and shakes the pan. The idea was for the young ladies to put all their housewively accomplishments in a pan, stand in their father's doorway and "shake the pan." They would soon have all the young men around the table.

Simple, wholesale cooking is better for the health and happiness of the home than the elaborate meals that take so much toil on the part of the housewife that she is too tired to enjoy the meal, and help to make it the pleasant hour it should be. The influence of a good woman in the home was the subject of the closing remarks of the speaker, whose remarks were loudly applauded, especially by the gentlemen present.

An octette, rendered in most acceptable style, the amusing selection, "Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son."

E. C. DRURY.

Th eevening subject taken by Mr. E. C. Drury was "The Social Side of Farming." He said great strides had been made in the farming industry but he thought a much more important thing than raising the finest class of bacon, or the best quality of cheese, was the producing of the best class of people the country has yet produced. One of the detriments of the home life on the farm is the keeping of the idea of drudgery always before its members, as the speaker thought too much time was taken up with work, and none was left for recreation and the cultivation of the mind. He thought, further, that many homes might do with less or cheaper furniture, and with less or cheaper furniture, and have a nice little library and some music, instead of, as many have, a house full of furniture and no other books than perhaps the family Bible, and one or two picture albums. The surroundings of the home were a criterion by which the love of home could be judged. A woman's love for home could be judged by the way she fixed up the inside of it, and a man's love for it by the way he fixed up the outside. The dweller on the farm should learn to appreciate the beauties that surround him, getting away sometimes from the prosaic occupations of life, for on the farm it is only necessary to open our eyes to the beauties that are everywhere.

Education sometimes takes a boy from the farm, but it was not necessary, for the speaker thought some of the boys received more than they really needed, or could use, in running the farm intelligently. Organization was another subject Mr Drur ytook up, and he stated that the farmers were the only class of people who had no organization for their betterment or advancement. He quoted the growth of the cheese industry after the organizing of the cheese interests; also the improvement of prices due to the co-operative Apple Packers' Association being formed, and showed that what the farmer wanted was some kind of organization, but as yet they did not know what they wanted.

After a rousing, patriotic song, rendered by a male chorus, and the usual votes of thanks, the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

LEARN DRESS-MAKING BY MAIL
in your spare time at home, or
Take a Personal Course at School

To enable all to learn we teach on cash or instalment plan. We also teach a personal class at school once a month. Class commencing last Tuesday of each month. These lessons teaches how to cut, fit and put together any garment from the plainest shirt waist suit, to the most elaborate dress. The whole family can learn from one course. We have taught over seven thousand dress-making, and guarantee to give five hundred dollars to any one that cannot learn between the age of 14 and 40. You cannot learn dress-making as thorough as this course teaches if you work in shops for years. Beware of imitations as we employ no one outside the school. This is the only experienced Dress Cutting School in Canada and excelled by none in any other country. Write at once for particulars, as we have cut our rate one-third for a short time. Address:—

SANDERS' DRESS-CUTTING SCHOOL,
31 Erie St., Stratford, Ont., Canada.

Havelock Wants Fire Protection

Town Has Outgrown the Bucket Brigade—Hastings Buys Fire Engine

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Dec. 17.—The Hastings Town Council have purchased a steam fire engine for the sum of $2,800. It would not be a bad idea for some of the local men who intend to enter the field for councillors next year to add to their policy a clause stating that they would try to secure some fire protection for Havelock next year. Havelock at present has no protection whatever, except an army of strong men, who make the very best of fire fighters, but Havelock needs some better protection than this.

Mr. F. McLeary, of Norwood, spent Friday with friends in Havelock.

Miss Ada Colcombe spent Thursday in Norwood.

Mrs. R. Dineen and Master Emmett, of Peterborough, are visiting Mrs. Wm. Dineen.

Messrs. C. Pearce, R. Elphick and C. Tucker, of Norwood, were in Peterborough on Friday.

The C.P.R. Auxiliary made a trip to Norwood on Friday to place a car on the track that had by some means or other been ditched.

Invitation Cards for AT Homes, Receptions and Evening Parties, partly printed for 1c each. Envelopes to match 10c package. On sale at the Review Office

NORWOOD H. S. LOSES ONE OF ITS TEACHERS

Miss McKenzie Accepts Position at Sudbury—News of Interest From the Village

Special to The Review.

Norwood, Dec. 10.—Miss E. McKenzie has resigned her position as assistant teacher in the high school, and accepted a similar position in the high school at Sudbury at a considerable increase in salary.

Mrs. John Patterson is visiting friends in Tweed.

Mr. Isaac, an Assyrian, has opened a store in the Metcalfe block.

Mr. A. S. Harrison has sold his grocery and ice cream business to Mr. Teverette, of Lansdowne, who took possession last week.

Mr. Ebor Frost, who has been engaged in the Union Bank here for some time past, has been transferred to the Leamington branch.

Mrs. (Dr.) Ford entertained the members of the W.M.S. of the Methodist church at her home on Bridge street, on Wednesday afternoon last. A short programme was given and a nice tea served.

Mrs. (Rev.) W. H. Adams, who has charge of a large Bible class of young ladies in the Methodist Sunday school, invited the members of her class to spend the evening at her home on Friday evening last. A very enjoyable time was spent and all speak in glowing terms of Mrs. Adams as a hostess and entertainer.

The ladies of the W.M.S. of the Methodist church are giving an informal reception in the shape of a tea at the church on Wednesday evening of this week, to the members of the league, and to the new members of the church.

Messrs. E. J. Laing and John Hendren have opened up showrooms in the store adjoining Mr. Walter Girven's jewellery store. Mr. Laing, who represents the National Manufacturing Co. of Pembroke, in this district, has a good showing of their several lines. The Capital Cream Separator, which is a general favorite, occupies a prominent place, as well as the Empress range. This range is looked upon as one of the best on the market is sold at reasonable prices, and on easy terms. Mr. Hendren has a good display of the always popular Karn pianos and organs.

They have also several of the different styles of the Singer Sewing machines, which need no comment, as every lady in the land knows of their superior qualities. The public are invited to visit the store and inspect the goods.

An entertainment and tea will be held under the auspices of the Wildman's school house, on the evening of Dec. 13.

The North school will hold a Christmas tree on Dec. 23rd. A limelight lecture will be given by the Rev W. H. Adams, of this town. Addresses will be delivered by Messrs. MacLennan, Stirling, and Frederick. A very enjoyable time is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lennox, of St. Louis, are visiting friends in town.

Miss Smith, of Marmora, spent Sunday in town, the guest of the Misses Smith.

Mr. Aiken spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Harold Howson, on Queen St.

Mr. Harold Howson, of Toronto, spent Sunday at his home on Queen street.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c

Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, will formally open St. George's School, in London, Ont., Dec. 13.

Duluth is involved in a fight for the open shop in the building trades. About 1,500 men have been locked out.

There is Only One
"Bromo Quinine"
That is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
USED THE WORLD OVER TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Always remember the full name. Look for this signature on every box. 25c. E W Grove

ONTARIO COAL CO. LIMITED PETERBORO

COAL - CARTAGE
Best Hard COAL $7.50 per ton
No. 2 Nut COAL $6.50 per ton
Butts or English Cannel COAL $7.50 per ton

Head Office and Yards: 160 Aylmer Street Phone 116
City Office: 387 Water St Phones: Bell 335, Machine 325

ONTARIO COAL CO., Limited
A. J. McCLELLAN C. CURRIER G. K. RACKHAM

Here is the shoe that fits exactly into the ideal so many have looked for and never found.

INVICTUS SHOES
AT $4.50 & $5.00

Shoes that combine with a moderate price the perfection of style, fit and durability. "Invictusized" Patent Leather Shoes are revelation. This secret process does something never before accomplished. Renders the leather soft and pliable, increases the life of the shoes at least one third and reduces checking or breaking to a minimum.

ASK THE MAN WHO WEARS THEM

J T. STENSON
364 George St.

EGGS
FOR SALE
by the case

Fresh and Pickled Choice Stock at our warehouse, Robinson Street, East City

Scott & Hogg
PHONE 264, BOTH PHONES

Palace Livery Barn

For the smartest and most up-to-date LIVERY OUTFITS, at reasonable rates, go to

TOM FOSTER & CO.
Successors to Bruce Lee & Co
Rear of Snowden House.

AUCTION SALE OF HORSES BUGGIES, HARNESS, ETC., EVERY SATURDAY
Phones – Bell 286 – Machine 289

Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID
IS A TABLET TAKEN INTERNALLY FOR THE CURE OF PILES
Guaranteed, or money refunded. Confidential. Booklet on Piles, with copy of Guarantee and Testimonials mailed Free on application. $1 a bottle at all dealers, or prepaid from THE WILSON-FYLE CO., Ltd., Niagara Falls, Ont

Sold by James Lynch, Druggist, Peterborough.

PRICE OF Coal
FOR OCTOBER IS $7.50
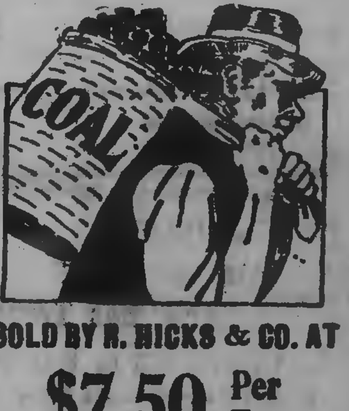
Ton, cash with order

THE PETERBORO FUEL & CARTAGE CO
Limited.
162 Charlotte-st. Telephones—(Bell) 281, 270. (Machine)—270.
134 Aylmer-st. Tel. (Bell) 362.



D.L. & W's SCRANTON COAL

SOLD BY R. HICKS & CO. AT
$7.50 Per Ton
for Month of October, in lots of not less than half ton.
This is the Standard Anthracite. 60 % of Coal sold in Ontario is SCRANTON.
Terms Positively Cash.

R. HICKS & CO.
Coal Builders' Supplies, Etc.

COAL AND WOOD
Best of Coal—Best of Wood
COAL FOR OCTOBER
$7.50 PER TON
J. E. A. FITZGERALD
Cor. Brock and Bethune Sts
BOTH PHONES 111

Steer Straight
for the best Beer ever brewed, and you are sure to come to us! Our Bottled Beer is "bottled health." It insures vigor and strength, a good appetite and high spirits. It is the best medicine for the weak and the best food for the strong. Keep our excellent in Beer your house as a beverage and you will have no need of a doctor. Nothing but the purest ingredients used in the brewing.

—THE—
CALCUTT BREWING AND MALTING CO
of Ashburnham Limited

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING--DO IT NOW

This year we have the Largest Assortment, Best Choice, and without doubt, Lowest Prices. It will be worth your while to do all your shopping with us.

PEELS (English)—Lemon and Orange ....15c lb.
Citron ....45c lb.

SPICES—The first thought in our Spices is excellence—then price. You will appreciate a Spice if you get it from us.

FIGS—Large table variety ....15c lb.
Choice Five Crown ....12 1-2c lb.
Loose Cooking Box Figs .... 3 lbs. for 25c

ORANGES—Sweet Mexicans.......15c, 20c, 25c, 30c dozen
Navels ....40c, 50c, 60c dozen

MALAGA GRAPES—Choice fruit....................20c lb.

SEEDED RAISINS—16 oz. boxes 15c
12 oz. boxes 12 1-2c

MINCE MEAT—A very clean home-made article, with the best of fruit and spices.................... 3 pounds for 25c

PLUM PUDDINGS—Weston's home-made, ready to use. Put up in 1, 2 and 3 pound cloth............25c per pound

Crescent Brand Raisins—The highest grade of Valencia Raisins procurable, and are thoroughly cleaned by our new process. The price is the same as charged for ordinary fruit uncleaned.

Crescent Brand Currants — A fine, large, selected fruit, thoroughly cleaned by our brush machinery process, which takes out all dirt and sand, leaving Currants ready for use. 3lb for 25c.

MOLASSES—Finest quality, put up in tins.
Large tin....................15c
Small tin....................10c

DATES—Extra Golden .... 3 pounds for 25c
Black Ford .... 12 1-2c lb.

NUTS—Shelled Walnuts....................40c lb.
Shelled Almonds.................... 40c and 50c lb.

SULTANA RAISINS—Choice large fruit .... 15c lb.

TABLE RAISINS—The fruit is extra fine this year and reasonable—Good quality ....20c lb.
Choice quality....................25c lb.
Extra quality ....30c lb.
Highest grade ....35c lb.

CIDER—You require Cider for your Christmas cooking—....................10c quart—40c gallon

BAKING POWDER—For a high-grade pure Cream of Tartar Powder, use the English Sterling. In pound tins, 20c
Bulk Baking Powder ....10c lb.

E. F. MASON CO., Limited -- 3 Stores -

South, 351 GEORGE
Centre, 429 GEORGE
North, 682-4 GEORGE

IT IS A FACT

That we have the finest stock of Skates, Sticks and Hockey Supplies in the city.

BANK'S SKATE STORE

Under the Market Clock-

Poor Children Will be Given Christmas Treat

Entertainment Will be Held in Market Hall—Decided Upon Last Evening

At a representative gathering last evening of citizens interested in the Children's Aid Society, it was unanimously decided to hold a children's entertainment in the Market Hall some day during Christmas week. Mr. Peter Campbell occupied the chair, and considerable discussion took place on what kind of an entertainment should be given the deserving poor of the city. A committee was appointed and they will meet on Friday night to complete arrangements for the concert and treat to the poor children.

HAVELOCK CLUB HAS ORGANIZED

Will Make Move to Form League With Surrounding Towns

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Dec. 11.—The citizens of Havelock have to thank the hockey club for the fact that they will have a skating rink this winter. It was on the condition that the hockey club organize that Mr. Jas. Frost, of town has started operations on an up-to-date open air rink on Ontario street east, opposite the ice house.

CLUB ORGANIZE.

At a large and enthusiastic meeting held in the town hall the hockey club was organized for the coming season with the following officers:—

Hon. Pres.—Jas. Thompson
President.—Jas. E. Fowler.
Vice-Pres.—T. E. Dineen.
Manager.—H. T. Andrews
Treasurer.—T. Morris.
Secretary.—H. Connelly.
Executive Committee.—F. Brown, W. Foster and O. Breken.

The captain of the team will be elected later by the players selected by the manager and the executive, and he will control the team during matches.

The secretary was instructed to write the clubs of the surrounding towns with a view towards forming a league in order to arouse interest in hockey this season.

The start made by the club is a good one and we can feel quite confident that the management can be depended on to make a success of it.

Every one in town should try in some way to help the club along in their work and if anyone wishes to do so, on application to the secretary can secure membership tickets to the club for the small sum of 50 cents.

Mr. Frost, manager of the rink, will get everything in working order as soon as possible and the hockey team will get considerable practice before Christmas.

Union potatoes are on sale in Chicago.

SPORTING NEWS

TAIT IS READY FOR LONGBTOA

It is said that Jack Tait is willing to run Longboat any distance up to three miles. Rumor was current when Tait announced he would endeavor to lower the Indian's mark the latter became very much excited and expressed a strong desire to meet Tait. The event may take place on 'Varsity track next Saturday, and in case it does, the receipts will be given to the Sick Children's Hospital.

Sporting Comment

The interest of the Peterborough horsemen is aroused now that the winter meet of the Peterborough Turf Club has been decided upon. Some good races will be held, and with the able staff of officers, everything in connection with the meet should be run off to the entire satisfaction of the starters, and the public. The public appreciates good races, and no doubt the meet will be accorded a liberal patronage.

Remember the dates, January 21st and 22nd.

The Peterborough Strathconas should have a fast and well balanced seven this winter, and one capable of most creditably representing Peterborough in the O.H.A. The team is deserving of a liberal and enthusiastic patronage, and Strathconas are to be commended for consenting to enter the O.H.A., when the club had decided to place a team in the city league this winter. Peterborough is certainly too large a town to be without an O.H.A. septette, and the sporting enthusiasts and citizens generally will be pleased to see its honor upheld in the intermediate series. Glover and Moore are from present indications, the only two of the old guard who will figure on the line-up, and such seasoned players will be able to give much good advice to the younger puck chasers on the team. Some outside men who are said to be fast, will likely be candidates for positions. Mr. W. Metheral, who has faithfully and successfully looked after the interests of the Strathconas, will be manager, and Messrs. C. G. Graham and J. D Craig, as president and secretary, are sure to be competent and satisfactory officials in their respective offices.

MILLER TO PLAY WITH BRANTFORD

Local Player Secured for the Telephone City 'Professionals

"Giddy" Miller, of last year's Peterborough team, will play left wing for the Brantford professionals this season. He will leave for Brantford in a few days and should have no trouble in making good. The Brantford team will line up as follows:—Goal, Lehman; point, Ray Brown; cover, Capt. McDonald; left wing, Miller; rover Taylor; centre, Cochrane, right wing, DeGray. Taylor and DeGray played on the Canadian Soo team last year, while McDonald was with Calumet, and Cochrane with Houghton.

HOCKEY

LINDSAY'S HOPES.

A gentleman who has just returned to the city from Lindsay, states that the hockey enthusiasts of that town have the intermediate championship already won, and are figuring out where they will place the cup. But then they have been doing that for the last two years.

Mr. F. D. Craig, secretary of the Strathconas, is in Port Hope to-day looking after Peterborough's interest in the arranging of the schedule for this district.

A meeting of the city league will be held in the Examiner office to-night at 7.30 o'clock.

Football Supper at Grove School

Woman Dies From Stroke of Paralysis—Other Notes

Lakefield, Dec. 10.—The West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, conjointly with the Women's Institute, held a well attended meeting in the town hall on Monday last. The chair was occupied by the reeve, Dr. Burgess. Several addresses on matters of interest to the farming community were delivered, those by Dr. Annie Backus and Mr. E. C. Drury being especially attractive.

A shooting match for turkeys will be held at the shooting range on Thursday next. Globe sights will not be permitted to be used.

Miss Florence Atwood went to Peterborough on Monday last to spend a day or two with Mr. and Mrs. Evans Atwood.

The football supper at the Grove school last week was a great success. Prizes were distributed to the winners of the various sporting events of the year, and speeches were delivered by Messrs. Hilliard, Tate and others. Dancing wound up the evening's festivities.

Mrs. John Alcombrac was seized with a suden stroke of paralysis at 2 a.m., and died without recovering consciousness at 7 a.m. The deceased was an old resident of Lakefield. She and her husband having lived here for many years.

The ladies of the Methodist church will hold a sale of work in Mr. Darcy's store on Thursday, Dec. 12. The newest creations in fancy work, handkerchiefs, dolls, toys, fruits, jellies, pickles, etc., will be on sale. Tea will be served at any time during the sale.

Mr. John Holmes left on Sunday night to Brown Hill, near Cannington, where Mrs. Holmes is at the present moment lying ill.

Mr. Jas. Campbell, of Brampton, who was attending the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Shaw, in this village last week, returned home on Sunday last.

Monday last was tax day for Douro residents and the Midland hotel was filled with farmers and others anxious to pay their taxes to Mr. Sullivan.

Dr. Brown, who was to have left last week, but was detained on account of business, left for New York on Saturday last.

Mrs. Dela Fosse left on Saturday last on a short visit to Mrs. Rigby, at Trinity College school, Port Hope.

Mr. Roland Johnson returned from Montreal last week where he had been on a business trip.

The concert held under the auspices of St. John's choir on Friday last in the Sunday school was pronounced success. The thanks of the management are due and are hereby tendered to Misses Kline, Montgomery and Sparling for their kind help on the occasion.

Enjoyable Time Spent at Hiawatha

Prizes Presented to Simpson and Howard, the Swift Sprinters

There was a big time at Hiawatha on Tuesday night when the prizes won by Fred Simpson and Ben. Howard at the recent Y.M.C.A. Harrier's meet were presented.

The hall was crowded and a pleasant evening was spent. Simpson won second prize in the mile race and Howard second in the three mile handicap. Rev. George Dunkley made the presentations. Speeches of a congatulatory character were made by Chief Crowe, Robert Paudash, Jeremiah Crowe, Joseph Lukes and Johnson Paudash.

Afterwards a fowl supper was enjoyed and a merry night was brought to a close at a seasonable hour.

Premier Scott, of Saskatchewan, is in Ottawa, en route to the Mediterrean.

Charles Kow admitted at Cobourg to firing William Barcourt's barns and stacks.

Has Edward Beemin Been Drowned in the Otonabee ?

Was Last Seen Walking to Get Freight Train on C. P. R. Bridge—Was Carrying Parcel—Piece of Paper Found on Abutment—Has Not Been Heard of Since Monday.

Did Edward Beemin fall off the C. P. R. bridge into the Otonabee on Monday evening, and meet his death by drowning? He has been missing since Monday evening, and from appearances he was the victim of a sad accident. He resided in Myrtle, and was C.P.R. pump man for the Peterborough and Myrtle section. He and his wife were shopping in the city, on Monday, and were preparing to leave for home on the 4.48 C.P.R. express. His wife went on the train but Mr. Beemin was detained, as it was discovered that a parcel had been left behind, and he went back to get it. Being an employee of the C.P.R., he was naturally accorded the privilege of travelling on any of the freight trains should he find it convenient to do so. So when he returned to the station, he walked over to the bridge to board a west bound freight that would take him to his destination. He was seen walking to the freight, and there ends all direct information as to his disappearance and possible fate.

PIECE OF PAPER ON BRIDGE.

As was remarked before, he was carrying a parcel when he went to where the freight was standing on the bridge. A piece of paper, such as is used in wrapping parcels, was found on the north side of the last abutment of the bridge. This supplies very strong circumstantial evidence that Mr. Beemin fell over the side of the bridge, and the parcel was caught, and the paper torn off during his fall. The reason he walked to the other side of the bridge was to board the caboose and travel on it. The time of the disappearance of Mr. Beemin was between 5 and 6 o'clock on Monday, but it was hoped that some slight mishap had befallen him, and that he would turn up in time. His family became very uneasy over his absence, however, and yesterday some C.P.R. section men commenced dragging the river.

SEARCHING TO-DAY.

No trace of him has been found up to this time of going to press, although the Guerin brothers and some section men have been dragging the river with grappling irons all day to-day. They started their operations near the bridge, and have covered much ground from that point to Burnham's point.

There are two children of Mr. Beemin employed in this city. Mr. Thos. Beemin and Miss Mary J. Beemin.

ARE GOING TO MERRY ENGLAND

Peterborough People Crossing the Pond to Spend Yuletide Season

An unusually large number of Peterborough people are going to the Old Country to spend the Christmas holidays. The majority of those who are taking the trip are former residents of the isles across the sea and are going home for the glad Yuletide season to renew old acquaintances. Among those who are going across the pond for Christmas are Dr. and Mrs. B. R. Poole, and family and maid. Mr. T. Ridyard, Mr. T. Hallett and Mrs. D. Moon. The above parties sail on the C.P.R. steamship, Empress of Ireland, from St. John, on Friday. They were ticketed by Mr. W. McIlroy, the local C.P.R. ticket agent

Debating Club Meets To-night

The Debating Club of the Y.M.C.A. meets at the Association building to-night. The principal feature will be a number of 15 minute orations on "Ideal Characters," by different members of the Club. A large attendance is requested.

Standing Trial on New Charge

Wm. McCrea, the Brakeman in Court Again To-day

Wm. McCrea, a brakeman, is standing trial this afternoon at the police court on the charge of non-support of his wife. It will be remembered that McCrea was arranged before the magistate a few weeks ago on a similar charge, but was allowed to go. A new information was taken out againt him under the Ontario Statute. Mr. R. F. McWilliams is appearing for Mrs. McCrea and Mr. G. Gordon is defending the husband.

Lumberman's Leg Broken

Brought to City at Noon To-day and Taken to Nicholls Hospital

An employee of the Cavendish Lumber Company was brought to the city to-day at noon by Mr. T. Eastwood suffering from a fracture of the leg as the result of a skidway faling on him. He was taken to the Nicholls hospital and his injuries were attended to by Dr. Eastwood.

At Leominster, Mass., the shirt factories of the Cluett-Peabody Company, employing 2,000 hands, have resumed work on full time.

FACTS—JUST PLAIN, POINTED FACTS

BOYS' SUITS

Good words our Good Boy's Clothing are coming back to us in good business, what better proof could you ask of our value-giving than these.

BUSTER BROWN STYLE

Gray mixed Tweeds, plain, well made and trimmed, sizes 22 to 25.................... 3.25
Gray stripe Tweed, well made and trimmed, 22 to 25 3.50
Blue and black Serge, well made and trimmed sizes 22 to 26.................... 4.00

2-PIECE NORFOLK STYLE

Dark gray stripe Tweed, sizes from 25 to 30, special 2.00
Gray mixed Tweed, pepper and salt effects, all sizes, 24 to 30, Special.................... 2.50
Brown Scotch Tweed effect, double breasted Norfolk, sizes 26 to 29, prices.................... ...4.00, 4.50, 5.00
3 piece Double Breasted Styles-dark gray check and stripe Tweed, Lion Brand, with double elbows and double seats and knees, well padded and well made, sizes 28 to 33 ....4.50 and 5.00
Dark gray over plaids and dark stripes, the newest designs for boys' suits, double breasted, sizes 28 to 33....................6.00, 6.50, 7.00
Boys' and Youth's Reefers—Dark gray and black Frieze, Tweed lined, all sizes up to 28..........2.00, 2.25
Dark gray and black Frieze, Tweed lined, to 34 2 75

MERRELL & MEREDITH

CLOTHIERS, FURNISHERS and HATTERS
375-377 GEORGE ST. PHONE 35

Entertainment on "Burns Night"

The "Olde Tyme Concerte" which is to be repeated by the choir of St. Andrew's church for charitable purposes will be given on "Burns' night," which comes about the third week in January. It was stated last night the concert was to be given January 7th, which was not correct.

FOR PASSEPARTOUT WORK

The fad for passepartout pictures is again growing a favorite for pretty pictures and are always appreciated. One can always find room for a couple more on the walls and every one has their favorite subject, some like scenery, others historical subjects, many like kittens and one boy in the city has the walls of his bedroom fairly covered with pictures of dogs—small and large. When mounted on a suitable background and passepartouted they are very pretty and inexpensive to make up. The Review has a large stock of pictures in sepia and colors, mounting papers and passepartout to match. Call and see them at the REVIEW Office, Hunter street. 3d

Walter McFarland, 35 years old, was found with his neck broken and legs fractured on a car track in Chicago.

Porter's Delicatessen

CUT RATE GROCERY STORE

Shelled Almonds per lb	35
" Walnuts	35
Choice Black & Green Tea 3 lbs	50
Choice Coffee 17c 3 lbs	50
Select Raisins 3 lbs	.20
Dates, 3 lbs............	.25
Mince Meat, 3 lbs......	.20
Washing Soda, 3 lbs....	.05
Cooking Figs, 4 lbs	.25
3 bottles Ketchup......	.25
3 bottles Pickles........	.25
Potatoes, per pk........	.15
Apples, per pk	.10

410 George Street

Alex. Mason, of London, Ont., is dead aged 64, leaving a widow and four children.

A PLEASANT EVENING AT CHINA HALL

A pleasant evening may be spent by paying a visit to the show rooms of China Hall. Our present stock (got together after 10 months of careful buying, backed by over 30 years' experience) would do credit to the largest city in the Dominion. The assortment is so varied that it cannot be seen in a few minutes and an hour or two may be pleasantly spent in looking through the two show rooms. You will see the following celebrated makes as well as the very cheapest goods. Royal Crown Derby, Royal Doulton, Old Greek "Prince Albert," Royal Worcester, Knoi, Royal Vienna, Royal Bavarian, Coalport, Royal Saxony, Maloka, etc., etc.

CHINA HALL CO. New Premises 394 GEORGE STREET
(NEXT TO H. LeBRUN & CO.)

GET THE LATEST

The Review Supplies the Correct Things in Wedding Invitations Programmes, Personal Stationery, Etc.

THE DAILY REVIEW

LUMBER

and BUILDING MATERIAL of all kinds. Shingles, Scantling, Joists and Bill Stuff. Mouldings, Casings and Base, and all kinds of finish. Boxes and Box Shooks.

ALF. McDONALD ESTATE
Point St. Charles Mill, Peterborough.

VOL LV., NO. 135 PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1907 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

PROBABILITIES

Moderate winds; fair and cold today and on Friday.

THE GOLDEN LION STORE

THE GIFT-GIVERS' FRIDAY AND SATURDAY BARGAINS

Many gift problems may be solved here on these two days and you will appreciate the saving they will brng you.

CHIFFON AND CREPE DE CHEURE SCARFS

A nobby lot of high-class Scarfs, purchased by our own Mr. Fair while in London, Eng., at a fraction of regular value. A gift that will be appreciated, at little cost to you. We have divided them into 4 lots for Friday and Saturday selling.

At 59c
Scarfs that were regularly worth up to $1.50

At $1.75
Scarfs that were regularly worth up to $3.25

At $1.00
Scarfs that were regularly worth up to $2.00

At $2.00
Scarfs that were regularly worth up to $3.50

SAMPLE HANDKERCHIEFS

Another lot of pretty Iris and Swiss Embroidery and Lace Edged Handkerchiefs—A timely saving on wanted goods. Prices are about ⅓ less than regular and range from 5 to 75c

CUSHION TOPS

Lithographic and Tapestry Cushion Tops, choice subjects and colorings—the style you are usually asked 25 and 35c for—Friday and Saturday 18c

TWO XMAS BARGAINS IN LADIES TAILORED SUITS

At $3.50
3 only, Suits in Brown and Gray Mixed Tweeds—well made and neatly trimmed, regular values $8.50 and $10.00

At $5.00
4 only, Suits in Black and Navy Cheviot and Broadcloth—well lined, trimmed with braid an buttons, regular $15.00 and $20.00

TURCOMAN PORTIERES

Are appropriate gift for a housekeeper—2 pairs only, light fawn ground wite allover Oriental design, regular value $10.00, half price, Friday and Saturday $5.00

TAPESTRY PORTIERES

Another gift saving in the Carpet Department. 8 pairs only, figured and striped Tapestry Curtains, good colorings and designs, worth up to $9.00. Friday and Saturday $4.68

LACE ARTICLES FOR XMAS GIFTS

Embracing Collars, Berthas, Jabots, Boleros. Jackets, blouses, at a small fraction of regular price for Friday and Saturday.

At 25c
Battenburg and Planen Lace Collars, regular values 50c to $1.00

At $1.25
Very handsome Planen Lace Boleros, regular values $4.00 to $5.00

At 75c
Lace Jabots, Berthas and Collars, regular values up to $2.25

At $2.00
Beautiful Lace Jackets and Waists, regular value $5.00 TO $7.50

VISIT THE GOLDEN LION STORE, PETERBORO'S GREATEST GIFT STORE

Robert Fair & Co.

383 GEORGE STREET Limited
Phone—Dry Goods 145 Phone—Dressmaking 145B

WANTED

FIRST CLASS WAITRESS. Apply at once at Oriental. td.

For Sale or To Rent

TO RENT

BRICK HOUSE AT 17 WATER ST., bath and electric light. Immediate possession. Apply to J. J. TURNER & SONS, Tent Manufacturers, George Street. 3d

TO RENT

A FEW FINE, WELL LIGHTED AND HEATED ROOMS at the Y. M. C. A. for rent from $1.00 to $2.00 a week. 6td

FOR SALE

PIANO CASE ORGAN, double the usual volume, (8 sets reeds) good as new, less than half price on easy weekly or monthly payments. A nice Christmas present easy to buy. 27 Park St., corner Park and Parnell. tf

FOR SALE

TYPEWRITER, latest model American Oliver, bran new. Good discount off lowest selling price for a quick sale. Apply Review Office. tdf

Lost and Found

LOST

ON FRIDAY EVENING on street corner between Dalhousie St. and Y.M.C.A., a teacher's Bible with name written inside cover. Finder will please return to the Review Office or H. P. Kennedy's store, George Street. 1d

Photography

Amateur Supplies, Cameras, Souvenir Books, Post Cards and all kinds of high-grade Photography at W. G. LENDRUM'S, 170 Charlotte St. Agent for the celebrated Heintzman & Co's Pianos.

PIANO, HARMONY, Etc.

ALFRED DAVIES

Teacher of Piano, Harmony, etc. Pupils prepared for all examinations. 106 McDonnel St., Bell Tel. 463, P.O. Box 592 3m

SPECIAL RATES FOR FAMILY WASHING

Prices were never lower than now at

Parkers' Steam Laundry

Goods called for and delivered free to an part of the city.

W. P. HETHERINGTON

CHARLOTTE ST. PHONE 63

GET READY!

Summer has gone by and winter is at hand. Are you settled in a house of your own, where you can stay and not be forced out in the cold? If not, take warning, and buy one of our Cheap New Houses and be at home, or buy one of our Modern Houses at $2,100 and up. We also have first-class large houses from $3,000 up.

Companies Good as the Best in all lines of Insurance but Life. Rates moderate.

R. G. Ivey, Special Agent,
326 George St. Phone 3 Bell W. MIGHT

For Sale or To Rent

AT REASONABLE PRICES

Three small farms, good soil, suitable for gardening purposes, close to city. Also a few small, comfortable, dwelling houses, and choice building lots, well situated in good localities.

Properties sold, purchased or exchanged.

Private Funds to Loan on Real Estate.

INSURANCE

Agents for reliable Fire, Life, Accident, Plate Glass and Liability Insurance Companies. For particulars as to rates, etc., apply to

J. J. McBAIN & SON
Real Estate and Insurance Agents.
Office Cor. Simcoe and George-sts.
Office 'Phone 454 Residence Phone 109A

FOR XMAS

Furniture fixed up like new. Upholstering and all kinds of similar work done. Mattresses made over.

A. R. JACKSON
320 Aylmer. Corner of Charlotte. Bell Phone 494B

FANCY POTTERY

All kinds of Urns, Vases, Jugs, Plates, Jardinieres, etc., Moulded to Order for hand painting for Christmas gifts.

GEO. E. RAWLINGS, Crescent Street

GEORGE RUTH

Properties for Sale:

Come and inspect our list of HOUSES We have a number of first-class residences; all modern; locality and prices are right; also a number of cheaper houses. Terms to suit the purchasers.

8 fine building lots, near the C. G. E. works, are offered for $1500.

A few first-class homes to rent with modern improvements.

395 Water Street, open evenings

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

What more appropriate gift could you make than by purchasing a home for your family?

Come and see J. T. O'Connell & Co's bargains.

$2,350—New red brick house, central, cement floor in cellar; hall, parlor, dining room, kitchen, large pantry, front and back stairs, 4 bedrooms, bathroom fitted, 3 clothes closets, attic finished, electric lights, large verandah and balcony, woodshed and summer kitchen. Can be bought on monthly payments. Possession at once.

$900 buys red brick cottage East City, 6 rooms, hard and soft water, large lot.

To Rent—New house with all conveniences. Possession at once.

For further particulars apply to

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.
Phone 376. 136 Hunter St.

MEALS—LUNCHES

AT ALL HOURS

For quick service, well-cooked meals and popular prices—go to

FOWLER'S RESTAURANT
McCallum's Old Stand - 390 George St

R. A. ELLIOTT & CO.

Real Estate Agents

Head Office of the Sandstone Brick Co.

STOVES, RANGES —AND— HEATERS

Enamel and Tinware
Plumbing and Eavetroughing

HUTCHINSON-STURGEON CO
Bell and Machine 'Phones 235 342 George Street

International Correspondence Schools

Of Scranton, Penn.

Industrial Science Taught by Mail.

LOCAL OFFICE - - 430 George Stree
R. C. BALFOUR, Representative

he Talk of the Town—OUR COOKING

TOOTHSOME
WHOLESOME
PALATABLE

Try a loaf of our Brown and Currant Bread

FRY'S MILK CHOCOLATE DROPS
BURNT ALMONDS

COLEMAN BROS.
Phone 335. 426 Georg St.

THE

BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to-wear Store

CHRISTMAS BOXES

—FOR—

Grown Ups, Youth, Childhood and the dear little Hope of the family

- Christmas Waists
- Christmas Skirts
- Christmas Neckwear
- Christmas Belts
- Christmas Table Linen
- Christmas Cashmere and Silk Hosiery
- Silk Socks for him
- Christmas Robes for baby
- Christmas Dresses for the girls
- Christmas Whitewear
- Christmas Fancy Goods
- Knitted Slippers
- Christmas Handkerchiefs
- Initialed Handkerchiefs
- Christmas Furs
- Christmas Headwear
- Christmas Scarfs
- Christmas Fascinators
- Christmas Gloves
- Perrin's Kid Gloves

And a thousand things not mentioned at

THE

BEEHIVE

The Ladies' Big Ready-to Wear Store

A. BROWN & CO.,

TheReal Estate Agents, 396 Water Street

$100 will secure good Cottage with large lot 50x200
$500 will secure an up-to-date House with all modern improvements.
$1,000 will purchase good Cottage and large lot
$600 will secure Cottage, Stable and 6 acres good land near city.

We have some great snaps in Houses, Farms and City lots for sale and to rent.

Fire, Life and Accident Insurance.

Bell Phone 126 and 474 B. Machine 117

THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS

WHAT DO THE WOMEN LIKE?

A HARD QUESTION ANSWERED EASILY

Ever think how cosy looking a nice Eiderdown Dressing Gown or Sacque was? Yes, they ARE COSY LOOKING and not only that, but they ARE COSY and COMFORTABLE, too. There's no woman but would deny herself some other luxury for a pretty Dressing Gown, even if it was only for evening wear. They have an air of refinement about them these cold evenings. Let us suggest that if you have a lady friend that you are undecided about what you will give her,try one of our Eiderdown Garments

Eiderdown Wearables

Dressing Gowns and Bath Robes

In all the newest and most popular shades of the season, made of fine soft eiderdown and trimmed with facings of satin and piping of fancy cord. These garments are very serviceable. See them before you decide on anything else.

Xmas Special Prices $4.40, $5.40 and $10

Dressing Sacques . . .

These, too, are very popular among the fair sex, They are loose fitting, comfort-giving house garments, made of fine eiderdown, the most popular material for such purposes The shades are the same as in the gowns, viz.: Grays, Light Blue,, Light and Dark Reds. Beautifully trimmed with facings of suitable colored satins and piped with fancy cord. They are all fastened with the braid bar and loop fasteners. Prices special for Xmas trade—$1.25, $2.25, $3

Lace, Silk and Lawn Blouses

In the history of this business we have never before shown such a complete range nor such exquisite styles in Fancy Waists as we are showing. Nothing in the wardrobe is so much thought of by the average woman as beautiful waists. A skirt may be ever so plain, but when a handsomely trimmed waist is worn with it, she feels satisfied that her outfit is up to the popular fancy, and rightly, too, for the plainer the skirt, the more enhanced is the appearance of the waist. Following are a few of our most admired lines:

BRUSSELS NET Cream with tucked yoke and trimmings of insertion and self frillings, made with the new kimona sleeve. This is one of our most admired Waists for the price 6.00

FILLETTE NET WAIST With full ¾ sleeves, elegantly trimmed in the pointed yoke effect with lace insertion and floral applique over the shoulder, giving a rich soft appearance. Our $5.00 style.

FILLETTE LACE—In the popular ecru shade, made with the new kimona sleeve effect, prettily trimmed with lace insertion and shadow embroidered net insertion in the long pointed yoke effect. Price 10.00

WHITE NET—Fine Brussels Net, made in the pretty new kimona style, with front and back yoke and shoulder strap of Fillette lace insertion and Valenciennes lace Price 10.00

ALLOVER LACE WAIST—One of our highest class Waists, made of fine lace and trimmed with lace motifs and pale blue silk and button strappings. Has the new kimona sleeves Price 12.00

PERSIAN LAWN—This Waist i made with pin tucked back and front and prettily trimmed with Valenciennes lace insertion in the circular yoke effect. Also lace collar Our Xmas Price 5.00

RENAISSANCE WAIST—This novel Waist is the height of the season's styles. It is made of fine Brussels net, beautifully trimmed with Renaissance lace motifs and pin tucked yoke back and front. Price 10.00

PERSIAN LAWN and MULL in the season's pretties effects, ranging in price from $4.00 to $7.00

SILK BLOUSES—All new natty creations, elegantly trimmed, ranging from $1.98—$13.00

ECRU BRUSSELS NET — Cross tucked yoke with medallion and edged with lace and insertion; a pretty creation entirely new this season; made with kimona leeve lace effec Price 6.50

OUR $6.75 NET—Brussels Net, tucked and motif trimmed yoke, with body and sleeves beautifully trimmed with lace insertion Price 6.75

OUR $5.00 SPECIAL — This pretty Waist has the tucked yoke and wide combination lace insertion front. Also the natty shoulder strap effect Price 5.00

STORE HOURS:
8.10 - - 5.45
Closes Saturday at 10 p.m.

Cressman's 385, 387, 389 George Street

First Meeting Peterborough Canadian Club

Will be Held at National Hotel Tomorrow Night at 7.30 O'clock

The first meeting of the Peterborough Canadian Club will be held tomorrow evening, Dec. 13th, at the National hotel, at 7.30 p.m. The speaker of the evening will be Professor Shortt, of Queen's University, Kingston. The subject of Professor Shortt's address will be "Problems of Immigration."

Only members of the club will, of course, be permitted to attend. Membership tickets cost $1 and may be got from the following officers; F. D. Kerr, D. O'Connell, Dr. Cameron, R. E. Layfield, T. F. Matthews, J. H. Leamonth, D. Hughes-Charles, J. Crane, H. LeBrun and H.R.H. Kenner.

The dinner will cost 50 cents. The only speaker will be the guest of the evening. Tickets for the dinner will be on sale at the National hotel on Friday evening. The president, Mr. F. D. Kerr, will act as chairman.

Mr. Mulholland is Secretary

Of Peterborough District for Commercial Travellers' Association

Mr. T. D. Mulholland, of Perkins, Ince & Co., has been appointed secretary for the Peterborough district of the Commercial Travellers Association of Toronto. Mr. Mulholland will be in a position to supply certificates to travellers living in or near Peterborough, just as soon as their applications are accepted. This will be a decided convenience and will obviate any delay in obtaining the necessary certificates.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

Rev. H. M. Manning, pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church, will address the men and older boys at 4 p.m. next Sunday. Mr. D. Campbell leader of the Knox Presbyterian church choir, will render a solo.

The Bible study committee composed of Messrs. W. Shiner, Chairman, L. Hicks, W. E. McCann, J. Vincent W. McLaren, Fred Hall, Wm. Madill and Rev. J. G. Potter, are requested to meet on Saturday night at 8.30 p.m., to arrange some new classes for the coming year.

PALMISTRY

Prof. C. SHEPHERD of San Francisco, California, is visiting Peterborough for a limited time, and may be consulted at

Mrs. R. King's, George Street (upstairs) Rooms, First Floor

Hall entrance next Times Office. Hours from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.. Appointments made. Your past, present and future about Business and Marriage correctly told. Machine Phone 7

GRAND OPERA HOUSE | Saturday, December 14

MATINEE AND NIGHT Only Novelty in Sight—The Original Production

HOOLIGAN IN NEW YORK

With an All-Star Cast of Metropolitan Favorites—Carload Special Scenery—Trick Properties, and Novelties. Seats now on Sale

EVENING PRICES—50c, 35c, 25c, 15c. MATINEE—25c, 15c

RICHMOND STUDIO

SPECIALS for XMAS PHOTOS

Newest Mountings Newest Styles
Pictures Plain Cards
Folders Calenders

First-class work at night by electric ligh Sittings by appointment.

147 HUNTER STREET

Dr. A. B. Cutcliffe has been appointed market inspector of Brantford.

XMAS CHEER

CENTRAL LIQUOR STORE

141 HUNTER STREET

Brandies, Port and Sherry Wines, St. Augustine, Native Port, also the highest grade Scotch Whiskies to be found in Peterborough.

Something good in Rye, namely:—

MITCHELL'S SPECIAL RYE WHISKY

Quality the best in Peterborough and a little better.

Remember the place
The Old Reliable Liquor Store

F.J.R. MITCHELL

THE CRYSTAL

OPEN EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING

Passion Play "Life of Christ"

ALL THIS WEEK.

Beautifully illustrated song "ROCK OF AGES"

ADMISSION--10 CENTS

Medical

E. V. FREDERICK, M.B., Tor.

M.R.C.S., Eng.; L.R.C.P., Lond. Lic. Univ. of New York.

Removed to No. 492 George St., formerly office of Dr. McFaul.

Private nursing home for surgical cases.

DR. G. STEWART CAMERON
Office and Residence
No. 273 Charlotte St. 'Phone 128

DR. G. C. LEACH

Late House Surgeon of Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio; also of Cook County Hospital, Chicago. OFFICE—234 Hunter St., formerly occupied by Dr. Coughlin. Phone Bell 219.
Special Attention to Diseases of Women

DR. JAS. V. GALLIVAN

Office 215 Simcoe St. Late of St. John's Hospital New York. Lic. University of New York.
Telephone 608.

Osteopathy

DR. ASA G. WALMSLEY
Osteopathic Physician

Office over Canadian Bank of Commerce, Water Street entrance.
Office Hours—9 to 12 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. Evenings by appointment. Consultation free.

Legal

R. E. WOOD

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Etc. Office removed from Bank of Commerce Building to 435 George street, recently occupied by E. B. Edwards. Money to Loan

W. H. MOORE

BARRISTER SOLICITOR, in the Supreme Court etc. Office—Hunter street, first stairs west of Post Office.

HALL & HAYES

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS and NOTARIES PUBLIC, Hunter Street, Peterborough, next to English Church. Money to Loan at the lowest rates of interest.
E. H. D. HALL. LOUIS M. HAYES

HALL, MEDD & DAVIDSON
(Successors to Stratton & Hall)

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., Peterborough Ont. Office—Corner of Hunter and Water Sts. over Bank of Commerce.
E. H. D. HALL, M.P. G. T. MEDD. W. G. DAVIDSON

EDMISON & DIXON

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc. Office in Clarkson's Block, corner of Hunter and George streets, over Dickson's store.

DENNISTOUN, PECK & KERR

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, Etc 415 Water Street, Peterborough.
G.A. PECK F. D. KERR. R. M. DENNISTOUN

Money

MONEY TO LOAN
ON EASY TERMS

O'CONNELL & GORDON

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS NOTARIES, Etc
Canadian and United States Patent Attorneys
124 Hunter Street, two doors west of Post Office.
DANIEL O'CONNELL GEORGE N. GORDON

ROGER, BENNET & GOODWILL

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, Etc., 37 Water St. Peterborough. Telephone No. 191.
Money at Current Rates
Upon Easy Terms.
G. M. ROGER J. W. BENNETT E. L. GOODWILL

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

PAID UP CAPITAL $1,000,000.00
RESERVE FUND 580,000.00

SAVINGS

An Account may be opened at any time with a Deposit of One Dollar.

3½% Interest allowed on daily balances.

DEBENTURE DEPT.

Four Per Cent. paid half yearly on sums of $100.00 and upwards.

MONEY TO LOAN
at current rates of interest.

V. G. MORROW,
Manager

Children's Aid Society
FOR THE CARE OF NEGLECTED AND ILL-TREATED CHILDREN.

Incorporated by Act of Legislature, 1898
Information required. Informants name kept strictly private.

CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION

Office Hours—11.00 to 12.00 a.m.
OFFICE—DIVISION COURT BLDG

GEO. COCHRANE,
Agent and Asst Sec

CENTRAL LIVERY STABLES
AND
VETERINARY INFIRMARY
193 Hunter Street west of Oriental Hotel.

If you wish a rig of any kind for any occasion ring us up and you will find everything up-to-date in the livery line. Both Phones 128. Night Phone Bell 426 B.

D. McKERCHER, V.S.

Are You Strong?

Do You Eat and Sleep Well? —Or Are You Pale, Weak and Miserable?

Has your nerve given out? Have you lost confidence in yourself? Has work become such an awful burden that you look upon it with horror?

There's just one thing left to do, and that is to take Ferrozone and get your system into good shape again.

It's quite impossible for anyone to be weak or nervous that uses Ferrozone. It contains so many strength-giving properties benefit is bound to result from its use.

Ferrozone possesses the power to kindle new vitality and vigor where almost a dying condition of weakness exists.

It is an extraordinary and magical tonic, containing more actual nourishment and strengthening elements than you can get at in any other way. As a blood purifier, nerve strengthener and appetizing tonic there is simply no equal to Ferrozone. Of this we are positively sure.

It is crowned with the success of splendid cures; will restore anyone to health who uses it. The following letters from people who have actually experienced what Ferrozone can do will clearly show you just how beneficially it acts:—

No Medicine Ever Did So Much Lasting Good as Ferrozone.

"It would be difficult to express my thanks for the benefit I have received from Ferrozone," writes Miss Eva Wight, of Florenceville. "I was so weak and miserable that I could scarcely go around the house. My head ached, there was a dragging weakness in my limbs, and I felt as if every spark of life had left me. Ferrozone improved my appetite, toned up my blood, and soon made me well. Nothing I ever used did me half the good I got from Ferrozone."

The Great Tonic, Ferrozone, Brought Back Life.

"I am anxious to speak a good word for such a magnificent tonic as Ferrozone," says E. P. Gerow, of Yorktown. "I was wretchedly worn out. I was apprehensive, and lacked confidence. It was simply due to my very weak state. The only remedy that really did me lasting good was Ferrozone. It rebuilt my strength, has made me as vigorous and happy as a man could be. In the whole range of medicines I never used anything with half the merit I found in Ferrozone."

Though you spend a thousand dollars on doctors, you can't get a more vitalizing, strengthening tonic than Ferrozone. It is the best that money, combined with scientific research, can produce. If anything in this world will make you strong it must be Ferrozone. Others have proved its worth. You can easily do so for yourself. It will send new vital energy and renewed youth singing through your veins. It's nature's own remedy—a true food tonic.

FERROZONE FOR BRACING HEALTH!

Price 50c per box of fifty chocolate-coated tablets, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

The Opposition Gets Busy in Regard to Quebec Bridge Deal

Government Attacked For Way Undertaking Was Dealt With.

Disaster Was Owing to Lax Supervision — Laurier Deprecates the "Political Capital" — Warmly Defends Action of Government—Debate on the Address Closed—Amendment Lost —New Bills.

Ottawa, Dec. 12.—The House passed the address in reply to the speech from the throne yesterday after voting down an amendment by Samuel Barker (Hamilton) regretting the absence of business-like control in the public interest of the construction of the Quebec bridge. The majority was 46. Robitaille, who last session criticized the Government for lack of efficient supervision of the bridge, was not present.

It was not till late in the afternoon that the Opposition decided to discontinue the debate, as it was understood that Hon. Mr. Pugsley would not speak at this stage. The Finance Minister informed Mr. Foster that the budget would not be brought down till after the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Monk Supported Amendment.

T. D. Monk (Conservative, Jacques-Cartier), said he was happy to support the amendment, because through the Province of Quebec, it was felt that many lives had been sacrificed through the neglect and inattention of the Government. The company was composed of four or five men, who contributed an extremely small sum and who had taken hold of the enterprise through a most unpatriotic motive—their own gain. The structure should not have been undertaken by a private company, he thought. Mr. Monk was able to show that he was the only member who had opposed the Federal grant, and he claimed that the House was put in the position of having either to reject or accept the proposal without full discussion of its merits.

An example of the enormous waste incurred by the manner in which the company operated was the fact that the contractor for the sub-structure took his pay in bonds of the company at a discount of 40 per cent., thus creating a sheer loss of $188,000, compared with loss had the Government done the work.

Premier Spoke With Warmth.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied with some warmth that he regretted Mr. Monk should have been the party to the making of political capital out of a great national calamity. Had the disaster not occurred there would be no motion before the House censuring the Government for having dealt with a company instead of constructing the bridge as a Government work.

But if the policy of dealing with a company was wrong to-day, it was equally wrong in 1903, yet not a word was said against it then, nor for the consecutive sessions. How, asked the Prime Minister, could the hon. gentlemen opposite say there was insufficient supervision? Was that not one of the very questions which a royal commission was at present investigating? It was to fix responsibility for the disaster, as well as to ascertain the cause, that, immediately after the accident, the Government had appointed that commission. A company, said Sir Wilfrid, which included such men as Hon. S. N. Parent, Hon. John Sharples, Gustave Lemoine, H. M. Price, Mr. Audet, and the late Hon. R. N. Dobell, could safely be trusted to spend public money properly.

The House divided on the amendment, which was voted down by 96 nays to 50 years.

In the House of Commons yesterday Hon. Mr. Brodeur replied to Mr. Foster that the sum of $35,499.55 had been paid to experts to re-organize the system of keeping accounts for the Marine and Fisheries Department.

Mr. Pugsley told Mr. Foster that the cost of extension of the western block was $88,000, and to a question by Mr. Foster as to the expenditure of the Canadian Government in connection with the Imperial Conference, Mr. Fielding said the appropriation was $8,000 for the Prime Minister's expenses and $16,000 for the other Ministers, of which Sir Frederick Borden received $4,000, and Mr. Brodeur $4,000. The receipts of the Yukon telegraph system from March 31, 1907, to date, were $52,725, and expenses were $136,188. Mr. Pugsley told Mr. Foster there was no expenditure on capital account.

Mr. Brodeur told Mr. Foster that the Government had paid about $206,000 to the Marconi Co. This was expended in stations.

Mr. Fielding declined to give Mr. Daniel, at this time, the list of nations that will share in the duties accorded to France by the new treaty under the favored-nation clause.

Mr. Graham replied to a question by Mr. Borden that Mr. Hodgins, C. E., had been dismissed from service of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission on the ground that his services were unsatisfactory. An investigation was not considered necessary. It was not the intention of the Government. Mr. Fisher informed Mr. Marshall, to appoint inspectors in every fruit and vegetable factory in Ontario.

Mr. Lanctot was informed by Mr. Aylesworth that Judge Ouimet had applied for a pension, which was granted, on the ground of ill-health.

Mr. Graham stated, replying to Mr. Ames, that the prohibition zone along the line of the G. T. P. east of Winnipeg was reduced in sections of Manitoba and in Rainy River district.

New Bills Introduced.

Three bills were introduced. Claude Macdonell (Toronto) had an amendment to the Dominion Election Act, containing a compulsory voting clause, requiring that a holiday be declared on the day of the general elections in Canada, and repealing the requirement of a $200 deposit by candidates. He also submitted an amendment to the Copyright Act designed to simplify the formula to be attached to the notice of copyright.

DODD'S
KIDNEY PILLS

Mr. Sinclair submitted an amendment to the Fisheries Act repealing the jurisdiction of fishery officers to try complaints.

WIFE'S REFUSAL FATAL.

Man Plunges to Death Because She Kept Him Indoors.

New York, Dec. 12.—Jacob Victor, of No. 377 Hamburg avenue, Williamsburg, leaped five stories to his death after a quarrel with his wife, to whom he had been married only two months.

Victor, who was only 23 years old, enjoyed a local reputation as a bowler and pinochle player up to the end of his bachelorhood in October.

When Victor came home to supper he asked his wife if she would mind very much if he spent the evening at his old bowling club, Mrs. Victor demurred.

"But they need me badly at the club," protested Victor; "a match is to be played and they are afraid their team is too weak to win."

Mrs. Victor arose from the table weeping and said she had hoped she would never live to see the day when she and her husband would quarrel.

"All right," cried Victor, "if you're tire of married life, so am I, I'll end it right now."

He dashed from the room and his wife followed. With her in close pursuit he bounded up five flights of stairs to the top of the house, burst into the apartment of a family he did not know, opened the door of their dumb-waiter shaft, and plunged in.

His wife was so close behind him that as he made his dive she was able to seize one of his heels. But he kicked her hands with his free foot and broke her hold. He fell to the bottom of the shaft and when taken out had hardly a whole bone in his body. He had been killed instantly.

His wife was made so ill from shock that she had to be removed to the German Hospital.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Evidence Against McFarlane Is Circumstantial But Strong.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Dec. 12.—The case of the crown against Thomas McFarlane for murder occupied the attention of the court yesterday. The crime was committed at Iron Bridge last July 4. The men lived together in a shack on the farm owned by McFarlane. McFarlane is accused of murdering William Dixon by shooting him in the head with a rifle. The shot was heard by neighbors, who investigated and found the body of Dixon on the floor and McFarlane gone. McFarlane later gave himself up to Provincial Constable Graham of Blind River and witnesses swear he told conflicting stories as to how Dixon died, one being that he committed suicide.

The evidence for the crown was strong, although entirely circumstantial. Medical testimony proved conclusively that Dixon could not have died by his own hand, the wound causing death being in the top of the head and being apparently fired from a stovepipe hole above Dixon when he stood in a lower room near the table. The case for the crown concluded at 6 last night, and the defence will commence this morning.

WOMAN SAVES TRAIN.

Locked Children In House Then Flagged a Freight.

Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 12.—The tracks of the Columbia & Port Deposit R.R. were covered by a gigantic landslide yesterday for a distance of 500 feet at Fishing Creek, and a disastrous wreck was averted by the quick wit of a woman. Mrs. Elmer St. Clair, wife of a trackwalker, was in her home nearby when she heard a terrific rumble and looking out saw what had occurred.

She locked her children in the house and flagged the first train that came along, which happened to be a freight. The crew then flagged two passenger trains, which, combined, had over 200 persons aboard.

Sifton Said Nothing.

London, Dec. 12.—Hon. Clifford Sifton's attention having been drawn to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's statement that no one in England was authorized to represent the Government re the all-red route, declined to say anything.

J. W. Whitehead has been appointed Belgian consul at Vancouver.

The West India committee circular contains the text of a letter addressed to Mr. Fielding with reference to trade relations between the West Indies and the Dominion, and an article on the same subject in connection with the Franco-Canadian treaty.

Broker In the Tombs.

New York, Dec. 12.—Joseph H. Sulzbacher, member of the stock exchange and of the firm of J. H. Sulzbacher & Co., was arrested Tuesday night, charged with having attempted to induce a witness in a criminal proceeding to leave the jurisdiction of the court. He was remanded to the Tombs until morning.

The Time of His Life.

Tokio, Dec. 12.—Prince Pulun, the special envoy from China, who is now returning the recent visit of Prince Fushima to China, was magnificently entertained by Baron Goto at the leading theatre last night. Over 1,000 people were present, including the diplomatic corps.

Goes to Death Chair.

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 12.—The first official electrocution in New Jersey occurred yesterday morning when Serverio Digiovanni, an Italian, paid the death penalty for the murder of Joseph Sanson, a fellow countryman.

Can't Photograph Suspects.

New York, Dec. 12.—Justice Burr of the New York State Supreme Court decided yesterday that the New York police have no right to take photographs and measurements of a man under arrest, but not convicted.

Civil Service Report.

Ottawa, Dec. 12.—The Civil Service Commission will not fully report upon their labors until the end of the session, but meantime will issue an interim report.

Dr. W. J. Stevenson has been elected president of the London Medical Association.

SERIOUS RACE RIOTING

Thirty Killed in Fight Between Whites and Negroes.

Secret Plot Discovered—Lodge Rooms Set on Fire—Occupants Roasted to Death In the Flames—Militia to Be Turned Out—Shots Freely Exchanged—Resist the Sheriff—Many Are Wounded.

Columbus, Miss., Dec. 12.—Thirty negroes have been killed, five whites and many negroes wounded, and five negro lodge rooms burned in Pickens County, Alabama, just across the Mississippi border.

The race rioting broke out in two different parts of the county, and the first trouble began suddenly Sunday night.

Rioting has been incessant since then, and negroes are fleeing for their lives. Owing to the discovery of a plot by negroes to rise against the whites of the county every black is in danger. This conspiracy was carried on by means of a secret society, which had lodge rooms in remote districts of Pickens County. Fifteen negroes were burned to death in a lodge room near Reform Tuesday night when whites attacked the place, and finding repeating rifles and shotguns, fired the building. The blacks were penned in by the continual shooting of the whites and those who were not killed in attempting to escape were roasted alive. So far as has been learned the burning of the other lodge rooms were without fatalities.

The trouble started Monday with the arrest of Tom Lowe, a negro, on a charge of stealing a bale of cotton from Whig Lowe, a white planter, who is also a deputy sheriff.

Lowe located his property at a gin and traced the theft to Tom Lowe.

Deputy Lowe, with several other officers, succeeded in arresting the accused negro Monday evening. As they were running to Gordo with the prisoner they were fired upon from ambush by a party of negroes, headed by Bob Lowe, the prisoner's brother. Tom Lowe fell dead from a shot, which, it is said, was fired by his own brother at the deputy sheriff.

Rumors quickly circulated that Lowe's friends were arming themselves to rescue him. The sheriff organized a posse to resist the expected attack, and in a few hours news that a battle was imminent spread throughout the adjacent county, and whites and negroes alike armed themselves and congregated in the towns.

The negroes mobilized in their lodge rooms and the white mounted guard outside. Finally the sheriff ordered the negroes to surrender their arms and disperse to their homes. The order was refused, and the attack followed.

News of the battle was telegraphed to the governor with a request that the militia be sent to prevent further bloodshed. It is believed the request will be promptly complied with.

WRECK AT ARNPRIOR.

Engineers and Firemen Jumped For Their Lives.

Ottawa, Dec. 12.—A bad wreck occurred at Arnprior yesterday. The G. T. R. local from Ottawa crashed into a freight engine head-on, both going at a rapid pace.

The tender of the passenger train telescoped the combination mail and baggage car.

The drivers and firemen on both engines jumped.

No one was seriously hurt, although the passengers were badly shaken.

The two engines and cars were badly smashed.

This is the first collision on the Ottawa division since the G. T. R. took it over.

Conference of Bishops.

Cologne, Dec. 12.—The conference of Catholic bishops, which has been in session here to discuss the encyclical issued by the Pope against modernism in the faith, brought its deliberations to an end Tuesday evening. It is understood that a serious disagreement occurred in the matter of a resolution which requests the Pope, before he issues sudden edicts, to inform himself about the situation in Germany. Cardinal Kopp of Breslau supported the resolution and had with him a great many of those present. The resolution was opposed by Cardinal Fischer, Bishop Keppler and Bishop Koran.

The agreement was reached, and it was consequently decided to hold another conference next year at Fulda.

Two Children Perish.

Montreal, Dec. 12.—Two children, one aged two years and the other a baby, belonging to Mrs. Belleville of Busherville, near East Clifton, were burned to death Tuesday night. The mother left the children in the house while she went to a neighbor's on a message. When she returned the house was in flames, and the fire had gained such headway that all efforts to save the children were futile. The mother made frantic efforts to rescue her children, and was seriously burned in the attempt.

Found Long-Lost Daughter.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 12.—Mrs. Richard Campbell of Detroit, has received a letter from her daughter Nellie, at Saskatchewan, whom she has not seen since the child was 13 years old. Ten years ago, circumstances compelled the mother to give the daughter in adoption to the Protestant Orphan Asylum in London. Mrs. Campbell lost trace of Nellie until the letter came announcing her marriage.

Empress In Danger.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 12.—Empress Alexandra, who for a considerable time past has been suffering from a light attack of influenza, was stricken with a high fever yesterday, and was ordered to remain in bed. The Empress recently called in a specialist and submitted to a severe regime to reduce her weight, and her present affliction is ascribed to this.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Lower, Chicago Higher—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

Wednesday Evening, Dec. 11.

Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day ⅝d to 1⅛d lower, corn ⅛d up.

At Chicago, December wheat closed ⅝c higher, December corn 1⅝c higher.

Winnipeg Options.

Following are the closing quotations on Winnipeg grain futures to-day:

Wheat—Dec $1.00⅝ bid. May $1.09⅛ bid.
Oats—Dec. 43c bid. May 50c bid.

Toronto Grain Market.

Grain—
Wheat, spring, bush	$0 95	to $....
Wheat, fall, bush	0 97	....
Wheat, goose, bush	0 87	....
Wheat, red, bush	0 98	....
Rye, bush.	0 83	....
Peas, bush.	0 82	....
Buckwheat, bush.	0 64	0 65
Barley, bush.	0 70	....
Oats, bush.	0 52	....

Toronto Dairy Market.

Butter, dairy, lb. rolls	0 27	0 28
Butter, tubs	0 26	0 27
Butter, creamery, lb. rolls	0 30	0 31
Butter, creamery, boxes	0 29	0 30
Eggs, new-laid, dozen	0 30	....
Eggs, cold-storage, dozen	0 22	....
Cheese, large, lb.	0 12½	....
Cheese, twin, lb.	0 13¾	....
Honey, extracted, lb.	0 13	0 13½

Liverpool Grain and Produce.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 11.—Close—Wheat—Spot weak; No. 2 red western winter, 7s 8d. Futures easy; Dec. nominal, March 7s 8⅝d, May 7s 8⅝d.

Corn—Spot quiet; prime mixed. American, 5s 5½d. Futures quiet; Dec. nominal, July 5s 2¼d.

Bacon—Clear bellies firm, 55s.

Cheese—Canadian finest white, new, steady, 61s; Canadian finest colored, new, steady, 62s.

New York Dairy Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Butter—Firm, unchanged; receipts, 7628.

Cheese—Steady, unchanged; receipts, 1811.

Eggs—Firm, unchanged; receipts, 3612.

CATTLE MARKETS

Cables Steady—Cattle Lower—Hogs Firmer at Chicago.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—London cables are firmer, at 11c to 12¾c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c to 10½c per pound.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Dec. 11.—(Special.)—About 800 head of cattle, 25 milch cows, 250 calves, 500 sheep and lambs and 150 hogs were offered for sale at the East End Abattoir. The snow in the air and the mud on the streets made things rather disagreeable, causing a slow trade all round. There were a number of large bulls on the market, intended to make a show at Christmas. Two very fine ones were sold to go to Quebec, at a limit over 5c per lb. Prime beeves sold at 4½c per lb.; good at 3¼c to 4c, and common stock at 1½c to 3c. There were not many canners in sight, and they were not so lean as usual, and sold at 1c to 1½c per lb. There were several very good cows in view, but the demand is slack and prices are at from $30 to $50 each. The calves were nearly all grassers, which sold at 2¼c to 3¼c per lb. Young veals sold at $2.50 to $4 each. Sheep sold at 3¼c to 4c, and the lambs at 5¼c to 5⅝c per lb.

The market for hogs was firm at the recent advance, which was due to the scarcity of supplies, which showed a very marked falling off in point of volume from the figures of even the past two or three weeks. The poor condition of the country roads is responsible in a large measure for the lighter receipts, but another factor must be taken into consideration, and that is the comparatively low prices that have been ruling. Farmers have looked at the cost of feed and the value of their time, and have seen but little to induce them to part with their stock at the present prices which have been offered.

The range of values was from $5.75 to $6 per hundred pounds. The former price was ruling, but select lots from western points could not be bought in some cases for less than $6.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Dec. 11.—Cattle—Receipts, 100 head; steady; prime steers, $5.50 to $5.75.

Veals—Receipts, 300 head; steady; light veals active; heavy calves slow, $5 to $9.

Hogs—Receipts, 5100 head; active and 15c to 20c higher; heavy and mixed, $5 to $5.05; yorkers, $4.80 to $5.05; pigs, $4.70 to $4.75; roughs, $4.35 to $4.50; stags, $3.50 to $4; dairies, $3 to $5.05.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 6000 head; sheep firm; lambs active and 15c to 20c higher; lambs, $5 to $6.50; a few, $6.55; yearlings, $4.75 to $5.25; a few, $5.50; Canada lambs, $6.10 to $6.35.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Cattle—Receipts, 2900; market slow; steers steady for good to choice; medium grades trifle easier; bulls and bologna cows 10c to 25c lower; fat and medium cows dull to 10c off; about all sold; steers, $3.60 to $5.75; extra heavy, $6.15; Christmas steers, $6.50; bulls, $2.50 to $3.75; cows, $1.10 to $3.50; car of extra fat Ohio cows, $4. Exports to-day, 2800 quarters of beef; to-morrow, 2750 quarters.

Calves—Receipts, 1286; prime and choice veals firm to 25c higher; others slow; barnyard calves dull and easier; westerns not wanted; several cars unsold; veals, $5 to $9.50; few top, $9.75; culls, $3.50 to $4.50; barnyard calves, $2.75 to $3.50; western yearlings, $2.50; dressed calves slow; city dressed veals, 8c to 14c per lb.; country dressed, 7c to 12c; dressed barnyard calves, 6c to 7c.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 11,279; sheep steady; lambs 10c to 15c higher; three cars unsold; sheep, $2.75 to $4.50; few choice, $5; culls, $2 to $2.50; lambs, $5.25 to $6.50; choice, $6.75; culls, $4 to $5; yearlings, $5.

Hogs—Receipts, 9064; market higher, at $5 to $5.25; some outside sales at higher prices.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Cattle—Receipts estimated at about 32,000; market 15c to 25c lower; steers, $4 to $6.30; cows, $2.75 to $4.50; heifers, $2.50 to $5.25; bulls, $2.60 to $4.30; calves, $3 to $3.75; stockers and feeders, $2.40 to $4.50.

Hogs—Receipts estimated at about 30,000; market 25c higher; choice heavy shipping, $4.80 to $4.90; light butchers, $4.80 to $4.90; light mixed, $4.65 to $4.75; choice light, $4.80 to $4.90; packing, $4.20 to $4.80; pigs, $3.50 to $4.50; bulk of sales, $4.65 to $4.85.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts about 20,000; market steady; sheep, $3.50 to $5.75; lambs, $5.40 to $6.25; yearlings, $4.20 to $4.80.

Russia Needs $93,000,000.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 12.—In making the budget statement in the Douma yesterday M. Kokoysoff, the Finance Minister, announced that to cover the extraordinary expenditure about $93,000,000 would be needed, and, in the Government's opinion, this sum could be procured only by credit operations.

Bank Manager's Suicide.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 12.—T. Otway Saldeir, manager of the west end branch of the California Safe Deposit & Trust Co., located on Devisadore street, committed suicide some time Tuesday night in the office of the branch bank, by blowing off the top of his head with a shotgun.

Injured at Ingersoll.

London, Dec. 12.—Charles A. Russell, a G. T. R. brakeman, was seriously injured yesterday. He was hit by a protruding board while coupling cars at Ingersoll.

The Northern Navigation Company will build a sister ship to the Huronic.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
RAILWAY TIME TABLE

	Arrive	Depart
Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Gravenhurst, North Bay, Stouffville and Toronto	11.40 a.m.	8.25 a.m
	9.00 p.m.	5.38 p.m
Port Hope and points east to Montreal and Boston		8.30 a.m
Port Hope, Toronto, London, Detroit, Chicago & West, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cobourg, Montreal and East	8.20 a.m.	11.45 a.m
	5.33 p.m.	9.05 p.m
From Buffalo, Hamilton, Toronto, Bowmanville and Port Hope	11.45 a.m.
Toronto, Lindsay, Stouffville, Uxbridge and Markham	10.05 p.m.	7.20 a.m
Lindsay Local	8.15 a.m.	9.10 p.m
Hastings, Campbellford, Madoc, Belleville, Kingston, Montreal and East	8.10 a.m.	8.50 a.m
	8.40 p.m	1.50 p.m
Lakefield and Stony Lake	9.50 a.m.	8.30 a.m
	5.15 p.m.	12.20 p.m

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

To Peterboro' Going East,
11.16 a. m., Norwood, Havelock, Ottawa, Montreal
7.51 p. m., Indian River, Norwood, Havelock, Tweed.
12.31 a. m. midnight, Havelock, Tweed, Smith's Falls, Montreal, Quebec Portland, Boston and New England points.
1.10 a. m., Ottawa express. Norwood, Havelock, Ivanhoe, Tweed, Smith's Falls, Carleton Jct; Ottawa.
To Peterboro' Going West,
4.48 a. m. for Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, New York, Woodstock, St. Thomas, Chicago, etc.
5.26 a. m. Do. Do.
7.58 a. m. for Cavanville, Manvers, Pontypool, Burkton, etc., Fort William, Winnipeg and all western points in North West Canada.
4.18 p. m. Pontypool, Lindsay, Toronto, Hamilton, Galt, Woodstock, London, Detroit Chicago, etc.

SHORT LINE TO MUSKOKA AND PARRY SOUND

WINTER TIME TABLE
In effect December 9th, 1907

NORTHBOUND

	No. 1	No. 3
TORONTO	† 9.00 am	† 5.30 pm
WASHAGO	12.45 pm	9.00 pm
PARRY SOUND	3.10 pm	....

SOUTHBOUND

	No. 2	No. 4
PARRY SOUND	† 9.00 am	† ......
WASHAGO	11.25 am	6.45 am
TORONTO	3.00 pm	10.10 am

Observation-Dining Parlor Cars between Toronto and Parry Sound serving meals a la carte.

† Daily except Sunday.

OFFICES: All Stations, also Cor. King and Toronto and Union Station. Phone, Main 5179.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

$3.75
TO GUELPH AND RETURN
on account of
PROVINCIAL WINTER FAIR

Tickets good going until December 13th. Valid for return until Monday, Dec. 16th.

When you travel by the GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

You are assured of the best of everything that modern railway travel can offer

SMOOTH ROADBED FAST TRAIN
COMFORTABLE COACHES

Full information may be obtained from
W. BUNTON,
City Passenger Agent
F. SANDY,
Depot Ticket Agent
Or write Mr J. D. McDonald, D.P.A., Union Depot, Toronto

CANADIAN PACIFIC
WINTER FAIR
$3.75
GUELPH
AND RETURN FROM PETERBORO'

Good going until Dec. 7 to 13 Inclusive
Returning until and on Dec. 16

Tickets and all information from
W. McILROY,
Canadian Pacific Agent,
343 George St., Peterboro
Or write C. B. FOSTER, D.P.A. Toronto.

Private Greeting Cards

THE highly colored and lithographed Christmas Card in vogue a few years ago has passed away entirely.

IN place has come the much more appropriate Personal Greeting Card.

OF these the Review Office is showing a great many original designs,

YOUR order should be given immediately, while the selection is so complete.

SHOULD you desire a Card specially designed to your order, promptness is absolutely necessary.

The Review
HUNTER STREET
PETERBOROUGH

Why Peterborough Citizens Now Come to Dr. Browett for Glasses

FIRST REASON. The Eye glasses supplied by Dr. Browett are ground in one of the largest and best al factories in America. Skilled workmanship and quality have placed the lenses produced by this firm far in advance o. those ground in the ordinary factory. Dr. Browett devotes his exclusive attention to Optical Work—examining eyes and teaching Opticians the use of the modern eye instruments. The number of Optical colleges this gentleman has attended, his experiences throughout the United States and Canada as a teacher of opticians, the thousands of satisfied patrons in various parts of America, wherever he has visited in his teaching capacity, his equipment of instruments and knowledge of their use are sufficient reasons for Dr Browett's success since making Peterborough his permanent home, and our store his head office.

McDERMID & JURY'S, Drug Store,
390 George Street, Peterborough, Ont.

A Story of Absorbing Interest

The Rogue's March

By E. W. HORNUNG, author of "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," "Stingaree," etc.

The thrill became a shiver. The blue eyes were fixed on Tom, the great lip was thrust out at him, and before Tom the rider reined up.

"You villain!" said Mr. Nat, with inexpressible malignancy of voice and look. "You villain—I've found you out!"

